During the Dec. 20 meeting, Commissioner Lon Howell moved to grant city insurance to elected officials who are no longer serving on the commission, but have had '10 years or more service, and reached the age of 62.

In Howell's actual proposal, he moved to have, "all elected city officials who qualified under city retirement, be carried under the city's insurance program, the same as former retired commissioners and mayors."

Post Office stamp stampede Officials didn't expect what they had Tuesday

By SANDRA ELLIGTT Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Long lines snaked through post office lobbies in Sanford. Lake Mary and throughout Central Florida Tuesday as people pursued something old-timers might describe as scarce as hen's . teeth...the 3-cent stamp.

As of January 1, it costs 32-cents to mail a first-class letter and people scrambled to use up their existing 29-cent stamp supply pairing them with 3-cent ones for the correct postage.

The rush to buy stamps surprised postal workers and outstripped the supply in Lake Mary.

"Nobody ever expected what we had yesterday," said Frank Saultz, officer in charge (OIC) at the Sanford post office.

Based on the last postage increase four years ago when transition stamps were sold. Saults ordered 40,000 stamps this time around. After his supply ran low, he drove to south Orlando to get an additional 50,000 stamps. The Sanford office did not exhaust its supply of the our initial supply and ran out about 9 a.m.," supervisor Ron Forcier explained. In all, the Lake Mary office sold between 15,000 to 16,000 3-cent stamps. Lake Mary OIC Herbie Owens said his office received about 40,000 3-cent stamps overnight along with additional 1- and 2-cent stamps to replenish their depleted supply. "I think we are set now," he added, this morning. He described the stamp-buying onslaught 'Tuesday as, "worse than Christmas.

She said that she realized that the district is growing more rapidly than state or local budgets

Fighting drugs Lake Mary park reopens

By VICKI Becond Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY - In an effort to eliminate trafficking in drugs in a county park, officials say a traffic nightmare was created around Lake Mary High School and Greenwood Lakes Middle School in Lake Mary. Earlier in the school year. Greenwood Lakes Park on Greenway Park in Lake Mary was closed to parents who wanted to use it as an entrance to Lake Mary High School to drop off and pick up students. Students were not allowed to use it as an entrance to the school.

The park was cited as a hub of adolescent drug activity in early 1994. Deputy Brian Marcum, the school resource officer at Lake Mary High, said.

"That's why we shut it down," he explained.

But. Marcum pointed out, the traffic tie ups caused by parents and students seeking alternative routes into the school were something they had not anticipated.

As is evidenced by the arrests on drug charges last month of nearly two dozen students at Lake Howell High School, by an undercover officer who had infiltrated the student population, the school district and law enforcement are seeking new ways to combat the drug problem in schools.

"We're trying other things." Marcum said. "We're going to do what's right for each school. Closing down the park didn't work here at Lake Mary. We're going to find what does work."

Men begin sentence for lilegel dumping

TAMPA - A company convicted of illegally dumping chemicals that led to the death of two boys was sentenced in federal court to the maximum fine of $1.5 million.

The William Recht Co., doing business as Durex Industries Inc., pleaded guilty last summer to charges it knowingly endangered others by illegally disposing of a hazardous chemicals.

Today, plant manager William Whitman. 39, and his brother, shop foreman Duane Whitman, 43, were to begin serving 27-month prison sentences for illegally disposing the toxic solvent toluene in a trash bin behind the print roller plant.

Daniel Scott Perez and Anthony Neil Storman, both 9, weren't breathing when they were found in the bin June 13, '1992. Perez died within an hour: Storman died that night. Autopates determined both died from inhaling toluene fumes.

In addition to the fine, U.S. District Judge Elizabeth Kovachevich sentenced the company Tuesday to five years probation, during which it must implement an environmental compliance program.

Meantime, the families of the boys are pursuing separate civil actions against the company.

New PSC head sworn in TALLAHASSEE - Public Service Commissioner Susan Clark was sworn in as chairwoman of the state panel that regulates electric, telephone and many water and sewer utilities.

Clark will head the five-member PSC for two years.

Clark and commissioner and outgoing chairman Terry Deason were reappointed to four-year terms by Gov. Lawton Chiles. They took their oaths of office Tuesday from 1st District Court of Appeal Judge Michael Allen.

Man files suit against former boss

FORT LAUDERDALE — A former bank employee claims his boss bugged his office telephone and used the conversation to fire him and block unemployment benefits. William McCarthy charged in a federal lawsuit that he was fired in December 1992 after his supervisor at Oceanmark Bank of North Miami Beach accused him of trying to aster a prospective loan customer to a competitor over the telephone. The suit claims McCarthy was confronted by his boss, Burton Horwitz, who demanded the name of the person. The Stuart

It is illegal in Florida to electronically eavesdrop on calls unless both parties are aware someone else is listening. Federal law allows monitoring of calls provided one party is aware someone is listening.

McCarthy says neither party knew the conversation was overheard.

He is asking U.S. District Judge Jose Gonzales to order Horwitz to stop eavesdropping on employee conversations without their knowledge. He also is seeking unspecified damages and back benefits.

Being good neighbors

The concept of rooming houses in the historic district is a charming one, rooted in the past. Even renowned architect and town planner. Andres Duany included them in his vision of Sanford when several years ago the Sanford Historic Trust engaged him to plot strategy for a downtown renaimance.

Long before roadside motels began to beckon weary travelers to rest, rooming houses were the norm. Clean, comfortable rooms were let to single working men or women. Some of these workers were not going to be in an area long, a few months at best, and a rooming house was perfect for their needs.

Usually, a motherly woman ran the operation. with strict house rules enforced to eliminate uncouth, slovenly or illegal behavior. A hot meal was served promptly around a common table. If you weren't there, you didn't eat. House rules.

Neighbors of one rooming house in Sanford think the concept as it's employed here is more like the Twilight Zone than Andy Hardy. They say residents of the Florida Hotel disturb them late at night, commit crimes in the neighborhood and have no respect for neighbors.

The owners claim they screen tenants the best they can and admit some problems do crop up when over 20 people live under one roof.

Co-owner Henry Miranda says he is providing "a service to people who need a place to stay and who don't have the money to pay for the first and last month's rent and who aren't going to be in town for a long period of time.

Miranda's concept does fit the one Duany outlined, including such establishments. His-toric district residents are a diverse, tolerant group. No one disputes that what Miranda is trying to do could be a great addition to the neighborhood.

But we see three problems.

A midterm report card for Clinton

If Charles Dickens were doing spin control for the White House, not even he would be so charitable as to describe the second year of the Clinton presidency as the best of times and the worst of times.

There are no best of times when the president's party surrenders control of Congress for the first time in 40 years, when he finds his own administration in disarray.

Maybe Clinton can overcome his sophomore slump and give himself a fighting chance to win a second term of office. But grading his job performance so far, in several major areas of performance so far, in several major areas of public policy, this seems an unlikely prospect. -- Economics. In his recent televised address to the American people, Clinton bossied that he has "cut the deficit by $700 billion." while also creating nearly 4.5 million new jobs.

But there's less to these "accomplishments" than meets the eye. The president actually has ADDED more than $330 billion to the national debt during his two years in the Oval Office. He wants credit for not adding even more red ink to the federal books.

Whether Clinton or Bush or Perot had won the White House two years ago, the growing U.S. economy would have churned out new jobs. The question is how many. Under Clinton, there have been 1.2 million fewer jobs created than what is normal during a typical economic expansion. Perhaps the most critical assessment of Clintonomics was delivered by the nonpartisan Congressio-nal Budget Office. By 1997, it predicted in its midsession review, every major economic indicator (including unemployment, in-flation, gross domestic, product) will be worse than they otherwise would have been if the Clinton economic program had been rejected by Congress last year Midterm grade: D.

- Health care. The

Not even he would be so charitable as to describe the second year of the Clinton presidency as the best of times and the worst of times. American people liked the idea of health care reform. But they feared the big government takeover that the president and first lady proposed in their monstrous 1,364-page plan.

Clinton staked much of his political capital on health care reform. By the time Congress adjourned for the year, the Democratic majority had declined even to vote on the president's mis decine a even to vote on the president's misbegotten plan. Grade: F. - - Crime. The narrow passage of the $30 billion crime bill was one of the president's few bright spots in 1994. But the American people will be disappointed if they expect to see a precipitous decline in the level of crime and violence throughout the land.

There is a redeeming provision of the crime bill. It sets aside $5.7 billion in grants to states to build prisons and boot camps. This effectively offsets the 30 percent funding cut in prison construction that Clinton proposed in his 1995 budget. Grade: C.

- Welfare. Clinton promised to "end welfare as we know it." But he is no closer to this goal than when he took office. In fact, during his watch, the ranks of the nation's poor have grown by 1.2 million.

The problem is that the president's reform would apply only to welfare parents born after 1971, who make up only one-third of today's weifare population. It would take more than 50 years for every weifare recipient to be included in the president's plan. Grade: D.

JACK ANDERSON Russians willing to sell secrets

WASHINGTON - Communism may be dead, but there's a "body" of evidence that suggests its rulers will never be forgotten.

In four different countries, the bodies of expired Communist leaders are kept under giase for all of the world to see. Lenin remains in his tomb on Red Square: Mao Tse-tung has a spot at the southern end of Tlananmen Square: Ho Chi Minh rests for public viewing in a Hanoi mausoleum: and the latest to join the pantheon. Kim Il Sung. has a new place in Pyongyang.

Lenin started it all 70 years ago. He wanted to he cremated and buried in St. Petersburg. His wife tried to carry out that wish when Lenin died in 1924. Bur Joneph Stalin wähled to put Lenin on permanent display to buttress his own power.

tion Commission" Communism was formed, with all the urgency of the but there's a Manhattan Project. "body" of evidence that The Egyptians und other cultures had euggests its their mummles, but rulers will never no nation in modern be forgotten. times had tried to preserve a body for permanent display. Embalming Lenin through traditional methods was not an option because his arteries had been severed. Embalmers normally drain the body of fluids and replace it with formaldehyde through the arteries. What the Russians did to preserve Lenin has been a state secret until recently, when Moscow released some of the details in keeping with its new era of glasnost. A more complete account of the Lenin, as well as the Mao, preservation were revealed to our associate Dale Van Atta by Russian and Chinese officials during visits to Moscow and Beijing in 1991 and 1992. According to officials at the Laboratory of Biological Structures in Moscow, the key to the Lenin preservation is a chemical bath that takes about 60 days every 18 months. The primary chemicals are glycerol and potassium acetate. Some 70 percent of Lenin's body is inflated with these chemicals. The body is wrapped with rubber bandages to prevent the liquids from leaking out through the pores in Lenin's 124-year-old skin. Another key is keeping the temperature inside the glass enclosure at 59 degrees and the humidity at 70 percent. The flesh-type hue of Lenin's body is accomplished by a special light filter in his tomb, and twice a week his face and hands get chemical touch-ups. (His brain was shipped to the Institute of the Brain where it was sliced into 31.000 pieces for close inspection. No telitale signs of extraordinary intelligence were discovered. Russian officials confided to us.) Until the fail of communism. lines would snake through Red Square as Soviet citizens waited for hours for a glimpse of the body. But in the last several years, it is down to a relative trickle of individuals and foreign tourists. Even though statues of Lenin symbolically fell during the collapse of the former Soviet Union, removing his body from the square has been dicier. Russian President Boris Yelisin has twice called for its removal, but has balked at actually ordering the removal since Communists and nationalists had such a strong showing in the December 1993 parliamentary elections. Yeltain fears it would create more negative reaction than he could afford, whereas now the body is relatively ignored. The real sign of the times in all of this is that what was once a closely guarded Soviet state secret is now available for a price. Our sources say the North Koreans paid $300,000 for the Russian secret. To non-Communist citizens, the Russians are reportedly willing to share the specifics for $250,000 and up.

The "Immortaliza-

Une have been linked with the increased crime downtown. Former police chief Steve Harriett said many times, clean out the rooming houses and crime will decrease. When a person has no sense of belonging, or of community, he has no respect for his neighbors. That's a shame.

A community is made up of people from all walks of life, living on all income levels. A low income is no excuse for a person to act disrespectfully and destroy what others are trying to build.

The second problem is with the city. Downtown residents have complained for years that the physical appearance of Sanford's weekly rentals is vastly inferior to homes being renovated around them. Standards for multi-family housing should be very stringent and code enforcement strictly enforced. The city notes two code enforce-ment infractions at the Florida Hotel over the past four years. If the city had not watered down the Duany codes so severely, perhaps our rooming houses would be more in keeping with our single family homes.

Third. Mr. Miranda needs to try a little harder. He says it's hard to check references, but for his neighbors' peace, and the safety of the neighborhood, a few phone calls are certainly in order.

LETTER

Injured workers

I was appalled by the comments of Associated Industries Pres. John Shebel who said the challenge to Florida's new workers' compensation law was contrived to protect the "obnoxious fees" of lawyers representing injured workers. In considering his statements, we must keep in mind that Shebel's goal is to protect the "obnoxious profits" of Associated Industries' Workers' Compensation insurance Trust. You need only look at the multi-million dollar mansion Associated Industries has built off the backs of injured workers and employers to see the truth.

Lawyers representing workers raise a question which needs to be answered: Does the 1903 workers compensation law violate the Americana with Disabilities Aci? Florida workers have the right to know.

injured workers have not been able to survive since their benefits were drastically cut in 1983.

The vast majority of injured workers are truly injured. In fact, many homeless people are injured workers. Just look in the woods and shelters, Mr. Shebel and Sen. McKay. You will find them there.

Pass the crown to problem solvers

BOSTON - Before another year slipe down the memory hole, may I offer one last word on the celebrity of 1994? One final thought on the all-American star who sent goose bumps up and down the arms of the body politic? Maybe he didn't become Time magazine's Man of the Year — that went to the best-selling author in the Vatican. But in every other way. 1994 was the year of the Angry White Man. He was awarded all the prises, even the big one: The Capitol. The pundits, pollisters and lought to know.

in a rather benign moment, full of the holiday cheer, I took exception to the stereotyping of the young, the pale and the pieced off. In a column, I offered a rather spirited defense of this man. He wasn't angry, I wrote, he was anxious.

The young male who had shifted from one party to the other, taking the House majority with him, was worried about failing out of work, out of the middle class, out of power. The election wasn't a drive by shooting, it was an anxiety attack.

Well, be careful whom you befriend. For weeks, I has been digging out of a pile of letter-writers and fax-attackers who have assured me in capital letters, exclamation points, four-letter words, and no uncertain terms that they were not anxious. They were and still are ANGRY!!!!

To give you a reprintable sample, an AWM from Washington state said he had "never suffered frm an anxiety attack in my life" but was angry enough to help "a well-planned assansination of liberal democratic leadership and their socialistic agendas."

An AWM from Wyoming was not anxious but furious because, "I have NO civil or constitutional rights because every minority comes shead of me and, yes dear, that includes women.

An AWM from Columbus, Ohio, became a mad-man not out of anxiety, but by affirmative action. He warned: "Lest you forget Ms. Goodman, the White Male made this country what it was before females and minorities polluted the entire system."

The crowned heads of the Angry White Men were not just angry. They were proud of it.

Now, frankly, I was struck by more than the epithets in my mail bag. For one thing, consider the differences in our racial images of rage. Imagine what the words "Angry Black Man" would have conjured up in the national mind? The composite fantasy figure offered by Susan Smith? Hardly a man of the year.

If un-and-underemployment is the root of all anger, try this figure. In 1993, 45 percent of working age black men were out of the work force — twice the percentage of white men. But the white man's anger is considered legitimate. while the black man's anger is assumed to be criminal.

In the right-leaning spirit of the times, an angry white man is seen as someone who must be appeased. An angry black man is seen as someone who must be controlled. The AWM gets a tax cut. The ABM gets a new jail. But if the males in my mail bag were outraged at naving their anger ques-tioned, if they rejected this defense like an unwanted Christmas gift, it also said a lot about gender.

1 belong to the elightly more than half of the populationwho have an ingrained habit of try-ing to understand the men who share their lives and ballot boxes. Women spend much of our free time trying to figure out what men are really feeling.

Though my correspondents didn't want to be analysed. I have a suspicion about the origina of Anger Pride. Simply put, it's a lot easier to feel angry than anxious.

I took

Anxiety, after all, implies vulnerability, uncertainty, even a loss of control. Not the top emotions on some males' hit parade. Anxiety carries the sura of weakness while anger carries the sense of power. It's the difference between admitting fear and making someone cise afraid.

I still believe the dominant symptom in the land as we turn the calendar is a bad case of the jitters. Jitters about the new world economy and our old jobs, jitters about our kids, our futures, and the frayed connections between people who call themselves Americans.

It's going to take more than a temper tantrum to quiet these fears. This may have been a year of anger. But I'm hoping that next year the crown will pass to the Problem Solvers.

With hardly any discussion. and within just a few minutes. the commission voted 3 to 2, to grant the insurance.

Howell brought the measure up for a vote near the end of that meeting. It had not been listed on the agenda for discussion nor had it been considered during the commission work session carlier that day.

The only person on the com-mission at the time of the vote who would immediately fall under that insurance protection was A.A. McClanahan. He officially left office during a special commission meeting last night. With Howell's motion, Commissioners McClanahan and Bob Thomas voted for approval with hardly any discussion. Mayor Bettye Smith and Commissioner Whitey Eckstein both voted against the measure.

In addition to McClanahan, upon turning 62. Thomas, Smith and Eckstein are expected to be qualified for the insurance at the conclusion of their present terms, if they did not choose to run for re-election or lost in a political campaign for reelection.

At least one former elected official is upset over the measure. J. Denver Cordell, who served as city commissioner, mayor, and Seminole County aberilf during the 1950s, com-mented, "When I was in office, we received 85 for each regular commission meeting, If we missed a meeting, we didn't get paid. Even if there were five or 10 meetings in a month, we were only paid the $10 for the two normal meetings providing we attended both of them." Cordell said with the present annual salary of $3,000 for commissioners, he could not see the city continuing to pay for their insurance after they finished their service as elected officiala

Robert Stump, who is one of the persons circulating the peti-tion, said he hopes to get as many names on it as possible. "When I went through my own neighborhood." he commented. "there wasn't a single person who didn't sign it."

The petition voices citizen disapproval of the matter. "What it calls for." Stump said, "is that this should not be enacted unless it's voted on by the taxpayers. That's our money they would spend, and I believe we have a right to say how it should be spent.

Other cities in the area in- Kerry Lyons, who was sworn cluding Longwood, Winter into office Tuesday night to Garden and Ococe offer former elected officials the options of participating in the city's insurance plan after they are no longer in office. "But in Long-wood." explained City Clerk Geri Zambri. "the former elected of-ficials would have to pay the entire cost of being on the program, and so far, no one has ever taken us up on this." Zambri said a recent check, however, indicated that a few cities offered similar insurance and might pay a certain per-centage of the cost, but not the total amount in any situation of which she was aware.

It was not immediately re-vealed how many signatures are being sought for the petition to have the measure overturned nor exactly when the people circulating the petitions may present them to the city. Stump said the submission of the petitions to the city would depend on how soon the signatures can be obtained, and how many people may be willing to seeist in circulating more copies of the petition. "We would like to have it spread throughout the entire city." Stump said. because every taxpayer would be affected."

The post office printed 16.3 billion G stamps to cover the new rate, a big boost over the 9.9 billion F stamps that were avail-able four years ago, the last time the price went up.

Postal Service spokesman Frank Brennan said stamps had been selling briskly for the past two weeks as people prepared for the increase.

Americana are very good about putting the right postage on letters, said Brennan. "Americans are a very, very honest lot in dealing with the post office. ... The percentage of people who try to beat the post office out of a few pennies is minuscule." he said.

Gingrich's mom: Newt says Hillary is a 'bitch'

Sanford Herald, Sanford, Florida - Wednesday, January 4, 1995 - CA

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK - One of the only things Newt Gingrich ever told his mother about Hillary Rodham Clinton is that "she's a bitch." Mrs. Gingrich told CBS News.

Kathleen Gingrich revealed the comment during Connie Chung's interview with the incoming House speaker's family at their home in Dauphin, Pa.

A CBS transcript released Tuesday includes the following exchange

Chung: Mrs. Gingrich, what has Newt told you about President Clinton?

Kathleen Gingrich: Nothing and I can't tell you what he said about Hillary.

Who will govern: The showdown to come

By Toll RAUE Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - As Republicans step up to bat today. the stakes are enormously high for three major players in the contest to govern: Rep. Newt Gingrich, Sen. Bob Dole and, of course, President Clinton.

The dynamic among the Dem-ocratic president and the two GOP leaders in the weeks ahead could have major consequences for the 1996 presidential election and beyond.

It also could have significant policy implications as Re-publicans test their assertion that they can change things for the better with an agenda of lower taxes and less government.

For now, all eyes are on Gingrich, taking over as House speaker, as the GOP takes control of both chambers of Congress for the first time in 40 YEARS.

Not since Henry Ciay in the early 1800s has a new House speaker been able to grab so much attention. Clay wielded power largely through political skillfulness and flery orstory, successfully challenging the old guard.

Gingrich's assumption of power today has all the trap-pings of an inauguration: He pings of an inauguration: he flew from Georgia with support-ers Tuesday aboard a special plane for an evening gals re-sembling an inaugural ball. It's part of a bold move by the former history teacher from Georgia to actuate and try to hold

Georgia to seize and try to hold the initiative and to assert leadership beyond the normal powers of the speakership. "House Republicans see Newt an their Mones," said Norman Ornstein, a scholar at the American Enterprise Institute. "He brought them out of 40 years of enslavement. But people fail to remember that Moses's followers turned on him alterwards. ...

"It's fair to say that you run into some potential pitialis if you so personalize the institution and so raise expectations." Ornstein added.

By presenting such an activist agenda, Gingrich could fall into the same trap that snared Clinton two years ago and Jimmy Carler in 1977: promiaing too much too fast and being unable to deliver.

For all the fanfare, Gingrich presides over a very slim GOP majority and lacks two important powers that Clinton exercises - the ability to speak alone for an entire branch of government and the veto pen. Shell-shocked Democrats, still shell-shocked Democrats, shift reeling from the Nov. 8 GOP landslide, are letting Gingrich and his troops have their day in the spotlight and giving them a wide berth. "We offer our hand in partnership." Incoming Senate Minority Leader Tom Deschie, D.B. D. said Tuesday. Deschie, D-8.D., said Tuesday.

But there is no doubt that major showdowns loom - particularly if Gingrich stumbles. "I think that for congressional Democrats or the White House to get in the way now would be a mistake." said Thomas Mann, a political scientist with the Brookings Institution, "That would be merely annoying to the public and counterproductive." Questions of national leadership will sort themselves out in the days shead as Gingrich, Dole and Clinton all maneuver for the highest ground. While Gingrich clearly gets the attention as the curtain rises, the drama eventually will move to the more deliberative Senate. "The Democrata have discovcred they only need 41 votes to hold things up." Dole said, impishly recalling delaying tactics used by Republicana. As promised in their "Contract

With America" manifesto, Gin-grich and his House GOP col-leagues today will begin a 100-day push for major initiatives that include welfare cuts, a balanced federal budget and a $500-per-child tax break for most Americana. That's a big order for 100 days.

Clinton proposed rival but smaller middle-class tax breaks and offsetting spending cuts before Christmas and will outline more items in his State of Union address late this month.

While standing back a little this week, the White House and its allies are getting in some genile digs at the new leader-ship.

Former Clinton presidential counsel Lloyd Cutler took exception to one Gingrich item up today - a rule change to require three-fifths majorities to boost income taxes.

Tough start to 1995 Short-handed SCC falls in OT to Kishwaukee

SANFORD - Are you sure that wasn't the Orlando Magic and the Chicago Bulls?

Tuesday night at Seminole Com-munity College's Health and Physi-cal Education Center, the host Raiders and visting Kougars of Kishwaukee College from Malta. Illinois hooked up in an NBA-type game, the Kougars outlasting the Raiders 125-120 in overtime.

"If we had made our free throws in either regulation or overtime, we would have won the game." said SCC head coach Bernard Merthie. "But the kide played hard and didn't quit. They did pretty good. especially under the circumstances."

The "circumstances" that Merthie spoke of was the fact that the Raiders only had six players in uniform: several players are ineligi-ble until they make up incomplete grades from the first term.

Making it worse for the Raiders is the fact that they begin Mid-Florida Conference play tonight in Palatka at St. John's River Community College.

"I will have a full team for St. John's, you can bet on that" said Merthie. "It may be walk-ons, but we will dress 10 to 12 players."

Merthie coached perhaps his best game in three years as the head man for the Raiders, keeping his team in the game all the way to the end, when the Raiders played the final 1:09 of regulation and all of overtime with only four players, including the final 0:02 with just three players.

SCC led early but found itself down by as many as eight points. 45-37, with three minutes left in the opening half. But the Raiders got hot behind the play of Mike Shep-pard and Akiva Wilson, tying the same at 47-47 on a three-pointer by Wilson.

The Kougars scored the next five points before SCC's Dwayne Richardson converted a rare four-point play with 0:04 left to make the score 52-51 Kishwaukee at intermission.

The Raiders trailed most of the second half, failing behind by as many as 11 points, 85-74, with 9:21 remaining on the clock. SCC got back in the game behind the inspired play of center Bib Allen. The 6-foot-8 freshman from Melbourne scored 13 points (eight straight at one point), pulled down seven rebounds and blocked four shots in the second half.

The Raiders tied the game at Kishwaukee (III.) College's Kolbie Crittenden (dark uniform) and Seminole CC's Bib Allen (background) combined for 56 points and 33 rebounds in Kishwaukee's overtime victory over the host SCC Raiders Tuesday night.

BATON ROUGE, La. - Randy Livingston scored 22 points, including five free throws in the final minute, to lead LSU to a 70-66 victory over No. 13 Florida on Tuesday night.

Livingston, who also had 11 assists and five steals, made all but one of his free throws as the Tigers held off a last-minute rally by Florida. which had whittled LSU's lead down to 67-66.

LSU (7-3, 1-0 Southeastern Conference) trailed only once in the game, by one point with four minutes left in the first half, and led by 12 points early in the second period. Florida (6-3, 0-1) cut the Tigers' lead to 47-43 at 9:33, before slipping back to a 62-52 deficit at 3:57.

Ronnie Henderson scored 19 points for LSU. while Landers Nolley added 11.

Dan Cross and Dametri Hill each had 15 points and Andrew DeClerg 10 for the Gators.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - AL opposite ends of the win-loss spectrum, the Lake Brantley and Lyman girls' soccer teams met Tuesday night at Lake Brantley High School's Tom Storey Field with the same objective: prepare for the district tournament.

While Lake Brantley's 5-0 victory suggests that the Patriots are closer to being prepared for postseason play incheduled to begin the week of Jan. 23), both coaches know a lot can happen between now and then. "So far, so good," said Lake Brantley coach John Schaefer, who celebrated his 50th birthday Tuesday. "A big part of our success is that we've been largely injury-free so far this sesson. We just need to get through the next two weeks that way

By the same token, the defending state champion Lyman Greyhounds, already missing the services of striker Danya Harris (out for the year with a broken leg), have been hit by the flu and dressed just 14 players Tuesday.

'It's tough right now, but we're working on getting ready for the district tournament." said Lyman coach Gary Barnett. "After tonight. ElSee Seccer, Page 33

SEMINOLE - If the Lake Mary Rams aren't ready for the 6A-District 4 girls' soccer tournament, it won't be for lack of trying.

On Tuesday night, the Rams began a demanding eight-game run into postsesson play with a 6-1 win over the Seminole (Pinelias County) Warhawks 1 at Seminole High School.

It seems only fitting that Lake Mary begin preparations for a run at the state title with a. game at the very site where the Rams won the state championship in 1989.

"We like to return to the scene of the crime." joked Lake Mary coach Bill Eissele Tuesday night. "We're going to finish with a good stretch of eight games that should really help us to get ready for district competition."

This weekend, the Rams head southeast to Palm Beach County, where Lake Mary will play Boca Raton Friday and Boca Raton-Spaniah River Saturday. Prior to the holidays, Boca Raton defeated Spanish River 1-0 on penalty kicks in the finals of the Burger King-Club Soccer Classic at Lake Mary.

The Rams will close out the season against Lake Brantley (Jan. 10), Lake Howell (Jan. 12). Bishop Moore (Jan. 14). St. Augustine-Nease (Jan. 20), and Melbourne (Jan. 21).

"After losing to Boca Raton 1-0 in the quarterfinals of the Burger King, the way we came back and played our last two games of the tournament impressed me," said Eissele. "When you lose 1-0 to the eventual champion, you see where you could have been had you used your oppotunities a bit more wisely.

Winning two in a row after that loss certainly set the tone. Over the next two weeks, we'll see how good a team we can be.

Freshman striker Marcie Pierce led the Rams in their win over Seminole Tuesday night with a pair of goals. Angle Olson and Allison Robinson each contributed a goal and an assist. Carrie Mangan and Joanie Shalis also scored one goal cach. Megan Zarnowiec and Jordan Kellgren each had an assist.

Lake Mary outshot the Warhawks 22-5 and had a 4-2 advantage in corner kicks. Ram goalie Michelle Rovito made four saves before giving way to Janel Clark with 20 minutes left.

The Rams, who are second in the Seminole Athletic Conference with a 7-1 mark. improve to 13-3-1 overall. Seminole falls to 8-3.

with 2:05 left on a long three-point field goal by Sheppard. He later sent the game into overtime with a bomb that knotted the score at 107-107.

Hishwaukee took control in overtime, building a six-point lead as SCC made just two of its first six free throw chances. But Sheppard again brought the locale back with his seventh three-mainter of the game and a steal and layup that cut the score to 121-120 with 0-13 left.

But the Kougars (who made all eight their free throws in overtime) made i charity shots to ice the game.

Sheppard, who played the final 23 minutes with four fouls, finished with 35 points, six rebounds, three steals and 15 assists. But it was Allen, who accred 37 points, collected 21 rebounds, blocked seven ts and had two steals, that got a lot of the praise.

"That was a man's game," SCC assistant coach Rod Henderson said of Allen's performance, "It's been a long time since 've seen a performance like that. He was tired, but he kept battling all night. He even teels a charge late in the game when he knew he couldn't block the shot. He was Also turning in good efforts for the Raiders were Wilson (37 points, seven rebounds, four cicals, three assists). Don Tillman (19 points, erven rebounds, two steals, four assists) and Richardson (15 points, eight rebounds, two assists).

For the Kougars. Dave Willock netted a arge-high S7 points and also had nine bounds, two blocked shots and three assists. Also contributing were Kolbi Crittenden (20 points, 13 rebounds), Nevin Savage (23 points, eight rebounds, four essists), Adrian Pearson (17 points, eight rebounds, and Scott Rueff (14 points, six rebounds, two steals, six assists). BCC, now 9-7, play the St. John's River CC Vikings in their M-PC opener tonight at 7:30 p.m. The Raiders will return home sturdey night for a men's-women's M-PC doubleheeder against Florids Community College at Jacksonville. The women will play at 6 p.m. with the men tipping off at 8 p.m.

Nishwaukee College, a National Junior College Athletic Association Division III (no scholarships) school of 1.500 students, completed an excellent Florida swing, win-ning two of three games to improve to 13-4 on the season. The Kougars lost to Brevard Community College 96-96 before humbling Valencia Community College by 25 points.

NEW YORK - As baseball

NEW YORK — As baseball turns its attention to replace-ment players, government is turning its attention to the 146-day-old strike. While biaseball's operations committee meets by telephone and discusses how to set up replacement ball, the 104th Congress opens. Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, D-N.Y., and Rep. Michael Billiarkis, R-Fis., plaaned to introduce legislation to remove the sport's 75-year-tid antitrust score in the interval antitirust exemption. "Major league baseball is in grave peril." said Meynihan, who will working with Senate Judiciary Committee chairman Orrin Hatch, R-Utah. "The an-titrust exemption allows the owners to act as a cartel."

In another part of Washington. Labor Secretary Robert Reich meets with union head Donald Fehr and next week with acting commissioner Bud Selig.

"We've been encouraged and have not been distressed about due prospects for some time now." Feir said Tuesday of the antitrust legislation.

General managers returned from the holiday break and said they were awaiting guidance from the operations committee. which Selig appointed last Sep-tember. Pitchers and catchers are due to start reporting Pels. 16. and the overwholming mejority of teams appear to favor

Eugene Oras, the union's No. 2 official, said Tuesday the boycott will con-tinue at least through meetings among agents and the union staff next week.

Chuck O'Connor, who again broathe management's top labor official following Richard Revitch's formal departure Sat-urday, said that to comply with labor law, owners will have to bargain with striking major leaguers over the rules for strikebreakers, such as mini-mum asiery and roater size. mum salary and roster size.

"I think we'll have a better feel by the end of the week." said Florids general manager Dave Dombrowski, a member of the operationa committee: "We're going to have to answer the questions relatively soon so we can start moving in that direc-tion."

Three controlling owners are on the committee: Montreal on the committee: Montreal Expos chief executive officer Claude Brochu, Boston Red Box CEO John Harrington and Texas Rangers general partner Rusty Rose. It also includes Oskland Athletics president Sandy Alderson. Philadelphis Phillies co-general partner Dave Montgomery. Yankses executive vice president David Buseman and two vice presidents of fi-nance: Bob Grastano of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Kevin Mather of the Minnesota Twins.

If the owners use strikebreak-ers, two teams may not play: Toronto is prohibited by Ontario law from using replacements at home, and Haltimore Orioles owner Peter Angelos, a labor lawyer, asys his team won't play under such circumstances.

New York Mets general man-ager Joe Mellvaine said he won't use his top prospecie as re-placements becduse he wouldn't want to taint them. Other clubs also said they probably would use career minor issguers.

While not signing contracts, general managers and agents continue to talk. More than 100 players are free agents and 38 became restricted free agents when owners implemented.

Antidote to dial twisting Radio service goes where you go

By JEANNINE AVERSA Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - Stuck in the car on a long road trip, you're scanning the dial as radio stations ebb and flow. But the day may be near when radio stations go where you go. Federal regulators are considering a handful of proposals for a new radio service that would be available nationwide, transmitted by satellite. The radio industry opposes the proposals, arguing they would drive local stations out of business.

The Federal Communications Commission is expected to decide on Jan. 12 whether or not the new satellite-delivered service should move forward.

Under the proposals, whether you are driving through Pine Bluff, Ark., or Los Angeles, you could receive a package of channels - with the weather or sports or the opera - transmitted digitally for a sound more like a compact disc than radio. The signal also would be stronger and less susceptible to interference.

The satellite could even transmit stock quotes or other information to a mobile fax machine.

To get the service, you need a special radio and antenna. And, under most proposals you would have to pay a monthly fee.

It's the audio equivalent of cable television. But unlike cable television or audio services carried on cable systems, the new service is mobile.

The FCC will decide whether to allocate a portion of the public's airwaves for the service the first crucial step in bringing the service to consumers.

FCC officials would not discuss the proceeding.

If authorized, each new radio service would deliver dozens of channels, which radio stations fear will fragment their audiences - driving advertising rates down and shrinking funds for local programming. "That's the biggest threat," said Lynn McReynolds, spokeswoman for the National Association of Broadcasters. "These new services can bring 30 or 60 channels into a market."

A loss of national advertising would be another threat to local stations, McReynolds said.

Richard Wiley, counsel to CD Radio Inc., the ture of a curve, conceve North-first company to ask the FCC to establish the new service, said the broadcasting industry has a history of trying to block new technology with predictions of financial doom.

"They made the same argument with cable and DBS (direct broadcast satellite), and the courts, the FCC and the marketplace reality disagreed with them," Wiley said.

Despite the growth in cassette players and compact disc players in cars, radio listenership in cars continues to grow, he said.

And, the existence of national advertiser-supported radio networks — CBS, NBC, ABC, Mutual, Unistar — and cable radio "has had little if any, measurable impact on stations' revenues." according to an economic study CD Radio has sent to the FCC.

The nation's 9,000-plus commercial radio stations were expected to produce about $10 billion in 1994, a new industry high, said NAB's McReynolds.

Under a worst-case scenario, CD Radio said the new service could trim as much as 3.1 percent from local stations' total advertising revenue.

The broadcasters association says it would be much more than that, but didn't have an estimate.

CD Radio's study estimates that by 2004 subscribers to the new radio services could account for between 3 percent and 10 percent of all car owners.

Even if regulators clear the service this year, it will take CD Radio and other applicants at least three years to build and launch satellites, Wiley naid.

CD Radio expects to charge between $5 and $10 a month for as many as 50 channels. Retail prices of the new radio receivers have yet to be determined.

Other companies that have applied to the FCC to provide the service, known as digital audio radio, are:

-American Mobile Satellite Corp., 22 national channels, supported by subscriptions and advertising.

-Digital Satellite Broadcast Corp., 16 national channels, 16 regional channels, supported by subscription.

-Primosphere, 23 national channels, advertiser supported.

Severe headaches linked to tumor

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a male in my late 30s and have been bothered by severe headaches for several years. They've caused blurred vision. An ophthalmologist indicated I look as if I have choked discs and referred me to a neurologist. He sent me to an endocrinologist, who said I have acromegaly. I was placed on medication and now face the prospect of surgery to remove the tumor, and the possibility of radiation treatment. A CT scan showed the tumor is invading bone cells in my skull. An MRI showed that there are several tumors. What is acromegaly? Will the proposed treatment of surgery and radia-tion work? Will the tumor come back? Will the headaches stop? DEAR READER: You have an unusual and extremely serious condition. A tumor (adenoma) in the pituitary gland is producing inappropriately large quantities of growth hormone. Not only is the tumor causing pressure on delicate tissues in the brain, the growth hormone is dangerously stimulating your whole body. Without treatment, your looks will change: coarser features, prominent jaw, arthritis, enlarging hands and feet and skull. In addition, you may develop diabetes and suffer nerve damage in your extremities.

Acromegaly is the descriptive name given to patients with excess levels of growth hormone. In most cases, the combination of surgery and X-ray therapy will successfully treat the pro-blem and curtail the complications I mentioned. (If your features have been affected, they may not return to normal for years, however.)

No one can predict if the tumor will regrow but your headaches will, in all likelihood, disappear. Without doubt, you should follow your specialist's recommendations.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've suffered from hypertension for a number of years and have been treated with medication. I happened to mention to a friend that I drink

Thomas Gray, the 18thcentury English poet, wrote, "The paths of glory lead but to the grave." Rather depressing. but in bridge, when you are on opening lead, you are planning that that grave will be dug for between three to five cups of decaffeinated coffee a day. He indicated that if I cut out the decaffeinated beverage, my blood pressure would drop. I did and it did. Why? I always thought that it was caffeine that elevated blood pressure. What's in the decaffeinated kind that also causes high blood pressure? DEAR READER: I don't know. The traditional thinking has been that caffeine worsens hypertension but decaffeinated beverages do not. Your response

is unusual and I cannot explain

Nonetheless, if avoiding decaffeinated drinks has brought your blood pressure down, stay the course. There must be something in the brew that was not healthy for you.

the contract

On lead against three notrump, it is normal to start with the fourth-highest from your longest and strongest. However. today's deal highlights one time when a different approach will yield better dividends.

After South opened with a strong no-trump and West overcalled two hearts. North bid three diamonds. Is this forcing. invitational or a sign-off? A very good question! Do you and your partner agree? Unless you use the Lebensohl convention (which, following an overcall, employs an artificial two notrump to increase the fourth-highest heart. Declarer AA 9 2 called for dummy's jack and, when it held the trick, played on clubs. The defense was dead.

Holding three aces. West should have led the heart ace. If the dummy has, say, three hearts. West will continue with a low heart, playing for declarer to hold king-doubleton. Here, though, West will lead the queen at trick two, pinning dummy's jack and hoping declarer doesn't have the 10. As you can see, this attack kills the contract.

By Bernice Bode Cool YOUR BERTHDAY Jan. 5, 1995

There are strong indications that your self-interests will be powerful in the year ahead; this does not necessarily mean you will be selfish. As you progress, you'll carry those worthy of reward with you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Conceptually changing a plan you've been considering will create the desired effect. The important thing is not to com-promise your ideals. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker. P.O. Box 4465, New York. NY 10163.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your achievements will be substantial today if you do some-thing that others benefit from as much as you do.

PIECES (Feb. 20-March 20)

You possess the ability to make the best of any situation today. Use this valuable asset for the acke of many. ARIBO (March 21-April 19) You will be able to ingeniously remold the vague, frail ideas of others today. Mutual benefits can be garnered. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Candor is essential today in your one-to-one relationships. Do not pull your punches, but there's no reason to present your comments unkindly. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Use your organizational abilities constructively today. Develop a clear system for dealing with a situation confusing to everybody. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today will be fun if you are willing to devote some time to people you like and activities you truly enjoy.

LBO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your family members will be more receptive to your ideas and plans if you first set a good example today. Be a good listener and step out front early.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Endeavors requiring artistic and imaginative touches will go well for you today. You can draw readily from both of these resources. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your concerns today. Your op-portunities will be due, in part. to the efforts of others on your behalf.

Eliminate the word "can't" from your vocabulary today. Positive thinking will prove successful if you give it half a chance.

AGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Open your heart and your purse when dealing with those icas fortunate than yourself today. Giving generously creates good feelings in you and the recipient.
