Simply stone and iron! Our photographer called this "Strength."
 Stone and Iron are unyielding. But the greatest strength this world has known is a STRENGTH that yields:
 God possesses a resolute Will... yet He gives man freedom of will.
 God embodies all Power... but He hears and answers prayer.
 God breathes Holiness... yet He forgives men's sin.
 For God is Love... and love is a living Strength... that reaches, inspires, guides, protects, promises, fulfills.
 He was a descendant of the Ages of Stone and of Iron — that earnest seeker who cried, The Lord is the strength of my life.
 At church, next Sunday, you'll rub shoulders with countless others who look beyond walls and chains to find STRENGTH.

Three of Sanford's finest are to leave today for Tallahassee and special duty during the inaugural Tuesday. Heading the group will be Lt. Joe Hickson, accompanied by Patrolmen Charles Fagan and Larry Hamrick.

Sheriff's deputies report a rash of bicycle thefts in the county and urged the owners to lock their vehicles or keep them in an enclosed area.

You could actually see that cold front moving across the Sanford scene Sunday afternoon. First the clouds were way off to the north but gradually moved southward. As they did the wind kicked up and the sunny Sanford Sunday came to an abrupt close as heavy rain clouded the area.

The dog track opened its season over the weekend and with it came a monumental traffic tie-up. As one deputy put it this morning, "It seems like everyone came in car— one to a customer."

County commissioners will reorganize Tuesday morning with Ed Yarbrough and Lawrence Swofford being seated as new commissioners. They'll also elect a new chairman to replace Jim Avery who decided against running for another term.

Bobbie Lynch, 46, a police victim since he was three months old, is sporting a new chair, thanks to the efforts of the March of Dimes. He told The Herald the other day he is "very proud of it and I want to let my friends know how good the March of Dimes is and has been to me." Bobbie is a former Yellow Cab Company dispatcher in this area.

ATTENTION Mutual Council membership holders: The concert by the Stetson Choir has been changed from its originally scheduled time, Thursday, and will now be held Saturday at the Seminole High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Following concerts in order are the Florida Symphony on March 2 at the Civic Center and the Burke Family Singers on March 29. Membership tickets are still available, but no single tickets.

A young man who is compiling a notable record of civic activity in the community is Bill Frassa, who will be installed as president of the Kiwanis Club at ceremonies at the Civic Center Wednesday noon. Kiwanis Lt. Gov. Ernie Baldwin will be in town to do the honors.

"Sixty per cent of young children are not in Sunday school and 90 per cent of college students do not attend church," says Kiwanis Past District Gov. Jim Parrish, who spoke to the local club last week. Can this be true?

"The rise and fall of nations follows this pattern — from bondage, to faith, courage and freedom, then abundance, followed by selfishness, then indifference, then apathy and finally back to bondage." Parrish urged the awakening of faith to combat this deadly trend.

Terry Allen Moore of Sanford, majoring in science and literature at Auburn University, is among the undergraduate students in the top five per cent of their classes for the fall quarter which recently ended at the Alabama school.

Gunnery Sgt. J. E. Graddock Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Graddock, 2018 South Park Avenue, was recently commended by Maj. Gen. A. L. Bower, commanding general at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C. Since February, 1961, Graddock has been a staff instructor at the Instructor Training Unit for Marine Corps supply schools at Camp Lejeune. Graddock was transferred from duties at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

GOP Ousts Halleck As Congress Convenes

ANDREW Carraway today was named to his third four-year term as a member of the Seminole Memorial Hospital board of trustees by Gov. Farris Bryant.

2 Men Confess To Murder Of Wm. McDonald

Volusia County authorities are seeking extradition of two men involved in the hammer-slaying of a prominent DeLand man, William McDonald, Dec. 27.

Reported to have admitted the slaying are Edward M. Weir Jr., 24, and William Steven Day, 19. They told of the killing when apprehended in Fowler, Ind., late last week.

McDonald, brother of Tom McDonald, former Sanford mayor, was found in the bathtub a week ago Sunday and it was first thought he had suffered a heart attack.

The two men told Fowler authorities they struck McDonald over the head with a hammer, then held his head under water until they were sure he was dead.

They fled in McDonald's car, which was recovered by Fowler police.

The two men said they killed McDonald after he had declined to lend them his car.

Mayor Election On City Agenda

Election of a mayor and appointment of a municipal judge will highlight Tuesday night's meeting of the City Commission as the board reorganizes for 1965.

The commissioners will choose their chief as the final order of business on the eight-point agenda. Mayor A. L. Wilson is concluding his 12-month stint in that post.

Judge Kenneth McIntosh has resigned his post so he can devote his time to his new duties as county prosecutor. Commissioners have suggested County Judge C. Vernon Mize as his successor.

Also on the agenda is the presentation of Marvin Metzger for the activation of a community action committee, a request for recognition of the Sanford Gas Company franchise, a request for a 60-day extension for Roscoe Morgan on a condemnation plan, and first reading of an ordinance prohibiting the keeping of junk cars, parts and debris in residential areas.

Trooper, Slayer Shot To Death

McLENNY (UPI) — A highway patrolman was shot to death Sunday by a Negro who was killed a short while later during a fight in the back seat of a patrol car.

The patrol said Trooper S. L. Scott Jr., 25, of Waldo, was found lying on Interstate Highway 10 early Sunday about 12 miles east of Lake City.

The suspect, John Henry Jenkins, 25, was captured by a Duval County road patrolman after a chase through one of many roadblocks that had been set up.

Jenkins was killed when he tried to take a gun away from a state trooper in the rear seat of a patrol car after he had been captured.

Thug Beats Man, Gets Little Cash

Ronald W. Muirhead, 41, Bristol Avenue, was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital Sunday after being beaten over the head with a rifle as he watched television at his home.

Muirhead told Constable R. E. Carroll a robber entered his home and struck him as he dined off in his chair. The house was ransacked and a billfold containing a small amount of money was taken, Carroll said.

A city police dog was sent to assist in the search for the assailant but a heavy down-pour wiped out tracks, Carroll said.

One Round More Won By Swofford

Circuit Court Judge Volle A. Williams Jr. today denied a request by attorneys for E. Pope Bassett for a temporary injunction which would prevent W. Lawrence Swofford from being seated Tuesday on the Board of Seminole County Commissioners.

Swofford was opposed by Bassett in last November's general election. Initial results gave Bassett 7,735 votes to 7,617 for the Altamonte Springs mayor. However, when absentee ballots were counted Swofford picked up enough votes to take a 128-vote margin and win the office.

Bassett charged election irregularities in precincts 1, 3, 11, 17, 20 and 23 and filed a suit in Circuit Court asking that the election of Swofford be set aside and that Bassett be declared the winner.

Recently a motion was granted by Judge Williams to dismiss the suit but Bassett and his attorneys were given 15 days in which to file an amended complaint. Bassett still has time to file the amended complaint but asked for an injunction this morning in an effort to prevent Swofford from being seated Tuesday when the County Commission convenes for an organizational meeting.

Judge Williams denied the request on the basis that courts must presume when canvassing boards certify election returns that the certificate is correct unless there is evidence to the contrary. Since the plaintiff at this morning's hearing presented no evidence or testimony as to the validity of the election the motion was not granted.

Attorneys for Swofford today presented evidence that the commissioner-elect had been duly certified by the canvassing board, put up his bond, taken his oath of office and had received his commission of office from Gov. Farris Bryant.

Seminole '65 Baby Race Is Close One

Emory Emerson Griffin is the New Year's Baby of 1965 for Seminole County. It appeared at press time today.

Emory, a six-pound boy, 16 inches long, arrived at 6 a. m. Saturday at the Jones-Franz Maternity Home, 421 East Sixth Street.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Griffin, of 1703 West 15th Street.

Emory's name as the New Year's Baby for the long list of accompanying prizes from Sanford and Seminole County merchants was received in the mail just before press time today.

Emory nosed out by one hour and 46 minutes Robert John Collins, who arrived at 7:46 a. m. Saturday at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Robert weighed six pounds nine ounces and is 19 inches long. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Collins, of 2422 Princeton Avenue.

Emory and his parents will receive the New Year's Baby prizes unless another entry is received before the deadline of Tuesday midnight.

Firemen Scurry But No Fire

LONDON (UPI) — Where there's smoke, there's fire, so fire engines and ambulances rushed to a burning 707 jetliner at it sat on the taxiway of London Airport and the 79 passengers hurried off the plane.

Then it was found that steam pouring from the craft's undercarriage had been mistaken for smoke.

Judge Mize On Last Day Juvenile Case Needs Outlined

By Julian Stenstrom
Amid handling a few last minute details during his last day as county judge, C. Vernon Mize took time out to pack his brief case and share with this Herald reporter a few suggestions he hoped Seminole County authorities would adhere to in the not too distant future.

First Judge Mize said that Seminole County must employ more juvenile court counselors. "Due to the increase in our population and the resulting increase in the number of cases we must process," Judge Mize declared, "we need at least one but more realistically, two additional counselors. Counties around us with similar populations have as many as three counselors," he said. "It's gotten to the point," he stressed, "that the county judge must not only serve as county judge and juvenile court judge but also as a counselor since we have only one counselor at this time."

Judge Mize also called for the establishment as soon as possible of a juvenile detention hall. "Right now we're still having to use facilities in the county jail and that," he added, "is not in the best interest of the youngsters involved. Other counties around us have them and to me this is a must if we're going to continue to cope with the juvenile problem."

Judge Mize continued, "Another thing I'd like to see is a facility in the new hospital wing where mental patients can be confined.

"We're still having to use facilities in the county jail and this is not conducive to accepted procedures. Sometimes, he pointed out, "these patients can become extremely violent and if we had facilities just for such cases at Seminole Memorial trained medical employees could provide the type of assistance the patients require."

Judge Mize said that such facilities were now available in Volusia, Brevard and Orange counties.

Mize also called the establishment of a child guidance clinic as a phase of the county's health department program necessary.

"In such a clinic," Mize explained, "an emotionally disturbed child can be examined and treatment prescribed. Make no mistake about it," he went on, "there are plenty of children in this category in Seminole County. If you don't believe me you can talk to some of our school principals."

Mize said that at this time it takes from one to two months just to get an appointment at a child guidance clinic in Orlando. "With such a clinic here in Seminole," Mize declared, "a youngster can be tested. Once his problem is located juvenile court people are in a better position to deal with the child."

"One thing our people must understand," said Judge Mize, "is that in juvenile court procedure there is no penalty fit the crime. The penalty must fit the child."

SEMINOLE COUNTED its first traffic fatality of the New Year Friday, a scant 20 hours after the year started. Killed in the high speed crash was N. Woodrow Jacobs, 53, of the Old Orlando Highway. Constable R. E. Carroll said Jacobs was driving west on Highway 46 when his car crashed into a truck being backed onto the highway by Jim Via, of Lake Mary. He said a flagman was on the scene to halt traffic but had to leap to safety as the speeding car arrived. Jacobs was pinned in the car and was pronounced dead on arrival at the local hospital.

Bryant Takes Final Slap At Successor

By Barbara Frye
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — In a surprise move today, Gov. Farris Bryant signed new appointments for his controversial Board of Regents and the Cabinet Board of Education reconfirmed them.

It was the only business transacted at the final meeting of the Cabinet under the Bryant administration.

The regency appointments, handled a week ago, drew fire from incoming Gov. Haydon Burns who formally is sworn in Tuesday but who could become governor if he wished at midnight Monday.

He wanted a voice in selection of the nine-man board that will run the state university system during his tenure as governor.

The five-member Board of Education, headed by Bryant, must by law confirm the appointments and this was done unanimously a week ago and the new regents officially took office on New Year's Day.

But Secretary of State Tom Adams raised the question whether appointment of the board before the effective date of creation of the board, Jan. 3, might not be questioned so the governor quickly signed new appointments and the board again confirmed them.

It was the final Cabinet meeting also for Atty. Gen. James Kynes who gives over his office Tuesday to Earl Faircloth of Miami who defeated him in a close race.

Burns does not arrive in Tallahassee until 3:30 p.m. Monday when he and his immediate family, including grand-son Clay Watkins, fly to the capital in a big Convair airplane and take up headquarters at the Floridian Hotel.

Sen. Long New Whip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic-dominated 89th Congress convened today shortly after House Republicans ousted veteran leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Senate Democrats named Russell B. Long as their whip.

Halleck went down to defeat to Rep. Gerald A. Ford of Michigan who will command the depleted Republican House forces over the next two years.

The Senate Democrats picked Long for their No. 2 leadership post to settle a three-way contest. He defeated Sens. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island and A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma for the post vacated by Vice President - elect Hubert H. Humphrey.

In the immediate offing were opening day disputes over far-reaching rules changes in both the House and Senate.

And at 9 p.m. (EST) President Johnson was to address a joint session to deliver his State of the Union message.

Challenge was the keynote of the day except at the ceremonial swearing in rituals where freshman congressmen were welcomed and veterans from both sides of the aisle held informal reunions.

The two Kennedy brothers — Edward of Massachusetts and Robert of New York — walked together into the Senate chamber for the opening ceremony.

Long's victory came on the second ballot at a closed-door meeting of the 68 Democrats, which will far outnumber their 32 Republican opponents in this session.

Halleck was tossed out of the House leadership post just six years after he himself had engineered a coup that had unseated his predecessor, Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts.

In advance of the Halleck-Ford showdown, the 140 House Republicans picked Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin to be chairman of their party conference—the major policy shaping group.

Laird defeated Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, a late entry who had support of the GOP liberal bloc.

Long, son of the flamboyant Huey Long, is a southerner who is able to enlist support of a decisive group of northern and western Democrats to win the whip job.

Ford's triumph over Halleck was expected to bring no drastic change of basic leadership philosophy. In general, Ford based his successful campaign to unseat the conservative Halleck on the fact he was a younger man. Halleck is 64, Ford is 51.

Bad Weather Continues In North, West

By United Press
The Pacific Northwest bent again today under the threat of the third straight week of rain, snow and floods. Rain and cold chilled the East.

Homestead, Fla., was hit with three-quarters of an inch of rain as a cold front triggered thunderstorms across southern Florida.

Cold air and 50 mile winds whipped across New England today "dropping" temperatures to the 20s.

Similar high winds buffeted Sheridan, Wyo., and plummeted the temperature to 18 below zero at Cut Bank, Mont.

It was expected to be cloudy and continued cold over most of the nation today.

But in California, disaster workers played a waiting game as the weather bureau predicted snow and rain.

Heavy rain and blizzard conditions closed all roads in Humboldt County, California, which suffered the worst in Christmas week flooding.

Three Rhode Island duck hunters drowned Sunday when their skill capsize in rough water and 40-mile an hour winds on Narragansett Bay.

High winds, freezing temperatures and an eight-inch snowfall jolted Connecticut during the weekend.

In eastern Washington state, trains were delayed and roads closed by heavy, drifting snow.

Along the Pacific Coast, rivers were reported rising again.

But George Grace, regional director of the Office of Emergency Planning, said low temperatures hopefully would not melt snow in the mountains.

The Red Cross said heavy snow stranded 2,500 motorists in the Siaklyou Mountains of Northern California.

Preliminary reports indicated the two weeks of flooding and bad weather took at least 62 lives and caused damage estimated at more than $700 million in the Pacific Northwest.

Pay Hike Seen By Chairman For Military

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The new chairman of the House Armed Services Committee has pledged to work for a military pay raise and increased congressional control of the nation's armed forces.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-S.C.), who will succeed retiring Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) as head of the powerful committee, said that last year's military pay bill "was little more than a gesture."

"It was not exactly an insult, but it certainly was no compliment," Rivers said in an interview in the January issue of Air Force-Space Digest magazine. The magazine is published by the Air Force Association.

Rivers said he already has drafted a bill which would "be about the size" of $300 million for the men and women in the armed forces.

"With a $330 billion gross national product, I say we can afford to give the military a pay raise of this size," he said.

Rivers said military fringe benefits such as housing, overseas allowances, medical care and commissaries, should be written into a law rather than left "to the discretion of some transitory secretary."

New Rail-Union Parley Slated

CHICAGO (UPI)—Rail and union negotiators met today for the first time in a month in hopes of settling a 20-month wage dispute that could "blow into a nationwide rail strike."

If both sides stick to their promise to offer nothing new at today's meeting, the session will be a short—and perhaps futile—one.

Former Resident Dies At Miami

Columbus C. Laramore, 79, former Sanford resident who had lived in Miami for the past nine years, died there in Jackson Memorial Hospital.

A retired ACL engineer, he was a member of the Sanford Elks Club.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Mayre Laramore, of Miami, and a brother, Joseph Laramore, of Charlottesville, Va.

BERRY'S WORLD

Joseph W. Ramsey, vice president of the International Association of Machinists, wrote James E. Wolfe, chief rail negotiator, last week asking for talks to reopen today.

The railroad machinists, electricians and sheetmetal workers have refused to sign contracts along the lines 13 other railroad unions signed with the carriers. The contracts provided for nine-cent-an-hour pay raises for each of three years.

The three holdout shopcraft unions are demanding higher increases for skilled workers, but said they are willing to accept the nine cents for unskilled workers.

Wolfe insists that to grant any of the workers more than nine cents an hour increase would "be breaking faith with the unions that have signed."

The 13 unions that agreed to terms represent 650,000 workers. The three holdouts have 52,000 members. But a strike by them could tie up 187 of the nation's railroads, shutting down more than 90 percent of all rail traffic.

Glenn Retires From Marines

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Astronaut John H. Glenn retired from the Marine Corps today as a colonel, apparently recovered from an inner ear injury he received last summer.

Glenn, first American to orbit the earth, received formal retirement papers from Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., commander of the Marine Corps.

Marine Corps spokesmen said a physical examination taken by Glenn at El Toro, Calif., last month indicated he is in good shape. He was permitted to resume flying after the examination.

In retirement, Glenn will receive a pension of approximately $800 a month, plus a salary reported to be between $30,000 and $40,000 a year as an executive for a soft drink company.

'Renegade' Democrats Resent Colleagues' Act

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of two southern Democrats stripped of seniority in the House by his colleagues says he will quit the party rather than remain "a second class Democrat."

The statement was made by Rep. Albert W. Watson (D-S.C.) in reply to action taken Saturday by House Democrats against him and Rep. John Bill Williams (D-Miss.) because they supported GOP presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater.

Williams said he would consider resigning from the party but he gave no indication what his decision would be.

An 18-year veteran of House service, he lost far more seniority than Watson, a two-year man.

Watson told the UPI that "the decision facing me now is whether to become a Republican or an independent." He said he would make up his mind, probably within a week, after conferring with constituents.

The two southerners said their punishment created "classes within the Democratic party." Watson, commenting on his own, said, "personally, I don't intend to be a second class Democrat."

"They are relegating us, as white southerners, to the kitchen where we get crumbs, while others are rewarded in the banquet hall," said Watson. "I cannot remain a Democrat under these conditions."

Watson said he would go back to South Carolina after President Johnson's State of the Union address tonight and return to Washington only after cloaking between a Republican and an independent future.

He hoped to decide before the Republicans make their committee assignments next week.

Sources close to Watson believed he would have followed his friend, Sen. Strom Thurmond, into the GOP during the presidential campaign had he not been on the ballot for reelection as a Democrat.

There is speculation that Williams will retire from Congress after one more term and run for governor in 1967 as a "Mississippi Democrat." He recently denied such plans but did not discount the possibility. Williams, 46, ranked second only to Chairman Owen Harris

Communists Step Up Rights Action-Hoover

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says the Communist party is trying to increase its influence in the civil rights movement and step up its recruitment of American youths.

Hoover made the statements in a report on FBI activities in 1964 made public Sunday. Submitted to acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, the report said:

"The party is making every effort to increase its influence in the racial struggle and continues to promote the false impression that it is a legitimate political party."

"It has assigned priority to a recruitment campaign aimed at gaining new members from the ranks of America's youth. To implement this program, it initiated a new national Marxist youth organization last June—the W.E.B. Dubois Clubs of America. Chapters of this group have already appeared on several college campuses."

Hoover did not name the colleges.

The 70-year-old FBI chief said his agents had been active in civil rights law enforcement, investigating 900 cases during the year. This represented a "sharp trend upward," he said.

He cited the FBI arrest of 21 persons in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers in Mississippi. He also noted that FBI investigations were conducted into alleged police brutality, and the bombings and burnings of Negro homes and churches.

Hoover said final tabulations for 1964 would show the apprehension of about 13,200 fugitives and recovery of more than 20,500 stolen automobiles in FBI-investigated cases.

Things Tough All Over

LONDON (UPI) — Prince William of Gloucester, a 23-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth, went to work today as a $40-a-week bank trainee.

It was the first time in the long history of the British throne that a royal prince had ever taken a commercial job.

Prince William is fifth in line for the crown.

The tradition that princes of the blood royal do not engage in trade is older than the Norman conquest.

They are supposed to devote themselves to "public duties"—opening fairs, laying cornerstones, launching ships and serving as figureheads for innumerable civil and charitable organizations.

Watson said he would go back to South Carolina after President Johnson's State of the Union address tonight and return to Washington only after cloaking between a Republican and an independent future.

He hoped to decide before the Republicans make their committee assignments next week.

Sources close to Watson believed he would have followed his friend, Sen. Strom Thurmond, into the GOP during the presidential campaign had he not been on the ballot for reelection as a Democrat.

Well On Road To Recovery

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Duke of Windsor's quick comeback from major surgery is so complete that he may be allowed to return to New York Wednesday or Thursday.

Britain's former king and his Baltimore-born duchess have been making brief expeditions into Houston society for the past few days.

The duke, a robust 70, has been in fine condition since the operation Dec. 16 at Methodist Hospital that replaced a weakened section of his main artery with dacron tubing.

He Went Home For Holidays

A city work gang escapee who fled Dec. 10 returned to the city jail last night with his minister.

Police identified the man as David Butler, 31. He was accompanied by Rev. L. J. James. Police said he had been jailed on an assault count and now faces two other charges, escape and theft of prison clothing.

Firemen Make 2 Weekend Runs

Defective heaters sent city firemen on two runs over the weekend with damage confined to the heaters.

Firemen were called to the residence of A. T. Clark, 101 East 23rd Street, at 11:06 p. m. Saturday and to the R. A. Redding home 1609 Park Avenue at 12:13 p. m. Sunday.

Art Collection Auction Slated

GIAN BERNINI'S sculptural masterpiece, a terra cotta angel designed for the high altar of the San Agostino Church, Rome, is one of the works of art which is included in the Ringling Museums Acquisitions, 1954-64 show which opened Dec. 30 and runs through Jan. 17 in Gallery 21 of the Museum of Art.

Simplifying Knowledge

We hear a lot about the "information explosion"—how knowledge is piling on top of knowledge at such a rate that we are in danger of being buried under mountains of information.

It's enough to make a kindergarten want to turn in his scissors and craft paper right now.

It's refreshing then to hear an optimistic view, especially from someone who has done his own share of adding to mankind's store of knowledge.

Biochemist Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, winner of the 1937 Nobel Prize for medicine, is optimistic because "science tends to generalize, and generalization means simplification."

He points to his own field, biology, which is very much richer than in his student days. "But it is simpler, too. Then it was horribly complex, being fragmented into a great number of isolated principles. Today these are all fused into one single complex with the atomic model in its center."

According to Szent-Gyorgyi, we have the wrong idea about the function of books. We think of them as something whose contents have to be crammed into our heads—or our children's.

Just the opposite, he says. "Books are there to keep the knowledge in while we use our heads for something better."

Another widely held opinion is that memorizing of facts is good mental training and that knowledge does no harm. But, he says, the mind is not a bottomless pit, "and if we put in one thing we might have to leave out another."

So what the schools have to do, he says, "is to make us learn how to learn, to whet our appetites for knowledge, to teach us the delight of doing a job well and the excitement of creativity, to teach us to love what we do, and to help us to find what we love to do."

A tall order, but one well worth attempting to fill.

A Common Bond

At the same time as Egyptian jets were shooting down an American oil company plane, Egyptian and American scientists were co-operating in measuring the moon's temperature during a lunar eclipse.

While their government takes economic assistance from the United States with one hand and encourages the unbridled destruction of a valuable American library with the other, the scientists of Egypt have given another demonstration of the truth that the quest for knowledge removes some men far above the petty barbarisms and ambitions of other men who call themselves leaders.

Perhaps human government will become a science someday, too.

Thought For Today

Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.—Pauline 34:14.

My country wants to be constructive, not destructive. It wants to live in freedom, and in the confidence that the people of every other nation enjoy equally the right of choosing their own way of life.—Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Lighter Side

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Society for Advancement of Management held a conference here on the subject "Living with Executive Tenure."

Its purpose was to discuss the various factors that cause strain on executives, and to explore ways of coping with them.

I am now convinced that none of the things mentioned at the conference is responsible for the rise in executive tensions in this country.

I believe that the real cause can be found in an article that subsequently appeared in the Wall Street Journal. It discussed the rise in business of women office workers.

According to the Journal, America's top executives and captains of industry are caught up in a lively controversy over how should they deal with the rise in executive tensions in this country.

are filled with tension. I hardly qualify as an executive, but nothing makes me quite as tense as a woman office worker with her knees banging out. It is just enough when the woman is your co-worker. When you are far across the mental and nervous strain must be terrific.

As Dr. Francis J. Hilliard, a prominent psychologist, pointed out in his address at the conference, the present management level must reduce the "timeliness of command."

An executive who is constantly interrupted with one or more subordinates coming through the working day undoubtedly is the least of it.

It must constantly be recognized that a woman's knee like "Miss Jones" or "Miss Smith" is a constant reminder of the "timeliness of command."

The situation should be some critical as long as someone who wear short skirts to the office remain standing. But owing to a peculiarity of the feminine anatomy, when a woman sits down her knees become twice as difficult to ignore.

U. S. WALKS AN EXECUTIVE and wanted to reduce the number of chairs from the office.

Although, according to him, women generally are classified as a passing fashion, I strongly suspect they are more than that. The evidence indicates they are part of a family plot to wrest control of the business world from men.

Women obviously are trying to create conditions under which all male executives will either have complete break downs, or will have to go away on long sea voyages to forget about knees.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Up looking like villains.

Back of this willingness to make concessions to Panama lies a hard chunk of reality. The new canal the United States is planning will be a sea level canal. It will require less operating and maintenance cost and little porting.

A canal now under the way for security. Either the old canal and its zone will be ceded.

Since there will be no locks in the new sea level canal, it will be difficult for Communist submarines to hide out of the water.

The present canal, by contrast, should be shut down for security. Panama's economy is being strangled.

Worry Clinic

Clara is like millions of women who fear the menopause. But they often are guilty of using that bugaboo as a red herring to disguise their indolence about dieting. Girls, you can't feel like a sports roadster with the chassis of truck! So study this case and send for the Dieting Booklet below.

CASE U-473. Clara G., aged 39, is moody and despondent.

"Dr. Crane," she lamented, "I feel old and on the shelf. So I sit around the house by the hour and cry my eyes out."

"My husband then gets cross and scolds me, so that makes me feel even worse. Am I just having the change of life a little earlier than usual?"

"What can I do to throw off these fits of the blues?" "You can't be active and feel blue," runs an axiom of modern psychiatry.

"So get going!" Make an agenda of your daily duties so you can increase your output of happy, bold choices.

Then, if you have surplus time, develop some hobbies to occupy your spare moments.

But Clara is not alone. Millions of women who have added too much "padding" to their bodies are like her.

For Clara now, the scales at 160 though she is only five feet four inches and small build.

"Clara," I replied, "you can't feel like a sports roadster with the chassis of a truck."

Clara's problem is not just one of weight. It is also one of mood. She is moody and despondent.

"You probably were slender and quite pretty when you were a bride, weren't you?" I added.

"How much did you weigh then?"

And she admitted that she boasted a weight of only 118 at that time, which means she has added an extra 50 pounds.

One of the chief causes of menopausal upset is this fear of losing one's youth.

It is this nostalgia (homesickness) for our teenage thrills that causes much of the upset in women (and men) after the age of 40.

But we can still feel young and also look more like a teenager if we just restore our bodily chassis to its youthful streamlined shape.

For the sexual menopause should not prevent a woman from being a thrilling and thrilling wife, so, will you women PLEASE face up to reality!

Quit making the task of your menopause! Instead start looking at your waist line.

For when a woman's waist line equals her last menstruation, she has the appearance of a 16-year-old motherly soul.

And the underlying craving for "padding" frames us to appear like a seductive siren.

For Clara now, the scales at 160 though she is only five feet four inches and small build.

Wives, do you waddle like a walrus? If your husband tries to revive some of the courtship emotions that have long been in cold storage, and thus pulls you down upon his knee, do you feel like a hippo?

Cut Your Own Taxes-1

By Ray De Crane
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Forget all you learned about income tax last year.

Under no circumstances will you use last year's income tax return as a guide for this year.

These two sentences sum up the best advice that can be given as we all prepare to file our annual tax return by April 15, 1965. The new tax act passed by Congress in 1964 includes sweeping changes and varied benefits so that the best thing to do is to start to learn all over again.

Rates have been reduced across the board for everyone. The tax rate in the lowest bracket has been reduced from 20 per cent to 16 per cent for 1964. The rate at the top has been trimmed from 91 per cent to 72 per cent. And in 1965 these rates will be further reduced to 14 per cent at the bottom and 70 per cent at the top.

A new Minimum Standard Deduction has been introduced. This will be a break for large families with total incomes less than $10,000. Formerly the taxpayer who didn't itemize his deductions could take a standard deduction of 10 per cent of his gross income. The new Minimum Standard Deduction gives him still another option. Instead of settling on 10 per cent for deductions he may deduct $200 plus an additional $500 for each exemption.

For example, the $7,000 a year man with four dependents will be able to deduct $800 on his joint return instead of the $700 allowed a year ago.

Other revisions in the tax provide new rules for reporting the income on stock dividends. For the family with no debt stock holdings it probably will mean that all of its dividend income will be tax exempt. Those with substantial stock holdings and related income will have to pay tax on a higher tax rate on dividends.

Section 679, which was revised in several instances by the tax law writers. They will find special provisions for the treatment of foreign income credits, in a field for medical expenses and the amount of a lifetime special tax credit to a maximum below $10,000 and their personal exemption at a substantial profit.

Most of us will find the benefits of the new tax reductions last March when a qualified wife was given an off-year tax credit for the year 1964. Many taxpayers will want to find out what they can do to reduce their annual income. It is estimated that the added tax burden on they started to receive last March was too generous. Many will have to return a part of that tax when they file their returns.

This situation results because the reduced withholding tax tables are attuned to the lower 1965 rates but were too generous for the 1964 tax rates.

Never before has there been such a need for accuracy in the filing of returns.

With the requirement of filing your social security number to banks where you have savings accounts, corporations from whom you receive dividends and all employers who pay you wages or salary the federal government has a near-perfect check on virtually all your income.

With its new electronic equipment Internal Revenue agents can feed into a computer all the cards bearing your Social Security number and determine in seconds if all these items of income are reported on your return.

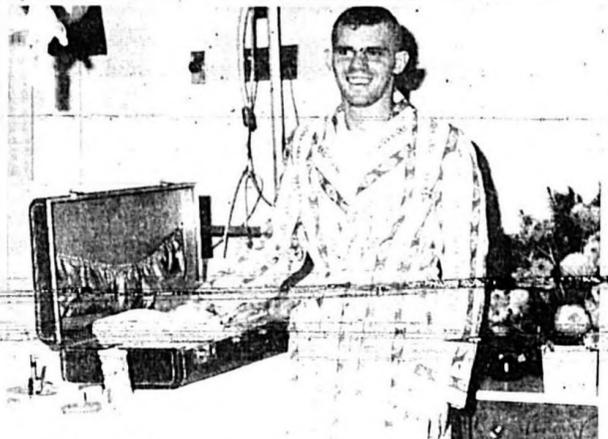

In these articles we will try to point out every possible deduction and tax-saving device for you. You will report everything which must be shown on your return but will take full advantage of every tax-saving opportunity.

(NEXT: The Minimum Standard Deduction.)

Shipwrecked 'Robinson Crusoe' Rescued

KEY WEST (UPI)—William F. Haas Jr., who lived like Robinson Crusoe for 30 days while shipwrecked on a tiny uninhabited island off southeastern Cuba, returned to civilization today.

Haas, of Philadelphia, was plucked from Mira Por Vos Island by the British frigate HMS Rothersey and transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Adriadne Saturday. The cutter arrived here early today.

Mrs. Haas is scheduled to fly from Philadelphia to this island city to greet her husband.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the 32-year-old Haas "appears to be in good condition, considering he's been shipwrecked for 30 days."

Haas was en route from Mayaguana Island, British West Indies, to St. Thomas in the Virgin Island when "unfavorable winds and seas" drove his 24-foot auxiliary sloop Mel-O-Dor toward the small island about 70 miles from Cuba's southeastern coast.

The boat hit a reef off the island and sank Dec. 3, and Haas apparently lost the four-month food supply he had put aboard at Mayaguana.

The search for Haas began Dec. 28 when his wife called the Coast Guard in Philadelphia and reported she had not heard from him since Nov. 30.

The Miami Coast Guard sent an amphibious plane to check the island, spotted the man, and dropped him a package of food and water.

About Sports

Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

There's no better way to get this column going in the new year than to return to a discussion of professional baseball for Sanford.

In talking with baseball fans in and around Sanford and asking the question, "Do you want pro baseball back in Sanford enough to support it?" we find that a majority of people do — provided that the organization which will sponsor it sees a way to clear to complete the season without difficulty.

And, we might add, most of them are willing to give it a fair amount of financial support because they believe that a city the size of Sanford ought to benefit from having a local club.

We learned the other day that just by having a professional club in Sanford the players themselves and the sponsoring association will spend from $150,000 to $180,000 and that's not exactly chicken feed to the local economy.

Where does the money come from? First, the parent major league club pays all the salaries.

Sipley Rolls High Series Pat Sipley was the top scorer with her 541/204 as she led team, S. A. N., to a clean sweep over the league leading Lucky Stars. She was aided by her team-mate Thelma Unger's 181.

The Pirates picked four easy points by virtue of a forfeit from the Pull Ups. Jane Spolaki of the Pirates rolled a 216-102.

The ABC's took four close ones from the Drags as they won each game by less than ten pins. Barbara Rohrer bowling for the ABC's rolled a 323-178.

Current team standings are Lucky Stars 4 1/2 - 20 1/2; S. A. N. - 2; Pull Ups 3 1/2 - 30 1/2; ABC's 3 - 33; the Pirates and the Drags are tied with records of 2 1/2 - 41 1/2.

World Golfer Redmond Meets Snakes, Tigers

By Bill McCormick NEW YORK — (NEA) — Jack Redmond, 78, recently shot a round of golf in 74, which is not extraordinary for an old pro. What was unusual is that the 18 holes were played in as many different countries, one hole to each. He is always up to something like that.

Everything about Redmond is unusual. He looks more like the curate of a Cheshire village than a professional golfer. He is one of the great trick shot artists. He has played his way around the world seven times. He has golfed in more than 100 countries from Afghanistan to Zanzibar, "but not Russia, yet."

"Zanzibar has one of the nicest courses in the world," Redmond says. "One course I played in Durban, South Africa, had 18-inch snakes—can't remember what they called them—whose bite was deadly. One of them bit you and you were gone before they could get you back to the clubhouse."

"I didn't look up once there on my backswing."

Redmond has had other experiences with wildlife. "In Singapore there were some enormous tracks on one green," Jack recalls. "I asked the caddy what they were."

"Tiger tracks," he said. "If you want to, you can go on ahead and see where he went. As for me, I'm going back to see where he came from."

The toughest course Redmond ever encountered was at Bray, Ireland. "Bill Melhorn once took six full brassie shots to reach the green on a par 4 at Bray," Redmond recalls. "I was there one day when a well-hit drive by a better-than-average golfer was blown back to the tee."

Redmond has done most of his traveling as a golf instructor on ship tours. He gives lessons aboard and trick shots off the stern occasionally for the edification of the passengers. Usually, he gives an exhibition at every stop on a cruise where there is enough layover time.

"And I play with the passengers on the different cruises," he says. "The men get quite a kick out of it and it helps convince them that a cruise is not necessarily one big shopping trip for their wives."

Jack has played with such royal personages as King Albert of Belgium, Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish Crown, the King of Siam and the Aga Khan.

JACK REDMOND ... not Russia yet

He is constantly amazed by the really fine courses one finds all over the world, "places like the Fiji Islands and Mombasa."

"Usually you will find that wherever the British have been, there are excellent courses," he says.

Redmond believes good golf consists of only one thing—training the body to swing the club properly and automatically, then forgetting about everything but hitting the ball when you step up to it.

"A golfer should be like a piano player," Redmond believes. "He can be playing a tune when somebody comes in and the piano player looks up and says 'Hello, Joe' without ever stopping. Or he can pick up a beer with one hand and keep right on playing with the other without even thinking about what he's doing."

"That's the way golf should be played."

Sooner Prexy Bows To Indians' Passing Attack

FSU Takes Gator Bowl

By David M. Moffit JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — University of Oklahoma president George Cross summed up Saturday's Gator Bowl contest when he told a post-game banquet: "In my 21 years as president at Oklahoma, I've seen a lot of good football, but I have never seen a better passing attack than Florida State showed against us."

A few hours before, Cross had seen the Florida State Seminoles beat the Sooners 36-19 in the 20th annual Gator Bowl and in the process watched quarterback Steve Tensi and flanker back Fred Biletnikoff break every passing record in the Gator Bowl book.

Tensi, billed at 6-foot-5 as the tallest college quarterback in the nation, set records for most touchdown passes (5), most passing yards (303), most passes completed (23), and most passes attempted (36).

Biletnikoff, the nation's fourth leading pass receiver, finished with 10 catches for four of those touchdown passes for one record, and set other records for passes caught (13), and yards gained receiving (102).

It was an exciting offensive contest that thrilled a sellout crowd of more than 30,000 and a national television audience from a 69-yard pass interception return when the game was barely three minutes old until a great goal line stand in the closing seconds — both by Florida State.

There was a shadow over the game. The day before, Oklahoma coach Homer Jones dismissed four players, three of them offensive stars, for signing pro contracts the previous week.

Florida State sidled across place kicker Les Murdock when it was learned he had exceeded his eligibility.

"We were sorry about losing those boys," Cross said, "but the way Tensi was throwing to Biletnikoff, we couldn't have won even if we had them in the lineup."

Tensi, Biletnikoff, and five other Seminoles signed pro contracts as soon as the game was over, but guard Ed McQuarters was the only post game signer for the Sooners.

In addition to the seven records, set by Tensi and Biletnikoff, co-winners of the bowl's most valuable player award, Oklahoma quarterback Ronnie Fletcher passed to sophomore end Ben Hart for a record 95 yards and Florida State set new records for scoring, (36 points), total offense (520 yards), first downs (29), and combined with Oklahoma for most total points in a Gator Bowl game (55).

Almost overlooked in the flood of records was the fact that Hart gained 165 yards to trail only Biletnikoff in Gator Bowl reception yardage and that Florida State halfback Phil Spooner's 125 yards rushing was the fourth best running mark since the bowl began in 1946.

College Talent Ink Pro Deals For Half Million

By Gary Kale UPI Sports Writer A half-million dollars worth of college football talent was secured in contracts during the weekend.

Alabama's Joe Namath signed for an estimated $400,000 with the New York Jets of the American Football League.

It may start a price war by next season's group of outstanding players who will have more than stars in their eyes.

Namath proved to be just what the Jets need as he tossed two touchdown passes in Alabama's 21-17 loss to Texas in the Orange Bowl New Year's night and had the Crimson Tide within inches of victory when a stubborn Longhorn line stiffened in the closing minutes.

Contract signing after Florida State's 36-19 victory over Oklahoma in the Gator Bowl Saturday was held in full view of a national television audience.

The Steve Tensi-Fred Biletnikoff passing combination that produced four Florida State touchdowns was immediately grabbed by the AFL's two West Coast teams.

San Diego coach Sid Gillman brought Tensi over to a side-line table for his signature and Oakland coach Al Davis had the papers ready for Biletnikoff.

In addition, Gillman signed end Don Floyd, center Jack Edwards and place kicker Les Murdock of the winning Seminoles, while Davis added guard Dick Hermann. Tackle Avery Sumner signed with the Detroit Lions of the National Football League.

Oklahoma guard Eddie McQuarters joined the St. Louis Cardinals as the day's only Sooner signer.

In other signings, the Cardinals corralled fullback Larry Dupree of Florida, and offensive end Sandy Sands of Texas and tackle Frank McClendon of Alabama signed with the Vikings.

Oregon State was slaughtered by Michigan, 34-7, New Year's Day, giving the Big Ten its 15th win in 19 meetings with the Pacific opposition.

In the Tournament of Roses, Mel Anthony scored three touchdowns for the Wolverines, including an 84-yard run which was the longest dash from scrimmage in Rose Bowl history.

Arkansas edged Nebraska, 10-7, in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day and Louisiana State squeaked past Syracuse, also by the margin of a field goal, 15-10.

The West topped the East.

Ocoee Captures Citrus Classic

By Marshall Linga Herald Sports Writer The Ocoee Cardinals downed the Oviedo Lions Friday night 62-56 and set the stage for Saturday night's victory over St. Cloud and the Citrus Classic basketball tournament championship.

In Friday night's affair the Lions were able to hold the Cardinals back through the first half and left them with a one-point half-time lead. But in the final quarter for Ocoee widened their lead and the Lions were unable to close the gap.

Jimmy Courier dropped in 20 for the Lions, Rex Brooks accounted for 10, Mikler got nine, and Bobby Stewart and Tim Colbert picked up seven each. Ron Konantz was high for Ocoee, also with 20. Wayne Hurst was second for the winners with 15.

In the consolation game the Crystal River Pirates came out on top by defeating Oviedo by a score of 61-68.

Rex Brooks contributed 27 points towards Oviedo's effort but Crystal River had three men in double figures with Frank Schiraldi and Dale Renninger each hitting 19 markers along with Ken Purcell who dropped in 17.

COCOA (Special) — The Houston Astros will start their 1965 spring training with an early camp of 39 players beginning Feb. 15, at their Florida training complex here, it was announced by Astro General Manager Paul Richards.

An additional eight players will join the early group Feb. 22, and 11 more Astros will start work March 8, to bring the Astros' spring roster total to 60 players. The total includes 40 players on the major league roster, 15 farm hands, three NDS players and two free agents.

"This extra time will give us a chance to give our younger players more detailed instruction, and it will also give us more time to evaluate their ability," said Richards.

"We have a lot of good looking young kids, and we want to do everything we can to hasten their progress to become top major league performers."

Richards will head the instruction staff that will include Manager Lou Harris, major league coaches Howie Pollet, Nellie Fox, Jim Busby, Clint Courtney and Jimmy Adams, minor league managers Grady Hatton, Lou Fitzgerald, Chuck Churn, Dave Philley and Billy Goodman, scouts Frank Gabler and Al Vincent, farm director Eddie Robinson and assistant farm director Pat Gillick.

Veteran pitchers Bob Turley, who is attempting a comeback with the Astros, and Skippy Brown are expected to double as players and coaches for the early camp.

There will be 19 pitchers, six catchers, 12 infielders and four outfielders in the early group.

FLINT, Mich (UPI) — Approximately 100 feet of water separates James E. Bailey from the ice boat he took all summer to build—but he really doesn't care.

Bailey, his young son Gregory, 5, and his father-in-law, Keith H. Day, 56, are all alive to tell how the boat, which ran on three skis and was powered by an 80-horsepower motor, got to the bottom of Silver Lake, 18 miles south of here.

The trio went to the lake to test the airboat. After zipping around for some time they hit a patch of ice which could not bear the weight of the boat and crew. As the ice cracked and the boat began to submerge, Bailey, 27, tossed his son to firmer ice.

He then jumped into the icy water to pull his father-in-law to the surface.

Another iceboatman noticed their plight and threw a rope to Bailey and hauled the two men out of the water. All three had a story to tell.

St. Louis Cards Win 5th In Row MIAMI (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals, with a long list of young talent to work with, are likely to make trouble in the Eastern Division of the NFL ranks next season.

Maybe even more trouble than the past season, when they finished a half-game behind the Cleveland Browns—whom they beat and tied—and capped with a 24-17 win over Green Bay's Packers Sunday.

The win, before 58,218 sun-drenched Orange Bowl fans in the 5th annual NFL Ruler-in-a-row, and they don't show any signs of stopping.

Expansion Follows New SOKC Records

Record attendance and mutual wagering Saturday night at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club (SOKC) led general manager Jack Ladoux to announce planned expansion of track facilities.

The new addition will be started with the close of the present season, Ladoux said.

The attendance hit 7,126, topping the previous record of 5,892 set on Dec. 16, 1961. Mutual handle was not only a record for an opening, but easily topped the all time mark of $140,232 set on closing night, April 3, 1961.

Play totaled $180,000, more than 50 per cent over the $96,787 set opening night last year. It was by far the largest increase ever recorded for any night at the Sanford-Orlando track. The huge handle was considered even more surprising since opening night crowds are notorious for being large in numbers but relatively small in the amount of betting.

More than $25,000 went through the newly opened perfects windows Saturday night and the management termed it an "unqualified success."

Big Game Hunting In North America Told By Doctor

By Margaret Cosby

You often read of big game hunting in the wilds of dark Africa or in mysterious India but rarely do you have an opportunity to feel as though you're sitting at a crackling campfire way out in an isolated and old log and sod-roof cabin to hear about the big game of western United States and northern Canada; the trace of old Indian lore still alive today; on the spot observations of backwoodsmen and reports on impressions of people and places. As an annual pilgrimage to escape from ulcers, heart diseases and the like, Dr. James B. Foley, DVM, warmly referred to locally as "Doc," returned to Stillwater, Okla., early this fall to attend a seminar on arthritic diseases at the University of Oklahoma.

While there he had an opportunity to scan new innovations in medicine as well as renew old acquaintances. After a week on campus, with jeep hitched on behind, Doc headed for the mountains of southern Colorado where he camped out and hunted elk for a week in the San Luis Valley.

While the sunshine was on the pumpkin here, it was 10-20 degrees below zero in the mountains. Streams froze over at night and the elk were especially wary and scarce but Doc managed to drop a 1,200 pound elk with his Wetherby rifle in the Buena Vista area on the Continental Divide west of Pueblo. While awaiting the arrival of Earl Faust, Sanford pharmacist, Foley renewed old acquaintances and reviewed former hunts with friends.

When Faust arrived, they continued the hunt in the Valley then drove the scenic ride to Salt Lake City, Utah, and on to Twin Falls in Boise, Idaho; into the magnificent state of Washington, up the breathtaking, beautiful Columbia taking the alternate Alcan Highway and still totting the jeep, west to Kamloops, B. C., and on into the Queenst area and Cariboo Country where Doc got about a 900-pound spike bull moose with his Wetherby and Faust dropped one with his 30-06. It took two men to carry out one moose hide.

Contrary to general opinion, moose hunting, other than in the rut season, is as difficult a game to shoot as the wary elk and it is snap shooting. In the rut season, an elk can be called in and then they are "sitting ducks."

They saw many deer everywhere Doc got about a 900 deer for it is too easy hunting when the country is overrun and it especially is no sport after going out for elk, moose and bear.

A typical day's hunt would start before dawn, perhaps in a sod-roofed log cabin miles from the main camp. A hearty breakfast would be first order of the day for it may be the last meal before returning to camp after dark. If you're stalking game, you just don't stop to eat.

After packing gear and a 48-hour supply of food and necessities you go via horseback up into the high country until the terrain is too rugged for the peaks to ride the horses. Then you take to foot and scout for signs and tracks and you may stalk your game as many as 12 hours on foot bringing your horse up behind you and keeping him at hand. When you come to a ridge you probably climb the last 100 or 200 feet in an hour's time, still stalking your game. Sometimes you see him and sometimes you don't. If you do, sometimes you're able to get a shot off and sometimes not. If you do, sometimes you drop him and those 12 could hours stumbling over logs and skimming over rocks take you back to camp weary but happy. If you don't get your quarry, it's just another day in man versus nature, you're mighty disappointed and there's always tomorrow. Perhaps the 24-hour supply runs out. You take to the tents for another night and live off partridge and fresh-caught fish.

Here at the roof of the world with just heaven and earth and an infinitesimal "we," hunters reflect and take stock of what's going on in the "outside" world. "It takes trips like these," said Foley, "to make a man think and wonder what it's all about in this world and the next."

Foley and Faust pushed 700 miles north into Canada where they could throw snowballs at the Yukon. They saw fresh tracks and wondered if Sgt. Preston was among the many Mounties they saw. In Yukon Country, to check hunting and see where game is located, it is necessary for scouting parties to take to the air to cover the vast terrain. Hunters then head to the hunting grounds by jeep and close in on their game on horseback, on snowshoes and on foot.

In the Chill Cotin Country of British Columbia, they

THIS 1,200-pound elk was taken by Dr. James B. Foley, of Sanford, on a hunting trip through the western United States and northern Canada. The photo also shows Indian guide, Sachem Das Mas (left), who joined the hunt in Chill Cotin Country, British Columbia.

Jeeped 3,000 bumps, bounces and jers in only 140 miles into the back country where they hunted on 4,000 acres of ranch, 40 times larger than most ranches in the United States. It staggers the imagination to attempt to conceive the breadth of this land yet while in remote areas of this country, which seemingly is cut off from the rest of the world, they were questioned about Florida, that far off land of sunshine. It was in Chill Cotin Country that they joined with Doc's old friend and double A rated international Indian guide, Sachem Das Mas, of the Wefarkowie Indians of British Columbia, a branch of the North American Black Feet Tribe. They scored on an 800-pound medium sized grizzly bear with a heart shot and a 400-pound black bear (which is very large for its species) was dropped with a spinal shot. The grizzly bear is the only game in the country which is on the increase. They have killed far more than 300 head of cattle in a year's time and attacked at least three people, mauling them seriously. Our Florida hunters suggest hunting bears with utmost caution for they are extremely dangerous. They're not only unbelievably powerful but are amazingly fast for their bulk. These particular sub-species of the Alaskan Kodiak Bear attain such a size that when skinned out would cover a 14-foot wall. The doctors suggested using a heavy weapon when battling bears for a wounded one will come to the sound of the gun and you want to be sure to stop him cold with something like a 300 Magnum Wetherby, a double-barrel 500 Nitro Express or a rifle of equivalent power. Pushing still farther west as far as Prince Rupert on the Pacific Ocean, they eyed the ferry to Alaska. Time was with much to do so they decided to schedule an Alaskan running short, however, and trip for the future.

Men Say Aye To New Glamorous Eyeglasses

COTTON CAN GLOW IN THE DARK—Be at-home in rich tones of cotton velveteen. A mosaic print in shades of green, blue and purple lends the pants suit (left) the glow of stained glass. Designed for luxurious leisure wear by Jan Feldman, slender pants are topped by a cutaway jacket with mandarin collar. At Designers U.S.A. the look for entertaining is long. Ankle-length dress (right) in ruby velveteen wears its own necklace—a subtle sparkle of jet balls and fringe.

An on-the-street survey by two New York career girls revealed men are more courageous when voicing an opinion than in taking action. Not that the men they stopped to take part in the survey were cowards. They just hesitated to follow the girls' instructions.

These were to take the young women's glasses and stamp on them. The purpose was to prove that new plastic lenses don't break (they didn't). Just as important for you glasses wearers was the male point of view toward you and your specs, the survey exposed.

Only 14 per cent of the men preferred their women not to wear glasses. A small per cent of the ads said glasses make a girl "mature-looking." But the rest felt they didn't like girls in glasses because the frames were too exaggerated and ugly.

Four per cent of the men said they never notice that women are wearing glasses when they meet them in a group. But 88 per cent react to glasses when they are introduced to them individually.

But, frankly, the average woman would rather take her chances alone than be surrounded by a bevy of other women, glasses or no.

What irks the men the most, though, is not that you wear glasses but that you refuse to wear them if you need them.

Expanding on this point, they told the surveyors that "half the women in their lives, wives or girl friends, went blind half the time for fear of being less attractive."

Glasses are unattractive, they said, if a girl wears excessively heavy frames that leave nose marks or frames that are exaggerated or over-decorated. Twenty per cent chided the shy girl who makes herself look mousy or unattractive by choosing too-plain frames.

Women have been wearing glasses for centuries and the need for a survey shows they still worry about it. Designs are much better and new lightweight frames and plastic lenses add to present day wearability. These should be co-ordinated to your complexion, hairstyle and day or night use.

A few hours among dusty fashion books reveals how glasses through the ages fit a woman's toilette.

Hair worn in the Madonna style featured a center part with the hair flat on top. Sides covered the ears and were drawn back into a huge, netted cadogan or dressed to simulate the style. Venetian blond and Tiltan red were the rage. Surprisingly, many women dyed their hair yellow, tomato red and mahogany. Spectacles were framed in hair-thin blue steel wire.

1875
The 70s hairstyles called for greater bulk. Horseshair was used in this big era for false hair. The front hair often was cut into bangs with little ringlets on either side of the forehead. The folding Oxford was the spectacle of the day with thin shell rims and a bridge of flat blue steel.

1900
The pompadour, revived during World War II, reigned. The front hair, either straight or waved, was drawn over a "rat" or finely meshed wire roll. Many women roughed the under hair (today's teasing?) with a comb. This formed a matted foundation over which the outside hair was dressed. Oxford glasses again, but these had solid gold gadroon engraved rims.

1934
The slightly long feminine coiffure of the early 30s had

SHS '54 Grads Reminisce School Days During Coffee

Miss Grace Marie Stimpf and Mrs. Gene Estridge (Patsy Collins) were hostesses at a lovely coffee at the Stimpf home on Saturday morning, Dec. 26.

This coffee was given so that their close friends in the 1954 graduating class could get together and chat awhile before the big class reunion that night.

Many will remember this group of girls. While in the fifth grade they started a "Polly Pigtail Club" and went by that name until they entered Junior High when they renamed themselves the more "grown up" Junior Miss Club.

In high school the group became just "Club."

Meetings were held once a week in members' homes and various activities consisted of parties and raising money—mostly by having candy sales downtown.

Each summer from the eighth grade on the club would spend one week at New Smyrna Beach with several mothers as chaperones. After their senior year they spent two weeks at Daytona Beach.

Needless to say this group has shared many wonderful memories and the morning was all too short to catch up on everything. While together they were high school girls again, forgetting that they had two or three children and a husband at home and that now several of them live many miles from Sanford.

Those invited to enjoy this delightful occasion were Mrs. James DeBrine (Carol Lochell), Mrs. Garnett White (Paulette Cason), Mrs. Gerald Covington (Joyce Jones), Mrs. Frankie Stenstrom (Patricia Tooke), Mrs. William Howard (Betty Anne Stiles), Mrs. Louis Roman (Jeanette Cleveland), Miss Patty Walker and Miss Jeanette Kinlaw, all of Sanford.

Also Mrs. Robert Berg (Sandra Dunn) of Orlando, Mrs. Charles Henry (Jeanne Lane Miller) of West Palm Beach, Mrs. Jerry Lancaster (Nancy Rountree) of Florence, S. C., and Mrs. John Lattner (Ellen Lyon) of Jacksonville.

Also Mrs. Richard Wilson (Sheila Browning) of Chicago, Mrs. Jimmy Davis (Martha Owen) of Madison, Mrs. Wallace Peacock (Polly Graham) of Chattahoochee, Miss Rosemary Garner of New York City, Mrs. Clarke Messler (Joni Saunders) of Gainesville and Mrs. Lynwood Whitley (Barbara Casabue) of Memphis.

Why some women look young at 50 while others look old at 35

Facts about beauty after 35; how Ultra Feminine face cream reduces lines and wrinkles due to dryness, starts you looking younger today.

Just as some girls reach adolescence at 12, others at 14 or later, you and I know that women show signs of age at different times, some as early as 35, while others seem forever young. The difference depends greatly on each woman's skin and body chemistry, and her supply of estrogen and progesterone, natural substances plentiful in youth, but diminished in later years.

Why No Face Cream Can Duplicate the Ultra Feminine Formula

Because there are no substitutes for estrogen and progesterone when nature's supply declines, we sought to return these substances to aging skin with Ultra Feminine—an exclusive, patented formula. It is the only face cream with both of these female requisites.

What Ultra Feminine Does to Make You Look Younger

Ultra Feminine replenishes estrogen and progesterone, which cannot be stored by your skin. With daily use, your oil glands produce at a more youthful rate. Skin cells can hold maximum moisture. Lines and wrinkles due to oil and moisture loss are reduced, younger skin tone is restored. And you look younger! No other face cream at any price can make these claims for effectiveness! You'll agree with me, no woman over 35 should ever be without Ultra Feminine.

Model's Lot No Joy In Paris

PARIS — (NEA) — President of the Mannequins' Association, one of the most energetic groups in France today, is Michele Thialler, who also happens to be one of the top 10 Parisian models.

A beautiful blonde in her late 20s, Michele, after 14 years in the profession, considers she earns a good living as a free-lancer. But this quiet, restrained French girl, who has modeled furs and jewelry and breath-taking dresses with the required poise and sophistication, thinks beyond her horizon of perfume-drenched salons. She has put her heart and soul in the pursuit of a better deal for her co-workers.

The Mannequins' Association was founded in 1949 by Janu Fourman, known as Lucky, then the late Christian Dior's star model. Lucky went all out to destroy the myth that models were glamour girls, usually richly kept, who took the job to kill time and because they loved pretty clothes. She proved that 50 per cent were married with one or two children or were studying for some other profession. She was also very conscious of the fact that they needed an organization to protect their interests. Thus was the association born. Michele was elected president when its founder died two years ago.

"I want," she said, "to see our association become more and more powerful. Models should be entitled to a minimum wage, just like everybody else, along with unemployment and other benefits. In a category all their own are the 10 or 12 free-lance models, the aristocrats of the profession. They are much in demand by milliners, hairdressers, accessory creators, furriers who do not employ their own models. Their fees range from $80 for a show in Paris (four hours a week) for anything up to $200 for an out-of-town job, all expenses paid.

There is, of course, no age limit for a mannequin. It all depends on the power of survival and there are a half score of over 40s around who still do odds jobs. Otherwise, the usual fate of the model is to become a saleswoman in the same hour.

"Next year," stressed Michele Thialler, "our syndicate will be formed and we shall be able to bargain with our employers." It is a sure guess that even the harshest employer's heart would have to melt when negotiating with easily the world's most beautiful union leader.

More Color for Cheeks. Check take on more color this fall and winter. And the color comes from a test tube and not the sun. When using one of the blush sticks listed, the powder on a swab is worked from the hollow of the cheek toward the temple. There should be no "straggle" on an even-toned, diffused color over the cheek and cheekbones.

FRONTED PINEAPPLE BARS
2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs
1 cup Kellogg's All Bran or Bran Buds (whole bran cereal)
1 cup orange or cranberry preserves
1 cup chopped pitted dates
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and nuts; stir in margarine. Blend butter and sugar, add eggs and beat well. Stir in All Bran, pineapple and dates. Add flour mixture, mix well. Spread in greased 8 x 8 inch baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. When cool, frost with a glaze made by adding 1 tablespoon boiling water to 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Cut into bars to serve. Decorate with candied fruit and silver dragees, if desired.

Yield: 32 bars, 3 x 1 inches.

Facial Protections
Protect your complexion from the drying effects of windburn with a daily facial. First, wash your face with soap to remove perspiration, oil and cosmetics which can clog pores and produce wrinkles. Then mix some baby oil with thick soap, lather and smooth it on as a lubricating mask. Massage this gently over your face in an upward motion. After five minutes, rinse this away with warm water, and splash with cool. It is best not to do this immediately before going outdoors.

If necessary, reinforce the buttonholes on ready-to-wear garments before they are worn.

Our association already takes care of members who need a job or financial help to tide them over a difficult period. "Much of the glamour has gone out of the job," commented Michele. "When I first started, Christian Dior, Jacques Fath, Pierre Balmain and other top designers' models today are expected to look and move like the girl-next-door. All very pedestrian. No furfare. No drama.

Salary of the average model is around $50 a week. She is entitled to two outfits a year (excluding furs or evening gowns), free make-up and hairdos. Among the fringe benefits are the photographic fees collected during a season. These often will double her salary. There are also the gallees and special group showings for which they get a special fee.

In a category all their own are the 10 or 12 free-lance models, the aristocrats of the profession. They are much in demand by milliners, hairdressers, accessory creators, furriers who do not employ their own models. Their fees range from $80 for a show in Paris (four hours a week) for anything up to $200 for an out-of-town job, all expenses paid.

There is, of course, no age limit for a mannequin. It all depends on the power of survival and there are a half score of over 40s around who still do odds jobs. Otherwise, the usual fate of the model is to become a saleswoman in the same hour.

"Next year," stressed Michele Thialler, "our syndicate will be formed and we shall be able to bargain with our employers." It is a sure guess that even the harshest employer's heart would have to melt when negotiating with easily the world's most beautiful union leader.

when he met me eight years ago. It makes me look like I'm 12 years old!

I want to wear it up, but he doesn't like it that way. We have been fighting about this for five years. He says if I really loved him I'd wear it the way he likes it. I say if he really loved me, he'd let me wear it the way I want to. What would YOU do?

DEAR HAIR PROBLEM: You don't have a "hair problem"—you have a "husband" problem. I would wear my hair the way my husband liked it when I was with him. And I'd wear it the way I liked it when he wasn't around. Your husband is stubbornly trying to preserve the "image" he has of you. Don't destroy it.

If the water is bad for your skin, use cleansing cream and good quality witch hazel as a skin conditioner. Add moisture and a glow. Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and enclose ten cents in coin for a copy of my leaflet, "How to Youthify Your Neck." The plan, if followed, will really work.

I would choose a clear, dark rich blue. It would be more flattering.

Stretch pants? No, no, but have a culotte skirt. They look attractive and are quite comfortable for bike riding. Get congratulations on your activity.

For the first time in my long life I am going to the tropics to spend the month of January and February. I am tall, pale, and have white hair. I like pastels. Would dresses in those colors be suitable?—Nell.

Yes, of course, pinks, blues and soft greens are lovely. Try for matching sweaters and be sure to have comfortable but attractive casual shoes.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: A woman who claims to be 60, but who looks and acts much younger, comes to my house on weekends to clean and do laundry, in bad weather I drive her home. She always invites me in for a few drinks. One night we both got high and I spent most of the night with her. Now she tells me that she is going to have my baby and she is suing me for money to pay for her doctor and hospital bills, and for sufficient funds to keep the child until it is old enough to care for itself. I consulted a doctor friend and he said that a woman that age could not have a baby. My lawyer says she has nothing on me unless she wants to press a rape charge, which would be hard to prove under the

A lady from North Burnaby, British Columbia, writes, "It looked as if we had enough points for a small slam but we couldn't even make five clubs. We could have made three no-trump, so where did we go wrong?" The answer is that they went wrong when they dealt North all those nice cards and didn't give South any way to get to use them. It is my considered opinion that if they had dealt the cards differently, they would have worked their way well beyond three no-trump and probably all the way to six clubs or six diamonds.

News item with a London dateline. "A British scientist says that a youth pill is being perfected here that will enable a pretty woman to preserve her good looks for years." If the pill ever does work it's good news for every girl who is born beautiful. But it won't be such a happy invention for the plain Jane.

Horoscope Forecast

Tuesday, January 5, 1955
GENERAL TENDENCIES:

A day when you are all too apt to want to break up existing conditions and to find some new persons and conditions for yourself, but which would be very adverse for such. Make a point to operate within your present framework.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) By being too forceful with an ally you cannot come to any real agreement and you must be willing to stretch a point. Be devoted with good friends. Listen to their ideas with interest.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Activities in the business world can be most successful, provided you do not criticize higher-ups, or speak thoughtlessly. Be loyal to big-wigs in public life. Show that you can be just as idealistic.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) While you want to get into new outlets, it is better you finish work on hand and/or take care of any problems that arise. Study into such matters, however, in your spare time. Then make your plans.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Endeavor to be courteous with others today, or much can be lost because of losing the temper, being indignant. Keep promises made to others. Be actively engaged day and evening.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Instead of lashing out at others, be more co-operative and get joint affairs working very ideally. Learn to listen more. Associates also have good ideas that could be more practical than yours.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) You have a feeling you want to go off on some tangent or other, but you would be wiser tackling important work at hand. Avoid that co-worker who is bossy. Then all goes well.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) While you want to have a good time, this is not a good day for such if you have pressing work, etc. to attend to. Be steadfast, intelligent instead. Seek the simple pleasure tonight.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Avoid any controversies at home by getting out into the business world at an early hour. Later be sure that home utilities are working properly. Negligence there could be quite expensive.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) There can be danger in unsafe driving or motion today, as well as speaking without first thinking well. Any statistical work needs careful handling, attention. Be precise.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Unwise spending is possible today, if you don't first take a good look at your bank account or budget. Don't get fast-talked into some heavy investment. Use will power.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) You are tempted to buy many articles that are expensive and which you don't really need. Take care you think wisely. Work on ambitions and forget the social in P.M. It could be quite boring.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Get the information required so that you can round out personal matters happily. Have the right attitude, perceptive. Give assistance to one who needs it badly.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those delightful people who can do well in whatever is ultra-modern or has to do with private investigations of all kind, so make sure the education is a combination of the standard as well as the more advanced courses of study. Don't neglect the spiritual and the ethical for beat results throughout the lifetime.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

For The Democrats:

Is There A Feud In Future?

By Bruce Blossat
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Lyndon B. Johnson will have no competition as the dominant figure in the Democratic party in the four to eight years ahead. But there will be some interesting trainees for his job.

They include, of course, Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, and his brother, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy of Massachusetts.

If the President holds his health and wins a second full term, the job will not be vacant until January, 1973. Thus the hard, practical rivalries of the succession are a long way off. But the vital career-building leading up to the test begins right now.

A Democrat who has helped make some presidents says:

"In the first six months of 1965 these fellows will be getting into position, determining what roads there are to travel. By next fall it will be time for a beginning look at who is doing what."

A quick assumption took root after the election that Humphrey would become the Johnston's own ascendancy to power through John Kennedy's death, and the Republicans' 1960 nomination of Richard M. Nixon, fired the growing notion that it is virtually axiomatic to give the vice president a presidential bid. Before Nixon, however, it had not happened for a century and a quarter.

The President is giving Humphrey plenty to do—in tough fields like civil rights and poverty. These burdens spell opportunity, but also risk.

There is the further matter of age. By 1972 Humphrey will be past 60. One Democratic observer in New York suggests that for an incumbent vice president, risk in top level experience, that may be no drawback. Party men agree, though, that 60 has had an old sound since John Kennedy passed on the scene.

It is a fair guess that the colorful Hubert will continue to enjoy the kind of strong personal following he has today. This naturally will stand him in good stead when the time comes for combat. Nevertheless, Humphrey's flamboyance is not all political blessing. Four to eight years of maximum national exposure on the wide screen could cost him some points. Some of his friends were distressed that he could not find a good cut-off place in his talky victory speech election night.

After Humphrey, the two Kennedys spring to mind. The question that bugs many people, in and out of the Democratic party, is: Which one?

Bob Kennedy has many of the necessary attributes. He is steeped in political know-how, has much government experience on the administrative side, will be operating as senator from one of the country's most powerful political bases—New York.

Still, a good friend of both Kennedys says:

"I think Teddy may come along too fast for Bob." Before Ted Kennedy broke his back (now pretty well mended) in an airplane crash last June in Massachusetts, he was indeed moving along in great leaps. His early 1964 campaigning for the Democrats across the country had begun to create a dazzling legend. He is the family's most exuberant campaigner.

In the years to come, comparisons between the two Kennedys are going to be made at every level of activity. Inevitably, in the view of some who know them, this public game of watching is going to be painful for one or the other, or both.

Bob's obvious seasoning, and six years' age advantage, must be thrown into the balance against a young brother whose learning capacity impresses some of the wisest heads in the party and in Congress.

HUMPHREY: Burdens of opportunity—and risk.

First, however, this incipient feud is not a feud. Humphrey vs. the Kennedys.

All the principals, properly occupied with the immediate business of making a record, insist they are giving no thought to the competition. They express dismay at talk they are already trying to maneuver.

Humphrey is reported to have urged an old Kennedy associate not to leave the government. The Humphrey-Kennedy bond established during the late President's tenure appears to have, for the time at least, a smiling durability. Most of the worrisome huffing and puffing in the two camps, if they now deserve that label, comes from friends who are a few stages removed from the inner circle. It is an old phenomenon in politics. Their cocktail party talk often is elevated far beyond its importance.

The era of Humphrey-Kennedy good feeling may get its first sharp blow when some of the books on John Kennedy's public life—done by former Kennedy men—reach print. The bitter 1960 nomination fight between the late President and Humphrey left some scars that may be uncovered.

Not long after the 1964 election, it was suggested in some quarters that Lyndon Johnson might find political advantage in putting the Humphrey and Kennedy forces at war with one another.

Most Democratic leaders consider this nonsense, since no one in his party will even try to compete with Johnson so long as he is President and there is nothing he needs less for a 1968 re-election bid than two battling factions.

The fact that both Humphrey and the two Kennedys have substantial personal followings among party politicians and voters alike is the best assurance Johnson is unlikely to promote a stir—even if any other political logic favored it.

This does not mean that when the time arrives for hard rivalry to begin, the President will take no part. Says a respected Democrat: "I suppose he will do his best to name his successor. Few presidents can resist the temptation to try."

What he will really attempt to do, he has years to decide. But some of the men he may try to do it to—or for—are in plain feet—awaiting another stirring gate as 1965 gets underway.

DOES GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKE YOU FEEL OLD? After 24 hours of sleep deprivation, you may feel tired and nervous. You may have a headache, your eyes may be sore, and you may feel generally unwell. This is because your body is not getting enough rest. You need more sleep to feel your best. That's why you should get up at night. It's the only way to feel young and energetic.

Reverse-cycle central and window models now cost little more than straight cooling units. So the heating feature is practically a free bonus! And the recent $10 million electric rate reduction (our 4th major price cut in 10 years) makes year-round electric air conditioning the biggest bargain ever.

You save space and the extra cost of separate heating and cooling systems, since one compact unit does both. Needs no flues or vents. You just dial for cool comfort in summer and cozy warmth in winter. It's the safest way by far, because year-round electric air conditioning is flameless and fumeless. No constantly burning pilot flame.

Your whole house stays cleaner, too. Flameless electricity creates no by-products of combustion...no smoke, soot, fuel grime, or odors. You'll save on cleaning and cut re-decorating expenses. Electric Air Conditioners have been drastically reduced in price, over the last several years. Now everyone can afford this comfort. So, join the hundreds of thousands of Floridians already enjoying this truly modern double blessing. See your appliance dealer or air conditioning contractor today.

Now cheaper than ever to GO ALL-ELECTRIC...then to use it in combination with flame-type fuels.

Unified Florida Promised By Gov. Haydon Burns

Union 'Free, Growing And Full Of Hope'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson set to work today on details of his "Great Society" program for bettering life in America and promoting peace through the world.

He began filling in specifics of proposals in his State of the Union message Monday night for increased action at home and personal diplomacy through his own trips abroad. (DETAILED ARTICLES ON PAGE 5)

The Chief Executive told a joint session of Congress in his State of the Union that the State of the Union was "free, restless, growing and full of hope."

He was interrupted 57 times by applause, mostly from the Democrats.

His proposals ranged from a $1.5 billion education program to an invitation for the new Soviet leaders to visit the United States.

He announced plans to visit Europe and Latin America himself this year.

WORKS ON MESSAGES — Today, Johnson kept his calendar clear to begin talking five special messages he will send to Congress between now and his inauguration Jan. 20.

The first will be a message Thursday setting forth a health program "to match the achievements of our medicine to the afflictions of our people."

This will include a proposal for 32 regional medical centers, at a five-year cost of $1.2 billion, to provide the most advanced diagnosis and treatment for heart disease, cancer, stroke and other major diseases.

Next Tuesday, Johnson plans to send the House and Senate his education package for 1966.

Before Jan. 20, he also will submit proposals for loosening immigration laws, reducing foreign aid, and strengthening American efforts in space.

There will be still more messages — probably 15 or 20 this year — to follow through on the wireless, Johnson said in a message that Johnson conveyed to lawmakers and all Americans Monday night.

BEGIN NEW QUEST — Johnson pointed to two centuries of struggle in this nation and said that in 1965 America begins "a new quest for union."

"We seek the unity of man with the world that he has built," Johnson said, "with the knowledge that can save or destroy him — with the cities which can stimulate or strangle him — with the wealth and riches which can enrich or enslave his spirit."

Johnson, in his first State of the Union message as an elected president in his own right, said this nation needs "to establish a harmony between man and bounty which will allow each of us to enlarge the meaning of this life and all of us to elevate the quality of our civilization."

Santa Claus: Please Note — One in unspoken millions: An envelope addressed to "Santa, North Pole," from Ricky Wiggins, 115 West Jenkins Circle, somehow found its way to The Herald's news desk today.

Inside was a cute little card and a penciled message: "Thank you for the new year set."

British Send More Troopers — Another 50 British paratroopers flew into Singapore today to help defend Malaysia against possible attack by Indonesia.

A first contingent of 50 paratroopers landed in this island city Monday. It was announced 400 will arrive before the end of the week and that 1,000 soldiers will land here eventually.

North Orlando Plans For City Vote March 16

By Donna Estes — A four member board to preside at the March 16 municipal election in the Village of North Orlando was appointed by the mayor and council at the regular meeting Monday evening.

Named were Mrs. Helen Green, chairman, and Mrs. Liddy A. Johnson, Gaston Bentley and Mrs. Clarence Mendenhall. Officers open are those of Mrs. Irene Van Dyke, Arthur H. Jones, J. A. Wertz and Lloyd P. Dean.

It was agreed that 1,000 voting slips be printed and a voting booth be rented.

Mayor Van Dyke announced that voter registration books will remain open until Feb. 27 at 4 p. m. and pointed out that voters in this village are required to register each year.

In other business, council voted to take action on having street lights turned on at Sherry Avenue at SR 474 and the Coronado Homes. Lights will be installed and turned on at David and Sherry on First Street and Sherry on First.

Bills from Seckland-Morris and Hiler Chevrolet on a new police car were read by Councilman Rhodes. Action was deferred until additional information on bids can be obtained.

Nary Scrap Of Paper Or Cluttered Ashtray

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — background giving over to the incoming governor and his friends.

There was not a scrap of paper in sight or an ash in an ashtray in the spacious office of the governor of Florida Tuesday.

Gov. Farris Bryant moved out Monday, cleaning off his desk and removing everything from the desk drawers and table tops.

In the adjoining cabinet room, there were early signs that incoming Gov. and Mrs. Burns and their friends would be served lunch there after the inaugural ceremony.

Huge boxes, piled with papers and silver from the governor's mansion, lined the walls.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Hand, owner of Jacksonville, who are moving over with the new first family to enter and take charge of meals in the mansion for at least six months, were bringing the food in warming ovens and containers from Jacksonville for this first luncheon for the new governor.

While hundreds were whooping it up for Governor Burns Monday night, Governor and Mrs. Bryant slipped away to the coast for a quiet seafood dinner.

The governor and his party, wife, Julia, drove the 75 miles to the Oaks Restaurant near the Gulf of Mexico, accompanied by his close friend and Road Board member Max Brewer, of Titusville, Mrs. Brewer and others.

Local Solons Ready Studies On Legislation

North Orlando Village Council Monday night was notified by letter from Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. that Seminole County's legislative delegation must have requested municipal charter amendments changes in resolution form at least 100 days prior to the Feb. 2 delegation action.

Local bills from any municipality should be ready by March 1, the letter advised.

North Orlando will seek to amend its charter, subject to approval of the State Legislature, to change the mayor as well as the five council members will be elected by vote of the people. Requests for the other minor changes also are expected and will be announced upon completion of the resolution.

Stress Laid On Schools

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Haydon Burns promised in his inaugural address today to be an all-Florida governor and not permit the state to split in sectional strife.

Burns, who was mayor of the biggest city in North Florida before stepping into the governorship over the bid of South Florida's Robert King High, mayor of Miami, pledged that in the performance of his executive duties "I shall see no East, no West, no North, no South, but one great State of Florida."

He saved for his biennial message to the Legislature next April the details of the ambitious program on which he successfully campaigned this year after running third in his first try four years ago.

But he did announce some specific plans for road improvements particularly Interstate highway 95 south of Jacksonville and below Daytona Beach, Interstate 75 from Wildwood to downtown Tampa and the East-West expressway in Miami.

He also said he will immediately appoint a committee of educators and laymen to study the trimester system of keeping the state universities running all year round which he wants to abandon.

He threw strong backing to Miami's Inter American Center Cultural Authority (interim) and the cross state barge canal.

He also pledged to do everything possible to attract new industry, bolster Florida's beef cattle production and marketing, work for expansion of military installations and foster trade with central and South America.

Greatest Stress — But it was on education that Burns laid the greatest stress. "If in the annals of history our administration can only be remembered for one contribution, then let it be said that we devoted our maximum experience, courage and labor to ward helping Florida reach a peak of excellence in its entire educational system," he said.

He promised improvements to assure that Florida's public schools, junior colleges, technical and vocational schools are second to none.

Harking back to the times to preserve what is good and desirable and to eliminate that which is undesirable in our system. We want to graduate young people as quickly and economically as possible but fresh water.

"I do not have all the answers to all our problems, but I do have the will and determination to pursue with vigor every responsible avenue of solution, to seek advice both in and out of government."

"I shall daily need and seek guidance from the Supreme Being from whom all power and wisdom flow. I pledge you the full range of whatever talents I may possess."

"My head, my heart, my state 95 with a rebly dedicated to immediately at Dade Board, your service."

Contract Talks Take Back Seat

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Resumption of contract talks between the nation's steel-makers and the United Steelworkers Union took a back seat today to a rebuff handed USW President David J. McDonald in his bid for reelection.

Negotiations on a new contract for the 1.2-million member union have been in recess since Dec. 18.

During the interim the industry announced a "selective" 46 per cent price increase that was expected to highlight Monday's meeting of the union's international executive board.
