

OK Tire Store Open For Business

In March of this year Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Boone sold their OK Tire Store in Tuscaloosa, Ala. preparatory to opening a similar business somewhere in Florida.

Then for the next six months they traveled over 3,000 miles searching the State for a town that appealed to them the most, finally settling in Sanford.

The OK Tire Store is now open for business in a new building built specifically for the purpose at 2413 French Avenue. There are over 1,400 OK Tire Stores scattered throughout the Nation with 36 of them in Florida. With this widespread coverage, Boone says, the company finds it easy to maintain their nationwide written road hazard guarantee on all new and re-cap tires. A formal grand opening is planned. Associated with Boone in the business is Mrs. Boone as bookkeeper and office manager, and Joe Duggar of Sanford as service manager.

The Boones have one daughter, Judy, 8 years old, and now reside in their new home at 2611 Iroquois Ave.

East Pakistan Hit By Second Cyclone

DACA, East Pakistan (UPI) — Shattered communications blocked government efforts Tuesday to find out how much death and destruction were caused by the second cyclone to raze Pakistan in three weeks.

Winds up to 100 miles an hour slammed into offshore islands and shore areas on the Bay of Bengal Monday night.

It caught civilians and government crews still cleaning up from the last cyclone to hit the area Oct. 10. That one left an estimated 6,000 dead. So many bodies were washed out to sea the exact toll will never be known.

You Can Be In Television Series Film

A National Broadcasting Co. crew was busy this morning getting ready to film circus pictures here this weekend and the producer invited Seminole County residents to be in the films. Producer Jack Emanuel and unit manager Dick Larson were setting up the machinery to begin shooting background film and some acts by the Cristiani Bros. Circus troupe. They said they would provide a free afternoon of entertainment Sunday for area residents. This was worked out in cooperation with Paul Cristiani of the circus and officials of Circusland. "There will be some real good circus acts beginning at 1:30 p. m. Sunday and we will give the kids cotton candy, circus balloons and the trimmings," Emanuel said. Tickets for the performance can be obtained at the entry to the circus quarters grounds at the Farmers Market on Hwy. 17-92. Parents are asked to escort their children and pick up tickets. General background film will be shot Saturday, starting about 9 a. m. and spectators are invited to watch this also and be in the scenes, Emanuel said. The film being made here will be part of a pilot film for an NBC television series to be called "The Big Tent." It is scheduled to begin in February.

Kennedy Names Krider To Water Advice Group

John Krider, former chairman of Florida Waterways Commission, has been appointed by Senator John F. Kennedy to his Natural Resources Advisory Committee, the Democratic presidential candidate's headquarters announced today in Washington. "I am particularly glad to have Mr. Krider on this committee, because of his special knowledge of Florida water resource problems," Kennedy said. "The committee has an important role in the campaign clarifying the issues in this field, which has been retarded and neglected by the Eisenhower-Nixon administration. The committee will then make the recommendations for an action policy on natural resources for my administration."

Krider said he had discussed the waterway development problems of Florida with Kennedy's closest advisers in this field. "I am convinced," Krider said, "that real progress can be made toward the achievement of our goals under the Kennedy-Johnson administration, through sound investment in our natural resources. I am pleased to serve on the committee, not only to help point up this issue during the campaign, but in order to help determine the policy of the new administration." "We have been a long time without anyone to give us a final boost on our efforts concerning waterways in Central Florida and this is a real instance of recognition of our problem," Krider said.

Hobby, Beckwith, Zimmerman Added To UF Volunteers

Kickoff of the 400 Club, a division to obtain large contributions for the United Fund, was accomplished this morning at a breakfast at the Civic Center. This division is expected to give a big impetus to the campaign to raise $37,000 for the county's welfare agencies supported by the club. General Chairman of the drive, Randall Chase, explained the goal of the 400 Club and team captains discussed their progress at the meeting. The team captains are B. L. Perkins Jr., Sunny Raleigh, Ed Shindler, A. K. Shoemaker Jr. and Jerry Senkark. Sheriff J. L. Hobby, Circuit Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. and Ed Zimmerman volunteered their services to the drive. Hobby will canvass the governmental offices around the county for funds, Beckwith will handle contributions in the courthouse and Zimmerman volunteered to be in charge of the campaign in outlying county communities. First official fund report will be made after an audit Friday by John Fitzpatrick, Mrs. W. K. McRoberts, public relations chairman for the drive, said today.

Plans Underway For Oviedo Clinic

County Health Dept. officials, meeting with Oviedo officials Wednesday, completed preliminary arrangements for establishing a health clinic in Oviedo. Offices will be located in the building formerly occupied by Dr. J. W. Martin in back of the First Baptist Church. As soon as the necessary equipment can be installed and utilities connected, Mrs. Hulda Kilbee, public health nurse for the district, will set up a schedule for maintaining regular clinic hours. At present, she is planning at least one full day to be devoted to immunizations.

'Scientist Dream' Satellite Orbits

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States hurled a "scientist's dream" satellite into orbit for its 12th space success of 1960 early today.

The complicated, 90-pound Explorer VIII satellite is designed to investigate the mysteries of an unpredictable "atomic roof" known as the ionosphere—layers of ions that reflect radio waves either back to earth or into space.

Joint Agreement Set On Projects

Seminole and Orange County commissioners are in agreement on the Little Wekiva River Basin and Howell Branch projects and the commission acted this afternoon on a joint resolution asking Civil Defense approval of the two projects. Procedures for cleaning, widening and improving the Wekiva and Howell Branch as water outlets were worked out at a meeting Wednesday at Orlando when the two commissions met with engineers to decide what to do. "We reached agreement on the total projects and procedures for getting the work done and expect Civil Defense approval," John Krider, Seminole board chairman said today.

Presidential Politics

By United Press International
Sen. John F. Kennedy made a final one-day invasion of the Southwest today with a searing counterattack at Vice President Richard M. Nixon's charge that he had told a "bare-faced lie" about the GOP's record. Campaigning in Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma, the Democratic presidential candidate swung back to a direct assault on Nixon, after winding up a two-day tour of California with a climactic cold war proposal. In a speech to a capacity crowd of 25,000 at the Cow Palace in San Francisco Wednesday night, Kennedy called for creation of a volunteer "peace corps" of talented young men who could serve three years in underdeveloped countries as "an alternative for peace-time Selective Service." Kennedy said these suggested

"ambassadors of peace" also would be recruited from "among talented young women as well—and from every race and walk of life." Today, in remarks at Albuquerque, N. M., Kennedy returned to more partisan domestic ground by recalling that Nixon accused him of a bare-faced lie in having said the Republicans always had opposed Social Security. Kennedy again lengthily recited the GOP's history on Social Security legislation, starting in 1935 when "Franklin Roosevelt first asked for a Social Security bill and 90 per cent of the Republicans voted against it." Mr. Nixon may convince the voters to ignore party labels," Kennedy said. "But he can hardly expect them to ignore party records—and the Republican party record is one of consistent opposition to Social Security." Nixon fresh from the cheers and confetti of Manhattan, headed for Texas today to aim his campaign fire at Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, a native Texan and the Democratic vice presidential candidate. Nixon flew to Columbia, S. C. for a late morning rally on the state Capitol steps, then sped by jet plane to Johnson's home state for speeches late today in San Antonio, Houston and Fort Worth. Nixon carried new encouragement from President Eisenhower, along with mounting confidence on his part that the GOP campaign is snowballing toward victory next week. Before leaving New York where he campaigned Wednesday with the President and Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP vice presidential candidate, Nixon fired off an advance blast at Johnson and Sen. John F. Kennedy for having been worlds apart on significant issues prior to the Democratic convention. Nixon said in a statement that Kennedy and Johnson disagreed on "one out of every four or five votes they have cast in Congress over the years" on everything from Quemoy and Matsu to federal laws on fireworks, from tide-lands oil and civil rights to postal rates and loyalty oaths.

Americans Win Nobel Prizes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—The Nobel prizes for physics and chemistry were awarded today to two American atomic scientists in California—Donald A. Glaser and Willard F. Libby. Libby, 51, a former member of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, was the chemistry winner. He devised the "atomic time clock"—a method of dating organic matter through radioactivity that has enabled scientists to tell the age of such things as the dead Sea Scrolls. Glaser's discovery, now in wide use, enabled scientists to mass produce photographs showing what happens during the process of atom smashing.

Board To Review Tax Requests

The County Commission began an inspection tour this afternoon of properties involved in equalization board hearings and expects to wind up the hearings by Monday. About $4000 damage was done to the truck and the load. No one was injured. The only other damage reported was to the curb and street.

Business Briefs

In a second departure from industry custom within a month, Henry Ford II has announced that Ford Motor Company's warranty to dealers and the dealers' warranty to owners on the all-new 1961 Lincoln Continental will be extended to two full years or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first. Ford announced on Sept. 27 that the warranty on the Company's 1961 passenger car lines had been extended by dealers to twelve months or 12,000 miles. Custom in the industry previously had been to limit the new car warranty to 90 days or 4,000 miles. Ford said that the decision to extend the 1961 Lincoln Continental warranty beyond that of any other American-made automobile underscores the company's confidence that "this, without question, is the finest, most reliable luxury automobile ever produced by Ford Motor Company." The terms of the extended warranty provide that for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance operations, including routine replacement of such items as filters, spark plugs, ignition points and wiper blades. Introduction of the Lincoln Continental is scheduled Nov. 17.

The Sanford Art Assn. has issued a public invitation to all of Seminole County to see a set of color slides and hear a most interesting talk Monday by Karl Bolander at 7:30 p. m. at the Civic Center. Ricky And Brad Entertain Friends At Hallowe'en Party

Shrieks and laughter were heard around 2815 Elm Ave., Saturday night, as guests entered the "tunnel of spooks," to get to the Hallowe'en party, given by Ricky Bailey and Brad Lee Pruden, at the Bailey home.

The tunnel was made by the hosts' fathers, John Bailey and Neil Pruden. Everyone who entered the house, during the evening had to go by way of the tunnel, even the photographer who made the picture.

It was made of several cardboard boxes, with flaps for doors, swaying and flapping, all kinds of streamers and Spanish moss hanging from the top and sides, rugs, inner tubes and what-have-you on the floor, a variety of sound effects all along the route and lit mixed by an unseen hand, appearing from nowhere to help the guests out the final door.

Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Pruden served refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, fritters, pickles, olives, weiners, cooked over a hi-hashi pot, cold drinks and cake decorated with Hallowe'en designs.

Games were led by Brad's father. The evening was filled with entertainment, including some dancing just before the party ended.

Guests included David Lanier, Buddy Burton, Edgar Griffith, Dick and Bob Wilhink.

Ricky Ricker, Carol Repp, Jo Lynda Sandon, Bonnie Coale Murel and Miriam Hearn and the hosts, Ricky and Brad.

Does Stage Festive Hallowe'en Dance

Once again the streets of Sanford have returned to normal and should remain so for at least a year before strange creatures are seen roaming about. But they were certainly on the run Saturday night at the Elk's Club as the Sanford Drive 160, BPO Does staged its festive Hallowe'en dance.

Almost every character was portrayed from the Shiek of Araby to Charlie Chan as the guests enjoyed "dressing up" for the occasion.

Reminding everyone of the spooky night's theme were stealthy black cats, bright orange pumpkins and acreming witches that danced about the walls and kept a watchful eye on the proceedings. Tiny plump pumpkins were perched on the tables where the parties gathered.

Following the grand march of the costumed folk the judges had the difficult task of choosing winners. There was a tie for the best couple award that went to Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bowersox who appeared as gay gypsies in their brightly colored outfits, and to Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald, in authentic replicas of the cunning Charlie Chan and his charming Chinese wife.

Mrs. Betty Cox and Mrs. Irene Kent won the title of the wittiest as they portrayed two operatic singers, complete with sheet music in hand, representing "The Voice of Firestung."

The most original couple chosen was Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bruce masquerading as "Beauty and the Beast" with Mrs. Bruce outfitted as a flapper from the Roaring 20's and Mr. Bruce dressed to depict the same time era but sporting a grotesque mask of an indescribable monster.

Having a time of eating apples suspended from the ceiling on a string but winning prizes for their efforts were Mrs. Marcel Faller, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miller, and B. G. Caruthers.

During the evening Mrs. Darwin F. Bruce was serenaded by the group who sang "Happy Birthday" to her. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mape were celebrating their wedding anniversary and led the dancers as the orchestra played "The Anniversary Song."

Miss Nancy Foster, chairman of the decorating committee, was assisted by many members of the Does "who did a wonderful job," said Miss Foster.

"I'm very pleased to see that almost everyone was dressed in the Hallowe'en spirit," said Mrs. B.G. Caruthers, president of the group. She also expressed her thanks for the big turnout of guests who along with the Does on the various committees, made the evening a complete success.

group of boys who came to join the fun, the favorite being the "old game of musical chairs." After the gifts were opened the guests were treated to cake and ice cream, without which a birthday party would never be considered complete. United Fund Drive Here At Stake

The future of the United Fund Drive in Seminole County is at stake RIGHT NOW! This drive is not going to drag on. It is a "crash" program and once Dec. 1 rolls around it'll be all over.

It has been difficult in past years to reach the goal and the worthwhile agencies who handle some of the county's human problems have had to struggle with inadequate support.

Last year's United Fund budget required only an average donation of about 80 cents by Seminole residents and that's a mighty small effort for anybody. The goal this year is a reasonable one—more than reasonable when proper consideration is given to the amount of work that will be done with the funds.

The bulk of the burden often is left to a minority in fund raising, but the time is past when we can expect all these good works to continue—or the United Fund to continue, giving one drive instead of many—unless each individual pulls a small share of the load.

Neighbor, there just isn't any time to waste. Dig into your pocket and let's go.

Don't Forget Anti-Personnel Mine In Campaign

By HOLMER ALEXANDER
NIXON TRAIN IN PENNSYLVANIA—The heavy artillery is whoshing overhead, but in the final hours of battle a more menacing weapon lies underfoot. It is the anti-personnel mine.

All across the mottled autumnal valley of this Allegheny region, along the cold, silver river beds, through the first snowfalls in the winter of somebody's discontent,

Vice President Nixon and his high command are laying booby traps and trip wires for John Kennedy, Pennsylvanians, in whistle stop crowds of from 5 to 10 thousand, have cheered Nixon's high-level barrage which blasts Kennedy for inexperience in foreign affairs and profligacy in proposed domestic spending. The listeners have heard the curt coughing of machine gun fire as the Vice President goes to the vernacular—calling Kennedy "sophomoric," a puller of "boners," a rash youth who "shoots from the hip" and who could easily shoot us into war.

All these shots seem to be finding a mark. But to one onlooker, it appears that the industrious mine-laying by the GOP field commanders is what could bring down the Democratic candidate.

Mine Field One: Executives of GOP county organizations have loaded the train with reports of very high registration among the State's "plain people," as the Mennonites and other fundamentalist sects call themselves. This is a not-too-subtle reference to anti-Catholicism, which everybody, of course, "deplores." But there is a certain bandwagon psychology to the roll with the anti-Catholic issue. The more it moves, the more respectability it seems to gather. This is a situation where nearly any prominent Catholic, layman or cleric, could trigger a very noisy explosion by an unfortunate crack against Protestant "bigotry." The world has lost its stings.

Worry Clinic by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE G-415: Louise B., aged 85, operates a popular restaurant. "Dr. Crane," she began, "psychology certainly counts a lot in business, doesn't it?" and I nodded assent.

"True enough," said the merchant, "but most people can't figure, so they assume they get a bargain at 3 for a quarter."

And a lot of modern Americans, even with high school diplomas, are as poor in simple arithmetic, they are easily taken in by this same ruse.

"She had a little sandwich shop where she was selling hamburgers for 20 cents apiece.

For example, a grocer recently suggested that I buy a one-gallon jar of peanut butter instead of the usual smaller container.

"But a man opened a rival restaurant next door. He dropped the price of hamburgers to 15 cents.

But I looked at the net weight in ounces and found that he was charging almost 1/2 cent per ounce more for the gallon size than I was paying for the smaller jar! So why tie-up extra money and also get a glass jar for which Mrs. Crane would have little use?

"Immediately, he lowered his price again to 10 cents per hamburger. But my friend knew she couldn't avoid bankruptcy at such a reduced rate.

For she likes the smaller jars for jelly, etc., but our family is now reduced to the point where the gallon glass jar is not of any appeal.

"That's when she began to use psychology. For she put a sign in the window which read: 'Cheap hamburgers — 15 cents. Choice hamburgers — 25 cents.'

Yet many folks who are poor at arithmetic will probably buy that gallon jar, thinking they are getting a bargain!

"Well, the people figured if her cheap hamburgers were 15 cents, then the 10 cent hamburger next door must be horse meat or adulterated.

Sometimes raising the price will also soon sales of goods that formerly moved but slowly.

"As a result, they quit buying both the 10 cent and 15 cent cheap hamburgers. Most of them ordered the 25 cent variety.

A department store that tried to sell perfume at 99 cents per ounce, found that by doubling the price and attaching a fancy French name to the product, it cleaned out the supply within a week.

"Her competitor saw he was beaten, so he also moved his price up to the 25 cent figure, and both of them are now getting along pretty well."

Too great a price cut, unless fully documented with logic, will produce suspicion instead of sales.

"Many merchants who have had trouble disposing of an overstock of soap have found that they seemed sales by putting a sign over the soap that read: 'Limit of 5 bars to a customer.'

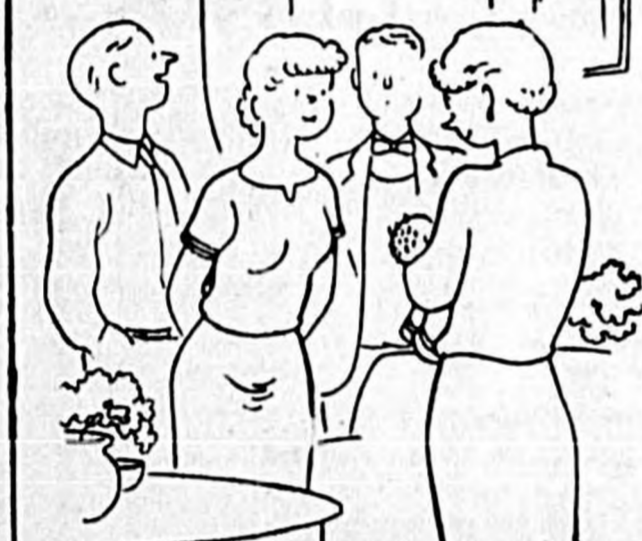

A local store recently advertised fresh pork sausage at 30 cents per pound when the chain grocery charged 40 cents. It failed to disclose of the cheaply priced sausage!

"An old merchant in my neighborhood who was selling goods at 8 cents per item, then speeded up sales by using a sign that said '3 for a quarter.'"

So send for my booklet "The New Psychology of Sales & Advertising," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

"But that's more expensive than

TALKING ABOUT PRESTIGE

CROSSROADS OF THE WORLD By William Drury

By WILLIAM DRURY
 I have just finished reading a book on etiquette, "Manners for Millions" by Sofia C. Hadida. It is an astonishingly priggish volume, 312 pages of rules and regulations for living.

chapter to the correct procedure when leaving one's calling card. If the person upon whom you are calling is "not at home"—a polite lie that is perfectly permissible—you should merely place your card on the maid's tray and depart.

This should go down big if your name happens to be George. A gentleman escorting a lady home from the theater, says the book, will NEVER expect to be invited inside.

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER
 The population of the United States was only 3 million when the Founding Fathers of the United States wrote the Declaration of Independence.

"In simple homes," says the author, "where there is no attempt at formality, the maid may have no card receiver. In this case, she takes your card in her hand."

"Lingering by the hour at the front door or sitting in the car (I'd like to say 'necking' but that word is not in my vocabulary) is also inadvisable," writes the author.

The urgent issues of 1776 were then uppermost in their minds. But they also wrote with an eye to the future, laying foundations, rooted in God's truth that would endure far beyond their own times.

"I admire the skill with which she manages to avoid the word 'necking.' Didn't even mention it once, although she would have LIKED to."

"Following her example, I won't mention it either."

There is, as every reporter knows, a contagion about campaign trains. You are hardly re-bloodied if you can travel with a Presidential candidate and not catch some of his fever.

"The book also explains how to get out of a car. Be a blooming lady and wait for the chauffeur to open the door. If you haven't got a chauffeur, you'll be stuck in that car for the rest of your life."

The book instructs you in the art of making conversation at a party.

If you brought a hard head aboard the train, it will keep insisting that this is a Democratic year—but the softened heart thumps out a contrary message.

Miss Hadida tells you what to do when a person unwittingly addresses you by the wrong name. You must be gracious about it. Smile and put that person at ease by saying, "I'm quite accustomed to that. Everybody confuses me with Sally."

"It is a rather pretty and gracious gesture to turn to Jane with 'Jane, tell about the time you stayed at the Biltmore Hotel and got into the wrong room.' This shows that you do not wish to be in the limelight all of the time."

Obscenity Denied

LONDON (UPI)—A jury decided today that "Lady Chatterley's Lover," D. H. Lawrence's novel about the intimate love affair of a high-born lady and her gamekeeper at an English country estate, is not obscene.

Watch your language, advises the author. Never use such expressions as "gets my goat" or "like nobody's business." Never call a child a "kid" or say "surely" when you mean "certainly."

Nothing gets my goat so much as hearing people call children "kids," especially in front of kids. I hate slang like nobody's business.

Never let me forget, O loving Creator that our nation's future depends on me and others like me.

Railroad Gets Loan
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government agreed today to guarantee a $1.5 million loan to help revive the financially ailing New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. The action was taken by the Interstate Commerce Commission under terms of the 1958 transportation act.

Agree with her entirely. Nothing gets my goat so much as hearing people call children "kids," especially in front of kids. I hate slang like nobody's business.

LETTERS to the Editor

Editor:
 Mr. Nixon has accused Senator Kennedy of political irresponsibility and a foreign policy of immaturity which... would play directly into his (Khrushchev) hands... Furthermore, he states that... "after each of my foreign trips, I have made recommendations that were adopted... The President has asked for my advice." After Mr. Nixon's exploitation of the Quemoy and Matsu problem, one is forced to conclude that he has demonstrated his own immaturity and lack of moral integrity.

Admittedly our treaty with Nationalist China, with its ill-defined and dubiously cogent elements, is a problem which has to be solved, yet, is it a problem which is as relatively important to the American people right now as the problem of our policy in Latin America, particularly Cuba?

This week a nationally circulated news magazine (published by a well known Republican) noted that Mr. Nixon often goes contrary to the advice he has asked for, choosing rather to make up his mind, in an arbitrary fashion, either sometime before or after he has heard the opinions of those he must consider qualified to form, late an opinion. Perhaps this trait of character is responsible for Mr. Nixon's development of the Quemoy-Matsu problem into a hypothetical crisis situation which he could hypothetically resolve in a television debate before the American people. While this may have been an effective vote getting technique, communism in Cuba is not a hypothetical crisis situation: IT IS JUST 8 MINUTES BY JET PLANE FROM MIAMI - and it seems, that this problem should have more relevance to a discussion of foreign policy. One is forced to conclude that Mr. Nixon's competence to conduct foreign affairs is largely a Republican Party myth.

Crossed State Canal Endorsed By Nixon

PALTLAKE (UPI)—If the proposed cross-Florida canal will strengthen the national economy, said Vice President Richard M. Nixon, "you can be sure it will have my support."

The canal would run from Jacksonville to Yankeetown on the Gulf of Mexico. Sen. John Kennedy had endorsed the canal earlier.

The Florida Barge Canal Authority will meet with Federal Budget Director Maurice Stans Nov. 9, the day after the presidential election, to ask for $20 million to complete engineering work and begin construction of the canal.

Lake Monroe Jottings . . .

By MRS. H. L. JOHNSON

Well! Is winter coming? Some mornings sure feel like it. I won't say a word if it stays away a long time yet. Out this way the leaves are turning and patches of gold-enrod in the woods are so pretty.

Congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. Bobby Byrd on the arrival last week of little Rebecca Beatrice. Rev. Byrd is pastor of the Monroe Baptist church.

Henry Williams of Robbins, N. C., was a visitor this past week of Murdoch and Clara Matheson at their home on Oregon Ave.

Well at last Frankie and Perry Wheatland are in their new store on Monroe Rd. The store has the latest in modern equipment. I know they are real glad to be in it.

It's a very short time 'til election day so don't forget to vote. It will sure mean a lot for you to vote for your choice.

Mary Hittell, Helen Muse, Marie Hittell, Mary Schmah and Grace Thurston will have charge of the voting precinct out here.

Larry and Chris Errett and son, Paul, are occupying the Marrs cottage while Larry is stationed here with the Navy. At the present time Larry is on two weeks' sea duty.

Did you give to UNICEF? It just would make your heart ache to see the unfortunate children abroad suffering so badly.

Capt. Wesley McMahon of the U. S. Air Force is visiting his mother, Mrs. Hazel Gardner. I know Hazel is happy because his visits are few and far between.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reynolds are the proud parents of a girl born Sat., Oct. 24th. The Reynolds are originally from Clermont.

Mrs. Kate Kelley of Point Washington, has returned home after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hawkins.

The Home Demonstration Club meets tonight (Thurs) at the home of Mrs. Louise Thompson with Mrs. Annie McArthur as co-hostess. Sure hope to see you there.

Eleven HD ladies met at the home of Mrs. Clover Marrs last Thursday and made pretty candle holders under the direction of Mrs. Blackwelder of Loch Arbor. They surely are pretty and they make wonderful Christmas decorations.

Asked some teenagers what they wanted for Christmas; Charlie Carlson wants a motorcycle jacket, Mary Letzer, a car and of all things to want for Christmas is a pop corn popper and that is what Jean Stribling wants. Now what I want Santa is, please a cousin organ, pretty please.

Just a few weeks until hunting season and I know a few hunters out there. I can safely say some camps and cabins have been rented for it. Vic Hawkins, the Spivey camp, Gus Schmar, Perry Wheatland and my boys, H. L., Jim and Bob have been working like mad getting them ready. Safe hunting and good luck to you hunters.

J. C. Sapp is enjoying his vacation on the river banks fishing. I hear he has really been catching them.

LAKE MARY AREA MASQUERADERS 'tricked or treated' for UNICEF Monday. An incomplete count shows youngsters from Loch Arbor, Little Venice, Sunland and Lake Mary collected $85 for the children's aid fund.

Susie Spook Shouts: '$1,200 Made!'

Those cotton pickin' hants. They didn't tell Susie Spook all. They didn't let her know that she was going to be scared silly with all that rain and stuff. Why all day long the leader spook Jerry Kirk was plagued with ghosts and and witches wanting to know what to do with that cake in the oven, and that home made candy a-brewing.

Well, you can just bet that Jerry didn't order that weather either, but bless her heart she remained serene and sweet through it all. Many rides were cancelled because of the wet ground, and not knowing what to expect, numerous booths were set up in classrooms, and supper was served in the cafeteria, rather than outside as had been planned.

Some said that Monday night's event was the best Halloween Carnival in the history of Southside School. At any rate, in spite of a wet school night with many attractions called off, the school is about $1,200 better off. This will be used to purchase some worthwhile items for the school.

It looked pretty grim for those diligent mothers who did such a superb job on the spook house. However, with this never say die attitude, the semitrailer was moved because of the rain, and the interior redecorated. Such screams, one never heard as came from within during the carnival.

The country store was a huge success as were the pair tree, hat throw, boat on a pond, darts, fish pond, jack o'lantern, cake & coffee. And oh, the auction with Colonial (himself) Collier, was terrific. One youngster in the crowd saw the colonel take off his coat, loosen his tie, then pick up a handful of comic books. In his auctioneer chant, he called for a quarter, who'll give me a quarter. "I'll give you 10 cents," said the wide eyed little boy.

Then there was the mother who was so busy working in a booth

that she asked her young son to go to the office and get $3 worth of silver. After much delay he came back with his grimy little hands loaded with dimes, nickles and quarters and said "Mamma, I know you wanted knives and forks, and this is what they sent."

Oh, and Bud Talley, when old Susie told you to go get on the mechanical horse, she didn't mean to ride it. And the clowns and witches were the cleverest yet. Why Emmett Kelley never had a thing on Howard Hood, J. W. Carter, Joe Corley Jr., Bill Gaines, R. L. Jellicot and Ted Williams. These winsome characters sold balloons along with Joyce Jones and Mary Ann Strickland. Those balloons, that looked so festive, really took the wind out of the sails of Jane Fletcher, the John Barlow, Butch Walker and Buddy Kirk who blew up 376.

Then there were those wonderful 10 & 8 men who lifted little children on and off their train for hours. No one has to tell these thoughtful people about the value of youth, their actions show that they are more than willing to look out for America's future.

Always a popular attraction are the ponies and the two supplied this year by the Tyndalls were great. These along with the collier cart and pony were top drawing cards.

Before Susie Spook folds her sheets and flies away until next Halloween, she just wants to say, on behalf of all in Southside School, a great big thank you to all the "frantic mothers" who treated teachers, faculty children and most of all to the "spookiest spook of all" Mrs. Velma Mitchell.

Carnival Profits Go To Building

By MRS. AUDREY JOHNSON

Costume parade winners at the carnival and dance sponsored by the Geneva Youth Clubs Saturday night at the Community House, were Lynn Yarborough, pre-school; Debbie Brumley, elementary school; Wayne Sackett, junior-senior schools and Mrs. Doris Dregors, adult. Judges were Mrs. Roy Nichols of Geneva, Mrs. Ann Bohannon of Orlando and W. E. Dibble of Geneva.

Proceeds, which amounted to $92 were turned over to the committee in charge of installing a new floor in the community house.

Could we see when and where we are to meet again, we would be more tender when we bid our friends goodbye.

Turkey Shoot Set By Chuluota Club

Thanksgiving is coming closer each day and nothing makes you think of Thanksgiving like an old-fashioned Turkey Shoot.

The Chuluota Sportsman's Club will hold a turkey shoot Saturday and Sunday on the rifle range that the group is now constructing.

The shoot will be from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. on both days. Prizes will be turkeys, cleaned and dressed, weighing approximately 12 pounds. There will be two other types of shoots with prizes of two and a half pound frying chickens going to the winners.

Proceeds of the shoot will be used for the improvement of the range and for community projects sponsored by the Sportsman's Club.

Signs and arrows will direct people to the area. Coming from Chuluota on SRD 13, cross two wooden bridges and take the first unpaved road to the right.

Refreshments will be sold on the range grounds. Twelve and sixteen gauge shells will be furnished along with a limited supply of shot guns for those who don't bring their own.

Those diligent mothers who did such a superb job on the spook house. However, with this never say die attitude, the semitrailer was moved because of the rain, and the interior redecorated. Such screams, one never heard as came from within during the carnival.

The country store was a huge success as were the pair tree, hat throw, boat on a pond, darts, fish pond, jack o'lantern, cake & coffee. And oh, the auction with Colonial (himself) Collier, was terrific. One youngster in the crowd saw the colonel take off his coat, loosen his tie, then pick up a handful of comic books. In his auctioneer chant, he called for a quarter, who'll give me a quarter. "I'll give you 10 cents," said the wide eyed little boy.

Then there was the mother who was so busy working in a booth

that she asked her young son to go to the office and get $3 worth of silver. After much delay he came back with his grimy little hands loaded with dimes, nickles and quarters and said "Mamma, I know you wanted knives and forks, and this is what they sent."

Oh, and Bud Talley, when old Susie told you to go get on the mechanical horse, she didn't mean to ride it. And the clowns and witches were the cleverest yet. Why Emmett Kelley never had a thing on Howard Hood, J. W. Carter, Joe Corley Jr., Bill Gaines, R. L. Jellicot and Ted Williams. These winsome characters sold balloons along with Joyce Jones and Mary Ann Strickland. Those balloons, that looked so festive, really took the wind out of the sails of Jane Fletcher, the John Barlow, Butch Walker and Buddy Kirk who blew up 376.

Then there were those wonderful 10 & 8 men who lifted little children on and off their train for hours. No one has to tell these thoughtful people about the value of youth, their actions show that they are more than willing to look out for America's future.

Always a popular attraction are the ponies and the two supplied this year by the Tyndalls were great. These along with the collier cart and pony were top drawing cards.

Before Susie Spook folds her sheets and flies away until next Halloween, she just wants to say, on behalf of all in Southside School, a great big thank you to all the "frantic mothers" who treated teachers, faculty children and most of all to the "spookiest spook of all" Mrs. Velma Mitchell.

Roy Hamey Slated To Take Weiss Job With Yanks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Roy Hamey, who sought the job for 28 years, is slated to be named to succeed his long-time tutor, George Weiss, as general manager of the "new look" New York Yankees today.

Weiss, generally credited as the man most responsible for bringing the Yankees 19 pennants in his 12 years as general manager, was shifted to an advisory capacity Wednesday in the latest of a series of changes that started with the replacement of Casey Stengel by Ralph Houk as field manager.

The Yankees have called a press conference today at which time Hamey's new appointment is expected to be announced.

Weiss, a member of the New York organization since 1932, was "prompted" to step aside because of his age. The quiet, introverted armchair genius, who has won much respect and admiration for his baseball shrewdness, is 68 years old.

However, Weiss dealt on Wednesday that he was fired, and instead stated that his semi-retirement was "the result of a program set up in 1956 and entirely in accordance with my thinking." He said he would serve in an advisory capacity for the next five years of his contract.

Hamey, 38, has been groomed as Weiss' successor for many years. Twice he was "farmed" out to general managerial jobs with the Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Phillies of the National League, and twice he was brought back to New York and further instruction under "The Master."

Hamey has been in baseball for 26 years, starting as business manager of Springfield in the Three I League in 1925. He first joined the Yankees in 1924 as business manager of their Bioghamton farm. The man responsible for Hamey receiving this job was George Weiss.

Stemper Bowlers Take First Place

Stemper Agency got into first place in the Sandspur Bowling League after their third week of winning all four points from their opponents.

Second place is held by Robinson's Sporting Goods, followed by Davis Builders. In the fourth slot are Wilson-Maler Furniture and Foodmart, all tied up, and Pterro Manufacturing in sixth.

Rolling high games for the week were Ann Conklin, 851; Lil Donat, 841 and Lil Odeon, 810.

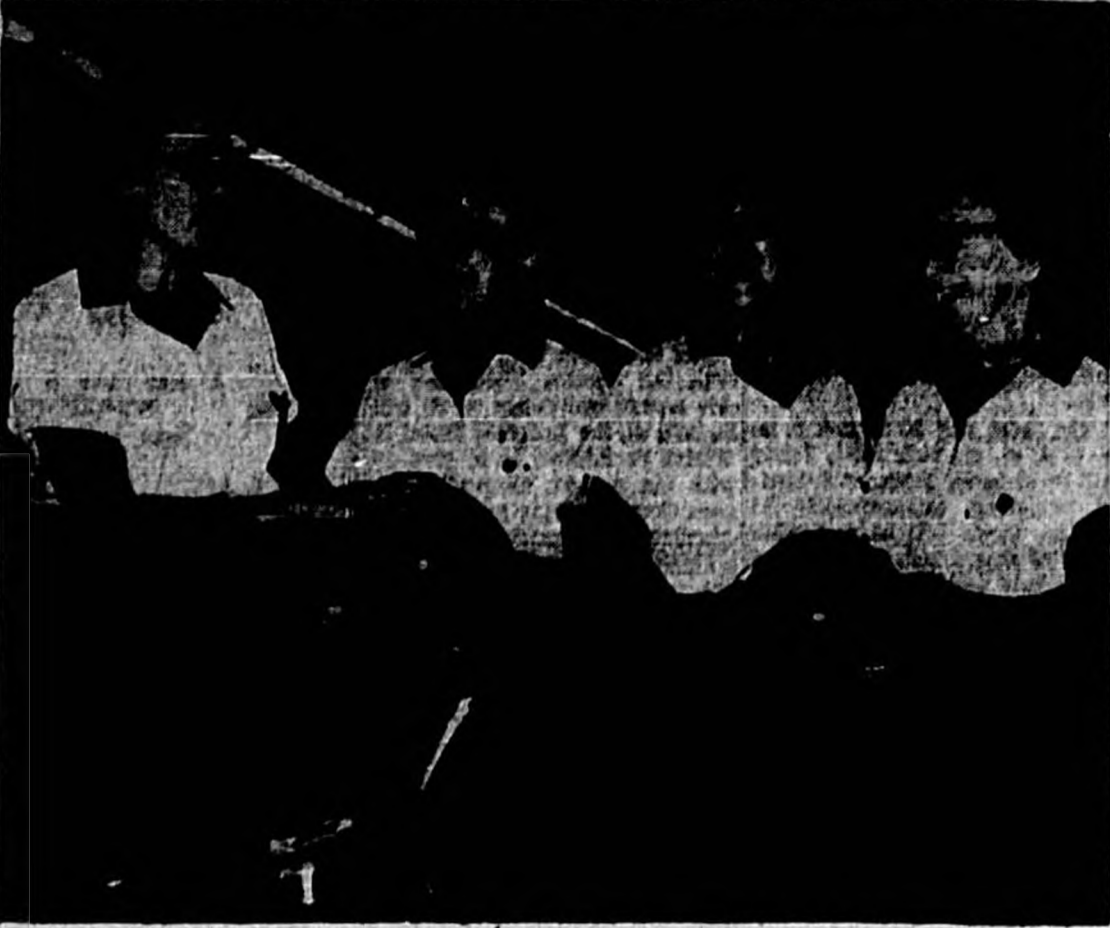

Next will be a clash between the two top teams, Stemper and Robinson's, on one and two. Davis and Foodmart will compete on three and four and Wilson-Maler and Pterro on five and six.

Vernon Law Voted Cy Young Award For Pitchers

BOSTON (UPI)—Vern Law, who was scouted by a United States senator and signed by the Pittsburgh Pirates with the help of Bing Crosby's magic voice, was voted the Cy Young Award today as the major league pitcher of the year.

Law, who won 20 games during the National League season and added two victories over the New York Yankees in the World Series, was named on eight of the 14 ballots cast in the annual voting by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves, who pitched a no-hitter and achieved a record 11th 20-win season, was second in the voting with four votes. Ernie Broglio, a 21-game winner, and relief ace Lindy McDaniel, both of the St. Louis Cardinals, had one vote each and two writers abstained from voting.

Previous winners of the award, named for the Hall of Famer who won a record 311 major league games, were Don Newcombe in 1954, Spahn in 1957, Bob Turley in 1958 and Early Wynn in 1959. This marked the first year in which American League pitchers were shut out in the voting.

Law, a 6-foot, 3-inch, 200-pound right-hander from Meridian, Idaho, earned the nickname "The Predictable Pirate" as his steady pitching proved a key factor in the Pirates' first NL pennant since 1927. He started 35 games, pitched 272 innings, pitched 18 complete games and had a 3.08 earned run average to go with his 20-9 mark.

Essentially a control pitcher with a good sinker and changeup, Law's strikeouts outnumbered his walks, 120-40.

The big right-hander, a Mormon elder, was recommended to the Pirates in 1947 by the late Sen. Herman Welker of Idaho. Crosby, a Pirate stockholder who had been a classmate of Welker at Gonzaga College at Spokane, Wash., telephoned Vera's mother and helped talk her into having him sign with the Pirates.

There was a time when Lou Little, while he was coaching at Columbia, expressed a general feeling by observing: "Give me two big tackles and a fullback and I'll give you a winning team."

Not any more. In this era of fully diversified offenses it doesn't take the attacking team long to discover the tiniest flaw in the opposition's defensive armor. Thus the line, particularly on defense, finally is getting long overdue recognition.

The New York Giants broke precedent twice last season by introducing their defensive unit man by man. And Jim Leo Howell, their coach, quips that few people recognize him and once, when he was introduced, the other party replied: "Oh, yes, you're Sam Huff's coach."

Huff is the floating linebacker who sparks that almost legendary Giant defense. And, as Syracuse has shown, a super team must have the horses up front. You won't get worse than a tie if the other guy can't score.

Ring Results

NEW ORLEANS — Ralph Dupas, 146, New Orleans, stopped Gale Kerwin, 145, Canada 7.

MIAMI BEACH — Paul Diaz, 162½, Cuba, outpointed Allen Harmon, 162½, Jamaica 10.

PAISLEY, Scotland—Chic Calderwood, 174, Scotland, stopped Rolf Peters, 171, Germany 4.

Seminoles Going For Upset Over Tough Wildwood

The Sanford Seminoles will be going after the No. 1 high school football team in Central Florida Friday night and Coach Jim Pigott said today "we're going over there to win it."

Wildwood, a real good high school team also is rated 12th in statewide Florida prep standings and holds a win over Leesburg, which held Sanford to a scoreless tie last week.

"We had an awfully good week of practice and corrected some things that have bothered us and the boys should give Wildwood, a fit," Pigott said.

The week was spent mainly polishing the offense which has shown spurts of color and then made costly mistakes. The defense has held up exceptionally well, giving up only three touch downs so far.

John Welch and Mike Roberts will be co-captains for the Wildwood game and it will be a special showing for Roberts. His grandfather, a resident of the Wildwood area, will be at the game to see the Seminoles quarterback play for the first time.

Pigott said he will start the game with Harvey and Tammy at ends; Markham and Simas at tackles; Hodges and Pearson at guards; and Welch at center.

Roberts will be the signal caller and Phagan the fullback, with McKibbin and Davis starting at halfback positions.

Horne's Bolsters County Loop Lead

Horne's Distributors added to their lead in the Seminole County Businessmen's Bowling League this week, adding three more wins to bring their total up to 27. Jet Inn Bar and Benton General Contracting still are within catching distance, as they ended with 24 wins.

Sanford Electric holds third with 23, followed by Owens Gulf Service, 22, Rido-a-White Stables 21, Art Day's Turkeys 20, Gator Lumber and Atlantic Coast Line 19 each, Vulcan Materials 18, Abstract Corp. and Wally's Phillips 16, both 17, Independent Fire, Sanford Atlantic National Bank, Southern Bell and Wall's Plumbing, 15 each, Harvey's Plumbing 14, Cassalberry Country Club and Hettler Homes 12, and North Orlando Homes with 11.

Clarence Wallis, Sr. was high man all the way around Tuesday evening as he strung nine strikes together for a big 269 scratch, and a 600 series. John Wright also had a 600 series to tie for that honor.

Dutch Dewit, George Conklin, Dan Ritzie, J. Smiley and Joe Rubel all made the 3-10 split, with Tom Sprouse making the 5-7-8, Ritzie the 5-9-7, John Strickland and Ralph Betts, the 5-10, Jim Anderson 3-9-10 and Bob May the mean 4-10.

Baptist Center Plans Proceed

Rev. Spurgeon N. Hinds, speaking as a representative of the Wekiva Baptist Assn., said Wednesday that the group will accept as official the approval by a 5-3 vote of the Altamonte Springs Town Council for restoring the old hotel property. He also said that the association now will proceed with steps to legally acquire the property.

The reopening request came several weeks ago from Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Eaton, who own the property, after the Baptist group announced the desire to locate a retirement center for elderly people there.

At a public hearing Thursday, views for and against restoring were aired by officials of the association, the town and Altamonte residents.

Representing the Baptist group at the meeting were Hinds, Maurice Barnes, E. G. Rich, Atty. J. B. Rogers and James Gamble Rogers, architect for Florida Baptists Retirement Centers Inc., who presented building plans for the proposed Altamonte location.

EDITORIAL COMMENT Communities At Work

There were some of the usual Halloween pranks this year, but in most of our communities parents, teachers and other groups helped out with fun projects that also served worthwhile causes. The carnival in Oviedo raised $383, youngsters in the Lake Mary area collected funds for UNICEF and most of the communities did something that will result in help for others.

Oviedo Carnival, Dance Earn $383

By MARIAN E. JONES
Orange and black, depicting the Halloween motif, was arranged in all imaginable designs in various booths at the Halloween Carnival Friday evening in the Oviedo High School gymnasium.

Doors were opened at 5:30 p. m. to many children and adults attracted in costumes varying from hideous to pretty. People moved from one concession stand to another without being recognized even by their closest friends.

The sidewalk cafe was very popular and tables were filled all evening by those enjoying hot dogs, homemade pie, cake, coffee, potato salad and baked beans. Mrs. Nolan Fore reported they were "sold out" before the evening was over. There were Cokes aplenty, though, and Mrs. Frank Gaylick and Mrs. John Lund; were still icing them down quite late.

All Ages In Trick Or Treat

By MARIAN E. JONES
Saturday night was the designated "Trick or Treat" night in the Oviedo area. Hours were limited to a 10 p. m. deadline. From tiny tots to high school age, children were busy calling at various homes for this momentous occasion.

The ice cream booth also sported a "sold out" sign about 9:30 p. m. The grab bag also was conducted at this booth.

Baked food also sold out, too, before the evening was over and the potato salad and baked beans to supplement hot dogs, pie and cake supper deal proved quite good. Josephine Mikler, Shirley Mikler and Mrs. Frances Cartledge were welcome helpers at this booth as volunteer help for the tenth grade mothers in charge. Rose Marie Beasley, tenth-grader, did not let her mother down, either. Mom was in Georgia with her newly arrived granddaughter, so Rose baked her cake and brought it to the booth.

Children crowded around booths that were conducting games, darts, ball throw, penny toss, fish pond, too. Mothers on hand here were never idle.

North Orlando Plans Block Dance

North Orlando Mayor Frank Fasula has announced plans for a "Block Dance" for all residents to be held Nov. 11, Veterans Day. Fairfax Ave. will be roped off in front of the North Orlando Co. office for the event. Refreshments of hot dogs and soft drinks will be served.

The country store was really "that," displaying clothes, shoes, canned goods, variety articles, and "most anything you could mention."

The pop corn and peanut booth was kept busy by youngsters, as well as adults, buying there.

The "kiddie ride" booth was, as always, one of the busiest. Here, teachers and mothers in turn helped the small ones with their rides.

The forty-nine engine crew hardly could run fast enough to accommodate its crowd.

On the school grounds, the teenagers enjoyed the dance sponsored by the ninth grade.

Mrs. W. R. Clonta, in charge of the costume parade, announces that Judge Mayor M. L. Gary and Mrs. E. L. Bellhorn, wife of the principal of Slavia school, awarded prizes to Linda Oloff and George Martin, pre-school age group; Mary Lynn Koerner, Guy Lago and Debbie Fonta; Walter Beasley and Larry Shull; Foye Shull, W. 17,000 Register, 13,000 Expected To Vote In Election

Tuesday more than 12,000 Seminole County voters will consider one of the longest ballots in voting history. It'll take an average person about six minutes just to read the language of the six constitutional amendments and the names and offices of all the candidates listed.

For the Sanford election it will be somewhat easier, with only four candidates running for the two open City Commission posts. At city hall on Tuesday there will be 12 voting booths, with Le Roy Anderson and A. L. Wilson tying for the Group 1 post and Tom McDonald and R. J. Boynton seeking the Group 2 post.

In the county, Supervisor of Registration, Camilla Bruce estimates that if the weather is good between 12,000 and 13,000 will go to the polls out of the 17,000 who have registered.

In the 16 precincts in the county, 33 machines will be used. Fourteen new machines were recently purchased by the county.

When the voter enters the voting machine he will be confronted with two horizontal rows for balloting as follows:

- 2—Candidates for federal, state and county offices.

Reading from left to right on the top row are proposed amendments:

- 1—permitting the legislature to increase judgeships on the courts of appeals.
- 2—allowing absentee registration for military personnel and their spouses.
- 3—revamping the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission to allow more legislative control.
- 4—fixing distribution of parimutuel pool funds equally at not more than 48 percent to each contestant.

On the same row, amendments 5 and 6 do not affect Seminole County, but permit trial of civil cases in branch courthouses of Brevard, Highlands and Volusia counties.

The second horizontal line contains the elective offices and candidates. First will appear the office sought by candidates of both Democrat and Republican parties starting with Kennedy-Johnson and Nixon Lodge slates.

Offices on the Seminole County ballot for which Democrats and Republicans are contesting besides the Kennedy-Nixon race are as follows:

Governor: Farris Bryant (Dem.) and George C. Peterson (Rep.); secretary of state, Tom Adams (Dem.) and P. W. Thompson (Rep.); state treasurer, J. Edwin Larson (Dem., incumbent) and C. R. Fisher (Rep.); attorney gen-

GOP Fiscal Failings Hit; Nixon Assails Johnson

By United Press International

Sen. John F. Kennedy charged today that the Eisenhower administration has pursued "wasteful and shortsighted" economic policies that have brought the nation to the threshold of its third major recession in six years.

For his own part, the Democratic candidate said in Roanoke, Va.,

"Let me make it clear that if elected president, I commit myself and my party to a sound fiscal policy in the sixties."

Kennedy appeared in Virginia early today as he began his final weekend round of campaigning before the election Tuesday.

In his speech assailing the administration economic policies,

Kennedy did not mention President Eisenhower by name but said:

"The failure of our present economic policies has become increasingly evident in the past few months as the danger signals of economic weakness have begun to mount."

He cited the rise in the cost of living, the decline of the gross national product and the flow of gold out of the United States.

"These are the danger signals—the growing weakness," he said, "which has caused many economists to say that we may be entering our third major recession in six years. And growing unemployment and declining production tend to confirm this prophecy."

The candidate acknowledged that the program he envisages will cost money "but they will be soundly financed" and will reduce waste in government, he said.

Kennedy declared "We Democrats do not intend to devalue the dollar in its present rate. We will defend its value and its soundness."

Kennedy ridiculed the vice president's claim for himself that he is the proper heir of the Jeffersonian tradition. Kennedy said Nixon stands "where Republican presidents McKinley, Taft, Hoover and others have always taken their stand."

Arguing against divided government, Kennedy said he cannot believe that Virginians will elect Democrats to Congress "and then put it all in reverse" by putting a Republican in the White House. He declared that the future of the South is inseparable from the future of the nation and the future of the world.

At Fort Worth Nixon wound up a whirlwind bid today for the 24 electoral votes of Texas with a slashing attack upon Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson whom he linked with what he called a Democratic plan for "voting dead people" in the Lone Star State.

Nixon paid his respects to the Democratic presidential nominee and Sen. John F. Kennedy at a rally in Fort Worth before departing for the Northwest. Police estimated the 8 a. m. crowd at 8,000 to 10,000 persons.

He pictured Johnson, a native Texan who is running for reelection to the Senate as well as election to the vice presidency, and Kennedy as "fraudulent" in their effort to win Texas in the closing days of the campaign.

As the evidence of this point, he referred to a long-published list of Texans supporting Johnson, some of whom turned out to have been long since departed.

The vice president hammered principally at the differences between Kennedy and Johnson as reflected in their congressional voting records and campaign year statements.

He pictured Johnson and Kennedy as telling widely-varying stories about shifting defense plants from one part of the country to another.

"Jack can't take them defense plants to California, Pennsylvania and West Virginia and Lyndon still have them here in Texas," he said.

In other speeches in Texas, Nixon also swung at Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union.

NEW YORK (UPI)—If some highly skilled mathematical calculations are correct, doomsday for the human race is going to arrive on Friday, Nov. 13, 2024, which is 66 years from now.

On that day, according to the calculations, the human population will reach infinity, meaning there will be no space left on the earth for another person.

On that coming Friday the 13th, "not great great grandchildren will be squeezed to death," said the calculator, Heins van Forester, Patricia M. Mora, and Lawrence W. Amist of the University of Illinois, in reporting to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Severe Weather Begins In West

By United Press International

Severe weather struck the West late Thursday and early today, bringing heavy wind and rain to Northern California and wind-whipped snow to the Rocky Mountain slopes.

A freak windstorm swept in from the Pacific Ocean and lashed the California coast, causing one death and damage estimated in the thousands of dollars.

A construction worker was killed when wind blew a tree down on top of his truck near Ukiah, Calif., about 90 miles north of San Francisco. The winds broke windows, tore down power lines, and damaged buildings. The wind partially tore away roofs of ranch buildings near Ukiah.

Snow blanketed the ground early today from Montana and Western South Dakota through Wyoming and western Nebraska. Casper, Wyo., reported four inches of snow on the ground at midnight.

Religious School Staff Purge Begun By Castro

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime plans to purge foreign clerical men teaching at religious schools here as the first step toward "burning the schools into line," church sources said today.

They said plans for the church campaign were roughed out at an all-night meeting Nov. 2 at which Communist boss Blas Roca presided and Education Minister Armando Hart and land reform chief Antonio Nunez Jimenez were present.

Informants said Castro, who looked in on the meeting in the early hours of Nov. 3, said in a table-pounding speech that private schools must not be permitted to impede educational reform.

Castro's educational reform program eliminates examinations, report cards and textbooks and limits its education to topics prescribed by the Education Ministry.

Roman Catholic priests and laymen and administrators of American-run Methodist and Episcopal schools here have announced their opposition to government intervention. The government already has barred the entry of "religious immigrants," and church sources believe the first step in their campaign would be to require foreign priests and nuns teaching at parochial schools to leave the country and re-enter as ordinary immigrants.

County Judge Sets Up New Mail Plea For Traffic Court

County Judge Vernon Mize has instituted a new procedure for waiving personal appearances by drivers arrested for some traffic violations outside municipal boundaries.

It provides that an out-of-county resident, or anyone who cannot appear in traffic court on the date specified in the arresting officer's citation, may make a plea by mail to the judge.

Mize has provided printed forms outlining the procedure which will be handed to the driver by the arresting officer. These forms allow a plea of guilty, not guilty or nolo contendere (no contest).

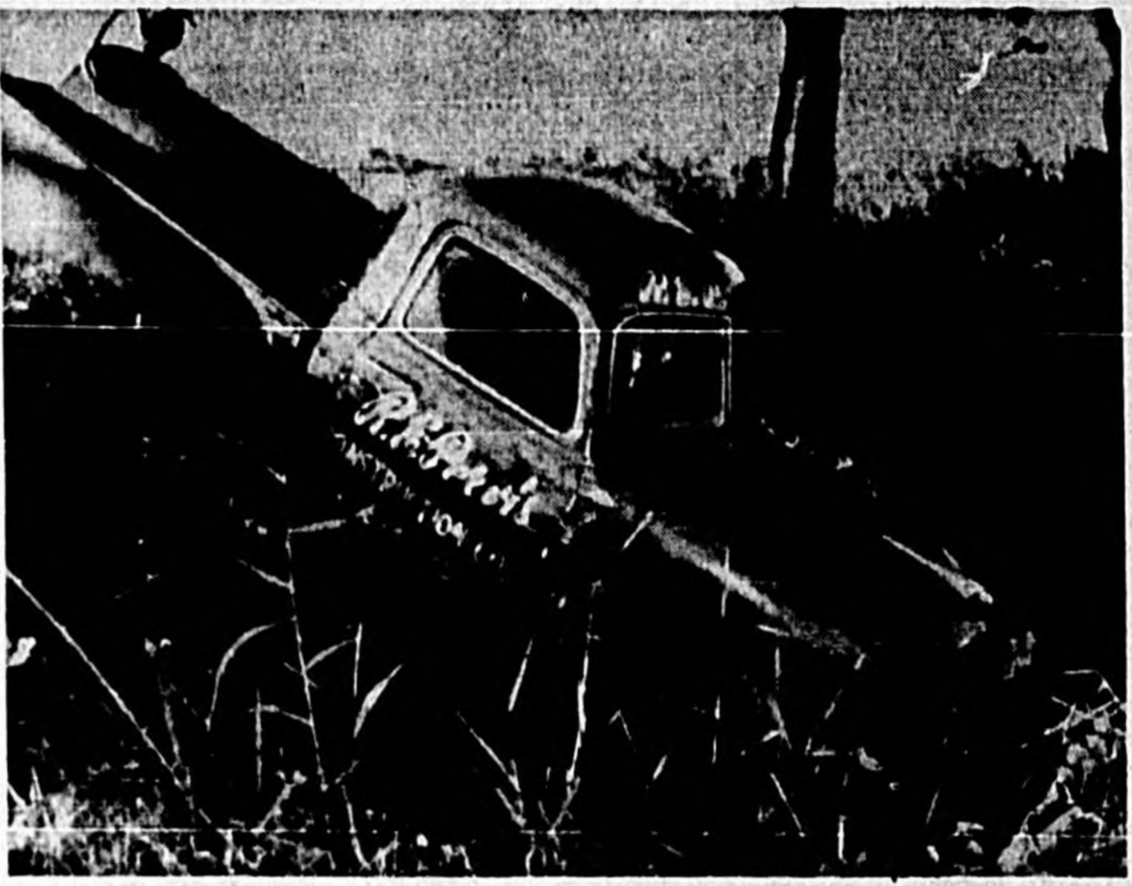

Drivers charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs, reckless driving, driving while license is suspended or having no driver's license cannot use the new mail plea.

A mail plea in allowable cases must reach the judge's office before the date of trial shown on his arrest slip. If a bond has been posted, and the plea is guilty or no contest, a fine will be levied against the bond and any amount not imposed returned to the driver.

If a not guilty plea is mailed in, the judge will have the prosecuting attorney advise the accused of the new date for appearance.

If a summons is given instead of requiring bond to be posted, a check for the normal bond must be enclosed with the written plea.

Mize said this method has been used in other counties and found to be helpful in expediting the work of the traffic court as well as being convenient to the traveling public.
