

FAR-EASTERN QUESTIONS READY FOR DISCUSSION AT ARMS CONFERENCE

Days Just Ahead May Be Most Critical of En- tire Discussion

POSTPONED BEFORE

BUT CANNOT BE PUT OFF ANY LONGER AS FAR EAST IS NEXT ON PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Far Eastern discussions of the arms conference are entering their final period of decision, with most of the delegates professing confidence in the outcome but conceding privately that the day's just ahead may be the most critical of the whole Washington negotiations.

Having begun with a declared policy of disposing first of subjects upon which agreements appeared easiest, the plenipotentiaries now find themselves confronted with decisions on the problems which long have been the storm centers of oriental politics—enforcement of the open door, Shantung, the "twenty-one demands," Manchuria and the Japanese occupation in Siberia.

For the moment all the delegations appear to have adopted simultaneously an attitude of waiting, so that except for collateral discussions on various points the work of the conference is at a standstill.

The situation again has made Japan the center of conjecture because of her outstanding position in the Far East and because most of the problems now to be approached have arisen over policies and acts emanating from Tokio.

Representatives of the other powers are speculating to what extent the United States will go in reiterating the many protests she has made in the past against Japanese moves in Shantung and elsewhere on the continent of Asia, and in seeking an effective means by which readjustments may be brought about.

Because the Washington government has thus taken the lead in protesting heretofore, however, some of the delegates believe American officials would not object if some other delegation now took upon its shoulders the task of stating pointedly the desires of the powers regarding future Japanese-Chinese relations. But there is no indication that any other power is prepared to do so.

The Japanese, meantime, are waiting also but are throwing out suggestions that any attempt to force Japan's withdrawal from Shantung, Manchuria or Siberia except on terms that will protect her interests is sure to meet with bitter and protracted opposition.

Although not directly wrapped up in the general Far Eastern negotiations, the naval treaty, too, is waiting for final approval and indications are multiplying that its signature may be delayed until the Far Eastern problems are showing clearer indications of solution. In Japanese quarters a note of pessimism was sounded last night over the prospect for an immediate settlement of the Pacific fortifications phase of the treaty, Japanese spokesmen calling particular attention to the campaign of protest waging at home over the British fortification plan.

PROVISIONAL AGREEMENT MADE BETWEEN RAILWAY EXECUTIVES AND BROTHERHOODS OF UNIONS

Will Submit Wage and Working Questions to Re- gional Conference

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A provisional agreement was reached yesterday by railway executives and heads of the four railroad brotherhoods, meeting at the instance of Secretary Hoover, to submit wage and working questions affecting train service employees to regional conferences for adjustment, if possible, without contests before the railroad labor board. Railroad executives will meet in Chicago Saturday to consider the proposals, while brotherhood chiefs will report back to their organizations, and if the agreement is ratified as all concerned expected today that it would be, the regional gathering will be summoned about February 10.

The action was decided upon after an all day session in which active heads of many of the larger railroad organizations of the country participated and which was called by a smaller preliminary meeting of railroad executives and labor leaders with Mr. Hoover.

The regional conferences, Mr. Hoover said, would "facilitate the work of the railroad labor board, and above all tend to create a spirit of working good will, and the settlement of differences by adjustment, not by methods of litigation."

It was pointed out that the fixing of wage scales for train service employees had been brought about thru negotiations participated in by railroad officials and upon representatives in districts where work was performed during all the period prior to the war. Further, it was said, that the method of reconciling differences by negotiations prior to appealing to the labor board had been specifically contemplated by the transportation act section creating the board.

Mr. Hoover stated that the conference did not discuss wages or working agreements in themselves, and added that he considered the railroad labor situation as entirely disconnected from negotiations over coal mining wages, which he has tentatively embarked upon as representative of the administration.

Railroads have formally given notice to the railroad labor board and the organization of their employees that they will ask general reductions in existing wage scales, but the proceedings so instituted have not yet been brought to trial. It is anticipated that new wage scale agreements, if reached by negotiations between the train service men and the roads in the regional conferences, either for a part of the United States or for the entire country, will be substituted for any decisions which might be reached through the formal proceedings. Appeal to the board would only be taken on such matters as were not decided at the conferences.

ELEVEN PERISH IN FIRE AT SEA

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 17.—Eleven members of the crew of the German steamer Vesta, bound from Hamburg to Lisbon, as well as the wife of the chief officer, were killed by an explosion on the ship Sunday night following a fire. Ten survivors of the crew were landed at Lowestoft by a trawler late this afternoon.

Details of the disaster as related by the captain of the Vesta are to the effect that during heavy weather Sunday night the deck cargo of the vessel, consisting largely of naphtha, shifted. An explosion occurred and a few minutes later the whole vessel was in flames, with the exception of the space near the bridge, where the crew huddled for safety. A boat was lowered, but it was engulfed in the heavy seas and its three occupants were drowned. The mate, clasping his newly married wife in his arms, jumped overboard. Both perished. Others of the ship's company also plunged into the sea from the now fiercely burning vessel only to sink beneath the waves. Finally only the captain and nine men were left on board. They were rescued after great difficulty by a trawler after six hours work and when they had almost abandoned hope. Those rescued had been asphyxiated by the flames and partially asphyxiated by the naphtha fumes.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS A VITAL QUESTION —WOODROW WILSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. Declining anew his confidence in the "vitality of the League of Nations" former President Wilson yesterday warned an impromptu gathering at his home on "S" street that those who opposed the league would have to "look out for themselves."

A motion made by a man in the audience at a meeting of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, that those present pay their respects to the former chief executive, led to a spontaneous pilgrimage of several thousand admirers and friends of Mr. Wilson through slushy streets to his residence. There the crowd was rapidly augmented and swiftly resolved itself into an enthusiastic demonstration.

Mr. Wilson's remarks were in reply to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who acting as spokesman for the crowd had declared that its presence offered proof that the league of nations was not dead.

"I need hardly tell you how such a demonstration of friendship and confidence makes me feel," Mr. Wilson replied.

"There can be no doubt of the vitality of the league of nations. It will take care of itself and those who do not regard it will have to look out for themselves. I have no anxiety for it. My only anxiety is to see our people turn their faces in the right direction and move with all their force. I thank you for all this. I don't deserve it, but I enjoy it, nevertheless."

Sen. Trammell Scored Newberry for Corrupt Practice Vote Getting

connection with campaigns. I have felt that the lavish use of money was destructive to and calculated to undermine the very foundations of our government; that it would in course of time, if permitted and encouraged, result in the overthrow of those bulwarks upon which rests the destiny of the Nation. So far as maintaining a representative government is concerned, the American people have their security and their safety only in the ballot box. If we are going to permit money to be used to purchase influence, to purchase votes, and in that way to defeat the unfettered, the free, honest, and patriotic will of the people of any state, then we destroy the very rock upon which rests the destiny of the Republic.

"Now, Senators, the question of Mr. Newberry personally is not the paramount and primary one. The big American question is whether or not the United States Senate is going to place itself upon record as approving, condoning, and commending the purchase of a seat in the United States Senate by Mr. Newberry himself, by his family, or by anyone else at an acknowledged cost of at least $200,000. Some of you may give your approval, but as for me, I condemn without reservation the hoodle, the barrel' and corrupting campaign, resulting in the nomination and election of Truman H. Newberry to a seat in this body. His commission is tainted all over with corruption. He should not be seated. The Senate should not approve the greatest election scandal known prove of this campaign which record to American politics."

The Palm Beach season has opened the papers announce. But it really will not open good until the American Legion gets down there in March. That bunch will show those folks what "opening" means.

SOUTHERN REPRESENTATIVES STAND UP

Now that Henry Ford has shown the government a plan whereby they can get their money out of Muscle Shoals and has also shown the country a plan whereby cheaper fertilizers and cheaper power and cheaper lights and many other necessities can be made at the plant it behoves the Southern representatives in Congress to bestir themselves, join hands with the western representatives and keep Wall Street from stopping the deal.

THE BIRTH OF A NOTION

Will Hays, postmaster general of the United States, and one of the brightest minds in the Republican party, has received an offer of a fabulous sum to quit his job in the cabinet and take charge of a big moving picture corporation. No one knows the extent of the ramifications of the new organization, no one knows the name of the corporation—at least the press dispatches have not carried the name.

MUSCLE SHOALS BID IS NOW DEEP IN POLITICS.

Secretary of War Weeks, perhaps acting under instructions from higher up, has passed the disposition of Muscle Shoals, the government nitrate plant, on to congress, where in all likelihood the deal will hang fire indefinitely, since it is the habit of that body to procrastinate, especially when an important issue is under consideration, always with an eye on the political weather vane.

The interests active in the fight to have Henry Ford's bid rejected are completely satisfied. They feel that their efforts have been successful, and those who are familiar with the way things are done in Congress are forced to agree with them, for the fact has been established the administration congress is more interested in political security than in the economic advancement of the country.

Muscle Shoals is dead weight on the hands of the government. Congress has refused to make further appropriations for its development and unless the project is transferred to private control it is going to stand as a monument to governmental inefficiency. It was built with taxpayers' money, which make the negotiations for its disposition of vital interest to the American people.

The first point in favor of Ford is that he has the money to purchase the nitrate plant. Second, and important indeed, the great manufacturer is emphatic in the announcement he intends to make Muscle Shoals a blessing to the section in which it is located and to the whole country. His interviews on the subject create the impression he hopes to make of the plant an institution that will perpetuate his name in the economic history of the United States.

EUSTIS DAILY LAKE REGION.

We hasten to congratulate the Eustis Lake Region upon their new daily paper. When a city the size of Eustis can support a good four page daily paper it means much. The public may not think so but we people who know the inside workings of the daily papers know how much work, how much a work of love, how much money is expended and how much labor it takes to put over a daily.

FIFTY-FIVE THOUSAND IDLE GOVERNMENT WORKERS RETURN TO WORK

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Fifty-five thousand garment workers of the metropolitan district are ready today to resume work in hundreds of shops closed since November when they struck in protest against institution of piecemeal system. The tieup ended when the shops notified the workers the shops would reopen in obedience to an order from the state supreme court. The strikers voted to return to work.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION" WILL BE AT THE STAR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

D. W. Griffith's historical spectacle "The Birth of a Nation" will be the feature attraction at the Star Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week. "The Birth of a Nation" is one of the most widely discussed topics in the country. It established an absolutely new art in the realm of the theatre—the art of pantomimic screen spectacle with music. It also created a tremendous sensation because of its vaster and more forceful treatment of the same theme as Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman." The consequences of the Civil War in Southern reconstruction are fully dealt with, and the nation reborn is apotheosized. Mr. Griffith, pioneer among directors, managed the stupendous achievement without the aid of dialogue or speech, for motion pictures, accompanying music and effects tell the coherent, logical and moving story.

THE SANFORD BAND AT LAKE EOLA SUNDAY

In response to the invitation of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce the Sanford band, thirty strong, came over in busses and gave a fine concert at Lake Eola, for which a particular well selected program was given. The band has all the best instruments with them and they are very well trained, the director and leader being Mr. Atholburt Ball, of Sanford, who wields the baton very gracefully. The solo vocalist was Mr. Charles Brady, who used the megaphone to carry his voice to a greater distance, which was appreciated by those at the edge of the big crowd that had assembled for the music. His numbers were all well given, especially "The Holy City" which was a splendid rendition. His selections comprised "Oh,

What a Pal Was Mary," "The Holy City" and "On the Trail of Home, Sweet Home."

Of special interest was the cornet playing of Master Johnny Schirard, a boy of 12 or 13 years, who has so much talent that he will certainly win a high place for himself in the musical world. He gave "Little Crumbs of Happiness" with the cornets in the band playing an obligato, and the rest of the band in a soft accompaniment.

There was a big crowd present, showing how much band music means to the people here, especially the tourists, who were out in great numbers. —Reporter-Star.

AUCTIONEERS MUST HAVE LICENSE

(By The Associated Press) ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17.—The controversy as to whether the city can require a license fee of $250 from an auctioneer for a permit to ply his trade is again to be aired in the courts here.

JACKSONVILLE LIGHT PLANT EARNS HALF A MILLION IN A YEAR

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 16.—Gross earnings totaling $1,078,891.27, and net earnings close to $500,000 by the municipal electric light plant of Jacksonville during 1921 were disclosed in the statement just made public by City Auditor John E. Pace.

Total operating expense of the plant for the year amounted to approximately $580,564, making the net earnings $497,727.27. City Commissioner W. A. Evans is in direct supervision of the plant which is free from debt, except for outstanding bonds amounting to $202,500 against the old electric plant.

The new plant is the city's greatest revenue producer and was constructed at a cost of $635,000 from the earnings of the old plant. The earnings for 1921, according to Auditor Pace, went over the estimate by about $53,000. O. S. Tyler is the active superintendent.

WEEDS BREED THIRPS

As the time approaches for the blooming of citrus trees, it is important that the grower free his grove of weeds which are harboring thrips, if he has not already done so. Such weeds are mostly those with large blossoms attractive to thrips. Groves of the southern part of the state, is one of the most important winter hosts of thrips. This often grows along the banks of ditches and other out-of-the-way places not usually reached by the cultivator. Such places should be mown. Professor J. R. Watson, entomologist of the Florida Experiment Station, says that the blossoms of this plant will harbor as many thrips as will orange blossoms and, if allowed to blossom all winter, will breed innumerable thrips to spread to the citrus blossoms as soon as they open.

The presence of these weeds in a grove always leads to a heavy infestation of thrips. Indeed, experience during the past season has shown that it is useless to spray for thrips as long as these weeds remain in the grove. Mowing them is a much cheaper and effective method of dealing with thrips than in spraying. Destroying them will not necessarily prevent an infestation of thrips. They often invade a grove in which there are no weeds. But the presence of weeds with attractive blossoms is almost sure to result in a heavy infestation. The weeds should be destroyed now, so that the infestation of thrips will have time to die out before the blossoms open.

The winged adults will fly away as soon as the blossoms wilt but the wingless young cannot fly and will remain on whatever vegetation they can find until they grow wings, a period of three or four weeks. Therefore, it is important that the weeds be cut at least a month before citrus trees blossom.

Work Among Negro Farmers is Making Some Great Strides

Agricultural Matters Will Be Brought Before Florida Negro Farmers

(By The Associated Press) GAINESVILLE, Jan. 17.—Work among negro farmers of the state under the agricultural extension program of the University of Florida is making great strides, the farmers of ten counties alone having been organized for the purpose of co-operative buying and selling of supplies and farm products. The work is in charge of a negro supervisor under the direct supervision of the county and home demonstration agents. Last year there were 12 Florida counties with negro workers working for the betterment of agriculture among their race. In the boys' clubs there were 225 corn members, 142 potato club members, 98 peanut club members and 63 pig club members. In each case the agent carried out demonstrations for the definite purpose of improving agriculture among negroes in their counties. A. L. Spencer, in discussing the work among the negroes said:

"The work is teaching and demonstrating better methods of agriculture to the colored farmers of the state is one of the big problems that was undertaken for the improvement of agriculture. This problem bears directly on the entire agricultural situation of the state for any economic condition touching a large number of people of one class must be taken into consideration when considering a similar condition in another class. Thus we have negro and white farmers living in the same county. If negro farmers are to continue raising scrub cattle and scrub hogs the live stock situation as it applies to the white farmer is affected thereby. In fruit sections of the state, if properties are owned by negro farmers and these become a source of infection and contagion in the way of spreading insect pests, these properties are certainly a menace to those owned by white people. The white farmer's problems cannot be protected and the negro farmers problems cannot be protected and the negro farmers neglected without equal peril to both. This applies to matters aside from agriculture, particularly sanitation and hygiene.

Throughout Florida a large part of labor is negro. If this labor is to be most effective, it must be instructed as to how to handle the crops under holl weevil conditions.

"If in the dairy sections of Florida negro farmers continue to keep low producing dairy cattle, they cannot be successful tenants; nor is there any way by which farm labor is to be made efficient, particularly in dairying, unless the negro is given some instruction along these lines. The thrift and energy of the average farmer largely measure the advancement of any community, so it is with the state and even with the nation.

"One cannot visit the negro booths at the state and county fairs without being impressed by the quality of the farm products there displayed, as compared with the time when no instruction was being given them along agricultural lines. It has been possible with the limited amount of funds to carry on the work in eight or 10 counties each year and under the direction of one negro supervisor who is a part of the agricultural extension division and who receives instruction from the college of agriculture and from the United States department of agriculture. The report of this work for last year shows that definite things were accomplished in the improvement of corn, sweet potatoes, peanuts, hogs, poultry or fruits. Many farms and homes improvements were also affected during the year."
