WHITNER MEMORIAL ROOM DEDICATED

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY CONDUCTED AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

The J. N. Whitner Memorial room was dedicated at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night with appropriate sermon and exercises.

Rev. F. D. Hunt, formerly pastor of the church and life long friend of the late Mr. Whitner, Dr. Brownlee, pastor of the Presbyterian church and F. P. Forster, also a life long friend of Mr. Whitner gave brief sketches of his life and his great work in this section and for the entire state of Florida.

Rev. Hunt preached at the evening services, after which Mr. Forster gave a synopsis of the founding of the Whitner Memorial Fund and gave an account of his stewardship on the work of raising the money and the purchase of the furniture and equipment of the room. The many friends of Mr. Whitner wanted to give some expression of their love and appreciation of this great man and it was the idea of F. P. Forster to furnish the session room of the Presbyterian church as a fitting memorial for Mr. Whitner. Mr. Forster and the many friends from all parts of the state can now see the culmination of their desires in this elegantly furnished room and the dedication exercises Sunday night were a formal turning over to the church this session room.

After the services the audience were invited to inspect the room and furnishings were greatly admired. On the west wall of the room hangs an elegant painting of Mr. Whitner which was the inspiration of Rev. Hunt who raised the money by subscriptions for this work of art.

No member of the Presbyterian church was solicited and no money was accepted from a member, all the money for the furnishings and the painting coming from the friends of the deceased who live here and throughout the state and who are not members of the church.

The session room is a most fitting testimonial of the love and esteem in which J. N. Whitner was held by his numerous friends and it is a tribute well deserved for J. N. Whitner's life was spent in helping his friends and alleviating want and distress of others and his life was lived in serving the Lord and serving his city and state.

A member of the Presbyterian church for almost half a century, during most of the time as an elder of the church and taking a deep interest in the upbuilding of the church here and elsewhere in his state the new session room in the new church which he was not destined to see completed is a monument to his memory that will live as long as the church stands and no finer testimonial to his many good traits and his useful life could be bestowed upon him living or dead.

BROTHERHOOD ENTERTAINS

Closes Successful Year With Great Banquet

One of the finest church meetings of the year 1918 was that of the Wesley Brotherhood Class of the M. E. church which was held at the class rooms in the church on the last night of the old year.

The gathering marked the climax of a very interesting contest which has been going on among the members for several months. The contest was carried on to stimulate attendance, the class being divided into what were known as the "blues" and the "reds." By a bare majority the "reds" won and the banquet for the occasion Monday night was furnished by the "blues."

An excellent program was prepared by the class consisting of short addresses by members of the class and music via Victrola. These addresses were very interesting and were enjoyed by all, touching principally upon the thought of brotherhood and fellowship.

After the refreshments consisting of coffee, sandwiches, cake and cigars, the visitors were called upon for short talks and responded nobly. Such gatherings as this are very stimulating to the religious work of the city, bringing the men of the different churches in close contact and giving opportunity for an exchange of views. It was unanimously decided that more get together meetings should be held in the future.

The visitors included: Rev. M. H. Massey and Jno. D. Jinkins of the Baptist church and Rev. E. D. Brownlee, H. C. DuBose and R. J. Holly of the Presbyterian church. On account of sickness the other churches of the city were not represented.

The year 1918 has been a very successful year for the Wesley Brotherhood Class which, under the able leadership of Dr. Phillips as teacher and an excellent organization of officers and workers has become a power for good in the church and the community. Although the service flag of the church contains about thirty stars, nearly all of which represents members of this class there is still a membership on the active list of the class of fifty men.

Waymakers in the Changing Order

We are in a changing order of things and everyone is under obligation to prepare the way for the better state. This will be the theme at the Congregational church Sunday morning. In the evening "The Index Finger" will be the theme. Come and share in the worship. Mrs. Frye will be organist for the day.

Notice - Woman's Club

The next meeting of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. L. R. Phillips, corner of Park avenue and Eighth street at 3:00 p. m. This will mark the beginning of the program relative to our Allied countries, and promises to be of unusual interest. Every member of the Literature Department is urged to attend.

FORMS NOT READY FOR INCOME TAX

INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTOR WILL WAIT UNTIL THE 15TH IN ORDER TO CONFORM TO NEW LAWS IF PASSED

Washington, Jan. 1. - The opening of the new year finds the government tax collecting program, which ordinarily would be put under way today, still in uncertainty on account of delay in passage of the revenue bill.

Consequently, Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper, it was announced today, will wait until Jan. 15th before preparing forms for incomes and profits tax returns and otherwise proceeding with collections under either the old law or the projected new measure. By that time he hopes the revenue bill will be sufficiently far advanced in conference to permit the preparation of forms.

Meanwhile, it was said there was no legal obstacle to prevent any citizen from paying his income taxes any time after today, calculating his assessment on the income for 1918 at the lower rates of the existing law. Revenue collectors will receive returns, but will reserve the right to require later amended returns in conformity to the new law and payment of additional tax under it.

Whether the time for filing of income tax returns will be extended beyond March 1 this year has not been determined by the treasury.

Little Helen Miller

Helen Ora Miller, the 14-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miller of this city died of pneumonia on Saturday, after an illness of only six hours.

While everything possible was done to save the little one's life the efforts were fruitless and the end came on Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at Lakeview cemetery. Rev. M. H. Massey of the Baptist church officiating.

FOOD RULING STILL EFFECTIVE

ADMINISTRATION'S RULINGS REGARDING EXCESSIVE PROFITS MUST STILL BE OBEYED

Federal Food Administrator Braxton Beacham has been instructed by the Washington authorities to use every means necessary to prevent profiteering by dealers in food and there is no doubt that some repressive activity will begin without delay, as reports reaching him indicate that some dealers have taken undue advantage of the public and are raising their prices beyond what the food administration terms a "reasonable profit."

Repeated warnings have been issued to acquaint the public with the fact that the United States Food Administration is still active and in control of certain food commodities. Erroneous reports circulated through the country some time ago to the effect that the food administration would end on January 1st. The reports were not authentic as the food administration remains on the job, and especially authorized to deal with flagrant and wrongful practices on the part of dealers.

While some of the rulings of the food administration have been partially relaxed while others have been repealed completely, the rules which govern margins of profit on food commodities remain in full force and effect. The increased privileges given dealers by the relaxation of some rulings should be sufficient to win the fair minded dealers to further efforts in behalf of the food administration. Food Administrator declares his intention of following up all cases of deliberate profiteering by the imposition of penalties which will have a lasting effect on violators of the rules.

Until a formal pact has been signed by the United States government, the food administration remains in force, and from every section of the country reports indicate that the heavy hand of the law is falling on those who ignore the regulations. That a few in Florida are in danger of the extreme penalties, cannot be doubted as evidence already in the hands of Administrator Beacham bears out that fact.

Housholder now Court Commissioner

Last week Judge Perkins was ordered out of his district to try a case, wherein the judge of that district was disqualified. During the absence of the judge from his district it was found that some important matters had to be heard and determined before the judge returned and upon petition by the local bar Judge Perkins appointed H. P. Housholder our county judge to be court commissioner for Seminole county. Mr. Housholder received his appointment Sunday night and was ready for business early Monday morning.

This arrangement makes some matters easier to be handled in this county and in the appointment of Mr. Housholder to this position, both the county and Mr. Housholder are to be congratulated.

Commissioner Housholder's first duty was to hear a petition of the City of Sanford and others against the Southern Utilities Co., in which the petitioners asked a restraining order against the Utilities Co. prohibiting the company from raising the light rates. Mr. Housholder granted temporary injunction in the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wilson are happy over the arrival of their son, Sergeant Joe Henry of the Marine Corps stationed at Paris Island. Joe joined the army to fight the Huns and left a fine position with the City of Pittsburg but since the war is over he will stick until he is mustered out and meantime he is enjoying a visit with his parents here. He has an exceptionally fine trained voice, and his singing has attracted attention wherever he goes and the "Y" at Paris Island and other camps have him on the list of entertainers all the time.

NO RAISE IN ELECTRICITY RATES NOW

INJUNCTION GRANTED TO THE CITY, ENJOINING THE SOUTHERN UTILITIES COMPANY FROM MAKING ADVANCE AT THIS TIME

In the issue of December 20th of the Herald the Southern Utilities Company served notice on the public that on the first day of January they would raise the rate on electricity to consumers about 2 cents per kilowatt.

The service is not what it should be and since the company raised the price about a year ago and there was no protest made the but citizens generally thought it about time to protest and so did the city council, with the result that the council, through the city attorney, J. J. Dickinson filed an injunction against the Southern Utilities Co. raising the rate on the first.

The case was heard Tuesday before Judge Housholder who had been designated by Judge Perkins as his representative, and Attorney Dickinson represented the city of Sanford and Attorney W. B. Crawford the Southern Utilities Co.

After the argument from both sides Judge Housholder granted the injunction and it is now up to the Southern Utilities Co. to carry the case before the Circuit Court and it will be watched with great interest here and elsewhere in the state where this corporation is operating plants.

The citizens of Sanford and the members of the city council feel that at the present time the Southern Utilities Co. is getting all that is coming to them in the matter of rates on electricity, water, gas and ice and the raising of rates at this time will hasten the decision of the majority of the tax payers that the only relief in sight is a show down now or municipal ownership.

The present rate on electricity was 13 cents per kilowatt for the first fifty and the proposed rate to be raised was as follows:

First 50 KW. at 13c per KW.
Next 100 KW. at 14c per KW.
Over 150 KW. at 15c per KW.
Minimum charge $1.50 per month.

Notices of the increase were mailed with the statements at the first of this month. These should be ignored until the matter is finally settled and any increase in charges should be reported to the city attorney.

Community Sings Resumed

After the holidays the Community Sing has been resumed and a program will be rendered at the Woman's Club tonight.

The conductors of the Community Sing have ordered a number of books containing a large collection of the songs the soldiers and sailors sing and now that the boys are coming home it is well that such songs are being conducted in Sanford.

A cordial welcome is extended to the entire community to attend the Community Sings and help sing—the admittance fee is nothing and you don't have to sing if you can't sing but it is desired that all who can sing shall attend and sing.

Mrs. Julius Takach will begin her chorus within the next week or two, and any woman who desires, whether she be a member of the club or not may join this chorus for the small sum of fifty cents for the course of ten weeks. The Sanford public will find no difficulty in recalling some of the excellent entertainments given by the Music Department Chorus last year. Our tourists will very soon be among us, and let us by all means give them entertainment and pleasure while they are within our gates.

RESCUED FROM FIRE

Mrs. Methvin Had Close Call in Burning Home on Laurel Avenue

Mrs. Bert Methvin had a close call from death last Saturday when her home at the corner of Laurel avenue and Second street caught fire from an oil stove on the lower floor.

Mrs. Methvin was in bed on the second floor with her three day old baby and helpless and only the quick work of the rescuers who helped her through the second story window and down a ladder saved her from death by suffocation or fire.

In some manner the lower floor caught fire presumably from an oil stove and in a few minutes several of the lower rooms were ablaze as well as the stair case, cutting off any possibility of the occupants getting down. When neighbors discovered the fire they rushed to the home and started the work of rescuing Mrs. Methvin and her baby. They did not turn in the alarm for the department until Mrs. Methvin had been taken out of the house and by the time the department arrived on the scene the lower floors and the interior of the house were blazing at a great rate. The fire department did fine work saving the home but much damage was done by fire and water in the interior of the house.

Presbyterian Church

Next Sunday will be the sixth anniversary of the present pastorate of the Presbyterian church, and it is hoped that large crowds will be present at both services.

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.
Morning worship, 11 a. m.
Christian Endeavor, 6:15 p. m.
Evening preaching services, 7 p. m.

Last Sunday night the beautiful completed session room of the church which has been fitted as the Joseph Newton Whitner Memorial Room was dedicated. Rev. Frank D. Hunt preached the sermon. Mr. E. P. Forster, who raised the money for the room presented it to the church and it was received by the pastor and the prayer of dedication was offered by Mr. Hunt.

Mr. R. J. Holly delighted the congregation Wednesday night with a very interesting account of his experiences in the Y. M. C. A. Conference in New York.

IF THIS BEAUTIFUL CUSTOM IS TO BE CONTINUED IT MUST BE SUPPORTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY

For some weeks past, as a contribution to the community interests, and also partly in response to a request in the columns of the Sanford Herald, the Music Department has been conducting a Community Sing. At great trouble, songs have been type written and at a considerable expense books have been purchased in order that the very latest and best of our popular songs and patriotic songs might be offered at these meetings, and the public given an opportunity to learn them.

Just at this time Sanford is suffering from a lack of good music. We have no band, and the public has but few opportunities to hear good music of any kind, except at the churches. The value of good music to a community, as well as to individuals, has always been recognized as one of the most necessary relaxations and inspirations.

A criticism has been offered that the Woman's Club did not begin to have Community Sings until the war was over, and that now there is no need for this is the second attempt of the Music Department to hold these Sings, and besides, should we not now as a victorious people show forth our praise and thanksgiving by lifting up our voices in song?

Mrs. Julius Takach gives freely of her time and talent to lead these Sings, and other faithful assistants are always in attendance to aid in making everyone feel welcome. The attendance has been discouraging and it rests with the public whether or not these Sings shall be continued. The Music Department urges every man, woman and child in Sanford, who can possibly do so, to make an effort to attend every Friday night at 7:00 o'clock. An hour spent this way will be a benefit beyond calculation, and when the summer months come, Community Sings in the Park will not only be a possibility but a positive delight.

BRADENTOWN AND SANFORD PROSPEROUS

CELERY BEING SOLD AT OVER $4.00 IN BRADENTOWN AND $5.00 IN SANFORD IS REPORTED

Advices from the Bradentown section indicate that not only has lettuce been benefited, and is being handled to good advantage, but that celery has a fine prospect and that the record will be broken in prices this coming season. The Manatee County Growers' Association expects to load its first car of celery on or about the 7th of January and we have it authoritatively that their first car has already been sold at above $4.00 per crate, f. o. b. Bradentown. This speaks well for the celery growers of that section, as well as the Sanford section, as we are advised that the first car of Sanford celery to be loaded by the Sanford Truck Growers, Inc., has been sold up around the $5.00 mark f. o. b. We cannot help but appreciate and wonder at the marvelous strides being made by these two great organizations when the increase in f. o. b. sales is considered and the general advance in price is gone into over past seasons and it seems to us that a new era is dawning for the truck growers of Florida who are willing to lay aside old methods and prejudices and follow out the lines laid down by the oldest organization in the United States—The Eastern Shore of Virginia Produce Exchange. Never before in the history of Sanford have prices advanced to such heights and from our observation it is due to the care with which all products are packed and graded, and above all, to the copy righted brand that is being placed on the best of all packages. The grower and the handler have all made money this season and the trade has been benefited and satisfied because of the assurance they had from these grades and packs that they were getting what they paid for. There is no difference in the grading and packing and handling of food commodities as between any other articles on the market for sale. A person buys his favorite hat, shoes, collars, shirts, razors, cigars, chewing gum, cooking utensils—in fact everything—because of the name of the brand. And once this brand is established the demand for such makers' output is scarcely ever over supplied. The farmers are fast learning this and in the Sanford section they are today as jealous of their Red Gator brand vegetables as a youngster is of his toy train and as a result they are receiving prices and putting up better goods than has ever been their experience in the past.

The Sanford and Bradentown organizations are working hand in hand—and blessings to one is a blessing to the other, while to pay an injury to one means a slap in the other's face. Their principles are high and above board in every respect; all money goes to the grower and even today many outsiders consider the man lucky who is a member and is handling his products through either of these organizations. There are, of course, numbers of good handlers outside of the organizations and it is no reflection on them or their methods of business that this article appears, but we realize, as all of us must realize sooner or later that there is a new order of things and though it had been delayed, the organization of Florida truck growers was bound to come. Hence, it is only policy, and only sound judgment for us to commend it as a success, realizing that as it grows, those of us in Florida, in any kind of business will prosper because of the satisfying power of our mainstay—the tiller of the soil.

Notice to Parents

The schools of Seminole county will open Monday morning, January 6th, 1919. This applies to both white and colored schools.

The Sanford schools will open at 9 a. m., eastern time.

KEPT PLEDGE TO SEND BREAD

American Nation Maintained Allied Loaf Through Self-Denial at Home Table.

AVERTED EUROPEAN DESPAIR.

With Military Demands Upon Ocean Shipping Relieved, World Is Able to Return to Normal White Wheat Bread.

Since the advent of the latest wheat crop the only limitation upon American exports to Europe has been the shortage of shipping. Between July 1 and October 10 we shipped 65,980,305 bushels. If this rate should continue until the end of the fiscal year we will have furnished the Allies with more than 237,500,000 bushels of wheat and flour in terms of wheat.

The result of increased production and conservation efforts in the United States has been that with the cessation of hostilities we are able to return to a normal wheat diet. Supplies that have accumulated in Australia, Argentina and other hitherto inaccessible markets may be tapped by ships released from transport service, and European demand for American wheat probably will not exceed our normal surplus. There is wheat enough available to have a white loaf at the common table.

But last year the tale was different. Only by the greatest possible saving and sacrifice were we able to keep a steady stream of wheat and flour moving across the sea. We found ourselves at the beginning of the harvest year with an unusually short crop. Even the most optimistic statisticians figured that we had a bare surplus of 20,000,000 bushels. And yet Europe was facing the probability of a bread famine—and in Europe bread is by far the most important article in the diet.

All of this surplus had left the country early in the fall. By the first of the year we had managed to ship a little more than 50,000,000 bushels by practicing the utmost economy at home—by wretched days, wretched meals, heavy substitution of other cereals and by sacrifice at almost every meal throughout the country.

In January the late Lord Rhonda, then British Food Controller, cabled that only if we sent an additional 75,000,000 bushels before July 1 could he take the responsibility of assuring his people that they would be fed.

The response of the American people was 85,000,000 bushels safely delivered overseas between January 1 and July 1. Out of a harvest which gave us only 20,000,000 bushels surplus we actually shipped 141,000,000 bushels. Thus did America fulfill her pledge that the Allied bread rations could be maintained, and already the American people are demonstrating that, with an awakened war conscience, last year's figures will be bettered.

Our exports since is country entered the war have justified a statement made by the Food Administration shortly after its inception, outlining the principles and policies that would govern the solution of this country's food problems. "The whole foundation of democracy," declared the Food Administration, "lies in the individual initiative of its people and their willingness to serve the interests of the nation with complete self-effacement in the time of emergency. Democracy can yield to discipline, and we can solve this food problem for our own people and for the Allies in this way. To have done so will have been a greater service than our immediate objective, for we have demonstrated the helpfulness of our faith and our ability to defend ourselves without being Prussianized."

Sending to Europe 141,000,000 bushels of wheat from a surplus of apparently nothing was the outstanding exploit of the American food army in the critical year of the war.

TENNIS

By R. ESTELLE EVERETT.

Geoffrey Hilton tossed a penny on the counter, caught up a newspaper and hurried into the waiting car. He opened his paper, and after finishing an article, was about to turn the page when he heard a smothered and disappointed "Oh!" beside him. He turned and discovered that he was sitting beside a very attractive girl dressed in sports clothes, carrying a tennis racket. Her golden hair curled about her face bewitchingly; she turned her head so quickly that Hilton received only the faintest glimpse of blue eyes. He opened the paper to where it was before and searched diligently for what had so interested the beautiful stranger. His search was of no avail, however, and soon the girl got off. Nearing his stop, and turning to press the button, Hilton noticed a postcard lying on the next seat addressed to the firm of which he was an employee. He picked it up, slipped it into his pocket and promptly forgot all about it.

At his club several hours later while he was smoking his after-dinner cigar Hilton's mind wandered to the girl on the car. Thoughts of her reminded him of the card which probably she dropped, and he fished it out of his pocket. Being careful not to read the message, he just glanced at the signature—Rosalee Earnshaw, 340 Somerset avenue.

"By Jove," he murmured, "Jack Warren lives at 343. I wonder if he knows her."

The next day, accidentally on purpose, Geoffrey Hilton happened to stroll by Jack Warren's place of business just as the latter was leaving for lunch. The two old collegemen were glad to meet again, and joyfully talked over old times. After a little maneuvering Hilton obtained for himself an invitation to dinner at the Warrens that evening.

As it was still light after dinner, thanks to Uncle Sam's light-saving idea, the two men had a set of tennis. After Mrs. Warren came out they had another delightful hour on the veranda.

It was with great interest that Hilton watched the house across the street. Suddenly a light glowed in one of the upper windows, and the girl of the car appeared to pull down the curtain.

"Nice girl—Rosalee Earnshaw," remarked Warren. "Do you know her, Jeff?"

"I believe I've seen her once or twice," replied Hilton, "but I do not know her."

"Say, Beth," cried Jack, "I've a corking idea! Let's invite her and Jeff Wednesday evening for dinner and have a couple of set of doubles."

U. S. HEALTH SERVICE ISSUES WARNING

Increase in All Respiratory Diseases After the Influenza Epidemic Probable.

Influenza Expected to Lurk for Months. How to Guard Against Pneumonia. Common Colds Highly Catching—Importance of Suitable Clothing—Could Save 100,000 Lives.

Washington, D. C.—With the subsidence of the epidemic of influenza the attention of health officers is directed to pneumonia, bronchitis and other diseases of the respiratory system which regularly cause a large number of deaths, especially during the winter season. According to Rupert Blue, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, these diseases will be especially prevalent this winter unless the people are particularly careful to obey health instructions.

"The present epidemic," said Surgeon General Blue, "has taught by bitter experience how readily a condition beginning apparently as a slight cold may go on to pneumonia and death. Although the worst of the epidemic is over, there will continue to be a large number of scattered cases, many of them mild and unrecognized, which will be danger spots to be guarded against." The Surgeon General likened the present situation to that after a great fire, saying, "No fire chief who understands his business stops playing the hose on the charred debris as soon as the flames and visible fire have disappeared. On the contrary, he continues the water for hours and even days, for he knows that there is danger of the fire rekindling from smoldering embers."

"Then you fear another outbreak of influenza?" he was asked. "Not necessarily another large epidemic," said the Surgeon General, "but unless the people learn to realize the seriousness of the danger they will be compelled to pay a heavy death toll from pneumonia and other respiratory diseases."

Common Colds Highly Catching. "It is encouraging to observe that people are beginning to learn that ordinary coughs and colds are highly catching and are spread from person to person by means of droplets of germ laden mucus. Such droplets are sprayed into the air when careless or ignorant people cough or sneeze without covering their mouth and nose. It is also good to know that people have learned something about the value of fresh air. In summer, when people are largely out of doors, the respiratory diseases (coughs, colds, pneumonia, etc.) are infrequent; in the fall, as people begin to remain indoors, the respiratory diseases increase; in the winter, when people are prone to stay in badly ventilated, overheated rooms, the respiratory diseases become very prevalent."

Suitable Clothing Important. "Still another factor in the production of colds, pneumonia and other respiratory diseases is carelessness in suitable clothing during the seasons when the weather suddenly changes, sitting in warm rooms too heavily dressed or, what is even more common, especially among women, dressing so lightly that windows are kept closed in order to be comfortably warm. This is a very injurious practice."

Could Save 100,000 Lives. "I believe we could easily save one hundred thousand lives annually in the United States if all the people would adopt the system of fresh air living followed, for example, in tuberculosis sanatoria. There is nothing mysterious about it—no specific medicine, no vaccine. The important thing is right living, good food and plenty of fresh air."

Droplet Infection Explained in Pictures. "The Bureau of Public Health, Treasury Department, has just issued a striking poster drawn by Berrymen, the well-known Washington cartoonist. The poster exemplifies the modern method of health education. A few years ago, under similar circumstances, the health authorities would have issued an official bulletin teaching the role of droplet infection in the spread of respiratory diseases. The only ones who would have understood the bulletin would have been those who already knew all about the subject. The man in the street, the plain citizen and the many millions who toil for their living would have had no time and no desire to wade through the technical phraseology."

USE THE PUBLIC "THE HANCKROCHIEF" AND DO YOUR PART TO PROTECT YOURSELF FROM THE DANGER OF COLD, INFLUENZA, PNEUMONIA, AND TUBERCULOSIS. COPIES OF THIS POSTER CAN BE OBTAINED FREE OF CHARGE BY WRITING TO THE SURGEON GENERAL, U. S. PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

An Appreciation Will we ever forget him—that gentle, kindly old man, wending his way to the sanctuary, trembling with age and infirmity? Can't we hear his gentle voice now, as he responds to the call of his pastor to close the service with prayer? Will we forget that tender warning of one who was so soon to pass within the veil? Do not those solemn words of fatherly solicitude come floating back on the shores of loving memory, "Lord, help us to live as we will wish we had lived when we come to die."

He tried to live so. His sweet spirit was reaching out in deeds of kindness and helpfulness. In his love for childhood he might echo the words of that great poet who exclaimed, "I love God and little children." Their simplicity appealed to this charming feature of his own personality.

A friend of the little ones—a comrade of happy youth, an attendant at their services, revered, beloved—will they ever forget their dear Doctor Bouchelle?

How beautiful for their young hearts to cherish old people, those that are trying to do the right!

Will they treasure his memory and his petition of faithful pleading, as the years come and go, those precious, earnest words of tender supplication, "Help them to live as they will wish they had lived when they come to die."

White Christmas A White Christmas Entertainment will be given at the Methodist church Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. All are invited to enjoy the evening with us.

LAKE MARY ITEMS

Mrs. W. V. Evans returned home last week from a very pleasant trip spent in Tampa with her children.

J. G. Martin left Wednesday for Fort Meade after spending Xmas with his family here.

Word was received here a few days ago of the death of Mrs. C. L. Streng of Montague, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Streng spent several winters here and were very much liked by all who knew them. Mrs. Streng is survived by her husband and several children.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sjoblom will regret to know that their son, Fred has been indisposed at their home on Crystal Lake with a spell of fever—something unusual for this place.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Durant returned home Thursday from Pierson where they spent a very pleasant Xmas with home folks.

J. Brotherson and brother, H. S. Brotherson and family of North Carolina moved here last week to spend the remainder of the winter here.

Mrs. E. S. Montgomery of Johnstown, N. Y., is stopping here at the Martin house for a few days.

Fred Lee, who has spent Xmas here left Wednesday for a visit to Winter Haven before returning to his home at Jacksonville.

Mrs. J. G. Martin and Mrs. E. S. Montgomery were visitors to Orlando Monday.

LONGWOOD PICK UPS

Happy New Year!
Mr. and Mrs. Carlise Warty and children and Miss Ethel Hardy of Groveland and Miss Nancy Warty of Orlando spent Xmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warty.

Cecil Golden of Carlstrom Fields was the guest of J. M. Waits during the holidays.

Mrs. Paul Hardaway and two little girls of Providence, R. I., arrived Christmas Eve and will be the guests of Mrs. Nettie Hardaway for the winter.

Mrs. W. R. Chapman returned to her home in Jacksonville Dec. 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Duffield of Orlando were in town Tuesday looking after their property.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCracken were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Entzinger and baby of Greenwood, S. C., are visiting relatives.

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

Let us rally round the Sunday school this coming year and help to keep the home fires burning: Rev. Ericson leading at 2:00.

We are sure all appreciated Rev. Brower coming to us last Sunday and hope to hear him again soon.

Clarence Berquist, who returned Monday from a pleasant week spent with his parents at Tiger Bay, near Fort Meade took dinner on New Year's with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindquist.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Magnusson came home from Merrill's last Christmas Eve, much to the joy of the home folks here, to spend the holidays with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krep and leave this week for their home at Arcadia, after a nice visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Tynes.

Carl Pierson spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Neils Swanson, with friends on Sanford avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lee and baby took dinner New Year's with his parents on First street. We understand his brother, Roy and wife and their little one are visiting his uncle John near Wekiwa.

Mrs. J. A. Vaughn and nephew, Paul Mansfield spent an evening at the home of H. G. Lundquist and another with Mr. and Mrs. Tynes.

The youngsters in Grapeville gave the glad New Year a noisy welcome and all are glad another has opened before us. We that are older, properly in sober thought, realizing though the old year brought much of sorrow and sickness to many of us, yet as living souls, capable of praising Him, our comfort is that His rod and staff still guide us.

Some of the young people were determined on having a pillow on New Year's eve and so to please them one was hastily gotten up but much enjoyed nevertheless by the 37 young and old participating. It was held at the lake, three nice chickens being disposed of with plenty of bread, pickles and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortier and mother and Gladys Robinson also joined us.

EAST SANFORD

The Christmas entertainment and tree, a beautiful cedar were much enjoyed. The songs and recitations were pleasingly given. There were gifts and candy for all the children and an orange for everyone in the large audience.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shoemaker and daughter, Elizabeth were in town a portion of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Weinman and party of Cartersville, Ga., who were guests at the Carnes Hotel. The Weinmans are relatives of the Shoemakers and are touring Florida.

WEST GENEVA AVENUE

Christmas is gone and the New Year is here. I hope everybody will prosper and the Flu will leave.

Mr. Paul Mansfield left Wednesday for his home at Tampa after spending Christmas and holidays with his aunt, Mrs. J. E. Vaughn.

Mrs. Will Robinson, mother and sister, Mrs. Byrd and Mrs. Gaff left for Miami Saturday after spending Xmas holidays in Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Karell will leave this week for Arcadia, after spending Xmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tynes.

Mrs. J. E. Vaughn and Paul Mansfield spent Tuesday, the last day of the year with Mr. and Mrs. Culp at their beautiful home at Osteen ferry.

Mr. Neal Culp has the finest lettuce that I have seen this season and will soon be shipping again.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Robinson are busy housing the sweet potatoes. They have a fine lot of them.

I see by the paper that President Wilson called on all wounded soldiers in France and says there are some that will never leave there. He says there was one man that lost both of his legs.

Oh, just think what our poor boy is suffering from this awful war.

The bill kaiser is wearing frock coats now. His chills did not kill him. I don't think a cannon ball could stunt him at the hardest pitch.

Shorthand Class

Mrs. J. N. Standifer, an experienced shorthand teacher, who taught for many years in the University of Mississippi will begin a class in shorthand next week, at 327 W. Ninth street. Mrs. Standifer will be here only a few months and those wishing to enroll should report early in the week as the class will be limited to a few.

PLAN A CROP ROTATION

Better Yields and Cleaner Fields Will Be The Result

A systematic rotation of field crops should commend itself to the Florida farmer. It makes for soil improvement, with better crop yields as a result and for partial elimination of certain crop pests. However, the most profitable crop rotation does not consist merely in changing the crops around from year to year, regardless of the relation of the crops to each other, says the University of Florida extension division. The central aim in all crop rotation systems should be to leave each field in a better state of cultivation and reasonably free from pests at the end of each rotation cycle.

The most profitable system must be worked out for each farm, and for each field. The county agent can be of much service in the planning. There are certain general principles, however, that should be borne in mind in this connection in order to accomplish the most satisfactory results.

For soil improvement there should be at least one leguminous crop in each rotation cycle. To this class of plants belong the cowpea and the velvet bean. There should also be a sufficient number of animals, especially milk cows, on each farm to utilize the roughage and to supply the desired quantity of stable manure, which, in addition to green crops plowed under, will furnish humus to the soil. The conditions resulting from this treatment, if the soil is properly handled, will make the succeeding crops more vigorous and capable of offsetting, in some measure, the effects of any pest that may appear.

Again, the successive crops in any rotation should be so selected and arranged that no two upon which the same pest may thrive will be grown in succession. The principles of disease control by means of crop rotation are based upon the fact that certain pests can thrive only on certain kinds of plants.

An early planning of spring plantings should be made in keeping with the "more food, feed and forage" campaign.

A problem in saving

—for business men

If a piece of machinery at $40 lasts twice as long as another at $25, which is the most economical?

Nothing to it, of course; that's why we wonder why some men don't see the economy in paying a little more to get the saving in good clothes.

These we sell, made by Hart Schaffner & Marx, cost a little more than some clothes but they last so much longer they're cheaper in the end.

The new styles are here; they're all wool, simple and refined and economical of materials and of your money.

NOTES FOR CONVOCATION

Holy Cross Parish sincerely welcomes the 1919 Convocation. The initial meeting of Southern Florida was held here in February, 1893. Registration Booth for hospitality at the Parish House. Tickets for luncheon on Wednesday will be distributed at Parish House and Women's Club building after the morning business session, and on Thursday at the Parish House only.

The Time O' Day

Dear Editor: Since in recent months you have been declared "it" by different bodies of competent men, and certainly may be considered to have more than in evidence.

1. What is the present time? That is, is it twelve o'clock at noon, or eleven? Is the present time, whatever that is, the same as railroad time? That is, are we to start to take a train on "town time" or on some other time, as has been the case in such country towns as Orlando?

as the 1919 Series. If these instructions are read by both the authorized agencies and the people very little, if any confusion as to the change of series will result.

1. That stamps of 1919 series should not be placed on certificates of the 1918 series. If certificates of the 1919 series are not yet available, stamps should be held until such certificates arrive, which will be within the next few days.

2. Holders of stamps of the 1918 series should not exchange them for stamps of the 1919 series, as this provision is only made for the benefit of agencies who wish to exchange their stamps of the 1918 series for stamps of the 1919 series, and this should be for the purpose of sale.

3. Post offices are not permitted to sell stamps of the 1918 series after December 31, 1918, but so far no order has been issued preventing other agencies from disposing of their stock on hand, as there will no doubt be many people who would prefer to fill up their certificates of the 1918 series, and who were unable to do so during 1918.

4. Any other points not fully explained will be explained by any agency, post office, district chairman or the county chairman, upon application to the nearest named. Schelle Maines, County Chairman.

Beautiful Dream Faded

Helen was told she would have to wait until her birthday for a new doll. She tried to be patient, but a month seemed a long time to wait. One morning she awoke quite early, sobbing loudly. Her mother asked what was wrong. "My dream had a fall, but I woke up and found my dream faded," cried Helen.

Ordination Service at Temple

The regular preaching service was suspended at the Baptist Temple last Sunday evening and in its stead an ordination service was had. During the service Messrs. W. E. Seagars and G. D. Ballard were ordained as deacons of the First Baptist church. The two named were elected by the church at the annual meeting held in September, but owing to the absence of Mr. Seagars it was thought best to postpone the ordination service until last Sunday evening.

The examining board charged to examine into the qualifications of the deacons elected consisted of the Rev. Dr. Wm. Stokes, resident pastor at Oviedo Baptist church, Dr. M. H. Massey of the local church, and Dr. Yearby visiting pastor from Georgia, and Deacons Frank Wheeler of Oviedo and Jenkins of Sanford.

After the examination and the laying on of hands by the board Dr. Stokes delivered the address of the evening in which was embodied the charge to the newly ordained deacons. Deacon Wheeler spoke for a few minutes on the duty of the church to the board of deacons and in this talk much good advice to the church was given. Dr. Massey, pastor, was master of ceremony. During the service the Temple choir rendered some special songs and Mrs. Marshall gave a violin solo.

Proposed Engineering Experiment Stations

The value of the Agricultural Experiment Stations towards increasing production in agriculture has now become so thoroughly demonstrated that congress is considering the establishment of similar experiment stations to serve other industries. A bill for this purpose is now before congress and is known as the Smith-Howard bill, having been introduced in the senate by Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, and in the house of representatives by Mr. Howard of the same state. This bill has been referred to the committee on education of which Mr. W. J. Sears of Florida is chairman.

"The plan which the bill proposes is very much like that under which the Agricultural Experiment Stations work. Engineering Experiment stations are to be established in every state at the cost of the Federal government, and under the general direction of the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce. These Experiment Stations will endeavor to stimulate the industries of manufacturing, transportation, mining, public utilities, etc., by carrying out researches, investigations, and experiments in connection with the production, preparation, manufacture and transportation of materials utilized in engineering, manufacturing and allied industries, and also for war purposes; including researches, investigations, and experiments relating to textiles, ceramics, minerals, explo-

Now, Mr. Editor, brains are getting dizzy, and hair is growing gray over this time matter. Fingers are going numb, and turning black, and watches back with forth. Nobody knows what's the time of day. Think of the wear and tear on the hotel porter! Sanford can't afford to lose him!

Please answer the above questions, and we'll renew our subscriptions right away. Under the present system, as we work it out, the Herald is worth to you, and we know that isn't far from satisfactory to you. Your old friend, VOX POP.

Nitrate for Farmers

The Secretary of Agriculture has advised that "Under the authority of Section 27 of the food control act and subsequent legislation relating thereto, the Department of Agriculture during the coming season would offer nitrate of soda for sale to farmers for fertilizer use. The nitrate will be sold for cash at cost. The price to the farmer will be $81.00 per short ton, free on board cars at the loading point or port. In addition the farmer will have to pay the freight charges to unloading point and any incidental expenses that he may himself incur in connection with the delivery of the nitrate.

"Under the law the nitrate will be sold only for cash and the farmer will be required to deposit the money covering the cost of the nitrate for which he applies, with the local bank, association or individual to be designated by the department. In practically all counties, distribution of the nitrate will be made through county distributors. If the quantity of nitrate that can be secured will fill all orders, each farmer will be allotted the quantity applied for; otherwise, it will be necessary to allot the nitrate proportionately to those applying for it so that all may participate on equal terms in its distribution. Arrangements have been made to secure a large quantity of nitrate and unless the demands should prove greater than anticipated there will be enough nitrate to supply all reasonable requirements. The distribution will be handled as last year, through the Bureau of Markets."

Those interested should call on C. M. Berry, County Agent.

Death of J. D. Frazer

Word has been received in Sanford of the death of J. D. Frazer, who died in Ottawa, Canada, on December 20th.

Important Live-Stock Meetings

The live stock industry in Florida has developed so rapidly within the past few months that it has been deemed advisable to devote parts of two weeks for meetings to discuss the various matters of pressing importance. A general invitation is extended to every person interested in live stock production to attend these meetings.

The Florida State Swine Growers Association has been assigned January 6, 7 and 8 for their second annual meeting to be held in Orlando. An important feature will be the auction sale on afternoon of 7th of 50 registered hogs representing equally the Berkshire, Duroc, Hampshire and Poland China breeds, consigned by members of the Association.

Among the subjects on program are: Best age to market hogs; Benefits of organization; Obligation of breeder to purchaser and vice versa; The value of good hogs; Winter feeds and better breeding stock. The seventh annual meeting of the Florida State Live Stock Association will be held in Kissimmee, on January 14, 15 and 16. Dr. George M. Rammel will outline the result of his investigation as to needs for restocking the war devastated countries with breeding stock.

One session will be devoted to reports on what women are doing in Florida, by some of the women who have made a success in handling live stock. The social feature of the convention will be emphasized and the men are urged to bring their wives and daughters.

The Florida State Dairy Association will hold their second annual meeting at Kissimmee in connection with the Live Stock Association, and dairy farming subjects will be given a prominent place on the program. R. W. Storrs, Secretary, Fla. State Live Stock Assn. W. M. Traor, Secretary, Fla. State Swine Growers Assn. John M. Scott, Secretary, Fla. State Dairy Assn.

The Firemen Not at Fault

I wish to correct a report that seems to have gained some credence and designed no doubt, to "knock" the firemen. In regard to the fire on Laurel avenue last Saturday the Fire Department left the station in less than twenty seconds after getting the message, made a quick run and had water on the blaze in three minutes. A slight halt was caused by having been given the wrong location.

It seems that there was a delay in calling us and it took at least a minute to secure any information over the phone. It was due to the promptness of the firemen that the house was not totally destroyed, as a glance at it will show. These facts are borne out by citizens who were at the station and wait along on the track.

It always affords me a lot of pleasure to run down false reports as they are nearly always started by some irresponsible who gets in the way, criticizes and is careful not to be of any value to us. G. F. Paxton, Chief.

Auto License Must Be Obtained

On New Year's day every automobile that was not properly decorated with a nice black and orange license tag issued by State Comptroller Ernest Amos, at a cost of so much per each, was liable to be stopped so that the owner or driver thereof could be pinched. And this liability is still on, brought about by the reason that the legislature has decreed that all autos must sport new license tags each year and New Year's day is the beginning of the year. In order to obtain the tags one must make application to the Comptroller on application blanks furnished by him, accompanied by the necessary cash according to the horse power of the respective driver. Application blanks may be had at the office of the tax collector, prosecuting attorney, sheriff or clerk.

Many Uses for Kapok

Kapok is the name applied to the silky fiber found around the seed of the silk-cotton tree (Eriodendron fructuosum). This tree is found in all tropical countries and is very abundant in Java, which furnishes a large part of the commercial supply. Kapok is imported into the United States in large quantities, principally from Java, and is used as filling for mattresses, pillows, cushions and life preservers of various kinds, and as an upholstery material.

Are You Open-Minded?

The average American is open-minded.

American business is conducted by true Americans of vision, open-minded men who believe in their country and strive to meet their country's needs. The men in the packing industry are no exception to the rule.

The business of Swift & Company has grown as the nation has progressed. Its affairs have been conducted honorably, efficiently, and economically, reducing the margin between the cost of live stock and the selling price of dressed meat, until today the profit is only a fraction of a cent a pound—too small to have any noticeable effect on prices.

The packing industry is a big, vital industry—one of the most important in the country. Do you understand it?

Swift & Company presents facts in the advertisements that appear in this paper. They are addressed to every open-minded person in the country.

The booklet of preceding chapters in this story of the packing industry, will be mailed on request to Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards - Chicago, Illinois

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ill-suffering people today can be traced back to kidney trouble. The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. Kidney disease is usually indicated by weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, all stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago. All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Heaflom Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your druggist today and insist on GOLD MEDAL Heaflom Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Heaflom Oil. After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three aches. Money refunded if they do not help you.

The first meeting of the night school to be conducted by the Woman's Club will be held in the club rooms next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Every one desiring to join these classes will please be present at this meeting in order that the classes may be organized and real work begun at the earliest possible date.

The teachers are volunteer workers, and the Woman's Club will appreciate any help that may be given in this line.

The short-hand and typewriting classes are already provided for and it is hoped to secure other teachers for a short English class and a book-keeping course at an early date.

The loan of typewriters will also be much appreciated. It is not the intention of the Woman's Club to conduct this school for money making purposes.

The charges for membership in the Business Women's Auxiliary for those who are eligible, but yet wish to avail themselves of this opportunity, are so moderate that any one can afford to join, and it is hoped only to cover expenses of lights, cleaning and other incidentals.

A recreation hour will follow the lesson period, and it is the intention of those in charge to increase the interest and activities of these meetings.

BULLETIN SAVES MUCH TIME

Government's Official Newspaper, Answering Questions, Obviating Time of Correspondents.

On account of the enormous increase of government work the government of departments at Washington are being flooded with letters of inquiry on every conceivable subject concerning the war, and it has been found a physical impossibility for the clerks though they number an army in themselves.

Their work is being done by the use of the Official Bulletin. This paper publishes every day all of the important news, orders, etc., as they are promulgated by the various departments and agencies now in operation at the national capital.

By consulting these files most questions will be found readily answered; there will be little necessity for writing; the unnecessary congestion of the mails will be relieved; and the clerks in the government departments will be enabled to give their time essentially to their work.

The Bulletin is published daily at 10 o'clock in the morning. It is available at all libraries, bookstores, and to members of congress, and federal officials.

CATCHING IT

An Irishman was coming down one of the bridges of the Liverpool landing boat. Over his shoulders hung a bag containing a bundle of potatoes.

Being under full sail, the monoplane carried him nearly across the landing stage, when, seeing a boat about ten feet from it, he shook out another reef, made an astonishing spring and jumped.

Just as he reached the deck the potato bag shifted heavily to port and laid out a clerk, who was smoking a cigar through a meerschaum holder.

The clerk, struck the deck, uttering a cry of "The boat's leaking!" and the man on the monoplane, seeing that his passenger was all right, turned back to the boat.

Plant scarce fruits for an assured income

There will be greater demand than supply for many of the semi-tropical and tropical fruits so well adapted to Florida for many years to come. Even a few trees of these fruits will mean a ready-money income. Avocados are particularly worth while. Every year more people learn to eat them and they sell at prices returning growers fine profits. Plant an avocado grove if you can; at least set out a few trees of the varieties which will thrive in your section.

Royal Palm Nurseries offer the choicest avocados and their new catalog tells which kinds to plant. It also describes and gives cultural suggestions for other fruits that should be more generally grown in Florida and supplies full information about shade trees, shrubbery, ornamental plants, etc. Send today for free copy of this "Beautiful Grounds Book."

My New Year's Resolution: Resolved that I, having been permitted through the kindness of Almighty God to see another calendar year come and go, will show my appreciation to the Giver of all things perfect by living for the coming year a life beyond reproach; that I will love my neighbor as I do myself; that I will at all times stand up for my town, my community and my country; that my state and my government shall have such helpful co-operation as I am able to render; that I will endeavor to set an example to the young men about me, allowing myself at no time to enter into any act that might be displeasing to the sight of my Redeemer; that I will lend more of my usefulness to the benefit of my church and Sunday school; that I will speak to my enemies when I meet them; that I will so conduct my personal and business affairs that all associates will be pleased with my company; that I shall strive to make my home and its occupants forever happy so that I and mine may give off those little rays of sunshine, through our made pleasant dispositions, that serve so well to lighten the burden of those with whom we come in contact; and last but not in no wise least, it be said, I resolve to live closer to my God and ask His assistance and guidance in doing those things I have resolved to do. Daily preparing myself to be ever ready for the call of Him who doeth all things well.

The following parable of the sower, adapted for modern conditions is the way Dr. John W. Robertson, Chicago, Commissioner of Health emphasizes the need for care to prevent the spread of disease germs.

1. Behold, the cougher went forth to cough.

2. And when he coughed, some germs fell upon the sidewalk, and the feet of the pedestrians came and gathered them up and carried them into their homes.

3. Some fell into nostrils that were hard and unfruitful, and forthwith a slight cold appeared. It was not worse because there was much opposition to them on account of the sterility of the soil.

4. And when the sun was up these colds were scorched, and because they had no root these colds withered away.

5. And some fell in thorny places, such as those that have immunity, and in this way they were choked out.

6. But others fell in good ground for them, and brought forth much disease; some an hundred fold, some sixty fold, and some thirty fold.

7. Who hath eyes to see let him see, and go forth to the health department and view the great harvest of pneumonia, tuberculosis, lagrippe and bronchitis, all of which is a record in the archives of the department.

8. Who hath ears to hear let him hear, that over 10,000 of our people were garnered during the year of our Lord 1917 from the seed of the cougher and sneezer, and now sleep with their fathers in their untimely sepulchres.

9. Be not ye of those who, having ears hear not, and who having eyes see not those things which we have herein set forth that so nearly concern their temporal health and salvation.

10. "Cough, cough, smoother the sneeze and expectorate not in public places, to the end that divers and grievous disorders come not unto this, nor unto thy neighbor."

11. And remember now the teachings of the health department that the days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

I am glad to see the city and the city officials waking up for once and at least trying to show the Utilities furnishers of our bright and thriving little city that they alone do not run the entire country side. These remarks are brought about by the fact that I overheard a conversation one evening this week that led me to believe the city was endeavoring to keep the electric rates from being raised on the 1st of January, and also by the fact that I later discovered there had been a suit instituted on behalf of the city and city council and some property owners, asking an injunction restraining the Utilities Co. from raising the rates. Temporary injunction was granted, when goes to show that the petitioners at least have a leg to stand on and now I want to ask the people who read my column to stand behind the city in this matter. Surely we get poor enough light service, let alone to stand for a raise in rates at the same time, and if public opinion and sympathy mean anything we boys ought to be there with the goods. You can always hear anything most and I did hear one of these anti-city fellers talking that the matter stood entirely on a question of law—well, I don't know anything about that law but I do know that there ought to be a law prohibiting the arbitrary raising of rates on innocent unsuspecting and almost helpless consumers of "juice," and it appears to me that we will soon have determined whether there is law or no law on the subject—all of which causes me to reflect and remind you dear people that a municipal owned utilities is the solution.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER.

VEGETABLE GARDEN.

"There were many vegetables growing in a little garden," said Daddy, "and each was trying to do its very best."

"The garden was not large, but the children who owned the garden, or rather whose daddy owned it, had been given that much space in which to do as they liked."

"They had heard that vegetables were needed, that all the land should be made useful and that nothing should be wasted. They had been told how wrong it was to waste, and they had decided that it was not only wrong, but it was extremely stupid."

"So these two little boys and their small sister were making the garden grow. Once a week a gardener came and did all the heavy work, and at night their daddy would help to water the little growing green things. But all the rest of the work they did themselves."

It took a great deal of time, too, but it was such fun. And oh, there was great rejoicing when first the seeds showed above the ground, and when the plants that had been put in the hotbeds began to look so handsome and green!

"The children used to hoe around the beans and potato plants; then they would weed and make the dirt nice and soft around the vegetables. They would water them so they would have cooling drinks and be refreshed."

"The plants were warmed and helped to grow by the sun. It really was a very fine looking garden, and all the vegetables seemed to be thriving splendidly. They were still very young, though the lettuce was almost ready to be eaten—that is, if people didn't mind having just a tiny taste of lettuce, for the leaves were very small."

"The children kept from picking the lettuce until it really grew to be the right size, though it was very hard not to take it up at once, for it was so fine to have grown something like that. They grew to know what all the little green stalks and leaves meant and what vegetables they were. They loved the green of the carrot stalks, and they thought it quite funny that such a plain, sub-stantial vegetable should be so dressed up."

"And the beets, with their reddish-green leaves, were quite familiar to them now. And the thin stalks of the little onions. The radishes had a course green stalk, unlike any of the others, of course they knew potatoes and the tomato vines and the beans, and there was dark-green parsley, too, that gave such nice 'extra' touches to everything.

"I wonder when our garden will be quite ready," said the little sister. "I'd like to start a second crop of lettuce."

"And I'd like to start a second crop of radishes," said one of her brothers. "Now that night the Fairy Queen thought she would take a walk through that garden, and she heard all the vegetables talking and whispering to themselves. No one else, of course, could understand the talk of the vegetables but the Fairy Queen."

"What is it, vegetables?" she asked. "Aren't you happy?" It seems to me that you should be, because here you have such a nice garden home, you have such careful and devoted attention and you are the pride of two fine boys and a very fine girl.

"That is so," said the vegetables. "But we get impatient sometimes."

"Why?" asked the Fairy Queen.

"Well, we hear the children wanting to try second crops of lettuce," said the lettuce leaves. "And of course we have to grow and be eaten first. It seems as if we were dreadfully slow sometimes, and we get a little bit discouraged and downhearted."

"So do we," said the radishes.

"And we each want to win the race," said the beets, from under the ground, and their voices sounded quite low as you may well understand.

"What race?" asked the Fairy Queen.

"Each vegetable wants to be the first to be eaten," said the onions.

"Oh," said the Fairy Queen, "you shouldn't feel that way about it, for each vegetable has its own time for being ready. Each of you should simply be your best to be well-grown. Then each of you will be winning your own race."

And they all agreed they would do as she said.

Oh, Man! Stupidness, we depraved, but fairness we epitome. The former is our neighbor's trait, The latter is our own.

Sounds Impossible: Bacon—How silly, how impossible women are! Elbert—What now? "My wife and her mother were upstairs trying to call one another down."

The Kind They Were: "The man picked up unconscious in the street the other day was suffering from knockout drops." "Given in the public street?" "Yes; two bricks fell on his head from a building."

Bright Prospects: "An optimistic young man asked me the other day for permission to marry my daughter," said Mr. Graboin. "Why?" "When I told him she spent ten thousand dollars a year on clothes alone, he said he figured that her present would last until he could work up to a salary of twelve or fifteen thousand dollars a year."

Hello, Grandma! We're All Well, How Are You?

It is a joyous moment for the distant grandparent when she hears the voice of her favorite youngster on the Long Distance Bell Telephone.

Children who cannot write can use the Bell Telephone with ease, and their small voices over the wires give assurance to loved ones that all is well.

The Long Distance Bell Telephone plays an important part in the social life of the nation. Without leaving your home you can visit satisfactorily with relatives or friends in distant cities.

The service is fine; the rates are reasonable.

CITY'S FIRST AND LAST FALL

Jericho's Siege and Capture One of the Spectacular Stories of the Old Testament.

On the morning of Washington's birthday Gen. Sir E. H. Allenby's Australian troopers rode as conquerors into a little village of huts, noted geographically as being the city of low elevation on earth, and in Biblical history as being the scene of the Promised Land, observes the Minneapolis Journal.

In the Cannanite days Jericho was a fortified city, commanding both the lower ford of the Jordan and the route leading up to the highlands of Judah. The story of its siege and capture and the destruction of its population is one of the spectacular stories of the Old Testament, which contrasts strongly with its gentle seizure by a Christian army in a year of our Lord thirty-five centuries later.

According to the Old Testament story, the city was left desolate with a curse from Joshua upon the man who should attempt to rebuild it. And it is related that Hiel, the Bethelite, who did rebuild it, lost his two sons in the construction of the wall as punishment for his temerity.

It was at Jericho that Joshua instituted his campaign of frightfulness upon his enemies; and it was on the Jericho road leading up to the Judah highlands that Jesus laid the scene of the story of the Good Samaritan which came first and to a wounded enemy. The advance from Joshua to Jesus in the human ideal of duty toward one's enemies is the very measure of the spread between the ideals of Hindenberg and Allenby on the same question.

This war is fundamentally a conflict between the ideals of modern brotherhood and ancient overlords; and nowhere is the contrast more noteworthy than in this little village of Jericho, where the people today are safer in the hands of their enemies than they were under the rule of their own people. The world, with the exception of Germany and Turkey, has traveled a long way between the two falls of Jericho.

ROMEO WAS CLAD IN KHAKI

Played the Popular Game, Choosing the Dinner Table to Work on Affection of Waitress.

It is natural that we should be eager to know whatever we can for the boy in khaki; but sometimes, when the facts are not accompanied by a sympathetic imagination, the benefactor may be delivered from our friends, writes "An American Woman" in the Outlook.

A homesick lad is likely to want either an atmosphere like that of his own home or else the exotic flavor the expectation of which has helped him to undertake the great adventure, so writes.

One family among my neighbors the son of the house recognized when one of his guests at Sunday dinner made the perfectly simple and natural request that he be permitted after the meal to repair to the kitchen where the pretty waitress was.

Her admission was denied, but young Romeo was not discouraged, and this letter came to the girl that waits for Mrs. So-and-so: "You are the best ever. Are you keeping company with any one?"

He added his name and a few personal details, and this delicious bit of identification "if you don't know who I identify write this. It is the one that touched your hand under the dish when you passed the potatoes."

Russia a Puzzle Even to Tolstoy. "How can one understand chaos?" is the reply Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of the famous Leo Tolstoy, writer, philosopher and mystic, made to the question as to his interpretation of conditions in Europe.

If such a man as Count Tolstoy is in error in regard to Russian affairs, it is hardly pardonable for Americans to be in ignorance of them. The count says that the real Russia has not been consulted at all in the recent changes there. The real Russia is peasant Russia and peasant Russia has been ignored. The count pleads for American sympathy for his people, who, he says, have been deceived and misled. "The crime of all the Russian leaders," he says, "is that they have been following their own programs and ignoring the peasants, the masses." What will come out of the present chaos the count professes he does not know.

Long Leaves Are Most Economical. A long weighing one pound contains 11 per cent of water if it is round and only 34 per cent if it is cylindrical. Therefore, she who buys long leaves gets 140 grammes more actual food for her money than she who buys round leaves.

The reason for this is that the sphere is the figure that contains the largest possible volume under the smallest possible surface, and, as evaporation is a matter of surface, this is greater from a cylinder than it is from a sphere of the same weight.

Where Thomas Yale Rests. In the new American year there are many officers whose alma mater is Yale college, and some of them regard Wroxham, in North Wales, as a place of almost personal interest. For it is there that Thomas Yale, who inaugurated the great seat of American learning, was buried, and it is interesting to know that in the early nineties a root of ivy from his grave was sent to Professor Phelps, formerly the American minister in London, to plant against the college building—London Chronicle.

Cheerfulness Requires Courage.

It takes a good deal of courage to seem cheerful in wartime, yet it is a detail of one's self-respect to keep a smiling face in public. A display of hysteria indicates considerable indifference to the rights and comfort of others, and is not good form. No matter how hard life may be, one must keep from scolding and scowling and complaining and whining and indulging in tears and grief only in one's own room.—Chicago Evening Post.
