All Is Quiet On Korean Front As U.S. Awaits Attack

Allied Tanks Clash With Reds In Hot But Local Battle; Patrol In Wonju

TOKYO, Jan. 18—(AP)—Tank-led Allied troops battled two companies of Chinese Reds tonight in a brief but fierce local clash on the Korean western front.

The U. N. patrol, under air cover, then smashed out of a threatened enemy envelopment.

Allied commanders expected a general Communist offensive may come at any time.

"All hell might break loose soon," an officer said.

A U. N. raiding patrol, one of several exploring the strength of enemy troops massed all along the battle front, jabbed in and out of Kumyangjang, 25 miles southeast of Seoul.

The commander of the Allied motorized patrol said he met strong resistance in Kumyangjang and called for air support when it appeared his troops were being flanked.

But after 90 minutes of tough fighting he said both his patrol units had safely withdrawn from the battered town.

Associated Press correspondent Jim Becker reported.

The fight started at 4 P. M. Thursday (E. A. EST). Becker said when the U. N. units disengaged they had taken one prisoner.

Touhy Tells B&PW Of Opportunities In Business World

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club held last night at the Marlborough Hotel here to take advantage of the occupational opportunities now available to them in the business world.

The speakers were George Touhy, personnel director of Florida Fashions, and Mrs. Lois Smiley, local chief operator for the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. Mrs. Touhy was introduced by Mrs. P. M. Gingles, club president, and Mrs. Smiley by Mrs. E. J. Routh.

Mrs. Smiley pointed out that at one time the doors of almost every occupation in business were closed to women.

"From their employers women now expect equal rights in job opportunities in every competitive field, and the right to business themselves freely in the business in which they are engaged in matters concerning them," she said.

Women now have equal rights to promotion on merit alone, she stated. In the telephone companies, she added, women have been placed in every department, whereas 20 years ago, only men were employed.

Among the factors she listed as contributing to advancement of women in business are personal tidiness, willingness to learn, courtesy, regular hours and emotional stability.

Mrs. Touhy told the group that when applying for a job a person likes to investigate the security of the company to which they are applying and should determine if the company is financially sound.

Employers like to know something of the background of applicants, their capabilities, and what can be expected from each employee in relation to his company as time goes on, he stated.

Mrs. Carl Price, announced that the club will start a "speech clinic" in February. Co-operation of the club with the Welfare Dental Clinic was reported. Mrs. Robert Zittrower of the Tuberculosis Association, asked for volunteers to aid with the mobile X-ray unit which will be here soon. A district B. & P. W. meet was scheduled at the Mayfair Inn on Jan. 23.

Ruling On Grove Sale Profits Is Appealed

ORLANDO, Jan. 18—(AP)—The federal government will appeal a ruling that profit on the sale of an orange grove is taxable only as capital gain and not at higher income tax rates.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Matt O'Brien filed notice of the appeal yesterday.

The Internal Revenue Department had held that fruit on the trees at the time of sale—though immature—grows—a taxable as income. Federal District Judge William J. Barker of Tampa ruled against the government last November and ordered $350 refunded to Mrs. Frances B. Irgang of Killarney.

Truman Says He Will Act If Necessary

Troops To Europe To Be Sent, If Needed, Whether Congress Approves Or Not

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—President Truman said today the government will bring prices and wages under control just as rapidly as it can. He told his news conference that he could not attempt to pin down the date of a price-wage freeze or other action, but said ceilings will be imposed as soon as practicable.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—President Truman today described as very nice and one that speaks for itself a magazine article which said he does not choose to run again. The article, by Edward T. Fullard, White House reporter for the Washington Post, appears in the January 18 issue of Look magazine. Fullard wrote at one point that Mr. Truman hopes he won't have to run again, and at another point that it could be said the President does not choose to run because he does not believe in the doctrine of the indispensable man.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—President Truman said today he will appreciate it highly if the Senate approves sending more troops to Europe, but repeated he will do whatever is necessary to meet the world situation.

He told his news conference he is not asking the Senate to take such action. However, he said he is happy the Democratic majority is working on an affirmative resolution expressing approval of the use of U. S. troops in Europe under General Dwight D. Eisenhower's new western defense command.

The President last week insisted he has constitutional authority as commander-in-chief to send additional troops to Europe with or without approval of Congress. The Democratic move to back him up developed after Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader, offered a resolution to bar sending additional troops unless Congress first approves.

Mr. Truman also told reporters: 1. He had made his position clear last week that he was willing to consult with Senate committees on the troop controversy and was willing to talk with any Senator who requests it, but would not be bound by congressional action. He said his statement then was not printed in a single newspaper in the country. Reporters sharply challenged this, saying his statements were untrue.

United States To Ask UN To Brand Chinese As Aggressors In Korea; Hershey Asks Draft Of 18 Year Olds

Selective Service Director Gives Warning Of Impending Manpower Shortage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—Major General Lewis H. Hershey "dangerous" manpower shortage in its fighting forces unless Congress permits the drafting of 18-year-olds.

Hershey, head of Selective Service for the last 10 years, urged an indefinite extension of the draft act with authority to induct men from 18 through 25 years.

He gave full support to the Administration's universal military service and training bill sent to Congress late yesterday by Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Even before General Hershey had completed his testimony before the Senate preparedness subcommittee, Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) left to introduce the UMST measure on the Senate floor.

Johnson offered it in behalf of all 13 members of the Senate Armed Services Committee as a substitute for the first bill offered this session. That was a universal military training bill expected to operate when the present emergency ends.

Hershey said Secretary Marshall and Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna M. Rosenberg had been "too conservative" in estimating manpower needs of the Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine for the next year or two.

In order to build up to the 3,000,000 manpower goal asked by President Truman in the next six months, Hershey said Congress will have to induct the 18-year-olds "or take fathers and veterans" between 19 and 25 years old.

With recent draft calls of 80,000 or more in each of the next three months, Hershey said the draft manpower pools need "a cushion of between 200,000 and 300,000."

Hershey said inability to call 18-year-olds would result in a "deficit of 200,000" in the draft pool within six months.

If draft calls should go up to 100,000 or more monthly, "then you are wrecked," he testified.

"No matter what you do on the 18 year old now the mortgage is on him," he said at one point. (Continued on Page Two)

Korean Death Toll Reaches 7,000 Mark

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—Total announced U. S. combat casualties in Korea rose to 45,137 today.

The total, disclosed by the Department of Defense, was based on notifications to next of kin through Jan. 12. It was 2,214 more than the figure for the previous week.

The Department listed 6,029 killed, 29,951 wounded and 9,077 missing in action.

The wounded total includes 772 who have since died of wounds. Total deaths reached 7,203, including deaths from wounds and 22 known dead among the missing in action.

France Favors Plan In Principle But May Seek To Delay Immediate Action

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 18—(AP)—The United States is ready today to call on the United Nations for an indictment of Communist China as an aggressor in Korea.

In Washington, President Truman told his news conference the United States will bring every pressure it can to brand the Chinese Communist aggressors.

Some countries, however, may try to delay action until they have had more time to consider Peking's peace terms, received last night along with rejection of the latest U. N. ceasefire appeal.

India was expected to oppose the plan strongly, along with the Soviet bloc.

As the delegates prepared for a 3 P. M. meeting of the General Assembly's 40-nation political committee, U. S. representatives still were trying to line up co-sponsors for the American plan to put the aggressor label on the Chinese Reds.

A spokesman said the proposal would be ready if all the prospective co-sponsors received instructions from their home governments in time. If not the introduction of the proposal might be delayed until tomorrow. At any rate, the spokesman said, chief U. S. delegate Warren R. Austin was prepared to blast the Chinese Communists in a speech and reject their peace terms.

Reports from abroad also indicated intense diplomatic activity in many capitals. France was reported to have agreed to endorse the Peking signature. A foreign Ministry spokesman said in Paris:

"We quite agree with the principle of declaring Communist China an aggressor, but we do not favor rushing into any such declaration before we have carefully considered all the consequences."

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru also in Paris, was reported to believe that the (Continued on Page Five)

Andy Carraway Welcomes Barr Umpires To City

Three Hundred People Attend Third Annual Geo. Barr Opening

Acting Mayor Andrew Carraway yesterday welcomed the Group Barr Umpire School to its third consecutive season in Sanford before a crowd of 300 people gathered to greet the students at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Mr. Barr expressed his gratitude to the people of Sanford for their kind reception to his school and told the prospective umpires that they could expect a warm welcome from the local people.

Dick McLaughlin, southern representative of the George Barr School, acted as master of ceremonies for the occasion introducing John Kridler, Florida State League president, who told the group that Mr. Barr was without doubt one of the finest men ever to practice the difficult trade of umpiring in the National League.

In praising Barr, Mr. Kridler said that the umpire is probably one of the most undervalued people in baseball—and one of the most important in maintaining the present high standards of play and competition.

Father Anthony McGowan, in welcoming the umpires on behalf of the Catholics of Sanford, said he was one of the best and most respected of the opinion that baseball will prove effective against influenza.

Hubbard B. Dunn Subverive Held Tuesday

U. S. May Be In For Influenza Epidemic

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18—(AP)—The influenza epidemic now sweeping England will spread to the United States, the president-elect of the American Public Health Association predicted yesterday.

Dr. Gaylord W. Anderson of Minneapolis, Minn., expressed hope in an interview that new methods of treating pneumonia will prove effective against influenza.

The physician said there have been six or eight world-wide influenza epidemics since the big one in 1918. The world is just about due for another one, he said.

Rotary Head Says Club Has No Masonic Tinge

CHICAGO, Jan. 18—(AP)—Rotary has "absolutely no connection with Masonry or any other organization," say Arthur Lagaux, president of Rotary International.

A statement aimed to clarify Rotary's position "regarding all religions" was made public yesterday by Lagaux at Rotary headquarters. He was in Chicago to attend next week's semi-annual meeting of Rotary's board of directors.

His statement followed publication last week of a alleged decree barring Roman Catholic clergy from membership in Rotary clubs.

A source connected with the Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, had suggested the decree might have been intended to apply to Rotary organization in Europe and South America where he said they are sometimes associated with Masonry.

Production And Other Costs Were Higher, Anderson Asserts

"The Farmers of Seminole County experienced a terrific loss on all produce grown in 1949-50, but they did not experience a lower cost on production and processing," Sandy Anderson, manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market told Kiwanians yesterday.

"If Congress is going to propose this county to defend itself from a military standpoint, it had better begin by strengthening not only the Farmers in Florida, but farmers in the nation," he added.

"Like the boys in uniform," said Mr. Anderson, "the farmers are willing and anxious to serve their country. They are willing to endure any necessary hardships that will protect us. They are willing to go all-out on production of farm products. But they cannot produce adequately without a fair price for their crops in keeping with production costs."

"The basis of American strength," he pointed out, "must lie in its agriculture. Food and fiber for civilian and military population must come from the farms. If the farmers produce these essential crops they must have something more than the cost of production. The farmer does not control this cost but is a creature of circumstances. He must buy his supplies and labor at market prices and he must pay whatever is asked. He has no choice."

"Friends that farmers receive for their produce have never been (Continued on Page Three)

If we hold a grudge we condemn ourselves. Even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye!—Col. 3:13.

The Chinese Communists rejected the U. N. cease-fire order. Did you think they would not?

James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, as usual, contributes words of wisdom whenever he has anything to say. America should get out of Korea, he declared in his inauguration as governor yesterday.

The Navy was polite, but the Navy was firm. "We will cooperate to the best of our ability," said the Navy. "To prevent any unnecessary hardships. But scram. The Navy would not like to see any present occupants of the facilities at the station put to any inconvenience."

We hear a great deal about the "business as usual" philosophy in these days of national peril, but there is as much danger of throat-cutting business as there is of neglecting defense to promote personal interests.

If mothers of 18-year olds had hoped for aid and comfort from the leading educators of the country, they are doomed to disappointment. For Dr. Compton of M. I. T. and Dr. Dods of Princeton say they think the sooner the 18-year-olds start their military training the better off they will be.

George Barr... "Courage and decisiveness are essential qualifications in all great undertakings," he pointed out in praising the George Barr School.

President Truman plans to spend over 70 billion dollars during the coming year on national defense and domestic matters, including aid and a half billion more on welfare. It is interesting to recall that over 70 billion dollars is more than twice as much as all the money that was spent during the depression year of 1933.

Gambling Philosophy

The usually deadly serious magazine Scientific American features in its January issue an article on the odds of gambling. The basic element of chance and the specific strategy of three popular gambling games are examined in modern mathematical theory.

Through other mediums of publication, at about the same time, Julien H. Harvey, manager of the accident prevention department of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, was saying this: "The rapidly mounting accident rate shows that we are fast becoming a nation of habitual traffic gamblers."

It has sometimes been said that we are gamblers at heart. But we are emotional rather than scientific gamblers. Ignoring the successful gambler's philosophy, we make each play with the idea that we will win it.

Pondering The Vote

The full picture, as it now appears, suggests that the 1950 elections were a good deal of a stand-off between the parties. The spectacular successes were won by the Republicans, but the Democrats managed to retain control of the House and, thanks to their majority of hold-over senators, of the Senate.

The unofficially tabulated popular vote shows the two parties neck and neck, the Republicans leading with 19,784,008 votes, or 49.03 per cent of the total, and the Democrats not far behind with 19,752,451 votes or 48.95 per cent. Minor parties had 815,403 votes, or 2.02 per cent.

The total vote was more than 4,500,000 higher than the highest off-year vote hitherto, cast in 1938. The total is still more than 7,000,000 below the record presidential vote, that of 1940.

Compared with 1946, the Republicans did not do so well. Then they captured both houses of Congress, and led by 2,986,928 in the popular vote. Yet they did well enough to alarm the Democrats and to indicate that trouble is ahead in Congress for President Truman.

Paying For Defense

The growing opinion in favor of paying the cost of defense as we go is likely to be upsetting to anyone who has visions of an easy and painless approach to the federal tax load of the coming few years. But it makes sense.

The large increases in expenditures which are contemplated will make equally large tax raises necessary if we pay as we go, and that will mean a substantial jolt for the taxpayer beginning almost at once. Hard as this would be, it would be easier to pay the bill during the period of defense urgency and high defense activity than it would be after the crisis has passed, when we will want to relax and enjoy a few luxuries and when business might slacken.

It is better to pay the piper while the tune is fresh in mind.

"My Dancing Is Art", Says Texas Stripper

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 18.—(AP)—A sleek Texas stripper who tangled with the law here over her "exotic dance" was headed back to Houston today.

The statuesque brunette came off even in her bout with the purty squad. Her dance, she said, was "art, strictly art." And she offered a free city court show to prove her point. Judge Carl Stokes said no.

George Barr... "Courage and decisiveness are essential qualifications in all great undertakings," he pointed out in praising the George Barr School.

President Truman plans to spend over 70 billion dollars during the coming year on national defense and domestic matters, including aid and a half billion more on welfare. It is interesting to recall that over 70 billion dollars is more than twice as much as all the money that was spent during the depression year of 1933.

Proposed Budget May Exceed Taxes By Over 4 Million

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Florida cabinet will have to go back and scratch out about $4,800,000 if it keeps the State general fund budget within expected revenues for the next two years.

As it neared the end of its first review of budget requests, the Cabinet already had tentatively agreed on figures running that much above the $248,000,000 goal it set.

George Barr... "Courage and decisiveness are essential qualifications in all great undertakings," he pointed out in praising the George Barr School.

President Truman plans to spend over 70 billion dollars during the coming year on national defense and domestic matters, including aid and a half billion more on welfare. THE WORLD TODAY

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Western Europe's reaction to America's proposed military budget is one of near stupefaction at its magnitude, but as yet there is no indication of how it affects the quarter in which we are most interested—the Moscow Kremlin.

Having pushed us into this mountainous project, just what does Marshall Stalin think about it? Apropos of this the London Evening Star (Liberal) as the figures "are so colossal that the mind is stunned," and it adds: "The two facts which should be remembered about the biggest of all peace-time budgets are that the money must be found by the American taxpayer, and that at a word from Stalin it need never be spent at all."

That's a true appraisal, and it's what grips the average citizen who must foot the bill. The young man of the current generation knows that his way of life for the rest of his years, and probably his children's entire lives, will be affected. And he charges much of his anger against an aggressive Communism which is manipulated by the all powerful dictator in the Kremlin—Stalin. The taxpayer's feelings toward Moscow are not pleasant.

And what might Stalin's reaction be? He plays his cards close to his chest, so we shall have to do some high-power guessing. In the first place the red dictator would not court the size of our undertaking. And it's safe to say he must be disturbed to find the American public willing to shoulder such a mountainous burden.

And just as this Herculean gesture has given fresh confidence to the democracies which are battling Communism, so must it have handed the Kremlin a solid jolt to see its disingenuous economic strength. Stalin may well have done himself a disservice by forcing America to adopt such an unprecedented course.

However, that's not the whole story; we shouldn't let ourselves get to feeling smug. We must remember that one of Moscow's chief methods of softening up nations so that Communism can take them over is to distribute them economically. A country which is hard-up is far easier pickings.

Look wherever you will in Europe, Asia or the Western Hemisphere, and you will find the Communist parties growing much of their energy to disrupting industry and causing other damage calculated to weaken the economic structure. Plenty of it has been going on in the United States.

So Marshall Stalin is bound to get some satisfaction out of forcing America to extend itself too much. Still, he is bound to recognize that while he has thrust a colossal financial task on us, yet he can't break us.

On the whole one would think that his satisfaction Stalin may get out of the situation would be far outweighed by his concern over the unlimited determination America is showing in meeting the Red challenge.

There is no reason to suppose that this will impel the Marshall to alter greatly his methods of carrying out its world revolution, but it might force him to act with more caution. This military budget not only spells a grim determination on the part of America but presages the perfection of a vast defensive fighting machine among the democracies.

Thus the American taxpayer can have the satisfaction of knowing that his effort is creating fresh confidence among his allies, and without much doubt will compel the Kremlin to pause for consideration.

President Truman said not a single newspaper in the United States quoted his remarks last week concerning his readiness to consult with Congress before sending American troops to Western Europe.

A number of reporters present at his news conference quickly protested that this was not so. They said all of his remarks got some satisfaction out of forcing America to extend itself too much.

Sanford Forum

Editor, Sanford Herald Dear Sir:

With reference to Mr. Dan L. Brainard's letter in the Herald Monday and to your recent editorial, I would like to pass on to you an unfortunate experience I had, not with a drunken driver, but one equally as dangerous.

On Nov. 17, 1950 about 7:30 P. M., my family and I were proceeding east on Thirteenth Street near the State Farmers Market, barely traveling 15 miles per hour. We noticed a car coming with bright lights at a terrific speed swerve partly off the street on his side and see he was trying to hit a pile of trash along side the street still at a high speed (which must have been around 50 miles per hour), and since he apparently made no attempt to reduce his speed, crash head-on into my car pushing the front of my car about eight feet back off the street on my side.

The man driving the speeding car was not injured, neither was his companion who disappeared before the Police arrived to investigate the accident. NO ARREST WAS MADE. My wife and I suffered severe contusion about the ribs and were in continuous pain for over three weeks. Our son was not hurt but our little girl's two front teeth were knocked out and her face was badly bruised.

My car was damaged to the extent of $500 since the car that hit me was not covered by Liability Insurance, I had to suffer this loss.

In City Court the driver of the speeding automobile was found guilty and fined $50 for speeding. If the Judge would have fined him $200 and as Mr. Brainard stated, not him in jail for 30 days, I firmly believe that such punishment would reduce traffic accidents and save lives.

In addition to supporting for lowering the present minimum age from 16 to 18, Hershey also backed the request to lengthen service by draftees from 21 to 27 months. Even that may not be long enough, he said.

To meet expanding military needs, he said the following should be drafted in this order: First, non-fathers, non-veterans, 18-25 inclusive.

Second, non-fathers, veterans whose service was subsequent to Sept. 2, 1946, to be taken first, then the same group whose service was prior to Sept. 2, 1946.

Third, fathers, both non-veterans and veterans, 18-25. Thereafter, successively all classes who are 26, 27, 28 and on up by yearly age groups.

Ball-Controlling Oklahoma Aggies Lead Nation In Basketball Defense

ATLANTA, Jan. 18—(AP)—In one short year the general condition of all minor league leagues has plummeted from hale and hearty to worried and wavering.

With the service draft growing larger practically every month, the supply of playing talent is shrinking. Attendance this season isn't expected to be anywhere near the money making volume of the lush years of 1947, '48 and '49.

Many minor league teams have lost their life-saving farm system tie-ups with major league teams. Salary demands by players are higher. Equipment costs are up.

Many league presidents and club officials claim radio and television are rushing their toward ruin.

Because of these and other reasons, the number of minor league teams already has shrunk and is likely will shrink further before the season opens in April and May. Even the number of leagues probably will drop, taking down with them healthy teams.

The Associated Press has surveyed 28 leading leagues including the 24 teams, and found that 16 of the leagues are having difficulties ranging from mild to near fatal.

When attendance fell more than expected last summer, many teams gave up before the season ended. Others announced during the fall they would not open this season. Today, even more are in trouble.

Most of the leagues surveyed by the Associated Press are in the South but baseball officials at the meeting in St. Petersburg, said troubled conditions are reflected across the country. Here are some of the trouble spots and their causes:

Southeastern League, Class B—Three teams missing, Austin and Laiden, Ala., and Vicksburg, Miss. Hoping at most for six-team operation instead of eight by getting Boham from Class D Alabama State.

Alabama State, Class D—Threatened with abandonment of several franchises.

South Atlantic (Sally), Class A—Greenville, S.C. has lost tieup with Brooklyn and has serious player shortage. League President Earl Blue says he will know 'soon' if Greenville will manage to open the season.

Georgia Florida, Class D—Tallahassee, has dropped out and been replaced by Brunswick, Ga. Thomasville, Ga., has lost backing of the Detroit Tigers and has 10 days to decide if it can make the 1951 grade. If Thomasville falls, Tifton, Ga., may be the replacement.

Georgia State, Class D—Apparently in fair shape if Tifton does not go to the Georgia Florida.

Georgia-Alabama, Class D—League claims it lost patronage in 1950 because of leaving of Atlanta games in class AA Southern Association. Newman has dropped out and the search for a replacement is going on.

Evangeline, Class C—Abbeville, La., will not operate under its old management and possibly won't operate at all. A replacement club may come from one of four possibilities. Two of the possibilities—Lake Charles and Crowley, La.—are members of Class AAA—Jersey City franchise transferred to Ottawa, Canada.

Straight from the Horse's Mouth

By ED HARPER

George Barr is a striking example of optimism triumphant.

After a quarter-century in one of the most corroding professions open to men, he continues to maintain a singularly good opinion of humanity in general and baseball fans in particular.

In spite of numberless insults screamed at him by grandstand umpires who vociferously disagreed with his decisions—sometimes to the extent of bottle and cushion contests with his head as the intended target—Barr has maintained a remarkably balanced outlook toward people.

The umpire—without whom no game could be played—is a universally despised figure in the imagination of the multitude of people who go to baseball for a little relaxation and not to become students of the world's most complex sport.

To these people a wrong call is invariably the manifestation of the umpire's prejudice against the home club—not a human error for which the ordinary worker would be excused. Yet in reality the umpire—the good one, that is—is a monument to impartiality and a mainstay of the game.

Continually a prey to abuse and unparliamentary questions of his integrity, ability and ancestry from both players and fans, he must never let personal feelings enter into his call.

George Barr for 18 years a major league umpire was one of the best. He spent his training years in the Texas League, one of the most notorious baseball leagues, umpire-lusting section in the nation.

And George learned his lessons well before moving up to the National League in 1931.

The more of a school for umpires originated with George back in the early 1930's when it became apparent that some sort of system should be introduced to give uniformity to umpiring.

George Barr, ever an innovator, began his school in 1935 as a result of his call.

Over the years umpiring has improved as a result of the Barr school and others begun in imitation of it. But even improvement in calling games hasn't diminished the vocal protestations raucous or nerve wracking of the stadium umpires or made less walking rain of the Big Red Micer which well up from the stands at the approach of the men in black.

George opened his fifteenth annual school here yesterday when most of the Sanford friends on hand to welcome him. His class of students were obviously impressed at the sincere hospitality extended them by leading Sanford citizens. But as hard bitten Frosty Peters grimly reminded them, it is only before the season opens that anyone is willing to give verbal recognition to an umpire.

The very nature of athletics makes an umpire essential; the very nature of baseball makes the game impossible without him. Mistakes are going to be made, sure, but it might be a good idea in the future to hang on to your temper when the local home run hero is called out sliding into third when you know himself good and well that he was safe by a foot.

Of course there are exceptions to every rule such as that lousy bum who called Billy Goodman out on strikes in a play off game between Nashville and Atlanta in 1948. He was as blind as a mole plus which he was looking at a blond in the fifth row when the ball was thrown.

The state flower of Louisiana is the magnolia.

Adrian Hurk, former Baylor University and Baltimore Colts star, was recently appointed assistant backfield coach at the University of Florida. Hurk, who fills a vacancy left by the resignation of Frank Broyles, is expected to report to Gainesville sometime next week.

Dickson To Tangle With Kennedy In Orlando Tourney

ORLANDO, Jan. 18—(AP)—Second seeded Calhoun Dickson of Tampa faces Perry Kennedy today in a quarterfinals encounter of the Florida Invitational Tennis Tournament here.

In another headliner, fourth ranked Al Martin of New York City tangles with Alfredo Millet of Mexico and Rollins College. Millet is ranked at the top of the foreign entries.

Dickson knocked Jack Borling of Orlando out of the running yesterday, 6-0, 6-1; and Martin topped John Hayes of Rollins College, 6-1, 6-1.

Top seeded Tony Vincent from Miami eliminated Bill Esar of Orlando, 6-3, 6-4.

In the leading women's match today, Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, second seeded, met defending champion Doris Jones of Rollins College who is unseeded in play. Miss Fry beat Marilyn Rhinola of Rollins, 6-0, 6-0 yesterday.

Governor Seeking Ouster of Auburn Football Mentor

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 18—(AP)—Governor Gordon Persons, and a lot of other alumni, he says, are out to oust Earl Brown as head football coach at Auburn.

Brown whose teams have won only three games in as many years at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, should "be paid off in full" if he has a "valid contract" and another coach hired in his place, Persons told a news conference yesterday.

The Governor added he had no man in mind for the job.

A meeting to start the ball rolling has been arranged at the governor's mansion Friday at 8 P. M. Persons continued. Representatives from the Alumni Association, Athletic Faculty Council, Educational Foundation of Birmingham and Athletic Director Wilbur Huttsell have been invited.

The new governor, who assumed office Tuesday, took the occasion to deny reports that he also was out to fire APJ President Ralph Draughon.

Those reports are "absolutely unfounded and incorrect," Persons said.

But the coaching situation is different, the state's chief executive said. There's a "great feeling of unrest" among alumni he observed, especially after the 1950 season when Auburn lost every game on its schedule for the first time in history.

The move to oust him came as "a complete surprise," Brown said at his home in Auburn yesterday.

"I had no indication of anything like that," he said.

Neither President Draughon nor Huttsell would comment immediately.

Brown, a star Notre Dame end while in college, came to Auburn at the start of the 1948 season from Gonzales College.

His club won one, tied one and lost eight that year including a 68-0 shutout at the hands of the University of Alabama.

In 1949, however, the Plainsmen won two, lost four and tied three, winding up the season with a 14-11 upset victory over Alabama.

But in 1950, Auburn lost all 10 games on its schedule and Alabama had revenge to the tune of 34-0.

Florida Mermen Tackle Bulldogs In 1st Swim Meet

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 18—(Special)—The University of Florida swimming team, paced by recently elected Captain Lou Brown, of Tampa, will open its home schedule Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock when the University of Georgia invades the Gator pool.

Though hard hit by recent personnel losses, Florida will enter the meet with six lettermen and two Southeastern Conference title holders, sprinter Lou Brown and distance man Bobby Prvatt.

Ronald York, Frank Cochran, Lou Bradley and Gene Soldwedel recently withdrew from the squad preparatory to entering the services. Soldwedel, a standout short-distance breaststroker, was the only letterman of the four.

The Gators opened the present tan campaign against the University of North Carolina in a pre-Christmas clash and were handed a top-heavy defeat by the Tar Heels at Chapel Hill.

"The boys just weren't ready for that opening meet," Coach Frank Genovar said, "but we believe they are in pretty good shape for the match with Georgia. Though Georgia will probably take us, I am certain we will show considerable improvement over the first meet."

Captain Lou Brown, now swimming his fourth season for the Gators, captured the 50-yard event in the SEC meet last spring and sprinter Bobby Prvatt, now a junior, took first places in the 220, 440 and 550 meter events.

The other Florida lettermen slated for action against the Bulldogs are Andy Sears, Gene Phillips, John Pandak and Gene Randall.

Gator Coach Frank Genovar is being assisted by Jack Ryan, former tank star of Ohio State University, and Billy Harlan, former diving standout of the Gators. Both Ryan and Harlan are staff members of the College of Physical Education, Health and Athletics here.

Club owners generally were hoping to draft graduating football men, ex-servicemen, or have minor but draft-exempting ailments.

Draft Takes Deep Cut In Players Available To Minor League Teams

NEW YORK, Jan. 18—(AP)—Oklahoma A & M's basketball team still held the best defensive record in major college basketball today, although Drake scored 70 points against the Aggies last week.

This was the worst defensive night for the club in the 17 years it has been coached by Hank Iba, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau reported.

Oklahoma A & M, in winning 15 straight games this season, has held opposition to 44.2 points per tilt through games of Jan. 13. Siena is second with a 46.0 defensive mark. Siena was eighth the previous week.

Cincinnati still tops the major colleges in offense, with an average of 80.5 p.p.g. The Bearcats are the only team in the major for last over 80 points an evening.

Two other teams featuring the fast break, North Carolina State and Bradley, have 77.4 and 76.5 per game.

Oklahoma excels in free throws, sinking 78.1 per cent, followed by Wichita's 73.0 per cent, and Long Island and Minnesota with 69.9 percent apiece.

Pilling out the top 10 offensive teams are New York U. 75.0; Boston College, Columbia, and Louisville, 74.2; Long Island 74.1; Western Kentucky State 73.3; and Colgate and St. Francis of Brooklyn, 73.1.

Others in the first ten on defense are Oklahoma 48.3; Kentucky 48.8; Arkansas 46.7; Oklahoma City 47.1; Michigan State 47.6; Washington 47.7; Missouri 48.1; and Kansas 48.3.

Pan American Tryouts To Be Held In Athens

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 18—(AP)—Tryouts for the women's swimming team to represent the United States in the Pan American games will be held at the University of Georgia pool Friday and Saturday, Feb. 9-10.

The date yesterday was pushed up a week to allow the winners more time to get ready for the Pan American meet at Buenos Aires late in the month.

The nation's best women swimmers will compete in the mammoth 155 by 75 foot pool. Champions will be present from New York, Washington, Chicago, Indianapolis, Fort Lauderdale, Atlanta, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Portland.

The first three finishers in each of the eight events will qualify for the team. The events include the 100, 200 and 400 meter free style, 2000 meter breaststroke, 100 meter backstroke, 400 meter free style relay, 200 meter medley relay and three-meter diving.

In addition there will be 200 meter individual medley and 400 meter free style Junior National AAU Indoor Championships for girls.

There also will be free style, backstroke and breaststroke dash-boards for novice boys and girls in the 12-and-under, 15-and-under and 18-and-under age groups.

Troops Are Grimly Cheerful In Frigid Foxholes Of Korean War

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD (For Hal Broy)

ON THE KOREA CENTRAL FRONT—(DELAYED—(7))—"This foxhole fighting is cold and tiresome and the nights get mighty long." He is Thomas G. Zeik, of San Antonio, Tex., and this (Jan. 15) was his nineteenth day of fighting from foxholes in temperatures down to 25 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Zeik and his buddy, Cpl. Robert E. Kelly, of Alliance, O., were carefully arranging fresh straw in the foxhole they shared. It was on a ridge south of Wonju.

Ahead was a hill from which North Koreans had staged an unsuccessful frontal attack two days before. You could also see part of the road that winds 36 from, narrow miles through three mountain passes from Wonju to Changju.

Snow was deep along the foxhole and whitened the pine on the ridge. There were many other foxholes along the ridge. The Red-eyed men who had dug them out from the hard frozen earth sat in them or on their edges, their rifles always handy. They moved slowly, talking in low tones when they talked at all.

"We know we have a job to do," said Zeik. "We want to do it and get it over with." It was 15 degrees below zero. There was a sporadic crackling of rifle fire, and continuous artillery shells thundering on the narrow valley.

"I think the worst thing about being out here like this is what happens to your feet," Zeik went on. "You get your feet so cold, massaging them and changing socks once a day. But when your feet get cold and numb at night, there's not a damn thing you can do. You can't even take any charges you when you had your shoes off you'd be in a mess of trouble."

"The next worst thing is that hardly get any sleep at all. The cold wakes you up. Even when you're dead tired you're just too cold to sleep very long. When I bed at home, I never think of home now without thinking of that bed, sleep for 18 hours without every worrying about someone slipping up and letting me have it."

The talk turned to snow, and Kelly said he could for a steaming bowl of chili right now. Zeik said he'd rather have a big glass of fresh milk. "And after I finish that I'll call for another chili."

"They try to get hot close to us here," Kelly said. "They do the best they can but it doesn't work."

Bob Brown Stages Electrical Show For Junior High

Students at the Junior High School had a "shocking time" Tuesday, but experienced no effects in becoming conductors of a half million volts of electricity at a science show staged by Bob Brown, entertainer and science writer, who also staged a show on the same day at Lyman School at Longwood.

Yesterday he presented his science show to students at Grooms Academy before leaving for Daytona Beach.

At the Junior High School, Kay Ratican played with the high voltage currents, and at Lyman School Mrs. Carmichael started in the act. When charged with electricity they lit fires from their toes and tongues. lit cigarettes with sparks out of their mouths and lit under fluorescent tubes held in their hands.

So powerful was the charge in their bodies that neon signs would light four feet away, and a boy nearby threw, but not touching, was able to light a torch with his finger.

Mr. Brown explained that although much power was used, the electricity was of the harmless "high frequency" type.

A humorous angle was performed by Larry Bates at Junior High School and Sonny Shaw at Lyman. Both deep voiced boys breathed in helium gas that changed the resonance of their lungs and rate of vibration of vocal cords resulting in falsetto talk that sounded like Donald Duck.

Several students, invited to sit on a "radio hot seat" were surprised to see electrical bolts light in their hands, although they felt nothing. Use of a Geiger counter with radioactive ores of weak radiation was demonstrated. Principals R. E. True of Junior High and R. T. Milwee of Lyman and J. N. Grooms of Grooms Academy, all invited Mr. Brown back for performances next year.

The Baptist Church Thursday night and organized following officers were elected—President, James Peterson, second vice president, William Welch, third vice president, Gerald Hosack, secretary and treasurer, Robert Hirt.

On Saturday Jan. 6, a little daughter arrived to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louise Noel. Her name is Linda Rose.

The P.T.A. County Council with covered dish lunch was held at Lake Helen Wednesday. The following attended from Osteen: Mrs. H. Osteen, Mrs. G. Hirt, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. King Allman, Mrs. J. S. Peterson. This was an all day meeting.

The W.M.U. will hold their regular monthly meeting at the Methodist Church Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present at this important meeting of the church.
