

41,412 Pay To See Baseball Games In Memorial Park

Blues Rank Second In FSL At Gate; Daytona Is No. 1 With 58,305 Fans

By KENT CHETLAIN
While most teams in the Florida State League were showing an overall decrease in attendance during the fat-fal 1952 baseball season, Sanford's Seminole Blues, using the fabulous $200,000 Memorial Stadium for the first time, doubled their regular season gate over 1951 with 38,300.

Added to this was the regular 11,000 fans who came to the 2,762 paid admissions and the 290 paid to see several spring training games staged by the San Antonio Missions last March.

Containing the three paid total figures, the Memorial Stadium played host to 41,412 during the 1952 baseball season. These figures are separate and apart from the football attendance totals reported earlier in the fall.

1952 Baseball Attendance

Blues	38,300
Atlantic	27,762
Missions	290
Totals	41,412

Comparing the total for 1951, the Sanford Blues were last in attendance with a total of 19,289. But, for the year with the added impetus of the new stadium, the Blues drew 38,300 to see 150 regular season games.

Daytona Beach with 58,305 was far and away ahead of the other teams in the circuit. Sanford led for the first two months and was within breathing distance of the top during the middle of the season until Daytona staged a sensational comeback and landed in second place making the play-off.

Orlando despite its being the largest city in the loop, was only third with 38,300. The play-off game in which Daytona beat the Blue Sox was the only one in which the Blues were not in attendance this season.

The second place Daytona Beach Blues of the first half drew only 21,210 and fans for sixth place in the league. The lowly Cocoa Indians, who in two years of FSL play have never been closer to the top, were not on one might expect, last in attendance this season.

Cocoa attracted 19,816 spectators for seventh place. It was the second year they evaded the last place spot with a cellar-dwelling club. Leeward's Parkers were the team with the lowest gate figures in the league, having to watch games in Venable Gardens.

The loop as a whole dropped about three percent at the gate in 1952 as compared to 1951. In 1951, the FSL drew 255,392 fans for regular season games, while in 1952, some 279,280 paid to see FSL games. Only 8,770 watched the play-off games as compared to 11,000 paid in 1951.

All these figures are of paid attendance and do not include the free ladies or children under five and the family night games etc. Here are the final official gate figures for the 1952 season.

Behind the scene activity almost everywhere in the sports world is the fact that the 1952 baseball season is a post-season check-out.

It seems that both Fletcher High School of Jacksonville Beach and Cocoa High School were trying to pay the Seminole Blues for a season engagement, but at the time the Blues were busy in Florida in playing for the championship of the East Florida Conference on Dec. 5.

When the dust fell in on the 1952 FSL championship play-off, Cliff Viles and a band of audacious laywers decided to sue up a "Laywer Law" game in the Memorial Stadium playing for a season engagement, but at the time the Blues were busy in Florida in playing for the championship of the East Florida Conference on Dec. 5.

1. Outfielders Carl Furillo, Andy Pafko and third baseman Billy Cox, all regulars, in the Braves for Spahn and outfielder Sid Gordon or:

2. First baseman Gil Hodges, Furillo and Cox to the Phillies for Simmons and outfielder Del Ennis. Gordon and Ennis are right-handed power hitters. The Brooklyn-born Braves' left fielder batted only 280 last season but hammered 25 home runs, a goodly number at Ebbets Field, where he was moved into the majors in 1952. He is 34. Ennis rapped 20 homers and drove in 106 runs on a 201 batting mark. He is only 27.

The Dodgers were more hopeful of a trade with Boston, the suspicion prevailing that the Braves are in a mood to part with Spahn in order to augment their right-handed hitting strength as well as to fortify their defense in the field. Should the trade be consummated, Cox would be installed as Boston's regular shortstop.

Spahn is the man the Dodgers covet the most despite his comparatively poor 14-18 won and lost record last season. The 30-year-old southpaw, a victim of weak hitting and a mediocre defense behind him, failed to notch 20 or more victories for the first time in four years in 1952. He topped the circuit in strikeouts for the third successive season with 192. Simmons, only 23, posted a 14-8 record including six shutouts and is far from this peak as a big winner.

Pafko enjoyed a successful season with a .277 batting mark that included 10 home runs and 43 RBIs. He will be 32 in February, a year older than Furillo, whose batting mark dropped to .247. Carl, however, is regarded as one of the best defensive flycatchers in the league and is possessor of the most accurate arm in the major leagues.

Glowing reports on Don Hoak, a kid third baseman brought up from Montreal for next season, make Cox dispensable.

Hodges, Brooklyn's leading slugger the past three years, has been mentioned in every trade rumor involving the Dodgers. The slugging first baseman walked 32 home runs and ranked fourth with his 102 RBIs but slumped in the final month of the campaign and was handicapped without a hit in the World Series. His batting mark was .251. As a fielder, he is second to none.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Jimmy Piersall the Boston Red Sox rookie who suffered a nervous breakdown last season, is being fought for a regular outfield job with the club in 1953.

Joe Cronin, Red Sox general manager, said today that the fiery Waterbury, Conn. youngster is in "wonderful shape."

"The boy is at Sarasota (the Sox's Florida training base) and is feeling fine," said Cronin. Jimmy weighs about 135 pounds, several pounds over his weight last season.

Cronin revealed that Piersall will remain at Sarasota until the club reports for spring training. He is on the Red Sox roster, having been recalled from Birmingham where he was sent on option in June.

Informed of Cronin's optimistic report on Piersall, manager Lou Boudreau said, "If Jim is in as good shape as reported, there's no question who will win our regular right fielder job. We probably will can beat out a sound Piersall for the job."

Piersall was shipped to the Red Sox farm club in Birmingham last season after a series of incidents that included clowning on the field, challenging teammates and a ball field scrap with the New York Yankee Billy Martin.

After a short stay in the minors, physicians prescribed a good rest as the tonic he needed to recover from a nervous breakdown.

MIAMI JACKSON IS RATED OVER TAMPA IN GAME-OF-WEEK

JACKSONVILLE — Miami Jackson is favored to beat Tampa Hillsborough Friday and walk off with the Big Ten High School Conference football title.

Unbeaten in six league games, Miami Jackson still can't afford a slip. A defeat or even a tie will give the Hillsborough team a lead under the complicated rating system the conference uses to decide its champion.

It gives more points for beating a team that is in the first division. For that reason, Jay Jackson is listed on top even with its loss in Miami, Edgewood Hillsborough game is the only one scheduled this week.

Bums Offer Braves Furillo, Cox, And Pafko For Spahn And Gordon

By JOE REICHER
PHOENIX, Ariz. — The Brooklyn Dodgers have prepared a pair of 3-for-2 package deals involving top-flight players in an effort to obtain either Warren Spahn of the Boston Braves or Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies, it was learned today.

Recognizing the need of a starting southpaw pitcher to go along with the aging Preacher (in defense of their National League championship), the Dodgers are quite willing to give up regular players for either of the pitchers, generally recognized as the best left handers in the circuit.

The trade is being quietly negotiated by three of their better minor league farmhands who were placed in the annual major league draft that closed the annual convention, have their package deals in effect.

1. Outfielders Carl Furillo, Andy Pafko and third baseman Billy Cox, all regulars, in the Braves for Spahn and outfielder Sid Gordon or:

Michigan State Winds Up No. 1 In Nation Poll

Spartans Win 24 In Row To Top Tech By Large Margin

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan State, the only four-point team in the nation's No. 1 college football poll.

Biggie Munn's devastating streak of 24 wins in a row, captured first place in the final Associated Press poll of the season by a wide margin over Georgia Tech, the nation's only other major national team.

Michigan State begins operations in the Big Ten next year, and its fans can take some heart from Munn's comments on the team's early prospect.

"We lose 19 key men," he said. "It is very doubtful whether we will be as good. You can't lose 19 key men and expect very much."

Michigan State will receive the O'Donnell Trophy, awarded each year to the team that takes No. 1 spot in the final poll.

"This is the first such honor for Michigan State and I am thrilled," said Munn. "The honor really belongs to the players and assistant coaches on my staff. The Father O'Donnell Trophy is one we will cherish forever."

The trophy was donated by the Notre Dame Monogram Club in remembrance of the late Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, a former player and president of the university. Tennessee won it last year.

Michigan State garnered 2,883 points to 2,410 for Georgia Tech on the ballots of 271 of the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters.

They were tabulated on the usual system of 10 for first place, nine for second and so on. State carried 207 first-place votes to 30 for the Engineers.

Third place went to Notre Dame and fourth in Oklahoma. Southern California was fifth, UCLA sixth, Mississippi seventh, Tennessee eighth, Alabama ninth and Texas 10th.

Michigan State disappointed nobody with its fine showing. Munn's side were picked as the potential top team in the pre-season Associated Press poll, and except for the second week, when Wisconsin ranked No. 1, they were on top.

Munn never used fewer than 28 players in any game, and in 28 contests he cleaned his bench of all of players in uniform, a move which gave him also six platoons.

The leaders (first-place votes in parentheses):

1. Michigan State (207)	2,883
2. Georgia Tech (36)	2,410
3. Notre Dame (4)	1,800
4. Oklahoma (14)	1,383
5. Southern California (3)	1,404
6. UCLA (1)	983
7. Mississippi (9)	950
8. Tennessee	781
9. Alabama	621
10. Texas	454

Second 10:

11. Wisconsin	281
12. Tulsa (3)	143
13. Maryland	87
14. Syracuse	86
15. Florida	58
16. Duke	46
17. Ohio State	46
18. Purdue	45
19. Princeton	44
20. Kentucky	41

Others receiving votes: Virginia, Navy, Penn State (1), Villanova, Minnesota, Holy Cross, Houston, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, California, Missouri, Pittsburgh, Mississippi State, Va. Tech, Mississippi Southern, Michigan.

Gators D'Agostino And LaPradd Make All-SEC Football Eleven

By MERCER BAILEY
ATLANTA (AP)—The 1952 Southeastern Conference All-Star football team, dominated by conference champion Georgia Tech, includes eight players who will be back next year seeking more grid-iron glory.

Six juniors and two sophomores joined 14 seniors on the Associated Press annual All-Southeastern offensive and defensive squads.

Tech placed seven of its undefeated, untied Engineers on the team; Tennessee, runner-up for the SEC title, placed five; Alabama three; Florida and Georgia two each; and Mississippi, Kentucky and Mississippi State one each.

Auburn, Vanderbilt, Tulane and Louisiana State each placed men on the second and third teams. Tech, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama are among the top 10 teams in the nation and each is set for a bowl appearance Nov. Year's Day. Tech and Mississippi will tangle in the Sugar Bowl.

Tennessee will play Texas in the Cotton Bowl, and Alabama will meet Syracuse in the Orange Bowl. Florida also is a bowl team, signed to play Tulsa in the Gator Bowl.

The all-star offensive backfield has Mississippi State's record-smashing Jack Parker at quarterback; Tech's Leon Hardeman and Alabama's Bobby Markov at halfback and Tennessee's Andy Kovar at fullback. Parker set a new SEC scoring record of 120 points.

Offense end post will be the Louisiana State's snarling experts who filled the berths in 1951—Harry Babcock of Georgia and Steve Mellinger of Kentucky.

Others on the offensive platoon are tackle Mike Gilbert of Mississippi and Hal Miller of Tech, guards John Michels of Tennessee and Jerry Waldorf of Alabama, and center Pete Brown of Tech.

The defensive line has Sam Henley of Tech and Mack Franklin of Tennessee at end, Charlie LaPradd of Florida and Doug Atkins of Tennessee at tackle, and Joe Pagano of Florida and Francis Holohan of Tennessee at guard. Linebackers are George Morris and Larry Morris (no kin) of Tech. Sidelinckers are Cecil Ingram of Alabama and Bobby Moorhead of Tech, with Art DeCarlo of Georgia at safety.

Atkins and Michels, winner of the 1952 Jacobs Trophy as the best player in the SEC, made the all-star team last year, although Atkins made it at end instead of tackle. Hardeman, Tech's top ground runner, was injured in the Army game, won team captain honors by compiling 823 points. The 5-foot-6 junior was an almost unanimous choice of more than 100 SEC coaches and sports writers and broadcasters whose ballots determined the AP team.

The two sophomores on the team are Larry Morris and Ingram. In addition to Hardeman, the juniors are Mellinger, Parker, Henley, D'Agostino, and Franklin.

The AP All-SEC teams are the only ones which become a part of official conference records.

Hurricanes Prepare For Georgia Contest

MIAMI (AP)—Three University of Miami footballers who missed action against North Carolina last week may be ready to go against Georgia Friday night but two others probably won't get into the game.

Halfbacks Gordon Malloy and Frank Knust and Safety man Bill Smith are expected to return to action on defense.

Linebackers Sidney Greenspan and Phil Panna were injured last Monday practice and probably will not play. Greenspan dislocated a shoulder and Panna dislocated his back. Neither was serious.

In Monday's workout, Coach Andy Gustafson had Don James at quarterback, Wiley Piner and Whitey Houlietter at the halfback spots and Bob Moskett at fullback. Georgia comes to the Orange Bowl Friday night for the final game of the season for both teams.

Bankers Told Canada Has Licked Inflation

HOLLYWOOD — The Investment Bankers Association of America was told today that Canada has licked inflation, at least for the time being, and there is not much fear of a recession in the coming months.

Canadians, said a report of the Canadian Committee of the Association, have settled down to a "period of good, average prosperity."

Pointing out there are many new, large-scale developments under way and contemplated, the report said "There is little doubt but that Canada's economic development will continue provided there is an expanding policy through immigration and that capital investments for a long period continue to be a large proportion of the country's national income."

The Morals Protection Board of NAAS has come up with a new idea for their monthly Human Relationship Programs. In an effort to have the men aboard the station get "the word" about important administrative issues concerning them, the new idea was given a trial in this month's programs.

The programs were held in the Station Auditorium yesterday and today and the "new idea" included a talk by Lt. L. N. Howman, NAAS Personnel Officer.

Howman explained the many ways and how about humanitarian transfers, humanitarian discharges, emergency leaves and regular transfers. These subjects are of general interest to every man in the Navy and those men present seemed to listen very attentively to Mr. Howman's fine talk. It seems the idea is a success and I definitely believe it would be worthwhile to continue it in future programs.

Those of you who remember Warren J. Cadoret will be happy to learn he has graduated from pre-flight training in Pensacola. Warren was stationed here when he applied for the Naval Aviation Cadet Program. He will now take his flight training at Whiting Field, Pensacola and upon successful completion he will become a naval aviator and be commissioned as an Ensign. The NavCad Program is open to all enlisted personnel who meet the requirements. It is a continuous program which means there is no specific time for submitting your application.

Jerard Ray Saverence, aviation ordnanceman airman, reported aboard the station yesterday from the Class "A" Aviation Ordnanceman service school in Jacksonville, Fla., as he prefers to be called, halls from Coronado, S. C. and he was a student at Clemson College before enlisting in the Navy. He has been assigned to the Operations Department here.

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Here it is only the beginning of December and already the jukes and juke boxes are dishing out Christmas songs.

The juke boxes and the disc jockeys have a full quota of Yuletide carols, some centuries old and some brand new. The new ones will be as abundant as ever this year, because members of the music industry are always hopeful that they will find another "White Christmas."

I can remember when the only Christmas songs we sang were the ones we learned in Sunday school. (I seem also to remember when Christmas was celebrated on or about Dec. 25).

Of course, there had been some modern Christmas songs, but practically all you heard were oldies like "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells." All that changed in 1942. That was the year Bing Crosby crooned Irving Berlin's "White Christmas" in a film called "Holiday Inn."

That was a sentimental year, with men going off to war. The song seemed to hit everybody's heart and stay there. Sales records are high as eight million.

Two million copies of the sheet music were sold in the first year of "White Christmas," and 300,000 are reportedly sold each year.

That is the reason that each year song writers rack their brains for new Christmas songs. And music publishers and record companies plug the daylights out of them, hoping for another "White Christmas."

I found some research on this subject at Capitol Records, which this year is going all out for a tune called "Hang Your Wishes on a Tree." It's a new song written by Marian Boyle and Eddie Gale and recorded by Les Baxter.

"It's a good song," observed Capitol executive Dave Dexter. "That's the only thing that worries me—it might be too good."

He told me that the song was selected from an estimated 500 to 600 Christmas ditties submitted to the record company this year. That gives you an idea of the chances of getting a song recorded, much less have it become a hit.

"The song-writing business is the toughest in the world to crack," Dexter explained. "I think it was Irving Berlin who said that three out of every five American adults write songs at some time during their lives."

Another viewpoint on the Christmas song industry is offered by Herb Montel, whose firm published "Hang Your Wishes on a Tree." "Every publisher would like a big Christmas song," he commented. "It's just like having an annuity policy. Yet every publisher tries to discourage writers from writing them because the competition is so great."

Reds Demand U.S. Not Execute 2 Traitors

BERLIN — Otto Nuschke, deputy prime minister of the Soviet zone's Communist government, demanded today for commutation of the death sentences imposed on atomic spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg.

Nuschke, head of the East zone Christian Democrats who collaborate with the Communists, said in his cable to the President that the Rosenbergs had "ought to be spared."

The couple, convicted of conspiring with a Soviet official to send atomic secrets to Russia, are under sentence to die next month unless the President intervenes.

Merry's the Day you make this yours

How would you like the fun of Christmastime to last all the year through? That's the way it seems to be when you call this Buick beauty your own—what with the constant cheer it brings to you week after week, month after month.

The cheer of traveling in style that's bright and gay as a holiday wrapping.

The cheer of having rich and spacious comfort—plus the cheery thought that wherever else you get as much room for the money.

The cheer of knowing abundant and mighty able power is on call, with all the solid thrust of a Fireball 8 Engine that's valve-in-head—and also high-compression.

The cheer of riding wonderfully buoyant, level and steady—with a ride that feels like the million dollars it cost to perfect.

The cheer of taking your travel free and easy—with Dynaflow Drive® doing the chores in letter-perfect smoothness—with Power Steering assisting to make parking and slow-motion maneuvers no task at all.

Even the price is a cheerful note here—low enough, you'll find, to crowd the so-called "low-price" three.

That means action is called for this very week, to make the most of this good deal while it lasts.

Why not drop in today or tomorrow and see how much cheer is to be found in a Buick showroom right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

WEDNESDAY DEC. 3, 1952
The abundance of this age never has been equaled. Only wars and fear of wars prevent us from an abundance almost past belief. It flourishes with the finest of the wheat — Psalm 137:14.

We see where 170,000 federal jobs will soon be open for appointment, but we'll be more than that get killed in the rush.

Have you contributed to the Christmas Seal campaign against tuberculosis yet? Send in your money and help stamp out TB in Florida.

Vittorio Orlando died in Rome the other day at the ripe old age of 92, the last of the "Big Four" who drafted the Treaty of Versailles. The others were David Lloyd George, Georges Clemenceau and Woodrow Wilson, the world's big men of the first World War and the year that followed. They had colossal dreams, aimed high and struggled fiercely, but their world was soon in ruins.

General Eisenhower picks Martin Durkin, a plumber and president of a plumbers' union of the American Federation of Labor as his secretary of labor. We believe this is the first time a genuine labor man has been in the Cabinet, and in this spite of the fact that labor was not generally friendly to Eisenhower's candidacy. We hope this appointment will prove the forerunner of better understanding between labor and the Republican party, as well as between labor and management.

Senator Smathers seems to think that Southern Democrats will cooperate with Western Republicans on domestic policies thus tending to steer America away from Socialism, but that it will also co-operate with northern Democrats on foreign policies and so keep America from becoming isolationist, and moving toward fuller and freer cooperation with the rest of the world. If the Southern Democrats can do that, if they can rise above petty party jealousies and intrigues and be always for the side which is right regardless of politics, they will have achieved a status in statesmanship which has seldom been achieved before. We hope for the sake of the country that Senator Smathers is right.

The recent presidential campaign is said to have cost around a hundred million dollars. That seems like a lot of money and gives rise to suspicions that American elections are bought and paid for. But most of that money was spent for radio and television time, for advertising in the newspapers and for other ways of getting the story before the American public. You cannot expect radio and newspapers to give their services for nothing, any more than you can expect the railroads to haul the candidates around free of charge.
Campaign expenditures could easily be reduced by passing a law prohibiting a candidate from speaking over the radio, or advertising in a newspaper. If that is what you want.

It is no easy matter to run a house, especially when you have to comply with city ordinances, say, the City Commission, etc. The housewife who complains that she has to pay for the garbage, by the way, she should know that the city pays for the garbage collection.
Some people have always in back of their houses
the garbage collection box to do the garbage collection for them.
They can dump it in the box and be on his way. Others have an alleyway, which garbage collector has to step in front of the alleyway to get the front of the house into the truck.

A Lesson For Sanford

Two years ago the Memorial Baseball Stadium seemed like somewhat of an overly ambitious project. Certainly with rising prices incident to the Korean war, it cost too much. But in the light of today's statistics on football attendance and last summer's baseball crowds, it does not seem to have been overbuilt.

During the current six weeks' football season, attendance at the 14 home games soared to 10,963 fans with some 12,635 paid admissions. In one game alone 2,606 spectators crowded into the stands with nearly two thousand of them paying over $1,500 to see the game.

Last summer the story was pretty much the same. More than 11,000 fans paid in more than twice as much money last summer as they did in the old stadium in 1951 to see the Seminole Blues play baseball. Sanford ranked second to Daytona Beach in attendance figures surpassing even Orlando and coming up from the very bottom of the League the previous year.

There may be a lesson in this experience with the Stadium for those who are faced with the responsibility of building the hospital. What may seem like an extravagant undertaking today may in a few years amaze us at our own moderation. Standards for the new hospital should not be based on comparisons with the Fernald-Laughton which may have been adequate for 1920, but rather on the needs and desires of those to whom it will cater in 1960 and '70.

That Sanford like all the rest of Florida is making tremendous growth is a fact which no one can afford to overlook any longer. Whether we like it or not, new people are pouring into our city and county and are demanding facilities for themselves and their children, facilities, such as schools, hospitals, sewers, and garbage collection, which can be provided only by our governing authorities.

How to pay for these improvements is of course one of the most difficult problems confronting Sanford and Seminole County, but it is a problem which is no different in nature from that confronting almost every other Florida community and indeed every growing community. There is no painless way of raising money and there is no perfect way of financing public improvements, but there are some ways which are better than others, and there are ways of spending public money so as to get the most out of every dollar spent.

And so it seems to us that the economical way of planning the new hospital would be to contrive in every way possible to make it self-supporting for it is not the original cost in connection with hospitals which is apt to be such a burden on the public as the upkeep. Hospitals as a rule cost far more to run than to build.

And it seems to us that the sensible thing to do would be to build it big enough to accommodate all those who may want to go there, and to make it attractive enough so that those who can afford to go anywhere would prefer to go to this hospital. It should be big enough on humanitarian grounds alone to take care of all charity cases; but it should be good enough to attract paying customers. In order to make it self-supporting.

A hospital in a sense is like a hotel. You may be compelled to stop at a poor hotel in an emergency but you do not stay there any longer than you have to. But if it is a good hotel people seek it out from miles around, from all over the country, and they are willing to pay big prices for accommodations, and they stay as long as they can.

That's what makes good hotels pay, and poor hotels go out of business. That is why the new stadium draws big crowds, and why the hospital will be cheaper to run if it is not cheaply built.

This, Too, Will Pass

The hatreds of war die with the generations which suffered them. As time rolls on, its healing effects seem to obliterate all but the most intense conflicts. Sometimes it comes to light that issues for which men died and hated and cursed their fellowmen are nothing more nor less than the subject of amusement between rulers of state in a future era.

Without a doubt, somewhere in the distant centuries of the third thousand year A.D. Chinese and American people will joke about the tremendous tensions of emotion and war their ancestors suffered in the conflicts of the nineteen-fifties. It is possible a memento of some sort will be exchanged that will bring smiles to many lips at the thought of such a paradox.

Such an exchange occurred recently between America and her former enemy, now a staunch ally, when President Truman gave a prize gavel to the British Army Training Center in England. A note accompanied the gavel wishing well to its new owners.

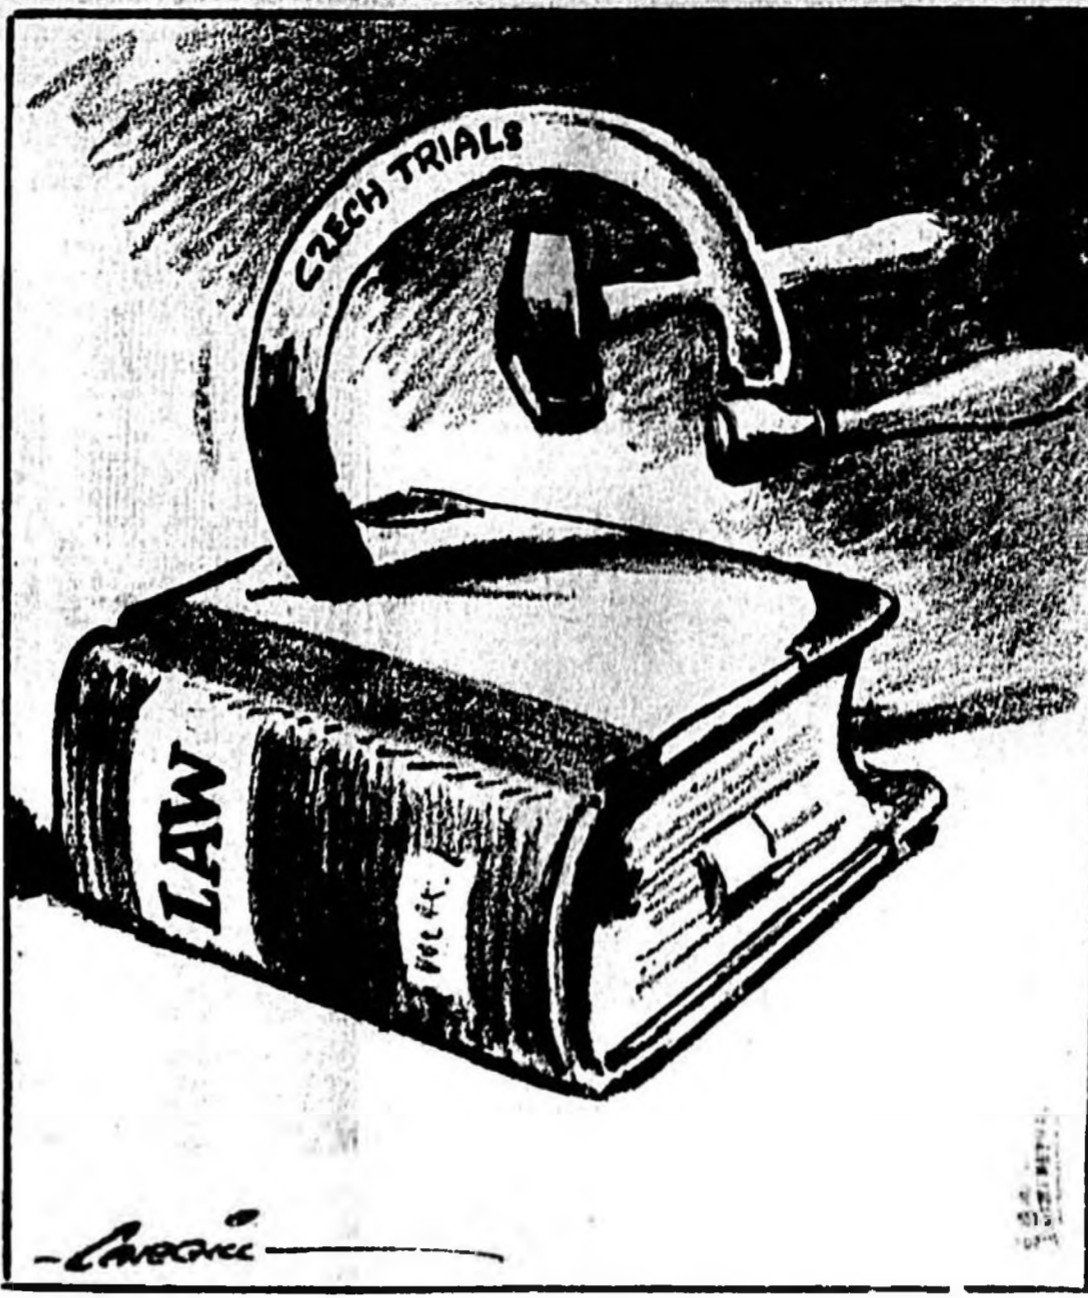

A close observer would have seen that the wooden hammer was charred and in those dark marks lies the gavel's significance. It was made from partially blackened timbers of the White House and was burnt when the British fired the presidential mansion in the War of 1812. Today, over a hundred years later, the bit of damaged wood is a true symbol of peace and brotherhood. It seems to say that with time there is always hope of better things and a better world.

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Sen. Taft and the rest of us will find out promptly how much weight he still carries with his fellow Republicans if he tries to block Gen. Eisenhower's appointment of Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor.

Durkin, like any other man named for a Cabinet job by the President, cannot take it unless the Senate approves. And when his name comes up for consideration in the new Republican-controlled Congress, Taft could fight him and, through him, Eisenhower.

That would provide an early test between the general and the senator. A victory for Taft would, in effect, be Taft telling Eisenhower: "Brother, if you want to do business, you're going to have to do it through me."

Durkin, a 58-year-old Democrat who voted against Eisenhower, is a leader of the A.P.L., which also opposed the general and called for the full repeal of Taft's own pet legislation, the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Taft denounced the selection of Durkin as "incredible." He said some other things too, none of them complimentary. Republicans around the country seemed dismayed by this frontal assault on Eisenhower's judgment seven weeks before he took office.

Yet, they seemed reluctant to admit this Taftian attack meant a split between him and the President-elect. But a big question needs answering: Is this a split and a warning to Eisenhower of trouble ahead?

Just how many times does Eisenhower have to take a tongue-lashing from Taft, the man whom he defeated for the Republican presidential nomination, before relations between them can be considered split?
After Taft's outburst yesterday, Republicans must be asking themselves: Is Taft going to do to Eisenhower what he did to President Truman? And where will that leave them four years from now when election comes around again.

Cpl. Howard Sutton Sees Koreans As A Primitive People

The South Koreans are way behind our civilization," said Cpl. Howard Sutton, 1020 Cypress Avenue who has just returned to Sanford from the Orient.

"The people themselves are not a healthy people. They have to work very hard for a living with all the family except the small children who are in school, piling in. Of course the main crop of South Korea is rice, but they also grow cabbage, beans and stuff like that. They fish a lot, catching them from both the rivers and saltwater which surrounds the country," he continued.

"South Korea is a wasteland. There are very few forests of any kind. Although there are a few cars, the main means of transportation is by ox-cart or human cart. The Koreans are a short people, but they have strong shoulders caused mostly from having to pull heavy loads in their little carts."

Sutton stated that there is much disease in South Korea, due no doubt to the unhealthful conditions existing there. Every possible source of fertility is jealously guarded to be returned to the soil. Even human waste is conserved to be used for this purpose. The people of Korea spend many hours kneeling in their rice paddies often over their knees in mud and water.

The chief need of South Korea after the war will be economic, according to Cpl. Sutton. The people there are bewildered by the effects of the war and will need assistance from nations like America to help them to their feet again in every way. Although he said the weather was frightfully cold, he didn't have exciting stories to tell of the actual fighting over there. He served in Truck Supply Unit which was kept approximately 80 miles behind the front line fighting. Sutton who is single said that while in Korea, he missed most of all "the folks back home, and the girls of course". He is currently on furlough and plans soon to enter a government hospital for medical treatment.

The man is the part of the church appropriate for laymen.

The Sanford Herald
Sanford, Florida
Dear Mr. Dean,

The Parent-Teacher Association of Seminole High School wish to express our appreciation to the Sanford Herald for the generous publicity which you always give us!

At this time we thank you especially for the splendid coverage of our benefit football game, November 18. Both Mrs. George Eick and Mr. Kent Chetlain were very cooperative, and their efforts played a large part in helping us to achieve our goal for funds for the Cleyer Crute, which is our major project.

Sincerely yours,

3 Red Ex-Officials Facing Firing Squad

MOSCOW — Three former trade and light industry officials in Kiev, capital of the Soviet Ukraine, face death by a firing squad as "enemies of the people" Chief among their crimes was selling merchandise on the side and making illegal purchases of gold with the profits.

A special military court last night convicted the three of "counter-revolutionary sabotage in the field of trade and trade turnover" and sentenced them to die.

McCormick Mansion Facing Demolition

CHICAGO — The 41 room Edith Rockefeller McCormick mansion, one of Chicago's lake front architectural landmarks, is to be demolished and replaced by a skyscraper apartment and business project.

The mansion at 1800 Lake Shore Drive was built in 1892 after the marriage of John D. Rockefeller's daughter and Harold P. McCormick, son of Cyrus Hall McCormick, inventor of the reaper. It has not been occupied as a residence since the Chicago society leader's death in 1932.

The electric utilities in the United States are using an average of almost 300,000 tons of bituminous coal every day of the year.

Wester Is Winner Of 4-H Club Award, Also Scholarship

GAINESVILLE (Special)—National winner of a 4-H Club Forestry Award and recipient of a $200 college scholarship are the latest accomplishments of Doyle A. Wester, a 17-year-old boy from Grand Ridge, Florida.

Doyle is currently attending the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, a trip he won as state winner in the Forestry Contest, State Boys' Club Agent W. W. Brown of the Agricultural Extension Service has been notified of Wester's scholarship award, which was made last night.

The son of Mrs. Penelope W. Wester, this 4-H club lad has been actively managing 640 acres of forest land for the past five years. In that period he has planted 75,000 pine seedlings on 107 acres and has used recommended practices in managing his remaining timbered land.

By selling pulpwood and sawing logs Doyle earns money for his schooling and helps support the rest of his family. He is a student at Chipola Junior College in Marianna.

During the five years of his forestry project, this boy has won trips to the State 4-H Wildlife Camp, State FFA Forestry Camp and the State 4-H Short Course at the University of Florida.

His project was instituted under the supervision of Fred Summer, then assistant Jackson County agent, five years ago. For the past two years he has been helped by Assistant County Agent William C. Zorn and County Agent W. W. Glenn.

Additional advice and training were given by Extension Forester I. T. Noland and members of the Florida Forest Service. Doyle's trip to Chicago is sponsored by the St. Regis Paper Co. of Pensacola and scholarship is provided by the American Forest Products Industries, Inc. of Washington, D. C.

The annual Christmas party of the Daughters of Wesley Class of the First Methodist Church was held last night at McKinley Hall with hostesses being Mrs. Claude Herndon, chairman, Mrs. C. Ester Daniels, Mrs. Z. B. Ratliff, Mrs. Brodie Williams, Mrs. C. L. Winn, Mrs. C. M. Flowers, Mrs. Donald Dunn and Mrs. John M. Gillen.

An authentic Christmas spirit was engendered with the beautiful decorations which included a lighted Christmas tree. Pine boughs and Brazilian pepper were arranged on the stage and in the window sills with single red candles casting a soft glow over the setting. White cloths were used on the tables studded with clusters of red berries and greenery.

A short business meeting was conducted by President Mrs. John Gillen, and reports were heard from various officers and chairmen. Mrs. Reed Robinson, courtney chairman, reported that five cards had been sent to 111 members. Acknowledgments were received from Mrs. C. R. McKee and Mrs. E. H. Lancy. Acknowledgment of contributions was also received from Helen Smith, colored, who is ill and confined to the Florida Sanatorium.

Members brought gifts to the meeting for the Children's Home at Enterprise. Members having birthdays, Mrs. J. H. Anderson Jr., Mrs. Hubbon Wright and Miss Verona Wondock, contributed to the birthday bank. Mrs. J. E. Courier, devotional chairman, read the Second Chapter of St. Luke followed with the vocalization of the Lord's Prayer by Mrs. George Harden, accompanied by Mrs. George McCall.

Little Allison Lee entertained the group with several piano selections concluding with one of her own compositions, "Holy Night" and "White Christmas" were sung by Mrs. Harden with Mrs. McCall accompanying, and a Christmas story was read by Rev. J. E. McKinley.

During the program the class presented a gift to Rev. and Mrs. McWhorter, S. D. Shubert, along with the entertainers for the evening. Mrs. Gill, class president, presented her co-officers and chairman with gifts, at which refreshments were served.

Those attending were Mrs. Roy Ellis, Mrs. Homer A. Price, Mrs. Shubert, Mrs. A. D. Zachary, Mrs. Louise Knowles, Mrs. S. G. Harrison, Mrs. J. M. McCaskill, Mrs. Claude Leonard, Mrs. C. G. "Kickback" Charge Is Lodged Against Governor In Suit

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Suits filed Tuesday in Federal and Circuit Courts here accuse Gov. Fuller Warren of directing "that those doing business directly or indirectly with the State Road Department make 'kickback' payments or otherwise pay tribute to the governor or his friends and associates."

S. L. Kilgore asks $300,000 damages in the suit, claiming he was fired as sales manager of the Florida Crushed Stone Co. because of open hostility "toward the entire 'shakedown' arrangement and because he had fully and openly expressed to a number of the defendants that he did not believe that such tactics were right and that such tactics smacked of 'gangsterism'."

Defendants are Gov. Warren; five members of the State Road Department, Alfred A. McKethan, Merrill F. Barber, J. Glover Taylor, Marion G. Nelson and Truman Drake Jr.; Florida Crushed Stone Co.; Clarence N. Camp III, B. M. Craig, C. W. Griffin, H. Doebler, H. Freeland and H. B. Bargeon, trustees of Construction Equipment Co., a dissolved Florida corporation.

Kilgore's suit charges Construction Equipment Co. had as one of its purposes the collection of 10 cents a ton on rock sold in the State or to any contractor doing business with the State falling into decedence, finally ceased to exist about 1933 or '34.

In 1934 the Leman Bank was founded with "first brick" laid by Warren. Three years later it developed into the First National Bank. In quick succession came Guy Warren, road department member and other defendants who could be reached denied the charges.

In a statement issued in his office at Tallahassee, the governor said: "The charges of Thomas T. Cobb (attorney for the suit) and S. L. Kilgore against me are a crazy collection of fantastic lies."

"These absurd allegations resemble a trumpet's disordered dream. I have never requested or even suggested to anyone at any time or anywhere that the requirements for gradation of lime rock, hard rock or slag be changed."

"I have never ordered the state road department to do anything. The members of that department issued a joint statement which said: 'The alleged insinuations which are contained in the suit of S. L. Kilgore reflecting that Alfred A. McKethan and associate members of the state road board have ever been parties to any conspiracy to defraud the state of Florida, the U. S. or any individual corporation is nothing more than a malicious falsehood and smacks of the lowest political chicanery and nothing more than headline hunting.'"

"This suit has no basis in law or fact and we feel sure it is instituted primarily, if not solely, for political purposes."

Griffin, millionaire citrus grower and a prominent Warren backer who broke with the governor in 1950 amid an exchange of personal charges, said at his home in Howey-in-the-Hills: "I know nothing about the reasons for state, and I am sorry for his job. I am sorry it happened. However, his suits against me and the state at large are completely unfounded."

rously denied they had perjured themselves in testifying before the Internal Security Subcommittee. In Baltimore yesterday, Lattimore said, when advised of the attorney general's announcement: "I'll have to do some questioning of my own. I'll have to find out what a grand jury is all about."

The Internal Security Subcommittee under the chairmanship of Sen. McCarthy (D-Nev.) in its report to the Senate in July accused Lattimore of having been "a conscious articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy."

The State Department suspended Davies briefly last year for a loyalty and security inquiry. It subsequently announced he had been cleared and restored to duty.

Ohio River Swallows 200 New Automobiles

HENDERSON, Ky. — The Ohio River swallowed another barge loaded with approximately 200 new automobiles last night—the second such accident within a year for the Commercial Barge Lines, Inc.

A company spokesman at Evansville, Ind., valued the loss of cars at about $2,000 but could give no reason for the sinking. The towboat and a second barge managed to escape.

Last winter the firm lost a barge loaded with 100 new cars near Toledo, Ill., but many of those were salvaged.

oldest Church was built on Sanford Avenue, but was later removed to Park Avenue and Fifth Street and enlarged. The Roman Catholic church was also built about this time. The first school in Sanford was conducted by Mrs. Thos. Hughey. In 1874 Judge Tucker and his son, Mr. Howard Tucker opened the first graded school, the attendance rapidly increased and Miss Alice McLean was added to the list of teachers.

This same year Dr. S. M. Tucker, another son of Judge Tucker, came to Sanford and was the earliest resident physician. The Sanford House under the management of Mr. Wister was opened to the public on the 1st day of January, 1870. The Presbyterian church was erected in 1877.

The town of Mellenville was incorporated sometime in the '70's, but had a fitful existence in competition with its growing neighbor Sanford. Sanford was incorporated in 1877 and to unite the two towns Judge Tucker made Union Avenue.

Mr. T. E. Pierson was the first mayor of Sanford, and Mr. T. A. Hughey of Mellenville. In 1879 a charter was secured from the South Florida Railroad and Sanford was first incorporated as President U. S. Grant came to Sanford and threw the first shovelful of earth. In 1884 the J. T. & K. W. Railroad came into Sanford from Jacksonville, slowly connecting with the South Florida Railroad. Prior to this time all connection with the outside world north of Sanford was by stagecoach.

The Union Station at the West End of Commercial Street, was built soon after the completion of the railroad. Mellenville, slowly falling into decedence, finally ceased to exist about 1883 or '84.

In 1884 the Leman Bank was founded with "first brick" laid by Warren. Three years later it developed into the First National Bank. In quick succession came Guy Warren, road department member and other defendants who could be reached denied the charges.

Experiment Seeks To Rebut Blood Donor

PHILADELPHIA — A blood transfusion technique now under experiment would return to a blood donor the red cells taken from his body.

Dr. Joseph Stokes Jr., physician in chief at Children's Hospital, said the process is based on the principle used to separate cream from milk. A centrifuge whirled the freshly drawn blood at tremendous speed separating the plasma from the blood. Then the blood is re-injected into the donor.

Stokes said the method will increase the supply of gamma globulin, the fraction of blood that protects against polio and some other diseases.

Return of the red blood cells may make possible as many as 50 transfusions into a donor from an individual instead of the five or six now believed to be the safe maximum.

work up a formula for the installation of roads in subdivisions in the county, to be taken over by the County for maintenance.

A report was submitted by Commissioner Hope concerning air conditioning of the Court House. Completely air conditioning the structure would cost about $60,000, according to the report, while limiting it to parts of the second and third floors would cost about $30,070. No action was taken in the matter.

Another report which came before the Commission revealed that approximately $15,320 in gasoline taxes will be refunded to the County in 1953.

The board in other action: Toted that the Canning Kitchen at Geneva Avenue and 25th Street should be painted.

Approved all County officers' bonds. Postponed the next regular meeting of the board from Jan. 6 to Jan. 13.

even to the Soviet republics inside the USSR.

The swiftness of the executions in Pankraz Prison came as a surprise. There had been some thought that the 11 would be spared long enough to testify against others in the forthcoming purge, but apparently Gotwald did not want to risk the trial.

Those who died with Slansky, the Czech party's former secretary general, were: Vlado Clementis, former Czech foreign minister; Bedrich Geminder, former head of the Communist party's international section and Kremlin spokesman in Prague; Otto Sling, former deputy secretary general of the party; Ludvik Projka, former head of the state economic commission; Bedrich Rejcek, an ex-general and former deputy defense minister; Otto Fischl, former deputy finance minister; Rudolf Marquiss, former deputy trade minister; Andre Simon, ex-editor of the Czech Communist newspaper Rude Pravo; Josef Frank, formerly Slansky's deputy and a member of the party's presidium; Karel Svab, ousted last year as deputy minister of state security.

The other three defendants in the mass trial were given life sentences. They were Arthur London and Vavro Hajdu, both former deputy foreign ministers, and Evzen Loeb, former deputy foreign trade minister.

The court said Loeb had implicated the rest of the ring after his arrest in 1949 and the other two did not take a leading role in the alleged plot.

All the defendants except three—Clementis, Frank and Svab—were Jews.

Snows Plague Wide Area Of Northeast

NEW YORK — Wet, heavy snow plagued wide areas of the Northeast today. It caused at least three deaths and created a nightmare of traffic jams.

From Pennsylvania to Rhode Island only children found much to rejoice about. Schools closed in many communities. The Boston Post Road through southern Connecticut — a main trucking feedline to New York's breadbasket—had fantastic traffic jams. At one time a line of trucks was backed up on the road all the way across Stamford.

The snow, which began falling yesterday north and east from the Virginia mountains, changed to rain in many sections and then turned back to snow.

Snow continued to sift down in central and eastern Pennsylvania and ranged up to five inches in depth.

In New Jersey, which officially reported a 4.7 inch fall, the villages on most highways were motorized at the head of long lines who didn't have chains.

New York City itself had little taste of the storm, since most of the snow melted rapidly.

The death toll was attributed to heart attacks brought on by exposure to the cold.

McCarty Renews His Pledge On Gambling

MIAMI (AP)—Gov.-elect Dan McCarty said today that Dade County will stay closed to illegal gambling this season and the full four years of his term.

He made the statement following reports that illegal gambling would open up along the "Gold Coast" this winter.

"I have said repeatedly that I would not tolerate illegal gambling," McCarty declared. "I will say it again."

"When I was running for governor, I promised the people of Florida four years of good government and that did not include illegal gambling and the attendant evils which always accompany it."

"As far as I am concerned there will be no illegal gambling during the four years I am in office."

67 Cases Of Motor Car Parts Is Seized

SINGAPORE — Sixty-seven cases of motor car spare parts, mostly American, were seized by customs today from the 3,076-ton British freighter Benavon bound for Hong Kong.

The spares were worth 400,000 Straits dollars, the equivalent of about 127,000 U. S. dollars. The shipment was believed headed for Communist China. It contained spark plugs, electrical equipment, brake shoes and maintenance spares, mostly new.

and doughnuts will be served during the sale.

At 8:00 p. m., a concert will be presented by the Seminole High School band under the direction of Ernest Cowley, SHS musical director.

Mayor W. H. Stempert will make the welcoming address at the dedication of the Tourist Club building at 7:00 p. m. Chamber of Commerce President, G. W. Spencer, will deliver the dedicatory address and present the keys to the new building to Roy Ball, president of the Tourist Club.

Following the ceremonies Miss Olive Reese Whittle, musical director, will lead the Seminole High Triple Trio in a few vocal selections. Miss Allison Lee will then present a piano solo.

All during the evening ceremonies, soft drinks, sandwiches, popcorn, peanuts and candy will be served at a reasonable cost by the Ethel-Root Circle of the Congregational Church.

Friday's activities will be limited to another shuffleboard tournament at the Tourist courts in Port Mellon park with Orange City, beginning at 2:00 p. m., and a community sing at 8:00 p. m. in Tourist Center.

Winding up Saturday evening, the Mayfair Inn will hold its formal opening with a banquet and dance starting at 7:00 p. m. Then at 8:00 o'clock the second in a series of Municipal Concerts will be presented at the Southside Primary School Auditorium.

The concert will feature the distinctive soprano atings of Vasilika Petrova and the violin accompaniment of Stuart Fastovsky. Season tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce building or individual tickets can be purchased at the door.

All during these banner days of tourist festivities, cruises on beautiful Lake Monroe will be offered at the Sanford pier starting at 1:00 p. m. daily.

Those on the festival committee besides Mr. Pierson are: F. W. Spencer, Douglas Stenstrom, Roland Dean, Tom Lenon, Bob Hooker, and the three Tourist Club representatives, Carl Eisenhower, Russell Jones, and Raymond Smith.

Ex-Convict Killed In Gangland Style

CHICAGO — Daniel Ryan, 22, convicted and alleged hijacker, was shot and killed in gangland style today in front of the "Snake Pit," a southwest side saloon.

Police theorized a shotgun blast ended Ryan's life. They said an empty 12 gauge shotgun shell was found about a half block from the saloon.

Police said Ryan and two other ex-convicts were arrested Sept. 5 in connection with the theft of $20,000 worth of whisky from a trailer truck. All three were free on $50,000 bond each.

State Farm Prices Show November Dip

ORLANDO — Florida farm prices like those throughout the U. S. showed a drop during the month which ended Nov. 15, the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported.

In its mid-November survey the government agency said the drop in the state was 9 per cent, or 20 points, bringing the index to 201 per cent of the 1909-14 base. The new index was six points less than a year ago and two under the November 1950 figure.

The Florida decline was the result of lower prices for sweet potatoes, cotton, beef cattle, veal calves, oranges and grapefruit, crop statisticians said. Eggs and hay price increases were insufficient to offset the shifts in other products, the report added.

The drop on the national level was also caused by lower prices for most animals, cotton, fruit and corn.

Discussing the Florida beef picture, the bureau said "beef cattle averaged $13.10 a hundred, off $1.30 from mid-October and the lowest price December, 1951. Veal calves at $18.10 was $1.00 lower than a month ago and reached the lowest level since March, 1950."

Hogs at $17.90 a hundred pounds were unchanged.

Army Medic Charged With Code Violation

WASHINGTON — First Lt. Sheppard Carl Thierman, Army doctor who refused to tell investigating senators whether he was a Communist, has been formally charged with violating the military code.

An Army spokesman said an investigation will "determine whether the charges will be referred to a general court martial."

The spokesman said the Army judged the charges under a section of the military code dealing with "fraudulent enlistment, appointment or separation."

Thierman, 30, recently returned from the Korean War zone. His home is in Brooklyn.

Pressure Cooking Is Said Sweeping World

MIAMI — Pressure cooking is changing and improving the eating habits of millions of people, not only in England but in such countries as Turkey, India, Pakistan, Egypt and France, a leading British manufacturer declared today.

F. P. Webster, Managing Director of South Western Industrial Corp., Ltd., Wolverhampton, England, said in an interview that in England alone pressure cookers are stretching calories, making tough meat tender and saving fuel.

They are becoming a common sight over Arab countries in Africa and are much sought after in France, he added.

Liquor Thief Avers His Life Threatened

TAMPA — A confessed big game liquor thief related in Federal Court here that threats were made on his life if he testified against six men accused of helping him dispose of a truckload of stolen whiskey.

Robert E. Deitle, Bay Pines, who is serving a four-year prison sentence after he confessed he drove off with 550 cases of whiskey worth $30,000 at Louisville, Ky., said two Tampa policemen and a Duval County deputy sheriff threatened him.

He did not identify the Duval official.

On trial here on liquor theft conspiracy charges are Thomas Clayton Clark, Frank James McLaughlin and William D. Constock, all of St. Petersburg; James Davis Ford Jr., Madeira Beach; Elec Samples and Claude Curtis Hartley, Jacksonville.

Defense attorneys ripped into Deitle's testimony for the six hours he was on the stand. He admitted he has been in jail four other times on liquor charges.

Hong Kong is on the China coast at the mouth of the Pearl River.
