Hospital Trustees Bid For 'Local Control'

County Interviews Bidders

Decision-making power would reside in the local community if the current Seminole Memorial Hospital's (SMH) Board of Trustees' proposal is accepted, hospital Administrator Charles Bentley told the Seminole County Commission this morning.

Bentley, speaking on behalf of the hospital board members, who were all present, said local citizens would make up the board of the proposed new not-for-profit private corporation that would renovate SMH.

Donc Lewis, representative of Hospital Corporation of America (HCA), Nashville, told the commissioners a "retread of an old facility" is not appropriate and that HCA proposes to build a new one.

HCA's proposal to build a new hospital would put Sanford back in the mainstream of health care, he said. HCA proposes to build a 200-bed, acute-care facility.

"We're willing to spend $10 million on the new hospital and get it done quickly," he said.

HCA's in-depth analysis, he said, indicated the best care would be provided by going to another suitable nearby location and keeping the current facility open during construction.

HCA opens seven new hospitals a year, he said. The corporation's proposal offers the county a buy-back offer on the old hospital once the new one is built.

Representatives of Florida Hospital Orlando, a Seventh-day Adventist group, were expected to be interviewed at 11 a.m. Florida Hospital representatives have previously said they would buy Seminole Memorial for $2 million and spend an additional $6 million renovating it. In addition, they propose construction of a satellite facility somewhere between Seminole Memorial Hospital and Florida Hospital-Alhambra in the I-4 corridor "at some point in the future." The group has also offered to take over the county's ambulance service if so requested.

Afgans Seize City, Slow Foes

KABUL, Afghanistan (UPI) — Rebel forces seized a provincial capital in northeastern Afghanistan and checked the advance of the 85,000 strong Soviet army in two other provinces, Western diplomats and guerrilla leaders said today.

The diplomats said the city of Faizabad, capital of Badkhashan Province in the northeastern corner of Afghanistan, bordering both the Soviet Union and China, fell within the past three days, the diplomats and guerrillas said.

The Jung newspaper in Rawalpindi, Pakistan said 400 Soviet troops died in the heavy fighting and at least two Russian helicopters were shot down over the city's airport.

The Soviet Union's 16th Motorized Rifle Division, one of seven divisions believed to be in Afghanistan, is deployed in the northeast, but apparently was not involved in the fighting.

Rebel tribesmen, who already controlled the province, with the exception of Faizabad, had been besieging the town's Afghan government garrison for months. The end came when the rebels seized the airfield that served as the garrison's supply line, the diplomats said.

The Jung newspaper also said the Soviets were attempting to airlift troops into the province. Hundreds of homes and mosques have been destroyed and scores of civilians killed in heavy bombing preceding the buildup for a Soviet counterattack, it said.

"With Faizabad in their hands, the whole northeastern corner of the country belongs to the rebels," one diplomat said.

Ayatollahs' Followers In Battles

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Diehard followers of disident Ayatollah Khomeini, who fled to the United States, battled loyalists of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini in Tabriz in running fights that left at least three dead and nearly 100 injured.

Heavy shooting and street fights erupted Wednesday in the northeastern city, a stronghold of Shariat-Madari's supporters, in what was supposed to have been a religious occasion — the Arbaeen Hussein holiday.

But the rival ayatollah's followers, armed with guns and clubs, charged into a crowd of some 100,000 Khomeini loyalists and triggered a day of shooting, arson and beatings that turned Tabriz into a virtually an armed camp.

After nightfall Wednesday, the army supported by Khomeini's revolutionary guards moved into the city to try to restore order by imposing a quasi-martial law.

It was a major outbreak of violence on a holiday that religious leaders had urged should be spent in mourning after the anniversary of the death of Imam Hussein, grandson of the Prophet Mohammed.

Shariat-Madari himself, although at odds with Islamic strongman Khomeini over the role of the clergy under Iran's new Islamic constitution, has urged his supporters at least twice in the last five days to cease their opposition.

A meeting planned for 7 tonight at Longwood Elementary School featuring a speech by Thomas J. McDowell on "Teach Your Child to Talk" has been canceled due to the illness of the speaker. The next session in the series arranged by the Speech Language Department of Seminole County Schools will be Jan. 17 at 7 p.m. at Longwood Elementary School.

Security Council Meeting Today

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The U.N. Security Council, blocked from acting on its own because of a Soviet veto, sent to the General Assembly its stalled proposal to pressure the Soviet Union into withdrawing its troops from Afghanistan.

The council Wednesday voted, 12-2, with one abstention, to call the assembly into emergency session. The debate was scheduled to get under way today later.

Mexico and the Philippines introduced the joint proposal for an emergency session, the sixth in the assembly's 34-year history. The Soviet Union and its ally East Germany voted against the resolution, while Zambia abstained.

"There is no doubt at all that we are confronting an invasion, an armed intervention," Mexican Foreign Minister Jorge Castaneda told the Council. "We are in danger of falling into a cold war."

It was the first detailed response to the decision to stop shipment of some 17 million tons of corn, wheat and soybeans.

Small Group Meets Sen. Stone's Train

"I think we are going to save these trains," said U.S. Sen. Richard Stone, D-Florida, at 3:40 p.m. Wednesday as he stopped in Sanford for a 10-minute visit while the Amtrak "Champion" took water and fuel.

The senator, who rode the train from Washington, to demonstrate his support for continued passenger train service to the state, arrived in Sanford three-and-a-half hours late because of snowy conditions in Maryland and the Carolinas.

He continued his train trip through Orlando to Tampa, where he disembarked to complete his trip to Bradenton.

Stone was met in Sanford by a small group of supporters which included three members of the United Transportation Union, led by J. H. Lee Jr., state legislative director; Seminole Elections Supervisor Camilla Bruce and her daughter; Pat Nuckolls and a railroad worker, Phillip King, who had always wanted to meet a senator.

Also on hand was Stone's Orlando-office staff member, Clyde King.

"We really need to support train service for its energy savings. It's good for Florida," Stone said.

King, the railroad worker, told Stone he appreciated his efforts to save the passenger train service to Florida. "I need the work," he said. — DONNA ESTES

Area Got Railroad 100 Years Ago

By HAL FREEMAN
Special To The Herald

One-hundred years ago today former President U.S. Grant broke ground on Sanford's first railroad.

Interest in a local railroad was first generated in 1875 when a group of area businessmen secured a state charter that called for the building of a line between Lake Monroe and Orlando. However, a lack of capital interest plagued the group for four years, until Longwood promoter Edward Henck procured financial backing from a New England newspaper, the Boston Herald.

At this point, the proposed "South Florida Railroad" was to begin at the end of a 660-foot pier in Lake Monroe, pass through the fledgling town of Sanford, take in the settlements of Longwood and Maitland, and terminate in Orlando.

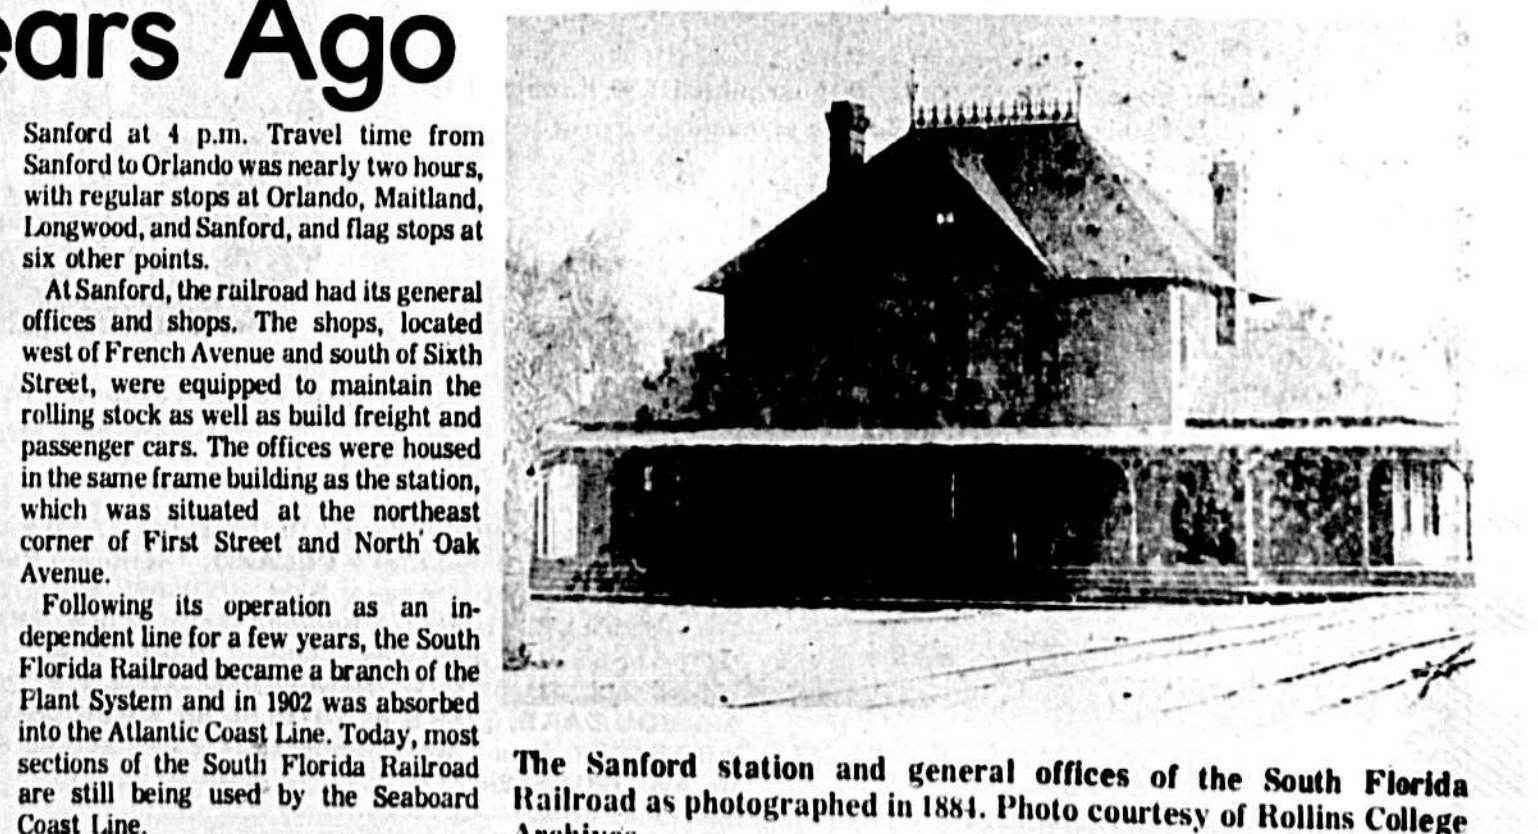

On Saturday, Jan. 10, 1880, groundbreaking ceremonies occurred, with former President Grant doing the honors, thus marking the official beginning of railroad construction.

While there was a good turnout for the ceremony, curiosity rather than the popularity of a good way had been the cause. Many times in his later life, Sydney Chase of Sanford, the man who in 1880 announced the event, told of his encounters with persons having bitter memories of Grant, his corrupt administration, and the Civil War. Chase explained that on many of his visits, after sneaking past dogs in the yard, some of the "crackers" would coldly hear him out, spit their "chaw" at his feet, and without a word walk back into the house, with the ground-breaking ceremonies in order, construction of the narrow-gauge road was begun. Construction crews from Georgia and local workers alike began Nov. 12, 1880, with a north-bound mixed train leaving Orlando at 7 a.m. and a south-bound mixed train leaving Sanford at 4 p.m. Travel time from Sanford to Orlando was 10 hours, with regular stops at Orlando, Maitland, Longwood, and Sanford, and flag stops at six other points.

At Sanford, the railroad had its general offices and shops. The shops, located west of French Avenue and south of Sixth Street, were equipped to maintain the rolling stock as well as build freight and passenger cars. The offices were housed in the same frame building as the station, which was situated at the northeast corner of First Street and North Oak Avenue.

Following its operation as an independent line for a few years, the South Florida Railroad became a branch of the Plant System and in 1902 was absorbed into the Atlantic Coast Line. Today, most sections of the South Florida Railroad are still being used by the Seaboard Coast Line.

U.S. Keeps Military Bases, Increases Arms To Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — U.S. and Turkish officials today initiated a new five-year Defense Cooperation Agreement permitting the continued operation of 35 U.S. military bases in Turkey and outlining plans for increased American military aid. The agreement marked an important step in American plans to bolster nations in the strategic Middle East area threatened by the Soviet takeover in Afghanistan and the Iran crisis. The pact was completed Wednesday in negotiations between Turkish officials and two high-level American officials who arrived in Ankara Saturday.

Brown Views China Planes

WUHAN, China (UPI) — Defense Secretary Harold Brown watched Chinese fighter pilots perform acrobatics in outmoded fighter planes today and said Chinese military hardware is about a dozen years behind that of the Soviet Union. "But what comes through is the pride the Chinese have in their duties and in their ability to do things," Brown said. "This equipment is produced and maintained entirely by the Chinese themselves. That is important and they consider it important." Brown said that in the new American defense relationship with China, Chinese military leaders will come to the United States in small groups as visitors, but that there will be no large-scale training of Chinese military forces by the United States.

School Board Mulls Pay-Busing Plan

By DIANE PETRYK Herald Staff Writer

The youngest children, living farthest from school, would get rides first on a space-available basis under a courtesy busing plan the school board will study. Board member Pat Telson presented the plan at Wednesday night's meeting. It might, she said, help accommodate students living less than 2 miles from school and those who might be waiting through hazardous areas. "It's time we act for the people, not react later," she said.

The plan presented is one used in Brevard County since 1981, Ms. Telson said. After giving the youngest students — kindergarten and first graders — first priority, if there is additional space on buses the Brevard plan allows parents to pay for busing service on a first-come, first-served basis. The Brevard parents pay $10 for six weeks service or 60 round trips. Board member W. J. Kroll said he did not think it likely Seminole County would have enough space available to ever have the option of a payment plan. "Chevron may take care of all our problems for us by cutting our gas supply," he added.

School Purchasing Agent Don Coleman said last week Chevron, the school system's gas supplier, has only allocated 4,400 gallons for January while 59,750 are expected to be needed. Field trips have been curtailed in response, but the savings there will not make up the difference, he said.

School boards do not receive state funds to bus students who live within a 2-mile radius of their school or who must travel through areas considered dangerous. Seminole County provides courtesy bus service in hazardous areas. The routes are evaluated every spring to determine if road improvements have made routes safe for children walking or riding bikes.

School Superintendent William Layer's decision to discontinue 11 courtesy bus runs this year met with strong parent protest. "I think we have a good (busing) policy," Ms. Telson said Wednesday. "But a good thing can be improved upon."

The board is expected to consider Ms. Telson's proposed policy Wednesday. In other action, the school board approved a priority list of school renovations to be paid through a state program designed to ease unemployment in the construction industry. Seminole County received $824,000 under the Special School Maintenance Act for improvements. Most of the money will go toward repairing leaky roofs at six county schools.

The board also approved sending a 13-year-old middle school student to the Grove School for students with drug problems in lieu of courtship. The board authorized School Board Attorney Ned Julian Jr. to respond to an unfair-labor-practice suit filed by the Seminole Education Association. The board listened to a presentation on state assessment test results in which it was acknowledged there were no dramatic changes over last year.

CHAMBER LOOKS TO THE FUTURE

Janice Springfield, Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's first woman president discusses plans for the year with the chamber's executive manager, Jack Horner, after being installed Wednesday, Mrs. Springfield, who is executive vice president of Flship Bank of Seminole, has set a goal of 1,000 members and invites new businesses to join.

Man Held In Rape-Kidnaps Of 3 Dancers

By DAVID M. RAZLER Herald Staff Writer

A Mailland man is in the Seminole jail without bond, charged with kidnapping and raping three topless dancers between May 1978 and August, 1979. Seminole deputies arrested James Correy Jr., of 1935 Oxford Road in Mailland, on Tuesday, behind the Fancy Dancer on U. S. Highway 17-92 in Fern Park on a warrant issued over a month ago.

He is being held without bond for the kidnapping and rape of a dancer on Aug. 23 in back of the English Estates Elementary School, a crime deputies say began at the Night Gallery 1 in Orange County. He is also charged in two similar crimes. Specific information on the other two crimes Correy is alleged to have committed on June 3, 1979 and May 19, 1979 was not available, however, the department spokesman John Spolaki identified all three victims as dancers.

he appears before a circuit court judge, said County Judge Alan Dickey at Correy's first appearance Wednesday. ARMED AUTO ROBBERY

A man wielded a knife and threatening to kill a 65-year-old Orlando resident, took the man's car from the parking lot of a Fern Park bar Wednesday, deputies report. The assailant carrying a hunting knife, ordered Milton Dewald, 65, of 2904 Eifel Dr., in Orlando, out of his car, which was parked at 7:40 at the Fancy Dancer on U. S. Highway 17-92, deputies said. As Dewald left the vehicle, he was kicked by his attacker, deputies said.

The victim was treated for cuts on his hands and arms at Florida Hospital-Altamonte, following the attack. Deputies say Dewald's assailant stole the car after breaking into another parked at the bar and stealing about $5. The stolen car was found a short time later at the Longwood ABC Lounge on 17-92.

Lake Mary Senior Complex Clears 1st Hurdle

By DONNA ERTES Herald Staff Writer

Plans for a $5 million apartment complex for senior citizens, to be constructed on Old Lake Mary Road, were unveiled before the Lake Mary Planning and Zoning Commission.

The board voted to recommend approval of a change in zoning on the 26-acre parcel, site of the proposed complex, from agriculture to apartment zoning. The Lake Mary City Council will hear the request on Feb. 21. Alexander Kasten, partner in Lake Mary Villas Ltd., said construction on 38 units — 12 one-bedroom and 24 two-bedroom — is planned for May with an opening by December. The complex will have a total of 210 units and be constructed in four phases over a three-to-four-year period. Kasten said the property has a small lake which will be appropriate for seniors to use for non-motorized boating and fishing. The property is rolling and wooded, he said. A community room will be constructed.

Convicted Double-Murderer May Get Commuted Sentence

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — After nearly four years in the shadow of the electric chair, convicted double murderer Darrell Edwin Hoy is in line for a commutation. But he will have to spend another 21 years in prison. State law imposes a minimum sentence of 25 years in prison in capital cases where the death penalty is not imposed. In some instances, the board has provided that persons receiving commutation never be paroled.

Doctors, Lawyers In Feud

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Some attorneys say the law is stacked in the doctors' favor but the doctors' lawyers say that's not true. The dispute involves the state's medical malpractice act and on Wednesday attorneys for both sides had their chance to lay out their arguments before the Florida Supreme Court.

Nursing Probe On Schedule

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Legislators investigating fraud by nursing homes participating in the Medicaid program are satisfied with what the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services is doing to attack the problem. The Senate HRS Committee got a briefing on fraudulent payments Wednesday, including $1.1 million to a firm running three nursing homes in Miami, and members got their first look at Bob Williams, recently appointed as HRS deputy secretary for Medicaid.

Foster Payments Continue

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — State officials have temporarily reversed a decision to cut off foster family care for youths once they reach age 18. The Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services said Wednesday that until at least July 1, payments to foster families will continue as long as the affected youth remains in high school.

Florida Students On Roof

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — University of Florida security guards have been posted around the clock at the still unfinished Stephen C. O'Connell Sports Center following the arrest of 37 students caught bouncing on the mushroom-shaped, teflon-coated fiberglass roof, UF officials said Wednesday.

Selection Continues 4 Bundy Jurors Excused

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Eleven people remain today on the jury that will hear charges that Theodore Bundy snatched a 12-year-old girl from her Lake City school and left her dead in a rusted pig sty. Four of 15 jurors already sealed were challenged and dismissed late Wednesday. A total of 25 jury prospects have been excused, many of them because they were too biased about Bundy to give him a fair hearing. The painstaking process of jury selection continues today. Both prosecution and defense attorneys were given 20 peremptory challenges because of the publicity surrounding Bundy's previous murder convictions.

Circuit Judge Wallace Jopling would not say whether it was the defense or the prosecution that exercised the four peremptory challenges on Wednesday. The judge has ordered attorneys not to discuss their challenges either. State law imposes a minimum sentence of 25 years in prison in capital cases where the death penalty is not imposed. In some instances, the board has provided that persons receiving commutation never be paroled.

Columbia Shuttle Simulation Set For 'Blast-Off' At Cape

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Engineers have cleared up the fuel cell problem that scrubbed a mock launch of the Space Shuttle Columbia and the rocket plane was scheduled to blast into simulated flight today. Astronauts John Young and Navy Cmdr. Robert Crippen were to board the shuttle about 3-and-a-half hours before the 6:30 a.m. launch — the second simulated launch in a five-day series of tests. During the shuttle's dress rehearsal, the astronauts planned to wear new gold and tan space suits that are lighter in weight and less bulky than the cumbersome gear worn by the moon-walking Apollo astronauts. They are a slightly modified version of the pressure suit that Air Force pilots flying high altitude missions wear in case they must eject. During actual flights, survival kits, parachutes, and life vests will be attached to the suits. Shuttle program officials decided to postpone the launch Wednesday after a high temperature reading was noted in one of the three 200-pound fuel cells that will provide electricity to the Columbia.

Builders Ask Interest Rate Control

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The housing industry is healthy now, but it won't be much longer unless the government controls interest rates and eliminates unnecessary building restrictions, Florida home builders said Wednesday. They are asking the Florida Home Builders Association designated Wednesday as "housing emergency action day" to demand state and federal government action to prevent what it warns is an impending housing disaster. "It is still a good time to buy a house," said Pembroke Pines contractor John Arbib.

Nancy Witmer, a Winter Park divorcee, was excused because of a peremptory challenge. Mrs. Witmer said fellow workers in the tax collector's office, where she is a clerk, often discussed the Chi Omega killings. Bundy received two death sentences last July for battering and strangling two women as they slept in their Florida State sorority house on Jan. 15, 1978. "If he did it," Mrs. Witmer told co-workers before the trial started, "they ought to kill him."

Also challenged was Harold E. Miller, a naval equipment salesman with no reservations about the death penalty. Miller hadn't paid much attention to news reports about Bundy, he said, but recognized his picture from the paper. Donald C. Smith, vice president of a fire prevention firm, said he didn't follow Bundy's first murder trial either.

Did 'Jim Beam' Influence Prof?

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Allegations that University of South Florida Prof. John "Knocky" Parker gave students high grades in return for bottles of whiskey will be thoroughly investigated, according to Dave Smith, dean of Arts and Letters at USF. The allegations were contained in a story published Wednesday by the student newspaper, The Oracle. The story included comments from a number of students, but only three were identified. The newspaper said it had contacted Parker in California, where he is on tour, and said he told the reporter he did not remember the students or the alleged incidents. "I tell them not to bring me gifts," Parker told the newspaper. Paul Cohen, who said he made "D's" on both tests given in Parker's class but received a "B" after taking a bottle to Parker's house, said Parker made comments in class to the effect that anyone having grade problems had better see him at his house and should bring along their friends, "Johnny Walker and Jim Beam."

Smith said he contacted Parker Wednesday about the allegations "and he denies them." "Obviously this kind of charge is a serious one and is being investigated," Smith said.

Did 'Jim Beam' Influence Prof?

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Allegations that University of South Florida Prof. John "Knocky" Parker gave students high grades in return for bottles of whiskey will be thoroughly investigated, according to Dave Smith, dean of Arts and Letters at USF.

The allegations were contained in a story published Wednesday by the student newspaper, The Oracle. The story included comments from a number of students, but only three were identified. The newspaper said it had contacted Parker in California, where he is on tour, and said he told the reporter he did not remember the students or the alleged incidents.

"I tell them not to bring me gifts," Parker told the newspaper. Paul Cohen, who said he made "D's" on both tests given in Parker's class but received a "B" after taking a bottle to Parker's house, said Parker made comments in class to the effect that anyone having grade problems had better see him at his house and should bring along their friends, "Johnny Walker and Jim Beam."

Smith said he contacted Parker Wednesday about the allegations "and he denies them." "Obviously this kind of charge is a serious one and is being investigated," Smith said.

Some Good News For Money Savers

There was good news for small savers in a recent announcement by federal agencies...

These institutions have been offering interest of more than 10 percent to savers...

This means that the good news for savers is not so good for prospective home-buyers...

Not until recently, as worries have mounted over the supply of investment capital for housing...

Such a simple step in tax reform would have the direct effect of increasing the yield from a small savings account without changing the interest rate...

Kaline, Snider Win Hall of Fame Votes

NEW YORK (UPI) — There wasn't a doubt about it once the vote count started — Al Kaline and Duke Snider were inducted into the Hall of Fame in a landslide.

Brooklyn. It was just as lost as the rest of the players when we moved to Los Angeles.

Kaline, who had a .297 lifetime batting average, 399 homers and 3,007 hits, joined Mays, Mantle, Williams, Willie Mays, Mantle, Jackie Robinson, Sandy Koufax, Ernie Banks and Warren Spahn as players elected in the first year of their eligibility.

Snider was a superb defensive outfielder who normally might have been rated as the No. 1 center fielder in the game.

Town Hall Meeting Set In Sanford

Who Needs The Arts In County?

The Council of Arts and Sciences for Central Florida will conduct a Seminole County Town Hall meeting on Jan. 17, to attempt to answer the question: "Who needs the arts in Seminole County?"

The meeting will be held in the Sanford Civic Center Annex in Sanford, from 7:30-10:30 p.m.

The public is invited. Special invitations are being sent to representatives from Seminole County cultural organizations and educational institutions, individual artists and friends of the arts.

The meeting, presided over by Arts Council President James R. Spence, will begin with an informal social period with refreshments, followed by a showing of the Saul Bass film "Why Men Create," which is being provided for the occasion by Seminole Community College.

An open discussion will then be held in which a number of topics will be covered including Public Art, Art in the Schools, Cultural Funding, Art Festivals, whether or not an art center is needed in Seminole County, and ways in which the Arts Council can serve the arts community in Seminole County.

Anyone who would like may request time on the meeting agenda to discuss a specific idea or problem or may just come along to the meeting and speak out.

The Sanford-Seminole Art Association will do a special art exhibition at the Civic Center for the meeting. The Greene Consort will perform.

For information call the Arts Council, 943-2787 (The Arts) or Don Reynolds at the Seminole County Branch Office, 321-0359.

Grannies Sound Off On 'Sitting'

DEAR ABBY: I was disappointed in your answer to the grandmother who refused to babysit for free except in cases of emergency. She asked how YOU handled the babysitting problem, and you said, "I have no sitting problems because my grandchildren live 2,000 miles away. But if they lived in the same town, I'd have to draw straws with the other grandmother because she loves to sit. Bless her."

That's easy for you to say, Abby. Living 2,000 miles away, you're not likely to be called upon to babysit.

Instead of making her feel guilty, you should have told her NO SITTER that she had every right to refuse to be an unpaid sitter.

CYNICAL D.V.
SENECA, OHIO

DEAR ABBY: I'm the mother of four children under 10, and here's the way I feel about asking my mother to babysit. I think she owes it to me. Yes, that's what I said. I was the oldest of seven kids, and I missed out on plenty of fun because my mother made me stay home and take care of my little brothers and sisters. (She used to tell everybody she had a "free, built-in babysitter.")

My mother was hardly ever home when I was in my teens. She didn't have to be gone, she was mostly just out having a good time. Mom has arthritis now and can't dance anymore. It's hard for her to get around, so she's available for sitting when I need her, which makes it nice for me. I really don't feel one bit guilty asking Mom to stay with my kids. I sure stayed with hers enough.

MY TURN IN MEMPHIS

Slavery Reviewed

Black students from Seminole Community College will be among those from as far away as Jacksonville and Miami attending a lecture-slide presentation at Rollins College Friday on the colony of descendants of slaves found in South America.

Dr. Allen Counter and David Evans, who journeyed into the interior of Surinam in 1972 and encountered the colony, will present their findings from 2:30 p.m. in Annie Russell Theatre on the Winter Park campus.

The Harvard University professor and his associate will tell the story of African slaves who escaped and established a stronghold in South America 300 years ago. Counter, a biologist, and Evans, an anthropology oriented Harvard administrator, made the 250 mile boat trip into what was formerly Dutch Guiana in 1972 accompanied by a guide and an interpreter. They encountered a tribe of Djakans, descendants of West Africans first abducted onto slave ships in the 1600's.

I raised my children, and I expect them to raise theirs. Oh, I'd help out in an emergency, but they know they can't just ring me up to come over and mind the kids, or dump them on me anytime they have a notion to.

When my children were little, my husband and I went only to places we could take the kids or we stayed home. My children were MY responsibility to raise - not my mother's.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Kirk of Banana Lake, Sanford, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Elizabeth Leigh, who weighed in at 7 lbs., 2 oz., on Jan. 4, at Orlando Regional Medical Center.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Coffee of Orlando. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William L. Kirk Sr. of Sanford.

Ill-Fitted Dentures Can Cause Gas

DEAR DR. LAMB — I've read several of your columns about people having excess gas and, as a result, I learned about my own condition. I've suffered with this condition for over two years and had X-rays and medications without results until a thought caused me to solve my problem.

I was never bothered when I was at home, but I always took my teeth out (lower plate) when I was home. When I swallowed the gas, I had gotten to the place where I was afraid to eat and lost needed weight. I've already helped one friend with this knowledge and am back to normal again. If it hadn't been for your column, I would never have known about swallowing air.

DEAR READER — Thank you for your helpful letter and congratulations on finding out why you were swallowing air. Your observation is consistent with the point that anyone who has ill-fitting dentures is apt to be an air swallower. So good teeth and wearing them does help prevent the problem in many people.

Because of your thoughtfulness in expressing this to other readers, I am sending you The Health Letter number 6-8, Controllin' Gaseousness. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. WIN AT BRIDGE

South won dummy's Jack and counted tricks. He could come to six in high cards and could make his seventh by leading successfully to his queen of clubs or king of spades.

There was no hurry about choosing which suit to attack. He could take two diamonds (trick first) or he could just take two hearts (trick first). Maybe his opponents would make some helpful discards. He could lead the ace of hearts and have East ducked the deuce of spades. West's seven of spades and five of clubs.

South studied a while and finally came to the right decision. He didn't lead either suit. Instead he returned a club and a spade.

Now West had to lead a black card and gave South his seventh trick. Simple, but like most simple things is totally effective. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE STAFF)

Sanford Facility To Produce Gasohol

By DONNA ESTES
 Herald Staff Writer

Gasohol, a blend of 80 percent gasoline and 20 percent anhydrous ethanol, will be produced at the Port of Sanford within a year, Ethanol of Florida Inc. of Longwood announced today.

Ralph G. Dillingham, project coordinator of Ethanol of Florida, said the Longwood firm is acquiring a mill in Moorhaven, which is south and west of Okeechobee, to produce ethanol. A distillery is to be built near the mill.

6,000 acres in the sugar crop to be used in the milling operation.

"Saxon Oil Co. has agreed to take all the ethanol we can supply for the production of gasohol," Dillingham said. "An earlier attempt by Saxon to produce gasohol for the market failed last year when moisture accumulated in the blend of grain alcohol and gasoline."

Dillingham said, however, anhydrous alcohol is 200 proof and thus the earlier moisture problem will be solved. He said the normal process of blending to take place at the Saxon facilities at the Port of Sanford is to introduce the ethanol into the huge tanks and then introduce the gasoline for a natural blend.

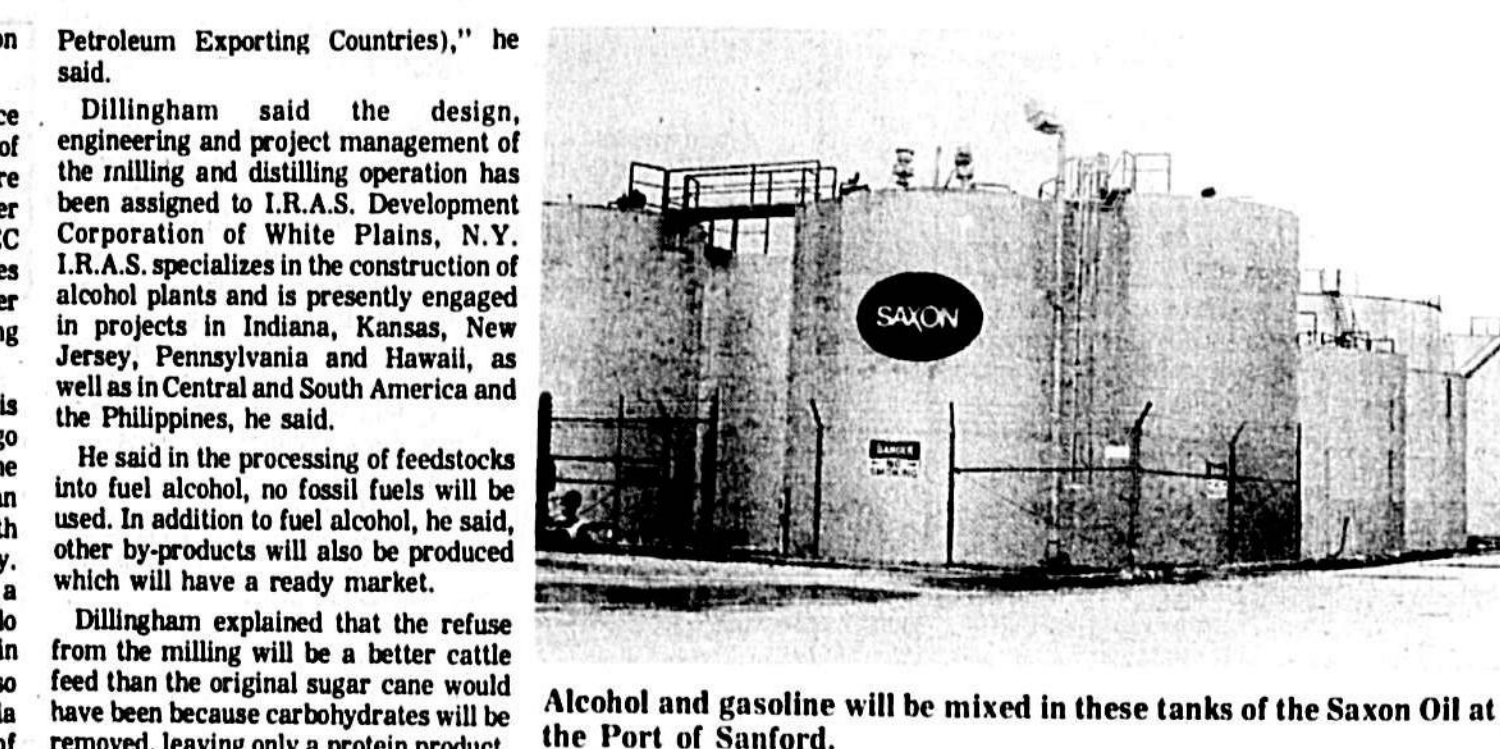

Initial gasohol production is expected to be 3/4 million gallons annually, Dillingham said. Cost of acquiring property and getting into operation, he said, will be $5 million.

He said negotiations are underway with A. Dada and Sons of Oviedo to plant on catalytic converters or other emission controls."

Gasohol will sell in the same price range as gasoline. The advantages of gasohol, Dillingham said, are: more gasohol which can be produced the better the nation's situation with the OPEC countries; gasohol cleans out engines and provides a cleaner and smoother operation and it can have a stabilizing effect on the price of gasoline.

Dillingham said as more ethanol is produced, the price of gasohol may go down and stabilize. He said the possibility also exists that a higher than 10 percent mixture of alcohol with gasoline will be feasible as time goes by.

"Ethanol produced in Florida as a Florida product, by Florida labor, will do much to retain Florida dollars in Florida," Dillingham said. "It will also do much to reduce the flow of Florida dollars to OPEC (Organization of Alcohol and gasoline will be mixed in these tanks of the Saxon Oil at the Port of Sanford.

Hattaway Now Unsure On Bike Bill

By DAVID M. RAZLER
 Herald Staff Writer

A month ago, State Rep. Robert Hattaway (D-Altamonte Springs) knew exactly what he wanted to do with bicyclists. But now he is not so sure what side of the road he stands on.

Hattaway, who promised Seminole law enforcement officers in October he would submit a bill moving bicyclist riders to the left-hand side of the road, against the flow of traffic, has scheduled a meeting between officers and cyclists, who oppose the change, at his Altamonte Springs office next week.

Hattaway, who said he still believes cyclists belong on the left side of the road, received his proposed bill back from Tallahassee along with a stack of complaints from safety and cycling organizations, all of which say placing riders against traffic would be the most dangerous law possible.

"I want to hear the pros and cons on both sides" said the legislator, explaining he was shocked at the number of children killed in the state on bicycles.

He made his initial proposal to reverse the flow of two-wheeled traffic in a meeting with Sanford police, sheriff's deputies and Florida Highway Patrolmen, following the death of a Sanford cyclist in October.

His bill also proposes allowing cyclists to ride on sidewalks unless prohibited by local laws.

Although Hattaway said he had statistics from states which place cyclists on the opposite side of the road, the National Committee for Uniform Traffic Codes and Ordinances says no state has such a law.

"Ed Keary, head of the committee, which writes the traffic laws used in every state but Massachusetts, said not only does no state have such legislation, but his organization has already sent protests to Hattaway, explaining why its members consider such a move dangerous."

Keary, an avid cyclist himself, said that in all cases, riding against traffic exposes a rider to more chances for accidents than the present laws. Ten years ago, when a similar proposal was made for a change in the Uniform Traffic Code, Keary's organization came up with a list of 30 specific increased dangers.

Hattaway will hold his meeting at 3 p.m. Friday, Jan. 17 in his office at the corner of State Road 408 and County Road 47.

Some Sanford cyclists ride as if a proposal to place them against the flow of traffic had already been made. For more stories on the bicycle safety problem, see the Sunday Evening Herald.

War Results If U.S. Blocks Ship Lanes: Iranian Official

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — A top Iranian official warned today that any American attempt to block Iranian shipping routes was part of an international economic blockade which would lead to war.

In an interview released shortly before the Security Council began its meeting on a resolution calling for sanctions against Iran, Commerce Minister Reza Sadri told the official Paris news agency that the Iranian people would not tolerate any such economic blockade.

"If the American fleet blocks the mouth of the Persian Gulf (Strait of Hormuz), that will result in war," Sadri said. "That means it would become inevitable because in such a case 'the issue will become two-sided.'"

Even as Sadri issued his warning, U.S. Secretary of State Cyrus Vance declined to rule out the possibility of a U.S. naval blockade of Iran to back economic sanctions against that country.

Vance, interviewed on the NBC-TV special of an international economic blockade which would lead to war.

Longwood Councilman-Elect Opposes Prosecutor Funding

The proposal for the county's seven cities and the county commission to fund a special prosecutor in State Attorney Douglas Cheshire's office for the sole purpose of prosecuting violations of city and county ordinances has met a major stumbling block.

Councilman-Elect Steven Uskert of Longwood told the Council of Local Government in Seminole County Thursday night he will "vote against the proposal" and fight it.

"I believe the job of prosecuting all cases should be the state attorney. If he can't have enough staff he should go to the Legislature and get more money. I strongly object to paying him additional money," Uskert said, insisting it is the job of Cheshire's office to prosecute violators of all laws without additional compensation.

The idea of hiring a special prosecutor was initiated by Lake Mary Mayor Walter Dorman. A meeting of the council of governments and Cheshire took place in December to discuss the possibilities.

Cheshire said at the time state law prohibits the hiring of a special prosecutor to prosecute violators of city ordinances, pointing out he does not have the staff to prosecute all city ordinance violations.

He said he had to allocate his staff's time for serious crimes.

Four of the eight cases occurred in Sanford, according to health department nurse Bernice Duncan. The other cases occurred in Winter Springs, Casselberry, Altamonte Springs and Oviedo, she said.

Although the eight cases that week were more than twice the number reported in any other county, Deju said they were not considered an "outbreak."

U.N. Discussing Iran, Afghans

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The U.N. General Assembly began its debate on the Afghan crisis with countries big and small denouncing the Soviet Union for its invasion of the formerly non-aligned country.

The Security Council today was to take up another crisis by voting on a resolution for economic sanctions against Iran to punish the Islamic republic for holding 50 American naval blockade of Iran to back economic sanctions against that country.

The assembly debated the Afghan issue Thursday following a Soviet veto Monday in the Security Council of a proposal to withdraw all foreign troops from Afghanistan.

Also on Thursday, U.S. Ambassador Donald McHenry told UPI the United States had the nine votes needed in the council to pass the sanctions resolution against Iran.

Iran because of the Tehran hostage situation — even if Russia vetoes a pending U.N. Security Council resolution for a worldwide embargo against Iran.

No Hepatitis Outbreak

Seminole County reported eight cases of hepatitis for the week ending Dec. 21, according to the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, but these were part of routine fluctuations of the disease, said Dr. Jorge Deju, county health department director.

"The following two weeks there were no confirmed cases," Deju said.

Commission Faces Tough Choice For Hospital

By DIANE PETERIK
 Herald Staff Writer

Florida Hospital offers comprehensive service and security for current Seminole Memorial Hospital personnel... As a profit-making entity, Hospital Corporation of America (HCA) says it will pay large property taxes, and offers to put up a $1 million bond to guarantee its promise.

The current hospital fund of trustees points to local control as the strongest point in favor of its proposal.

The pros and cons and major issues resulting from the county commission's decision are set out in a report for the management of Seminole Memorial Hospital are currently under review.

The county board listened to presentations and asked questions Thursday morning of representatives from the three groups still in the running in the Seminole Memorial Hospital.

The "winner" will buy or lease the aging facility which is now county-owned and run by a government-appointed board of trustees.

The commission will continue this month as the county board holds public hearings on the matter Jan. 15. And at least two commissioners, Bill Kirkhoff and Sandra Glenn, agreed to accompany an HCA representative to Ft. Pierce Monday to tour one of that group's hospital facilities. The commission did not set a deadline for a final decision in the matter, but one could come before February.

The county commission is considering the following proposals:

The current hospital board of trustees offers to form a private, not-for-profit corporation making them eligible to issue tax exempt revenue bonds. They expect to need a $10 to $15 million bond issue to renovate and expand the hospital. HCA offers to spend approximately $10 million building a new hospital in a suitable nearby location. Florida Hospital, a not-for-profit organization affiliated with the Seventh Day Adventist Church, says it will spend $8 million to renovate the current facility and add more in-lieu fees. If all three bids, said Kirkhoff, are rejected, the county will have to sell the Memorial Hospital and Florida Hospital-Altamonte in the 1-4 corridor.

County commissioners indicated before the 1-4 corridor's primary concerns were the level and quality of patient care offered, local control and financing of care for indigent. Commission Chairman Bill Kirkhoff acknowledged that each of the three groups would probably provide quality medical care. He questioned whether Florida Hospital offered a suitable amount of local control.

The current hospital board's proposal calls for a governing body made up totally of local residents. HCA's administrator would be a corporate official, but its board of directors would be all local residents.

Florida Hospital regional vice president, said the hospital's proposed nine-member governing board would include four Seminole County residents; a Sanford or county commissioner, the head of the hospital medical staff, two local businessmen and two corporate officials. The four Seminole County residents would be appointed by the corporate board.

"We will endeavor to find individuals knowledgeable and based for the hospital," Blair said.

There are already many members of Seminole County residents in the Seventh Day Adventist Health System-Sunbelt, Blair said. The system, which runs Florida Hospital in Orlando, also runs a hospital in Apopka and Florida Hospital-Altamonte, the only other hospital in Seminole County. The three are run by one board of directors, but Seminole Memorial would be a free-standing corporation, with its own governing board, Blair said.

Florida Hospital offered to provide a county-wide ambulance service as part of its agreement if it is allowed to purchase Seminole Memorial. Blair said they could probably provide service cheaper than Herndon, the county's current ambulance company, because it would have a hospital at each end of the county.

Blair also said they would provide free transfer service between their hospitals. Patients are often transferred from Seminole Memorial and Florida Hospital-Altamonte to the Florida Hospital in Orlando.

Re-evaluating the county's contract with Herndon Ambulance Co. has been stated as one of the county's priorities for the coming year. There have been dissatisfactions with the company over rising costs and ambulance whereabouts at times, according to County Administrator Roger Neiswander.

HCA representative Doug Lewis said it is not in the ambulance business and would not be able to provide such service, but pointed to the fact that the for-profit group would pay property taxes on the hospital.
