CHAPTER 26

ON THE FOURTH occasion when Val had seen Captain Donovan he had seen him in a general, kindly way, a typical picture of an elderly ship's captain with his sea-dog's walk, his red face and brilliant gray hair. But that morning on the stroke of eleven when Dirk and she were ushered into his cabin there was no trace of geniality.

"Sit down, both of you," he said. "This is—hum, a most unpleasant business, isn't it?"

Val was surprised not only at his choice of words, but by his manner. She could see that Dirk was too, for he glanced sharply toward the Captain, a look of inquiry on his face. It was a little later that she became aware that Bruce was also in the cabin.

"Good morning, Doctor," Dirk said. He spoke quietly, amiably.

Bruce turned. "Good morning, Nurse Allison. Good morning, Nurse Hanson. Good morning, Hanson," he said formally.

"The Captain cleared his throat and said again gruffly, "This is—hum—a most unpleasant business, isn't it?"

"A tragic business, I agree, but I don't quite understand your use of the word unpleasant, Captain," Dirk interposed quietly.

"Well, I'll be blunt," the Captain said. "Nothing can be gained by beating about the bush. The doctor here—I mean Doctor Harrison—has refused to sign the death certificate."

"He has refused to sign the death certificate?" Val echoed incredulously. Suddenly the whole thing had taken on a nightmare quality.

"Exactly," the Captain nodded. "You appreciate what that means, don't you, Nurse? Doctor Harrison is not satisfied in his mind as to the cause of Mrs. Featherstone's death."

"But—but she died of a heart attack, I was there at the time," Val stammered.

The Captain smothered a sigh. He was irritated and out of sympathy with the whole affair. A death on board was bad enough, but a hint of murder was far worse.

"Doctor Harrison says that since Mrs. Featherstone came on board he had never set eyes on her until after she was dead." He had been consulting some notes on his desk, but now he glanced up at her sharply. "You agree to that, Nurse?"

"Yes, but I—I didn't realize myself how serious Mrs. Featherstone's condition might prove, Captain," Val said, leaning forward and speaking earnestly. "Her own doctor in Hampshire, Doctor Mangin, had led me to believe that her heart condition was mainly imaginary. Besides, she was determined that I shouldn't call in the ship's doctor."

"And why might that be?" the Captain asked, bridling. "Our company is known to engage the best officers available."

"Mrs. Featherstone had known Doctor Harrison before. They parted, I'm afraid, on unfriendly terms," Dirk broke in to say.

The Captain felt more annoyed than ever. He was suddenly wondering if it might not have been some personal spite on Harrison's part that had made him take the stand he had. While they had been shipmates he had admired Harrison for his efficiency, but he had never really liked him.

"I wasn't aware of that," he said aloud. "But I'm sure it has no bearing on this present case."

"I think it has, Captain," Dirk said earnestly. "I'm of the opinion that Doctor Harrison would not have been averse to signing the death certificate but for the fact he had known the dead woman, and incidentally myself. And apart from the fact that he wasn't called in until too late, has he any other reason for not signing the certificate?"

The Captain made another awkward "hum, hum" noise in his throat. "I'm afraid so, Mr. Hanson. Doctor Harrison is of the opinion that some pills other than the heart pills prescribed may have been given to Mrs. Featherstone last night. He suggests that there should be an autopsy once we reach Kingston. Naturally," ly since he makes the charge, he cannot do this himself."

"You mean he thinks that either Val or I may have poisoned Aunt May?" Dirk said in a startled voice.

"Hum, hum," the Captain said again. "He doesn't suggest exactly that, Mr. Hanson. He merely says that as things are he doesn't feel able to sign the certificate."

"But Mrs. Featherstone couldn't possibly have been poisoned!" Val broke in in a low, taut voice. "She was only given the pills Doctor Mangin, her home physician, had prescribed."

The Captain consulted his notes once again. "But I understand you didn't give them to her, Nurse."

"No. I asked Mr. Hanson to give them to her while I was loosening the bed covering at her feet and afterwards had started to go for Doctor Harrison when Mr. Hanson called me back."

The Captain leaned forward and asked earnestly, "But can you swear, Nurse Allison, that the pills Mr. Hanson gave your patient were the heart pills it was customary for her to take?"

"Of course they were."

"You saw the bottle yourself?"

Val felt the nightmare closing down over her again. "No, but I told Mr. Hanson the color of the label on the bottle and asked him to find them for me."

"Mr. Hanson brought the pills to you at once?"

Her face whitened. "Not quite at once."

"In opening the bottle I spilled the pills and had to hunt them out from the bottom of the medicine bag," Dirk spoke in his usual easy way.

"But, Captain," Val said, "there was no poisonous substance of any sort in the medicine case."

The Captain looked even more uncomfortable before he said gruffly, "Doctor Harrison is of the opinion that if Mrs. Featherstone was poisoned, the poison may have been carried on Mr. Hanson's person," he said tautly.

ICE STAR IN SOFTBALL SLUGGER

MONTREAL (U)—Doug Harvey hit hard on the ice and on the diamond. The star of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League also is the cleanup hitter for the Canadian softball team. The team has been playing in Quebec during the summer. Proceeds of the games go to charity.

STRETCHING A POINT

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (U)—Miss Marjorie Smith, retiring after 46 years of teaching kindergarten, had this to say in a departing note:

"If parents wanted to do just one thing to make kindergarten teachers appy, they'd buy balloons big enough for their children to put on and take off by themselves."

Cheery Breakfast Features Soup

Junior-styled breakfast that looks like fun—and is—features cream of celery soup topped with the new jumbo-sized shredded wheat, cheese-flavored biscuits, and a saucy apple-faced clown! The cream soup, made with milk, forms the basis for a breakfast that's nutritious and quick as a wink to fix—so it's easy on Mother! And it's sure to appeal to even the fussiest youngsters, for it presents the foods children like, just the way they like 'em.

Blend the canned condensed soup with an equal amount of milk and heat as usual, then top with the Shredded Wheat Juniors. To make the clown's face on a rosy-red apple, cut away a crescent-shaped piece of skin for the mouth and add cloves for the eyes and nose; perch an ice-cream cone on top for the hat.

Quick Cheery Biscuits
1 pkg. (8 oz.) refrigerated biscuits
2 teaspoons butter
2 tablespoons grated cheese (about)

Package of biscuits and arrange on baking sheet. Place a small sliver of butter on the top of each one and sprinkle with some of the grated cheese. Bake in preheated oven as directed. Makes 8.

Florida Non-Farm Employment Takes Jump Last Month

TALLAHASSEE—Florida non-farm employment took a 9,500 jump in September as business began to react to fall's increasing activity, reports James T. Voelle, Industrial Commission chairman.

At 953,000, employment stood at 45,000, or five per cent ahead of a year ago, Voelle said. Unemployment, at the same time, was estimated at 49,400, 4,400 or 8.2 per cent below September of 1955.

The September employment gain of five per cent over the year ago level is running about in line with the average experience of previous months this year. However, the one per cent increase over August estimates did not quite reach seasonal expectations.

Factory workers averaged 40 1/2 hours a week on the job, and their hourly earnings rose one cent from August to $1.57 an hour, 16 cents above September of last year. Their average weekly pay amounted to $63 1/4, 41 cents above August and $53 1/2 above last September.

Florida Forests Play Large Role In State Economy

PENSACOLA (Special)—With two thirds of her land area clad in trees, Florida has enough standing sawtimber to provide nearly all the building and construction needs of the entire nation for a year.

And the Sunshine State produces more than half the nation'sypress lumber, ranks second in production of wood pulp and is fifth in output of paper and paperboard.

These facts are contained in the 1955 edition of Florida Forest Facts, just released by the Florida Forest Industries Committee, state sponsor of the industry-operated American Tree Farm System of private timberland management.

The importance of the state's forests to its thriving economy is emphasized by the facts book, which states that more than one fourth of all industrial employees in Florida work in wood-using mills and plants. These 33,000 people earn some $48 million annually and produce commodities worth nearly $268 million.

In addition, Florida farmers sell $3,500,000 worth of timber from their woodlots to these plants annually, and thousands of other persons depend indirectly upon the forest industries for their livelihood.

Though northern Florida is the most important timber-producing section, each of the state's 67 counties has some forest land and more than half the area of 84 counties is forested.

Florida presently leads the nation in Tree Farm acreage with well over four million acres enrolled in the industry-operated program to grow timber as a crop on privately owned, taxpaying for-

Onetime Polio Victim Is Now Helping Others

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—An attractive blonde—once a polio victim, now vibrant and brimming with optimism—has started what might well prove to be a happy revolution among the nation's 23 million handicapped persons.

She has performed visible miracles among more than 100 handicapped people by treating them with the sweetest medicine of all—just having fun together.

Mrs. Janet Pomeroy has proved to them that they can go swimming, fly kites, ride horseback, write and stage plays, paint with their toes if their hand won't work, dance with their arms if their legs won't work and go on all night camping trips.

But most of all she has instilled in them such confidence that they go bravely with her to college classes studying the problems of the handicapped and answering questions put to them by the students. She has them facing up to society and laughing off rebuffs.

Mrs. Pomeroy directs San Francisco's Recreation Center for the Handicapped, believed to be unique in the nation.

Her philosophy is that there are ample facilities in the nation to treat and educate the handicapped but most of the 23 million still are left lonely, ostracized by society or by their own reticence.

About six years ago she was teaching in a school for handicapped. One of her students Bob had been in a wheel chair all his life.

Mrs. Pomeroy organized a pantomime play. She wanted Bob to be Father Time, to wheel his chair across stage, carrying a sign denoting the passage of time.

Bob got to thinking about that. Father time should stride across the stage. Bob stunned his parents by suggesting they buy him crutches and braces.

Six months later Bob walked slowly on crutches across the stage while witnesses of the little drama within a drama choked with emotion in the wings. Bob has been walking on crutches ever since.

Mrs. Pomeroy has been pushing the idea ever since. It actually has been going strong for only two years since the San Francisco Guild for Crippled Children decided to gamble on an enterprise costing $1,900 a month.

Already the excitement of success is spreading. Six publishers have been preparing Mrs. Pomeroy for a book on methods. It is due out soon. San Francisco State College, which has a special department studying handicapped problems, is planning a documentary movie.

Average Citizen's Income Increase Small Compared To Growth Of Taxes

More than a quarter billion dollars will pour into the coffers of the State of Florida during the fiscal 1956 year, according to a recent release from the Florida Taxpayers Association.

Actually, the figure should be a third billion dollars since the projected figure for 1956 tax revenues comes to $366,216,523.

There was a time when all one could hear from political sources was the cry "efficiency and economy" in government. And as soon as the dust from the campaigns wear off we settle back down to the routine of hearing exorbitant figures quoted along with various undertakings of the state.

There is a limit to the burden a taxpayer's pocketbook will stand. And the pressure is gauged by the steadily growing cost of living. A penny added here and another there soon cuts in to the overall "take home" pay of any worker, be he a laborer, skilled man, professional, white collar employee, or businessman.

Day by day there are burdens added to the shoulders of the man or woman who must carry the biggest load — those whose salaries are considered "average". For instance, the recent increase in gasoline tax to construct the federal highway system, the increase in tax on automobile tires, and other bites on automobile necessities.

It has come to the point where an automobile cannot be considered a luxury item — it is a necessary evil in the carrying out of daily tasks, either as transportation to and from work or as a means of actually performing the duties of his or her obligations as an employee.

Nevertheless, there is a point already reached where something must be done to assist the person who spends his money — as well as giving aid and comfort to those who receive it in the form of taxes.

There is not one person who does not want to receive the best in services from government — and there is not one who would say "Let someone else pay for it" — but, as we have already brought out, the burden can only reach so far and one.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
And the Lord spoke unto you out of the midst of the fire.—Deut. 4:12

Voters To Decide If County Should Have Home Rule

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The voters of Florida will decide Nov. 6 whether populous Dade County should have home rule.

It is one of 11 proposed constitutional amendments on a long general election ballot.

Though the matter affects only Dade County, it involves an amendment to the state Constitution and therefore must be approved by a majority of those voting on it at the general election.

If ratified, the amendment will permit the voters of Dade County to decide for themselves many matters which now must be embodied in so-called "local bills" and submitted to the Legislature.

However, Dade County still would have to pay into the state treasury the same amounts as at present and would not be able to take local action on matters affecting the schools and courts. It still would be governed by all general laws and constitutional provisions applying to all of Florida's 67 counties.

The voters of Dade County would be empowered to adopt a home rule charter under which the County Commission would be the county's governing body. This charter could include authority for changing the boundaries of, abolishing or consolidating Dade municipalities and could provide a method under which functions of any municipality could be transferred to the Dade County Commission.

The home rule charter would be prepared by a metropolitan charter board and presented to the voters of Dade County for their ratification or rejection. Later amendments could be made only by Dade voters.

There is authority in the constitutional amendment proposal for the charter to include a provision changing the name of Dade County. During legislative discussion of the proposal, it was mentioned that some people feel the county should be known as Miami — its principal city and county seat — instead of Dade.

If the name is changed, it will be the first time since 1861 that an established Florida County has been given another name although many new counties have been formed since that time. In 1861 Baker County was formed from part of New River County and the remaining portion had its name changed to Bradford.

Should the amendment be approved, Dade will be the first Florida county to have home rule. The experiment would be watched with interest by other large counties, which also must have a number of local bills enacted for their benefit at each session of the Legislature.

Other amendment proposals to come before the voters Nov. 6 include: A revision of the judicial article of the Constitution which would provide three appellate courts to handle many of the cases now set by the Supreme Court, require all justices and judges to retire at age 70, make the chief justice of the Supreme Court administrative head of the state's judicial system and provide for the Supreme Court to regulate admissions to the bar and disciplining of attorneys.

A provision which would enable the Legislature to call itself into extra session on petition of one-fifth of the members and subsequent approval of three-fifths of the members.

A provision under which the state Senate would have a member from each of the 67 counties instead of 38 members elected from districts as at present, and House membership would be increased from 95 to 135.

A provision under which school superintendents could be appointed instead of elected in Dade, Duval, Pinellas and Sarasota counties. The appointive plan would have to be ratified by the counties involved either at special elections or through legislative local bills before going into effect.

after that, will break under the strain. As has been emphasized from time to time, taxes have increased 600 per cent in 11 years. The "average citizen's" income has increased only a small portion in comparison.

The big service that can be rendered now is not "how much more" can we get in taxes, but how can we now "best serve the man who is paying the bill."

Over a million dollars a day is pouring into the tax revenue coffers of our state — increases in revenues amounted last year to over $45 million — and Florida hasn't stopped growing.

Our growth can be hampered by an overburdening tax structure.

Economy — efficiency — lower overhead — a sound, prosperous future — all can become loud rumblings from all over the state. But this time, accompanied by action.

Medical Advances

Americans are living longer, due in large part to the notable advances that have been made in the practice of medicine. And that has brought about special problems which existed only in minor form in past times.

This fact is fully realized and recognized by the medical profession. A short time ago the American Medical Association's Committee on Aging adopted a series of objectives: 1. To explore problems connected with the medical, biological, psychological, and social aspects of aging. 2. To collect data concerning early maintenance, fatigue control and the preservation of specific motivation. 3. To promote research in these areas. 4. To inform the medical profession of the availability of information regarding the aging process. 5. To stimulate medical society interest in the problems of aging. 6. To impress upon the practicing physician the important role he can play by assuming community leadership to enrich the lives of older citizens.

It is not enough that we prolong life — along with that, we must seek ways to make life happier and fuller for the aged. This is not, of course, solely a medical problem but by any means, but the medical profession can and will play an exceedingly important role, to the benefit of untold tens of millions of human beings.

Wages At All-Time High

The wages of American workers are at an all-time high — measured both by the total national payroll and by the average paycheck. American workers get more of the good things of life. In return for less labor, than do the workers of any other country.

These statements are simply truisms, known to all. But there is more to the story still — an important part of the story that wage figures alone can't tell. A survey made of one thousand companies, covering the year 1955, shows that fringe benefits (pensions and insurance, vacations and holidays) average a whopping $819 per employee.

Never in history and nowhere else on earth have the financial fruits of enterprise been so widely or so fairly shared as in this country. And the capitalist system has done it.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

In Tallahassee, shoppers don't say, "charge it," they say, "bill the bank." It means the same thing but it is much simpler for both shoppers and merchants, and at the same time it makes folks appreciate the importance of the local bank to the community.

Instead of carrying separate charge accounts with a number of different stores each with a different identification card, they now carry one "charge card" and the merchant bills his customer through the Lewis State Bank.

At the end of each month, the bank in turn totals the various purchases and bills the customer or charges his account with the amount of his purchases although they may have been made in a dozen different stores.

It builds good will for the bank and at the same time saves both merchants and purchasers a lot of time and bother. They let the bank do the bookkeeping and billing and on the first of the month instead of having the mail man stagger to their door with a flock of individual bills, all of their charges for the month are paid from the bank and charged to their account. It is as simple as that.

Known as the "bill the bank" plan, it has proven extremely popular with every one and now the Lewis State Bank is handling over 7,000 charge accounts in cooperation with customers and 223 local merchants are participating in the plan. A customer with his "charge the bank" card may walk into any one of these 223 stores, purchase what he needs and the merchant will "charge it" through the bank.

Prior to the inauguration of this plan if a person wanted to open a charge account with a local merchant he would have to have his credit carefully investigated and if accepted would be issued an account. If he traded with fifteen or twenty stores he would have a charge account at each store and at the end of the month he would receive 15 or 20 different bills each of which called for the issuing of a similar number of personal checks. Now the credit department of the bank does the investigating and if a person is approved they are issued a central charge plan, "bill the bank" card that is good for credit at almost any store in town.

In order to take advantage of the plan a person does not necessarily have to have a checking account at the bank. Anyone can apply and if their credit is satisfactory they will be issued an identification card.

The account can be paid in two different ways. If a customer elects to pay charges in full by the 10th of the following month, he has a 30 day charge account with absolutely no cost for the service.

The second plan is the revolving or six month account. Upon receipt of his bill the customer may pay one sixth of the amount and a one per cent service charge on

Courting Presidency, Girl Similar

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato: Courting the presidency of the United States is a lot like courting a girl.

Courtship often has these three stages:

1. The bashful beau is introduced to a girl everybody says is the belle of the neighborhood, but all he can see is her warts. 2. He discovered she is truly noble, so noble he couldn't possibly ever be worthy of her, so he might as well say farewell.

3. Then he sees another guy ask her for a date, and immediately the reluctant suitor becomes a besieging tiger. Now she is not only the most desirable girl in the world—he is sure he is the one lad in the county who can make her happy. And he wants to climb a mountain or swim an ocean to prove it.

And doesn't a political candidate's romance with the presidency sometimes go through the same three stages?

Both Dwight Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson went through the bashful beau stage and the I-ant-the-guy-for-such-a-great-guy job stage before 1952, when they finally got down to the third, or brass tacks stage.

Today they're in a brass knucks the unpaid balance which is payable within six months. Newcomers to the community find it especially convenient for it is often difficult for a stranger in a community to establish credit with a number of merchants. Thanks to the "bill the bank" plan, they can quickly secure a credit card that will serve them for almost any purchase they may wish to make whether it be for a Band Aid at the drug store or a tank full of gas at their Amoco station.

Talk to Tallahassee merchants and you will find them enthusiastic over the plan. They find it saves everybody time and trouble and as more and more people are adopting it it solves a lot of problems.

Many people who never did any business with the bank are now regular customers and everyone seems happy about the whole thing.

return engagement. Who would have thought only six years ago that these two fine men, so dubious then even of dreaming for the presidency, would now be clobbering each other for the right to that job, like two kids trying to get the last piece of cake at a birthday party?

"It's a mystery to me why anybody even takes the job," many a voter says. "I wouldn't take it for twice the dough." That's what he says. But if 10 of his neighbors told him he'd make a good president he'd begin to wonder. If 100 told him the same thing he'd begin to believe it himself. If 1,000 told him this—even as a joke—he'd pawn his motor car to raise funds to launch his campaign.

That's the odd thing about "Political fever." Under the right conditions anybody can be infected by it—from a vegetarian to a general, from a lady reformer to a lawyer.

Just why no one knows. For if courting the presidency is like courting a girl, winning the presidency is like marrying a jealous woman with 169 million in-laws, all of whom think they have a claim on you.

The president is supposed to hold the most powerful office in the world, but he can't even buy a necktie or drop in to see a movie by himself.

Whenever he gets up to make a speech, he can't forget that since 1865 the odds are about 1 to 4 that some lunatic will take a potshot at him during his term in office, and about 1 to 7 that the bullet will kill him.

Can he avoid the realization that whether he is wise or stupid, fair or biased, kind or vindictive—whatever he does or doesn't do—nearly every official act he performs may win him friends but is likely to make him enemies?

In a democracy every individual is a pressure unit, and the president is like a puppet, being tugged in a vast spotlight, being tugged this way and that by 169 million strings, one for each of us.

The money? It's only $150,000 a year, taxed, plus $40,000 to entertain dull people like ambassadors. Elvis Presley will make $1,000,000 this year, and folks don't mind if if he tries to sing while he works. But can you imagine what people would say if a president sang the job like Elvis Presley?

From the standpoint of leading a normal carefree human life, the winner in the Nov. 6 election will be the loser, the loser will be the winner.

But the defeated man won't feel that way. Those who have wooed and lost the presidency often are more bitter than those who have merely loved and lost a woman.

"Long ago I proposed that unsuccessful candidates for the presidency be quietly hanged, as a matter of public sanitation and decorum," wrote H. L. Mencken. "The sight of their grief may have a very evil effect upon the young."

The suggestion has no merit this year. Hanging won't be necessary. Whether the loser be like or Adlai, the prospect is that he will be politically buried, finally and forever.

Navy's Aircraft Carriers Stocked With Atomic Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice Adm. William V. Davis, deputy chief of naval operations for air, said that the Navy's aircraft carriers are "stocked with atomic weapons."

Davis also said in a speech to the aviation Writers Assn. that the Navy's carrier planes and crews "to the last degree" are trained and equipped to carry and handle atomic bombs.

Davis declared the Navy has under development a 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile capable of being launched from submarines and surface vessels.

"The Navy will have an ICBM in the very near future," he said. Davis said the Navy has "atomic anti-aircraft weapons such as the Lulu" capable of destroying a submarine within miles of its underwater explosion—compared with a destructive range in terms of feet for conventional depth charges.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TOUGH OLD COOT got fed up with having the wife rifle his pockets every night so he captured a couple of rattlesnakes and slipped one deep into each pants pocket before climbing into bed.

His wife strolled in some minutes later, looking mighty riled.

"Been digging for my money again, hey?" he asked with elaborate unconcern.

"Yeah, but you're even more broke than usual," she complained. "I looked in both your pockets and there's not a thing in them but snakes."

A kindly warden summoned a long-term prisoner and said, "Jov, frankly, you've got me concerned. You're the only one here who hasn't had a visitor this year. Haven't you any relative who cares about you?" "I got lots of 'em, Warden," maintained the prisoner, "but all of 'em's tight in here for longer stretches than me!"

Collegiate Echoes

Real school spirit prevailed throughout the Stetson Wofford game last Saturday night although they came out the underdogs. There was quite a large cheering section of Sanford folks — of course rooting for Jim Hawkins who did himself proud by making good two out of three conversions. One Sanford folk over for the game were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Redding, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Monteith, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Milam, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stinecipher, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kratzert, Evie and Rose Kratzert, Mrs. F. E. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cowley, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hawkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim River. Also Tommy Wyatt, freshman at FSU, was there as the guest of Harriet Redding.

The halftime show included maneuvers by both the Stetson and Wofford bands. Wofford took the first seven minutes and their show consisted mainly of the playing of pop tunes which everyone went wild over. Stetson's show included the forming of the letters H as a word of greeting for both schools, the letter W for Wofford, and a traditional block S for Stetson. Snappy marches were played throughout the show which culminated with the Alma Mater.

Stetson Homecoming

Homecoming plans at Stetson have shifted into high gear as students making preparations for the annual celebration November 24. Student committees are working on the barbecue, stadium decorations, parade, house decorations, registration, a pep rally, and card stunts for the game. The theme has been set as "Proverbs of Progress."

The program will get under way Thursday night with the presentation of the first Stetson Theatre production, "Time Out For Ginger" which will also be presented Friday and Saturday nights. At the same time tryouts will be held in Elizabeth Hall for skits to be presented at "Hatter Howler" on Friday night. Three fraternities and three sororities will be selected to present skits to the student body and alumni.

Activities will resume on Friday afternoon as the fraternities and sororities hold their meetings from 3 to 5 p.m. At 9:00 p.m. "Hatter Howler" will be held in Elizabeth Hall followed by a pep rally led by the cheerleaders.

The Homecoming parade will begin at 9:30 on Saturday morning from North Hall and will proceed to the football stadium. Nine floats, seven bands, an Army personnel carrier, a squad of infantry in full combat equipment and guided missiles from the Air Force Base are included in the line up.

At 11:00 the Homecoming will be held in the Forest of Arden. Then at 2:00 p.m. the pre-game ceremonies will begin at the stadium. Kickoff time of the game between Stetson and Carson-Neuman will be at 2:30. Halftime events will consist of the playing of seven bands led by former Stetson students, introduction of the Homecoming Mayor and Hostess, and presentation of trophies for the band decorations, floats, and skits.

Among the bands participating in these halftime ceremonies and the parade will be the Seminole High School Band under the direction of E. H. Cowley, Stetson alumnus.

Another item of special interest to Sanfordites is that John Todd, senior at Stetson and the son of the Todd's of Todd's Restaurant in Sanford, has been nominated by his fraternity, Lambda Chi Alpha, for Homecoming Mayor. We congratulate John for having been nominated for this position of such high honor.

Coff Homecoming

A full program of entertainment for thousands of visitors is under preparation at the University of Florida now in anticipation of Homecoming November 23 — on the "Greatest Show" which is this year's theme. This year there is the usual preparation for the street parade, a series of skits for the Gator Growl, open house all around the town, and many other planned events on and off the campus.

"Show Business" is the theme for the Gator Growl to be held Friday night at the football sta-

Marilyn Monroe Finds Queen 'Warm' Person

LONDON (U-P)—A nervous Marilyn Monroe was presented to Britain's Queen Elizabeth II Monday night and found the monarch a "very warm" person.

"She radiates a wonderful womanly essence and softness," said the actress.

The introduction came at the annual royal command film performance where members of the royal family met a group of international film stars.

"How do you like living in Windsor?" the Queen asked Marilyn.

The startled actress blinked, said "What?" then hastened to add, "I thought we lived at Englefield Green."

"Oh, we're neighbors," said Queen Elizabeth, explaining that Englefield Green, where the actress and her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, have rented a large manor, is near Windsor Castle.

The Queen and the film star, both 30, also chatted about the film Marilyn is making in England, "The Sleeping Princess."

Queen Elizabeth stopped to talk with each of the stars in the line. She was followed down the row of movie personalities by her sister Princess Margaret.

Marilyn's nervousness was shared by other members of the movie group. Said veteran Joan Crawford: "I've never been so scared in all my life. Anyone want to buy a stomach cheap?"

Victor Mature reported he was so nervous he couldn't remember one thing the Queen said to him. The movie shown at the performance was "The Battle of the River Plate." It centers on the fight between the German battleship Graf Spee and three British cruisers off the South American coast in 1939.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA COON

With the school carnivals, P. T. A. meetings, Halloween, and going away parties, everyone in town is busy, and very few of them are at home to supply me with the vital facts for this column.

Betty and Frank Johnson are not leaving as early as expected. They will go to Kansas on the tenth of November, then to Norfolk, Virginia. Betty will drive back to Sanford, and Frank will join her here for Christmas. In the interim he expects to make a trip to Europe. I hear that Betty has a fabulous new hair cut that defies description. In other words, it's short.

So sorry to hear of the death of Bill Barron's father, Bill, Ruth, and their two children left for Texas immediately on ten day leave. They will be back next week.

Attention Station wives! Don't forget the luncheon and card party at the B. O. Q. Thursday at 12:30. Sally Love and Dot Leary are the hostesses.

Favron 31 will have a cocktail party Friday, November second at the B. O. Q. Time will be from six until eight.

Wall and Beryl Swinson have orders to Hawaii. Much as we hate to lose them, we are happy for them. They will be joining Walt's brother and Beryl's sister (married to each other, on that lovely island since Walt has only a short leave before retiring, this will be a pleasant way to end his Navy career. Beryl will be missed in many ways, and I especially will always remember her patient instruction on the golf course.

Ernie Harrel of VAHS made Commander, we are pleased to report.

A neighborhood party was held in Grove Manor Sunday night at the home of Ernie and Skip Harrel. Steaks were cooked on the patio, but eaten inside because of the snap in the autumn air. After dinner those assembled watched the gyrations of Elvis Presley and played games. Attending were John and Spook Hook, Doris and Fran Francisco, the Fairheads, the Lilehows, the Tummins, the "Bee-Brainies," the Hodges, and Polly Brubaker.

Our hearts go out to the families of the men lost in Saturday night's crash of a plane in VAHS. There are no words to speak, we can only offer our prayers, and the aid which each wife in VAHS and the other units can perform their daily duties, as well as providing comfort in the face of tragedy, and for this they are much admired. We are proud to say that the families are receiving every attention possible to ease the grief, from not only the Navy, but also our friends in Sanford.

CLEANLINESS CONTINUES GOOD COMPLEXION CARE

The greatest blessing you can bestow on your teenager is to instill daily cleanliness habits, that become so automatic they're never slipped. Soap alone has a wonderful antiseptic effect, and regular soap-and-water treatment often corrects and prevents a blotched complexion.

Worthy Grand Matron Of O.E.S. Honored With Banquet Saturday

Mrs. Ethel L. Dobson, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Florida, O.E.S., was the guest of honor at a banquet held at 8:00 p.m., October 27th at the Sanford Shrine Club.

The banquet hall was tastefully decorated by the Past Matron's Club with the chosen colors of red, white and green. The center piece on the guest table was an arrangement of red roses in a low silver loving cup. Toastmaster was Mr. P. H. Wyatt, Worthy Patron of Seminole Chapter, No. 2.

Mrs. Eloise Pfeiff, accompanied by her Mother, Mrs. Snyder, sang two selections, "Faith Is the Key that Unlocks the Door" and "Bless This House." As a loving tribute to his father and Mother, Tommy Wyatt, freshman music student at FSU, in his usual talented manner played two piano selections, "First Movement of Haydn in E Minor" and "Clair de Lune."

Scroll favors were given to the 91 guests present. The turkey dinner was prepared and served by Mrs. Robert Gatchel.

Following the banquet the group went to the Masonic Hall, where an O.E.S. Meeting was held in Mrs. Dobson's honor. The Chapter room was lovely in its simplicity of red and white gladiolus arrangements. Placards with the Worthy Grand Matron's motto "Peace, Harmony, and Love" were displayed in the West. Prior to the opening of the meeting, the Rainbow Girls of the Sanford Assembly, directed by Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, had a courtesy drill and presented Mrs. Dobson with a bouquet of red roses.

After the Chapter was opened by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. P. H. Wyatt, the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Ethel Dobson, and the Worthy

Friendship League, Ethel Root Circle To Host 'Caravan'

On Nov. 7, the members of the Friendship League and the Ethel Root Circle of the Congregational Christian Church of Sanford will be hostesses to a "Caravan" of delegates from the Federation of Congregational-Christian Women of Florida.

This group includes representatives from Cocoa Beach, Winter Park, Tavara, Mount Dora, Sanford and Melbourne.

The meeting will start at 10:30 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Some of the delegates will give talks during the morning and at 12:30 a covered dish luncheon will be served.

In the afternoon, Miss Jennie Dodge, a world traveler and speaker for the National Federation of Congregational-Christian Women, will give the address.

Catholic Women's Club Slates Meet

The Catholic Women's Club will meet Monday, Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. in the Elks Clubroom.

There will be a plastic word display shown. This is not a demonstration, but items shown may be purchased if desired.

Any ladies interested in joining are urged to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

World Community Day Program Told

The program for World Community Day to be held at the First Christian Church at 2:30 p.m. has been announced and is as follows:

Mrs. N. V. Farmer, organist, will play the prelude "Souvenir," after which there will be guided silent meditation followed by the call to worship.

The responsive reading will be led by Mrs. Gramkow, following which a panel composed of CWP president, Mrs. W. H. Young, Keywoman, Mrs. Bosary and visiting president, Mrs. Perry L. Stone will hold a discussion on the topic "United We Move Forward."

The women of the Methodist Church will give the presentation and dedications of gifts and offerings, followed by the singing of the hymn "Where Cross the Crowded Ways".

The meeting will close with the Benediction and Postlude.

The Worship Center is planned and executed by the women of the Congregational Christian Church.

The users are women of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church.

All parcels for peace are to be brought to the church accompanied by the eight cents per lb. for shipping expenses. These parcels to include warm clothing for children, and especially for men and boys over 16, blankets and yard-lages of denim for work clothing.

A blend of pineapple and grapefruit juices may now be had canned. Nice served with some mint sprig!

W.S.C.S. Schedules Bazaar For Nov. 15

The First Methodist Church will sponsor its annual bazaar on Thursday, Nov. 15, beginning at 2 p.m.

A turkey dinner is to be served and will continue until 8 p.m.

All reservations for the supper must be in by Nov. 12. Tickets are available at the First Methodist Church office on Park Ave.

Baptist Women Hold Group Study Of New Year Book

Baptist women of the 34 Missionary Societies in Seminole Association will unite for a group study of the new 1957 Year Book at the First Baptist Church, Sanford, at 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. Monday, Nov. 5.

The session will be a study of the new Woman's Missionary Union method for the coming year's work. Miss Josephine Jones, State Woman's Missionary Union Executive Secretary of Jacksonville, will lead the discussion class.

Women of all Baptist Churches in the Association are invited and a covered dish luncheon will be served at noon. A nursery will be provided.

Uoff Is Preparing For Homecoming Events Nov. 2-3

GAINESVILLE—Banners are flying and the brightest orange and blue welcome mats are being laid out as the University of Florida prepares to throw "the world's greatest show" for alumni and friends at Homecoming next weekend (Nov. 2-3).

At the residence halls on campus and at nearly all fraternities and sorority houses, the sounds of hammers and saws can be heard and the smell of fresh paint is in the air as students begin construction of elaborate decorations and scenes that will deck the fronts of their houses.

Amidst jungles of crepe paper, tinsel and lumber at other parts of the campus, gaily colored floats are being assembled for the opening act of the "world's greatest show"—the Homecoming parade on Friday afternoon (Nov. 2) the floats, with beautiful girls aboard, will line up and take their places among the bands and parading dignitaries as the caravan marches down University Avenue.

Other activities planned for Friday include Florida Blue Key's annual banquet for national, state and campus dignitaries and Tri-son's annual women's homecoming banquet for the ladies.

Following the banquet and topping off Friday's festivities will be the Gator Growl, held annually at Florida Field before captive crowds of students, alumni and guests of the University. The all-student production will carry out a "show business" theme with a "better-than-ever" variety of skills, bands and other acts ending with the traditional fireworks display.

Festivities will begin again Saturday morning with the legal fraternities breakfast banquet, an alumni coffee hour at the Century Tower, open house at the new Medical School and coffee hour held at the various colleges.

Seminole, New Smyrna Game Rated Toss-Up

The Sanford Seminoles will be gunning for their first win of the season Friday night when they take on New Smyrna in New Smyrna. New Smyrna, like Seminole, has not had a successful season. The game will be rated a toss-up, with the Seminoles holding a dubious edge.

Head mentor Bill Fleming said today his charges were responding well, spirits were good, and the team would be "up" for the game Friday night.

"The roughest half of our schedule is behind us now," Fleming said. "We hope to get into the win column this week."

Fleming had particular praise for the performances of Eddie Barbo and Frankie Schmidt on both offensive and defensive play last week against Winter Park. "Jim Warner helped us out, too," Fleming said. Warner, participant in the 1955 All-American football team, was the regular run last week, made the regular run of beginners mistakes, but once he relieved himself of "butterflies" and the nervousness of new responsibility, he played an outstanding game. He was third in defensive tackling.

The team will be at its best strength of the season, barring any injuries this week, and should be able to break the losing streak they have been having for the season.

All present their annual satire on politics and politicians, and following this, state and campus leaders will gather informally for the Alumni Legislative Barbecue.

Florida Field will be the scene of another of the show's main acts when the Fighting Gators meet Auburn's Tigers in a top-rated gridiron battle Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Gators will end their week-long show Saturday night with the F Club dance and concert and presentation of exit and decoration awards in the Florida Gymnasium.

Greyhound Coach Says 'Things Look Pretty Sad'

Out Lyman way the crying towel is flying at half-mast and four of the Greyhound stars are responsible for the drenched receptacle of tears.

Each game has cost the Greyhounds a man for the injury list, and every time one man heals and reports for duty, another falls by the wayside. The Greyhounds, with an early season starting line rated to be the best in independent circles in Central Florida, will face St. Cloud tomorrow night in St. Cloud at their season's lowest ebb.

Asked for a comment on his charges, Greyhound head mentor Jim Payne said, "Things look pretty sad. We're starting some lightweight Sophomores, and our reserves will be some Freshmen. Things are dim right now."

The Greyhounds will be expected to score some 50 points, using comparative scores as an indicator.

Sanford JVs Face Tough Team Today

The Sanford Seminoles JV, making its final home appearance this afternoon in Memorial Stadium, faces Seabreeze B in a game figured to be a toss-up.

Dick Silvers, JV football coach, said his charges will see one of their toughest workouts in JV competition. The game, slated at 4:30, will be the last home appearance for the successful JVs.

The next, and final, game of the season schedule for the JVs will be Nov. 7, when the junior warriors travel to New Smyrna to take on the New Smyrna JVs in a night game.

Eddie Arcaro, whose mounts have won more than one million dollars in each of the past 10 years, entered 1954 with 3,382 winners.

Horse Racing Loses 2 Stars

Its brightest stars in recent weeks, Leslie Combs' Nashua, retired to the leisure of green pastures, and Rex Ellsworth's Swaps, who suffered a lacerated fracture of the cannon bone in a work at Garden State Park.

Both horses performed with distinction at Gulfstream Park, where Nashua splashed home through the mud to win the 1955 Florida Derby, while Swaps set a new world record last Spring in scoring in the mile and 1/4 yards of the Broward Handicap.

A few years ago an injury such as that sustained by Swaps would have signalled the certain end to a gallant colt according to experts, the bone structure of the horse is so brittle that, once shattered, it is impossible to repair. They further argue the thoroughbred system is not equipped by Nature to manufacture calcium in sufficient quantity to heal a broken bone.

Yet because a Cincinnati dentist once saw a race horse shot to death after breaking a leg in a race, there is hope ahead for Swaps. The doctor did not think the situation as hopeless as horsemen insisted, and decided to put his theories into practice one afternoon while attending the races at River Downs, near Cincinnati. During the running of one of the ever-popular named Prince Pine suffered a fractured ankle. A veterinarian had already raised his pistol when the dentist intervened.

"I can save your colt," he told William Crump, trainer of the horse. "Give me a chance."

Crump looked at Prince Pine, heeded the mute appeal in his agonized eyes and turned back to the dentist.

"He's all yours, Doc," he said. Prince Pine's injured leg was encased in dental cement, and the horse spent the next three months suspended off the ground in a hammock sling. When the cast was removed the colt's legs moved straight and true.

He revealed that the bone had knit perfectly, and Prince Pine was again winning races again "the Midwest."

Some years previously Waterbury, one of the best of breed, met the peculiar accident of a fracture of the pelvis bone. He also spent six months strung up in the air, to keep weight off the injury, then in later years defeated every good horse in America in the major stakes.

"Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons, who developed Nashua and guided him to all-time greatness, said that incident and business do not mix in the world of the turf. Yet when Buoyancy, one of his brightest juvenile prospects, stumbled in a morning gallop a few years ago and broke the big bone in a hind leg, "Mr. Fitz" could not bring himself to have him destroyed.

"This colt is going to live," he told veterinarians. "Go to it — and hang the expense."

Other trainers soberly shook their heads. They knew that such horses never recovered, they knew that Mr. Fitz also knew it. Yet he rigged up an elaborate sling, and for several months Buoyancy spent his days "swinging in a hammock." When the sling, and braces were at last removed, Buoyancy was led into the stable aisle, walking as good as new.

SIGNAL PROBLEM By Alan Mavor

EARL 'RED' BLAIK
WHO FACED HIS 16th SEASON AS ARMY COACH WITH THE SAME PROBLEM THAT BESET HIM LAST YEAR—DEVELOPING A QUARTERBACK VIRTUALLY OVER NIGHT.

Stetson Basketball Season Opens Dec. 1

The Stetson Hillstatters, with nine lettermen returning from a team which posted a 17-4 record last year, have started practicing for the basketball season which will open about December 1.

As six of the nine are seniors, Head Coach Dick Morland plans to have a "1955 team" and a "1957 team." He is in the enviable position of having ten or more men of approximately the same ability and can work the "1957 team" as a unit to gain experience for next season.

The returning members of the team who are seniors include Mac Stones, 6-5, 190, Daytona Beach; Frank Laskovic, 6-5, 200; Cleveland, Ohio; Curt Moffett, 6-2, 200, Louisville, Ky.; Dave Howard, 6-2, 175, Cape Girardeau, Mo.; Bill Reynolds, 6-3, 195, Miami, and Dick Layer, 5-9, 160, LaGrange, Ky.

Three others who lettered last year are Jim Kitchen, 6-2, 170, Jacksonville; a Junior, Mel Gregory, 6-1, 175, LaGrange, Ky.; and Don Iverson 6-5, 215, Elburn, Ill., sophomore. Beemer Hoolihan, 6-1, 175, sophomore from Daytona Beach, also is out for the squad this year.

One of three new men who are showing unusual promise is Bob Hearin, 6-3, 190, Junior from Fern Creek, Ky. Hearin played junior college ball with Moffett in Kentucky before serving a tour of duty with the paratroopers. He will play either the front or back court.

Bill Schneider, 6-1, 180, a freshman from Lindenhurst, L. I., who played basketball with the Marine Corps in Korea with Jim Taverniere, a former Stetson star, is out for a guard position.

Jim Richardson, 6-1, 165, who lives in Daytona Beach but who played basketball at Anderson, Ind., is also a candidate for the guard position.

"I believe we have the best all-round material and more depth than I have seen at any college or university in the last ten years," Morland said.

Morland has the same team back this year with the exception of Guard Bobby Crumpton of Jacksonville. Six of the nine men averaged more than 10 points a game for the season and all scored more than 20 points in an individual game.

"IN 1955 BLAIK MADE THE DARING EXPERIMENT OF SWITCHING TO HOLLIDAY ALL-AMERICA END TO QUARTER—IT PAID OFF WITH A 16-0 WIN OVER NAVY."

"THIS YEAR HALFBACK BOB WAGNER GOT THE CALL—AND ONE THING IS CERTAIN—HE'LL BE THE FASTEST QUARTERBACK THE EVER HAD—HOLDING THE SCHOOL RECORD FOR THE 220."

Mississippi football coach Johnny Vaught coached the Ole Miss line in 1954 and the next year he became head coach.

The Chicago Cubs have won 100 or more National League games during four of their 16 pennant winning campaigns. They last won 100 games in 1938 under Manager Charlie Grimm.

The Hi-Hatters last year averaged 90.4 points a game and ranked seventh in the nation among small colleges in total offense. The schedule is about complete, Morland said, and should be ready shortly after November 1.

LIONS' LONG ARM - By Alan Mavor

CLAUDE BENHAM, OF COLUMBIA, OUT TO IMPROVE ON HIS STANDING AS 2ND PASSER IN THE NATION FOR 1955.

"THE LITTLE 5-10, 185-POUNDER IS ONE OF THE ALL-AROUND 'PERFORMERS' IN ACTION. IN 1954 HE CONTRIBUTED 57% OF THE LION OFFENSE. DID THE PUNTING, LED THE TEAM IN INTERCEPTIONS, PUNTS AND KICK-OFF RETURNS, SCORED 5 AND PASSED FOR 7 OF THEM. IN 1955 HE IS SUPPOSED TO BE BETTER."

Beginning early in 1956 Baseball Writers' Assn. of America members of 10 years' standing will select former players for Baseball's Hall of Fame. Previously elections were held annually.

Calumet Farm and G. L. Lorillard both have won the Freshness five times. Lorillard sent out five straight winners, beginning in 1878. Fabius in 1954 was Calumet's fifth victor in the Pimlico stake.

The Blue Hill Country Club at Canton, Mass., used a powerful commercial vacuum cleaner to remove sand, twigs and pebbles from its green during the 1956 PGA championship.

Of the 17 individual football records held by University of North Carolina players, former All-America fullback Charlie Justice holds 12.

Yale has 80 per cent of its undergraduates participating in athletics.

There will be a Day Camp for all Girls Auxiliary members of the Seminole Baptist Association. This camp was originally planned for Nov. 10 but has been changed to Saturday, Dec. 1. It will be held at Herman Morris' MO Ranch near Osteen.

Assisting Mrs. Norman Bennett, Youth Director for the Association and Mrs. John E. Fox, GA Counselor, will be Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cecil Tucker, Seminole County Agent, and Mrs. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Seig and others.

Approximately 100 girls and counselors from Seminole and Volusia Counties are expected to attend.

Baby Pictures Will Provide Mystery At Halloween Party

DEBARY — Baby pictures will provide the mystery tonight when the De Barry Civic Association holds its Halloween Party.

Each member and their friends have been requested to bring baby pictures of themselves which will be displayed. Members and guests identifying the greater number of pictures will be awarded suitable prizes.

Tonight's Halloween Party for the civic association group will be held in the De Barry Civic Association Building beginning at 8 o'clock.

"There will be plenty of fun for everybody," says the publicity chairman for the De Barry Civic Association, "and we are expecting a large turnout for the event."

Tax Books Will Be Open For Payment Tomorrow Morning

John L. Galloway, county tax collector, announced today that the tax statements totaling over 16,000 covering 1956 taxes have been placed in the mails and that the tax books will be open for payment tomorrow morning, Nov. 1.

The general tax roll for 1956 amounts to $1,013,317.79, which is an increase of $32,922 over the 1955 roll and is due to an increase in the millage of two mills and increase in certain valuations," said Galloway.

Those paying their taxes in November will be allowed four percent discount. This discount will decrease one percent per month until March when no amount will be due. On April 1, any tax not paid becomes delinquent and subject to penalties.

Generally about two thirds of the entire tax roll is paid in November when tax payers receive the four percent discount.

Tax payers are urged to mail in remittances for taxes and thus save time by not waiting to wait in line for tax receipts.

Spotlight On Hollywood

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cedric Macrae has his own prescription for release from nervous tension: Sing!

It's as simple as that. Forget the tranquilizers and self-help books. Just sing.

Macrae realizes his formula sounds revoltingly simple and even a little Pollyannaish. But he claims it has worked for him.

"I'll never forget one day when I was a kid, I was singing on my way home," he recalled. "My dad was on the porch and he heard me singing all the way down the block. He told me, 'Son, as long as you can sing like that, nothing can ever bother you.'"

"I've always remembered that. When I worked too hard and I start getting tense, I start singing. It seems to clear my mind and give me strength."

"Most people sing in the bathtub or the shower. Why? Because they feel good; they're getting a fresh, clean start on the day. If they would sing at other times, too, I think they could retain that attitude."

He cited his idol Bing Crosby as an example of the therapeutic value of song. One of Hollywood's most relaxed men, Bing is always bursting into song, largely for his own amusement. Another off-stage singer is Perry Como. You can't get much more relaxed than Perry, and remain conscious.

But you don't need the vocal talent of a Crosby or Como, Macrae argued. Anybody can do it.

THE U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT has its slick Russian-language magazine "Amerika" ready for the Soviet Union, where 32,000 copies will be sold. The first edition of 15,000 sold out in Moscow within half an hour. In return, Americans will have a chance to buy "USSR" (bottom) as the result of President Eisenhower's suggestion at the Geneva Conference for more East-West contact. (International)

Directed by Prof. Kenneth MacKillop Jr., music department chairman, the Tufts production of the famous folk opera, which was first performed by the American Lyric Theater in New York in 1929, will have a chorus of 30 voices, and a 44-piece orchestra.

John Duncan, 44, Dies In Accident

John H. Duncan, 44, died in an automobile accident in Sunbury, Pa. last Friday. He was born in Waycross, Ga., and made his home at 41 East Steel St., Orlando. Mr. Duncan was in the trucking business in Orlando and Sanford.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ira D. Duncan of Orlando; three sons, Billy I. Duncan, Waycross; 13-year-old John H. Duncan Jr. and Robert Duncan, both of Orlando; one daughter, Mrs. Jean Volmer of Orlando; a brother, Brooks Duncan, Jacksonville; and two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Whittle of New Jersey; and Mrs. Mary Lee Henderson, Augusta, Ga.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at Brinson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Oaklawn Memorial Park.

BLAST REMAINS MYSTERY

COCOA R.—A blast last night felt for several miles in all directions from the government's guided missile base on Florida's Atlantic Coast remained a mystery today.

The public information office at Patrick Air Force Base would not comment but the police department here said it was informed a launching was expected about 9:10 p. m. EST, the time the blast was felt.

The base is about 45 miles east southeast of Orlando on Cape Canaveral.

News Briefs

'TREMENDOUS QUARANTINE AREA'

LAKELAND (AP)—T. E. Whitmore, director of the fruit fly eradication program in Polk County, has reported establishment of "a tremendous quarantine area" around Frostproof because of fruit fly finds this week.

Whitmore said the flies have been found in this big Central Florida citrus county in two spots near Frostproof, one near Babson Park and one near here.

MAN DRAWS 5-YEAR PRISON SENTENCE

MIAMI (AP)—Robert E. Terry, 35, drew a five-year prison sentence in Federal Court yesterday on a guilty plea of burglary at two post offices and cashing stolen money orders.

He was arrested with Robert E. Lee, 36, in Vero Beach after returning from a fling in Havana. Postal officials charged they paid for the trip by cashing $14,000 worth of money orders taken from a California post office.

Terry was charged with breaking into post offices at Islamorada and North Miami. Lee is to be arraigned Friday.

OLD CANNON TO BE MOVED

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The state is going to allow an old cannon to be moved from a sunken wreck in the Florida Keys for the benefit of television technicians but it must be returned as soon as possible.

The request was made by Arthur McKee Jr., operator of a sunken treasure museum and holder of a treasure hunting lease in the area. Terms of his lease forbid him to move relics from the wreck.

McKee told the Cabinet a telecast of the shipwreck is planned by CBS on Jan. 20.

INTENSIFIED VOCATIONAL TRAINING PROGRAMS URGED

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Intensified vocational training programs have been urged for Floridians so that new industries coming to the state will be able to find technicians among the home folk.

The recommendation was made by the State Industry Advisory Committee which was told 163 new plants were established in Florida during the first six months of this year.

Committee member Joseph Brenner of Gainesville, Florida, said his company has been forced to bring in technicians from outside the state.

COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

LAKELAND (AP)—The spreading decline committee of Florida Citrus Mutual will meet tomorrow to discuss problems raised by the state program to eradicate the disease.

There have been complaints because the federal government has not paid compensation to growers for good trees destroyed under the program. There also has been concern whether trees full of fruit would be destroyed before the fruit is picked.

Spreading decline is caused by tiny worms which nibble tree roots and gradually kill the tree.

Baptist Chapel Calls Special Meeting Tonight

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—An important business meeting of the Altamonte Baptist Chapel has been called for tonight following the 7:45 Prayer Service.

The special meeting has been called for the purpose of calling a Pastor to replace the Rev. Cecil Baughman of DeLand whose resignation became effective Oct. 14.

Rev. Baughman has served the local Baptist Chapel as its first Pastor, for about one and one-half years, and has resigned to return to school to further his work in the ministry.

The Rev. Paul R. Middleton, Orlando, who has been substitute Pastor here for the past two weeks, will be present for the meeting, which is held in the Sanford building on Altamonte Ave.

Little America Occupants Get 1st Mail In 8 Months

MCMURD SOUND, Antarctica
—A group of 73 snowbound American occupants of Little America No. 5 read their first letters from home in eight months Monday.

Some 500 pounds of mail was flown in Sunday to the base perched on Ross ice shelf some 300 miles east of the McMurdo Sound headquarters for advance units of America's International Geophysical Year expedition to the antarctic.

The mail plane's pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Edward Frankiewicz of Rutland, Vt., said the base where the group spent the subzero winter was so buried in snow it was barely visible. Only the radio towers showed near the station.

The copilot, Lt. Jim Waldron of Chamblee, Ga., said as soon as the plane touched down, a half dozen bearded men rushed up, asking, "Where's the mail?"

The plane brought nine sacks of mail to the isolated base—the first since February.

FINALLY GETS HERE
SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Jack Thompson, a veteran of 23 years service in the U. S. Navy, never set foot on the continental United States until recently.

POOEY! YOU AINT SEEN NOTHIN' YET! OH! HE'S ONLY SUBSTITUTING FOR OUR REGULAR SUBSTITUTE WATER BOY!

YES, I USUALLY PUT UP TWICE AS MUCH FOOD AS I CAN USE!

I FIND IT ALWAYS PAYS TO HAVE PLENTY ON HAND!!

ALL WINTER LONG, NOW, I'LL GIVE AN OCCASIONAL JAR TO DIFFERENT WOMEN UP AN DOWN TH' STREET...

U-M!!

10-31 CHAS. FURNN.

AN EACH JAR WILL BE A REMINDER OF WHO'S TH BEST BURN COOK IN TH' NEIGHBORHOOD!!

IN THE MYSTERIOUS GULCH, SCOUT AND SILVER SUDDENLY PANIC WITH FEAR

STEADY SCOUT!

CALM DOWN SILVER! TAKE IT EASY, BIG FELLOW!

HORSES STILL MUST BE PLENTY AFRAID

WHAT THAT?

SOUNDS LIKE WOMEN SCORING!

DAGWOOD, WHEN ARE YOU GOING TO FIX MY SEWING MACHINE FOR ME?

IT'S BEEN OVER A MONTH SINCE I ASKED YOU TO FIX IT

WELL, CAN I HELP IT IF TIME FLIES LIKE THAT?

YOU MEAN CREEPS ACTUALLY DAVEN YOU TO DATE DOREEN WHILE HE'S AWAY?

SURE!

HE FIGURES THAT'LL KEEP THE OTHER GUYS AWAY FROM HER TILL HE GETS HOME!

BUT WHAT ABOUT ALL THE MONEY YOU'RE SPENDING ON HER?

HE'S GOING TO PAY ME BACK! SEE... HERE'S A LETTER FROM HIM WITH A CHECK!

CLUNK

Dear Willy— Sorry, our date's off! In return for a new check—

I SAW FINGERS SLIP A DIAMOND INTO THAT WOMAN'S BAG—WHY IS SHE PART OF HIS GANG OR?

EXCUSE ME—NONE OF MY BUSINESS—BUT I SAW THAT WOMAN SLIP A DIAMOND INTO HER PURSE.

WAIT UNTIL SHE REACHES THE SIDEWALK—THEN GRAB HER!

QUICK, MARGO! NOW!

WELL, THERE'S LOVES-BOY BACK FROM HIS DATE!

LOOK AT THAT SMILE!

WOO! WOO!

HOW WAS YOUR DATE, KILLER? DID YOU GET A KISS?

WHAT'S THIS ABOUT OUR GETTING INTO MING'S WAR CAMP, ZARKOV?

THE WHOLE POINT OF OUR ARMY FLASH IS TO USE THE PEACE-RAY ON ALL AGGRESSIVE ANIMALS AND END WAR ON MONSO! BUT WE HAVE TO GO SLOWLY...

MING HAS ORGANIZED THE SAVAGE TRIBES OF THE EAST FOR ANOTHER TRY AT CONQUEST! WE'RE SMALL IN NUMBERS—HE COULD WIPE US OUT BEFORE WE GOT UNDERWAY, IF HE KNEW OF OUR PLANS!

UMMM!

BUT WITH THESE TRAVELING SHOWMEN YOU COULD GET INSIDE MING'S CAMP WITH THE RAY, AND THEN MING HIMSELF INTO A PEACE-LOVER!

INSIDE MING'S CAMP? OH NO! YOU CAN COUNT ME OUT RIGHT HERE AND NOW!

HI, BOY!

FEEDS THE HYENA?

YEAH... EVERYBODY FEEDS THOSE CUTIE-LOOKIN' ANIMALS... BUT NOBODY EVER GIVES NOTHIN' TO THAT POOR HYENA!!!

SEE... MANE YOU'VE SPOILED HIM! A LAUGHING HYENA ISN'T SUPPOSED TO CRY!

HE'S CRYIN' FROM HAPPINESS!

Navy Jet Fighter Shoots Self Down

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Evening Sun said Thursday a new Navy jet fighter, flying at supersonic speed, shot itself down by running into cannon shells it had fired seconds before.

In a story by Donald Bremner, the paper quoted the Navy in Washington that the fantastic accident—first of its type in aviation history—occurred last month while a test pilot was firing new 30mm. cannons over the Atlantic Ocean near Long Island.

Bremner said test pilot Tom Attridge was making a series of diving runs Sept. 21 in an F11F, a new single-seat carrier-based fighter still undergoing tests by the Grumman Engineering Aircraft Co.

The article said the Navy gave this account:

The pilot's mission was to reach a certain speed and test the four cannons at that speed by firing them into the ocean.

He put his jet into a shallow dive at a speed of 880 m.p.h. Some 12,000 feet above the water and fired a four-second burst from his cannons. After a pause, he fired another four-second burst.

As he finished the second round of firing, an object shattered the bullet-proof glass in his windshield. Thinking he had rammed a bird, Attridge headed for the field at Peconic River near Calverton, L. I.

But unknown to the pilot, a second shell had pierced his jet engine which died, causing the jet to crash land in a woods a half mile short of the field.

The 33-year-old ex-Navy pilot was hospitalized with a fractured leg and three broken vertebrae.

The battered cannon slug was recovered from the jet engine-proof of what happened.

Tax Council Agrees To Public Hearing

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Citizens Tax Council has agreed tentatively to hold a public hearing early in February before drawing up final recommendations for revision of Florida's tax structure.

The council expects to submit its report to Gov. Collins a month

VERA OSSO, typist at the U.S. Embassy in Prague, arrives at Idlewild Airport, New York, after being expelled by the Communist Czech government. Sheriffs Bureau To Hold School

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Florida Sheriffs Bureau has announced it will conduct its first general law enforcement school for sheriffs and deputies in the House chamber here Nov. 12-16.

Director Don McLeod said the purpose was to give these officers training in modern scientific law enforcement methods. Emphasis will be on criminal investigation.

In the class will be 21 new sheriffs—elect who will be named in the Nov. 6 general election.

On the closing day, Gov. Collins will present certificates to members of the class who successfully complete the course.

Members of the faculty will include special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Asst. Atty. Gen. George Owen, state attorneys and solicitors and members of the staff of the sheriffs bureau and highway patrol.

before the 1957 Legislature convenes in April.

Council members reported county tax councils are well underway with their studies in most counties. The small groups are due to submit reports to the state council by mid-December.

Ike, Council Review Middle-East Crisis; No Statement Given

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower met for two hours today with National Security Council expanded to include military and civil chiefs of the armed services, in a full-dress review of the Middle East crisis.

The session of the nation's top strategy board opened at the White House at 9 a. m. and broke up just before 11.

Presidential press secretary James C. Huzar, in announcing the end of the meeting, said he had no statement to make.

The Security Council never divulges its deliberations.

Eisenhower ruled out last night the use of American armed forces in the present situation brought about by the Israeli attack on Egypt and British-French intervention.

But the Security Council — the country's top strategic planning agency — has responsibilities reaching far outside the purely military into coordination of diplomatic and economic action.

British and French planes carried on nonstop attacks on Egyptian airfields today and Cairo announced attacking aircraft sank an Egyptian warship in the Suez Canal—blocking traffic and cutting off oil shipping to Europe.

Cairo said British and French warplanes rained Egyptian troops at crossing points along the canal and in the operation sank the Egyptian warship Akka in Tinnis Lake just south of Ismailia, midway point of the canal.

Britain and France launched military operations against President Nasser's regime last night with the declared purpose of protecting the Middle East Waterway from fighting swirling between Egyptian and Israeli forces in the Sinai desert.

The Egyptians gave out no official information today on the fighting with Israeli troops. But the Israeli claimed Egyptian troops were in retreat and would soon be cut off in the Sinai Peninsula.

Even before Egypt announced blocking of the canal, shipping was reported turning back from its approach because of danger from military operations.

Egypt asked other Arab states to block another source for Middle East oil—the pipelines from the main production centers to Mediterranean ports.

Egypt broke off diplomatic relations with Britain and France. Jordan broke relations with France.

Sanlando Flying Service To Open This Weekend

By MRS. RUTH LAYO

This weekend will mark the official opening of a new flying school, the Sanlando Flying Service, at the Slade Airport in Longwood.

Marshall Sherrill, owner of the Sanlando Flying Service, is a licensed pilot and has been a resident of Florida for the past three years and resides in Maitland. Sherrill's son, Marshall, 29, an Aeronautic Engineer Major at Purdue University, will also be associated with his father at the school. Sherrill Jr. received his pilot license when he was a senior in high school.

Roy Lasater, a native of Florida who resides in Apopka, very well known throughout Florida as a pilot, will also be an instructor at the school. Lasater has approximately 15,000 flying hours to his credit and has taught flying to Florida now holding pilot licenses. Also he has done much of the many of the folks in Central Florida photography that has been done through this section of the state.

Sanlando Flying Service will provide complete instruction starting with the initial ground training, then on to the plane and flying. A student must complete at least six hours of flying before being allowed to solo. Then upon completion of 45 hours of flying time, minimum required for a private license, he will be given tests as required. Upon receiving this license one may fly alone, carry passengers or fly for his own gain or pleasure. However, one cannot carry passengers or engage in any "for hire" activities with a private license. They must continue their training and pass the necessary federal and state examinations.

A designated instructor. Training for a commercial license is also available at the school.

A fleet of planes has been ordered for the school and by the latter part of November there will be three trainer planes available in addition to their other planes making the following services available.

Planes available for licensed flyers who wish to keep and increase their flying hours, also sight-seeing trips have been planned. Another service to be offered will be for grove-owners who would like an aerial inspection of their grove, also an exact tree count can be made. An accurate tree count is quite difficult to obtain.

Chase Re-Elected To Head State Highway Users

S. O. Chase Jr. of Sanford was re-elected president of the Florida State Highway Users Conference yesterday at the annual meeting of the group held in Orlando at which about 30 persons were represented. Proposed restrictions on use of auto license tag money, which would make available an estimated 450 million dollars for highway construction in the next 13 years, will be discussed by various groups before the Florida State Highway Users Conference takes a stand.

They agree, it was said, in general with proposals for presentation to the Legislature but feel they first should be studied on a community level.

The conference represents 63 organizations, including grocers and shopkeepers, gas retailers, hotel and hotel associations, auto clubs and industries.

One of the proposals was for a constitutional amendment prohibiting diversion of auto license tag money from highway purposes.

Tag revenue not allocated to schools is more than 20 million dollars a year in Florida, it was reported.

The proposal said "within the next 13 year period of the development of the interstate system and the constant growth of Florida, it is possible that this portion of the tag money would bring over 450 million dollars for highway construction."

Injunction Hearing Before Judge Today

Nov. 4-10 Named American Legion Week In Sanford

The week of Nov. 4-10 was set aside this morning as "American Legion Week" in Sanford by Mayor F. D. Scott as he called for "the citizens of Sanford to lend their wholehearted cooperation to the American Legion in its activities for the ensuing year."

Mayor Scott, as he proclaimed "American Legion Week" pointed to the origin of the American Legion just after World War I "dedicated to the preservation of the memories and incidents brought about by the association of Americans in the great war."

He also called attention, in the proclamation, that "among the aims of this great organization are to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America, to maintain law and order, to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism, to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, State, and nation, to combat the anti-creed of both the classes and the masses, to make "right" the master of "might", on earth, to safeguard and transmit the principles of justice, freedom and equality and to consecrate and sanctify their comradeship by their devotion to mutual helpfulness."

With Mayor Scott at the time the proclamation was signed was Post Commander Lynn Lyon and Service Officer Carlyle Housholder.

Commander Lyon said that the all-out membership campaign of the Campbell Lassing Post of the American Legion would be conducted during "American Legion Week."

"We are proud of the Campbell Lassing Post American Legion and its accomplishments," said Commander Lyon, "and through these accomplishments we have been able to serve the people of Sanford and this area beyond description."

The local Post Commander stated that "through our membership we are able to complete our projects through the cooperation of devoted men who know what deprivation means to those who need, and it is our hope that we will have the largest membership roster when the climax of American Legion Week is reached."

Post 53 of the Sanford American Legion has such a fine history of civic minded accomplishments, during its first 36 years that to attempt to record any concise record of all this in a short article is of course impossible.

The people of Sanford and Seminole County have, year after year, witnessed the Legion's generous contributions to the Red Cross, Salvation Army, March of Dimes, etc. And the young people of the community have felt the guiding helpfulness of the Legion in its work with the Legion Junior Baseball Team, Boy and Girl Scouts, The Legion's annual School Awards and Boys and Girls State.

The work of the Legion and its Auxiliary do in helping veterans and their families in time of distress is always unending and therefore not generally known.

The Sanford Legion not only is truly a servant of and for the people—The Legion aspires to train its members to serve this County faithfully in all fields of public endeavor and responsibility.

All anyone has to do is to look around him for young men, and often for an "oldster" who are accomplishing big things for better government, for men who are the leaders in time-consuming and often quite thankless philanthropic endeavors and the chances are that you will find the men and women you most admire were Legion trained.

Funeral Tomorrow For C. T. Kent

Columbus T. Kent, 75, died at the Seminole Memorial Hospital at 10:40 a. m. yesterday.

He was born Aug. 9, 1881 in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Kent came to Sanford in 1918 from Atlanta, Ga. and was formerly employed as a machinist with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

He was a member of the Baptist Church of Lake Mary and lived in Lake Mary eight years.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Thraill, Wauchulla; two sons, C. T. Kent of Jacksonville, Lawrence G. Kent of Ft. Pierce; one grandson, Robert Kent of Jacksonville; one granddaughter, Lanita Kent of Fort Pierce; two brothers, J. E. Kent of Cocoa, and D. H. Kent of Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow at Hrisson Funeral Home with the Rev. Ellenwood and the Rev. Gilson, officiating.

Burial will be in Evergreen cemetery, Sanford.

Commission Aspirants Address Jaycees Today

Three of the candidates for the Board of Sanford City Commissioners is the City Election held Tuesday and a representative speaking for another of the candidates, appeared before the Jaycees this afternoon at its noon luncheon meeting.

In a broadcast of the Get-Out-The-Vote meeting held at the Yacht Club, the candidates presented their platforms in their bid for the three seats on the City Commission which will be decided Tuesday.

Those speaking in their own behalf were A. L. Wilson, incumbent, Earl Higginbotham, incumbent, and Merle Warner, speaking for Paul Yates, Jr. was Bob Holly, Yates, the publisher of the Sanford Journal was not present at the meeting. Holly is the editor of the new weekly.

Higginbotham declared that "I have become familiar with the operation of the city and have helped solve some of its problems. More problems are ahead that will help the city grow. I hope to be able to help in any way possible to get more industry, a good street system, a community center, and adequate parking space."

"For this reason," said Higginbotham, "I am offering myself as a candidate for reelection to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners."

A. L. Wilson, who was appointed by the Board of Commissioners to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former City Commissioner Jack Ratigan, said "I landed right in the middle of power franchise developments, budget adoption, capital improvement program, which includes a Sanford Civic Center, new fire station and swimming pool, along with many other discussions concerning progress for the City of Sanford."

Commission Aspirants Address Jaycees Today

With the experience gained from these few months of rapid activity I felt that I was obligated to offer myself as a candidate to succeed myself and for the rest of the unexpired term," Wilson told the Jaycees and radio audience.

"I am vitally interested in the progress of our city and in the projects that are underway and in the future development of our possibilities and resources," he said. "These include a street improvement program, dock and terminals, a water tank for the south side of our city to take care of growth and I believe that these progressive accomplishments are possible with an aggressive City Commission who will work together to attain them without extra burden upon our taxpayers."

Merle Warner, Sanford service station operator told the Jaycees "One thing that I must emphasize is the fact that our city employees must be paid adequate salaries commensurate with their jobs. I

Cleveland Speaking For Board

"I think Mr. Steed has insulted the voters of Seminole County when he says they can't read the special referendum on harness horse racing and determine the difference between it and the constitutional amendments," said County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr., representing the Board of Seminole County Commissioners this morning in a Circuit Court hearing requesting a restraining order on the special referendum to be held in conjunction with the general election next Tuesday.

Jerry Collins, operator of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, surrounded by a battery of attorneys heard Cleveland state statutes and describe the actions of the Seminole County Commissioners in the application by W. R. Kemp, president of Seminole Raceway Park, before the commission for an election to determine the ratification of the permit issued by the Florida State Racing Commission on Aug. 13, 1956.

Nat Turnbull, attorney for Seminole Raceway Park pointed out to Circuit Judge Vassar Carlton this morning that "Jerry Collins, sitting right there, was at the meeting of the Florida Racing Commission and was aware of the granting of the referendum on Sept. 4 of the referendum, but he has elected until this 11th hour to bring such litigation."

Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. earlier told the court that absentee ballots have already been received on the special election, more are coming in and tomorrow is the last day they can be received.

The Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club was represented at the hearing this morning by W. J. Steed and Arthur Steed of the Orlando firm of attorneys Steed and Steed.

Steed, in a lengthy presentation of the 11 page complaint asking for a restraining order against the special referendum on horse track racing included a statement that "They (Seminole Raceway Park) could not be harmed because of the postponement for they do not have any racing dates."

The attorney representing Collins told Judge Carlton "If your honor will grant this restraining order we will go into final hearing within ten days."

Steed contended in his argument "The ballot is not a fair ballot—the law says it should be a special election—and it is now co-mingled with the general election and at the top of the constitutional amendments."

"We have statutory rights," said Steed, "and it is going to cost us some ten thousand dollars to try to defeat this election next Tuesday."

The hearing, requesting a restraining order already stated for Tuesday, was adjourned at 12:30 this afternoon and is being continued at 2 o'clock.

Judge Vassar Carlton is expected to hand down an immediate decision at the conclusion of this afternoon's hearing.

Weather

Fair through Friday; low tonight near 60.

Local American Legion Has Brilliant History

Post 53 of the Sanford American Legion has such a fine history of civic minded accomplishments, during its first 36 years that to attempt to record any concise record of all this in a short article is of course impossible.

The people of Sanford and Seminole County have, year after year, witnessed the Legion's generous contributions to the Red Cross, Salvation Army, March of Dimes, etc. And the young people of the community have felt the guiding helpfulness of the Legion in its work with the Legion Junior Baseball Team, Boy and Girl Scouts, The Legion's annual School Awards and Boys and Girls State.

All anyone has to do is to look around him for young men, and often for an "oldster" who are accomplishing big things for better government, for men who are the leaders in time-consuming and often quite thankless philanthropic endeavors and the chances are that you will find the men and women you most admire were Legion trained.

The list naming such men and women in this community would be too long, for printing here. Suffice it to say, though, that Sanford Legionnaires are very prominent among those who make Sanford and Seminole County one of the better places in Florida in which to live and bring up a family.

The Legion's money which is spent upon The Legion itself ranges from nothing at all—to a very little. The Sanford City Commission and the Seminole County Commission, realizing this, has for years helped The Legion in every way that was properly possible to them.

Where does The Legion get all this money? Well, the main source of income is derived from the hard work of Legionnaires on the Seminole County Fairs. These Fairs allow local business establishments to advertise their products before the eyes of all the people of Seminole County—instead of just to the comparatively few who come into their places of business. And the Fairs afford the populace and their children an outlet for pent-up emotions and pleasure and thrills that their children will remember for months to come.

The number of years of Legion fair work represented by the Officers and Directors of the coming Seminole County Fair amounts to the surprising total of 32 years.

Yes—The Sanford Legion is truly the helpful friend and useful servant of all the people of Sanford and Seminole County.
