Big Crowd Is Expected Tomorrow At Limited Access Highway Hearing

Application Made To Construct Fixed Bridge Across River

Application has been made, according to a notice circulated by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, Office of the District Engineer, by the State Road Department of Tallahassee for a permit to construct a fixed highway bridge across the St. Johns River at the west end of Lake Monroe near Sanford.

The proposed concrete bridge would be approximately 4150 feet long, and would consist of 47 spans. The span over the channel would provide a horizontal clearance of 90 feet between fenders, measured at approximately a right angle to the axis of the channel.

The bridge, said the public notice, (Continued On Page Ten)

Field Days Set For May 15-16

Plans for Field Days for the Central Florida Experiment Station were announced today, according to a letter to all Seminole County vegetable growers mailed from the office of Seminole County Agricultural Agent Cecil Tucker II.

Dr. R. W. Ruprecht has set Wednesday and Thursday, May 15-16 for the two day event. "As you know, considerable work has been carried on by this station over on the Zellwood muck," wrote Tucker in his letter.

On May 15, starting at approximately 1:30 p.m. on the Zellwood Station, vegetable growers will have an opportunity to see and hear about the work conducted by the Experiment Station on muck. Tucker stated "They have been carrying on some interesting chemical weed control plots as well as other variety trials which may be of interest."

The Field Day at the Central Florida Station in Sanford will be May 16 from 9:30 a.m. until noon, at the Experiment Station Farm. Station staff members plan to outline their various accomplishments during the past season. While most of the celery and cabbage plots will be gone by that time, growers will have an opportunity to see such plots as variety tests of corn, cantaloupes, tomatoes, and fungicide trials on cantaloupes, and weed control tests including plastic mulch for cantaloupes.

Growers will also see herbicide trials and variety plantings of blackberries.

Operatic Basso, Ezio Pinza, Dies In Connecticut

STAMFORD, Conn. — Operatic basso Ezio Pinza, who scored his greatest success after he left the Metropolitan Opera House for Broadway musicals, died at his home here today.

Pinza, 65, had suffered three strokes since last August but his death came unexpectedly. Just one week ago the matinee idol's wife said he "was resting comfortably."

Pinza was a star for the Metropolitan for 20 years when he suddenly signed to play the lead in the Broadway musical "South Pacific" opposite Mary Martin. His last musical on Broadway was "Fanny."

He became a "new star" over night—the idol of bobby-soxers, housewives, grandmothers and men of all ages.

Man Finds Tomato On Potato Vine

One of the freaks of plant life seldom seen was brought to the Sanford Herald office this morning.

A. B. Sikes, of 1501 Mellenville Ave., brought in a potato vine with a number of potatoes growing from its roots but from the leafy portion of the plant there were four tomatoes.

Sikes said he noticed the freak of nature when examining the vines this morning.

A capacity crowd is expected to attend tomorrow night's hearing on the proposed route for the federal linked access highway through Seminole County.

The meeting and hearing has been called by Hjalley Odham, chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Long Range Highway Planning Committee, at the Seminole County Court House court room.

Representatives from Altamonte Springs are expected to attend the meeting to protest the route through the center of the community.

Other areas throughout the county will be represented as well as individuals who are slated to protest the one announced route through a highly developed section of the county.

One group, through whose property the highway is slated to be routed, will protest the use of expensive property when a less expensive route can be used.

However, it was reported that the federal and state engineers have already, or are in the process of surveying an alternate route which will take in undeveloped land.

Road Board Member William A. Dial of Orlando, District Engineer R. H. Green, and Federal Engineer H. E. Lewis will attend the meeting.

The three visitors will answer questions regarding the right-of-way and the route to be used by the proposed Interstate Highway System.

It was reported that sketches of the proposed routes will be on hand, the original route in which two curves were included and the alternate route which is a more direct route, will be an hand to view.

An application for a permit to construct a 4150 foot concrete bridge across Lake Monroe has already been made by the State Road Department. The south end of the bridge is reported located approximately two-tenths of a mile east of the Lake Monroe Bridge.

A dinner honoring Road Board Member William A. Dial, District Engineer R. H. Green and Federal Engineer H. E. Lewis has been scheduled for members of the Long Range Highway Planning Committee at Jim Spencers Restaurant at 6:30 p. m. Members will go from the dinner-meeting direct to the Seminole County Court House to attend the hearing.

The entire public has been invited to attend the meeting to ask questions and to either support or protest the proposed routes of the Limited Access Federal Highway through Seminole County.

Boat, Ski Club Meeting Tonight

Crews Learn To Use Survival Equipment

"When the water temperature drops to 35° or 40°, the downed airman can survive for only a few minutes while in the water without his 'Poopy Suit'. Anytime the temperature is below 90° F the 'poopy suit' should be worn."

The squadron is currently instructing flight crews in the operation of their survival equipment.

Flying for long hours over the ocean and operating in remote areas the aircrews know that the instruction received from Chief Aeder in the techniques of survival may mean the difference between life and death.

"The three types of equipment we are testing this week are the MK-4 constant wear exposure suit, the MK-2 life jacket or 'Mae West' and the MK-2 life raft," Chief Aeder's voice "boomed" across the still water of the pool as the crews donned and inspected their equipment.

Entering the water the flight personnel under Chief Aeder's experienced eyes tested their exposure suits for leaks, inflated the life rafts. Para-Lift personnel kept a careful watch for any malfunction.

When the pool test was over the flight crews returned to their aircraft with more confidence, and Chief Aeder returned to the Para-Lift where he is in charge of procuring and maintaining the various survival equipment used in the squadron's aircraft. Relaxed behind his desk Chief Aeder explained exactly what was accomplished at the pool.

"Our main concern was testing the 'Poopy Suit' for leakage," he commented. "All flight personnel are individually fitted for their suits with the neck, wrist, and boots requiring most of the individual work. The suit is composed of two parts, the inner quilted liner for insulation and the rubberized waterproof outer covering. When the suit is worn only the face and hands are exposed.

"Before we 'water test' a suit it is given the 'Light Test', this is done by putting a light inside (Continued On Page 10)

Teacher Pay Raise Plan Still Adrift

Officials To Meet Again

TALLAHASSEE — A third conference among Gov. LeRoy Collins, legislators and school officials failed to produce the long-awaited "package" teacher pay raise plan this morning, but spokesmen insisted it will be wrapped up after another meeting at 3 p.m.

Sen. J. K. Edwards of Irvine, chairman of a special legislative committee trying to reconcile differences in teacher pay plans said the controversy is blocking major tax and spending legislation and "we must get it out of the way immediately."

He said each group has gone all the way to get together and "it's strictly give and take." He conceded the major stumbling blocks are the specific pay raise figure and a tax program to support it.

The Florida Education Assn. wants an $1,100 across-the-board raise for teachers, which Collins and many legislators insist is "unsound and unrealistic." Collins recommended a flat $300 increase with an additional $400 for "merit" raises to exceptional teachers.

Collins reportedly has agreed to go beyond the $300 figure for an across-the-board raise but is insisting on some "merit" provision. The figure most often mentioned is $600.

Edwards said the "package" will include funds for pay raises and school buildings, a tax program to support them and a bill authorizing a two-year study of the whole school system.

Holtzclaw known professionally as Richard Wentworth, will leave next week for Jones Beach, Long Island, N. Y., to appear in Jerome Kern's "Show Boat" for a 10 or 11 week summer season. He is scheduled to appear in Ft. In between his "Show Boat" and "Don Pasquale" appearances, Holtzclaw plans on joining the New Orleans Opera Co. in several performances for the Houston Opera Association.

The officers of the local Elks' Lodge invite the public to attend the observance of Mothers' Day here and to note that the hour has been set for 3 o'clock instead of 2 o'clock, as previously announced.

Now Is Time To Make Evacuation Plans In Case Of Nuclear Attack

The one thing most of us have overlooked is the fact that if nuclear war comes, it will come in a hurry.

As a matter of fact, it will come, for millions of American citizens, with a sudden devastating roar and blast that will completely alter our way of life. Warning will be measured in minutes, not hours.

The question, then, is, what to do so that the greatest number of people can have at least some measure of protection in case of war. One school of thought holds that we should build a vast system of deep shelters for the approximately 90 million people now living in our major metropolitan target areas. Others believe that the thing to do is to plan for swift evacuation of such areas in event of an attack.

The nation is in danger of falling between these two points of view without implementing either of them. "To leave the problem unresolved," Paul Steinbecker says in Bulletin of Atomic Scientists, "will inevitably result in national confusion, dissipation of resources, and apathy."

Deep shelters would obviously be desirable, but they would cost tens of billions of dollars and would require years for construction. One alternative is to develop good evacuation programs for the major target areas, and to make the public aware of its responsibility in making such programs effective. Any program of evacuation involves tremendous problems, especially in very large metropolitan centers. But evacuation could save lives—many lives, if the plans were good.

Such plans should be worked out now, as a first step, even while the debate about shelters is proceeding. Such plans are an important first step away from the inaction and confusion now throttling the nation's civil defense efforts. If and when shelters are built in quantity, the evacuation plans can be readily changed.

Problems now confronting communities, such as Sanford and Seminole County, concern the building of access roads from every direction as funnels into the smaller communities instead of huge unmanageable expressways that would cause the conglomeration of people in a terrified state. A good, common-sense highway plan would save utter confusion if properly and sanely marked.

Another would be the matter of food and water to take care of the thousands of people thrown into smaller communities by way of the system of highways and roads. Matched with the problem of food would be one of housing and sanitation, that of communication, recreation, and the elimination of idleness among people.

All of these plans should be made, blue-printed, and made public. The idea of keeping evacuation plans and defense matters under lock and key when the saving of lives is concerned is pure foolishness. Masses of people do not react to a "last second" instruction moment—they must be educated and taught through public information.

The time for action is now while the people of all communities are happy and healthy. To wait until individuals are frozen with fear is to disregard the value of human lives.

If the vaults of secrecy are holding the plans for evacuation in times of emergency they should be opened and made public immediately.

Docks, Terminals Important

Time is of essence when opportunity presents itself.

The docks and terminals project, providing facilities for the movement of freight by water and a bonded warehouse for merchandise, manufactured products, white goods and other numerous items received by both barge, rail and truck, is taking valuable time away from Sanford and Seminole County's progress by the mere fact that it is not yet into the drawing board stage.

The value of a docks and terminals project is pointed up in an article appearing in a recent issue of the Wall Street Journal with the headlines "Silver Bank Room" and "Cheap Transportation and Water Power Draw More Plants to Waterways."

Roger W. Benedict, staff reporter for the Wall Street Journal, in his article stated point blank that "There's an industrial boom surging along the banks of the nation's navigable waterways."

He was emphatic in his statement that navigable waterways, carrying huge 20,000-ton barges, can haul as much freight as 400 rail cars or 1,000 trucks at rates as low as one-third the cost of other means of transportation.

Sanford and Seminole County are both faced with the problem of converting its one-shot economy, as it has been called, by civic leaders and outsiders as well, into a well-rounded economy comparable to other cities of its size and potential.

Haste, with care and consideration, is not wasteful—not when a community must build from the ground up. Business-minded civic leaders, those who have come to realize that freight can be shipped to Sanford at rates comparable to other cities, know the extreme value of the proposed docks and terminals.

Not only do they know that the proposed facilities will serve individual merchants and businessmen in their efforts to curb higher prices on their merchandise, but will also serve as an impetus toward creating an industrial center in this area.

In 1955 alone manufacturers poured $6.5 billion into new plant construction along the waterways if the nation—Sanford's industrial growth out of this slice of expansion was zero. In 1956 the figures exceeded this amount by a pretty sizeable amount and still Sanford did not receive the first penny from the progressively expanding manufacturing enterprises.

An engineer for one of Florida's firms of engineers told the Board of Sanford City Commissioners at a recent meeting why Sanford has not reaped its share of growth, expansion, and progress in manufacturing plants. It was a plain, firm answer—"You've got to go out and get it."

Washington SEE SAW

WIN PENDLETON

LOTS OF FUN — Galley was the key note for the Florida colony in Washington last week as some 350 Floridians and guests gathered for the eighth annual reception and dinner honoring the Florida Congressional Delegation. The big blow-out was staged by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce attending the National Convention here.

The usual receiving line and the usual cocktail party before the dinner, handshaking and back slapping. Friends who had not seen each other for a year or more, others who see each other every day or two. All the same. Just too many old friends to remember, much less mention.

There was Beverly Grizzard and Dora Lee and G. G. Ware from Leesburg; Frank Hayes and his lovely wife from Orlando; Walter Page, new public relations man for the Florida Citrus Commission, Bolivar Hyde, of West Palm Beach, Executive Director of the Flood Control District; Jerry Carter, Florida's Democratic National Committeeman; Lawrence Lee, of Jacksonville and Earl O. Shreve, of Ft. Lauderdale, both Past Presidents of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Everyone welcomed Frank Kennedy and his wife. Kennedy is the former Florida newspaper man who lives in Annapolis, covers Washington news for many Florida newspapers. Sharp news analyst Kennedy does a better job from his home than many writers who spend all of their time on Capitol Hill. Seldom seen around because he is almost totally blind.

And everywhere, Cliff Davern, part of Silver Springs, official year.

Principal speaker of the evening was Leo Carlin of Hollywood, famed as "Pancho" in the Cisco Kid television series. Pancho made a big hit by missing his dinner—instead of eating he drew his picture with his autograph on the back of dinner programs. After his address more hand shaking and back slapping. Then the guests took the table decorations (limes, oranges, grapefruit) in paper bags and headed for home. See you all next year.

Baby Boom Is Still On In U. S.

By DON QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — Shhh. Don't breathe a murmuring word of this. It might be too much for the professional alarmists.

You know what the younger set is turning to now? Marriage, home, and family. Honest statistics say so.

That's a trend that ought to confound those who habitually peer with alarm into the dark drings of American humanity. It's hard to see how anyone could read anything ominous into young folks' trending toward getting married and raising a family.

Bumper Baby Crop
Except, perhaps, for those who worry about how we're going to feed the bumper crop of babies.

The "keep on spending" boys who had expected that Congress would cool off in its budget cutting efforts during the Easter recess are in for a disappointment.

Members who went home to the "grass roots" found the people fully aware of what the House had been doing to the various appropriations bills—and in full accord.

As a result, the drive to reduce President Eisenhower's big budget is expected to gain rather than lose momentum as the time approaches to consider foreign aid, military and other major money bills.

The next few months of Congress will prove most interesting. The President's legislative program, including civil rights and Federal aid for school construction, has bogged down. Mr. Eisenhower is facing opposition from his own party members.

Senator Knowland, the Republican leader in the Senate, foresees a three billion dollar reduction in the budget. Knowland also said that the President's proposal for Federal school aid was "unwise."

Vice President Nixon was quoted as saying that you couldn't have Federal aid for school construction without Federal control—something the southern members of Congress have said for a long time.

I get many letters asking me to vote for reductions in foreign aid. An Orlando constituent writes: "Please do all you can to stop wasting our tax money and you shall have our hearty support. My answer is 'Thank you, I will.'"

One of the delightful affairs of the year was the dinner given here by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce honoring the State's Congressional Delegation. When the visitors from each of the districts were asked to stand, I was proud to see that the largest group sure to come from the present bumper crop of marriages. The baby boom is still on. The number of births in the United States has reached a new high in each of the last six years.

The 1956 birth figure is 4,200,000. In 1950, it was 2,560,000. The fact marriage is becoming increasingly popular among the younger set comes from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., an outfit which has no ax to grind on the subject except the ones that keep its statistics sharp.

The Metropolitan Life figures show the median age for first marriages now stands at 23 years for men, 20 years for women. That is a decline in age by one and one-third years since World War II.

Younger Father
There are now one and one-half times as many married men under 25 years of age as there were in 1940. In more than half of the families which had a baby during 1955, the husband was under 30.

You can reach your own conclusions on the basis of that last statistic. The one which occurs to me is that being a papa is an estate coming more in keeping a young fellow around home doing his papa's duties than in keeping him hanging around a street corner looking for trouble.

The baby boom itself now is showing a new trend. That is in the direction of third and fourth additions to the family.

ACCIDENT TOTAL.
BOSTON—(UP)—The Institute for Safe Living, estimating that all U.S. accidents last year cost a total of $704 billion, pointed out that this would build 1,000,000 homes.

Others included Mayor Harry F. Steele of South Daytona and Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Ware and Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Grizzard of Leesburg. Mary Alice and I were the guests of Mrs. Ernest Kilroe of Winter Park, president of the League of Women Voters of Florida, and Mrs. Ralph Miller of Orlando at an enjoyable breakfast given here by the National Council of the League of Women Voters. Both Mrs. Kilroe and Mrs. Miller were delegates.

On Farm Front

By GAYLORD F. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The International Federation of Agricultural Producers (IFAP) celebrates its 10th anniversary May 19 at Purdue University, LaFayette, Ind.

The IFAP regards itself as the spokesman on the international level for farmers around the world.

Its membership is composed of 43 nationally representative farm or cooperative organizations in 26 countries, representing some 35 million farmers. U. S. members are the American Farm Bureau Federation, National Farmers Union, National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, and the National Grange.

The federation was formally brought into existence at the holiday resort of Scheveningen, the Netherlands, in May, 1947, after it was proposed at London a year earlier. Its purpose was to provide machinery for joint consultation and action by farmers in all parts of the world. In particular, the object was to create an organization which could convey the voice of world farmers to the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) of the United Nations and to other inter-governmental bodies concerned with problems of agricultural production, marketing, and trade.

IFAP has no connection with government. It is a non-governmental organization which tells governments of the world, through the United Nations, its specialized agencies, and other international agencies, what farmers are thinking, and what they want.

It is recognized by the U.N. and its agencies as the authoritative voice of farmers.

But the federation was not formed purely as an international spokesman for farmers. It is a meeting ground for farm leaders from all parts of the world. Through IFAP, farm leaders become acquainted with the problems of farmers in other lands. It provides a forum in which ideas and information can be exchanged among farm leaders. This enables men to develop an understanding of international farm problems.

The Purdue conference will be the first the federation has held in the United States.

Exterior Lighting System For Planes Invented By Pilot

By PETER F. EARLE
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—An airline pilot has come up with a new exterior lighting system for all types of aircraft which some of those who believe could be the answer to a major cause of air disasters.

Named "The Light" and officially called "The Madison Light," the system is being demonstrated for commercial and military planes at several points of the nation's busiest air routes.

It is a control over "vertical" light that is a hazard to pilots, sometimes caused by light in the cockpit, which gives the pilot a sense of "dizziness" or loss of orientation, Transocean officials claim.

Explaining his system, Madison said standard wing tip lights are set far enough forward to give pilots the "madness" on some occasions, while the Madison lights are mounted on the tail of the plane.

"These high intensity lights, flashing in sequence, substantially increase the distance at which a plane can be sighted and its position, altitude and direction determined," the inventor said.

Madison stressed that the lights are mounted on top of the tail and under a plane's belly.

Stream of light have reported sightings of the lights from tail to lights up to 75 miles away from the tail.

Madison said the lights are not a visual effect of a length and tail thinkers.

The system is designed to lessen a pilot's difficulty in making accurate aircraft sightings at high speeds and in dense air traffic—a common cause of mid-air crashes.

THE HEAD of a big corporation was in an unusually expansive mood at the Kiviana luncheon. "My son made his first money yesterday since he got out of college six months ago," he explained. "Sold the watch we gave him for graduation!"

Harvard university is conceded to be one of the nation's greatest storehouses of knowledge, and its sometime president, the dauntless Charles W. Eliot, had a ready explanation. "We're adding more knowledge every semester," he declared. "The freshmen bring us so much of it—and the seniors take away so little!"

Instead of a separate meeting, the Sanford Garden Club circled in meeting at the Shiner's Club on Thursday, May 16th, for a general meeting and covered dish luncheon. The program will take place after lunch, and consists of a discussion of garden problems, with questions answered from a question box, and features such as well known gardening personalities as Mrs. Homer O. Horne, Mrs. A. W. Epps, Mr. C. F. Tucker, and Mrs. Woodruff. All members are asked to come, since it will be the last meeting of the year, and even if they can not be there for the business meeting at eleven a.m., try to come for the luncheon at twelve-thirty, followed by the program.

Naturopathy Bill Amendments Made

By BARBARA FRYE

United Press Staff Correspondent
TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—The House concurred yesterday in Senate amendments to the bill providing stricter regulations over the practice of naturopathy after hearing down attempts to further dilute the measure asked of by the governor.

Opponents of any restrictions on naturopathy in the parliamentary house, even to pointing out an apparent error in the bill which would make it invalid under House rules.

Rep. Thomas Mann of Hillsborough charged there was "great attempt to bulldoze this through which many of us do not appreciate." Mann and Rep. L. B. Vucelli of Indian River amend the Senate amendments to exclude World War II veterans from its limitations.

The original bill would have outlawed naturopathy as a fraud. It was amended in the House to allow present naturopaths to keep practicing but without the right to prescribe or administer narcotics. The Senate amended it further to allow 15-year practitioners to prescribe non-narcotics in emergency cases.

"I think this bill is immoral and I do not approve of it in any sense," Mann said.

Junior College Money
The Senate sped to passage 32 the bill appropriating $4 million dollars for expansion of the junior college system.

The bill which now goes to the House provides funds for buildings at four existing junior colleges and for construction of six new colleges at Ocala, Daytona Beach, Madison, Palatka, Panama City and Sarasota.

The Senate also sent to the House a bill which would require prices in setting prices on property transactions to be reviewed to take into consideration the value of property as a result of highway improvements.

The bill recommended by the State Road Department, was vigorously opposed by Sen. Dewey Johnson, Quincy attorney, who placed it in an institutional.

GRACE M. STINECIPHER

Last night the Stetson Glee Club staged a tremendous concert in Elizabeth Hall Auditorium for the enjoyment of all. This was the annual home concert and was under the direction of Professor Harold M. Giffin.

Worthy of mention was the singing by the entire chorus, with two piano accompaniments, of the "Hungarian Psalm," written in 1923 by Zoltan Kodaly. Richard Williams was heard as the tenor soloist in this number.

Other choral numbers were selected from the program sung by the Travel Squad on its Spring Tour. Among these were Bach's "Sanctus" (Mass in B Minor), Beethoven's "Hallelujah" (Mount of Olives), "Poor Man Lazarus" arranged by Jester Hearston; "Surry With the Fringe on Top" (Oklahoma) by Richard Rogers; "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; "Buffalo"; and "My Lord, a Fortified Place" (A Mirror for the Sky) by Gail Kubik.

In addition to these, the women's and men's clubs, under the direction of student leaders, sang in separate groups as well as a mixed ensemble of 14 voices.

All sororities and the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity, winner of the Fraternity Sing, will participate in the Interfraternity Sing Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Chaudoin Hall quadrangle. Those participating will be dressed in white and the entire performance should be very impressive. Each sorority will be vying for top honors at this time after about six weeks of concentrated practice.

Graduation plans have been made at Stetson University with seniors now on the last leg of their four-year journey. First of the agenda will be a supper for all seniors on May 16 at the home of President and Mrs. J. Dillie Edmunds. The Commencement Concert will be Saturday evening June 1 in Elizabeth Hall Auditorium. On Sunday June 2 at 10 a.m. the Baccalaureate service will be held in Elizabeth Hall, and from 9:30 to 4:30 will be the President's Reception for graduates, their families and friends in Chaudoin Parlor. Commencement will be that evening in the Forest of Arden.

Graduating from Stetson this year will be MARY LOUI COPELAND, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Copeland; ROBERT BAKER, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baker; MARGARET MORRISON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Morrison; and ELLEN DICKENS, formerly of Sanford and now in Belle Glade.

By LAURE CHITTENDEN
(Hemerocallis Circle)
Sanford Garden Club

The Hemerocallis gets its name from two Greek words — hemera (day) and killos (beauty); so "beautiful for a day" is most appropriate.

Daylilies originally came from Asia. The first plants to reach this continent were brought by the New England clipper captains as gifts for their wives. After a time these plants escaped to the wild, and today are the orange daylilies which grow in the eastern part of the United States.

Daylilies are thoroughly at home in Florida and will grow and multiply with very little care. They have become quite popular since they are comparatively free from insects and diseases. One can find space for a few clumps that will add much to the landscape picture.

The plants are effective when grown in front of evergreens, as their high color is deepened. The evergreen type is excellent material for borders. The dwarf forms can be used for edging narrow walks, while the higher growing kinds may be used effectively for bordering wide walks, drives, and large flower beds. Daylilies are also well adapted to mass planting; the larger the mass, the more striking the effect.

From early spring until late fall daylilies may be planted. They will tolerate different soils, but naturally an improved soil condition has a marked influence on growth and bloom. When planting daylilies flatten out the roots and cover with about two inches of soil. If planted too deep the plants may not bloom. After the soil has settled, the crown (the point where the roots and stem join) should be about an inch under the surface. The plants should be fed at least once a year with a high grade commercial fertilizer. A daylily needs plenty of water from the time the flower scapes begin to develop until the blooms fade. Well established plants can get along with a small amount of water except during a long drought.

A long season of bloom may be attained by using the early, mid-season, and late varieties. Some varieties and their time of blooming are as follows: Early March to April — Ajax, yellow; Bahelite, orange; Brazil red; Eastern Morn, yellow; May to June — Swan, yellow; Ruby Supreme, red; Pink Charm, pink; Black Falcon, maroon; Port, wine red.

Midsummer Night's Dream To Be Presented Tonight

A number of lessons are taught in the family's income is only $68 a month, supplemented, of course, by the funds by Miss Campbell's class.

The class is proud of the fact that their adopted foreign girl is talented one who has played in Hamburg and in other prominent places.

Those who take time out tonight to see the three-act creation in a class that has learned much in human relations, art, music and literature, will find themselves overjoyed—partly because of the talents displayed by the youngsters—but primarily over the fact that the children in this particular room at Pinecrest School are being assisted in carrying out their annual plan in being "good neighbors" and a dear friend to one so far away.

Parents and friends will see these 30-odd children taking part in "Midsummer Night Dream". It is the annual effort to provide funds for a 15-year-old German girl who was adopted by Miss Lucille Campbell's class.

These funds must provide much for the young lady, just one of six little girls in the German family. The family has suffered much during the years of rehabilitation following World War II. There are only three of the family left now, all of them in the Western Zone of German to

DeLand, Oviedo Meet In First Sub-Group Tourney Game Today

The first sub-group tournament to be held in Memorial Stadium was scheduled to get underway this afternoon with a huge turnout of spectators in a game between DeLand and Oviedo.

But the largest turnout before the finals is expected tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the stadium when Sanford swings into action for the first time against the winner of the initial game between DeLand and Oviedo. DeLand is a heavy favorite to meet the Seminoles in what could shape into an intense rivalry.

The second game of the first eliminations are scheduled for this afternoon at 4 p.m. when Pierston and Florida Military School of DeLand each try to land a berth in the semifinals. Seabreeze will swing into the picture at 4 p.m. as they challenge the winner of the Pierston-FMS game this afternoon.

Dave Laude said that L. C. Smith looked "great" in yesterday afternoon's workouts and should go all the way with little trouble against the Seminole opponent.

"The boys are looking for this tournament and have been pointing for it all season," Laude said. "From the beginning of the season we have been trying to find the combination that would click tomorrow night and get us into the finals Saturday night, and we think we've found it."

Laude spoke of his team as "well balanced" when Smith was on the mound. "They play well together, they keep on their toes, and they support the pitcher when he gets in trouble, which we hope won't happen tomorrow night."

Laude acclaimed this season a great success. "We started out the season pointing for the tournaments and next year, and we've kept that in mind in every game and in every practice."

Laude pointed out that his team had compiled a 5-4 record against seasoned ball teams while his charges boast only one senior on the team. "They have done a great job of realizing their mistakes and correcting them," Laude said of his charges.

"The team will do fine from here on out, and next year will be great," Laude said that his charges would be the best balanced team in the Orange Belt Conference next year. "We were plagued with inexperience this year, but the boys knuckled down to their responsibilities and came through with flying colors. We are proud of every one of them and look forward to some great ball games in the future."

Andy Bracken, principal of Seminole High School, lauded athletic director Fred Ganas for an outstanding job of coordinating the athletic program this year. "His work has been untiring and outstanding," Bracken remarked. "His efforts to bring the tournaments here is a fine display of the attitude that is coming about in the school - community relations here. We have been fortunate to have the solid support of the people in all of our programs."

Bracken stated that he had been overwhelmed by the many keenly interested people in the educative function of the school and the relations of the community. Bracken pointed out that the sub-group tournaments would be the final spectator paid project of the school year in athletics. "We hope that the people will give us the solid support that they have shown their eagerness to give in the past."

Semi-Pro Team To Play Sunday In 'Bull Pen'

W. C. "Red" Hires took his first serious set-back in his attempts to field the strongest semi-pro team in years in Sanford in his stride this morning as he announced that even though an agreement could not be reached for the use of Memorial Stadium for the season opener with the Orlando Aces he would play the game in the "bull pen" of the New York Giants Farm System Training Base behind Memorial Stadium.

Hires said that spectators would be allowed to park in the stadium parking lot and walk to the game behind the fence of Memorial Stadium. The game gets underway at 2:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

Hires said that he was looking for someone to donate the use of a public address system for the season opening game Sunday afternoon that will feature Andy Bracken, principal of Seminole High School, as the starting pitcher.

"We will do everything to get ample bleacher stands for the anticipated 1,000 fans that will want to see the season opener even though we will not be able to charge admission," Hires said emphatically.

"If someone will let us borrow the use of a public address system we will give the fans a fine and exciting game between the two teams that are rated tops in the Central Florida Semi-Pro League," Hires continued.

Hires said a collection would be

Uoff Tennis Team In Southeastern Championship Play

GAINESVILLE.—A high finish in the Southeastern Conference championships is the goal of the University of Florida's tennis team this week.

Only Florida sports team active this week, Coach Bill Potter's tennis group, which has a dual match record of 17 victories against two defeats, is conceded a good chance to finish as high as second in the tournament, set for this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Tulane, led by Jose (Pelo) Aguiar, native of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, again claims its perennial role as tournament favorite.

Georgia Tech, Louisiana State and Florida figure to battle it out for second and third positions. "It will depend on the draw whether or not Florida reaches second place," says Potter. Should Tech, LSU or Florida draw a majority of its first rounds against Tulane it is likely to be eliminated early.

The gaunters are led by Dick Leslie, suiter from Battle Creek, Mich., who plays in the team's number one position. Others playing for Florida will be Buddy Husband (no. 2), Ft. Lauderdale sophomore, Joe Heyck (no. 3), team captain from Tampa, Dave Shaw (no. 4), Ft. Lauderdale, Dan Gutman-Perry (no. 5), Topeka, Kan., and Hugh Waters (no. 6), Orlando.

Relative strength of Ga. Tech, LSU and Florida will be better known following a tuneup match between the Gators and LSU on Tuesday in Baton Rouge, La., site of the tournament. Florida has previously defeated Ga. Tech twice in close matches. Another tuneup go for the Gators was with Vanderbilt yesterday, day before the meet opens.

Accelerated Spring Training Program Told

Dave Laude announced this morning that he would present an accelerated program for spring training football this year. He said that he would have experienced material and would try to get all new concepts in basic fundamentals across to the team in special sessions of "skull practice" without taking time away from the conditioning phase of the program.

According to Laude, the football program will get underway this Friday, May 10, when he will issue uniforms to the candidates for the next school year's team. "We're looking forward to a fine season next year in the Or-

SHS Track Team Readies To Enter State Meet Saturday

Members of the Sanford Seminoles track team were scheduled to taper off and make final preparations this afternoon to participate in the State Track Meet in Gainesville Saturday for the first time in the history of Seminole High School.

In the second year since the revival of track at SHS, thirled mentor Fred Ganas guided his charges to a third place team sealing in the Orange Belt Conference and fielded five men to berth in the State Track Meet. Mike Tammy, Phil Byrd, Don Mathieux, Murray Nance, and Dickie Rountree are the five speedsters what will represent the Seminoles in the Sprint Medley Relay and the 440 yard run. The Sprint Medley Relay team, made up by Byrd, Mathieux, Nance, and Rountree, blaze a new trail and set a new Orange Belt Conference record at the meet at the end of the season. Tammy, from a field of 22, placed second in the 440 run at the Group Meet in Gainesville last Saturday.

Gatlinburg Open Golf Tournament Underway Today

GATLINBURG, Tenn. UP—The cream of the nation's disaff golfers, competing in the first round of the Gatlinburg women's open tournament today, said they doubt anyone would come near parring this resort city's treacherous, mountainous layout.

Twenty-two professionals and 18 amateurs will play the 72 holes, winding up Sunday, in this first annual affair. Prize money totalling $7,500 will be divided among the top pros, the winner carrying off $1,350.

Although the winding, two-year-old, 4,500-yard course has a women's par of 38-35-32, all the golfers predicted four 75s would easily assure victory.

Marlynn Smith, Auburn-haired Wichita, Kan., player, said, "I believe four 76s will be good enough for first place. And long-sitting Mickey Wright said 'somewhere around 306 ought to win it. That's an average of 77 per round, a pretty good score for this course.'"

Nestled in the foothills of the Great Smoky Mountains, the Gatlinburg course also will provide a test of the golfers' strength. Many of the bent-grass greens lie hidden on ridges and other points of high elevation, and deep ravines and chasms border the fairways.

Miss Smith was in the majority in claiming the course is "the toughest I've ever played."

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The announcement that the United States intends to station a guided missile unit in Formosa is bad news for the Chinese Communists.

It is important in both its military and its political aspects.

On the military side, the announcement gives the Peiping government another clear warning—if another one were needed—to give up any idea of trying to take Formosa, the stronghold of the Chinese Nationalist government, by force.

On the political side, it means that the United States is in Formosa for a long time to come. It also means that the Communists are just wasting time in throwing out occasional hints to Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that they would like to make a deal with him.

It is pretty certain that the news will cause the Communists to start a big campaign of denunciation of American "aggressive intentions."

7th Fleet Ready

The United States 7th Fleet, which is now in Chinese waters, is capable, of course, of attacking

Red China with atomic weapons. This is true also of the American bomber planes stationed on the fortress island of Okinawa, midway between Formosa and Japan.

But the missile "unit" which is to be "stationed" in Formosa actually means the establishment of a new American military base within striking range of Red-ruled China.

The Reds always have complained that Formosa was a United States military base. But up to now, only a few jet fighter planes have been stationed on the island.

There was more bad news for the Peiping regime from Tokyo.

There, Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi indicated strongly in a statement in Parliament that Japan intends to make nuclear weapons a part of its defense.

Answering a question by a Socialist member, Kishi said that it would be permissible, under Japan's present anti-war constitution, to keep defensive nuclear weapons.

"Progress is being made now in the development of nuclear weapons," Kishi said. "In these days of progress in scientific weapons we cannot defend ourselves with bamboo spears."

May Relieve Dulles

There is an interesting angle in the announcement about the Formosa guided missile unit.

It seems possible that it may take some of the pressure off of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as regards his extreme reluctance to giving permission for American newsmen to visit Communist China.

Dulles is coming around, at the demand of publishers all over the country, to approving visits by at least a limited number of correspondents.

But it does not seem to be too far-fetched to suggest that the Communist may not be so eager now to welcome inquisitive Americans to their territory.

Guided missiles launched from Formosa would be capable of hitting targets far inland in China, including such great cities as Shanghai, Canton, Hankow and Nanking which the newsmen might visit.

Dentists Favor Water Fluoridation

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Dr. F. A. Bull, a Milwaukee dentist, says that he and most members of his profession favor fluoridation of water because it can reduce tooth decay by 65 per cent.

Dr. Bull, long-time leader of the fluoridation movement, outlined his views in an interview.

He said that if children get prescribed dosage of fluoride from an early age and continue getting them throughout life, they will have 65 per cent fewer cavities than persons not getting fluoridated water.

"The formative years when bone structure and teeth are developing, are the most important years for a person to get fluoride," he said. Persons who as adults "get little benefit but they do get some."

JUST A-ROLLIN'

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—(UPI)—Speaking of "rolling stones," Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stone and two little Stones are touring Florida and Mississippi in a 46-passenger second-hand bus.

On a recent "Havana Holiday" in Cuba Florida newspaper folks were received at the Presidential Palace by President Fulgencio Batista. Guests of the Government and Cuban Tourist Commission, they visited points of interest in the Cuban Capitol. Four airlines participated in transporting the group. National and Mackey from Tampa and Cubana and Pan American from Miami. 159 people made the trip.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

One of the most delightful travel experiences it has been my privilege to enjoy was a trip to Havana, Cuba attending the spring convention of the Florida Press Association.

Four airlines participated in the job of transporting our group, some of whom flew direct from Tampa via National and a chartered Mackey Airlines plane. The rest of the party flew from Miami via Cubana and Pan American Airlines.

In Havana we were guests of President Fulgencio Batista and the Cuban Tourist Commission, Louis J. Boeri, who heads the U. S. Office of the Commission arranged the program which included a reception at the Presidential Palace where we were greeted by President Batista and many officials of the Cuban Government and Tourist Commission.

It had been several years since I had visited Havana and I was truly amazed to see the development that had taken place, many new modernistic buildings grace its imposing skyline, some of them in the skyscraper class. Many others are under construction. A marked improvement in roads was evidenced. Old Havana with its narrow streets and crowded conditions still exist but it was cleaner and more inviting than on former visits.

An outstanding accomplishment in the administration of Batista is the establishment and operation of the Civic Military Institute where underprivileged children of both sexes are cared for and educated. Our press group was taken in a body to visit one of these schools, (there are five now in operation).

Now thousands of children, largely orphans, who formerly walked the streets as beggars with no hope of education are housed, clothed, fed and cared for, given an excellent education, taught a trade and prepared to take their place as worthwhile citizens of the Republic.

Following a review and parade of 1,500 boys and girls ranging in age from 6 to 18, we were given a personally conducted tour of the establishment. We inspected boys and girls dormitories, class rooms, library, museum, workshops where every conceivable trade is taught, recreation areas and other facilities that comprise the 300 acre campus of the institute.

While the institute is operated as a military school there was no evidence of harshness or severe discipline. The children appeared healthy and happy. Their surroundings were of a character to inspire pride and accomplishment and their instructors encourage the development of individual personalities.

Any nation could well be proud of such educational establishments and Batista deserves great credit for his efforts to give the youth of his country such an outstanding educational opportunity.

It made us realize that there is much more to Cuba than gay night spots, gambling casinos, the national lottery and cha cha. While these things give the country atmosphere and appeal to visitors, the revenue they provide the government is being used to care for the youth and the aged, afford better housing and education, and generally advance the welfare of the country and its people.

Following the convention I made a 600 mile trip into the interior visiting points of interest and found the trip very interesting and worthwhile. I'll tell you about that in my next column.

Centenarians Said Excellent Patients

NEW YORK—“Ancient persons” 100 years old and older may be better surgical risks than younger persons and are “excellent patients,” according to a surgeon who has treated three of them, and successfully, for broken hip bones.

Dr. Harold M. Childress of Jamestown, N. Y., contributed this information because there will be more and more such persons. He got his three in a period of 15 years in the general hospital of a city of less than 50,000 population. But it is well known that people are living longer.

One of the three lacked only five months of being 103. The youngest was one month beyond the century mark. Childress was struck by the vivid demonstration which all three gave that age in years was a poor index to their bodies and bodily functions.

All three had broken their hip bones in falls. But not one was in shock when he got to them immediately after the accident.

All Do Well

Two of the three had the broken bones exposed surgically and Childress joined the bones by screwing metal plates into them. All withstood this well.

“The secrets of longevity have never been discovered, but it seems that mental and physical relaxation combined with an easy acceptance of a changing physical world are important,” he reported to the medical society of New York.

“The same qualities of mental and physical adaptation which allowed these individuals to reach such an age are now invaluable in meeting the discomforts and restrictions necessitated by prolonged treatment. Their calm reaction to the situation and their willingness to co-operate make them excellent patients.”

His 105-year-old patient is so far as is known the oldest person with successful broken hip bone surgery reported to medical literature. In 1953, 104 cases of “hip-nailing” in persons over 80 were reported, but the oldest among them was 95.

One Was Woman

This patient was a woman, and so was a second, who was 101 years and nine months old at the time of her accident. The oldest of the two had only a moderate degree of artery-hardening, a process which was quite marked in the younger. The 100 years and one month old man's arteries were in fair condition.

The older woman died four months after she left the hospital of heart failure. The man survived less than a year, but died of failure of heart and kidneys. The second woman who had her accident in the fall of 1955 is living still.

Childress pointed to the statistical proof of longer life for people, especially to a demonstration that between 1930 and 1940 the United States population increased only seven per cent while the number of persons living beyond 75 increase 38 per cent.

“With the present trend of more people living longer, physicians can expect to be treating an increasing number of individuals in this advanced age group,” he said.

Now Hear This!

JACKY FENWICK

Hear tell we'll all have a new "boss" in July! Capt. Robert W. Jackson, commander of the Sanford Naval Air Station, has received his official orders to SACLANT. (Supreme Allied Command Staff). These orders will take the whole Jackson family to Norfolk, Virginia. The Jacksons have been in Sanford for about two years, and are very well known, not only in Navy circles, but civilian as well. Mrs. Jackson, whom I have had the great pleasure of knowing, has been active in church activities and the Woman's Auxiliary of the Seminoles Memorial Hospital; and probably a great many more things that I'm not acquainted with. I hardly need to say into the things Capt. Jackson has been active in, but hardly a day passes that his name is not mentioned in the newspaper, either as a speaker, committee member, or some such philanthropic act. Their children are well known in the local schools, and are sure to be missed by their friends. I think it goes without saying that the Jacksons will be missed by all those who were acquainted with them, but along with this we must realize that the Navy career carries with it the knowledge that sooner or later you will be transferred. Our loss will be Norfolk's gain, and we can only wish them well in their coming duty.

This afternoon, tomorrow afternoon, and Saturday morning, there is, and will be, a "tennis clinic" going on at the Mayfair Inn tennis courts, on First Street. It will be under the direction of Sid Summerfield, well-known tennis "pro", and former president of the Lawn Tennis Association. He will be assisted by Frank Deane, a Navy man known by many as the "pro" at the Mayfair Inn. The "clinic" will be run under the sponsorship of the Florida State Bank and Yowell's Department Store. Trophy's to be awarded at noon on Saturday have been donated by the Sanford Merchant's Association. All students between the ages of eight and sixteen years old are eligible for the clinic. By the time you read this, today's get-together will probably be over. But don't forget to remind your children that there's one tomorrow, starting at 3:30, and continuing until 6:00 p.m. Saturday's session will start at 9:00 a.m., and end at noon with the presentation of the trophy's. In case of rain, (in Florida??) they will go on as scheduled in the Seminole High School gym. Just one last thing I want to stress, and that is that there are a lot of new Navy "kids" that might not realize that they too are eligible for this. So, come one and all, have a good time, and maybe you'll find out you've the makings of a future "tennis star".

Sorry to hear that Chief N. H. Phillips has been hospitalized with a possible case of pneumonia. Hope they've found out by now that it isn't that serious; but regardless what the ailment, we hope he's well on the road to recovery, and will be able to rejoin the square-dance group shortly. He was missed last Monday and, in fact, had just been taken to the hospital about one hour before the dancing started!

Don't know which "powers that be" in Washington have the authority to change uniform styles, but as an enlisted man's wife, I know I'm not alone in wishing that they'd think up some kind of khaki outfits for our men! Should I start a campaign??? I dare say I'd have the backing of every wife who has EVER pruned a set of whites! All this musing comes about as the result of having spent most of today doing just that!!! And a lot can be said for the way some of the men, (one I know real well!!!) look in those tight "trunks" I know they're "traditional", and all that, sort of "stuffy", but so were striped jerseys, hats with trailing ribbons, and short jackets at one time, but they managed to do away with those. Well, this is just a personal wish on my part, and I suppose the only real solution is to sit and wait until your husband makes "chiefs", or retires!

Some people have mentioned that I haven't said much about the ball games lately, and that is mostly due to the fact that "Friend husband" has been flying a lot lately, and has missed playing in some of them, and when I don't have constant reminder around the house, I don't always think to mention it!! As of last Friday Faron 51 and VAI-8 were tied for first place, both having won six games, with only one loss against each of them. I have no idea how these averages are figured, for the list I have in front of me shows that some of the team haven't completed seven games as yet. They get together and playably lose over. I look at it as that we should give them all "the benefit of a doubt", and see who the winners are when the season is over! But, where sports are concerned, I find it safer and easier living if I keep my opinions to myself!! (Well, at least I can bake a better cake than he can!) I've "wacked my brain" trying

Health Hints

By DR. A.W. WOODALL
BE IT EVER SO HUMBLE— HOME ISN'T SAFE

The American home today is the scene of the injuries and deaths which rival battlefield statistics. The warnings to "Drive Carefully" should be matched by a home slogan to read "Live Carefully," for more casualties occur in homes than on highways. In 1955, nearly 100,000 deaths and uncountable millions of serious mishaps happened where we consider ourselves to be safest—in the home.

Careless citizens burn themselves to death—in kitchens, lighting fixtures, and by smoking in bed. They are electrocuted in bathrooms by touching electric appliances with wet hands. They slip, stumble, and fall in dark bedrooms while half asleep, and maim themselves on stairways. They take "headers" on loose rugs and on the kiddies toys, which should have been put away. Their children take poison left in handy places for their little hands. They gas themselves to death through faulty kitchen stoves and fall asleep in cars left in the garage with motors running.

- Simple rules can stop much of the slaughter.
1. Anchor loose rugs on slippery floors.
 2. Keep furniture in accustomed places—a misplaced stool can mean broken bones.
 3. Keep stairs well illuminated, paint the top and bottom basement stair dead white.
 4. Remove all electrical switches which can be operated from a bathtub.
 5. Keep bottled poisons in a plastic bag out of reach.
 6. Promptly fix gas stove leaks.
 7. Keep a rubber mat with suction cups in the bath tub, and on tiled bathroom floor.
 8. Type these reminders and post them prominently in the home.
- Your doctor of chiropractic presents these rules in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

Commission Clerk Seeks Pay Raise

The Board of Seminole Commissioners authorized action at its Tuesday afternoon session that might raise the salary of the Clerk of the County Commission by $2,400.

O. P. Herndon, just before the Tuesday afternoon session, told the board "I've served as clerk of the county commission and as county auditor for a number of years for which I have received no compensation."

Excess fees returned to the county from my office, explained Herndon, have been from $5 to $11 thousand and it costs my office a little over $1,000 a month to take care of the business of this board.

"It seems to me," he said, "as if I should be paid $2,400 a year to be paid out of the excess fees. I've worked at nights, Saturday, and many times on Sunday, and as much entitled to additional salary as any other employee of the county."

Questioned as to what other counties pay their clerks, Herndon said that "Some of the other counties pay their clerks as much as $800 to $900 a month."

Commissioner John Krider stated "Before I commit myself on this I would like to know what other counties are doing."

Herndon commented "I don't believe that one county official's time is worth more than any other county official."

Commissioner Homer Little stated "If the Judge (Judge Ernest Householder) is entitled to it O. P. should get it."

Herndon commented "I don't want to put any of you men on the spot, but I do know you believe in fair play and I can justify my request."

The, would have two 24-foot roadways with a four-foot median and a three foot curb on each side.

Plans for the construction of the bridge may be seen at the office of the District Engineer, Corps of Engineers, 478 Riverside Ave., Jacksonville.

It is not proposed to hold a public hearing on the application, said the notice. Any facts developed will be given the same weight as if they were developed at a public hearing.

"Anyone desiring to submit a protest based on the proposition that the proposed work would unreasonably interfere with public navigation, or would unfavorably affect the navigable capacity of the waterway, should submit such protest in writing in sufficient detail to admit of a clear understanding of the reasons therefor," said Col. E. E. Kirkpatrick, District Engineer, Corps of Engineers.

The decision of the Department of the Army on the application must be based entirely on the effect of the proposed bridge on navigation, and not on its effect on property values or other considerations having nothing to do with navigation, said the notice.

"A Department of the Army permit is merely a waiver of objections insofar as public rights of navigation are concerned," the notice read.

Protest should be addressed to the District Engineer, Corps of Engineers, P. O. Box 4070, Jacksonville in time to be received on or before May 31.

virtually threw in the towel today on any chance of completing a major revision of the Constitution without a special session.

Rules Chairman Tom Beasley of Walton insisted the Legislature can complete all its work by May 31 if the committee will get busy and meet on weekends if necessary.

But a majority of the committee handling the tedious revision expressed sentiment that the matter should be taken care of in a two-week special session devoted to that and nothing else.

Gov. LeRoy Collins has served notice he will insist on revision and will call a special session if it is not done in the remaining 23 days of the current meeting. Legislators batted back and forth the issue of whether a special session should be tacked on the end of the present one or wait until September.

When asked if the water test brought out any leaks Chief Aeder answered, "we located a few minor leaks, but over all the 'Poopy Suits' were in good shape. Although we had one man who had lost a considerable amount of weight recently and his suit no longer fitted around the neck. That's why we like to make this type of test, with the person who will actually wear it."

Chief Aeder is a veteran of 12 years naval service and has been in VAH-11 since October, 1934. So far his work as a parachute fitter has called for him to make over forty-four actual jumps from aircraft. Survival training is taught at VAH-11 in many ways: by training films, lectures and demonstrations, but as Chief Aeder says, "The closer the training comes to the real thing, the more effective it is."

New Church Makes Amazing Progress

By R. E. Brown
"What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?" — Matthew 27:22.

If you were in P.F.'s place what would be your answer? At it were, you are in his place and this question equally concerns you. In other words, will you crucify or praise Him?

Pinecrest Baptist Church and Sunday School is new and, like a new born babe, struggling to grow and fill God's requirements by furnishing food for our spiritual hunger. Our congregation is rapidly growing—last Sunday total attendance was 162.

We have Sunday School facilities for all age groups, so don't hesitate to bring the little ones. Classes commence at 9:45, followed by regular Church Services at 11. We extend a cordial WELCOME and invitation to you to come worship with us.

If you live in this community and have no Church Home, why not come and consider ours. We need your support. You will be a blessing to us, and we feel that you will receive a blessing from having come our way. Brother Herman Morris, our temporary pastor, is well known by most of you and was called by Divine Inspiration to minister His Word.

There is no middle road to travel—either we travel the same road but leads to our Savior's Crucifixion or the one that leads to eternal praise. What will you do with Jesus. Come along with us and praise Him.

Last Year's U. S. Cotton Crop Over 13 Million Bales

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has fixed the size of last year's cotton crop at 13,910,000 bales.

The value of the crop, based on the season average price to May 4 of 21.7 cents a pound, was about $2,111,000,000. This compared with 1935 crop value of $2,379,000,000. The 1935 average price was 32.33 cents a pound.

The 1936 crop estimate, based on actual ginnings, compares with production of 14,721,000 bales in 1935 and a 10-year average output of 13,098,000 500-pound bales.

The department said the season average price received by farmers for cottonseed production was valued at $200,000,000. For the 1935 season the season average price for cottonseed was $14.60 per ton and the value of production was $269,000,000. The 1935 combined value of lint and cottonseed of $2,410,000,000 was 10 per cent less than for 1935.

The Crop Reporting Board said acreage in cultivation last July 1, the start of the 1936 season, was 16,822,000 acres, with 15,815,000 acres harvested. Yield per acre on the 1936 harvested acreage was estimated at 409 pounds.

In 1935, there were 17,506,000 acres in cultivation at the start of the cotton year, and 16,928,000 acres were harvested with yields averaging 417 pounds an acre.

The acreage allotment for 1936 crop cotton was 17,391,304. Acreage for the 1937 crop is 17,585,453 acres.

The boy, Clarence Hicks, had been admitted to the hospital for an ear infection. When no one claimed the boy after a month, police were notified. They found the parents in Milton, Ont.

AY, THERE'S THE RUB

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Albert W. Snoke of New Haven, Conn., president of the American Hospital Assn., today discounted a suggestion that automation be applied to hospitals. "You cannot automate a highly individualized personal service such as hospital care," Snoke said, "or at least I don't know how automation could take the place of a back rub by a nurse."

Former Resident Appointed Bowdoin College Professor

Lt. Col. Louis P. McCuller, U.S.A., formerly of Sanford, has been appointed Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Bowdoin College, effective next August. Dr. James S. He was graduated from the University of Florida in 1940, when he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve. Lt. Col. McCuller entered active service in June of 1941 and was promoted to his present rank in the Army in August of 1956. He joined the Bowdoin faculty last September.

Patrol Plane Crew Rescued From Pacific

HONOLULU — All 10 crewmen of a Navy Neptune patrol plane were rescued "in good condition" early today after they were forced to ditch their burning plane in the Pacific 170 miles southwest of Oahu.

The men were picked up by the submarine USS Bream at 1:11 a.m. on May 9. The 4½-hour rescue operation was a life raft.

The Navy said none of the crewmen was injured.

The plane, attached to Patrol Squadron 28, was on a routine training flight from Barber's Point Naval Air Station when the right engine caught fire.

It ditched at 6:50 p.m. at 1:40 a.m. on Thursday. Two submarines and five search planes were immediately dispatched to the area.

MOSCOW — The Supreme Soviet resolved today to appeal directly to the American Congress and British Parliament for an immediate end to nuclear test explosions.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged before Russia's Parliament that the western powers "consistently oppose and undermine efforts to reach agreement on disarmament."

In a report on atomic tests, he reiterated that Russia will continue to produce nuclear weapons and guided missiles as long as there is no agreement banning them.

After Gromyko's report—his first to Parliament since succeeding Dmitri Shepilov as foreign minister—the Supreme Soviet voted for a direct approach of American and British lawmakers.

The resolution called for all three parliaments to organize a joint committee which would exchange opinions on the methods of quelling tests and eventually banning use of nuclear weapons.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles declined comment on the Soviet move, but members of Congress quickly dismissed it.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland said, "Under our form of government proper diplomatic relations between countries are carried on through the Department of State."

Gromyko also said: "Advancement registration of tests as proposed by the West is insufficient and fails to solve the basic problem."

The Soviet Union is compelled to continue testing and manufacturing A-bombs due to the dangerous international situation and especially due to the "American brink of war policy" and unchecked competition between the great powers for "stronger, deadlier weapons of mass destruction."

"The Soviet Union insists on immediate cessation of all tests and a ban on nuclear weapons."

Britain and the United States would like to see the Soviet Union discontinue tests unilaterally, but they want too much. This is impossible because it would threaten Soviet security and increase the dangers of nuclear war."
