Angie, Phil Grasso Win Shuffle Tourney

By MELBEED HANEY
Deltona Shuffleboard Club presented trophies to Angie and Phil Grasso, winners of the playoff following the tournament with the Deltona club at the March meeting in the Community Center.

There were 46 members present for the meeting which was conducted by Mrs. Al Poirier, president.

The tournament took place at the Deltona Shuffleboard Club. The total games played, 15 were won by Deltona, with Deltona taking eight. The Grasso, representing Deltona, won by a score of 10-81 in the playoff over George Sirois and Rosemary Sanborn of Deltona.

Mrs. William Egger, sunshine chairman, reported the death of Ralph Drake, a member of the club. Another member, Mrs. Frank LaRosa, reported the death of her brother, James N. LaRosa, who is presently a patient at the Ormond Beach Hospital and will later be transferred to the Deltona Nursing Home for convalescence.

Grasso, grounds and equipment chairman, reported that water has been installed at the courts as per the club's request. Extension of the water line to the vicinity of the courts proper should facilitate general court maintenance.

Mrs. Ed Schradl, ways and means chairman, reported that attendance at the Tuesday night card parties, which are sponsored by the club, averaged about 80 for each session during February. The club points out that these parties are open to anyone wishing to spend an evening playing cards. Refreshments are served and three door prizes are given. Players coming alone will always be placed at tables playing card game of their choice.

Teachers Call Off Walkout; Back To Work Monday

Results were still being awaited at press time today on tests made earlier this morning by city crews on origin and chemical nature of the "sucky liquid" substance floating around on the lake. Peaked up in places like "dirty frosting on a cake," it was especially heavy in the area front of Sanford Naval Academy.

"Heavy" wives... whose husbands are aboard the Enterprise doing battle against the North Vietnamese... are enjoying this news which came over the wires from Washington: "A furious suggestion current in the capital is that the United States exchange the nuclear carrier Enterprise for the capture, intelligence ship Pueblo. The cost of running the Enterprise would run North Korea's economy in one year," a government official said.

At Longwood
Longwood City Council last night adopted its first reading ordinance which calls for a raise in the water rates of 75 percent from the current minimum of 85 per quarter to $2.50 per quarter.

Longwood in an effort to curb horseback riding on the sidewalks in front of the restaurant... Agreed to expel of funds to complete work on the restroom building on the city park.

Denial... of the building inspector to inspect property at 312-127 near Palmetta where it is reported junk cars, numerous rabbits and pigs are being kept in violation of the zoning ordinance.

Referred to the zoning board for study and recommendation the plan for apartments on Wilshire which was submitted.

City Manager's office got all spruced up lately. Pert receptionist Joy Wester changed from a blonde to a witchamahalit shade. Look, there was so little to report from Knowles office that surely you wouldn't want this to read, "City Manager's Office got all spruced up lately. Pete's getting a little grayer!"

Police Chief Ben Butler got the better of the protection detail over Sheriff Pete Millot. After all, Butler guarded the Vice President while Millot had his turn in guarding a "future 71st" Veep - Claude Kirk at the Fronton yesterday.

Some of Butler's armament includes a cap-and-hall pistol relic... a .38 gauge gizmo more like a cannon than a pistol. (Pen)

Incidentally, there'll be still another crime detection innovation announced at the Sanford Police Department meeting next week. They're all doing a fine job.

Any Voter Can Be Elected A Law Officer

By DONNA ESTER
(Second In A Series)
Need for sweeping changes in the election laws particularly in the area which sets forth qualifications for candidates seeking election in county public offices is shown more clearly than ever in a survey of requirements under the law for aspirants to the major law enforcement positions.

For the offices of constable and sheriff, no law enforcement experience is required. Candidates must only be registered voters. But even more surprising is the fact that candidates for judge of county and juvenile courts, two of the most important courts in the judicial system, and justice of the peace are not even required to be lawyers. ## Voter Registration Drive Slated By Jaycees, LWV

The Sanford-Seminole Jaycees are starting a voter registration drive today in conjunction with the League of Women Voters of Seminole County.

The drive is part of the 1968 Federal States Jaycee registration drive. "We hope to get 20,000 voters registered by April 5," said Jerry Mann, director of the organization.

There are 15,000 to 20,000 voters who are not registered in the county. The Jaycees have a list of 275 voters who have been purged from the voter registration list. They are starting a campaign to get these people registered again and they will be calling these people. An away contest will be sponsored by the organization for junior high students. The essay will be titled "Why my parents should register and vote." The main thing is to get the word to the people to register. The county has been getting a poor election turn out on non-presidential election years and to solve the national average by eight per cent. The county superintendent of elections office is open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. weekdays in the county court house. There is also a branch office in Seminole Plaza. The office will be open on Saturdays starting March 16 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. until the registration books close April 4.

Volusia 'Cool' To Causeway

County Commission Chairman John Alexander said today he received "a cool reception" from the Volusia County Commission yesterday on the proposal that Volusia cooperate with Seminole in building a causeway across Lake Monroe.

"I admit the proposal got a cool reception," Alexander said, "and a number of the board members voiced opposition to the suggestion."

"I requested that they not slam the door on the proposal at least until I can send available information, and then review it carefully before reaching a decision."

Wm. Agranos Found Guilty

Sentencing of William A. Agranos, local businessman, convicted of income tax evasion by a jury in U. S. District Court yesterday, has been scheduled by visiting U. S. Judge Richard M. Duncan for March 20.

Agranos was convicted of failing to report about $10,000 income for the years 1960, 1961 and 1962.

He also serves as committing magistrate having full authority in conducting matters and hearing trials of certain misdemeanors and all county traffic violations. He has authority to try civil cases which do not exceed $500 and his jurisdiction extends to 20 persons. Penalties for the car was in the wrong lane.

A Wise Position

Development and use of the county and building now completed by the Board of Health, is a matter of prime importance to our city.

How best to use this facility for the present and for the future remains to be decided. It has been held with the officials of the various agencies. Disputing of all sorts in Washington has been done by friends of Sanford.

Yet the fact that the Board of Health has been a persistent effort to prevent the use of the building as a "training center" is a pity. This has been done as a "poverty program" and has been passed on to the development of Seminole County's industrial structures.

Now it has arrived at a moment of decision. The City Commission is confronted with what amounts to a demand from the Kirk administration to give a preliminary "yes" or "no" to the proposal that the training center, as recommended by a report from G.E. analysts, be placed on Sanford's air base, when it reverts to civilian control.

We agree with the letter sent by the commission to Tallahassee in which Mayor W. Vincent Roberts states that "We feel there is a need and a demand for such an industrial building and that such a poverty or job corps center."

At the same time, we feel that the building is a waste of the county's resources. It is a waste of the county's resources. It is a waste of the county's resources.

Draft Faults On Congress

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
James Marlow who usually writes this column is ill.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Drafting American casualties in Vietnam and the prospect that more young men will be sent there are building pressure for changes in the draft system.

Anytime there are more youths of draft age than the military needs, the choice of who goes and who stays home is hard to make, and the present system appears to satisfy no one.

More than a year ago the Defense department used the policy of drafting the oldest registrants first. "We're not drafting from any standpoint." Yet it continues.

The president of Harvard recently told Congress the new regulation wiping out deferments for graduate students was for the Army, the colleges and the nation.

President Johnson has asked that national standards be applied to the draft. "We're not drafting from any standpoint." Yet it continues.

All About Double-Talk Now

NEW YORK (AP) — The class is double-talk will please come to order.

As you will remember, students, double-talk represents the final evolution of language to one of its chief functions—the avoidance of meaning.

All successful civilizations are built on double-talk, which is the art of saying one thing while thinking the opposite. Only in savage or barbarian societies do people frankly say what they mean or mean what they say.

Here, for class study, are a few typical examples of modern double-talk followed by their actual meaning.

"I've just seen a very nice girl. I wonder what you think of her?" "I don't know. I'll ask you."

"The best show here is said to be the best in town. Shall we try it together?" "If I could afford it, I'd like to see it."

"This is one of the finest apartments in the building. We'll give you a special discount if you buy it now. Shall we?" "I'll think about it."

"I don't want to say anything, but I thought that was the most interesting lecture you've given all semester."

"I'll think about it."

Political Gossip The Friendly Season

By FRED VAN PELT

Congressman Syd Herwig told this column via telephone from Washington yesterday that "it's all a matter of time" to whether he will seek re-election.

"A lot of pressure has been placed on me to run again," said the law maker. "By the chairman of the appropriations committee, and by my friends back home."

"I said last June I was not going to seek re-election, and others have taken me at my word and now are making my seat. I am asked by those who want me to run: 'Don't you love your country?' Of course, I love my country. . . . but I love my word, too."

Herwig indicated he will be in Sanford next week to meet with Democratic members of two Democratic caucuses for Herwig's position.

The Democratic legislature on Monday afternoon held its first session, but for congressmen the race for Herwig's position is still a matter of time.

Letters To The Editor Much Ado About Nothing

Editor, Herald:

I would like to comment on your March 4 "Clock" column. I feel your cutting remark about Mrs. Lucy Laver unnecessary. It was not an easy decision for Mrs. Laver to resign, I'm sure. For a more qualified, loyal and dedicated teacher would be hard to find.

Your paper has been urging teachers to think of the students and come back. What do you do when the clock ticks and the rule her. The teachers who resigned did what they felt was right just as those who stayed on the job did. It was not only a personal decision but a professional one.

Husbands and wives often disagree on which church to join, who to vote for, how to raise the children and many other things. They are not first paragraph news.

The decision to resign was an individual basis, just as the decision to stay was an individual one. I am proud Mrs. Laver made the decision to come back to work and hope more teachers will follow her. Lucy Laver's call to her. I say welcome back and thank you.

Sarah E. Skinner
(Editor's note: We, too, say to Mrs. Laver welcome back and thank you, and to all the other teachers who are at their jobs. To Miss Skinner, there was no idea of ridicule in that paragraph. You missed the point. We need more of the kind of newspaper in the state agreed with the "Clock" that Mr. Laver.)

Daylight Time Set April 28

CHICAGO (AP) — Only one of the 50 states definitely is not going along with Daylight Saving Time this year, but three states are to be "flexible" in making up their minds.

An Associated Press survey also shows that two states are to go back to standard time in November. In the meantime, their clocks will be put ahead an hour April 28 and turned back an hour Oct. 31.

Hawaii, which exempted itself from Daylight Saving Time last year, is standing pat this year.

Alaska, which was granted an exemption last year, will observe DST this year.

One other state, Kentucky, did not conform with DST last year because its legislature did not have a 1967 meeting. So the state which straddles the line between the Eastern and a Central time zone will have to decide in a four-part decision — EST, EDT, CST, CDT. But the legislators are meeting now and it is expected they will act before adjournment March 15.

The other 47 states switched to DST in 1967. But some of them have changed their minds. The question of whether Georgia will stay with the DST may be decided by the legislature in April.

Arizona's House approved a bill to exempt the state from DST. The Senate adopted a bill to exempt Arizona but also to set up a referendum on the issue in November. The differences among the states will be reconciled.

The Uniform Time Act, adopted by Congress in 1966, provided: starting in 1987, all states will observe DST from 3 a.m. on the last Sunday in April to 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October — except that any state may exempt itself by passing a state law.

Organ Concert Scheduled Sunday

The high caliber of the artist, the intriguing program, the superb instrument and the vast number of music lovers in Central Florida point toward a concert by the world renowned organist, Catherine Crozier, at First Methodist Church, Orlando, at 6 o'clock Sunday.

Miss Crozier's highly praised concert played on many world famous organs, assures those who attend the Orlando appearance of this virtuoso the best of America, the British Isles and western Europe have heard her superior skill.

The program to be played March 10 includes numbers that have been identified with this artist's interpretation as hall marks of craftsmanship. There is, for instance, the Concerto in C major by George Frederic Handel which is a demanding composition for even the best of organists. Another delightful selection is the Bach Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor. They indicate the high level of listening pleasure in store for concert attendees.

The Aeolian Skinner instrument in the First Methodist church provides a vast selection of stops to afford the ultimate in tone, and Miss Crozier's reputation for registration of her numbers promises enjoyable listening.

The Central Florida chapter of the American Guild of Organists, under whose auspices the concert is presented, announces that there will be no admission fee for the public.

It sometimes takes patience to get rid of an odor. Try cleaning the interior thoroughly first, and disposing of any foods which might be the culprit. If it still persists (it will if it is much of an odor) try one of these "home remedies": Place a small open container of ground coffee in the refrigerator for a few days. Or a similar container of charcoal may be used. Charcoal deodorizers are available for this purpose, also.

Give special attention to cracks, crevices, drawer slides and other places where spilled foods can accumulate and spoil, causing odor.

Jet Noise No Bother For These

MIAMI (AP)—A church about 10 miles from the nation's busiest airport drowned out the prayers and sermon has become home base for a jet-age circuit preacher's silent ministry.

Another Lutheran congregation built and used the unadorned building for more than 40 years in where Trinity had its first worship. But Harry F. Luduke, president of that earlier congregation, said, "Sixty churches have been built in the area since 1950 that, with the air field flight pattern being right over the roof, and our fronting on busy Northwest 27th Avenue, the noise Sunday after Sunday was affecting our attendance."

DURING WITH DON

By Don Peters

Detour For George

Doral Sizzles As Gardner Shoots A 65

MIAMI (AP) — For two happy weeks, George Knudson rode smoothly along golf's glory road. Then came the detour.

The lanky, red-haired Canadian had won two straight tournaments. He had a chance to win the $100,000 Doral Open to make it three in a row—a feat last accomplished in 1960 when Arnold Palmer racked up the Texas, Baton Rouge and Pensacola events in succession.

But in Thursday's opening round, Knudson veered into a sidetrack rough with bogey.

"It was a terrible error. I was a little off my game. I was a little off my game. I was a little off my game."

He didn't realize it then, but the detour was beginning to get to him.

Shortly after starting his round Thursday he said he realized that "I was getting pretty tied up—on edge." Suddenly, the ball wasn't going where he aimed it.

"I was awful from the first shot to the last," he said. "I was never with it all day long."

There were no nerves about the game, he said. He collected five of them. Two came on the eighth and 10th holes when shots pulled out of line by the tension dropped into Don's notorious water hazards and he took one-stroke penalties.

When the shock wore off, Knudson decided that "it's a relief actually."

"I knew I couldn't keep it up," he said. "I've broken a couple of times and now I'll just have to try to start a new one."

Dickinson, with no problem of pressure, fired a record-setting seven-under-par 65 and went into Friday's second round with a two-stroke margin over Llewellyn Herbert and Howie O.

County Officials Agree

'Jail Terrible Place For Children'

There are four children being held in the Seminole County Jail because this county does not have a juvenile detention home.

"We had five children in jail this morning but one of the children's mother came for her child," Millot said.

The 10-year-old boy was in jail because the people he was staying with decided not to take care of him. He was visiting relatives here and his parents live in a different section of the state.

Millot, Clarence McCord, the county juvenile commissioner, and Richard Barnett, assistant principal at Seminole High School, visited Lake County's detention home yesterday. The group will be touring other county homes to see what the counties are doing.

"Jail is a terrible place for kids," Millot said, "we cannot have the cell door open since they may get hurt or get in the kitchen."

"We hope the project can be financed through a drive and without tax money," Millot said.

"The home operation cost will be in the county budget," Millot said. "There would be a ranch type home for the children. The home would be located in the middle of some acreage and have some chickens and livestock. It would be large enough for 20 children with 10 bedrooms, five for males and five for females."

"The bedrooms would be security rooms but without bars," Millot said. "There would be a maximum security room for males and females."

He is married and has a daughter and three grand children.

Kitefishing
New Sport
At Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — There are days when an angler, trolling his bait across the blue surface of the Gulf Stream, will swear that the last fish in the Atlantic Ocean has been caught.

For this squinting sportsman, Capt. Bob Lewis of the 41-foot fishing craft Reran has advice. Go fly a kite.

He guarantees it will save the day and might even give the guy the greatest fishing experience of his life.

Lewis is the leading exponent of kitefishing, a rapidly-growing and exciting technique. Days when his passengers take five to six sailfish are not uncommon. Once, in two hours, seven king fish weighing 30 to 60 pounds were hauled aboard the Reran.

The trick is simple. A brightly-colored, 36-inch square kite is run up a monofilament line and hovers downwind, about 100 feet in the air and 100 yards behind the boat.

Tip the kite string. Lewis runs one to three lines suspended from cloth traps which snap free with the sudden sharp jerk of a fish.

Angling play out just enough line so that the live fish on the hook is held right at the surface. The bait struggles, trying to reach deeper water and safety from the big gamsters prowling the surface.

The fisherman can watch the antics of the bait fish. Suspense builds up when sudden frantic eye movements signal that something big is nearby. He sees the game fish make his approach and strike.

Using a kite with only two lines, Lewis says he can outfish a six-line troll boat five to one.

The bait, free to swim in the natural manner of an injured foreign fish, five times more effective than a live bait trolled from an outrigger, he says. And because the line hangs straight down, a fish rising to the surface cannot see the hook or leader.

Kiting is not limited to game fishing. Lewis uses the same method in going for bottom fish along the reefs. He has seen big grouper rise up from 90-foot depths to take the bait.

Medical News

The same allergic response for hay fever can cause "allergic asthma." These include pollen, organic dust, house dust and feathers.

About half of all asthma is due to irritation of the bronchi by specific allergens breathed into the respiratory system.

Allergic asthma begins most often between the ages of 20 and 40.

The remaining asthma cases are brought on by infections in the bronchi. "Infectious asthma" tends to occur in older people, although it can occur at any age.

Men and women are equally affected.

(Asthma in children is often considered largely a psychosomatic disease, and a condition they may outgrow.)

In all types of asthma the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes swell and the air passages are partially closed. The asthmatic first himself struggling for breath, and then is unable to expel it. To provide relief from this breathing difficulty, a physician may prescribe a pocket-size aerosol device such as the Inhaled Mistorator. The patient is given specific instructions on how to use the Mistorator, which through inhalation of measured sprays of isoproterenol opens lung airways and relieves the breathlessness—and thereby the anxiety and fear that usually accompany it.

All asthmatics should be under a physician's care. Self-diagnosis and self-treatment can be dangerous, physicians warn.

Fashionettes

Jewelry for pure amusement, inspired by the tattoo look, can be found in a Garden of Eden serpent to twist around the leg and arm. Knock-out rings that can be worn as singles or together as the total finger ring; Camille necklaces of chain mail mesh, giant pendants and epaulettes will be the adornment.

Sleepwear fashions go from the softly romantic, to the nostalgic of the '30s, to spiced thigh-scraper tunics and gowns. Romantic gowns to set the mood for dreamers are designed in delicate hues and floral prints with an overflow of ruffles or with sprightly peasant touches.

The small bag is still the big bag of fashion, but it's roomier, chunkier, squatter to accommodate all the essentials. The new trend to softness is apparent in mellow, two-tone shadings; in cozy shapes; in strap handles that are often narrowed or tapered for a daintier look. Tortoise appears in handbags, locks and shell ornamentation.

Among the upcoming fashion accouters for the new season are feminine ruffled parasols, waterproofed parasols, water-resistant raincoats, water-resistant raincoats, water-resistant raincoats, water-resistant raincoats.
