

PRESIDENT WILSON REPLIES TO SEN. JOHNSON'S REQUEST TO OBTAIN FARMERS RELIEF

Says Conditions Are Brought About by Fall of Price

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

AS LEGISLATION HAS NOT PROVIDED ANY POWERS IN MATTER.

(By The Associated Press) SIOUX FALLS, Dec. 2.—President Wilson, replying to Senator Johnson's request for immediate financial relief for farmers and livestock raisers said "Your message refers to unsatisfactory conditions unfortunately resulting from fall of price. I regret to find legislation has not provided me with powers which will be serviceable in the matter."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Agricultural committees of the senate and house meet today to consider relief measures for the agricultural situation. Secretary Houston, members of the Federal Reserve Board, government officials and farmers representatives will be heard.

NO REDUCTION IN WAGES OF MINE WORKERS

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 2.—The United Mine Workers of America will not stand for any reduction in wages, according to the December first issue of the United Mine Workers Journal. This policy is stated in connection with a discussion of the movement among employers throughout the country for a reduction of wages in the various industries. In the article, John L. Lewis, international president of the miners' union is quoted as follows:

"Under no circumstances will we permit any reduction in the wages of the mine workers of the country. There is not going to be any return to pre-war wages or conditions. Any reduction in wages is an economic mistake. It never produces any good result. What the mine workers have today we are going to hold, and we propose to continue to make progress instead of going backward."

TOMATOES SHIPPED ARE TOO GREEN

COMPLAINTS FROM MARKETS IN 1919 SEASON

Of the total of 7,671 cars of early tomatoes shipped in 1919 from the seven early tomato growing states, Florida shipped 4,378 cars, or more than one-half.

As a result of complaints from the market regarding the quality of Florida tomatoes the U. S. Department of Agriculture has made some investigations and finds that the quality of Florida shipped tomatoes is admittedly inferior in many respects to vine-ripened or greenhouse tomatoes.

They have found that the chemical composition of Florida vine-ripened tomatoes compares favorably with the various analyses reported of such fruit grown in other localities, so the inferiority of the former cannot be credited to the kind of soil or climatic conditions prevailing in Florida.

Their investigations have shown that this inferiority is caused by harvesting the tomatoes too green and by a lack of ventilation during the ripening period.

It is the custom to pick tomatoes when they are grass green and allow them to ripen and color in ripening rooms, while in transit, and after arrival at the market. When the fruit is picked too green it ripens slowly, has a tendency to wrinkle, colors abnormally and has a bad taste and flavor.

A very important factor influencing the quality of Florida tomatoes is ventilation or lack of it during the ripening period. It has shown in these experiments that when the commercially picked fruit was allowed to ripen in a room without ventilation that the acid content was increased approximately 138 per cent over that of vine-ripened fruit and the sugar decreased approximately 21 per cent. It was found that wrapping with paper, increased the acid content approximately 102 per cent and decreased the sugar nearly 5 per cent as compared with the normal fruit. The increased acid and decreased sugar content affect very noticeably the palatability and flavor of the fruit.

It was definitely established that the combined results of picking fruit too green, of wrapping and of closing the cars in transit probably account for the total differences existing in quality between commercially shipped and vine-ripened tomatoes.

The results of these investigations have been published in U. S. Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 869, a copy of which should be in the hands of every tomato grower, and can be had free by writing the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GOVERNORS

MET LAST NIGHT TO APPOINT IMPORTANT COMMITTEES

The Board of Governors of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce at their meeting held in the Valdez Hotel last evening created the following committees to function for the coming year: Agricultural Committee, City Development Committee (Parks, Play Grounds and Municipal Golf Course), Educational Committee, Good Roads Committee, Legislative Committee, Membership Committee, Municipal Affairs and Housing Committee, Publicity Committee, Inland Waterway Committee and Transportation and Traffic Committee.

Questionnaires will be mailed to the membership requesting that they check the names of three committees on which they will render service and upon return of these questionnaires to the secretary the committees will be appointed by the president. Realizing, however, the necessity of beginning activities on the publicity campaign, the Board of Governors appointed R. J. Holly chairman of this committee and selected the following members to serve with him: C. L. Britt, Col. Geo. W. Knight, E. T. Woodruff, E. F. Lane and C. J. Ryan. The Board of Governors made appointments to the following committees, Inland Waterways Committee, and Transportation and Traffic Committee beginning functioning without further delay. Inland Waterways Committee: A. P. Connelly, chairman; E. T. Woodruff, R. J. Holly, J. D. Hood and F. P. Foster. Transportation and Traffic Committee: D. C. Marlow, A. P. Connelly, F. F. Dutton, R. R. Deas and G. D. Bishop.

The Board of Governors declared it undesirable to create a lot of standing committees with undefined or hastily defined duties for the purpose merely of assigning as many members as possible to committees, the better practice being to appoint only such committees as have well defined duties to perform, dismissing them when the work is done. This makes it possible to select as committee members, men especially qualified for the work in hand and to give committee work to more members within a year than is possible under a standing committee plan. The Board of Governors also realize that idle men are not an aid to an organization, rather a handicap.

The Board of Governors of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, in line with other well regulated community organizations, will make it a practice to consult committee men in advance of their appointment in order to interest them in the work which will be entrusted to their committee before they accept the appointment. It is only through concerted action of the membership that positive success can be obtained in the plans formulated for making Sanford the largest town in the South Central section of the state.

ONE FARMER KILLED, TWO BADLY HURT, IN A MOTORCYCLE CRASH

MIAMI, Dec. 2.—Arthur Gossman, 16, was instantly killed and Fred Greer and Emerson Shrader, all farmers in the southern part of Dade county, were seriously injured Tuesday night when motorcycles they were riding collided on the Dixie highway.

FLORIDA HAS MILLIONS OF ACRES FOR FARMER

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 2.—According to the quarterly bulletin issued by the commissioner of agriculture, W. A. McRae, Florida has 35,111,040 acres in actual cultivation, 1,636,983 acres not in cultivation, 33,474,057. The total assessed value of real property for 1918 was $233,756,500; and for personal property $69,815,509, making a value of 1919 was $131,000,000.

During the last three and one-half decades the population of Florida has increased 400 per cent. The fifteenth biennial report recently issued gives the number of pieces of mail matter sent in reply to inquiries as over 254,000.

MEMORIAL SERVICE OF THE ELKS

WILL BE HELD IN THE METHODIST CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Since the beginning of the Elks Order and the decease of its first member, throughout the United States on the first Sunday in December all Elksdom has gathered together and memorialized their departed brothers. With a total membership of over 600,000 and one thousand three hundred and eighty-three lodges, Elksdom will be before every community in the United States on Sunday.

In past years Sanford Lodge has done its part in making the national memorial service of the Elks a success, and this year they have gone one better than usual, they have arranged to have Hon. W. W. Phillips, of Lake City, deliver the address of the afternoon. The usual ritualistic work will be conducted by the lodge. A musical program has been arranged, which will delight every hearer, the selections are beautiful and rendered by local talent whom the music loving people of our community have learned to appreciate.

Since our last services two brothers have been called from our ranks, Brother W. H. Peters, who departed this life in Sanford, Fla., and Brother Jos. DeMont, who departed this life at Denver, Colo.

Hon. W. W. Phillips, These resident of Sanford who have ever had occasion to linger around the legislative halls of Florida, well know who Hon. W. W. Phillips represents. He is one of the most prominent law makers we have in our legislative halls, and hails from Col. Seminole county. Hon. Phillips has always been instrumental in the upbuilding of the state of Florida, and has given his very best efforts at all times. It is with a great deal of pleasure that we learn that Hon. Phillips will be with the Elks in their memorial services, and will deliver the address of the afternoon. You will be well repaid to make preparations and attend this service at the Methodist church next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock and hear Mr. Phillips. He will give you a message that will do you good.

We cordially invite the public to unite with us in this service in memory of our deceased brothers and your friends.

Remember the time and place, 3:30 o'clock at the Methodist church.

J. S. Dinkel and R. J. Relter motored over to Ocoee Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy were shopping in Orlando on Tuesday.

A box supper will be held at the Library Friday, Dec. 3rd.

Mr. Waddell, of Winter Park, was a visitor in town on Monday.

Miss Ellen Fuller spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Fuller.

Friends of C. W. Entzinger will regret to hear that he is suffering with carbuncles.

B. J. Overstreet has started to work on his new house. Longwood is fast on the boom as this makes about the fourth new house within the past two months and more are to be built soon.

Mrs. F. J. Neymeyer returned Sunday from the state fair where she took off several prizes on her poultry.

E. W. Dickson was a visitor in town this week, visiting his father, S. C. Dickson.

J. E. Phipps was transacting business in Jacksonville Monday.

Friends of Mrs. Parten will be glad to hear she is better, having been quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Farmer, of Maine, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hardy.

We failed to mention last week that Mr. and Mrs. Dugbar had returned for the winter.

LAKE FRONT UTILIZED FOR AUTO TOURISTS WILL BE GOOD MOVE

COMPETITION FOR PRIZES AMONG MUSICIANS

(By The Associated Press)

AKRON, O., Dec. 2.—The seventh biennial prize competition for American composers which will be decided at the convention of the National Federation of Musical Clubs at Moline, Ill., Davenport, Ia., and Rock Island, Ill., on June 8 to 15, brought forth hundreds of compositions, the manuscripts of which had to be in the hands of Mrs. Ella Smith, of Columbus, O., by tonight, according to the Federation's president, Mrs. Frank A. Selberling, of this city.

Mrs. Louise E. Yager, of Oak Park, Ill., chairman of the Young Artists Contests has announced that these competitions will be held in every state in the Union, the state winners to go to the district competition, and the district winners to compete for the national honors at the biennial convention in June.

ONE CAR LETTUCE NETTED $2,455.44

BROUGHT J. B. LITTLE THE NET SUM OF $2,455.44

The lettuce market is off some at present probably on account of so much leafy stuff going in at once but the record made by some of the growers here this season is worthy of more than passing note. Lettuce is not the main crop of the Sanford section and being a crop that does not require much money to make is looked upon more as a catch crop that fills in before the celery comes off and every season some of the growers make big money and some of them make only ordinary profits and some do not hit the right markets to make any on the lettuce but they pocket their profits and lose with the idea that other crops coming along will recoup them for any loss that they might suffer on lettuce.

However, this season much to the surprise of all the wise ones lettuce reached the peak on the first shipments and the following story of the crop of J. B. Little, a grower on the West Side is a fair example. Mr. Little shipped through the F. F. Dutton Co., 400 hampers of lettuce, 6 hampers of which brought him $8.25 per hamper and 394 hampers brought $8.00 per hamper and after the commission and other shipping charges had been deducted netted him here the sum of $2,455.44. As the four hundred hampers made a car load of lettuce this price is thought to be the highest price that ever came back to a grower for lettuce here or elsewhere in the United States and is a fair example of what the growers in the Sanford section can and are doing.

These figures are taken from the sales slip and are bona fide although are almost beyond belief. Many other growers here realized handsome sums for their lettuce but the exact figures are not obtainable at this time and these are only given to prove the statement made a week ago that a car of lettuce from Sanford brought $8.00 per hamper in New York markets.

MINISTERS OBJECT TO SUNDAY LAUNCHINGS AND GASPARILLA FESTIVAL

TAMPA, Dec. 2.—Methodist ministers of Tampa have adopted resolutions strenuously objecting to the launching of ships on Sunday and to the repetition of the Gasparilla festival being repeated "if it is to embody certain features that characterized it in 1920." They assert that the launching of ships on Sunday is a violation of the laws of Florida, and deprives the laborers of their right to a day of rest. They also object to the mayor and other city officials taking part in the launching ceremonies on Sunday.

With regard to the Gasparilla, they object to a "repetition of the celebration of a festival which glorifies piracy—a crime for which all civilized nations administer the gravest penalty—and accompanying the celebration with a drunken debauch such as characterized it last year."

The order from Sheriff White for the release of Estelle Perry, widow of July Perry, and her daughter, Caranta, reached Jailer Wilson Tuesday afternoon, and the two women were at once released.

The jailer says that Monday afternoon a party of white men from Orlando called at the jail and asked to see the two women, but were told by him that they could not be seen unless they brought a permit from the sheriff, and went away, presumably to seek the sheriff, but did not appear again.—Tampa Tribune.

Could Take Care of Five Hundred People

ADDING POPULATION

AND SOLVING THE HOUSING QUESTION FOR THIS SEASON AT LEAST

Already the word has gone out that Sanford will provide a fine auto camp and temporary homes on the lake front where every convenience will be accorded the visitors and there have been many inquiries from people in northern states and some from people already encamped in this state who want to come here for the winter.

The city commissioners will take up the matter at their next meeting and since L. D. Hood has generously offered the lake front property east of Palmetto for this purpose, it is almost certain that other nearby property could be secured for this purpose and with the addition of the south side camp that will be built at once Sanford can house at least one thousand more families here this winter with no trouble and with but little expense. In fact on the lake front they can have all the comforts of home and could even use the city lights and gas if they wished.

The camp on Sanford Heights will be abandoned as soon as City Manager Ryan can complete his plans for arranging the camp farther out and as Sanford Heights was only a temporary camp it will be evacuated and the campers who do not wish to camp on the lake front can get the more salubrious climate of the south side of the city. Most of the tourists, however, will prefer the lake front and here they will be able to have one of the finest camps in the state, right in the heart of the city with all conveniences and where they can have everything they would have if they were living in houses. In fact it will be so convenient that some of the townspeople are thinking of living there for the winter—at least those who cannot find a house in town—are thinking of it.

There should be no objection to the lake front being used for an auto camp for it will inconvenience no one and will prove a big benefit to the city in many ways.

And if there are any objections, let us have them now or forever hold your peace.

GRAND JURY REPORTS ON OCOEE TROUBLE

ORLANDO, Dec. 2.—The grand jury empaneled last Monday by Judge C. O. Andrews of the 17th judicial circuit court, has concluded its report on the race trouble at Ocoee, which occurred several weeks ago, and when two white men and at least three negroes were killed and the negro quarters burned to the ground. The grand jury carried on a rigid investigation and in the report rendered says in part:

"We find no evidence against any one or any group of individuals as to who perpetrated the fatalities. In the death of the two white men, Elmer McDaniel and Lee Borgard, and the death of July Perry, a negro, we accept the coroner's verdict. We exonerate Perry's widow and daughter, now in custody at Tampa, Fla., and recommend their release."

The order from Sheriff White for the release of Estelle Perry, widow of July Perry, and her daughter, Caranta, reached Jailer Wilson Tuesday afternoon, and the two women were at once released.

The jailer says that Monday afternoon a party of white men from Orlando called at the jail and asked to see the two women, but were told by him that they could not be seen unless they brought a permit from the sheriff, and went away, presumably to seek the sheriff, but did not appear again.—Tampa Tribune.

The paper pulp mills at Leesburg will soon start.

And when they do start we will bust the paper trust higher than the Valdez Hotel.

The women are not ready for jury duty, Mr. Sheriff. It may be legal to summon them but not exactly right, don't you know?

Despatches say that a quick change has been made in the government of the state of Tobasco, Mexico. We suppose it was also a hot one.

The wise merchants are having sales and advertising and making the goods move while the moving is good. And they are also using the Daily Herald.

We often times wonder if the people of Leesburg appreciate the efforts of Gilbert Leach and then in looking over the advertising columns of his paper we think they do.

The St. Johns river will get part of the big appropriation that is coming to Florida. Being the greatest river in Florida it should get the greatest part of the appropriation.

We believe the majority of the thinking men of this community are agreed that the auto camp on Sanford Heights should be moved and also that there should be a camp on the lake front with all the modern improvements. Get to it.

A lady recently told us that the Daily Herald was the best daily she had seen in the South for the size of the town and that she wanted it every day sure. Well, we are certainly trying to make it a real paper and our greatest trouble is in getting it to the city subscribers. Everybody wants it.

Oceola county went Republican so far as the national electoral college candidate is concerned. Now we will hear this cited as another proof that the "Solid South has been broken."—Tampa Tribune.

And that is Congressman Sears' home county, too.

There are all kinds of people in this world and they want all kinds of amusements. Not all of them want pictures and not all of them want carnivals and not all of them want cha-tau-quas—therefore it behooves this city to get them all kinds in order that they will not be compelled to go elsewhere for any kind of amusement.

AUTO CAMPS AND CAMPERS

The auto camps are the greatest assets that any Florida city can have and Sanford will soon be provided with many of them if present plans go through. But the camp on Sanford Heights should be moved to a place farther put on the Sanford-Orlando road where the campers can have plenty of room and where there should be a well driven and other measures taken for their comfort. The camp on Sanford Heights is not large enough and has no wells or other conveniences. When the new camp is made on the Sanford-Orlando road there should be a building erected for the campers to cook and eat in rainy weather and this will be greatly appreciated by them. The Sanford Heights camp is only a temporary arrangement and should be abolished as soon as possible. And then the real idea of an auto camp comes to the surface and that is to put them on the lake front where they can have plenty of room and plenty of water and have the benefit of the sewerage system which crosses this land at every street. The bulkhead offers the greatest place that has been suggested and should prove so popular that it will attract tourists from every part of the state. It is in the heart of the city, has everything to commend it and could have the proper police protection at all times and would really be a component part of the city. Here at least between 500 and 1,000 people could be housed this winter and the merchants of the city would feel the benefits. 1,000 people would have to spend $1-000 a day. Think of it and get busy at once. This does not take into consideration that these people would be a fine advertisement for the city and that many of them would buy property and live here next winter or that many of them would induce their friends to come down next winter and in many ways would advertise Sanford to the world.

HARRY BROWN BUYS LAKE- LAND TELEGRAM.

Among the surprises of the Florida press gang is the announcement that Harry L. Brown, editor of the St. Augustine Record, had purchased the Lakeland Telegram. Mr. Brown is one of the foremost and one of the best newspaper men in the state and his advent into the social and business life of Lakeland will be a big boost for that community. The Lakeland Telegram announces the change as follows:

"Mr. M. F. Hetherington announces the sale of the Lakeland Evening Telegram to Mr. Harry L. Brown, of St. Augustine. The sale is sweeping, including everything connected with the business except the Evening Telegram building and the accounts of the business to December 1st. Mr. Brown goes back to St. Augustine today to close up his affairs there, and will arrive here the first of next week to become a permanent citizen of Lakeland and to take charge of his property.

"Mr. M. F. Hetherington will retire from newspaper work but will continue his residence in Lakeland where he has property and other interests.

"Mr. W. M. Hetherington will retain his connection with the business management of the paper.

"Mr. Harry L. Brown has been for the past sixteen years editor of the St. Augustine Record, and general manager of the great plant of the Record Printing Company. He will bring to his new field ripe experience, demonstrated ability, the prime of virility, and a forceful and magnetic personality. He is enthusiastic over the future of Lakeland and this section, and comes, full of energy and enthusiasm, to be a booster and a builder. He is a man who would be a magnificent asset to any community, and we feel that we have done this city a great benefit in bringing him here. We are proud to present him to the people of this section as our successor, believing that the connection will be of very great advantage both to him and to them."

MODERNIZING THE SMALL CITIES.

Many of the smaller cities in Florida have shown the most remarkable development along modern lines, during the past few years. In the old days it was not considered necessary for the smaller places to have all the modern ideas and plans that characterize the big cities but this condition has been materially changed and it is apparent that the newer towns that are being established will start where the older cities landed after leaving from a quarter to a half century old.

In looking over the state newspapers it is seen that many high-class subdivisions are being laid out in towns of from 2,000 to 10,000 population. These subdivisions have paved streets, sidewalks, cement curbs, grassed parking, ornamental trees, water, sewer and all modern ideas and conveniences which were only thought possible in the larger cities. And the peculiar and gratifying part of it all is that the smaller cities have shown almost as quick response to these modern improvements as their larger neighbors and the lots in these modern subdivisions have sold readily at good prices that paid well for the improvements.

The people have learned that it is much more desirable to purchase properties in finished sections than to buy in the rough and find, too late, that there is no uniformity or continuation of good sidewalks and it is always difficult to get the streets paved and for years these scattered improvements are in a condition that frequently disgusts the original purchasers who finally sell to some one else and buy where all the improvements are installed before the property is placed on the market.

With this kind of development the small cities in Florida are going to present a most attractive appearance and they will build up more rapidly than under the old haphazard plan of development. With thousands of winter visitors, and tourists coming to each town every year, it is only natural that some of them should become interested and fascinated with the place and want to make an investment and this will add to the population and the tax list and the general prosperity of the town or city. Modernize your town and you will reap the benefits that are now going to the big cities.—Times-Union.

WORK AND THE BOY

"How a Boy of Eleven May Earn Money," is the title of an article recently appearing in a newspaper and the story goes on to explain just how a boy may add to the family income by utilizing his every spare moment outside of school hours. A number of plans are mapped out by which the boy of eleven may earn something to help pay for his upkeep, as it were.

While there may be isolated cases in which a boy so young may be compelled to help his parents in the expense of his education, surely they are not so very numerous. If it is necessary, it is regrettable. If a boy of eleven wishes to earn a little spending money occasionally, he might be able to do so without injury to himself for the very simple reason that a small boy will not of his own volition do enough work to injure himself, and to him money is a small consideration. A boy of eleven does sufficient work when he attends school, and possibly performs little duties about the home, that will be of assistance to his mother, and which will also be sufficient to teach him that there is work to be done in the world, and that he in time must do his share. But aside from this, the boy surely should not be required to work unless it is absolutely necessary. For the boy of eleven, any year younger and several years older, there should be much play, and little work. The sunshine is never so bright, the sky never so blue, the woods and streams never so wonderful in after life as they are in early youth. The need for the physical exercise which romping and playing gives is never so great. The boy should be encouraged in his love of sports and games. An interest in these things will keep him out of mischief in his early boyhood and later. If he lives in the country or a small town, where the vast majority of people live, he will find unending joy in the haunts which he can easily reach where he may study nature at her best. If he is so unfortunate as to live where he cannot have these things, there are still many means by which he can indulge in games and thus fill up his measure of spare time pleasantly and profitably. The small boy, and the small girl, as well, should not be tied down to hard labor. Theirs is the time of golden dreams, of perfect earth. The present, as well as the future, lies before their eyes, and they see nothing but happiness in all of it. They will awaken to the stern reality, of toil and dullness, disappointment and struggle, soon enough. Surely in this wonderful country with all its opportunities and its wealth, we should not have to outline plans by which our children shall be compelled to earn their daily bread.

"Mr. M. F. Hetherington will retire from newspaper work but will continue his residence in Lakeland where he has property and other interests."

"Mr. W. M. Hetherington will retain his connection with the business management of the paper."

MORE WORK, LESS TALK

"We need more citizens in Gainesville and more settlers in Alachua county," remarks the Gainesville Sun. "We need to do things that will bring them here." Boasting and mere talking will not do it. Those who are looking for homes in Florida want things demonstrated and proved to them. "The Sun thinks that the Alachua county fair, which was held in Gainesville recently, afforded a lot of visitors the chance to learn the truth about the county—to see the proof. The editor is of the opinion that there would be few doubters if people could see what was shown at the fair. The opportunity is now being continued in the state fair, now being held in Jacksonville. Those who really wish to be shown what can be done in the state need only make a trip to the fair grounds. The displays are wonderful—to many a revelation, and certainly satisfactory to the most exacting.—Times-Union.

SPENT DAY IN THE WOODS

A party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cowan, son George and daughter, Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Monroe, and Ben, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Walthour enjoyed Thanksgiving day at Lake Minnie. At noon a most tempting picnic lunch was served, to which was added quail and venison secured by the huntsmen who had gone earlier in the day. All voted a most enjoyable time and wished that just such an occasion might be repeated at an early date.

Roberts Bros, of Zolfo, on October 11th, closed a deal with the estate of David H. Scott for the Scott Bros. packing house and have taken charge of same and opened business for the 1920-21 season. The capacity of this house is three cars a day and since 1893 it has enjoyed a most liberal patronage from the citrus growers of this section of the state.

Inspired by the popularity gained during the past year at the present development of the Orlando Country Club, still greater impetus has been given to the movement to make this Florida's greatest and most beautiful playground.

SEE FINISH WINTER LEAGUE

Winter baseball in Florida is reeling around on its last legs, from the "technical knockout" received at the hands of the fans who have not rallied to its support.

Dr. J. L. Moorfield, St. Petersburg's high mogul, and one of the foremost figures in the movement, announced Friday that he had about learned his lesson, and was willing to surrender his park, and contracts, lock, stock and barrel to anyone who would take the burden off his hands. It is understood that a round dozen of St. Petersburg business men have undertaken to make a go of the venture but the prospect is muddy.

Bobby LaMotte and his "Orphans"—so called since Tampa disowned them—played a good consistent brand of ball at Sarasota Friday, losing to the Sarasota outfit by a 5 to 2 count. LaMotte bowled for the Orphans, but had difficulty with Sarasota bats in the sixth and seventh frames, finishing by allowing the locals 12 hits to account for five runs. Carter, for Tampa, did the prodigious act in the fifth, his home run scoring a runner ahead of him. But the two runs finished Tampa's scoring.

LaMotte will lead his forlorn hopes to St. Petersburg for a four game series starting Monday. Later if Palmotto decides in favor of a ball club they will carry that city's colors into the fray against the Saints on December 8.

Even the most hopeful of cold weather fans do not dare to predict the survival of the league through the month of December. "Off the diamond by Christmas seems as safe a bet as one would want.—Tampa Times.

PICNIC AT WEKIVA SPRINGS.

On Thanksgiving day Wekiva Springs was the scene of a most enjoyable family gathering of the Welch, Sheperd, Berry families. This picnic was enjoyed by about forty of the relatives. A bountiful dinner was served in the pavilion. The table, which was filled with good things to eat was very attractive with a display of fruit on a background of moss. Some of the ladies amused themselves boating on the river while the men went hunting.

Nearly 200 members are now enrolled in the Lake County Game Protective Association, and as many dollars are in the treasury to offer for rewards and prosecution of offenders of the game laws of the county and state.

The largest strawberry crop in several years is predicted for the Plant City section this season. Reports from the growers show an increased acreage and prospects for a better crop than that of former years.

Fall Fertilizing

Fertilizer applied to citrus trees in November is one of the greatest factors in securing a heavy crop the following season, for it is during the seemingly dormant period that incipient fruit buds are formed.

In addition to this, fall fertilizer induces a larger, stronger root system which is of great benefit to the tree in developing growth, holding fruit, and withstanding droughts. Fall fertilization in great measure prevents the usual "off year" following heavy yields.

NEW SMYRNA HAPPY OVER MUNICIPAL PLANT WORKING SMOOTHLY

With electric lights burning brightly in all parts of the city after five months of battling with kerosene lamps and candles and semi-darkness, the people of New Smyrna were in position this week to observe Thanksgiving in a spirit of real thankfulness.

The new municipal electric plant is established and working. The current is steady and strong and the new machinery is all working in splendid style. Here are still some small changes and adjustments to be made and these are being taken care of as rapidly as possible.

It was to be expected some difficulties would be encountered when the plant was first started up and that readjustments would be necessary, but the only real trouble was in the switchboard, a part of which did not work as it should after it had been installed and attached. Several trials were necessary to definitely establish this trouble, but after it was located the defective part was removed and a similar part borrowed from Ormond to be used until another part could be sent here and permanently attached.

The lights were first tried out Saturday night, but it was soon found the service could not be maintained under the circumstances and they were turned off again. They were tried out again Sunday and Monday nights and the trouble rectified Tuesday, so that real service was furnished the patrons until midnight Tuesday night. By Wednesday night the plant was working beautifully and no further trouble is anticipated.

The people of New Smyrna are happy over the definite solution of the lighting problem and justly proud of the new municipal plant. It has been established in almost record time since it was definitely decided there was no way to get lights except to build our own plant.

The second unit to be operated parallel with the unit now in service has been ordered and will be installed and ready for use soon after the first of the new year. Until this second unit is in operation it is probable no effort will be made to furnish continuous service.—New Smyrna News.

GENERAL PRICES KEEP DECLINING

(By John W. Hill, Financial Editor
Iron Trade Review.)

All eyes in trade circles are turned upon the retailer. The next move in the procession toward lower living costs is expected to come from him. Producers and wholesalers have cut prices and taken losses. Now, they say, it is up to the retailer to follow suit.

Sellers every week are becoming more convinced that the consumers are in the saddle. On Nov. 1 Bradstreet's index number was 70 per cent above pre-war levels. Apparently this does not satisfy the public. It is now giving an amazing exhibition of its ability to refrain from buying essentials as well as luxuries.

Some better movement of seasonal goods is reported, however. This is due to the colder weather and to price concessions. In the main, trade continues under the influence of price uncertainty and the deadlock between buyers and sellers.

The snapping back of wheat prices within the last few days to 1916 levels has carried American wheat below Canadian quotations. This has revived buying here by England. The visible supply of American wheat Nov. 1 was 54,000,000 bushels less than last year. The world's visible supply is 103,000,000 bushels less. Large crops in Argentina, Australia, and India, however, are expected to provide ample wheat for the world next year.

With flour nearly back to pre-war levels, bread prices have begun to tumble in some cities. In New York a number of hotels have cut food prices 10 per cent. A large chain of restaurants has announced reductions of from 10 to 28 per cent. Many lines of fabrics and clothing have registered sharp declines within the last two weeks.

Despite the adverse exchange rates, latest export figures show that Europe has been buying cotton freely. October exports were the largest for the month since 1915. At the same time consumption by American mills was the smallest in October since the war began.

Prices are falling because of under demand and not overproduction. Prices were pushed so high during inflation that buyers either rebelled or were unable to pay them. In addition banking credit has been temporarily exhausted. Money rates are high and loan renewals difficult. As a result business houses have accumulations of goods. They must make concessions to get cash and pay their debts. Also, too much faith was pinned in autumn trade prospects and a post-election boom. It is now realized that excessive prices have gone not to return.

Sellers have abandoned as useless the high-cost-of-production argument to keep up prices. Instead, they are endeavoring to bring down costs for 1921. No general reduction in wages have occurred. Chief economies will be effected through cheaper raw material and fuel and increased efficiency of labor.

The decline of foreign exchanges continues to be a matter of concern in the country. From Argentina, Brazil and other South American countries American exporters are receiving returned goods and unpaid drafts. The European situation also continues grave. In Cuba financial conditions are growing more involved as sugar prices continue to decline.

PLANT CITY VEGETABLES ARE SCARCE

The vegetable market in Plant City has been marked by a falling off in the amount of vegetables marketed this week. All vegetables are getting scarce. Few vegetables were sold Thanksgiving day, which makes the week's receipts far below the average. The prices are about the same as they were the first of the week, with a slight rise in squash.

Prices quoted by local buyers today: Cukes, $3.25; egg plants, $3; lettuce, $2; okra, $3.25; Irish potatoes, $2.60; pepper, $2.50; squash (yellow and white), $2.—Plant City Courier.

There is a crying need for the betterment of the cross-state road between Melbourne on the east coast and Kissimmee—and it is to be hoped that the commissioners of Brevard county will see the proposed necessity in the proper light.

SANFORD IS EXPLOITED IN KNIGHT & WALL SPACE SUNDAY TAMPA TRIBUNE

Same Old Story Only Told In Different Way

IRRIGATION METHOD AND THE WINTER VEGETABLES MAKE GREAT STORY ANY TIME

"The beautiful city of Sanford, with its wide, brick-paved streets, its modern homes, its restful parks, its marble bank buildings, its daily newspaper, its great fields of growing crops, its brick paved highways from which floats the constant hum of the automobiles as town and country merge, and its thousands of happy people, from field hand to bank president, all are a living part of the vision that took possession of J. N. Whitner away back yonder in 1895, when he realized his orange grove had failed."

This quotation from the files of the Florida Grower, depicts the indomitable spirit of Florida people that has made Florida what it is today. Many successes have been built upon the ashes of disaster.

Mr. Whitner, pioneer planter, foresaw that in the growing of winter vegetables for Northern markets lay the future possibilities of Florida soil. All the soil needed at Sanford was irrigation.

How Irrigation was Evolved.

"Heaven cannot help the man who will not act." And it took a Methodist preacher, Dr. T. W. Moore, to suggest an idea. At first it was a simple plan to pack the sand on the village street, by turning water from flowing wells onto the sand. A ditch was dug down the center of the street, lined with a wooden trough. The sandy streets, therefore, were transformed into natural pavements.

Farmers transplanted the idea to their farms, with the result, that, after many experiments, they evolved the finest system of sub-irrigation in the world, which combines with its drainage the maintenance of the water table at any desired level.

Celery growing became the great industry of this district. Irrigation enabled a man to tell almost to a day when he set out his plants, when he would be in the market with his produce.

The modern system consists of a series of terra cotta pipes, placed upright in the ground, and all connected with a water main. To give satisfaction the land should be level, have a floor of clay, marl or hard pan at a depth of from three to five feet below the surface, and an outlet for drainage.

Amongst the great advantages are immunity from damage by excessive rainfall. Outlet drainage takes care of that. Regulating the water table will keep the water just the right distance below the roots. Capillary attraction will bring it in right proportion to plants. This system, combined with rich soil, is the basis of the great wealth of the Sanford vegetable area.

The artesian flow of water, a great mystery, can be obtained for only a short distance from the St. John's river and from Lake Monroe.

Rich Variety of Vegetables. While Sanford is justly famous for its output of celery, it is a great mistake to ignore its importance as a primary supply of other vegetables. Every known vegetable can be produced and cauliflower, beets, cabbage, chicory and lettuce are shipped in carload lots. Four crops a year are grown on the same land, the final crop, in addition to the above, being usually corn as a fodder crop.

On an average, about 3,000 cars of vegetables a year are shipped from this point. This is grown on a cultivated area of about 800 acres in celery, 100 acres in lettuce and 200 acres in cabbage. Peppers, chicory and other vegetables combine to make up a very notable production. No wonder the boosters of Sanford lay claim to the greatest production on any similar acreage in the state of Florida. Two and a half million dollars came into the Sanford district last year for vegetables. A stupendous sum. It was a banner year, due no doubt to the unusual buying capacity of the nation.

Through co-operative marketing most of the output is sold. The two selling societies are the Sanford Farmers Exchange, a branch of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and the Sanford Truck Growers, incorporated. Through these two one-half of the output of vegetables were sold last year.

DEATH OF MARY KENNEDY DUNNIVAN

Died at Charleston, S. C., Saturday, Nov. 20th, Mary Kennedy Dunnivan, beloved young wife of Harry B. Dunnivan, in the nineteenth year of her age. The many friends here of Mrs. Dunnivan and of her sister, Mrs. Clarence J. Wolfe, were grief-stricken, when the news of the former's death spread through the city on Saturday evening for Mary, was well known, and popular, having lived here for several years attending the grammar school in her early girlhood. She was dearly loved by a large circle of friends, won by the charm of a sweet, winsome gaiety and an ever willing heart to serve those whom she loved. Mrs. Dunnivan was stricken suddenly with acute heart failure and died within five minutes.

Besides the young husband, she leaves a father C. W. Kennedy and her stepmother; three brothers, C. A. Kennedy and David Kennedy, of Wilmington, N. C., and Nash Kennedy, of Tampa; two sisters, Mrs. C. J. Wolfe and Miss Helen Kennedy of Sanford. With the exception of the latter, all of them attended the funeral at Charleston Monday at one o'clock. Interment took place in Anthony Cemetery.

So great has been the early travel to points along the East Coast of Florida, the officials of the Florida East Coast railroad have been compelled to put on addition train service to accommodate the unusual number of visitors and winter residents.

When you pass the Herald office glance in at the window and see that new line of box stationary for the Christmas trade. You will want it "pronto" and also "depeche vous."

In these days even a soft bodomed shirt commands a stiff price.

Sheriff of Seminole Pulls Off New Stunt

SUMMONED LADIES TO SERVE ON JURY TODAY BUT THEY WERE EXCUSED

(From Monday's Daily)

Sheriff Brady summoned a bevy of Sanford ladies for jury duty today, making the first time in the history of Seminole county when such a procedure was ever attempted. The sheriff probably thought he would find out how the new voters would do as members of a jury but had they served they would probably have turned the tables on him by acquitting the prisoner. The ladies summoned were Mrs. E. F. Housholder, Mrs. L. P. Hagan, Miss Weeks, Mrs. John Leonard and Mrs. R. J. Holly.

Some of the ladies could not attend the court and those who went down were excused by Judge Housholder, who was not quite ready to take ladies on the jury and especially on a case of selling liquor and as all of them were busy with other matters they were excused and they were all glad to get away from the temple of justice and none of them were anxious to serve.

They are all wondering now just why they were summoned by the sheriff and he is hiding out to escape the irate husbands of the ladies who were the first victims of the suffrage movement. Probably they would not mind serving for some cases but not on this one.

Farmers of the Hastings section who pledged themselves to plant several thousand acres of cane to support the sugar refinery to be erected at Palatka before the coming fall, sent T. M. Waldron and G. W. Atkinson, two of their number, to Louisiana to investigate the growing of cane in that section of the country.

That a direct steamship connection with the Bahamas is about to be afforded Jacksonville is considered a certainty, provided Jacksonville can offer the necessary facilities at this end of the line.

HORSE SENSE in horse feeding.

It is shrewd common sense to feed a horse a balanced food, which will develop every part of its body. Analysis of Purina O-Molene Feed shows that it contains in proper proportion all the elements for muscle, blood, hair and hide making, as well as a large percentage of Nitrogen free extract, which supplies heat and energy. There is no 15 to 18 percent waste as in feeding the whole oats, due to swallowing whole.

SANFORD MERCHANTS ALIVE GOING AFTER THE TRADE OF THIS PART OF FLORIDA

Many Sales Being Inaugurated Now

WATCH THE PAPER

AND DON'T SEND YOUR MONEY OUT OF THE CITY FOR ANYTHING.

Sanford is the trading center for this part of Florida and the live merchants here are putting on some big sales this week and next week that will startle the buyers of this and adjoining counties. Sanford being the logical trading center is also the logical city for this influx of buyers for they get good treatment here and are made to feel at home all the time. The merchants here recognizing this fact are making strong bids for the people to come here from this time forward and long before Christmas are putting on these big sales to induce the new people to come here where their dollars will go the farthest. Sanford is gaining a great name among the people of adjoining counties and they are making the trip here for a radius of fifty miles to take advantage of these big sales. Almost every store in Sanford is putting on record breaking sales just now and a perusal of the Daily and Weekly Herald will convince the buyers that these are real sales and that the best of the seasonable goods are going at unheard of prices. Now is the time to move the goods and now is the time for the people to come here and get the guaranteed brands of merchandise at very reasonable prices.

Sanford is attracting the people and they are being treated square when they come here and, with the prices and the goods and the real treatment they are coming here all the time.

The city is filled with people all during the day and it is a great surprise to many to see so many people coming from the neighboring cities and they are surprised when they get here to see so many real bargains.

You are saving money by shopping these days through the Daily Herald.

OPPOSE SPLITTING UP MEAT TRUST—IT CAN BE HANDLED BETTER AS IS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Opposition to any plan for divorcing the big five meat packers from their stockyard properties by court decree, as tending to interfere with enactment of the controlling legislation, was expressed in a joint statement issued here today by Chas. A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organizations; Mrs. Florence Kelley, secretary of the National Consumers' League, and Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters. The statement, also signed by representatives of the Farmers' National Council and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, declared the modified plan for divorcement of their stockyard interests submitted to the District of Columbia supreme court by the Armour and the Swift companies, would, if carried out, "only complicate the situation," and make more difficult the enactment of controlling legislation.

"Control of the meat packing industry must be exercised as a whole," the statement said, adding that "congress could and should" promptly enact legislation to that end when it convenes next week.

ST. PETERSBURG HAS 600 AUTO CAMPERS

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 30.—St. Petersburg's Tent City, the new suburb opened in this city, has overflowed its original boundaries and Mayor Mitchell has just secured some ten acres of additional land, which is now open to the campers who desire to live in their cars or tents that they carry. The population of Tent City is now about 800, and every day sees new arrivals. The city has put in comfort stations and today two new ones were installed to take care of the large number of campers. No charge is made for the use of the grounds by the tourists. They come from all parts of the country east of the Mississippi.

SANFORD SECURES NEXT MEETING FLORIDA GREETERS

(From Tuesday's Daily)

The annual convention of the Florida Greeters, Charter No. 47, of the Greeters of America, will be held in Sanford next April. An invitation was extended by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce to Mr. E. C. Shreve, Jr., President of the Greeters, to make Sanford the headquarters of the next convention. A similar invitation was also wired by the "13" Club, and as the result of these combined efforts of its two active organizations, Sanford can feel justly elated over securing this convention.

The Florida Greeters are composed of hotel managers and clerks of hotels in the state, and has but recently received its charter from the national organization. The organization in Florida has been under the efficient management of Mr. E. C. Shreve, Jr., of the Valdez Hotel, who was elected president at the time of their incorporation. If the membership in this organization increases to the number Mr. Shreve anticipates, there will be in the neighborhood of one hundred Greeters in Sanford next April.

The convention division of the Chamber of Commerce will see that suitable entertainment is provided for these boys, something that will convince them we have a reputation not only for celery but for hospitality as well. The organization has the reputation for boosting, not only the localities they represent, but the entire state. We are looking forward to the pleasure of having them with us and will endeavor to make their stay here a pleasantly memorable one.

Several successful conventions of this nature should place Sanford amongst the convention cities of the state.

ROADS MAY SUE UNCLE SAM FOR FUNDS THEY ARE CLAIMING BY GUARANTEE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Court action to compel the treasury department to make payments to the treasury department to make payments to the roads under the guarantee provision of the railroad administration act was under consideration by the carries.

It became known today that the railroad's case is being prepared by Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives and former Justice of the District Supreme Court Howard.

Comptroller Warwick of the treasury has ruled that the treasury cannot make advances to the railroads on account of the six months guarantee unless the roads filed their applications for such advance prior to September 1, the date set for the payment. It is to this ruling the railroads object. They contended that it was not possible for them to complete their figures as to the amounts due them by the government at that time.

WILL AFFECT FLORIDA SHIPPERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Up to a late hour last night no announcement had been made here officially relative to a recession of the orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission, argued before the commission last week, wherein California shippers and growers are given preference over those in Florida because of the former having a longer time in which to determine upon their selling points after shipment of fruits. This order as it stands now will become effective at midnight today unless a decision to revoke it is made immediately.

The order relates to reconignment of shipments of fruit and other produce.

TAMPA TO HAVE BIG MUNICIPAL DOCKS

TAMPA, Nov. 30.—Contract was let today by the board of port commissioner for the city to the Seaboard Dredging Company for dredging a slip 800 feet long and 250 feet wide. This marks the first real step in the city's plan for a big municipal terminal on its 1,400 feet of frontage on the Ybor channel. As soon as the slip has been dredged it will be lined with docks, and huge warehouses and modern loading and unloading equipment and coal bunkers will be installed.

POSTAL ROBBERS LOCATED IN OMAHA

OMAHA, Nov. 30.—Postal inspectors announced that Keith Collins who is held here charged with implication in the over $3,000,000 mail car robbery led officers to Cache where $23,000 was recovered.

RANSOM-WOODRUFF.

The following clipping is of a great deal of interest to many people in Sanford because of the popularity of both parties here:

"NINETY-SIX, S. C., Nov. 25.—Marked by a charming grace and simplicity was the marriage of Miss Mary Ransom and Mr. Frank Woodruff at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. L. Phillips, Wednesday evening, November 24th at 7:30. Only the immediate relatives of both parties and a few intimate friends were present.

"Just before the ceremony a lovely musical program was rendered by Miss Thelma Lightsey, of Hampton with Miss Bessie Crockett, of Due West, at the piano. Miss Lightsey was in good voice and sweetly sang, "Until at Dawning," and "Call—Me Thine Own."

"Promptly at 7:30 Miss Crockett sounded Mendelssohn's wedding March and Rev. J. W. Kennedy, of Ora, followed by dainty little Beth Ransom, ring bearer, stepped in front of a lovely arch under which stood the bride and groom. The ceremony was unique and beautiful.

Immediately after the ceremony a delicious salad course with hot chocolate was served. The bridal party left on the 8:30 for Florida.

"The bride wore a handsome blue belidne suit with brown accessories, carrying an exquisite bouquet of bride's roses and ferns.

Miss Thelma Lightsey wore black panne velvet with corsage bouquet of pink roses. Miss Crockett was handsomely gowned in yellow georgette wearing pink roses.

Mr. Ransom, the father of the bride, is a well known, successful missionary at Montgomery, India, at which place Miss Mary resided several years, being sent to the states for her education which she received at the Due West College for Women. She studied voice at Bush Conservatory and toured northern and southern states as soprano with Ward Waters Lyceum Co.

"The groom is a prosperous business man of Sanford, Fla.

"The young couple were very fortunate to be able to secure the services of Rev. J. N. Kennedy, who some years ago performed a like ceremony for the bride's father and mother—and also for the groom's parents. The numerous beautiful and handsome gifts attested the popularity of the young couple.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Woodruff, of Sanford, Fla., mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ransom and daughter of Grensboro, N. C.; Mrs. Ira Ransom and nephew of Charlotte; Dr. and Mrs. Cowan, Mr. Galloway, Miss Bessie Crockett, Mr. and Mrs. Todd, of Due West; Miss Thelma Lightsey, of Hampton; Roddy Devlin, Miss Mamie Devlin, Mr. Millford, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Phillips, of Greenwood."

After a honeymoon down the East Coast the bride and groom will be at home with the groom's parents on Oak avenue.

DADE COUNTY MOB HANGS NEGRO WHO ATTEMPTED ASSAULT ON A WOMAN

MIAMI, Nov. 30.—J. B. Harris, a negro, was lynched by a mob of white men near Princeton, twenty-five miles south of Miami yesterday afternoon, after being identified by the white woman he attacked during the forenoon.

Harris admitted he entered the woman's house to attack her. The woman had lain down to sleep and was awakened by Harris at 10:30 a. m. Although knowing her husband absent, she called to him to come quick and bring his gun.

Harris ran from the house, mounted his bicycle, and fled. The mob found Harris at a sawmill near Naranja, and at once took him to the woman's residence. She identified him positively as her assailant. The mob then quietly led Harris to a thicket a quarter of a mile off, placed a rope around his neck and strung him up. No shots were fired and Harris was not tortured. Soon afterward the mob dispersed.

DISTRICT SUPREME COURT DIRECTS MANDAMUS AGAINST SEC. DANIELS

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—District Supreme Court directed a mandamus against Secretary Daniels to permit naval reserve officers who were injured in line of duty to appear before the Naval Retirement Board to determine their right for retirement.

Older Days in Florida

REMINISCENCES OF YEARS AGO IN OLD ORANGE COUNTY

C. E. Howard, a well known newspaper man of Orlando and the state of Florida, is writing a series of letters of the early days in Florida for the Orlando Reporter-Star. The following letter will be of interest to the older citizens of Volusia county:

Among the earliest records to be found of the first settlers of Orange county, when the county embraced what is now known as Osceola, Lake and Seminole, and was thus a state within itself, there appears the name of Captain Aaron Jernigan. In the year 1843 this rough and ready pathfinder started from a point north of St. Marys, Fla., and with his family traveled in a small boat up the St. Johns river to Mellonville, near the present site of the city of Sanford, taking four days and nights in what he considered rather rapid transit to make the trip.

The party was "loaded for bear" in grim reality, as well as Redskins and other "varmints," for in those days it required courage and fortitude to dare to penetrate the almost uncharted wilderness of South Florida, especially along the densely wooded banks of the St. Johns river, behind which lurked all sorts of dangers. Men might dare to make such a trip but women, at that time considered "the weaker vessel," and children scarcely dared to dream of so dreadful a trip.

Besides the river and its many lagoons teeming with monster alligators, which were actually seen swimming just beneath the surface, sticking their breathing apparatus and film covered eyes just above the water, their dreadful jaws sometimes reaching up threateningly, there was known to be bear, panthers, wildcats and supposed to be dangerous lizards, snakes and indescribable monsters every foot of the way.

Of course it was not known in those days that many of the supposed monsters were miniature in size and that many really didn't exist, but they were real to them, nevertheless. But there loomed up a danger much greater than any of these, of which the first settlers thought they had good reason to be afraid, and indeed they had, in the Seminole Indians, who still roamed the woods and sometimes gave considerable trouble. There was a certain fascination, however, in the stores of game worth the hunting, countless birds, quail, wild turkey, deer and sometimes bear, which were true stories, every one of them, as the hunter knows extend down to this very day in some sections of the state.

As late as 1849 the Seminole Indians were molesting and sometimes killing the settlers and at that time for an entire year the Jernigan family barricaded themselves behind the strong fence of the fort, fearing attack.

Considerable corn and other crops were grown, as the farmer was used to in the upper states, and at night he would steal out and secure a supply for the family, while late in the afternoon, before the sun would set, the men would stalk out behind the trees hunting turkey, quail, etc., to replenish the family larder.

While on these trips sometimes Indians would appear and take a shot at them and on one occasion Jernigan, who was armed with a single-barrel gun, was attacked by several Indians and, disposing of his one shot, he ran for cover, to save his life.

The Indians were at once pursued by the entire posse and no stop was made until the savages were lost in the fastnesses of Shingle Creek, just about where now Kissimmee stands. Jernigan and sons attempting to return home found they had lost their way and finally reached home by following the stars as a guide.

They were very hungry, for in the pursuit they had nothing to eat and now it was night. Of course, there were any number of guava bushes loaded with fruit and several places they saw tomato vines clinging even to the very tree tops and little red and yellow tomatoes hanging from the vines, but the fruit of both was considered poisonous and not fit to eat, what a lot they had to learn, to be sure, both now among the very finest of Florida summer fruits.

During those days court was held at Enterprise, now in Volusia county, and any business of that kind required the family to travel down to the St. Johns river and across it, just as in later years the people of the river country had to travel to Orlando in the opposite direction.

Cattle seem to have been the chief money crop at that early date. Jernigan had soon running over the range from six to seven hundred Florida cattle, sometimes selling as much as two thousand dollars worth at a time.

The family had plenty of home butter and cheese, grew sufficient corn for bread and cakes and an abundance of sugar cane for "sweetening." These and sweet potatoes, with plenty of game and fish, made up the staple articles of daily living.

The "Hunters' paradise" and "The fisherman's joy"—work when one pleased and just live—that was all there was to it.

Many a man indulges in just such dreams in this day, and if he looks around he can find something akin to it right now, since the birds are still here, the deer may be found in season, and even bear may be had, though not as plentiful as in the days of yore.

The lawless days are past and gone now; must hunt according to law, and in some instances fish by law, but this is merely to preserve the game for the next generation, for man is a destructive creature; many of the old-time hunting and fishing places will know it no more, likewise the stately long-leaved pines and the magnificent cedars and other noble trees of the native forest have been destroyed with ruthless hand, though it is true oaks and orange groves have taken their place in many instances.

The Indian grandchildren and great-grandchildren of those that remained after the dispersing of the tribe westward, are still living around the edges of the Everglades, a simple, harmless folk, now under the federal oversight of our friend, Commissioner A. L. Spencer, formerly of Orlando, and occasionally, as in the case of a venturesome deer, one of them will wander near to the habitat of the "pale face" and mayhap he will even stop to look it over and grunt, whether with satisfaction or disgust—who knows?

HOGS PAY BIG MONEY

Mr. Pete Wing of Hawk Point, Mo., made a lot of money out of his hogs. He says: "I fed them Dr. LeGear's Hog Prescription. It has given wonderful results in putting gains on them with less feed. They were on heavy feed for only a month averaged a gain of 2 1/2 pounds daily, and were only 7 months, 10 days old, when sold."

Mr. Wing profited by the advice of Dr. LeGear, Graduate Veterinarian and Expert Poultry Breeder of 28 years' standing.

Dr. LeGear's Hog Prescription will put weight on your hogs also, because it expels worms, purifies the blood and conditions them so that they gain flesh on less feed.

It makes no difference what ailment is prevalent among your stock or poultry, it is money in your pocket to get the proper Dr. LeGear Remedy from your dealer, on a satisfaction or money back offer.

The privileges desired are what the other woman calls rights.

Have you thought where you would move to?

REO

Everyone Wants What Everyone Else Wants

That is the condition which confronts us in the case of the New Reo Six. Because of its outward beauty and its inherent mechanical excellence;— Because, in a word, this new Six is a Reo with all the term implies of stability, dependability and low upkeep; The demand is almost hopelessly in excess of the possible supply. Our quota is insufficient to supply the local needs—and such is the demand everywhere else, the factory assures us we cannot hope for an additional Reo. Among discriminating buyers—experienced motorists—the new Reo Six is first choice. There are many reasons for this. To enumerate them one would have to mention every detail of this model beginning with that wonderfully simply, wonderfully certain oiling system and ending with the last coat of varnish on the body. For the excellence of this Reo is uniform excellence. Attention to little details is the Reo idea of creating a perfect whole. This latest Reo is also the best Reo—hence the tremendous popularity.

NEED OF AUTO CAMPS OF THE RIGHT KIND IS APPARENT TO OFFICIALS

Sanford Should Have Two
First Class Camps

ORLANDO'S TROUBLE

ARE THE SAME AS SANFORD'S
AND THEY WILL BUILD BETTER CAMPS.

(From Monday's Daily)

An immense amount of time is expended on talking instead of doing. We refer to the proposed camp site for the City of Orlando. And in this editorial discussion we are going to give facts and figures, propose this and that and propound questions and render conclusions.

In the first place is Orlando going to have a decent, livable, sanitary camp or are the campers going to be barred from this section and given over to the towns and cities south of here?

Is the Orlando Chamber of Commerce going to back this matter and see it through with the cooperation of the business interests of the city?

Is the present camp site committee of the Chamber of Commerce sufficiently strong to bear the brunt of the campaign and wage a fight for funds successfully? And how much money should be put up by the business interests, and will a camp site pay?

Before attempting to answer the questions let us state a few facts.

The present make believe camp site between the east banks of Lake Ivanhoe and the railroad is a public disgrace, a nuisance, an eye sore, a miserable blot upon the landscape, unhealthy, unsanitary and a menace to Orlando. Immediately the county commissioners should order it closed and the campers should be instructed to remove themselves to some other place regardless of the hardship it may inflict upon them.

The Fair Grounds camping grounds are said to be sanitary and inviting but the time limit of two weeks is too short. The Fair Grounds is private property and we have nothing to say about its conduct. It is filling a need, however, and will serve until such time as new grounds are available.

Orlando should have a well drained, commodious, sanitary tract of land close to the city limits where campers can live. The campaign for funds should start after Tuesday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the amount required should be raised on Wednesday, the work of clearing the new camp site should be concluded in three days, and next week Orlando should be ready to give campers a decent place to pitch their tents.

It is stated on good authority that 125 persons are camping at the Fair Grounds. Conservatively it costs $1 per day for each person to live. Let us say that $3 per day would be the maximum average. In one week on the $1 basis the 125 campers spend $875 in Orlando and with Orlando merchants. In one month they spend $3,500 and in three months they spend $10,500. On the maximum basis they will spend $31,500 in Orlando.

The following from the Orlando Sentinel regarding the auto camp problems is most interesting to Sanford at this time:

Some few object to Orlando giving help to campers citing the usual reasons, but these usual reasons are exploded theories because other cities are expending as high as $500,000 on free camp sites and are satisfied with results.

It is better for Orlando to expend money on campers and give them a clean place to live than to allow them to give a bad name to the City Beautiful by allowing them to exist in such places as the Lake Ivanhoe "Hog Pen."

Automobile camping parties is a national mania. There are some people who adore travelling on wheels, camping in the open, living a modern gypsy life. They get fun out of the game. America is a free country and they enjoy doing as they like. As the years come, motoring and camping parties will continually increase. If Orlando has a large enough camping ground there is no reason why the winter campers would not leave here $1,000,000 annually because Orlando is the gateway into South Florida and Orlando should keep the people and their money here. Is it not good business to plan for the future? Ask your manufacturer, your merchant or your banker. He will tell you yes in no uncertain tones.

Now as to the manner in raising the amount needed. Not a step should be taken or an effort made until positive system is arrived at. This hit or miss solicitation is the wrong way. Why not tabulate every business man in Orlando in the order in which he would profit most from a free camp site.

Who gets the money? The grocery stores, the meat shops, the garages, the dry goods stores, the general merchants, the shoe stores, the restaurants, cafes and cafeterias, the theatres, the newspapers, the real estate dealers, the doctors, the lawyers, the bankers. In fact every business or professional man whether a dentist or a fruit vender shares in the money spent by Orlando people and in proportionate degree they will share in the money spent by campers whether it is $10,000 or $100,000.

It is nonsense to say that campers are all "cheap skates." Every city has a few cheap skates and if a city has why hasn't a camping city? We have interviewed some of the men who are camping at the Fair Grounds. They have money. They are spending it here and there throughout Orlando. They enjoy the camping life because it is a true democracy if there ever was one, and the lure of a free life is appealing with a certain and unmistakable romance about it. You ask them why they don't buy a home here, or build one. They could do it if they wished, many of them, yet you can't bull a camper into doing just what you demand. They say they will buy a home or build one if they like the town or city and the people. In appraising an individual or a class remember: "Judge not lest ye be judged."

Another argument for a good camp site is that Orlando signs pointed the way to Florida and a motorist has the right to expect that when he reaches a city capable of conducting a nation-wide highway posting campaign that it is able to afford a camp site.

Answering the question propounded in the early portion of this editorial we do not believe that Orlando will allow campers to live in filth, that they will not bar them, that the Chamber of Commerce will see this through, that the business men will co-operate with the committee. As to the present Chamber of Commerce camp site committee it has given evidence that it is energetic, but no committee can direct any kind of a campaign without help. As to the amount of money necessary to secure a tract of land, clean and equip it in keeping with the City Beautiful would depend upon the question of lease or ownership.

Something must be accomplished immediately. Orlando, the most prosperous and beautiful city in Florida, can not afford to suffer longer from the stories which have been carried broadcast throughout the state over the unsightly appearance of the Lake Ivanhoe spectacle, can not afford to be outranked by rival cities fighting for supremacy and above all else can not afford to shoot so much hot air about various questions, continually bring up matters of vital importance, discuss them with millions of words, shell them with orator yand bombast, and then "like a joyless eye that finds no object worth its constancy," roll over and let the God of Morpheus fan the fevered brow of perpetual slumber.

COME TO SANFORD TO TRADE.

The merchants of Sanford are putting on some real sales these days and they are inducing the people to come here for miles around. These sales comprise all lines of merchandise and you can buy everything cheaper here than in any other city in the state. Watch the Daily Herald for announcements. This week will be a real bargain week in this city.

PRETTY SALESGIRL DEAD IN BATHTUB; SEEKING HUSBAND

MIAMI, Nov. 30.—Circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Alberta Hawkins, pretty twenty-year-old salesgirl, who was found dead in an empty bathtub in a local apartment building Sunday, will be probed today by a coroner's jury, Coroner H. W. Renny announced last night.

Although no marks of violence were on the body, the police are anxious for a thorough investigation of the actions of the young woman and her husband prior to her death, which have aroused doubts that she met her death naturally. Her husband, Van Hawkins, has not yet been located by the authorities.

New Era Presbyterian Campaign Begun

PRESBYTERIANS TO ADVANCE
THE WORK IN THE STATE.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Florida Presbyterians will endeavor to advance the work of their denomination throughout the state by a series of special meetings held in principal Florida cities from Sunday, November 28, through the middle of December.

The meetings will be under the direction of the Presbyterian New Era Movement and one of the chief speakers will be Dr. Thomas G. Koontz, of New York City, one of the district secretaries in charge of the work in the South.

Another speaker will be the Rev. L. E. Brubaker, pastor of the Ensley Highlands Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, Alabama, and a synodical chairman of the New Era Movement. The Presbyterian woman's work, as carried on through the boards, will be presented by Mrs. George C. Prince of Philadelphia, representing the Presbyterian Woman's Board of Foreign Missions.

The places at which these Presbyterian gatherings will be held include the following cities: St. Augustine, November 28; Green Cove Springs, November 29-30; Crescent City, November 30, December 1; Eustis, December 1, 2; Titusville, December 3; Miami, December 5; Ft. Lauderdale, December 6, 7; Lake Worth, December 7, 8; Fort Pierce, December 8, 9; Jacksonville, December 12; Palatka, December 14; St. Augustine, December 15; Brunswick, Ga., December 16; Macon, Ga., December 19.

In the meetings held at Jacksonville, Palatka and the gathering at St. Augustine on December 15, special consideration will be given to work among the negroes. For special consultation also as to negro problems, two conferences will be held at Georgia, one at Brunswick, Thursday, December 16 and another at Macon, Ga., Sunday, December 19. These will all be addressed by Dr. Koontz.

Attractive programs have been prepared for all of these conferences and the Florida meetings will each be of one day's duration. They will begin at night at six o'clock with a supper followed by an address. Then at 7:30 o'clock, the general work of the Presbyterian church at home and abroad will be discussed, illustrated by lantern slide lectures. The morning session will begin at 9:30 and after an open conference in which the various phases of Missionary Education, Religious Education, Stewardship, the Every Member Movement and other Presbyterian problems are considered will be followed by strong addresses. The sessions will then close with an afternoon conference at which there will be a strong appeal for higher goals on the part of all Florida Presbyterians in their church work.

The Florida committee in charge of the special meetings consists of Rev. W. B. Witherspoon, D.D., Stated Supply for Lake Worth and Boynton; Rev. J. T. W. Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church, St. Cloud, Florida; Rev. Joseph P. Calhoun, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Winterhaven, Florida; Rev. W. O. Garrett, pastor of the First Church, Miami; Rev. M. E. Gabard, Stated Supply, Center Hill, Florida; Rev. N. H. Dresch, Stated Supply, Kissimmee, Florida; Rev. G. V. Albertson, DeLand, Florida, and Rev. R. W. Edwards, Jacksonville, Florida.

LETTUCE HOLDS GOOD MANY CARS THIS WEEK MARKET STILL STRONG

119 Cars This Week at Very Good Prices

NEED COOL WEATHER

BRINGING $2.50 PER HAMPER HERE IN SANFORD TODAY

Lettuce continues to move from the Sanford section and while the price has fallen considerably since the first of the week it is still very good, the quotations yesterday being $4 and $4.25 yesterday in the northern markets and it is said to be bringing $2.50 per hamper, here which will let the growers out altho it costs more to raise it this year than ever before.

Lettuce is always a profitable crop as it costs considerably less than celery to grow and ship and while the growers never expect high prices to prevail during the season they usually count on getting a good price at the first or during the holiday season and after that they figure on celery and other crops bringing them out if they lose on the lettuce crop. The weather is not so good today being very cloudy and with signs of rain. Should the rain be light and turn off with a cold spell the lettuce will head and ship fine but should the rain continue any time and have foggy weather or warm weather the lettuce does not grow as well or carry as well in shipments. The weather has to be reckoned on all the crops and the growers here have learned to take things philosophically and today their prospects are as bright or brighter than any season in the past ten years.

This week there will be 119 cars of lettuce and remain that will have gone forward from the Sanford section which is a fine record and one that will probably top any similar season in many years. There is much lettuce to go next week if the weather conditions and market conditions are favorable and from this time until after Christmas there will be considerable lettuce moved from here. There are also beans, cabbage, and some peppers in the sections near here that will be moving soon altho hardly enough for much in the car lot shipment line.

The various crops in this part of the state never looked better and the growers are looking forward to a fine season.

WORTHY PRAISE

We are going to venture the prediction that within another month the newspapers of Florida will be singing the praises of the state road department for having accomplished something. Forest Lake, the chairman and every member of his board are imbued with the one idea of making money and labor count at a time when most needed. There is no more pressing problem than the repair of the Dixie highway through Flagler county. The fact that work is already under way leads hope to everybody and augurs well for the usefulness of the board in the service of the public. It will do no harm, however to repeat our conviction that the Dixie highway is no longer a county or local road but a national highway. If proof is needed, we suggest to the doubting person that he or she take up the position on the San Sebastian bridge from daynight until dark and make note of the license tags from other state. That will be sufficient.—St. Augustine Record.

Northern towns and cities know little of okra, a vegetable highly prized in the South, and raised exclusively in the southern states. The Dade City Banner tells of the shipments recently made from that section of many crates of okra. In New York it brings as high as $8 a crate. Dade City is sending out a lot of fine okra, the fall crop having been excellent.

REPORT ON MILK BY INSPECTION

VARIOUS DAIRIES OF SANFORD AND HOW THEY STACKED UP.

(From Monday's Daily)
The public was startled a few days ago to learn that the State Board of Health was here inspecting the dairies and would make them all come to certain regulations or stop them from selling milk. As this was done here before few people thought anything about it and many and divers opinions were rendered about the propositions. The Herald announced then that the City Commissioners would demand the regulations in toto or refuse permits to sell milk which was also looked upon as some of those statements without foundation but it seems that the State Board of Health and Dr. Tolar, the City Physician, intend to carry out the regulations and rules governing the selling of milk to the letter and the following letter to Dr. Tolar given below shows how the various dairies showed up in the report: Jacksonville, November 26, 1920.

Doctor J. N. Tolar, Sanford, Florida.

The following is the report on the specimens of milk submitted November 24th:

Pinchurst Dairy: Butter fat, 8 per cent; total count, 100,000, i. e. bacteria per Cubic centimeter.

R. L. Garrison Dairy: Butter fat, 4 per cent; total count, 50,000.

Roseland Dairy: Butter fat, 4 per cent; total count 20,000.

Mrs. Barnes Dairy: Butter fat, 5 per cent; total count, 1,000,000.

G. W. Spencer Dairy: Butter fat, 4 per cent; total count, 30,000.

C. E. Henry Dairy: Butter fat 1.4 per cent; total count, 1,900,000.

Very truly yours,
B. L. ARMS, M. D., Director, Bureau of Diagnostic Laboratories.

The city of Sanford regulation allows 200,000 bacteria per Cubic centimeter. The Roseland Dairy and Spencer's Dairy show exceptionally low bacterial content while the Pinchurst shows the highest fat content.

J. N. TOLAR, City Health Officer.

In a few days the dairies will have to accede to the rules governing the premises upon which they have their dairies and while the time was short to make these improvements and more time may be granted them it is sure and certain that they will not be issued permits unless they conform to the rules in every particular. This is only fair to all of them and the bigger dairies say that they should not be put to this expense if the one and two cow dairies are allowed to operate without complying with the rules but the inspector intends to qualify them all alike and the rules will be hard and fast regardless of who owns the dairies.

The Lake Jem Nursery Company, with office at Lake Jem, is a newly incorporated Lake county nursery development, formerly reported in these columns as the Lake Nursery Company. This corporation owns two hundred acres of unusually fine citrus land enjoying the best of lake shore frost protection and atmospheric drainage conditions, on which they will grow stock and develop groves.

WOODROW WILSON—WAR VICTIM

The press dispatches recently told us that President Wilson sat on the south portico of the White House and enjoyed the rays of the warming sun—which gives us an opportunity to remark that nature is benignant and comforting, though the heart of man be sold.

For now the election is over, and the great object for which the storm of hatred against the President of the United States was stirred up, is attained, Woodrow Wilson sits alone, broken in health, draped in shawls, awaiting not alone the end of his term of office, but the rising of the last sun his earthly eyes shall behold.

He has served his day and generation as few men in all history have been permitted and able to observe. He led first his state and then his country far and safely along the pathway of progress and justice. He became in his second term, the voice incarnate of the embattled democracy of the world, giving to its ideals not only form but definite purpose and crowning them in the end with victory splendid and untarnished. His frail body has housed high courage, a noble vision and indomitable will. He has laid upon the altar of humanity all he had to give except—as yet—life itself.

Stricken and unable to defend himself, he has been assailed in his last days, with a virulent malignity artfully and scientifically inflamed by partisan craft for a partisan purpose. The purpose as has been said is accomplished.

The president remains, yet awhile longer: He is, our president—the president of the United States. It is too much to hope that, while there is yet time, the better nature and truer patriotism of American will find a way to express to the heart of this—one of the many victims of war—the solacing thought that humanity is not ungrateful.—Daytona Morning Journal.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."
