

MRS. ROBERT STUTSMAN

Girl Scout Fair Slated For Saturday

The public is invited to attend the annual Girl Scout Fair, being held in the Civic Center Auditorium, Saturday from 12:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. There will be no admission charged.

Mrs. Robert Stutsman, chairman of the Fair, stated that one of the highlights will be the display of some old Girl Scout uniforms that were the style around the turn of the century in the late 1800's and early 1900's. These have been authentically copied and will be worn by girls of the Senior Troop.

Another feature out of the past, will be the introduction of some of the women who had a hand in forming the first troop in Sanford and some of the members of that troop.

The program also, will be Mrs. Anita Buk of Denmark, who is arriving in this country and is a girl scout leader in her native land. She will be an honored guest at the Fair.

The program will begin at 1 p. m. and displays will be in view all over the auditorium, from each girl scout troop in Seminole County, showing the work of the girls, their projects and what they are learning.

DeBary Gardeners To Elect Officers

Members of the DeBary Garden Club have planned a tea and installation of officers for their May meeting to be held in the Community Center.

Taking office will be Mrs. H. P. Newton, president; Mrs. James Richards, first vice president; Mrs. W. Hibbard, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Braun, third vice president; Clarissa McPride, fourth vice president; Mrs. Frank Eakin, corresponding secretary and Mrs. John Byrn, treasurer.

WEATHER: Fair through Friday. High today, 80-85. Low tonight, 50-55.

VOL. 53 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1961 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 174

St. Johns Hearing Set

The Appropriations Committee of the Legislature will schedule a public hearing in Tallahassee in the near future on appropriating $2 million for acquiring rights of way for a water control project for the upper St. Johns' River basin.

Harold Scott, a member of Reynolds, Smith and Hill engineering firm, appealed today for members of the County Commission and residents of the area to plan to appear at these hearings to voice their approval of the project.

Scott said he was "optimistic" that the legislature would pass the appropriation and set the wheels in motion for the Central and South Florida Flood Control District to authorize additional funds for the project to begin.

Scott said that if all goes well, actual construction of dams and reservoirs could start by 1962.

The U. S. engineers are studying tentative plans on the project submitted by the district last year.

The plan calls for a series of dams and four large reservoirs stretching between SR 46 in Seminole and Volusia Counties and extending to SR 60 in Indian River County.

The plan is expected to eliminate flooding and maintain a good supply of fresh water to the area.

Scott today said that "it is imperative that we obtain funds during this legislative session or we must wait two years for another session which could result in construction being as much as five years away."

President Asks Curbs On Tax Allowances

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy asked Congress today to curb "expense account living," raise taxes on dividends and take other steps toward sweeping tax reform next year.

Kennedy also said he had directed the Internal Revenue Service and the Justice Department to make "a maximum effort" to crack down on tax evasion by taxpayers—the method used by the late Al Capone in jail.

Board Members Answer Bennett

Three Casselberry officials today answered a letter from Alderman Hope Bennett which called for an explanation of why they withdrew their names from a resolution seeking legislative approval of a new charter for the town.

The following letter from Mayor Joseph I. Laird, Lytle E. Swopes, chairman of the Board of Aldermen, and Benjamin R. Evans, member of the board, was sent to Mrs. Bennett in reply to her inquiry which appears on the front page of the Seminole County Area Section of today's Herald.

"Dear Mrs. Bennett:

"In answer to your letter of April 19, although our actions were taken individually and without each other's knowledge, we believe we have acted in the best interests of the town of Casselberry and that passage of time will prove this to be so.

"The matter of adoption of a charter is not so urgent that it should be forced over serious objections. A good start has been made.

"We believe that the matter should be explored still further in an effort to overcome these objections."

Board Appoints 450 Teachers

The County School Board today reapportioned 450 teachers in the school system.

At the same time the board tabled action on appointing a principal for the Oviedo School and transferred former Oviedo Principal C. D. Henley to Seminole High School as assistant principal.

The action by the board was based on recommendations by the county board of trustees.

Other transfers included: Joe Mathieux from Seminole High School to the county art program; Miss Helen McMullen from Sanford Grammar to South Seminole Elementary; Mrs. Roberta Richards from Sanford Grammar to Altamonte Elementary; Mrs. Elizabeth Sharon from Westside Primary to Sanford Grammar and C. K. Bucklew from Oviedo to Lyman School.

Bulletin

Garnett White this afternoon was elected president of the Jaycees. Dr. Tom Largen was elected first vice president and Stuart Nielson, third vice president. A runoff will be held between Bud Stewart and Sam Skelton for the office of second vice president. Hammond Pope, unopposed, was elected secretary.

News Briefs

Airliner Seized
HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI)—A Cuban airliner with 25 persons aboard was seized by military authorities today when it made an "unauthorized" landing at the U. S. Kindley Air Force Base. American Air Force authorities said the plane would be held pending appropriate clearance. The 11 passengers and 14 crewmen aboard the Britannia jet were escorted to the civilian terminal.

Missile Depot Set
JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—A bid of $180,245 from Parker Construction Co. of Jacksonville, was the lowest of 10 received Wednesday for construction of a missile assembly depot and an aircraft weapons calibration building at Ineson Airport. The service facilities are designed to support the Florida Air National Guard's F102 jet interceptors based at Ineson.

Private Trade Gains
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The International Cotton Advisory Committee said today the cotton business in the United States is gradually reverting to private trade. Analysis of ICAC, an inter-governmental organization of 35 cotton producing and consuming countries, estimates that U. S. government cotton holdings by July 31 may be down to about one million bales or less while private holdings may be as high as 6.5 million bales.

Plumage Coming Up
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional Democrats were getting ready today to harvest 70 or more of the choicest patronage plums that grow in the garden of a victorious political party. By a 330-76 vote, the House approved a bill Wednesday that would give President Kennedy authority to appoint 70 new federal judges to lifetime jobs. The Senate last month approved a bill carrying 73 new judgeships. The administration endorsed addition of only 69, but probably would accept more.

Reporters Held
BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—The Swiss Foreign Office today reported the arrest in Havana of a second United Press International correspondent, Martin Houseman. It said it had asked the Castro government for details. The arrest of UPI correspondent Henry Raymond was reported Wednesday. Raymond was arrested a few hours after the invasion began on Monday and Houseman was arrested Wednesday. AP correspondent Robert Berrelex also was reported under arrest.

Castro Starts New Terror

United Press International
Fidel Castro proclaimed triumphantly today the destruction of a Cuban invasion force and capture of its equipment including American-made Sherman tanks. He followed this with a new wave of executions to tighten his grip on the country.

Havana radio announced that seven persons including an American—the third in two days—were executed by firing squads at dawn in Havana today. It named the American as Diaz Bencom and said he led a plot to kill Castro. His home was not given. A communique read over Havana radio early today said Castro's regular army and militia overran the invaders' last position at Giron Beach on the Bay of Pigs at 5.30 p. m. Wednesday. Castro admitted his men suffered "tragic losses."

Exile groups in the United States insisted the move to oust Castro was far from over. They said there would be new landings and new supplies sent to the guerrilla forces in the mountains where Castro himself battled against Fulgencio Batista.

Despite Castro's iron grip which prevented mass uprisings against his government, gunfire sounded today in Havana. A Havana radio broadcast said a 13-year-old girl was killed and an 18-year-old girl gravely wounded by gunfire from a speeding car near intelligence service headquarters in the Miramar suburb.

Revolutionary leaders in exile conceded Wednesday night their forces had suffered "tragic losses" but that many had joined up with guerrilla forces in the Escambray Mountains.

They said the battle to topple Castro from power would go on. Exile groups in Puerto Rico, Miami, Mexico City and New York seethed with reports of new or imminent rebel landings.

One report broadcast by a clandestine rebel radio calling itself "Cuba Libre" but known to be operating outside Cuba said a landing had been made on the Cuban north coast near Moron, in Camaguey Province.

At Marietta, Ga. Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared flatly today the rebel uprising in Cuba was not a major invasion.

Rusk repeated denials that the United States government had helped the revolutionary forces but said they were receiving a great deal of help both from within this country and outside.

Reapportionment Plan Okay Expected

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A reapportionment package, giving Florida seven new senators and nine new House members and ending at last a six-year battle, headed for the Senate today and almost certain acceptance.

Once cleared by the Senate, the plan must go before the voters for approval as an amendment to the state Constitution.

The House passed its part of the reapportionment package Wednesday by a 81-12 vote after about two hours of debate that saw defeat of attempts to raise the House's present membership of 95 to anywhere from 105 to 112.

The measure which was approved gives the House 104 members, one less than the 105 recommended by Gov. Farris Bryant as a solution to the problem of increasing representation for fast-growing counties.

The Senate part of the package already has been approved. It raises membership of the upper chamber from 38 to 45. The House approved this Wednesday and sent its 104-member plan to the Senate for approval.

A bill backed by Gov. Farris Bryant to cut Florida's intangible tax on stocks and bonds was due for a vote in the House today.

Bryant asked the intangible tax be cut from $2 to $1.50 per $1,000 in 1961, and then to $1 in 1962.

A squabble was expected when amendments came up on the floor to cut the tax in half immediately instead of over the two-year period.

Aside from passage of the reapportionment measure, the major action in both houses Wednesday was in committees.

Gov. Farris Bryant, strengthening his stand against new taxes, said today Florida not only can get by without raising taxes on this Legislature but also in the 1963 session.

He said flatly he would veto a new tax bill such as an across-the-board sales tax if the Legislature should ignore his wishes and send one to his desk.

Governor Urged To Prevent Issue Of Track Permit

The Sanford area Ministerial Assn. Wednesday sent a telegram to Gov. Farris Bryant urging him to "use your influence to prevent legalized gambling at a new harness race track in Seminole County."

In a telegram signed by 23 pastors, the governor was asked to "be consistent with your campaign pledge of no further extension of legalized gambling."

Wednesday, the Senate passed the harness racing permit okay and the house is expected to do the same today.

The telegram to the governor stressed that the delegation justified their action in sponsoring the bill on the grounds that the people in Seminole County wanted it by expressing themselves at the polls in 1958.

"This vote by the people was conducted several years ago and there has been a tremendous increase and turnover in our population since that time," the telegram stated.

Boards Set Meet On Maitland Ave.

The County Commission will meet with the Altamonte Springs Town Council Monday night to explain why the board decided to ask the State Road Department to hold any changes in the road classification of Maitland Ave. from a rural to a village road.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. at the Altamonte City Hall.

County Engineer Carlton Bliss informed the board that the road classification change would cost approximately $100,000.

There'll be a flag flying over the courthouse from now on.

District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery called it a shame that no flag is on display at the courthouse and urged the commission to take immediate action getting funds and erecting a flag pole. The commission agreed and the flag will be on display within the next two weeks.

Tax Collector John Galloway said that tax collections started to pick up steam this week and 91 percent of all taxes have been collected. Galloway said that about $300,000 still remains to be collected and slightly under $1,000,000 has been turned over to the tax collector's office.

Upcoming
Citizenship Essay winners Margaret Jones and Penny Anderson will be guests of the Civitan Club at their meeting in the Sea Shell Restaurant at 7 p. m. today. Election of officers will also be held.

Science Fair Opening Thursday

The Seminole County science fair will open Thursday at the Bill Fleming Memorial Gym at Seminole High School.

The fair will continue through Friday.

Schools participating in the fair will be Seminole High, Sanford Junior High, Lyman and Oviedo schools.

The fair will be open to the public from 3 p. m. to 8 p. m. Thursday and from 8:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. Friday.

Casselberry Offers Site For New School Building

Casselberry developer Hibbard Caselberry today offered the County School Board a 15 acre site for a new junior or senior high school and agreed to throw in an extra bonus — a 23 acre site for an athletic field if the board would build the school and name it after Caselberry.

The board members agreed to consider the proposal and said they would look over the site sometime this week.

Casselberry said that he would sell the 15 acre tract, located between Queen's Mirror Circle and Winter Park Drive in Caselberry, for $1,000 an acre or trade it for the present site location of a new junior high school located on the edge of Caselberry.

"I just want the school named after me," Caselberry said.

Casselberry also said that he could supply water and sewage lines to the school.

The developer said that this tract of land would be the best place in the entire county for a school.

Signers Of Mix Petition Named

The City Commission today made public a petition of 38 Negroes who asked that the city desegregate all public recreation facilities in Sanford.

Listed as Signers of the petition were:

Rev. H. B. Whitehurst, Rev. J. W. Marshall, Rev. Dennis H. Jamison, Rev. Peter Cobb, Rev. P. H. Frison, Rev. N. A. Watson, Rev. T. H. Thomas, Rev. W. G. Mitchell, Rev. Arch Finkley, Rev. J. L. ## Final Plans Made For Florida State Bank Celebration

Final plans were being made today for the formal grand opening celebration Saturday by the Florida State Bank in its new building.

A special section of The Herald Friday will be devoted to features of the modern structure and contractors and others participating in the construction.

Bank officials will be host to the public Saturday for guided tours of the building and appliance prizes worth $2,500 will be given away.

Eichmann Says He's Sorry For Some Things

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann is sorry for some of the things he did. But he is not going to shoulder full responsibility for the death of 6 million European Jews.

Other men organized that holocaust, he contends. And there is no use in anybody seeking them out and bringing them to trial. They are all dead.

Eichmann says he not only did not formulate the policy of the "final solution of the Jewish problem"—extermination, but he protested against it and once directly to Heinrich Himmler, his superior officer and chief of the Nazi police force.

The puzzle in this trial is who is going to come forward to testify for Eichmann. Robert Servatius, his counsel, has been asked a dozen times whether Eichmann will take the stand. The reply invariably is "no comment." Servatius apparently is going to play it by ear and probably not decide until the prosecution has finished its case.

The problem is that the Israeli government refuses to grant safe conduct to any former Nazis who might want to testify for Eichmann. Attorney General Gideon Hausner, however, is willing to accept affidavits and depositions from them. Dieter Wechtenbruch, assistant defense lawyer, plans to go to West Germany in the next few days to try to collect some.

Anti-Castro Forces Lost Battle... But Not War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anti-Castro forces appeared today to have lost the battle but not the long-term war to overthrow Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

This was the view of diplomatic officials seeking to appraise the repercussions of Castro's apparent defeat of an invasion force after three days of heavy fighting in the Cochinos Bay area.

These officials said Castro's success was bound to have a heavy psychological and propaganda impact, particularly on the U. S. position in Latin America since this country openly sympathized with the invaders.

President Kennedy discussed the Cuban situation with top officials, including congressional leaders of both parties, at a two-hour White House meeting late Wednesday.

None of the participants would comment.

The president also cancelled plans to spend the weekend watching training exercises by Atlantic Fleet units off the north Florida coast. The White House attributed the decision to the "press of business" in the capital.

The Cochinos Bay invasion, according to sources here, was attempted with a shockingly small force of only a few hundred men whose effort was doomed to failure when uprisings and defections in Cuba failed to materialize.

Authorities here said there was a bright side to the picture, however. They reported that in the course of the general disorder in Cuba, some 4,000 men had slipped into the Escambray Mountains to join anti-Castro guerrilla forces there. These men presumably came from various parts of Cuba, although some might have gone ashore from vessels.

American officials, while frankly dismayed by the apparent failure of the invasion attempt, predicted steadily mounting trouble for Castro from the augmented guerrilla forces which were said to have received additional war equipment.

But there was no attempt here to discount the fact that for the moment, at least, Castro and his Russian backers had gained considerable prestige and a propaganda victory.

Many peasants and workers in Latin America still look upon Castro as a reforming hero and his success will be cheered by them as a victory against "forces of imperialism."

The anti-Castro revolutionaries, undertaking their operation against the advice of some of their American friends, felt they would spark a general uprising in Cuba, with defections from the militia, which would wipe out the Castro regime.

Their expectations were not fulfilled.

Newspapers in Western Europe said today Premier Fidel Castro's claim of victory over anti-Communist invaders in Cuba—if it proved true—would be a setback for the United States.

Scattered pro-Castro rallies were held Wednesday in Western Europe, but no disorders were reported.

Mrs. Anna Murray Dies At Home

Mrs. Anna E. Murray, 70, died at her home, 2703 Hiawatha, Wednesday, following a lingering illness.

She came to Sanford 10 years ago from Rushville, N. Y., where she was a member of the Methodist Church.

She is survived by her husband, Joseph E. Murray, of Sanford.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday from Gramkow Funeral Home with Rev. John T. Adams Jr. officiating.

Burial will take place at a later date.

It's No Snap

Up to and during World War II, it was usually the Japanese who were singled out as the great industrial copyists. Nowadays it is generally the Russians.

Some of our industrialists get pretty annoyed when they think of Soviet business specialists developing automobiles, aircraft, television sets and other products along patterns cadged from the United States.

The view, naturally, is that by stealing designs and plans they are saving enormously on development costs which they should bear on their own.

But the Soviet gain may not be quite as great as it seems. One economic observer back from Russia put the matter in a different light by asking: "Have you any idea how many engineers it takes to do a good job of copying?" The answer is: plenty.

So maybe we can fret a little less. Copying is tough work.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Uncle Sam seemed ahead till 1913, when the income tax system was foisted on our citizens. It makes us all waste valuable time doing "historical" work on last year's output, which could otherwise be spent developing new products. Our present tax methods promote stagnation instead of creation by wasteful bookkeeping.

CASE H-464: Bill T., aged 37, is an accountant.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "the present income tax system should challenge every loyal American."

"For it is draining off millions of hours of productive time just computing last year's taxes."

"That creative talent should be devoted to planning NEW business ventures, inventing NEW gadgets, or opening up NEW uses for products."

"Our nation will become feeble and let Russia overtake us if we don't free our citizens, and especially our business leaders, from this needless drain on their creative ability. We can't keep ahead of Russia by looking backward!"

"Let's quit levying petty taxes on a million items and thus forcing our citizens to keep tedious records."

"We could easily raise all our present taxes without a single headache from our citizens and the savings by reducing the number of employees of the Income Tax Division would permit several billions in savings."

Bill has touched on the most dangerous problem in our economic life, namely, the wasted time of citizens on "backward" looking.

In pioneer days, our citizens looked "forward." So they probed the wilderness and spent their extra time figuring out new gadgets like automobiles, telegraph and radio, etc.

Now our people spend so much time on petty nuisance records of every small purchase or deductible contribution to churches, etc. that they have less time for "forward" planning.

When we force people to become such historians of picaresque details of yesterday that they haven't proper time to plan and invent and develop improvements for to-orrow, then economic decay and economic senility will characterize Uncle Sam. That's how socialism creeps upon us.

The present system of taxation also promotes criminality and cynicism, guilty consciences and a large, unnecessary body of employees of the federal government just to check on the other citizens.

Instead, suppose we set a production tax on some basic item, such as fuel.

If we placed a tax of $1.25 on every gallon of gasoline, we'd not need to have any income tax at all!

Obviously, that would seem terrible whenever we ordered 10 gallons of gas at the station.

But we'd actually pay less tax that way than under the present inefficient set-up where thousands of extra salaries, automobiles, buildings, and other overhead are demanded by our Internal Revenue Department.

For a few men can tally the total output of gasoline, whereas now it takes thousands to tally all our millions of separate income tax returns, check on them and snoop on every 5th or 10th citizen by a personal visit to see if he has evaded any tax.

A dentist friend of mine recently said he spent half a day with a tax man, digging up his returns of the year before, only to find he owed 20 cents more.

Who paid for the automobile and the day's salary of that tax snoop, plus the overhead of the home office? Why you and I and the other harassed citizenry.

We could eliminate ALL such nuisances and excess expenditures by a single tax on some basic fuel that is easy to tabulate.

The buried tax then would require no accounting nor record keeping by us citizens, nor many hours of computation around April 15th.

So let's supply American horse sense to taxation before Russia drives us into stagnation!

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Unless there are quick new concessions from the Russians, it begins to look as though the nuclear weapon test ban talks are headed for another bust-up.

The Kennedy administration which postponed starting the new series of American-British-Russian talks at Geneva from Feb. 7 to March 21 to prepare a new offer, doesn't want to break off the negotiations just yet, if this can be avoided.

The Russian reply to U. S. Delegate Arthur H. Dean's proposals have the effect of making impossible any inspections to prevent future nuclear explosion tests.

What Russian Delegate Semyon Tsarapkin proposes for the Communists is imposition of three-power control over future testing. This is the same formula the Russians are proposing at the United Nations for replacement of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

One would be from the Communist camp, one from the Western nations and one from the neutrals. Unanimous agreement of the three would be required for any action. In other words, the Russians would have a veto on everything they didn't like, including all inspection within their own borders.

The United States and Britain have proposed and Russia has accepted over-all test-ban policy determination by an 11-nation, tripartite governing body made up of four representatives from countries of the Free World, four from Communist countries and three from neutrals.

But along with this, the United States wants day-to-day operations of test-ban control run by a single administrator. And this the Russians have so far refused to accept.

One dilemma for the United States and the United Kingdom is that if the Geneva test ban talks are now broken off, it may be difficult to get them started again.

It is considered possible that the Russians may want to break off the test ban talks now, or make the West do it so as to force consideration of the issue in the general disarmament talks. American Ambassador to the UN Adlai Stevenson and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko have tentatively agreed those talks shall be resumed in August.

But the test ban question is given the highest priority. It must be settled before there can be general disarmament talk.

The original one-year moratorium on nuclear testing has now been allowed to run for 2 1/2 years by unclarified but mutual agreement. Some progress in the development of the nuclear science "art" of destruction can be tested in the laboratories. But eventually such small scale controlled experiments must be checked in the field.

There is pressure from some Western military leaders and scientists to resume such testing. There is suspicion but inadequate proof through atmospheric contamination detection that some of the huge "chemical" explosions which Russia has announced in its earthquake belt are underground nuclear weapons tests.

Hobby Show

Miss Barbara McInnis' fifth grade students at Longwood Elementary school presented a Hobby Show to which fourth and fifth grades were invited.

The Russians may be relying on a belief that the United States and the United Kingdom will not arbitrarily announce plans to resume testing. Perhaps the Russians should be corrected on this point.

But any unilateral declaration by the Western powers that they are even considering resumption of testing would probably get a bad public relations reaction world-wide.

The United States, for its part, might give full assurance that all its future tests would be open to inspection. They would be underground tests with full protection against additional fallout poisoning of air and ground.

A demand for similar guarantees could be made of the Russians on any future tests they might make. But this would run straight into the Communist's traditional insistence for secrecy on the conduct of internal affairs. A denial of inspection by outsiders would be certain.

So the demands for an effective nuclear test ban with full international control and inspection are real and urgent.

The facts that France has already made its first nuclear test and that Communist China may be developing nuclear weapons give both the Russian and American-British leaders reason for wanting a world-wide ban under full controls—and the sooner the better.

From Rome

Henry McLemore

ROME, Italy— Soccer and politics are the subjects which dominate Italy's front pages day after day, but these two Italian sports had to make room for another topic a week or so ago.

From New York came the word that Giovanni Buitoni, native of that noble Etruscan city of Perugia, had been awarded a plaque at Columbia University for "outstanding service in promoting cultural relations between Italy and the United States."

Mr. Buitoni's name is as much a household one in Italy as that of Garibaldi, for he is perhaps the world's largest manufacturer of pasta in all its forms — spaghetti, macaroni, ravioli, tortellini, vermicelli, and a thousand others.

We Americans are likely to think of pasta as spaghetti and macaroni and let it go at that. They are just the beginning. In an Italian store where pasta is sold there is no end to the varieties. It is there in all shapes and sizes. Some are shaped like cocked hats, some like stars, some like sea shells, some like snails, some like letters of the alphabet, some like animals, some like finely spun silk thread and some as thick as a bridge cable.

Mr. Buitoni makes them all. One can buy it packaged or in bulk from great bins. It can be bought by the few grams or the half-ton. Mr. Buitoni has many rivals, of course, but there can be no doubt that he is a Colossus of Pasta, and his factories here and abroad must turn out enough spaghetti each day to entwine the globe.

It is for this "spaghetti across the sea" project that the former Perugia was given the plaque in New York. "Hands across the sea" has been gone one better. Two great nations have been bound closer together by strands of spaghetti.

Their national faces are smeared with tomato sauce, and their national stomachs filled as only a heaping platter of pasta, well sprinkled with parmesan cheese, can fill them.

Spaghetti and culture are closely linked.

One has only to study the glorious cultural heritage of Italy to realize that it has pasta as a cornerstone.

Would any other food but pasta have sustained Michelangelo during his days, months, and years of suffering on the scaffolding of St. Peter's?

How many magnificent canvases by Raphael do we owe to a second helping of lasagna? Where did Bernini's chisel hand get the strength to sculpt the magnificent fountains? From pasta, of course, just as Fra Lippo Lippi's brushes were inspired by a mountain of macaroni.

Who would deny that Giotto's glorious frescoes owe much to those succulent little pillows of pasta filled with meat that we know as ravioli?

It is entirely possible that Caesar's decision to cross the Rubicon followed a hearty lunch of spaghetti and meat sauce, and that Constantine was melted by a dish of spaghetti with clam sauce.

Wonderful stuff, pasta. Mr. Buitoni is deserving of his honor, and I only hope that, along with the plaque, he was given a napkin of great size.

Whites Pay Fines For Sit-In Protest

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Two white youths have paid fines for disorderly conduct convictions growing out of sit-in demonstrations and have been released from jail here, it was announced Tuesday.

John Poland and Derek Lawler were sentenced to pay $300 fines or serve 60 days each. They served six days before paying $270 each to win release Sunday.

Poland was attending San Jose State College in California when he was ordered to begin serving his sentence.

Moon Setting Torrid Pace; Bangs 2 Homers

United Press International
The U. S. Weather Bureau claims it's impossible, but the Los Angeles Dodgers insist they saw a full moon Wednesday night. Actually, only a small portion of the moon was visible to every one except perhaps the Dodgers, who had their eyes on Wally Moon and saw him drive in five runs with two homers and a sim-gle in a 7-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The home runs were the fifth and sixth of the young season for Moon, who not only leads the majors in batting with a .538 average and tied for the runs-batted-in leadership with Bob Allison of the Minnesota Twins. Each has 11 RBI's.

Both of Moon's homers came off loser Ernie Broglio, his first coming with two on in the opening frame and his second with the bases empty in the fourth. The Dodger left-fielder, batting clean-up in the absence of Duke Snider, drove in his fifth run with a single in the seventh and now has connected safely in all eight games in which he has appeared.

Don Drysdale gave up nine hits including a homer by Carl Sawatski, for his second victory of the season. The Cincinnati Reds clung to first place in the National League with a 4-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants; the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs, 4-1, and the game between the Milwaukee Braves and Philadelphia Phillies was postponed because of cold weather.

In the American League, the Washington Senators ruined the Chicago White Sox' home opener, 7-2, and the Detroit Tigers spoiled the Cleveland Indians' season debut at home, 5-2. Inclement weather caused postponement of scheduled games between the Los Angeles Angels and New York Yankees, Minnesota Twins and Boston Red Sox and Kansas City Athletics and Baltimore Orioles. Rookie Ken Hunt won his first major league game for the Reds although he needed Jim Bronnan's help in the ninth against the Giants. Gordie Coleman homered off loser Jack Sanford in the fourth.

Promptly after Commissioner Ford Frick presented the World Series rings, Bob Friend went out and checked the Cubs on three hits for his second straight triumph. The Cubs' only run came as a result of Ernie Banks, first homer of the season in the seventh. By that time, however, the Pirates had got to Bob Anderson for all four of their runs. Bill Virdon tripled home the first one in the third inning and Pittsburgh then put together a double by Dick Groat, a walk and four singles for three more runs. Bill Vecek went to a lot of pains to make the White Sox home opener a success but the Senators ruined it by rapping loser Billy Pierce and two relievers for 11 hits, including three by third baseman Harry Bright. Vecek employed midget vendors in the box seat section, presented a freshly painted scoreboard and even had a Chicago suburbanite named John F. Kennedy throw out the first ball. But reliever Marty Kutyna did the throwing that counted, limiting the White Sox to four hits and holding them scoreless after taking over for starter Ed Hobaugh in the third inning.

The Tigers won their game from the Indians with a four-run rally in the eighth. Rookie Steve Boros' double with the bases full was the blow that sunk the Tribe. Jim Bunning allowed only two hits in the six innings he worked but the victory went to reliever Terry Fox. Frank Funk was the loser.

Saints Split FSL Twin Bill

By United Press International
The St. Petersburg Saints divided a doubleheader Wednesday in the highlight of opening-night action in the Florida State League. The Saints topped Sarasota 7-6 in the first, pushing across the winning run in the final inning. Jack Behonick singled for his third hit of the night, took second on a sacrifice, and scored on Stan Hapton's single to right. The Saints had worse luck in the nightcap, falling before Tampa 4-4. Tarpon second baseman Pete Moss unloaded a bases-loaded triple in the sixth to break a 4-4 tie and the Tampaans added back-to-back homers by Ron Flender and Ramon Sierra in the seventh. Orlando topped Leesburg 10-2 and Daytona Beach defeated Palatka 7-3 in other games as the Class D FSL kicked off a 144-game slate.

Liston Indicates He's Set To Announce New Manager

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Charles (Sonny) Liston, the world's No. 1 heavyweight contender, indicated today he will announce his new manager in "about two weeks." Liston, who bought his contract from Joseph (Pep) Barone for $78,000 Wednesday in hopes of gaining a title shot, said he has "somebody in mind" as a new manager but emphasized the pilot first must be okayed by Sen. Estes Kefauver, (D-Tenn.). However, Kefauver, chairman of a congressional subcommittee investigating sports, may not be willing to serve as "matchmaker" in the controversy which is blocking a title bout between Liston and heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson. The senator also figures prominently in Patterson's reasoning that, despite the contract release, Liston still must prove he is "free of all outside harmful influences" before getting a title shot. Patterson said the power-punching Philadelphian "will have to show me" and Kefauver's committee that he has rid himself of allegedly unsavory characters for whom Barone is said to be "fronting." Liston has promised to pay Barone $37,500 in two annual installments for his contract, a five-year pact which had 23 months to run. The massive ringman said he would be able to pay off the cost of his release by allowing his next manager a smaller cut of future purses. "My deal with Pep was $5-50, with him paying all of the expenses," Liston said. The fighter said, however, the "next man can't expect to get me for nothing and then cut me the same way, or even for a third of my purses." Liston denied he had decided to put himself under the management of former heavyweight king Joe Louis, with whom he has been conferring in recent weeks.

Detective Wins Boston Marathon

BOSTON (UPI)—Detective Eino Oksanen danced till dawn today after winning his second Boston A. A. Marathon run. The 29-year-old Oksanen had to battle—in addition to 165 other runners—cold, wind, snow and a pesky dog Wednesday before giving Finland its third straight Marathon victory here. The Helsinki police detective turned in a time of 2:23.29, beating American favorite Johnny Kelley of Groton, Conn., by some 100 yards but missing Kelley's 1957 record by 3 minutes 21 seconds. The dog, a frisky, black mongrel, appeared early in the race and began circling about the leaders. Miles further along the route the same dog—or his twin—appeared again and finally leaped too close in front of the four leading runners.

Player, Palmer Favored In Play

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Cold logic puts the favorite tag on Gary Player and Arnold Palmer in the $40,000 Houston Classic golf tournament which starts today, but the law of averages says look a bit deeper in the entry list.

Player and Palmer each have won three tournaments this year. Player, in addition to his Masters triumph, finished first in the San Francisco and Sunshine opens. Palmer took top honors in San Diego, Phoenix and Baton Rouge.

Heavy Hopeful Looking For Bout With Machen Now

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Heavyweight hopeful Cassius Clay, a young man in a hurry, was talking about a fight with title contender Eddie Machen today after scoring his sixth victory since turning professional. Clay knocked out Lamar Clark in 1:27 of the second round here Wednesday night after decking the wild swinger from Cedar City, Utah, twice in the first round.

Herbst Family Honors Twins With Farewell Patio Party

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herbst entertained members of the Junior Sunday School Class of the Congregational Christian Church, Sunday afternoon from 3 to 7 p.m. The party was in honor of Sherry and Sharon Scott, 11-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Scott. The Scotts are moving to Ocala this week and the party was a farewell gesture for the popular young Misses.

The guests arrived at 3 p.m. and enjoyed the afternoon with their friends. Games of badminton, basketball, volleyball and various other games were played.

A lunch was served on the patio consisting of hamburgers, cooked under the direction of "Chef" Herbst, potato chips, assorted relishes, soft drinks and decorated cookies.

Later the group gathered around the brazier and roasted marshmallows.

Those enjoying the cook-out and farewell party with Sherry and Sharon were Jo Marie Benton, Mary Elizabeth Parsons, Marcia McMillan, Colleen Gay, Alan and Harold Herbst and Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Stock.

Ethel Root Circle Presents Surprise

The Ethel Root Circle of the Congregational Christian Church was full of surprises when they met Monday night at the lovely home of Mrs. Howard Rollins at 1705 East 4th Street.

Mrs. Alice McMillan was presented with a beautiful cake decorated with yellow roses and pink trim with "Happy Birthday Mac" lettered on top.

It was a complete surprise as she had been told this was the story being passed around in order to plan and arrange a surprise stork shower for Mrs. William Bailey.

This too was very successful and after the birthday cake was presented, Mrs. Bailey was speechless when a huge display of gifts was presented to her. She was completely unaware of any other little sneaky plan by the ladies.

The serving table overlaid with a lace cloth was beautiful with a cunning and watchful stork centering the table arranged with gardenias and greenery, flanked on either side with blue tapers.

Unusual favors made from safety pins in shapes of sarks, decorated with a perk little bow, stood atop a gum drop. Nut cups sat in tiny diapers fastened with safety pins holding assorted nuts.

For refreshments the hostesses served parafis consisting of layers of vanilla ice cream and strawberries, lemon cookies, tea and coffee.

Several games were played and Mrs. Gus Schmah was proud to receive the first prize. Other prizes were won by Mrs. Bonner Carter and Mrs. Philip Boyd.

Preceding all the sneaky tricks the ladies had a short business meeting with Mrs. Rollins presiding. It was decided and voted on to have only one meeting per month during the summer months of May, June, July, and August.

Mrs. Henry Dilts was welcomed into the circle as a new member.

Mrs. Edward Simpson, Mrs. Herbert Thurston, and Mrs. Oscar Zittrower were hostesses and served refreshments to Mrs. Bea Alford, Mrs. Joseph Stock, Mrs. G. O. Nordgren, Mrs. Earl Moxley, Mrs. Maurice Corbett, Mrs. Ralph Lossing, Mrs. Helen Remusat.

Mrs. Henry Dilts, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Rollins, Mrs. Schmah, Miss Marcia and Miss Becky McMillan.

Fellowship Names Delegates To Assembly

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met at the church, Monday with the president, Miss Flo Bishop presiding.

Members were urged to attend the May Fellowship at the Congregational Christian Church, May 5.

Members who will attend the Quadrennial Assembly of the Christian Women's Fellowship at Purdue University in July are, Miss Flo Bishop and Mrs. J. L. Horton, Jr.

The worship and program were led by Mrs. W. H. Young. She urged stewardship of time, talent, and possessions in service to the church.

Hostesses Mrs. Marvin Rohls and Mrs. Robert Doms served refreshments to Mmes. O. D. Landress, B. S. Hinson, Jr., W. H. Grantham, Ira Jackson, Lester Sharp, Frances Jones, O. T. Pearson, W. P. Yesley, A. B. Huntley, H. K. Ring, and Miss Flo Bishop.

For transportation call Mrs. John S. McNeely.

Mrs. Eudonal Ethridge was hostess to the monthly business and social meeting of the Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers at her home, 209 West 20th Street.

The group started work on bandages for the Cancer Society and will take them home to finish.

Ideas were discussed for interesting programs and other events for the coming year. Mrs. Richard Brooks, Mrs. E. F. Williams Jr. and Mrs. J. R. Wells Jr. were appointed on the social activities committee.

Other members attending the meeting and enjoying the refreshments and social hour were Mrs. Walter Cook, Mrs. George Hartz, Mrs. H. E. Turner, Mrs. Harry Titshaw, Mrs. G. Keeling, Mrs. C. H. Goethe, Mrs. Robert Karaker, Mrs. H. H. Fortner and Mrs. J. A. Calhoun.

Garden Circles

ROSE CIRCLE

Mrs. O. L. Barks, assisted by Mrs. A. W. Epps, greeted members of the Rose Circle in the patio of the Barks home as they arrived for the monthly meeting.

Coffee and pastries were served prior to the business session. Mrs. Henry Simpson presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. James Trull, who with her sister, Miss Glenna Magill, was attending the state convention in St. Petersburg.

The horticulture lesson was conducted by Mrs. Epps, who displayed blooming specimens from her own garden, including French wisteria, English dogwood, double cantoniensis spirea, society garlic, wiggelia and double macrantha azalea.

Mrs. Charles Cole suggested that members post their gardens as bird sanctuaries, stating that attractive signs for this purpose are available from the Audubon House in Maitland.

For Junior garden clubs, Mrs. W. E. Gray reported that her group had planted bulbs and seeds and had been instructed about poison plants often found around the home.

Mrs. Simpson presented a program on "Far Away Places" and showed beautiful colored slides taken on her tour which included, Europe, Iceland, the North Cape, Hawaii, Hong Kong, Japan, Egypt, Jamaica and the Virginia Islands.

She emphasized the flowers and landscapes she enjoyed and noted that evergreen plants are found in all countries. Especially beautiful were the scenes she photographed in Switzerland. They varied from tropical to the snow-capped mountains.

Other members present were Mrs. Charles Brumley, B. B. Crumley, J. O. Gregory, Ed Lane, L. Lindsey, Charles Meriwether, W. A. Morrison, Charles L. Park, John Thomas and Charles Wilke.

MIMOSA CIRCLE

The Mimosa Circle of the Sanford Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Cliequeno for the April meeting with Mrs. C. L. Wallis serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. Jo Peck, chairman, announced that a tour of gardens is scheduled for May 2. The president's conference will be held at the Civic Center May 8. Mrs. W. E. Moys and Mrs. H. Rice will stand as representatives from the Mimosa Circle.

Committee reports were given by chairmen of the standing committees. The programs for next year were planned.

Following the business session a white elephant sale was held and each member was presented with a Mimosa tree by Kay Henninger.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. A plant sale is planned at the May meeting.

Local Women To Help Organize
Retired Officers' Wives Club

More than 150 retired officers' wives and widows of Central Florida attended the organizational meeting of the Retired Officers' Wives Assn., last Friday, at the Finn Room of the Orlando Base Officers' Club.

Mrs. Don Yost, Orlando, served as temporary chairman at the meeting. She spoke to the group about the aims of organization and introduced Col. Arthur Luse, president of the Retired Officers Association. He explained how the men's group organized three years ago and now has a membership of 375. He offered to assist the ladies in any way with their organization.

A committee was named to study and draw up a tentative constitution and by-laws.

Couple Celebrates
Golden Wedding

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sands of Newberryport Ave., Altamonte Springs, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary, April 11.

The Women's Service Circle members were hostesses at a party honoring the couple at the Chapel Education Building on the evening of their anniversary.

Guests included members of the board of trustees and their wives, members of the choir and their husbands and circle members and their husbands.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Milton Tinsley after which refreshments were served. Decorations were in a yellow and white color scheme.

Married in Cumberland, Md., the Sands lived in Pittsburgh, Pa., until 1945 when they moved to Florida.

They have two sons, Clifford Jr., and William, both in Pittsburgh, and five grandsons and one granddaughter.

Cliff is a trustee of the Altamonte Springs Chapel and is chairman of its building and grounds committee. Florence sings in the choir and is secretary-treasurer of the Women's Circle.

Local Women To Help Organize

Mrs. Moore Honored
With Surprise
Shower By Club

Members of the VAH-5 Enlisted Wives Club met at the home of Mrs. George King and made plans to assist with the cancer drive.

Plans were also discussed concerning the films made on Easter Sunday to be sent to the husbands aboard ship. The group is now working on the club newspaper, which is sent monthly to the men.

Three members have recently been welcomed to the club. They are Mrs. Kenneth Wilkins, who is now serving as secretary; Mrs. Ronald Manning and Mrs. Walter Mayfield.

Mrs. John Satterfield was elected as new public relations chairman.

Following the meeting, club members honored Mrs. James Moore, with a surprise baby shower.

The hostess served refreshments to the group while the honoree and members admired the many gifts.

Couples Enjoy
Barbecue Dinner Ranch Style

A group of Sanford doctors and their wives went to the MQ Ranch, last Thursday afternoon, for a barbecue dinner and an evening of relaxation and entertainment.

The men were shown how to catch fish by Dr. Charles Park Jr., who pulled in two nice black bass.

At the dinner hour they enjoyed a real Texas style pit barbecue with all the trimmings, while a Western style string band, provided background music.

About 20 couples were present for the outing.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, 25. I have three children. I am going with a man of 21 who wants to marry me. He is not very mature-looking and could pass for a high school boy. I prefer a more mature man, but I have gone with many, and the minute I start talking marriage they drop me. So I have decided to marry this young man.

After I marry him I will persuade him to adopt my children so, in case the marriage doesn't work out, he will have to support all of us. The young man's mother is dead and his father objects to his marrying me. The father has money and so does his son. I know he is too young for me, but I am thinking of my children. Please advise me.

WANTS TO MARRY

DEAR WANTS: This is a cold business proposition whereby you are using marriage to trap a young man into supporting you and your children. He will not be young and immature all his life. And when he realizes that he has been used for a meal ticket, he will resent you and the children. I know that life for a young widow with 3 little ones is not easy, but you will be happier if you pick on someone your own age.

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with you, but when you say a "NO SMOKING" sign does not belong in a living room, I must disagree. A smoker and a skunk have but one thing in common. They both produce an offensive odor. But the skunk is a country gentleman because he will behave himself unless disturbed. The smoker will, without provocation, pollute the air, considering no one but himself. P. E. Z.

DEAR ABBY: Recently a surprise party was given at my home. During the evening one of the guests (a woman, married and 33) suggested playing "spin the bottle." This entails a lot of kissing. My daughter, who is married and 29, was horrified, and so was I. However, in order not to cause a scene, we let the game proceed.

Don't you think it is childish for married couples between the ages of 28 and 45 to be playing such games? I want your comments because the person who proposed the game thought it was a good way to break the ice. HORRIFIED

DEAR HORRIFIED: More than "icing" has been broken as a result of kissing games involving married couples. (I refer to promises and homes.) It is not merely childish, it's foolish and dangerous.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

It could be that these are woman's least attractive moments: When we size up a woman better dressed than we are. When we're in the middle of a permanent wave. When we are hurrying with arms full of bundles—and a face with a scowl.

When we lose our temper with a child. When we wear a fixed social smile that doesn't light up our eyes or soften our face.

When we let a cigarette dangle from our lips.

When we yank a small child along at a faster pace than is comfortable for him.

When we put another woman in her place.

When we pass along a bit of really vicious gossip.

When we study our own face in a mirror in public.

When we give our girle or stockings a yank.

When we listen without paying attention.

When we put on our haven't-you-anything-better routine in an effort to impress a saleswoman.

When back-seat driving.

When our voice grows shrill in an effort to be the center of attention.

When we give an ache-by-ache account of our latest illness.

When we try to prove to a man that he doesn't know what he is talking about.

Something for HIM to read: "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o of The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Television Lonesome George In New TV Role

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—A new approach to situation comedy on TV's laugh machine-packed channels is something you can't hardly find no more. But George Gobel figures he has it made, or should we say, remade, with "My Uncle Elroy."

If the half-hour weekly television series sells for next season—and George's career guide Dave O'Malley has no doubts—the TV homescoming means the end of "Lonesome George." How can a fellow be lonesome as Uncle Elroy, a bachelor living in the home of his widowed sister and her two children, a 7-year-old boy and a 15-year-old girl?

That's the role Gobel is now ready to tackle on a weekly basis in a "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em move," as he termed it. "I don't have the muscles for a private eye and I don't look good with an oxygen tank on my back and swim fins on my feet," he was telling us the other day. "So, what else is there on TV—situation family comedy."

They moved in, with their laugh machines, when Gobel moved out of TV two years ago. He was ready to do a filmed show then, he said.

"We were the last to hang on to live TV," he explained, "because we had an NBC contract. I was eager to try film but the network (NBC) and the sponsor voted me down. The way it turned out, they voted me out—of TV."

There was plenty of loot for George to earn on the night club circuit during his two-year absence from TV but 52 weeks of work a year—"It seemed like I was working 56 weeks a year"—made the little fellow wonder why he was knocking himself out.

Just before closing in Las Vegas recently he had had only one day off in nine weeks.

"My friends were saying, 'George, you're out of your mind.' 'So I said to Mr. O. (manager O'Malley), 'Mr. O, my friends say I'm out of my mind and I gotta go with 'em in their thinking.'"

There was many a story conference before "My Uncle Elroy" became the final choice for his big leap into filmed TV.

"We talked," Gobel said, "about the husband and wife bit and then decided to forget Alice because the plots would be too restricted."

Teaming Gobel with a straight man in a series about two guys who were constantly out of work, living by their wits, was considered—and tossed out. "It was," Gobel says, "too much like a civilian version of Sgt. Bilko."

"My Uncle Elroy," a short story that appeared in a national magazine several years ago, was the final inspiration, Gobel says:

"I'll be playing a kind of a family man but still not married. We can go in all kinds of directions and the character of Uncle Elroy is pretty much like me."

In the pilot reel, just put on to film, Paula Winslow plays his widowed sister, with Billy Mumy as her son and Barbara Perkins as the daughter. To the boy, who motivates the plots, Uncle Elroy is the greatest man in the world.

"He can do everything," Gobel tells it, "and relates long involved stories which go over the boy's head like a trapeze act. But the things he does are pretty far out, like getting all worked up about whether the Navajo Indians have enough TV sets."

Stock Gobel comedy lines of the past will not be used and the locale will be a small midwestern town.

Familiarization Night Set By Kegler Loop

A familiarization night will be held Friday at the Jet Lanes for new members of the Mr. and Mrs. League.

Persons interested in joining this league may contact a regular member, or register at the lanes.

The new league will begin official play after another familiarization night on April 28, with special prices in effect for prospective and league members.

The teams will be run as a handicapped league offering newcomers a more equal chance against the more experienced bowlers.

Each evening of competition, the husband and wife donbles will make up a team and oppose another Mr. and Mrs. team in a three game series.

About one-third of all U. S. farm families now have television sets.

Nuclear Missiles Bring On New Strategy Concepts

By JACK V. FOX

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—The advent of intercontinental nuclear missiles has brought with it a new concept in military strategy. We want the enemy to know what we have to hit him with—up to a point.

As one of the brainy young men of the Air Force ballistics missile program put it: "It might be a good idea if we could take the Soviet ambassador out to a spot in the desert and show him a launching base with the sign, 'Minuteman Site No. 435, Target Omsk.'"

It fits in with Winston Churchill's observation that the nuclear bomb and the means of delivering it may have been the great deterrent which so far has prevented World War III and may continue to do so if the United States does not fall behind.

On a 6,000-mile tour of American missile sites and headquarters, a reporter is struck by the scope and elusiveness of installations shown so freely and accompanied by candid answers about the program.

For example, local newspapers in the western states have pinpointed the location of some 80 existing missile pads down to a matter of yards. During this correspondent's visit to a site in construction near Greeley, Colo., with the lovely snow-capped Rockies in the background, a Piper Cub plane flew at about 60 feet over the installations.

"There is no restriction on overflights of these bases," an Air Force major explained. "It would take a whole change in our national way of life to try to conduct this missile building program in complete secrecy and security."

"In the first place, there are as many as 3,000 construction men working on one of these jobs at one time. How can you hide the spot? Anyone can go to the county courthouse and dig out real estate records to determine the exact location of many of them."

The most "survivable" of our missiles now being installed are the solid-fuel Minutemen which stand in underground silos, ready to fire nuclear warheads, 6,000 miles. Experts estimate it will take 17 enemy rockets of the same power to wipe out one Minuteman so protected.

President Kennedy recently ordered a hold-back on creation of a mobile force of Minuteman missiles carried on railroad cars. The strategic concept was good but the expense was tremendous. And we already are committed to another program of better "survivability" in the Polaris nuclear weapons fired from submarines ranging the oceans underwater.

Kennedy also ordered a reversal in the program to build a force of super bombers—the B70s—with a speed two or three times that of sound. Under the new approach, only one B70 will be built.

It would have been a fantastic weapon a few years back. But it pales alongside rockets capable of delivering the same payload at 20 times the speed of sound.

One primary deterrent is still the SAC B52 bomber fleet with planes constantly in the air ready to strike. But for how long will that force be a sufficient deterrent? The missile program at SAC has in the past been treated as a sort of stepchild.

"SAC doesn't come about this white charger coming down the pike," a missileman said. "It's understandable. Everyone resents change except those in the change business."

But change is in the winds and nothing emphasized it more than Russia's putting its man in space orbit around the world. It may break down some of the barriers to utmost speed in the missile program.

Selection of launching sites has been a headache. The preliminaries must be conducted in secrecy. Word that a missile site is to be constructed sets off speculative real estate booms—some figuring land prices will soar and others that they will plummet.

Vehicle Inspection Ordered At Navy Base

In a continuing effort to educate the personnel assigned to this station in better driving habits, Capt. Robert W. Snye, NAS commanding officer, has endorsed a Vehicle Inspection Program for the month of May.

The program will be conducted by the Marine Barracks. All vehicles bearing station decals will be inspected during the month. This will also include those vehicles using the exterior parking spaces and bearing the exterior parking decal. The only vehicles that will not be inspected will be those with retired personnel and commercial decals.

Those vehicles that do not pass the Vehicle Safety Inspection prior to June 1 will be inspected or reinspected on June 15. Those vehicles not displaying a Safety Decal after that time will be removed from the station and reported to the Security Officer.

Vehicles not bearing a safety decal will not be driven on the station or in the exterior parking area after May 31. As this is a one time inspection, this requirement for admittance to the station will be discontinued after Aug. 1 except for those cars which failed to meet the station requirements.

The vehicle inspection station will be located just inside the main gate. It will be manned during the hours of 7 and 11:30 a. m. Monday through Friday, commencing May 1.

During the period May 1-31, inspection will be conducted on a voluntary basis and by selecting cars from the traffic lane to insure a steady flow of vehicles through the inspection station. After May 31 all vehicles without a Safety Check Decal will be directed to the inspection station by the gate sentry.

The Safety Check Decal will be placed on the windshield of all cars satisfactorily meeting the inspection requirements.

Court Of Honor Set By Troop

Boy Scout Troop 500, sponsored by the Ebenezer Methodist Church will hold a Court of Honor, Monday at 7:15 at the church in Elder Springs.

In addition to the awards presented to the Scouts, there will be a report on the recent Scout Jamboree by Life Scout Eddie Winkler.

A charter presentation will be made at this time by the Neighborhood Commissioner, of the St. Johns District, Sid Winkler.

Officials attending the Court of Honor will be G. A. Muffley, Scoutmaster, Joe LaFollette, assistant scoutmaster, C. A. Johnson, institutional representative and Troop Committee chairman, E. D. Williams.

Bennett Queries Councilmen On Charter Request

Mayor, Two Others Ask Names Be Withdrawn

A Casselberry alderman today sent a strongly worded letter to three members of the council asking why their names were withdrawn from the resolution asking the legislature for a new charter for the town.

The council had unanimously adopted a resolution to the charter at its meeting on March 13.

The letter, written by Mrs. Hope Bennett, was addressed to Chairman Lytle Swope, Ben Evans and Mayor Joseph Laird.

In her letter Mrs. Bennett said: "My firm interests in this charter have been founded upon the recommendations of Chairman Swope and Councilman Evans who were members of the original charter board. Their untiring efforts to have this Charter presented to the legislature have of course effected my decision in this regard. In that, as a new member of the Council, I am guided by those who are experienced as well as the requests of the citizenry and my own good conscience."

"At this time I would request that you reveal to me your reasons for this decision in requesting that your names be withdrawn from the resolution. Not only am I greatly confused but also our growing community is greatly confused. This Charter as presented to the Legislature is the same Charter that we together developed for this community."

"Please advise me as to the reason for your action in this regard. I have, of course, been in touch with our legislative delegation this morning and they are also greatly concerned," she said.

Allen's Cabinets Opening New Longwood Plant

Allen Harwell, of Allen's Cabinets, Inc., Tuesday announced that construction of his new Longwood plant will begin in two weeks.

To be located on a 30-acre E. Lake Ave. site, the 10,000 square foot building will become the company's home plant and is expected to be ready for occupancy by mid-July.

"The business specializes in the manufacture of all modern cabinet-type furniture using the latest high pressure laminated materials. Kitchen lines are featured but similar items for the entire home are available, Harwell said.

"This building will take care of our present needs and there is room for expansion as needed. We'll begin operations here with at least 20 employees and expect to employ as many as 60 as the plant grows."

"We started business in a Winter Park garage in March, 1954, and our growth has been slow but sure ever since. All customers, whether they come for one item or 100 items are given careful attention," Harwell stated.

Citizens Nominate J. D. Bryant

United Citizens of Casselberry Tuesday unanimously endorsed Joseph D. Bryant as their candidate for Alderman in the May 15 special election.

Mrs. Ruth Moore, secretary of the group, reported today.

United Citizens Members Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lady will be Bryant's campaign managers and Robb Lady, also a member of the town's Board of Aldermen, and Mrs. Moore are to handle publicity.

In other business at the monthly meeting, members discussed the town's new charter now up for legislative approval. They were asked to put their opinions in writing in order that a general review can be included in this month's Citizens newsletter.

Election campaign material was discussed with a course of action for committees to plan a rally and other phases of the candidate's race tentatively set. Graham Wilson, senior advisor, presented Moderator Edward Luna with a gavel, commenting that it was given with "hopes it be used sparingly but wisely."

There were 38 members present at the 7:30 p. m. meeting which was held in the Casselberry Women's Club.

Committee Named By Osteen P-TA

Osteen parents and teachers appointed a nominating committee to select officers for the ensuing term at the April meeting of the group.

Serving on the committee will be Mrs. John Juras, Mrs. Albert Pail and Mrs. L. W. Jones.

Presiding over the business session, during which many reports were made, was Mrs. Jones, who is currently vice president of the association.

A report on the luncheon, which reopened April 4 with Mrs. W. B. Whidden as manager, showed that nearly 100 percent of the students now are taking advantage of the program.

Mrs. Albert Pail reported that the Volusia County School Board, at a recent meeting in DeLand, had agreed to erect a bicycle rack at the school.

Members were advised that reservations to attend the County P-TA Assn. banquet at Ellinger Village on May 11 must be made with Mrs. Juras by May 5.

Following the business session, a musical program by all grades under the direction of Mrs. Donna Doddington, county music instructor, was presented.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. C. Carpenter and Mrs. James Welch.

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS Last Friday's "Night of Fun" at the Altamonte Springs Elementary School was a big success when the parents took two of three volleyball games from the faculty members.

Scores were 21-8 and 21-15 for the parents and 21-7 for the faculty which took the third game.

As spectators, the children cheered their teachers toward victory, completely forgetting the winded parents. It is possible the students would have to admit that they were amused to see "Mom and Dad" move so quickly around the court.

Paul Shaffold, who called the Square Dance following the games, did an excellent job in guiding everyone through the sets. For many it was the first time in years for participation in such active dancing. All who attended had a delightful time and are ready for "another such night."

The Snack Bar and Cake Walk netted a total of $31.25 which will be used to help cover expense of the Dental Mobile Unit's visit to the school in May, Principal George Dabbs said.

Lake Mary C of C To Name Officers

Members of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce at the April meeting decided to accept floor nominations for a new slate of officers at the May session.

With the adoption of new by-laws, officers next year will be nominated in February with voting to take place in March. The fiscal year will begin in April.

In other business of the meeting, Harry Smith was appointed chairman of a membership committee.

Primary Grades Busy With Review

Longwood Elementary students in the primary grades are concentrating all efforts toward reviewing, refreshing and last-days learning.

First graders taught by Mrs. Pauline Wheelers are studying the calendar so they easily can find the month and day another school year is to begin and the first day of vacation surely will be spotted.

Mrs. Kathleen Bucher's second grade students are learning songs for May Day. Recently, in Assembly, they sang past-learned songs with special skill.

Rake And Hoe Circle Show Held In Altamonte

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS The Rake and Hoe Circle of the Winter Park Garden Club held its flower show, "Spring Time," at 156 Mallard Ave. home of Mrs. Frank O'Brien in Altamonte Springs.

Entry classes included "Blossom Time," a line arrangement using buds, blossoms and branches; "Moonstruck," crescent design using any kind of fresh plant material; "Spring Showers," low container, water part of design; "Breath of Spring," an interpretive design using no more than five flowers; "Pink Clouds," a mass line arrangement using tula, tones or shades of pink; "Song of Spring," an interpretive design, using bird or birds as part of or accessory to the design and "Spring Fever," and interpretive design using the imagination.

Blue ribbon winners were Mrs. A. G. Hanna, Mrs. M. T. Barkdale, Mrs. C. B. Hurley, Mrs. Earl Seeley, Mrs. R. B. Brandham and Mrs. A. L. Pool.

Mrs. O'Brien served as judge of the show and Mrs. Joy D. Martin was chairman.

In addition to the winners, those submitting entries were Mrs. Nettie Peterson, Mrs. C. T. Fetrow, Mrs. E. W. Fredericks, Mrs. Vernelle Joffe, Mrs. C. J. Lambeth, Mrs. J. B. Martin, Mrs. J. F. McCarthy, Mrs. F. J. Mueller, Mrs. W. D. Pugh, Mrs. W. C. Uber, Mrs. H. Blitch, Mrs. A. F. Weber and Mrs. H. G. Hanna.

DeBary Show Is 'Sell Out'

Tickets for the April 20 performance of "School Daze," sponsored by the DeBary Volunteer Fire Dept. and its auxiliary in the Community Center, all are sold, the chairman reports.

Those wishing to attend the show are advised to secure tickets as soon as possible since they are selling rapidly.

County HD Clubs Set Dress Revue

Miss Myrtle Wilson, Seminole County Home Demonstration Agent, has advised all club members that June 8 has been set as the date for the County Dress Revue.

Miss Wilson asks that ladies planning to enter advise the clothing chairman of their club and says that if sufficient interest is not shown, the activity may be discontinued.

Garden Circle Tours Nursery

The Azalea Circle of the Orlando Garden Club met for a brief session at the home of Mrs. Frank O'Brien on Mallard Ave. in Altamonte Springs before motoring to Eustis where the day was spent at the Garden Barn.

United Effort Needed

One of the most important meetings in South Seminole County will be held next Tuesday at the Altamonte Springs Elementary School at 8 p. m.

We urge all voters of Precinct 12, Forest City, who take an active interest in their community to attend this important meeting.

The group will discuss fire protection, a post office and a community center.

Only if the residents join forces in a united effort can any of these improvements be established.

Health Director Tells Nurses Of Program

Seminole County Professional Nurses, organized less than six months, now officially have been designated Sanford District 37.

The first meeting of the group as a new district was held in the Health Center, April 10, with Dr. Clyde L. Brothers, director of the county health department, as guest speaker.

Mrs. Grace Fisher, public health nurse, in reporting the meeting said that Dr. Brothers briefly discussed the department's functions and mission.

"His purpose was to clear up the misconception of the public concerning the operation of this department. He stated that the functions of the organization are promoting the general health and well being of all of the citizens of the county, with emphasis on detection, isolation and follow-up of communicable diseases."

"He further stressed health education as being most important, as in the areas of sanitation, conducting maternal and child health programs and the promoting of school health programs."

"In conclusion, Dr. Brothers stated that the collection of vital statistics, such as records of births, deaths and incidences of diseases are necessary for intelligent program planning."

The Nurses Association meets at 8 p. m. on the second Monday of each month at the Health Center and membership is open to all registered professional nurses, active or retired, living in the Seminole County area.

Mrs. Cecelia Spinner, 1951 president, invites all qualified nurses to attend the monthly meetings.

Final Survival Class Scheduled

The final Personal Survival Courses to be held in Seminole County before next fall have been announced for Altamonte Springs and Geneva.

Instructor Tom Nichey has scheduled the second course for the Altamonte area to begin on May 2 at the Elementary School.

The first series of classes for Geneva area residents will open May 1 at the Community Hall.

Registration chairman of both locations report that the classes are filled.

The courses consist of four, three-hour classes and include all phases of survival in the event of national disaster or in local emergencies. Meetings in each area are conducted between the hours of 7 p. m. until 10 p. m. on the specified dates.

Classes now in session at Seminole High will conclude Monday and those at Lake Mary Elementary will be completed on Tuesday.

DeBary Glee Club To Close Season

The final meeting for this season of the DeBary Glee Club will be held Wednesday in the Community Center with Sidney Swallow presiding at the business session and Mrs. H. Whitaker directing the musical program.

Hearing Set

A public hearing on the paving assessments to Longwood residents for three streets will be held at 8 p. m. today in the Town Hall.

Streets to be paved under the program, which sets the costs at $1.85 per front foot, are Wilma, Palmetto and Grant.

The complete paving assessment roll was published in legal form in the March 16 issue of the Sanford Herald.

Girls 4-H Clubs Plan Dress Revue

"Candid Camera" is to be the theme of the Girls 4-H Club County Dress Revue at the Home Demonstration Center, 401 E. 25th St., Saturday at 7:00 p. m.

Chairman of the event is Linda Green and working with her are Clara Lommler, Linda King and Joyce Waltz.

Girls from all of Seminole County's clubs will take part with those in first year clothing to model aprons with potholders and tea towels, skirts, blouses, pajamas or shorts.

Second year girls are to model skirts and blouses, dresses or other garments of their choice and older girls can model one or more articles they have made.

Two girls' outfits from the Junior division, 10 to 14 years of age, will be selected as winners and two girls from the senior age group, 14 years or older, will be selected to enter the State Dress Revue in Tallahassee, June 12 through June 16.

Parents and guests are invited to attend.

Former Lake Mary Boy Killed In Lakeland

Jack Milton Howell, 14, of Lakeland died Tuesday shortly after an accident at 7:30 p. m. when he was hit by an automobile while riding a bicycle near his home.

He was born Dec. 7, 1946 in Sanford and lived with his parents in Lake Mary until nine months ago when the family moved to Lakeland. He was a member of the Lake Mary Community Presbyterian Church and Patrol Leader of Boy Scout Troop 113 in Lakeland. He was the only member of Lake Mary Boy Scout Troop to hold the God and Country Award and was active in scout and school activities while living here.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Howell Jr., and one brother, Stanley Howell, of Lakeland; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Howell Sr. of Lake Mary; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Luke of Fitzgerald, Ga.; two uncles, Jack Howell of Jacksonville and Milton Lake of Puerto Rico.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at Erlson Funeral Home with Rev. John W. Piley officiating.

Burial will be in Oaklawn Memorial Park.

Band Changes Meeting Schedule

The Geneva Community Band has changed its rehearsal date and meeting place to Tuesday of each week at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Hall.

Weekly rehearsals were being held on Fridays at the Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Lake Monroe Jottings

By MRS. H. L. JOHNSON

Well, I don't know what I could say good about the weather this week except that we women folk did get the weeks wash dry between dust, wind and rain storms. There seems to be no end to it. Guess we are just lucky we are down here instead of up north where it is really cold. Last Friday was Sloopy day at the Monroe school. Even the teachers came dressed that way. Richard Hittell, Susan Orsano and Linda Stapler won prizes for their outfits. Games of tug war over a mud puddle, balloons full of water batted back and forth and other sports were played and then refreshments were enjoyed before going home time. The school children will go to Skate City Friday evening for a skating party. Larry and Chris Errett came slipping home last week from their trip to Missouri and Kansas. Said they couldn't take that snow and really cold weather! Looks like we will make Florida crackers out of them yet. Robert Mann, a Monroe boy is the acting postmaster for the Monroe Post Office now. Miss Annie left us Friday to reside in Miami. Her smiling face will certainly be missed in the post office but we will enjoy seeing Robert there. Good Luck to you Robert. I heard Claude Hittell won a tape recorder the other day at an automobile convention. Carmen and Bob Gladwell of Greensboro, N. C. stopped at the Claude Hawkins home on their way down to fishing to see the J.H. Edwards family. Tonight is craft night for the Home Demonstration club members at the home of Olga Hunter. Fourteen Sanford bus drivers and their families enjoyed a fish fry Saturday at the home of Herbert Muse on the Wekiva River. All the trimmings that go with fish were served and every one agreed that this should be done more often. For once the weather was nice and the children had a good time playing while the adults talked over old times. Two of the drivers were honored with gifts as they resigned this past week. Mrs. Alma Robinson of Lake Mary is leaving this week for Georgia to reside and Mrs. Margaret Tindel has asked for a leave of absence. Roy Howell, bus supervisor, Mrs. E. E. Walker from the school office and Miss Hattie Kirk, sister of Mrs. Robinson were special guests. Monroe was certainly proud of the beautiful story on that wonderful lady Clover Marrs. We want to thank Jack Trim of the Herald for coming out and taking the picture of her and doing this story on her. Saturday we saw Constable Bob Carroll come to the rescue. A lawn mower had caught fire and was really burning and he used the fire extinguisher that he keeps in his car to put it out. Had a sweet letter from that big fishing mother of Sammie Keels. Bessie Kendrick and Papa have returned to Bainsbridge, Ga., but she said they hoped to come back here and make their home. And they might just do that, soon. Papa will be retiring shortly and he would like to come and sit on the banks of the Wekiva River and show Bessie he can fish too. There is a new home being built on the Paola Rd. that sure takes my eye. It is located just past Woodruff Springs. On the left side of the home is a big shadow box window and over the carport is a mammoth bird house. It will certainly be a beautiful home when it is finished. I heard that Louise Thompson and Mable Thompson of Granite City, Ill., and Naomi Sapp took in the big city shopping yesterday. Mable wanted some souvenirs to take home with her. Glad to hear a new bridge is being constructed on the Upsala Rd. The old one has been bad for a long time. It will kind of inconvenience the ones living on the other side of it for a while as the road will be closed for at least 30 days but that is another sign of progress. John and Jane Mero, the rose bush you two gave me at Christmas time has lots of buds on it. I know that home owners down in Monroe are glad that the street has finally been paved. The lime rock on the road has really kept the homes down there so dusty and white. Now they can get to spring cleaning too.

Realtors Protect, Funds, Ads, Commitments

Preparing for Realtor Week proclaimed by Gov. Bryant for April 22-30, the Seminole County Board of Realtors is explaining the realtor's Code of Ethics, established in 1918 as a guide to honorable business dealing.

The last three articles of Part I of the code relate to three practices, each of which must be required of the realtor if he is to sustain a professional standing.

Each provision is for the protection of the public but also is essential to the protection of both the client's and the realtor's interest. The articles provide:

ARTICLE 8. The realtor should keep in a special bank account, separate from his own funds, monies coming into his hand in trust for other persons, such as escrow, trust funds, client's monies and other like items.

ARTICLE 9. The realtor in his advertising should be especially careful to present a true picture and should not advertise without disclosing his name or his firm name, nor permit his salesmen to use individual names or telephone numbers, unless the salesman's connection with the realtor is obvious in the advertisement.

ARTICLE 10. The realtor, for the protection of all parties with whom he deals, should see that financial obligations and commitments regarding real estate transactions are in writing, expressing the exact agreement of the parties and that copies of such agreement, at the time they are executed, are placed in hands of all parties involved.

Article 8 is the law in most states. It is recognized that irrespective of how wealthy or solvent a broker may be, if he misleads the funds of his client with his own, he takes the chance that the funds of his clients may become involved in legal actions or in personal affairs entirely unrelated to the clients interest.

The mingling of funds never protects the client's interest, but always endangers it. Therefore, any violation of this article also would be held a violation of Article 11. It is a specific instruction to the realtor. Irrespective of state law, it may not be violated without endangering his position as a realtor. His local board is obliged to enforce the provision.

Article 9 relates to "blind advertising" and likewise, in many states is prohibited by law. Again the local board is not expected to await legal action insofar as its members may be concerned but is expected to enforce this provision. It is clearly and specifically stated. If, in a state in which the practice is a violation of law, the realtor feels that he is placed at a disadvantage in competition with non-members, then he and the local board are justified in taking action under the terms of Article 3 to insist upon enforcement of the law in the public interest. Any failure of officials to enforce the law cannot be an excuse for failure of a board to enforce this ethical practice among its members.

Article 10 expresses a well known legal principle and must be practiced for the protection of all parties to a real estate transaction. Real estate transactions usually are intricate. They involve a multitude of detail which frequently cannot be expressed to assure a meeting of the minds except as they are in writing; furthermore the laws of most, if not all, of the states provide that unless such agreements are in writing, they are unenforceable.

While the article refers only to "financial obligations and commitments" most documents in a real estate transaction are of a nature that include a financial commitment. This is true of a realtor's listing agreement. It is true of an agreement in which he receipts for a deposit to bind the transaction.

Altamonte Chapel Trustees Vote To Remove Trees

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

Altamonte Springs Chapel trustees, meeting in the Educational Bldg., voted on tree removing bids, piano repair and purchase of an electric mimeograph machine. Attending were Clifford Sands, W. Roy Waggoner, Milton L. Tinsley, Curtis J. Jones, Edgar Burdett, A. G. Burroughs, chairman; Douglas L. Scott, Miss Constance Maley, church clerk and Jess Boude, treasurer.

Sands, chairman of the building and grounds committee, presented bids for cutting down two pine trees on the Chapel grounds with the work awarded to Mr. Bevens. Waggoner and Burdett reported that Mr. Patter will repair the piano in the Educational Bldg. for $175. The work will include replacing the bass strings, new hammers, a complete key board, the piano tuned and the case refinished. The bid was accepted.

Boude advised that he had six new keys made for the Educational Bldg. and six for the Chapel. Sweeney's Office Supply of Sanford was awarded the bid for an electric mimeograph machine and a Steel Master Stationary cabinet. At the suggestion of Burroughs, trustees decided to change the monthly meeting dates from the first Thursday to the first Tuesday of each month and also to discontinue the meetings during July and August.

Geneva P-TO Names Officers

New officers of the Geneva Parent-Teacher Organization were named at the April meeting of the group and will be installed at a Spring School Program to be held in May.

The new officials are Mrs. John Brumley, president; Mrs. O. T. Kinnard, vice president; Mrs. T.R. Summerrail, secretary and Mrs. L. E. Spaulding, treasurer.

Mrs. John Hughey and Mrs. Horace Johnson will be delegates and Mrs. Windel Braddy, alternate.

Avery Urges Longwood Road Paving

District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery called Orange Ave. in Longwood "extremely dangerous" and urged the County Commission Tuesday to join with city and school officials to pave the road.

Avery estimated that the cost of labor would be about $2,800 and said that the city would furnish the materials with aid from the county school system.

Avery asked that the road be paved from Grant St. to Hwy. 17-92 past the Longwood Elementary school.

The board took the matter under advisement although District 4 Commissioner Vernon Dunn said he was "against it."

"I can't see turning down a request from one municipality and approving a request from another," Dunn said.

Avery asked the board to consider it and said he would bring it up again next week.

GA's Hear Program On Teenagers

Mary Flannigan presented a program on the subject of "A Changing Role" at the meeting of the Intermediate G. A. of the First Baptist Church of Lake May, which brought out the difference between a Moslem teenager and an American teenager.

Anita Ferguson read the names of the missionaries from the Calendar of Prayer and Mrs. Ann Fisher gave the prayer for them.

For their community mission project in April, the girls will gather books and religious material to be given to the New Samaritan Home.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Jerry Lusk. Refreshments were served.

Sunbeams Continue Study On Africa

The Primary Sunbeams continued their study about Africa at their meeting last week at the First Baptist Church in Lake Mary.

Mrs. W. T. Wansley was in charge of the group and Westa Anderson was her assistant. Refreshments were served following the program.

Nurses To Hear World Health Talk

Dr. J. A. Jerigan will speak on "World Health Problems" at the monthly meeting Tuesday of the District Eight Florida Nurses Assn.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m. in the Orlando Red Cross Bldg., 2401 E. Central Ave.

U.S. Ships Aided Rebels, Cubans Say

Unked Press International Havana radio charged today that two U. S. destroyers covered the exile forces that invaded Cuba this week and that Cuban defenders under the personal direction of Fidel Castro had shot down a number of planes including a B29 Superfortress and an F86 Sabrejet. The radio also starting listing the names of a number of prominent Cuban exile leaders it said were captured in the invasion. Among the first was that of Jose Miro Torra, son of Jose Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council of exiles that directed the invasion. Castro's radio also boasted of Soviet rocket support and hurled unparalleled invective at the United States. It warned the United States it would risk World War III if it tried to stop the march of communism in Cuba. But anti-Communist exiles said their men had filtered into the Cuban hills and were carrying on a guerrilla battle against Castro. The broadcast claimed, as a Castro victory communique had declared early Thursday, that a great number of arms were captured in the invasion—all North American-made. It said these included five Sherman tanks—a statement al-

County, Chamber Backs Harness Racing Permit

The County Commission and Chamber of Commerce Board of directors Thursday sent telegrams to Gov. Farris Bryant asking his support and endorsement on a harness racing permit for Seminole County.

In a telegram to the governor, the commission said "we urgently request your favorable action or otherwise permit to become law quarter horse and harness bill for Seminole County. By referendum, the people of Seminole County overwhelmingly favored the legislation."

At the board of directors meeting Thursday night the Chamber directors sent the following telegram: "The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce wishes to very strongly urge that you help correct an injustice to the people of Seminole County and The Seminole Park and Fairgrounds Inc. and they feel even stronger about same at this time due to the harassment by special interest in keeping the peoples wishes from being carried out. By the fact the Florida Racing Commission issued a permit for this track and the opinion of the attorney general that they had a right to racing, they spent large sums of money in getting same in condition, then to have same stopped by a small technicality. This is not an extension of Gambling, but to correct an injustice and place the rights of our people ahead of special out of state interest."

They will then serve as the first flight instructors while Vigilante pilots are trained for the squadrons of Heavy Attack Wing one.

Payola Knockout Bills Endorsed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House Roads Committee today endorsed in principle most of a package of bills aimed at knocking out payola to state employees.

But the group delayed discussion on a controversial measure creating a highway commissioner who would be given sweeping power when hired.

The bills grew out of the interim road committee investigations into payola-taking among Road Department state employees.

Committee Chairman E. C. Rowell of Sumter, said he would "hate" to make a decision today on the highway commissioner bill, but instructed the group to be ready to act on it Tuesday morning, favorably or unfavorably.

Rowell said he wanted to pass out the entire package of committee bills by Wednesday morning and rush it to the floor.

He said Gov. Farris Bryant had not expressed an opinion on the measures.

The committee endorsed a proposal that would reduce fees of attorneys representing property owners in condemnation suits. The proposal asked that the fee be based upon the difference between the amount offered by the State Road Department and the amount set by the court.

Rowell said this would be a highly controversial matter on the House floor and urged the three attorneys on the committee to study the proposal carefully before writing it into a bill.

Max Brewer of Titusville, Bryant's legislative assistant and a road board member, said the governor favored the bill.

Another proposal approved by the committee, but objected to by Brewer, would require that the state obtain right-of-way titles before receiving bids.

The committee also endorsed a bill which would set up a separate division for the state testing engineer. Sen. Scott Kelly of Lakeland said the purpose was to "get that testing division out of the district engineer's control." The testing engineer would report directly to the highway commissioner.

Rowell called a meeting for Monday night to include himself, Brewer, Kelly, the three attorneys on the committee and other road board members to iron out difficulties.

There was little other major action in prospect for the morning sessions of the Senate and House.

This will be a pretty tame year for local politics. The only election slated on the local level this November will be for the City Commission district post now held by Mayor Joe Baker.

City tax collections are slightly down this year in comparison with 1959. Thus far, 92.44 percent of the tax roll has been collected through March. Last year at this time, 93.85 percent was collected.

Newly elected Jaycee President Garnett White hopes to start plenty of new community projects for the organization this year. White also reported that he would like to cut out much of the "old stuff." He did not elaborate on what he would eliminate.

One city official who will be looking forward to a consolidated tax roll will be city assessor Henry Tamm Jr. Tamm says that if the roll is consolidated with the county it will eliminate field work by city crews. As it stands now, field work on the 1961 roll will start within the next month.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" presented by Miss Lucille Campbell's sixth grade at Pinecrest School. Curtain rises at 8 p.m. today for the 17th year of production. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Cdr. Jack Langford of NAS will speak to the Rotary Club at their noon luncheon meeting Monday at the Civic Center.

School Science Fair Now Underway

One of the most interesting and outstanding exhibitions to be seen in Seminole County this year is the Seminole County Science Fair now going on in the Bill Fleming Gym at Seminole High School.

The doors opened to the public today at 9 a.m. and it will continue until 8 p.m. at which time the awards will take place for the projects which the judges decide are the best. It will not be an easy decision as these exhibits were chosen from hundreds of others by the science teachers at the various schools, and comprise the cream of the crop from Sanford, Lyman and Oviedo.

Director of the exhibit is Seminole High biology instructor, Don Reynolds and the Fair is being co-sponsored by the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees. Awards are being made by the schools, Sanford-DeBary Heart Council, Luncheon Assn., Kiwanis Club, Dynatronics, Dearborn and Southern Chemicals.

Writing Prize Won By June Webster

June Webster of Sanford has won a state prize for writing the best single safety story in a high school newspaper with an article in the "Braves" Smoke Signal, Sanford Junior High School paper.

The award was one made at a joint session of the House and Senate at Tallahassee under sponsorship of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Highway Safety.

Longwood Paving Assessments Ok'd

Tax assessments to pay for the paving of Longwood's Wilma, Palmetto and Grant streets were approved in less than an hour at a public hearing in the Town Hall Thursday.

County Commissioners, both past and present boards, came in for their share of criticism by residents and the town council during the discussion.

One resident said "this is the only place I've ever lived where we have to foot the full cost for getting streets paved." He asked why the county couldn't "at least" help with the program and was advised by Council Chairman R. C. Carlson that the town had been "working since 1959 trying to get the county to help with paving Orange Ave."

Mayor Al Lormann said that he'd been to so many county commission meetings that "they're getting where they turn away when they see me coming."

The county helped pave Wildmere because it was considered a connecting road from Hwy. 17-92 to the Old Dixie Hwy., Carlson explained.

Residents then wanted to know when the unfinished portion of the street would be paved and Lormann said that he had contacted Commissioner Vernon Dunn "time after time on the matter and got nothing but promises."

"In fact," he continued, "just this week he promised to bring it up again at next Tuesday's commission meeting."

This particular portion of the town lies in District 4 while the remainder of the area is in Commissioner Jim Avery's District 3.

Other questions on methods of paying the assessments and on drainage were discussed with most residents complaining of the open ditches.

Carlson explained in detail the differences in cost of open ditches compared to tiled ones. He said that the town was no better pleased with the situation than the residents.

"We'll just have to put up with them until more money from somewhere is available," he concluded.

Informal Meet

County Commissioners, the Longwood Town Council and road officials met in an informal closed session Thursday night to discuss the classification of SR 434 (Molnar Ave.) in Longwood.

County Engineer Carlton Bliss said this morning that the classification of the road through Longwood is a mixed classification and some open ditches are designated.

Bliss said that the council is expected to present a resolution at Tuesday's commission meeting urging the installation of storm sewers.

Grand Opening For Bank Saturday

At 9 a. m. Saturday morning the doors of the beautiful new Florida State Bank, the newest and most modern banking institution in the state, will be thrown open to the public, with an invitation of T. E. Tucker, president and bank officials to come and see.

The drawing for the $2500 worth of prizes on display in the lobby will be held at 5 p. m. with emcee Charlie Morrison doing the honors. It is not necessary to be present to win.

Refreshments and free gifts will be given away all day to all callers, with guided tours through the new facility by members of the staff.

The second section of today's Herald tells of some of the features of the new bank and of the contractors and others participating in its construction.

Geneva Post Office Bid Is Accepted

The Post Office Dept. has accepted the bid of Edward C. and Agnes E. Putnam for a new post office at Geneva, the office of Rep. Syd Herlong reported Thursday.

The bid accepted under the post office lease system will provide an air conditioned masonry building containing 810 square feet of interior space, a loading platform and adequate parking space.

The proposed location is at 107 Pine St. in Geneva and completion of the building is scheduled for Sept. 1.

County Code Bill Goes To Sub-Group

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House Local Government Committee failed to take action today on a proposed county code and gave the measure to a subcommittee for an eight-day study.

Ralph Marsicano, Tampa attorney for the League of Municipalities, proposed several amendments to the measure designed to tie down its regulatory powers to unincorporated areas of counties. He said the bill's grant of powers was too broad.

He also proposed a requirement for a county referendum before any part of the code could be accepted by a county. This was vigorously opposed by Rep. Malory Horne of Leon, the measure's introducer, and J. Lewis Hall of Tallahassee, counsel for the State Association of County Commissioners.

Hall suggested the referendum proposal was simply a "trading point." But, he added, it would be a death blow to the measure if the referendum amendment was accepted.

Marsicano said the bill would create an "imbalance" between the county provided services and city-supplied services. "We are concerned over this code," he said.
