

Official Hints At Possibility Of Future College Being Located In Village Of North Orlando

By Ginny Skisak
Promising in the near future an announcement of such tremendous interest that it could result in North Orlando becoming the biggest taxpayer in Seminole County, John Schwartz only hinted at the nature of the announcement at Sunday's grand opening of Horizon Homes, the community's newest residential development.

His only reference to the opening statement came when, as he pointed toward Village Hall, he said, "can you imagine looking over there and seeing a college housing more than 600 students?"

(A Village official recently told the Herald that there is a possibility a branch of Orlando Junior College will locate there.)

Schwartz, acting president and vice president of the North Orlando Co. and official guest at the grand opening, also expressed the company's interest in the community and future plans the company owners have for the village.

He stated that dedication of the new recreation center could be expected on March 25 or on the following Sunday.

In a jovial manner and making light of the dismal weather, Schwartz continued, "planning with a head and my heart feeling lighter with the sun creeping through, the interest of the owners of the North Orlando Co., with a true and real sincerity, is the desire to build with the community, a real community."

"I wish there were someway," he continued,

"for people to find a cooperative spirit of keeping their lawns and trash up so that anyone visiting here from in or out of state would have the feeling that our people have real pride in their town, home and garden."

Schwartz reminded that "the community has lost the opportunity of gaining new residents because they ride in and see how lawns are kept and ride out and never return. The company's sincerity in words and in its investment of more than $100,000 cannot do this by itself. The community must help."

(The North Orlando Co., in an effort to further and aid such interest, is cooperating with the community in giving a minimum water bill for April which has been designated as Beautification Month by the North Orlando Garden Club.)

He stated that the company, with owners, plans soon to build six new homes in the Ranchette Sites, giving free architectural design to the owners and will continue to give free design to others who wish to locate in the area.

B. Robert Swartzburg, president of the company and a leading architect in the country, has built 50 hotels on Miami's Gold Coast and presently is building Horizon Apartments in Winter Park, he reported.

Asked if his opening statement had any reference to a swimming pool for the recreation center, Schwartz said "all of this is peanuts compared to what is coming."

Firemen Plan Fund Campaign

North Orlando Fire Chief Bob Stephenson has announced that the volunteers will plan a money raising campaign in order that the necessary repairs can be made to put the truck in running condition. Stephenson appeared at the February Village Council Meeting to request financial aid but was advised that the Village has no allotted fund for the fire department.

The chief said that there are 14 active members who meet the second Wednesday of each month in the Village Hall but that the group will want at least 25 members when it can find its own hall.

"It is hard to ask men to join the department when there isn't anything now to offer them. When we get helmets, boots and coats, we'll ask for new members and when we get our own meeting place, a Ladies Auxiliary also will be formed," he advised.

He reported that all of the men are eager to have a fire hall and have offered their help in building one. "Plans are under discussion to raise money to get the project started," he said.

He also reported that the firemen will sponsor a soft ball league for boys but due to lack of funds to join an organized league will have to be limited to North Orlando activity. Play, for boys between the ages of 8 and 15 years, is scheduled to begin the first of next month.

Five Qualify For First North Orlando Election

By Ginny Skisak
Last Thursday's qualifying deadline for candidates seeking Council Seats Two and Four in North Orlando's first election set for March 30 closed with five men announcing for the posts.

Qualifying for seat Two are Robert S. Stephenson and Henry A. Ward Jr. and for Seat Four are Woodrow W. Anderson, F. Stewart Helmly and William H. Wolfe.

The following information, given to your reporter by each candidate, in addition to a brief personal record, contains the answer to one question: What is your feeling on the failure of North

Orlando residents thus far to register to vote in this election: (Registration books close on March 15)

Stephenson, a resident of the community for 18 months came to Florida from Dundee, Mich. A member of the North Orlando Volunteer Fire Dept., he is the elected Fire Chief and comes to the department with more than 15 years experience as a volunteer fireman in his former community.

In answer to the question, he said: "It's necessary to represent all of the people in a community. By not exercising their vote, they only hurt themselves. Someone is going to be elected. If enough people register in this community, the County Commission has offered to donate a voting machine for our use."

Ward, a resident for the past two and a half years, is employed by the Martin Co. of Orlando as a member of staff, Model Engineering. He attended Florida State University in Tallahassee where he majored in education. He is a member of the Central Florida Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, where he is a communications officer.

A member of the Volunteer Fire Dept. and Civic Assn., Ward is chairman of three committees, nominating, city election and safety.

He has traveled extensively in the Far East as a civilian field engineer for the Philco Corp. and served with the First Marine Air Wing during the Korean Conflict.

His answer to the question: "The only way people of any community will achieve proper representation is by staying abreast of current developments and participating in the elections and choosing a representative that best reflects their views."

Anderson, in North Orlando for the past two years, is employed by the Columbia Ribbon and Carbon Manufacturing Co., Inc. in its new branch office in Orlando.

He attended Jacksonville University, Massey Business College in Jacksonville and Stetson University in Deland where he studied law.

He is a member of Sanford-Seminole Jaycees, of the National Machine Accountants Assn. and is the retiring president of the North Orlando Civic Assn.

In answer to the question, he said: "A city will thrive and grow despite it. It makes this easier if votes are cast. Whoever is elected will represent the people. A good representative will throw away his own way of thinking for his constituents. It's an American principle serving the majority."

Getting Ready

A big step in the "preparedness program" being advocated by Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of Seminole County's long range planning and development committee, was voluntarily taken by the Forest City Civic Assn. Monday night when it voted to petition for establishing Precinct 12 as a Fire District.

In addition, this civic minded group also voted not only to organize a volunteer fire department but to include a rescue service unit as well.

From all indications, when the population explosion fallout begins to hit this area of the county, Forest City will BE PREPARED.

Serviceman Chooses North Orlando Home

By Mona Grinstead
In 1950. In 1951, he volunteered for the South Pacific and was sent to Tokyo, Japan and from there on to two school aged and later returned to give 20 years of his life to our Armed Forces has chosen to make North Orlando his permanent home.

Gus Miller, in the Village a little more than a year, now, lives on Lombardy Rd. with his small pet and constant companion, Beauty, a dog he brought from South America.

From 1937, when he returned to America, he served first with the Army, then the Marines, then back to the Army and finally for the past six years before his retirement last year, with the Air Force. Thirteen years of his time was spent in foreign countries.

Early in his second stint with the Army, he was shipped to Italy with the Texas Rangers, 36th Division, which met with its ill fate there in 1943. He transferred to the Ninth Division in North Africa and early in 1944, while in France, was captured by the Germans and taken to a prison camp in Berlin where he remained for 18 months and three days before the Russians captured the camp and he was turned over to American authorities.

In 1945 he went back to occupied Germany where he served through the Air Lift before returning once more to the U. S. He volunteered for duty in Alaska, spent 12 months there and six months with the British in East and West India, returning home

When he returned in 1954, he joined the Air Force and saw duty in Okinawa, Formosa, Hong Kong, Siam and Tokyo before finally winding up at Orlando Air Force Base where he received his retirement discharge.

During the short periods of civilian life, Miller also traveled extensively and he tells of a trip by camel from Jerusalem to Arabia where the meals consisted solely of Vienna sausage and grasshoppers.

He tells, too, of being in Hitler's prison and of seeing and hearing the dictator many times.

In 1948, before going to Alaska, Miller lost an eye while working to help free 37 passengers pinned under an overturned bus when a cable broke and hit him. A cornea transplant was successfully performed from a man in prison for a 99 year term.

All of Miller's dress clothes were tailor made in Hong Kong and he has a set of gold plated dinnerware from Siam which occasionally he is asked to sell, however, he says "I won't part with it."

Presently he is studying Russian to add to his vocabulary of foreign languages and when these studies are completed, he plans a trip around the world.

Singer Of Bavarian Music Now At Florida Power Club

OTTO ENGELMAN

By Shirley Westworth
A recent interview with Otto Engelman, new steward of the Florida Power Employee's Club on Big Bear Lake revealed that he has quite an interesting and illustrious background in the entertainment field.

A native of Austria, Engelman traveled extensively presenting his troupe of Alpine Bavarian singers which featured authentic folk songs, dances and comedy skills.

He started on this career when, as a boy in Cleveland, Ohio, he won a scholarship enabling him to study singing in Vienna at the Conservatory of Music.

Following conclusion of his studies there he returned to this country and went on to study grand opera in New York. He left opera to tour with "The Student Prince" Road Company for five years and also sang for the NBC network where he was billed as the "Viennese Baritone."

He appeared, too, on a German program in Cleveland.

In 1933 and 1934, he presented his act, "The Student Prince Overture," at the Chicago World's Fair. For eight years he entertained in Canton, Ohio, at the Hauptbrau, heading his own singing and dancing group.

In 1947, after extensive traveling, he came to Florida and was booked at the Heidelberg in Miami. From there he moved up into the Central Florida area where he entertained in and around Orlando.

With his wife, Helen, he established and operated the "Alpine Tavern" in Pinecastle for 11 years, providing the customers with their special brand of entertainment. Illness forced Engelman to close this business, however two years later he opened a similar one in Winter Park which he operated for three years before retiring.

He bills of his life as an entertainer with ready enthusiasm and will enthral the listener with tales of many and varied experiences in the "wonderful world of entertainment."

Those who visit the Employee's Club will find him ready to assist in any way possible and he will make the visit a memorable one by obligingly reminiscing over his very interesting lifetime.

'Come As You Are' Invitation Brings Fun To Class Meeting

By Jane Casselberry
Invited to "come as you are," members of the Christian Homemakers Class of the Casselberry Methodist Church were treated to a comedy skit and guessing game following the last regular business and program meeting of the class in Weaver Hall.

Social hour hostesses, Mrs. Angel Mendes and Mrs. Frank Messick, gave the skit and humorous descriptive verses were read about various class members and their identity guessed by the group.

Although bare feet and curlers were much in evidence in response to the invitation, the class conducted its scheduled business meeting with customary dignity and accepted, with regret, the resignation of President Mrs. Robert Deppen who soon will move to Ohio. Appreciation was expressed for service to the group during her two terms in office.

Appointed in her place was Bill Shook, program chairman for the class, who read the opening devotionals. Prayer was given by Rev. Oscar C. Poole.

In other business, Saturday's corn boil and wieners roast to be held at the McClain Farm near Oviedo was planned and those wishing to ride to the party on the Sunday School bus were advised to be at the church by 7:30 p. m.

Refreshments of angel food cake topped with strawberries and whipped cream were served with iced tea to close the meeting.

Casselberry Scouts Initiate Dads To Rigors Of Camp Life

By Jane Casselberry
Boy Scouts of Troop 341 of Casselberry initiated their Dads into the rigors of outdoor life as they braved cold winds and cloudy skies for the Father and Son Camping Trip to Camp Lanchester near Talleys last weekend.

Saturday afternoon the boys took their fathers on a tour of the camp and that night they enjoyed a campfire program of songs and stories and shared experiences of other such trips.

Scoutmaster Ted Daniel explained the Ash Ceremony in which ashes from the campfire are saved to add to the fire on the next trip in hopes that it will be an equally happy experience.

The campers slept in open Adirondack type shelters and the boys cooked Saturday supper and Sunday breakfast for their dads.

Rev. Darwin Shea, troop chaplain, conducted Protestant worship services on Sunday morning and Assistant Scoutmaster Wally Krohne took the Catholic Scouts to Umatilla for Mass.

To top off the weekend of fun, the group consumed 22 pounds of barbecued beef, a huge pot of beans also burned in the pit for the long, slow, 12-hour cooking period.

Attending were Scoutmaster Daniel and sons, Bill and Timothy; Krohne and his son, David; Shea and his son, Darwin Jr.; Edgar Totten and Lee, Leonard Casselberry and Dan and Rick, Harold Carlson and Pete, Othel Sullivan and Alan, Bill Shook and Rick and Steve, Alex Kiah and Steve and John Howard, substituting for Glenn and Steve Duncan's Dad who was called away due to illness in the family.

Also present were Scouts Terry Cox, Bill Dempsey, Jerry Skisak, David Martin and Greg Kaubia.

Nominees Withdraw

By Ginny Skisak
W. W. Anderson, incumbent president of the North Orlando Civic Assn. who was nominated at the last meeting for the office of second vice president in the next club year, has announced that he has decided to decline the nomination.

At the same time George Worth also declined the nomination for president. Henry Ward Jr., the other committee recommendation for the presidency, withdrew at the meeting.

Sportsmen Busy On Club

By Carol Jepsen
For the past several weeks members of the Chuluota Sportsman's Club have been busy cleaning, painting and refurbishing the new club house on Highway 419 opposite Chuluota Road. They hope to have everything in excellent condition by mid-summer.

Persons wishing to obtain membership are asked to contact club members orally recognized by the Club decal on the windshields of their cars.

Longwood Firemen To Give Annual Dinner On Saturday

Fred Esclavon and Garland Shaw will don their chef's caps and aprons Saturday afternoon to prepare platter after platter of Southern Fried Chicken for the annual dinner sponsored by the Longwood Volunteer Fire Dept. for the public.

To take place in the Park, serving of crispy, golden chicken along with mashed potatoes and gravy, peas and carrots, cole slaw, cupcakes, coffee and cold drinks is expected to begin at 4 p. m.

Maurice Rudolph, serving as ticket chairman for this year's dinner, reports that preparations are being made in expectation of the biggest attendance ever recorded. Last year more than 800 persons were served.

All proceeds from the dinner will go towards the purchase of badly needed equipment for the fire truck and firemen. The department purchased its two-way radio system now in operation for city, police and fire departments from last year's profits of the dinner.

Craft Club To Celebrate

The second anniversary of Chuluota's Hobby Craft Club will be observed next Wednesday with a trip to Orange Lodge at Lake Apopka, which is managed by Wally Payne, formerly of the Lake Catherine Inn.

Special birthday cakes will be baked by Mrs. Minna Morrison and Mrs. Margaret Crews for the occasion.

$50,000 Needed To Finish Hospital Wing

Shopping Center Delayed

County Asks Full Report On Drainage

The County Commission met in closed door session Thursday afternoon for 45 minutes. All the commissioners were present as well as city attorney Bill Hutchison. The press was not invited. When the doors were opened we questioned City Manager W. E. Knowles who said the commissioners got together "informally" to discuss the pros and cons of annexation with property owners of a proposed shopping center on Hwy. 17-92.

Well, at least the county has agreed to invite the press to all its informal discussions from now on.

I remember when we were criticizing the county for closed door sessions one city commissioner told me, "You won't have to worry about that around city hall. We have nothing to hide."

The 20 doctors in Sanford have pledged financial support to help pay for completing the new wing at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Look for the County Commission Monday night to back up the proposed legislative program for Florida municipalities including an increase in the cigarette tax to three cents a package.

One more item on the fire the other day... Sanford taxpayers pay $128,000 annually for their fire protection.

Seminole County was well represented at the SRD hearings Thursday, about 50 present... including State Reps. Mack Cleveland Jr., Gordon Frederick and Sen. Bernard Parrish... About 40 from the Chamber of Commerce's long range planning committee on roads as well as our governing body... All had little flags in their lapels and SRD District Member Max Brewer complimented the chamber group for planning to get surveys for needed roads... "Should have been done a long time ago," said Brewer.

One item we neglected to mention at the last County Commission meeting was Vernon Dunn's proposal that the board look for a deputy clerk instead of an administrative aide (like Orange and Volusia).

Hearing on 17 condemned buildings scheduled Monday night before the City fathers.

The Sheriff's office has served notice on the County Commission to answer within 20 days on the Dike Road damage suit, or it will come to court. Property owners asking $2,500 in damages.

County Commission will meet with the three-man Franchise Committee next Thursday informally to discuss new franchises. THE PRESS IS INVITED. Opposition already forming to the new proposal.

In closing minutes of the County Commission's special session this morning, J. C. Lavender, county road superintendent, was given the go ahead to get a CD truck for use as a County Home Fire truck.

Shame, shame, shame... from Seminole County's 32,000 possible voters of which little more than 17,000 are registered, only 10, including a Herald reporter turned out Thursday to hear legislative candidates and a county commission candidate speak at their first planned and announced public meeting since they qualified for office.

Mrs. E. T. Hamil of Oviedo qualified today to run as Democratic Committee-woman in Precinct 7 of Seminole County.

Cleanup Begins On Gold Coast

A massive clean-up campaign begins today on Florida's glittering Gold Coast where the backlash of a fierce Atlantic storm sent scores of winter tourists scurrying for shelter.

The 20-foot waves, which pounded an 80-mile strip of swanky resorts from Miami Beach to Palm Beach, caused multi-million dollar damage to the crowded hotels where northerners gather every year to escape the discomforts of snow and ice.

One person drowned and many others were injured as the flood-tides crashed over seawalls and poured into lobbies and basements of motels and hotels. The famed sandy beaches of the area were strewn with debris and Collins Avenue—the great white way of Miami Beach—was closed during high tide.

One Dead, 2 Hurt In 3 Accidents

Harold Paul Drawdy, 29 year old former Florida Highway Patrolman died early today of injuries received about 11 p. m. Thursday when his 1959 pickup truck left the road just south of the Osteen bridge, tearing down a concrete post and wooden fence posts and coming to rest in the bottom of the ditch, just at the river's edge.

Drawdy, who was alone in the truck, was proceeding toward Sanford on Highway 415 and had just crossed the bridge when he lost control. He was apparently thrown out by the impact and suffered multiple skull and chest injuries.

Drawdy is survived by his wife, Jean, and children, Deborah and Paul of 409 Marietta St., Orlando and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Drawdy of Eagle Lake.

An accident at Hwy. 17-92 and SR 434 caused multiple fractures of the left wrist and severe abrasions to Mrs. Elizabeth Talso, 16, of Mobley's Corner, when the car in which she was riding, was struck broadside. She was admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Talso was a passenger in a sedan driven by Victor Takenen, 72, of Brooklyn, Conn. His car was struck at the intersection by a northbound sedan driven by Granville P. Morgan, 39, of Sanford.

Mrs. Susan Davis, 20, of Weathersfield suffered a head injury at 7:35 a. m. Thursday when she drove on the wrong side of the road and struck a parked truck belonging to Harold W. Jones of 1018 Clemson Drive in Weathersfield.

Bliss Hopeful After DeLand Road Meeting

County Engineer Carlton Bliss was optimistic today that the state would construct portions of two of the top primary projects in Seminole County during the 1962-63 fiscal year.

Bliss said he felt that SR 436 from Hwy. 17-92 to Altamonte Springs and SR 40 from French to Mellonville would be started before the end of the 1962-63 fiscal year.

The engineer further reported that he felt that contracts would be let within six months on the top secondary project, SR 427 from Altamonte to Longwood.

Bliss made these remarks today after the County Commission presented its road requests to the State Road Department in DeLand late Thursday afternoon.

County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchison, backed up with a strong delegation from the Chamber of Commerce, placed the completion of four-laning SR 436 from Altamonte to the Orange County line at the top of the four project primary schedule. Acquisition of right of way for the project and three others included in a $800,000 bond issue topped the county 11 point secondary list.

Max Brewer, State Road Board member told the Seminole delegation that he realized the need of SR 436 and "that something had to be done soon." However, regarding SR 40, Brewer felt that the entire four-laning project to the Volusia line would not be needed for at least another four or five years.

A $15-million matching fund program for interstate highway projects in the State SRD's 5th district is planned for the next fiscal budget, Brewer told this County as well as 11 other county delegations.

Lack Of Funds May Force Halt To Construction

The new $650,000 wing at Seminole Memorial Hospital may never be completed unless the hospital raises an additional $50,000, Robert Besserer, hospital administrator told the Jaycees Thursday.

"It certainly is a shame that for $50,000 we must fail to complete the new wing, but that is the problem we are faced with now," said Besserer.

"Costs have risen so much since construction was begun, that we find ourselves unable to complete the south end of the third floor, which contains the delivery and labor rooms, unless we can raise this amount of money through public donations," he added.

Besserer said that the actual cost would be higher but that the contractor was obligated to finish it for that amount.

"However, if we let it go now and finish it next year, it will cost closer to $100,000 to re-contract the work," he said.

"In fact," Besserer remarked, "it is amazing that you have been fortunate enough to have a million and a half dollar hospital without a cent of public donations having been solicited."

"By law, we are allowed to ask three mills of tax money for the hospital, but we are using only .06 of a mill," the administrator said.

Besserer outlined several improvements at the hospital which are already in use or will be included when the new wing is completed in July.

Number one is the emergency room which is now open 24 hours a day. When the new wing is opened there will be two emergency rooms, both staffed 24 hours a day with a registered nurse and an aide.

Another step forward will be the X-ray technician training school which will be started next year, beginning with one student and gradually increasing.

"This has the full endorsement of the AMA," Besserer said, "and will provide an ever-widening service to the people of Seminole County."

The administrator urged the Jaycee businessmen to investigate a good group insurance plan for their employees, commenting that few patients admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital have hospitalization insurance to help pay their bills.

In explaining the lack of the hospital's ability to have an intern or resident physician, Besserer said that only 7,000 medical students were graduated last year and there were openings in the major hospitals in the country for more than 14,000. The same problem applies to resident physicians.

"One intern wouldn't do us any good anyhow," Besserer pointed out. "He couldn't work seven days a week, 24 hours a day. We would have to have at least four interns and our hospital is too small. They just wouldn't come here."

Terrorists Hit French Barracks

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—Terrorists exploded a plastic bomb inside the main army barracks in Algiers today in another act of defiance by extremists who want to keep Algeria French.

First reports said one soldier was killed and two others wounded.

The barracks explosion was followed less than an hour later by another plastic bomb attack in the downtown region of Algiers. The second bomb damaged a European apartment but caused no casualties.

The afternoon bombings in Algiers followed a similar bombing inside army corps headquarters at Oran Thursday night.

The Oran attack coincided with a visit by French Defense Minister Pierre Messmer, who currently is on a top secret tour of army command posts in Algeria with instructions on how to handle the situation when an expected French-Algerian rebel cease-fire is announced.

West Warned On Peace Pact

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union warned the West anew today that it will not postpone indefinitely the signing of a German peace treaty.

The warning, published in the official Communist party newspaper Pravda, reaffirmed Soviet support for East German sovereignty and rejected Western claims of access rights to West Berlin.

While the Soviet Union has taken this position before, the statement in Pravda was the latest of several signs in recent weeks that the Kremlin is rushing toward a showdown on the Berlin and German issues.

Lormann, Davis Open Campaigns In Joint Appearance

Editors Note: The following reports were taken from the first planned and announced public appearance of the Seminole County political candidates have made since qualifying for office. Ten persons, including the reporter, were present to hear what they said. Even with cold weather, illness and many other demands of the day, surely more than this mere handful of some 17,000 registered voters out of the estimated 32,000 eligible to vote, are interested in who and what will make up their local representation in government.

By Judy Wells

An admitted need for some form of medical aid for the aged was recognized by both Al Lormann and Joe Davis as candidates for the State Legislature in group 2, Thursday. Both also readily agreed that Seminole County is sadly lacking in its health program with Lormann pointing out the urgent and growing need for a full time health director.

Speaking to members of the South Seminole Democratic Women's Club which met in Howell Park, Lormann frankly stated that he definitely would be against a federal program but would favor some form of locally controlled aid plan.

Strongly for giving the county more home rule, Lormann said that he felt a national aid bill would be another step toward control by Federal Government.

Davis, who pointed out that the State Legislature actually has very little authority in a national undertaking such as the medical aid bill, said that he too favored local control and states rights to an extent.

However, he said that of necessity, aid must come from the Federal Government unless an adequate plan can be provided through the free enterprise system.

This did not mean, he clarified, that he was in agreement with the proposed national medical aid bill in its present form.

In answer to a question on whether or not special action is needed for control on interest rates charged by private loan companies, both men said they were inadequately prepared without further study to make any commitment at the present time.

Lormann advised that he would fight any move to repeal the Homestead Act which he said he felt should be retained regardless of the cost.

He pointed out that much of the state population is made up of people living on fixed incomes who are here through "our invitation and advertisement" of homestead exemption.

He also took a firm stand against ever placing sales tax on foods or medicines.

Varnes Views

W. Pitt Varnes of Fern Park, who qualified Thursday for the District 4 County Commission post, also spoke for the South Seminole Democratic Women at Thursday's business and program meeting.

Beginning by stating that his views could be termed liberal to a certain extent, he went on to caution that

"I'm open minded but I by no means have what you would call a 'blue sky philosophy.'"

He added, "I know from experience the value of a dollar and promise to try to handle the taxpayers money as carefully as I would my own."

Against the county's hiring an administrative aide, he pointed out that he was opposed to the action because he felt that perhaps it would be easier to influence one man than it would be to influence five.

Among the many problems faced by the county, schools and transportation are the greatest, in that order, Varnes said, adding that he was a strong advocate of more home rule and that control of schools and roads must be kept on a local basis as much as possible.

"We've already lost control of our schools to Tallahassee... lost control of our roads to Tallahassee and now we're losing part of both to Washington," he emphasized.

Asked for an opinion on the county's proposed overall drainage plan, Varnes said that he feels there is a need for conservation as much as for drainage.

Lesson From Kate Smith

A few years ago many people enjoyed hearing Kate Smith sing at least once a day. This was before television and how well we can remember people who couldn't dress, eat, or sleep without the "music box" blaring away. Since Kate was such a favorite songstress few people failed to recognize her splendid voice.

Miss Smith had a simple childlike faith that many people would give all of their worldly goods if they could possess it. She expressed her belief with an incident that happened to her when she was a girl. She and two other young ladies had rowed a boat into Chesapeake Bay late one afternoon.

The outgoing tide had taken them much further out than they realized and another threat came in the darkness which began to descend. They soon discovered that they were in an extremely precarious position. They could not row effectively against the tide, their boat was small, and a darkness was almost upon them. They searched their minds for something they could do.

A Bible verse came to the mind of Miss Smith which says, "Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." (Matthew 18: 19, 20)

Miss Smith said, "We have the number. The Bible says 'two or three' and we have three." As they prayed a boat came to them and they were rescued. This experience began the shaping of the philosophy of Miss Smith's life. She found that prayer was to fulfill her need in all circumstances of life. Her motto became, "Try asking God."

This illustration does not express the complete meaning of prayer, as we should realize, but it does point to a need of prayer that is so often neglected in the lives of many people.

Christ had much more to say about prayer, but He also gave us an example by praying Himself.

All of the four Gospels present Christ as one who knows the value of prayer. We see Him praying before His baptism, in solitary places, on the Mount of Transfiguration, in the Garden of Gethsemane, and on the Cross of Calvary.

If your life is barren, frustrated, fruitless, and purposeless "Try Asking God." He is far more willing to bless than man is to ask.

Membership is open to all mothers. The spiritual motherhood acquired through sponsorship in Baptism or Confirmation is recognized as sufficient.

Mrs. Rose Hirt or Mrs. Jo Von Herbulis may be contacted for further information concerning the League.

Knocking In Earnest?

The Republicans are knocking in earnest this year at what has been a fairly solid Democratic portal. In fact, one of every seven would-be office holders who has been trooping to Tallahassee in the last few days has been a Republican.

The unofficial count at this writing: 65 Republicans are seeking to hold congressional, legislative, judicial offices, and serve on a governing board in Florida, come 1963.

It should be a mighty interesting election year.

But it would have been still more interesting if the Republicans had fielded still more candidates.

If more had challenged not the portals of the fall election, but the gateway to possible entry, the people would have had a better chance to determine the nature of the Republican Party of Florida—where its principal interest lies.

We won't get more than a possible glimpse this year because the GOP used pretty good strategy in turning out challengers.

Few of them will be challenging each other, via the primary route, to see which is best fitted to hold the office each seeks.

The contested primary races are sparse, and there are none contested in Seminole County. There had been talk of GOP opposition to Mack Cleveland Jr. but it ended up just talk. The Republicans were probably afraid to risk an onslaught.

Although there are only slightly over 2,000 registered Republicans in the county many members of the GOP party have registered as Democrats here in the past.

They say, "If I want to vote, I've got no other choice." This of course is true. It will be interesting to watch the Group 2 legislative race where Pat McKinney tossed his hat in the ring against two strong Democrats, Al Lormann and Joe Davis.

Then, maybe come the fall we'll get an idea how strong a two-party system we have in the county.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE L-459: Anne B., aged 20, is an attractive brunet coed.

"But, Dr. Crane," she moaned, "I seem to have need for more deodorants than my roommate."

"For my underarm perspiration is much stronger than hers. Why is that?"

"Is there a difference in the kind of perspiration people exude? She may perspire but it is relatively odorless."

TWO KINDS OF SWEAT: Yes, there is a difference in the kind of perspiration people exude.

One type of sweat is mostly salty water and it is not as smelly as the other variety. But many people, especially of darker skin, have a greater percentage of apocrine sweat glands.

These apocrine glands give off more than water and salt, for they also exude a little protoplasm, too.

And this is what causes excessive odor, for such cellular debris turns rancid and thus makes it simple for a bloodhound to follow such a "spoor."

Those human beings who are born with this greater percentage of apocrine sweat glands, must be philosophical about it and simply take extra precautions.

Be sure you bathe frequently. And the male sex might profitably take a lesson from the fair sex by washing their underwear and socks each night.

The usual woman washes and strings her lingerie and hose around the bathroom each night so they will be fresh next morning. Men should imitate this smart habit!

PERFUMES FOR MEN

A recent report from Europe states that British men are using far more perfume and toilet water than are women.

For British girls have absorbed the idea that perfume is wicked and salacious. They feel it is identified with a sexy personality and thus regard a perfumed woman as suggesting prostitutes or "scall" girls.

Notice the different percentages of women between the ages 18 to 45 who use perfume in the countries tabulated below:

|----------|-----|
| France | 96% |
| U. S. A. | 82% |
| Britain | 20% |

It is certainly true that perfume can enhance a woman's seductive allure. In fact, many men from childhood have been psychologically "conditioned" to perfume as synonymous with feminine charm.

Men also link lacy fringed slips or petticoats with female charm. Girls, don't grow so disturbed if a lacy fringe shows below your skirt hem.

And a fringe of lace around the neck also adds "oomph" to a woman.

Softness is another sensory quality that men identify with seductive women, so avoid sequin dresses and shiny, metallic looking fabrics.

For these appear hard or brittle and thus masculinize a girl, much as a cigaret, a mustache, and coarse talk.

Another thing men abhor is claw-like fingernails that resemble an eagle's talons. And if these female "claws" are stained a bloody red or have the modern corpse-like hues, they strike a false note.

Mascara and excessively artificial hairdos likewise rub men the wrong way, despite nitwit stylings to the contrary.

All styles and fashions should accentuate woman's feminine allure and not make her harsh, masculine or artificial in appearance.

If you disbelieve us psychologists on this score, send for my 200-point "Tests for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long four cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Phil Newsom Says: Salan For France

(UPI)—A horrifying sense of unreality accompanies the news dispatches from Algiers. There is unreality in the talk of a cease-fire which should but will not herald the end of a bitter struggle.

The blue Michelin is a treacherous street of smart shops and sidewalk cafes not meant for violence. So there is unreality in the body of the Arab Moslem shot down by a European gunman who used a single bullet through the head.

In these awful days in Algeria, the war gradually is changing character. It is still European against Arab Moslem. But it also is Frenchman against Frenchman.

Perhaps most unreal of all is the man who leads the outlawed secret forces which would keep Algeria French, who has sacrificed the honors won in a lifetime of service to the French army to make war against both the Algerians and President Charles de Gaulle.

Gen. Raoul Salan once was known as the most decorated man still on active service with the French army.

The picture as drawn from his past is not that of a man to order wanton slayings or to achieve his ends through terrorism and blackmail. Rather it is a story in the highest officer tradition.

This is the man who, during the siege of Toulon in 1941, carried ammunition to forward posts in his own jeep.

As the Allies slowly rolled the Germans back in the Jura Mountains, Salan always removed his gloves to shake hands with sentries when he arrived on inspection.

This is the Salan who, upon completion of his first year at the Saint Cyr military academy and therefore permitted to wear the cherished feather-kepi, startled his classmates by announcing:

"This is the most beautiful day of my life."

It is also the same Salan who as commander-in-chief in Algiers once survived a bazooka attack by the same rightwing settler he now leads. It was he who first carried out De Gaulle's orders when the latter returned to power in 1958.

Some inkling of the Salan of today might have been gained from the Salan of 20 years ago.

Salan joined the Gaullist Free French movement in 1942. But he steadfastly refused to wear the Gaullist Cross of Lorraine insignia on his uniform.

He said he served France, not an individual.

Today he believes that De Gaulle has betrayed France.

Hamilton, Mass., was named for Alexander Hamilton in 1787.

LIGHT WORKOUT BEFORE THE MAIN BOUT?

Dick West Says

Art Gets A Panning

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In this age of galloping technology, with all of its attendant complexities, I rarely hear of a governmental problem that I can fully comprehend.

I am grateful, therefore, to the National Gallery of Art for coming up with a simple, old-fashioned problem of the type familiar to an old-fashioned simpleton.

I also was gratified to learn that the gallery, up to now, at least, has tackled the problem in a simple, old-fashioned way.

The gallery, occupant of perhaps the most beautiful building in the capital, has, of all things, a leaky roof. And it has been combatting the problem with, of all things, dishpan.

Being a federal institution, the gallery, of course, does not have an ordinary leaky roof. Its roof is bigger and leakier than anything private enterprise has yet been able to produce.

The gallery has two and a half acres of roofing, all of it porous. In rainy weather, it must deploy more than 100 dishpans to catch the water before it drips down on the paintings.

One employe is assigned to fulltime duty in the attic to man the pans.

The difficulties with the roof were explained by gallery officials in testimony released today by a House appropriation subcommittee.

Administrator Ernest R. Feldler said the trouble stems from the putty used to hold 15,201 glass panes in the skylights which cover most of the building.

After a few years, he said, the putty ceases to be waterproof. Heretofore, the gallery has had to depend on makeshift methods to plug the leaks.

Now, however, there has been developed a polysulphide sealer, similar to that used around airplane windows, which is supposed to keep the rain out for at least 20 years.

The gallery wants Congress to provide $200,000 so that it can recast the skylights with polysulphide and thus make the roof watertight.

I suppose this is a reasonable request, considering that the gallery must protect millions of dollars worth of art work. But at the same time I rather regret that yet another governmental problem has accumulated to science.

The thought of someone scurrying around in the attic with all those dishpans would have made my rainy days seem brighter.

Asks Governor's Power Restricted

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI)—Democratic State Rep. Jerry Thomas said Tuesday he believes the governor's power of suspension over public officials should be limited.

Thomas' thought followed by one day Gov. Farris Bryant's refusal to reinstate suspended Palm Beach County Republican Sheriff Martin Kellenberger.

Although Kellenberger was acquitted in court on perjury charges, Bryant said he still felt Kellenberger was incompetent to hold the office.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA)—First indications that the 1961 Kennedy growth rate didn't grow so well in January stress the importance of some of the President's more controversial proposals to aid the national economy when it starts to slip. The sticky indicators include:

A one-point drop in Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production from its December 1961 high of 115.

A drop of 1.8 million in nonfarm payroll employment for January. Half of this is a drop of Christmas trade employment. The other half includes a drop in construction employment caused by bad weather. This is also given as a cause for the drop in industrial production. Both are the usual seasonal declines and are considered nothing to get excited about.

The industrial work week declined from a 40.4 hour average in December to 40 hours in January.

The number of business failures as reported by Dun & Bradstreet increased to 15,000 for January, the highest number for this month since the 1930s. The rate last year was slightly under two-thirds of 1 per cent, double the rate for 1950.

All these little indicators do not add up to a beginning recession, as Walter W. Heller, Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers hastened to point out. He is still counting on an increase in the national growth rate for the first quarter of 1962, correcting and overcoming present declines.

Private industry economists say this is overoptimistic. Any drop, of course, would reduce government's tax receipts and further increase the $700 million budget deficit which the Treasury has forecast for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

What present actual and future potential downturns emphasize is the Kennedy objective of obtaining from Congress new grants of power which would authorize the president to try to cushion a recession and keep the economy at high levels.

Most recent is the president's request for authority to launch a $2 billion public works program whenever the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate rises three out of four or four out of six consecutive months for a total of 1 per cent.

No such rise has so far taken place, so this authority would not be used now if it were available. Unemployment has been dropping gradually from a 1961 high of 7 per cent last May to 5.8 per cent in January 1962.

Unemployment is, however, a principal concern of the administration. The goal is to keep ahead of the 1,500,000 job lost through technological advances and the 1,800,000 new job opportunities needed annually to take care of increases in population and new workers entering the labor force.

To meet this double challenge the President has proposed a program to retrain 200,000 older workers a year to fit them for new jobs and a Youth Corps to provide public project jobs for new workers. The retraining bill is now on its way through the legislative mill.

A youth employment opportunities program is already under way. Stepped-up Area Redevelopment and Small Business Administration programs are intended to create more new jobs.

The administration has also proposed an increase in unemployment insurance benefits. New authority has been asked to decrease individual income tax rates temporarily up to 5 per cent, to create more purchasing power in a recession.

To spur investment in business as a further offset to unemployment and recession the President proposes that business firms be allowed to deduct from their taxes a per cent of expenditures for new machinery.

Many congressmen and businessmen oppose all these programs as interference which will merely increase government expenses. Their alternative is to give business a direct tax cut, across the board, then leave it up to private enterprise to plug the economy out of any slump that might develop.

March 17 is the last day you can get away with any outright lying around here. That's the deadline for submitting entries in the Fishing Liars Contest. A real fancy bull thresher's statue will adorn the first prize trophy and a spinning outfit will be awarded also. Write in your fishy tale right away and qualify for a prize.

C. E. Fletemeyer, a resident of Lemon Bluff, apparently has been mingling with some of those shad fishermen out there. He submitted the following little gem for the liars' laurels:

A couple of weeks ago I was casting for bass with a deep running plug. Directly, I hung a monster bass, fought him for about 30 minutes. Then he made a terrific leap. Since I'm always prepared to weigh my catch, I had a set of scales standing in the boat. "Well, I never did land 'im, but when he jumped, he passed between the sun and my scales and his SHADOW weighed 18 pounds!"

Good news for those who enjoy the outdoors continues to trickle out. The County Commission has authorized Road Supt. J. C. Lavender to supervise some work on lighting up the picnic table area of Mullet Lake Park. (This really is named Henry Levy Park, but everybody keeps referring to it as Mullet Lake.)

Lavender said that "many people" would like to use the cooking pit and picnic tables at night, but that no lights ever have been installed.

Diamond Sales On Increase

NEW YORK (UPI) — World demand for diamonds, both gem and industrial grades, continued to rise in 1961 with sales of rough diamonds for the first nine months of the year reaching a record high of $194,065,070. The industry's Central Selling Organization in London reported that total sales for 1961 are expected to exceed the previously highest record set for one year, 1959, when sales amounted to $253,180,640. Sales in 1960 were $251,161,072. Gem diamonds account for about 65 per cent of the sales figure, with industrial making up the remainder. Industrial diamonds make up about 80 per cent of the diamonds marketed each year.

Seminoles Open Baseball Season Against Edgewater Here Today

By Ronnie Broadway
Herald Sports Editor
Coach Jim McCoy sends his Seminole High baseball team into action this afternoon against the Edgewater Eagles at 4 p. m. at the practice diamond on Celery Ave., behind the Giants' dormitory. The Eagles have a tough team and are expected to give the Seminoles a rough game. However, McCoy expects his batsmen to be ready to make a good showing in the contest. The Seminoles are led by Mike Caolo and Steve Barnes. Both these fellows are three year lettermen and are the team captains. These boys have plenty of experience, both at the plate and on the diamond. They are backed up by a host of fine ball players. Caolo will be starting in left field for the Seminoles and Barnes will be starting in center field. The remainder of the starting lineup will be made up of Buscove, Bowen at third, Chuck Ogden at second, Hutch Riser in center field, Gary Davidson at first base, Davidson and Bowen are being converted from the outfield to the infield and McCoy has high hopes of these boys being successful in the conversion.

Final Roundup Time For Tourney Bound Cagers

United Press International
It's final roundup time in college basketball and three more teams will be headed tonight with tournament markings. Temple takes on St. Joseph's at Philadelphia in a game where nobody loves and Southern Methodist meets Texas Tech at Fort Worth for the Southwest Conference championship and an NCAA bid. The winner of the Temple-St. Joseph's clash also goes to the NCAA while the loser consoles itself with a trip to New York and the National Invitation Tournament. Only three berths will remain open following Friday's play for the two major tournaments which get underway next week. Colorado can clinch the Big Eight championship and an NCAA invite if it disposes of last-place Kansas on its home court Saturday and Cincinnati and Bradley fight for the final NCAA spot in their Missouri Valley Conference showdown at Evansville, Ind., Monday night. Once again the losers here will go to the NIT. The small college boys also get into the act in a big way tonight with the opening round games in seven regional playoffs scheduled leading to the NCAA college division championship. Evansville, a two-time champion in this tournament, got off to a fast start in the south central playoffs by whipping North Carolina A & T, 95-82, on its home court Thursday. Southern Illinois qualified to meet Evansville for the regional title tonight by beating Union (Tenn.), 78-56, in the opening game of the double-header. Highlighting a meager Thursday night program was a satisfying 88-64 victory for NIT-bound St. John's over Manhattan. In other games, NCAA-bound New York University received a scare before recording its 11th straight victory with a 67-63 decision over Fordham.

Garden Gate

MAGNOLIA CIRCLE Mrs. T. J. Taylor The camellias are in bloom — the aristocrat of southern gardens. Every color — variegated, the peony type, and the lovely pink perfection. Many of us can't go to the nursery and buy dozens of plants, so here's good news. You can grow camellias from cuttings. Look around among your friends who have choice plants and during April or May ask this friend for a cutting. Any true flower lover shares her cuttings gladly, knowing in her heart she has made some one very happy and started another lovely plant. To begin with, in March, get your propagation bed ready. This can be anything from ground under an oak tree to a greenhouse. A 6 x 6 box makes a very good one. Fill it with well drained medium such as peat and builders sand, about half and half. Put the box in a shady spot near the water supply. The soil should be about four inches deep. The cuttings should be taken from half ripe shoots off vigorous plants. Bend the tip; if it bends quite a bit before breaking, it is too young. Tender growth is difficult to root. Half ripe or older wood is better. Put your cuttings in water immediately over night and next morning cut them from four to six inches long. Remove leaves from bottom of cuttings, stick them into medium about one and one-half inches deep allowing room between cuttings so air can circulate between them. If taken at proper time and never allowed to wilt they will be rooted in about eight weeks. Don't fertilize until new growth is started and good root system established. It is a good idea at this time to transplant into gallon cans and allow to get well grown before putting into garden. Some of us find it hard to wait but it's such fun to grow a plant with God!

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About three years ago you printed a letter signed "Peter," which I carried in my bill-fold. It was from a little boy who could not understand why God let his little brother die. I have lost my bill-fold and with it that precious clipping. Will you please print it again? It was the finest piece I've ever read.

A DEVOTED READER DEAR READER: With pleasure, Here it is:

DEAR ABBY: My Sunday School teacher says that God is everywhere. Please put this letter in the paper and maybe He will see it.

Dear God: Why did you let my brother die? When he was hit by the car my mother prayed to you to let him live, but you wouldn't. My little brother was only two years old and he couldn't have sinned so bad that you had to punish him that way. Everyone says you are good and can do anything you want to do. You could have saved my little brother but you let him die. You broke my mother's heart. How can I love you? PETER

DEAR PETER: Your question is one that has troubled religious men for thousands of years. One great thinker wrote a book about it. It is called "JOB" and is part of the Bible. It says that the suffering of innocent people is something we cannot understand. But this much is sure: Death is not a punishment. It is one of life's mysteries. Speak to your minister, Peter. Communicate with God by praying, and He will help you in your search for wisdom and goodness and help make your Mommy happy again.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who flatly refuses to put a picture of his wife and children on his desk at work? My husband says it is "corny," and is not done by top-flight executives. If you have an opinion on this subject, please state it in your column.

EXECUTIVE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: A man's family is something to boast about, and I see no reason why their pictures should not be on display alongside his diplomas, degrees and other achievements. If it is "corny," it's the kind of corn that happy family men grow fat on.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PAT: Go to your parish priest and tell him what you have told me. You will feel like a million dollars—and that's a lot of money—about $108,000 after taxes!

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

A St. Paul player writes, "Here is a hand that caused a lot of excitement in one of our weekly duplicates. East and West can make five hearts and South can make four spades. The bidding started out with a heart opening by West and a jump to three hearts by East. Most South players jumped right to four spades. Some were allowed to play it undoubled while some West players went to five hearts. In all those cases South went on to five spades and wound up going down one doubled. I simply bid three spades and then four and was rewarded with a top score when East doubled me. I was the hand have been bid? I agree with West that South was lucky, but he contributed materially to his own good luck. With nine cold tricks in his own hand and two singletons South really expected to make four spades. Other South players gave their hands away by jumping right to game, but this South bid like a man who was depending desperately. East fell into his trap, doubled and South got a top score. Another way to bid the South hand would have been to pass the first time and bid four spades after West went on to four hearts. This would have looked even more desperate.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

"You always look immaculately groomed. How do you do this?" a reader asked Clara Boothe Luce who has a monthly page, "Without Portfolio," in McCall's Magazine. Mrs. Luce's brusque, even smug reply to that one was: "With a hairbrush, a clothes brush, a toothbrush, a bath brush, and lots of soap and water."

Don't tell us all you take along on your travels to keep yourself perfectly groomed is a bag containing four brushes and a cake of soap. Teen problems in your family? Antenna Asked For Moon TV

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Agency today asked Congress for $15 million to build a radio antenna capable of receiving live television from the moon. Edmund C. Buckley, director of tracking and data acquisition for NASA, told a House space subcommittee that the giant dish, to be erected at Goldstone, Calif., would be about as high as the Capitol Building. Buckley said it was needed for lunar and planetary space missions to be launched after 1965. Existing equipment is capable of maintaining communications with early unmanned flights to the moon, Mars and Venus, he said. But the Apollo manned flights to the moon and unmanned planetary flights starting around 1968 will demand more sensitive receiving equipment.

Bernstein Show Slated Sunday

A ninety minute program starring Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra is slated for Sunday from 5 to 6:30 p. m. over CBS, as part of the 1961-62 concert series. Bizet's opera "Carmen" is the subject Bernstein has selected for this program. He will discuss the dramatic and musical character of Carmen and the differences between the original Opera Comique and the operatic versions of this famous work. Highlights of this character study of Carmen will be the performances of the "Habancera" and "Gypsy Song."

VIVIEN LEIGH stars in Tennessee Williams "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone" coming to the Movieland Drive-In Sunday. Co-starred in the film is Warren Beatty.

Williams Film Drive-In Bound

In her first screen appearance in nearly six years, Academy Award winner Vivien Leigh tops the cast of "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone," the A. A. Production in Technicolor for Warner Bros. opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre. The film reviews the veteran stage and screen actress' association with Tennessee Williams, who wrote the novel on which the screenplay is based. Previously Miss Leigh won critical acclaim for her stage portrayal of Blanche du Bois in Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire" and her second Oscar for her performance in GLENN FORD stars in "A Pocketful Of Miracles" coming to the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

Capra Film Set For Ritz

"Pocketful of Miracles" is the newest movie-magic to arrive in Sanford and it opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre, through United Artists release. Filmed in Panavision and Eastman Color, the comedy stars Glenn Ford, Bette Davis, Hope Lange, Arthur O'Connell, and co-stars Peter Falk, Thomas Mitchell, Edward Everett Horton and Mickey Shaughnessy. All this plus a host of favorites guest starring in this all star, fast for laughs caper by a Capra called Frank. The man who last gave us "A Hole In The Head" now offers this classic Damon Runyon yarn, played against that most celebrated state of mind: Broadway in the late thirties! Here gangster Glenn Ford, girl-friend Hope Lange and the screwiest bunch of lunatics Frank Capra has ever gotten on the screen at one wonderful time, manage to transform a rag-bag of a peddler into the grandest success story in New York. She's the legendary Apple Annie, and Bette Davis plays the part up to the heart in her most unusual and unexpected characterization of a varied and distinguished career in film.

TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p. m. (NBC) International Showtime. "Holiday On Ice In Europe." Tonight's telecast is for the ice-show enthusiasts and was taped in Lausanne, Switzerland. Although this is the third telecast in the series dedicated to all ice spectacle, the acts are all new and almost all very good. A Concert production number presents the entire company in a difficult dance-skate routine done in the manner of the Russian folk style. Comedy acts are in abundance, including a skit on sailors, a sad clown and "The Pussycat, and the Intruder." Italian star Ann Galmarmi demonstrates the classic figure while Charlotte Hullauff is featured in a colorful finale with the entire company. Don Ameche is host. 7:30-8:30 p. m. (CBS) Hawaii. "The Hostage Child." Giving good substance to this plot is the acting of James Colburn as an Indian-hating army colonel. An Indian boy (Jimmy Hains) claims his sister (Debra Page) is being held at the colonel's fort against her will, so Gil and Rowdy (Eric Fleming and Clint Eastwood) set out to investigate. Things move slowly till we get into the fort and even then nothing seems to be real. But the inevitable fireworks make for a good climax, despite the fact that the boy and his sister neither look nor act much like Indians. 8:30-9:30 p. m. (CBS) Route 96. "Blues For The Left Foot." For once, our heroes Tod and Buzz (Marlin Milner and George Maharis) are located on home ground, actually at CBS's Hollywood Studios, where they are employed as stage hands on a neat trick, considering this town's severe union requirements. Dancing star Elizabeth Seal makes her TV dramatic debut in this one and does very well with her portrayal of a dancer who fears a resumption of her career may find her less than welcome. Our heroes persuade her to guest a TV show only to find they have to cross swords with the show's comely star (Zack Matelon), who is determined to ruin her act. Good

TV Time Previews

In support as a producer is Akin Tamiroff, and you'll have the added pleasure of seeing Miss Seal dance. 9:10 p. m. (ABC) 77 Sunset Strip. "Jennifer." An assignment taken tonight's show away from its familiar "Strip" setting and moves it to France. Claire Griewald, in the difficult role of an heiress suffering from a guilt complex over the death of her husband and father, is the focal point—and the saving grace—of tonight's telecast. The young lady has come to believe that her love has a strange lethal character over which she is powerless. Donald Woods stars with series regulars Roger Smith and Edward Byrne. 9:30-10:30 p. m. (NBC) The Milton Berle Show. (Color) Our nomination for "Show of the Week" honors is tonight's fast-paced, funny and full telecast starring Jack Benny, Laurence Harvey, Lena Horne and Janis Paige, with a "surprise" visit from Charlton Heston and Kirk Douglas. Berle is hardly ever far from the action, even getting into a skit on famous movies in the regal garb of Cleopatra. In this skit Benny plays Ben-Hur and Harvey is Spartacus, roles made famous by Heston and Douglas. Miss Horne sings a medley of Broadway tunes from "South Pacific," "Do Re Mi" and "Gypsy," while Miss Paige is featured in a production number version of "It's a Lonesome Old Town." As it should be, Berle and Benny carry the major portion of the show in a musical duel (violin vs. harmonica), and skits on what to watch on TV, and "What's Funny In Comedy."

Kennedy Set For Florida Gold Coast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy planned to fly to the Florida Gold Coast today for a short weekend of political chores and personal matters.

Saturday night in Miami Beach he will speak at a $100-a-plate Democratic party fund-raising dinner honoring his old friend, Sen. George A. Smathers, (D-Fla.)

En route to Miami today and coming back to Washington late Sunday, the Chief Executive will stop off in Palm Beach to visit for an hour or two with his father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy who still is fighting the effects of a stroke suffered last December.

The President had a crowded morning schedule of callers before departing for Florida in an Air Force jet. One conference was with Fowler Hamilton, head of the Agency for International Development (AID). They were expected to discuss Kennedy's forthcoming special message to Congress on foreign aid.

Leaving the White House by helicopter, the President was scheduled to take off in his jet transport from Andrews Air Force Base at 2 p. m., with his two children, landing at Palm Beach about two hours later. Caroline and John, Jr. were expected to spend the weekend at their grandfather's home.

Kennedy was expected in Miami about 6:30 p. m. He will spend two nights at the Miami Beach home of a friend, not yet identified by the White House. His temporary White House will be on the Biscayne Bay side of Miami Beach.

House Captain Forced To Scuttle His Ship

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members speculated today on how Speaker John W. McCormack got into the position of a captain forced to scuttle his ship.

On signal from an obviously distressed McCormack, the lawmakers late Thursday pulled the plug on McCormack's plan to enlarge the House by three seats.

Without even the formality of a record vote, they shouted their approval of a motion to kill the bill by sending it back to committee.

Thus died McCormack's hopes, first, to save one of two House seats to be lost by Massachusetts as a result of population shifts reflected in the 1960 census and, second, to break a state reapportionment deadlock that threatens all Massachusetts House members—himself included—with running for reelection statewide.

After long and arduous preparations which, except for McCormack, never would have been undertaken, the House appeared all set Thursday to pass the bill. It would have saved one seat each for Massachusetts, Missouri and Pennsylvania by enlarging the House membership from the present 435 to 438.

Missouri and Pennsylvania, due to lose one seat and three seats respectively, already have redistricted to cover their losses. Their House delegations had moved emotions about rocking the boat.

Thirteen other states also are to lose House seats as a result of the census, and their lawmakers along with those from states untouched by the census or due to gain seats viewed the bill with restraint.

Mostly out of loyalty to McCormack, however, a safe majority of the House was ready to go for the bill he wanted.

Trouble developed moments before the measure was due to be passed. Its sponsor, Rep. Francis E. Walter, (D-Pa.), offered and won approval of an amendment to require that Pennsylvania and Missouri void their redistricting laws and pass new ones, on pain of running all their members at large.

Walter said later he did this as part of a "deal" with Republican leader Charles A. Halleck, whose reported interest was in saving one jeopardized Republican seat, that of Pennsylvania's Rep. Ivor D. Fenton.

In the absence of the Walter amendment, Halleck was said to fear that Pennsylvania would not redistrict again, but would leave its extra seat to be filled in an at-large election.

In that event Fenton, whose old district was merged with that of Democratic Rep. George M. Rhodes under the redistricting law, might be left in the cold.

IBEW Marks 16th Anniversary

Members of IBEW Local 1401 of the Florida Power Corp. marked their 16th anniversary with a Western ranch steak supper at the MQ Ranch in Osteen Saturday.

The men and their wives came dressed in Western style and were presented with a bright bandana as a favor, by the hosts for the occasion.

W. L. Tyler, president; L. W. Jones, vice president, Bert Galletta, treasurer, Al Brillante, committeeman and Richard Hart, committeeman.

A huge wood-oven baked cake, decorated western style with 16 candles to signify the anniversary was cut and served at the conclusion of the steak supper.

During the evening, square dancing was enjoyed and western stories were told by Bob Morris.

Bossman Herman E. Morris and Boss Lady Gladys Morris cooked and served the MQ steak, rosin-bolled potatoes, and other trimmings.

Huge bonfires and burning flambeaus, enhanced the western decorations to add to the atmosphere of the ranch for the evening.

SAVE MONEY ON INCOME TAXES Today and Tomorrow!

April 16th is just around the calendar corner... and the time of frenzied figuring is upon us once again. Here are two suggestions from Reddy calculated to help you save money now and in the future.

1. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF ALL POSSIBLE DEDUCTIONS!

Itemizing all your legitimate deductions will help you save money. Reliable income tax guides are on sale which list all possible deductions... and special tax consultants are available to help with complex returns.

2. KEEP GOVERNMENT OUT OF BUSINESS!

When Government competes with private industry, the cost is borne by the taxpayer. With TVA, for example, Florida's share of the tax burden involved has already amounted to more than $125 million—or about $100 per family of four. Resist governmental competition by supporting free enterprise... and SAVE ON TAXES!

agreed to give the funds for the Fish Wing of Seminole of calls as we wondered ourselves why the local board didn't ask Fish trustees to keep up with others benefit-

We figured they would be happy to do so. . . However, A.
R. Peterson Sr., chairman of the local hospital board, told us this morning that he was asked the Fish trustees for additional money but they say none is available. Bart also

Nation-Wide Rail Strike Threatened

CHICAGO (UPI) — H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Fireman and Enginemen, announced today his union would take a strike vote against the nation's railroads.

"We intend to produce records to show the sorry performance of profit-minded carriers who fought every safety device and rule sought by the men who face the hazards of the industry," Gilbert said.

"We want the public to know that railroad financiers cannot be trusted to decide arbitrarily what constitutes safe railroading."

The presidential commission, in its Feb. 28 report, called for a major overhaul of the rules covering the working conditions of a total of 210,000 on-trail railroad employees.

MIAMI (UPI)—The State Highway Patrol today reported at least nine weekend traffic deaths in Florida and one delayed fatality.

Action Delayed On Resolutions

By Ginny Skilak
Action on two resolutions expected to come before the North Orlando Village Council Friday night was delayed since Attorney Ambrose O'Hill, legal counsel for the Village, was unable to attend the special meeting.

Mayor Frank Fasula advised that one resolution concerns a request from Joseph Hogue, owner of the newly completed North Orlando Grocery, for a permit to sell beer and wine on Sundays from 1 p. m. until 9 p. m. and on weekdays from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. and the other concerns sale of ranch and Rancho property.

As a special courtesy, Fasula asked opinions on the beer and wine permit of the five candidates running in the March 20 elections when two council members will be elected. All five were in agreement that the permit should be granted.

The mayor also explained that if another special council meeting is called this week it will be for the purpose of voting on the resolutions.

In other business, approval was given for the North Orlando Civic Assn. to stage a Community Easter Egg Hunt on lots adjoining SR 419.

Gretsch Angers Pork Chop Gang

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A cold reception from the State Senate majority bloc awaits David Gretsch of Tallahassee if the 37-year-old radio newsmen emerges the winner in his race for the Senate this year.

The bloc, known as the "Pork Chop Gang" among those who dislike it, and among some who do, is annoyed at Gretsch's decision to run against incumbent Wilson Carraway.

Carraway is more than an incumbent. He is the president-designate of the 1963 Senate, and among the bloc, running against a president-designate is political bad form to say the very least.

Powers Gets Big Welcome Home

POUND, Va. (UPI)—E2 pilot Francis Gary Powers is home—really home—at last and the Virginia homefolks gave him an official hero's welcome today.

"I'm honored that the people stuck by me," said the pilot who came home Sunday for the first time in three years.

"They started this reception before I had even been cleared by the CIA and the Senate."

Rep. Pat Jennings, D-Va., color guards, majors from seven towns, and National Guard units did it up big for the 32-year-old son of shoe-maker Oliver Powers.

The reception was scheduled for 2 p. m. in nearby Big Stone Gap's National Guard armory—the largest building in Wise County.

Powers, obviously glad to be home after the ill-fated conclusion of his U2 flight over Russia May 1, 1960, donned brightly colored leotards and helped push a newsmen's car from nose-deep mud caused by a thaw from last week's heavy snows.

Agree To Work
ROSWELL, N. M. (UPI)—Operating engineers at the Atlas missile site complex surrounding Roswell and Walker Air Force Base agreed today to continue work until the President's labor committee can make a ruling in the dispute.

Violence Perils Algerian Peace

PARIS (UPI)—Strikes, new violence and snags in the peace talks today threatened to upset the French government's efforts to end the Algerian war.

Strikes were called in France and Algeria to protest continued terrorism which this morning took another four lives.

At Evian, near the Swiss border, French officials and Algerian rebel negotiators were reported to have struck major difficulties in their efforts to reach a "near-final" in the seven-year-old war.

Informed sources said the Evian talks now may last longer than expected.

In Algeria, doctors in Bone called a three-day strike to protest "the incapacity of the public powers to assure protection." The physicians took the action after one of their colleagues was shot by an Arab gunman.

Harassment Of Planes Renewed

BERLIN (UPI)—Western officials today reported new Soviet harassment of Western aircraft in the air lanes over East Germany to West Berlin.

The officials gave no details of the harassment because of a news blackout ordered on the Soviet tactics, but the Russians were believed to be scheduling flights in the corridors at the times and altitudes Allied planes were scheduled to fly.

The new Communist pressure followed an unprecedented border shooting in which a British airman was shot in the stomach by East German guards who fired on an official British car early Sunday.

Cuban Dentist To Be Guest
Dr. Manuel Antonio Zuniga, refugee Cuban dentist, will be guest speaker for today's 7:30 p. m. meeting of the DeBarry Community Methodist Men's Club.

17 Dilapidated Structures Face Ax Or Repairing

The City Commission will take the first step tonight toward razing 17 dilapidated buildings in the W. Ninth St. area with a public hearing scheduled at 8 p. m. to rule on condemnation and to establish a time to repair or remove the structures.

The commission set the hearing on the buildings at its last meeting as the first step in cleaning up the city of condemned buildings. At the present time there are 500 structures on the condemnation list.

In other business scheduled tonight, the board will consider plans and costs for renovation of the old county jail building into a city police station and jail. City Manager W. E. Knowles estimated cost of the renovation at approximately $18,000. However, Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps said the job could be done for about $12,000.

The city also will consider purchase of 30 new parking meters at a cost of $16.50 each.

Consider a resolution supporting proposed Florida Municipal League legislation; Basic bills call for a three cent cigarette tax increase with funds collected within the city to be returned to the city; This would result in $70,000 to $80,000 increase to the city and help ease the pressure on real estate taxpayers. A secondary bill covers a one cent optional gas tax to be returned to area in which it is collected and must be used for street purposes.

Schedule Of Debt Retirement Asked

City Fiscal Agent Loomis Leedy will ask the City tonight to consider a proposed debt retirement schedule, on Series B bonds to assure complete retirement by 1977, the Herald learned today.

Leedy's plan deals with a planned retirement on the B bonds on a schedule so that they will not need to be refinanced.

Sanford now budgets $5,250 for principal and $10,425 for interest under these bonds for a total of $15,675. The city must be prepared to pay an additional $10,000 per year on principal under the proposed $200,000 issue for a sewage treatment plant.

If the city would agree to budget an additional annual amount of $1,000 in 1963, $2,000 in 1964 up to 1977, the B bonds would be retired without refunding at a high interest rate.

According to Leedy, this plan could be written into a $200,000 bond ordinance simply to get it down as a plan. It would not affect the proposed bond sale and would not affect costs of legal or administrative work.

Democrats Call Dinner Success Despite Hassle

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Florida Democrats, with three exceptions, reflected on their weekend fund-raising dinner today and pronounced it a success.

There was the possibility of more success in the future, too, with the news that the dinner raised $263,000 for the party to use against the Republicans this fall, and in Gov. Farris Bryant's comment that Florida now has an "excellent chance" of landing the 1964 Democratic national convention.

For three disgruntled candidates, however—Jim Fair of Tampa, David Eldredge of Miami, and Roger L. Davis of Fort Lauderdale—the memory of the dinner in the sprawling Fontainebleau Hotel was less than pleasing.

Fair was punched in the face by State Utilities Commissioner Jerry Carter and then thrown out of the banquet hall, and Eldredge and Davis protested President Kennedy's endorsement of their Democratic primary opponents, U. S. Rep. Danie Fawcett and Sen. George A. Smathers.

Gov. Bryant called the dinner "tremendously successful . . . a demonstration of party unity."

He said he talked with the President, Democratic National Chairman John Bailey, and party Treasurer Matthew McCloskey about holding the next Democratic convention in Miami Beach and "the reaction is very favorable. I think there is an excellent chance of this."

Boy Arraigned In Slayings

NEWPORT, N. H. (UPI)—A "brilliant" 17-year-old high school student was arraigned today for the slayings of his parents and two younger brothers.

Pulver said John W. McGrath told them he wiped out his family with a Japanese rifle Saturday night "so they would not have anything to worry about."

Dead were his father, Francis, 40, and his mother, Wilhelmina Alice, 42, and his brothers, Peter, 14, and Charles, 5.

OLD FASHIONED Cracker Days will come to Sanford this weekend when merchants all over town go back to the good old days in the midst of the space age. Here Mrs. Leroy Becky of Roumillat and Anderson, clad in calico and sunbonnet, holds two of the door prizes which will be given away. A treat of old-fashioned horehound candy will also be given to Roumillat's customers, Friday and Saturday. (Herald Photo)
