

Results Of Uprisings Continue To Echo Around League

Branham Is Informed That Fines Pasted On Orlando Players Paid By Collection Taken Up In Stands

By JULIAN STENSTROM

The results current uprisings in the Florida State League between umpires, directors, managers and league president, Ernest L. Padgett of Daytona Beach, continue to echo around the loop today. Here at the latest developments:

1. A complete report on the taking up of a collection at Tinker Field in Orlando to pay fines recently pasted on Senator players and Manager Ted Madjeski has been forwarded to Judge Bramham (minor league czar of professional baseball).
2. Umpire Ross Crucilla will remain a State League umpire.
3. Judge Bramham has received contrasting reports on the Homer Smith-Umpire Crucilla incident.
4. League President Padgett has ordered State League umpires to maintain strict control over every ball game.
5. Umpire Schubiger, after three days of umpiring in the State League, in an emergency, has reported on his activities to Umpire-in-Chief Dick McLaulin.
6. Four loop directors have voted to have McLaulin and Crucilla fired from their positions.
7. The league president, upon statement made by Judge Bramham, will control umpires and loop directors will have nothing to say relative to qualification of umpires.

We have been given definite information from a most unimpeachable source that a complete report has been forwarded to Judge Bramham relative to the fact that in Orlando the other night a public address system was used to openly ask spectators to chuck change into a hat to pay fines handed out to Orlando players by League President Padgett.

This action is against the rules and regulations of organized baseball. There is also a rule in the Florida State League that all players must pay their own fines and no club shall pay a fine levied against a player.

Orlando, as we see it, is definitely open for stiff punishment which we believe Judge Bramham will levy against the Orlando aggregation when the report is fully investigated. As for you can determine at this time a fine for such action is either a minimum of $500 or $1,000.

Umpire-in-Chief Dick McLaulin declared yesterday afternoon that Ross Crucilla will remain in the Florida State League as an umpire. Crucilla, however, will be working in the league on the night of Sept. 2, McLaulin said. He worked the game in Leesburg last night.

Padgett, upon instruction by the league directors, was to replace Crucilla, in fact, Padgett, or somebody, filed a report on the Smith-Crucilla case to Judge Bramham. The Judge immediately began an investigation and called for written testimony from Smith of DeLand, Crucilla and McLaulin.

The reports sent in, according to McLaulin differed. McLaulin flatly stated today that his report and Crucilla's were exactly alike. Both wrote exactly what had happened. However, McLaulin, upon reviewing a copy of Smith's testimony, said that you "would have thought it to be a different incident." McLaulin said the testimony of Smith was quite changed from his first report to President Padgett.

Smith denied his report to Bramham, that he said he would get his $200 back and also denied that he said he would have Crucilla fired.

But here's what Smith told Padgett in a telephone conversation which we may see in the Daytona Beach Morning Journal. "I intend to get that $200 back."

Smith also declared that he desired to have "Crucilla banned from umpiring in organized baseball."

From our viewpoint it is a fairly safe bet that Crucilla will remain in the league as an umpire and Homer Smith of DeLand will be barred from organized baseball for life.

During Sunday's meeting of Florida State League directors, McLaulin yesterday said that the umpiring in the league is going to be rough. They've been instructed to bear down and maintain strict control during every minute of a game, McLaulin intimated.

McLaulin also revealed that recently he had "been" Schubiger of New Smyrna to umpire in the league. It was a case of emergency and Schubiger, a good friend of McLaulin, did it more or less as a personal favor. Schubiger called three contests and then retired. He wrote the loop's umpire-in-chief a letter informing McLaulin about his experiences during those three days.

"You would read that letter," McLaulin declared. McLaulin obtained permission to turn the letter over to the Sanford Herald for publication. But Schubiger yesterday afternoon wired McLaulin asking that the letter be withheld from the press.

However, we did hear that Schubiger was to see the wild man from New Smyrna and that during one game he saw the "prince of all wild men from New Smyrna." Schubiger said that one ball player came at him with eyes sticking out and he was hit on the back of the head with a baseball.

Bride, Glorig Clout Homers But Saints Win, 4 To 3

Circuit Blows Only Two Hits Given By Smith

Karpinski Robs Leyer Of Another Homer In Final Inning

FRANCIS FIELD, ST. AUGUSTINE, July 30, (Special)—Gene Smith, big St. Augustine right-hander, limited Manager Ed Leyer's Sanford Celery team to a pair of safes here last night but the two blows nearly produced enough runs to give Manager Bill Steinecke's boys a big haul because as both were circuit clouts. However, when the contest ended the Saints were on the top end of a 4 to 3 count.

The two four-baggers came in early frames. Dave Bridle, Fed gannetter, slammed the first blow out of Francis Field in the first inning. It was Bridle's only homer in four trips during the evening.

The second clout came in the next frame when third sacker Gene Glorig smashed one of Smith's offerings out of the park. Stan Karpinski, however, proved to be the thorn in the Fed attack when in the ninth inning Leyer tagged one of Smith's pitches with full power. The sphere appeared destined to be the third Fed homer of the evening but Karpinski leaped high into the air, snagged the apple, preventing it from clearing the left field wall and eliminating the last possible chance for a Fed victory.

Facing Smith on the mound was Little Jim Schantel who was tagged for eight safes by the third place Saints. Schantel whiffed a pair of the enemy during the contest while admitting three bases to the initial sack with two outs.

After Bridle had hit for the circuit in the initial stanza, the Saints came back with one in their half of the inning to knot the count. Glorig's smash put the Fed ahead once again but St. Augustine managed to push over two markers also in the second.

The victory was Smith's 12th of the season.

President Padgett had informed him that four directors representing four clubs in the circuit had petitioned him (Padgett) to fire him. He said that he had also been informed that two directors have since regretted their action and have notified the league president of their feelings.

However, Padgett informed McLaulin that he will remain as umpire-in-chief in the circuit. Padgett took this action subsequent to receiving instructions from Bramham that the league president is solely the man to have the final word relative to the hiring and firing of umpires.

The possibility of Sanford attracting a major league baseball club here to train next Spring loomed into the spotlight today when Bob Finch, general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was scheduled to confer with Lind Weber, manager of the Mayfair Inn, and possibly confer with Mayor H. James Gut.

Weber had made a number of attempts to get a big league club interested in training here next Spring. He contacted the Red Sox, Giants and the Pirates. Yesterday Weber contacted Finch at Daytona Beach and Finch agreed to come to Sanford to discuss the chances of training here.

Weber declared that he wanted to show the Brooklyn officials the many improvements at the Mayfair Inn and outline his program for accommodating the team and payers, plus newsmen.

"In the event the Brooklyn club does train here," Weber declared, "I'll have a press room set up and daily press messages can be filed direct from the hotel."

However, late yesterday afternoon Mayor Gut was contacted by a Herald representative. Mayor Gut said that before any deal was made to bring a club here he wanted the club officials and the City to make a final agreement.

Mayor Gut hurriedly pointed out that such intentions were not designed to prohibit any club from training here but to place the city in a position to know exactly what to expect in the way of laying out cash on the line for hundreds of local residents.

INSIDE SPORTS REPORT

By JULIAN STENSTROM

During our vacation spent last week in Louisiana we had the opportunity of watching "Class '46" baseball in the Evangeline League, through the courtesy of Bill Wheeler, the genial general manager of the Alexandria Aces.

Prior to the tilt last Wednesday night between the Natchez (Miss.) Giants and the Aces, Wheeler had heart talk with Wheeler regarding operations in the Evangeline League. We did this with the intention of finding out a few things so that we could report to you fans. As the result we are able to compare the operation of the Evangeline loop with the Florida State.

The Evangeline league is composed of cities scattered mostly through Louisiana. The only city represented outside the state is Natchez. The other towns are Houma, Abbeville, Thibodaux, Baton Rouge, New Iberia, Hammond, and Alexandria.

The loop operated prior to the war but like other leagues it was forced to disband activities during hostilities. This year it was reorganized and Wheeler, seeking additional local interest in Alexandria, sold some stock to various citizens.

"We're having a pretty good year here in Alexandria," Wheeler intimated. "We have been drawing fairly good, averaging around six per game. Alexandria, by the way, was the center of some seven Army installations during the war and boomed for nearly five years. The population was listed at 27,000 in 1940 but now lists around the 45,000 mark.

So I hope for an average attendance here in Alexandria. Wheeler said that he would like to see "D" baseball. We would say that the park, Brighthurst Field, would adequately hold approximately 2,000 fans.

"What do you think of the $1,800 salary limit?" Wheeler replied that he guessed it was about as well as could be expected. It was evident that he didn't wish to discuss the salary limit too broadly. "We have the bonus situation that practically does away with a salary limit," he said. "We can hire a man for $50 a month and give him a $200 bonus and we're right back where we started. But you know that you can't throw money around in baseball."

Wheeler said that he would like to see "D" baseball. We would say that the park, Brighthurst Field, would adequately hold approximately 2,000 fans.

ing anyone else. 3. The concession stand here should assign a youngster to one particular section of the stands and let him peddle his goods there. As it is, you're likely to find five youths selling pop within an area of ten square feet, and patrons in other sections desperately waiting for a cool pop. 4. White posts should be set up on the left field and right field fences to indicate fair and foul territory. I saw Bride smack a ball over the left field fence here one afternoon that many fans still swear was fair, even though the umpire called it foul. An indicator going up from

New Palestine Plan Revealed In Parliament

Holy Land Would Be Divided Into Four Parts Including One Jewish Area

LONDON, July 31 (AP)—A new Anglo-American proposal for settlement of the Palestine problem has been announced in the House of Lords by Lord Addison. Under the new plan, Palestine would be divided into four areas, including a Jewish province. Inhabitants of this Jewish province would decide how many of their wandering fellows they could migrate to the Holy Land.

In addition to the Jewish province, Lord Addison says the four areas would include an Arab province, a district of Jerusalem and a district of Beleg. This last section is a piece of land in which Jewish migration was permitted under the 1940 Palestine land transfer regulations.

In the Jewish and Arab provinces, the inhabitants would have the power to limit the number and determine the qualifications of persons who might wish to live permanently in those areas. Lord Addison says the British government has accepted the plan as a basis for negotiation. However, President Truman is said to have declined to talk the matter over with the American delegation of experts before accepting the plan.

Meanwhile Lord Addison says the plan will be discussed with Arabs and Jews. His statements opened a Palestine debate held simultaneously in both houses of parliament.

Lord Addison also announced that the British government dissociates itself from a bitter anti-fraternization letter written by Lieutenant General Sir Evelyn Barker. The letter about fraternization with the Jews was written by General Barker to his troops in Palestine.

Large Brazilian Transport Afire Off Rio De Janeiro

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 31 (AP)—The fire aboard the Brazilian transport Duque De Caxias has been put out. The ship is being towed to port, six miles from its present position. The crew of 400 remained on board.

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 31 (AP)—Brazil's largest transport—Duque De Caxias—was afire six miles off shore today, and the crew of 400 was still aboard. However, the Navy says 1,000 passengers have been transferred from the transport to a British cargo ship that answered the SOS. The Navy also says five warships were in the locality of the burning transport.

The Navy announcement states that although fire dominated the ship, there had been no reports of casualties. However, unofficial sources indicate there may have been some deaths and injuries among the passengers.

The Brazilian ship took part in the invasion of Sicily and the Pacific campaigns. Only recently it was put in passenger service. It was sailing for Lisbon, Marseille and Naples when the fire broke out. The Navy hoped to be able to tow the liner into port.

Supplies Being Sent To Combat Epidemic At Sea

One Soldier Dead As Diphtheria Breaks Out On Troopship

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—The Coast Guard today is rushing medical supplies by air to a troopship at sea to fight a threatened epidemic of diphtheria aboard the vessel. The latest information is that one person—a soldier—is dead and others are stricken.

The troopship is the S.S. Galby from a Coast Guard station 100 miles off the coast of Argentina, Newfoundland, this morning.

A supply of anti-toxins was put aboard a Coast Guard plane at New York. It landed at Salem, Mass., a Coast Guard station, to take on additional medical supplies—and is now flying to Argentina. There the supplies will be transferred to another plane which will drop the diphtheria anti-toxins to the ship by parachute. It is thought that the plane will reach the vessel some time this evening. The troopship was en route to England.

Herbert Stenstrom Still In Hospital

Herbert Stenstrom, 16-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Salesbury who sustained injuries in an auto accident recently which necessitated the amputation of his left leg, was reported today to be still confined to the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando.

However, his condition was described as excellent. Stenstrom will undergo a minor operation shortly and approximately seven to ten days later he will be permitted to return to the home of his parents at 300 West Fifth Street.

REPRINTS CARTOON

LONDON, July 31 (AP)—As a reminder to the peace-makers, the London Daily Herald today reprinted a bitterly prophetic cartoon which it published when the Versailles Conference was under way in 1919. The cartoon showed the 1919 Big Four—Woodrow Wilson, David Lloyd George, Georges Clemenceau, and Vittorio Orlando—leaving Versailles Palace where the peace treaty was written. Behind a pillar, a child bearing the label "1940 Class" is weeping. Clemenceau is saying: "Curious, I seem to hear a child crying."

Fire Strikes ACL Freight Depot For Second Time In Eight Months

Seeks House Sent

For the second time within eight months fire of undetermined origin struck last evening at the Atlantic Coast Line freight depot on West First Street and left it a pile of charred ruins and destroyed merchandise.

The only damage done to the depot was the loss of the roof. The only prompt action by the Fire Department which answered the first alarm last evening at 8:15 o'clock, was to break the office structure of concrete block facing the interior of which was occupied by workers this morning.

The warehouse of the depot, a frame construction, was a 50-foot portion of the long warehouse which on Dec. 11, was destroyed by fire. All except this part which had been rebuilt. The wood platform underneath and on the side of the barrel structure was not damaged. The second fire set alongside was scorched and the paint was burned from a steel box car and tar splattered all over it.

This morning railroad workers were busy transferring freight in cars bound for other Florida cities. The fire damaged some of the goods consigned here. Office records, aside from a very few waybills were undamaged to any extent, according to E. N. Fielding, freight agent.

As during the previous fire, the freight building was fully stocked when the Fire Department arrived, and but for prompt action the office structure would have been involved, said the Fire Chief Cleveland this morning.

Four hose lines were put in place and the firemen were kept busy for more than three hours.

Townsend Old Age Pension Plan Again Rejected In Senate

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The Senate rejected the $200-million Townsend old age pension plan again today, but approved legislation increasing federal aid grants to poorer states and freezing Social Security taxes at one per cent for another year.

Approval of the measure, which greatly revises the present Social Security act, came on a vote after the membership, by standing vote turned down the perennial attempt to put the so-called "Townsend plan" on the statute books.

The Townsend fight was generally led by Sen. Dewey (R., Calif.), who used it as a campaign issue when he first tried for the Senate in 1928. He won floor support today from two other Democratic senators—Claude Pepper of Florida and Taylor (D., Idaho).

It was a losing battle all the way, but Dewey stayed in there pitching for his project. He told his colleagues that the present Social Security system—marked by the activities of the "social snappers"—"makes poverty obvious and . . . is a shame and an abomination."

Furlough Leave Bill Okeyed By Senate

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The GI furlough pay bill is one step closer to the White House today.

The Senate has approved by a vote of 82-0 a measure in which 16,000,000 ex-servicemen will have a share. The payments will be made in place of furloughs which were earned but not granted during the war emergency. Under the provisions of the bill, most of the payments would be in five-year bonds.

The legislation is designed to pay enlisted personnel on the same basis as officers who are paid for unused leave time when they're discharged. It still must be acted on by the House before going to President Truman for his signature.

ARNALL THANKS TRUMAN
ATLANTA, July 31 (AP)—Georgia Governor Ellis Arnall has sent President Truman a telegram thanking him for federal cooperation in the investigation of the lynching of four negroes near Monroe, last week. The President ordered the Department of Justice to use all its resources to arrest the lynchers.

Lee seeking tax exemption of its property.

Previously exempt, the Carpenters Hall has been assessed $23,000 on the basis of "revenue" ruling by Attorney General Tom Watson that unions do not come under the provision which exempts charitable and educational institutions. Delegate Says It Is Impossible To Safeguard Peace Unless Fascism Destroyed

PARIS, July 31 (AP)—Delegates to the Paris Conference today heard Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov call for an end to the Franco regime in Spain. Molotov declared that it is impossible to safeguard peace unless fascism is destroyed, and he called on the democratic countries of the world to put an end to the Franco government.

The Soviet Foreign Minister made his remarks after appearing before the United Nations Security Council, which he urged that a two-thirds vote be required for passage of conference matters. Molotov stated that if all decisions were by simple majority, the world would be sure to find itself always in the minority. He said that Soviet support on this point would be an expression of the Soviet Union's desire to see the world free of fascism.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

IT TAKES A GOOD DEAL
OF A MAN TO MEET THESE SPECIFICATIONS: What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.

"Add Texas to the roll of PAC defendants in the South now, with Tennessee on deck," suggests John Temp. Graves in the Times-Union. "Yet the PAC puts its best foot foremost in the South, taking care to hide its communist and totalitarian behind such respectable and (I believe, unsuspecting) fronts as Carley Haigler, Van Bittner, and such good men all but blind to what's behind them. Or is it just that these gentlemen refuse to look?"

While Seminole County patients go unattended for want of hospital facilities, beds remain vacant at the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Orlando because of a shortage of nurses and other necessary personnel. Meanwhile the State of Florida pays out more than $100,000 a week to keep people from working. There is something radically wrong with a system which neglects its sick and infirm and supports able-bodied men in idleness.

The Life Insurance Companies of America, whose policyholders stand to lose most from inflation, advise management and labor what can be done to avert rising prices. Production of goods will go on, and full production will go a long way toward holding prices down. But the government can help too, the life insurance companies add, by balancing the budget, by retiring the government debt and by encouraging investments. The advice of the life insurance companies is worth listening to.

Tampa is having somewhat the same trouble with civic improvements that Sanford is. Bent upon rebuilding and expanding its waterworks plant, the City discovers that bids are nearly twice as high as the funds available for the project amount to. And Sanford, with money enough on hand to build two tennis courts at the cost before the war, now finds it can't even build one.
There are certain disadvantages to high prices and high wages, and one of these is the cost involved.

As difficult as satisfying hostile factions in Palestine and bringing peace to the Holy Land is the effort to establish an independent India without causing a civil war. Just when the British were about satisfied that a workable plan had been evolved, the Moslem League threw a monkey wrench into the machinery with the announcement that they will fight if necessary for the establishment of a separate Moslem state of Pakistan. Other Indian factions, larger in number though not so belligerent, will also fight to prevent such a separate and independent state, and so the British are caught again between the devil and the deep blue sea and are damned if they do and damned if they don't.

Just what caused our present exorbitant taxes, our excessive government debt, the inflation in prices which is currently being blamed on the inflation of O.P.A., is indicated by Comptroller General Lindsey Warren, who says that war-time spending practices took the American taxpayer on a multi-billion dollar ride and that cost-plus contracts with holes wide enough to drive a steam of horses through, cost the country untold millions. It wasn't the war that produced the debt, it was the greed and corruption that went along with it. It wasn't the building of Army and Navy camps, the construction of huge battleships and fleets of airplanes, it wasn't the tanks and trucks and munitions.
They were, of course, expensive and would have cost cently under any circumstances, but the thing that ran the bill up to unprecedented heights and now threatens the country with national bankruptcy was the ingrained New Deal custom of "padding the pump," the determination of public officials to pay more for everything than it was actually worth, the co-operation of congressmen, senators and others with war profiteering.

Poet In Prison

The effect of five years' imprisonment in German camps on the mind of a poet is told by John Buxton in the June and July issues of the Atlantic Monthly. He was a volunteer member of the British expedition to Norway in 1940, and was taken prisoner by the Germans at that time.

For the first two years the prisoners suffered greatly from hunger and from cold, but after they began to receive packages from home their condition was somewhat improved. They were moved from one camp to another, seldom remaining more than a year in one place, and as as prisons go, some were more livable than others. Many died from tuberculosis and diseases which result from exposure and undernourishment. In each camp some prisoners broke down mentally.

But there remained a nucleus of hardy souls, saved by the power of mind alone. Among them were experts on various subjects—nature, physics, political science and kindred lines—any they lectured informally to their fellow prisoners. In the discussions which followed the talks, the men's minds were freed from the trammels of prison life. They made plans for the future of the world, but almost lost hope of ever being able to put them to the test. The war went on and on, and still they remained in prison.

John Buxton completed three volumes of poetry under these conditions, attaining, as he says, "maturity in the knowledge and love of men." He says that the poet at war is a man at odds with himself. He must transcend the temporary divisions of race and nationality and know himself to be a member "of a greater community even that of mankind—the community of all created things."

Stranger Than Fiction

Writers of mystery tales have often been accused of
"just making up stuff that couldn't possibly be true," but the late E. Phillips Oppenheim in his best flight of fancy never made up any story more bizarre than that of the Canadian passports, revealed in the recent Canadian espionage trials.

In the Spanish civil war many American and Canadian volunteers fought with the Spanish republicans, who wanted a free government of free men under their own law, instead of virtual slavery under a dictator who was playing with Hitler and using the prestige of an ancient regime to enforce his own ends.

Many of these brave and devoted volunteers died in action. Their passports were stolen, and some of them found their way into the hands of the Russian secret police. One of these stolen passports, traced through some 22 pages of the Royal Commission's report, belonged to a Polish Canadian. This one got to Moscow and was used as a basis for identification of an important agent who worked in the United States as well as Canada.

Thus truth once more proves stranger than fiction.

Baseball Shift

The Cleveland American League baseball team has a new system for stopping the mighty hitter, Ted Williams. As he generally hits to right field, the Cleveland manager moved five of his nine players to the right side of the diamond. Only the pitcher, catcher and third-baseman stayed in their customary positions.

Did this change, nicknamed the "Cleveland Shift," work? Not noticeably. Williams has sometimes driven the ball through the congested district, and sometimes to their discomfiture has hit into the great open spaces to

As one fan put it, "The only way to stop hitters like Williams is to put the fielders in the outfield bleachers."

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

No division of the Florida State
Chamber of Commerce is more active or does a better job than the Tourist and Development Division, headed by Joe Adams, who operates the El Commodore Hotel in Miami, and this year is vice-president of the American Hotel Men's Association.

At a meeting in Tampa last week the Division reviewed the State's tourist development effort and considered plans for the coming season. The meeting was one of the best attended and most enthusiastic ever staged.

Waiving no time, the session got down to business at an 8:30 breakfast after which the group immediately adjourned to the conference room to listen to reports of committees, engage in round table discussions and map plans for future activity.

Roy C. Beckman, Director of the Florida State Advertising Commission, reviewed the work done by the Commission to date and explained in detail how inquiries were handled. His talk was well received and the Commission was given a vote of confidence.

Chamber of Commerce secretaries from points as distant as Miami and Pensacola made reports on conditions in their sections and compare notes. All indications pointed to another big tourist season, but secretaries reported much improvement in facilities for handling visitors and expressed confidence that all who come next season would be able to find rooms and urged that the practice of frightening tourists away with stories of folks sleeping in their cars, in hotel lobbies and parks be discouraged.

Pointing out that it was always advisable to urge folks to make advance reservations if possible, they contended that thousands without reservations could still be taken care of, and told how stories of overcrowding and lack of facilities last season kept thousands away and shortened the season.

Railroad and bus officials expressed confidence that their facilities for handling traffic would be much improved by fall.
All lines now have new equipment ordered and plan to operate on faster and more frequent schedules. All lines plan a heavy advertising campaign designed to bring travel to Florida.

The ally action of Georgia officials in placing a quarantine on Florida was deplored and secretaries reported that it resulted in sharply retarding the summer tourist business of Jacksonville.

TRAGEDY IN GEORGIA

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

Four Negroes—two young couples—were taken from an automobile and shot to death Thursday by a score of white men on a country road forty miles from Atlanta, Ga. Sixty bullets were found in their bodies. One of the slain men had just been released in $500 bond on a charge of stabbing— not fatally—his white employer.

This is a time of tension in race relations, particularly in the South. Demagogues have shouted their way into offices with inflammatory speeches about "white supremacy," using extra-legal coercion of intending Negro voters. Fifty crosses, have been erected on Southern hills and there have been sporadic outbreaks of violence. Yet every American could take hope from the fact that lynching at least was absent from the pommel scene—that community crime which warps the function of justice and perverts it to the ends of prejudice. The hardening of opinion in the South against this vicious practice has been very marked and has furnished the best and most concrete evidence of the evolution of social forms in a region which has had to cope with many complex problems in the last eighty years. In 1942, according to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, there were four lynchings; in 1943, three; in 1944, two, and last year but one.

Now, at a stroke, a Georgia mob has disrupted this pattern of progress, and crammed the national toll of a year or more into a single act of barbarism.
This is a matter which concerns the people of the whole United States. Attorney General Tom Clark has ordered an inquiry and the Federal Bureau of Investigation is on the case. But it concerns more deeply the people of the South, and especially the people of Georgia. Many in that state deplored "outlets" interest-in and criticism of the results of their recent primary. But the only effective rebuttal of such criticism is a course of state conduct which will demonstrate that, whatever loose statements might be made in campaign speeches, the law is still respected and pre-eminence in Georgia, and that justice knows no color line. To make that manifest in the face of Thursday's tragedy requires more than the action which Governor Arnall is certain to endeavor to take to bring the criminals to justice. It demands the united efforts of all Georgians to the same end and to insure that this monstrous crime will be the last to stain the honor of a great state.

30,000 Seeking Homes In New York Housing Project

AP Newsfeatures
NEW YORK—Within a week after the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company announced that it would consider applications to live in mammoth new 8,759-apartment Stuyvesant Town development on Manhattan's lower East Side, more than 30,000 persons begged to become tenants.

The first of Stuyvesant Town's 35 apartment buildings will not be ready until the fall of 1947, and the rest a year later, but that did not deter candidates from all parts of the east. In seven days enough prospective tenants had been heard from to rent every one of the flats four times over—and requests are still pouring in.

Metropolitan officials say that every letter will be answered and the names of the senders catalogued. Later, home-seekers will be invited for an interview and allowed to file formal applications, well before the flats are finished. Veterans are being given preference.

poser, knew how to read notes be-

WEDNESDAY, JULY 31, 1946

EXPECTATIONS: What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do
justly, to love mercy and to walk
humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8

"Add Texas to the roll of PAC defeats in the South now," suggested John Temple Graves in the Times-Union. "Yet the PAC puts its best foot foremost in the South, taking care to hide its communist and totalitarianism behind such respectable and believable, unsuspecting fronts as Carter, Haigler, Van Bitter, and such good men all but blind to what's behind them. Or is it just that
these gentlemen refuse to look?"

go unattended for want of hospital facilities, beds remain vacant at the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Orlando because of a shortage of nurses and other necessary personnel. Meanwhile
the State of Florida pays out more
than $100,000 a week to keep people from working. There is something radically wrong with a system which neglects its sick and infirm and supports abandoned men in idleness.

The Life Insurance Companies
of America, whose policyholders
stand to lose most from inflation,
advise management and labor
what can be done to avert rising prices. Production is their job, they say, and full production is a long way from holding prices down. But the government
companies add, by balancing the
budget, by retiring the government debt and by encouraging
listening to.

same trouble with civic improvements that Sanford is. But upon rebuilding and expanding its
waterworks plant, the city dis-
as high as the funds available
for the project amount to. And Sanford, with money enough on
hand to build two tennis courts at the cost of one, now finds it can't even build one.
There are certain disadvantages
to high prices and high wages,
and one of these is the cost involved.

As difficult as satisfying hostile factious in Palestine and bringing peace to the Holy Land is the effort to establish an independent
India without causing a civil
war. Just when the British were
about satisfied that a workable
plan had been evolved, the Moslem League throws a monkey wrench into the machinery with
the announcement that they will
fight if necessary for the establishment of a separate Moslem
factions, larger in number though
British are caught again between
and are damned if they do and
damned if they don't.

Just what caused our present unbearable taxes, our excessive government debt, the inflation in
prices which is currently being blamed on the mutilation of OPA,
is indicated by Comptroller General Lindsay Warren, who says that war-time spending practices
took the American taxpayer on a
multi-billion dollar ride and that
wide enough to drive a team of bears through, cost the country nearly $100 billion. It wasn't the war that caused the debt, it was the graft and corruption that went along with it. It wasn't the build-
construction of huge battleships
and fleets of airplanes, it wasn't
the tanks and trucks and munitions.
They were of course, war essentials and would have cost about the same under any circumstances, but the thing that ran the bill up to unprecedented heights and now threatens the country with billion-dollar bankruptcy was the legalized new deal system of permitting the government to determine the prices of public officials to pay more for everything than it was actually worth, the co-optation of congressmen, senators and others
with war profiteering.

camps on the mind of a poet is told by John Buxton in the June and July issues of the Atlantic Monthly. He was a volunteer member of the British expedition to Norway in 1940, and was taken prisoner by the Germans at that time.

from hunger and from cold, but after they began to receive packages from home their condition was somewhat improved. They were moved from one camp to another,
his prisons go, some were more livable than others. Many died from tuberculosis and diseases which result from
exposure and undernourishment. In each camp some prisoners broke down mentally.

But there remained a nucleus of hardy souls, saved
kindred lines—any they lectured informally to their fellow prisoners. In the discussions which followed the talks,
the men's minds were freed from the trammels of prison
life. They made plans for the future of the world, but
in prison.

John Buxton completed three volumes of poetry under these conditions, attaining, as he says, "maturity in
at war is a man at odds with himself. He must transcend
the temporary divisions of race and nationality and
know himself to be a member of a greater community
things.

Writers of mystery tales have often been accused of
"just making up stuff that couldn't possibly be true"
but the late E. Phillips Oppenheim in his best flight of fancy never made up any story more bizarre than that
espionage trials.

In the Spanish civil war many American and Canadian volunteers fought with the Spanish republicans, who wanted a free government of free men under their own
playing with Hitler and using the prestige of an ancient
regime to enforce his own ends.

action. Their passports were stolen, and some of them
found their way into the hands of the Russian secret police. One of these stolen passports, traced through some 22 pages of the Royal Commission's report, belonged to a Polish Canadian. This one got to Moscow and was used as a basis for identification of an important agent
who worked in the United States as well as Canada.

Such truth once more proves stranger than fiction.

Baseball Shift

a new system for stopping the mighty hitter, Ted Williams.
As he generally hits to right field, the Cleveland manager moved five of his nine players to the right side of the diamond. Only the pitcher, catcher and third-baseman stayed in their customary positions.

Did this change, nicknamed the "Cleveland Shift", work? Not noticeably. Williams has sometimes driven
the ball through the congested district, and sometimes to their discomforture has hit into the great open spaces to the left of second base.

As one fan put it, "The only way to stop hitters like Williams is to put the fielders in the outfield bleachers."

Chamber of Commerce is more
active or does a better job than
the Tourist and Development
Division, headed by Joe Adams,
who operates the El Commodore
Hotel in Miami, and this year is
Vice-president of the American
Hotel Men's Association.

At a meeting in Tampa last
week the Division reviewed the State's tourist development effort
and considered plans for the coming season. The meeting was one of the best attended and most
enthusiastic ever staged.

Waiting no time, the session got down to business at an 8:30
breakfast after which the group
immediately adjourned to the conference room to listen to reports
of committees, engage in round
table discussions and map plans
for future activity.

Roy C. Beckman, Director of
the Florida State Advertising Commission, reviewed the work done
by the Commission to date and
given a vote of confidence.

Chamber of Commerce secretaries from points as distant as Miami and Pensacola made reports on conditions in their sections and compare notes. All indications pointed to another big
tourist season, but secretaries reported much improvement in facili-
expressed confidence that all who
come next season would be able
practice of frightening tourists
away with stories of folks sleeping in their cars, in hotel lobbies
and parks be discouraged.

Pointing out that it was always
advisable to urge folks to make
advance reservations if possible,
they contended that thousands
shortage of overcrowding and lack of facilities last season kept
thousands away and shortened
the season.

pressed confidence that their
facilities for handling traffic
would be much improved by fall.
All lines now have new equipment
faster and more frequent schedules. All lines plan a heavy advertising campaign designed to bring
travel to Florida.

Four Negroes—two young couple and two young boys—were kidnaped from an automobile and shot to death Thursday by a crew of white men on a country road forty miles from Atlanta, Ga. Sixty bullets were
the slain men had just been released in $600 bond on a charge
of stabbing—not fatally—his white employer.

This is a time of tension in
race relations, particularly in the South. Demagogues have shouted their way into office with inflamatory speeches about "white supremacy" using extra-legal exercise of intending Negro voters.

Every cross have hurried down on Sunday hills and there have been sporadic outbreaks of
could take hope from the fact
that lynching at least was absent from the summer scene—that community crime which usurps the function of justice and perverts
it to the ends of prejudice. The
against this vicious practice has
been very marked and has furnished the best and most concrete
evidence of the evolution of social problems in a region which has had to cope with many complex problems in the last eighty years. In 1942, according to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People,
there were four lynchings; in
year but one.

national toll of a year or more
into a single act of barbarism.
This is a matter which concerns
the people of the whole United States. Attorney General Tom
Clark has ordered an inquiry and
the Federal Bureau of Investigation is on the case. But it concerns more deeply the people of
the South, and especially the people of Georgia. Many in that state deplored "outside" interest in and criticism of the results of their recent primary. But the only effective rebuttal of such
criticism is a course of state con-

great success. Much constructive thought was developed and its effect will be felt in the better handling of Florida's tourist business this coming season.

30,000 Seeking Homes In New York Housing Project

AP Newfeatures
NEW YORK—Within a week
after the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company announced that
it would consider applications to
live in mammoth new 3,750-
apartment Stuyvesant Town development on Manhattan's lower
East Side, more than 30,000 persons begged to become tenants.
The first of Stuyvesant Town's 35 apartment buildings will not
be ready until the fall of 1947,
and the rest a year later, but
that did not deter candidates
from all parts of the east. In seven days enough prospective
rent every one of the flats four times over—and requests are still
pouring in.
Metropolitan officials say that
the names of the renters catalogued. Later, home-seekers will
be invited for an interview and
allowed to file formal applica-
finished. Veterans are being given preference.

Chances Of Dodgers Training Here Said To Be Remote

Finch Intimates Brooklyn Might Leave United States Because Of Negro Ball Players In Training

Herald Sports Editor

The possibility of the Brooklyn Dodgers coming to Sanford next Spring for training activities received a dash of cold water yesterday afternoon when Bob Finch, general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, described the chances of Brooklyn coming to Sanford as very remote.

Finch plainly explained that "we are going to have negro ball players in camp next Spring. This is definite. We do not want to go where we're not wanted."

"Don't Mr. Finch," we remarked, "does this mean the Dodgers will probably go to the West or possibly outside the southern continental limits of the nation?"

"That is correct," Finch declared. However, he pointed out that actually no definite arrangements for a training site had been made.

It was later learned from another source that the Dodgers had received invitations to train in Puerto Rico, Cuba and spots in Central and South America as well as Daytona Beach.

While in Sanford yesterday Finch conferred with Lind Weber, manager of the Mayfair Inn, in addition to officials of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank and the Sanford Buick Company.

Weber said last night that he had not made any attempt to get the Dodgers here merely because they might have used his hotel facilities. Weber declared that "I'm just as interested in getting a major or minor league club to train in Sanford as anyone else regardless of whether they use the hotel facilities or not. I have had enough connection with baseball and training activities to realize that a Sanford training site is a valuable medium of publicity."

Weber continued, "It is strictly a community project and I'm all for anything that will help the city."

This attitude can certainly be described as commendable.

Finch, when questioned as to the possibility of Montreal being sent here next Spring, stated that the Royals would also have several negro ball players in camp. This statement intimates that the Dodgers and the Royals will train side by side again next Spring as they did in Daytona Beach last season.

Celery Feds Trample St. Augustine By Score Of 8 To 4

Saints Limited To Five Bingles By Goose Kettles

Locals Rap Pair Of Saint Hurlers For Total Of 10 Hits

Herald Sports Editor

Manager Ed Levy's Sanford Celery Feds captured their 59th contest in the Florida State League season last night when Goose Kettles limited the St. Augustine Saints to five bingles while his mates were pounding a pair of ancient city hurlers.

Jim Ketcher and Bill Holbert, for 10 safeties to register an 8 to 4 victory.

The Saints, riddled with injuries, couldn't cope with the Fed attack in the more or less dull contest. Manager Bill Steinicke was forced to use pitchers in the outfield and found it necessary to juggle positions constantly.

Outside of the contest here last evening, the only other Florida State League games to be played were the Orlando Senators—DeLand Red Hat tilt, which the Athens City crew grabbed by shutouts, 3 to 0 and 8 to 0.

Orlando's twin loss last evening plus Sanford's win over St. Augustine placed the Feds 12 games behind the Senators and five and a half games in front of third place St. Augustine.

The Feds opened hostilities early. In the first stanza Silverman singled to center field and took second when Bride was issued a free pass. Levy singled to center, scoring Silverman. Bride advanced to third and Levy pulled up at second on the throw to the plate. Sharpe pounded a pitch toward the box but Ketcher threw wild to first, permitting Bride and Levy to score. Sharpe promptly scored the fourth run when Glorje singled sharply to center.

The Saints raked up their first tally in the second when Colek beat out an infield hit, was sacrificed to second by Cox and scored when Pawlick singled to center.

The locals grabbed two more markers in their half of the third when Levy doubled to left and moved to third on Glorje's second safety. Bryant sacrificed Levy across and Glorje scored when Kettles blasted a single into center.

Two more Feds scampered over in the fourth when Tuttle singled to right, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored when Bride planted a single into right. Bride swiped second, advanced to third on Lake's fly to right and scored on Levy's infield out.

Hostilities ceased in the fifth after the Saints pushed over three runs. With two away, Sharpe was safe on Glorje's sacrifice, encountered a brief spell of wildness and admitted Finch and Judy to the lanes with two double into right field to clear the sacks.

Silverman, Levy and Glorje each got two hits during the evening to pace the Sanford offensive. Kettles whiffed five Saints and walked three. Holbert relieved Ketcher in the fifth and permitted the Feds only a pair of safeties for the remainder of the fray.

Teen agers of Orange City, backed by residents and by Deputy Sheriff Gen. Esko, have answered the problem posed by juvenile delinquency by organizing their own club which they call the "1946 Fun Club." There was some adult criticism over this name, but the youngsters are determined to keep it and have fun-out of life instead of laboring over a program of high-sounding, sober designation which might please the ear of the social worker but would not be so vividly descriptive, according to an article in the July issue of The Florida Sheriff. The Orange City Volunteer Fire Department turned over to the youths a shack which had been abandoned, and with hammer and saw, scrub brush and paint brush, the youngsters went to work on it, also appointed committees to get things done.

Congress Is Dashing Down Home Stretch

Social Security Measure is Only Big Hurdle Remaining For Solons to Jump

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—Congress is dashing down the home stretch toward adjournment by nightfall tomorrow but it has one big hurdle to jump. That is the deadlock over social security legislation. Unless the legislators get together on the measure there will be an automatic boost in old age insurance taxes Jan. 1.

Both the Senate and the House have passed the security bill which freezes the tax at the present one percent rate for another year. All that has been done is to send the measure to a joint congressional conference committee to iron out various differences and for that the house must give unanimous consent.

Representative Harold Knutson, Minnesota Republican, is blocking that move because he is opposed to a so-called variable grants provision which is embodied in the bill.

Actually the dispute boils down to one between rich and poor states. The provision inserted by the Senate says that the government would put up $2 for each state dollar for helping the needy and used in those states many of them in the South where individual income is less than 66 percent of the national average.

However, a showdown vote on the matter is due today. The Rules Committee has called for a direct vote on whether the House will seek a compromise with the Senate. A two-thirds vote is necessary to approve the committee plan and that will come sometime today.

Outside of this stumbling block, a path appears which has written rules of war and chartered a course to peace is about to be cleared. Yesterday the lawmakers pushed through a flood of last minute legislation. Both the Senate and House sent the $2,000,000,000 GI Terminal Pay Bill to President Truman's desk. The Senate killed off an attempt to enact the anti-poll tax before Congress quits. It brought forward the last appropriation bill of the session—a carrying fund for the GI Terminal Pay Bill and the revised OPA.

New Theories Are Advanced Relative To A-Bomb Blasts

ABOARD THE USS MOUNT McKinley at Bikini, Aug. 1. (AP)—Officials of "Operation Crossroads" have come up with some new theories and details concerning the underwater atomic bomb explosion July 25. For instance, they are examining the possibility that the Carrier Saratoga and the Battleship Arkansas broke their hulls on the lagoon floor, after falling down a big hole in the water caused by the blast.

One report of the atomic bomb says the amount of water converted into energy would be about 100,000 tons of ships was about the size of a matchbox. Under the same formula, the amount of fissionable material left over from the explosion and converted into energy would be about 35 ounces. That handful of stuff has filled the target area with deadly radioactivity for days.

A big chunk of the landing ship on which the atomic bomb was suspended, was blown four miles away outside the lagoon.

Truman Orders Federal Chiefs To Cut Expenses

President Points To Maritime Group and Army and Navy

WASHINGTON, August 1. (AP)—President Truman laid down the law today that federal officials are to cut expenses. The President spoke to his official family, just as the head of any American household might do. The President said that because of the present inflationary situation expenses are to be pared to the bone.

The White House instructed the heads of all departments and agencies, but in his message, Mr. Truman specifically mentioned the Army, Navy and Maritime commission. He said he had asked them to reduce their expenditures way below the amounts they had previously budgeted.

The President lauded several departments for government administration. Don't buy things that are in abundant supply, ordered the President, particularly such items as lumber, textiles, automobiles, office equipment and construction materials.

The President also said he wants public works agencies to postpone commitments and actual construction so far as possible. He wants work of low priority dropped, altogether and he wants the departments to concentrate on small economies as well as big ones.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—President Truman announced today that he is naming William L. Clayton Undersecretary of State in charge of economic affairs. The appointment will be made under law legislation he is preparing to sign.

Wolcott Says Rents In Sanford Area Must Revert Back To June 30 Levels

Rentals for homes and apartments in the Sanford rent control area under recently re-established Federal rent control are now the same as of June 30, and rents advanced since that time must revert to the former price, H. W. Wolcott, area OPA rent director, announced today.

Extra rental money paid to landlords during the interval does not have to be refunded, said Mr. Wolcott who pointed out that there have been quite a few releases in rent in the Sanford area since June 30. These releases varied from 50 to 250 a month.

The following questions and answers have been prepared by OPA in regard to the new rent control:

1. Is there now a rent ceiling on my home?
If you live in a rent control area, effective July 25, 1946, your home is under the same Federal rent control as it was on June 30, 1946.

2. The ceiling rent for my apartment on June 30 was $60.00. On July 1, my landlord raised my rent to $75.00 a month. Now that rent control has been re-established must I continue to pay $75.00 a month?
No, effective August 1, 1946, your rent goes back to rent of $60.00.

3. I signed a new lease on July 1 calling for $75.00 a month instead of $60.00, the ceiling rent on June 30, 1946. Must I continue to pay $75.00?
No, after July 15, 1946, the landlord may collect no more than the ceiling rent in effect on June 30, 1946, regardless of the terms of the new lease.

4. I live in a rooming house. In June my ceiling rent was $40.00 a month. On July 1, my landlord changed the rent to $50.00 a day. Must I continue to pay the daily rate?
No, effective July 25, 1946, your rent will be on the June Federal rent control as it was on June 30, 1946.

5. I have now a rent ceiling on my home?
If you live in a rent control area, effective July 25, 1946, your home is under the same Federal rent control as it was on June 30, 1946.

The reports from Washington that both the Senate and House Representatives had approved the O. I. Terminal Leave Bill and the measure sent to President Truman for signature, caused a great amount of varied comment today by discharged service men here in Sanford.

A Herald survey this morning revealed that the former dough boys and tars were much in favor of the action by congress in establishing terminal leave for enlisted personnel and payment for furlough and leave time that they were not actually able to take during the emergency.

The opinions of former servicemen varied considerably as to the method of payment of the nearly $3,000,000,000 that will be given to enlisted personnel in the event President Truman signs the measure.

James F. Brown, an A. I. C. employee who resides at 311 West Third Street said that he approved of the measure passed by Congress. Brown, who spent nearly five years in service, declared: "I don't think it should be paid in five-year non-negotiable bonds." However, Brown added that the bonds "would be all right if they would become negotiable in perhaps two years."

"I firmly believe," Brown asserted, "that the President will approve the bill."

Author Beckwith, circulation manager of The Sanford Herald, was in favor of paying the money to discharged veterans in cash. "I think if officers got the money in cash the enlisted men should be paid that way also," Beckwith added that there are many discharged veterans who could use the money due them at the present time.

James Gut, son of Mayor H. James Gut, said this morning that the legislation was very favorable in his opinion. "I think payment (Continued on Page Eight)

Churchill Asks Aid In Palestine Problem From US

Adds to Government Plea for American Help in Settlement

LONDON, Aug. 1. (AP)—Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill today called on the House of Commons and added his voice to the Labor Government's plea for American help in finding a solution to the Palestine problem.

Churchill expressed gloom over the course of British efforts in the Holy Land. He declared bluntly that if Anglo-American cooperation fails, the entire record of the British administration in Palestine will stand forth as a monument of incapacity.

The Conservative leader went on to say that Britain should surrender her mandate in Palestine if she proves unable, either with or without United States aid, to carry on her pledges to the Jews. The government should have made it clear as soon as the war was over, Churchill continued, that unless the United States lent a hand in Palestine the problem at the feet of the United Nations.

Churchill's address came during the second day of debate on Palestine in the House of Commons. Earlier, Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, had deferred the government's plan for a four-year division of the Holy Land. He said the plan had been worked out by a group of British and American officials, and seemed to be the best solution possible under the present circumstances.

The plan calls for the United States to provide shipping to transport Jews to Palestine. The plan also proposes that America pay a financial grant to the Arabs.

Air of Calm Reigns In Paris as Reds Again Are Tractable in Agreements

PARIS, Aug. 1. (AP)—The Yugoslav delegation has announced that it will not accept the compromise solution on Trieste. The Yugoslav decision was announced at the Paris Peace Conference today. The compromise solution calls for the internationalization of Trieste.

PARIS, Aug. 1. (AP)—There was an unusual air of calm at the Paris Peace Conference today. The reason for the harmonious atmosphere is that Russia has again been tractable in reaching an agreement with the other powers.
