

SANFORD GROWERS FORM ORGANIZATION ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Organization Capitalized At Fifty Thousand

Last Saturday night at the Masonic Hall, about one hundred growers listened intently to an address made by Mr. J. D. Jacobs, general manager of the Beaufort Truck Growers Association of Beaufort, S. C. Since 1902 Mr. Jacobs has been prominently connected with the Eastern Shore of Virginia Produce Exchange of Onley, Va., and for the past four seasons, between acts as it were, he has successfully built up, managed and marketed the crops of the association members around Beaufort.

The meeting Saturday night was not a jumped up affair, but the culmination of energetic work and well laid plans, worked out solely by farmers who propose to permanently and successfully originate and maintain a true one hundred per cent farmers cooperative marketing agency and before any definite steps were taken, the successful organizations of the country have been thoroughly gone into and it was ultimately decided to build upon the plans that have made the Eastern Shore of Virginia Produce Exchange a success beyond question. This latter organization is known all over the nation. Beginning several years ago with only a few farmers who were forced by necessity to organize, the farmers' association last year marketed eleven million dollars worth of produce; potatoes, onions, cabbage, etc., for their members. It was shown by Mr. Jacobs and by authentic letter and printed reports that this organization has been the means of re-establishing sound and financially successful farming in Accomac and North Hampton counties, Virginia, and that where there was only one bank a year ago thirty two banks now prosper. It is a known fact that these counties in Virginia are the wealthiest agricultural counties in the United States and it is further a fact that a one hundred per cent determined farmers organization has been the means of making this section what it is today. It is a further fact that this vast organization boasts a total stockholder membership of between 3500 and 4000, all successful and making money.

The Eastern Shore organization as well as the Beaufort Truck Growers Association are the results of their efforts. Other organizations were started at various times but for the lack of experience and because of wrong principles of foundation, they passed away serving only to leave people suspicious and in the same old rut. The Beaufort Association for the past four years has paid regularly 10 per cent dividend on all stock and in addition last season divided $10,000.00, which represented one-half of their surplus among their seventy members leaving a capital and surplus to their credit of more than $20,000. Their success has been determination and a thoroughly experienced general manager who is also their sales manager and their mutual cooperation for betterment.

It is along these lines that the farmers of Sanford and Seminole county propose to travel. Already valuable selling connections have been established and this end of the selling will be in the hands of a man who has been more than twenty years in the production and marketing of vegetable crops.

It has also been practically demonstrated that only a sound organization of farmers, officered by farmers who employ their own trained selling agents, can or has been successful and that above all things such organizations must establish their various brands and that their success lies in two things: "marketing under an organization brand" through an experienced man who knows distribution and who knows the market and in turn the market knows him.

The Sanford organization will begin under the leadership of Rex Packard as its president and G. C. Chamberlain as vice president and a board of seven directors were elected Monday night. The organization will have a capital of $50,000.00 and shares of $10.00 par value will be offered to the farmers of this section. Supply connections have been arranged and without doubt, this organization is a success from the start. Only farmers can be stockholders and any farmer who will agree to inspection and brands and the by-laws and constitution of the association can become a member. The association will be solidly incorporated and all further meetings will be open to all as it is the sole purpose of the leaders in this move to make and build an organization on fair and square principles, the main idea being to get fair returns for crops marketed.

ORANGE CO. QUARANTINES AGAINST TICK

Seminole County Cattle Men Must Watch Out

In spite of what The Herald has done to agitate an aggressive tick eradication movement in Seminole county, there has been a desire on the part of those in authority in this matter to wait and see what the other people are going to do.

Well, so far as our cattle owners are concerned, they have done it. The election in Orange county for compulsory dipping of cattle was a run-a-way for the people who want to clean out the ticks and get that county released from quarantine.

Complying with the wishes of the Orange county people, as expressed at the polls, the State Live Stock Sanitary Board has established a quarantine line around Orange county and in the future all Seminole county cattle will have to be dipped regularly under government supervision or their owners will have to keep them from straying across the county line into Orange county.

This looks like a pretty expensive undertaking for our cattle owners whose stock hitherto have enjoyed the freedom of ranges in both counties. Dr. H. V. Ramsay, supervisor of the tick eradication work in Orange and Seminole counties for the United States Bureau of Animal Industry has tried the co-operation of our cattle owners and county officials to prepare this county for the work so both counties could be cleaned up at the same time, but was not successful, so Orange county is going ahead and the burden of keeping Seminole county cattle from crossing the unfenced boundary on our Mattie owners.

Sanford Soldier Advances

The following letter from Sergt. Enoch Austin, a Sanford boy, written to his father, R. W. Austin will be interesting:

Unfortunately last summer, 1917, while on pass visiting dear wife and baby was run over by a train in the Sanford yard and shortly after my recovery I was promoted from corporal to the rank of sergeant and the first day of May, 1918, stood the final examination for second lieutenant in the regular army, and am now awaiting an appointment as second lieutenant. So I would like to inform my friends, even though I only have five toes left am just as good in the upper story as before my accident last summer and I wish to thank Dr. Miller for his noble work and kindness to me. I wish to tell relatives and friends of Sanford even though our forefathers shed their red blood for victory, just stop and think for a moment there is some red blood left and when the war is over and Old Glory flies free again we will tell them how easy we went over the top.

From A Sanford Boy.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

Fine Start Made And Big Parade Today

The big drive for $8000 for Seminole's quota for the Red Cross started yesterday and the various committees and team captains were busy as bees getting out after the money.

Several of the public spirited men who are able to give made out checks Saturday night for $100 each and others who have equally as much of this world's goods did not give this much. Others who were unable to give generously gave more than their rich neighbors and so it goes on down the line. But the people are responding nobly and it is rumored today that half of the amount has already been raised although it will take hard work to raise the balance for the cheerful givers give first always and the most difficult part of any campaign of any kind is the last few hundreds of dollars to raise.

This afternoon the big parade and public speaking will arouse enthusiasm, although the Red Cross does not need any explanation or bombast to tell the people what it is and what it is doing. Every man, woman and child in Seminole county knows now what the Red Cross is doing and the parades and music and banners and speeches recalls it to mind but the people should respond readily to the call of humanity without any arguments.

Every man knows best what he can give and it is certain that every real American citizen of every citizen of whatever country or nationality will always give all he can to the Red Cross that gives freely to every nation and every call for every country.

Seminole county will go over the top Wednesday sure.

An attractive booklet will be published by the County Board of Trade if the county commissioners of Pinellas will make an appropriation for the booklet when it makes out its budget for the coming year. Plans for the booklet have been drawn up and will be presented to the approval of the County Board of Trade if the commissioners agree to give the money for it this year.

THE HOPE OF THE WORLD

By HAROLD BELL WRIGHT

The hope of the world is not alone that the armies of humanity will be victorious, but that the spirit and purpose of our warfare will prevail in our victory. The hope of the world is in the Red Cross, because the Red Cross is voicing this spirit and purpose that must, through the force of our arms, triumph. Just to the degree that we can evidence this Red Cross spirit of mercy and brotherhood we will hold true in the dangerous hour of victory to the ideals that have forced us into the trenches in the defense of human rights and human liberty.

The one sane and saving thought in this delirium of death that now possesses the world is the Red Cross.

Wherever the storms of battle hell rage, amid the fires of ruthless destruction, in trench and camp and hospital, these soldiers of mercy with heroism unsurpassed are carrying the flag of the highest conceivable ideals of humanity. The ideals for which our armies have taken the field are, by these unarmed hosts, proclaimed to friend and foe, in that unmistakable language of universal mercy and brotherhood. In the terms of wasteful towns rebuilt, of broken humanity salvaged, of dying children rescued, of desolate families succored, the Red Cross declares the cause for which we war and proclaims the principles and ideals that must and will in the end prevail. Above the thunder of the guns, the roar of exploding mines, the crash of fallen cities and the cries of tortured humanity, the voice of the Red Cross carries clear and strong the one message of hope to our war burdened world.

The black horror of this world's crisis would be unbearable were it not for the spirit and work of this mighty force. The normal mind refuses to contemplate the situation without this saving power.

It is the knowledge that in every city, town and hamlet, men, women and children are united in this work of declaring to the world, through the Red Cross, our message of mercy and brotherhood, that keeps our hearts from sinking under the burden of war and sustains our faith in human kind. It is the constant daily, almost hourly touch with the Red Cross work that is felt by every citizen in the land, that inspired us with courage and hope.

Out of this hell of slaughter the Red Cross will guide the warring nations to a heaven of world wide peace and brotherhood.

Because it is the living expression of those ideals and principles in defense of which we are giving our all in lives and material wealth—because of every field of death it is proclaiming its message of life—because it keeps ever before us and the world the cause for which we war—because it will preserve us in the hour of our victory from defeating ourselves—the Red Cross is the hope of the world.

5 MILLION WILL SAIL FOR FRANCE

President Says That Number Will Be Sent

New York, May 20.—To win the war the United States is determined to set no restrictions on the number of men to be sent to France, President Wilson declared here tonight in a speech when referring to the purpose of America to set no limit on its effort. As many men will go overseas as ships can be found to carry them, the President said, after referring to a statement that five million should go. The United States, he said, will not be diverted by the insincere peace talk from the Teutonic powers. Their proposals, he declared spring from a desire to have a free hand in the East. "I intend to stand by Russia as well as France," he said.

"For the first time in history," said the President, "the world has seen an unselfish war. I cannot fight for a selfish purpose, but am proud to fight for mankind," he said. The President concluded by declaring that he summoned the American people to say how unanimously they are ready to sustain the hearts of the world by contributions to the Red Cross.

The county commissioners of Dade county will call an election for the purpose of voting a bond issue to be used in the construction of an armory for the use of the home guards and other purposes. The estimated cost will be $75,000 and the building will be arranged to provide an auditorium with a seating capacity of from 2,000 to 5,000.

The Sebastian inlet row seems assured. Only 300 feet of sand to cut through, and what many years ago was an inlet will again let in the Atlantic Ocean and the fish. Fish without the Atlantic Ocean seem impossible in Indian river, and as the food commission of the United States has granted the necessary permit for the cutting of the canal or inlet purely for the conservation of the food supply, and the people of St. Lucie and Brevard counties seem determined to open up this old passage, all obstacles appear as removed to a speedy consummation of this universal desire.

OSTEEN FERRY BRIDGE AGITATES PUBLIC AGAIN WITH A GOOD OFFER

Euzelian Class

The Euzelian Class of the Baptist church held a very enthusiastic meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Thursday afternoon. Much interest was manifested. Our teacher, Mrs. Massey brought before the class for their consideration the question of supporting a native missionary in one of the foreign lands. Sunday morning the class decided to take up this work. After the business meeting the hostess served refreshments. Mr. Massey dropped in near the close of the meeting and added much to it by a few inspiring remarks. He was pleased to see such a large number present.

GERMANS WILL FIND STONE WALL

When They Attempt To Make Next Drive

Paris, May 20.—The French and Italian troops have advanced twenty kilometers, twelve and a half miles on the western end of the Macedonian front, it was officially announced tonight.

London, May 20.—The calm-summerlike night tempted the Germans to try last night their first air raid on London since March 19th. Four of the raiders fell before the defenses of London. Several bombs were dropped by the raiders.

London, May 20.—Thirty-seven were killed and one hundred and thirty-five injured in the German air raid over this city.

Significance may attach to the reports the official statements are now carrying of heavy artillery fire in the sector between Arras and Albert, which comprises the northerly continuation of the Somme battle-front.

London today thus announces a considerable increase in the German artillery fire between Albert and Buquoy, a 10 mile front covering about half the distance between Albert and Arras.

Similarly, the German official statement of yesterday reported the British guns busy along the entire Albert-Arras front, where the German batteries were subjected to a violent fire.

It is along this line that many of the many observers are qualifiedly predicting that the expected German blow will be struck.

What is known as the Arras salient, which projects from the British lines between the German salients of the Somme and the Lys, is standing in the way of a further German advance toward the coast or the Franco-British lines of communication. By cutting these lines at important points the enemy apparently hopes to divide the two armies.

The reduction of the Arras salient by a mighty blow would carry the Germans toward Douzens, 18 miles north of Amiens, and about 18 miles west of the present fighting line. Capture of this valuable junction point would badly disrupt the allied communicating lines and such an operation would almost inevitably carry Amiens also into enemy possession.

Against such a stroke, the allies are reported to have forces heavily massed and to be confidently awaiting the result of a possible attack in this quarter.

There was quiet yesterday along the front at all points occupied by American troops except that the air forces were active. The fighting resulted in favor of the Americans, who brought down two enemy machines, the American headquarters statement reports, while Paris announced (Continued on Page 5)

Sanford Man Wants To Build Toll Bridge

There is another toll bridge agitation in this county and The Herald would like to have an expression of the people on this subject. A few years ago the counties of Volusia and Seminole granted to Michael Sholtz the right to build a toll bridge across the St. Johns river at Monroe. The majority of the people were in favor of this bridge since neither county would build one and the county commissioners had no notion of building a bridge. It was thought that a toll bridge charging the same price as the ferry would be better than a ferry.

Since that time Sholtz wanted to build a toll bridge at Osteen ferry which is now a ferry maintained by both counties and is free in the daytime but pay at night and on Sundays. The people were not in favor of bottling up the St. Johns river at both ends with toll bridges and Sholtz never brought the matter before the commissioners.

Now comes William Bothamy of this city who is anxious to open the Osteen ferry to greater travel and is willing to put in a toll bridge there and at the end of ten years turn it over to the counties of Volusia and Seminole free of charge.

This is a much better proposition than Sholtz made on the Monroe ferry as he wants to sell the bridge to the counties at the end of ten years and after he has made the price of the bridge many times over.

If a toll bridge is built it will not be built by a private individual unless Volusia and Seminole county commissioners refuse to build one and in the event that the people favor a toll bridge we would rather our fellow townsman built it than some foreign corporation.

Mulberries

Mulberries make excellent jelly if used at the proper stage. The following rules. No. 1 is equal to currant jelly.

Mulberry Jelly No. 1

(Tart and Brilliant Red)
Use the red, hard berries which are full size. To each three quart berries add one quart cold water, and simmer thirty minutes, when add second quart cold water and simmer, mashing well. The resulting juice should be thick and rich. Have sugar ready, heated. Allow a pint for each pint of mulberry juice after straining and measuring exactly. Stir well to dissolve thoroughly and quickly. Heat to boiling point and boil three minutes, then test it, as it may be ready then. Five minutes is usually quite sufficient to jelly it. Strain and pour into glasses.

Mulberry Jelly No. 2

For a darker, sweeter jelly use equal parts of the hard, red berries and ripe ones. Use one pint of water to three quarts berries, simmering until all juice is extracted by mashing in the kettle. Strain and proceed as above.

Marmalade

Clip off stems and use equal parts of hard red and ripe berries, or a ripe berries with juice extracted from unripe berries by cooking (as above), wash and put through coarse sieve and return to stove with equal measure of sugar and cook down till of desired consistency.

Arthur Greene representing the Virginia Paper Co., is in the city today calling on the local trade. He is the father of Dr. Ralph and Dr. Loren Greene, two well known Florida physicians who are now in government service with the titles of majors.

DO YOUR EYES NEED ATTENTION?

The service of the oculist is essential in treating diseases of the eyes and correcting defective vision by securing glasses that are scientifically fitted to your eyes.

Properly fitted glasses cost no more money than improperly fitted ones. They certainly cost much less eye strain, and the satisfaction of knowing you have the right ones is worth a great deal to you.

That is why it is to your very decided advantage to have your eyes fitted here. DR. E. S. HOFFMAN, Oculist-Optician, 28 West Church St., Orlando, Fla. 76-tf

How much do your clothes cost?

THE clothes are the answer to that question, not the price. If you figure cost by the month or year, you'll find that a suit of all-wool cloth, finely tailored, and well designed, gives long wear and in the end costs less than one that doesn't last long or look right.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes cost enough to be very economical. They're here; style for everyone. : : : :

"I pledge allegiance to my flag and the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible, with Liberty and justice to all."

In large letters of flaming red enclosed in a border of flags, the Sanford Herald announced "Seminole Over the Top."

Hats off to Bob Holly! His sentiments show him to be the genuine red blooded American that the country needs just now.

Bob Holly has made an announcement. It differs somewhat from the ordinary announcement of the average politician.

The Sanford Herald carries at the top of its editorial department its pledge of loyalty to this country.

STRENGTH IN UNION

In union there is strength and this holds good in every kind of business. This said that farmers are the most difficult people in the world to organize.

In the Leesburg Commercial gives it to them in the following terse editorial:

And what do you think now, you newspaper men who fell for the one tenth of a cent a pound "open buying" bait and failed to take the advice of the Auxiliary?

All news print prices "subject to change without notice" again and per lot selling at $5.00 per 100 lbs., less than one ton $5.25.

But Florida newspapers have enjoyed the low price this long. Why? Because of the Auxiliary meeting and the Auxiliary contract.

How about it, procrastinating brother? Don't you think it is about time to get on the Auxiliary bandwagon and take a hand in this work, the fruits of which you are already enjoying?

OUR TERMS OF PEACE

We are justified in using the word "our." This is a democracy and the people rule a loyal, patriotic expression of belief is to be respected if emanating but from a few.

1. No offers of peace shall be received from the Kaiser or his government. Peace terms shall be dictated by the allies. It is inconceivable that Germany should have any representation in the settlements.

II. Germany must withdraw from Belgium, Northern France, Russia and the Balkans.

III. She must make reparation for the damage done to these countries as far as it is possible to make good such savage destruction as she has wrought.

IV. She with Austria must apologize humbly to the nations for her act.

V. The Kaiser and his sons, with the rulers of Austria must be retired absolutely from power forever, exiled to St. Helena or elsewhere, where they can no longer exert their profane claims to almightiness and arrogant influence in militarism.

VI. Germany must disarm to the same extent that the other powers do, and agree to join in a league of nations to maintain peace, that justice, freedom, safety, the rights of man shall forever be assured.

It seems to us, and we believe that all sensible Americans will agree with us that the above terms are wholly just, and that while the integrity of the German people is to be preserved, the cancer of Prussianism which has been eating their life and poisoning the nations of the world must be cut out once for all.

A commission form of government is being agitated for West Palm Beach. Active interest is being taken in the matter by the citizens in general, some favoring the straight commission form while others want the city manager attachment.

AEROPLANES FIRST MAIL IN AMERICA

First Aero Mail Service Now Started

Washington, May 15.—With the establishment of a regular airplane mail service between Washington and New York, the postoffice considers that the project is experimental only in the sense that a new familiar means of locomotion is to be put practically to a new use.

The War Department has furnished twelve large training planes for use in the new service. Aviators have been detailed from the ranks of fighting airmen, as War Department officials feel that the newly-commissioned fliers will acquire valuable training in piloting the big mail carriers over long cross country flights.

The planes, each capable of a minimum speed of 90 miles an hour are built along the lines of the regulation bombing machine. They are one-seaters as a maximum of space is desired in the fuselage for the storing of mail bags.

The schedule provides for the departure of one plane each day from both Washington and New York. The machines leave promptly at 11:30 in the morning, and it is hoped to have the mail deposited at the terminals not more than three hours later.

The second leg of the journey from Philadelphia to Belmont field, in the Long Island suburbs of New York, should be made in about an hour. The larger planes carry about 600 pounds of mail, or approximately 24,000 letters.

Emergency landing fields will be established at Baltimore and Havre de Grace, Md.; Wilmington, Del.; and at either Princeton or New Brunswick, N. J.

The rate of postage has been established by law at 24 cents an ounce or fraction thereof. However, this entitles the sender to have the letter forwarded to the addresses by special delivery service, in case the air-plan arrives too late for the regular city deliveries.

Letters mailed at Washington, Philadelphia or New York for delivery in any part of the country may have their delivery facilitated by sending them on the first part of the journey by airplane.

A special stamp has been designed for the new service. It has a red border, and shows an airplane in flight on a blue field.

The first stamp was sold to Postmaster General Burleson who addressed a letter to Postmaster Paten of New York. After cancellation of the stamp, the letter was autographed by President Wilson, and placed in the first consignment of mail directed to New York.

During the first months of the service no flights will be made when storm conditions make the journey very precarious. On those days the sacks will be forwarded by rail and delivered by special delivery service.

To eliminate delay arrangements are being worked out for the construction of large nets on the roofs of the central postoffices so that the bags may be dropped while the machine is in flight.

Save Sugar in Jelly Making
Much wasting of sugar and spoiling of jellies can be avoided by using a simple alcohol test devised by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and recommended by the University of Florida extension division.

To determine how much sugar should be used with each kind of juice, put a spoonful of juice in a glass and add to it one spoonful of 95 per cent grain alcohol, and mix by shaking the glass gently.

If the pectin is precipitated as an ump a cup of sugar may be used for one cup of juice; if in several lumps the proportion of sugar may be reduced to approximately three-fourths the amount of the juice.
