Japanese Forge Empire Without Resort To War

Annex Korea, Manchuria And Jehol, Never Declares War

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN

AP Feature Service Writer
Japanese shells whistle over Peiping, China—and worried world leaders wonder if land-hungry Nippon has started a new thrust for empire.

True, there was no declaration of war. Just a sham battle that turned suddenly into a real one. But then, with a few exceptions, Japan has never had to declare war to win her aims.

It took a war with Russia in 1904-5 to clear the way for Japan to acquire Korea. Russia had been her rival for "spheres of influence" in that country and adjacent areas. With the Czar's power in the Orient broken there was none to stop the Nipponese absorption of the "hermit kingdom."

The Korean annexation, which became effective in 1910 gave the Japanese a footing in the mainland—and the march of empire had begun.

In 1931 Manchuria was the victim. First, economic penetration paved the way. Then Japan attacked Chinese troops after accusing them of cutting the southern Manchurian railway. Thus the art of making war without declaring it was born. The city of Mukden was occupied Sept. 18, 1931. "Young Marshal," Chang Manchuria's war lord, was deposed and a new nation, named Manchoukuo, was set up. Henry Pu-Yi, erstwhile "Boy Emperor of China" and now Emperor Kang Teh, was made ruler of the puppet state.

Many Chinese still blame Butterfly Wu, a motion picture star, for Manchuria's downfall. Chang was reported to be with her in Peiping at the time of the Mukden clash.

The Manchurian coup led to Japan's withdrawal from the League of Nations after a League investigating committee upheld China's protests. Japan announced herself the guardian of the peace of the Far East, refused to give up her mandate over a group of Pacific islands which she got from Germany after the World War, and denounced the S-S-S naval pact with Great Britain and America, claiming instead the right to naval equality.

The Manchurian coup, too, was the fuse which fired the famous Shanghai incident of 1932. Although the attack on Shanghai was one of the most spectacular moves Japan ever made, it was a punitive rather than a land-grabbing expedition.

Angry over the loss of Manchuria, Chinese in Shanghai boycotted Japanese goods. A Japanese riot flared. Several Japanese died in street fighting. So Japan plunged into another undeclared war to teach China a lesson.

Japanese hitjackets led a surprise attack on the Chinatown quarter of the city Jan. 28, 1932. But Chinese resistance was stiff. The Japanese army had to call the navy. Bombs were dropped by the plane load. An armistice finally was signed May 2, ending one invasion that brought Japan no material gains.

Japan's hitjackets led a more profitable adventure in February, 1933. On the same day Japanese and Chinese soldiers swept into the province of Jehol and marched to Kang Teh's realm.

Japanese hitjackets were again the invaders when Japan started its sweep westward to Manchuria this time with the intention of capturing Chinkiang.

Loyal Forces Knife Fiercely At Insurgents

It is believed the Italians eventually will see service near Madrid.

War in the air increased today, both government and insurgents sending up more planes and fierce fighting being reported from several points.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—

Off dimly-lighted, empty corridors on the fifth floor of the old House Office building, a few New Deal congressmen have their hideouts. Here a man can peel off his coat, remove his shoes and get to work or take a nap.

The hideouts are small, untidy offices with very little furniture and no telephones. They open on a balcony. Many members of the house have applied for a hideout; only a few have been given one.

It takes 2,250 gallons of water, recirculated every minute, to wash the air and cool the 11,000,000 cubic feet of air in the interior building in Washington.

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

"This Is My Affair" To Play At Ritz Sunday And Monday

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, shown here, are teamed by Twentieth Century Fox in the picture "This Is My Affair," which plays Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theater.

The story of a man supremely courageous and resourceful, endangering the nation's highest places and gambling life itself for a greater stake, "This Is My Affair" provides both Taylor and Miss Stanwyck with the most important story either of these great stars has ever had, and affords Victor McLaglen, who heads the strong supporting cast, the finest opportunity he has had since his powerful characterization in "The Informer."

"This Is My Affair" would be a triumph for either of the top stars, for it presents Robert Taylor in a picture which captures the mood of great romance and the urge of mighty drama, while Barbara Stanwyck matches his greatness with a fire and power given full scope for the first time.

Setting the stage at the turn of the century, "This Is My Affair" shows the nation at stability threatened by a series of sensational bank robberies in the Middle West. Lieutenant William McKinley turns in desperation to a young Lieutenant Robert Taylor, whose record under Admiral Dewey bespeaks this valor. The young officer, sworn to secrecy, is instructed to dislodge himself in the Navy, be discharged, and eventually locate the bank-robbing gang and their government informant.

In a mid-Western criminal's hang-out, Taylor makes the acquaintance of a cafe owner, Victor McLaglen; his right-hand

"Wild Money" To Play At Ritz On Tuesday Night

Edward Horton Stars In Picture Based On Novel In Magazine

High humor, a fast moving story and a splendid cast of players combine to make up "Wild Money," the film which opens at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday, one of the breeziest and most delightful comedies seen on the screen this season.

Based on the Saturday Evening Post story "Tightwad," by Paul Gallico, the comedy often reaches hilarious height as it unfolds the history of a would-be newspaper reporter who goes bankrupt when he is given unlimited funds with which to scoop a story. Edward Everett Horton is the reporter and he is assisted in his antics by sleepy voiced Lynne Overman, Louise Campbell, a New York stage beauty who makes her film debut in this picture. Porter Hall, Lucien Littlefield, Rosay Baker, Ruth Coleman and many others.

In love with Miss Campbell, a roisteron on "The Block," Horton is heartbroken when she refuses to accompany him on his vacation to a lake resort. Things begin to perk up, however, when a swarthy summer boarder is kidnapped at the lake. Being the only policeman on the spot, Horton "saves up" the situation mainly by shooting, the title of boats, tying up the telephone service and in other ways throwing around money which is not his. He gets the girl, however, and he gets the girl, which is more important to him, leaving Overman, also in love with Miss Campbell, in the cold.

Horton, of course, is excellent. But to single him out for special honors would be rank injustice to the other players, all of whom turn in a first class comedy job. Credit is also due to Louis King for the fine job of directing; he did.

IN THEIR GREATEST ROLES!

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, appear with Victor McLaglen in "This Is My Affair," the Twentieth Century-Fox production which gives these three great stars the finest opportunity they have ever had.

Star Uses Cornmeal

For a quick dry shampoo, Veda Ann Borg, charming red-headed player who stars in "Kid Galahad" at the Ritz Theater, Wednesday and Thursday, recommends cornmeal.

Miss Borg achieves a clean and glossy coiffure by this simple method. She shakes a generous handful of cornmeal into her hair, then brushes it out with quick, ing roles. The melody are "I'm a Little Bit Blue" and "Put Down Your Glass, Pick Up

Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, a songwriting team at Twentieth Century Fox, contributed three songs to "This Is My Affair," which stars of the Ritz

Theater, Sunday and Monday with Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck, and Victor McLaglen in the lead roles. Jeanne Madden singing in a small town amateur night contest.

He takes her to Hollywood, fails at first to put her over, but by a clever ruse, he has the president of the company from which he was fired, begging for her at a fantastic salary. Thereafter she time lives again on the screen when "Seventh Heaven," the Twentieth Century-Fox production of Austin Strong's immortal love story, returns to the Ritz Theater Friday with Simone Simon and James Stewart in the starring roles on a double feature program with "Talent Scout."

Seventh Heaven' Will Play Return Showing

The tenderest romance of our time lives again on the screen when "Seventh Heaven," the Twentieth Century-Fox production of Austin Strong's immortal love story, returns to the Ritz

Theater Friday with Simone Simon and James Stewart in the starring roles on a double feature program with "Talent Scout."

A smart and light "script" written by George S. Kaufman and William Jacobson, and directed by William Clemens, the picture is especially interesting because of the manner in which it gives us the lowdown on Hollywood's inner workings.

Adapted from the stage play produced and directed by John Golden, "Seventh Heaven" recreates for screen audiences that star-crossed pair of Monameric Diana

heart to the stars.

Rosalind Marquis

If you're at all interested in the machinations of movie-making, "Talent Scout," a First National picture coming to the Ritz Theater today will give you more than a share of the inside information.

Done in an airy manner, the comedy, starring Donald Woods and veterans of last year's Gold Digger's Air Tour—Jeanne Madden, Fred Lawrence, and Rosalind Marquis, is the story of a young singer who makes good in Hollywood through the shrewd efforts of a fast talking and faster thinking talent agent.

Woods plays the sort of the scout who takes a group of chorus girls across the country in a bus, an idea originating from the airplane trip made by the "Gold Diggers of 1937." Woods is fired by his bus on account of his extravagance. Soon afterward he discovers Jeanne Madden singing in a small town amateur night contest.

He takes her to Hollywood, fails at first to put her over, but by a clever ruse, he has the president of the company from which he was fired, begging for her at a fantastic salary. Thereafter she lives again on the screen when "Seventh Heaven," the Twentieth Century-Fox production of Austin Strong's immortal love story, returns to the Ritz

Theater Friday with Simone Simon and James Stewart in the starring roles on a double feature program with "Talent Scout."

A smart and light "script" written by George S. Kaufman and William Jacobson, and directed by William Clemens, the picture is especially interesting because of the manner in which it gives us the lowdown on Hollywood's inner workings.

Adapted from the stage play produced and directed by John Golden, "Seventh Heaven" recreates for screen audiences that star-crossed pair of Monameric Diana

heart to the stars.

Great Cast Appear In Film Coming To Ritz Wednesday

Bette Davis, Eddie Robinson And Humphrey Bogart Star In 'Kid Galahad,' Drama Of The Boxing Ring Based On Novel

Rosalind Marquis

With three famous stars heading the cast—Bette Davis, Edward G. Robinson and Humphrey Bogart—a drama of the prize-ring called "Kid Galahad" will show at the Ritz Theater Wednesday and Thursday.

Made from the best selling novel by Francis Wallace, an sports fictionist, the Warner Bros. thriller deals not only with those elements of the boxing ring with which everyone is familiar, but with the behind-scenes maneuvering of fighters and managers.

Eddie Robinson, staunchly backed by his girl friend, "Fluff" played by Miss Davis, has one contender for the championship. Bogart has another. There's an 11-round fight for the championship (said to be the most Jerry) thrown upon the screen), a duel to the death between the two mafias after the fight, some vast scenes of Madison Square Garden—and yet, with, a tender romance between Eddie's fighter and Eddie's sister.

Besides the three well-established stars previously mentioned, there's a new star, revealed in the person of Wayne Morris, a 23-year old newcomer who plays "Kid Galahad"—big, handsome blond boy who gets the name because he has reverent ideas about womanhood. And a new young leading lady in the person of Jane Bryan, with whom he falls in love.

Michael Curtis, the director who made "The Charge of the Light Brigade," "Captain Blood" and "Fast-moving photoplays, guided the making of this, from screen play by Eton E. Miller, adapted from the Wallace novel. "Kid Galahad" has had splendid expressed for this sensational French screen find, touching the deepest places of your heart and emerging gloriously as the screen's newest and greatest star.

Heaviest Battle Of Spain's War Raging In Madrid Section

Rebel Forces Launch Fierce Attacks To Hurl Government Soldiers Backward

Planes, Artillery Shower Opposition

Dueling Between Big Guns Echoes During Day In Capital City

MADRID, July 19.—(AP)—The heaviest battle of the Spanish civil war thus far raged west of here as insurgents launched a fierce drive to hurl government troops back to the capital.

Insurgent and government planes and artillery crashed bombs and shells into opposing lines near Brunete, the newly won government position 12 miles west of here.

In the air, an estimated 160 planes fought for supremacy with government forces gradually gaining a slight advantage.

Insurgent air forces renewed their smashing bombardment of government front lines and communication routes.

A duel between big guns, ranging in size from three to 10 inches, echoed all day in the capital.

LONDON, July 19.—Capture of another British merchant ship by the Spanish Nationalists and reports of widespread smuggling of war materials into Spain last night spurred efforts to find an intervention for the shattered non-intervention project.

The Admiralty announced that insurgent warships seized the British territorial waters, and merchant steamer Candelario Castle of the Spanish Biscay coast, were understood to be taking her to the rebel port of El Ferrol.

Altogether it was the second capture of a British ship by the insurgents within five days. It was indicated that the Government would make no protest to the Nationalists, inasmuch as British ships have been warned that they enter Spanish waters at their own risk.

At Madrid between 5,000 and 7,000 Nationalists and Loyalists were believed to have been killed or wounded yesterday in the largest battle of the year-old Spanish Civil War on the central front for possession of Brunete, strategic town about 14 miles west of Madrid.

A spokesman of the Loyalist Government said the battle was the most deadly and most costly of the war.

Employees Urged To Register For Security Number

J. L. Hurt Points Out Advantages Which Accrue Under Act

Deputy Collector J. L. Hurt of the Bureau of Internal Revenue warns all employees who are not in sympathy with the Social-Security Act, are misinformed, or do not understand the advantages which may be obtained from it, to investigate its provisions and the application for registration numbers immediately.

Mr. Hurt stated that whether a worker is registered for benefits or not, 1 percent is deducted from his regular wages regardless. The deducted amount is matched with an equal sum by the employer who then presents his returns to the collector.

It is to an employee's advantage to register under the new plan in order that his old age account may be increasing while he is earning taxable wages. The United States Government guarantees that 3 1/2 percent of every dollar earned since Jan. 1, 1937 will be paid back in the form of a pension after he has reached the age of 65, or, in the event of death before that age, a lump sum, made from the amounts deducted from his wages will be paid to a beneficiary.

Three requirements which must have been met before payment of the pension is made are: the worker must have earned taxable wages for at least five days, each of which is in a different year, must have earned a total of $2,000 in taxable wages, and must have retired after reaching the age of 65.

If it is impossible for the employee to fulfill all three of the requirements, he is paid 3 1/2 percent of his total wages earned since the act was put into effect.

Other private retirement plans may cost the beneficiary from 1 1/2 to 2 percent of his wages.

Tax returns are required from all who employ one or more persons whether for a day, week, month, or year, or if his monthly wage total amounts to more than fifty cents.

Mr. Hurt warned that if any employers have not filed applications for an identification number, or are delinquent in making their tax returns, they are taking chances that may cause embarrassment.

Worker's applications definitely state, if deductions are not made, the latter is responsible for the payment of both taxes and the monthly returns.

Mr. Hurt is in the Post Office every Wednesday to receive tax returns and give authorized information about the Federal tax or the filing of the returns. He stated that the above provisions of the new act are covered by law and that the same penalties for income tax may be levied for Social Security.

It is imperative that all employees see that proper deductions are made from their earnings and that the returns are filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue.

At the present time, more than 25,000 employees are registered for account numbers under the plan.

Hunt For Missing Fliers Abandoned By Naval Vessels

Fate Of Earhart And Noonan Lies Locked In Pacific Waters

HONOLULU, July 19.—(AP)—The mystery of Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan, missing world fliers, lay locked in the silent water wastes of the vast Pacific. Four naval vessels and 160 men, who sought the woman flier and her navigator for 18 days gave them up for dead and sailed for home.

More than 250,000 square miles of equatorial ocean—reefs and islands were scanned by ship and plane in the almost hopeless search for the pair who disappeared from sight July 2.

Nowhere near a dot on the sea called Howland Island, the instrument closest to the scene, at Fordham University here, obtained no record of the phenomenon. No damage was done.

Mr. Hurt is in the Post Office every Wednesday to receive tax returns and give authorized information about the Federal tax or the filing of the returns. He stated that the above provisions of the new act are covered by law and that the same penalties for income tax may be levied for Social Security.

It is imperative that all employees see that proper deductions are made from their earnings and that the returns are filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue.

At the present time, more than 25,000 employees are registered for account numbers under the plan.

Pail Of Kerosene Thrown On Fire, Is Almost Disastrous

A bucket of kerosene which an employee mistook for water added fuel to the fire caused by the explosion of a kerosene stove in the atmosphere on the Red Front Gratereller on Sanford Avenue last Saturday night. Joe Tatum, assistant chief of the local Fire Department, reported today.

A kerosene stove which was being used to heat water in the rear of the store exploded scattering flame and kerosene. An employee, seeing a bucket of what he supposed to be water dashed it on the fire and immediately the entire rear of the building became a burning inferno. The local Fire Department arrived at the scene in time to prevent any large amount of damage to the building.

Assistant Chief Tatum estimated damages to the building at $150 and that approximately $100 damage was done to the stock. The stock, he said, was damaged mostly by the water from two water hoses which burst during the conflagration.

Naval Craft Enroute To Charleston For Over-hauling Runs Ashore In Bahamas

JACKSONVILLE, July 19.—(AP)—Five Coast Guard boats started today to the aid of the Navy cruiser Omaha, aground off Castle Island in the Bahama Islands.

Coast Guard divisional headquarters here reported it had no details of the grounding or the seriousness of the cruiser's position.

The order from Washington merely indicated the Coast Guard to give all possible assistance. Two Coast Guard boats on the South Atlantic seaboard and one from Puerto Rico and one from the Virgin Islands were ordered to proceed to the scene.

The Coast Guard at Mobile, Ala., directed the fifth boat to proceed from Pensacola. The Navy Department at Washington said the Omaha is in no serious danger. The cruiser was enroute from central American water to Charleston, S. C., for overhauling before proceeding to European waters.

Orlando Rotarian Speaker At Weekly Meeting At Valdez

related his recent experiences in Europe as a delegate to the International Rotary Convention in Nice, France, at the regular weekly luncheon of the local Rotary Club at the Valdez Hotel.

Mr. Lee told of a "war of flowers" in which opponents pelted each other with truckloads of blossoms, and a trip through Czechoslovakia.

While in Italy, Mr. Lee and about 125 other Rotarians were present at a ten minute conference with Mussolini. He heard Hitler speak to the women to work hard in the fields and have more children and come home with the opinion that Italy was not in the desperate straits that every one supposed.

Mussolini stated that he was sorry for the United States because of the strikes and internal turmoil, Mr. Lee said.

Mr. Lee visited many sites in the ancient cities of Pompeii and Rome and was very much pleased with the beautiful sights.

The Rev. Paul Helleahan, pastor of the Methodist Church, was a guest at the meeting.

Vital Ultimatum Is Issued Threatening Independent Action Unless Firing Stops

Threat Follows Fighting Renewal

Conflict Renewed After Report Sunday Of Unofficial Truce

TOKYO, July 19.—(AP)—Domestic (Japanese) News Agency dispatch from Tientsin tonight said the Japanese army command there had served a virtual ultimatum on the Chinese military, declaring it would "take independent action" unless all Chinese firing against the Japanese ceases immediately.

The threat followed renewal of fighting in the zone west of Peiping where Japanese and Chinese troops have been in intermittent conflict since July 7.

Japanese reports said the fighting started again today after unconfirmed reports of an unofficial truce yesterday.

Foreign observers had expressed the opinion Chinese resistance to Japanese demands in the North China trouble was broken after learning from Tientsin that Japanese officials and General Sung Chek-Yuan, chairman of the Hopeh-Chahar political council and commander of the 20th army had reached an agreement.

The Chinese general was reported to have agreed to withdraw Chinese troops in the area west of Peiping, apologize for the Wanpingchuan incident of July 7 in which troops of the 20th army clashed with Japanese, punishment of those responsible for the incident and suppression of anti-Japanese movements and communists.

Only a few reconnaissance officers, not from the 20th or central government armies, were found in Chungshtien and there was no indication that new central government troops would arrive.

Chinese reports said three troop trains in Honan and Hopeh Provinces were attacked by Japanese planes, machine gunners killing two Chinese and wounding 20 others.

Chapman Hears Grand Master Deliver His Address In Miami

RALPH B. CHAPMAN, Miami Grand Master of Masons, addressed a meeting of New York State Masons at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Miami today.

Robert F. Wagner, New York Democrat, asked him to voice opposition to the Roosevelt Supreme Court nomination.

"If members of churches and fraternal organizations throughout the United States practiced what they preached, there was stronger spirit of united brotherhood the present strike conditions would probably not exist."

The grand master did not bear the blame for labor troubles in either side.

"The United States ranks first in the world in fraternal organizations," he said. "America is essentially made up of fraternal people. It is a good thing to realize more can always be accomplished through united efforts."

One of the most important and serious objectives of the Knights Templar, a branch of Masons, is an educational fund fund. As now related, the fund now totals four and a half million dollars and since 1923 has been used to aid more than 3,000 students in obtaining a college education.

"Masonry is an ancient organization and it has always had definite and legitimate purpose of some nature," declared Chapman. "It does not support propaganda nor does it involve itself in politics. It has made steady progress and its membership has increased steadily. Its doors are open to all."
