

Trained Eyes Are Watching For Hurricanes

SCOTT AFB, Ill.—Many trained eyes—among them the USAF Hurricane Hunters, the 3rd Weather Reconnaissance Squadron—are watching for tropical hurricanes which form in the Caribbean, southern North Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico and threaten the coast areas of Florida, the Gulf coast and the entire US eastern seaboard. The Hurricane Hunters are a unit of the USAF Air Weather Service, a component of the Military Air Transport Service.

Hard at work on the 1968 hurricane season, which officially began June 1, is the National Hurricane Center. Located in Miami, the center is manned by US Weather Bureau specialists. Realizing that little can be done to lessen the force of the big storms, weathermen combine their efforts to provide advance warnings to civilian populations and military installations in the expected path of a tropical storm.

Key man in the Air Force hurricane-warning network is the USAF Hurricane Liaison Officer. His job is to follow through from the first report of a tropical storm to the issuance of the actual hurricane warning.

Stationed at the Miami center, this officer triggers a warning service to Air Force and Army installations. Warnings for civilian interests and the general public are issued by the US Weather Bureau, also through the Miami center. Air Force and Navy installations and ships at sea receive their basic forecasts from the Weather Bureau and tailor them to their unique needs.

When a tropical storm or hurricane is reported, the center goes on a 24-hour watch. The center's staff is increased nearly 30 percent and vacations for the watchful weathermen are out of the question.

Hurricane reports are relayed to the center via USAF and Federal Aviation Agency teletype circuits. This data—the lifeblood of the hurricane-warning system—is collected by Air Force and Navy weather reconnaissance aircraft. Additional reports are received from ships at sea, island and coastal stations and transport aircraft.

Air Force and Navy weather planes fly daily and special weather reconnaissance missions over the million and a half square miles of the oceanic areas adjacent to the United States. This territory is divided into three areas: an Air Force area, a Navy area, and a joint USAF-USN area.

The Navy area covers the Gulf of Mexico, the Caribbean sea and a portion of the Atlantic east of the Antilles. The joint USAF-USN area lies along the eastern seaboard from New York city south nearly to San Juan, Puerto Rico. Widest point of this territory extends some 600 miles from the US coastline.

The 33rd Weather Reconnaissance Squadron, operating this year for the last season from Kindley Air Force Base on the island of Bermuda, before moving in September to Hunter AFB, Ga. covers the Air Force area.

This area flanks the joint area from Puerto Rico to New York city and the eastern seaboard to St. John's Newfoundland, and extends eastward to the European-African coast.

In season and out, the squadron's aircraft probe the skies above the Atlantic, furnishing data that fills blank spots on the weather charts.

During the annual hurricane season, the squadron receives a daily teletype message from the USAF liaison officer in Miami which outlines the reconnaissance requirement for the following 24 hours. When an immediate report is needed, a direct telephone request is made by the liaison officer.

Throughout the season, daily weather missions are made along fixed routes over the Atlantic. Special storm flights are provided by diversions; a routine flight into a storm area.

COLOR FEATURE OF THE WEEK

The Chamber's John Krider is being teased that while he was on vacation Seminole County "lost" a $1 million-a-month industry—that bolts raid.

Some city officials were kicking it around that the new cigarette tax will net Sanford more than $20,000 extra each year. Visiting HLI people informed the city people that HLI's payroll has totaled $650,000 since it began operations in January—a lot of salaries to buy a lot of cigarettes . . . and other things . . . toward city tax receipts.

Sanford Nationals all-star baseball team needs some help. The youngsters, district champions, are slated to take part in the state Little League tournament at Panama City Monday . . . but they need transportation. Any contributions may be made to the City Recreation office or call 322-8551.

City police searching for some youthful vandals who entered a vacant house on Mayfair Circle, burned paper in all the rooms and closets, set fire to the window shades and otherwise caused damage.

George Harriet, temporarily a Sanford police officer who was recently graduated with honors from Florida State University, has been offered a scholarship at Duke University law school.

Board of directors of Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will hold its quarterly meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday at First Federal Reserve room. Wonder if they'll discuss the new airport site mentioned by Merle Warner in Wednesday's Herald?

Gene Williams, knocked out of that all-star North-South football game Saturday, underwent surgery on his knee Wednesday but will be out of football the rest of this year. He's in room 715 at Alachua General Hospital, Gainesville.

Frank S. Lamson, former city clerk and manager, and a former president of Sanford Kiwanis club, who died Tuesday, received posthumous tribute from Kiwanians Wednesday as they bowed for a moment of prayer in his memory. "In all the years I knew him," eulogized old friend Ed Lane, "I never heard Frank Lamson say an unkind word about anybody."

Altamonte Springs councilman Frank Gerhardt is in Winter Park Memorial Hospital, where he will undergo observation and treatment for two weeks.

Causalberry voters are reminded that next Monday is the registration deadline if they are to vote in the Sept. 6 special referendum on the new town charter.

Construction is being commenced on a theater on the north side of the Seminole Shopping Plaza at 438 and 17-92. Shopping centers and supermarkets springing up all over the county. Appears the investors believe in the future of Seminole County.

City police investigating reports of a local man harassing a young mother. Seems the man is well acquainted when the young husband is at work and has made attempts to enter the house, even to cutting a window screen. Police believe possibly the culprit was scared off today when a friend was waiting and fired a shot. Mised, though — the culprit was seen running away.

A note on the spindle reports The Herald's "table-hopping" Judy Turner is about to commence another weekly column, this one of social items and other interesting tidbits about Navy wives. Title of the new column will be "Jetstream" and will appear on Tuesdays.

Talking of social notes, The Herald's society editor, Cecelia Farmer, will be back at her desk Monday after an extended vacation.

MIAMI (UPI) — Mayor Waydon Burns of Jacksonville, probably the surest bet of all to make the 1964 race for governor, seems to be straining at the bit as much as his opponents in the lineup of unofficial candidates.

Burns arrived here Wednesday for a three-day organizational swing through Dade and Broward counties, and even announced who his campaign managers "would" be.

He picked former Miami Mayor Charles J. Conover, who headed the Burns forces here in the unsuccessful 1960 campaign, to be his chief again in Dade County.

He said Rep. Emerson Allworth would head the Burns organization in Broward.

ASC Group Sets Aug. 20-30 For Annual Election

A slate of nominees for the Seminole County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee now is being completed, Chairman Charles S. Lee announced today.

The slate will include six nominees, from which a county committee of three regular and two alternate members will be elected by farmers eligible to cast ballots in the election. The slate must be completed by Aug. 15.

The election will be held by mail, with ballots to be cast during the period Aug. 20 through Aug. 24. Eligible voters will be bona fide farmers or ranchers who are eligible to take part in one or more of the programs which the ASC Committee helps to administer.

The chairman explained that petitions signed by six or more eligible nominating persons for membership on the county committee will be received at the County Office through Aug. 10.

The names of persons so nominated will be included in the slate of nominees if they are willing and eligible to serve. To be eligible to hold office as a committeeman, a person among other qualifications, must be eligible to vote, must be a local resident, must not be or have been for one year a member of or a candidate on an elective governing body, with certain exceptions, and must not be a full-time employee of the USDA.

GIs, Koreans In Sharp Lookout

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Sweltering American and Korean soldiers of the United Nations Command patrolled gingerly along the truce line today on guard against further infiltrating from Communist North Korea.

Three skirmishes between UN troops and Red infiltrators Monday and Tuesday killed four North Koreans, three Americans and one South Korean in what has been called the gravest series of incidents since the Korean War ended 10 years ago last Saturday.

Over the years both sides have filed thousands of complaints about violations of the truce. In the two weeks before the latest series of skirmishes, five other North Korean infiltrators were killed.

But the new series was the worst concentration of incidents in record and it occurred six miles south of the demilitarized zone, the deepest Red penetration into South Korean territory since the war ended.

Political Puzzle:

How Big Will Be Negro Vote In '64?

By Al Kestner
United Press International
One of the great political mysteries of the day is how effective the Negro voter registration drive will be between now and election day next year.

The registration campaign, while mostly unexciting, is being pushed with quiet determination. Following virtually all major racial demonstrations this year, it has been announced by Negro leaders that the program would continue in the form of voter registration.

Such an announcement was made in Birmingham, Ala., last May following demonstration of near riot proportions. Some of the results are beginning to come to light.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who led the Birmingham civil rights drive, announced recently that 2,000 Negroes have been added to the voter rolls in six weeks, bringing the city's voting Negroes to about 14,000.

The Justice Department used the same figures Wednesday to show how far behind are Birmingham Negroes in voting status. In a suit demanding the government noted that of 116,100 Negroes eligible to vote only 14,000 are registered. There are 129,000 white voters among 224,000 eligible, the suit said.

George Bellamy, chairman of the Jefferson (Birmingham) County board of registrars and a defendant in the case, denies that his county discriminates against voter applicants. He explains that white and Negro applicants are given the same forms, are asked the same questions and hold up their right hands to swear to the same oath.

The Justice Department said it had photographed voting records for a year to gather evidence. It charged Negroes were tested strictly, the whites were given the easy way out.

Bellamy replies: "There is no grading system on the test. White and Negro applicants are graded exactly the same."

"The fact is that only in recent months have Negroes attempted to register. The whites have been registering all the time. Now the Negroes are trying to catch up in one year what was 100 years in the making. You can't do it."

Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers argued last week that some Negro voter applicants had refused to pledge they would bear arms for their country — one of the questions asked. He said he thought no one should be allowed to vote who wouldn't do that.

As the voter registration drive grows ever stronger, one thing appears obvious: The Justice Department will intervene more aggressively in the coming months. The Birmingham suit was the largest voter discrimination case ever filed.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States Steel Corp. Tuesday reported the highest second-quarter profits since the comparable period of 1960 and indicated that heavy stockpiling as a hedge against a possible strike was a major factor in the increase.

Lake Monroe Jottings

Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Good afternoon to you. Mrs. John Lanier called to say that they had company for a while. Her brother Ray Humphries and wife Lil were here for a few days. They are from the big state of Texas. And another brother Earl Humphries from Knoxville, Tenn., was also here and he sort of got a little Florida sand in his shoes and is planning to return here soon. That's nice. Now the Laniers are in Knoxville on a short visit. * * * Mrs. Lydia Sayers of Homestead is visiting her aunt Mrs. Emma Vihlen and cousin Olga Hunter at the Hunter home on Narcissus. She will be here 10 days. * * * Olga will be hostess tomorrow evening for the American Legion Auxiliary. * * * We want to send out our sympathy to the family of Mrs. Addie Brooks who passed away last week. She will be sadly missed by her children. * * * Pete and Mary Oglesby are enjoying their vacation camping and doing nothing but fish and more fishing. * * * Mary and Claude Hittell and Rena and Claude Hawkins have been having a good time also fishing this past week. * * * The Legion Baseball Team were guests of our son Bobby and us last Thursday evening at a hot dog party. The boys and their dates roasted hot dogs and had all the trimmings to go with them. After that they enjoyed dancing on the carport. They gave their coaches, Frank Thomas and George Perides, billfolds on which were engraved "Your Legion Boys '63." The Joel Fields from the Legion and George Toughy were their special guests. A wonderful time was had by all of the boys. * * * Hey kids it's August you know. School time is getting pretty close.

Are you ready? * * * D. C. and Pauline Spivey are announcing the engagement of their daughter Shirley to George Paul Leopold. They will be married on August 12th at the Monroe Baptist Church. All friends and relatives of Shirley's and George are invited to attend. * * * Speaking of D. C., we are very sorry to hear that he fell while working at the Navy Base and received a broken hip, shoulder and bruises. He has been transferred to the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando. We wish him a speedy recovery. * * * Monroe has also lost another one of its pioneers in the passing of Mrs. Addie Hittell. Our sympathy goes out to her bereaved family. She leaves behind four sons and four daughters. She will be sadly missed by all that know her. * * * I see a new home going up on Narcissus Ave. The builder is Johnny Walker. Also see that James Lee, who is also a builder, has started a new one on his lot, also on Narcissus. That's progress. * * * Each summer at the Home Demonstration Short Course in Gainesville we have received a daily news edition called the Grapevine which we looked forward to getting each day. Here is a short piece of phrase from one of them that might interest you. "Someone has said that we should move up a bit each year. The law of life is the law of growth. We either go forward or backward. The road forward is uphill and hard to travel, but the higher the hill, the finer the view. Keep going up-up beyond the petty things, beyond the tiny stings, overlooking, ignoring forgiving... with hearts too big to cherish hatred and malice, and souls that search the heavens for their inspiration." * * * This is a nice inspiration for the boys and girls in high schools and colleges who are about to go out in this big world on their own. And also remember here is what it takes to make that leader, which will be you.

10 Migrants Die In Worst Ohio Traffic Mishap

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — An outing to a drive-in movie ended in violent death Wednesday night when 10 persons, including eight young children, were killed in the worst traffic mishap in the history of highway patrolmen.

The dead were identified as Felix Campos, 61, of Florida City, Fla.; his wife, Catharina; and their children, Joseph, about 10, Rosa, about 16, David, about 3, and Teresa, about 5; and Guadalupe Chico, 6; his brothers, Ramon, 12, and Jaime, 7, and sister, Maria.

The Chicos were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Camilo Chico.

The Chicos and Campos were migrant farm workers employed by Emil Weber of near Elmore. A neighbor, Clayton Maggis, said the two families just arrived at Weber's farm this week.

A station wagon containing the victims was attempting to pass a tractor-trailer on a straight stretch of Ohio 51 about 10 miles southeast of here five miles north of Elmore when it slammed head-on into another tractor-trailer operated by Charles Strong, 58, of Swanton, Ohio.

Strong was released after treatment for minor injuries at a hospital here.

Recreation Program Off To Good Start

By Mrs. Adam Maller
The summer recreation program sponsored by the DeBary Civic Assn. got off to a good start with a full schedule of varied activities for the large number of youngsters participating.

Lessons in Folk Dancing were given at the Community Center last Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kreis and on Friday instructors in table tennis, volleyball, badminton, croquet and shuffleboard found the youngsters waiting for their chance to play.

Chairman James Rucker has advised that additional sets of games have been ordered to handle the large response to the program being held at the Center.

The "tiny tots" on Friday morning were seen making cutouts from colored paper and working on "something for mother" while others, who could read, read stories to the younger children under the supervision of three instructors.

Much to the delight of this group, a game of "Pin the Tail on the Donkey" also was conducted.

Older children met again on Friday night at the Center for Square Dance lessons given by Harold Jenkins.

Troop Review

Adm. D. L. McDonald Heads Largest Navy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adm. George W. Anderson Jr. hauled down his flag as chief of naval operations today and relinquished command of the world's largest Navy to an old friend and fellow aviator, Adm. David L. McDonald.

Employment Climbs To All-Time High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Labor Department reported today that the number of jobs held by Americans stayed above 70 million in July and climbed to a new all-time peak.

A decline in unemployment — which stood just below five million in June — also was reported when the department issued its monthly job figures. Employment usually rises in mid-summer when construction activities are providing work that is not available in colder months.

The joblessness, swollen in June when high school and college students seek summer jobs, normally drops off in July when many youngsters stop looking for work and leave the labor force.

Despite the favorable developments last month, government economists stressed that little dent has been made in long-term unemployment. A hard-core group — predominantly non-white and unskilled — has been unable to find jobs for months.

Unemployment has been above five per cent of the labor force for more than five years — ever since November, 1957. This means that during this period at least five out of every 100 persons actively seeking a job could not find one. The June rate was 6.7 per cent.

Brenda Babbit Represents Lyman At University Clinic

By Jane Casselberry
Brenda Babbit, who will be a junior at Lyman High this fall, attended the Gator Band and Choral Clinic held last week at the University of Florida at Gainesville as a representative for Lyman.

Brenda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Babbit of Red Bug Lake Rd., came in second for the Best Girl award, receiving a certificate of merit. A Best Girl and Best Boy were chosen by members of the faculty from among the 39 boys and 42 girls attending.

Brenda, piano accompanist for the Lyman Chorus last year, accompanied the Choral Union at the clinic.

The week's activities kept Brenda and the other high school youngsters on the go so much that she wore out a pair of shoes while there. The students were privileged to rehearse in a chorus entering a diplomatic world with which he is familiar from international military assignments.

McDonald, a soft-voiced Georgian with essentially the same hard ideas as Anderson on the Navy's future, became the nation's top-ranking sea officer in a colorful change of command ceremony at the Washington Navy Yard.

There were tributes from Navy Secretary Fred Korth, 10-gun salutes and full honors rendered by squads of Marines and sailors as the Navy observed the time honored tradition of swearing in a new chief.

McDonald's selection by President Kennedy, announced May 6, was a surprise throughout the Armed Forces. Not the least amazed was McDonald himself.

It had been expected generally that Anderson, top military man in last fall's Cuba crisis operations, would get a second two-year term at the Navy helm and, perhaps, succeed Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

McDonald had become a full admiral only on April 1, and had just moved from command of the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean to London to be commander of U. S. naval forces in Europe, the Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Rock-Throwing Whites Riot In Chicago's Worst Racial Clash

By United Press International
Hundreds of rock-throwing whites staged Chicago's worst racial outbreak in several years early today in front of the apartments of two Negro families who moved into a previously all-white neighborhood.

The area was blocked off, taverns closed and extra police summoned. The FBI and 5th Army Headquarters were alerted. There was fear the outbreak would spread to other parts of Chicago's South Side where most of the city's 800,000 Negroes live.

Officers arrested at least 37 persons during the melee in which four policemen were hurt. Two Negro boys were knocked off their bicycles and beaten.

It was the third night of demonstrations outside an apartment building into which the Negro families recently had moved. The Negro section

$4.1 Billion Foreign Aid Bill Pictured

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee sought today to complete action on a foreign aid bill for $4.1 billion — $428 million less than what the administration asked.

The House group, headed by Rep. Thomas E. Moran (D-Pa.), had scheduled a final vote Wednesday but was not able to finish work on the measure.

The bill contains, among other things, a ban on further U. S. aid to Indonesia unless President Kennedy makes a formal finding that such assistance is vital to U. S. interests. The committee rejected Wednesday an amendment calling for congressional review of any possible future decision by the administration to help India to build a giant, new steel plant.

Vote on the amendment, by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Mich.), was 17-to-15.

Other congressional news: Space: House members faced a vote on a trimmed-down version of the administration's budget for the federal space agency. The committee approved bill represented a cut of $475 million from the administration request of $5.7 billion.

Rails: The Senate Commerce Committee expected to wind up today testimony on the administration's proposal to let the Interstate Commerce Commission settle the railroad work rules dispute.

Nuclear Test Ban Treaty Views Differ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "It will be a black day for all people if we do not take this first step for peace." "It is another give-in to the Reds."

These conflicting views on whether the United States should sign the nuclear test ban treaty with Russia were among more than 2,000 letters and telegrams that have poured into the White House on the issue. Both messages came from California.

The White House reported that messages to President Kennedy were running about 12 to 1 in favor of the test ban agreement. It gave reporters a look Wednesday at a random selection of the letters and telegrams received since Kennedy's address to the nation Friday night.

A telegram from Washington state told the President that "fathers and mothers thank you" and one from Brooklyn said "anybody opposing the treaty should have his head examined." A Democratic club in California telegraphed praise for the treaty and urged "more high level conferences."

"It is our opinion that this proposal is nothing more than a victory for the cowardly pacifists," a Chicago couple wrote. "We feel that the American people should be expected to think that they can rely on the signature of the Soviet Union."

Another Chicagoan asked, "How many times does the West have to be sucked in by Russia before she finally realizes that any peaceful-seeming concession such as the test ban treaty is merely another chess move in Russia's game to win the world?"

"If we are foolish enough to disarm, then Communism has us bound and will take over," a Montana couple wrote.

From Arizona came a telegram opposing the treaty, saying that Khrushchev should be made to tear down the Berlin wall and remove Russian troops from Cuba and other countries.

"A test ban without an absolute foolproof inspection is suicide," said a telegram from West Palm Beach, Fla. A Philadelphia woman wrote that the treaty "will stop future fallout, will lessen the arms race and might even lead to disarmament."

A letter from Madison, Wis. said it was "reassuring to know that our water and food will be less contaminated with strontium."

"You said what urgently needs to be said and you said it with power and authority," a letter writer in Nashville, Tenn., told Kennedy. "Even FDR could not have done better."

A letter from Urbana, Ill.,

said history may record the treaty as the most significant action of the Kennedy administration.

But an Indiana critic said the treaty could only help Russia and that experience over the past 17 years should show that it was worthless.

New-Name Thieves

There used to be a television game called "Beat the Clock." A game in real life that enjoys great favor today is called "beat the system."

Viewed lightheartedly, this is a kind of sporty rebellion against too many laws and rules, too much massiveness in business and government, too great an entrapment in the tangled thickets of modern society.

Surely this revolt has many harmless, amusing and even heartening manifestations. It is also unhappily a fact that as indulged in by many individuals, it is simply a cloak for thievery and cheating. The scale can be grand, or it can be very small.

One of the new "sports" in the system-beating line is limited largely to New York's theater world, but it illustrates well the way the game is played. It is sometimes called "second-acting."

You pick a musical or stage play you want to see badly, and then show up on the sidewalk outside the theater to wait for the first-act curtains to come down. When the crowd drifts back in, you go along—for free. You take any empty seat you can find, or join the standees.

Of course, you never get to see the whole show but you can hardly complain when your paying seatmate is putting out $7.50 or $9.00.

There are, naturally, many ways of wesseling your way into sporting events and other costly affairs. Where hotels, motels, restaurants and night clubs are concerned, beating the system consists mostly of taking things that don't belong to you. A line has to be drawn here. The fellow who backs up a truck or station wagon and cleans out a room right down to the lavatory seats is a thief. The man who walks out with a lamp or a television set is just proving to the management that it can be done.

It isn't just the profit-making outfits that suffer the ingenuities of the system-busters. In one large city, the public library loses 200,000 books a year—a tenth of its whole stock.

Talk to factory managers, store managers, construction supply bosses almost anywhere and you'll get a well filled out picture of what "beating the system" means.

Those who use things, without either buying or stealing, are really on the fringes of the game. They lack nerve. Typical, at the petty level, are the folk who read books, magazines and newspapers at the stands without laying out a nickel. Some muster just enough defiance to toss the wrinkled product carefully back on the pile.

Generally, these varied efforts are brought off with a smile and a jaunty air. The idea seems to be that in a society which has the size and weight and pace of a glacier, it can be positively therapeutic to dash about slashing at it with an icpick.

Luckily there are still millions of Americans who believe, however, that beating the system doesn't mean robbing it, that vibrant individuality can find defiant voice by means wholly honorable and decent.

Treaty Excites Capital

WASHINGTON — Washington is teeming with suppressed excitement over the prospects opened up by the test-ban treaty agreed to last week between the U. S., Great Britain and the Soviet Union. Excitement because at last—18 years after the Baruch Plan for control of atomic energy was presented to the United Nations—agreement has been reached on the first step toward international control of the forces of nuclear destruction. Suppressed excitement because Washington so well remembers the past occasions when disappointed hopes for a showdown of the international arms race. Excitement in official administration circles is doubly restrained by the fact that the test ban agreement has yet to be ratified by two-thirds of the Senate—which under our Constitution must give its "advice and consent" to all treaties.

The President's address to the nation last Friday had the two-fold purpose of allaying Senate doubts about the test-ban and arousing public support for it. The public support was instantaneous. The morning after the Presidential broadcast both the White House and Senate offices were swamped with messages approving Kennedy's position. The Senate reaction to the President's arguments for the treaty is harder to assess and will, of course, not be finally known until the question of approval comes to a vote some weeks from now. But a morning after reading of the Congressional tea leaves indicates that Kennedy's speech had a heavy impact on the Senate as well as the public.

Those Senators who oppose any effort to lessen tensions in the cold war and reject the possibility of peaceful coexistence with the Russians naturally were not impressed. Some who were undecided about the merits of a ban on nuclear testing report that they were swayed.

For some, the "escape clause" which specifies the right to resume testing almost immediately in the event of any action imperiling our national security was the persuasive factor. They already had been impressed by the view our strategists have privately conveyed to key members of Congress in recent days that under the test-ban treaty neither side will be able to make weaponry advances that can alter the balance of nuclear terror. The "escape clause" gave assurance in writing.

Other doubtful Senators bought the argument that a treaty, open to all nations to sign, was one of the few ways to approach the critical problem of bringing France and China into the test-ban circle.

But the argument that probably has done most to turn the Senate from "doubtful" to "probable" on the question of ratifying the test-ban treaty is the argument of self-interest on the part of both parties in adhering to it. They have accepted President Kennedy's carefully worded assessment that "the nations which will sign this treaty prefer it to unrestricted testing as a matter of their own self-interest. For all nations have a stake in limiting the arms race, in halting the spread of nuclear weapons and in breathing air that is not radioactive."

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The two most important words to remember in connection with the new American-British-Russian nuclear test ban agreement are that this is admittedly just a "first step" toward reduction of international tension and strengthening of peace.

American officials emphasize that it would be wrong to think that initialing of this limited agreement indicates any new direction in Soviet foreign policy or the goals of international communism.

While the treaty preamble proclaims that its principal aim is "achievement of an agreement on general and complete disarmament under strict international controls," that objective may not be realized for a long time.

The treaty does not provide for inspection to verify blasts that might be of nuclear origin. Up to now, the United States has insisted it must have such inspections.

Russia has opposed inspections as spying.

The reason given for what appears to be the United States surrender on this point is that no on-site inspection is needed to detect tests in the atmosphere, in outer space or under water, which are covered by the agreement.

The United States, the United Kingdom and Soviet Russia can check on each other's clandestine testing by atmospheric measurements of radiation and fallout.

Launching satellites into outer space is of course expensive, but it can be done if considered necessary to check on far-out nuclear testing.

Seismographic, hydro-acoustic or even water sampling tests for radioactivity can effectively police underwater nuclear explosions.

Underground testing was not included in the nuclear test ban agreement to get around the present inability to detect it. A ban on underground testing is therefore deferred for later negotiation as an amendment to the treaty, after detection methods have been perfected by the scientists.

Further steps for making the new agreement effective may not be completed much before the end of this year. After the initialing will come the formal signing in Moscow.

The treaty will then go before the United States Senate for hearing in which military and civilian leaders who fear that the United States is surrendering its security will have their say.

After ratification by the Russian government, the British parliament and two-thirds majority of the Senate, a proclamation signed by the three heads of government would put the agreement into full force.

Other nations will then be given a chance to deposit their ratifications in Washington, London and Moscow.

This provision will separate the good guys from the bad. If France, Red China, the United Arab Republic, Israel or any other country that has been reported toying with the development of its own nuclear force doesn't sign up, it will be identified as a bad hat.

Signatory countries can then take such measures as they see fit to reform or isolate the non-signers. Avoidance of nuclear weapons production by more nations is one of the principal purposes of the test ban treaty.

The treaty may be amended on motion of one-third of the countries signing it, on approval by two-thirds of the signers. But the United States, Britain and Russia are given veto power over amendments.

Any country can withdraw from the agreement on three months' notice if it considers its supreme interests have been jeopardized.

Testing of weapons by a bad-guy country might be considered such an excuse. These are major loopholes in the agreement.

The 18-nation conference on general disarmament is now scheduled to resume in Geneva, Switzerland, July 30. Ambassador Charles Stille is the top U. S. negotiator.

There is scant hope that this conference will immediately begin making progress on gradual arms reduction under full inspection.

But it is hoped other limited agreements might be reached, preparing the way for general disarmament, one step at a time, many years ahead. It's slow business.

First Federal Savings & Loan Association

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE Q-410: Hal D., aged 42, is a member of a nudist camp.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "don't you think it is a healthful practice to go without clothes?"

"So why do many doctors, as well as laymen, show such aversion to the nudist idea?"

"And wouldn't there be less sexual crime if people went naked?"

Let's answer Hal's last question first.

Yes, there would probably be far less sexual crime if everybody omitted clothes!

For it isn't the nude body that is a suggestive sexuality as the partially clothed body.

The modern bikini bathing suits actually lessen a woman's erotic exciting value, for they are too revealing.

Men don't go to a burlesque show to see naked women. No, they go to watch stage girls in robes.

It is the act of disrobing that arouses them sexually rather than the totally nude figure.

For it is the mystery of the unknown that intrigues man's mind.

Contrary to the popular notion, therefore, nudist camps do NOT promote sexuality. Instead, they tend to make men impotent.

"But what about the health value of nudity?" Hal inquires.

That's malarkey. God expected our skin to be screened from the dangerous ultra-violet rays of bright sunlight.

That's why he automatically covered all other animals and birds with fur or feathers.

Oh, they may molt and thus shed part of their heavy winter covering in the spring, but they ALWAYS keep their skin shielded from the sun!

God gave us a superior brain, apparently figuring we'd be smart enough to devise clothing as a shield to our own skin.

But a false notion has been abetted by modern advertising, namely, that a tanned skin is healthier than the untanned.

Actually, the reverse is true!

For bright sunlight on bare skin flares up apparently healed cases of tuberculosis. It also starts up peptic ulcers afresh.

And it promotes skin cancers.

The very act of tanning is the skin's feeble, last-ditch attempt to compensate for the stupidity of the human brain in thus leaving off clothing!

For tanned skin partially reduces the absorption of ultra-violet rays, so the tanned skin is desperately trying to protect your health.

But clothing does a far better job than the tanned skin. Your doctor can tell you that you get all the ultra-violet light your body needs via your hands and face, even when shielded under a shade tree or a broad-brimmed hat!

So quit being "suckers" for this sun-tan craze.

Furthermore, clothing protects the skin from insects and scratches by weeds.

Farmers still smile in dejection at visiting city slickers who work in the fields in shorts.

For real farmers wear denim shirts with sleeves, plus overalls!

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Stop - Goldwater Move On

The draft-Goldwater movement has taken off, and the stop-Goldwater movement is revving up to fly.

Recently at the National Guard Armory in Washington, D. C., took place the National Draft Goldwater Independence Day Rally NDG-IDR. This was a flamboyant affair, with a parade of the political organization is developing to obtain his nomination for president.

The stop-Goldwater movement is less evident. It is in the works, however. It is a rule of politics that when one individual becomes a front runner, all others gang up on him.

Another well known fact of politics is that you cannot beat somebody with nobody. That is to say, if you want to withhold the convention delegation of Pennsylvania, for example, from Aspirant A, then you should offer some other individual to whom the delegation may be committed, if only for a short time.

Thus it was that Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton said last month that he may be his state's favorite son candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

A favorite son gives convention delegates a temporary place to roost and a strong point from which to bargain before committing themselves to a major candidate for the presidential nomination.

Scranton cannot be brushed off, however, as a minor candidate. Republican National chairman William E. Miller, recently listed Scranton, Goldwater, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Michigan's Gov. George Romney as the four men among whom his party will find its 1964 presidential nominee.

It follows that Romney and Rockefeller will be pressured openly to join the stop-Goldwater movement. Rockefeller already is in and running on his own account, although not publicly committed. Romney is coy but is likely, at the least to be Michigan's favorite son candidate next year.

The stoppers will need others. They will look among states with Republican governors or U. S. senators, but not among all of those states.

Recently from Denver, it was reported that Colorado Republicans were organizing a western bloc of convention delegates around the favorite son candidacy of Sen. Gordon L. Allott, R-Colo. This was interpreted as a maneuver to consolidate Goldwater's Mountain States strength. The stoppers, in turn, undoubtedly will seek to enlist California. The governor there is a Democrat, but one senator, Thomas H. Kuchel, is a Republican. Kuchel probably would feel at home in a stop-Goldwater operation.

Polls indicate that Rockefeller's remarriage to a divorced woman flipped Goldwater ahead. There have been various polls in recent weeks, all of them reflecting an upsurge of Goldwater strength. Sentiment at recent Republican gatherings seemed to concede Goldwater's steadily increasing prestige.

11 - Pause At Top

Don't be in a hurry to start the downswing phase of your game.

You must have perfect balance and control of the club at the top of the backswing before you are properly prepared to start the club back down.

Though I wouldn't recommend anything other than the one-piece swing, at the beginning you would do well to pause slightly as you reach the top. This will enable you to start the downswing with a smooth, unhurried motion. Instead of lunging at the ball. As your swing develops timing and rhythm, this pause actually will blend into the swing without your executing a deliberate halt.

When the club is approximately half way down, the weight starts to shift to the left side.

Timing and the head speed of the club produce distance. You should not be interested in distance in the early phase, but should know on what to concentrate in order to attain it when ready.

Most of the speed of the clubhead is generated when it is only three or four feet from the ball.

This is where the power of the timing of the wrists comes into play.

As the wrists uncoil in the hitting area, the arms come straight through and the body follows the natural turn to the left.

At the time of impact, the hands and arms should have returned practically to their original position, although the hands should not be ahead of the ball.

The clubhead then will follow through after the ball, if you will permit it to do so and swing on through.

NEXT: The follow through.

Will College Football Be 'Ruled' To Death?

ATLANTA (UPI) — What is was, was football. What it will be this season — football or something that resembles a Chinese fire drill — depends on your point of view.

The controversy started last winter when the NCAA rules committee decided to change substitution rules.

The stated purpose of the change was to force coaches to train more players for both offense and defense and also to simplify sideline bookkeeping.

Dodgers Back In Seat With Win Over Mets

United Press International

The Los Angeles Dodgers were back in the "cat bird seat" today because the bubble burst for the San Francisco Giants and poor Craig can't win for losing.

The Dodgers made the most of six hits Wednesday night to beat Craig and the New York Mets, 3-3, while the Philadelphia Phillies snapped the Giants' nine-game winning streak with a 14-inning 7-3 victory.

It was Craig's 17th straight defeat—one short of the National League record set by Clifton Curtis of the old Boston Braves in 1910.

A walk, a single by Ron Fairly, a triple by John Roseboro and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis in the second inning accounted for three Los Angeles runs and two more singles, an error by New York second baseman Ron Hunt plus a wild pitch by Craig scored two more in the fourth inning.

That proved more than enough as Pete Richert, Ken Rowe and Ron Perranokki held the Mets off to nail down the victory.

Combined with the Giants' loss to the Phils, it restored the Dodgers' first-place lead to 4 1/2 games.

Juan Marichal was cruising along with a 3-0 lead when the Phils scored a run in the eighth and then chased him with two more in the ninth.

In the 14th the roof fell in for the Giants. Bob Ollis led off with a single off reliever Bub Babin and Don Hoak reached first when Ed Bailey was charged with obstruction on a sacrifice bunt.

Earl Averill grounded to Babin who threw wildly past third, permitting two runs to score and then Johnny Callison unloaded a two-run homer to wrap it up.

The third-place Cardinals also lost ground, slipping to five games off the pace, when they dropped a 9-2 decision in the Cincinnati Reds. In the other NL games, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros, 6-3, and the Chicago Cubs nipped the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2.

Ramos Scalps 15 Angels With SOs As Indians Win

United Press International

Cleveland right-hander Pedro Ramos struck out 15 Los Angeles batters Wednesday and socked two home runs in a 9-5 nightcap victory. The Indians won the opener from the Angels, 1-0.

Ramos hit his first homer in the third inning off loser Eli Grba and connected again in the sixth when the Indians tied the major league record by belting four consecutive homers of shell-shocked Paul Foytack.

Woodie Held launched the barrage and Ramos, Tito Francona and Larry Brown followed with back-to-back blows that tied the mark set by Milwaukee's Ed Mathews, Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Frank Thomas on June 10, 1961.

Ramos went 8 1/2 innings Wednesday night before Gary Bell came on to preserve his fifth victory.

Pedro was nicked for 11 hits, including homers by Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner, but the Indians hit six.

Pitchers' Night In State League

United Press International

It was pitchers' night last night in the Florida State League. There were five games—and there were five shutouts.

St. Petersburg blanked league-leading Sarasota 3-0, Miami nipped Fort Lauderdale 1-0, and Orlando downed Daytona Beach 4-0. Lakeland and Tampa traded shutouts in Tampa. Lakeland won the first 4-0, and Tampa bounced back to take the nightcap 5-0.

Bob Proctor held the Sun Sox to one hit, a single by Bill Hicks, while the Saints got four.

Miami's Ferguson Jenkins struck out 12 in spinning a three hitter against the Yankees. The Marlins scored the game's lone run in the bottom of the first inning.

Tampa's Ed White allowed just two singles, both in the seventh, in beat Lakeland in the second game of their doubleheader. In the first game Lakeland blanked the Tarpons to hold a 4-0 lead it took in the top of the first.

Tonight Sarasota is at Tampa, Daytona Beach at Miami, Orlando at Fort Lauderdale, and St. Petersburg at Lakeland.

Stars In Last Drill

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Coliseum All-Stars will get their last light drill today in preparation for Friday's attempt to end the Green Bay Packers' winning streak in the 30th annual football All-Star game.

One Southeastern Conference official sees two immediate benefits from these new rules: The development of two-way players and stopping coaches from calling every play from the bench.

However there are a lot of loopholes—especially for the team on offense. The team with the ball can stop the clock by running out of bounds or with an incomplete pass. Either team can substitute up to 11 players on second or third pass. Either team can substitute up to 11 players on second or third down as often as it is willing to give up one of its four-a-half time-outs. Or, time-outs used up, as often as it is willing to take a 5-yard penalty in exchange for substitutions.

Time-outs are no help on fourth down or ball-changing situations. Then the limit is two.

Another complication: When the offensive team makes a first down the substitution rule applying is the same as for second and third downs. The only time the first down play is limited to two substitutions is immediately after the ball has changed hands.

Teams that favor the three-team system—such as Louisiana State, Florida and Army—insist that the new rules have forced them to remodel. LSU coach Charlie McLenendon means that the changes meant the death of the "Chinese Handita," the Bengals' defensive specialists.

There's another rule change that may not stir up in the offense. This is a rule that allows the quarterback to be a pass receiver. In the past, the man who took a direct handoff from center was not eligible to catch passes.

Alice Sexton In 196 Game

ROY ROOPER

ATLANTIC CITY — (NEA) —One of the most promising apprentices expected to ride at Atlantic City is 22-year-old Michael Hole, a native of Kent, England.

In the Holler Motors Navy Vixen League, Alice Sexton substituting for VAI-9 OW team, had a high game of 190 for a 459 series. Other high games were rolled by: Isabel Goshorn 178, E. Fitzpatrick 163, Ann Fall 162, M. A. Williams 158.

Suzy Reno converted a split almost never done: 7-9-10, Chris Lovelace, Alice Sexton and Suzy Reno picked up the 3-10 split, Jean McGuire the 4-7 and Pat Siple 5-7.

The Mixed Matos are still in the first place with 35 wins, VAI-9 OW second with 33 wins and Chief Feathers third with 27 wins.

153 Tee Off In St. Paul Open

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — The bread and butter shooters of the professional golf circuit tee off today in the 72-hole $35,000 St. Paul Open over Keller's shaggy fairways.

A packed field of 143 pros and 10 amateurs promised a close battle for the $5,300 first place prize over the 6,600-yard par 72 Keller course.

Most pros agreed the tournament would be won on the strength of a short iron game and accuracy on the greens.

Keller's open fairways have never proven much challenge to the touring money players.

The purse for this year's event is the St. Paul Open's richest but it still failed to lure the gallery-gathering stars who are using the break to rest up for bigger payoffs ahead.

Disdaining the tourney were Arnold Palmer, Julius Boros, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Sam Snead, and Bob Charles.

Doug Sanders is defending champion and will have fast company from the likes of Jerry Barber, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Jay and Lionel Hebert, Jacky Coult, Tommy Bolt, Gene Littler, Bruce Crampton, Tommy Aaron and a host of others.

Six name players informed tournament officials Wednesday they would not attend due to physical infirmities. Included were Phil Rodgers, Dave Ragan, Bob Gonyea, Art Wall, Gardner Dickinson and Bill Casper.

The course record is 268, set by Mike Souchak in 1956, but a consensus of the pros today revealed the mark is relatively safe this year. Most entrants feel the winner will tour the layout in a total around 268-270.

Mickey Wright Open Favorite

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Lanky Mickey Wright, tuning up with a sizzling four under par 68 after a two-week break from competition, was established as the favorite to keep her crown at the start today of the $12,500 Milwaukee Kaycee Women's Open golf tournament.

But veteran Patty Berg, who has been out of action for several months, with a bad wrist, also wound up with a 68 in a preliminary round.

Another preliminary par-buster was Marilyn Smith, Tequesta, Fla., who has won two tournaments this year and currently ranks second behind Miss Wright in earnings. She had a 71 Wednesday.

Green Bay, with almost all veterans from last year's team still on hand, was a solid favorite to win by two to three touchdowns. The Packers will hold their last workout tonight under the lights of Soldier Field, where the game will be played.

State To Study Liston Problem

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The state athletic commissioner scheduled a conference today to discuss "alternative action" to keep the proposed Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title bout in Philadelphia.

Commissioner Alfred M. Klein called a meeting of the "parties involved" after a firm headed by Liston was denied a license to promote the fight here in late September.

The commission announced the action in Harrisburg Wednesday against Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., on ground that "no promoter may have an interest in a boxer" under Pennsylvania law.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Lloyd and I have been married five years. We have two children. I thought we were very happy until last week. A strange man telephoned me and told me that if my husband didn't stay away from his wife there would be trouble. When my husband came home I asked him point blank. He admitted that he and this married woman loved each other and had been seeing one another for a year. He said they were planning to get divorced and marry each other. Abby, Lloyd is 25 and she is 38! She has four children. Can this be love? Last night she and Lloyd sat and talked with me. They said they had decided to call it quits because of the children. Abby, they work together in the same plant, and I know they won't stop "loving" each other no matter what they say. Neither will I give up his job. What should I do?

BROKEN-HEARTED at 23

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: Assuming Lloyd and this woman WERE sincere in their promises to "call it quits", if they continue to work together, their good intentions won't last long. Tell Lloyd that you will believe that he means to "call it quits" when either HE or she quits the plant. Offer to move anywhere, but don't buy their story unless they are out of temptation's way.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who once weighed 230 pounds. I finally got down to 130. It took me almost a year, but I did it. I love myself this way, and I'll NEVER be fat again. What bothers me is people who say, "Oh, I liked you better fat!" Or, "Somehow you don't seem the same. You seem to have lost something in your personality!" Abby, how can you get along with people like that? THINNER and MADDER

DEAR THINNER: You don't "get along" with people like that. You try to get along without them. They'd miss a wart on the end of your nose if they had become accustomed to seeing it there. But would YOU?

DEAR ABBY: There is an elderly woman in our neighborhood who is driving everyone crazy. She is a dog-feeder. She makes her poor 72-year-old husband climb fences to feed other people's dog that are coupled up in their own yards. We have two dogs that we feed ourselves and we don't want anyone else feeding them. We are not alone in our complaints. The whole neighborhood is having trouble with these two nuts because of this. Isn't this a job for the police?

DOG OWNER

DEAR DOG OWNER: "Neighbor trouble" IS indeed a job for the police. But only after a warning visit has been made, without results.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from "Disgusted Husband" who complained because his wife had only an eighth grade education, and all she'd read in the newspaper was the funnies. He's lucky. My wife graduated from high school and she asks me to EXPLAIN the funnies to her.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3265, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS".

West's four spades is known as a barracade bid. He wanted to make it as hard as possible for his opponents to find their best spot.

North doubled. He had good defense against spades and no desire to play for 11 tricks anywhere, but South took the double out. Then North chose diamonds for trump.

East won the spade opening with the ace, not the king, and promptly returned a low spade. He had four trumps and high hopes of beating the contract if he could persuade South to trump that low spade.

He would have succeeded in his purpose if South had trumped in but internationalist Bobby Nall of Houston, who held the South cards,

trumped in but internationalist Bobby Nall of Houston, who held the South cards, went into a long huddle and elected to discard a low club. After West played a low spade Bobby won in dummy, drew trumps and outplayed a trick to the ace of clubs.

Bobby resumed as follows. "West would not jump to four spades with only three trumps so East has five spades only. East would not overcall with a five card suit headed by ace-king, therefore he must hold the king also. Of course, I can trump the spade and make the hand if diamonds break 2-2, but West did jump to four spades and may very well hold a singleton diamond. In that case, I can't afford to use a trump."

"My Son the Folk Singer," otherwise known as Allan Sherman, is a close runner-up along with Dan Aykroyd's rendition of "Mama" from a Brooklyn pool hall. We The Women:

A highly respected scientist says that man is fast losing out to machines. Women already have! The woman who does the family washing with the help of a washer-dryer doesn't get much credit for that hard weekly—or, in large families, daily chore.

Good Field

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — The 53rd annual United States Lawn Tennis Association National Doubles tournament, which begins Aug. 18 at the Longwood Club, was assured of an exciting women's field after Wimbledon champion Margaret Smith of Royal Ebbw, both of Australia, filled entry blanks Wednesday along with Wimbledon runner-up Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., and her doubles partner, Carol Caldwell of Santa Monica, Calif.

many hours she spends at the task, her husband and children assume that the automatic washer-dryer does all the work unaided. The machine gets all the credit.

Cleaning up a kitchen after a meal is still work, even when a woman is lucky enough to have a dishwasher to help with the job. But here again, families seem to assume that the dishwasher has taken over the whole job.

The housewife who has her own car is considered free as a bird because she has transportation. But the truth of the matter is she has become an unlicensed chauffeur-deliveryman. The car actually ties her to home, instead of setting her free.

And jobs that once were considered too heavy for the housewife to handle often become hers to do as soon as there is a machine to lighten the load.

Many more women now mow lawns with power mowers that ever pushed a hand mower, for instance.

Statistics have shown that today's housewives spend more hours working than women spent in the days before there were all these labor-saving machines around a home.

But the housewife doesn't get much thanks for all the hours she spends at her job. She has lost out to the machine. Even though it can't take the boys, it gets the credit, while the housewife is told what a snapp her job is.

Velusia Nurses Make 260 Calls

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
Miss Olive Seymour, District Supervisor of Velusia County nurses, reported at a recent directors meeting that the nurses made 260 calls last month for the West Velusia Home Nursing Assn.

The semi-annual report stated that 1,216 calls were made from Jan. 1 to June 30. About $1,169 was collected during that period; $700 from fees and $467 in contracts. Total cost of the six months was $3,087 or an average of $2.54 per visit.

The difference between collections and costs of the visits is made up through contributions and membership in the association.

E. T. Lloyd, treasurer, reported that two-thirds of the current fund drive goal had been reached.

Leading the popular sports car line is the sophisticated Consul Capri with its dartshaped sweep styling, and rakish sporty lines.

There's also the efficient little Anglia, in two economy styles, the capacious station wagon and the neat little two door model.

One of the features of the Anglia two door model is the weather-clear reverse incline rear window, which stays clean in all weather.

The station wagon is efficient and suitable for either chores or pleasant driving.

For the whole family, there's the five passenger Cortina, a sedan, quite a bit larger than the Anglia, but with the high economy engine and a four-speed gear box for that "sports car feel."

Capri has a smooth four cylinder OHV sports type engine that runs happily on regular gas, and of course, a four-speed gear box, too.

Disc brakes add to the pleasure of driving, and generous luggage compartments in all four cars are conventionally located in the back with the engine in the front for better balance.

Ford Motor Co. Ltd. in England has the largest self-contained vehicle manufacturing organization in Europe.

This huge plant is based on the parent Ford plant in Detroit and has complete facilities for designing, testing and producing vehicles rated "second to none."

All models are economy-priced, too, but give high cost performance, thrive on low cost regular gasoline, and spin along 6,000 miles between oil changes.

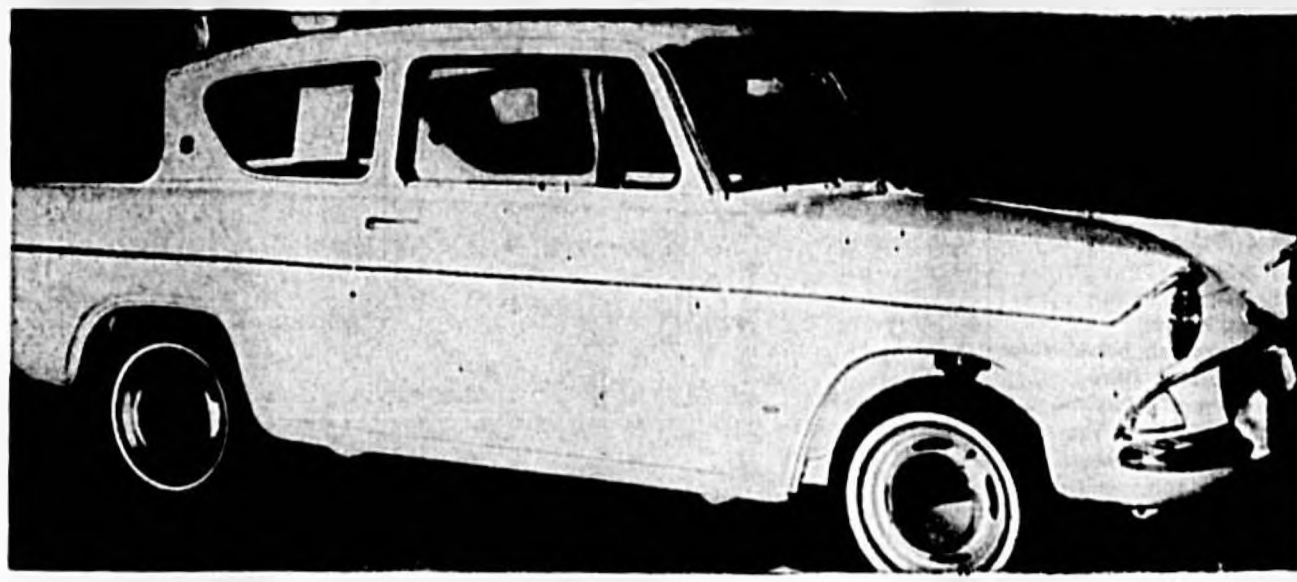

9,440-Acre Polk Ranch For Sale

LAKELAND (UPI) — The auction gavel fell today to signal the opening of bidding on a 9,440-acre ranch and hunting resort which was expected to bring $1 million.

The sale is the largest in the history of Polk County and one of the largest in Florida.

The property, owned by John Weatherford, is 16 miles north of here and includes 2,000 acres of pasture land and a 100-acre orange grove.

Of the total acreage on the plot, 7,000 have been cleared and the rest is timber and hunting area.

THE ANGLIA, a product of the Ford Motor Co., made in England is now on display at Sanford Motor Co., 800 French Ave. For a first, second or even third car, this efficient model can't be beat for economy combined with power, convenience and reliability. (Herald Photo)

Anglia—Distinguished style in a trim package

Cortina—Britain's best seller!

"I'd wager our English Fords better every car in their price class"

(Let me show you—point by point—exactly what I mean)

There's true thrift in an English Ford. Prices range from a modest $1532* for the trim Anglia... only slightly more for the Cortina. Extraordinarily thrifty to own. Independent tests obtained 35 miles per gallon touring fuel consumption—you may well better this figure.

American-size room. No need to do a pretzel-twist in an English Ford. Cortina accommodates three adults comfortably in the wide rear seat. Generous trunk space, too—20 cu. ft. in the Cortina, to be specific. And there's extra storage space in a car-wide parcel tray under the dash.

Tasteful, yet dashing style. The Cortina has a sleek, dashing look—one reason it's Britain's best-selling car. Interior appointments and trim match the exterior smartness. Note, too, the smart reverse rear window in the Anglia. Increases headroom for rear seat passengers, shades them from sun.

There's more dash in an English Ford. Performance has always been a point of pride with us. In fact the basic Anglia and Cortina engine design has powered the top winners in expensive racing machines... a real tribute to ruggedness. Exceptionally favorable power-to-weight ratio and a splendid 4-speed gear box.

Absolute tigers when it comes to reliability. Our English Fords are built to take it—and they have proved it in all the top rallies: Monte Carlo, Trans-Canada, East African Safari and others. You'd be hard pressed to match this record.

Splendid state-wide service and parts availability. There's small call for service in an English Ford, but what little you need is close by. Remember, English Fords are carefully built by English craftsmen in Dagenham, England with American-size nuts and bolts—and best of all they are Ford products.

The man who sells the English Ford Line has the smartest import buys

JUDY OGDEN

SANFORD'S YOUNGER SET will be brightened for a few weeks with the presence of two of its more popular former members, Robbie Blake and Judy Ogden, who will arrive in August for a visit.

Robbie, daughter of Cdr. and Mrs. Gih Blake, and sister of Allison, will be here about the first of August for a month's visit and Judy also a "Navy child" will arrive about the 10th.

Both the girls were squad cheerleaders when they attended Seminole High School, (they left at the end of their sophomore year, as both dad's are Navy) and both fortunately were able to make the cheerleading squads in their new schools, Robbie is on the Student Council, also.

The Ogdens are living in North Kingston, Rhode Island and the Blakes in Glenview, Ill.

Glenda Albert will be hostess to Robbie during her stay here and Judy will make her headquarters at Ceni and Jeri Wheatland's Lake Monroe home.

The girls will be swept up in a round of activities as soon as they arrive, including a week at the beach.

STILL WITH THE YOUNGER SET, Sherrille Julian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Julian has been accepted for the honors program at Sietson, her proud papa tells us.

Sherrille was a member of the SHS swimming team, and of the Science Club and will major in the sciences.

An older brother, Ned Jr., also attends Sietson.

PARK AVE. just isn't going to seem the same without Lucille Appleby.

She has been part of the scene for a long time and has made many, many friends during the 11 years she has been in the restaurant business here.

Mrs. Appleby's has been more than just a restaurant. It has been a meeting place, a cool, friendly spot to drop in for a pick-me-up cup of coffee, as well as a full meal, or a between-meals-snack of pie or cake, or some of those delicious doughnuts.

Not only Mrs. A., but all her girls have contributed to the friendly and congenial atmosphere and the good service.

Lucille and Harold and their son John will leave soon on an extended trip through the country that will take them all over the United States.

ROBBIE BLAKE

MAD-DOGS AND ENGLISHMEN go out in the noonday sun," are the words to a song written by Noel Coward.

This is putting it rather strong to say the least, but dermatologists warn that over-exposure to the sun can make you a victim of skin cancer.

"Sun damage is an essential forerunner of cancer," says a leading Tampa dermatologist. "There is 10 times as much skin cancer in Florida as in New York, so you could say Floridians get 10 times the amount of sun."

"What's worse," he continued, "there is a high frequency of skin cancer in young people."

It's those ultra-violet rays that do the damage, and they are most concentrated in the middle of the day between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

Even on a cloudy day clouds disperse them but don't absorb them which is why you can get a sunburn when there is no sun.

At the beach, your exposure is tripled as the rays are reflected back to you by water and sand as well as directly from above.

Sun allergies, too, seem to be on the increase, and this is a very unfortunate condition, resulting in much distress for the miserable sufferer.

Such allergies can be caused, say specialists, by sensitivity to some sun tan lotions, through use of certain soaps, cream or cosmetics, also through exposure to sun while taking certain medications.

And when you've got a sun allergy, brother, you've got something to contend with, as it is very difficult to protect yourself from a certain amount of sunshine.

So use caution, don't ex-

Meet Postponed
By Ladies Society

The Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engine-men has postponed the meeting scheduled for this week.

The next meeting of the Society will be held on Thursday, August 8, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Walter Cook.

If you do much cooking and serving outdoors, why not treat the family to a set of matching barbecue accessories — a cloth for the table, an apron and chef's hat for the cook, and a protective colorful Scotch plaid raincoat. All these items, done in a made of practical vinyl which can be "laundered" by sponging the surface with soap or detergent suds.

Orange is one of the most popular colors being used by decorators and furniture manufacturers this year.

pose yourself to those broiling rays in the middle of the day, do cover up with light clothing, straw hats and sunglasses.

SIGN LANGUAGE: I like the clever sign put up by a church group which was holding a national convention, in a Southern city.

Big sign outside posed the query, "If you think it's hot here ..."

Toy Poodle 'Best In Show' School Registration Opens In Longwood

By Jane Casselberry
Andre, petite two-month-old toy French Poodle belonging to Marsha Pope of Casselberry, walked away with the titles of "Best In Show" and "Smallest Dog" at the Mid-Florida Obedience Club Pet Show held Sunday afternoon at the Casselberry Ball Park.

The Pope family only recently acquired the puppy as a replacement for their pet Cocker Spaniel who escaped from a kennel where it was being boarded while they were on a short vacation, leaving the children heartbroken.

Other winners were "Largest Dog", Tally, a Great Dane owned by Mrs. Russell Hammond of Chulusta; Most Unusual, "Pierre", white and grey poodle owned by Mrs. Marvin McClain of Casselberry; Best Dressed Dog, "Kismet," Boxer owned by Judy Lambert of Forest City who was also Best Trained; Best Groomed, "Pierre", black standard Poodle owned by Karen Yeager of Casselberry.

The two "Pierres" and "Kismet" were runners-up in the Best of Show class.

Highest scoring dog in the obedience show and winner of the Novice-A class trophy with a score of 102, was "Huddy," a mixed breed dog shown by Sandy Cordell of Allamonte. Dorothy Wartenberg, of Washington, D. C., won first prize in the open obedience division with her collie, "O-sha."

An obedience exhibition was given by "Tally," the Great Dane. Judges for the event were Mrs. Virginia Brewster of Orlando, Open Obedience; Bill Livingston, Novice Obedience and Roger Wright Pet Show.

Mrs. Brewster is owner and operator of the "Dog House" in Orlando, Bill Livingston is club trainer, and Roger Wright is club president.

Bobly Mackey, 180 Sunnyside Rd., Casselberry was winner of the combination electric, transistor radio.

4-H Health Program Keeps Boys, Girls Physically Fit

It pays to be physically fit in more ways than one, especially if you are a 4-H member enrolled in the national 4-H health program.

A qualifying meet was held last Friday with the following winners: Girls, 10 years and over, Dashi, Cathy Bradley, 4th place; Beverly Wolfson, 2nd; Roberta Dyest, 3rd; Boys, 10 years and over, Dashi, Jim Clark, 1st place; Pat Murphy, 2nd; Ricky Murphy, 3rd.

A half dozen of this group will be recipients of 2000 college scholarships for having the best 4-H health projects in the nation, the National 4-H Service Committee has announced.

The fourth "H" in the 4-H emblem stands for health, and all 23 million members pledge their "health to better living." But the specific 4-H health awards program has major objectives which members are supposed to achieve.

In a recent report furnished the program's sponsor, Eli Lilly and Co., the 4-H Service Committee points out that in 1962 nearly 700,000 boys and girls between 10 and 21 years of age participated in specific 4-H health activities.

Individual clubs also promote health through demonstrations, meetings, displays and by participating in local health drives. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises 4-H Clubs.

Leaders in Seminole County will have an opportunity to attend a 4-H health training program given by Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent. At present there are 23 girls enrolled in a Health Project.

By Jane Casselberry
Announcement was made today by Mrs. Louise Gilpin, sponsor of the Lyman High School Cheerleaders, that all Lyman girls interested in trying out for the Varsity Cheerleading Squad should register at the school before Monday, Aug. 12.

This will give school authorities time to ascertain eligibility of each applicant.

The first practice will be held at 7:30 a. m. on Aug. 12 with final selections to be made during the week of Aug. 19.

Although attendance at practice is not mandatory it is desired in order that the girls will be better prepared for the opening football game.

Mrs. Carl Hitman and Mrs. Edna Norman represented the South Seminole VFW Post 8207 Auxiliary at the school of instruction for districts seven and eight held last Saturday at the Post Home of Orange County VFW Post 2093 on Edgewater Dr.

School Registration Opens In Longwood

By Donna Eales
All new pupils who will attend Longwood Elementary School this fall should be enrolled at the school before Sept. 3, Principal Louis Kosky announced today.

Beginning today the school office will be open from 8 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. each weekday to accept registrations.

Kosky wants that parents should not wait until the opening day of school to register their children as the pressure of other matters at this time will result in considerable delay.

It will not be necessary for those children who were in attendance at the close of last term to re-register, however, pupils who withdrew during the course of the year and are returning this year should re-register.

All beginning first graders who were not registered during the Spring Roundup should be enrolled. Parents of these children are advised that no child will be considered enrolled unless a birth certificate verifying the child's age is presented at the school office. Unless the birth certificate is presented the child cannot be assigned to a class.

Parents new to the area who are enrolling children for the first time in Seminole County schools should make a "Declaration of Domicile" at the County Tax Assessor's office and present this declaration at the school office when registering their children.

Further information on the registration of Longwood school children may be obtained by calling the school office at TE 8-2600.

North Orlando Residents In Favor Of Girl's School

By Mona Grinstead
Conversation with officials and residents of North Orlando since last week's announcement that the village was being considered as the future site of Girl's Town, U.S.A., a school for homeless girls, reveals that the majority is anxious to welcome Mrs. Horace Dodge and her associates, sponsors of the school, into the community.

Mayor W. W. Anderson, who was present last week to welcome the visiting group, said that "Girl's Town is an extremely worthwhile cause and citizens should welcome it into the community because it can help our city to become well-known and more apt to sell property."

He went on to say that "the organization itself is a tremendous thing and the plans call for it to be a beautiful building. The establishment will be an asset to the village."

Councilmen Art Rhodes and Mrs. Irene Van Espool say they are "for anything that will benefit the village." Mrs. Van Espool added that she was for the school, 100 per cent.

Councilman Art Ferrin's enthusiastic opinion was: "The fact that the well-known philanthropist, Mrs. Horace Dodge, and her associates might be considering North Orlando as a possible site for Girl's Town, U. S. A., is a very important prospect. It not only is important to our own immediate community but to every business and homeowner in Seminole County and the entire state.

"Just being considered as a possible location for such a worthy and commendable project is indeed gratifying in itself. Should North Orlando be the selected site it would be a high honor.

"The citizens and businessmen of North Orlando and surrounding communities will consider it a privilege to contribute in some small way to success of this enterprise."

Frank Fasula, manager of the North Orlando Co. and former mayor of the village, is encouraging residents to welcome this school, not only for the benefit of the community but for the homes it will provide for girls.

The club has decided to sponsor another girl at the Sunland Training Center in addition to the retarded girl they already are sponsoring.

Prize winners were Marje Ackerman, door prize; Edith Johnson, Pinwheel; Tilla Kramer, first Bridge; Sue Gates, second Bridge; Frances Dickenson, first Canasta and Bruce Goodwin, second Canasta.

Reserves Home
By Jane Casselberry
Chief Warrant Officer Clyde Kezer, Acting Postmaster at Casselberry, and Sgt. Bill Koschitz of Sunnyside Rd. returned Saturday afternoon after two weeks training with the U. S. Army Reserves in the 329th Garrison Unit.

The men were stationed at the Harmony Church area of Ft. Benning.

EDITORIAL COMMENT
Youth Center Needed

The idea suggested last week by Casselberry Councilman Arthur Legu that town councils and county officials work together in providing an adequate Youth Center for the area is worthy of serious and immediate consideration.

Although summer recreation programs are conducted in one or two of the communities, these take place only for a few hours each weekday morning and are scheduled only for six weeks out of the year. Thus, for a good part of the summer and on weekends during the school term, our South Seminole youngsters are left to their own ingenuity for recreation and entertainment.

Casselberry officials, recognizing the urgency in providing a continuous program for the rapidly increasing number of young people in their area, last year appointed their first Recreation Commission and provided it with an operating budget.

Since that time a temporary recreation center has been established which is open to various teenage groups in the evenings and is used in the mornings by the elementary age group for the summer program.

Plans are to open the center in the afternoons as well for this age group if sufficient adult volunteers can be found to act as chaperones.

No doubt the future will bring a South Seminole Youth Center.

Until that time, however, it would be encouraging if officials in all municipalities would follow the example of those in Casselberry in providing their young people with a place of their own for supervised recreation and entertainment.

District Cub-O-Ree Set For Aug. 10

By Jane Casselberry
The annual Cub-O-Ree of the Wekiva District will be held Saturday, August 10, at the Apopka Elementary School, on Hwy. 411 in Apopka, from 1 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Registration will get underway from 1-2 p. m. The registration fee is 25 cents and each Cub Scout and Scouter registering will receive a Cub-o-ree patch. Cubs from all the Packs in the Wekiva District are invited to participate in this exciting event.

Many varied activities are planned for the afternoon from 2 to 4:30 p. m. Each Cub will be scored on the Cub Skills in which he participates and awards will be made according to the percentage of boys present from each Pack.

A new event this year will be the Space Derby following the rules as given in the Space Derby Kit and each Pack taking part is asked to provide a man to assist the Space Derby Chairman. Races will be judged on endurance and speed, and first, second and third prizes will be awarded.

In addition to the Pinewood Derby for Cubs there will be a special race for Dad's only and each father is required to make his own racer. No car entering the race can weigh over 5 ounces. Each Pack participating is asked to provide a male assistant for the Derby Chairman.

During the afternoon Cub handicrafts will be on display. Individual Pack meetings will be held from 4:30 to 5:15 p. m. and a picnic supper will be held from 5:15-6 p. m. with each family bringing their own food.

The grand finale will take place from 6-7:30 with the awards ceremony, campfire program and "hootenanny" featuring the Den Mothers Kitchen Band. All Den Mothers will play instruments made from kitchen utensils and will wear a hat to match.

WEATHER: Widely scattered thundershowers in afternoon and evening through Saturday; high in low 90s; low in 70s.
VOL. 53 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 FRI., AUGUST 2, 1963 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 769

Editorial Comment: 'Muddy Water' Is Clearing Up Here

The muddy waters surrounding that bolita raid last Saturday were beginning to clear today as The Herald continued its probe into why the Seminole County sheriff's department had not been asked to take part.

Since this is budget request time, The Herald queried Sheriff J. L. Hobby why he is asking for an increase of $15,413 to $194,000 over this year's budget. His reply is that he wants to increase deputies' and employees' salaries and to add a third investigator to his staff. He previously had been quoted that he had not the money or manpower for an extensive investigation, had offered an "open door" to federal, Orange County and Orlando investigators and, further, had asked for and received co-operation from the Florida Sheriff's Bureau.

Gen. J. C. Hutchison, chairman of the County Commission, said today: "I talked yesterday with a man with authority in the Internal Revenue Service and he said the investigation started in Orange County and the trail led to Seminole County and they followed. He said they didn't need any help and didn't call on Seminole County. He said this is normal federal procedure. I asked if they were fearful of new news of the raid would 'leak out' and he said no, they had enough men. I questioned him bluntly if it was because they had no confidence in the Seminole County enforcement agencies and he answered, 'Absolutely not, we had enough help.'"

Commissioner James P. Avery Jr. commented: "This involves police work and I am positive the Sheriff is the qualified authority in this county and I want to say nothing which would endanger any further investigation. I think of all county employees those in the sheriff's department are justified in having salary increases. They work 60 hours a week for less than $1 an hour. It is my opinion they are entitled to an increase for the job they are doing. They are on the firing line 60 hours a week, and endangering their lives when giving chase."

Commissioner John Fitzpatrick commented: "I am not qualified to make any statement; I know nothing about bolita or raids. I do feel the Sheriff is doing a pretty good job and he has a good record."

The Herald also endeavored to contact Commissioner Alexander and ... they were unable for comment at press time.

However, The Herald did confer with Cameron Avenue residents in the vicinity of the house involved in last Saturday's raid. These neighbors said there had been no unusual amount of traffic, which would have been noted if this so-called $1 million-a-month bolita operation had had its headquarters there for any length of time. One resident said: "It came as a big surprise to us. There was more automobile traffic during the raid than at any time before or since."

Sheriff Hobby has said he knew the raid "was coming off" but he had not been apprised "when."

The Herald feels the Internal Revenue Service "pulled a boo-boo" in not notifying Sheriff Hobby. And will continue to feel so until such time as the IRS comes up with a logical explanation as to why it ignored Seminole County; over and above, of course, the new time-worn phrase: "We didn't need any help." Do not law enforcement officers have a code of ethics? Extend courtesies between each other? The Herald still would like to have a plain, truthful answer from IRS.

Looks Like Standoff

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cleopatra, the most expensive movie ever made has sparked another big law suit.

Spiros Skouras, board chairman of 20th Century Fox, filed a $2 million libel suit in U. S. District Court Thursday against Walter Wanger.

Wagner, erstwhile producer of "Cleopatra," already has filed a $2 million damage and breach of contract suit against Fox. Skouras, Fox executive, said the book, "Cleopatra," written by Wanger in conjunction with Joe Hyams, according to court papers, Skouras said the book pictured him as "incompetent and irresponsible as a film executive."

The book, Skouras said, has held him up to public scorn and caused him "pain and anguish" worth $2 million.

Wanger was given a film credit as producer of the $10 million movie but was cut from its staff before it was completed.

'It's Cheaper Than Paying Rent'

MIAMI (UPI) — Police held a lean yardman today after he admitted living in a dirt-floored cubbyhole under a house for more than three years because "it's cheaper than paying rent."

Gilbert Kennedy, 47, was charged with vagrancy, and homicide detectives said he would be questioned in connection with Miami's most violent sex slaying on Dec. 15, 1959.

Mrs. Ethel Little, 50-year-old spinster, was knifed, clubbed and strangled to death in her home just four blocks from where Kennedy was arrested on his knees as he dug to get under the home of Mrs. Rose Haaskins, 69.

Mrs. Haaskins has boarded the house after neighbors told her repeatedly that Kennedy was living under the house.

Police searched under the house and found a yard-high space under Mrs. Haaskins' bedroom. They found a makeshift pallet which served as a bed, five suitcases full of clothes and a half-dozen water bottles which he used for water jugs.

Kennedy, who has been cutting lawns in the neighborhood for a little money and free meals, at first denied that he had lived under the house. Police said he later admitted, however, that "it's cheaper than paying rent."

Mrs. Haaskins said at first she did not believe that the man had been living under the house.

Arlene, First Hurricane Of Season, Sighted

MIAMI (UPI) — The season's first tropical storm, Hurricane Arlene, was found about 800 miles east of the Windward Islands today with top winds of 100 miles per hour.

The San Juan, P. R. weather bureau was preparing the first advisory on the hurricane at the time the Miami Weather Bureau reported it had been discovered.

The Tiros weather satellite photographed "a very suspicious area" in the tropical Atlantic Thursday and a Navy hurricane hunter plane from Puerto Rico confirmed the existence of a full-blown hurricane in a reconnaissance flight today.

The first indicated position of the storm's center showed it to be about 1,200 miles east-southeast of San Juan, the Miami Weather Bureau said. This would be more than 2,000 miles southeast of Miami.

At the same time, a rain-laden easterly wave of squalls was marching westward across the Caribbean. Small craft warnings were posted along the northern rim of the Caribbean as far west as the island of Hispaniola.
