Marking 'Em Up

With JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

There should be plenty of action tonight at the Seminole High School auditorium when the Celery Feds tangle with the Mulletts of St. Augustine. There'll also be a game between the DeLand High School girls and the Seminole girls. We talked last night with Miss Jesse Durkin, coach of the local girls team, and she said her squad had improved considerably since their initial game with Eustis' last Friday night which ended in an 18-all tie. She says her girls have picked up more speed.

The tentative schedule for remaining girls games at Seminole High School are as follows:
Jan. 10 Leesburg Here
Jan. 23 Leesburg There
Jan. 29 Seabreeze Here
Feb. 5 DeLand Here
Feb. 8 Eustis Here
Feb. 12 Seabreeze There
There is also a tentative list scheduled with Apopka on Feb. 1.

Some 250 Florida high school athletes, coaches and sportswriters converged on the University of Florida campus today for the Second annual athletic orientation weekend. A basketball game between the Naval Air Station Flyers of Jacksonville and the Gators will feature the weekend athletic program.

Here's a short shot about a former member of the Sanford Lookouts in the old Florida State League. Gilberto Torres, the Cuban athlete who played here in 1936, has made quite a bit of progress since he came to the United States. He played with Chattanooga of the Southern Association and finally wound up with the Washington Senators of the American League as a shortstop. However, during his years in minor league ball, Torres played about every position on the field and the most critical experts had to admit that he performed pretty good. Torres has also been somewhat of a problem child to Joe Cambria and Clark Griffith. His latest move to annoy the "Old Man" is his plan to manage a team next year in the up and coming Mexican League. The Associated Press reported that a league official said Torres wanted to manage the San Luis Potosi outfit but that the club wanted to sign him as a player.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

ART: "Saw you at the movies last night, Judge. That was quite a weekend that alcoholic went through, wasn't it?"
OLD JUDGE: "Sure was, but I'm afraid most people don't really understand it."
ART: "What do you mean, Judge?"
OLD JUDGE: "Simply this. That poor chap was really a sick man... not just a drunk. Studies by famous psychiatrists and the medical profession show that alcoholism is not caused by a craving for alcohol. It is usually the result of some deep-seated social, physical or emotional condition. If that condition had not turned to alcohol he would have turned to something else."
ART: "Are there many that get in that condition, Judge?"
OLD JUDGE: "Fortunately not, Art. Statistics at a recent university have stated that approximately 10% of the people who drink do so sensibly. Only 5% are immediate alcoholics. In the other 85% the alcoholic habit is developed through the years. It is a disease that is not contagious and is not caused by drinking too much. "No one could be more thankful for Retonga than I am, for I feel like a different person," happily declares Mrs. Catherine Lee, well-known resident of 634 Caswell Street, Daytona Beach, Fla.
"I felt so worn out that it seemed to take all my strength just to walk across the house," continued Mrs. Lee. "I had no appetite and the little I did manage to eat seemed to do me more harm than good. The gas on my stomach often pressed up against my chest until I could hardly breathe and at times I felt numb all over. I scarcely knew the meaning of a good night's sleep. ## Truman Urges Quick Action By Congress

Representative Luce Introduces Profit-Sharing Bill To Avoid Labor Strife

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP) — In an atmosphere charged with tension over current labor disputes and impending controversial legislation, the 79th Congress reconvened today for its second session. President Truman had called Congressional leaders to a White House conference to urge speedy action on his whole legislative program.

According to acting House Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts, the President laid special stress on the urgency of enacting his fact-finding proposal.

The Senate Labor Committee had intended to take testimony on the proposal from General Wilson and United Fruit executives R. J. Thomas and Walter Reuther. At three sent word they would be unable to attend because of their present negotiations.

Demands for harsh labor legislation have been heard in several quarters. In the upper chamber, Sen. James Eastland of Mississippi has declared that "we've either got to get out some strike legislation or surrender the country to the CIO."

However, a different plan of attack of the problem has been suggested by Representative Clarence Luce of Connecticut. He introduced a bill calling for a Congressional inquiry into profit-sharing as a means of avoiding labor strife. The bill would direct the House Ways and Means Committee to study the subject that was started several years ago. Mrs. Luce de-

Increase Of Livestock Production Discussed By State Market Head

William L. Wilson Says 1946 Opened With Unusually Bright Skies For Florida Producers Of Major Crops

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 14. (Special) — Possibilities for increasing production of live stock and poultry, as well as for the introduction of new crops and developing wider market for currently popular vegetables, are outlined upon here today.

William L. Wilson, director of Florida State Farmers' Markets, in a week-end discussion of the outlook for the immediate post-war period. The year 1945 has opened with unusually bright skies for Florida producers, insofar as volume of major crops is concerned. Director Wilson stated, while OPA restrictions, and other factors hamper the operations of producers to some extent, it is evident on the basis of reports just received in the Director's Jacksonville offices, that winter and Spring crops will hit high-volume levels, and thus far the price trends have been relatively satisfactory.

"Looking toward the future," said Director Wilson, "we in Florida cannot escape the conclusion that our cattle industry is due for great forward strides. The development of the last few years has been amazing. This is a matter in which Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo takes particular delight. We feel also that the development of the next few years should be even more impressive. We are producing fine beef cattle, and our pure bred dairy herds are increasing. I anticipate that during the next few years our dairy products volume will eclipse anything now produced. Production of hogs has made steady gains in the last few years. There is every reason to believe this trend will continue. Marketing facilities are being improved constantly, and the quality of hogs offered is attracting buyers. There is no apparent reason why the production of hogs should not be vastly increased in the State, where so many advantages for that production are available.

"I am reminded in this connection that John D. Kelly, veteran manager of our Areawide Live Stock Market is looking toward the possibility for a substantial increase in hog production in that area. He bases this expectation on the recent imposition of fencing restrictions, which he states live stock men in the area

Charged With Issuing Orders Against Rescue Of Survivors Of Torpedoed Ships

NUERNBERG, Jan. 14. (AP) — The prosecution in the Nuernberg war crimes trial read into the record today an explicit directive of the German Navy forbidding submarine commanders to make any attempt to rescue survivors of torpedoed Allied ships.

The evidence in the course of presentation of evidence in the case of former German Navy chief Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz. The order was issued by Doenitz personally to his submarine commanders on Sept. 17, 1942. Evidence was introduced earlier to show that Adolf Hitler directed German U-boats early in 1942 to kill or capture crews of torpedoed vessels. This Hitler order was issued in an effort to render American shipping construction useless by creating a shortage of crews.

Hitler's orders were disclosed in notes on a conversation between the Reichschancellor and Japanese Ambassador Hiroshi Oshima.

The notes said Oshima was "heartily in agreement" with Hitler's decision to murder the crews of torpedoed vessels.

Doenitz is first on the list of ten defendants whose individual cases British and American prosecutors hope to conclude this week. Doenitz's predecessor as German Navy chief, Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, is next on the list.

Celery Shippers To Meet At Court House Tomorrow

In view of the excessive celery shipments from all producing districts of Florida and California which have depressed the market to the point that celery is selling in many cases for less than production and harvesting cost, a meeting of the celery division of the Florida Vegetable Producers Association is scheduled to be held in Lakeland, Wednesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock at the office of the Citrus Commissioner. Representatives from all celery producing districts will be present and growers and shippers are also invited to attend this meeting.

In order that representatives from this district may be qualified to speak for the celery growers of Seminole County, a meeting of all growers and shippers is slated to be held at the Court House tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. It has been suggested that some method of curtailing shipments be inaugurated promptly to avoid complete collapse of the market, according to Perry Whitehead, and also growers are urged to be present and offer their solution for the situation.

Local members of the Celery Committee are R. A. Cobb of J. C. Hutchison Company, A. J. Duda of H. C. Duda and Sons, Oviedo; H. C. Hutz of The American Fruit Growers Inc., and Mr. Whitehead of the Sanford, Oviedo Truck Growers, Inc.

Gen. Hutchison Tells Rotarians Of Pacific Life

Manila Is Described As Completely Destroyed Municipality

Declaring that the destruction of Manila was virtually complete except in certain residential districts, Brig. General J. C. Hutchison, now on terminal leave after serving with the 31st Division since it was activated over five years ago, told the Rotarians today that the Moros in Mindanao professed American rule to either Japanese or Filipino and suggested there might be danger of a civil war in the Philippines.

In a talk which stressed the agricultural characteristics of New Guinea, Morotai and Mindanao, General Hutchison said that he landed with his division at Oro Bay on Apr. 6, 1944. Approached by boat the island, he said, looked like a beautiful mountain rising out of the sea. Most of the native towns were built on the flat land between the coast and the mountains.

He found a great deal of wide-river vegetation there including thick forests and grassy plains covered with something that looked like Johnson grass and a kind of cane which grew high enough to hide a man on horseback. There were also lots of vines, ferns and plants, some which looked like elephant ears. The growth of all plant life, he found very rapid and came to the conclusion that New Guinea would be a great agricultural country except for shipping difficulties.

He said he was greatly impressed with the large number and variety of birds in New Guinea which included cockatoos, parrots and mockingbirds all of which made a great deal of noise. He also mentioned the wallow-birds or "wabbies" which he said were small kangaroos, and added that there were lots of wild pigs and pigeons there as well as plenty of fish in the waters offshore.

In Morotai, where he went in December, 1944, he found the natives a little more civilized than in New Guinea and agriculture a little more advanced. He said there were a number of large and well cultivated banana plantations there and added that the weather was considerably hotter than farther south.

In April, 1945, General Hutchison participated in the invasion of Mindanao, where he said the

NLRB Files Complaint Against GM

Charges GM Failed To Discuss Wage Issues With Union Representatives

DETROIT, Jan. 14. (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has issued a complaint charging the General Motors Corporation with refusing to bargain collectively in good faith with the CIO United Automobile Workers. The complaint was issued today through the regional NLRB office in Detroit. A hearing on the complaint has been set for Jan. 28 in Detroit.

The complaint was issued on the basis of charges filed by the union on Nov. 8 and Nov. 27. At that time conferences were under way between the union and the corporation on the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.

The union charged that the company declined to discuss the wage issue with union representatives. The company, on the other hand, charged that the union was attempting to force an extraordinary matter outside the collective bargaining realm.

NEW YORK (AP) — A quick roundup of the telephone situation. Service has returned to normal over most of the country and strike equipment workers have called off their pickets. Telephone operators are back on the job in most places, and have restored full long distance service as well as local service which was disrupted at some points.

As you know, the end of the strike resulted from a decision made by union officials last night, First, the independent National Federation of Telephone Workers postponed for 30 days its call for a nationwide strike. That interval will permit union leaders to vote on the strike question under the Smith Connally Act. The federation also asked the striking independent Association of Communications Equipment Workers to withdraw their picket lines from around telephone exchanges. Operators of most of whom belong to the federation, had refused to cross the picket lines of the equipment workers and that was what caused the nationwide strike in long distance service as well as local service in some sections.

The equipment union, incidentally, is affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

The federation further asked the equipment workers union to call off their pickets for higher pay and turn their picket over to the federation. The equipment workers complied, the telephone operators went back to work, and telephone service is back practically to normal in most of the country.

Pfc. Baker left the Philippines, Nov. 29, 1945, arrived at San Francisco, Dec. 17, and received his discharge at Camp Handley on Jan. 3. He received his training at Camp Blending, Ft. ## Clifford Reel Is Discharged After Pacific Service Clifford Reel, former partner in Reel and Sons Garage, prior to entering the Navy on Jan. 2, 1944, and who as a Ship's Cook received a battle star for LST participation in the Okinawa invasion, has received his honorable discharge and has returned to his home at 1401 Celery Avenue.

This was Reel's second tour of Navy duty as he had served as a ship's cook for a three year period ending in 1941. He was sent overseas in November, 1944, during the Okinawa invasion he served as commissary steward aboard an LST. His decorations include Asiatic-Pacific operations, American Theater of Operations and Philippine liberation ribbons.

His other actions were at the Ie Shima beachhead where mobile radar equipment was landed. This was two days after news correspondent Ernie Pyle had been killed there, he said. He also took part in the occupation and landing of troops in Korea. Mr. and Mrs. Reel have two children, Richard 13 and Nancy 10.

Down in Barroeta they are so sure the boom is coming back that real estate men are beginning to wear plus fours once again.

In the current issue of Life we see that the well dressed young lady will wear when she goes in swimming next summer, though in most cases it is pretty hard to see.

Although we have known Karl Lehmann for 20 years, we noticed in a newspaper the other day the place of his birth for the first time. It was Oconomowoc, Wis.
No wonder he never mentions it.

Pete Norton, former Herald sports editor, is another "newsman" now doing his best to improve recreational facilities and stimulate athletic programs after a two year tour of duty with the Navy. He is now sports editor for the Tampa Tribune.

Real Estate sales in Miami Beach amounted to a grand total and very grand it was too—of $63,601,000 for 1945, some $17-000,000 more than the record breaking year of 1944. Of course this may not spell another boom, but it does spell walloping real estate activity.

Everywhere that veterans are returning from service in the Army or Navy, there is a demand for recreational facilities.
Not only in Sanford but also in Miami where Stanley Oulp has assumed his duties as editor of the Sanford Sun News after three years in the service, and in scores of other cities. It is not entirely selfish with these veterans even though it is natural they would want to continue sports after becoming accustomed to the recreational programs of the Army and Navy. It is perhaps even more that realizes what games like football, baseball, basketball mean to a boy and how such activities help him to develop into the type of man who can more readily defend his country should he ever be called upon to do so.

People are continually coming to us with the appeal, "Why don't you do something?" Whether it is a hospital they want, or a swimming pool, or a highway to their outlying grove, or a change in political administration, or an end to the "red" communist, or removal of religious tests, or an end to the strike in Palestine or Java, or the return of all GI's from abroad, or a $200 a month pension, they declare, "Why, if I had your newspaper, if I could write your columns, I'd do it." Well, there was a time when we were young and gay that we might have taken such entreaties seriously; now we know that almost as many people read the editorials as read the news. And that the actual figures are ascertained. In New York City recently, were 14 per cent for the editorials, 10 per cent for the comics.

We are well aware that in times of such rapid economic change throughout the world, and in our country, we have had it brought forward in our attention that the admission of Jews is strictly limited at Harvard, that measures are being taken to prevent them from entering our country, that there are in our country half a dozen anti-Jewish laws, and that in many places, as well known as in the case of the "red", a two-way street is being built between the "red" and the anti-Jews.

American Health

The health of the American people at a very high level in 1945, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the prospect for the months ahead seems good in spite of a widespread outbreak of mild respiratory disease at the turn of the year.

"The excellent condition of the nation's health in 1945 is shown by the low death rate during the year," Dr. Louis I. Dublin of the Metropolitan says. "The mortality records of our life insurance company indicate that the civilian death rate in 1945 was slightly less than in the two preceding years and not much higher than in 1942, the banner health year in the nation's history. Available records for the country as a whole likewise indicate a decline in the death-rate in 1945. The low civilian death rate in 1945 is all the more remarkable because of the long sustained dislocations due to the war. Furthermore, the rate is based upon a population which excludes millions of our healthiest young people who were in war service overseas.

The favorable health record of the year reflects, in large part, the absence of any serious epidemic, a fortunate circumstance in view of the scarcity of physicians and nurses available to civilians. The comparatively low incidence of respiratory diseases of a severe type has, in turn, kept down the mortality from chronic diseases of later life which usually increases in epidemic years. However, the year's good record is, in real measure, due to high peak of efficiency at which physicians and health organizations of the nation have worked, and to the newer drugs which have become available more widely than before to the civilian population.

"Among the notable features of the year's health record are new minimum death rates for a number of diseases. Outstanding in this list are pneumonia, tuberculosis, appendicitis, and conditions associated with childbearing. Infant mortality also fell to a new minimum.
Childhood death rates have been low—a most gratifying situation in view of the large increase in the child population during the war years.

"At the adult ages too, the death rates fell below the figures of the previous year. For most of the important diseases of later life the mortality record has been good in 1945. The death rate from chronic diseases of the heart, arteries and kidneys has been comparatively steady despite the increase in the proportion of older persons in the population. But the death rate from diabetes declined in 1945.

Cancer, however has continued to increase, but this increase is largely a reflection of the aging of our population and the intensified efforts to discover cases of this disease. The outlook for the cancer patient today is better than ever before.

"The outlook for the health of our people in 1946 thus far appears favorable despite the current high prevalence of respiratory disease," concludes Dr. Dublin. "Indications are that the death rate in this outbreak is low, and a seasonal rise in such conditions is not unexpected.
While the end of the war could not solve immediately all the problems related to the nation's health, it has eased a great many of them."

Still Modern

A humble Swiss who devoted his long life to teaching diligent children, thereby revolutionizing pedagogy for the world, will be honored this month, 200 years after his birth.
The man, Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi, most of his life poor and in ill health, took as many as 20 waifs into his home, starting and doubling greatly inconveniencing his wife.

"They can spin for their livelihood and I can teach them," he said. The first school, developed on Rousseau's philosophy of the importance of emotions as well as intellect, was an experiment in learning through living. Pestalozzi with his methods forced him to abandon. Gradually notables became interested in what would now be called his psychological approach, and he ended his days contentedly teaching a small school in an empty castle.

This man's technique was as simple as it was sound.
He loved children, he and they lived together, and they learned from that experience. After 200 years the idea that became the basis of much that is done in today's classroom is still modern. Every teacher in the land should acquaint himself some time this month with the life story of the gentle, simple Pestalozzi.

Lost Battle

A battle which cost the lives of 29,000 GI's would have been rated among the bloodiest of the war. This is the number of traffic deaths in 1945, as estimated by the National Safety Council. It is a 20 per cent increase over 1944.
Is anybody going to do anything about it?

out the foxes.

sounds of a violent struggle were heard, then a large red fox ran out so fast the surprised Nelson didn't have time to level his gun and shoot.

But Tippy gave his master an other chance for a few minutes later he emerged dragging an other fighting fox. This time, Nelson was ready, and after the

UTOPIA WITH A SLOW FUSE

SANFORD FORUM

Mr. R. L. Dean, Editor
Sanford Herald
Sanford, Florida
Dear Editor:

We ask for your help in saving human life.
Through your paper, you can contribute much toward reducing the growing toll of accidents on the highways and the streets.
Florida's traffic accidents take a toll of approximately 600 lives and $27,000,000 annually. If we can save even a fraction of our combined efforts, our combined efforts will be valuable.

So we ask your help in an educational campaign which launched on a national scale and supported by the motor and petroleum industries.

Your State Department of Public Safety has analyzed thousands of reports of traffic accidents. Carelessness or negligence cause most accidents. We must educate drivers and pedestrians against these faults.
The Department of Public Safety is undertaking an educational campaign and it solicits and counts upon your help. We will send to you at intervals safety educational material prepared for publication. We trust you will be able to publish it, because we believe it will be helpful in reducing accidents.
We recognize the tremendous task that confronts us because of the condition of automobiles at this time, and because of the increased number of cars that will be operated in the months to come. This is why we consider it highly essential that our of more purebred animals, and the consequent production of higher-quality animals for market.

"The current high prices for poultry products lends emphasis to the possibilities for this industry in Florida. We have emphasized poultry production through the years, and our Dade City Market, devoted to poultry products, has an excellent service record in that connection. This industry has operated under close DPA restrictions, and producers have experienced almost continuous difficulty in their efforts to steer a profitable course under the hampering factors of price limitations on their products, and the mounting costs of feed and labor. We feel how-

There was also some coffee and ever that these difficulties must be considered as temporary in character and that the possibilities for poultry production in the state are very good.

"For some time now, there has been a definite effort under way to develop new crops for Florida, and to expand markets for our current products. Some progress has been made, and with rapidly improving trans-available in the years ahead it should be possible for our grow-

Once Mabel got a job in a factory but, she said, "the work was too hard."
When asked what she and her husband did for recreation she replied, "nothing much. Sometimes we have a race to see which one can get a tree down first. Most times I win."

Why we believe that General Electric's wage offer is fair

1. IT MEANS HIGHER AVERAGE "TAKE HOME" PAY IN 1946 THAN IN WARTIME

We have offered the union an increase of 10c an hour for all those making less than $1.00 an hour, and 10% increase for those who make more*. With the overtime that will be necessary to meet consumer demand this year, the average employee would have more "take home" pay than he had during the war.

*Those making from $2,000 to $3,000 in salary would receive 10% increases, and those receiving between $3,000 and $5,000 annually would receive increases of $300.

2. GENERAL ELECTRIC'S RECORD ASSURES GOOD FUTURE PAY

The G-E wage policy in normal times assured our workers wage rates equal to, or higher than, comparable industries in every community in which we operate. We expect to continue this policy in the future.

3. THE MOST WASTEFUL THING THAT CAN HAPPEN NOW IS A STRIKE

Nothing can be gained by a strike now that could not be gained with men at work. Much can be lost. A million dollars a day in wages alone can be lost. Homes by the hundreds of thousands—and communities across the land—can suffer. That's why we hope that it won't happen.

This is the first time since 1927 that a girls' basketball team has represented Seminole High School.
The last girls' team was captained by Mrs. Herman Morris, then known as Gladys Stemper. Rebecca Stevens played center for the team that year. The activity was abolished in 1934. The Principal's Conference of the Florida State Athletic Association, during the 1927 season, the Seminole team won five of its seven games.

The two basketball games at the Seminole High School auditorium Friday night were witnessed by the largest crowd we can ever remember at a tilt here in Sanford. We certainly trust that during the remaining home games of the season the Feds will be given such grand support.

During the football season, there were two youngsters by the name of Sparkman and McNab at Seminole High. These boys went out for football because they loved the game. They put everything they had into the sport during the year day after day. They were hailed by the whole student body and other Fed fans for their courage and spirit. Why? Because it's doubtful if their total weight together would exceed 170 pounds. Some people, including ourselves, thought notably that Sparkman and McNab were in a class by themselves. But we were wrong! Friday night the dust became a quartet. Two more youngsters pushed and fought their way into the select group and into the hearts of the large crowd at the high school who watched St.
Augustine down the Fed basketball team. Their names? Well, you've probably guessed them by now if you were there. Clyde Bowen and Floyd Swain, two sophomores, proved that they had enough ability to mix up it with the best of them, and regardless of their size, Coach George Mc-Clelland put varsity uniforms on varied thoroughly as both boys represented. McClelland's judgment was performed like veterans. They were handicapped in two definite departments. You see, both kids are only 5 feet six inches tall.

Bowen weighs only 106 pounds, while Bowen weighs the beams at 128. Both are only 15 years old.
And the two of them gave the lanky Mulletts plenty of fight.
Our derby goes off to Clyde Bowen and Floyd Swain.

We've received a story from the Associated Press that we think is one of the best yarns ever related in connection with the late Judge Landis, czar of major league baseball.
Judge Landis was noted for his stern rule of players. But under his grim manner the Judge had a keen sense of humor and understanding.

Associates of the Judge like to tell about the time he was hearing the case of Bill De-Lancey, the St. Louis catcher who had been involved in a heated argument over strikes with umpire Brick Owens in the World Series.
The Judge asked, "Young man, what did you say to him when he called the first strike?" DeLancey looked the Judge straight in the eye and started explaining, "Well, you see, was upset. I stepped out of the box and said, 'Why you old blind-so-and-so, you missed that one.'"
"And what did you say to him on the second strike?" Landis pursued. DeLancey answered:
"Why I stepped out of the box and said, 'You blankety-blank blind son of a so-and-so, can't you see the ball!'"
"On the third strike," De-Lancey continued, "I was good, and had I said, 'OY at the alrighten, lousy so-and-so, you are the limit.' And with that he chucked me out of the game."
The Judge was convulsed with

General Kenny Differs With U.S. Delegates

Military Advisor Urges Continued Control Of Pacific Islands Of Value

LONDON, Jan. 15, (AP)—United States delegates to the United Nations general assembly are disclosed to be at odds with their special military adviser over the future status of American-conquered islands in the Pacific.

Official sources have disclosed that the delegates favor placing the islands under United States military control. The special military adviser, General George Kenny, is urging that the United States Government retain control of all islands that have military value. General Kenny's position reflects the previously expressed opinion of American military men that the United States never should have to reconquer strategic islands won with American blood in the Pacific.

Observers say that if General Kenny insists upon his point of view, the question will come before the State Department and the War Department. President Truman might be obliged to settle the point.

The State Department takes the view that the United States has secured at the San Francisco Conference to the plan of placing territory wrested from the enemy under UNO trusteeship. It is felt in State Department quarters that the United States should not set a precedent for other nations by withholding the Pacific islands from the trusteeship program. Under the trusteeship plan one or more nations are to administer territories placed under UNO control. The trusteeship plan is being applied among the American delegates on the degree of control that the United States would lose if the Pacific islands came under UNO trusteeship. Some observers say that it is unlikely that the United States would propose a trusteeship for the Pacific islands without stipulating that the United States alone administer them for the UNO. Under that kind of an arrangement, the United Nations would have sovereignty over the islands and the United States would have immediate control of them.

Eisenhower Reassures Congress On Demobilization Issue Today

Says Enlisted Men With 45 Points Or 30 Months Service Will Be Released Or Headed For Separation By April 30

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15, (AP)—General Dwight Eisenhower reassured Congress on the demobilization issue today. The general promised that by April 30 every enlisted man who has 45 points or 30 months' service will either be out of the Army or bound for a separation center.

In addition, the general said, every enlisted man with 40 points or two years of service will be discharged, or in the process of being discharged, by July 1. Fifty points or three and a half years' service now are required for release.

In addition to this, Eisenhower promised that every surplus man will be discharged at once unless his points are so low that he can't be discharged else.

The general said the points are to be computed on the basis of last Sept. 2. Likewise he said the April 30 and July 1 dates do not apply to men in the service who volunteered.

The Senators and Representatives heard Eisenhower at an informal meeting at the Congressional Library. They were told that the Army's organization will collapse "if it demobilizes too fast. ## Electrical Workers Begin Strike Today

Walkout Affects 75 Electrical Manufacturing Companies In 16 States

NEW YORK, Jan. 15, (AP)—A nationwide strike shutting down the electrical manufacturing goods industry began today at 75 plants in 16 states. The strike was called by the CIO United Electrical Workers, whose 200,000 members are walking out in a wage dispute.

Start of the strike was announced at 5:30 this morning, Eastern Standard Time, by Union President Albert J. Fitzgerald. He did not immediately announce the areas where picket lines would be established before plants of the General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors Companies.

The states in which GE, GM or Westinghouse plants are located are California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Maryland, West Virginia and Kentucky.

The concerns affected by the walkout manufacture a wide variety of household products, including electric light bulbs, washing machines, radios and refrigerators. They also make electrical equipment for industrial use.

The electrical workers originally demanded a pay boost of $2.00 a day and a 10 per cent raise in their strike if the demands were not met.

But shortly before the start of the strike, Fitzgerald said the union was prepared to accept an increase of 15 cents an hour from Westinghouse and General Electric. He said this figure had been offered to CIO steelworkers by the United States Steel Corporation in the case of General Motors. Fitzgerald said the electrical workers had accepted a 12 1/2 per cent increase, a settlement recommended by a fact-finding board in the General Motors wage dispute with the CIO auto workers.

However, GM stood by its refusal to offer to pay 10 per cent, cents more per hour. Westinghouse offered to up its work week from 40 to 45 hours, with no increase in its pay scale. GE offered 10 cents more an hour to workers making less than $1 an hour and 5 cents more to those making more.

The union rejected these offers and Fitzgerald said the strike was called because of what he termed the companies' refusal to pay the higher wage demands.

The union's entire membership is to go out on strike. Already 10,000 workers at the GE plant in Schenectady, N.Y., have walked out and the picket lines are being established.

U-Boat Chief Blames Donitz For Orders

NUERNBERG, Jan. 15, (AP)—A former U-boat commander who stood before the Nuremberg war crimes tribunal today and blamed his former chief for U-boat losses, said he was ordered to torpedo allied vessels from the German skipper, Lieut. Comdr. Karl Heine Moehle, he did not want to be blamed for orders issued by Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz. He said: "When I was taken prisoner it was claimed I was the author of these orders. I'm here because I don't want this charge connected with my name."

When Moehle made this statement, Doenitz displayed his anger outwardly for almost the first time since the trial began.

However, Moehle admitted that he did pass along Doenitz' order to shoot up lifeboats to individuals on an order to shoot up lifeboats. Doenitz contended that during the long time he commanded the German Navy's Fifth U-boat flotilla, no skipper ever objected to the order.

Kimmel Makes Statement To Investigators

Says War Warning Message Received From Adm. Stark Was Misleading

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15, (AP)—Rear Admiral Husband Kimmel has submitted a 25,000 word statement in defense of his actions as Commander in Chief of the fleet at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack. The statement was submitted today to the joint Congressional Committee investigating the Japanese surprise assault on Dec. 7, 1941.

Kimmel's testimony has placed him in direct opposition to much of the previous evidence offered by Admiral Harold Stark, who was Chief of Naval Operations at the time. The retired Pacific commander charged that Naval officials in Washington had withheld information which he said might have made Pearl Harbor an ambush for the Japs. Kimmel contended that the so-called war warning message sent him by Stark ten days before the attack was misleading. It was this message which Stark earlier testified he considered a fiction to alert the Fleet to a war base that Kimmel's statement asserted that no reasonable man could have been expected to consider that Stark's message was intended to suggest the likelihood of an attack in the Hawaiian area.

Admiral Kimmel also contended that he was not given information available in Washington from intercepted Japanese messages. He claimed that these messages told when and where Japan probably would strike. He further stated that even though such information was withheld, the Navy should have sent specific instructions to him on the alert status a possible attack.

Kimmel said that had he possessed Washington's coded information, he would have considered changing his plans as to ambush the enemy force. Kimmel also asserted that if he had known what Washington knew he would have ordered the Fleet to stand by for a possible attack, but he would not have jacked up his vessels in the harbor when he thought they would be safer from an attack than at sea without carrier support.

200 To 300 Coal Workers Trapped By Mine Blast

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15, (AP)—An official of the Bureau of Mines said that he had been told that more than 200 miners were trapped in the mine near Welch, W. Va., where a blast occurred today. The official, David Harrington, said five are known to be dead and 15 have been taken to hospitals.

Welch workers have succeeded in extricating at least 75 men, some of them badly injured from the blast-shattered workings of a coal mine near Welch, W. Va. Officials estimate that 250 to 300 men were trapped in the mine when a terrific blast deep in the workings took the lives of at least 15 men and injured many others.

So severe was the explosion that the window of a school house 500 feet from the mine shaft were smashed, and several children were injured, some serious enough to require hospitalization. Windows also were broken in a bare 1,000 feet away.

The mine is owned by the Haysco number one and is accompanied by the state House of Representatives. It is operated by the Welch Coal and Coke Co. of Welch, W. Va.

The State Mine Inspector, E. S. Spindler, left Charleston today to investigate the cause of the explosion. He is expected to return to Welch tomorrow.

The mine is one of the largest in the state. It is operated by the Welch Coal and Coke Co. of Welch, W. Va.
