Rates Reduced On After Hours Phone Calls

Southern Bell telephone customers in Sanford will be able to call any point in Florida for 65 cents or less after 9 p.m. beginning April 1.

"The new rates for in-state long distance calls will apply to three-minute, station-to-station calls placed between the hours of 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. daily," said Bob Sheldon, Southern Bell Manager here.

In addition, proportionate reductions in charges for additional minutes of conversation will also be in effect.

The reduction in charges on calls made within Florida has been approved by the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission.

Sheldon said, "The new rates will make it possible for customers to realize savings on family and social type station-to-station calls made after 9 p.m. and will encourage use of the facilities during off-peak hours."

A similar plan for reduced station-to-station calls after 9 p.m. has been approved by the Federal Communications Commission under which calls can be placed to anywhere in the continental United States for $1 or less. The nationwide plan becomes effective April 1.

MYF Members Attend Retreat

By Jane Casselberry
Sherri Lovell and Johnny Haynes of the Senior MYF and Miss Eleanor Zuelowaki, counselor for the Junior MYF of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church, attended a retreat held this weekend at the Methodist Youth Camp.

The retreat was held to train recreation leaders. The camp is located on Lake Griffin near Leesburg.

Speaker was Wilson M. Riley, member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship who withdrew from the publishing business in 1940 to devote his full time to public practice of Christian Science.

Citing the exceedingly swift progress being made today through material inventions, Riley called attention to the fact that human thought, enlightened through spiritual understanding, brings about comparable advances in the demonstration of love, peace, universal brotherhood, freedom and purposeful living.

"It is only through this spiritual enlightenment that the deep yearning of mankind can ever be really satisfied," he commented, citing that the Biblical record shows that those who had a deep spiritual sense of God's presence were always able to meet the challenges of materialism.

"In this kingdom of God, Soul, there is no ignorance, no poor vision, no lack of proper action . . . mankind is not cut off from this kingdom," he concluded.

Seminole Area Surviving 'Soft Market'

By Larry Vershel

Notice we always put those pretty girls right next to my column.

Those 63 teachers that were termed "tops" in their field will get $100 extra per year and Supt. of Schools, R. T. Milwee today still refuses to make public the list.

Over 12,000 have filed for homestead exemption this year. That's several hundred more than last year.

City tax collections better percentage wise than the county. City had 93 percent of the tax roll collected while the county had 92 percent.

Helmecade Corp. will start construction of its new 23,000 square foot A & P Store on Orlando Drive a week from Friday. Hope to bring the store into the city limits.

That will be shopping center row out there town. . . . What with Helmecade, Adams and a new center which has already signed up two national chains ready to go soon.

Although it's not official, the Atlantic Coast Line will okay the Pipeline Company's request to cross its right-of-way on Mellenville Ave.

Talked with Rep. Joe Davis this morning and he says the middle-size counties are talking and planning attempts to hold on to their seats they will lose under the present reapportionment plan. Seminole one of 12 counties that will lose a voice in the house.

Joseph DiLucian, Longwood Plaza businessman, is donating the building space for the South Seminole Garden Club to hold its first Flower Show and Exhibit. The big event is scheduled for this Saturday. . . . try not to miss it.

Geo. A. Speer will probably be named the next president of the Sportsmen's Assn.

Congratulations are in order for the new North Orlando Council which fully made some advance Tuesday night towards getting the village in operation on an efficient, businesslike basis. . . . biggest step was the meeting itself which clicked along like a well-oiled clock instead of a stop-watch.

One thing we do wonder about, though, is why not Sanford or Seminole County attorney wants the job as legal counsel for the village? He had they might have to go out of Seminole to get a lawyer.

Incidentally, Mayor W. W. Anderson made no bones about it. . . . All meetings involving the council will be open to the public and the press.

Just been informed that I've been invited to jump with the "Cutting Stars" at the Semi-Centennial Day. . . . No parachute will be issued. Good day to leave for New York.

School Plan 'Must' - Davis

Seminole County Rep. S. J. Davis Jr. today called Gov. Farris Bryant's massive university construction program "a MUST for Central Florida and a key to the future of this county."

Bryant had anticipated some $20 million in new revenue for new school construction including a possible new four-year university in the Central Florida area.

Bryant proposed the state's most ambitious spending program since World War II Tuesday to use up every penny of the $125 million he is seeking in taxes.

The Legislature, as one voiced approval of the tax plan with a few minor reservations, but many said they didn't like his much-publicized proposal to finance university construction with a $125 million bond program over a 20-year period.

The university construction would be financed mostly with revenue bonds and some supplementation from taxes.

Although the staggering total of the governor's tax program came as a complete surprise, most of the House and Senate members lined up behind it.

Rep. Jack Matthews of Duval County, generally summed up the feeling of the legislators over the spending and tax proposals:

"It's painful, but needed." Senate President Wilson Caraway and House Speaker Mallery Horne both agreed that it is an ambitious program and that the governor "stated the needs of the state well."

Horne said, however, that the bond program would require a close look. Caraway said, in any case, he preferred "taxes to borrowing."

He proposed that the bulk of the new revenue come from the state's three percent sales tax by extending its limits to all items except groceries and medicine. He also asked that the cigarette tax be hiked from five to eight cents a pack.

Luncheon for pioneers of the county and visiting dignitaries and celebrities are in the making, Chairman Randall Chase reported.

14-Year-Old Shot To Death

A 14-year-old Negro boy of Altamonte Springs was fatally wounded late Tuesday in what apparently was meant to be a "friendly skirmish," Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported today.

A 22-year-old Altamonte Springs Negro is being held in county jail on open charges.

James Curtis Lee, who would have been 15 years old on April 20, was walking near his home on Leonard Street, Altamonte Springs, at about 11 p. m. Tuesday with three other Negro youths.

An automobile approached and veered toward the boys, running them off the road. The driver stopped, got out and reached under the seat, coming up with a gun. The boys ran; the driver shot once and Lee told his companions he was hurt.

The companions helped Lee to his home, where his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lane, discovered the boy had been shot in the head. The parents took him to Orange Memorial Hospital, where he died at 12:20 this morning.

Deputies Ted Lewis, Donald Witt and J. Q. Galloway were dispatched to the scene, along with other officers.

Sheriff Hobby said that at 4 a.m. today there was a telephone call from Fred Stevens, 22-year-old, Negro, of Pine Street, Altamonte Springs, advising he had fired the shot. He surrendered later at his home, pointed out a .32 caliber revolver in his car and told arresting officers he "had meant only to scare the boys." He had a Negro girl in the car with him at the time.

Argentina Jets Strafe Rebels

The government announced today that navy units supporting a revolt of retired army generals have "ceased operations" in a move apparently signaling collapse of the uprising in its second day.

Loyal air force jets bombed and strafed the rebel-held Punta Indio naval air station today, and unofficial government sources said the base surrendered to loyal army units.

The sources said the pro-government soldiers were moving in to occupy the air station following attacks by the jets and earlier assaults by loyalist tank forces.

A communiqué said Punta Indio, held by army-led navy rebels, was attacked by Gloster Meteor, U. S.-made Sabrejets and Avro Lincoln bombers of the loyalist air force.

Open Lower NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened irregularly lower today on fairly active trading.

Altamonte Sets Bonds Talks

Sale of revenue bonds for Altamonte's new water system and building plans for the plant are on the division agenda for today's 8 p.m. meeting of the Altamonte Springs Town Council.

No action on the Fern Park Incorporation issue has officially been scheduled, the Herald was advised.

Council Works On Charter Redraft

Copies of the rough draft are to be completed by April 15 and distributed to all citizens before a mass meeting is held for public discussion.

General appointments made and approved at the meeting were Bill Harris as building inspector; F. Stewart Helmly, zoning board chairman; Mrs. Mollie Salter, treasurer; Mrs. Barbara Peters, clerk; Charles Tresler, tax assessor, and Bill Wolfe, tax collector.

Appointment of a fire chief, police chief, village attorney and judge and village engineer were postponed for further consideration. Also held in abeyance was any action dealing with the volunteer fire department until final disposition is made on whether or not the group will function as a part of or separately from the city.

Council appointments included Bob Stephenson as chairman of fire and police internal governmental policies; Arthur Rhodes, health, recreation and general village welfare; Art Ferrin, legal advisor and in charge of roads, bridges and utilities, and Mrs. Irene Van Espeel, finance chairman.

Major W. W. Anderson advised the council that an open meeting had been set up for 8 p.m. Thursday in the Village Hall to consult with attorney L. H. Handley of the firm, Gurney, Gurney and Handley of Orlando, on what is needed in the way of legal action and advice before the council can go ahead with future development and organization of village affairs and records.

Helmly was authorized to get photostatic copies of all plats on record for the village complete with restrictive covenants and all descriptive data.

Winter Park Drive 'County Orders Road Study

An engineering study possibly leading to a joint effort for a 2 1/2-mile paving of two miles of Winter Park Drive in Casselberry was ordered Tuesday evening at the conclusion of a meeting between the County Commission and the Casselberry Town Council.

Casselberry, in previous requests and again Tuesday evening, argued although Winter Park Drive is within the confines of the Town, it is a "connecting link" between Seminole Boulevard and Highway 436 and used primarily by 1,700 students and the faculty of South Seminole Junior High School and South Seminole Elementary School, both outside of Casselberry.

JFK To Urge Troop Removal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy was expected to call today for removal of more Soviet military personnel from Cuba, including 5,000 regular combat soldiers.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said that Kennedy would have something to say on the Russian troop issue at his 1 p.m. EST news conference. The conference will be televised and broadcast live.

The President said two weeks ago that he wanted to wait until the end of March before assessing the situation. Cuba apologized Tuesday for the March 28 attack by two of its MIG fighters on an American freighter in the Caribbean.

Chairman J. C. Hutchinson, of the Commission, advised Casselberry Councilmen the County cannot participate because of lack of funds during this fiscal year, ending Sept. 30.

At the suggestion of Commissioner Lee Gary, Casselberry agreed to a matching fund operation for improving the street when County Engineer William Bush completes his survey and presents actual figures of estimate of cost.

Commissioner James Avery also mentioned need for improving Concord Road, in Casselberry, another "connecting link." This road lays in sections in the county and the town. Commissioner John Alexander pointed out the county in all of this fiscal year only has $100,000 budgeted for road materials.

German Service Set By Ascension Church

By Jane Caselberry
A German service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Ascension Lutheran Church of Caselberry when the entire service, including the scripture, liturgy and sermon will be conducted in the German language.

of Ascension Church, will deliver the sermon; the liturgist will be the Rev. H. Besalaki, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Orlando and organist will be Rev. Robert V. Zehnder, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Hollywood (Fla.), son of the local pastor.

This will be the first time in almost 50 years that a service in German has been conducted in the area, however it is not being planned to inaugurate German services but as a special consideration for those who grew up in the language.

It also will afford the student of German an excellent opportunity to brush up on the language. Those who do not speak German will still find the service to be of interest in as much as they will be able to observe what a Lutheran Church was like several decades ago.

Ascension Lutheran Church is located on Overbrook Dr., one block north of the Hwy. 17-92 and SR 436 intersection.

Osteen PTA Appoints Committee

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
A nominating committee to select a new slate of officers for the Osteen Parent-Teacher Assn. was appointed at the last meeting of the group held at the school with President J. C. Carpenter presiding.

Named to the committee were Mrs. Frank Tart, Mrs. L. W. Jones and Mrs. John Tatum.
Plans were made for the group to sponsor a ham dinner at the school on April 27 with Mrs. W. D. Whidden as chairman and Mrs. Mary Colley as co-chairman. Mrs. Albert Pell and Mrs. George Snyder were named co-chairmen of the summer recreation program.

The PTA voted to match funds with the school board to send their principal as a representative of Volusia County's small schools to the district meeting in Daytona Beach.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Moses has been added to the school staff as a second grade teacher. Mrs. Tart's room won the room count.

Children were entertained by Mrs. Joe Masters and Mrs. Albert Pell during the meeting and refreshments were served by the committee at the close of the meeting.

Economist To Kick Off Industry Week

T. E. Johnson of Miami, research analyst for the Florida Power and Light Company will kick off Industrial Appreciation Week here, April 15 with a speech to the Rotary Club at noon.

On Tuesday of that week an Industrial Exhibit has been planned by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, featuring the production and service of county industry.

Johnson, who is a director and past president of the Economic Society of South Florida and a member of the Advisory Committee of the Council on Economic Development for the State of Florida will speak to Rotarians on "The Florida Outlook, 1963."

His work on the research program of the Florida Power and Light Company and the fact that he has lived in Florida most of his life, observing the economic development of the area at first hand has made his analyses of Florida's business conditions well-known to investor groups and business analysts here and in the north.

Johnson's interest in his profession extends to lecturing, writing and teaching business analysis in his spare time. He is an occasional guest lecturer at the University of Miami, the University of Florida and other institutions.

Pirates May Leave Pittsburg

PITTSBURGH (PI)—Bartering an unexpected pennant victory, the game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs next Sept. 18 could be the last major league baseball contest played here.

This possibility increased today following statements by protagonists in a municipal stadium controversy that their positions were unchangeable. Tom Johnson, vice president of the Pirates, said Tuesday the club cannot pledge more than $2 million in the form of guaranteeing bonds for the $45 million stadium.

Science Fair Winners Set

An exhibit of the hatching of brine shrimp, prepared by Patty Lyn Swency, grade eight, won the Grand Championship of the All South School Science Fair held Saturday and Sunday, Sister Alwina, school principal, announced today.

Patty Lyn used tiny brine shrimp, growing in a hatching tray, with jars showing development at various stages of growth. She included in her display the type of food used, a microscope, a magnifying glass for viewing, pictures and biological drawings.

The three first place winners were Patricia Schwickert, grade seven, for her display of the dissection of a fish, including a plaque of a huge fish, pictures and a biological description; Michael Fay, grade seven, who made an incandescent lamp from a lantern battery, wires and a wide-mouthed jar; and Kristine Heath, grade six, for her experiment with musical plants.

Kristine planted two exhibits of beans, put one near the TV where it "listened to the music" and one in ordinary growing conditions. The beans which grew to music showed much heavier and faster growth and development.

Honorable mention awards went to Janice Hogeja, grade eight, for her Pinhole Camera; Julie Williams, grade six, for an exhibit of Air Pressure; and Timothy Donahoe, grade five, for an Experiment with Color.

The poster award went to Michael McCumber, grade four, for his drawings of Constellations.

Soviets Say Passage Blocked

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet skipper charged today that U. S. warships, bristling with rockets and uncovered guns, recently blocked the passage of his merchant ship to the Cuban port of Hiscoron.

Capt. Vladimir Pavlov said that an American destroyer and armed trawler also approached his ship, the Kovrov, which was bound for Cuba to pick up a load of sugar.

He said it was only after a "vigorous protest" on his part that the destroyer and the trawler sailed off and that he was able to proceed to the harbor, followed by other U. S. naval vessels.

Volusia Grand Jury Reconvenes

DELAND (UPI)—A special Volusia County Grand Jury reconvenes here Tuesday to consider reports on steps taken to curtail bolita gambling in the area.

The 18-man panel, which began work on the bolita probe Monday afternoon, is expected to issue a report sometime today.

The grand jury declared in an interim report a month ago that it found evidence of organized illegal bolita in the county. It asked law enforcement agencies to file reports on efforts to enforce lottery laws.

The Rev. Lane Patrick officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. C. E. Hoshauer, organist, played a selection of traditional wedding music.

The bride was lovely in a ballerina length wedding gown of white chantilly lace over taffeta with long tapered sleeves. She wore a short net veil attached to a crown of flowers, and carried a white Bible and white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Claudia Sowers, of Winter Park, wore a dress of fuchsia silk organza over a taffeta sheath of the same shade with matching accessories. She wore a petal hat with fuchsia veil and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Billy Winterbottom of Winter Park served as best man for the groom.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece dress of blue linen with white accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums. The groom's mother's ensemble consisted of a two-piece turquoise dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 119 Hattaway Drive. The wedding cake was three-tiered and the serving table was decorated with white candles and bouquets of pink and white gladiol. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. A. C. Hines and Mrs. Milton Tinsley.

After the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip on the East Coast of Florida. The bride chose for her going-away outfit a two-piece brown suit with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal corsage.

They are now residing at 209 South West Street, Angola, Ind.

Pinecrest PTA Plans Program

The Pinecrest School spring program, "The Pine Crest Follies of '63", is scheduled for this Friday night, at 8:00 p. m.

As well as entertainment being presented by the faculty and professional musicians, many of the children are also being featured in their own performances. Of the children, several of the acts come from other areas of the world which the children learned while living there.

A Japanese number features an authentic Japanese dance and costumes. In addition, the playing of a Japanese harp or Nagoya harp greatly contributes to its appeal. A Hawaiian dance is also being presented.

From Mrs. Doris Duxbury's fifth grade classroom an acrobatic team has planned an outstanding routine. Mrs. Duxbury is excellently qualified in working with them in this as she was a former dance teacher here. Mrs. Cathy Harrison's room is presenting a costumed interpretation of "Tom Dooley" and Mrs. Anne Reynolds sixth grade, a folk dance.

These are but a few of the attractions which the Pinecrest PTA plans for the evening entertainment. The acts were selected by talent shows first occurring within each classroom. Next, the children performed by grade and from here the most outstanding performances were selected. The proceeds from the program are to be used in meeting current school needs.

Don't Sell Lema Short In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, going contrary to all tradition, singled out newcomer Tony Lema today as a good bet to become the only golfer in history ever to win the Masters on his first try.

"I realize no first-timer ever has won here before," said the 33-year-old Palmer, who will be seeking his fourth Masters' title starting Thursday, "but that does not mean it can't happen."

"And if it does happen, Lema could be the boy to do it. Man, have you seen some of his drives? He hits 'em clear out of sight, I like the rest of his game, too."

Lema, a slender, good-looking 29-year-old pro from Oakland, Calif., is in the Masters on "a pass." He was included only a few weeks ago because of his outstanding play on the fall tour and is honest enough to admit his knees still are shaking a bit.

"I'm sorry if I seem pre-occupied," he apologized while beating a bagful of balls on the practice tee, "but this is my first time here and I'm still trying to get my bearings."

"I can understand why they say it takes a few years to get the feel of being in the Masters. I'm honored just to have been invited—why, some of the men in this tournament like Gene Sarazen and Byron Nelson I only know from reading about."

"A man who was invited here for the first time and didn't feel the magnitude of this event would have to be numb."

Still, there are other fine golfers besides Palmer who think the rangy Lema has an excellent chance to shatter precedent.

"Ordinarily, you have to stick with Palmer and some of the boys who have done it in the past," says former PGA champ Jay Hebert, "but don't sell a fellow like Lema short. I like the way he's been playing lately and he has the equipment to win here."

Wally Burkemo, another former PGA champ, thinks so, too.

"He's one of those long knucklers who can carry most of these hills with his drives," Burkemo said. "The first time out here is always rough."

Big Name Drivers Compete At Osceola Drag Race Strip

The past weekend in Sanford turned out to be a fast one at the Osceola drag strip, with big name drivers and cars from throughout the United States here to compete.

One driver and his car were flown in from California. Saturday's races were twice in number over normal.

Grady Marsh came back with his altered "gasser" and took "little eliminator" honors with an elimination time of 10:89 in an altered dragster.

John Tempest, of Cocoa, speeded in to the top stock class with an ET of 12:35 driving a Tempest station wagon.

After a hard night's work, Tempest came back and won the top stock position again for the $500 prize money. Blakely also showed up again and won the middle eliminator position with an ET of 10:80.

A good crowd of around 3,000 persons witnessed some of the South's finest drag-racing here last weekend, with $500 in cash awards and trophies being presented to the top drivers.

The next scheduled races are April 13; so try to make it an appointment to be there.

Mets In First Place In Grapefruit Loop

By United Press International

Casey Stengel can't say whether it's a miracle or a mirage, but he and his New York Mets are in first place.

That's right, the hapless, helpless, hopeless Mets, who lost a record 120 games in 1962, are 4-1-1 in the National League Grapefruit League standings today. They've compiled a 14-9 record for a .609 percentage—a half game better than the Houston Colts and 6½ games better than the league champion San Francisco Giants.

To make another comparison, the Mets' 14-9 mark is practically the opposite of the lordly world champion New York Yankees, who have only a 10-14 slate to show for their efforts this spring.

Ernie Broglio, the St. Louis Cardinals' opening-day pitcher, limited the Mets to two hits and two runs in seven innings Tuesday but the Mets exploded like the 1927 Yankees in the eighth inning. They poured over five runs and then threw up a defense like the 1931 Athletics in the last two innings to preserve a 7-6 victory that stretched their winning streak to three games.

Highlighting the big rally was Cliff Cook's third homer of the spring with a runner on base. Ed Lianepool had a double and Larry Burright, Charley Neal, Marv Throneberry and Ron Hunt had singles during the rally. Bill White and Ken Boyer homered for the Cardinals.

Butts Gave Out Facts—Cook

ATLANTA (UPI) — Attorney General Eugene Cook said Tuesday that former University of Georgia Athletic Director Wallace Butts divulged vital team secrets and was in contact with known gamblers prior to the 1962 Georgia-Alabama football game.

In a report on a two-week investigation to Gov. Carl Sanders into an alleged Southeastern Conference football scandal, Cook disclosed that the one-time famous football member had amassed a net fortune of approximately $200,000. His salary was $18,000 a year.

Butts' resignation from Georgia, where he had coached or directed athletics for 25 years, was summarily accepted Feb. 28, less than a month before a magazine article accused him of telephoning football information to Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant just before the two teams clashed in Birmingham last Sept. 22.

Bryant and Butts have denied exchanging information that could affect the outcome of the game. But Cook produced signed statements from six Georgia athletic staff members that the conversation, as reported, "conveyed vital and important information that could have affected the outcome" of the Georgia-Alabama game.

Alabama, favored by 17 points, beat Georgia 35-0 before a crowd of 64,000 in Birmingham, Ala. Cook emphasized that no player on either team was involved in any way.

Grade A Races Set At SOKK

Three Grade A races are included in a thrill-packed midweek program at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight. The events that send the track's top greyhounds into action are the first half of the Daily Double and the eighth and ninth contests.

Sleek Ponda, a sensational pup who is just two-years-old this month, rates as the winningest runner in the featured ninth race and he will be trying for his eighth win in this contest. He has already triumphed in four Grade A events, two of them features.

If Sleek Ponda can annex another victory tonight he will have to be regarded as a distinct threat in the victory chase for the track championship in which, though Monday night, 16 ace speedsters were trailing Denmy Mac by only from one to three points.

Other fan favorites in the evening's main event include Daring Darlene, Fathom, Topoka Rose and Cherokee Sunday.

Heavy Attack Squadrons Seven, Nine and Eleven are currently at sea fulfilling this mission with the Second and Sixth Fleets.

Meslier's presentation will also describe the bombing capabilities of the Douglas A1B Skywarrior and North American A5A Vigilante, the twin-jet attack bombers used by squadrons of Heavy Attack Wing One.

Both Tully and Meslier are long-time veterans of Heavy Attack. Each has commanded a squadron; Tully, Sanford's V-11-B, and Meslier, V-11-C at NAS Whidbey Island, Washington.

Skimming The Cream

Some of our more thoughtful folk keep worrying over how to spot and develop the creative individuals among the rising tide of youngsters flooding into our schools. Fresh evidence suggests they will tend to separate themselves from the pack.

A University of California study, financed by the Carnegie Corporation and spurred by one of its trustees, Board Chairman Charles Thomas of Monsanto Chemical, turned up three or four keys to the creative spirit.

The university's researches dealt with genuinely creative persons in art, science, literature, mathematics, architecture and other fields.

One key possessed by all is independence. Another is flexibility. A third is eagerness for and receptiveness to new experience. A fourth is a person's ability to understand himself, to know how to draw on his inner resources and govern his weaknesses.

Enlarging on these notions in the Monsanto magazine, John Gardner, president of the Carnegie Foundation, says the creative ones show their independence by escaping the imprisonment of group pressures.

They do not hold much with phrases like "everybody's doing it" or "what will people say?" They do not accept something as fact simply because most people seem to believe it.

Yet they do not take their non-conformity to foolish lengths. Usually they dress and behave quite conventionally, saving their rebellion for matters of major consequence.

Those who imagine that bizarre clothing and unorthodox habits demonstrate independence may in fact merely be cloaking a very ordinary, uncreative spirit.

Creative people do not fence themselves in with rigid views, but keep themselves mentally "loose." Sometimes this makes them appear pretty disorganized, especially to teachers who like things in neat packages. But out of this seeming disorder often comes the really original approach to a problem.

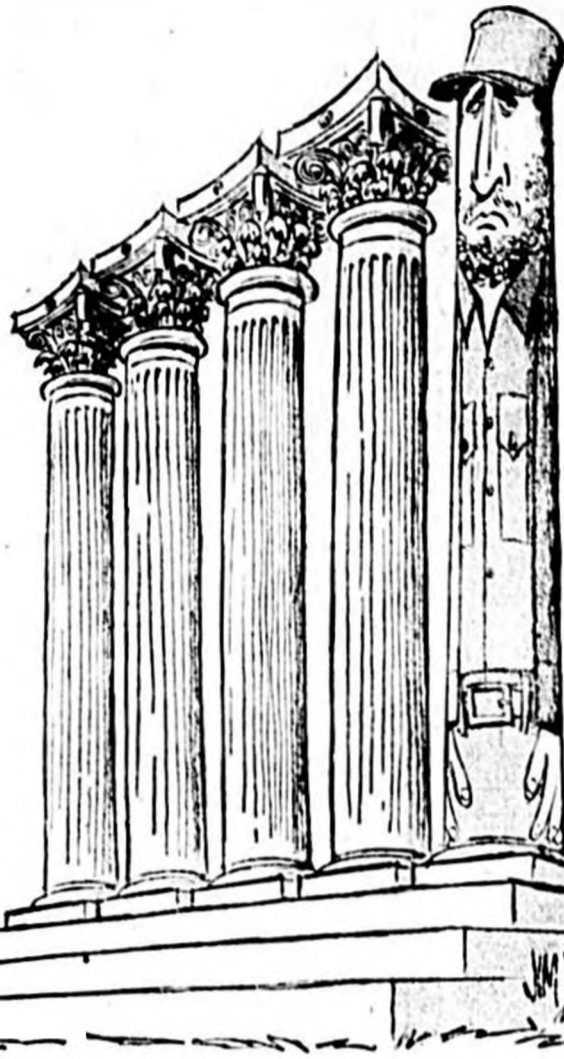

Particularly in the artistic realm today, the notion has got about that you prove creativity by rejecting everything that has been done before you came on the scene.

But the California study shows that the creative person shuts his mind to nothing. He absorbs the past. He tries to see, hear and digest more of the present than uncreative fellows. Experience, taken with a purpose and not just for its own sake, is fuel to his receptive mind.

The problem, as always, is to try to discern the individual with these special marks at a reasonably early age—and get him started in fruitful directions.

The California study, as thus far reported, seems to offer no more reliable hints than have others on the matter of how to distinguish the creative from the merely rebellious in the first stages. Their early growth can be slowed and misdirected before they finally pull clearly ahead of the ranks of the uncreative.

Fifth Column for Latin America

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE P-103: Lois L., now aged 19, is the girl mentioned yesterday.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she exulted, "I wish you and Mrs. Crane could come to my wedding."

"For if you hadn't urged me to break off with that married man, I never would have met Don."

"I'll confess that I listened to what you urged me to do only reluctantly and though I felt miserable and cried almost all the way to the neighboring city, I left home and enrolled at Business College."

"There I took the one-year diploma course. At first, I felt like a zombie, for I just went round mechanically, feeling dead inside."

"But as weeks passed, I slowly began to perk up. I guess. And during the second semester, I even became active in school affairs so I was elected secretary of my class."

"When I graduated, I was placed in a high-salaried position, for my Business College puts every graduate into a splendid job."

"And the very first man I worked for was a Purdue engineering graduate. I served as his secretary. He was very cordial and courteous and it wasn't six months till we began dating regularly."

"Then he proposed and we are to be married next month."

"And, oh, Dr. Crane, Don is the most wonderful man I ever knew. He is kind and handsome and gallant and able to earn a good salary so when we obtain those three children you said I'd probably have, Don can easily support them."

"Maybe you secretly thought I was a nitwit when you insisted that I use my head instead of my heart during my infatuation with that married man in my home town."

"But what you said really did register with me. In fact, I have thought about it a great deal ever since."

"For I remembered you told me a girl casts the 'proxy' votes for her future unborn children when she marries. And since the average family now includes three children, that meant I cast four votes when I picked Don."

"So I shall be eternally grateful for the stern talking to that you gave me."

"Every smart girl can serve as a 'family elevator.' For even if she comes from the wrong side of the tracks and has been reared in a drunken, brawling home, she can still establish a good home environment for her children. If

And that big "if" means, if she will use her head and cast those proxy votes of her future unborn babies most wisely."

Lois was infatuated with a married man when she was only 17 and an immature girl.

She believed firmly at that time that she could never, never fall in love again.

But look at how she has served as a splendid "family elevator" for her future youngsters.

They will now have a smart father, able to support them well, instead of a man who would be paying support and alimony to a former family.

So be smart. Romance will inevitably spring up afresh if you just go through the proper motions. So pick the right type of sweetheart first.

DeGaulle... Odd-Man-Out

By Joseph W. Grigg

PARIS (UPI) — Resumption of United States-Soviet talks on Berlin in Washington finds French President Charles de Gaulle once again in his odd-man-out role.

France is taking no part in the talks. De Gaulle is not even an interested spectator. He simply is ignoring them.

That has been De Gaulle's posture for at least 18 months where East-West talks with the Soviets are concerned. There is no sign of his changing in the near future.

Since the end of 1961 De Gaulle has refused any part in negotiations with the Russians.

His hostility even to diplomatic "probing" on Berlin blew up into a crisis in the North Atlantic Council in December 1961.

It was settled only by a compromise arrangement that the United States and Great Britain would go on talking with the Russians and that France, though disapproving, would not veto the talks.

De Gaulle has taken the same stand on disarmament and nuclear test ban negotiations. He has boycotted, even ignored them. But he has not sought actively to block them.

He is firmly convinced the Russians will not attack the West in Europe and thus provoke a nuclear showdown with the United States.

He believes the periodic Berlin crises touched off by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev are largely bluff. He believes Khrushchev is seeking to threaten and scare the West out of Berlin but would not risk use of force.

"When you are sitting pretty, there is no point in negotiating," runs his argument. "You gain nothing and may end up by making concessions."

Dick West Says

Widely Used 4-Letter Word

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The most widely used four-letter word in the English language may very well be "time."

"I'm speaking, of course, of four-letter words that can be printed in a family newspaper."

In one thesaurus that I consulted, the word "time" appears in approximately 180 familiar quotations, give or take "time out of mind" and "time is money."

None, I might add, is more eloquent than an original quotation uttered by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., recently as he introduced a bill in the Senate.

"Our river of time is heavily shoaled, filled with jagged rocks and treacherous eddies," spoke Cotton, and I couldn't agree with him more.

The avowed purpose of Cotton's bill is to eliminate some of the confusion that daylight saving time causes in this country each spring.

I dutifully tried to understand his explanation of the bill, but I'm afraid I never got past the first shoal. I got caught in one of those treacherous eddies and wound up stranded on a jagged rock.

Daylight time does cause confusion. That much I can understand. I have always been good at understanding confusion.

For instance, Richmond, the capital of Virginia, observes daylight time from Memorial Day to Labor Day. In Fairfax County, where I am domiciled, daylight time runs from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October. The city of Bristol ignores it entirely.

Thus, for about one month, Richmond has the same time as Bristol but is an hour behind Fairfax County. Then Richmond has the same time as Fairfax County, but is an hour ahead of Bristol, catches up with Richmond, which again falls behind Fairfax County.

All of that is perfectly clear to me. What I do not understand is how Cotton's bill, and similar measures already introduced, would improve matters.

Under these proposals, as I get it, areas wanting to observe daylight time would no longer move their clocks ahead an hour as they do now. Instead, they would move into a different time zone.

Take Washington, for example. It would spend the winter in the Eastern time zone, its present habitat. But in the summer, it would move into the Atlantic time zone, which begins about 260 miles east of here. That point is about 125 miles out in the ocean.

Proposals that the capital be dumped into the sea are not exactly novel, but are, I submit, totally impractical. The weather here is humid enough already.

Sportsmen Angry Over Killings

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Sportsmen throughout the state of Minnesota were "up in arms" today over the deaths of thousands of ducks along the Mississippi River because of oil pollution.

Conservation workers said they have found dead beaver and muskrats and said many fish may also die as a result of the pollution.

Forrest Lee, supervisor of the Minnesota state game research unit, estimated "conservatively" that 8,000 to 10,000 ducks have been smothered with oil and disabled or killed.

DEAR ABBY: I am single, I met a single man -- a sergeant in the Air Force. We are both 39. He retires next year. He's asked me to marry him. I'm sure we love each other but I am in doubt about a few things. He never has any money. A top kick's pay after deductions is about $375 a month. He lives in the barracks and gets his meals at the mess hall or the NCO Club. He has no dependents and his clothes aren't expensive. Yet when we go out I have to lend him $10 or $20 until his next payday. He hasn't saved anything. I wonder what he does with his money? CURIOUS

DEAR ABBY: You are so right in saying that mixing school books with babies and milk bottles is for the birds. I am connected with a college, and we have housing for married students with children, but most of them can't afford it. They live in shacks and trailers instead. I feel so sorry for these young wives married to students. Many struggle with small children while husband studies Aristotle and the Second Carthaginian War. And after he completes his education, he informs his wife that he has "outgrown" her intellectually, and then divorces her for someone more suited to his educated self. Sincerely, BITTER

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby. How does the Jacoby Transfer Bid handle a two-suit opposite an opening no-trump? The answer to the second question is "No." The answer to the first is that responder transfers to one suit and then bids the other. This bid of a new suit after a transfer bid is a further forcing bid. Thus, South's two heart bid is the transfer to spades and his three heart bid shows that he has hearts also, and is a further forcing bid. North just has 10 high card points, but he notes that he may have just the right cards for a slam. His four diamond bid can't really be showing a diamond suit and must be a slam try of sorts. South rebids four hearts confirming his two suiter and North goes to five hearts. He does not use Blackwood because it won't do him any good to know about one ace--he wants to know about South's club holding. South looks at his singleton club and bids the slam which is a lay down. Of course, the slam might be bid in any system. It just happens that the transfer bid made it easy.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett. Bored with housekeeping? Most housewives do occasionally get bogged down in the three-meals-a-day, keep-the-house-and-children-clean, take-care-of-the-children "daily-ness" of it all. Perhaps what you need is just a momentary lift. Here's how some of my readers say they make the job of homemaker a bit more challenging: "Plan a new living room as carefully as though you were a decorator. Put the plan on paper: furniture, swatches of fabric, accessories -- everything. Then, holding to your perfect plan, get one thing at a time until you have the room as nearly like your plan as possible. (This can keep a homemaker working creatively for a long time, and when one room is finished, there's another room to start on.)" "Make cooking a challenge instead of a chore. Borrow some library books on foreign cooking and do more than read them. Try one new dish a day. This is much more satisfying than wandering through a supermarket trying to get an idea of something to have for dinner." "Do something you never tried to do before. If you've never sewed, buy some material and a simple pattern and make yourself a dress. Tackle a slip cover for a shabby chair. Refinish or paint an old piece of furniture. Take a night school course in millinery or upholstery, and learn a useful new skill." Perhaps none of these ideas appeals to you. If not, get busy thinking up some idea that does offer a challenge. Then get busy at it. Chances are, before you are finished you'll be lifted out of the doldrums. And you have another project dreamed up to tackle as soon as you are finished with the first one. 60 Day Session Horne Predicts TALLAHASSEE (UPI) -- House Speaker Melvin Horn, looking toward a session which could be filled with confusion and discord due to increased membership, Monday moved to put extra power in the hands of the House Rules Committee. "I believe we can get through in 60 days," he told the committee, but in order to do so, "we must be the most powerful committee in the Legislature."

A CONVERSATION WITH SUPT. OF SCHOOLS R. T. MILWEE.

$345,200 Bid OK'd On School

Work will be commenced late next week in the construction of the new English Estates school. School Board opened six bids for the contract this morning and accepted the low base bid of $345,200 of Jack Jennings, Orlando.

MORRIS RUBY

The building will be of CBS construction, a compact one-story structure housing 15 classrooms, administration offices and a cafeteria. It will be located at the end of Oxford Avenue in the English Estates subdivision.

School Board also this morning named Morris Ruby, present principal of Lake Monroe school, as principal of English Estates. No successor was named at Lake Monroe.

The board opened six bids at 10 a.m., went into executive session and announced its decision shortly before noon. Complications entered the picture on the bidding because each contractor also offered over and above his base bid five alternate differences.

Here are the base bids of the six contractors, before deductions and additions as presented because of the alternate changes: Carroll Daniel Construction Company, Sanford, $405,200; Galban Contracting Company, Orlando, $390,500; H. J. High Construction Company, Orlando, $422,000; Jack Jennings, Orlando, $345,200; Eugene W. Kelsey & Son, Orlando, $399,425; and Henry H. Stephens, Orlando, $415,800.

During the fray, Miss Laing suffered a severe gash on her forehead and chest injuries.

Will Fight On, Rebels Say

Buenos Aires (UPI) — A rebel radio vowed early today that diehard foes of ousted ex-President Juan D. Peron will "fight on" despite the apparent collapse of their effort to overthrow the government.

The rebel threat was broadcast even as Rear Adm. Eladio Vasquez, commander of the high seas fleet, held peace talks with leaders of the army and air force.

At least 25 men had been killed and 50 wounded in two days of scattered fighting, limited for the most part to air attacks.

A broadcast from a hidden radio station spoke of continued resistance by the "Patagonian Revolutionary Command," suggesting the rebels might intend to hole up in the bleak southern territory of Patagonia.

Commiss No Equal To Us -- McNamara

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has told Congress that Russia's economic and military power complex will not equal that of the United States "in our lifetime."

McNamara's confident appraisal of the U. S. defenses was contained in testimony given to the Senate Armed Services Committee in February. It was made public today by the committee. The defense secretary said all-out nuclear war was "improbable," but his testimony made it clear he thought the

Bryant Predicts OK For Revenue Plan

'Must Provide New Taxes, College Funds'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant predicted today that the legislature will approve his $250 million package program for new revenue.

Bryant told his first news conference of the session that the legislators are beginning to grasp the overall fiscal picture and will conclude there is no alternative but to provide $125 million in new taxes and $125 million in borrowed funds for university and junior college construction.

He conceded there is some opposition to the borrowing program, but he said the alternatives are limited. In fact, he said, he knows of no alternative method that would be practicable for raising money for university expansion.

Bryant elaborated on details of his tax and spend program and explained why he did not suggest that the borrowing phase be put into the State Constitution by a vote of the people.

He said he had no objections to the people passing on the proposed bond program except that it would be more than a year before they could vote and also he does not want to see it an issue in the 1964 governor's campaign.

If it were possible to get three-fourths consent of the legislature for a special election immediately to vote on the bond program, that would be fine, he said, "but that's impossible."

"So important a matter as educational expansion should not be made a part of partisan politics" which would happen, he said, if the amendment were on the ballot in the 1964 general election.

special fact-finding board last night in the final step available under the National Railway Labor Act to prevent a walkout. The action automatically bars a strike for 60 days.

Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, special counsel to Presidents

Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, was named chairman of the board which will meet in Washington a week from today to begin discussions.

The two other members of the panel are veteran labor mediators. They are Prof. Nathan Feinsinger of the University of Wisconsin Law School and Dr. Clark Kerr, president of the University of California.

The controversy over what the railroads call "featherbedding" reached the showdown stage when the Supreme Court ruled that the companies were free to abolish thousands of jobs which had been protected by longstanding union rules.

Five operating unions representing about 200,000 railroad workers viewed the dispute as a question of whether their members would be able to continue working at the only jobs they know.

For the railroads, it was a question of whether they would be allowed to eliminate jobs which have become unnecessary because of technological advances. They estimated that the rule changes would save about $500 million a year at a time when economies are needed to meet ever stiffening competition from other forms of transportation.

Stock Rally NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks resumed Wednesday's rally at the opening today on active trading.

Kennedy Hopeful On Red Troops WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy was understood today to be trying to make it as easy as possible for Premier Nikita Khrushchev to withdraw more Russian troops from Cuba without losing face.

The President told his news conference Wednesday "we hope" Russia would recall the estimated 12,000 to 13,000 military personnel she still has on the island. But he avoided touching his statement in strong terms which would give it the flavor of a demand.

Kennedy emphasized that one of the reasons the United States cracked down on refugees hit-and-run raids on Cuba and Soviet vessels was to avoid giving Khrushchev any additional excuse to keep his troops in the area.

to effect Wednesday and had withdrawn from national railroad agreements.

The strike by the engineers will have little actual effect on the already struck railroad, except to provide some relief on picket lines.

President Kennedy named an emergency fact-finding board Wednesday to seek a compromise on railroad featherbedding, thus averting strikes by other unions for at least two months.

Davidson charged from the union's Cleveland headquarters that FEC Board Chairman Ed Hall was trying to slow other railroads how to run their operations.

"But just let him try to move a train when he gets his other strike settled," the union boss said.

Ball was scheduled to meet with Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz in Washington today at 2 p. m. Wirtz was expected to try to persuade Ball to reopen negotiations with the 11 non-operating unions which struck against the FEC Jan. 23 in a wage dispute.

At the same time the Justice Department goes into federal court at Greenville, about 60 miles away, seeking an injunction barring interference with Negro voter registration drives.

Gregory, who had his arm twisted by police here two days ago in a voter demonstration march, vowed Wednesday to lead new marches "and fight this thing until the government sends in troops."

Gregory led a march Wednesday in which 19 Negroes were arrested in this delta town but police left Gregory alone.

4-11 Club Change Time and place of today's North Orlando 4-11 Club meeting and program has been changed from 4:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. and will be held at the Community Building in the Village Recreation Area instead of at the home of Mrs. Anton Krack.

Longwood To Meet The April meeting of the Longwood City Council will be held at 8 p.m. today in the City Hall. Only routine business has been scheduled on the agenda, the Herald was advised.

Locomotive Engineers 1st To Go On Strike? JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers may be the first operating union workers to go on strike since a U. S. Supreme Court ruling upholding the right of railroads to abolish "featherbedding" jobs.

Union Chief Roy Davidson said Wednesday the engineers will go on strike against the Florida East Coast Railway at one minute after midnight Friday.

Davidson said his organization will join 11 non-operating unions in the strike against the FEC because the Florida-based carrier put anti-featherbedding rules in

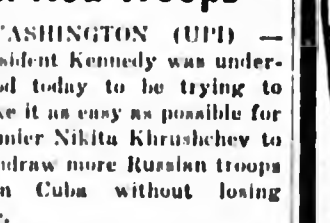

New Voter March Promised GREENWOOD, Miss. (UPI) — Negro voter aspirants, led by Chicago comedian Dick Gregory, planned to march again today in a civil rights battle described as "almost won."

Eliminate Poll Tax Plan Asked TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A resolution calling on Congress to enact legislation eliminating the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections was introduced today by Sen. Beth Johnson, Orlando.

Mrs. Johnson said 30 of the 36 states required to ratify an anti-poll tax amendment have already approved. Gov. Farris Bryant also has endorsed the move which was started in Congress by Florida's Sen. Spessard L. Holland.

Only five states now have a poll tax.
