Sanford's Waste Water Program Costs Mount

By Karen Talley Herald Staff Writer

The massive cost of meeting a state mandate continues to require impressive waste water program allocations and contract authorizations from Sanford city commissioners.

However, commissioners ran into a bit of a snag Monday afternoon during a special meeting that had been called to conclude contracts for air and field surveys of city-owned effluent disposal sites and the transmission lines that will be routed to mons placed a proposed survey contract on the table, said he'd just received it, and it fell short of meeting the city's needs. Commissioners agreed to table the matter while Simmons arranges another contract with a different surveying firm.

The contract he'll work on is the last of four the city will enter into for the necessary surveys. The three other contracts were approved by commissioners in regular session last week.

The three contracts came to $139,990, with payments to begin early next year, once the surveys have started. The city will then be charged on a monthly basis as the studies continue, Simmons said.

Aside from agreeing to the three contracts last week, commissioners approved $694,696 in expenditures. Of this figure, $482,932 went to cover construction and testing billings for the state required waste management program.

Meeting the state's edict to cease effluent disposal in Lake Monroe and upgrade the city's sewage system will probably come in around $36.5 million when finished in the early 1990's. according to Sanford engineers.

The program will take effluent disposal from Lake Monroe and distribute it through spray irrigation systems located on city owned properties. The program will also upgrade and rehabilitate Sanford's sewage plant, and correct deficiencies in underground sewage transmission lines. The lines are cracked in some places and connected to storm water piping in others.

City commissioners have floated a $16.98 million bond to fund the program, and anticipate authorizing another issue within a couple of years. The effort's $36.5 million projected cost will be partially offset with $8.25 million in state

Lake Mary Plans Own Sewer Plant

By Kathy Tyrity Herald Staff Writer

In a turn-around move, the Lake Mary City Commission agreed Monday night to work with Timacuan development to build a starter sewage system and treatment plant, rather than face a possible shortness of capacity with Sanford's system.

Although none of the details have been worked out, the commission came to "an indication" that this would be their course of action at the workshop session preliminary to Thursday night's regular meeting of formal action.

The commission had plenty of experts on hand to give them advice in making their decision. but the two Lake Mary representatives who had served on the sewer service study committee — Acting City Manager Jim Orioles and Commissioner Buzz Petsos - did not favor building a new plant.

"There's got to be a reason people are trying to get out of the terwagel business." Petsos said, referring to nearby cities that have joined other hook-ups. "Cities to the south of us are getting out of the business, and we want to get into it? I just envision the city having problems five years down the road."

He had echoed concern expressed from time to time that Timacuan may one day abandon the plant or something else might go wrong and the city would be stuck with a plant it doesn't want.

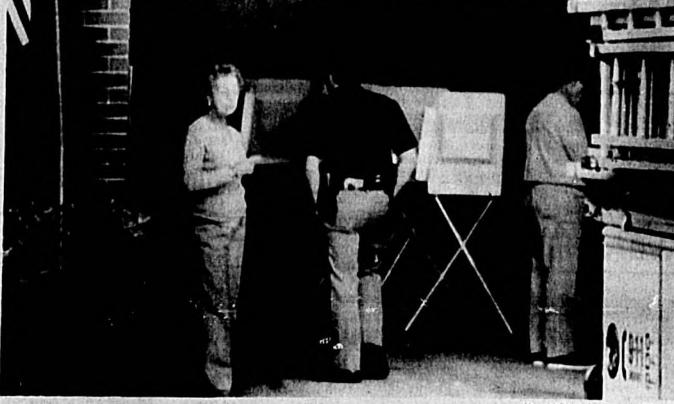

Orioles, too, had concerns which the commission wanted to hear. Said Mayor Dick Fess asking for Orioles' opinion, "We want to hear from someone with boots on and a shovel full to give us a recommendation.

Orioles answered that he was afraid of the red tape of the DER (Department of Environmental Regulation) and he just didn't want the plant in the city. "Some people sell their houses because of sewage plants and sewer bills," he said.

Assuring him that his concerns were valid was one of the "experts" called in to advise the city, David Wright, engineer with Camp Dresser & McKee.

"Sewer plants stink," he said. "I can't guarantee you it won't, but we try to minimize all of that

Longwood Proposes Sewer Treatment Pact With County

By Jane Casselberry Herald Staff Writer

A third draft of the proposed wholesale sewage treatment and disposal agreement between the city of Longwood and Seminole County approved by the city commission Monday night is scheduled to go before the county commission in its 7 p.m. meeting tonight at the County Services Building in Sanford.

A motion by Commissioner Harvey Smerilson to approve the agreement subject to approval on financing by Sun Bank passed 4-1 and the mayor was authorized to sign the pact. Commissioner Perry Faulkner voted against it without saying

In voting to hook up to the county sewer system, the city cancels out plans to build the proposed 600,000 gallons per day Grant Street sewage treatment plant for which the city obtained $2.5 million financing from Sun Bank and has received bids for construction.

Under the agreement the county would reserve for Longwood 600,000 gallons per Greenwood Lakes treatment facility for a period of 10 years. Initially the city will pay con-nection fees for 325,000 GPD at the rate of $5.75 per gallon upon execution of the corresponding Florida Department of Environmental Regulations permit application by the county or within six months of the signing of the agreement. whichever comes earlier.

Upon application for additional FDER permits for wastewater capacity up to 600,000 GPD. Longwood would pay connection fees when each permit application is signed at the rate of $1 less per gallon than the county's wastewater connection fee in effect at the time.

In a memorandum to City Attorney Ann Colby, County Attorney Nikki Clayton explained why the county rejected the city's request to have the time of payment changed from application by the county for a FDER permit to approval of the permit by FDER. She said it is against the county's established procedure.

. The reason that the payment day of wastewater capacity at its is required at the time the county executes the permit is to protect the county since ther is no recourse other than litigation to enforce payment once the county has signed off on the permit. The third party could obtain approval of the permit from DER and not return to the county prior to construction of its connection to the county system, she said.

Another factor, Ms. Clayton stated is the county will begin incurring costs under the agreement immediately and the delay between execution by the county and approval by FDER is normally 2.3 months at most. Accordingly, the county believes it is better not to treat Longwood differently than its other customers on this matter.

Ms. Clayton and Ms. Colby have been working together with county and city staffs to hammer out an agreement that both the city and county commissions would approve.

Longwood would be responsible for collection of its wastewater connection fee and monthly charges for each unit served.

Elections Attract

Gloomy weather apparently did not cloud voter turnout in run-off elections in Sanford and Longwood early today.

Four office hopefuls in two districts went into the run-off in Sanford and two candidates were on the Longwood ballot.

In Sanford, candidates are running for seats in Districts 3

Gooden's Defense Goes On Offense

Gooden's defense went on the offensive Monday.

Charles Ehrlich, the attorney for Gooden and two of Gooden's four companions arrested Saturday night, has alleged Tampa police officers used excessive force and taunted the New York Mets pitcher with racial slurs during the incident.

The arraignment of Gooden and four others charged with resisting arrest with violence and battery on a police officer will probably be delayed until after Christmas, court officials said Monday. Gooden, who was also given the additional charge of disorderly conduct, left his Tampa house shortly after noon EST Monday, hurrying past photographers and report-

Keeping his head down, the 22-year-old right-hander said, "Get off the porch, get off the TAMPA (UPI) - Dwight porch," as he entered a car and left the scene. The car had a sticker in the window that read, "Mets fan on board."

Ehrlich said his preliminary investigation reveals a far different version of the incident from the affidavits filed by police officers at the scene. All five males arrested are black and the police officers involved are white.

"When Dwight asked for his license back from the officer and asked if he would be charged with anything, the guy said, 'Don't worry, we'll think of something,'" Ehrlich said. "Then the officer started to get verbally abusive with him and the conversation got more heated. Another officer came up and apparently the second one hit Dwight in the stomach. They had Dwight down on the ground in handcuffs and were still hitting him.

City Endorses Funding After School Programs

Jernigan wants the funds to hire a full-time program supervisor, although two commissioners say the money might be better spent to hire a number of part-time staffers. Another commissioner says he supports Jernigan's requested use of the funds, while the commission's other two others were noncommittal during the work session discussion. The matter will be decided next week in regular session, commissioners said

Jernigan wants the $23,000 to hire a full-time supreviser who would oversee operations at five local schools, three of which are already offering the programs. He says the supervisor would build the city "a sound system of programs.'

Mayor Bettye Smith and Commissioner John Mercer, although indicating support of Jernigan's funding request, said the money might be better spent to hire a number of part-time staffers to work at the various Four part-time staffers already work at the three schools, hired through $15,000 commissioners authorized to start the programs in October, Jernigan said.

The part-timers are assisted by the recreation department's two administrators, who Jernigan says are "stretched like rubber bands," having to address the program responsibilities in addition to their regular duties.

Another $6,000 sought by Jernigan would go for more part-time help, he said, but commissioners did not discuss this request on Monday. Their concentration was solely on the $23,000 proposed for one employeee.

"I won't vote against it (the $23,000), but I question its going for one administrator." Mercer said. "I suspect other employees might be needed instead."

Mayor Smith concurred, saying the money "might not be justified for another supervisor. but perhaps should be consid-

Weather Cited In Five Deaths

Press International

Mild temperatures were the rule across much of the nation today, while rain doused the Southeast and a Pacific storm threatened to bring snow and rain to California and Arizona.

lcy roads and fog in the Midwest Monday were blamed for the deaths of five people in weather-related traffic accidents in Illinois, police said.

Temperatures early today were mostly in the 20s and 30s from the Midwest to the Northeast. Readings in the teens were reported in the northern Mississippi Valley and in the central and northern Rockles.

Light rain fell today from southern Alabama and southern Georgia to northern Florida and southern South Carolina. Scattered showers were reported in parts of Kentucky, southeast Missouri and southern Illinois and Indiana.

Heavier rain Monday night flooded streets in Lake Charles,

Bill Barlow of the National Weather Service said a storm off Southern California would bring "snow and rain into the Southwest today and tomorrow." He said snow was expected in the mountains of California and Arizona.

Thick fog ahrouded the Salt Lake Valley early today, and a travelers advisory was posted as visibilities dropped to near zero in some areas. An airport spokesman said some flights were delayed by the fog. Fog was also causing problems early today from the central and southern Plains into the Mississippi Valley. Visibility was close to zero in parts of northern Texas, across Oklahoma and eastern portions of Kansas and Nebraska.

Showers Monday dotted castern Texas, where nearly 2 inches of rain fell at Port Arthur, and rain fell in the lower Mississippi Valley, the Southeast, the south Atlantic coast, Nevada and the central coast of California. Temperatures Monday in the 30s and 40s were common from the Rockies and Plains to the Great Lakes. The Atlantic Coast reached the 50s, and highs were in the 20s over northern Maine.

The Voyager pilots darted around towering black Pacific thunderheads as they zigzagged through bad weather that could doom their historic attempt to circle the globe in a plane without stopping for fuel. the ground crew said.

Riding tail winds they picked up by skirting around the storms, co-pilots Dick Rutan and Jeana Yeager were reportedly on schedule today for their unprecedented world flight - described as the last great flying adventure.

The pilots expected to reach Guam at 10 a.m. PST today.

"Satellite pictures show a considerable increase in the weather that could affect the a.m., 7:40 p.m. Voyager," project spokesman Peter Riva said Monday, "but it is sufficiently scattered and we expect to be able to thread through them in relatively inactive areas."

The spindly experimental plane was also apparently none the worse for having lost the winglets on the tips of its 111-foot wings, which were damaged during takeoff Sun-day at Edwards Air Force Base. The plane will hopefully land back at Edwards on Christmas Eve after an odysacy of 27,000

Shiites, Palestinians Battle

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) - Shiite Moslem Amal militiamen and Palestinian guerrillas clashed at two refugee camps today despite the Palestine Liberation Organization's agreement to abide by an Iranian-mediated plan to end seven weeks of fighting.

Amal militiamen hiding behind barricades exchanged gunfire with Palestinian fighters trapped inside the Shatila and Burj Al Barajneh camps in southern Beirut, police sources said.

The two sides clashed around the camps Monday with artillery and rockets, ignoring a PLO statement issued in Iraq agreeing to the peace plan. It was the first such announcement by the PLO since fighting between Amal and the Palestinians erupted in Beirut and southern Lebanon seven weeks ago. The fighting has killed 348 people and wounded 1,273.

Police said one Amal militiamen was killed and 23 civilians were wounded in the clashes Monday.

Indian Relations Now Improving

When he became India's prime minister two years ago, Rajiv Gandhi promised to modernize his socialist economy and strive for an end to regional conflicts that continually convulse the Indian subcontinent. Predictably, his progress toward these goals is not altogether encouraging, despite an auspicious beginning.

Peace accords to end separatist strife in the Punjab, Assam and the Mizoram states are crumbling. Sikh terrorist attacks in the Punjab have brought that troubled state to the brink of civil war, and a beleaguered Mr. Gandhi is considering sending troops to restore order. His efforts to help resolve a longstanding dispute between Sri Lanka and - Tamil rebels have been to no avail. And India's simmering feud with Pakistan has intensified because of well-founded suspicions that Islamabad is developing a nuclear bomb and is aiding Sikh terrorists.

Mr. Gandhi's success on the economic front has been more encouraging. After predictable opposition from the bureaucracy, he has been unable to nudge India away from the suffocating socialist policies of his mother and grandfather. Numerous government regulations have been dismantled and there are fewer bean counters running about harassing private businesses. Impressed by the rapid economic growth in South Korea and Taiwan, Mr. Gandhi is pushing for free market reforms to capitalize India's natural resources.

India's pragmatic economic policies improve the prospect of closer relations between New Delhi and Washington. Last year, for example, U.S. exports to India totaled $2.4 billion and imports from India amounted to $1.6 billion. Moreover, Mr. Gandhi's reforming economy also has attracted additional U.S. investment. Direct American investement in India increased from $7.5 million in 1984 to $33.2 million last year. Total U.S. investments there now exceed $500 million.

More important. Mr. Gandhi is looking toward the United States for advanced nomic development. Last year India purchased $1.3 billion worth of mainframe computers; avionics and advanced communications equipment, twice as much as in 1984. This year, Control Data Corporation has already sold India $500 million worth of advanced computers. The American company anticipates a $2 billion payoff in direct and indirect business during the next few Improved U.S.-Indian trade calls for more U.S. businesses to explore trade and investment opportunities with India. The Reagan administration should encourage Mr. Gandhi to lower India's trade barriers to ease restrictions on foreign investment. And the administration can ensure the smooth transfer of U.S. technology that can spur India's economy. Such transfers could eventually draw India away from the Soviet Union, now its leading trading partner. The Soviets, of course, cannot match the United States's technical superiority.

The Reagan administration should also consider selling sophisticated military equipment to India. Washington appears to be moving in that direction, having recently approved the sale of jet engines. Further, the Pentagon is considering help to India in the design and production of its own fighter aircraft. Even though the Soviet Union is "India's principal supplier of military hardware, Mr. Gandhi obviously does not want to depend too heavily on Moscow.

Improved U.S.-Indian relations would promote the national interests of both countries. Apart from the obvious economic advantages, closer cooperation between the world's two largest democracies is seen as the best way to inhibit Soviet expansion in South Asia. Clearly, this last consideration is not the east of the beckoning benefits from close U.S.-India ties.

Moving Isn't Exactly Inexpensive Either

WASHINGON (UPI) — Tired of paying high prices for coffee? Maybe you would like to pay high prices for apple juice for a change. If so, move to Japan.

According to the National Geographic Society. apples cost about $5.25 each in Tokyo.

Better think twice, however, about trying to save on apples by moving to Moscow. You might bump into more high coffee prices.

As I understand it, a cuppa Joe costs even more in the Soviet capital than it does in the U.S. capital.

A Soviet consumer official has been quoted as suggesting that Muscovites quit drinking so much java if they can't afford it. He said they could get along without it, which certainly would be no answer to the problem in this city.

Around here, coffee is considered essential. If nothing else, it keeps the bureaucrats awake. Some folks beyond the Capitol Beltway might regard coffee as even more essential than bureaucrats, but I suppose we will have to wait for the first snowfall in 'Vashington to test that

Only "essential" employees are required to mush to work. The funny thing is that employee attendance probably is higher in snowy weather than at any other time.

Could it be that most federal employees consider themselves essential? Or do they just like drinking coffee on snow days?

In any event, if it's relatively cheap coffee you're looking forward to, better move to

Some brands in the Ohio city, it says in the magazine Advertising Age, sell for more than a dollar a pound under the national average. I don't know the reason for this, except that it must snow a lot in Toledo. I do know that sugar costs less in St. Louis. At least, Advertising Age says it does. So if you take that condiment in your coffee, you may want to move from Ohio to Missouri.

Cream prices, apparently, are pretty much the same everywhere. Anyway, the magazine didn't include cream in its survey.

You might save something on milk by driving down the road to Cleveland. A gallon of milk in Cleveland costs about a dollar under the national average.

Of course, if it's a soft drink you prefer with a hamburger and fried potatoes, you might want to move to Louisiana. One account I read reported that even nationwide fast food outlets "juggle prices."

As proof, that publication cited a meal composed of the above ingredients as costing less in Baton Rouge than in Bakersfield, Calif.

If. however, you drink domestic wine with your burger and fries, or take it in your coffee, you might be better off, pricewise, on the West

The survey indicates that California wine costs less in California than elsewhere. Reduced shipping and handling charges, I suppose.

Should a fast food customer order a glass of imported wine with food, or with a cup of coffee, she or he apparently is on hers or his own. I saw no comparable price comparisons for foreignproduced wine.

Beer, however, costs less in Houston.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN Action, Needed, Not Hype

WASHINGTON - The events of recent weeks have severely damaged both the political agenda of the Reagan administration and the national interest central to presidential policies.

The still-shadowy arrangements of alleged transfers of funds to the Contras via foreign nationals have vastly complicated a case of bad judgment. The national interest also is involved because aid to the freedom fighters in Nicaragua is tremendously important in countering a further build-up of communist Sandinista forces in Nicaragua as surrogates of the Soviet Unoin.

Preventing establishment of a full-scale Soviet bastion in Central America should have the highest priority in American defense and foreign policy. Those in Congress with no enthusiasm for anticommunist hemispheric defense already are using the Iran caper as a pretext for cancelling aid to the freedom fighters. That must not be allowed to happen. If congressional apologists for the Sandinistas have their way, the Kremlin will score a. victory of lasting importance to the President Reagan received incredibly bad advice in the case of the Iran negotiations, and those who gave that advice shouldn't have another opportunity to damage a very successful presidency. A very important measure of damage control was adopted when Mr. Reagan named Frank Carlucci as his new national security adviser. Mr. Carlucci is a former deputy defense secretary and deputy CIA director. He is tough-minded, experienced and prudent. Another measure of damage control is the president's prompt move to get the facts of the Iran deal before the American people.

The White House stall made grave errors, but the country should not be confused by the Reagan-haters in the Washington press corps who are trying to hype the Iran episode into a latter-day Watergate. They already are styling the affair "Irangate," an abourdity. If they persist in this propagandist approach, they are likely to create a strong backlash of sympathy for the president. The American people have repeatedly demonstrated that they favor the foreign policy agenda established by the president. It's highly unlikely that the Iran-Contra-aid flasco will cause Americans to reject his agenda.

Iran Probe Ragged

By Robert Shepard WASHINGTON (UPI) — The congressional probe of the Iranian arms deal has gotten off to a fitful start and in some instances done little to Congress to investigate a matter as senstitive and controversial as the

Both the Senate and House will set up special Watergate-type committees to begin investigating the affair next month. But initially, three regular committees began looking into it - the Senate and House Intelligence committees and the House Foreign Affairs Commit-

The first public hearings were held last week by the Foreign Affairs Committee and despite the efforts by Chairman Dante Fascell, D-Fla., the occasion prompted bickering and overreaching by some

Rep. Michael Barnes, D-Md.,

Possible criminal violations by Poindexter or any others in the growing cast of characters in the Iran affair will be investigated by a special counsel, appointed by a federal court. At the time of the committee hearing, neither the counsel nor the special congressional committees had been appointed. let alone begun their probes. Yet Barnes managed to gaze into the future, convict Poindexter and then give him a suspended sentence.

Another member, Rep. Stephen Solarz, D-N.Y., was equally unrestrained. Following three days of open and closed testimony by Secinspire confidence in the ability of retary of State George Shultz. former security aide Robert 1971. Soviet shipment of advanced MoFarlane., and CIA. Director. William Casey, Solarz went before the waiting television cameras to announce his conclusion that President Reagan "must have known" about the diversion of the Iran arms sale proceeds to Nicaraguan rebels.

The evidence seemed far less certain to the other 40 committee members, none of whom came even close to such a pronouncement. Rep. William Broomfield, R-Mich., said nothing in the officials' testimony implicated Reagan. And when Rep. Michael DeWine, R-Ohio, heard of Solarz's comments he quickly put in his own appearance before the cameras to express his outrage at the statement.

DeWine, having heard the same testimony as Solarz, concluded there was "absolutely no evidence" linking Reagan to the diversion.

On the Senate side, Sen. Ernest Hollings, D.S.C., sat in on the first three days of closed hearings by the Senate Intelligence Committee and then told reporters Reagan knew money had been diverted to the Nicaraguan rebels. Hollings said he based his conclusion not on testimony given to the committee, but on "common sense."

For the most part, the committees on both sides of the Capitol have done solid work in their preliminary look at the Iran affair, but that effort can easily be undermined in the public's eye by the incautious behavior of just a few members.

VIEWPOINT

Say No On Computers To India

By William R. Hawkins

India's Prime Minister, Rajiv Gandhi, has slowly shifted his policy away from the strident anti-Americanism that marked the regime of his mother, Indira. He has, for example, relaxed restrictions on U.S. trade and investment, and the lure of 775 million new customers brought an immediate stampede of American businessmen to New Delhi.

Indian law still prohibits Americans from owning more than 40 percent of any enterprise. But this has not deterred U.S. business from becoming the largest block of new foreign investment in India, from razor blades to chemicals to soft drinks to jet engines. The improvement in relations has led some observers to call for the playing of the "India Card" in regional diplomacy.

Such optimism is premature. India maintains its close ties to the Soviet Union with whom a Friendship Treaty was signed in weapons to India is second in value only to Syria in the Third World. Recent deals include the technology to build nuclear submarines, a long-range radar defense system and the new MIG-29 fighter-bomber. Now even Moscow's Warsaw Pact allies have received the MIG-29.

India still opposes U.S. Plans to protect the Persian Gulf and rejects Washington's view of Soviet actions in Afghanistan. Yet, in October, it was announced that the U.S. will sell to India the world's most advanced "supercomputer."

India already has a joint venture with Control Data Corporation to build advanced computers in that country. However, the new deal involves the faster supercomputer developed by Cray Research Corporation. India supposedly wants these to study monsoon weather patterns, but the machines have other uses. In the United States they are used to design conventional and nuclear weapons, make and break codes, and calculate the aerodynamic properties of missiles and high-performance aircraft. The Navy uses them to track Soviet submarines as part of the SOSUS defense line across the Greenland-Iceland-Great Britain gap. Their sale to the Soviet Union is prohibited.

Economic bridge-building to India may be a useful diplomatic tactic. but stable relationships depend on mutual political interests.

JACK ANDERSON

Ex-Congressman Says No To Prison Food

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Former Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, is serving five to 15 months in the Petersburg (Va.) Federal Prison Camp for failing to list certain transactions in a required financial disclosure report. He is scheduled to be paroled this Prison authorities could well be releasing Hansen in self-defense. He is the adult version of the obstreperous brat in O. Henry's "The Ransom of Red Chief," who raised so much cain that his hapless kidnappers wound up paying his father to take the kid back.

Hansen has always been a maverick. In his seven terms in the House, he was a pain in the posterior of bureaucrats in the Internal Revenue Service, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration and other agencies he believed were constricting the rights of individuals. During his 51/2 months in prison, his critical faculties have grown even sharper.

Hansen has penned a steady stream of letters to former colleagues in Congress, written a magazine article lambasting the "American Gulag," filed numerous complaints with prison officials and telephoned us on a regular basis. "They can swallow me like Jonah in the whale," and the 6-foot-6 arch-conservative. "but I can still give them indigestion."

Shortly after our Thanksgiving Day report on Hansen's blistering review of the prison cuisine, he went on a hunger strike. In a memo to the camp administrator, D.A. Chapman, Hansen explained that for months he had "tried and watched others try to correct obvious hazards" in preparation and handling of food, "only to be rejected, refused and even ridi-culed."

Therefore, he wrote, "I shall not be eating any such food which is handled or processed in the Petersburg Prison kitchen facilities except a very few items which I might comfortably ingest with some degree of safety." Since Dec. 1, Hansen has subsisted on milk, soda and fruit or vegetable juices.

We wrote to the Petersburg prison warden, Jeff Clark, lieting most of Hansen's complaints. The warden responded, and we then spoke to Hansen for his rebuttal. Here are a few examples:

- Hansen: Inmates on the way to meals, work and recreation must pass a large electric transformer leaking carcinogenic PCB. Clark: There was "a small leak confined to the concrete slab" under the transformer; it was repaired in August. Hansen: The cleanup was in September, and meanwhile the inmates waiting for dinner stood in the PCB puddle.

- Hansen: The dining room is infested with roaches and flies, and garbage is flushed out the back door of the kitchen into a main pathway, eventually making its way into the Appomattox River. Clark: "The camp dining and kitchen area is not fly- and reach-infested, nor do we flush garbage into the river." Hansen: "It is impossible to get from point A to point B without walking through the slop (from the kitchen). The sidewalk goes right through the slop puddle and the hill beside it is trenched to take it from the sidewalk into the river when it is hosed. ... Reaches constantly fall out of the milk dispenser."

- Hansen: Food is hauled in a truck bed encrusted with slop and slime. Clark: "The food is placed in covered containers and does not come in contact with the truck bed. The truck is periodically cleaned." Hansen: The truck bed is "hosed. not scrubbed or disinfected." To put it another way, he said, the "slop is periodically livened up with water."

- Hansen: Inmates were forced to "rappel" over a cliff along the river to retrieve mistakenly dumped stones now being used at a prison official's residence. Clark: "During the repair of a walkway at one of our government-owned houses, the walkway stones were mistakenly discarded over a sloping embankment. Rather than to replace the costly stones, they were retrieved. ... As a safety precaution, the inmates were provided a safety line to maintain their footing." Hansen: "It was a cliff, the footing was bad and one guy was hurt by the rope strung around his waist."

Footnote: Hansen is thinking of writing a book outlining his experiences - and his complaints about the prison system.

IN BRIEF

CIA Director Hospitalized By Two Cerebral Seizures

WASHINGTON (UPI) - CIA Director William Casey remained hospitalized for diagnosis of two cerebral seizures, forcing a congressional panel to cancel his third round of testimony today in the probe of the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal.

Casey, 73, had what doctors termed a "minor" seizure that caused him muscular spasms at CIA headquarters Monday and was rushed to Georgetown University Hospital, where he suffered a second attack.

A hospital spokesman said Casey was resting comfortably in stable condition and would be examined further

Casey was grilled for nine hours in closed sessions before two House committees last week about his emerging role in the Iran-Contra controversy, but Georgetown medical director Jack Stapleton dismissed speculation that the seizures were caused by stress.

Bush Aides Admit Contacts

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Despite three years of contacts with a shadowy figure in the Contra aid network, aides to Vice President George Bush deny "directing, coordinating or approving military aid" to Nicaraguan rebels.

Bush's national security adviser, Donald Gregg, and his deputy, Col. Samuel Watson, admit they met at least six times since August with ex-CIA operative Felix Rodriguez, who voiced concern about the flow of aid to Contra rebels.

Through a spokesman Monday, Bush expressed "full confidence" in Gregg, and both aides said they learned only later of Rodriguez's larger role in private U.S. efforts to help the rebels fighting to overthrow Nicaragua's govern-

Gregg and Watson reported in a chronology of the relationship that they met with Rodriguez Aug. 8 and at least five times during the next three months.

Voyager Zig-Zags Over Pacific

United Press International

The Voyager pilots darted around towering black Pacific thunderheads as they zig-zagged through bad weather that could doom their historic attempt to circle the globe in a plane without stopping for fuel, the ground crew said.

Riding tail winds they picked up by skirting around the storms, co-pilots Dick Rutan and Jeana Yeager were reportedly on schedule today for their unprecedented world flight — described as the last great flying adventure. "Satellite pictures show a considerable increase in the weather that could affect the Voyager," project spokesman Peter Riva said Monday, "but it is sufficiently scattered and we expect to be able to thread through them in relatively inactive areas."

The spindly experimental plane was also apparently none the worse for having lost the winglets on the tips of its 111-foot wings, which were damaged during takeoff Sunday at Edwards Air Force Base.

Topfree Seven Charges Dropped

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) - A women's rights group is claiming victory after a judge dismissed charges against them for peeling off their shirts in a public park, but the Topfree Seven may they want the law stripped from the

Rochester City Court Judge Herman Walz ruled Monday that the state's 50-year-old "exposure of a person" law is unconstitutional in the case of the seven activists because it interfered with their freedom of expression. Members of the Topfree Seven have vowed to take their case to the Court of Appeals, the state's highest court, on the grounds that the law is sexually discriminatory. Monroe County District Attorney Howard Relin said he will appeal the case to County Court on the grounds that Walz ignored the intent of the law.

New Homes At 2-Year Low

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The pace of new home construction in the United States fell to a two-year low of 1,598,000 in November, down 1.8 percent from the revised October rate of 1.628,000, the Commerce Department said today.

The third consecutive monthly decline in housing starts brought the seasonally adjusted annual rate of groundbreaking to 21.4 percent below a peak of 2,034,000 in January of this year. By region, the setback was concentrated in the South. where depressed farm and energy sectors slashed demand for new homes and starts fell from an annual rate of 678,000 in October to 593,000 last month, the lowest since August 1982.

Regan To Testify Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate Intelligence Committee has called White House chief of staff Donald Regan to testify today, and members want to know why President Reagan signed more than one document authorizing U.S. arms sales to Iran, Chairman Dave Durenberger, R-Minn.,

Durenberger, speaking to reporters after a three-hour meeting late Monday, said members are anxious to ask Regan in closed session about several intelligence findings or orders signed by Reagan-last December and January.

Study: Drinking Law Increases Bike Deaths

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) -Florida's tough drunken driving law has caused a sharp increase drunken bicycle riders, a De-partment of Transportation spokeswoman sald Monday.

Fatalities involving drunken since 1981, department spokeswoman Pat Pieratte said. She cited a new DOT study suggesting the increase can be traced to drunken drivers who lose their driver's license and take to riding bicycles - but do not stop drinking.

"The one significant change is the number of fatal (bicycle) accidents that are alcohol related," Pieratte said. "It appears that drinkers are getting out of their cars, possibly due to suspended licences, and getting on bicycles - but still drinking."

In 1981, 124 bicyclists lost their lives on Florida roads. Alcohol was a factor in 19 of those fatalities. In five instances, it was the biker who had been drinking, in the other 14, the driver of the car. Overall, drunken bicyclists were involed in 26 percent of the 1981 cycling fatalities.

In 1985, that figure rose to 42 percent. Last year, 101 bikers died in roadway accidents, inin fatal accidents involving cluding 21 that were alcohol related. In nine of those instances, it was the bike rider who had been drinking. "We certainly don't think that bike riders have nearly doubled bicyclers are taking up drinking - bicyclers as a class are not inclined to be drinkers," Pieratte said. "What we need to do is cure the problem. Just prosecuting people means it will keep turning up in some other panel of experts told a House subcommittee Monday there is a growing need for both emergency and long-term health care for the nation's homeless.

"It is embarrassing — but ohvious - that the federal government has no coherent strategy for meeting the needs of the homeless in general, much less for meeting their medical and mental health care needs in particular," said Chairman Henry Waxman, D-Calif., in opening the hearing of the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment.

'By all accounts, the number of homeless continues to grow, especially the number of homeless families," Waxman said. "Despite the efforts of the localities, many of these men.

If you've been thinking about getting a make-over for the festive holiday season and want some expert advice on make-up application, why not schedule an appointment with the awardwinning Headliners salon. A complete makeover includes shampoo-conditioner, styling, cut, and make-up application. Facials are available on request.

Headliners, located at 2303 French Ave. (Highway 17-92, Sanford, is a full-service salon. It offers most cosmetology services including blow-drying, shampoo and sets, long hair braiding and up-do styles, bobs and all the new textured, spiked or fringed looks using the latest styling aids.

They offer hair coloring in three tones frostings, highlightings (foil and cap), permanent and semi-permanent colors and numerous creative coloring techniques.

Headliners does permanent waving including body waves, drop crowns, spiral wraps and roller transfer perms.

Haircutting is big business at Headliners. Executive men's hairstyling is one of their many services.

The staff of Headliners is always attending seminars, conventions and workshops so they can stay as innovative as possible. They have a total of 83 awards the most prestigious of which is the "Americas Cup" won by owner Lynda Behrens at the national beauty show in New Orleans in January. She was first in Ladies Artistic Day Style and first in the Petite Gala category accumulating enough total points to be declared top hairdresser and winner of the highest hairdressing award this country has to

Lynda and Headliners hairstylist John Brumley attended the Vidal Sassoon School in London, England, in August to learn all the latest techniques in clipping and texturing. The Headliners salon has won first in Ladies

Hairshaping and second place awards in the state of Florida men's hairstyling competitions. You can see why they are a very competitive salon. They also offer manicuring nails, waxing, and ear-piercing. Audrey Corso is a licensed electrologist, who is in the salon for appointments after 5 p.m. every day except Sunday. Electrolysis is a procedure to remove unwanted body hair permanently. If you would like more information on this service, call Audrey and she'll be glad to help you in anyway she can. Lynda Behrens has been in the profession for 20 years. She managed the Naval Training Center Salon in Orlando for five years, giving her the experience and training in salon management before opening two salons in Orange County. She's now in Sanford and stays very busy working full-time and she has some very good stylists working for her. In addition to John, they include Patty (Corso) Voltoline, Bambi Geotz, Yvonne Wing, and Marty Anderson.

Products available at the salon include Sebastian, Nexus, Redken, Zotos, Clairol and Realistic. "Let our reputation go to your head," says Lynda. Call 321-5851 for an appointment.

Visa International Bets On Olympics

SAN MATEO, Calif. (UPI) — Visa International, the credit card and travel services giant, is the latest American corporation to place a multimillion dollar wager on the marketing strength of major sport sponsorships.

Visa has joined Coca-Cola, Eastman Kodak, Federal Express, 3M, and Time Inc., as official sponsors of the 1988 Winter and Summer Olympic games. The companies were lured to the Olympic sponsorship by a unique marketing program put into place earlier this year by the International Olympic Committee.

The Olympic Program, "TOP", which is being handled by ISL Marketing Inc., of Switzerland and New York City, allows a company to buy an umbrella sponsorship agreement with 126 of the 164 National Olympic Committees worldwide.

When Visa signed up for TOP it automatically became the credit card of the Olympics games worldwide, not just in the United States.

"In the past, you had to negotiate with each individual country's national olympic committee and with the people running the winter and summer games," said Jan Soderstrom, Visa's vice president for advertising and marketing. "It was important to us, since we have operations in 160 countries, to be able to negotiate with only one group and get a blanket result.'

Robert Prazmark, a New York-based official of ISL Marketing, said the TOP agreement saves both time and money for large multinational corporations like Visa.

"In 1984, multinationals struck deals with the Los Angeles Organizing Committee to become official sponsors," he said. "Then they also had to go to the national committees of the countries they wanted to be in and work out another deal. Coca-Cola for example did something like 35 separate deals and it cost them between $30 million and $35 million in legal and sponsorships fees."

The TOP exclusive agreement does not come cheap, although Soderstrom would not disclose the price. So far, the IOC's TOP marketing plan has raised over $100 million of its projected $180

"As a first-year program, TOP has done pretty well," said John Krimsky, deputy secretary of the U.S. Olympic Committee. "However, in the future we expect a greater role from the TOP program."

TOP's attraction, Krimsky said, really depends upon the needs of a company.

"Companies with operations basically in the United States will sign up with the USOC instead of with TOP because they don't need to advertise overseas," the USOC official said. "One of our sponsors is Buick. Their market is here in the United States." Soderstrom agrees that for the multinationals like Visa, the TOP program is best.

"A firm would have to have a large overseas operation to make the sponsorship pay off." Soderstrom said. "I don't think we get credit for our worldwide scope. We are in four times the number of places in the world than American Express is.

Networking Big Business of drumming up business for his New Jersey printing company during a two-martini luncheon or on the golf course.

Instead, he scoured newspapers and kept his ears open for tips about firms that could use the services of Parker Printing, the $5 million business he heads in Trenton.

But after joining a business networking group where members are required to trade tidbits, McGee said he added over $200,000 in sales by calling on "contacts" mentioned at networking meetings.

"The referrals make me feel as though I'm never making a cold call," said McGee, a member of American Business Associates, Inc., one of few for-profit networking organizations.

Formalized networking groups linking like-minded professionals solely to trade business gossip have cropped up in the thousands. And they are competing flercely for the business person's time.

While some say these groups offer great convenience in gathering business leads, critics argue they are more like "executive dating

"I wouldn't trust some of them as far as you can throw a rhinoceros," said Dr. Kirby Warren, a professor at Columbia University's graduate School of Business.

These groups have proliferated to the point where "they tell you how you can find people who can set up the sale of used cold cream to off-Broadway actors," he said. Among those jumping on the networking bandwagon is 1960s turncoat radical Jerry Rubin. Rubin regularly rents out part of the once-in Manhattan disco. Palladium, and hosts parties where up-and-coming youth can connect.

These parties aren't exactly exclusive, though. A stack of recent invitations summoning "all fun-loving lawyers" for "perhaps the largest gathering of New York City law students" was found far affeld in a Brooklyn grocery store. Setting up networks and holding networking seminars has become a business unto itself. Rubin covers his expenses by charging admission ranging from $6 to $15 per person. And a daylong seminar on corporate networking recently held in Toronto carried a price tag of $350 per person for the chance to learn how to eke out more information at a cocktail party. But Jerry Feltenstein, who created one of the first for-profit business networks, is trying to put an end to networking in a social framework.

"People just end up walking around with a drink in their hands exchanging business cards," he complained.

Feltenstein founded American Business Associates three years ago. Today, 11 "councils" are operating and he is in the process of franchising his idea nationwide.

ABA members each pay $850 a year to attend regular meetings where they exchange information. Members who aren't able to supply their fair

For $25,000, a franchisor can set up five networks in a given geographic area. While Feltenstein can't say exactly how much franchisors can earn, his figures show a potential for netting $150,000 annually after royalties. That's full-time pay for what amounts to part-time work, he said. "You can operate this out of a corner of your house."

But critics say meaningful networks operate on a more subtle basis. "Just like computer dating is instant friendship, this is instant professionalism." said Barbara Stack, a Long Island venture capitalist who relies on personal contacts to arrange financing.

Experts say that because businesses like to see potential employees involved in some kind of professional organization, people may put it on a resume when "it may only be a line."

"People like to see other people are 'networked' - it says you have access to someone you have no connection with otherwise," said Dr. Ellen Auster, a sociologist on the staff at Columbia University's business school.

Many observers see the women's movement as the genesis of formal networking. "Women wanted to emulate what men were doing in the clubs," Stack sald.

"If one woman was promoted in an organization, and the only other women there were the secretaries, she had to look to meet women in other organizations, and you can't go looking through the Yellow Pages," Stack said. From 1979 to the present, the number of networks devoted exclusively to women has mushroomed from 1,400 to an estimated 5,000.

Even before, countless thousands of chambers of commerce and trade associations provided networking functions.

Unlike these groups with their open rosters, ABA limits its membership to one representative from a given field of business. Therefore, because there can never be two realtors, for example, individuals feel more comfortable divulging information because there is no potential competitor present, Feltenstein said. McGee now heads an ABA "council" in Princeton, N.J., although he said he can't rely on these meetings alone. He said he still has to check newspapers and listen to leads from clients to help find business.

What happens at a session, McGee said, is that a realtor may say, "I just leased so many square feet of space to the John Doe firm, and it has 45 employees." Then the computer salesman has an entre, along with a lawyer and an accountant and anyone else in the group with services to sell.

McGee said he often uses the group as a sounding board for rumors, and more often than not someone can confirm or deny what he has

While there is no guarantee anything meaningful will come of a business luncheon. McGee said of the council, "We know what we're there for, and we don't hesitate to ask for it."

Those getting in on the connections game say they are changing the way America does

"The subtleties of the informal game have been abolished." Auster said. A proponent of networking, she says she like the directness of it all. "I want to know up front what group to get invited o the golf course," she said. But practically anyone can join a networking group or pay to attend networking seminars. Sociologists agree there clearly is a need for such groups, particularly as service sector jobs are playing an increasingly dominant role in the workforce. Success here is measured by one's ability to communicate.

Ethnic Bloodbath Claims 150 Dead, Hundreds Wounded

KARACHI, Pakistan (UPI) - Rival youth gangs staged ambushes and stone-throwing battles today as the city reeled from an ethnic bloodbath that claimed at least 150 lives and wounded hundreds more, witnesses and officials

Truckloads of heavily armed Pathan tribesmen ignored a curfew and roamed nearly deserted streets in search of Muhajir victims in the third straight day of ethnic clashes that left large areas of the nation's major scaport in smoking ruins.

At least 88 people were killed and 220 wounded Monday as the Pathans, armed with automatic weapons, rocket launchers and axes, defled shoot-on-sight orders in curfew areas to roam the streets in search of their enemies.

The wave of shooting, stabbing and arson Monday killed at least 76 people, sources at four government hospitals said. They said 12 more people died of injuries during the Congressional investigators familiar with the American, Samuel Hall of Dayton, Ohio, said he is linked to a network involved in illegal military aid to Nicaragua's Contra rebels. CBS News said Monday.

The sources said Hall worked with mercenaries operating illegally under former National Security Council staff member Lt. Col. Oliver North, fired for his role in the Iran arms-Contra funding scandal, CBS said. Hall, believed to be the brother of Rep. Tony Hall, D-Ohio, and a former Olympic diving medalist, was captured Friday in a restricted area of the Punta Huete air base, 12 miles north of Managua.

OPEC Seeks Dispute Resolution

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) - OPEC oil ministers struggled today to resolve a dispute between Persian Gulf war enemies Iran and Iraq that was holding up a price-boosting accord on cutting production.

Delegates said they believed King Fahd of Saudi Arabia was intervening personally with Iraqi president Saddam Hussein in an attempt to break the deadlock at the year-end ministerial meeting.

Saudi Arabia proposes that OPEC's current output ceiling of 17 million barrels a day be reduced by 7.27 percent to force oil prices up to $18 per barrel.

The 13 oil ministers delayed the convening of a full plenary according the outcome of private talks with warring Iran and Iraqi.

Graham: Iran Affair Undermines Reagan, U.S. Credibility

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - Gov. Bob Graham has compared the widening Iran arms affair to the Watergate acandal, saying it threatens to undermine President Reagan's credibility and effectiveness just as Watergate wrecked the Nixon presidency.

Graham addressed the Iran scandal Monday amid newspaper reports that proceeds from the arms sales to Iran were used in domestic political campaigns, including the Florida race between him and Sen. Paula Hawkins.

The Lowell (Mass.) Sun reported Sunday that $5 million in arms profits were diverted to political action groups in the United States. The report, attributed to unnamed sources, said the money was used to help congressional campaigns of Reagan supporters, including Hawkins.

Graham, who supports military aid to the Nicaraguan Contra rebels, won the race and has been preparing for his move to Washington.

Guilty Verdict No Surprise

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI) - Jose-Cabrera-Sarmiento, convicted for the second time in three months of cocaine smuggling, was not surprised by the latest guilty verdict against him, his lawyer says.
"It was a verdict he expected from the moment he left the shores of Colombia," lawyer Joseph Mincberg said.

"He knew exactly what he faced here." Mincherg said he will appeal Monday's two cocaine trafficking and single racketeering convictions.

The trial during the past week was held in a specially remodeled courtroom beside the county jail, and a half dozen burly law enforcement officers stood guard. Speciators were frisked before entering the courtroom. Authorities apparently feared that Cabrera-Sarmiento would either break out of custody or be killed.

State Considers Land Purchase

TALLAHABSEE (UPI) - Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet are expected to buy the largest single undeveloped stretch of land along the Gulf of Mexico when they consider a long list of proposed purchases of environmentally-sensitive land at today's Cabinet meeting.

Graham and the Cabinet will vote on 25 separate purchases, all of which have been endorsed by the Department of Natural Resources. If they are all approved, the purchases would put more than 66,000 acres of land under state control, at a cost of more than $38 million.

By far the largest of the proposals is the Big Bend Coast Tract in Dixie and Taylor Counties. That 64,631-acre tract, currently owned by The Nature Conservancy, contains about 60 miles of ocean frontage along the Big Hend's Gulf

The Nature Conservancy is a privately-funded group that buys land from private owners and then resells it under favorable terms to state, federal and local governments who piedge to protect the land from development. The group has agreed to sell the Big Bend tract, which it claims will be the largest sale ever to a state east of the Mississippi, for $20 million.

"Our conclusion is that (the law's) restriction of independent spending is unconstitutional as applied to MCFL, for it infringes protected speech without a compelling justification for such infringement," Justice William Brennan sald.

"Where at all possible, government must curtail speech only to the degree necessary to meet the particular problem at hand, and must avoid infringing on speech that does not pose the danger that has prompted regulation," Brennan said. "In enacting the provision at issue in too blunt an instrument for such a delicate task."

Brennan said that some small groups faced with the detailed reporting requirements required by the law would decide the "contemplated political activity was simply not worth it."

"The fact that the statute's practical effect may be to discourage protected speech is sufficient to characterize (it) as an infringement on First Amendment activities" that guarantee who has voted in favor of a freedom of speech and of the press, he said.

However, in a sharp dissent, Chief Justice William Rehnquist, joined by Justices Byron White, Harry Blackmun and John Paul Stevens, accused the majority of legislating from the bench and said, "Wwe are obliged to leave the drawing of lines in cases such as this to Congress if those lines are within constitutional bounds.'

The case stems from the September 1978 Massachusetts primary elections. Just before the election, the anti-abortion group published and distributed an election newsletter that identifled every candidate for office in the state as either supporting or opposing an anti-abortion position.

The FEC charged the action violated election law because the newsletter was paid for by using general treasury funds.

Justice Probes Meese

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Justice Department's Internal inspector is investigating Attorney General Edwin Meese's handling of the initial probe of the secret Iran arms deals that turned up the diversion of millions to Nicaragua, officials said Monday.

Justice Department officials said Michael Shaheen, counsel to the department's Office of Professional Responsibility, has inquiry into M weekend fact-finding review that led to the startling revelation Nov. 25 that up to $30 million in proceeds from the arms sales were funneled to the Contras.

The incoming chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., last week asked Shaheen to investigate any possible "improper or unethical activities" related to the inquiry.

Concern about the department's knowledge of the clandestine dealings was heightened last Friday when it acknowledged that for national security reasons it temporarily halted inquiries into private schemes to aid the rebels about the same time negotiations for the release of U.S. hostages in Lebanon were under way.

The department's disclosure indicated that senior prosecutors, including Associate Attorney General Stephen Trott who asked the FBI for the 10-day delay, may have had advance knowledge of the link between Iran arms sales to help free the hostages and the events in Nicaragua.

Meese has said his role in the affair was entirely proper. But he has been criticized for not bringing the department's criminal division and the FBI into the probe early enough and for not removing himself from the investigation since he provided the initial legal advice that allowed the arms sales.

Meese said he discovered the first hints of wrongdoing on Saturday Nov. 22, but it was not until the following Tuesday that he launched a full-scale inquiry and brought in the FBI, as well as Trott, the No. 3 official in the department.

Alleged Spy Said To Be Rambo Type

DECATUR, Ala. (UPI) - An American arrested in Nicaragua on spy charges was a Rambo-type working alone in an attempt to win fame and outshine his congressman brother, the leader of a paramilitary organization linked to the accused spy said Monday.

"He thinks he's Sambo," said Thomas V. Posey, in a word play on accused spy Sam Hall's first name and the movie commando character Rambo. Posey is director of a group that calls itself Civilian Materiel Assistance whose goal is to assist the Nicaraguan Contra rebels.

and everything," said Posey. The Sandinista government said Hall, of Dayton, Ohio, was arrested Friday at an air base near Managus. Hall, believed to be the brother of Rep. Tony P. Hall, D-Ohio, was carrying maps and drawings of military locations, Sandinista officials said.

'He dresses like it. He wears a headband

Posey said Hall was jealous of his brother and was "trying to make a name for himself."

"He is over-energetic and wants to be better than his brother," Poscy said. "I'd say he was spying for himself. He probably was down there on trips to get maps and documents. I said probably."

Posey said Hall was a former member of CMA and self-described leader of the so-called Phoenix Battalion, an outfit Hali proposed 18 months ago to the CIA and Department of Defence.

Posey described the Phoenix Battalion as a paramilitary organization to be made up of members of different nationalities and designed to help the rebels in Nicaragua.

"He would solicit funds mostly from the Jewish community in Dayton," Posey said. "As far as I know, he's the only member of Hall, 49, was involved with the CMA from April to September last year "but we quit associating with him because he has a talent for ad-libbing," Posey said.

"He was trying to get a movie made of him and he is working on a book and he was trying to put in wild accusations," Posey said. "His heart was right, but his methods were wrong. It was a one-man battalion for his book. He writes his proposals and then he goes up and does what he's writing."

Posey surmised that Hall wanted to use the documents to show supporters he was a man of action.

Posey said Hall, a silver-medal winning diver in the 1960 Olympic and a former state representative, spent two months in Decatur last year "going around with me" before heading to Central America with two British citizens.

Posey's group, which he said has about 5,000 members, was organized three years ago to aid the Nicaraguan freedom fighters with non-military supplies, such as food and clothing.

Lady Seminoles Happily Accept First Victory

By Chris Fister

Herald Sports Writer Although it came over a considerably depleted Port Orange Spruce Creek team, Seminole High's Lady Seminoles are happy to have win number one under their belts.

Adrian Hillsman and Liz Long combined for 31 points Monday night as the Lady Tribe routed the Lady Hawks, 68-18, before 101 fans at Seminole High. Seminole coach Charles Steele said Spruce Creek had only seven players after losing most of its starting lineup to academic ineligibility.

"It wasn't much of a test, but it's good to get a win." Steele said. "It was good in that it gave us a chance to play everybody which we need to do as much as possible.

Seminole, 1-5 overall, plays at DeLand tonight and goes to Winter Park Thursday night.

Spruce Creek's only lead of the night Monday was at 2-1. Seminole then went on a 16-2 spurt to take a 17-4 lead after the first quarter. The Lady Tribe took a 34-10 lead at the half and outscored the Hawks, 16-0, in the third quarter for a 50-10

Hillsman had a game-high 19, points for the Lady Tribe while Long pumped in 12 points in' three quarters of play. "Liz (Long) shot the ball real well from the outside tonight," Steele said. "We need her to take that shot more.'

SCC's Class Act: Success Has Not Altered Pernfors

Herald Sports Writer After Mikael Pernfors won back-to-back NCAA singles championships while playing for the University to Georgia, he turned pro and quickly worked his way up to the 11th-ranked player in the world.

It was a mercurical rise and one wouldn't be surprised if the instant success had forced the 23-year-old Swedish native's hat size to increase considerably.

Would it be the same Pernfors returning to his ala mater at Seminole Community College for Friday's exhibition? The answer came quickly - Pernfors is the same class act which performed at SCC "I haven't changed at all," Pernfors said before before playing in an exhibition match against his former doubles partner Tobias Svantesson. "People treat me differently off of the court now that I am a pro, but I'm still the same person I always was."

A successful one at that. Especially on the college and JuCo levels. Perniors began his career at SCC in 1982 where he went 52-0. He led the Raiders to a National Junior College Championship. In 1983, SCC repeated as national champs and Pernfors went 39-0 capturing the junior college title for the second consecutive year. In doubles competition, Pernfors and Svantesson won the doubles title in '83. In '82, Pernfors teamed up with Necvet Demir to win the No. 2 double national championship. "We had more more competition on our own team then we had against our opponents."

Pernfors said that he has fond memories of SCC. "We used to go on trips," Pernfors said. "And there would be 20 shoes under the bed. We matched the two that looked the best up.

"We (the SCC tennis program) didn't have a lot of money," Pernfors continued. "But for what we had, I think that we did a heck of a job."

Pernfors' coach at SCC, Larry Castle, recalls those days with the same fondness. "At that time in his (Pernfors) career," Castle said. "Mike was winning almost every tournament that he played in. He was being recruited by a number of different schools. "He told me that he wanted to go to Georgia," Castle continued. "So I picked up the phone and talked to their coach. He offered Mike a full scholarship over the phone thinking that he would be a good number four or number five player on the team."

As it turned out, Pernfors captured the number one spot on the team almost immediately. He went on to win the NCAA championship two years in a row.

Winning the NCAA tournament has its advantages. The winner of the tourney (Pernfors) automatically is given a berth in a several different professional tournaments.

Mikael Pernfors loosens up during an exhibition at his old school Friday.

After winning the championship last season, Pernfors was ranked 700th in the world.

At first, Pernfors had difficulty in the pro ranks but steadily improved. "Mike called me on the phone one day," Castle said. "He said that he was having some problems. I asked him what he was going to do, and he said that he was going to try to qualify for the U.S.

Indoor Championships in Memphis. "He didn't really expect to do well in the qualifying round, he just wanted to give it a shot.'

Pernfors may not have expected to do well. but he ended up winning the qualifying round and defeated fellow Swede Stefan Edberg in the process. The big victory pushed Pernfors up to 128th in the world.

Pernfors then played well in a number of different tournaments. He played so well that he jumped up to 27th going into the French Open last year.

It was at the French where Pernfors made his mark. Pernfors shocked the world by defeating Henre Leconte. Edberg, and Borls Becker. The victories put Pernfors in the final against the world's top player: Ivan Lendl. Lendl beat Pernfors but the highly impressive showing skyrocketed Pernfors to 11th in the - the ranking which he maintains today. Pernfors said that he is extremely busy. "I have been playing pretty well so far this year." Pernfors said about what is his second year on the tour. "I have been playing in so many tournaments that I haven't found that much time to practice."

Shewn Hester (L)...

Pernfors said that he has felt little or no pressure in some of the big matches that he has played. "I don't think about the pressure at all," Pernfors said. "I have played against some of the top players in the world and the pressure hasn't gotten to me yet."

With success, one thing is bound to follow: money. Pernfors said that his added income has not changed him a bit. "It's not like I go out and buy a new car every day," Pernfors said. "Besides, I really have no use for a car. I'm only in a city for a week at the most.

"I do like to be able to go into a restaurant and order what I want, though," Pernfors added. "I also like to buy new clothes. Other than that, I really don't need that much."

Pernfors said that he doesn't have a specific goal for this season. "My only goal is to improve," Pernfors said. "If I said I wanted to be number five in the world by next year, I might get very disappointed. Sure, I'd like to move up in the rankings, but it is very difficult

"I have a lot to learn," the modest Pernfors continued. "And I just want to be a better Pernfors will be playing for his native Sweden in the Davis Cup finals against Australia in Melbourne starting this week. "I'm looking forward to playing in the cup, Pernfors said. "It should be a great experience."

The class act continues.

Butler's Kick Dooms Lions

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI) - Chicago Bears Coach Mike Ditka had wanted to see some different things. And he did.

And after he saw some of them, he went back to basic Bears football.

Chicago abandoned its plan to throw all over the Silverdome in the fourth quarter Monday night and reverted to its running game to score 13 points and earn a 16-13 victory over the Detroit Lions.

Kevin Butler kicked a 22-yard sield goal with four seconds left on the clock to give the Bears their winning margin. Chicago drove 50 yards in 11 plays for the winning score, calling time out with four seconds left to give Butler enough time to get on the field and kick his second field goal of the period and third of the game.

About 13 assistant coaches, Matt Suhey and Walter Payton" prevailed upon Ditka to return to the running game with Chicago trailing 13-3.

"When we got to the locker room," Ditka said, "Suhey said, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." We went ahead and fixed something that wasn't

"We tried to get away from our running game," Ditka said of a victory that kept his Bears in the running for the home-field advantage throughout the playoffs. Green Bay has to beat the New York Glants at Giants Stadium Saturday, and Chicago must win at Dallas Sunday for that to happen. The Bears and Giants are both 13-2, but New York has a better record against NFC opponents. 'We tried to throw the ball instead of run it,"

Ditka said, "and our game is to run the football." We know that we can do it as good as most people, against anybody, and we got to learn.

"We were trying some different things and we just should never have done that. We're the best rushing team in the league and we should have gone right to it in the beginning."

Doug Flutie made more mistakes than Chuck Long did in his debut for the Lions. Flutie was 13 of 24 for 130 yards with an interception, but he presided over five Bears fumbles — three of which he committed.

Long threw an interception but was 12 of 24 for 167 yards in a promising debut. He fumbled once and was sacked six times for 63 yards in losses by the league's toughest defense.

Napoli Free Throws Lift Rams

Frank Napoli sank two free throws with six seconds left to seal Lake Mary's 67-64 victory over Lake Brantley Monday night in freshman basketball action at Lake Mary High.

Jaimon Perry's 18 points were high for the freshman Rams while Bret Cavanaugh pumped in 17. Clint Johnson led Lake Brantley with a game-high 19 points.

Lake Mary, 2-1 for the season, returns to action on Jan. 8 at Deltona Junior High. The Rams clung to a 31-30 halftime lead and it was nip and tuck the entire second half. The Rams held a slim 65-64 lead with six seconds left when Napoli hit the clinching free throws.

'Quick' Spruce Creek Battles Tribe Tonight

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

Port Orange Spruce Creek won't bring all-state Jon Fedor to Sanford tonight for a District 4A-9 showdown with the Seminoles, but coach Bill Klein. doesn't figure the intensity level to diminish. Tipoff is 8 p.m. Fedor, who is being redshirted this winter at Florida State, was the central figure in all three shootouts last year between the two teams. Klein is also quick to point out, the defending district champion Creek won all three.

"They have one tall kid and they're pretty quick," Klein said about the 4-1 Hawks. "They will press the whole game, so our guards better be ready."

Seminole will open with Michael "Spud" Edwards and Jerry "Stick" Parker in the backcourt. Junior Andre Whitney, the county leader in assists, usually makes an early appearance. Roderick Henderson, a 6-4 junior, 6-5 Steve Hathaway and 6.8 Craig Walker form the front line. Walker leads the county in blocked shot with outing.

PREP LEADERS: BASKETBALL Cofield's 22 Lead Tribe Past Lyman

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

Bobby Coffeld may not look much like a long-range shooter. but he has burned many an opponent who has backed off him. Monday night, Cofield blistered the nets for a gamehigh 22 points as Seminole High's freshman downed Lyman's Greyhounds, 76-61, in a battle of unbeatens at Seminole High's Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

Seminole ran its record to 4-0 with the win and returns to action Wednesday night at 7 at home against Lake Brantley. Lyman, 4-1, returns to play Monday, Jan. 5, at Lake Howell.

Along with his 22 points, Coffeld also dished out seven assists and came up with three steals. The 5-4 flash hit 9 of 14 shots from the floor and 4 of 6 from the foul line.

"Bobby (Coffeld) is one of our best shooters," Seminole coach Bill Ziess said. "He hit some nice shots from the top of the key

While Cofield led the outside game, 6-foot-2 Willie McCloud led the way underneath with 16 points and 13 rebounds. Brandon Cash, a 6-1 center, added 14 points and nine boards and Ondreaus Redding also tossed in 14 points. Jessie Nightengale added 10 points and six assists and Derrick Fritton: contributed four points.

Marvin Reed was high for Lyman with 17 points and Paul

Bowen popped in 16. "Lyman has a good ballclub," Ziess said. "We finally got some good competition."

Lyman coach Rich Balazentis said he hopes the freshman Hounds will make it a different story the next time the two teams meet.

"I just can't get the kids to play that well when they play Seminole," Balazentis said. "But we'll play better the next time around and see what happens."

The consensus, though, is they don't want to know the bad

Jacksonville Raines and Clearwater Countryside, ranked fifth and ninth, respectively in Class 4A, are the leading candidates to sour the holiday spirits for Seminole County basketball fans this week.

Oviedo and Lyman are both off to impressive starts, however, and the 6-0 Lions are already two giant steps closer to winning the first place trophy for the host. They drew a first-round bye along with Lake Howell, and get to face the survivor of Class 2A Daytona Beach Father Lopez vs. Kissimmee Gateway in the second-round. because we are the two hosts of the tournament. But we still have a tough road. You know, I think they've got 11th grade over at Gateway this year."

Lyman, 4-1, faces Gainesville Buchholz in the first round, but head coach Tom Lawrence admits he doesn't know much about about them "except they seem to be ranked every year." Buchholz is among the "also receiving votes" category of the Lake Mary head coach Willie Richardson knew ninth-ranked Clearwater Countryside was ranked high in Class 4A and his Rams would be matched against a Countryside team which finished second in the Outlook tournament last year.

What Richardson didn't know was his 1-3 Rams will face Matt Geiger, a 6-foot-10 center.

"They really had a shot at winning the darn thing last year." Richardson said. "But you mean to tell me they have a guy 6-10. That's scary."

Lake Brantley coach Steve Jucker doesn't have an easy chore, either. His Patriots are paired against Jacksonville Raines, and Jucker doesn't have any scouting reports.

'I'm sure they know we play a zone defense and try to slow it down to keep it a low scoring game," Jucker said. "That's a lot more than we know about them. It shouldn't take us too long to figure out who their main guns are.

"I've been really happy with the way we've been playing, but we only have six or seven players we can use, and we just run out of gas," Jucker said. "Realistically, I'm not sure if we " can last against most of the tougher teams, yet."

Lake Howell at 0-3 hasn't lasted against anyone so far in the young season, but they get a bye in the first-round. The Silver Hawks' second-round opponent will be the winner of the Winter Garden West Orange. Auburndale matchup.

West Orange already defeated Auburndale 65-44, but the Bloodhounds were without many of its players because of the high school football playoffs. However, Terrance Barber, who averaged 28 points per game last season, will suit up in the tournament for Auburndale, and Lake Howell will either have to stop him or find a way to defeat a West Orange team which returns four starters. The Warriors defeated the Silver Hawks twice last year.

"The odds are against us." Lake Howell head coach Greg Robinson said. "We need more games under our belt. Hopefully, our kids can play well enough to get a win and then develop some confidence and go on from there."

The first-round games at Oviedo on Wednesday are Father Lopez vs. Gateway at 5:30 p.m., Martin County Southfork vs. Dunedin at 7 and Raines vs. Lake Brantley at 8:30.

Lake Howell's Alonzo Robinson, right, goes up by the rim to block a shot by Lake Mary's Matt Napoli as teammate Matt Johnson crashes the boards. The Hawks and Rams, who met in a jamboree earlier this year, are in the same bracket in Oviedo High's Central Florida Classic which begins Wednesday at Oviedo and Lake Howell high schools.

Apopka's Size, Quickness Wear Down Hawks

Lake Howell's Silver Hawks played their best half of basketball in the first half Monday night, but the Hawks couldn't keep up the pace in the second half as Apopka's Blue Darters claimed a 62-44 victory in nonconference action at Apopka High.

Lake Howell played a solid first half as it turned the ball over only five times in staying within three points, 24-21, of the Blue Darters. Apopka came out in the second half though and went on a 21-8. Lake Howell, 0-3, returns to action

Phil Clark and Randy Keller had eight points each to lead the Hawks while Gary Peterson, Aaron Gammons, Alonzo Robinson and C. Gibson added six points apiece. Matt Johnson had seven rebounds to lead the team while Keller pulled down six. Lealie Pierce had a game-high 17 points to lead Apopka. 'Hounded' Bennett: Bucs Aren't That Far Off Track

By Ira Kaufman UPI Sports Writer TAMPA — Hounded by

rumors of his imminent dismissal. Tampa Bay Coach Leeman Bennett said Monday the 2-13 Buccaneers, "are not that far off the track."

Buccaneer owner Hugh Culverhouse, who denied a televised report on Sunday that Alabama Coach Ray Perkins has already been offered the club's head coaching job in 1987. issued a statement Monday. Culverhouse has set a date of Dec. 29 for meeting with the media to discuss the future direction of the floundering team. Culverhouse, who hired Bennett to replace John McKay in Jan. 1985, has declined all interviews for several weeks.

Tampa Bay dropped a 21-7 decision to Green Bay Sunday in the final home game as Ben-nett's record with the Buccaneers fell to 4-27. The Buccaneers are tied with Indianapolis for the league's worst record.
Because of an easier schedule,
Tampa Bay, can clinch the No. 1
pick in the draft by losing in St.
Louis Sunday. The Buccaneers drafted Bo Jackson with the league's top choice in 1986, then failed to sign the Heisman Trophy winning running back.

"The emphasis here is still on winning every game," said Bennett, referring to the Vinny Testaverde sweepstakes. "I know there is a lot being said about the No. 1 pick, but we can't go into St. Louis with that

Besides the speculation about Perkins, local rumors have mentioned Steve Spurrier and Don Coryell as potential successors to Bennett.

"You'd like to think nobody's thinking about them (rumors). but I guarantee it is on people's minds," Bennett said. "It has been very distracting to the team. We're gonna get this thing turned around. We're not that far off the track. We still have direction, we still have a plan and I don't think anyone expected to turn the franchise around in two years. We are an improved football team ... it just hasn't shown in the won-loss Bennett said tailback James Wilder, who missed Sunday's game because of an ankle sprain, is doubtful for the season finale. Defensive end Ron Holmes (shoulder) and punter Frank Garcia (pulled back muscle) are questionable. Linebacker Keith Browner, hit with a one-game suspension Saturday for late arrivals at practice and meetings, will find out Wednesday about his status for the Cardinal game. Bennett said he would have to think further about the Browner situation, but the third-year pro may not be expecting fair treatment.

"It seems when they go over the films, they always point out the mistakes I make," said Browner. "Other guys are blocked just like I am and it's never mentioned."

Offensive Resurgence Keys Miami's Success

MIAMI (UPI) - Miami's late season success can be traced to the resurgence of the Dolphin offense, which once again is outscoring opponents.

The Dolphins, 37-31 winners in overtime over the Los Angeles Rams Sunday, have followed the same pattern in their last two wins. The plot has the Dolphin offense dominating the first half and building up a big lead, such as the 21-7 advantage Miami enjoyed Sunday, and then watching the defense feebly try to protect the lead in the second half.

The Dolphins are 6-2 in their last eight games and 8-7 overall. and have the slimmest of chances to make the playoffs. Quarterback Dan Marino threw five touchdown passes Sunday and has 41 on the year, and the Dolphin offense - featuring a healthy offensive line - has scored 68 points in the last two weeks.

Marino went through a minislump at mid-season and had poor performances in Miami's two losses since Oct. 19, but has had outstanding efforts the last two weeks, including the 31-27 win over New Orleans Dec. 7.

"Our pass offense was just outstanding and we had the big run in overtime (a 35-yard burst by Ron Davenport) when we had to have it." Miami Coach Don Shula said Monday. "The fact that we've been able to run the last few weeks increases our confidence in the offense and our of a football team.

offensive line has finally started to solidify.

Football

"Defensively, that has been the big question, the inconsistency. We look each and every week to have some good signs about a chance to get better. For the Dolphins to make the playoffs, they need Cincinnati, the Los Angeles Raiders, Kansas City, and Seattle to lose this weekend and Miami needs to beat New England at home Monday night.

"The odds are still about as long as you can get, but we're still in it going into the last week of the season, which we're pretty proud of considering the horrendous start that we had," Shula said. "A lot of things have to happen, but we are still

More importantly for the Dolphins, they are winning again, which gives the team increased confidence for next scason.

"The things that have happened in the last three-to-four weeks have given us a lot more confidence in our football team." Shula said. "The Jets' game (a 45-3 win Nov. 24) we played well from start to finish, and we thought New Orleans was a hell

Long Doesn't Need Harley To Maintain Raider Image

Dy Jeff Hasen
UPI Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — When it had been publicly suggested that pride and polee have been replaced by pushovers and purses. Howie Long of the Los Angeles Raiders had had it.

"You can't compare Jack Tatum to someone in our secondary right now,"
Long said. "You can't compare Willie Brown to someone in our secondary now, You can't compare John Matuszek to someone in our defensive line now. We've had great players on this team.
The world goes around because everyhody's different. That's just the way it is."

Cynical columnists in town have found all they've needed since the Raiders began the season 0-3. Now, following the Raiders' second three-game losing streak. Al Davis' team is only barely mathematically alive for a playoff spot.

Football

"I think the game has changed since they played," Long said, referring to the Raiders of yesteryear. "I think the game has changed from an athletic standpoint. I think the game has changed from an information standpoint. Players are much better informed and much higher paid, obviously. Fivefold, tenfold. So attitudes will change."

So will won-loss records. "Let's wake up and smell the coffee," said Long, who was a unanimous selection as an Ali-Pro defensive lineman last year. "This is 1986. People have lawyers. You just don't drag people out of cars in traffic. I don't think that's the way to judge football players.

"It's comical. What does that have to do with playing football. Because I don't roar and I don't wear skinny T-shirts and drive around on a Hariey Davidson, I'm not the old Raider-type? Because I'm articulate and I went to college? What does that have to do with it? It's comical the way people perceive a football team to be.

"Tongue in cheek is one thing, but when you read it over and over and over again. I find it very annoying. Not to the point where it affects my night. Let's not natter anybody."

Long, about to conclude his sixth season in the NFL, has too much pride to casually accept 1986.

"It's been a tough year," he said. "At points, it's been frustrating. Fortunately, haven't been struck down with any type of serious injury."

Long missed a game in mid-season with a blood clot above the knee. "I was laying in bed last night with the lights off thinking about the season and some of the things that have happened to me and some of the things that have happened to the team," he said. "Me being invincible. I got to believing that you've got some type of bubble around you. I think I'm walking very close to God and I think it has something to do with my grandmother. That may sound funny to you, but I think my grandmother is going right from this life to sainthood."

Temple Guard Says Victory Over No. 16 UCLA No Shock

United Press International

Temple guard Nate Blackwell says observers should not be surprised by his team's upset of No. 16 UCLA.

"I think we're one of the best teams in the country," Blackwell said after scoring 22 points Monday night to help No. 19 Temple defeat the Bruins 76-65. "We have to work out some of our kinks and we have some problems we have

"I'm not saying we're better than anyone. I'm just saying we can play with them.

The triumph was the 25th straight for the Owls at McGonigle Hall on their North Philadelphia campus and the standing-room-only crowd of 4,500 was the first sellout since the building had opened in 1969.

Blackwell scored 16 of his 22 points in the second half and Temple, 8-1, used a 15-5 run early in the half to take control of the game.

In the only other game involving a Top 20 team, No. 7 Auburn rebounded from a sluggish first half to defeat Eastern Kentucky 97-82.

At Richmond, Ky., Jeff Moore scored 32 points and grabbed 18 rebounds to power Auburn. Chris Morris added 25 points for Auburn, 5-0, which scored the first basket of the second half and led the rest of the way. Eastern Kentucky, led by Antonio Parris' game-high 34 points, was ahead 48-47 at halftime.

Nevada-Las Vegas Still No. 1

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nevada-Las Vegas, victorious in its only game last week, Monday earned its second straight selection as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team in voting by the UPI Board of Coaches.

The Runnin' Rebels, who collected 27 first-place votes and 694 points, became the first team this season to hold the No. 1 rating two weeks in a row. Louisville and North Carolina had each held the top spot before UNLV. The Cardinals, the preseason No. 1 selection, did not receive a vote from any of the 42 coaches comprising the UPI board. Balloting was based on games through Sunday night with 15 points awarded for a first-place vote, 14 for second, etc.

The Runnin' Rebels, who beat Nevada-Reno 99-88 to improve to 6-0, will only play once this week, a Dec. 17 rematch with the Wolf Pack. UNLV then hosts two tournaments before the end of the year. Dec. 19-20, UNLV will bring Duquesne. Louisiana Tech and Ohio to the UNLV Miller Lite Classic and, Dec. 27-29, Idaho St., Navy and Old Dominion to the Bud Lite Classic.

Purdue, one of four Big Ten schools in the first six spots. advanced one slot to No. 2, collecting six first-place votes and 524 points. The 5-0 Boilermakers had defeated Wichita State and Detroit last week.

Jury Erases Kookaburra II Win

FREMANTLE, Australia (UPI) - The international jury governing the America's Cup defender races today crased a Kookaburra II victory and awarded the decision to Australia IV, boosting Alan Bond's flagship to only one race behind first-place Kookaburra III.

The three defense syndicates wrestled over the point setup for the Dec. 27 semifinals, and officials from Alan Bond's camp announced they will use a helicopter to watch every move of the arch-rival Kookaburras on the second day of an 11-day break.

Although skipper Peter Gilmour crossed the finish line 5:10 ahead in Sunday's race, the jurors found the golden-hulled boat violated a right-of-way rule, stripping Kookaburra II of three points and awarding them to Australia IV, the boat 1983 Cup victor Bond is relying on to

NEW YORK (UPI) - Brian MacLellan, playing his first game in Madison Square Garden since being traded by the Rangers, overcame a groin pull and the flu to score two goals and lead his new team, the Minnesota North Stars, over his old team.

MacLellan scored a goal in each of the first two periods Monday night to carry the North Stars to a 4-3 triumph

"I would rather score here in Madison Square Garden than in Minnesota because I didn't have a good season last year and I really would like the fans here to know I can still play this game." said MacLellan, who now has 13 goals only three fewer than last season.

Navy Names Uzelac As Coach

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) - Elliott Uzelac, described by Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler as a "great football man" and a "quality person," was named the Naval Academy's head football coach Monday.

Uzelac succeeds Gary Tranquill, who was fired Dec. 7 after four straight losing seasons. Uzelac was an assistant under Schembechler the past five seasons and had been the head coach of Western Michigan as well as an assistant coach for Navy. He is scheduled to be introduced as the Midshipmen's coach today at a news conference.

LADY PATRIOTS WIN, 3-1 Beth Schaefer, starting her first game for Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots, scored the winning goal 18 minutes into the second half Monday as Brantley trimmed Bishop Moore's Lady Hornets, 3-1, at Lake Brantley

The Lady Patriots, 5-0-1, host Seminole High Wednesday night at 7 in a Seminole Athletic , Conference match. Brantley is 2-0-1 in the SAC while Seminole stands at 0-2-1.

"Beth (Schaefer) played really well in her first varsity start," Brantley coach Wolfgang Halbig said. "We started out slow but settled down into our pattern Dana Boyesen for a 3-0 halftime and started passing better and controlling the flow of the game

Bishop Moore took the early and Boyesen then scored on lead when Kris Geltz put in a goal 11 minutes into the match. Brantley tied it at 1-1 with 20 minutes left in the half when Jennifer Josephs scored on an assist from Julie DelRusso.

Schaefer broke up the 1-1 halftime lead on another assist from DelRusso and DelRusso added an unassisted insurance goal with 16:03 left to play.

Brantley outshot the Lady Hornets, 35-8, while goalkeeper Wendy Vickery made five saves.

Meridith Dominates Late Model

NEW SMRYNA BEACH -Driving one of the Champion TV Rentals team cars, Longwood's Ed Meridith dominated the late model division on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway. After turning fast time, Meridith won the heat and held off teammate Lee Faulk for the victory. Driving LeRoy Porter's former ride, big Chuckie Lee had a real good run to finish third ahead of Buzzy "The Bill Collector" Berry and Don Hessell in Steve Grega's 1986 Thunderbird.

Young Jeff Williams of Crystal River, a newcomer at New Smyrna Speedway, was a surprise first-time winner in the thunder car class. John Cochran was second, with Ronnie Quarno coming out on top of a race long duel with his "buddy." Pistol Pete Starr.

The street stock heat and feature went to second generation pilot David Snodgrass in the immaculately-prepared Jim Kinsey's stocker. In four-cylinder action, Guy Lingo barely held off Gene Van Alstine and track champion Jerry Symons to score a popular victory. Fourth and fifth were Billy Hooven and Bobby Sears.

Mike Fitch drove the Popeye's Topless Bar Chevy to victory in the roadrunner division.

George Rhone won the 100-lap Enduro over Alan Walker who finished on a flat tire, two laps

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened higher today in heavy trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which rose 10.55 Monday, was up 2.96 to 1925.77 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 505-375 among the 1,393 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape. Early turnover amounted to about 11,172,000 shares.

The stock market finished mixed Monday, in a session dominated by futures-related selling and

The market slid during the first half hour of trading, under pressure from a weaker bond market and futures-linked selling. The inflationfearful bond market weakened on concern that OPEC nations were about to agree to cut production and boost oil prices.

Buyers came back to market in the afternoon, taking their cue from the bond market, which began to strengthen on the view that OPEC ministers meeting in Geneva were farther from an agreement than analysts had surmised.

The recovery in the bond market influenced stock index futures prices, which began trading at a premium to their underlying cash stocks.

and federal grants. Development impact fees and residents' water and sewer utility service rates are serving as collateral for the project bond.

Commissioners' actions in special session Monday was to have produced final arrangements for four local firms to conduct air and field surveys of disposal parcels and transmission line routes. The city is requiring all studies to be finished by March 1 of next year, in order to give time for the studies' evaluation and the system's construction to be completed by the state's May, 1989 deadline, Simmons said.

The three firms that will be billing Sanford in coming months for contracted studies of line routes and disposal parcels are Southern Resources Mapping Inc., $79,140; Donald McIntosh and Associates, $39,800; and Doudney Sur-veyers, Inc., $24,050. Southern Resources Mapping will also probably receive the fourth contract, for around $80,000, although this will be decided after meetings with the firm later this week, Simmons said.

Under its present contract, Southern Resources Mapping will survey the city by air and map out proposed effluent transmission line routes over an area encompassing 89,000 lineal feet of city land, Simmons said.

The contract addendum would involve the firm's conducting aerial surveys concentrating on Sanford's airport and Mayfair golf course, which are slated as disposal sites for highly treated effluent.

On-ground surveys at 16 city-owned effluent disposal sites will be handled by Donald McIntosh and Associates, with 90 acres of city land to be studied. These areas are Sanford Memorial Stadium, the city's Poplar Avenue sewage treatment plant grounds and 14 city parks.

Another five city owned parcels will be the subject of field studies by Doudney Surveyors, Inc. These studies will be at Sanford city hall, the municipal cemetery off 25th Street, and Fort Mellon, Jaycee, and Hovnanian parks.

Last week, of the $482,932 in wastewater project funding commissioners authorized. $455,698 went to Wharton-Smith, Inc. for sludge handling facility construction at the city's sewage treatment plant. Another $200 went to Jammai and Associates, Inc., for sludge facility system testing, according to vouchers submitted.

Last week's $27,034 waste management program expenditure balance went to the city's engineering firm, Conklin, Porter and Holmes. The firm submitted 10 vouchers which add up to its $27,034 payment request, for services involving all aspects of the waste management

The balance of commissioners' $694,696 in expenditure approvals last week came to $211,764. Of these funds, $99,000 went for a parcel west of Sanford, to serve as site for the city's third fire station. Another $1,500 went for the parcel's appraisal.

Commissioners also approved $85,182 of the $211.764 for road rehabilitation projects and the remaining $26,082 was paid for five bid awards. The road projects are part of an ambitious effort the city had launched using nearly $1 million in local option gas tax accruais and $400,000 in budget funds.

Last week's $26,082 in bid awards were $12,995 for city hall computer hardware, budgeted through the city's capital improvement program and part of preparations to upgrade Sanford's automated system: $7,620 for parks and recreation department mowers, $2,716 for maintenance department aluminum scaffolding, $1,726 for police department office furniture, and $1,025 for 500 feet of hosing. and we do minimize the unsightliness of sewage plants. But whatever you do, your effluent comes right back to you. And you'll always live with that no matter what the choice."

He was talking about the fact that even if Lake Mary hooked up to the city or the county, those bodies would treat the raw scwage and send the less harmful product of effluent back to Lake Mary for disposal. Lake Mary has a problem with disposal because its soil is unsuitable could meet Lake Mary's needs in many places.

Ken King, a commissioner longest, amplified the fact that disposal would be a problem.

Agreeing with him was Commissioner Charlie Webster.

"I can see no sense in pumping this water somewhere to be treated and them pumping to back to spread."

One of the experts called to the meeting, Tom Cloud, attorney with Gray Harris & Robinson of Orlando, was asked by Mayor Dick Fess if the city or county stretching into 1990 and 1995. Cloud said both could, but

He also cited possible problems that may be encountered with the DER.

"I can write you the best agreement with bells and whistles on it, but you cannot get that capacity from them if DER has said no." Cloud said.

Commissioners were also concerned about outlandish rates that may need to be charged if Lake Mary goes to Sanford or the county.

Cloud told them. "The easiest way for you to set mites is to be a utility." Effluent disposal creates the biggest financial burden, the city's legal counsel told them.

On Monday, Commissioner Dave Farr said Jernigan had succeeded with the programs and the commission has an obligation to honor his request for a full-time supervisor. "We

Flea World Expansion Faces Final Hurdle

Flea World faces its final hurdle tonight in an effort to gain approval for expansion.

The Seminole County Commission, which looked favorably enough upon the plan in September to send it to Taliahasace for review among other requests that would require changes in the Comprehensive Plan, will make its final determination at public hearings tonight.

The hearings are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. at the County Services Building, 1101 E. First St. in Sanford.

The Department of Community Affairs in Tallahassee raised no objection to the Flea World plan, Seminole County Planning Director Tony Vanderworp said today.

In May, following protests by nearby residents, the county rejected a land-use change request that would have permitted the expansion, but Flea World owner Sid Levy has made some concessions since then. On Dec. 2, the county's Planning and Zoning board voted unanimously to recommend approval of the expansion that would add 70 acres to the existing 33 acres at the site off U.S. Highway 17-92 near County Home Road near Banford.

About 35 of the 70 acres. however, would be dedicated to Seminole County as a drainage ent. Tweive acres would be water-retention ponds.

Building additions would include a 90,000-square-foot exhalf and a 30,000 equareopi warehouse. Addition of 1,000 unpaved parking spaces is also planned.

Under the plan, the available commercial acreage would increase from 28.4 acres to 50.2.

Levy gave up the idea of a entrance to the property from County Road 427 to the rear of the property. In addition he has agreed to redesign the entrance to the property from U.S. Highway 17-92, which involves closing one median cut and constructing another, which would allow only right turns in and right turns out.

He has agreed to install. maintain and pay the electric bill of a traffic signal at the 17-92 entrance if one is needed, construct turn lanes and a five-foot-wide sidewalk on the portion of the property fronting 17-92. Levy has also agreed that septic tank usage at the site will not exceed 15,000 gallons per day and the market would tie into a central sewer service when available.

The addition of 1,000 parking spaces would bring the total parking capacity to 3,500.

After the P & Z's favorable recommendation. Levy said the victory was due to "give and take, with most of the giving on our part." He said the planning and engineering for the expansion has so far cost him $150,000.

Fice World hosts an average of 700 vendors on weekends, he said. The exhibition hall, which might house boat and auto shows, for instance, would attract persons who don't normally stop at flea markets, he -Diane Petryk out, 71 in the first hour.

In addition the county agrees to provide treatment and disposof Longwood's sewage for an initial user charge of $1.50 per thousand gailons of wastewater. The charge would be adjusted from time to time by the county based on its cost for providing wholesale service.

The county will bill the city monthly based on the number of gallons which pass through a master meter each month. The city agrees to make payments within 30 days of billing.

Longwood will be billed at the lowest available rate for equivalent wholesale service.

The county agrees to design for Longwood a master lift station and would be reimbursed by the city for the cost. The city would be responsible for getting the lift station, estimated to cost $350,000 permitted and built at no cost to the county. The facility would be located at the existing Skylark Wastewater Treatment Plant property or another site designated by the Longwood would be responsible for operation and maintenance of sewage collection facilities, including the master lift station, the wastewater transmission flow meter and transmission system to the point it connects with the county's transmission lines.

The county requires the sewage to be domestic-type wasteater as considered normal for a residential connection and the city agrees not to allow any unusual dumping or discharge into the collection facilities.

Should more than the 600,000 GPD capacity be needed, the agreement could be amended.

Unborn Child Spared Life's Heartache As Well As Joy

DEAR ABBY: So "Hurting in Fort Worth" and her husband have decided not to have children because "there's so much wrong with the world." And now he insists on an abortion, presumably to "save" the child from all those wrongs.

Yes, indeed. That poor child will never see a butterfly. Or a rainbow. A waterfall. A smile. A dog wagging his tail. A tree. The Grand Canyon. Rio. A baseball game. A rose. Grazing sheep. A Raphael painting. The love in a spouse's eyes. "Swan Lake." A parade. A jet stream. A flame in the fireplace. A bicycle. An emerald. A sailboat. A snowflake. A fishing village. A cathedral.

That poor child will never hear a babbling brook. Or rustling leaves. A bell. "Rigoletto." The patter of rain. Another child's laughter. A plano concerto. A "hooting owl. The "silence" of a desert. A foghorn. A church

That poor child will never read a poem by Burns. Or a love letter. Tolstoy. A science magazine. Victor Hugo. A name on a boat. A Christmas card. Mark Twain. The Bible.

That poor child will never feel excitement. Or warmth. Love. Anticipation. Awe. The at-mosphere of a jazz concert. A cold shower. The satisfaction of a job well done. A friend's handshake. Reverence.

But it seems the parents have never seen, heard, read or felt any of these things either. That's why they're willing to deprive their child of them. Maybe that's the real "wrong" in the world.

Abby

GORDON BARRETT. GRANADA HILLS, CALIF.

DEAR GORDON: True, an unborn child will never experience any of the wonderful things you so eloquently described. But neither will an unborn child feel the pain of poverty. Or prejudice. A Hiroshima. A holocaust. Or a nuclear accident. That lucky child will never be terrorized by youth gangs that kill innocent bystanders in random acts of violence. It will never have to fear disease from polluted air or drinking water, or the deadly consequences of playing in a schoolyard unthinkingly located precariously near a toxic waste

An unborn child will never be seduced by drugs, or die before of a drunken driver. He will never kill or be killed in a senseless war. (Is there any other kind?) And finally, he will never know the pain of being born into a family that doesn't want him, cannot provide for him and resents his presence.

DEAR ABBY: Since you published the age classification of dogs to humans, will you please settle the near violent discussions my friends and I (all cat owners) have been having? We hope that you will make your registrar-recorder's office.

similar data available concerning cats.

And by the way, "cat owners" may be properly referred to as "cat owned."

RALPH IN LOMITA, CALIF. DEAR RALPH: According to Dr. James Isaacs, my veterinary consultant in Encino, Calif., cats live an average of about four years longer than dogs. In cats, the first two years count for more "human years," but each year thereafter counts for fewer

'human years' than for dogs. The first six months equal 13 years, the second six months equal eight years — therefore the first cat year equals 21 human years. The second cat year equals 10 human years, and each subsequent year equals three human years. Thus, a 10-year-old cat has achieved 55 human years.

Mrs. Donald DeWayne Gooding

Martha Wormington Weds D.D. Gooding

Martha Kay Wormington of Sanford and Donald DeWayne Gooding of Oviedo are announcing their marriage today. They were married at 4 p.m. on Sept. 27 in the First United Methodist Church, Sanford. The Rev. James Holden performed the candlelight and double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Wormington, Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos C. Gooding, Oviedo.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Karla Wormington attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Laura Young Donaldson, Linda Rose Fowler and Laura Dykstra.

Lynn Gooding served his brother as best man. Ushers were George Hammonds and Gary Alderman. Groomsmen were Larry Gooding, the bridegroom's brother, Robert Dalton and Brian Pikalow.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Assistants at the wedding and reception were: Sherry Bennett, bride's book; Nancy Alderman, gift table; Liz and Tim Darnell, music; and Bruce Gardner, soloist.

After a wedding trip to Crescent Beach, St. Augustine, the newlyweds are making their home in Sanford. The bride is employed in the circulation department of The Orlando Sentinel, and the bridegroom is employed as maintenance man at Lutheran Haven Nursing Home and Retirement Complex, Slavia.

Lake Mary Woman's Club Party Changed

Pila Hughes, president of Lake Mary Woman's club, announces a change in the club party which was previously planned for Dec. 19 in the evening during the same hours as the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce Christmas party.

To avoid a conflict so that club members may attend the chamber party, the club party, a covered dish luncheon, has been changed to 10 a.m. on Dec. 19 at the CIA building.

Among the activities planned are a silent auction and a short program by Lois Jackson, head social worker for Seminole County schools.

Schools Offer Free Books

Citizens of Seminole County are invited to visit the school system's Textbook Department this week through Thursday to select free, used textbooks.

These books are no longer used in the schools. Parents and other citizens are asked to provide their own boxes or bags, labor and transportation.

The department is located at 911 Palmetto Ave. in Sanford. The used books are appropriate for students from kindergarten through 12th grade. School officials said these books make excellent aupplementary reading material during the summer and throughout the school year. Selections may be made from a variety of subject areas.

'Brain Death' More Accurate

days a person was not considered dead until his heart no longer beat and no breath was discernible on a mirror. Now we hear about brain-dead people. Isn't this just a handy definition for doctors to use so they can get organs for transplants?

DEAR READER - No. It is a more accurate indication of death.

A person doesn't die all at once. Some tissues are more resistant than others to lack of oxygen and nutrients. For example, patients' hearts can stop beating without death tak- 11 Crystalline gem. 12 Brown pigment ing place. A heart can be 12 Female sibling salvaged, put in cold storage and transplanted. A person can suffer cardiac arrest - and be 'dead' - but can be resuscitated. If respiration stops, forms of artificial respiration can 19 Chooses be used, almost indefinitely, to 20 Poison keep the body's organs alive. In 22 Sieeveless garshort, medical technology enables certain patients to live 25 Joke anthology even if their hearts and lungs are 26 Dencer not functioning.

However, brain tissue is extremely sensitive to lack of oxygen. The brain cannot sur- 31 Syncopeted vive and function if it is deprived of oxygen for more than about 33 Stranded three minutes. In addition, no current medical techniques can 36 Caustic correct or replace a damaged brain.

Therefore, the traditional view of death as heart stoppage or 39 Wraps cessation of breathing is too 42 Reject narrow a definition. At present, 45 Nimble "brain death" is a more useful and practical concept. Brain death is diagnosed by a strict set of criteria that include the analysis of the brain's electrical activity by a brain-wave test (EEG). A person is not considered dead until brain damage is evident 55 Long times and irreversible.

Aside from giving doctors a conclusive endpoint to life, the concept of brain death permits scientists to extract other organs - that are not "dead" - and reuse them in the form of transplants, as you point out.

In the future, as medical technology improves, the concept of brain death will have to

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Although West's two-spade bid seems suicidal, it was a weak jump-shift response, used by many experts. The deal occurred in a crucial match in the World today's South, Ron Rubin, arcare for his chances. Although normally a queen lead would deny the king, Rubin was suspiclous of his expert opponent on lead. So he grabbed the ace, immediately regretting his haste when the king appeared from East. Still he had to go about his business of establishing dummy's fourth club.

Doing that without allowing West to have the lead was not a simple task. But there was one card combination that would work, and declarer had to play for it. At trick two he played a low club from dummy. If East easily by playing ace and a club.

had played the king or queen. declarer would have played low from his hand. He would then have returned to dummy and played another club, intending the same strategy. However, he Teams last September. When was spared that trouble when East played low. He rose with rived in four hearts, he didn't the ace and played another club. East had to win the queen of clubs and could not get his partner on lead to cash his two spade tricks. Eventually a third club was played, and later Ron Rubin made his game contract by discarding a spade loser on dummy's last little club.

Although declarer had played nicely, at the other table the opening spade queen lead was ducked. East winning the singleton king. Now declarer did not have to be so careful about keeping West off lead. He drew trumps and made his contract

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring... YOUR BIRTHDAY

DECEMBER 17, 1986

In the year ahead, you may become involved in a lucrative venture with others. Although it will be successful as a group activity, you'll end up handling it on your own.

BAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Negative financial trends will reverse themselves today. Try to get the benefits from this while the getting is good. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that will govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph. c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428. Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Agreements that you nail down today will be permanent and bountiful, especially if a friend for whom you have respect is involved.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be extra amicable with persons: you meet today whose line of work is similar to yours. A big opportunity could come through one of these contacts. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Pleasant things could happen for you today if you don't take yourself or events too seriously. Whatever occurs can be turned to your advantage.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) The full force of your luck isn't apt to come into play today until you really need it. All will then meld together to help you make gains. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It looks like you may derive personal benefits from two unrelated sources. They will come from people of both sexes who like you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Conditions look extremely favorable for you today where your worldly wants are concerned. This advantageous tide also spills over into your career area.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Competitive involvements are your strong suit today. You should wind up the victor in either sports or business jousts.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be patient today, because opportunities are coming your way that aren't completely visible yet. All should work out as you have been hoping.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You are better equipped today to handle major assignments than you are to toy around with the smaller ones. Put little things on the back burner.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Today and tomorrow are both good days to capitalize on any promising developments you have going for you careerwise. Make these priority issues.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Under your personal direction, situations will work out favorably today for both you and the other party involved. Assume command.
