LONDON (UPI)—Jayne Mansfield was reported "shocked and upset" yesterday over a complaint that she had left her baby up too late at a public function.
Jayne and her weight-lifting husband, Mickey Hargitay, took their eight-month-old baby Miklos along Saturday when they presided at 10 p. m. ceremonies which inaugurated illumination at Blackpool, a beach resort.
Frank Sevier, an inspector for the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty of Children, was in the audience. He said he would report the incident.
"We are hurt and disgusted at the allegation that we don't look after our baby properly," Hargitay said. "Jayne is shocked and upset."

Youth Kills Man Who Bumped Him

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 17-year-old boy confessed yesterday that he stabbed a man to death because the man accidentally brushed against him on the street.
The youth, Ramiro Roman, who came here from Puerto Rico only three months ago, admitted the bombing was unintentional but said "It made me mad."
Police said Roman was walking with a 16-year-old girl in the Gramercy Park section Monday night when Thomas Jordan, 51, walking in the opposite direction, brushed against him.
Roman, according to police, started an argument with Jordan, who fled. Roman chased Jordan about four blocks, then stopped and fatally stabbed him. Roman was arrested after a cab driver who had witnessed the slaying pointed him out to police.
He was charged with homicide. The murder weapon was not found.
Roman was arrested on the eve of a top-level conference on the growing juvenile crisis, scheduled to meet today were Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and 24 officials and civic and religious leaders.
Police, meanwhile, pressed a stepped-up campaign of arrests that has netted at least 304 youths since last Thursday.

Elementary Schools Get Safety Course

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI)—Students here will have to play it safe if they want to do well in the classroom.
Stillwater is the first city in the nation to include a full program of safety instruction in all elementary schools.
The program was designed by the Oklahoma Safety Council, which hopes to have it in operation in 5,000 classrooms next school year.
The program will provide teacher and students with special classroom materials, including lesson units, posters, teachers' guides, workbooks, magazines and other selected items, all designed to impress the need for safety upon young minds.
Oklahoma Safety Council Manager Bob Eastman described the program, which has been underwritten by Stillwater's civic clubs at a cost of $12 per classroom, as "one of the most important projects we have ever undertaken."
"The child of today," Eastman said, "is born into a world of thousands of potential hazards, most of them unknown 30 years ago. Basic safety knowledge is as necessary as the ABC's to today's child is to live in our mechanical world."

Man Could Have Survived Satellite Test

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Project Mercury astronaut, who was the job of getting a man into space and back, said today that if a member of the Mercury astronaut team had been in a test space capsule fired Wednesday, he would have survived.

The confident opinion of the scientist demonstrated the dramatic progress of the United States in preparation for putting a man into orbit around the earth.

The test shot Wednesday "did not come out 100 per cent successful" Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Mercury Project, said, but constituted a "major step" toward the final goal.

He estimated that many more steps must follow, however, before a man actually is put into orbit. The capsule fired Wednesday was not designed to orbit.

Because of a failure in the Atlas missile used to launch the 3.8-foot capsule on a straightaway flight down the Atlantic tracking range, the funnel-shaped vehicle failed to achieve the 2,000-mile range planned for the test.

Train Slams School Bus, Kills Seven

The railroad's main headquarters in Baltimore said there were no reports of injuries to passengers or damage to the train. The train was held up one hour and 11 minutes at the scene of the collision and then proceeded to Washington.

The railroad said the collision occurred on a straight stretch of track, that the view was unobstructed and that there was no fog.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Racket Committee hearings had reached the end of the line of its turbulent, three-year investigation of labor-management corruption.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) announced Wednesday that the committee planned to hold no more public hearings before it goes out of business next January.

He did not entirely rule out the possibility of future sessions. But he said he thought the group should devote the remainder of its time to compiling reports and other administrative chores.

McClellan rounded the committee's "seven years" at the climax of a stormy Republican-directed inquiry into the United Auto Workers.

The UAW hearing ended with heated exchanges between Republican and Democratic members. The GOP senators expressed hope the committee staff would continue to look into UAW affairs during the congressional recess in preparation for more public hearings in January.

But Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) denounced the inquiry as a waste of time and accused the Republicans of using the committee for "political mileage" to get a man whose political party is out of office.

McClellan complained in 1957 that he was not "overwhelmingly impressed with the veracity of the other side" during the hearings and would at last drop the matter.

The committee hardly could have concluded its public hearings on a more jarring note. A man who demanded to be heard, Lawrence Deviner, launched into a tirade against UAW President Walter Reuther, accusing the UAW leader of "accepting Communist bribes."

Before McClellan could shut him off, Deviner also declared in a loud, emotional voice that some House Catholics also were bribed with communism.

Kennedy, a Catholic, angrily told the GOP senators he was "satisfied" they would do what he said over and over again. He said over and over again that he would not be "criticized" as a waste of time and accused the Republicans of using the committee for "political mileage" to get a man whose political party is out of office.

67-Project Act Is First Ike Defeat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House today overrode President Eisenhower's veto of the public works appropriation bill.

It was the first time the House has voted to override an Eisenhower veto.

It rejected 280 to 121 the emergency vote Wednesday of the $1,200,000,000 appropriation bill carrying funds for several hundred water projects.

It appeared to be a surprise conclusion that the Senate also would muster the required two-thirds vote. This would mark the first time that legislation has been enacted over the veto of an Eisenhower veto. Senate action was expected later today.

The disputed $1,200,000,000 bill was the second public works appropriation Eisenhower had vetoed. The House a week ago upheld by a one-vote margin his veto of the first $1,235,000,000 bill.

The president vetoed the second bill less than an hour after it reached him Wednesday. He did so because Congress included in the second bill funds for all of the 67 uncompleted projects which prompted the first veto. The President noted the measure were identical except for a 2 1/2 per cent cut in funds for all projects.

Some House Republicans who supported the president on the first veto, deserted his leader. They were from districts where water development is important.

The vote was a moral booster for frustrated Democrats. They have suffered repeated defeats this year in legislative battles with Eisenhower, even though they now control Congress by the biggest margin in almost two decades.

2 Men Charged In Bomb Case At Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Little Rock police charged an ailing 35-year-old truck driver and a building supplies dealer today in three Labor Day bombings.
They questioned a third man, Jesse B. Perry, 31, tall, slim truck driver and member of the Ku Klux Klan, was arrested Tuesday. He was charged Wednesday under an 1885 state law making destruction of property by explosives a felony.
E. A. Lauderdale, a member of the segregationist Capital Citizens Council, was taken into custody Wednesday night as he walked into a mid-week church service. Little Rock police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents questioned him until after midnight.
He was charged under the same explosive law.
Both men were held in lieu of $50,000 bond.
Police said Sims confessed to taking part in the bombings which damaged a school board office, the personal office of the mayor and a city-owned station wagon assigned to the fire chief.
There was no indication whether Lauderdale admitted a part in the bombings.
Lauderdale was defeated as a segregationist candidate for the city manager board in 1957.

Sewing, Singing, Fluting Tie In Miss America Trial

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — A seamstress, a shapely flute player and a peroxide blonde night club singer were in the money today in the first triple dead heat in the history of the Miss America pageant.
The opening round of competition in the 32nd running for the beauty-crown, worth nearly $100,000 to the winner, made history in several ways.
It marked the first time a girl had won in the talent division because she could sew. No one could recall a flute having figured so prominently in a beauty contest.
That's right. Not sing, dance, play the marimba or recite the "White Cliffs of Dover," but design and make her own clothes.
There have been twin ties before in the contest, but never have three girls stomped the judges so completely that all were put in first place.
The dead heat was between a Connecticut milkmaid who makes all her own clothes; a Pennsylvania school teacher who paints, plays the flute and composes music; and a Washington, D. C., night club singer whose father is a policeman.
Miss Pennsylvania, Lois Peirce, 21, of Springfield, appeared in artist's attire to display and oil painting titled "Night Rain On The City" and play her own composition of the same name on the flute.
Miss District of Columbia, 21-year-old Virginia Palko, who lives in Hyattsville, Md., sang a hot rendition of "It All Depends On You" while wearing a shocking pink chiffon evening gown.
The dark horse of the evening was Diana King, of Torrington, Conn., 21-year-old daughter of a dairy farmer. Miss King said she likes to sew so much that she has been known to run up a dress just to relax while cramming for college finals.
The first bathing suit judging was won by Miss Washington State, Sharon Vaughn, 21, of Seattle. She stands 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 120 pounds and has measurements of 35-22-36. She wore a white bathing suit.

Girl In Coma, Youth Dead In Suicide Pact

SPRINGFIELD, Va. (UPI) — A pretty high school girl sought for life today in the tragic aftermath of a teenage suicide pact. Her 16-year-old boy friend died of carbon monoxide fumes.
Found dead in a car filled with the lethal gas and hidden on a lonely road near here was Peter J. Riordan, of North Springfield, a tenth grade student.
In critical condition at Ft. Belvoir Hospital was his classmate, Patricia A. Arvalar, 15, also of North Springfield. The fathers of both youngsters are lieutenant colonels on duty at the Pentagon.
The two fathers set out together on a search Wednesday when their children failed to return home. They found the locked car in a rustic area.
Fumes had from the car's twin exhaust pipes into front and rear windows. The body of young Riordan, wearing only pajama bottoms, was sprayed across the front seat.
Patricia, clad in shorts and a blouse, was lying in the back seat. When police arrived, the girl responded feebly to oxygen. A spokesman at the Army post's hospital said there was hope she might survive but that it was too early to tell.
She was reported still in a coma early today.
Both left notes telling of their suicide pact. Fairfax County Police Chief William L. Durrer said the farewell notes from the couple to their parents told of their resolve to go to "another planet."

Callas Romance Report Termed 'Ridiculous'

PARIS (UPI) — Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis said today it is "wholly ridiculous" to claim he is in love with opera star Maria Callas.
"It's wholly ridiculous. I do not know who started the rumor. But you can take my word for it that it is simply not true," he told United Press International.
The millionaire shipowner said he was "much annoyed" by widespread press reports which said Miss Callas' marriage to Giovanni B. Meneghini was on the rocks because she was in love with Onassis.
"We are old friends. I have known Madame Callas for many years. We have excellent relations as friends and we have also talked business together," he said.
Onassis said he became involved in the Callas affair only because the singer and her husband fell out during a Mediterranean cruise last month aboard Onassis' yacht Christina.

THE NEW MRS. AMERICA KNOWS HOW TO BAKE A TASTY SWEET BREAD

Mrs. Margaret Friebe, of Des Moines, Iowa, chosen Mrs. America of 1950, had to prove her prowess as a good cook to gain her title — along with other qualifications such as looks, personality, and community service. Year-round baking was one of the events which tested her, as she represented her home state of Iowa in the recent contest held in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. When you taste these Hurray-Up Orange Rolls, you'll see why the judges chose her as the nation's No. 1 homemaker.

HURRAY-UP ORANGE ROLLS

3/4 cup warm, not hot, water
1 package active dry yeast
2 1/2 cups biscuit mix

3/4 cup sugar
Rind from two oranges, grated
1/4 cup butter, melted

Dissolve yeast in warm, not hot water. Add biscuit mix, beat hard. Turn onto surface well dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Roll out to a rectangle about quarter inch thick. Combine sugar and grated orange rind. Spread dough with melted butter, sprinkle sugar-orange rind mixture over surface. Roll up jelly roll fashion. Slice at 1-inch intervals. Place cut side down, in greased shallow pan. Cover with damp cloth, let rise until doubled in bulk (about one hour). Heat oven to 400° F. Bake 10-15 minutes until a rich golden brown. While still hot place with 1/4 cup orange juice mixed with 1/2 cup sugar. Separate rolls gently to serve.

Khrushchev Starts Personal Orbit

By JACK V. FORBES
 United Press International
 Khrushchev has been a Communist for 20 years but up to now he has had never been so free as he is now. He has traveled widely, he has met with many of the world's leaders, and he has been in the center of personal relationships that will give him a great deal of influence in the future.

"A situation has developed where two systems exist simultaneously in the world. You perhaps will regard it as the end of providence. We consider this a phase of historical development."

"You hold that capitalism is inevitable, that the future belongs to the capitalist system. We, on our part, consider that Communism is inevitable and that the future belongs to the Communist system."

"Where is the way out of this situation? Some over-cautious heads see the way out in war. But this is a stupid way out. Following the behavior of the present world, we stand for peaceful and friendly co-existence of the two systems."

American capitalism:
 "It is true your working class is in the majority, but it doesn't own the radio, the press, the television. The rich monopolists control this, the control of the cinema, books and so forth. They exert all means of moral pressure on the people and they treat them with force, compel them to vote to retain them in power."

War:
 "We have already won over you. We have the atomic weapon. We have the most modern rockets. We have all the bombs, A-bombs and H-bombs."

"If we should break out—and it could only be started by the United States because no other nation would dare—this could lead to a great war." From the United States soil.

Disarmament:
 "When both sides bristle with arms, that is an unhealthy condition. The United States, Britain and France have refused inspection plans submitted by the Soviet Union. You seem to say, first inspection, then confidence will follow."

"If we have inspection without confidence, this would be military intelligence. Both sides would be cheating the happy moment for aggression."

(Last of Three Articles)

Khrushchev was still only head of the Communist Party but he had become a member of the Politburo and he had become a member of the Central Committee.

"The Hungarian problem" is now in your hands," he told them. Five days later tanks rolled into Budapest and Soviet troops occupied the city. Mrs. Nagy, the Hungarian premier who thought he could deal with Khrushchev, was later executed.

The Vice President Richard Nixon, Adlai Stevenson, Averell Harriman and other Americans have found Khrushchev a blunt, tough and unflinching antagonist in conversation.

The relative importance Khrushchev placed on right-wing and left-wing groups during his visit has been measured from the fact he has chosen to spend five of his 12 days in and around Washington.

Khrushchev obviously places great confidence in personal dealings on top places and in his own ability to put across his viewpoint. One striking example of this was his gamble in attempting to beat the break with Yugoslavia through informal sessions with Tito.

He is a man of strong emotions. During a visit to Communist East Germany several years ago, Khrushchev and his party visited the spot Berlin memorial to Russian soldiers killed in its capture. His only child was killed in the war. German Communists were brutally kept outside and when Khrushchev emerged, his face was angry and red with pain.

It is difficult to know how Khrushchev really stands on many major problems. But from speeches and interviews of the past few years, we can get an idea. Here are outstanding examples:

Peaceful co-existence:

GOOD NEWS FROM ABROAD

Assignment Washington

By ED KOTERBA
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—Somehow, you can't help but feel a bit sorry for the man who has to do this job. It's a job that's never-ending, and it's a job that's never-ending. It's a job that's never-ending, and it's a job that's never-ending.

So what happened? A few days later, Sen. Wallace Bennett (R., Utah) noticed that a certain clause in the bill was missing. It was a clause that Bennett had inserted into the bill. It was a clause that Bennett had inserted into the bill.

It was a dialogue in which the man from Pennsylvania admitted, amid confusion, that he was baffled about the outcome of a certain committee vote on his resolution.

Bennett publicly accused Clark of changing the Record. The accusation was unfair because, as it turned out, it was not Clark but a committee staff member who ordered the deletion.

Clark reinstated the dialogue in the Record. There were apologies all around. But Bennett slyly noted that Clark's correction created a situation which required a correction of the Record. The man from Pennsylvania, he said, referred to "the debate of last Friday," whereas it actually occurred last Thursday.

But the comedy continued. At another point in another floor debate, Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D., Okla.)—irritated momentarily by the Pennsylvania—turned on him and grumbled, "The ignorance of the Senator is refreshing."

Clark was visibly upset. And the oil-rich and well-to-do Oklahoma man regained the floor and said with a tone of subtlety: "I regret and apologize for having referred as I did to the Senator's ignorance." And a pause. "I shouldn't have said it."

To top it off, a strange thing happened. This dialogue, too, disappeared from the record.

A check with the office of Senator Clark—the man who co-sponsored the resolution to outlaw tampering with the Congressional Record—disclosed that, yes, by mutual consent, Senators Kerr and Clark deleted it from the Record.

Jailed Woman Says She's Ranier Kin

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A 31-year-old Florida woman, who maintains she is the niece of Prince Ranier of Monaco, was held in Parish jail yesterday as an alleged fugitive from justice.

The French-speaking "princess" was identified as Lillian Toole of DeFuniak Springs, Fla. She was booked as a fugitive wanted in Florida for passing bad checks.

She said her father and Prince Ranier are brothers. Her maiden name, she told officers, was DePlignac.

On The Go Makes It Way Out With Beatniks

By FRED DANZIG
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Thanks to On The Go, CBS-TV's traveling peep show, I made the beatnik scene at Venice, Calif.

The videotape truck, with Jack Linkletter at the wheel, headed for the pad of Lawrence Lipton, who seems to be the Albert Schweitzer of the beatniks. You know what beatniks are: Bohemians who look down and out but are really just out—'way out'—and never down.

Lipton, an aging non-conformist, sat on an aging couch wearing a conformist Ivy League cap.

Next to him lounged a long-haired girl identified as "Leonora." She was reading a book. "Kerouac? Ginsberg? We'll never know."

Lipton told us that beatniks abhor "the commercial rat race." As he spoke, he carefully held up to the camera his latest book. Has he been sneaking peeks at TV? A beatnik for 30 years, Lipton knocked such institutions as home, school and church for having brought us to the brink of total destruction.

This was followed by: Jack: "Am I a square? I enjoy having a home, an auto."

Lipton: "You're a square. But you're not a conformist because you enjoy your work."

Having thereby offered partial endorsement to young Linkletter's career, Lipton added: "He who sleeps on the floor has no fear of falling out of bed."

"Confucius!" asked Jack. "Old Polish proverb," said Lipton.

There followed a brief interview with a 25-year-old goateed musician, the father of two, who is experimenting with bongos sounds at Lipton's workshop. How is he playing for groceries? "Right now," he explained, "I'm getting state aid because of a back injury." I thought it was nice to know that taxpaying squares have some value for beatniks. The drummer, who wore a clean sweatshirt, resented being called "beat." "It's your label," he said. "It's my life."

Said Lipton of his protégé: "He's seeking salvation. Beat is a religious experience for him."

Next, Leonora put aside her book and joined the group. She mentioned that she "fed Brendan Behan" while in Dublin, but she wasn't asked to elaborate. She said she enjoyed her life of dedicated poverty. "Money is not poverty," she said, and I found myself in agreement.

This brief Jack and the Beatnik episode is one reason I find Linkletter's morning show stimulating. He'll never plunge deeply into a topic, but his little brushes with interesting characters serve to arouse curiosity and broaden our base of experience. I hope someday Jack and his videotape truck go cross-country, town by town, city by city. If he keeps the show authentic-looking, unholky, and sincere, he'll succeed where Wide, Wide World failed.

Filipinos Staunch

Far Eastern Communist danger and Philippine friendship toward the United States were stressed at the Kiwanis luncheon yesterday by the Rev. Alvaro Carimo, a Lutheran missionary minister.

Though Americans often look with consternation on Europe, the real danger is communism in the Orient, said Rev. Carimo.

Communist China and India hold half the world's population he said. Many orientals are against the United States because Americans are associated with other white men who started colonialism, the minister explained.

Asians do not take communism because it is a better or a freer way of life, he said. These people now under Soviet domination have never known freedom, the Filipino missionary explained. He urged that Americans not "soft pedal" their democratic way of life when they are abroad.

The Philippines are just about the only friends the U.S. has in the Far East, said Rev. Carimo, and the islands comprise the only nation in that section of the world which understands democracy and freedom.

Referring to the Philippines as a "parade of democracy" in the Far East, he said, "we are very uncompromising in regard to communism because we realize from experience how vicious the Communists are" in the islands. It is a crime to be a Communist in the Philippines, and party leaders there are in jail. The remaining Huk Balabags are bandits more than Communists, Rev. Carimo said.

Washington See-Saw

By WIN PENNINGTON
 Just how much push is there in the Washington "Port Budget" and what is it anyway? The answer is the second part of the question is easy. The "Port Budget" is the annual appropriations bill for public works projects. How much "push" is in the bill is harder to answer.

President Eisenhower thinks there are too many projects in the bill and for that reason he vetoed it. But, one of the most economically-minded men in the Senate, Edward Brooke, differs with the president's view. This is one of the few times that Brooke has taken issue with Eisenhower over a matter of money spending.

Brooke says, "I can't understand the president's philosophy toward the appropriation of the money which develops the natural resources of our country when at the same time he comes to the Congress with his hand out for tremendous sums of money to develop the resources of countries all over the world."

Brooke's strong stand in favor of the public works appropriations cannot be ignored. He is a member of the Public Works Subcommittee and his opinions regarding money spending are highly respected. His committee has the record of voting the bill with various money spending projects.

The fact is, the "Port Budget" is a bill that is anything but a "port" in the sense that "port" is a word of taxpayer money. Every project in the bill has been surveyed and approved by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers as coming up to their "benefit-to-cost" formula. This is a formula that the Corps has developed which shows whether or not a project is economically sound. Never is a project approved that does not show a definite dollar benefit.

The bill that was vetoed by the president contained the following projects: $2,100 to reimburse Franklin County for money they already have spent on the construction of the East Pass Channel to the Gulf; $42,000 to reimburse Franklin County for digging the St. George's Island Cut (known as the Bob Sikes channel); $2,000,000 for the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project; $1,150,000 for continued construction on the East Coast Intra-Coastal Waterway Project; $1,000,000 on the Port St. Joe Harbor work; $2,672,000 for Tampa Harbor; $600,000 to begin construction on a portion of the West Coast Intra-Coastal Waterway system; $22,000 for work in the Kocambia River.

Since Florida has such a long coast line, it is only natural that many public works proposals are constantly being suggested. In the bill were items totaling $10,000 to be spent by the Corps of Engineers to study these projects to determine whether or not they should be recommended under their "benefit-to-cost" formula.

Worry Clinic

A good teacher should inspire and lead his eager pupils into the world of knowledge. He should be specially trained for this career, show teaching is a branch of education. But not the difference between college grade and those in high school or grammar school. Don't know to a mere Ph. D. unless he owns an "A.B." He uses necessarily in the classroom.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 CASE—428: When Dr. Benjamin White, our Chicago Superintendent of Schools, asked me to address several thousand teachers the day after Labor Day, I gladly agreed.

For education is my pet hobby and our 8 Crane children had spent 13 years apiece (total of 85 years) in the Chicago public schools.

During that time I had addressed dozens of audiences of teachers, principals, state educational consultants and PTA groups.

Repeatedly I told the teachers that they are dealing with America's greatest natural resource—our children.

Teachers stand before our youngsters in a directive capacity more hours per school day than do the actual mothers of those kids, and far more than do our fathers.

A good teacher should thus realize the function as a teacher's glorified father parent to her pupils.

She should thus smile at the opening of class, despite her peevish or aching humors, for a smile reassures shy tots and makes them relax happily.

TEACHER & PREAMER
 A good teacher should have the interest and desire to guide the lives of children that is usually ascribed to clergymen.

If a teacher is motivated primarily by desire for a big salary, get out of the field and go into business, but don't jeopardize the future careers of youngsters.

Tree Baths
 FORT COLLINS, Colo. (UPI)—Horticulturist Charles M. Drage of Colorado State University advises home owners with evergreen trees in their yards to give them a weekly bath. He says this will remove dust and allow the trees to "breathe." It also will reduce the possibility of insect infestation.

Indians Take 2 For Half Game Gain; Giants, Dodgers, Braves All Win

United Press International
Never say die because that Cleveland club everyone said was dead is beginning to show signs of life.

"Who says we're dead?" snaps manager Joe Gordon. "I certainly don't feel that way."

Apparently, neither do veteran Jack Harshman and rookie Jim Perry. Each turned in a sassy five-hit effort in a 2-1 twilight sweep over the Orioles

Wednesday night that ran the Indians' latest winning streak to six games and boosted them within 4 1/2 games of first place.

The Indians won the opener in the ninth inning when centerfielder Willie Tasby played George Strickland's single into a base-circling "home" for a three-base error. In the nightcap, Rocky Colavito's sixth-inning double scored Minnie Miñoso and broke a 1-1 tie. Cleveland added two more in the help of three errors in the seventh.

Jim Bunning held Boston to three hits in registering his 16th win for Detroit.

Art Ditmar and Whitey Ford combined in a four-hit effort that gave the Yankees their victory over the A's.

Willie Mays cracked his 27th home run and scored three of the Giants' seven runs against the slumping Pirates, who lost their seventh game in the last eight

Passing Stressed In Seminole Drills

By JERRY COVINGTON
Sanford Seminoles Coach Jim Pigot and Dave Lunde have been stressing the passing game in drills in an effort to sharpen up this phase of the game for the opener Sept. 18 with Titusville.

Jim Gracey and Terry Christensen, who are running as the first unit offensive ends, have been impressive and should shape into the legs of the Seminole offense.

Both boys are able to come up with the ball anywhere in reach and with their speed should be able to break away for long gains.

The first offensive backfield unit is drawing praise from the coaches and all the onlookers.

Fullback Lin Risher had his first full workout with the first unit after missing the first two weeks of drills due to an infection and the Seminole coaches were very pleased with his performance. He should be at full strength by the opener against Titusville.

Halfbacks John Lovelace and Ray Lundquist are both living up to all pre-season predictions and should be hard to stop. Both have speed and can go inside or out with the pigskin. Lovelace is probably one of the most improved members of this year's squad.

Lundquist is a proven varsity performer and his personal performance last season were just a taste of what he should provide this season.

The big but inexperienced forward wall will be keyed by big Charlie Bogan and Neely Ross. Ross is touted as the big gun of the Seminole defense this season and Bogan will run with both the offensive and defensive units.

Lundquist and Bogan have been chosen as team captains. Their fine showings in pre-season drills have earned them the honor.

The defensive end position that was one of the biggest problems confronting the Sanford coaches seems now to be well in hand.

Junior James Marshall and Bogan have been running at this spot and both have been very effective. Although they lack speed they are shifty and will be able to do the job.

Billy Alford and Glenn Hodge have been working at the offensive guards and it looks as though they will get the starting nod if they continue to work. Hodge is a graduate from the JV's and Alford saw limited action at the same spot with the varsity last season.

Although there is plenty of work to be done the Seminole coaches are generally pleased with the outlook for the coming season. There is plenty of need for experience throughout the lineup with the exception of Lundquist, Bogan, and Ross but the coaches are hoping to overcome this with plenty of spirit and hustle.

Boys like Chester Pawley, who has become a very fine receiver end, and Johnny Wheelock, from the JV's, give the coaching staff plenty to cheer about.

SEC Scrimmages In Rain, Injuries Grow

United Press International
When it rains the Southeastern Conference scrimmages.

At least that's what happened Wednesday around the SEC football fields as the "Big 12" of the South hit hard before ending twice a day practice sessions.

Louisiana State's players, who return to the classroom Friday, and two-day practice workouts after today. The Tigers, with tackle Charles (Bo) Strange and quarterback Warren Rabb still sidelined with injuries, went through rough work Wednesday.

Vanderbilt's Commodores, appearing before the Nashville Quarterback Club, scrimmaged for 40 minutes before rain interrupted play. Quarterback Jim McKee connected with three of his first four passes for 56 yards and a touchdown in the exhibition.

Florida's Gators, who open the SEC season Sept. 18 with Tulane at New Orleans, romped through their second full-speed scrimmage Wednesday despite a steady drizzle. Seven first team members were out because of injuries or sickness or the possibility of getting injured.

Snap Judgment
NEW YORK (UPI) - From 1910 until the photo finish camera was introduced in 1936 very few dead heats for first place were called and none for the other positions. Last year there were more than 400 of them.

Georgia Tech called off a heavy scrimmage because of the rains, which generally sprinkled the South. "The boys welcomed the break," Coach Bobby Dodd said.

Georgia moved Fred Lawrence of Jacksonville, Fla., up to the No. 1 right tackle post as Don Ledern was sidelined with a bad knee.

At Mississippi, Coach Johnny Vaughn made a mass of transfers in assignments to the first two all-star teams. The Rebels continued their workout with the new lineup despite a downpour.

Mississippi State was termed "very poor" by Coach Wade Walker after a hard scrimmage Wednesday. Walker alternated three varsity teams against freshmen and red shirt opposition.

Tennessee and Auburn seemed to have the shakes about each other, and stressed defense for the two teams' opener at Knoxville, Sept. 26. Tulane, Kentucky, and Alabama also had hard contact work.

Bobby Avila's grand-slam homer in the ninth inning sank Ernie Broglio of the Cardinals and swept Milwaukee's southpaw Warren Spahn his 12th victory.

The Reds won their opening game from the Cubs when they put together four singles for two runs in the 10th. Home runs by Vada Pinson, Ed Bailey and Frank Robinson gave Joe Nuxhall his eighth victory in the abbreviated nightcap.

Versatile Halfback Is Depth Answer

TALLAHASSEE - Florida State's Seminoles, a team with perhaps the most acute depth situation in major college ranks, have come up with a partial solution to the problem.

It is in the person of Ron Hinson, a solidly-built junior from Waycross, Ga., who can - he may have to - play just about every position on a football team.

At the moment, Hinson is working at the No. 2 right halfback post behind All-American candidate Fred Pickard of Columbia, Tenn. But the six-foot, 191-pound former Georgia All-Stater could operate at end, a position he played last year and in high school, or at center, or fullback.

"Hinson is a first-stringer playing on our second team," says FSU Coach Perry Moss. "If some one gets hurt, he can play any position."

"Ron has fine qualities for leadership. He is of tremendous value because he's the only experienced player on our second unit. Our second unit is looking for Hinson to lead them."

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) - Big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, was favored today to become the third and last American to nail a berth among the last eight survivors in the U. S. Tennis Singles championship.

And for the third-seeded MacKay, who'll meet young Bob Mark of Australia in the day's feature match, it means a heavy load to safely into the round of eight are unseeded Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn and Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., neither considered much of a title threat. Bartzen beat Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, 2-4, 6-10, 6-0, 6-1, Wednesday.

Further, if MacKay wins today, he'll bump into Bartzen in the next round, thereby automatically eliminating one more American.

Alex Olmedo of Peru, Neale Fraser, Roy Emerson and Rod Laver of Australia made it four foreign-born stars already in the quarter finals and a fifth-Luis Ayala of Chile-was rated a shoo-in today against Ed Dalley of Harrisburg, Pa.

Joe Brown Wins TKO Over Kerwin On 4th Round Cut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) - Lightweight champion Joe Brown, who once thought of stepping up a division, said today he is looking to stay in the 135-pound class "even though I may be running out of opponents."

The hard-hitting champion Wednesday night scored a fourth round technical knockout over Canadian welterweight champion Gale Kerwin in a nationally-televised, non-title 16-rounder.

"I've been making the lightweight limit easy," Brown said, "even though I was overweight last night." Brown weighed in at 140 for the Kerwin fight.

"I've just about run out of opponents by fighting so much," Brown said, "although the NBA-National Boxing Assn.-will keep 10 fighters up there for me."

Brown bore no marks of his battle with Kerwin, which referee Jack Dempsey stopped at 1:50 in the fourth with the Canadian bleeding from a severe cut over his left eye. It was the second time in his professional bouts that Kerwin, who has been sidelined for almost a year due to a severe case of anemia, had been stopped by a cut.

The 33-year-old champion knocked Kerwin down in the second round for a seven-count with a left-right combination which he said has been working perfectly for him in his last three fights.

Pollution Aid Bill For Cities Delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate-passed bill to set up an $800 million, 10-year program to help municipalities fight river pollution went to the House today.

The Senate, overruling administration objections, approved the bill Wednesday night by a vote of 61 to 27. The House, which has passed a similar measure, now must decide whether to accept the Senate bill or try to work out a compromise.

The Senate vote came after a sharp verbal skirmish in which Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the administration opposed the proposal all the way up to President Eisenhower.

The bill would authorize federal grants for construction of treatment plants of 30 per cent of the total cost, of $400,000, whichever was the smaller. Currently the program is authorized for $60 million a year.

Two Navy Pilots Escape By New Type Ejection

PENSACOLA (UPI)—Two Navy pilots used a new low-level ejection apparatus late Wednesday to bail out of their flaming T-3 "Bucars" jet planes over Pensacola Bay.

Lt. Morris L. Hayes and C. J. Morlock were sucked up by a Navy helicopter. They suffered injuries in the incident although they ejected at only 500 feet.

"A few months ago, ejection at that level might not have ended so happily," Hayes told newsmen. He said the new system is designed to eject the pilot safely even if the plane is on the ground.

Planetarium Helps Train Navigators For Jobs

The Spitz Planetarium is utilized as an invaluable training aid for teaching Bombardier/Navigators and Third Crewmen star identification by VAH-3 at the Sanford NAS.

Sheriffs To Confer With Citrus Men

LAKELAND—Sheriffs, or their designated representatives, from 31 Florida citrus belt counties will meet with Florida Citrus Mutual here Monday to discuss enforcement of new laws affecting citrus handlers, Robert W. Rutledge, Mutual general manager, said today.

Rutledge said a major topic of the meeting will be a recently passed law requiring identification of trucks hauling citrus. The new law requires all trucks, tractors, trailers, or other vehicles hauling raw citrus fruit in the state bear the name of the owner in three inch letters on either side.

Rutledge said additional methods will be considered to prevent fruit thefts during the 1959-60 season. Mutual will continue its $100 reward for information leading to the conviction of anyone stealing fruit or trees from Mutual member's groves, he said.

Miami 3rd Team Riddles Starters

CORAL GABLES (UPI)—The University of Miami's football team worked hard on defense today, following Wednesday's scrimmage in which the third team scored three times against the first and second units.

Coach Andy Gustafson announced that he has moved senior left end Walter Corey up to the first team. Corey, who lettered as a sophomore but saw little action last year, was promoted from the third unit.

Cubans Questioned About Arms Cache

MIAMI (UPI)—Three Cubans, the men described as former employees of the ousted Batista government in Cuba, were questioned here today after officers seized a $5,000 arms cache.

Those interrogated were Francisco Rey, Rey, 23; his 22-year-old wife, Irene; and Rey's brother, Julio, 21.

sky from a known star through a pointer star other stars are identified. Each lesson is conducted by the instructor first introducing the seasonal group and the major constellation within that group. With the use of a hand held pointer or light, the instructor points to and names the navigational stars in this seasonal group. The instructor then points and the student names the stars. Next the student points to and names the stars.

The planetarium is also utilized as an aid in teaching celestial theory. The astronomical trainee can be projected on to the dome. By the student actually seeing the star, the geocentric earth, and the astronomical trainee all superimposed on the dome at one time, he can easily visualize how the triangle is solved to obtain a line of position.

Knowledge of star identification in the all-weather heavy attack aircraft is indispensable. Positive identification must be made of a navigational star prior to shooting with the periscopic sextant. If the wrong star is observed the position of the aircraft cannot be maintained. Their are billions and billions of stars in the sky, and the heavy attack navigator must be able to positively identify 57 of them and these are widely scattered in the heavens.

Ferriss Resigns As Red Sox Coach

BOSTON (UPI)—Dave Ferriss, who helped pitch Boston to the American League pennant 13 years ago, is resigning as Red Sox pitching coach at the close of the 1959 season.

The 37-year-old Shaw, Miss., resident says he will accept the post of athletic director at Little Delta State College, 10 miles from his home and at Cleveland, Miss. It was Ferriss and Tex Hughson who led the 1946 Red Sox to the pennant under Joe Cronin, only to lose to the St. Louis Cardinals in the World Series.

Ferriss joined the Red Sox as pitching coach in 1955, when former teammate Mike Higgins succeeded Lou Boudreau as manager.

State Port, Trade Group To Meet

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Directors of the Florida Ports and Foreign Trade Council will meet here Sept. 14 to talk over plans to send a group to Washington which will push for further improvements in the state's inland and intercoastal waterways.

The organization will also determine its general policies and adopt a budget. In addition, it will discuss an agreement between the council and the State Development Commission outlining duties of each agency in the fields of port and foreign trade promotion. Directors are expected to take up plans for publicizing the monthly Florida Journal of Commerce magazine as the council's official organ.

Unemployment Fails To Drop As Anticipated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government is expected to report today that unemployment failed to drop in August as much as anticipated.

Officials said about 150,000 layoffs caused by the steel strike, and auto retooling which temporarily idled another 80,000 workers, were major factors in a sluggish decline from the July level of 3,744,000 unemployed.

A normal seasonal drop in unemployment would be about 565,000.

Today's report also was expected to disclose that total employment showed an expected dip in August but still set a record for the month of more than 67,000,000 jobs.

In July, employment hit an all-time high of 67,594,000. The August decline was due to a seasonal drop in farm jobs. There was a small increase in non-farm jobs that lifted non-farm jobs to a record level of about 60,800,000.

With the decline in unemployment less than expected, the proportion of the labor force out of work rose above the 5.1 per cent posted in July. August customarily sees unemployment drop sharply as many summertime workers—especially students—leave the labor market.

Steel strike-related layoffs were estimated by the Labor Department a month ago at about 100,000. The latest estimate is 150,000—a figure which shows that the "steel strike is beginning to affect the economy across the board," one expert commented.

Poultry Industry Grows In County

Poultry production in Seminole County is showing a tremendous increase, County Agricultural Cecil Tucker said today.

Preliminary investigations Tucker has done in the last month show about 60,000 birds in production, compared with 30,000 in production in the county in 1954. H. D. Thompson who started poultry production here this year has about 10,000 birds in cages laying, 10,000 being raised and expects to add another 10,000 in his cages, Tucker said.

Prices on celery, the crop for which Sanford is famous, fell off during the 1958-59 season because of overproduction at one time and too much cold and water the agent explained. Florida celery production increased by 2,000 acres this past season.

More diversification of crops is needed, Tucker stressed. This past year celery and cabbage were planted on the majority of the county's vegetable acreage. In 1957-58, the two crops were planted on 4,240 of Seminole's 5,645 acres of vegetable land. Sales value of county vegetables dropped over $1 million in the 1957-58 season from the 1956-57 season.

Local agriculture is on the increase in the citrus, ornamental horticulture, and dairying fields, according to surveys. Cold has slowed rapid increase of citrus here, although there is some progress, Tucker said. From 1954-56 county citrus increased by 5,911 acres. It rose another 1,000 acres in 1957-58.

Numbers of nurseries, foliage, and flower growers are very definitely rising here, Tucker said. There were 392.11 acres under such production in 1957-58. In dairying, 1,482,248 gallons of milk were produced in 1957-58 compared with 1,300,000 in 1956.

Christian Science Program Sept. 13

The Columbia "Church of the Air" program Sept. 13 will feature a Christian Science program entitled, "The Challenge of Truth." This program, originating from the facilities of The Mother Church, in Boston, Mass., will be carried by Station WDBO at 10:30 a.m.

Livestock production is stable, Tucker said.

Though Seminole is the fourth smallest county in Florida, it ranks 14th greatest in the value of agriculture, he noted.

Dead were Dr. John E. Gotteck, 36, and Clark Farber, 49, both of Tampa. Farber was the circulation manager for the Tampa Tribune Co. and Gotteck was a local bone specialist.

The injured were Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Conner, Tampa; Guy Bagli, sportscaster for television station WTVT; Parkman Rankin, New York City; and retired Air Force Capt. John T. McKinney, Tampa.

City, County Fail To Agree On Drain Solution On Sanford Ave. Connection

City and county commissioners failed to agree last night on how to connect the proposed Sanford Ave. drainage system with a city pipe running into Lake Monroe north of 24th St.

Proposals and objections crossed back and forth for two and one-half hours during the conference at City Hall.

The county commissioners left after Chairman John Krider's request that city and county share the cost of piping Sanford Ave. drainage across Lily Ct. swamp area got no response.

The city commission said it wants to know the amount of money in the state estimate for drainage on the Sanford Ave. widening project, the cost of putting in the proposed drainage, and comparative costs between an open ditch and pipe drainage north of 25th St., before it decides how it thinks the connection should be made and financed. Figures on cost for drainage will be asked of State Road Dept. Engineer P. W. Ekey.

The idea of city funds helping the county when city residents are helping pay for county bonds is not good, said city commissioner Earl Higginbotham.

Eliminating sidewalks from the proposed 44-foot wide Sanford Ave. to gain funds for piping the drainage would be a safety hazard, Krider said.

"At night it would be just suicide to get on that road without sidewalks," he stressed.

The Sanford Ave. project calls for four lanes from 25th St. to Onea Ave. with sidewalks on the west side for its length and on the east side from 27th St. to Onea Ave.

The city annual fee, like it can live with the open ditch solution," from 25th St. to 24th St., said Mayor A. L. Wilson.

The county needs $100,000 more for its road and bridge fund this year, Krider said in stressing the lack of county funds to conduct the drainage by pipe instead of open ditch.

He doesn't think the millage will be raised this year. It is 41.5 now, he noted. "I don't believe we can do it and still stay in office," Krider said.

The difficulty with the Sanford Ave. project is that an additional $200,000 cost for greater road width has been added, said County Commissioner Lawrence Swoford.

Any additional water put in the swamp area around the proposed ditch is going to back into people's back yards, Higginbotham declared.

An objection to any open ditch in the city was made by William Bush who lives just north of the swamp area, on Hibiscus Ct. Ditches breed mosquitoes and are dangerous to children, he argued.

A study of running the ditch north-south on public instead of private property, and buying pipe with money saved by not buying private right-of-way was suggested by Bush.

Until more figures on the length and cost of pipe needed, and on comparative costs of public and private right-of-way are known, groups won't have enough information to make a decision on how to conduct the drainage, County Commissioner David Gatchel and Mayor Wilson agreed.

Honor Graduate, Shapeliest Girl Win In Contests

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—An honor graduate who worked her way through college waiting on tables joined the bosomiest girl in the contest in holding top honors today in the second round of judging in the Miss America pageant.

The third and final preliminary rounds will be held tonight, with the selection of Miss America announced midnight Saturday.

Business Licenses On Sale Monday

State and county occupational and beverage licenses for 1958-59 will go on sale Monday at the Tax Collector's office in the courthouse.

Sale of about 1,600 occupational and 175 beverage licenses is expected by Tax Collector John L. Galloway.

Notices have been mailed to all those who had licenses for the year 1958-59. Galloway said.

Occupational licenses, due Oct. 1, are required of all who practice a profession, or operate a business. A license is also required for every coin operated machine. Anyone operating a machine for a profit who permits dancing must get a license regardless of whether a charge for dancing is made.

Beverage license holders must present their 1958-59 licenses in order to obtain a new one. If operating within any city's limits the city license must be presented before a state and county license can be issued. New beverage licenses must be obtained before Oct. 1.

It is a misdemeanor to practice a profession or operate a business or a coin operated machine without proper licenses.

Kent Plans Tour With Hat In Hand

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Attorney Fred Kent plans to tour the state next week to sound out the public's feelings on what type candidate it wants for governor, he said today.

Kent, who hints he may throw his own hat into the ring, said he believed no candidate has come up yet who could carry the conservative banner to victory in the 1960 primary.

Johnson Chooses Monday Deadline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson today picked Monday night as his target for adjournment of Congress. But he said there is no assurance the lawmakers would hit it.

"I want to try to finish Monday night if we can," Johnson told newsmen just before the Senate met early again to plow ahead through a mass of minor bills.

Johnson said the Senate would tackle Saturday its last major bill—the foreign aid appropriation. It faces a battle over attempts to attach a rider extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission.

Congress had seemed ready to give President Eisenhower authority to increase interest rates on government bonds, but a Senate-House deadlock threatened to torpedo the legislation for this session.

Ike Asks For 'Constructive Ideas'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has made a new bid to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev: Come to Washington next week with "constructive ideas and suggestions" instead of "suspicion, threat or stubborn prejudice."

In a radio-TV address to the nation Thursday night, the president said he approached his talks with the Soviet boss in "good manners and candor" and without weakness. He promised that "no principle or fundamental interest will be placed upon any auction block."

He urged Americans to receive Khrushchev with "courtesy and dignity." The Soviet premier's visit, he said, would be "a thousandfold worthwhile" if it gave him "some real appreciation" of the spirit and conscience of America.

Eisenhower's speech set the stage for his historic series of meetings with Khrushchev which opened in the White House next Tuesday afternoon.

The Chief Executive also reportedly on his recent trip to West Germany, Great Britain and France. He said Allied leaders varied in their estimates of how the Khrushchev talks would turn out but agreed that Eisenhower's newest effort to melt the cold war was "clearly one that had to be made."

"If the chairman of the council of ministers of the USSR has constructive ideas and suggestions that could provide the basis for responsible negotiations on the issues that divide us, we would welcome the opportunity to study them with our Allies," Eisenhower said.

American officials hoped particularly that Khrushchev would arrive in Washington with some acceptable idea for resolving the Berlin crisis. They said this was uppermost in the president's mind when he invited "constructive" proposals from the Soviet leader.

Farm Home Money Made Available

Florida has received an allotment of $1,700,000 for farm housing loans during the 1959 fiscal year. It was announced by Curtis J. Green, Farmers Home Administration supervisor for Orange, Brevard, Volusia, Flagler and Seminole Counties. These are direct federal loans and are available to eligible farmers, ranchers, grove owners, and other agricultural people.

Loan funds may be used to construct, improve, alter, replace, or repair farm homes and other essential farm buildings, Green said. Loans may be made for periods up to 33 years and the interest rate is four percent per year on the unpaid balance.

The FHA only makes loans when satisfactory credit is not available from other sources. To be eligible, the applicant must be the owner of a farm in agricultural production and which is producing a substantial portion of his total income.

Application forms and additional information are available at Green's office in Room 417, Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building.

Today, Nehru said the situation between India and China was "very serious" but added "obviously, we want to avoid a show of force" in settling the dispute.

China has laid claim to about 35,000 square miles of Indian territory in a remote frontier area, where several border clashes occurred recently between troops of the two nations.

U.S. Navy, Air Units Also Reported Set To Stand By

MANILA (UPI)—A crack Philippines "emergency force" is on combat alert and ready to rush to Laos "on a moment's notice," a spokesman disclosed today.

At the same time, U. S. military spokesmen said American naval forces at Sangley Point and Subic Bay and the American Air Force at Clark Field had prepared for an alert.

They emphasized, however, that so far no alert had been ordered and they denied that there had been any buildup of American forces in the Philippines as a result of the Communist activity in Laos.

An American spokesman said the strength of U. S. air and naval forces here is classified—that is, secret.

But observers say reliable estimates give this picture of U. S. forces in this area:

Approximately one wing of fighters and fighter-bombers as well as many cargo planes are at Clark. There are a couple of squadrons of long range amphibious patrol planes at Sangley Point, plus additional patrol plane strength at the Subic Bay base. Movement of 7th Fleet units is unknown, but it is understood there is at least one carrier plus support elements at Subic Bay. All these bases can immediately take a practically unlimited buildup of forces from Japan, Okinawa and the United States.

The disclosure that the Philippine government was preparing for possible intervention in Laos came from Maj. Pat Garcia.

He said the final decision for such action would rest with Philippine civilian leaders, although the country had drawn up plans as long as three years ago to carry out its commitments to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

United Nations investigators studied reports on the Communist threat to Laos in secret today in preparation for their departure for the beleaguered Indochinese kingdom Saturday night.

They will meet again today and Saturday, when they expect to confer with Laos' foreign minister Khampan Panya, before leaving for Laos.

Hurricane Brews; No Land Threat

MIAMI (UPI)—The sixth tropical storm of the season grew suddenly into a hurricane today, but its menace was largely to nothing but empty ocean.

Hurricane Flora, with top winds of barely 75 miles per hour, was found by hurricane hunter planes. At noon its center was about 1,400 miles east of Bermuda, and the storm was moving to the northeast at about 20 miles an hour.

"Ships in the vicinity of Hurricane Flora and particularly all small craft between the storm and the Azores should exercise caution," the Weather Bureau warned.

The 75 mile an hour winds were clocked in squalls close to the center and gale winds were found 150 miles to the northeast and 100 miles to the southwest of the center.

Another threat appeared in a band of showers in the Gulf of Mexico, reported Thursday as a "weak easterly wave."
