A Chief Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent "Em"—So Says Saunterer.

The rejuvenated Commercial Club will soon be on its way and with a new start and the exchequer supplemented by the dues for another year and the contributions that the city expects to give for advertising purposes the Club can do something this winter. The majority of the merchants of Sanford have expressed themselves as favoring the advertising of the city through the Commercial Club and want the meetings held once a month all during the winter season in order that a general get-together feeling can be fostered and the grouches made to take a back seat. From this time on Sanford will be the city of optimism and the Commercial Club will be the principal gathering place for the men who intend to build a Greater Sanford in spite of the knockers.

There is real enthusiasm among the men at the head of the plan and they are men who recollect things when they once become aroused. Like all such movements there will have to be a certain number of men take the lead and bear most of the burdens, but I believe that a spirit of co-operation will be in evidence as soon as the re-organization takes on definite form. The people of Sanford are ready for an awakening. They want new life. They have been brought to a realization that action here is necessary if we are to progress or even hold our own.

Naturally there are all kinds of plans suggested for the conduct of the club. I hope the men who will be placed at the head of it will keep their bearings. It now looks as if the club would be placed on a firm financial foundation, but that does not mean that it should be managed extravagantly and places sought where money can be expended with lavish hand. Disbursements can and should be made within reason. They should be freely made when necessary, but all fears of extravagance should be avoided.

There are so-called experts who make a specialty of brooming cities. Some of these get results, others fail just as ordinary men in such lines would fail. The experts demand and receive very large salaries. If they can get big results they can earn the money paid them. But can get a local man who has given some attention to affairs about him secure practically the same results that an imported expert would realize. If you lack in experience, perhaps, but he would make up the difference in a knowledge of local conditions and a knowledge of the men about him. He would know what had gone on here before, the mistakes that had been made and the probable merits in various plans that would be suggested.

As I understand the purpose of the Commercial Club it is to boost local wealth makers and improve the condition of Sanford men and their heritage. Not any one individual, perhaps, but the entire community.

Since hearing Dr. Brownlee's lecture on the Slums of London I have been more contented with my lot. I have a circle of families living in the slums of that great city who lived on a few cents a day and one man of family who worked and made $3 per week and still managed to keep the wolf from the door. Dr. Brownlee also gave the Salvation Army full credit for doing an immense amount of good in the slums of London and this coincides with my view because I have always believed that life every other organization the Salvation Army might have been in the slums but the vast amount of good that they were doing among the poor and lowly more than off set any criticisms in the ranks and in the street work of uplifting the fallen they are doing the lion's share. The lecture of Dr. Brownlee was most interesting and it is a tale that could be told of every large city and always makes me think that the people who will build a big city and survive to death are responsible for their own condition as much as any one. It is true that living that life in the slums they become accustomed to hardship and could not be relocated in the country but there are places for thousands of them in the country and here in Florida or any other part of the south these people could find honest employment and finally get a home of their own. The idea of the young boys and girls going to the big cities to find employment is not reasonable in part for this country's condition and the poverty stricken of the feet of fifty men seeking every job that is open. We who live here in Florida and have the pure air to breathe something to eat, no coal to buy and other good things coming our way have small room for complaint in comparison to the people living in any large city and depending upon the turn of the wheel to give a meagre living.

It may have been all right for the executive committee to place the names of the candidates for Clerk and Collector and Treasurer and Assessor upon the ballot in the primary but in doing so are they not defeating the very measure that the charter had provided—namely, to give the appointive power of these officers to the Mayor. Now I fully concur in giving the people the voice in the matter but upon the charter states that these officers shall not be elective, there does not seem to be any call for making these candidates run in the primary. The new mayor can appoint the man who is high in the primary but he is not obliged to do so and in the event that the mayor does not like the nominee there is no law to compel such appointment. Leaving it to the people is all right but in the present instance it seems rather a case of beating the matter round the stump.

I wish to commend the Sanford Library on the very neat and business like manner in which the books have been arranged and in which they are kept. I understand that Rev. Arthur Peck is responsible for some of this innovation in library work ably assisted by Mrs. Dickinson and Mrs. Key and several other good ladies of the city. At any rate to whom the honor is due I hereby doff my chapeau and say: "Well done thou good and faithful servants," and may you be rewarded by a fine library building at some future date. Few people realize what a fine library Sanford has and I really think that if all of us took more interest in the library some time we could have a new building that would be commensurate with the growth of our city.

Advertising is an art in which the generation is only ankle deep in study. So crude is the work that frequently the bids for trade are neutralized. For example: "Our alarm clock is on sale at a special price." "Our rug is a current magazine, as though such a thing were possible. Not a nickel of our money will this alarm clock ever get. What we want is an alarm clock as gurgulous as we are of the subject of early rising, and one specially successful in separating us from our shekels is one that automatically shoves a rug over the cold spot on the floor where our feet strike.

A Chicago doctor has succeeded in grafting a shinbone. If some genius will perfect the business of grafting a backbone politics and whatnot may be expected to look up a bit.

Making Their Own Roads

The Ocala Evening Star of the 16th says that the public road working of the highway from Ocala to the Levy county line was enthusiastically and efficiently carried out by thousands of Marion county people, and "Biltmore Day" has set an example for Florida and the South.

In speaking of the day and the work accomplished The Star says: "A birdseye view of this section this morning would have shown a red, white and yellow streak running northwest from Ocala to Morrison. All along the streak, busy as ants, thousands of men toiled. Picks and shovels flashed in the sun. Lutes came and went, speeding over the few stretches of clear road, dogging in and out among the workers, often taking to the woods. Heavy wagons, loaded with lime or empty, plied back and forth between the pits and steadily shoveling gangs. Here and there a huge road engine grunted and ground along crushing the lumps of lime flat under its massive feet. Active boys grotted back and forth, carrying water to the thirsty workers. At every mile or so along the road, at some farmhouse or clump of shade trees, were groups of women, attractively dressed in spite of their hard work, busily preparing dinner for the workers.

Vance Douglas and J. C. Roberts, deputy clerks of the Circuit Court of Seminole county, are spending this week in Orlando, transcribing records.

What makes a city great and strong? Not architecture's graceful strength, Not factories extended length. But men who SEE the CIVIC WRONG And give their LIVES to make it RIGHT And turn its DARKNESS into LIGHT. "We are not here to play, to dream, to drift, We have hard work to do and loads to lift, Shun not the struggle—face it—'Tis God's gift."

Woman's Club

Notes From All Departments Of The Sanford Woman's Club

Convention at Orlando

Convention opens in Orlando Tuesday night, November 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th. After program the annual reception will be held for delegates and visitors.

Day sessions will be given to routine business and the evening programs to addresses and music.

Among the speakers are Governor Tremmell, Superintendent Sheata, President Blackman, Dr. Byrd, Miss Laura Drake Gill, Mrs. Kirk Munroe, Miss Harris and the guest of honor, Mrs. Percy Pennybacker, President General Federation Women's Clubs.

Friday afternoon the convention delegates and visitors will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Blackman of Rollins College, Winter Park.

Informal receptions will be held after every evening's program, that the audience may meet the speakers.

The hostess club will entertain officers of the Federation and one delegate from each club, and furnish room for second delegate. Meals may be had for $1 a day. This plan will make it possible for delegates from the same club to room together, and make the expense only that of meals for the second delegate.

Please elect your delegates at once and send their names immediately to Mrs. H. L. Beaman, Orlando.

Mrs. Victor Starbuck of Orlando is transportation chairman and it is very probable a special rate will be secured, as a number of new clubs have been added, and Orlando is very central.

All clubs remember to send two reports, one to read and one as condensed as possible for Manual. New clubs will be given preference in reports and two extra minutes for brief history of organization.

All delegates are requested to wear small cards or badges, with name and club. This will make it easy to get acquainted.

Miss Harris of the Woman's College will make engagements for Miss Wells, for courses of lectures on Domestic Science. These lectures, for reasons that will be explained later, will cost the clubs nothing but materials for demonstrations.

Club women are requested not to wear hats at the meetings.

Our convention promises to be of unusual interest, and we truly hope every club in the state will be represented at least once, and twice if possible.

MRS. EDNA FULLER, Pres. Woman's Civic League, Orlando.
MRS. ALICE WHITMAN, Pres. Sorosis, Orlando.
MRS. WILLIAM HOCKE, Pres. F. F. W. C.

Music Department

The Music Department of the Sanford Woman's Club will hold its meeting Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in the club rooms. Miss McKim will be in charge of the program. The subject for the afternoon will be "History of Opera in America." Mrs. T. A. Newton will have a paper on the subject. The music will be arrangements from American Opera by Miss Gaines, vocal and Misses Margaret Davis and Florence Frank, piano.

Three minute sketches:
American writers of serious opera, Mrs. Gittor
Famous American opera singers, Miss Saldie Williams.
Great American impressarios, Mrs. Geo. Fox.

The chairman of the Welfare Dept. earnestly requests all members to be present at the business meeting Thursday afternoon. Matters of importance will be brought before the meeting that requires the action of many members. The following program topics will be submitted, the writer's work will be outlined, the rest-room committee will submit a report that will be of interest to the entire department:

Ten new members for the Welfare department at one meeting. This is a good sign of the interest being taken in the work of this department, that promises to be one of the most popular in the Club.

FOR AN ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL GET BUSY

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING HELD LAST TUESDAY NIGHT

PUBLICITY WILL BE SLOGAN

SUM OF TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS WILL BE RAISED BY SPECIAL FINANCE COMMITTEE

One of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings of the Sanford Commercial Club that has been held since county division became a fact, was held in the city hall last Tuesday night. The meeting was called to order by president Lake who stated that the full work of the club would be taken up and advertising being the main theme for discussion the matter was discussed thoroughly. Many good talks were made on the growth and prosperity of the city and it was the sense of those present that the city should be advertised by the printing of booklets and in various ways that seem good to the committee on advertising and the club. The members present agreed to raise a sum of $2000 for publicity work and the following special committee on financing and with power to raise this sum was named by President Lake as follows: J. N. Whitner, R. H. Marks, Alfred Foster, J. O. Packard and F. E. Dutton.

This committee will go after this sum and if any business man or any citizen of Seminole county sees them coming do not take fright and leave the country but give them something to assist in this good work of bringing Sanford and Seminole county before the world. President Lake suggested that for the good of the Club it might be a good plan for the officers to resign and let new blood assist in putting the club on its feet. He was unanimously elected to fill out his unexpired term of office as was Secretary Bates, the members feeling that it would be poor policy to have a change in the midst of the busy season especially as the regular election of officers occurs in a few months.

The meeting was entirely harmonious in every respect and many new members were added to the list. The regular committees on membership and advertising were continued with orders to get busy or get off the job and the club has taken on renewed energy and the meetings from this time on will be well attended.

PAVING WITH WOOD

Miami, Oct. 22.—Representatives of the Southern Asphalt Company and the Crossed Wood Block Paving Company, who were recently awarded the contract to lay fifty thousand feet of paving on several of the principal streets of Miami, twenty thousand feet of concrete curbing and an adequate sewer system on the streets to be paved, state that work will begin by the first of November, and the streets will be completely paved by the first of the year.

Twelfth street from the railway tracks east to avenue B, will be paved with crossed wood blocks, as will also avenue D, from the river to Sixth street, from avenue B to the Boulevard, and from the railway tracks west to the river, will be paved with asphalt.

The paving of the streets named is but the entering wedge of a system of modern paving, declare members of the city council, who have begun an era of improvements which they believe will make Miami one of the best and most modern cities in the United States.

Missionary Society Meets

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church met last night at the home of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Case, with a large attendance of ladies present. Mrs. Stewart conducted the opening exercises, and after the routing business of the society had been transacted, Mrs. S. G. Kennedy conducted the subject of the evening, "The World Today is a Delightful Mosaic." The survey of missions in the world at this present time. Several new members were added to the roll, to the delight of the ladies, among which they were glad to welcome Mrs. Geo. Hyman, wife of the new pastor.

Tonight the ladies, who are observing a week of prayer for state missions, will meet with Mrs. C. M. Williams, cor. Palmetto and Second, and Thursday evening at the church, at 7:30. All are cordially invited.

GOING AFTER BUSINESS

FREE TRANSPORTATION

Merchants of Sanford May Take Means of Assisting Out of town Shoppers

Going after business is a failing that every live merchant has or ought to have and in this respect Sanford merchants are always to the fore. Since moving the union station from the center of the city there are many out of town customers who would appreciate a cheaper fare to and from the depot, especially the customers who formerly traded here when the depot was in the center of business and one could step from the trains and be in the shopping district.

In order to obviate the paying of fare to and from the depot it has been suggested that the merchants put on a bus line that would give the out of town shoppers a free ride, provided they purchase a given amount of goods. Such a plan has been in vogue in other cities and in many cities where the country roads are good the merchants have free bus lines starting from neighboring towns each day, going to the city and return the same night, giving the country people a free trip and all day to do their shopping. Some of these transportation lines bring in patrons from a distance of twelve or more miles and the idea has stimulated trade in the cities that have tried it. The idea here would be to transport the people to and from the depot and would place Sanford in the same position as in days before the union station was moved from the shopping district.

The plan is a good one and if sufficient merchants could be interested it would be no hardship on any of them and would be a great benefit to the out of town shoppers especially from now until the holidays when the buying will be brisk every day of the week.

The Herald would like to see the idea tried out at least far enough to see how many of the merchants would take up the sum necessary and in this respect the Commercial Club could also assist, as it comes under the head of public enterprise.

Orlande Captures Big Plant

Orlande, Oct. 23.—At the Orlande Board of Trade accomplishes no other work than the final consummation of the establishment of the Buena Vista Fruit Company's canning and preserving plant and the "Experimental Station" during the year it will have given ample reason for its existence, in showing results that could never have been accomplished without the untiring efforts of this organization, based on the much of the means of its own individual members.

The canning and preserving plant which seems now an assured fact and for which the money is being raised to purchase the site, which was one of the stipulations of the company, will be located on a plot of ground near the Pina Cura Company's building. Besides the large number of employes, many of whom will be brought from other sections adding to the population and pay roll of the city, will become an industry entirely new in itself, besides creating a new source of revenue hitherto unknown, and opening up new fields whose possibilities can be measured only by the farmers and the truckers.

The plant in its operations is said to put up everything that goes into a can or bottle, and will turn into money a great number of things that have hitherto found their way into the waste pile.

SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE STAR

Special Vitagraph Feature in Two Parts Entitled "A Regiment of Two"

Too much cannot be said of this feature as it is one of the best the Vitagraph Company ever made. Every where it has been shown it has drawn large crowds and everybody that has seen it makes the same remark: "It was the best feature I ever saw."

Many of the people will enjoy it, as much as it was played here several years ago by local talent. Some of those taking part were Felix Frank, Robert Herndon, Nixon Butt, Miss Flossie Frank, Miss Alberta Hill and many others.

With the Star's capacity to show perfect pictures combined with this excellent photoplay intermingled with good music, you can be assured of a very pleasant evening when at the Star.

HOTEL IDEA GAINING FAVOR TENTATIVE PLANS FOR ACTION

COMMERCIAL HOTEL IS BEING DISCUSSED WIDELY

TRAVELLING PUBLIC FAVORABLE

SANFORD PEOPLE COULD BUILD ONE BY THE ASSISTANCE OF OUTSIDE CAPITAL

The idea advanced last week by The Herald regarding a new and up to date commercial hotel for Sanford to be started this winter is gaining public favor every day. Several well known commercial travelers who make Sanford every week have dropped in to the office this week to commend the paper on this movement and say that the hotel could be of material assistance in putting Sanford on the map, since every commercial traveler is a booster for the city that gives him service. The citizens of Sanford are also heartily in favor of this smaller commercial hotel that could be built for about $50,000 and half of this sum will be raised here and half given by the men who expect to build the hotel and manage the same.

Sanford is looked upon today as the most logical point in the whole state for a good commercial hotel of fifty rooms and one that will be up to date in every respect. The commercial hotel that could be built midway between the union depot and the business center of the city would be a better proposition than a large hotel on the lake shore, as the site could be purchased cheaper and the hotel would be close enough to the union depot for the guests to walk if they so desired, and this appeals to more of the travelers than the ordinary citizen would imagine.

There is a well organized plan on foot now to take up this matter of the commercial hotel and there is no doubt that it will be started before the first of January.

The ladies of Clearwater aided materially in raising the money for the new tourist hotel in that city and the ladies will be asked to help us in our campaign here.

Every citizen of Sanford is alive to our great need of a new hotel.

Abernathy For Alderman

W. W. Abernathy, of this city, has been in the aldermanic race before and who, while loath to enter the lists again has at last listened to the demands of his friends and the third time being a charm he will win. Mr. Abernathy will win because he is in the public eye even though he has never held the office. He is known as the man with ideas of his own and one who stands for what he believes is right even, though his principles may lead him in a forlorn hope. He is well known to the people of this city and need any eulogy. Having lived here for several years and been identified with the interests of Sanford he has always taken an active interest in the municipal affairs and because he is a solid citizen and knows the needs of the city he has been groomed for the position of alderman every time the slate was made up. Mr. Abernathy represents no faction in city politics but favors a better city, an honest administration of city affairs, equal rights to all and economy in all the departments. Being a property owner Mr. Abernathy has taken a deep interest in the city and is probably as well equipped to sit on the aldermanic board as any man in Sanford. Having a large following of personal friends who believe in him and backed by the voters who want him for alderman, W. W. Abernathy will at last achieve the desire of himself and friends and will have a place on the next board of aldermen of Sanford.

Watson Indictment Quashed

Jacksonville, Oct. 23.—Judge R. M. Call has announced the decision in the so-called Florida coupon case which was heard recently in Huntsville, Ala., by three federal judges, Judges William B. Shappard of Pensacola, Judge R. M. Call of Jacksonville and Judge David D. Shelly of Atlanta, and the unanimous decision was that the recently enacted Florida statute, imposing a tax of seven hundred and fifty dollars on each dealer for each place of business and for each brand of cigars, cigarettes or grocery articles handled if the package contained any redeemable coupon, is unconstitutional. Florida officials are enjoined from collecting the tax which, it is said, would amount into the thousands for the smallest country grocery.

STATE NEWS

Kissimmee has a new furniture factory. The new enterprise has been commenced without much noise and without much preliminary negotiation, but it is an actuality all the same and is now turning out very pretty furniture made out of the native yellow pine and cypress. The establishment is fully equipped with a very complete outfit of the most modern machinery. Its output at present is principally furniture of the mission type and compares favorably in style and finish with any made elsewhere.

The DeFuniak Breeze says that it is going to peg away for a cash market for poultry and poultry products. It would seem that the merchants are only offering trade for these products, and the Breeze feels that unless a cash market is established it is a pity that the large share of the benefits that will be realized will go to the farmers and not to the market some way and buy where they will.

Bishop William Crane Gray, who has given practically his entire life to the advancement of the Episcopal church in the South, has resigned. His last twenty years have been given to Florida where he has done yeoman service in behalf of the Seminole Indians and in laying the foundations for many churches and schools, one of the most successful the Cathedral School in Orlando. Bishop Gray is highly honored in this entire State.

"Now we add another milestone," says the Zolfo Springs Truth. "This time it is the coming of the silo that will be recognized as a modern method of raising forage for cattle." The Truth continues and tells of the enterprise of a man in that section who intends to cut and save his forage in that manner. The first one that will be constructed will have a capacity of thirty tons of green feed.

Clearwater is in an admirable frame of mind at present. It has just signed a contract for the new hotel which has long been desired by that city. While the hotel cannot be completed in time for the coming winter season, it will be there for the next one and Clearwater will no longer have to explain the lack of suitable accommodations for its visitors.

Daniel and Evaristo Madero, brothers of the late president, have been arrested in Monterey charged with complicity in a plot to turn over that city to revolutionaries, according to dispatches sent in to the new paper here. The two brothers are said to have been compromised by documents taken from dead rebels after a fight near Monterey.

The Arcadia Enterprise says: "The King-Parker Cattle Company shipped a trainload of about forty cars of fine cattle to Kansas City yesterday, making the second large shipment they have made recently. The shipment yesterday included about 1,500 head, and the stock were in good condition."

Trouble In Jacksonville

Jacksonville Oct. 23. As a result of the recent election of bond trustees, in which former chairman of the board, W. M. Bostwick, Jr., was defeated for re-election, charges have been made by Mayor Van Swearingen that Capt. Harry Hall, a policeman had members of the council shadowed at the behest of the Bostwick leaders. Hall's hearing is set for to-morrow afternoon. An interesting expose of the Bostwick methods is expected to take place at that time. The mayor states that he would try Captain Hall tomorrow on the charge of detailing a police officer for work of a political nature, and should he be found guilty of the act he would be suspended.

The mayor said: "I am satisfied that men higher up are behind this thing, and I hope the hearing tomorrow afternoon will bring out this fact. I am going to sift the thing to the end and see what is what in Jacksonville."

PRESIDENT WILSON HAS SIGNED DEFICIENCY BILL AMENDED

CONGRESS NOT TO OPPOSE SENIOR CHANGES

CLAUSE REGARDS CIVIL SERVICE

GIVES REASONS WHY MARSHALS AND REVENUE COLLECTORS SHOULD SELECT DEPUTIES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—President Wilson today signed the urgent deficiency bill, carrying exemption from civil service of deputy United States marshals and deputy collectors of internal revenue.

The president gave out the following memorandum:

"I am convinced, after a careful examination of the facts, that the offices of deputy collectors and deputy marshals were never intended to be included under the ordinary provisions of the civil service law.

"The control of the whole method and spirit of the administration of the proviso in this bill, which concerns the appointment of these officers is no less entirely in my hands now than it was before the bill became law, my warm advocacy and support, both of these principles and of the beneficial practice of civil service reform, is known to the whole country, and there is no danger that the spoils principle will creep in with my approval or connivance."

The president took the position that bonded officers directly responsible for their subordinates could choose more efficient men by personal equation than enters into the confidential relations between employer and employee. The president moreover, feels that at any time he can by executive order, control the operation of the system.

The enterprising people of Live Oak are moving for the erection there of a new school building. A mass meeting was held in the court house last week for the purpose of devising plans for securing the building. There was a committee appointed for the purpose of laying plans, another for investigating the probable site and a third committee to go before the school board for the purpose of getting that body to provide as much of the funds necessary to meet the expense out of the school treasury as possible. The spirit manifested was the kind that secures results, and there is no doubt that the movement to auspiciously commenced will bring about the erection of a building that will be adequate not only for present needs but for those of the future for many years.

Diplomatic exchanges between Ambassador Page and the British foreign office with regard to Great Britain's attitude in Mexico are likely to continue.

Indications that Sir Lancelot Curdell, British minister to Mexico, does not hold views in sympathy with the American policy toward the government of Provisional President Huerta had caused concern to the Washington government, and while some officials declare that they are not seeking European support at this time, it was made plain that they did not desire that any factor should be injected into the situation at present from Europe that would in any way impede the efforts of the United States to deal with the Mexican problem.

Supporting their claims through affidavits attacking members of the jury, attorneys for Leo M. Frank, sentenced to hang for the murder of Mary Phagan, today argued a motion for a new trial for the convicted man. The state was represented by the solicitor-general, Hugh L. Dorsey, who also offered many affidavits. The defense charges that before the trial certain members of the jury were prejudiced against Frank and that all were influenced by applause in the court room. The hearing is before Judge L. S. Roan, the trial judge. Frank's attorneys today declared if a new trial was denied they immediately would take their case before the supreme court.

Before an audience that not more one-quarter filled Madison Square Garden which holds 12,000 persons, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant British suffragette who is in the United States on promise of good behavior only, last night declared the British government through its refusal to enact legislation giving the ballot to women, as responsible for the harsh methods adopted by her followers in England.

"Only through dynamic means," said Mrs. Pankhurst, "can English women hope to secure laws dealing with white slavery, industrial evils and other conditions affecting women."

William Sulzer, deposed governor of the state of New York, today opened headquarters at a Broadway hotel for his campaign to re-establish himself at the state capitol. Informally he plunged into the fight as soon as he stepped from a late train from Albany last night, but from today on until election on November 4, he planned to conduct an organization campaign with his private secretary, Chester C. Platt, acting as his manager, for election to the state assembly. His friends in the Sixth assembly district, who succeeded in making him a nominee on the progressive party ticket almost immediately after he was deposed as governor, shared his confidence of success.

CLARK AFTER JAPS

Washington, Oct. 22.—"Yes I have noticed the telegraphic dispatch in the Washington newspapers, in which the Governor of Florida states that on account of constitutional provision the Legislature would not have the power to pass an act prohibiting Japanese and other Asiatic people from becoming land owners in the State of Florida," said Representative Frank Clark. "This may be true—I have not examined the constitution but there is absolutely nothing in the way of the Governor of Florida calling the Legislature in extraordinary session for the purpose of submitting to the people of Florida a joint resolution amending the constitution of the state so as to prohibit such ownership. The Governor knows this and the matter of rectifying this whole affair is in his hands. The Governor also knows that if such a resolution was submitted to the people of Florida it would be adopted by a vote of five to one."

The Governor also knows or ought to know that the only way by which the people of Florida can be permitted to express themselves, or by which the constitution can be amended is by joint resolution submitted to the people by the Legislature. He also knows, or ought to know, that he is the only official having the power to call the Legislature in extra session, and if he does not know how, he soon will know that the white people of Florida will not tolerate dallying with this question."

Strawberry Day

Plant City, Oct. 23.—J. Fred DeBerry, Secretary of the Plant City Board of Trade, has hit upon a novel scheme to boost the strawberry industry of Plant City. On January 1st, which he has designated as strawberry day, everybody in Plant City will mail post cards illustrating the strawberry to the various states.

On that date the berries will be on the market, and the growers around the Plant City section will be disposing of them at fairly prices, because on the same date in the North the weather will be too severe to even dream of such a thing as cultivating strawberries in January.

Secretary DeBerry will send a quart of strawberries to Governor Park Trammell, at Tallahassee, in time for the governor to have them on his table at the mansion when the people of Plant City are enjoying them on strawberry day.

After an evening of merry making the company disbanded at a late hour voting it a most enjoyable evening.

Rally Day Last Sunday

Rally Day was observed by the members of the Sunday School of the Church of the Holy Cross, Sunday morning, in a most appropriate manner. After the opening service, as this was the first Rally Day celebrated by this church, Superintendent B. F. Whitner, Jr., made a short address concerning the intention and meaning of Rally Day, and urged the children to strive to make each Rally Day better than the preceding one. The visitors were then invited to visit the different classes which had assembled for their lessons. At the close of the lesson period, prizes for attendance were awarded to Claire Jones, Margaret Neal, Sarita Lake, and Alfred Robson. The rector, Rev. A. S. Peck, addressed the children, giving them a motto to follow during the year and told them about the birthday bank, into which each member, on or directly after each birthday, is requested to put as many pennies as they have had birthdays. The bank is to be opened at some future time, and the money to be given to some branch of the Lord's work. An effort is being made to interest the entire parish in Sunday school work, and plans for the same were given by the rector. The children then marched out of the church to the recreational hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

DICK CALHOUN INNOCENT Did Not Tamper With Federal Jury As Accused

Stating that the paper which he handed Federal Grand Juror Walker, relative to the investigation of the Southern Farm and Home Development Company, had been handed him by Charles H. Seig, president of the company, and that he had read only a small part of it, and handed it to the grand juror, because he thought a grand juror should have all the facts in the case, and denying that he intended to tamper with or in any way interfere with the grand jury, and that he did not know he was doing wrong, to hand a juror anything pertaining to a case it was investigated, Dick Calhoun, of Sanford, appeared before Judge Call Tuesday morning and came out purged of contempt.

Judge Call stated that it was because of a grave doubt in his mind that the defendant intended to tamper with the jury that caused him to dismiss the rule against him.

The judge stated that there was no doubt as to the gravity of the act, and stated that the juries and courts shall be kept pure as long as he is on the bench, and that any attempt at any time hereafter on the part of anyone to interfere with the sanctity of the grand jury will be dealt with promptly and heavily.

Grand Juror Walker, of Sanford, to whom Calhoun gave the paper which was Exhibit "A" of the action for the rule which issued, stated that he had read the paper after it was handed him, but that it only made him feel that he could act fair in the case, and that it did not influence him for the company.

On cross-examination by Calhoun's attorney Mr. Walker stated that Calhoun made no further attempt to influence him than by handing him the paper. Calhoun filed a long answer to the rule against him, denying his intention to influence the jury, or any one of it, and stating he did not know anything about the machinery of courts, and that he thought a grand jury could take anything that came to it from any one relative to the case.

He made a personal reply to question by the Judge and by the district attorney, the tenor of which was to the same effect.

He denied that he had ever known or seen Charles H. Seig until the Thursday before the Monday he handed in the paper to Walker, and that he did not even know his business until then.

He stated that Seig said all he wanted was for his side to get before the grand jury, and then he was not afraid of an indictment.

Seig he stated, did not have a copy of the paper with him at the time of their first talk, but went and got it. Calhoun said he placed the paper in his pocket and tried to read it going home on the train, but could not; that he never finished the paper but had it in his pocket when he came upon Monday morning to Jacksonville, and when he went to the court house to "see Mr. Brown" he met Juror Walker right in front of the United States marshal's office door, and gave him the paper. After that he met Mr. Phillips, the United States district attorney, but said nothing to him about the paper.

Whether the court will go further in its effort to fathom the attempt to interfere with the grand jury will be decided probably today, as the judge and the United States attorney are in consultation over the matter. Jacksonville Metropolis.

THE COMING PRIMARY

Promises Some Great Politics Ere the Votes are Counted Nov. 25

The coming city primary that will take place on November 25th for the nomination of city officials will not be as tame as some people thought it would be and each day sees some new candidate coming out for the different offices. The idea of the people ruling has been carried out in the permission for the candidates for the position of Treasurer and Assessor and Clerk and Collector to come before the people in the primary and be recommended for the position. This of course will meet with the approval of the incoming mayor and will take a large responsibility off his shoulders. For instance, there are some candidates in the race who probably would not be known to the people at large, who under the plan of leaving them out of the primary would have no claim upon the position and if left entirely to the mayor might not give satisfaction to the people at large and yet the mayor and the council would have a perfect right to recommend and appoint.

Under the plan decided upon by the executive committee the people will have a voice in the matter as usual and the mayor having troubles enough of his own will not have the office seekers to bother him.

The Aldermanic race up to date has the following aspirants: W. W. Abernathy, S. Runge, J. D. Davison, Walter S. Hand, C. H. Dinger, C. C. Woodruff, B. W. Herndon, John Adams and F. A. Bissett. It is said that there are more to follow.

For Mayor D. L. Thrasher and S. Maxwell have the field all to themselves and seem to have a nice little race between them with no third party to split the vote.

For Clerk and Collector, M. W. Lovell, J. E. Terwilliger, B. J. Starling and Tom S. Davis will compete for the grand prize. All of them at the present time think they have the job cinched.

For Treasurer and Assessor, A. A. Preston, the present incumbent and Addison L. Williams will try conclusions again, these same gentlemen making it interesting about twelve months ago in the same race.

Behind the primary, will cause some talk but no bad feelings, for the candidates are all neighbors and friends and as fellow citizens are making a gentle campaign for the offices.

It behooves every citizen and prospective citizen who has been in the county six months to register. If registered see that your poll tax is paid and then vote on November 25th, for it is your duty to do so.

It you don't help to put them there you should forever hold your peace because no man who has the interest of the city at heart will fail to vote.

THE EDUCATION OF CHILDREN

HELPFUL TALK ABOUT THE PROPER PLANS FOR THE FUTURE AMERICAN CITIZEN

BY OTIS ASHMORE, SUPT. OF SAVANNAH PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Now that the summer vacation is over and the schools have once more begun, it has been suggested to me that a few plain words to parents about the education of their children might be of benefit and so I am going to say some things to parents about the home and the school.

The school and the home are coordinate institutions. They need each other and they should work in harmony. Through the school we reach the children every school day, and we hope that our good influences are making good men and women for the future. But we cannot directly reach you. You are busy with your daily work and you seldom visit the schools. You think of the schools as they were when you were children, but they are better now and they ought to be. There has been a wonderful improvement in the schools in the last few years everywhere, just as there has been improvement in many other things. You, perhaps, do not realize how great this improvement has been unless you have visited the schools lately. You ought to visit the school which your children attend and get acquainted with the teacher. You will find her an earnest, hard working human being with enthusiasm, sympathy and feelings just like yourself. You ought to know and to realize something of her problem. You may have three or four children of your own to manage at home and you know that they sometimes give you trouble. Suppose you had forty or fifty of other people's children to manage, what would you do? Get acquainted with the teacher of your children, make friends with her, give her your support and sympathy, for she has your most important interest in her hands.

You can help the school by speaking well of it in the presence of your children, or at least by not speaking disparagingly of it. If you have a grievance against the school go to the principal and explain your trouble. He will endeavor to remedy it. Nearly every case of disorderly conduct in pupils, suspension and expulsion, has behind it an improper home feeling and spirit towards the school. You can take no surer steps to bring your children into trouble in the school than to speak disparagingly about the teacher. The teacher may, sometimes make mistakes like you to yourself, but these faults should not be discussed before your children. Sustain the school and teach your children to respect and obey her. If anything really goes wrong take it up quietly with the principal of the school and have it adjusted.

Another way in which you can help the school is to require your children to prepare their home lessons. All school children, above the second grade, are assigned some home work. In no case is this work excessive. With the younger children it is very light. One of the great objects of these lessons is the formation of good habits of reading and study at home. Indeed, the habit of spending at least a part of the evening at home in reading and study is of far more value than the actual knowledge acquired from their school books.

You ought to have a pleasant, quiet place in which children may study, a comfortable, well lighted room free from noise and interruption. After supper at a given time the children should be required to prepare their lessons thoroughly. These lessons, as before stated, are not difficult or excessive. All this has been well planned prescribed by those who know what they are doing. You ought to know how much time should be required out of school for children to prepare their home lessons. This will depend upon the age of the child. In the third, fourth, and fifth grades from three-fourths of an hour to an hour and a half is usually sufficient. In the sixth, seventh and eighth grades from one to two hours, and in the high school from two to three hours.

See to it that your children form the habit of thoroughness and not of superficiality. Children need much play and recreation, and parents should provide for this, but the home study period is not at all inconsistent with this need. Let the children plan in the afternoon and stay at home at night. There are entirely too many children on the streets at night in our city, and in every city. They do not need to be on the streets at night.

Do you have a desire to get rid of that about the house? If so, you form great risks in permitting them to form this early the bad habit of leaving the home at night. The home is the sacred citadel of civilized life, and it should be most carefully guarded. Make your home attractive to your children and they will not want to leave it. To my mind one of the most unfortunate tendencies of modern life is the weakening of our home life.

You can help the school very much if you will examine very carefully every month your children's report cards. These cards are issued on the first of every month for your information and co-operation. Make it an invariable rule to call for these cards every month and to discuss them with your children. This will have a powerful effect upon their work and conduct at school. Notice particularly the mark in department. It ought to be perfect or nearly so. If it falls below 95, call your child to account. If it falls below 85, go to see the teacher. Always sign the cards yourself and not allow others to do this.

Fathers should remember that boys from 12 to 18 years old need usually a stronger hand than that of a woman. Too often the responsibility in managing boys of this age is left to the mother. The result is that the mother is worried to death and the boy is spoiled. There comes a time when the father must take a hand in managing his boy or see him ruined. I have seen many striking instances of such neglect. No father should ever be so busy that he cannot give special attention to his boy at this age.

It will make the home attractive and greatly help the school if you would provide suitable books for their children to read bearing indirectly on their school studies. If you are not able to buy these books to go the Public Library and ask the librarian of the children's department to suggest suitable books for you from the library. She will gladly do this, and it will cost you nothing. If you are not familiar with the advantages of our Public Library it will pay you to get acquainted with it. It is established for your benefit and the benefit of your children, and you ought to use it. There are thousands of good books now written especially for children, and a good selection of these will greatly help them in their school studies.

If your child is absent from school for any cause, or tardy, write a polite note to the principal stating frankly the cause. It is necessary to state the cause in order that the teacher may make the child excused or unexcused. These regulations are reasonable and easy to comply with, and they are very necessary in the management of the school. Whenever it becomes necessary to write a note to the school, direct it to the principal and not to the teacher. All correspondence with the school should be with the principal. He is the head of the school, and experience has shown that it is often necessary for teachers to write notes to parents.

If your child gets into trouble in school, do not too hastily draw your conclusions through the sympathetic course of the defendant's statement alone. There may be another side. There probably will be. Go to the school with an open mind and you will be met by courtesy and due consideration.

The object of the school is to educate your children, and we desire your earnest co-operation. Savannah has good schools and good teachers, and parents are usually fortunate in the facilities afforded for the education of their children. Our schools have operated with unusually favorable conditions, and with your aid and co-operation we shall try to sustain the good work and the fine spirit which now pervades them.

HAIR DOESN'T DIE— IT HAS TO BE KILLED

Hair often continues to live and grow long after the death of the body. But it is often killed through neglect or misuse. Almost always the woman or man whose hair is falling out, or is stringy, lifeless and dull-looking, is entirely to blame because of not giving it the proper care. It is easy to take care of the hair—easy to make it more beautiful. Use Harmony Hair Beautifier, to make it glossy, soft and silky, and Harmony Shampoo to keep hair and scalp thoroughly clean.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, delightfully perfumed with true rose, is very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo is most convenient to use, giving an instantaneous rich, foaming lather that immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair, and leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony Laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

Money Crops Raised In Florida

Crops That Can Be Raised In Sanford To Advantage And That Will Make Money For The Growers

At various times The Herald has been in receipt of letters from various parts of the United States asking for information regarding the crops raised in and around the Sanford section and in the state. Not having any booklets at the present time containing this information the following list is compiled and while the prices may vary the general average will be found about right:

Cabbage—Will produce at the rate of 140 crates per acre, and have a value of $2.75 per crate, and in many cases sell for twice that amount.

Strawberries—Two and one half acres planted to strawberries have made a yield of $1,500. The expense of growing and marketing the crop was $490.45 leaving a net profit of $1,009.

Bermuda Onions—At an average cost of $65 per acre, a net profit of $650 per acre can be made on Bermuda onions. With all crops the smaller the area planted the smaller the cost of production.

Celery—For a long time Kalamazoo was conceded to be the only place where celery could be grown in Florida. Florida now grows more celery than any other state in the union. The average cost of production is $95 per acre, and the net profit will average $1,000 per acre.

Cucumbers—One acre of Florida land has been known to produce one crop of cucumbers that were sold for $2,000.

Egg plants—One acre planted to egg plants will cost on an average of about $60, and the net profit when the market is at normal will amount to $740. When the first crop has been cleaned up a crop of hay can be put in that will produce a profit of $135, and another crop of egg plant can be gathered from the same and in the fall.

Lettuce—One acre planted will cost on an average of about $90 per acre, and will produce a net profit of $440. A ready market is to be had for Florida Lettuce, as it is offered at a time when the whole north is clothed in snow, sleet and slush.

String beans—The average cost per acre for producing string beans run $56, and the net profit will amount to $315. Two crops of beans and one crop of hay can be grown on the same land in one year.

Tomatoes—To produce an acre of tomatoes will cost $60, and the net profit will amount to $450. Two crops of tomatoes and one of hay will grow on the same land in a year.

Green Peppers—The average cost per acre for producing green pepper is about $90, and the net profit will amount to $700. The first crop can be allowed with a crop of hay and a fall crop of vegetables.

Velvet Beans—This is a forage crop. Its value is about $40 per acre. It is a leguminous plant and has the effect of increasing the fertility of the soil while yielding a nutritious food crop.

Cassava—This is also a stock food and will produce at the same rate as velvet beans and has the same relative value.

Cantaloupes—This crop grows at the rate of 125 crates per acre and has a net value of $156. Hay and vegetables can follow it in the same year.

Sugar Cane—From 8 to 15 barrels of syrup can be produced on one acre and has a value of $12 per barrel. The acre will need replanting about every fourth year.

Irish Potatoes—As with all the leading crops of Florida Irish potatoes are placed on the market at a time when they positively have no competition in the way of new stock. The average cost per acre is $90, and a net return can be had that will amount to about $450 per acre.

Sweet Potatoes—It is no unusual occurrence to secure a crop of 350 bushels of sweet potatoes to one acre, the writer knowing of a single instance where they produced at a rate of 800 bushels per acre. The cost of production is about $20 per acre, and a net profit of $260 per acre can be made. They grow in some cases to enormous size, one being produced that weighed 42 pounds.

Cauliflower—Will produce at the rate of 300 crates per acre and has an average value of $75 per acre.

Beets—An acre of beets, which is one of the easiest crops grown, will produce a profit of $95.

Corn—We know a case where a planter gathered 400 bushels of corn from 30 acres and Florida does not claim to be a corn state.

Watermelons—An acre of watermelons will produce a profit of $70. They are a very easy crop to grow.

Chinese Cabbage—This is a vegetable combining the qualities of celery, lettuce and cabbage and will yield a net profit of $435 per acre.

Asparagus—An acre planted to asparagus will produce a profit of $140.

Peas—Will produce at the rate of 200 crates per acre and have a net value of $2 per crate.

Figs—This fruit grows luxuriantly in all parts of Florida, and will bear through the summer months. An endless variety can be grown and a profitable crop can be made of them. Trees are hardy and strong and need but little culture. A fine market is had for them

FLORIDA THE FAVORED STATE

THE LAND OF PLENTY, WHERE ENJOYMENT OF CLIMATE AND POSSIBILITIES OF PROSPERITY MAKES FOR PEACE AND HAPPINESS

BY HON. ROBT. McNAMEE IN DIXIE

We all live in Florida—that is, Dixie, and you and I.

It is a wonder to us that everybody does not see it as we do, and, therefore, that everybody should live in Florida.

Nobody knows better than Floridians what it means to spend the days allotted to us in this short span of life, within the boundaries of that State that gives more to the individual from the cradle to the grave, for life enjoyment than any other State in this Union, or any other principality on earth.

I want people who do not know about Florida to read a few of the many reasons why they should come and spend the balance of their lives here, even if it is to round up the last portion of it when the horizon of life is shown in the setting of the late evening sun.

There is no health spot in the world like Florida.

It has been a haven of refuge to thousands upon thousands of men, women and children, who have come to its sunny clime and brought back to emaciated frames the red-coursing oxygenized blood due to the revivifying fresh air of this glorious climate.

Health comes first among all the blessings of life.

The people of Florida are the healthiest people of the United States.

They have less epidemics of serious import and they have more vital healthfulness because they breathe the ozone of our balmy atmosphere from one end of the year to the other.

Every Floridian man, woman or child from the northern or western extremity down through the semi-tropical southern part of the State, is practically in the open air ninety per cent. of his entire time, whether his avocation is out in the open or within the walls of buildings, because there are comparatively but few days in the winter that office or house windows are not raised, so as to permit the fresh, fragrant Florida atmosphere to blow breezily throughout their entirety.

Yes, health comes first.

Florida gives health because the bounding vigor which means health comes perpetually and minutely out of the ever present glorious fresh air climate of our great State.

Florida is the place where the poorly endowed can live better than that of luxury lived in some of the cycles not very far behind us.

Any man who has thrift, energy and a small capital that might be in the hundreds of dollars, can buy a land tract and build a modest home in the vicinity of our progressive towns and cities.

If he is not too lazy to plant a garden, to raise chickens, to milk a cow and earn his living by the sweat of his brow, he can see his bank account grow and he can rear his children under his own vine and fig tree in actual affluence.

By affluence, I mean not an exaggerated condition of riches, but what any decent, industrious, sensible man could expect under such circumstances.

His children will go to the best of schools.

They can get the culture that growing boys and girls should have by the advanced means of musical instruction, business college education or the many other methods by which the future of boys and girls can easily be consummated under such Florida environments.

Florida is a State in which abject poverty is unknown.

It is not even the habit here, as it is in the sordid story in large cities, to have to strive strenuously to keep the wolf from the door.

Extreme poverty in the largest cities of Florida is unknown comparatively, and even what there is of it is administered to generously by active and efficient agencies.

From one end of Florida to the other, their lives an active, industrious, sober and honorable people whose characteristics have matter out of our communities a good, great and sensible citizenship.

I bid any man of any worth whatsoever to come and live in any of the towns or cities of the State of Florida where he will be immediately sized up rightly and whose capacities will be appreciated by his associates.

The citizenship of Florida amalgamates with the stranger within its gates, or its new coming settlers quicker than any other people on earth.

If a stranger who had lately come among our people will soon show that he has the talent for political or social successes, his neighbors will immediately appreciate him and advance him magnanimously and generously to the furthest limit of his powers.

Our social fabric has been woven together with the broad warp and woof of cosmopolitan materials, so that it is one of the most delightful pictures that we can get of Florida's conditions socially; that the good, honest, decent people mingle with each other to their mutual profit and enjoyment, without respect to any of the many prejudices that intervene in some of the other spots of the earth.

Whatever people who have capital for investment, will understand the possibilities of Florida—its possibilities of horticulture and agriculture, its extensive fisheries and oyster beds, its cattle-raising prospects how immense by the dipping process, its mining and mineral hidden wealth they will find that their investment will increase in these channels of business, just as thousands of others have increased their investments who have preceded them.

Florida's ability to absorb, reorganize and materially make financially better, hundreds of thousands of the great middle class population, can be demonstrated if the agencies which exploit this class of immigration will carry out an honest policy of settling these people around the edges of our cities and towns, inducing them to enter into the ventures that I have heretofore shown.

Out of conditions like I have set forth, out of our peoples' possibilities that they themselves have made in the last three years in this State out of the quality of citizenship that has been patent to everybody, Florida has built up a magnificent State government, cleanly administered with its credit standing at the very top of the list.

Florida has built a string of coast cities which are unsurpassed in any country for material progress, standing and substance of their inhabitant and for the solid enterprises which are the foundation rock of their successes.

Florida has built hundreds of beautiful into cities and towns all active and prosperous, due to the worthy character of their citizenship.

No man feels a stranger after he has entered the portals of the great State of Florida, because our people are proverbially generous, hospitable and pleasure-loving.

That is why strangers made Florida a possibility, because when they came as curious sight-seeing strangers among our midst, the reception that the first comparatively few Floridians gave those original visitors made Floridians of them.

They in turn got the habit, and they gave the right hand of fellowship in the same way to the next batch of strangers, and so on ad infinitum.

That is the spirit that makes Florida great.

It is the endless chain of such people who come to visit us, that then abide with us.

A Floridian is almost to the man, a walking booster of his community, and the city and of his State.

Floridians comparatively all know each other, like each other and generously boost for each other.

Is there any wonder then that we look at ourselves, strike hands with ourselves and say conscientiously and positively to ourselves, "ISN'T FLORIDA THE BEST AND MOST FAVORED SPOT ON THE GLOBE?"

The Newspaper Exchange

There is no section of the newspaper that comes home closer to where people live than the classified advertising. No matter how much more important theoretically the news from Mexico may be, the fact that your neighbor has offered his house for sale at a certain price touches you much more closely.

From these columns you read the intimate story of the town's daily life. The housewife is curious to know who is advertising for positions as servant. Working people want to know who is asking for help. People who own or who wish to buy or rent real estate are interested in the pending transfers. It is hard to find a class of people who do not follow these notices week by week.

Hence it is perfectly astonishing how many answers are often received from a simple little insertion in the To Rent, For Sale, and Want columns. Anything you can do by personal inquiry is multiplied a hundred fold by the press.

Some people will put in hours or days and time worth dollars, running around and making inquiries haphazard, when they want to rent a place or sell some property. Meanwhile a few nickles or dimes spent in the newspaper would reach a hundred fold more people. Usually the man whom you expect to interest has other ideas, while the newspaper brings inquiries from strangers and sources that would never occur to you.

This kind of advertising permits the buyer to get the best price, because he learns whether there is to be any competition. It gives the seller the most advantageous trade, because he finds whether there is really to be a demand.

In many places farmers are already doing a good business through the parcel post by newspaper advertising. They are developing a trade that would rather pay a special price than buy through middlemen. The classified advertising is a time saver and a money saver. —The Oak Democrat.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side."

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its lifting me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

THE SALE BANK

"When men send out circulars with fairy tales of extraordinary profits and dividends, then the man with something to invest had better put his money in a GOOD BANK. It is better to be sure of 4 per cent and one's principal than to luxuriate on 150 per cent dividends for a few weeks and then lose both dividends and principal."

HOW TRUE THE ABOVE ARTICLE

We can all call to mind men who have lost large sums on some crazy "get-rich-quick" scheme.

Let this bank with its unbroken record for safety of over a quarter of a century care for your investments.

You may have times of thinking that this old bank is slow.

But paste this in your hat she is safe.

Woman's Club

Woman's Club Reception

Tuesday afternoon the first large so-far function of the winter season was given at the Woman's Club, when the Social Department of the club entertained the members of the whole club at a beautiful reception.

The reception room was artistically decorated and the club colors, red and green, used exclusively. Ferns and pot plants, among which were intermingled a variety of red cut flowers filled every space. From the center chandelier and surrounding the light was a large red basket, filled with asparagus ferns and red flowers, making a beautiful soft red light. The room was darkened and the numerous red candles lighted, making the scene a lovely one.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. John W. Dickins, president of the club, beautifully gowned in yellow crepe, with trimmings of old lace and gold fringe, and wearing the club flowers, red roses; Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, chairman of the Social Department, wearing a very handsome costume of black and white embroidered net with trimmings of cerise velvet; Mrs. R. J. Holly daintily attired in a becoming gown of white chiffon over pink charmeuse; Mrs. Robert A. Newman in an elaborate toilette of lavender marquisette over yellow messaline, with trimmings of black and gold.

The club hostess was Mrs. Junie H. Roumillat, who wore a pretty costume of white lace over lavender silk. Mrs. E. B. Brown presided at the tea table and was prettily dressed in lavender crepe de chine. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Alfred Lilja, in white marquisette, Mrs. A. W. Fitts in white lingerie, and Mrs. Deane Turner in a white embroidered dress. The young ladies serving the delicious sandwiches and coffee were Miss Florence Frank, wearing a pretty blue charmeuse and Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin with a handsome gown of amethyst velvet with drapery of amethyst chiffon, and Miss Mable Hand in white lingerie.

During the receiving hours scores of handsomely gowned women called at the club rooms, and an air of cordiality prevailed that made this first social affair of the Woman's Club a most charming one.

During the reception the following beautiful musical program was given and greatly enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. R. E. Tolar was in charge of the program.

Vocal Solo, Tomorrow, Miss Mary Gaines; accompanist, Miss Florence Frank.

Encore, Were My Songs with Wings Provided.

Piano Solo, Vox Populi, Miss Margaret Davis.

ELECTIONS HELD IN MEXICO WERE FARCES OF RANK SORT

SOLDIERS VOTES WERE ALL FOR HUERTA

GEN. DIAZ FEARS FOR LIFE

IS ASKED TO RESIGN COMMISSION AND COME TO CAPITAL BUT REFUSES TO MOVE

Mexico City Oct. 26.—The elections promised by the Provisional President General Huerta were held Sunday and there was no semblance of order in any quarter of the city.

A few patrols were on the streets by neither police nor troops had any but their usual duties to perform.

The polling places opened at 9 o'clock in the morning and remained open until noon, when the inspectors closed the booths until 3 o'clock in the afternoon for the midday meal.

They were opened again at 3 and closed at 5. Officials, one of which was designated "president," were in attendance on the polling places.

The Federal officials seemed to be a representative class clerks, business men, small employes and shop keepers. So far as could be ascertained, no government employes served.

Each polling place had a table on which were spread tickets of the various candidates. From these the voter made his selection, signed, folded and delivered it to the "president" who deposited it in the presence of the voter in the ballot box.

Many Kinds of Boxes. Ballot boxes consisted of all sorts of receptacles from a pasteboard shoe box to a plush-covered jewel casket, or a glass jar borrowed from a neighbor.

There was no secrecy about the voting. As the vote was deposited the name was checked on the register and on the list previously prepared, through personal visits of a designated official to the houses in his jurisdiction.

Manuel Galero, liberal candidate, who was once ambassador at Washington did not vote. Instead he took the staff and went to the country.

MORE ABOUT JAPANESE

DISTANT FLORIDIANS INTERESTED

Florida Society of California Afraid of Asiatic Invasion of the South. Resolution passed and approved by the undersigned committee appointed by the Florida Society of Southern California relating to the invasion of Florida by Japanese under the guise of colonization.

Be it resolved by the Florida Society of Southern California that we deplore the action accredited by the press to ex-Governor William S. Jennings of Florida in his activities to dispose of his land holdings in and about St. John's or otherwise, to Japanese refugees from California.

Be it further resolved that we commend the patriotic and manly expression of Hon. Frank Clark who in so promptly addressing Governor Park Trammell to the effect that Florida soil may not be made the nucleus of intrigue against white citizenship.

We feel that our knowledge of the Japanese question on the Pacific Coast and our regard for the fair name of Florida makes it both a privilege and a duty to place the citizens of the State in a position to know the facts.

We represent to the citizens of Florida that wherever the Japanese have infringed upon the Domain of the Caucasian it had only been a question of time until protest has formulated into a demand for exclusion.

While the State Department at Washington is struggling to appease the California Japanese differences Great Britain has been considering the protest of the Japanese because of Canada's discrimination against them in the matter of lumber rights and fishing privileges.

We recognize the importance to Florida of large immigration but we desire to show to her citizens that the Japanese are not of the same social, spiritual or moral fiber of our white race; that the whites and the Japs can never fraternize or blend; that while the Jap will temporarily perform manual services at the same time demands recognition as a social equal, as evidenced by the public opinion polls of California.

There are twenty in the party and they are led by Frank C. Bowyer, president of Tampa's board of trade who was elected chairman of the delegation sent after the train pulled out of Tampa.

En route to Sanford the entire party had some fun over the choosing of berths in the car. It was done by drawing numbers and as is usual in such cases, some of the fatter men in the party drew upper berths, while their thinner brethren drew lowers.

LAKE MONROE TO BE BULKHEADED CITY COUNCIL SHAPES PROJECT

GREATEST WORK IN MODERN HISTORY OF CITY

ORDINANCE IN THE HERALD

CALLS FOR BIDS ON THE BULK-HEADING OF LAKE MONROE WORK WILL START SOON

The following ordinance appears in The Herald: "An Ordinance Requiring the Bulk-heading of Lake Monroe and the Reclamation of Land in Front of all Property Bordering Upon Lake Monroe Between the East Side of an Unknown Alley Between Sanford and Cypress Avenues and the West Side of Myrtle Avenue in the City of Sanford, Seminole County, Florida, and Providing the Manner in Which Said Bulkheading and Reclamation Shall be Done."

The wording of this ordinance means little to the average reader of The Herald who does not live in Sanford but to the people here who have dreamed of this great work for many years and especially to the newspaper that has fought for this improvement for the past five years this final turning of the page that will spell success means much.

It means that Sanford will now have the prettiest river city in the state. It means that Sanford will now have the big tourist hotel. It means that Sanford will have a cleaner appearance from the river view.

It means that Sanford will be much healthier and more sanitary. It means that Sanford will from this time henceforth take on new life and hope and that our lake front, so long neglected will at last become the prettiest and best part of the city.

The bulkheading will extend from Myrtle avenue to a point below Sanford avenue which will practically take in the entire section of the city.

The work will be undertaken in a sensible and business like manner and will be put down just as the streets and sidewalks have been by the city if the property owners cannot do so and the expense levied against the property.

The specifications are now in the office of the City Engineer Fred Williams and are most comprehensive in every respect. Mr. Williams is expected in the line of work and has given much of his time and attention toward completing the specifications in time for the ordinance to be printed at the same period and the contractors who are interested can see the plans in the city hall.

This bulkheading will be one of the greatest improvements that Sanford has ever attempted and will be far reaching in effect.

THE SEVEN HOUR TRAIN

ORLANDO NOW FLAG STATION

Cost Line Flyer Only Makes Three Stops on Trip

With only three stops scheduled in the 243 miles between Tampa and Jacksonville, the Coast Line's new "Tampa Special" will begin operating a week from tomorrow, making the run in seven hours.

Southbound, the special will be No. 91 leaving Jacksonville at 7 a. m. and arriving in Tampa at 4 p. m. Northbound No. 92 will leave Tampa at 12:30 p. m. arriving in Jacksonville at 7:30 p. m.

Comparison between the Tampa Special and the Seaboard Limited, which is now operating on a six and a half hour schedule, but which will make the trip in six hours after January 3, is interesting.

The special, allowing a maximum of five minutes for the three regular stops will run 243 miles in six and three-quarter hours, at an average speed of nearly thirty-five miles an hour if no other stops were made.

The Limited will have seven scheduled stops on its six hour run from Tampa to Jacksonville. It total time lost in making the seven stops does not amount to more than thirty minutes, a minimum amount of time the Limited will have.

Tampa gains an additional train a day making a total of seven between this city and Jacksonville with the inauguration of the Special, the Coast Line running four trains each way while the Seaboard operates three.
