pressive public unveiling of the Nixon cabinet has taken place with the TV cameras picking out the faces, figures and garbs of the chosen Republicans some logical commenting is in order.

On the positive side is the obvious determination of the president-elect to assemble a group of "big men, strong men" of varied experience and abilities which would support the changes which Mr. Nixon tainly warmed the Nixon supporters who were either on hand or watching the performance or listening to it over television or radio, there can be nothing but praise for its half-hour program.

Richard M. Nixon was the master of ceremonies and was smiling, enthusiastic and, in general, more at home before the cameras than hitherto. He did not permit any comment from the men whom he had chosen. Sitting and smiling was their role. And this, it appears will be their lot until Jan. 20 when the new government's executive arm can be flexed with

In the cabinet are men who have been long-time and intimate supporters of Mr. Nixon, which is quite the normal result of a change in administrations. Of these, however, the one who can be expected to be confronted by the major challenges at home and abroad is William P. RR And Walking!

A little good news is better than none. And at a time when the nation's airports and highways are faced with chaotic congestion, it is encouraging to hear that a fundamental element of the transportation industry-the railroadshas a word to say in the good news catergory.

Speaking of the year 1968, the head of the Association of American Railroads says of the rails: "Our earnings aren't what they should be but they're a little better than last year. . . ." He added, however, that the "Railroads are very much in need of the freight rate increases proposed . . . but so far authorized only in part."

Some time ago, this rail spokesman pointed out that the nation was in the midst of a "transportation crisis" and ascribed it to "glutted streets and highways, crowded airways, airport delays, pollution from trucks and buses." There is little question but that the strength of the railroads may be a deciding factor in resolving the problems of an overloaded transportation

The rails, in spite of delayed rate increases and inadequate earnings, are gearing themselves to meet traffic demands that could otherwise spell transportation chaos for the entire country. Again, in the words of the rail spokesman, "We must revise our pricing methods, beef up our rate of return, efficently use the latest in electronic hardware and other advanced technology. introduce new concepts, like landbridge. . . .

It is obvious that the continuing ability o the railroads to function as the prime movers of the nation's commerce is indispensable to any hone-range solution of the growing paralysis from over congestion in virtually every medium of transportation-except walking.

Businessmen worry more over gifts than any other personal busines gesture. As a result, busy executives depend on wives and secretaries more than ever for gift ideas. Many even depend on the women to select, purchase, wrap and send the gift-unless it is to be presented personally. It is advised that women can help most by keeping a watchful eye on the calendar.

BRIDE-ELECT-Lt. Col. USAF (Ret.) and Mrs. Louis Carlyle Hallam of Cleveland, Miss., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter. Louise Hallam, to James Tyler Wesslund, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wesslund of Silver Lake, Sanford. Miss Hallam is a graduate of Cleveland public schools, and she is now attending Delta State College in Cleveland. She will graduate in January, 1969 with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Education. She is a member of Phi Mu Sorority and the Canterbury Club. Mr. Wesslund, born in Grand Rapids, Mich., graduated from Seminole High School in 1963 and attended Orlando Junior College. He graduated in June, 1968 from Delta State College with the degree of Science in Business Administration, and he is present employed with Radiation, Inc. in Melbourne. The wedding has been planned for Feb. 1, 1969 at 4 p.m. at the Calvary Episcopal Church in Cleveland.

This year, for Christmas, why not combine the two and give a truly meaningful and lasting gift - a fine wrist watch. Choosing "just the right" watch, however, depends on how much you know about the recipient's personality and way of life. The personality factor should receive strong consideration because a watch is an outer manifestation of a person's individuality.

The young man who drives the latest sports car would probably prefer a watch with a precision chronograph that accurately measures 1/5-second intervals, a stop watch feature that times races and a tachometer that gives the speed of a moving object over an established course.

For the mod girl, the latest is a self-winding, waterproof watch with sweep second hand. Or, if she's a real swinger, one of the new, attractive pendant watches to dangle from her neck while she does "her thing."

A member of the suburban country club set would feel comfortable with a self-winding, waterproof watch with a stainless steel case - no problem if she's caught in a sudder downpour on the golf course! For the housewife and mother, consider a round or rec tangular shaped watch with

... ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of charac-ter and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Vithout a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person abould attend services regularly and sup-port the Church. They are: (1) For is own sake. (2) For his children's nis own make. (2) For the sake of dis com-munity and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material sup-port. Plan to go to church reg-ularly and read your Bible daily.

You have to he so careful what you say to children when they're at that improvements age. Our neighbor has a little daughter. And, being something of a meptic, he's been careful not to ht her be exposed to religious teaching, at least not in any direct way.

But the other night she asked, "Who is God?" And, since he waste to an her grow we with the ba est ideals, he hesitated a moment before he answered her question. Then he said, "God made the world." (And he wondered why he heart said "God is nobody - there isn't any god.")

Her wondering eyes and pursed lips tugged at his heart. "Gosh, Daddy," she mused, "He's somebody to know!" Whether you're a child or an adult, that pretty well sums it up. Either God is nobody-or He Is Some
