Seminole County Voters Say 'Yes' To $7 Million Referendum

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County officials will search during the next few weeks for an architectural firm to begin designing branch libraries following voter approval Tuesday of a $7 million bond issue to expand and improve the county's library system.

Some 4,651 persons or 58 percent of the voters who cast ballots Tuesday gave the issue its nod while 3,345 voted against. The bonds for the improvements will pledge the county's full faith and credit and be paid by a special tax on all real property in the county.

While officials are searching out an architect to design the five new facilities to be constructed in the county, others will be looking for appropriate sites for the branch libraries to be located in Lake Mary, Oviedo, Lake Howell-Tuskawilla and Wekiva-Forest City, and for a new main library in Casselberry.

The main library will replace the rented branch library facilities in Seminole Plaza. And the branch library on First Street in Sanford will be quadrupled in size from its current 3,000 square feet to 12,000 square feet.

In addition to the new construction, the $7 million in bond funds will include the purchase of 50,000 new books, both hard cover and paper backs.

Library system supporters were working to get out voters to back the library up to the last minute Tuesday. Among those supporting the issue were the Seminole County PTA Council. the Seminole County League of Women Voters, the American Association of University Women, the Seminole Education Association, the Seminole Friends of the Library, the Oviedo City Council and the Ovledo Chamber of Commerce.

Seminole County librarian Jean Rhein said earlier that some of the supporting groups will continue working to encourage owners to donate land to the county as prospective sites for the

While the ballot Tuesday noted that the bond issue would be for a term not exceeding 30 years, it is expected the issue will actually be for a 15-year term because of more favorable interest rates available for relatively short-term bond issues.

The county's fiscal agent, Stuart Hartman, reported earlier that an 11 percent annual interest rate can be expected on a 15year issue, calling for payments of $955,500 annually for a total payback of $14.4 million.

The county's budget office estimated costs to taxpayers of the bond issue the first year after the bonds are sold will be about 29 cents per $1,000 assessed value. The owner of a home assessed at $50,000 with a $25,000 homestead exemption, thus would pay about $7.25 per year in additional property taxes to fund the bond issue.

It is estimated that with growth in the county, the amount needed to fund the bond issue would decline as growth in-

Currently, operating costs for the library system are about 31 cents per $1,000, or $7.75 annually for the same owner of that $50,000 home. Operating costs are expected to begin increasing by 14 cents per year beginning in the 1983-84 fiscal year and continue to rise until a high of 31 cents per year additional by

According to federal law the bond money must be spent within three to five years.

County Helps United Way

Seminole County employees will be given time off during work hours to view a film and listen to speakers soliciting donations for the United Way.

County commissioners decided Tuesday that county workers should have the opportunity to view the film, which depicts professional football players in their involvement with United Way agencies, prior to signing pledge cards for the charity which serves 20 local agencies.

Larry Strickler, this year's campaign chairman, said viewing the film is voluntary. He added that "employees are more conducive to giving after seeing the

United Way Makes Weekly Report See Page 12A

Strickler said county employee donations totaled only $1,600 in 1980 but increased to $3,000 last year. Strickler called the increase hefty but said it still comes out "to only $5 per employee."

He said Orange County employees give an average of $21 to the United Way. Strickler, who works at Southern Bell, said employees there are giving an average of $79 to the campaign.

Commissioners changed their policy to allow United Way volunteers to participate in fund-raising activity at county

He emphasized that no pressure will be exerted upon employees to donate and said internal pressure could even be avoided by not setting goals for each of the division or department chairmen.

The only opposition to the plan came from Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather, who said "county employees don't have 10 or 15 percent of their income free to give.

"I know some county employees who will give even if it means their own children have to do without," he said.

Feather also said, "If we endorse the United Way, then we're going to have other charities like the Heart Fund and the Savings Bond drive coming in here

Strickler told commissioners all the charities that participate through the United Way drive use almost all of the money collected within Seminole County. Commissioner Robert Sturm told Strickler said several of the agencies had turned to the United Way for support after federal funding, through the county, ceased. Sturm said he supports the drive because he supports the reduction in public funds for the agencies.

A group of Geneva residents prepare to board their chartered bus at 6 a.m. today to travel to Tallahassee for a meeting with Gov. Bob Graham and state Cabinet members. The group hopes

120 Geneva People Journey To Tallahassee

By MICHAEL BEHA Herald Staff Writer

More than 120 people stood in the pre-dawn gloom outside the Florida Power and Light Company's Sanford office at 6 a.m. today waiting for three buses to arrive to carry them to Tallahassee.

They stood in small groups, holding coolers of sandwiches and rubbing sleep from their eyes, talking about baseball, the weather, anything but what was on their minds. What was on their minds was trying to convince the state Cabinet that a proposed one-mile wide corridor for location of a high voltage electric transmission line should not go through Geneva. Cabinet officials and Gov. Bob Graham will make a final decision on the route of the corridor, which will connect South Florida with power generating stations in Georgia. The leader of the group, Sid Kraftsow sald

Tuesday he expected 300 people at the hearing. He said many people were expected to drive to the hearing in addition to the 120 who rode the buses. Though they've been defeated at every turn, Kraftsow still feels they have a chance to move the corridor.

"We're going to tell them we don't want the line pushed down our throats, that we have alternatives," Kraftsow said just prior to boarding the

One of the alternatives Kraftsow and his group, People Against Power Intrusion, asked the Cabinet to consider is a detour to the east around Lake Harney through Volusia County.

That alternative, devised only days ago, would take the corridor out of inhabited areas in Seminole County and remove the threat Geneva residents feel from the 500,000-volt lines.

"We're not sure what the effects are," said a boy, one of several students from Geneva Elementary School who went to Tallahassee for the 1 p.m.

"There are studies in England which show the magnetic field can affect your health," he said. Kraftsow had previously commented the magnetic field could cause sexual dysfunction and other health problems. The plan to place the line through Geneva also has dried up the real estate market in the corridor, Kraftsow said.

He emphasized only one sale of land in the corridor has taken place since placement of the line was announced. By placing the line in the Lake Harney bypass it would eliminate the threats to Geneva, or to anyone else, supporters of the alternative claim, since the bypass travels through marshlands. And Kraftsow believes the time constraints claimed by FP&L as a reason they cannot delay the project to consider the Lake Harney bypass can be dealt with as well. He suggests certifying at least 85 percent of the 175-mile corridor between Georgia and the Poinsett

Power Station in Martin County. Only the portion of the corridor through Seminole County would remain uncertified and could be added after the bypass is studied. That would allow FP&L to begin construction of the other sections of the line.

Kraftsow also received some support from Seminole County commissioners, a group that he said earlier this week had done nothing to help the Geneva residents in their battle with FP&L.

County attorney Nikki Clayton was scheduled to speak at the Cabinet meeting in support of the alternate plan proposed by PAPI. She also carried a resolution passed unanimously by commissioners Tuesday endorsing the plan.

Ms. Clayton was not optimistic about the group's chances of changing the Cabinet's minds about the location of the corridor.

She said some of the same factors which worked against an alternative along Interstate 95 in Brevard County will work against this proposal.

"It's lowland, wetland, environmentally sensitive land and it's Miami Corporation land," she said. Miami Corporation owns about 60,000 acres in Brevard and Volusia counties and opposed the I-95 alternative.

But Commissioner William Kirchhoff down played the obstacles facing the Lake Harney bypass.

"I don't think towers in the wetlands are going to be detrimental to the land," he said.

Kirchhoff said Miami Corporation's property in the vicinity of the alternate route is not environmentally sensitive. "It's planted in pine and poorly drained."

With heavy support from State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, and Brantley's campaign team, State Sen. Van B. Poole of Fort Lauderdale won Seminole County in the single GOP contest here Tuesday.

Both Poole and Palm Beach County State Attorney David Bludworth personally campaigned in Seminole County during their respective campaigns. But Poole, who early gained Brantley's support, was a favorite. Poole won the first primary in Seminole In September and added to that victory Tuesday when 1,717 Republicans favored him over Bludworth, who received 1,518 votes.

No Link Between Calif., Chicago Tylenol Poisonings

CHICAGO (UPI) — Investigators tracking a killer, whose cyanide-spiked capsules of Extra-Strength Tylenol claimed seven lives, have pared down the list of suspects to less than a dozen "for reasons that are obvious to us."

But as Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner discounted Tuesday the possibility of a "copycat" killer in California, a truck driver was found dead in his rig in Tennessee with three foil-wrapped Tylenol capsules in the seat beside him.

The body of Thomas Isbell, 46, of Kenton, Tenn., was transported to Memphis for an autopsy and two of the capsules were shipped to Memphis to be analyzed, authorities said.

Fahner sald "we see no link" between the Chicago deaths and a California man poisoned by Tylenol capsules tainted with strychnine.

The Food and Drug Administration and McNeil Consumer Products Co., manufacturer of Tylenol, issued an immediate warning against using any type of Tylenol capsule-extra or regular strength. They also asked retailers nationwide to discontinue the sale of all Tylenol capsules.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)-Crime and prison crowding both could be reduced by sentencing "omnifelons," the worst criminals, to longer prison terms, two studies for the federal government say.

The reports, commissioned by the Department of Justice, acknowledged such a policy would raise ethical controversies, because some criminals would serve short sentences while others convicted of the same crimes would be kept in prison for years "in order to prevent crimes they might commit in the

Bogus Designer Clothing Ring Broken

By TENTYARBOROUGH Herald Staff Writer

Two men are being held in the Seminole County jail today while another man is free on bond following their arrests Tuesday after $40,000 worth of counterfeit designer clothing was seized in a two-month-long "sting" operation by the Seminole State Attorney's

After making a fifth purchase of the phony clothing bearing such labels as Ralph Lauren Polo, Izod Lacoste, Yves St. Laurent, Sassoon and Ocean Pacific, agents arrested Glen Staltare, 24, of Orlando: Gustavo Gherno Franco, 38, of Miami; and Anthony Manuel Baltodano, 27, of Miami. The arrests were made at the state attorney's bogus company front at a rented warehouse in the 14 Industrial Park off State Road 46 west of Sanford.

Staltare, owner of Jackie's Fashions in Orlando, is charged with vending counterfeit labels and counterfeiting a trademark and is free from the county jail after posting $10,000 bond, jail officials said.

Meanwhile, Franco, who reportedly works at the Miami International Airport, was charged with having a concealed firearm after agents discovered he had a loaded 38-caliber revolver in his possession during the arrest. Franco was being held in the county jail under $5,000 bond. Baltodano, who is charged with delivering and vending counterfeit garments, was being held under $500 bond, agents said.

Baltodano is reportedly unemployed.

According to Douglas Huth of the state attorney's consumer fraud unit, the arrests came following a two-month investigation conducted by his office and funded by Ocean Pacific Swimwear and Ralph Lauren manufacturers.

"An OP investigator in California approached us and asked us to help them track down counterfeitors in this area," Huth said. "They gave us money up front so that I could drive around in a flashy 1982 Lincoln, flash money and get in with the bad guys." Huth said he was trained by the manufacturers to "talk the trade" and that "they took me intostores and taught me how to feel for the quality in clothes and look for the proper labeling so I could spot a fake.

"These counterfeit clothes are faked from the ground up," Huth said, "The clothes themselves - which included mostly casual sportswear such as shorts, shirts, warm-up suits, jumpers and so on — the packaging, the labels, the hang-tags, everything has been

"What people don't realize is that they may be buying a Polo shirt for $30 from a retail store and that shirt may be counterfeit and worth only $10," he said. The Federal Trade Commission was created in 1914, during the trust-busting era, to maintain free and fair competition for big business. Should the

FTC now regulate doctors?

The American Medical Association (AMA) is mounting a nearly $1 million lobbying campaign to pass special interest legislation, now pending in Congress, that would exempt the learned professions from the same free-competition rules that regulate big business.

AMA President William Rial, M.D., writes: "Congress should rein in the FTC and direct it to pursue the functions for which it was created — to prevent anti-competitive and deceptive practices by American business."

Wrong. American medicine is now a big business. Americans spent more than a quarter of a trillion dollars for health care last year — about 9.8 percent of the gross national product. Health care ranks with computers as an industry which must be monitored to preserve free competition.

Doctors are not regulating themselves: The price of health care, now largely uncompetitive, rose 15 percent last year, far higher than inflation. The more a medical procedure costs, the more the taxpayer pays for millions of Medicaid and Medicare patients. Limited federal and state revenues are causing services to be cut back. Some people are getting no care at all because the price of care is too expensive.

The AMA argues that doctors and lawyers are professionals, their activities not comparable to business practices. Wrong again. Doctors and lawyers price their services and send out bills. Dentists, chiropractors and other health service providers advertise. Why shouldn't they meet standards of free and fair competition?

The only thing that will bring down the spiraling cost of health care and halt the shrinking of government-provided health services is for doctors, health maintenance institutions and hospitals to become competitive: to give the best care for the lowest price. Competition is the American way, not only of doing business, but of promoting excellence. Doctors excel in competition for quality of health care. There is no reason to doubt that they would excel in competition for price of health care.

We urge our representatives in Congress to vote down any bill that excludes the learned professions from FTC jurisdiction.

The Red Ink Flows

It was not in the headlines recently, but the U.S. Senate passed a bill to raise the national debt limit to $1.3 trillion — and we think the action deserved more attention.

Ponder for a moment that the debt ceiling was only $956 billion when President Reagan took office. One of his first acts in office was to request an increase. The debt soared over a trillion for the first time a year ago. And now, only 12 months later, the limit is being raised by 30 percent.

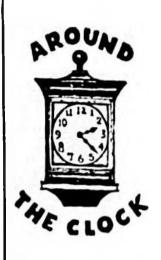

Scary, isn't it? It suggests a federal spending machine that is out of control and running without concern for fiscal responsibility.

President Reagan came into office promising to cut the federal government down to size. But all the cuts he has been able to make in domestic spending have been more than balanced by increases he has sought in defense spending. Meanwhile, federal taxes have been cut. The hope was that this would stimulate business enough to bring in more money at lower tax rates. That hope has been rudely dashed and the president has had to raise the bitter cup of a tax increase bill (he called it "revenue enhancement") to his lips. But still the red ink runs, like a mighty river.

All right, the government can continue to borrow money, up to a trillion and a third. But be aware every time another dollar of spending is proposed, that it will have to be borrowed money, and the government already is borrowing more than half the nation's total savings this year. The investment pool for the private sector is shrinking as the government debt grows. Private borrowers are being crowded out of the money market.

preppie and NOT a Valley Girl!"

Signs of Fall are definitely in the air and there is plenty of excitement building with the opening of the long awaited Epcot Center and all the local events coming up.

The annual United Way of Seminole County fund drive is underway in earnest with volunteers scurrying around the county trying to drum up the donations and pledges needed to meet the all-time high goal of $338,000 by the October 28 Victory Dinner. If it seems like something is missing from the report meetings this year, it is because former executive secretary Margaret Ganas and her ever-present adding machine have gone into retirement after 20 years.

For the annual Fall for Art Show on Saturday and Sunday this week the streets of downtown Sanford will be converted into a lively outdoor gallery for the performing arts as well as the fine arts and we do mean lively. We hear one of the belly dancers will bring a snake to use in her act. First Street will be blocked off from traffic between Park and Palmetto and on Magnolia from Park to Second Street.

The Sanford-Seminole Art Association and the Downtown Business Association will sponsor the event, which gets better every year.

The six Seminole County high schools bands plus Bishop Moore High School from Orlando will hold their eighth annual band festival on Oct. 30 at Lyman High School Stadium and what a show they put on! The event is co-sponsored by the Sanford Optimists and the Evening Herald and the proceeds go to benefit the participating

The countdown has begun for the annual Golden Age Olympics to be held in Sanford Nov. 8-13. Senior Citizens from many different states and Puerto Rico as well as Central Florida have already sent in their applications and are starting to warm up for the various events.

Gilberto Gonzalez, a serious track and field competitor from Puerto Rico will be back again this year. He has written that he will be competing in the grueling Decathlon events. Gilberto established a new world record in the 65-69 age division at the First World Decathlon Championships for Masters athletes August 28-29 in San Diego, Calif. He scored 3,245 points under the International Amateur Athletic Federation system and 7,105 points under the World

Association of Veteran Athletes system. His marks were 13:4 in 100 meters; 15'1" long jumpl 36'3" shot put; 4'2" high jump; 67:7 for 400 meters; 19:9, 110 meter hurdles; 108' discus; 7'6" pole vault; 91'3" javelin and 7:31 in 15

Not bad, eh? It looks like Gilberto will be an athlete to watch in this year's Golden Age Olympics.

If you're over 55, but now ready to get that "physical," there are plenty of other events with something for everyone including such activities as talent show, hobbles, art, photograph, cribbage, bridge, and dominoes. For a list of all the events contact the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Somethings change, but what would Christmas be without the annual Christmas Seal sponsored each year by the American Lung Association. This year's version is out and features name tag stickers for packages as well as the usual seals with designs of Santa and a rather mischievous

California Worries The GOP

SAN DIEGO (NEA) - When California's state GOP held its statewide pre-election convention here recently, probably the best description of the party's mood was "subdued."

There was the usual election-year hoopla and fund raising, along with the expected statements of confidence that 1982 will be a Republican year in California. But below the surface and in the backrooms, the Republican ranks showed signs of a growing panic that they might be blowing the big statewide contests.

The California GOP's lead candidates are San Diego Mayor Pete Wilson, who is running for the Senate against Gov. Jerry Brown, and state Attorney General George Deukmejlan, who is running to succeed Brown as governor against Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley.

A month ago, the GOP was supremely confident that Wilson and Deukmejian were in a position to win - and with the top of the ticket dolng well, GOP leaders reasoned, the rest of the ticket also would be in good shape. But what a difference a month has made.

On the plus side, Wilson emerged from his primary campaign with a substantial lead over Brown in every poll. Brown had one of the highest negative ratings ever seen for a major political figure in the state, and it was reasoned that Wilson could win in a walk just by continuing to remind voters of Brown's many problems as governor.

But the Wilson campaign has become something of a disaster, marked by a long

Most recently, Wilson recommended that a study be undertaken to determine whether Social Security should be made voluntary for new workers. He also suggested that federal judges stand for popular election to make them more responsive to the people. These statements backfired and gave Brown the ammunition he needed to attack Wilson as

As a Republican strategist said, "All Wilson had to do was to keep firing away at Brown and turn the race into a referendum on Brown's governorship. He would have won in a walk. But he's developed into something of a loose cannon, running an issues campaign, which is the one thing he had to avoid doing. Brown's starting to eat him alive."

As the GOP was meeting, the Los Angeles Times released a new statewide poll that showed Brown in a virtual dead heat with Wilson, having made up almost 25 percentage points from early polls. But this poll only mirrored the GOP's own private polling over the past month, which showed a Brown surge and a "plateauing" of Wilson support.

In the governor's race, Bradley has held a lead over Deukmejian. GOP strategists have seen Bradley as vulnerable in two areas - the crime issue and charges that he has been a "do-nothing" mayor. However, while Deukmejian has continued to hammer away on the crime area, he has not been able to close ground on Bradley. Private polls taken by the GOP on a state assembly district basis show that Bradley is gaining strength in urban areas while holding his own in suburban and rural areas. Surprisingly, Bradley actually is doing better in the northern part of the state than in the "southland," as it is called.

The Indignation Gap

A huge indignation gap exists where matters concerning the Soviet Union are concerned.

This column recently called attention to the silence that has surrounded credible information that the attempt to murder Pope John Paul II was a plot orchestrated by the Kremlin. Claire Sterling's article in the current Reader's Digest, which convincingly sets forth the evidence, made next to no

The volcanic story, of course, which has received widespread coverage in Europe, could not be ignored forever, and with the September 21 documentary by NBC-TV it made its first appearance in American electronic media.

The NBC investigators have added a few startling items to Claire Sterling's account. Pope John Paul, according to NBC, wrote a personal letter to Leonid Brezhnev, threatening to resign from the papey and lead the resistance inside Poland if Soviet troops invaded the country.

NBC believes it was that letter, plus the pope's open support for the Solidarity labor movement, that caused the Kremlin to try to kill him. What is more, all of this suggests that the decision had to be made by Brezhnev himself.

Now this has to amount to a super-Watergate for Brezhnev and the Soviets. Murdering the pope!

Can you imagine the political effect of this, if the story is properly played, in, say, the Catholic countries of Latin America?

What is more, the Turkish would-be assassin, Mehmet Ali Agca, is alive today in an Italian prison, and is feeding bits of information to the authorities. Agea is thus sending a not very subtle message to Brezhnev, vis., that Brezhnev had better spring Agea, or Agea will let it all hang out.

But this sensational stuff, nevertheless, still doesn't seem to be making the kind of public opinion waves one might expect.

Or take another chilling item: the use of massive slave labor by the Soviets to build the new gas pipeline out of Siberia.

This shocking story has been rattling around in the media for some time, most recently in Jack Anderson's column. He describes it - correctly - as an awesome human epic now unfolding in Siberia. Tens of thousands of laborers, subsisting on starch and water, are laboring from dawn to dark in this frozen wasteland. They consist of Soviet political prisoners, thousands of Vietnamese 'volunteers" working to pay off Vietnam's war debts, and other categories. Many of the Vietnamese are children of people who opposed the Vietcong during the war, and they certainly are not "volunteers" but forced slave laborers. Information reaching the West about the conditions under which these people work indicates that the whole thing is appalling. Yet, again, this information does not seem to create any waves of indignation - nor even any criticism of the European nations that have gone into partnership with the Soviets on this project. Or, consider one more item. For months the evidence has been accumulating that the Soviets are using poison gas in Afghanistan, and supplying poison gas to the North Vietnamese for use in Laos and Cambodia. Confirmation has now arrived from a defector that, yes, the Soviets are using and supplying three different kinds of polson gas — and they are doing so, of course, in outright violations of international agreements on the

they are adhering to the Helsinki agreements on human rights, which they also signed. Doesn't anyone care? Is it not appropriate to draw conclusions about the value of agreements of different kinds with the matter. The Soviets are adhering to those agreements to exactly the same degree that

Well, there it is, and it couldn't be much worse: trying to murder the pope, using massive slave labor, pouring the poisonous "yellow rain" on peasants in Afghanistan and

Learning To Read By Writing

By STAN DARDEN United Press International

John Henry Martin is an educator who wants to combine modern technology with an old and honored method of teaching primary grade students how to read.

Martin and his wife Evelyn are the founders of JHM Corp. of Stuart, Fla., a firm that belives children ought to learn to read by first being taught to write.

Martin's "Writing to Read" program has attracted widespread attention. Some educators are enthusiastic about the plan, but others are skeptical.

The International Business Machines Corp. is conducting a major test of the program involving 10,000 kindergarten and first-grade pupils in Florida, New York, North Carolina. Minnesota, Texas and Washington, D.C. The results of the test, expected in June, 1983, will be evaluated by an independent educational testing service.

IBM has loaned 300 of its new Personal Computers to the test schools, according to Jeanette Maher, an IBM spokeswoman in Boca Raton, Fla. The computers are linked to the instructional programs developed by the Martins. The package also includes a system of printed and audio materials and teacher training devices.

But the computer terminal is only a part of the Martins' experimental teaching method, Ms. Maher said.

'The children are first taught phonetics and they learn from there. They use the computer 15-to-20 minutes, then use a workbook which teaches them what they have learned on the computer. They develop their motor skills by actually writing the words. Then they go to another part of the program where they put on earphones and listen to classic children stories," Ms. Maher said. Martin said the conventional way of teaching children to read first, then to write, is the "curse of teaching." His idea of "writing to read" led him back to "the very, very old approach" of teaching reading.

That approach, which died out about the time of World War I, was the slate and chalk method. The instructor handed out a slate and a piece of chalk to each child. As the pupil learned how to form each letter of the alphabet and put them together to make up words, he wrote them on the slate.

But the slate became "a symbol of rural poverty" and was taken out of the classroom between 1910 and 1920, said Martin. After that, the process of reading became purely

"But I discovered that human hands were entry points into a child's brain," said Martin. "Children begin intuitively to write. If you have a sound symbol connection, the child can put sounds on paper." This is the basis of Martin's "Writing to Read" program.

When reading comes first, Martin said the English language, with all its inconsistencies - such as "threw" and "through" or "bear and "bare" - makes children feel they are irrational or stupid. Yet normal 5-year-olds aiready possess a vocabulary of 2,000 to 4,000 words and can express complex ideas orally. When they are taught to write and read at the same time, we build on that knowledge, Martin sald.

Israel Looks At Resuming Soviet Ties

Southeast Asia.

WASHINGTON — Menachem Begin has displayed certain peculiarities that tend to raise the hair on the back of President Reagan's neck. Sources close to the president say he harbors a deep uncertainty about Begin's judgment and a fear of his adventurism.

The replacement of Begin as prime minister of Israel, Reagan feels, would remove an incendiary from the midst of the powderkegs. A more moderate Israeli government might enable the bitter adversaries in the Middle East to muddle through without Armageddon.

But the president would like to effectuate a change in Israel's leadership without jarring Begin's sensibilities. The National Security Council has been secretly discussing the prospects of Begin's removal. But Reagan carefully reassured the embattled Israeli leader last week that Washington has no intention of meddling in Israel's internal politics. For Reagan is worried how Begin might react.

For one thing, the Soviets are casting flirtatious glances in Begin's direction. A possible Soviet-Israell rapprochement has been discussed at the highest levels in Moscow and Jerusalem. Evidence of this is cited in CIA and State Department documents shown to my associate Dale Van Atta.

These documents are classified so far above top-secret that even the code names used to classify them are top-secret. This usually indicates a need to protect U.S. spins who have penetrated to the innermost circles of foreign governments.

The documents indicate that Israel has been playing coy since about 1970, when the Soviets first began making overtures. The subject of renewed diplomatic relations has been brought up intermittently at secret meetings ever since.

While Israel has remained "deeply suspicious of Soviet policy toward the Middle East," an ultra-secret document reports. "Israeli leaders have made it clear they would be receptive to a Soviet overture to resume official ties ... Indeed, Tel Aviv probes regularly for signs that Moscow may be considering significant shifts in policy toward Israel."

Another CIA report, which also has an exolic classification stamp, states that the "number of Soviet officials in Moscow (who) favor relations with Israel (has been) growing." The argument of these Soviet officials is that "the absence of Soviet-Israeli diplomatic ties favors Weshington's Middle East policy," the CIA explains.

There's also a domestic reason: "Moscow believes an Israeli embassy in Moscow would weaken protests by Soviet Jewish dissidents, since the Kremlin views such protests largely as the result of unhappiness with Soviet policy toward Israel."

A key Soviet diplomat once told U.S. officials in confidence that he had been assigned to Israel, a CIA report notes, adding: "From time to time, other Soviet officials have said that the USSR has earmarked personnel for service in Tel Aviv."

The Kremlin is populated with cold pragmatists who are feeling some discomfiture over the pitiful performance of their Syrian client against the Israelis in Lebanon. The Syrians blame the poor showing on their Soviet-made weapons; the Russians contend that the Syrian soldiers and pilots were at fault. This controversy has stirred anew Soviet interest in renewing its contacts with

For their part, some Israeli leaders welcome the idea of restoring ties with Moscow. They see it as a chance to show their independence of the United States and eventually to play off one superpower against the other to Israel's advantage. Chief among these Israeli leaders is Foreign Minister. Yitzhak Shamir.

Unibody Cars Pushing Fla. Insurance Rates Higher

United Press International

If you are in an auto accident in Florida, insurance officials say, you might be better off junking your car fix the new "unibody" cars.

This is one of the factors in skyrocketing auto insurance rates for Florida drivers. And it has put many potentially dangerous cars with hit-and-surance officials say.

The "unibody," a frame and body welded into a single piece, has been Florida mechanics are not equipped to adopted by most U.S. automobile manufacturers since its introduction in foreign-made cars in the 1970s. About 80 percent of new 1982 cars have unibodies, industry sources said.

The bodies made with light, strong

But they also have pushed car insurance rates higher since most Florida body shops lack the special equipment and training needed to re-align these frames, which are easily damaged in minor collisions.

Australia Runs Out Of Luck

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) - For too cash flows which business finds inlong. Australians have been complacent about the indestructibility of their dreamlike prosperity.

Today, with welfare recipients and unemployment soaring to a post-war record, that belief has been shattered. The nation they proudly held up to the world as the "lucky country" endowed with immense mineral resources, thriving wool, wheat and meat exports and growing manufacturing industries, is down on its chips.

Its losing streak began in early 1979 when a drought rendered barren its once fertile pasture and grazing lands. The bad luck has spread to every sector and each of Australia's 15 million people.

The drought continues. The mineral resources boom that was to have filled every pocket with unlimited wealth, remains an illusion because of the failure of international commodity markets.

As a result, the capital inflow from the United States and Japan on which the Australian economy depends has slowed and is being maintained only by interest rates pitched high to attract foreign investment.

While these rates are dropping elsewhere, Australians are trapped into expensive borrowings, paying more for creasingly difficult to afford.

In a country with a 70 percent home ownership, mortgage payments have become terrifyingly high - escalating from 11 to 16 percent in just over 12 months.

With inflation rising at 10.7 percent, Australians are battling to maintain their standard of living against a backdrop of growing unemployment and stagnant economic growth. Widespread poverty is taking hold.

A shock report by the Australian Council of Social Services said an estimated 2 million Australians are living below the generally accepted poverty-line. There are queues at the soup kitchens and longer lines outside the federally funded welfare services. In September, hundreds of people on the dole lined up outside the New South Wales parliament house to dramatize their plight by eating bread and dripping - as in the days of the 1930s Depression.

Industrial strikes, spearheaded by powerful labor unions, are pitting a workforce of 6 million against corporations caught in the worsening credit squeeze.

"Come quick!" Click. Calls like that are every fire dispatcher's nightmare. He knows that lives and property are in danger, but what can he do? Climb the antenna tower and look for smoke? In emergency situations, from fires to heart attacks, the way you report the emergency can mean the difference between life and death. Remembering the dictum, "They can't help you if they can't find you," consider these tips for fire-wise emergency telephoning.

Keep emergency numbers close to your telephone. Fire, police, ambulance and doctors' numbers should be written on a piece of paper and taped to the wall, or use stick-on emergency number labels on the telephone itself. In many areas, dialing 911 puts you in touch with all your community's emergency services. Keep calm. Dispatchers can't help you if they can't understand you. Speak the same name as yours.

In case of fire, get out first and call later. A small house fire can spread and fill the home with smoke and toxic gases more quickly than you might imagine. So, if you waken to discover your house is afire, get out first. Get the spouse and the children out, get yourself out, and don't go back. Possessions can be replaced...you can't.

Report the fire from a neighbor's your emergency and your address and phone, or drive to the nearest public stay on the line so the dispatcher can telephone and report your emergency as confirm your address and obtain any outlined above. Never try to "tough it other information he may need. Give out" in a smoke-filled structure reporting

> By the way, if your home contains any unusual fire hazards - for example, if you're a sportsman who loads his own shotgun shells and stores quantities of gunpowder in the basement - let the dispatcher know that. If you believe people are still trapped in the building, tell the dispatcher that and describe their location, if you know it. And he prepared to repeat that information to the first firefighters who arrive at your home.

Fire-wise telephoning can keep a potentially dangerous fire from becoming an unnecessary tragedy. So keep your head screwed on and you'll keep it for life.

This bald eagle will never fish, hunt or soar again. He is permanently impaired due to a gunshot to the wing and the subsequent loss of primary feathers. Healthy otherwise, he is to be used for free educational and breeding purposes and greets guests at Florida Auduhon's Center For Birds of Prey in Maitland.

Programs Slated On Birds Of Prey At Audubon Center

The Florida Audubon Society's Center For Birds of Prey has begun regularly scheduled bald eagle, owl and hawk presentations at the Auduhon Center in Maitland.

"We have something unique here and we want Florida residents and visitors to know about it and to come to see the Center For Birds of Prey," said Florida Audubon President Peter Mott.

"In the past, we've done programs only for groups by appointment. Now, we have a program at a regular time for anyone who comes over and it's free."

The Center For Birds of Prey, 1101 Audubon Way, Maitland, will be open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. One purpose of the center is to rehabilitate injured and orphaned birds of prey and to release them into their natural environment, Mott said. Many of the raptors, however, are life-long residents at the center due to permanent impairments caused by gunshots and other man-related injuries.

Another purpose of the center, located on the edge of Lake Sybelia, is to educate the public concerning Florida's birds of prey and to better inform citizens as to the living and nesting habits of these endangered and threatened animals.

"With Florida's resident population growing every day," Mott said, "there are more and more people who don't know of our valuable rehabilitative and educational nature facility for eagles, hawks, espreys, owls and other raptors and we'd like to make them aware of it."

A prominent feature of the Audubon Center is an art gallery and gift shop, open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on the first Saturday of each month from noon to 4 p.m. Audubon Gallery is a dealer with four major national art houses and features the works of Charles Frace, Simon Combes, Robert Bateman and Ray Harm, among others. Gift shop items are nature-related and include several categories of field guides, books, posters, bald eagle and manatee Tshirts, and post cards.

Audubon Center has special appeal for school groups, clubs and organizations. Arrangements can be made for picnics or luncheon meetings using the various picnic tables on the shaded grounds at Audubon House.

Audubon House, Itself, is something of an attraction. Built at the turn of the century, it now has historical value and is maintained as the state headquarters of Florida Audubon Society, housing the gallery, gift shop and administrative

Housing

Better Times Are Foreseen For Industry In Southeast

housing market in the southeastern percent to 13.5 percent, its lowest level in state in the sixth district that did not United States may rebound in coming months, according to figures compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank in Atlanta.

The number of building permits for housing issued in the Sixth Federal Reserve District increased 4.3 percent in August over July, compared with a 3.3 percent gain nationally. The district includes Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Louislana.

The number of building permits issued in the district had leveled off since April, which is why analysts feel this increase is significant, said Gene Sullivan of the Atlanta Federal Reserve's regional research team. The increase in permits indicates that builders are optimistic about an increase in housing sales, he added.

The research team found brokers in the region guardedly optimistic that residential sales would increase in coming months. However, Sullivan said the brokers surveyed generally felt interest rates would have to drop to the 12 to 12.5 percent range before home buyers would begin returning to the market in great numbers.

The interest rate on the Federal Housing Administration's fixed payment two years. Mortgage interest rates at savings and loan associations are in the 14.5 to 15 percent range, according to Federal Reserve figures.

The survey found that residential building permits are increasing only in those areas of the southeast that already have steady employment growth and have been showing improvements in home Sales, such as Atlanta, Jacksonville, Knoxville and Nashville.

"We're like a rock," said Bill Means, president of the Jacksonville Board of Realtors about the area's economy. In August, Means said the 2000-member board recorded $26.2 million in sales, the best month in its history.

He said Jacksonville has a stable, diversified economy, which has helped it weather the recession better than other Florida cities.

Georgia and Florida seem to have the strongest potential for a housing resurgence, Sullivan said, because these states have suffered less than other southeastern states in the current economic slump.

Alabama, with its economy hard hit by ATLANTA (UPI) - The sagging mortgage dropped in September from 14 a sagging steel industry, was the only show an increase in building permits. In addition, Louislana registered gains, but lagged behind the other southeastern states because of cut-backs in that state's petroleum industry, Sullivan said.

> Housing sales in the Birmingham market are running somewhat behind last year's levels, according to Birmingham Area Board of Realtors figures. The housing market in Birmingham has stabilized, "unfortunately it's stabilized at a very low level," said Fred Ulbricht of the Birmingham board.

> He said the recent drop in interest rates created some interest on the part of buyers. However, he said people need to develop confidence in the economy before they will take the big step of buying a house, and this confidence will grow only as the economy improves.

In Jacksonville, the recent drop in interest rates "sure has loosened up a lot of people," said Means. In addition, Means said the majority of the recent purchases made through his office were made with new financing. This is a complete reversal from a few months ago, and an indication that lower interest rates are bringing monthly payments within the range of more people, he said.

GOP Races Decided

Chappell Whips Hughes Soundly

U.S. Rep. Bill Chappell, D-Daytona Beach Shores, emerged the victor for his party's nomination Tuesday after a bitter contest with Daytona Beach millionaire Reid Hughes. Chappell will face GOP challenger Larry

Gaudet of Middleburg in the Nov. 2 general Chappell carried all six counties in the new fourth congressional district, carved out by the Florida Legislature in reapportionment earlier this year. Chappell's district previously included a portion of Seminole County in the Sanford

When he was first elected in 1968 Chappell's district included all of Seminole County.

Seminole Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce said today the greatest number of telephone calls she received at her courthouse annex office during the election Tuesday concerned Chappell and why his name wasn't on the ballot.

Final but unofficial returns gave Chappell 31,226 votes to 27,037 for Hughes.

The new fourth district includes all of Volusia, St. Johns and Flagler counties and parts of Clay, Putnam and Duval countles. Chappell is rated a shoo-in to win his way back to Washington in the November general election. The Chappell-Hughes clash in the 4th Congressional District was the only Democratic runoff Tuesday, but there were four Republican contests. In the 9th Congressional district on the state's west central coast, Tarpon Springs businessman Mike Bilirakis defeated Republican legislative power Curt Kiser as expected with 16,267 or 54 percent to 13,904.

Bilirakis will face state Rep. George Sheldon in the Nov. 2 general election in what is expected to be a close race.

Banker Connie Mack of Cape Coral, grandson of the late "grand old man of baseball," collected 34,867 votes or 58 percent to 24,834 for State Rep. Ted Ewing of Sarasota. Mack is favored over Democrat Dana Stevens in the Nov. 2 general election.

In suburban south Florida's new 16th District, attorney Maurice Berkowitz, a member of the Port Everglades commission. defeated Joseph "Doc" Smith 5,248 to 3,367. Berkowitz will be rated an underdog against Democratic state Rep. Larry Smith in the general election.

In Miami's 18th District, attorney Ricardo Numet defeated former White House appointee Manuel Iglesias 6,738, or 55 percent, to 5.406. Numez, however, is given little chance against incumbent Claude Pepper next month.

This was the most vicious campaign we have had so far," Chappell said. "This opponent wanted to win and wanted to win badly and was willing to hire the people who would make these vicious attacks.

Hughes agreed that "it certainly was a vicious campaign." But he said, "I would rather not comment" on the reason.

"I saw it coming early on," Hughes said of his defeat. "I think the main factor was that issues were clouded. There was a difference in our philosophies. This wasn't a contest between liberals and conservatives. It was between what I think is good government and a congressman who wasn't responsive to the needs of the people.

"An incumbent who has 14 years in office can call in all his favors when the vote is light like it was today," he said. "The light turnout really hurt us."

Chappell is included as one of Congress' socalled "boll weevils" for his support of President Reagan's budget policies.

Kershaw Unseated

MIAMI (UPI) - Joe Lang Kershaw, who House. integrated the modern Florida Legislature when winning election to the House in 1968, apparently has been unseated. Kershaw trailed black newspaper publisher times.

Jefferson Reaves Sr. by about 700 votes in a Democratic runoff Tuesday night. Absentee ballots must still be counted, but it is unlikely Kershaw will pick up enough absentee support to prevent Reaves' victory. Five blacks are in the current House of Representatives, but there are none in the Senate and haven't been any since Reconstruction. Blacks are assured of one seat in the new Senate and a critical runoff victory Tuesday by Jacksonville dentist Arnett Girardeau gave them a shot at a second seat. Girardeau, who has served in the House for the last six years, defeated Rep. Andy Johnson, who is white. He meets Republican Kurt Becker, also white, of Fernandina Beach in November.

American farms are expected to yield a bumper harvest this year, but it is not going to mean higher incomes for American farmers. Because of depressed prices, over-all cash receipts are projected at $142 billion, down 1 percent from 1981 and only the second such decline in the last 15 years. After expenses, farmers will keep some $19 billion of that — their lowest net return since 1977.

Good Harvest Will Help Most Farmers Squeak By

ATLANTA (UPI) — For Southern farmers burdened with huge debts and low commodity prices, 1982 probably will be remembered as the year they hung in there and just managed

But, despite big debts, agriculture officials and economists do not foresee large scale foreclosures on farms or any massive shift of farmers to other occupations.

Good crops this year will give the farmers some breathing room and keep the wolf away from the door for another year, they said - at least for those who managed their affairs well and cut expenses during a period of economic hard times

For some, however, 1982 will mean bankruptcy and selling off the farm. Farm loan delinquency rates in the southern states and throughout the nation already are at their highest level in years, a situation reminiscent of the Great Depression of the 1930s

This gloomy but somewhat hopeful picture of the Southern farmer as the 1982 growing season comes to an end was gleaned in interviews with agriculture officials and farm experts in Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi and Ten-

There was unanimous agreement that the 1982 production outlook for virtually all crops was good, some even using the term "banner year." But there were discouraging comments about low prices for what the farmer produces, high costs and the massive debt many farmers have accumulated following years of drought. Plentiful rainfall for the first time in at least three years helped farmers produce good crops this year after back-toback years of searing drought. But while the bulging harvest was good news, it apparently meant continued low prices for cereal and feed grains, corn, cotton and soybeans, making it tougher for some farmers to pay off their debts. "It's not going to be a catchup year," said Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Tommy Irvin. "It's going to be a year of just getting by." Irvin and other agriculture officials said prices must improve before farmers can start getting back on sound financial ground. Irvin's estimate coincided with that of economist Gene Wilson of the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank, which keeps tabs on economic conditions in the region.

"The farm credit situation in the Southeast remains serious but not apocalyptic by any means," said Wilson, "That there is widespread financial distress cannot be contested; however, the level of distress varies greatly from farmer to farmer. There are also farmers who, although suffering from substantially lowered income, are not in financial danger yet."

Wilson said that whether or not financiallyailing farmers will be able to hold onto their land in 1982 depends on the attitude of their lenders. He said that if lenders display forebearance, then many farmers over the long term may return to good financial health. creased."

Irvin predicted that the creditors probably will go along with the farmer. "What can the credit agencies do with all this land? They can't farm themselves. The best thing to do is let the farmers stay out there and hope for better times."

As of June, the Farmers Home Administration, the federal agency that makes loans to farmers, listed loan delinquency rates ranging from 15 to 56 percent in eight southern states. Georgia, with a delinquency rate of 56 percent, the nation's highest, was at the top. For the other southern states the rates were 52 percent in Florida, Louisiana 40 percent, Mississippi 36 percent, Alabama 34 percent, Tennessee 27 percent, South Carolina 23 percent and North Carolina 15 percent.

Several farm experts and economists said, however, that delinquency figures from the FinHA should not be interpreted as reflecting the total farm financial outlook. Wilson said the FmHA, more than any other lending institution, tends to have more marginal and low income farmers on its books. In addition, the FinHA accounts for only a small portion of the lending activity in the Sixth Federal Reserve District, which includes most of the southern states, he said.

Orson Swindle, state director of the FmHA for Georgia, said only 9,000 of the state's 60,000 farmers had loans with his agency, with 5,000 of that number being delinquent.

"Delinquency of itself doesn't mean they're going to lose their farm. But we've got to say certainly the majority of those 5,000 are in serious trouble."

Swindle said the FmHA has traditionally dealt with small family farms, the farmers who couldn't get credit from any other source. "That concept was completely distorted with the emergency lending provisions of 1977 and thereafter. Today, these huge delinquency numbers I'm talking about too frequently represent farmers or borrowers who have been maneuvered from the private credit system over to the government credit system. There are some, almost a 100 borrowers, who owe us in excess of $1 million each.

"The bottom line of this is that the taxpayer is going to lose an enormous amount of money in the long run."

Private lenders also reported an increase in delinquences and foreclosures, including the Federal Land Bank FLB and Production Credit Association PCA based in Columbia, S.C. The two agencies are private, memberowned cooperatives of lending agencies operating in Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

C.W.S Horne, president of the Federal Land Bank, said that as of June 30, the bank reported 225 loans in foreclosure, up from 104 loans the previous year. But he said the 225 loans represented only 0.23 of the total Federal Land Bank loans outstanding.

Horne said mid-year reports of PCA loans in foreclosure were still being compiled "and indications suggest that the number has in-

New Pertussis Vaccine Found

ATLANTA (UPI) - A new and safer vaccine against pertussis (whooping cough) may eventually replace the presently used and highly controversial protective inoculation. Scientists are working on such a vaccine, with the expectation that it will produce fewer severe side effects and possibly even eliminate the remote chance of brain damage in recipients.

The current vaccine consists of a suspension of killed pertussic organisms. Initial immunization requires several injections over a 12-month period beginning in early infancy, with a booster dose just prior to school entry. The inoculation is given along with vaccines that protect against diphtheria and tetanus.

Recently a television program that showed brain damaged children who had received the vaccine created a storm of controversy in medical circles. Officials of the national Centers for Disease Control charged that the program was a disservice to the nation and that it did not mention the low incidence of the disease caused by use of the vaccine.

When it begins, pertusais mimics a common cold, accompanied by an irritating cough. But the disease can cause grave complications, even death, in the very young.

It is frequently a very serious illness in infants and in the late 1930s caused as many as 250,000 cases in a single year. Since the vaccine came into use, however, cases of the bacteria caused illness have declined dramatically. Last year there were about 1,000-plus cases and this year only 10 have been reported of the CDC.

Don Baylor drove in five runs Tuesday night to lead the California Angels past Milwaukee in the first game of the American League Playoffs.

Angels Out-Muscle Milwaukee, 8-3

Wednesday, Oct. 6, 1982

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) - The Milwaukee Brewers, who accounted for a lot of runs this season, may have met their match.

The bombs-away Brewers were shackled by Tommy John Tuesday night while the California Angels unloaded their own arsenal en route to an 8-3 victory in the opening game of the best-of-five American League Championship series.

"Even though we got outslugged tonight," said Milwaukee Manager Harvey Kuenn, "I'm confident we can get off the canvas like we did throughout the season and get back in this thing." Maybe easier said than done. Tonight the Brewers face Bruce Kison in Game 2. And if they thought John was tough, they might have even more trouble with Kison, who has a 0.52 ERA in championship series action, giving up just one run in 15.2 innings with the Pittsburgh Pirates. John, whose left arm was rebuilt by surgeons in 1975, went the distance and gave up seven hits to the powerful Brewers, the most damaging a tworun homer by Gorman Thomas in the second inning. But after Paul Molitor scored on Cecil Cooper's fielder's choice in the third to give Milwaukee a 3-1 lead, the Brewers did little except hit the ball into the ground.

"When the sinkerball is working, there will be lots of grounders," John said. "Tonight the sinker was working."

While John was holding the Brewers down, Don Baylor was inflicting the damage. Baylor, who topped the American League with 21 gamewinning RBI this season, tied a major-league record with five RBI, including a two-run triple and a two-run single that broke the game open. Baylor's outburst tied the previous playoff record for RBI in a game set in 1969 by Baltimore's Paul Blair and equaled in 1971 by Pittsburgh's Bob Robertson. And the 33-year-old designated hitter had the AL playoff record crowd of 64,406 chanting his name by the time he came to bat in the sixth.

"It's obvious I don't concentrate as much when there's no one on base." Baylor said. "With runners on base I become a completely different batter. I can block everything out ... and just try to hit the ball hard."

"Donnie is obviously a great man in the clutch situation," said former AL MVP Fred Lynn, who homered and had two other hits in the game. "We hope he can do it again Wednesday night."

The Angels scored their first four batters in the bottom of the third, Brian Downing walked and went to second on a single by Doug DeCinces. After Bobby Grich singled home Downing, Baylor crashed a two-run triple off the wall in rightcenter, barely missing a home run. He then scored on a groundout by Jackson.

Baylor continued to star as the Angels took a 7-3 lead in the fourth. Bob Boone singled, knocking out starter Mike Caldwell. DeCinces reached on an error by Molitor and Grich walked, loading the bases. Baylor then slammed a two-run single to

The Angels made it 8-3 in the fifth on a leadoff homer by Lynn, his first playoff home run.

Tonight, Kison (10-5 with a 3.17 ERA) opposes the Brewers' ace, Pete Vuckovich, who compiled an 18-6 record this season.

Greyhounds Race To 9-0

Herald Sports Editor Lyman's Greyhounds picked up some more ground in the Five Star Conference volleyball race with two victories as Lake Howell and Seminole each split games Tuesday.

The Greyhounds routed Seabreeze, 15-2, 15-8, to improve their overall record to 9-0 and 8-0 in the Five Star.

"There's not a lot of detail in the Seabreeze match," said coach Karren Newman. "I feel sorry for them points. (Seabreeze)." Carol Rogers served 14 straight points to key the win.

Against Lake Howell, Rogers hit her first six serves and Pam Stambaugh and Lynn Lugering added spikes for a 7-2 lead. Lugering, aided by several strong hits from Vikki McMurrer and Stambaugh, ran it to 12-2 from where Army Babcock served the final three points.

In set two, Lugering, McMurrer and Wynne Wycoff helped out Rogers' serving with solld net play as the 'Hounds rolled on. Christy Scott had four service points for Howell.

In the Silver Hawk-Seabreeze match,

Howell survived, 15-9, 15-11. Beth and Cathy Saunders combined for nine service points in the first set and Eileen Thlebauth added the final six. Dawn 0, 15-0, before subduing Lake Howell, 15- Crawford had a good spike on the ninth

> In set two, Scott and Kathy Barma got the Hawks off to a flying start before the Saunders sisters added the last four

"We played down to their level," said coach Jo Luciano whose Silver Hawks are 7-3 and 6-2. "It was a serving duel the whole night."

Seminole, meanwhile, whipped Mainland, 15-5, 15-13, after losing to Spruce Creek, 15-7, 14-16, 5-15. Penny Morris came off the bench to head the Seminole serving attack. In the Mainland game, Teri Hardy drilled the first five serves and added the final point for the victory, Lisa Nelson and Sara Von Herbulis also had good serving efforts in the second game for the 6-4 and 6-3

The Tribe hosts Lyman and Lake Brantley on Tuesday.

Coach Sandy Denmark's Lady Patriots swept DeLand, 15-10, 11-15, 15-6, and Apopka, 10-15, 15-8, 15-9, to improve to 5-3 in the Five Star and 6-3 overall.

"Pam Anderson had an excellent serving night," said Denmark. Anderson ran off points 9 through 14 in the first set against Deland.

In the Apopka game, Dana Gebhardt's spiking and the setting of Teresa Stever key the win. In 3A action, Oviedo hit 47 straight successful serves to down Lake Mary, 15-5, 8-15, 15-2. "That's the first time I ever remember that happening," said coach Anita Carlson about the 100 percent effort. Sandy Stephens' sets to Fay Robinson were too much for the Rams of Cindy Henry to handle.

Robinson acted out the third game to improve the Lions overall mark to 9-2. Lake Mary is 1-5.

football team's success this season has been team speed. Whenever the Rams have been faster than their opponents, they usually come out on top.

Tuesday night a rain-soaked Lake Mary High field didn't slow coach Marshall Heinson's young squad as Lake Mary ran by Umatilla 19-14 to raise its record to 3-1.

"Umatilia had good size and were well coached," Heinson said of his opponents. "But our team speed was the deter-

Shatto Shows Way Past Green; Teague, Tuskawilla Post Victories

By SAM COOK Herald Sports Editor

Mitch Shatto ran for one touchdown, passed for another one and collected nine tackles as the Rock Lake Red Raiders blanked archrival Rock Lake Green, 13-0, Saturday in Seminole Youth Sports Association Pee Wee football action at Lake Sylvan Shatto, the younger brother of Lake Mary High fullback Greg, also collected two sacks, an intercepted a pass, and returned it 19 yards to set up the first Red score.

After the interception, he located Robert Cushman for an eight-yard TD toss to give the Red a 6-0 lead in the second period.

A 34-yard scamper for a touchdown in the fourth quarter sealed the win for coach Terry Christensen's squad. Tom Dearth romped in with the extra team." point for the final 13-0 count.

Dearth led the Red Raiders with 24 yards on eight carries. Cushman had 16 yards on just two carries while Shatto accumulated 41 yards in seven at-

Jack Oberdas was another standout defensively with five tackles, two of which were quarterback sacks, and a blocked pass. Todd Christensen turned in a fumble recovery which aided the final score. For the Green, Kevin Hinshaw ran for 33 yards on

The closest the Green Raiders came to scoring was on a partially blocked punt by Chip Hamlett which Peter Fowler returned into Red Territory, but the Red Raiders stiffened and completed the

In other Pee Wee action, Clegg Ivey zipped 20 yards in the first quarter for the only touchdown as the Teague Tigers shut down Lakeview, 6-0.

Chris Knutson added 19 yards on five carries for coach Pat Brown who commended Lakeview on turning in a strong effort for "basically a new

Elsewhere in Pee Wee play, John Millonig scored three touchdowns as Tuskawilla buried Hudson, 20-0. Kyle Scott ran in both extra points for the Warriors. Mike Julian and Joe Wallace led a defensive effort which held Hudson to just one first South Seminole's Hurricanes weren't as fortunate with their out-of-county opponent, dropping a 6-0 game to Tampa on a 10-yard run by Brian Williams. Offensively for South Seminole, Stephen Jerry completed six passes to Raymond Williams for 60

In Midget Division play, Lakeview's Dolphins ripped Teague, 24-0, behind three TD tosses from Mike Edwards to Dwayn Willis.

Edwards finished the day with 199 yards in the air as two of the touchdowns were for 85 and 82 yards. Reginald "Cheese" Bellamy kicked three extra points to close out the scoring.

Chris Smith led coach Wes Childers' gang with 14 tackles while Bellamy added eight and Willie Sutherland collected five. Willis and Sheldon Richards had an interception each.

In Junior Bantam play, the Tampa Eagles roughed up the Seminole Bulldogs, 40-6. Ira Melton ran for 84 yards and the only Seminole touchdown which came on a 65-yard jaunt. Robert Culpepper contributed 52 yards and Mike Prater had five

The Silver Lions faired better with their out-ofcounty competition, blanking Hudson, 14-0.

Willie Evans and Herbert Hillary had TD runs for the Silver Lions. Evans ran for 69 yards in 12 totes while Hillary contributed 29 yards. Hank Wilken led a strong defensive effort with a safety. The Lions caused five Hudson fumbles and Keith Redwine pounced on three of them.

IN BRIEF

Outraged By Strike,

Fan Sues Buccaneers

TAMPA, (UPI) - The Tampa Bay Buccaneers have been sued for breach of contract by a season ticket holder and another plans to file suit in Miami against the striking Miami Dolphins.

"This way all sorts of remedies are available to us and we get two big bites of the apple," said Miami attorney Ellis Rubin, who is representing the two plaintiffs.

The suit against the Bucs was filed late Tuesday in Hillsborough Circuit Court on behalf of David Heil of Orlando, a 24-year-old student at Stetson Law School in St. Petersburg.

Mark Rubin, 25-year-old son of the attorney and himself a student at Stetson, said the suit in Miami will be in his behalf.

Heil, who said he has been a season ticket holder for 34 years, seeks a declaratory judgment against the NFL club, plus $15,000 damages and attorneys fees. Rubin said his suit will seek a declaratory judgment against the players. "I'm a big fan and I enjoy going to the game," Heil said. "I wouldn't be filing this suit if I didn't feel we'd get some good out of it."

"If he is awarded damages, I daresay a lot of people will get on the band wagon," the attorney said. Mark Rubin was asked if he thought the club would take the suit seriously. "They better take us serious because if we win they face action by every ticket holder in the country," he

Bucs officials said they had not been served with the suit and had no comment.

Renegades Postponed

WASHINGTON (UPI) - This weekend's all-star football games sponsored by the striking NFL players union and Ted Turner's video empire have been postponed until a judge decides if the games are legal.

"We need a full schedule of practices and the indecision this week would not allow us to adequately prepare for the games," Brig Owens, of the NFL Players Association, said Tuesday.

The union's decision means Sunday's opening game at RFK Stadium will be played Oct. 17. The second allstar game will not be played in Philadelphia as plan-

Federal Judge John Penn is expected to decide this week if the striking players can play in the series of 19 games Turner will televise to more than 22 million bornes.

Fired For His Own Good, Atlanta's Torre Gets Out Of Rut

ST. LOUIS (UPI) - They told him they were firing him for his own good, which is like hanging you to keep you from standing on your feet too long.

And they were right.

Look how everything's turning out for Joe Torre, fired by the Mets this time a year ago because he couldn't move them up. They also thought he was getting in a rut.

He isn't in any rut now. He's right up there for Manager of the Year in the National League and he has Atlanta's team as close to the World Series as it has been in 13 years. That's the last time — the only other time the Braves made the playoffs. All they have to do now is beat the St. Louis Cardinals three out of five and they'll be in their first World Series.

A year ago, Joe Torre didn't have a job. So when CBS Radio came along and asked him if he'd like to do the color for the Montreal-Philadelphia playoff, he said sure, why not? He enjoyed that.

But a few weeks later, he enjoyed it even more when Ted Turner named him manager of the Braves.

One of Torre's first duties as the Braves'

Milton Richman

UPI Sports Editor

new manager was attending the re-entry draft in New York where one of the players Atlanta selected was Reggie Jackson, given his free agency after the Yankees declined to renew his contract.

For a while, Turner made a pitch for Jackson. Torre didn't really see how he'd fit into the Braves' outfield, but as a dutiful new employee, he said all the right things. Now, it could come to Jackson facing the Braves next week, but for that to happen, the Angels will have to beat the Brewers in the American League playoff and the Braves will have to get past the Cardinals.

The way it looks to me, Torre is on a roll. Overall, I think the Cardinals are stronger than the Braves but it wouldn't surprise me to see Torre's bunch get into the World Series. In the other league, I lean toward the Brewers because they finished with the best percentage of any club in the majors and that pretty much makes them the No. 1 club.

In a short series such as these two playoffs. the pitching can easily decide things and quite often it all comes down to the bullpen where the Cardinals generally are believed to have the edge with Bruce Sutter, their 1979 Cy Young Award winner.

Sutter led the majors this year with his 36 saves. He's just as good as he has ever been but there are ways of beating him if you lay off that murderous low fork ball of his.

Over in the Braves' bullpen, Steve Bedrosian, their 24-year-old rookie righthander, is to them what Goose Gossage is to the Yankees. His fastball has been clocked at 93 and 94 miles an hour and he gives Atlanta outstanding middle inning relief. Gene Garber Torre generally calls on as his short reliever is tougher on righthanded hitters than Sutter.

In Game No. 1 Wednesday, the Braves are leading with their best, Phil Niekro, their 43year-old knuckleball ace who is so anxious to get into a World Series after 18 years in the majors, he can almost taste it. Niekro had one of his best years this season with a 17-4 log and a 3.61 ERA. If he gets his knuckler over for a strike, he's hard to beat and he did that pretty consistently all year.

Like the Braves, the Cardinals also are going with their most productive pitcher in the playoff opener. That's righthander Joaquin Andujar, who was 15-10 this year with a 2.47 ERA.

Andujar owns some of the best stuff in the league, but he sometimes messes himself up by relaxing a little too much when he has a lead, or not paying as much attention to fielding his position like, say, Jim Kaat, the Cards' 43-yearold reliever who bears down harder even than Pete Rose. For Torre, this playoff is something in the nature of a homecoming since he played for the Cardinals six years, from 1969 through 1974, and was a big favorite locally.

They still like him even though he's the "enemy" now. But they like their own manager, Whitey Herzog, better, and look on the Cardinals as a team of deatiny. That doesn't bother Torre.

After what has happened to him the past 12 months, nothing really does.

Her office set the record of reporting election results first in the state, Sept. 7 at 8:23 p.m., less than 90 minutes after the polls closed. In the first primary election, a turnout of 20.2 percent was seen, the worst turnout registered in a first primary election in the 30 years those records have been kept in Seminole County.

Tuesday's returns were scheduled to be canvassed and certified by Mrs. Bruce, County Judge Alan Dickey and County Commissioner Robert G. Feather at noon today,

With 74,457 eligible to vote in the election, only 8,160 did so for a 10.9 percent turnout. Earlier Mrs. Bruce predicted a 10 percent turnout because of the brevity of the ballot.

Seminole County Republicans chose their party's standard-bearer for the U.S. Senate seat held by Sen, Lawton Chiles, D-Lakeland, for the past 12 years.

In choosing State Sen. Van B. Poole, GOP members in Seminole who usually turn out strong in primary elections also stayed away from the polls in droves. The GOP turnout at 11.1 percent —

3,419 — was only slightly higher than the countywide average of 10.9 percent.

Democrats had no primary contest. Registered Democrats and those of other parties, such as independents and non-partisans, totaled 7,872 or 10.5 percent turnout. Absentee electors -

. . . Poole Wins Tuesday In GOP Race

By winning the GOP nomination, Poole will be the party's candidate running against Democratic Sen. Lawton Chiles in the Nov. 2 general election.

Poole steps forward today to receive a $600,000 war chest as the nominee for an all-out Republican bid to unseat Chiles in the November general election.

The 47-year-old insurance man and veteran legislator easily defeated Bludworth for the GOP U.S. Senate nomination. His victory was expected because Poole had the backing of most of Florida's Republican leaders and three times the money that Bludworth collected for the primaries. With all but two of 4,062 precincts reported, Poole had 58 percent, or 126,226 votes, to 42 percent, or 91,388 votes for Bludworth.

The turnout of about 220,000 of Florida's 1.49 million registered Republicans established a new state low. The GOP Senate contest was the only statewide race on the

United Way Reaches 17.5 Percent Of Its 1983 Goal

Sandy Cummings of Communications Workers of America Local 3113 (left) discusses progress of United Way campaign with Mandi Smathers, a Rush-Hampton employee involved in the commercial division, during Tuesday's report meeting.

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Herald Staff Writer The United Way of Seminole County's 1983 campaign has reached 17.5 percent of its $338,000 goal. The first report meeting since the Sept. 28 kick-off breakfast was held Tuesday afternoon at Raffles in the Altamonte Mall and UW campaign workers reported that a total of $59,350 has been raised so far.

"This is about where we were last year at this time," said campaign chairman Larry Strickler.

Most encouraging to Strickler was a report from Gene Keltner that the major retail division has already raised $3,745, 43 percent of its goal and many of the larger stores are just starting their in-store drives.

Sears' Altamonte Mall store reported it has already doubled last year's goal of $9,161 and is still collecting money. The Sears corporate gift was $6,750, while the employees pledged $12,600 for a total of $19,350 to date.

More good news came from the Altamonte Springs K-mart store which has increased its pledge by 100 percent with a $650 corporate gift and $1,734 from employees. The Eckerd's Foundation and Eckerd employees have both pledged more than $1,000.

Sandy Cummings, secretary of the Communications Workers of America Local 3113, reported that employees of Southern Bell's Sanford office have given a total of $6,222, or an average of $78.75 per employee Sheila Brown, chairman of the professional division, reported a total of $5,357 has been raised to date.

Ivan Bowers, chairman of the education division, reported $1,815 has been pledged by school system workers.

United Way agencies' employees have pledged $2,178 to the campaign.

David Chacey, chairman of the municiapl employees division, reported the following totals: Casselberry, $709; Lake Mary, $203; Winter Springs, $230; Sanford, $205; and Longwood, $504. The grand total for the division is $1,850, or 23.5 percent of its goal.

Sonny Rigas, United Way drive chairman for the Central Florida Regional Hospital, reported a corporate gift of $500 and a total of $282 in employee gifts during the first four hours of the campaign. "We've almost reached last year's goal of $782 already," he said. The hospital has not completed its campaign, but has committed itself to increase last year's goal by 10 percent.

In the financial division headed by George Foster, Atlantic Bank of Sanford reported $195 from employees.

United Way of Seminole County Executive Director Bob Walko announced that the Victory dinner will be held on Oct. 28 at Lord Chumley's Pub, Altamonte Springs.

A United Way auction will be held at 2 p.m. on Oct. 31 in the Altamonte Mall.

The next report meeting will be at 8 a.m. Oct. 12 at Perkins Cake and Steak, State Road 436, Altamonte Springs.

Center Offers College Board Prep Course

The Jewish Community Center in Maitland will offer a college board prep course to help students prepare for Spring exams. The course is designed to help students improve their college boards by developing skills in the verbal areas of antonyms, analogies, vocabulary, and reading comprehension, as well as math areas, problem solving, graph reading and quantitative skills. Relaxation therapy will be included in the course to reduce these anxieties.

Classes will be held on Tuesdays beginning Oct. 19 from 7 to 10 p.m. for eight, 3-hour sessions to be held at the Jewish Community Center at 851 N. Maitland Ave. in Maitland.

The fee is $115 for Center members and $125 for nonmembers. The fee will include all materials. A deposit of $10 reserves a place. For information, please call Robin Caine at 645-5933.

ACT Review Class

A review class for the ACT test is being offered at Florida Federal Savings, Altamonte Springs. The class sponsored by Seminole Community College, meets Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-3 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.-8:30 p.m.

Cali Seminole Community College, 323-1450, Ext. 444, for more information on the ACT review class.

Dance Auditions Called

Interior Design Student

Theresa Martinez, daughter of Ray and Mercedes Martinez, 640 Hibiscus Road, Casselberry, has been accepted into the Interior Design program at the Art Institute of Fort Lauderdale and its division, the Fashion Institute, for the fall term.

Theresa is a graduate of Pearsall Senior High School in Pearsall, Texas.

Home Nursing Courses

The Central Florida Chapter of the American Red Cross announces registration is now available for the next two Red Cross Home Nursing courses, one to be taught, 9 a.m. to noon, beginning Monday, and the other to be taught from 7 to 10 p.m. beginning Nov. 9.

Those who would like to learn proper home nursing techniques in taking care of individual family members who are injured or ill may call the Central Florida Chapter of the American Red Cross, 894-4141.

Longwood Club Meeting

The Longwood Woman's Club will meet on Oct. 12 at 1 p.m. in the club building, 150 Church St.

The program will be a report on "Girls State" by Miss Kelly Elwood, Lyman High School representing Old Glory Unit No. 183, American Legion Auxillary.

Ida Cox will also give the "History of the Hummels." Refreshments will be served.

FSO Gets $100.000 Grant

The Florida Symphony Orchestra has been awarded a $100,000 challenge grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

National Endowment Chairman Frank Hodsoll announced the FSO's award as part of the 1982 Challenge Grant program which presented grants to 53 organizations in 20 states. The Florida Symphony is one of six U.S. orchestras included in the grantees and the only cultural institution in Florida to receive a grant. To qualify for a National Endowment Challenge Grant, an applicant must be of exceptional artistic quality. In addition, it must have developed a plan for achieving a stronger, broader, and more reliable funding base.

Cook Of The Week

Autumn Brings On County Fair Type Candied Apples

By LOU CHILDERS Herald Correspondent

Beverly Collins of Lake Mary has been busy this week making marvelous Caramel Apples for her family's enjoyment.

"This seasonal recipe makes the good oldfashloned county fair type apples," says Beverly, Continuing she says, "Cooking the caramel from scratch is a lot cheaper than buying caramel candy to melt down, and assembling the recipe is easier than unwrapping the little individual candles, too,"

Beverly's recipe calls for light brown sugar, milk, shortening, salt and vanilla ingredients found in most kitchens.

Expounding on the apple project further Beverly states, "I refrigerated the left over caramel and our girls reheated it to use as a topping for ice cream sundaes."

Beverly grew up in Willard, Mo., attended Southwest Missouri State in Springfield, but says, "My degree was changed to a Mrs. when I met and married Steve.'

The Collins family which includes four charming daughters - Kerri, 15, twins, Ginger and Gina, 11, and Kaci, 5 - moved to Lake Mary four years ago from Orlando.

About her "cooking background," Beverly says she had four years of home economics in high school and has just always loved to cook. She especially enjoys cooking and states that a lot of her recipes come from exchanging with "One of our favorite meals, Sour Cream Enchilada Casserole, comes from a recipe shared by a friend who lives in Kansas that knew we were big on Mexican food,"

Another South-of-the-border concoction enjoyed in the Collins household is Guacamole Dip. It's great served with Tostidos and a pleasant change from the old chip-n-dlp

If you are ever faced with the dilemma of fixing dessert for unexpected company, save Beverly's instructions for Impossible Coconut Pie. It is easy and quick because it has no crust! And, is it ever yummy. You won't believe how good this coconut ple is until you try it. More good news minutes to bake.

Wash and dry apples; remove stems. Insert wooden sticks into stem end of each apple. Set Combine next 4 ingredients in a heavy saucepan; mix well. Bring to a boil and boil 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, add vanilla. Beat with a wire whisk about 10 minutes or until mixture loses its gloss.

Dip apples in syrup, covering entire surface; allow excess to drip off. Place apples on buttered waxed paper. While caramel is still pliable the apples can be decorated with chopped peanuts or small candles.

SOUR CREAM ENCHILADA CASSEROLE

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Brown 2 pounds ground beef (lean). Drain off any fat. Season with:

1 teaspoon salt

teaspoon pepper 4 teaspoon ground cumin

4 teaspoon garlic powder

dash of oregano

(Note: seasonings may be increased or decreased to personal taste.) Add:

1 can green chilles, chopped 2 cans cream of chicken soup

1 8-oz. cup sour cream

Stir over medium heat just until mixture comes to a boil. Plunge corn tortillas (the brand that is found in the refrigerator section of the supermarket) into 375 degree oil. Cook only a few seconds. DO NOT COOK CRISP. Drain on paper towels and cut into halves.

Place half of the tortilias into a 15 x 9-inch pan. Spread on half of the beef mixture. Add another layer of tortillas, place remaining beef mixture on top. Cover with 8 oz. coarsely grated white American cheese, Bake 15 minutes or until cheese is bubbly. Cut into squares. Serve with shredded lettuce, chopped tomatoes and onions, and taco sauce placed on the top of each portion.

A new generation of cooks, ones with less time to spend in the kitchen, are discovering the uses of pressure cookers. This is a moist heat method of cooking and helps turn less-tender cuts of meat into more tender fare

BEEF ROAST WITH JULIENNE VEGETABLES 3 bound boneless rump roast

Salt and pepper

2 tablespoons flour 2 tablespoons cooking oil 1 cup chopped onion

a cup dry red wine

3) rup water 14 to 1 cup each julienne carrots, celery, green beans and

Sprinkle roast with salt and pepper; dust with flour. Brown meat in cooking oil in pressure cooker. Add onions and brown. Add wine and water and stir to deglaze. Close pressure cookercover securley. Place pressure regulator on vent pipe. Cook 30 immutes at 15 pounds pressure. Cool pressure cooker at once... Remove pressure regulator and open pressure cooker. Put julienne vegetables in 4 individual foil boats and arrange around roast. Do not fill pressure cooker over 2-3rds full. Close pressure cooker cover securely. Place pressure regulator on vent pipe and cook until pressure regulator attains a rocking action only. Let pressure drop of its own accord. Remove pressure regulator and open pressure cooker. Remove vegetables and roast. Remaining liquid may be made into gravy by thickening with 1 tablespoon flour dissolved in tablespoons water.

Veal Low In Fat

According to Executive Chef Vincent J. Alberici of Westin Hotels' Bellevue Stratford, yeal is one of those specialty meats that most people hesitate to experiment with, possibly because of its generally higher price and sensitivity to cooking techniques.

Veal can, however, be purchased at a relatively inexpensive price, if you know what form to look for. Veal shanks are one of the most inexpensive cuts.

A very important plus for veal is its low fat content, placing it in the same category as poultry and fish for those on law calorie diets.

When cooking veal, there are two preferred methods. both of which will yield a tender meat. If in the form of cutlets or other basically flat cuts, it can be tenderized through pounding, then quicksauted. Veal shanks should be slowly braised.

Because of veal's very mild, delicate flavor, it is an extremely versatile meat, which can assume any of a variety of flavorings depending on the type of herbs and spices added to the dish.

Osso Bucco Milanaise is a rich blend of flavors enhancing tender veal shanks. Prepared by Alberici, this dish was inspired by Italian seasonings and regularly draws raves from dinner guests at the Versailles restaurant in the Bellevue Stratford. The accompanying rice dish should be served with Osso Bucco Milanaise. OSSO BUCCO MILANAISE

10 veal shanks

flour

salt & pepper 1 cup white wine

2 cups tomatoes, peeled and diced 2 cups chicken stock

2 cloves garlle, minced I lemon rind, grated

B sprigs parsley, chopped 4 anchovy fillets, chopped Season yeal shanks and roll in flour. Saute in oil on both sides until brown. Pour in dry white wine, tomatoes and chicken stock; cover and cook over low heat approximately two hours or until meat is so tender it almost falls off the bones. If necessary, some extra stock may be added during cooking. Next prepare the Gremolada, an essential part of the Osso Bucco: Mix the garlic, lemon rind, chopped parsley and anchovies. Place over veal shanks and stir, ensuring distribution of the Gremolada flavor, Serve with Risotto Milanese. Provide a small, the marrow out of the bone.

4 cup butter 15 small onion, diced 4 cup dry white wine 1½ cups Italian Arborio rice

4 cups veal stock 4 cup Locatelli cheese, grated

Saute onion in melted butter until soft and transparent. Pour in white wine and cook until almost completely evaporated. Add rice and continue cooking until it begins to change color, then add one cup of stock. Cook until the stock has been absorbed by the rice. Add another cup of stock. Continue until all the stock has been absorbed. This process will take approximately 20 minutes, the rice should be perfectly tender, each grain separate. Remove from heat, add cheese and stir well. Serves five.

Intrigue Of Halloween Inspires A Celebration

With the approach of Halloween, images of witches, goblins and all shapes and sizes of other delightfully ghostly creatures pop into the heads of adults and children alike. It's a wonderful, magical time of year - and the perfect occasion for a

The two Mexican-Inspired party menus shown here add a new touch to the traditional Allhallow's Eve. Featuring economical beans and rice, along with one of the bounties of this harvest season. Golden Delicious apples, both menus are as nutritious and cost-conscious as they are timely.

Western-grown dry beans, combined with other protein forms, are an excellent low-cost source of protein. They supply thiamine, pyridoxine, niacin, folic acid, iron, calcium, phosphorus and potassium.

CHILI BEANS ON RICE

A spicy chili-type dish and an economical one, too. Use either cooked pinto, pink or red beans.

2 pounds boneless beef, cut in 12-inch cubes

2 cloves garlic, minced

14 cup vegetable oil 2 to 4 cups water

3-one-third cups drained, cooked or canned pinto, pink or red beans

2 cans (1442 to 16 oz. each) tomatoes

Brown beef and garlic in oil; add 2 cups water and simmer 30 to 45 minutes or until beef is barely tender. Reserve 1 cup beans; mash and set aside. Drain tomatoes; reserve liquid. Coarsely chop tomatoes. Add whole beans, tomatoes, reserved tomato liquid, onions, chiles and seasonings. Simmer 30 minutes; stir occasionally. Add additional water, if necessary. Stir in mashed beans; mix well. Simmer 5 minutes longer, or until slightly thickened. Serve over rice. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

Note: Recipe may be halved.

APPLE JACK O'LANTERN COOKIES

These oversize, chewy moist cookies are full of chunks of Golden Delicious apples. Why not let the young set decorate them to look like Jack O'Lanterns?

l cup sugar two-thirds cup shortening

1 egg

15 cup milk

2 cups flour

2 cups chopped Golden Delicious apples

2 teaspoons grated lemon peel 1 teaspoon baking powder

🏰 teaspoon each salt and baking soda

14 teaspoon ground nutmeg

1 cup chopped walnuts

Glaze

Decorations: Raisins, jelly beans and candy corn

In large mixer bowl blend sugar, shortening and egg; gradually beat in milk. Combine remaining ingredients except nuts, Glaze and decorations. Beat into sugar mixture; mix well. Stir in nuts. For each cookie, spoon about ¼ cup dough onto greased baking sheet; space well to allow cookies to spread. Bake at 375 degrees F. about 15 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from baking sheet and cool on wire rack. Dip each cookie in Glaze. Immediately create Jack O'Lantern faces using raisins, jelly beans and candy corn. Makes about 20

Glaze: Stir 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 1-1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract and 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine into 14 cup hot milk; mix well. Add 3 drops each red and yellow food color if a pumpkin color is desired.

Makes two-thirds recipe if cookies are spread with (rather than dipped in) glaze.

WITCH'S TACOS

Tacos are always fun for a party. Bursting with a wellseasoned mixture of plump tender beans, ground beef, and stewed tomatoes, a topping of shredded cheese and taco sauce completes the dish in a typical Mexican style.

one-half pound ground beef one-third cup chopped onion

1-two-thirds cups drained, cooked or canned red kidney, pink or pinto beans

1 can (8 oz.) stewed tomatoes

i tablespoon chopped green pepper

14 to 12 cup water 12 teaspoon salt

14 teaspoon each sugar and crushed oregano leaves teaspoon each crushed red pepper and ground cumin

10 taco shells

2½ to 3 cups shredded head lettuce 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

In skillet, brown ground beef; add onion and cook until tender. Add remaining ingredients except taco shells, lettuce and cheese; mix well. Simmer 5 minutes. Fill each taco shell with 14 cup meat filling, 14 cup lettuce and 1 or 2 tablespoons cheese. Makes 10 tacos. GOLDEN APPLE STRUESEL

RICE PUDDING

Rice pudding, an old-fashioned yet popular dessert, is dressed up for the party with sliced apples and a streusel topping. In this creamy version, tender rice grains are nicely accented by the flavor of the juicy apple slices.

3 cups cooked rice 3 cups milk, divided

's cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt

Fluffy Dressing For Crisp Salad

FLUFFY BLUE CHEESE DRESSING (Yield: approx. 2 cups)

11/2 cups cottage cheese

4 cup (2 oz.) crumbled Blue cheese

3 tablespoons minced green onion 1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

% teaspoon garlic powder 1-3rd cup instant nonfat dry milk

14 cup cold water

2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice Cooked whole green beans marinated in Italian dressing, drained Halved cherry tomatoes marinated in Italian dressing,

Diagonally sliced celery marinated in Italian dressing,

drained drained

Beat cottage cheese in small deep mixing bowl on high speed of mixer until almost smooth, about 5 minutes. Fold in Blue cheese, onion and seasonings. Meanwhile, sprinkle nonfat dry milk over water in chilled small deep mixing bowl. Beat until foamy, Add lemon juice and continue beating until stiff peaks form. Fold into cottage choose mixture. Chill dressing, covered, 3 to 4 hours, to allow flavors to blend. Serve over chilled marineted vegetables on lettuce.

12 teaspoon vanilla extract

1 to 2 Golden Delicious apples, cored, pared and sliced I tablespoon butter or margarine

12 cup chopped pecans

14 cup packed brown sugar 1 tablespoon flour

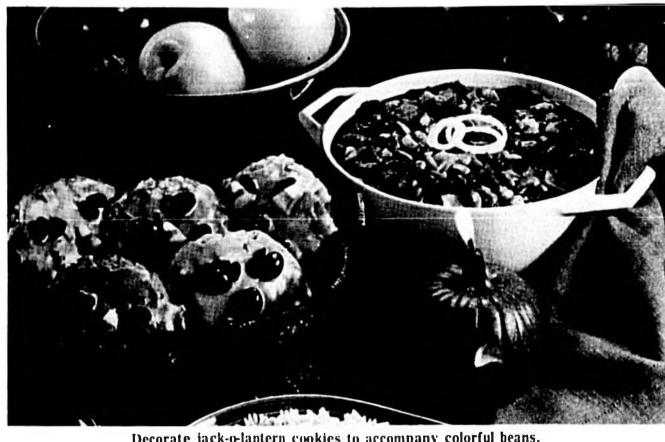

Whipped cream (optional)

12 teaspoon ground cinnamon

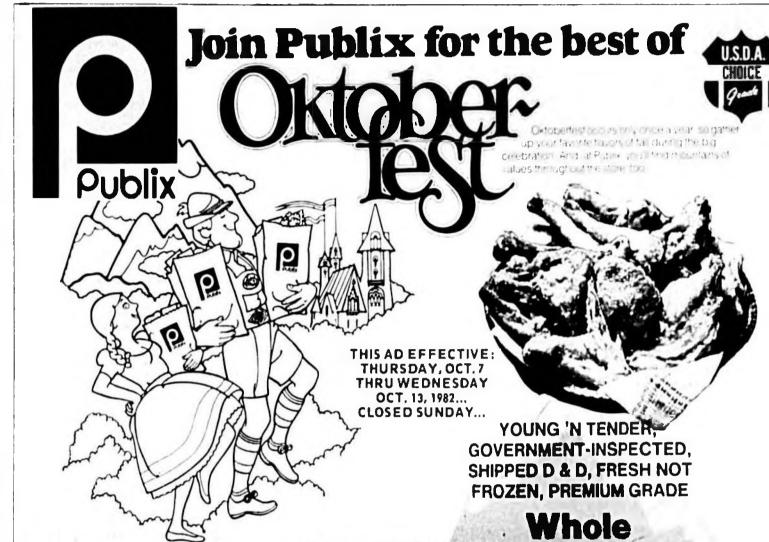

Combine rice, 212 cups milk, sugar and salt in saucepan. Cook over medium heat until thickened, 20 to 25 minutes, stirring. Beat eggs with remaining milk; add to rice mixture. Cook 2 minutes longer. Add vanilla; turn pudding mixture into buttered, shallow 2-quart casserole. Arrange apples on top of nudding. Combine butter with remaining ingredients except whipped cream and sprinkle over apple slices. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve with whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

Decorate jack-o-lantern cookies to accompany colorful beans.

Microwave Magic

Rosy Apples Finale To Spicy Soup

Recently I've been researching various ways to use beans for preparing microwave dishes. Maybe you have noticed as I have the different kinds of dried beans (legumes) appearing on our grocery shelves.

In addition to the usual lima, navy and black-eyed beans, you can find black, cranberry, pinto, pink and several others.

These dried beans have good nutritional value, are economical and, very versatile.

In last week's column I promised more soup and soup accompaniments. This recipe for Two-Bean Chili Soup is spicy and filling. The original recipe calls for 1 can (1512 ounces) kidney beans.

Since the kidney bean is my least favorite of the beans I substituted 12 lb. dried pink beans (frijoles rosados). These I soaked overnight then proceded with the recipe as Crumble ground beef into a 3-qt. casserole, add onion, green pepper and garlic. Cover loosely and microwave until very little pink remains in beef, 3-4 minutes longer.

Stir in tomatoes, breaking them up with a fork. Stir in beans, and all remaining ingredients. Cover tightly and microwave on 100 percent power for 10 minutes. Stir. Cover and microwave until hot and bubbly 8 - 10 minutes longer. Serves 4 - 6. Good with French bread, tossed salad and baked apples.

Baked apples can be prepared in a hurry so have them often. They are really good and so good for you. I used a Rome variety in preparing this recipe. They hold their shape well and have excellent flavor.

Vegetables Make Tasty Fritters

Pancakes and their cousins, patties and fritters, add variety to any meal. They are satisfying side dishes to go with meats, poultry or fish.

Make these side dishes using on-hand staples, such as flour or pancake flour, and fresh vegetables, such as zucchini, carrots or corn and green peppers.

ZUCCHINI PANCAKES 4 cups shredded pared zucchini (about 1 pound)

14 cup packaged pancake flour

12 cup grated Gruyere cheese 12 cup milk

1 egg, lightly beaten

u cup chopped fresh onion Place shredded zucchini in sieve to drain off excess liquid. In medium bowl., combine pancake flour, cheese, milk and egg; mix just until all ingredients are well moistened. Stir in zucchini and onion. Drop mixture by heaping tablespoonfuls onto lightly greased griddle or skillet; cook over low heat until pancakes are browned and bubbles appear on surface. Turn, brown other side. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings; 3 pancakes per serving.

CARROT PATTIES

4 cup flour

2 tablespoons chopped parsley 1 tablespoon brown sugar

1/2 teaspoon salt

14 teaspoon freshly grated lemon rind

Dash pepper 2 eggs, lightly beaten

3 cups shredded carrots

In medium bowl, combine flour, parsley, sugar, salt, lemon rind and pepper; stir in eggs and carrots; mix well. Drop mixture by heaping tablespoonfuls onto lightly greased griddle or skillet. Cook over low heat about 5 minutes, until patties are brown; turn and brown other side. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings; 3 patties per serving.

FRESH CORN AND PEPPER FRITTERS

2 egg yolks, beaten

14 cups grated fresh corn-on-the-cob (about 3 ears) 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper

4 cup flour

teaspoon salt Dash pepper

3 egg whites

In medium bowl, combine egg yolks, corn, green pepper, flour, salt and pepper; mix well. In small bowl of electric mixer, beat egg whites until stiff; fold egg yolk mixture into egg whites. Drop by heaping tablespoonfuls onto lightly greased, pre-heated skillet or griddle. Cook over low heat 3 or 4 minutes until brown on bottom; turn, brown other side. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings; 3 pancakes per ser-To grate fresh corn: Place 4-sided grater in large bowl.

Grate corn over the largest grate. Measure corn and all the corn liquid for this recipe.

PECAN SHORTBREADS Makes 2 1/2 dozen

2-3rd cup pecan pieces 2 cups unsifted flour

4 cup sugar

1 cup (2 sticks) margarine 1 egg, beaten

Coarsely chop pecan pieces; set saide.

Combine flour and sugar in a large mixing bowl. Add margarine and mix on low speed until a smooth dough is formed. Roll dough out on a lightly floured board to about 1/4inch thickness. Cut into desired cookie shapes. Place on ungreased baking sheets; brush with besten egg. Sprinkle each cookie with pecan pieces, pressing lightly into dough.

Bake at 325 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from baking sheets and cool.

WIN AT BRIDGE

The bidding in the box shows North and South at their best. North starts proceedings by bidding a spade and elects to raise his partner from two to three diamonds. After that raise, South barges right into Blackwood and finds that his partner holds both missing aces and two of the three missing kings. If North's kings are in diamonds and spades, South can count 13 easy tricks at notrump, spades or diamonds.

If one of his two kings is in hearts there are 12 guaranteed tricks and a finesse for the grand slam. South decides to take the sure plus and settles for six no-trump. When the spade finesse turns out to be a loser he is happy to get a tie for top with all other six notrump bidders. Poor East and West have done nothing except to pick up bad cards, but they know that their bad cards have brought them a miserable score because the opponents got to their optimum contract. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN)

Consumer Counseling Service Helps Many

(Throughout the 1982 United Way of Seminole County fund, the Herald will spotlight various agencies which will receive in the coming year a share of the funds raised. The goal this year is $338,000.)

In these days of inflation, unemployment and easy credit, many familles find themselves over extended and without enough income to cover monthly payments.

For persons facing economic disaster, the Consumer Credit Counseling Service of Central Florida, Inc., which now has an office in Casselberry and Orlando, is often the an-

An agency of the United Way of Seminole County, Consumer Credit Counseling helps manage the money of a family and works out a program for paying off creditors. George Reed, Consumer Credit executive director, recently received the following letter from a satisfied client:

Executive Director Consumer Credit Counseling

Mr. George Reed

Orlando, Florida Dear Mr. Reed:

I wanted to take this opportunity to say a heartfelt thanks to you and your staff for all the help you have given me during the past year.

When I lost my job I did not know which way to turn and it seemed that daily we got further behind and I began to feel overwhelmed, then I heard through a friend about your agency. I am very proud to say that in fourteen months after I started with you I paid off nearly $5000.00 and can now breathe easier than I have in the last two years. It is not a good thing to get into such a financial bind that you cannot control it, but it certainly is good to know that there is an agency like yours that can help turn your life around.

Thank you again and may God bless and keep you always.

Respectfully.

Professor Developing 'Superdrugs'

GAINESVILLE - A University of Florida scientist's development of a process to speed medication to the brain could revolutionize the pharmaceutical industry with "super drugs," researchers

A Chicago-based drug firm will raise $6 million to help develop the process over the next five years. A contract between the university and Loeb & Co. of Arlington Heights, Ill., will fund research based on findings by Dr. Nicholas Bodor.

Michael Schwartz, dean of the school's College of Pharmacy, said "the potential of Dr. Bodor's research is unlimited" and revolutionize the design of drugs and how physicians use those drugs to treat their patients."

Bodor's technique combines drugs with special chemicals, allowing them to penetrate a barrier that keeps most substances out of the brain.

"Using our delivery system, 3 to 5 percent of the amount of the drug administered previously can now produce the same therapeutic benefits, while adverse side-effects are reduced 01 sharply eliminated," Bodor said.

The process allows drugs to get past tightly-packed bloodvessel walls into the brain where medication can be released at a slow, steady rate. A chemical called a carrier, which takes the medicine into the brain, then returns to the bloodstream.

"An era of super drugs with minimal side effects could be produced by combining these carriers with drugs such as tranquilizers, pain killers, sedatives, stimulants, anesthetics, anticancer agents ... and hormones such as those used in birth control pills," Loeb President Marvin P. Loeb said.

Schwartz said a "good fraction" of the $6 million will go directly to the university for Bodor's research.

"In addition, the university would share in any royalties, licensing fees and so on which might be generated by a drug that would eventually reach the market."

Since the drugs to be used with the carriers already are approved by the Food and Drug Administration, testing of the drug-carrier combinations is not expected to take as long as tests for a new Loeb predicted the "super drugs" could reach the public by 1986.

"The important point is that there will be lower doses of the drug required to achieve the desired therapeutic effects," Schwartz said. "And that always is very significant in reducing potential toxicity of a drug. The system could be applicable to a wide variety of drug types, perhaps drugs that aren't even discovered

The Norman deVere Howard Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy held its first meeting of the season at the Aldean Drive, home of Dr. Sara Irrgang with 14 members and one guest aftending.

President Linda R. Zike conducted the business meeting. It was announced a memorial service and resolutions will be held at the October meeting for a deceased member, Mrs. A.B. Wallace, last remaining Real Daughter of the chapter.

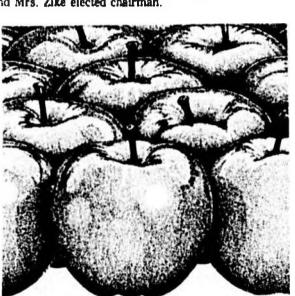

Membership certificates were presented to new members: Mrs. John Krider, Mrs. Guy L. Wood and Mrs. Julian Varn. Education chairman, Mrs. Charles Hobson presented a history of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, a book gift to the chapter by her cousin, Mrs. Mildred Smith of Arlington, Va. and non-resident member of Norman deVere Howard chapter.

Mrs. Hobson told of Grant and Lee, both presiding generals and slave owners when the South surrendered to the North in 1865 and Robert E. Lee reportedly freeing his own four slaves in the late 1840s before the Northern general, Ulysses S. Grant.

Mrs. Lorraine Whiting, curator of the Seminole County Historical Museum was guest speaker. She told of forthcoming plans and present progress being made to form a county museum.

Her informative informal talk inspired the chapter to have a part in helping to establish a museum through the renovation of the former "old folks home" in Sanford. To fill a great need in the county, the chapter unanimously agreed to participate in this proposal which will fullfill one of the objectives and ideals

A unanimous "yea" vote was taken to support this endeavor and Mrs. Zike elected chairman.

CONFUSED

Dear

Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a beautiful 7-yearold daughter. Just before her fifth birthday, I started using underarm deodorant on her because she perspired like a grown woman, and the odor was unbearable.

Now we have another problem. I noticed that her breasts looked swollen. I felt them and asked her if they hurt, and she said yes, so I had to accept the fact that this was the beginning stage of breast development. I took her to a pediatrician who said she looked "normal" and there was nothing to worry about. Abby, at 7? I am about to have a nervous breakdown.

I am so afraid our little girl will become a fully developed woman too soon. She is only a drown out not only the noise of baby in the first grade and she the mockingbird, but barking doesn't know anything about life. ### Yule Workshop

Write Letters for All

The Leisure Time Program at Seminole Community College is offering morning and evening classes in "Christmas Arrangement and Wreath Workshop" beginning Oct. 25 and 27. Class will meet from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. for four weeks.

"Christmas Arrangement and Wreath Workshop" will consist of making and coordinating Christmas arrangements, wreaths, mantle pieces and other holiday pieces for the home or es gifte.

The $15 fee for each class provides for the instructional cost. For more information call the Leisure Time

Program at SCC. These classes are selfsupported by student fees at no expense to the taxpayer.
