

Fight Seen With Thai Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senators pressed forward today with President Johnson's request for an additional $1.1 billion to fight the Vietnam war under a fighting of a coming battle in hand and the possible reopening of the Korean conflict.

The Senate armed services committee held a closed session on Johnson's request for extra defense funds for the fiscal year ending June 30. The session was the latest item in the heavy schedule of congressional deliberations on the war.

It followed a hearing Tuesday of the Senate foreign relations committee during which retired Army Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin said he saw no chance of avoiding a struggle against the Communists in Thailand.

The general also said continued escalation of the war might cause Red China to "open up" the Korean fighting once again.

Gavin spent more than four hours before the committee, which has been conducting a broad inquiry into U. S. and Allied forces pressed major ground operations throughout South Vietnam, it was disclosed today.

It was the highest U. S. casualty list in 14 weeks.

A U. S. military spokesman said 690 bodies were found and eight captured or missing in action. He said there were 15 battalions of the North Vietnamese Communist forces.

Even as Air Force One headed for home base, President Johnson's speech to the South Vietnamese, he said, was a warning to Saigon on Johnson's orders "to forward the mission we stopped at Honolulu."

The President stopped at Los Angeles on his way back from Honolulu to brief Humphrey and to make a preliminary report to the American people on the results of his trip.

Johnson, his manner grave but confident, warned as he has before that the road to success in Southeast Asia would be "long and difficult."

"But we shall fight the battle against aggression in Vietnam," he said. "We shall fight the battle for social construction, and throughout the world we shall fight the battle for peace."

"And we shall prevail."

The President spoke at a meeting again with the South Vietnamese leaders in the White House. He was said to be heartened by what he learned of their plans and more determined than ever to push his policies despite criticism in Congress.

Sanford Snowbound Sailors Get 'Cold Shoulder' In Va.

Although the scene aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence (CV-38) was anything but serene, as most of the snowbound sailors of Sanford returned home, as the transport planes left the still snow-covered Oceana Airport, everyone agreed that while it was a new and different experience, the sight of the runway at Sanford in "Sunny Florida" would be more than welcome.

With snow, sub-freezing temperatures, and gale force winds for deterrents, the men of the detachment successfully completed their mission of maintenance depot and diverting field for the Sanford based RVAH-3. The detachment was composed of 12 enlisted men and led by Lt. (jg) Pete Denier, who was in command of the detachment.

On the humorous side, it seemed that the hard, slick ice on the ground made for treacherous footing and few escaped without their share of scrapes and bruises, including Denier, who, after one such fall, had to beat a hasty retreat for a quick tourist mending.

Sanford Snowbound Sailors Diplomats Give Little Credence To Peace Report

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Reports that Hanoi had taken the initiative in new Vietnam peace efforts were discounted today by diplomats in Washington, London, New York, Tokyo and Paris.

Diplomats sources in Washington, London, New York, Tokyo and Paris regarded the publication in New Delhi of a letter from North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh to the president of India as not holding any particular significance.

The letter was addressed to Indian President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan. Diplo mats said it apparently was the same as one sent recently to other world leaders but contained an additional paragraph stating that as chairman of the International Control Commission (ICC), established in 1954 to maintain a cease-fire in Vietnam, India had a "special responsibility to bring peace."

Price Hike Seen In Food Supplies Because Of Cold

The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this weekend was prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fresh fruits and vegetables will be the most expensive items in the nation's food shopping buys for this weekend, according to a guide prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

Storage vegetables, and vegetables which were already harvested remain relatively cheap. Cabbage, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, onions, parsnips, radishes, and sweet potatoes are examples.

In the fruit section, apples and bananas take the price lead. Oranges, avocados, grapefruit, and tangerines are in good supply and generally good buys.

Ground meat, roasts, and steaks are good buys. Pork chops, roasts, and steaks are also good buys. Pork chops, roasts, and steaks are also good buys.

Idaho Potato Is Defended

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Idaho's two congressmen want the government to help defend the good name of one of their state's best known products—the Idaho potato.

Rep. Compton L. White, a Democrat, and George V. Hansen, a Republican, asked the House commerce committee to hold hearings on legislation which would require potatoes sold in interstate commerce to be labeled as to state of origin.

"It is estimated that between two and three times as many potatoes are presently being marketed as Idaho potatoes that are actually grown in Idaho," they complained. "Such a situation is not fair to the producer or the consumer."

They also asked the committee to hold hearings on legislation which would require potatoes sold in interstate commerce to be labeled as to state of origin.

A 'Green Beret' Cuts A Record

By Joan Crosby

NEW YORK (UPI)—"I don't think in order to stay in the Army you have to have enough courage to shake hands on the first three rows," Barry Sadler was quoted as saying a year from now.

Since he's a staff sergeant in the U. S. Army Special Forces, Sadler hasn't enough hair to get drafted. But he does have a hit record. "The Ballad of the Green Berets" on RCA Victor, which has sold close to a half-million copies in about three weeks.

He has been on the Ed Sullivan show and he is booked for The Jimmy Dean Show on ABC-TV Friday. His manager says offers are pouring in. In his album, "The Ballad of the Green Berets," Sadler says he is a trooper whose picture is on the cover of the Army's official magazine. "The Green Beret" Sadler, who was born in Carlsbad, N. M., is a stocky, 30-year-old man with a mustache and a friendly smile.

He also had some intimate details of the honey-bunch making love.

Road Section Labor Turnover 'Holding Steady'

J. C. Lavender, county road superintendent, said Tuesday the "turnover in his department does not believe it has cost the county any substantial amount of money."

Lavender's report was in response to a report a week ago that there was a 90 percent turnover in his department last year and that it might have proven costly to the county.

"The turnover in my opinion," Lavender told the board, "is because of the increase in equipment."

"I don't believe we could keep some of these people even if we paid them $150 an hour," Lavender said.

The big turnover in the road department has been in the truck drivers. County laborers are paid $1.15 per hour.

"It would only cost the county money if we lost some of our key personnel," Lavender told the board.

In addition, Lavender said that his department had leveled off since a raise was granted to county workers last October.

"I believe our laboring force is holding steady right now," Lavender said.

Lavender said a great deal of the turnover was "seasonal" and applied to only certain jobs in certain capacities. He said some of them turn over and over, thus giving the department an understanding of the work.

There are approximately 70 workers in the County Road Department.

Local Laws Enforce Treatment Of Venereal Diseases

By Barry Laves
A little known and seldom applied law popped up in county court recently, when a man was convicted of failing to take treatment for a venereal disease.

For many years there have been county and city ordinances which make it a misdemeanor to fail to take treatment for a communicable disease. This includes not only venereal diseases, but such other illnesses as tuberculosis.

According to the county health officer, Dr. Frank Laves, it is a very rare instance when it is necessary to take anyone into court under this law.

"We don't like to implement the law if we can help it," Laves said. He pointed out that usually those who fail to take treatment for a venereal disease are those "in a low socio-economic" class who are usually "afraid of treatment."

"We try a gentle and understanding approach with these people," the doctor said, "and attempt to convince them to take treatment. When they refuse, Laves and other health officials turn to the law."

Usually, Laves said, just having a law enforcement officer, someone in uniform, explain to them they can be arrested will be enough to get them to take treatment. "But," he said, "sometimes we have to report for treatment."

Leone, in his four years in the county health unit, has never personally taken anyone to court for failing to secure medical attention. The particular case which reached county court recently was instigated by a representative of the state health department.

The city of Sanford has an ordinance also requiring treatment for venereal disease. However, Police Officer Lavelle Jennings says it has been many years since anyone was jailed in Sanford for this offense.

"Years ago," he said, "during World War II, we had an awful lot of people in jail on this charge. They were mostly camp followers. But, it's been about 10 years since we arrested anyone for this."

It is Section 12.3 of the City Ordinance which sets forth the law for Sanford for this offense.

"All persons in the city who are afflicted with a venereal disease are hereby notified in writing to do so by the health officer or the city health unit for treatment to a reputable physician and continue treatment until cured of such disease or to submit to treatment provided at public expense.

"If any person suspected of having any venereal disease, as stated herein, shall refuse after written notification to report for treatment and cure of such disease, the health officer or the director of the county health unit may appear before the municipal judge of the city and give testimony before such municipal judge in regard to the matter and upon his making an affidavit before the municipal judge setting forth the facts constituting his suspicion of venereal disease, the municipal judge may issue his warrant for the apprehension and arrest of such person by any police officer of the city, the health officer or the director of the county health unit, and try such person upon such charge and upon conviction thereof may impose punishment as provided in Section 1.8 of this Code. If such person is imprisoned he shall be isolated from any other persons confined in the city jail. Section 1.8 of the City Code sets forth the penalty for infraction of the law. It states the penalty shall be not less than $200 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding 90 days, or both. Each day any violation of any provision of this code or any ordinance shall constitute a separate offense."

Dr. Laves, in saying he did not like to force implementation of the law, stated the case is not the most important thing. What is important is getting the person in getting the person exposed to the disease by the infected patient.

Expenditure Of Longwood Funds Eyed By Council
By Donna Estes
A lengthy discussion took place at a special meeting of the Longwood City Council concerning the amount of money an individual councillor may spend without approval and authorization of the board.

The discussion developed following a report by Councilman John Deaton that he had authorized road grade repairs at an estimated cost of $1,500. Deaton argued that since the expenditure was within his budget for the street department, he had authority to spend whatever funds he deemed necessary and that getting prior approval of the board would "halt progress."

Councilman Eugene Jaques pointed out that other cities of comparable size in the area limit amount of expenditures which can be made without council approval and are "progressing at a more rapid pace" while Councilman E. E. Williamson urged that city business be kept separate from business people whenever possible.

On a motion by Jaques, with second by Williamson, it was unanimously agreed that expenditures exceeding $100 must have prior approval of council.

Committees appointed by Council Chairman Percy White were Williamson and Deaton, buildings, parks and grounds; Jaques and Paul Maloney, finance; White and Maloney, water; Deaton and Jaques, streets, lights, and roads; Maloney and Jaques, fire department; Williamson and Maloney, cemetery. First named in each committee serves as chairman.

In other business, council agreed to install a telephone extension in the lobby of the clerk's office for the convenience of city employees. It also was agreed to request the street committee to investigate costs of constructing sidewalks on Orange Avenue from Grant Street to Longwood Elementary School and on Highland Avenue from the school to Longdale subdivision as recommended by Williamson in order to protect the school children.

Next business meeting of council is scheduled Feb. 17 when a representative of Glaxo Engineering Company will appear to suggest ways and means of obtaining federal grants and funds for building a city sewerage system and for further improving the water system.

Dogs in England were the first to feast upon commercial pet food. A dog biscuit was introduced in that country 100 years ago. Today the U. S. leads in the manufacture of pet foods, producing more than 2.5 billion pounds annually.

Rock-Rollers: Read This!
ROSS-ON WYE, England (UPI) — Mayor Frank W. Ross don't stand a chance at Harvey Frear's ballroom. After neighbors objected to the renewal of his music and dancing license last year because of the noise, Frear is now in the lobby of the clerk's office for a traffic light warning system on the ballroom stage — attached to a sound-level meter.

When the amplified guitars pound out at 60 decibels, a green light shows. When the level reaches 80 decibels, there is a warning amber light. And at 90 decibels the groups get a red signal.

If they don't tone down within 10 seconds, Frear pulls the plug on their amplified equipment.

The system apparently is a hit with the neighbors. When his license came up for renewal last week, there wasn't a single objection.

Salute To Boy Scouts

We salute the Boy Scouts of America on their 50th birthday this week. More than 1,000 boys in Seminole County are engaged in Scouting. In addition about 300 adult leaders voluntarily give of their time to aid the cause of Scouting.

The current theme of the Boy Scouts is "Breakthrough for Youth." Boys have always found the Scouts a "breakthrough" but this year the theme has a special meaning.

There is a movement under way in Scouting to make the Boy Scouts of America available to every boy. Unfortunately, in the past, there have been many cases of boys wanting to be Scouts but couldn't afford it. There is some expense to being

It's Knocking

An Indiana father has won his battle with the local school board over sex, the population explosion and birth control. His two teenage daughters will henceforth be exempted from biology class when such "embarrassing" subjects are discussed.

Unfortunately, while this father may have preserved the innocence of his children, there is no way he can get them excused from the practical consequences of these very real problems, which will be with them in worsening degree throughout their lives.

The domestic and international ramifications of the worldwide population explosion are not to be escaped in Indiana or anywhere else.

The people there may not hunger for food but they, like the rest of us, are experiencing the demands of this phenomenon in a very direct way in the form of higher taxes to pay for more and more schools, more hospitals, more prisons, more welfare, more of all the facilities and services necessary to maintain society.

They are feeling its effects in terms of the quality and quantity of the very air they breathe, the water they drink and the land they live on.

NOW PLAYING THE CAPITOL THEATER

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Kay agreed to try the "snooze" strategy. He was not so sure. If you remember girls will memorize this technique, as a star salesman memorizes his sales talk, you will find that miracles can occur right before your eyes. In fact, you may need to rub your eyes because of your amazement. But rate 'em before you date 'em steadily, so send for the tests below.

CASE: Y-431. Kay T., aged 20, is the Northwestern University cood who scared off marriage prospects by acting too hard.

"Dr. Crane," she asked, "why do some girls become so popular they receive many proposals of marriage?"

"Yet others of just as much popularity receive many proposals of marriage off by the men?"

"The successful girls subconsciously employ what we psychologists call the 'mousetrap' strategy."

"They don't show any overt pursuit of the male?"

"They bait him in their direction by judicious compliments but meanwhile disclaim interest in marriage."

Since the average male thinks every girl is dying to be married, it shocks him when she says she is not.

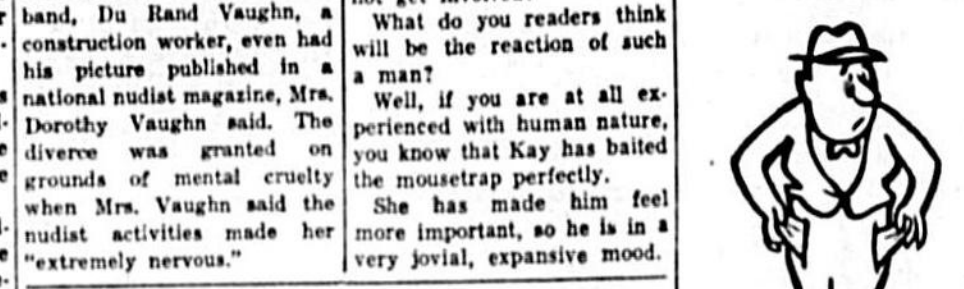

"But a man like you is too attractive to be so easily seduced. I simply must not get involved!"

What do you readers think will be the reaction of such a man?

Well, if you are at all experienced with human nature, you know that Kay has baited the mousetrap perfectly.

She has made him feel very important, so he is in a very jovial, expansive mood.

Political Notebook

President Johnson is getting very close to declaring the spring adjournment of the White House conference on civil rights which he hopes will avert the pitfalls that last November's planning session suffered.

That earlier meeting actually produced some very useful ideas. But it is agreed these were largely buried amid a good deal of stale argument and much dithering between militant and conservative civil rights leaders as to the course their movement should take.

Acutely aware of this situation, the White House is being urged by outside sources to be prepared to speed up to $300,000 or more to mount a larger party this spring—perhaps in the last week of May.

Staff discussions in the White House have been indicating the high degree of the President's own interest in the subject.

Nevertheless, there are still significant ruminations from civil rights leaders and others to suggest that the President will be hard-pressed to bring off a full-blown conference satisfactory to all.

One civil rights source in New York reports that some planning for the spring session is well advanced.

Despite these and other complaints, the more settled elements in the civil rights movement expect the President to go all out to develop a full-sized conference which might serve as some kind of watershed in tightly condensed Washington office space.

Many Negro leaders privately concede they are disappointed and new drive. They agree that the era of protest, as expressed simply in sit-ins and street demonstrations, is passing.

By the time a new conference is held, these leaders may have had their confidence somewhat bolstered by further physical protection for civil rights demonstrators.

They do not believe it is altogether accidental that Johnson has chosen this time of doubt and confusion to name a stable string of Negroes to high federal posts—including the federal judiciary awarded to Constance Baker Motley.

They expect the President also to press for quick congressional action on legislative proposals to afford better physical protection for civil rights workers and assure Negro representation on southern courts.

Sympathizers with the civil rights movement say, however, that they are still looking for evidence of fresh initiatives and better collaboration among the Negro leaders themselves.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

Operation Beautiful wishes to thank you for the very complete news coverage given in promotion of our Arbor Day project. Your fine news and interesting pictures will help send many more people to colleges and universities, who otherwise would not be present.

Smoky Bear presented us with a big bear for our school children. These plans were given through the Forestry Service by Mr. Harris at the Longwood Tower.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Mrs. Velle Williams Jr.
Arbor Day Chairman.

Editor, Herald:

On behalf of Governor Haydon Burns, I want to thank you for your assistance and support for the 1966 Governor's Scholarship Ball for Central Florida. It might interest you to know that this ball raised in excess of $27,000 for scholarships in this area. Please accept my apology for the failure of the system. Every precaution was taken in advance, but you know the old saying about "the best laid plans..." We had a capacity crowd, and we hope everyone enjoyed themselves.

There is no need for me to point out that your support of the earlier party was delayed at least six weeks beyond the original target date in December. Admittedly this has slowed White House planning for the spring session.

Many of our buyers were not present when Smoky Bear presented us with a big bear for our school children. These plans were given through the Forestry Service by Mr. Harris at the Longwood Tower.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Mrs. Velle Williams Jr.
Arbor Day Chairman.

Temporary rinses, hair lighteners, and high fashion blondes for regular hair care and hair toners. The firm points out an expected $2 billion plus in beauty salon sales. This represents money women spend for regular hair care and hair toners.

The new woman will find the job of bathing baby less frightening if she sets up supplies within reach. Ever wonder about the state of women coloring their hair? One manufacturer makes more than 200 shades of permanent hair color lotions. Temporary rinses, hair lighteners, and high fashion blondes for regular hair care and hair toners. The firm points out an expected $2 billion plus in beauty salon sales. This represents money women spend for regular hair care and hair toners.

The new woman will find the job of bathing baby less frightening if she sets up supplies within reach. This includes soft cheesecloth washcloths, cotton swabs, large bath towel or blanket, small bath towel for drying, diaper safety pin, cleaner room, nappies for baby, sponge, shirt, kimono or nightgown, bath apron, paper bag or tamper for soiled clothes and diaper pail.

A new fad for campus ladies is wearing exact replicas of Turkish sword-dancer's tassled socks. These are available in beige wool with red handwork and pompons. They are part companion for shorts.

Apply make-up with clean mitts and brushes.

Use shadow make-up for color and contour. It makes the whites of the eyes look whiter and also brings out the color in one's eyes.

Be sparing with eye make-up for daytime. Sunlight or artificial light is harsh on the eyes and too much make-up makes the face appear rough.

If your eyes are very proud, extend shadow and eye liner past the outer corner. Also extend false eyelashes to the outer corner when you wear them to overcome this problem.

Thieves Active; Take All But Kitchen Sink

NEW YORK (NEA)—There was no kitchen sink stolen in 1965 but some of the other national items were up for the difference.

Thieves in Whittier, Calif., stole a new lawnmower and a lawnmower, thinking the men were working for the owner.

And the entire front porch was stolen from a house in Norfolk, Va.

In Auburn, N. Y., an ambitious thief stole a 3,000-pound steamroller. Valued at more than $1,000, the vehicle has a top speed of only five miles per hour.

Blackouts seem to be the rage in Ithaca, N. Y., seven 27-foot-long light poles were stolen and an entire section of the English-Scottish railroad was blacked out for a distance of seven miles when thieves cut off the signal and telephone cable.

Some thieves will steal anything. An Ovid, N. Y., farmer had 10 bags of beans weighing many hundreds of pounds stolen and in Detroit, Michigan, someone stole one-half of the city's telephone booths. They had only two.

A tree was stolen in Ballston Spa, N. Y., and was found by police standing in a tub of water in the thief's home. And three live oak trees were stolen from a home in Atlanta.

Some robbers may have been planning a party in Syracuse, N. Y., for they took 40 cartons of cigarettes, three gallons of ice cream, 12 cans of instant coffee, 10 cartons of soft drinks, 30 packages of pastry and a transistor radio, well-to-do burglar in St. Joseph, Mo. He made off with 500 pounds of roll sausage, 100 pounds of meat patties, 12 pounds of bacon, 50 pounds of ribs, 100 pounds of lard and 60 pounds of chili. Enough for quite a barbecue.

Some robbers just don't seem to have that delicate touch. In San Pablo, Calif., another set off a burglar alarm, another fell off the store roof and another got stuck in a ventilator shaft. And in Waycross, Ga., police answered cries for help and found a housebreaker stuck in the chimney.

Some thieves don't check up before hitting. In Trenton, N. J., a thief stole $1 million worth of securities, all of them either cancelled checks or non-negotiable.

Thieves continue to climb. A police chief estimates that a million automobiles will be stolen in 1970 if the present rate continues. The FBI reports that a burglary is committed once every 22 minutes and New York City police last year received a total of 46,000 burglary reports.

Police came in for some hard rap in the Lafayette field in Nagpur, India, a police payroll of $1,700 was stolen from the police station. In Wichita, Kan., a department store security officer, after a hard day watching for shoplifters, discovered that all the gas had been siphoned from his car's tank. The thief also took the gas cap.

And speaking of keys, police were really startled when they found a suspect with keys to the front door of the new city hall and police station in Astoria, Ore. The building was so new that even the police didn't have keys. And in Austin, Tex., burglars looted several coin-operated vending machines in the police station. Nothing is safe. In New Orleans, the wig match racket is really booming. One thief carried off hair pieces valued at $22,000. A Kansas City, Mo., thief snatched the wig off a woman's head while she was dining in a restaurant.

Robbers use all kinds of tools. In Syracuse they used a cannon to blast a hole in a vault. Another thief left a bank 70 cents more than it had when he left his own London store lost a bunch of phonograph records. All the records were the same set: "Thou Shalt Not Steal."

Some prisoners are honest. The only thing that a Scheensted, N. Y., burglar took after breaking into a home was a bath.

A home's burglar alarm was set off when a man kneeling on the counter in Twickenham, England, Six marked bandits swiping baseball bats, with only one armed with a gun, held up a bank in South Woodford, England.

The only thing that a Scheensted, N. Y., burglar took after breaking into a home was a bath.

Another robber broke into a hospital in Baton Rouge, La. London store lost a bunch of phonograph records. All the records were the same set: "Thou Shalt Not Steal."

Automobile Industry Pacing Economy To Record Heights

Detroit (UPI)—The American auto industry boomed as never before in 1965 and paced the national economy to record heights.

Production and sales were the big stories of the year. Never before have so many Americans plunked down so many dollars to buy so many automobiles.

Before the year ended, the industry had turned out a total of nearly 9 million cars, compared with the previous record of 7.9 million set in the banner year of 1955. Total car, bus and truck production ran around the 11 million mark, shattering the all-time record of 9.2 million set last year.

Profits rolled in as never before for the "Big Three" of the industry—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, GM, which produced a little more than half the industry output, reported record profits for the first nine months of 1965 of $1,839 million. Ford and Chrysler also set all-time profit records, with Ford climbing up to the tune of $1,482 million.

American Motors did not show in the general gross profit and was forced to cut its stock dividend from 25 cents to 12 1/2 cents on Aug. 2 when nine-month earnings plunged.

By the end of 1965, more than 80 million motor vehicles were registered in the United States. The value of cars sold last year was estimated at about $15 billion dollars, and one in every six business had their collective breathes held in 1965 while waiting to see how the price of 1966 models would go.

In the fall of 1965, the auto firms had signed three-year contracts with the United Auto Workers Union giving the union the best part in its history. It was generally feared an auto price boost was in prospect to offset the wage. Under government pressure, the auto companies decided to add at least five safety devices to all new cars. The back-up lights, rear seat belts, mirror, padded instrument panel and two-speed windshield wipers and washers.

Each auto company increased the price of its cars, but in most cases the increase was less than the cost of the options that had become standard, according to the auto firms.

General Motors, Ford and AMC followed with car price announcements. In each case, it was determined that the price boost on the basic car was less than the car would have cost in 1964 with the options added.

But, observers said, the cost of the options to the auto firms, when they became standard on all models, would be much less than in 1964 because of volume.

AMC made a bid to increase its share of the market by trimming the actual price of most of its basic models.

The industry received a big boost from the government when the 10 per cent federal excise tax on automobiles was reduced to 7 per cent. Each of the auto companies immediately passed the savings onto the buyer, in many cases refunding the sum to those who had purchased cars while the cut was being considered by Congress.

The success story of the year continued to be Ford's Mustang. The public took the car as never before for a single model. The 1965 Falcon previously had been the most popular model ever introduced, selling 417,174 units in its first year. The Mustang's sales were in March of 1965 and its single-year sales passed the Falcon record.

Acceptance of the 1965 models, introduced in the fall of 1964, was beyond any estimate in the auto industry. As usual, the cars were bigger, sleeker, more powerful and were loaded with scores of innovations. The Mustang, from tilting steering wheels to stereo radio.

The 1965 models were introduced this fall. There were few major exterior changes, but luxury was the keynote. The auto makers were firmly convinced the public does not want unadorned, stripped-down cars.

Optional equipment on the 1965 models had the widest range in automotive history. One could now get a top-of-the-line model, Chrysler came up with a 440-cubic-inch V-8 with a hemispherical head. Ford announced a 68-cubic-inch engine and Chevrolet offered two V-8s with 427-cubic-inch rental topped them all with a 452-cubic-inch engine that has a horsepower rating of 310.

What's in the future? GM President James M. Boice looks for "a continuation of the record sales levels reached during the 1965 model year." Ford President Arjay Miller believes the outlook for 1966 model auto sales "is as promising as that for the economy as a whole."

FAMILIAR FACE — The mop of golden curls may be gone, but the dimpled smile is not, and it's enough to identify Shirley Temple as a player in the movie world. The child star of the '30s, she's now 30 these days as Mrs. Charles Black, is now 30.

Talent Show Set For March 12 At Lake Mary

By Frances Westler
Plans for the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce annual talent show, scheduled this year for March 12, were announced by Morris Roly at the organization's February meeting.

Three cash prizes will be awarded the top talent winners that night, a first prize of $25, second of $15 and third, $10. Also, two cash door prizes will be given. John Spolaki will be master of ceremonies for the show and a different type judging will be done this year.

Committee members on the project are Ruby, ticket sales chairman; H. M. Glason, publicity; Richard Koch, auctioneer; and planning and John Norden.

The group promises good entertainment for the whole family. Tickets are on sale and available from all C. O. officers, at the Lake Mary School, and at businesses in Lake Mary. A report on the smorgasbord dinner put on by the chamber was given by Mrs. Violet Beckhorn, who also thanked everyone who took part. A total of $1031.41 was taken in and after deducting $80.00 for expenses, a $250.41 profit was realized.

D. S. Jackson, president, stated that he was overwhelmed with success of the dinner, and that it was due to the fine cooperation of everyone.

Mrs. Beckhorn also reported on the Lake Mary Community Library which is open every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and Saturday morning. She stated that now the need is for people to come in and read the books. "The girls sit there and there is no business," she said. Also, if anyone would like to help by staying at the library part time during open hours, please let them know.

Lowell Jones, chairman of the house numbering committee, was unable to attend and make his report. Julius C. Blackwell, volunteered to serve on this committee.

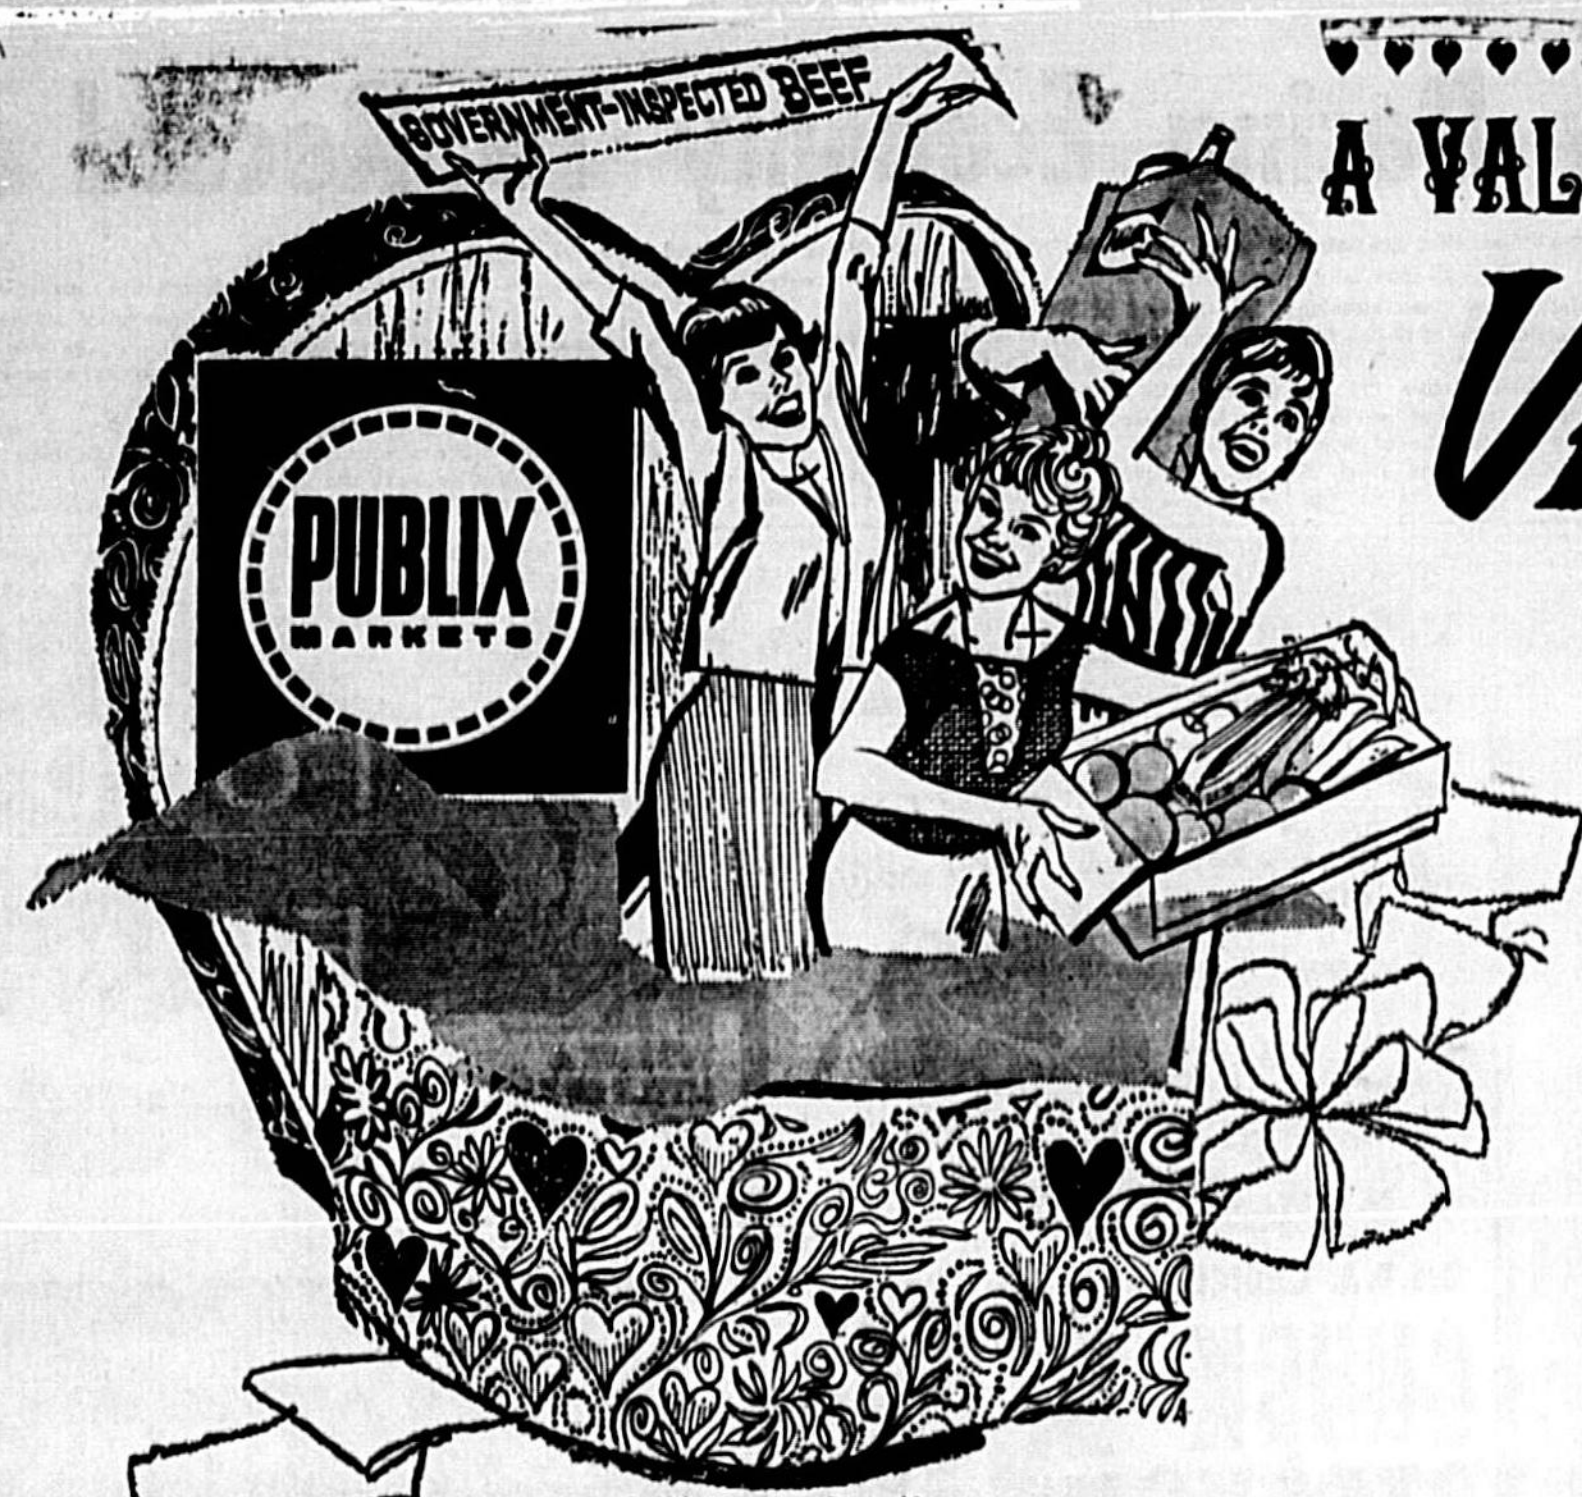

Harvey Pugh spoke on the volunteer fire department and the plans to enlarge the present building. Work has already been started and it is all volunteer. The men will greatly appreciate all the help they can get, in labor, material and capital.

John Norden made a motion that the chamber assist in the building financially which was passed unanimously by the members present. Pugh also stated that Saturday is the heavy work day for the firemen if anyone could help with labor.

Jack Schwabert is chairman of the building committee and may be contacted about the material needed.

Ed Zimmerman announced the annual Fireman's Banquet Supper for Feb. 19 at the Fire Hall. He reported 145 people were served last year. Proceeds will go toward the addition to the building which is needed now to house more fire equipment.

Citizens' Apathy 'Dangerous,' Prosecutor Says

By Frances Westler
The dangerous apathy of the average American citizen toward what is going on in the country today was stressed by Kenneth W. McIntosh, prosecuting attorney, when he spoke on the subject "Your Answer for the Law Is Imperative" at the February meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.

"One of the major problems in America today is the internal lawlessness that is running rampant in our country. Twenty-six billion dollars was spent in 1965 to combat crime," McIntosh went on to explain, "and we are not down into the roots of the problem we find that it is the average American citizen who is neglecting his duty. They do not care. They are not interested. They do not want to get involved."

"One out of ten individuals give excuses to get out of jury duty. There are few willing to serve on a jury to furnish information is another reason for this increase in internal lawlessness."

"We handle over 3,000 cases in the county court in the year 1965," McIntosh told the members. "The future of Lake Mary, Sanford, and Seminole County is at stake. I hope that you are taking an active part in shaping it's future. I have a feeling that I am talking to the wrong people tonight. The ones that should hear it are not here." McIntosh answered the question "What can I do to help?" stating "You can speak to me when called upon; be helpful and willing to help. You can perform jury service. You can give information to law enforcement officers. You can read the newspaper and keep abreast of what is going on in the world."

"Overcome the attitude of complacency to let George do it, let the church do it, let the school do it. Judicial administration is your responsibility. We should strive for prevention rather than punitive measures."

"If we are to maintain our democracy we MUST overcome some of this apathy we have. I hope the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce will become dynamic in action and make this community a beacon for all free people. The challenge is yours. You must accept it," McIntosh said in conclusion.

GENERAL FORECAST: A day and evening when all kinds of chances are present for you to make much headway and progress by adopting a very formal, conventional and conservative attitude...

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): A considerable amount of data can be gotten today while discharging regular tasks. Take care you are not too forceful where money or romantic affairs are concerned...

Taurus (April 20 to May 20): If you concentrate on work ahead of you and are steadfast, you will soon complete it, provided you make radical changes. Co-workers will cooperate better...

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Personal aims are within easy reach, but being forceful where the material is concerned is most unwise. Show that you have special talents worthy of backing. You are able to get ahead very quick...

LEO (July 21 to Aug. 21): An early start at your shopping or making calls of a professional nature will be profitable. The right results. Garner information you need. Don't press matters at home or you get into a pack of trouble...

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 22): Getting busy on own interests is fine, but avoid that frustrating individual who is trying to steal your spotlight. Show others how attractive you can be. However, don't be too extravagant...

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Being more altruistic and helping those who are in dire need is important at this time. Getting rid of whatever impedes your advancement...

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Avoid too much deliberation on that particularly thorny problem you've been worrying about, but if you continue in good faith, it will be easier to solve. It just goes away from you. Be social...

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Getting out into bustling business world is best instead of wasting time with those who like to gossip. Much advancement in connection with this time. Be very busy and don't go off on tangents...

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): New contacts can be very helpful as well as communications with those who are out-of-town, but don't argue with one in business. Take the time to improve credit. Plan now so that it can be done wisely later...

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20): Experts will give you the advice you need, so listen intently to what they have to say—avoid those new and untried sources. Get explanations before you set out just to find out...

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those very clever youngsters who will want to cooperate with everyone around him. He will also be ever studying how to make conditions better and more modern. The desire to help fellow man is so great that it will be a matter of intuition and understanding rather than book learning...

Floods Rampage In 9 States

United Press International Two days of heavy rains and unseasonably warm weather provoked river flooding in nine states today from Texas to Minnesota.

More than 600 persons fled their homes ahead of high waters in Texas, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Lesser flooding occurred in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Missouri and Illinois.

More than 300 persons were forced to flee at Gay's Mills, Wis., and 60 more in the village of Soldier's Grove as the Kickapoo River rose 2.5 feet above flood stage Wednesday.

Nearly 200 were removed from homes at Galveston, Tex., and families had to be evacuated at Rushford, Minn., and Winter, Neb.

Damaging winds lashed Fort Worth, Tex., Wednesday, some clocked at 100 mph. A line of power poles were downed at Victoria, Tex.

Mud and streams rose swiftly as warm weather melted snow and heavy rains added to the runoff. The February drafters are Eddie Hill, Wayne Ryder, Robert Burke, Ray Holtzclaw.

Marines 'Take' Picnic Peninsula

TAMPA (Special) — The amphibious assault on Picnic Peninsula began early in the afternoon. The peaceful atmosphere of the bay was suddenly shattered when the din of automatic small weapons fire erupted from three armored monitors approaching the shore from the bay.

The amphibious landing assault, in the best Marine Corps tradition, was built on smaller but similar lines to the landmark famous landing on Iwo Jima, Tarawa, and Saipan.

The assault wasn't a large scale amphibious operation. It only involved 23 Marines from Sanford Naval Air Station, and a few support personnel.

The assault was planned and carried out under the direction of Lt. Col. B. T. Chen, commanding officer of the 3rd Marine Battalion, and under the command of Capt. J. F. Carney, executive officer. Members of the reserve amphibious tractor battalion were commanded by Maj. P. Weston, who also was the aggressor commander.

The mystery of "was it one letter or two?" or "how much money does the State of Florida want for the audit?"

The puzzling facts of the mystery are: (1) Mayor B. E. Black read a letter to council at the reorganizational meeting Jan. 6, which he stated was from Finance Commissioner, calling for $5,000 to be placed in escrow to pay for the audit. Council then took immediate action authorizing that the $5,000 be put in escrow.

Personnel from the state have been working on the audit for the past two weeks. (The State Auditor's office informed The Herald by telephone that the $10,000 figure is correct.)

Satire Staged For Demo Women

The skit was entitled "If the Shoe Fits, Put It On." Mrs. Everett Porter, president of the Parliamentary Law Unit of Winter Park, conducted the mock meeting with four other members of the organization acting as the audience. After the skit, which contained much humor, the members of the law unit and the Democratic Women's Club took a short break.

At the meeting, Mrs. Porter was Mrs. Roy Kennedy, Mrs. E. Lawrence, Mrs. John Walters and Mrs. Thomas Parks, all of Winter Park.
