Tip Jail Inmates' Funds Missing Leads To Probe Of Trust Account

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Within a month Seminole County Sheriff John Polk said he expects to know if funds are missing from the "inmate trust fund," at the Seminole County jail.

Since January the Casselberry accounting firm of Selph and Usher, at Polk's request, has been reviewing the records of the fund, which contains monies inmates had with them when booked into jail and additional funds they have received from family or friends or in transfers from their personal bank accounts.

The inmate trust fund is a separate account from the "inmate welfare fund," which holds the monies paid into the commissary. The welfare fund money is used to buy things like televisions for inmate use, and it is in order, contrary to published reports, Polk said.

Polk said that in December he received a tip that records of withdrawals and deposits to the trust fund did not match. That spurred the investigation, which Polk said, remains confidential.

under the law, until complete.

The CPA findings, he said, will be a matter of public record after that portion of the investigation is complete. But any follow-up criminal investigation, if needed, will remain confidential until concluded.

Inmates are not allowed to have cash in the jail. Their monies are put into a communal bank account and, as inmates make purchases from the jail commissary, the amounts of their purchases are deducted from their accounts and are

Sign Of The Times

Geneva property owner Rod Goddard expresses his sentiments about Sanford's plans to buy a 2,200-acre site on the northeast shore of Lake Jesup for disposal of treated sewage with this sign posted at corner of Swamp Road and State Road 46. The wastewater disposal plans are slated for discussion tonight at 7 at the Geneva community center. County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff is expected to be on hand for the meeting.

Longwood Chief's Supporters Vocal

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

About a dozen supporters of Longwood Police Chief Greg Manning, under investigation by the city administrator by order of the city commission, came to the chief's defense at Monday night's commission meeting.

Cheering and applauding mention of Manning and verbally attacking the two commissioners, Dave Gunter and Lynette Dennis, who have been critical of him, they brought with them petitions bearing 135 signatures in support of Manning and the Longwood Police Department.

Ironically, the petition demanding "the vendetta against him (Manning) be stopped immediately along with the wasteful spending of tax dollars in carrying out the vendetta or resign your seat from the commission," was presented by former city councilman Bill Mitchell. Mitchell, who was defeated by Gunter in the last city commission election, was extremely critical of Manning's running of the police department in his campaign statements.

The commission voted unanimously at the July 6 meeting to direct City Administrator Ron Waller to investigate a long list of charges

Expressway Decision Next

By Ted Carter
Herald Staff Writer

A decision on the most ambitious road-building project in Seminole County history is expected to come Wednesday when the county's expressway authority convenes at the Lake Mary High School auditorium to select final routes east and west of Interstate 4.

Hundreds of people, many of whom have homes, apartments or businesses within the path of the favored eastern route from State Road 434 to the Interstate, are expected to turn out for a 4 p.m. hearing in the school auditorium. The auditorium was chosen because it seats 628 people.

A vote on whether to select the route recommended by authority advisory committees and consultants is scheduled to follow the hearing. Known as route 53, the approximate 18-mile highway alignment crosses the western end of Lake Jesup and continues across U.S. Highway 17-92 near the Shenandoah Village apartment complex. From there, the alignment moves northwest across Lake Mary Boulevard before veering slightly to the northeast across Lake Mary Road and County Road 46A, through several Sanford neighborhoods. The route then turns to the west for a linkup with I-4 about one mile south of State Road 46.

Consultants say route 53's estimated $245 million cost is about $30 million less than the two other routes still under consideration. They also say it would save about 24.1 million hours of travel time compared to the present road system, and about 1 million annually compared to the other routes.

The top rated route 53 would claim the entire 100 apartment units at Shenandoah Village, four other multi-family units, 49 single-family dwellings and less than a half dozen businesses and community facilities.

Scheduled next is public comment on the county's portion of the western beltway from I-4 to the Wekiva River, the cost of which is estimated at $45 million. The route, which has been recommended by authority consultants and the state Department of Transportation, runs along the abandoned Southern Railroad right of way. Plans are to have it link-up at the Wekiva with the beltway portion extending west and north of Orlando.

Bill Kirchhoff, a county commissioner and expressway authority member, has said he plans to make a motion to delay a hearing and decision on the western leg in order to give it the authority's "undivided attention." Other authority members have indicated, however, they want to see how the first hearing goes before deciding whether to delay the second one.

A spokesman for Friends of 46, a group seeking to have the western route avoid the State Road 46 corridor, said the group does not want a delay in the authority's selection of a western route. Spokesman Bob Poe said the group fears a delay could give developers more time to persuade authority members to select the SR 46 corridor.

The first call for an Orange-Seminole beltway came in 1965, after a study predicted the absence of such a highway would mean increased traffic problems as the two counties grew in population.

Studies in the early 1970s, after the opening of Disney World, further emphasized the need for a beltway. As the volume of traffic on highways in an around Orlando began to exert a stranglehold by 1983, the Orlando-Orange County Expressway Authority produced a long-range expressway plan, calling for a beltway funded by tolls.

By 1984, the Seminole County Expressway Authority was formed. Its first task was identification of a corridor through Seminole County to I-4. An alignment study for the Seminole portion was under way in 1985. In June 1986, the authority hired a director, who along with consultants, proposed 69 possible alignments within the corridor. This summer, those alignments were narrowed to three choices, of which alignment 53 is recommended by the consultants and three advisory committees of the authority.

The first tangible sign that a beltway would be built came last week, when Gov. Bob Martinez took the controls of a wrecking ball and knocked a large hole in what used to be an ABC Liquors store on Highway 50. The crash of the wrecking ball marked the beginning of construction of the initial leg from near the East-West Expressway in Orlando to south Seminole County.

In Altamonte Apartment

Murder-Suicide Discovered

An Altamonte Springs couple is dead, in an apparent murder-suicide, with the man having shot his wife and then himself in the bedroom of their home.

The shooting took place while a 3-year-old boy slept on the living room sofa, police said.

Altamonte Springs police called to the scene at 5:21 a.m. today were withholding the names of the victims pending notification of next of kin, police spokesman Jim Viner said.

The couple died at their home at the Sandy Cove Condominiums

#195, 614 Orange Avenue. Police found the sleeping boy when they arrived on the scene. Viner said he had not been harmed.

Viner said that a .32-or .38-caliber handgun, found at the scene, is believed to be the weapon used in the killings. He said the victims are in their early to mid 20s.

"It's hard to say exactly what happened. But at this point, it appears he did it to her and then took his life," Viner said. He added that the police investigation had just begun.

School Board To Consider Firing Custodian Who 'Kidded' With Knife

The Seminole County School Board is expected to act on a recommendation to dismiss a Lake Brantley High School custodian Wednesday as a result of the custodian allegedly putting a knife to a cheerleader's throat.

Richard Bernard Pringle, 29, said he did hold a knife to a girl's throat, but says he was "just kidding around" and apologized for the incident.

John Reichert, the school district's personnel director, says the incident happened during cheerleader practice last week. Pringle was suspended July 14-16 with pay after the incident was reported by the girl. After an investigation, in which statements from other students who apparently were nearby and witnessed the incident when it occurred, confirmed Pringle's actions, he was suspended without pay pending school board action Wednesday.

Pringle has been a custodian for the school district since Aug. 11, 1986. Karen Coleman, coordinator of community relations and public information for the Seminole

Heat May Help Combat Cancer, Researcher Says

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Heat and drugs may combine to make cancer cells more vulnerable to radiation treatment, a Florida State University researcher said Monday.

Combining the three elements could become one of the greatest advances in cancer treatment since radiation therapy was first used in 1896, said Dr. Kurt Hofer of the FSU Institute of Molecular Biophysics.

Hofer, who has been conducting cancer research for 20 years, is testing drugs that could make cancer cells more susceptible to radiation treatment.

Hofer hopes to combine such drugs with heat, which also make cancer cells more vulnerable to radiation. He advocates applying heat levels up to 107.6 degrees, which will not harm healthy cells but will kill some cancer cells and make others more vulnerable to radiation.

"In Europe, hyperthermia treatment is commonplace," Hofer says. "That's not the case here."

Hofer prefers radiation treatment to chemical therapy. Chemical therapy can knock out the body's own immune system, leaving it unable to kill off the remaining cancer cells treatment has been unable to reach.

"At some point, the body itself has to destroy the remaining few cells, or they will regrow," Hofer said. "Unlike chemotherapy, which knocks out the patient's immune response, heat and these drugs would have little or no effect on the immune system. They would leave the immune system healthy, able to do its job of cleaning up what's left of the cancer."

Hofer is testing several radio-sensitizing drugs on cancer in mice, including one called misonidazole. Misonidazole makes cancer cells more susceptible to radiation, but it has toxic side effects.

He is also researching two misonidazole-related drugs that humans may tolerate.

Poindexter: Big Decision Took Little Effort

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The fateful decision that led to President Reagan's worst crisis and stalled American foreign policy for months apparently took former national security adviser John Poindexter only minutes to make — and he still does not think it was any big deal.

Showing brief flashes of anger in a fourth day of testimony, Poindexter told the congressional committees probing the Iran-Contra scandal he has no regrets about his actions and sees no need to apologize for misleading Congress about the operations that have riveted much of the nation for eight months.

The Navy rear admiral was summoned today for a fifth and final appearance at the televised hearings on Capitol Hill.

It was Monday that the pipe-smoking Poindexter, who asserts he alone approved the diversion of money to Nicaraguan Contra rebels from secret U.S. arms sales to Iran, told the committees he made that decision in a matter of minutes last year because he was certain the president would have liked the idea.

In those same few minutes, however, Poindexter said he immediately recognized the political damage that could be caused if the diversion became known and he therefore decided not to tell Reagan about it.

At the time, U.S. military aid to the Contras was prohibited by Congress.

Whether Reagan knew of the diversion despite his repeated denials eventually became a focal point of the scandal. Poindexter answered that question last week, but his claim that the president would have approved the plan had White House officials disputing him even as he returned for questioning Monday.

Lt. Col. Oliver North, the Marine who presented the plan to Poindexter as a National Security Council aide, has said the diversion was suggested to him in January 1986 by Manucher Ghorbanifar, an Iranian middleman who was searching for a way to make arms sales to Iran more palatable to the U.S. government.

Poindexter told the committees Monday that North presented the idea to him at a brief afternoon meeting in his office in February 1986. He said he believed the scheme was North's idea.

"I thought about it for several minutes while he was standing there," Poindexter recalled. "After thinking about it and thinking about what authority I had, what the president would do if he were asked, the controversy that would exist if this became public ... I told Colonel North to go ahead because I thought it was a good idea."

Poindexter said he thought the plan would be a legal way to provide help to the rebels fighting Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government until Congress approved $100 million in new U.S. aid, which it did a few months later.

The Navy officer said he believed the diversion would be "an added benefit of the Iranian project" that

IN BRIEF

Postal Contract Expires; Leaders Reject Strike Call

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Contract negotiations between the U.S. Postal Service and its two biggest unions dragged into the early hours today with labor leaders rejecting a call for an illegal nationwide strike.

In a computer message to his union offices nationwide, Moe Biller, president of the American Postal Workers Union, said he was expecting a new wage offer from the Postal Service but added no further details.

Labor contracts technically expired at midnight Monday, but talks continued early today at a Washington hotel. Neither side would say whether they had agreed to "stop the clock," keeping contracts in effect, but there was no call for a strike that would interrupt mail service.

Shortly after midnight, chief Postal Service spokesman Jim Van Loozen said, "All I can tell you is that nobody has left the hotel. I simply don't have any more for you."

Moon Base May Be Needed

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — American astronauts will one day walk on the surface of Mars, but NASA Administrator James Fletcher says a base on the moon might be needed first to gain experience and develop the necessary technology.

"The choice of whether to go to Mars directly or to go there via a lunar outpost is not clear at this time," Fletcher said Monday at a conference on Mars exploration. "And until it is, I believe we need to maintain an open mind, quite aside from the value of a lunar outpost in its own right."

A manned flight to Mars is a frequent topic of discussion among NASA planners seeking a long-range goal for the U.S. space program. The NASA Advisory Council recommended making such a mission the nation's next space priority.

Whistleblowers Pan 'Protectors'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government "whistleblowers" call a special agency that is supposed to stick up for federal workers who risk their careers to expose fraud, waste or abuse "a wolf in sheep's clothing."

Four such whistleblowers told a Senate panel Monday the allegations of wrongdoing they raised were ignored — or even subverted — by the Office of Special Counsel, an agency Congress established in 1978 under the Merit Systems Protection Board to protect workers who speak out.

Instead of supporting them, the whistleblowers said the special counsel's office refused to take up their cases and in some instances, appeared to work against them by feeding key information back to management.

Reagan Appoints Homosexual

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has acceded to calls he give homosexuals a voice in the war against AIDS by selecting a homosexual doctor as a member of a new federal commission, perhaps also protecting the stature of the panel.

Without conceding any ground to critics and denying the president was bowing to pressure, administration officials said Monday that Dr. Frank Lilly, head of genetics at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York, is among 12 yet-to-be-announced members of the AIDS commission.

The 12 will be announced Thursday, bringing the commission to full strength as Reagan visits the National Institutes of Health to receive a briefing on AIDS research and deliver a personal charge to the 13-member advisory group.

5 Persons Arrested

Police In Melee With Partygoers

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford police who arrived at the scene of a reported fight at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday at 2442 S. Laurel Ave., Sanford, arrested five persons, some of whom allegedly turned on police in a melee.

The homeowner at that address, had called police and ask that drunken party-goers, who had broken out widows of a car, be ordered to leave her home, Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said Monday.

When police arrived several persons allegedly tried to keep police from approaching two brothers who were fighting at the scene.

Police did enter the area and found a man, later identified as Douglas Richard Attaway, 25, of that address, allegedly brandishing a stick against another man in a threatening way. The other man in the fight is reportedly Attaway's brother.

Douglas Attaway allegedly cursed and threatened police after being ordered to drop the stick. He allegedly hit one officer in the face, breaking his eye-glasses and cutting his nose.

Douglas Attaway was arrested and struggled with police and had to be subdued and put into a police car, Harriett said. In the car, Attaway allegedly continued to kick and did $200 damage to the vehicle, before being booked into the Seminole County jail on charges of battery on a policeman, resisting arrest with violence, assault on a police man, disorderly intoxication and criminal mischief. Attaway was arrested at about 2 a.m. Sunday. He has been released on $500 bond to appear in court Aug. 3.

Also arrested the same time and place was Alicia Stempkowski, 19, of 104 Poplar Place, Longwood, who is accused of hitting two policemen with her hands and flats. She has been charged with battery on a policeman, criminal mischief and resisting without violence. She also paid a $500 bond and has the same court date.

The brother of Douglas Attaway, Claude David Attaway, 27, of 305 Tucker Drive, Sanford, was charged with trespassing and released on $100 bond to appear in court July 27.

Jimmy Clifford Anderson, 30, of Maitland, and Leonard Rivers, 25, of 710 Baywood Circle, Sanford, were charged with resisting arrest without violence. They were released without posting bond.

Harriett said police were resisted by a group which had apparently been drinking. There was a fight in progress and property had been damaged. It took about 10 police officers to bring the group under control and arrest the five, and Harriett said, from his review of police reports and officers statements the force used by police was justified and not excessive.

Condo Unit Gets Permit

U.S. Homes of Maitland has obtained a building permit for a three-story, 38-unit condominium development on the shores of Lake Minnie.

John Holloway of U.S. Homes says the units will all be two-bedroom, two bath with fireplaces, covered parking, with full-length screened patios or decks overlooking Lake Minnie, sliding glass doors onto the patios, and trash chutes on each floor. Third story units will also have vaulted ceilings.

The building will be located on U.S. Highway 17-92 about a half mile south of Lake Mary Boulevard in the North Lake Village area, fronting on the lake.

Holloway said 20 of the 36 units have been sold at pre-construction prices ranging from $57,900 to $59,900. Pre-construction prices, available before Aug. 1, include certain appliances and covered parking at no extra cost. Prices will go up $2,000 after that date, Holloway said.

Construction of the building is expected to begin soon, with the units ready for occupancy in late November of December, Holloway said. —Brad Church

Burglary Trial Pending

Petsos To Seek Re-election

By Richard Whittaker
Herald Staff Writer

Suspended Lake Mary City Commissioner Arthur "Buzz" Petsos will be seeking re-election to his seat this fall despite his pending trial Wednesday morning on charges of burglary and petty theft.

Petsos, who was suspended by Gov. Bob Martinez earlier this year said he has picked up the papers he needs to file in order to qualify with the supervision of elections before the Friday noon deadline.

Petsos allegedly entered the Pic-A-Dell on March 16, taking bread, coffee, coffee filters and plastic trash bags from the business he once owned. He reportedly still had a key to the establishment. Petsos has pleaded not guilty to the charges.

"I am going to file the papers to qualify and at this point I have every intention of running," Petsos said Monday afternoon. If he does qualify, Petsos will face Lake Mary resident David Cruise in the election for commission seat number three. No other candidates have thus far filed to run for the seat.

Lake Mary City Attorney Frank Kruppenbacher told the commission at a recent meeting that he didn't know if Petsos could qualify to run for re-election with the charges against him. He asked the commission to bring the matter up with the county supervisor of elections.

Commissioner Ken King said he believed anybody could file the papers to run for office and then be rejected. "I agree with Ken," said commissioner Charlie

Webster, "give him (Petsos) the papers and let him worry about qualifying."

Barbara Herceg, office supervisor for the county supervisor of elections said her office has nothing to do with whether Petsos could qualify to run for re-election. "All we do is count their ballots," she said. Herceg added that rules governing the issue should be spelled out in the Lake Mary city charter.

The trial is set to begin at the Seminole County Courthouse Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Sheriff Attends Naples Meeting

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk was scheduled to travel to Naples today to attend a meeting of the state Criminal Justards Standards and Board, on which he serves with 17 others, all appointed by the governor to certify and decertify law enforcement workers and to set standards for their training and certification.

Polk said the board meets four time a year. All expenses are paid by the state. He is scheduled to return to Sanford Friday.

Reichle Chases 4th Victory With 2.43 ERA

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor When Darrin Reichle goes after his fourth victory tonight at Eugene, Ore. the Spokane Indians' right-hander will have some lofty credentials to fall back on.

The Minors

Reichle has struck out 28 and walked 26. "He's doing the job," Spokane Assistant General Manager Bill Fanning said Monday via telephone from Spokane.

Mattingly Equals Mark With Glove: 22 Putouts

United Press International Don Mattingly, who must wait five years after he retires to be nominated to join the Hall of Fame, this season has secured a place in Cooperstown for his glove and bat.

Mattingly Saturday matched a record by homering in his eighth consecutive game. Monday night he tied a major-league mark for most putouts in a nine-inning game during New York's 7-1 triumph over the Minnesota Twins.

New York starter Tommy John induced the Twins to hit into 23 groundouts, and Mattingly made putouts on 22 of them to equal the record set three times previously.

The Hall of Fame has asked Mattingly to donate the bat he used to tie Dale Long's record for most consecutive games with a home run. Now they want his glove, too.

"The guys at the place (the Hall of Fame) want my glove, and I don't know if I can give that up yet," Mattingly said.

Retreads Inch Expos, Mets Closer To Cards

United Press International Two retreads enabled the Montreal Expos and the New York Mets to inch a little closer to the St. Louis Cardinals in the NL East.

At Montreal, Dennis Martinez, once a premier pitcher in the American League, hurled a five-hitter to lead the Expos to their eighth straight victory, 4-1 over the Astros.

Meanwhile, in New York, Don Schulze, a hard thrower who has bounced between the majors and the minors the last four years, won his first start with the Mets by pitching 6 1-3 innings in a 9-2 rout of the Atlanta Braves.

Martinez, 5-1, struck out four and walked two in pitching his second complete game since being recalled June 8 from Indianapolis of the American Association.

The victory moved the Expos to within 6 1/2 games of St. Louis in the National League East. Montreal, which leads third-place New York by 2 1/2 games, has picked up 3 1/2 games of the Cardinals during its streak.

"We feel like we can beat any team right now," said Martinez, who won 10 or more games in six of his nine full seasons with Baltimore. "Right now, I'm in a real groove. I've just got to make sure and not let it get to my head like I used to when I was with the Orioles. I know the next game everything could be different."

Schulze was obtained by the Mets in a trade with Cleveland in May. The right-hander, who broke in with the Cubs in 1983, pitched at Tidewater of the International League, until the Mets called him up last week. He received the start Monday because Terry Leach tore cartilage in his right knee.

"He's a reclaim but he can pitch," Braves Manager Chuck Tanner said. "He got his ball over and made us hit on the ground. He did an excellent job."

Schulze allowed three hits to win his first NL decision. He also received credit for the game-winning RBI when he walked with the bases loaded to give the Mets a 2-1 lead in the second.

"To tell you the truth, I was a little nervous like anybody coming back to the big leagues or making his first start," Schulze said.

In the American League, it was California 3, Boston 2; Detroit 5, Oakland 4; New York 7, Minnesota 1; Cleveland 9, Kansas City 5; Toronto 5, Texas 3; Milwaukee 13, Seattle 11; Baltimore 4, Chicago 1.

Fair Looks For Field Edge For WS Broncos

By Mike Dame Special to the Herald

As the host of this week's Seminole Pony Bronco State Tournament, Dave Fair's West Seminole squad appears to have a major advantage, but not in the sense that immediately comes to mind.

No, Fair does not think that fan support and hometown umpires will make the difference. It is the field that will do the trick.

"We've got a bigger field than most are used to playing on," Fair said of the facility, which is 248 feet down the left-field line and in center and 225 feet to right. "It forces teams to play a more defensive game. Just playing in a bigger ballpark all year has to be to our advantage."

And defense is what Fair feels will be the key element if his squad is going to win the tournament, along with some consistent pitching.

The tournament opens Wednesday. West Seminole's No. 1 pitching threat is the Brewers' Willie Guzman, a 5-foot-10, 140-pound 12-year-old who will surely stir up some butterflies in opposing batters when they face him.

Baseball

West Seminole's substitutes are Ryan Lawton and Seth Wlepking from the Tigers, Tommy Wilson from the regular-season champion A's, Davey Clark from the Expos, and Tania Diaz and David Coalter from the Cardinals.

Diaz, a former Seminole Softball Club standout, has carried her talents onto the baseball diamond as the squad's only girl.

Fair, who is assisted by Terry Butler and Mike Bono, has strong hopes for the upcoming three-team tourney.

"If we pitch well, we're gonna be competitive," Fair said, "but if we don't, we're in trouble."

Shirley Hawley, administrative assistant to the vice president of property management, shows spacious dining room with pass through to fully-equipped kitchen.

Groveview Villas: A Place To Come Home To

Just step inside Groveview Villas at 2000 Lake Mary Boulevard and you will see for yourself why they say it's the "apartment that looks like a house and feels like a home."
 With immediate availability, these 1,000 square-foot apartments have a unique single-family home floor plan which reflects years of experience in efficient planning.
 A separate entry foyer provides privacy and a solid steel entrance door gives an extra measure of security.
 The large living room opens onto a private patio or balcony and connects to a separate dining room (large enough for full size dining room set and china cabinet). An extra large kitchen features abundant cabinet and counter space. A handy snack bar/pass through window between the kitchen and dining room adds the option of casual breakfast or buffet.
 Each of the air-conditioned apartments has two full baths with tub and shower — one off the large master bedroom and the other off of the hall adjacent to the second second bedroom.
 Every apartment provides washer-dryer connections and the roomy modern kitchens are equipped with electric appliances, dishwasher, range with self-cleaning oven, 17-foot frost-free refrigerator.
 All units are fully carpeted and have draperies on all windows and the sliding glass patio door.
 Here are some of the reasons residents give for choosing Groveview Villas for their home:
 • "The kitchen has more cabinets than my mother's four-bedroom house."
 • "The rooms are light and airy."
 • "The rent is reasonable, the rooms are big and the convenient location."
 • "The layout is perfect for roommates."
 Unlike many other apartment complexes, families with children of all ages are welcome at Groveview Villas, which has separate sections for families and mature adults. Small pets are also accepted.
 "We put ourselves in the resident's place," said Shirley Hawley, administrative assistant to the vice president of property management, "and give them the best possible rental home for the money."
 Groveview Villas has first rate maintenance and should something go wrong, repairs are made the same day if at all possible.
 A quick game of tennis or a relaxing swim in the pool add to the comfortable life style at Groveview Villas. Apartment buildings are separated by an expanse of well cared for lawn and ample parking spaces are located at the ends of the buildings.
 Be sure to visit soon. It's the perfect place for your apartment home in the Sanford/Lake Mary area. Only a few minutes from I-4 to the west and one mile from Highway 17-92 to the east, offering unmatched convenience for work, shopping or recreation.
 Office hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 1-5 p.m. on Sunday. Come in and let Bonnie McDade, resident manager, and Cindi Kennett, leasing agent, show you around. For information call 321-0584.

U.S. Automaker's Cool Is Hot

Of course, American air-conditioning expertise was born of necessity. "The factory engineers can't believe the high temperatures in the U.S.," said a spokesman for one West German automaker. "But a one-day drive in the Mojave Desert makes them believers."
 And boy, does it get hot. The interior of a car parked in our summer sun can reach 150 degrees. To cool down a car quickly from such lemme-outta-here temperatures, an automobile air conditioner needs to have a ton of cooling capacity (12,000 British thermal units, actually). That's enough to chill two rooms of a house.
 Contrary to what it may seem when you aim the air-conditioner vent at your perspiring brow, the machines don't really create cold air. Instead, they take heat from inside the car and put it outside.
 That probably doesn't make much sense unless you also know that heat flows from a warm place to a cooler one. It's a law of physics — thermodynamics, I think they call it. An automobile air conditioner (or a Maytag kitchen refrigerator, for that matter) uses a fluid called Freon to make the heat transfer.
 The Freon travels around the car in a pressurized, sealed system. As it passes through an evaporator, usually located under the dashboard, heat in the car's interior is absorbed by the Freon. The heated Freon then goes to a condenser, usually mounted in front of the car's radiator. In fact, the condenser looks and acts like a small radiator. It sits in the air stream as the car moves, transferring the heat in the Freon to the atmosphere. Then the cooled-down Freon is ready to make another pass through the evaporator.
 The Freon is pushed through the evaporator and condenser by the heart of the air-conditioning system, the compressor. It's attached to the engine and operated by a belt.
 Other parts of the air conditioner include various valves, electric fans, temperature and pressure sensors, and a compressor clutch that cycles the system on and off. Altogether, it's quite a complex system.
 Which cars aren't so hot at getting cool? Alan doesn't think much of air conditioners in many small Japanese cars. It seems their components just aren't big enough to adequately cool down a car on a hot American day.
 And that's certainly uncool!

Get Immediate Help For Drug Abusing Son

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My stepson, 15, has been getting increasingly belligerent and refuses to follow household rules. He's also been stealing money and jewelry from us and other relatives. Last night, after another incident of theft, we tore his room apart and found two jars of cocaine, plus coke spoons, paraphernalia for freebasing and a list of kids at his school, with dollar amounts beside each name.

Most urologists prefer to wait to perform surgery until the prostatic obstruction is relatively advanced and produces obvious symptoms — such as dribbling, increased frequency, repeated urinary infections and large amounts of unexpelled (residual) urine in the bladder.

If you have BPH, I don't know why your doctors insist that you postpone surgery. It's not your age that counts; it's the degree of blockage. Ask them to reconsider their decision or go ahead and request a second opinion.

To give you more information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report on THE PROSTATE GLAND.

We are at our wit's end and don't know what to do next. He refuses to attend counseling sessions with us. What can you suggest?

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have trouble passing urine (I'm male, 56). The doctors say I'm not old enough to have surgery. I have been given antibiotics twice to clear up prostate infections. Why do I have to wait for surgery?

DEAR READER — Prostatic swelling can narrow the opening of the bladder, making urination difficult. If the swelling is due to infection, antibiotics will usually take care of the problem. Surgery is not necessary.

However, prostatic enlargement can occur without infection. This is called benign prostatic hyperplasia, or BPH, and is common in men as they age. Once the prostate gland has enlarged and constricted the bladder opening, surgery is needed to core out or remove the tissue that causes blockage.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
When the opponents haven't bid, it isn't easy to place the outstanding cards. The best declarers base their play on their knowledge of the defenders' tendencies. Look how South hit upon the winning play to score two overtricks in four hearts.

The bidding needs explaining. South opened one no-trump to protect his doubleton queens just in case he might find partner with A-x-x or K-x-x in both black suits. Then, when North bid an artificial two clubs looking for a four-card major, South jumped to three hearts, hoping to convey that he had a six-card major suit. The raise to four hearts ended the auction.

Declarer won the diamond queen lead with his ace, drew trumps and led a diamond to dummy's 10. When that held, the only question was how he might make 12 tricks. If East held a black king, another trick could be gained by leading toward the queen of the same suit. But there was another important indication. The fact that West had not led a black suit suggested strongly that he held both black kings. That was the best explanation for his leading from Q-J-8 of diamonds. So declarer cashed dummy's club ace and diamond king and then ran all his hearts. At the end, West blanked his king of clubs so that he could protect the K-J of spades. South now led the club queen to West's king. Hapless West had to lead away from his spade king to present declarer with 12 tricks.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JULY 22, 1987
Your prospects for building your resources look good for the year ahead, especially if you follow your own hunches and operate at your own speed.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Tedious tasks might not be your cup of tea today. It's best to focus your efforts on jobs that don't require an intense attention span. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't make heavy demands on a close pal today. This person may not be in the position to comply with your wishes and will resent being imposed on.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Care must be taken not to annoy those who are running the show today. Antagonizing authority figures could bring their wrath down on your head.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be open-minded in your thinking today, and willing to listen to what others have to say. Someone to whom you'll be talking might have ideas superior to yours.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Someone with whom you'll be doing business today may try to convince you that he is doing you a favor, when in reality, he needs you more than you need him.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Something may occur today that could make you feel you've run into a brick wall, but if you analyze it coolly, you'll see it's an obstacle that can be circumvented.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) There is a chance you will be a rather slow starter today. However, if you are persistent and determined, you will pick up momentum and successfully complete that which you begin.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today, don't push yourself on groups where the welcome mat isn't out. Instead, spend time with friends who appreciate your company.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The rug could be pulled out from under you today in a situation that you think you have under control. Be prepared to make hasty adjustments.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today, keep individuals who are not directly concerned out of your affairs. Their influence could create confusion that will get you off course.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't be stingy today, but, by the same token, use your common sense before lending anything of value to a person who never returns what she borrows.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You won't appreciate having your independence tampered with today. It's best to avoid a strong-willed acquaintance who'd like to arrange your schedule for you.
