Senate Leaders Block Move For Three-Day Recess

Motion Made To Give FDR Free Hand To Deal With Europe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Secretary Hull today reported to his press conference that the American government had not been approached by Germany, Britain or France with regard to interfering for peace in Europe.

Asked whether the United States was contemplating any peace move, he said he had not yet discussed this matter with his cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Senate leadership blocked temporarily today an effort by Senator Johnson (D-Cal.) to pressure the chamber to give President Roosevelt a free hand to work for European peace.

Johnson told the chamber that "the whole world would be grateful" if the senate would recess for three days.

This, he said, would be considered a sign that the United States wanted peace in Europe and that the senate was counting on the chief executive to do what he could to effect it.

Majority leader Barkley urged that the recess motion be withdrawn. He said Senator Downey (D-Calif.) expected to have the floor for a continuation of his speech against the Administration neutrality bill. Johnson withdrew his motion but offered notice he would renew it after Downey finished.

The White House said today that it had observed a non-American submarine yesterday in the Atlantic Ocean.

Stephan Early, presidential secretary, said it possibly was the same boat which was reported Saturday, 15 miles off Miami.

The submarine, Early said, was comparatively small.

Also seen in the same vicinity, he said, were two non-American tankers. He declined to say, however, whether the submarine and tankers were of the same nationality.

PIECES OF EUROPE'S JIGSAW PUZZLE ARE SHIFTING

After five weeks of war, alignments in the pieces that make up the puzzle of Europe are changing. Russia has taken the center of the stage with her program of dominating parts for Italian and Baltic states. There is no more Poland—it is now split between Germany and Russia—but Hitler now is talking of creating a new dependent, powerless Poland fronting the new Russian border.

Sanford Makes Bid For 1940 Kiwanis Meet

Local Group Goes To West Palm Beach To Make Request

A strong bid for the 1940 Florida district convention of Kiwanis is being made by the local Kiwanis Club at the annual convention now in session at West Palm Beach, B. D. Caswell, president of the club, said today.

The club is being given the support and cooperation of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and all civic groups in its effort to secure the selection of Sanford as the 1940 convention city.

Having their claim for the 1940 convention on the fact that the Kiwanis have not held their annual district meeting in Central Florida for a number of years while South Florida has had the convention for two successive years, President Caswell pointed out that it may not be possible to bring the convention in 1940, "but we will be in line for the affair in 1941 in case we fail."

A delegation left Sanford yesterday and this morning for the convention city armed with a 12-foot banner bearing the words, "Sanford Invites You For 1940" and a number of large placards bearing the same inscription which have been placed in the convention headquarters.

Each of the 60 directors from all over Florida who are attending the convention also received a telegram from the local club stating, "Sanford, in the heart of Central Florida, extends a cordial invitation for the 1940 district convention. Every facility for comfort is available. We will appreciate your support."

Telegrams extending an invitation to the group were also sent by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Club, the Rotary Club and the City and County Commissions.

The convention, he was pointed out, would bring approximately 800 delegates to Sanford.

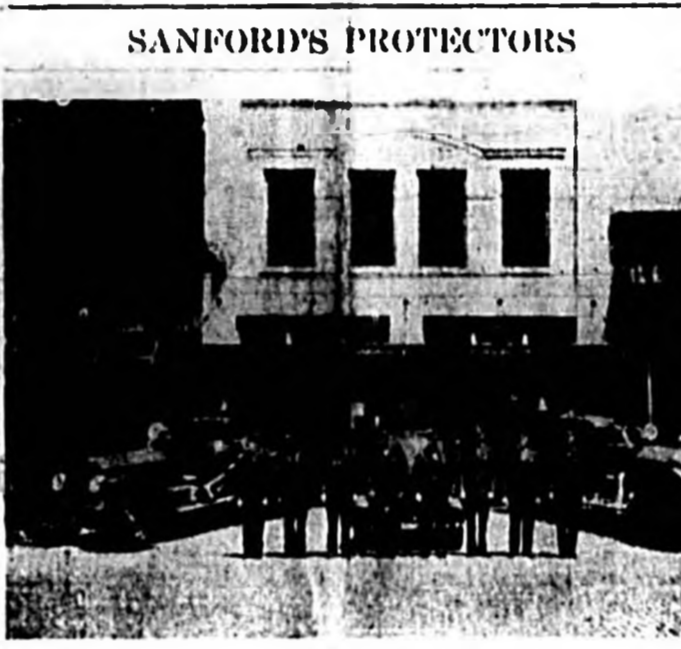

The delegates of the local club to the convention are Julius Dingfelder, Walter S. Coleman, Karl Nordgren, O. P. Herndon, Frank J. Shuman, Dr. L. T. Doss and Fred Scott.

London Night Clubs Plug New War Ditty

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—A catchy ditty, "We're Going to Hang Out the Washing on the Electric Line," is being plugged in London night clubs and restaurants as a successor to the World War song, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary."

With a tune reminiscent of "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," the words of the chorus go: "We're going to hang out the washing on the Electric Line. Have you any dirty washing, mother dear? We're going to hang out the washing on the Electric Line. 'Cause the washing day is here. Whether the weather may be wet or dry, we'll hang it out on the Electric Line."

It's just not done with a care. We're going to hang out the washing on the Electric Line. If the Electric Line's still there. The song was written by M. J. Ryan and Jimmy Kennedy, both of Irish extraction.

Taking an active part in Fire Prevention Week are the members of the Sanford Fire Department, shown above, Sanford's protectors from the destruction of flames.

Sanford's Losses From Fire For Five Years Are Unusually Low

Precaution of Citizens Partially Responsible, Chief Cleveland Says As Fire Prevention Week Is Launched

By GLENN GOVOCCK For many years past, America has burned up an average of a quarter of a billion dollars annually, but Sanford's share of this huge loss is extremely low, in fact, records disclose that Sanford's per capita losses since 1932 are among the lowest in the nation for a city of this size.

Yesterday the annual nationwide fire prevention week was launched and in connection with this annual campaign, Fire Chief Cleveland stated that in his belief the residents of Sanford have contributed in no small way to the low losses through fires because they seem to be more "fire conscious" than the residents of many cities.

Statistics show that 75 percent of the fires are preventable, but after the fires start, it is up to the Fire Department to extinguish them, and in this connection the local Fire Department has been commended many times, even though working under the handicap of a shortage of men to properly man their equipment, and also handicapped by the out-of-date equipment which they use.

In 1934 the city council wanted liberal and voted Chief Papworth authority to purchase an up-to-date minute hook and ladder, thus making Sanford one of the up-to-date fire departments of the South.

Chief Papworth was instrumental in having an ordinance passed whereby all this new equipment could be sure to be present at all fires. Instead of reposing in the sand has been so often done. The new ordinance called for "any team that pulled some of the equipment to a fire and arrived first received $5.00, second $3.00 and third $2.00. New Year's Day was always the day of contests between the various companies and great rivalry existed. A big team followed in which

District Governor Warns Rotarians Of Propagandists

James Franklin Talks To Civic Club On International Peace

Warning the Rotary Club against surrendering itself to the propagandists seeking to influence a state one way or the other, and advising a strict adherence of the Rotary about international peace and understanding, District Governor James Franklin was the guest of the Rotary Club today and spoke on the "Truth Objectives of Rotary International Peace."

He was introduced to the club by George Rollins who said he had known him for 17 years as a member of the organization. Mr. Franklin is an outstanding attorney of Fort Myers and has been a member of the Rotary club for many years.

Mr. Franklin, who presided over the meeting, called attention to the annual checkered record which will be held next Thursday evening beginning at 5:30 o'clock and announced that his meeting would be held on the following Monday.

Rotary is going along fine in Florida, Mr. Franklin said while pointing out that it has been attacked in Germany, Austria and Italy, has been outlawed in Japan, and destroyed in Poland and the second consecutive month, he said, Florida is in the "The Top" of Rotary. There are now 31 clubs in the state and during the first two months of his administration, Mr. Franklin has visited half of them.

The question is being asked today, Mr. Franklin said, whether there is now a place in the world for the Rotary, an international club composed of men of good will towards one another. His own answer was definitely "yes" for after the chaos and confusion wrought by war Rotary will be needed more than ever before to bring about peace and fellowship once more throughout the world.

The greatest growth of Rotary, he said, came during the first decade following the 1st war when he said more than 5,000 clubs were organized in 87 nations of the world. Men realized then, he said, that war settles nothing and that even the victors are losers. They were convinced, he added, that only around the conference table in an atmosphere of goodwill and understanding could issues be settled on a permanent basis.

Prior to the luncheon Mr. Franklin met with the board of directors.

Visitors at today's luncheon included E. H. Hess of Orlando, and Fred Trepper of Daytona Beach.

State Senators Have Not Agreed On Man To Succeed Akerman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The neutrality issue has delayed the appointment of a successor to Alexander Akerman, who is to retire today as judge of the southern district of Florida.

The White House made it known that no nominations will be sent to the Senate until the neutrality legislation is out of the way.

Florida senators have not yet agreed on a man for the job. There have been many applicants.

Local recommendations to the White House are made by the Justice Department after investigations.

ORLANDO, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Federal Judge Alexander Akerman, whose jurisprudence and humanistic philosophy caused him to become widely known during a 15-year term as a federal judge in the 1st district, will retire today on his 70th birthday.

Appointed to the federal post by President Calvin Coolidge, on Feb. 20, 1929, Judge Akerman voluntarily ended his judicial career last night.

For the past 11 years, he has tried to do what was right with a "clean" conscience. He has not been a party to any of the cases that have been brought against him.

High Tribunal Agrees To Review Decision Holding Act Arbitrary, Prejudicial

Contest Started By Local Canner

Three-Judge Court Held Statute Penalized Cannery

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to pass on the decision holding unconstitutional a 1935 Florida law fixing the minimum price, based on cost of production, at which citrus fruit could be purchased from growers.

A three-judge court at Orlando held the act was "arbitrary and prejudicial" and enjoined the cannery "for the benefit of growers if the cannery continued in business."

The fight against the minimum price law started in Sanford when J. H. Eckerson, president of the Eckerson Fruit Cannery, Inc., obtained an injunction enjoining enforcement of the law as applied to the growers' contracts through which the Sanford plant purchased its fruit.

The arguments were heard by Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith who granted the Eckerson Fruit Cannery a permanent injunction but the lower court action was reversed on the Florida Supreme Court. Then followed the attack on the constitutionality of the law.

The challenge to the legislation was made by the Eckerson Highland Packing Company, Inc. The Palk Packing and Roberts Brothers, Inc.

The attack on the validity of the Florida citrus legislation in the U. S. Supreme court is the first time that a state law has been held unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The second challenge to the neutrality legislation, which has administered the law since 1935, was filed today.

The motion by Senator Charles W. Taylor (R-N.H.) to amend the bill with the addition of the Foreign Relief Committee to separate relief from the industrial areas remained on the agenda for the conference.

Freighter Is Sunk In English Channel

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The British-American freighter "Holland-America" which sailed from New York for Amsterdam Sept. 26, was sunk in the English Channel yesterday after an 11-day voyage.

The crew of 41 was rescued by the British examination ship which towed the vessel as the ship's last signal was sent up by the examination vessel as the ship was towed to Weymouth, British coast, where it was beached.

Capt. W. Moore of Rotterdam said he was on the bridge when a "boom" explosion put the engine and wireless out of commission. He said he was unable to determine immediately whether the ship was sunk by a mine or torpedo. Authorities said there were no British mines in that area.

The Holland-America line announced in Rotterdam it had been informed by the Blinnendijk's captain that his vessel struck a mine. His message said the vessel went down about midnight (7 P. M. EST) Saturday night, two hours after an explosion.

"The ship began to sink very slowly," Captain Moore said, "and fired rocket signals which were answered. Later an examination vessel came alongside and, making fast to our ship, took us all off the 41 officers and crew. We had no passengers."

Congratulations to the Tampa Tribune's cartoonist who draws British lion that looks like the King of the Jungle.

Italy's policy is reported as unchanged by Hitler's speech. So far, nobody seems to know what Italy's policy is.

All Landon reveals a positive intention of not being a candidate for president in 1940. Well, you can't blame him.

"Most of us want to see Hitler's block knocked off," says the Tampa Tribune. But we want to see someone else do it.

It's too bad, Finland is the only country which still pays an its war debt to the United States, and now it is about to be taken over by Russia.

And if someone should sink the Iroquois, would we be eternally grateful to the Nazis because they tipped us off before doing it.

The Ocala Banner proves it the way "Prosperity is just around the corner—Herbert Hoover, 1930; The British and French can't be beat—Herbert Hoover, 1939."

Wonder if Henry Ford could be in favor of the arms embargo for the United States because he has an automobile factory in Canada which is now turning out airplanes as fast as it can?

Funny thing is: the isolationists insist that the United States must retain its arms embargo in order to maintain its neutrality, and yet we are the only neutral nation in the world which has an arms embargo.

Remember way back there in 1933 when everybody was hooting for tax reduction and every man elected to office was pledged to tax reduction. Well, that valiant tax levy of the 47 counties has gone 24 percent since then. And when saying nothing of the increase in federal taxes, or the various new kinds of taxes which have been tried in addition to old ad valorem.

In explaining the existing friendly relations between Germany and Russia, Hitler said: "The step on Germany's part in the invasion of Poland had led to a community of interest with Russia, that is due to the fact that the two states are the only states in the world which have not been invaded since the conclusion of the first world war."

It is interesting to note that when Hitler arrived at the conclusion that the future relations between Germany and Russia would be friendly, he said: "The two states are the only states in the world which have not been invaded since the conclusion of the first world war."

Streamlined Submarine Warfare

Before it is too late we would like to comment briefly upon the new humanitarian influences which have been introduced into the German submarine forces.

For the most part sub commanders have been careful to select their prey near the coast line or other vessels which might easily rescue the crew.

Captain Berggren of the Swedish freighter Nyland says that the officers of the submarine were "very polite and correct. They served us coffee, sandwiches and cigarettes."

And so the second World War, which was to witness the acme of ruthlessness in warfare, begins with a most unusual regard for human lives.

Rescuing Wildfowl

Ducks will soon again crowd the flyways in the teeming numbers of the "good old days" if the program of Ducks Unlimited, Inc., is successful.

Wild-life conservation, the writer points out, is an international business, for crossing a boundary line is just one flap of the wings to a bird.

Ambitious beavers have notably helped in this part of the program with their dams. Steps have been taken to enlist an army of these furry contractors, to populate hundreds of Northern streams with the little engineers who work without steel or concrete.

At the start of its duck-conservation work, Ducks Unlimited made an aerial survey of conditions in Canada, and even included a census of the wildfowl.

Ducks Unlimited has also declared war against the public enemies of the wildfowl, most strenuously aiming against crows, hawks, and turtles.

Audubon Society Has Annual Camping Trip

The Dazy Vance Hotel at Homosassa Springs was host over the last weekend to members of the Florida Audubon Society, meeting for their second annual campout. River and land trips for bird and animal observation were interspersed with discussions of accomplishments during the past six months, and plans for future conservation measures.

A talk on the relation of Wild Life to Soil Conservation was given by Howard Bisland, of Tallahassee, biologist for the Soil Conservation Service, and brought a barrage of questions on crops to use for both the prevention of erosion and the feeding of birds.

Miss Lisa von Borowsky, curator of Chissegut Hill Sanctuary of Brooksville, led an interesting discussion on the value of bird banding, and C. R. Mason of Sanford conducted an illustrated contest, "What Bird is That?"

Recreational features were led by Mrs. Howard Bisland of Tallahassee and Miss Nancy Lutz of Jacksonville. Mrs. C. W. Melcher of Homosassa Springs, welcomed the group to her beautiful riverside home, where many of the 50 species of birds recorded during the meeting, were observed.

Yanks Clinch Fourth Straight Series With 7-4 Win Over Reds

By SID FEDER
For The Associated Press
CROSBY FIELD, Cincinnati—In one of the daffiest finishes in all world series history, the Cincinnati Reds' defense blew up yesterday to let the New York Yankees win their fourth straight world championship by a 7 to 4 10-inning victory in the fourth game of the 1939 Fall classic.

The fight back from an early disadvantage into which home runs by Charley Keller and Bill Dickey had dropped them, the National League champions fell apart like a 1906 jelly in the ninth and 10th innings, and the Yankees, taking advantage of every break, scored five times in those two frames on four hits and four Reds' errors, to pull out the decision.

And for 32,796 fans, lifted to rapturous heights of delight by the Reds' seventh-inning three-run swing against the Yankees, this finish was a heart-breaker. For it came about on a collapse of the one feature that stood out for the Reds in the first three games—their fighting fielding.

This lapse of the Rhineland defense topped off an up-and-down collection of performances by the Yankees who saw action. Tall Paul Derringer started for the Reds, but the loser was Bucky Walters, who took over in the eighth and thus was charged with his second defeat of the set.

For the Yankees, Fordham Johnny Murphy, the square-jawed Irishman with the excellent control, received credit for the first series victory of his career, although he saw action in relief only in each of the last three games. He entered the game in the seventh, after Oral Hildebrand had retired because of an ailing side and Steve Sundra had been tagged for the Reds' first three runs.

Thus the Yankees completed their domination of baseball for the fourth time in a row and for the eighth world championship. Seven times they have won the American League pennant.

Yesterday's triumph was their ninth straight series game victory, beginning with the last tilt in the 1937 set, and marked the 20th time in 33 games that they have finished on top of the National League.

Yesterday's victory, however, was virtually an absolute gift. Everything happened in those last two frames and it all happened to the Reds. In its stiller aspects, it recalled the famous collision of Stan Hack and Billy Jurges in the Chicago infield, which added to the comic touches of the Yankees sweep over the Cubs a year ago. The mess started simply enough when Keller, the hero of Saturday night, hit the ninth with a single. The Yankees were behind 4-3 and the folks had about made up their minds that the season's best "finley" would break the spell.

Joe DiMaggio followed with a slashing single through short, however, and the game came to a halt again, their fingers crossed. Then things started to happen. Bill Dickey sent what looked like an easy double play into the hands of Louie Frye, who made a nice pick-up. But Billy Myers dropped the flip to the bag, Keller scored and DiMaggio was safe at second.

Proceeding with their customary slogan of "give us an inch and we'll take a mile," the bombing squad from the Bronx went to town right then. After DiMaggio went to third on George Selkirk's liner, Joe Gordon hit to Billy Werber at third, who made the pick-up and pegged to the plate trying to get DiMaggio. The idea was good but didn't work. DiMaggio slid in with the tying run as Ernie Lombardi dropped Werber's low throw. It was ruled a single for Gordon.

That inning should have been enough to happen to any club but not the Reds. They really showed the folks in the 10th. With one out and Frank Crossett on second, the Yankees, led by a sacrifice, Myers made his second misdeed of the game by bobbling Keller's bouncer back of second.

DiMaggio shot a single into right field. The ball got away from Ival Goodman, and the base-runners proceeded to pick them up and lay them down. Crossett came in and Keller rounded third and headed for home. Goodman relayed to McCormick, who whirled and threw to the plate, trying to get Keller. Lombardi dropped the relay and fell across the base line. He lay there a few seconds, as the ball rolled about five feet from the plate. Since no one made an effort to go after it, DiMaggio, who by this time had reached third, caught the enemy flat-footed by breaking for home. Too late, Lombardi went after the ball, and DiMaggio scored the third run of the inning.

Kilgore Slated To Tackle St. Johns
With the first week's play behind, the City Softball League will open the second week of play tonight with Kilgore Seed meeting St. Johns at 8:00 o'clock.

Tomorrow night Florida Power tangles with Osceola and Thursday night Reel and Sons send their team into league play for the first time, taking on Lemmond Tire.

Thousands swear by this way to get relief when they're laxy inside and it has them headachy, bilious, irritable, upset: A quarter to a half-teaspoonful of spicy, aromatic BLACK-DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight, a drink of water—there you are! Then this all-vegetable laxative usually allows plenty of time for sleep, acts thoroughly and gently, and relieves constipation, headaches, biliousness, irritability, and breath.

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S main ingredient is an "intestinal tonic-laxative," which helps tone the intestinal muscles. Millions of packages used prove its merit! Economical—25 to 40 doses, etc.

CHALKING 'EM UP

With CHARLIE CHALKER
Last Of The Lookouts
The last of the Lookouts have departed with the exception of those who plan to stay here this winter. Red Marion and Cleo Peter pulled out early Sunday morning for Atlanta. Sid Hudson left the night before for Chattanooga where he probably will stay most of the winter. Dale Alexander and Hills Layne get their small in Chattanooga so the three of them should have quite a time talking over happenings of the past summer this Fall around a nice fireplace eating some of the quail Dale probably will bring with the new shotgun the fans gave him. Willie Skeen said he planned to go to Denver and stay about a month and then might come back. He hadn't definitely made up his mind. Deputy Langston will resume his old job with the police force along about Oct. 15. Red Lane went to Chattanooga for a short visit but will be back to stay for the winter. Joe Pinder will stay here. Dixie Dean will spend the winter in Rome, Ga., but may take a flying trip down this way some time. Frank Hudson will spend the winter in West Virginia. Rick Gillespie, of course, will be here in the capacity of assistant coach at Seminole High School. Whitley Campbell will live in Georgia this winter. All but Dean and Sid Hudson are expected back for next Spring's training.

Gridiron Grief
Still the upsets come. Alabama defeated Fordham 7 to 6. We wouldn't call that an upset but Fordham supporters do. Duke whipped Oklahoma whipped Northwestern decisively in spite of DeCorrvent. All in all, the South had a very good day of it. Had Florida been able to beat Mississippi it would have been a perfect day. Florida has nothing to regret. The Gators played a splendid defensive game and but for a couple of unlucky breaks, the score might have been different. Red Harrison is likely to do plenty of running before the season is over. He and Benn looked pretty good in Saturday's fray.

Jan Stenstrom, who saw the Robert E. Lee Generals of Jacksonville get beaten by Miami last Friday night 7 to 0 said that the Generals have by far the better team in spite of the score. The Generals, he said, looked like a college team, being the heaviest he had ever seen in high school football.

County Chamber of Commerce
in which a tentative budget for the current fiscal year will be set forth, will be tendered to the Executive Committee of the Chamber building tonight at 8:00 o'clock. President P. P. Campbell is chairman of this committee.

Citrus canning has attained the proportions of a major industry in Florida, employing over 12,000 people and doing a gross business of $25,000,000 a year.

Elmer F. Lundquist was reported "doing nicely" this afternoon after undergoing an operation for appendicitis at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital this morning.

A meeting of the special Armistice Day Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Chamber Building at 8:00 o'clock Wednesday night.

Violators of City ordinances will be tried before Judge Frank L. Miller in a session of the Municipal Court at the Police Station this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

The semi-monthly meeting of the City Commission, regularly held on Monday night, has been postponed until Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock because of the absence of some of the members of the Commission.

Business matters will be discussed at a meeting of the Finance Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce which will be held in the Chamber building Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock when the budget for the fiscal year will be adopted.

The report of the Finance Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be presented to the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce which will be held in the Chamber building Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock when the budget for the fiscal year will be adopted.

City's Losses From Fire Are Unusually Low

all the department took part along with the citizens.

The State Volunteer Firemen's Association was born and in State competition Sanford won more prizes than all other members combined. The State association was composed of all towns south of Fernandina and Ocala to Key West.

Chief Papworth resigned in 1938 and was succeeded by Chief Hockett, who, after a short regime, was succeeded by Chief George Davis, and in quick succession came Chiefs Tom Brotherson, C. M. Hand, W. H. Underwood and in 1912 Chief Paxton, and the dawn of a new day as now the City of Sanford was protected by the professional fire fighter, with a paid fire department.

On January 3, 1911, the City Council purchased the first American LaFrance motor equipment and Sanford now was in a position to protect its citizens. After a serious fire on Sanford Avenue W. H. Underwood, then a member of the City Council decided that Sanford should have a paid Fire Department and accordingly brought the matter before the Council with the result that the measure was approved and the department was installed on June 12th, 1912.

The active personnel consisted of a Foreman and an assistant and the equipment was a No. 5 American LaFrance combination hose and chemical truck, a hand drawn ladder wagon, hose wagon, hose reel and a 25 gallon chemical tank. Mr. Underwood took great interest in the department and the condition of the equipment. Being a wagon maker he arranged that the ladder wagon and hose wagon could be drawn by a horse.

The horse was sold and a small Ford chemical truck and hose trailer was bought which proved to be a decided improvement. Finally, an American LaFrance 750 gallon pumper was obtained.

In the beginning the water was furnished from wells on West 6th Street and the pressure by gas engines either direct or from a tower. This system was unsatisfactory as the mains were old and often burst and yet with lack of equipment and men the Fire Department gave a good account of themselves.

After the Episcopal Church fire when the Water Works failed and as an emergency measure to guard against inadequate protection six or seven six-inch wells were drilled in favorable locations and four of these were connected to a 200 H. P. gasoline motor near the Fire Station. The water from this plant could be directed into the City mains if necessary. In time more men were added, some of the old equipment disposed of, a new pumper and new ladder wagon installed, new water works were built and many new mains laid and altogether with the management of Chief Cleveland and loyalty of his assistants, the Sanford Fire Department has attained its present high efficiency.

Federal Jury To Resume Inquiry In Tax Scandal

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9—(AP)—The federal grand jury today will resume its inquiry into charges of a tax racket which a parish grand jury had investigated without success in the early days before the scandal.

The government delved into the so-called "gray train" from two angles— income tax evasion and use of the mails to defraud.

The late Huey Long's law partner, Hugh Wilkinson, early this year accused officials of promoting a bribe system to reduce tax assessments. Former Governor Leche, now under three indictments, was deeply shocked when he heard Wilkinson's charges and demanded a thorough investigation.

A grand jury questioned witnesses for 46 days and reported there was not enough evidence upon which to base an indictment.

A young lawyer charged that the jury had deliberately whitewashed the charges and created a minor scandal, but he withdrew his charges and the alleged tax racket was forgotten.

Meanwhile, Orleans parish District Attorney, Byrne, who conducted the first tax investigation, denied that a new, publicly-em-ware built and many new mains laid and altogether with the management of Chief Cleveland and loyalty of his assistants, the Sanford Fire Department has attained its present high efficiency.

Daladier Says Hitler Broke His Promises

Chamberlain Awaits Reaction Of Dominions Before Replying To Dictator

PARIS, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Premier Daladier, in a radio speech broadcast to the French nation, tonight accused Adolf Hitler of repeatedly breaking his promises and said the French would not lay down their arms "until the world had certain peace."

"Neither France nor Great Britain has embarked on any war of conquest," the Premier said. "They accepted that war because Germany wanted to impose the domination of Europe."

Chamberlain today postponed reply to Hitler's peace proposals until he had received reports from the dominions. He said that he would then be able to give a definite answer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Administration forces in the Senate defeated today a motion to separate the shipping provision of the Neutrality Bill from the arms embargo repeal issue.

The motion to split up the bill was made by Senator Tobey, Republican, New Hampshire. His motion was defeated by a vote of 60 to 37.

Greenleaf said that while cruising in a small boat 15 miles south of Portland he sighted a gray submarine moving in a southeasterly direction in a course that might cross the path of the ironclad, which under normal conditions would pass within three miles of the coast today.
