

HOUSE PREPARED TODAY RECEIVE FROM PRESIDENT VETO MESSAGE ON BONUS

INDICATED THAT MESSAGE
WILL BE COMPLETED
SOME TIME TODAY
AFTER DISCUSSION

House Leaders Have Arranged for Veto and Will Defer Until Tomorrow on Passage

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The house prepared today to receive from President Harding a message vetoing the soldiers bonus bill. It was indicated at the white house that the message probably had been completed and some officials expected it to be transmitted to congress after he discussed it with the cabinet today. The House leaders arranged in event of a veto to defer until tomorrow the move to pass the bill over his veto. Friends of the bill appeared confident that more than the necessary two-thirds majority could be obtained in the house but did not seem any too hopeful about the situation in the senate. Opponents of the bonus claimed in that body at least two or more than necessary one-third to sustain the veto.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Veto of the soldiers' bonus bill by President Harding was expected generally last night by congressional leaders and administration officers. Some of Mr. Harding's advisers said his message practically had been completed and they looked for him to send it to the house today after discussing it with his cabinet. Leaders in congress were laying their plans with a veto in mind. In the house it was the intention to defer action until Wednesday so as to keep a working quorum on hand for disposition today of important conference reports and other measures. A senate vote might be deferred until Thursday, depending largely upon the hour of the house vote. Meantime, however, both opponents and proponents were marshalling their forces with indications that the roll call would show the largest attendance of senators in months.

Headed by Sanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, a delegation representing various veterans organizations called at the white house yesterday to make a final request of the president that he sign the bonus measure. Some members of the delegation said the president had not stated "whether he would approve the measure," while others said they gathered the impression that the executive would veto the bill now before him.

Commander MacNider told Mr. Harding that "we have no threats to make politically," but that the organization hoped "the will of the American people as expressed by the action of congress will be carried out."

Some members of the delegation quoted the president as saying that he would be glad to see a bonus measure enacted into law if he were convinced it would not entail a greater cost to the government than $10,000,000,000 and would take care of the able-bodied veterans for all time. They said he added, however, his belief that there would be an outlay of $50,000,000,000.

Apparently convinced that the house would vote by a large majority to override a veto, senate foes of the bonus redoubled their efforts to obtain a safe margin there.

Present expectations are that fifteen senators favorably to override a veto will be absent with only four or possibly five of the opponents.

Sarasota Caravan Visited Sanford— Are Seeing Florida

About Forty-Five Residents of Sarasota Going Down the East Coast

About forty-five residents of Sarasota and vicinity are touring Central Florida and the East Coast and were here last night the guests of the Seminole Hotel. They had dinner in Orlando and were entertained so well that they almost forgot their schedule for Sanford and it was after nine o'clock last night when they arrived. A delegation from the Sanford Chamber of Commerce consisting of President Connely, Secretary Pearman, F. L. Miller, S. W. Lloyd, Forest Lake, R. J. Holly and others met them at the Seminole and made them feel at home. The hour was so late that no entertainment could be provided for them but the crowd was tired and ready for bed. Not, however, before Hon. Forest Lake had made them an address of warm welcome and told them something about Sanford and regretting that they were not here earlier so that they could have seen Sanford and her farms. Hon. J. H. Lord, representative from Sarasota county replied to the welcome by telling about Sarasota and expressing their pleasure at being in Sanford, told about the trip and what it meant for the people of the state to get together. The party left early this morning for Deland and they will go down the coast as far as Miami. In the party registering at the Seminole were: Rev. A. J. Beck, pastor of the Baptist church; C. M. Howard, A. L. Joyner, vice-president of the First National Bank; Geo. L. Thacker, F. H. Grant, A. B. Edwards, president of the Chamber of Commerce; and wife; L. S. ADJUSTMENTS AND DIFFERENCES WHICH DELAYED SETTLEMENT OF 'RAILWAY SHOPMEN'S STRIKE'

On Some Roads is Favorable and on Others is Unfavorable

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Adjustment of misunderstandings and differences which delayed the settlement of the Railway Shopmen's strike on some roads favorable to the Baltimore peace arrangement were apparent today. There were hopes that Bert M. Jewell, the shop crafts leader, would comb out with officials of the New York Central Lines, differences which prevented an agreement between the striking shopmen and the roads which form the New York Central System. Hopes were strengthened when the Southern railway, and the Mobile & Ohio, controlled by the Southern and Monon, fell in line with the roads accepting the Baltimore plan and signed the agreement. Many strikers of these roads are expected back at the jobs they left July first.

TURKS ARE CHECKMATED BY BRITISH QUICK MOVE IN STRENGTHENING FORCES AT ONCE

All Available Warships Have Left for Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 19.—British military experts believe whatever opportunity Mustapha Kemal Pasha had for a coup against Constantinople now has been lost in view of quick strengthening of the allied defensive forces in the neutral zone. Available British warships have left Malta for Constantinople, and Dorset regiment from Egypt and Staffordshire regiment from Gibraltar on way. Forces landed from British warships already entrenched themselves at Chanak, Asiatic side of Dardanelles bringing the land forces to ten thousand.

DAUGHERTY'S CASE DELAYED BY THE HOUSE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—By a vote of eight to three, the house judiciary committee at a hastily called meeting yesterday postponed consideration of the Keller impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty—set for today—until the short session of congress, beginning in December.

Decision to defer action virtually was reached at a conference of Republicans of the committee earlier in the day at which it was contended the hearings should not proceed while Mr. Daugherty was in Chicago in connection with injunction proceedings against striking railway employees, the basis for the impeachment charges.

COURT THROWS OUT EVIDENCE IN RAIL SUIT

Wilkinson Quashes 283 of Government's Affidavits

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—More than one third in volume of the government's evidence in its injunction suit against the striking railway shop crafts was ruled out yesterday when Judge James H. Wilkinson upheld the contention of the defense that 283 affidavits recounting violence at the hands of supposed strikers failed to show the persons making them, knew they were to be used in court.

At one swoop attorneys for B. M. Jewell and John Scott, strike leaders, thus disposed of a large part of the slightly less than 700 affidavits on which the government based its claim of an unlawful conspiracy to destroy interstate commerce.

Among the affidavits which the court announced he would not consider in arriving at a decision, was one by J. P. Rooney, head of the Chicago Bureau of Investigation, of the Department of Justice, to which Mr. Rooney had matched copies of strike bulletins issued from the headquarters of the railway employees' department, American Federation of Labor.

DEADLY GAS ASPHYXIATED FORTY-SEVEN MINERS IN THEIR TOMB

And Had Worked to the Last to Fence Off the Dead
by Gas

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 19.—All forty-seven of the miners entombed in the Argonaut mine August 27, are dead, it was announced officially shortly before 9 o'clock last night.

A note found on one of the bodies indicated that all the men had died within five hours of the beginning of the fire August 27, officials said. All the miners were found behind the second of two bulkheads they had built in a cross-cut 4,350 feet down in the Argonaut mine, Byron O. Pickard, chief of the federal bureau of mines for this district, was the first man to go behind the bulkhead and discovered the bodies.

Pickard, on an earlier exploration behind this bulkhead had counted 42 bodies and expressed the belief that there were others there.

The note found read as follows: "S. m., gas bad." The same note bore a scrawled figure "4," apparently indicating the same man had attempted to leave word for those who might come after, of the condition of the mine at that hour.

Mine officials declared that the condition of the cross-cut behind the bulkhead was such that life could not have been sustained there by the entombed men for more than five hours.

The bodies were found piled one on top of another and decomposition had progressed so far that identification would be impossible, Pickard reported.

The mine officials said that the actions of the men, as evidenced by the bulkheads they built and other matters indicated they had died within five hours after being entombed.

The officials declared the mute evidence of the men's struggles showed they were 47 of the most cool-headed men imaginable.

Sixteen of the entrapped miners removed their clothes to provide material for stuffing the cracks in the wooden barrier, hastily constructed, which was found early last evening. Then another barrier was built of rock, earth and debris. However, the gas and fumes from the fire apparently seeped through the first bulkhead and the men fled from the site where they were building the second one to start further on.

This third attempt to wall off the death-dealing gas was made at the end of the 4,350 foot cross cut in the Argonaut, but the fact that only a bare start was made as it proved, the mine officials said, that the deadly carbon monoxide and the suffocating carbon dioxide had reached it and performed their fatal office before the 47 unfortunates could raise even an excuse for a barrier.

Mine officials said that death had come to the entombed men painlessly. The gases, they said, would produce first a lethargy, then a coma and finally death.

Jackson as a whole took the tragic news calmly and courageously. The general topic of conversation, except in the immediate family circles of the dead, was arrangements for the funeral, which it was believed would be a joint affair.

Some, if not all, of the 47 miners entombed in the Argonaut mine, were believed to be behind a double bulkhead on the 4,350 foot level of the Argonaut mine, according to an official statement telephoned from the depths of the mine to the surface yesterday.

Word of finding of the bulkhead came to mining officials from Byron O. Pickard, of the federal bureau of mines, who is directing rescue work underground. Pickard telephoned from the deep workings of the Argonaut mine, whence the rescue work has been prosecuted.

PUBLIC FORUM

OFFICERS DID THEIR DUTY.

Sanford, Sept. 16, 1922.

Mr. Editor: Please accept my cordial congratulations on your well-timed and manly defense of Sheriff Hand's conduct in "spiriting away" the murderous negro who, without cause or provocation, killed poor young Jacobs.

In the eyes of all right-thinking people, not only he, but his associates, City Manager Ryan and Chief of Police Killebrew, deserve the highest praise for the promptitude, skill and courage they displayed on that memorable occasion.

I cannot conceive of any one in Sanford indulging in hostile "criticism" of their behavior, unless it emanated from one of those misguided unfortunates, who become inflamed by passion and race hatred as to wilfully encourage the thoughtless and reckless element of one populace to inflict upon our fair little city the unspeakable horrors of a lynching.

I have no doubt, whatever, that a large majority of our citizens are in full accord with me in my fervent hope, that all other sheriffs, not only in Florida, but in the whole South, will emulate Mr. Hand's example.

Permit me, also, to state, as an old railroad man—for I have been attached to the medical department of the Plant System and A. C. L. for twenty-seven years—that I take both pride and pleasure in commending and seeing your well deserved tribute to the admirable behavior of our own striking shipmen during the late crisis.

Sincerely, N. de V. HOWARD, M. D.

Cartoon in the Jacksonville Journal shows congress in the person of a rotund gentleman sitting at a desk where he is counting the votes and with one hand is throwing his old hat marked "bonus" into the waste basket marked "veto." The caption says "Having served its Purpose" meaning that the members of congress in the Republican ranks gained votes in the election two years ago by telling the boys they would vote for the bonus bill. Now that it is ripe they are casting it out. Some faith—yes.

The 47 entombed miners were the gamest of them all the accounts say today in talking about finding their bodies. They had stuck together to the last and built at least two barriers with clothing stripped from their bodies in the endeavor to shut out the deadly gas fumes, knowing that their comrades would reach them some time. This shows what manner of men are the miners and it also shows the danger that threatens them every day they are down in the depths digging, digging, digging—for the miserable pittance that seems to be begrudged them by the corporations that have grown rich from their work.

Probation Officer J. C. Lanier, of Jacksonville, has the courage of his convictions and he is preferring charges against various dance halls in and around that city where young girls have been given liquor and where other disorderly conduct has been noticed. Lanier threatens to take the girls from their parents and put them in a reform school when he finds that they have been drinking liquor. There are stringent laws about minors obtaining liquor and every city should enforce it to the letter. Again the Herald wishes to say that public opinion will go a long way toward knocking out liquor and other evils of the present day.

PROUD OF OUR UNIVERSITIES.

There is great hope for the future of Southern College in the amazing figures showing the attendance this autumn at the two state universities. The Florida College for Women opened at Tallahassee a few days ago with an attendance of 600 while the University of Florida at Gainesville has an enrollment of more than one thousand. Both institutions will be called on to care for more than this number before the term progresses very far.

While mentioning our splendid state universities, it is proper to suggest that every dollar put into these schools by the people of Florida has been a dollar well spent? Already they are attracting nation-wide attention and are taking their place among the best institutions of learning in the country.

The beacon light for Southern is the evident desire of the people of Florida to properly and fully educate their children. Not all the students can be accommodated in the state universities so it is a good thing for the state that colleges of the high type of Southern have come into being to share in the responsibilities of creating better citizens of the young men and young women who are coming to Lakeland next month not only from Florida but from many other states both North and South. The larger the enrollment in all the colleges and universities in Florida, the more important and prominent will be the place occupied by this state in the educational circles of the country.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

FLORIDA'S FINE SHOWING

Among all the Southern States none is proven to be on a finer financial footing than Florida, taking the records of loans and advances made by the War Finance Corporation's figures as basis for the statement.

Out of 411 million dollars loaned or advanced during the period between January 4, 1921, and August 31, 1922,

Florida has received aid only to the amount of $782,999.

The banking and financing institutions of this state are charged with $382,000 only, compared to the more than $24,000,000 which went to Iowa, $21,000,000 to North Dakota, nearly $11,000,000 to South Carolina, and varying sums between one and fifteen millions to the other states.

Of the amount received by Florida, $400,000 went to the live stock loan companies, and was used to help pull the Florida cattlemen out of the pit they dugged for others and into which they fell, themselves.

Florida's fine financial standing is certified to by the report, and the fact that no Florida co-operative companies have received any help is strong proof that the banks and banking institutions of the state are amply able and fully willing, to assist all meritorious propositions applying for financial backing.

The Tribune felt sure that Florida's condition was even better than it had been claiming, and asked the War Finance Corporation for a comparative showing of the assistance given the states. The report printed in the Saturday Morning Tribune was the result of that request, and is indeed of great value to the entire state because of the assurance it gives that financially, as well as economically, and from a general business standpoint, Florida is one of the soundest and most self-helping states in the Union.—Tampa Tribune.

SCANDAL

The laws of libel are pretty well defined relative to publication in newspapers or other periodicals of damaging statements concerning individuals when such statements are false. To the general credit of newspapers, it may be said that libel suits are comparatively rare things, and that in most instances they have an inspired rather than actual basis.

Legal check re-ins, however, are not so effective with the amateur or professional scandal monger. The convincing proof of the printed page points no accusing finger. They ply their trade by whispered word and elusive insinuation. The back trails of human intercourse bear their evil tidings and leave no traces.

Who can estimate the toll of distress and the harvest of unhappiness that has come from the machinations of the scandal monger? The ramifications of scandal are endless and may reach in a hundred different directions from their source. As a snow ball rolling down hill, a bit of harmful gossip gathers weight in its course. More frequently than not the scandalous fabrication has little or no basis in fact. It may be utterly untrue but this seldom troubles the teller, if the story is good for passing on. In any case there is always the equivocation of receiving the news second hand in absolution of personal responsibility.

The charitable thing to do about scandal is to have no part in giving it currency. It is never well to circulate a story of questionable proof. If you hear something disparaging to an other person, and it does not particularly concern you, forget about it. If the story does concern you enough, inquire into the facts, just as would a court sift the evidence of a case on trial. Then you have done justice to yourself as an honest person as well as to the other individual.

Many men and women and young girls have died with broken hearts because of the scandal monger. They went to defeat before an enemy they could not fight. The insidious, forked tongue of evil fears no weapon. There exists none to offer it successful battle.—St. Petersburg Times.

DENGUE IN THE NORTH

That dengue fever, so-called in Florida, is not a disease peculiar to this state, or even to the south, is shown by reports brought back from the north by returning residents who have been away for vacations. The impression has been general that dengue is a tropical disease and that it is noted only in the extreme southern states.

But residents of St. Petersburg who have been in the north this summer say that in many states there was much sickness and that the patients who were ill had every symptom of dengue as it is known in Florida. In Kentucky the disease was known as "summer flu," and in other states further north other names were applied to the malady, but the symptoms were the same in all cases. When a person in the north developed a fever, aching body and a sore throat the doctors said it was grip or a mild case of flu or something like that, and applied what remedies they could devise. In Florida, when a patient became ill with such symptoms, the disease was pronounced dengue.

All over the country this summer there have been outbreaks of the fever that went by various names and doctors in northern cities, as well as in Florida, found themselves with many cases to attend. Nobody was very ill, but everybody who had the fever was miserable for a few days and gained strength slowly after being able to get out of bed.

From all this it would appear that the so-called dengue was not confined to Florida or the south by any means. Perhaps the disease which was prevalent in this city and state during the summer was not the real dengue, but was just the grip or "summer flu" which was found all over the state north of here. The disease is now disappearing, the number of cases having been greatly reduced. Nobody has died from it, and when the cooler weather comes and the mosquitoes cease to hum the malady will entirely disappear.—St. Petersburg Independent.

JUST A CASE OF MORE SUPPLY THAN DEMAND

Press dispatches bring the news of the suspension of the Huntsville Telegram. Our statement says that the paper will not appear again. Huntsville, Alabama, is one of the largest of the so-called smaller cities of the South. Counting its cotton mills, which with few exceptions, are outside the city limits, but in the district, Huntsville must have a population of well over twenty thousand inhabitants—a larger number of people than now claimed for Albany and Decatur. None of the accounts of the failure of the Telegram charge that its management was not good, or that it was not a good, readable newspaper, anxious for the upbuilding of Huntsville and the betterment of its subscribers, advertisers and all its patrons and well wishers. So no conclusion remains but to say that the supply of newspapers in Huntsville exceeded the demand, and the ability and willingness of the people to support two daily papers. It is the same old story. Too many newspapers for the number of available subscribers and advertisers. What has taken place at Huntsville recently, has taken place there several times. And all over the country it has been proven over and over again that none but the large cities can hope to sustain more than one daily paper, and still have the best interests of all concerned served to the best advantage.

The Albany-Decatur Daily management regrets to see the failure of the Telegram. It was one of the brightest and cleanest and most progressive of the small dailies that came to our exchange table. The newspaper reflects that but for the loyalty of its employees, the generosity of its advertisers, and, we had almost said, the forbearance, to say nothing of the patience of our good creditors, we would never have been able to establish this daily upon its present stable foundation. And as the public has foreborne with us, we have also sought to bear our burdens with patience and without complaint. If the public knew as well as we do, the experience that must be gone through with by all makers of daily newspapers, then the public would not find it hard or difficult to sympathize with the management of all newspapers.

We wish to pledge ourselves anew to the task of enlightening our patrons as much as within us lies, as to what is going on in the world—from the happenings of local interest, to those of national and world-wide moment.

We wish to reflect the best thought and the best sentiment of our day so that when the time comes, as it must to all mortals, to cease our labors and existence on this earth, it can truthfully be said that The Albany-Decatur Daily did what it could to live up to its purpose as stated under its name on the front page: "Devoted to the interest and upbuilding of Albany, Alabama, and Decatur, Alabama."

The suspension of The Telegram leaves the field there now to the Times, Editor Pierce's bright newspaper. Served by a full leased wire of The Associated Press, the Times may be depended upon to satisfactorily and fully serve the people of Madison county.—Albany-Decatur (Ala.) Daily.

DO WE KILL TURKEY BEFORE THANKSGIVING

We are all ready to kill off the bloody Turks. We went into the World War with the feeling that we would stop Germany in her aggressions and stop the Turks from committing any more atrocities upon the Christians, and it looked like the Turks and the Germans would be stopped all at one time since they were allies. Now Russia is the ally of the Turks and the World War did not even make a dent in the Turks although Germany is supposed to be down and out financially and unable to make any war for some time to come. But Turkey looms large on the horizon and with only England to hold her in check and no help coming from any other Christian nation on account of the entangling alliances with which all of Europe is cursed, and the Turks are going on slaughtering at will and with Russia standing by holding the bloody weapons for the Turks it looks as though the World War was fought in vain. A despatch yesterday said it up as follows:

Too many of us are inclined to give the Greeks the laugh for having received a drubbing at the hands of the Turks in Asia Minor, then forget the thing. Nothing could be a bigger mistake. The Greeks looked for trouble, certainly, and they found it. King Tino asked for a licking, and he got it. In all of which we count, BUT—

The Turkish victory is not the end of a perfect day but only the beginning of an unpleasant one—rather the continuation of one—just one more episode in the European tragedy now going on. The episode, however, may have stupendous repercussions later on.

Mustapha Kemal is friendly with Soviet Russia. Russia is now virtually the ally of Germany. Let us not forget that, nor that the Turkish victory over the Greeks will not go unnoticed anywhere in the Mussulman world.

Europe is still a bubbling cauldron of opposing interests, of conflicting ambitions. Hatreds are still at the boiling point. Poverty and hunger are the driving forces of certain of the nations, and almost daily we are hearing open threats of this country making common cause with that country in the event another country attempts thus and so.

The military "comeback" of Turkey in Asia Minor has set Constantinople mad with joy, according to the cables. Will Turkey long keep to herself the dissatisfaction she so keenly feels over her situation in Europe? England has opposed Turkey—Turkey lies between England and India—what view will London now take of the matter?

France has been friendly with Turkey. What will Paris say? Turkey can make trouble for England in India and Egypt. Will she make demands on Great Britain? Poetic justice maybe, but assuredly there is nothing to laugh over in the Greek debacle. The re-entry into the arena of a powerful fighting force—and no one save those who have never come in contact with the Turks deny they can be a powerful fighting force—merely serves to render an already grave situation more critical still.

WOMEN DESTROY CHURCH ORGAN IN KENTUCKY TOWN

HERDERSON, Ky., Sept. 19.—The Christian church at Bordley, Union county, recently installed an organ after several months' wrangle among the congregation. Today a mass of smoldering embers was all that remained of the organ. It had been removed from the church, taken into the church yard, chopped to pieces and set on fire after coal oil had been poured over the pieces. Reports reaching here were to the effect that a woman member of the congregation, irritated because of the installation of the organ, had destroyed installation of the organ had destroyed it. Court action will be taken soon, it was said, as the name of the woman is known.

Thousand Return to Work—Rock Island Men Forming Association

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Threats against non-union workers, but few outbreaks, were reported yesterday as several more railroads put into effect the shop craft peace plan.

Officials of both the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Northwestern announced that the striking shopmen returned to work by the thousands during the day and without any signs of the violence noted Saturday when the returning workers demanded that all non-union employees be dismissed.

J. E. Gorman, president of the Rock Island railroad, announced no further negotiations will be carried on by that railroad with the officers of the shop craft but that an "association of Rock Island shop employees" is being formed by those now in the service.

Mr. Gorman said former employees would be restored to their full pass and pension privileges but will not be given their old places on the seniority list.

The executives of some of the roads that have held off from the shop craft settlement plan, asserted that the efforts of E. M. Jewell, president of the shop craft organization, have narrowed down to a fight to get jobs for the men he called out July 1.

Mr. Jewell departed for New York last night with the intention of entering into a conference this morning with officials of the New York Central in an effort to reach an agreement on some basis of settlement.

New York Central officials Saturday broke off conferences with representatives of the strikers, declaring the latter were making demands not contained in the original memorandum of agreements.

MRS. HARDING WILL REMAIN AT CRITL WHILE CONVALESCING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Harding, now on the road to recovery from her recent serious illness, probably will spend the entire recuperative period at the White House, it was said today by those close to the executive family.

Since an announcement that anxiety had passed as to the outcome of her illness, there have been various reports that Mrs. Harding would go to the mountains, or seashore, or to some quiet spot in the interior as soon as she was able to travel.

President Harding also was said to have given up definitely his plans for a vacation this year. Early in the year preparations were made for the president and Mrs. Harding to make an extended tour through the West and thence to Alaska.

Important matters arose, one after another, however, which necessitated repeated postponement of the departure of this executive family.

ENTIRE STATE WARRING AGAINST THE VAGRANTS

Every city in Florida is making it a point to arrest the vagrants flocking toward this warmer climate as the cold sets in over the north. There is no color limit drawn in the arrests made. If a man cannot show that he has some money or has some legitimate employment he is usually locked up for a month; if those arrested have funds and appear to be of the loafer type they are allowed a few hours to clear from the city. City authorities act upon the belief, which seems a just one, that there is work for everyone in his own state; and rather than have Florida overrun by riffraff it is better they be placed on roadwork for a specified time. There are occasionally very deserving persons in sorry plight—but why should they not seek the aid of charitable institutions in those states where they have been making their homes for years? Kissimmee is going to take active steps as other Florida cities—and rigidly enforce ordinances against the numerous pests which have for years been a bane to all people.—Kissimmee Gazette.

Of course it is hard for a rich man to get to heaven. Why should it be easier for a rich man than for a poor man?

RAIL STRIKE ON SOUTHERN NOW SETTLED

MEN TO RETURN TO WORK IMMEDIATELY WITH SENIORITY RIGHTS UNIMPAIRED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Officials of the Southern Railway and representatives of the union shop crafts of that system late yesterday signed the Warfield-Willard-Jewell agreement. The strike among the workers of the Mobile and Ohio railroad, which is controlled by the Southern, also was settled on the same basis. The workers of the two roads and those employed on all other lines controlled by the Southern, who went on strike, are to return immediately to work with seniority rights unimpaired.

Orders were telegraphed by the shop leaders last night to divisional chairmen of the various labor unions throughout the south to instruct their men to return to work at once. Similar orders were sent out by the Southern's officials to their superintendents to put all the former workmen back at their old jobs as soon as they applied.

The conference had been in session three hours when William H. Johnston, president of the international association of machinists, as spokesman for the union chiefs, announced that a settlement had been reached. Henry W. Miller, vice-president of the Southern lines in charge of operations, exhibited a copy of the agreement bearing signatures of union leaders and representatives of the Southern, remarking that he expected most of the striking workers to be back at work within a week.

The refusal of the shop leaders to sign last Saturday led to doubt in some quarters as to the outcome of yesterday's meeting. It was understood that the decision in favor of settlement was influenced largely by President Johnston, who was said to have urged an amicable agreement in the interest of "industrial peace."

E. E. Norris, of St. Louis, vice-president and general manager of the Mobile and Ohio road, acted as spokesman for that system in the negotiations.

Negroes' Invasion of White Settlement Causes Fight

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Bricks, razors, clubs and fists were the weapons that sent six victims to hospitals and a score of others less seriously injured, to physicians for treatment early today as the result of a race riot between whites and blacks that grew out of the invasion by negroes of a neighborhood tenanted by white families. Police reserves quelled the battle. Three of the six suffering from serious razor cuts, stab wounds and broken heads, are under police guard in hospitals. They are white men, all charged with felonious assault. A negro and two negroes also are in hospitals, but have not been arrested.

FAKE AND SCHEMES WILL FARE BADLY IN BRADENTOWN

BRADENTOWN, Sept. 18.—The business men of Bradentown have decided to establish a committee in the merchants association that will pass on all advertising propositions that are put before the business men of the city. This secret committee will carefully consider every kind of an advertising scheme that it put up to the merchants, and will undoubtedly turn down nine tenths of the schemes that are put up to the people by the traveling fakirs that are so common in Florida during the winter season. Legitimate advertising in the newspapers always is the best advertising and most of the schemes that are put up by traveling solicitors are of doubtful value. It is estimated that the work of this committee will save the merchants of Bradentown many thousands of dollars each season.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 18.—Mrs. H. C. Wright, of St. Petersburg, was killed when the automobile in which she was riding, with her mother, sister, and two other passengers, was struck by a truck on the narrow highway near the town of Newnan, N. C., to Florida.

Through the newspapers that you read you will get a lot of information, quite enough to start a record. There are clipping bureaus in the large cities that could furnish you a flood of such items. Seeing is believing, so make a record and study it!

Statistics show that 3,000 automobiles were struck at grade crossings in this country last year. In these accidents over 2,000 men, women and children were killed and over 3,000 others injured. In dozens of instances whole families, numbering from four to six, were wiped out, as completely as though a cyclone had struck them.

A cyclone comes without warning, from an unexpected quarter—a train of cars always comes along a permanent track, so you knew where to find it.

And yet, this very day, more than one driver, somewhere, will heedlessly drive onto the tracks, without looking or listening and then a rushing train will demolish his car. In company with wife and children he will meet sudden death.

A little thought—a little serious attention that you give to your business affairs, would save you from such a fate.

Are you doing any thing to assist in the CAREFUL CROSSING CAMPAIGN? Don't trust to luck. Use common sense if you want to live long.

DO YOU STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN before crossing Railroad tracks?

OUR SCHOOLS ARE SPLENDID IN MANY RESPECTS

They Need Home Economics and More Equipment

Sanford people have just cause for pride in our splendid school system. There is general satisfaction in the school board, who are straining every nerve to keep up with an ever increasing school population. There seems never to be enough room for the children who yearly present themselves for instruction, and the funds appropriated for educational purposes are not sufficient to meet the constant expansion. Twice, the school public has been asked to lend a hand, and has responded nobly, raising sufficient money in one instance to keep the teachers' salaries up to a high figure and in the other, building and equipping the lunch room at the Grammar School.

Once again the friends of our school system are asked to make a strong pull, the strong pull and the pull together, and equip the high school for an up-to-date four year course in Home Economics, the Women's Club and the High School. Students have already in hand about five hundred dollars for this purpose, but the hundred more will have to be raised before we can add to Latin and higher mathematics this practical course in cooking, marketing and management, which will fit the bright girls of Sanford and its vicinity to become the successful executives of up-to-date homes.

The play to be given at the High School Auditorium on the evening of September 26th will be for this benefit and an enthusiastic audience is spoken for the occasion. Some new and very attractive features will be brought out and advertised in the Herald from day to day.

PUSHNELL, Sept. 19.—Another piece of road building material has been unearthed in this state, it is believed with the recent developments on a tract near Sumterville. Tests have been made of lime rock deposits, it is said, and a road building firm has taken over the tract with a view to developing a quarry.

STATE NEWS

ST. AUGUSTINE, Sept. 19.—St. Johns county's rock quarry tract will shortly produce another revenue under arrangements recently made whereby Warden Leonard Smith is invested with authority to dispose of timber and turpentine deposits on the grounds.

A large part of the 146 acre tract is heavily timbered, much of which is the valuable cypress variety. For several years the tract was worked only for its rock deposits, until attention was brought to the other store of wealth.

KEY WEST, Sept. 19.—An unlooked for water sport was experienced by two bluejackets fishing off shore here recently. When they hooked a shark 11 feet six inches long and weighing 700 pounds, the sea monster swam fastly away pulling the small dinghy in which the sailors were riding, after it. The dinghy was carried two miles in the gulf and then the shark turned about and headed for shore. This proved its undoing for a derrick was called into play and the animal was hoisted to the deck.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 19.—The mayor, a traffic cop and a patrolman turned from their official functions here recently and entered something entirely out of their usual line.

Fred Lawrence, 12 year old negro boy, was left at the depot by his aunt who went away to North Carolina. The negro youngster, unacquainted with his surroundings was later picked up by the officers wandering aimlessly around in the negro quarter. The officers took the boy before the mayor and a solution was found.

The boy was carried to a pool room where the situation was explained and in a few minutes enough money was collected to pay his fare to his North Carolina home.

LAKE LAND, Sept. 19.—Presiding elders of the Methodist church in this state are expected here October 3 and 4 for a conference with their new bishop, Dr. W. N. Ainsworth, of Macon, Ga., and for the opening of Southern College, the Methodist school.

Bishop Ainsworth was transferred to the conference embracing Florida from the Texas conference at the last general meeting of the church. He has served in Texas several years where he went with his elevation to the bishopric. He is not a newcomer to this section, however, having served in pastorates at Macon, Ga., and Savannah, Ga., for several years. He will address the Florida presiding elders October 3.

Southern College will be formally opened in its new home October 4.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 19.—Florida Baptists have contributed more than half their portion of the 75 million dollar campaign, according to a report made public by S. B. Rogers, of Jacksonville, executive secretary-treasurer of the Florida Baptist Convention, Inc.

The campaign was to last over a period of five years while this state was asked to subscribe $1,000,000 as its share. In the first two and a half year period just ended, according to Mr. Rogers, $47,980.10 was contributed.

The sum was expended as follows: Aged ministers, $10,959.76; Christian education, $93,157.98; foreign missions, $109,597.62; home missions, $101,877.80; orphans' home, $54,798.81; southside education, $21,019.53; and state missions, $166,176.61.

The total overhead, or administration expenses, for Florida was $30,057.80 or 4.7 per cent.

Mr. Rogers report in discussing the growth of the church in this state, said that the membership had been increased from 60,874 to 72,385 in the two and a half year period. The number of churches increased from 720 to 763.

COUGHS DISTURB SCHOOL WORK

School teachers should give the same advice to children who have coughs as this Florida teacher. "I recommended Foley's Honey and Tar to the children in my school who had the 'flu' and good results came whenever it was used," writes Mrs. L. Armstrong, Okeechobee, Florida. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Stood the test of time serving three generations.
