It was to a vast unseen audience as well as to a packed auditorium that Dr. S. Parkes Cadman spoke on his return from his recent election as president of the largest church confederation. At the same time that the Federal Council of Churches had been meeting, the National Council of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States was in session. Dr. Cadman's address was based on the significance of these two great gatherings, of which he said:

"It would be hard to find a more thoroughly equipped and effective body of delegated Americans. In both of these notable groups some of the best qualities of our American religious life could be gauged. It produced them and they have reciprocated to its clear advantage. Nor do I exaggerate in saying that

'Its Flag Girdles the Globe'

DR. S. PARKES CADMAN
President Federal Council of Churches, whose Y. M. C. A. addresses on Sunday afternoons are heard by hundreds of thousands.

Millions of Americans of every sort will be upraised and blessed by the outcome of the conventions to which I refer. In a remarkable tribute to the Y. M. C. A. he said: "We are not to allow our sense of lasting obligation to this tremendous agency for brotherhood to be dulled by usage and familiarity. The home centers of the Y. M. C. A. are in nearly every town and city; its circumference sweeps around Europe, Asia, Africa and the major islands of the seas. Its flag girdles the globe with a more spiritual meaning than that of any national ensign. It is the flag of Christ, white with His purity and red with His oblation. It tells mankind of the original Christianity which came in Him, not to be ministered unto but to minister. The multiplicity of its benefits has earned for it the support of the best citizens of all Christian lands. Closely connected with it are several kindred organizations which, to a given extent, have been promoted by its successful example. After 30 years of intimate relations with this honored association, which belongs, first, to our Lord, and then to all for whom He died, permit me to wish it God-speed and every possible attainment in grace, gifts and fruit."

United States Leads World In Giving To Foreign Missions, Statistics Show
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The World War caused the withdrawal of all Protestant foreign missionaries from 219 residence stations, which are today either not occupied at all or are in the hands of Christian nationals, according to data compiled for a World Missionary Atlas soon to be published by the Institute of Social and Religious Research. Of the stations completely vacated 126 are in Africa, 58 in India, 21 in Western Asia, 11 in Netherlands Indies and the remainder in scattered areas. For the most part the stations vacated were occupied before the war by Continental missionaries. But despite the war, operations are shown by the new atlas to be on a very much greater scale now than at the beginning of the century. There are missionaries in residence at 4,598 stations, not in-

Wealth Of America Shows Big Increase In Past 12 Months

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The wealth of the United States at the end of December, 1923, on the best estimates available of all property classified by the census bureau, was placed Wednesday at $320,803,862,000. This was an increase of 72.2 per cent for the decade, since 1912 wealth to be $186,299,664,000. Many difficulties and necessarily wide margins for estimate and error in putting together its calculations, the bureau said, made its findings impossible of the close application given to its population the category of national wealth was real estate and its improvements subject to taxation, which were found to be worth $155,908,625,000. The second item in point of size was the grouped valuation of the clothing, furniture, vehicles and like property of individuals, which totaled $39,816,001,000. Third on the list was the value of manufactured products on hand and in distribution, placed at $28,422,848,000, while the next largest item was $29,595,819,000 representing real property and its improvements listed by the states as exempt from taxation.

Japan grew from 42,835 to 134,547 in the same period, while in Korea there was an extraordinary increase, from 8,288 to 277,377. About 700 Protestant organizations are now carrying on missionary work, and their total income for general foreign missions, as reported in 1923, was $69,555,148. Of this total, according to the atlas, $45,272,793 was received by societies having headquarters in the United States, $3,357,739 by Canadian societies and $13,342,499 by British societies. Continental societies had an income of $3,631,305. At the end of the nineteenth century the total income for Protestant foreign missions was $19,508,823, of which Great Britain and Ireland gave $9,495,562, the Continent $2,441,013, the United States $5,916,781, and Canada $545,998. In 1923 the missionary societies reported having 1,157 qualified physicians from western lands at work, and the atlas shows there are now 858 mission hospitals, with 31,264 beds, as well as 1,686 dispensaries. In the year covered by the 1923 reports 4,788,258 individual patients received medical attention. Only data relating to Protestant missions are included in this atlas. ### HAITI PROSPERS IN 9 YEARS UNDER RULE OF AMERICA

Fortunes Of Island Republic Began To Improve With Landing Of American Marines In July, 9 Years Ago.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Jan. 16.—The accomplishments of the United States during the occupation of the island of Haiti that has extended over nine years are worthy of note. All the activities necessary to the rehabilitation of the country have been supervised and directed by Americans, with distinct benefit to the republic. The one great outstanding result of this work is the knowledge of all Haitians, and especially the present working class that they are free of the menace of confiscation of their property and that their lives are safe. The poorest man in the island knows he will be protected in his home, that he will be able to enjoy the fruits of his labors and that he is free to go and come and carry his possessions with him.

Anarchy reigned in Haiti in July 1915, and American marines were landed for the protection of the lives and property of American and foreign citizens. Two months later the United States made a treaty with Haiti by which the former country pledged itself to remedy the financial situation and to develop the economic possibilities of the republic.

At this time Haiti was bankrupt with a national debt of $32,000,000. Also she had no credit. Today the national debt is slightly under $25,000,000, the currency is at par

Boy, Page Lady Godiva

You are asked to believe that these girls—Sybil Wilson, Ruth Fallows, Helen MacDonald and Nina Byron, reading from left to right—you are asked to believe that they up and quit their jobs as show girls in the Moulin Rouge in Paris. And all because of a little difference between them and the manager over costumes. Said costumes, it seems, were strong on quality, but very weak in quantity. And the young ladies simply would not stand for it.

in the world's markets, a modern budget system has been established, and a cash reserve of $1,306,856 has been built up. When the American marines landed in the summer of 1915, sanitation was medieval in character and disease was rampant. Today ten hospitals are in operation and dispensaries are maintained in areas outside the hospital zones. Clinics are held in remote places and sanitary inspection maintained in all cities and towns and the most stringent regulations are enforced and carried out. It took years of patient effort to overcome the ignorance of the natives and the influence of the witchcraft and voodoo doctors, but today the people are flocking to the American medical men for relief. Malaria is being checked and native doctors and nurses are being trained.

In 1915 public works had virtually ceased to function. Roads were wretched and without bridges and the lighthouses inadequate to the large number of harbors and the dangerous coast. Today there are more than 600 miles of good gravelled roads, many new bridges, 800 miles of new telephone and telegraph lines and a good telephone system in Port-au-Prince. The coast is now encircled by a chain of lighthouses and automatically lighted buoys which make navigation along the coast and into the harbors easy and safe.

In the summer of 1915 it is estimated that some 6,000 handits infested Haiti. Life and property were not safe and travel on public highways had ceased. For the last four years Haiti has had peace and security. Peasants have returned to their homes or built new ones and the native or foreigner is perfectly safe in any part of Haiti. A native gendarmerie of 44 commissioned officers and 2,500 enlisted men has been trained and equipped under the guidance of American marine officers. They have entire charge of the policing of the island and are stationed in every section.

This financial and economic uplift of the island has been accomplished solely through Haitian resources and the friendly cooperation of the Haitian government with Brigadier General John H. Russell, United States general commissioner and his staff of American treaty officials. While much has been accomplished there is a long road ahead. Clarification of the laws and the placing of the judiciary of a high plane are now occupying the attention of officials. Modern agricultural colleges from the United States is establishing schools and model farms where natives are to

Miami Expects Crowd At Opening Of Races

MIAMI, Jan. 16.—One of the greatest crowds ever assembled for a sporting event in Florida is expected to be on hand tomorrow afternoon for the first day's racing card of the inaugural meeting of the Miami Jockey Club. Post time for the first race is 2:30 p. m. More than 600 horses are quartered at the track.

Seven races are on the card for the opening day, with the field race, the Miami handicap, a sprint of a mile and 70 yards, as the feature, seven good runners have been entered in this number.

The Miami race track is located at Hialeah Park, about eight miles from the center of the city. During the past year, approximately $1,000,000 has been spent on construction of the track, stands, stables and other equipment.

Charges were made in the senate that the National Tariff League is soliciting contributions to prevent reappointment of David J. Lewis, of Maryland to the tariff commission.

India Says Shipping Of Monkeys Cruelty

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The native extremist newspapers of India have started a campaign against the wholesale exportation of monkeys according to the Daily Telegraph's Calcutta correspondent.

The writer declares the traffic is exciting widespread interest and that the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is taking action regarding it. He says the animals arrive at the ports packed to suffocation in railroad cars, the shipments being consigned mainly to Germany, Austria, America and England, partly to meet the demand for monkey glands for medical purposes.

The editorial of a Calcutta paper warns the government that unless it forbids this "devilish trade" it will have a terrible responsibility when the consequences of the population indignation become manifest.

The senate prohibition investigating committee made public testimony relating to the tax settlement in the Fleischmann Company case.

Girls of the Sanford High School tonight at 8 o'clock will swing in to action against the girls' team of the Orlando school on the local basketball court. Each of the teams has lost only one game, to Kissimmee, and by virtually the same score and a fast game is anticipated.

The last appearance of the local girls team resulted in a victory over Bonnie May Kinley and Mary Kinlaw; centers, Mery Elizabeth Moya and Anna Kanner, guards, Hilda Butler and Claire Zachry.

Prices of admission will be 25 cents for school children and 35 cents for adults.

Trapped Whale Ruins $5,000 Worth Of Nets

CORDOVA, Alaska, Jan. 16.—A whale, chasing a school of herring into a lagoon during high tide at Kachemak Bay, Seldovia found himself trapped and, before he followed a gasoline boat three weeks later out of the lagoon toward the north Pacific ocean, damaged more the $5,000 worth of fishing nets after being wounded by hundreds of bullets, Fish Commissioner William P. Studdert reported on his return here.

The lagoon noted as one of the finest herring banks on Cook Inlet being crowded with fishermen during the season, is four miles long and two miles wide. It is connected to Kachemak Bay by a narrow shallow channel.

Twelve net were destroyed the first day the whale made his appearance. Fishermen, aided by Commissioner Studdert, trained every shotgun in camp on the whale as he sped from one end of the lagoon to the other without finding an exit. Hundreds of nets were ruined before he followed a small boat through the channel.

Hawaii Provides Sport For American Sailors

HONOLULU, Jan. 16.—All sport facilities of the territory, baseball diamonds, football and basketball fields, track and field grounds and harbor crew-race courses, will be at the disposal of the men and officers of the United States fleet during its visit and maneuvers in Hawaiian waters next spring.

The sports sub-committee of the territorial fleet committee is preparing a map of all athletic fields and facilities on the islands. Copies will be forwarded to the fleet several months before its arrival.

It is hoped that the fleet basketball championship may be decided here. Several track meets are being scheduled for the fair grounds. Boxing, wrestling also are also on the program.

The main course in Honolulu harbor, where the ancient Kings of Hawaii held their races, will be thrown open to the fleet crews. In building days the harbor used to accommodate 500 vessels.

This is the Bee's—Manchester, England—Ida Grace Londo hula-hula dancer, didn't give the bees' knees a chance to rest on her burnt-work skin when a swarm of them emerged from a hive in the corner of an old theatre here. A second Bill Tilden is what the experts say about Horace Orser, recently crowned junior indoor tennis champion. Orser started playing at 7, under the direction of his father. In action, he reminds of Tilden, lacking, of course, the genius of the champion.

New York District Attorney Favors Taking Baseball Scandal to Court

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The aftermath of the Dolan-O'Connell bribery scandal developed a new factor of the public prosecution, Thursday when District Attorney Banton of New York announced he would prosecute the principals under a law specifically covering such offenses, if baseball Commissioner Landis provided him with the necessary evidence. Mr. Banton indicated that he would take no initiative himself in the matter.

The possibility that O'Connell and Dolan could be indicted and prosecuted for their part in the deal to bribe Home Sand, Philadelphia shortstop, was revealed when a New York newspaper published the specification of the new law covering baseball bribery, classifying it as felony and providing a maximum punishment of five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Flier Predicts 12 Hour Flights Soon By Huge Derigible

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Brig. Gen. Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, was called today by the house military committee for further questioning on a bill proposing the creation of a department of aeronautics in charge of a secretary of cabinet rank.

The measure, introduced by Representative Curry, Republican, California, was warmly endorsed by Gen. Mitchell in testifying before the committee last week.

Before Gen. Mitchell appeared today Edward Eickenbucker, World War flier endorsing the bill, told the committee that in 25 years huge dirigibles would make non-stop flights around the world and would remain in the air 12 months at a time. He insisted, on questioning that his picture of the future was not "as ridiculous" as similar statements would have been about the automobile industry 25 years ago.

Air liners appearing off New York harbor, he declared, would be met by smaller aircraft, which land on the larger ship, and the passengers and baggage would be removed to the city by means of the auxiliary craft.

five years and by a fine of not more than $10,000.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Konesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, Thursday night said he had no comment to make regarding the statement of District Attorney M. Banton of New York, that he would prosecute Jimmy O'Connell, Giant outfielder, and Cozy Dolan, coach, for their part in the 1921 bribery scandal, if the commissioner presented evidence of a crime committed there in violation of a New York statute covering such an offense.

Naughty?

This is Diana, central figure of many French scandals, in the costume she wears in a show at the Casino de Paris. Would you say this was naughty? She has played to crowded houses over a record run.
