Quints To Have Own Coach On First Trip From Nursery

By PAUL ROSS
NORTH BAY, Ont., May 10.—The climax to that modern fairy-tale—the story of the Quints—will come on the night of May 21. For the first time in their lives the little girls will leave their home and start down to Toronto, Ont., to meet the King and Queen of England. It will be their first glimpse of the great world outside.

The Dafoe nursery has been like a castle these five years, a castle where five precious princesses were watched over by the good fairy, Science, whose strong arms and stalwart men guarded them from the dragons of Disease, Curiosity and Thoughtlessness. But on the fateful night of May 21, the wire-mesh gates of the Dafoe nursery will swing open and five princesses will be whisked off in a many-cylindered chariot.

At Callander, they will climb aboard a wonderful caravan called a railroad train, which will speed them on. The next morning they will wake up in a great city and they who have seen only a few people and the simple structures of the nursery grounds will behold crowds and high buildings and automobiles and trains. Quint life will never be the same.

When it was settled that the Quints would go to see the King and Queen, the Ontario government, which is charged with the care of the children, decided to entrust them in equipment owned by the government. Accordingly, the T. A. N. O. R. facilities were enlisted and the private car of the road's general manager was selected to ride the Quints. Formerly it was known as No. 200. Now it is "The Dafoe Nursery."

The car has been furnished, repainted and changed over. Two of its three bedrooms, which used to have one bed each, now have two beds each. The car is Ontario size, of course. The third bedroom contains one cot and one bed, the latter for the use of the nurse who will sleep with the children in accordance with Dafoe nursery custom. The dining room in the car has been furnished with Quint size chairs and tables. The railway has been rigged to provide the children with meals of the customary caliber and type. The bathroom, containing tub and shower, has been made ready to maintain Quint standards of cleanliness. Nurses O'Shaughnessy and Conrivers, Teacher Veins and Housekeeper Cook-Aunt Grace Deane, will accompany the Quints in this car.

Father and Mother Dionne, all the other Dionne children, and one or two close friends of the Dionne family, will occupy another car on the Quint Special. A third car will be used by the "wife" board of guardians and fourth will carry newspapermen. Finally, there will be a diner for the grown folks. The train will be drawn by one of the T. & N. O.'s best engines. The whole enterprise will be under the protection of the Ontario Provincial Police.

The King and Queen are scheduled to make an appearance at Woodbine racetrack, in Toronto, to watch the 80th running of the historic King's Plate race. This will draw a large part of the crowd to the track. At an appropriate moment the Quints will be switched to an automobile and taken to the private chambers of the Premier of Ontario in the Parliament building.

Just before the "fare" of just after the King and Queen will meet the Quints.

The meeting will take place in the reception room of the Lieutenant-Governor's suite. Nobody but the royal pair, two ladies-in-waiting, the Quints, their parents and one of their nurses will be present.

When the reception is over, the children will be taken back to their Dafoe-nursery-on-wheels at Toronto to the Quints' what is called the "Ball and the South Sea Islands" are to the average person. One of their favorite games has been the one where they hold their little toy suitcases, sit down on chairs and pretend that they are going to Toronto. Once, when Nurse O'Shaughnessy was preparing for a week-end there, the nurse declared she would hide the nurse's bag and go along. Several factors have contributed toward making prospects of the little girls even more exciting.

When the beautiful white coach will be all ready by the time the Quints are greeted by the Queen and Queen's Aides in Toronto. Several times for fittings, the girls have been taken to the Queen's Hotel. White coats, shoes and a little white hat will be on the back of a maid carrying the outfit. There is to be a luncheon at the Queen's Hotel, and then the girls will be taken to the Queen's Hotel.

6-Year Old Boy Found To Have Unusual Memory

DALLAS, Tex., May 10.—(AP)—The memorizing ability of six-year-old Sol Shearn Rovinsky of Dallas, amazes his family's friends.

He can tell what day of the week it will be on May 27 in 1945, six years hence. Or he can say, without hesitation, what day of the week it was that George Washington was born.

He is like a football quarterback calling signals when he begins to reel off Sundays, Tuesdays or Fridays and telling their dates. He can do that for every month up to 1945. He never names them in order but mixes them up at the sixth of May will be Sunday; the seventh of July will be Monday. Christmas comes that year (whatever one he happens to be talking about) on Sunday.

He knows the names of the presidents of the United States; the date each was born and died and took office; he can recite the Declaration of Independence; the Constitution of the United States and Lincoln's Gettysburg address and many other things although he has studied them only casually.

The fact that he is a human calendar was discovered recently by accident. His father mentioned that he planned to buy an automobile on a date quite a way in the future.

"You can't do that," said young Sol. "That is Sunday."

The calendar showed he was correct.

"How did you know that?" asked his father.

"I don't know," said the boy. "I just know it."

Psychologists who have studied him say they have no explanation for his amazing memory.

Third Graders Write Their Own Poems And Music

ATLANTA, Ga., May 10.—(AP)—Nine-year-olds here are learning music by composing it—and their teacher recommends the method as a sure-fire way to prevent music boredom.

Mrs. Blanche Threatic, who is using the plan on 30 third-graders at a public school, says her pupils' quick grasp of song technique and their talent for musical expression and interpretation have amazed experts.

Writing poems and setting them to music often is spontaneous and may occur whenever a poetic mood strikes the group, she says.

"The coming of Spring," the teacher explains, "may start an outburst of poetry writing. Or the group may learn talking about birds and decide to write songs about them."

Every student is invited to try a hand at the poem writing. Some sit, chat in hand, trying to coax the notes. Some scribble rapidly.

Mrs. Threatic selects two or three of the best poems and takes her seat at the piano to sing or to play the group's words.

She reads an entire poem, then a single line. The youngsters are asked to sing the line so a tune of their own making and each of three or four interpretations.

"Children of this age," Mrs. Threatic discovered, "are natural musicians. Their artistic choice of tunes is astonishing and they never have any trouble carrying the tune harmoniously."

SCHOOL BUILT FOR THREE

In a lonely glen in Sutherland-shire, Scotland, the smallest school in the British Empire is thriving. It was built last May to comply with an Act of Parliament which rules that no child may walk more than three miles to school. Three children of James McKay, a shepherd, are the sole pupils. Every morning they finish their breakfast in the shepherd's hut on the moors, and set out on their three-mile trudge to school. Strict hours are kept at the school and the children are seldom late. A teacher cycles three miles every day from her home in Inverclyde.

Polish Word For Grapefruit Found

LAKELAND, May 10.—After receiving nearly a score of suggestions as to just what is the correct Polish word for grapefruit, the Florida citrus commission has just about decided that the Polish word for grapefruit is "grapefruit."

In Poland, however, they spell it just a trifle differently—"grzeprutem"—but it means the same thing.

Two authorities which are considered unimpeachable caused the commission to reach its decision. The Polish embassy and a large Polish newspaper published in the United States.

At the commission's request, the Library of Congress put some of its etymological experts on the trail which led to the Polish Embassy in Washington. To quote from the Library's memorandum: "Information derived from an assistant—who communicated with the Polish Embassy on the subject, leads to the conclusion that the English word 'grapefruit' is in preferred use in Poland, (corresponding to the common use, in France, of terms like 'le biftek', 'le sport', 'le football', etc.) The terms cytryna and cytryny are too general; anadok is not in common use; pamelka and winograt are doubtful."

The purpose of the Farm Extension Service is to disseminate advanced agricultural and farm-home-making information available from colleges, experiment stations and other sources.

BABY BOOM IN AUSTRALIA

Australia's announced determination to people its vast territory is being answered by babies who are arriving in greater numbers than ever before. Sydney claims the record in the visits of the stork. Fifty-four have been born in one hospital in a week, and 55 in four days in another. The record for the last named in a recent week was 65. Sydney, however, has just lost its world record as the city of over 500,000 people with the lowest death rate. Its rate is 14.4 per thousand. Detroit, Mich., has just lowered its rate to 14.4.

Long Term Policy Of Peace Is Offered To Nazis By Chamberlain

Consideration Of German Colonial Demands Included For "No Force" Pledge

Many Injured In Holy Land Riots

Lloyd George Demands Russia Be Brought Into British Bloc

British Prime Minister Chamberlain today offered Germany a long-term peace policy, including consideration of the Nazi colonial aspirations. If Germany would show convincingly that she had no "intention of aggression or the further use of force" in her relations with other countries.

The Prime Minister spoke in a House of Commons debate on a Jewish minority in Palestine against his new Holy Land policy caused one death and 100 injuries and while Spanish Generalissimo Franco made his triumphant entry into Madrid with a conquering fanfare.

Chamberlain made his offer in a reply to attacks on the British foreign policy by David Lloyd George wartime prime minister and Laborite opposition leader Clement Attlee, but warned that Britain was not prepared to buy peace with concessions which would only lead to further demands.

Lloyd George demanded that Chamberlain bring Soviet Russia into the British-French front.

More Of Road To East Coast Will Be Paved

Dowling Asks 'reparation Of Plans For 7 More Miles Of State Road No. 44

Plans for hard surfacing a seven mile stretch on State Road No. 44, between the first bridge and the improvement project on the highway now under way this side of Mims, are being made, according to a telegram received today from Senator J. J. Parrish of Titusville.

The state senator advised that on May 11, J. H. Dowling, engineer for the State Road Department had requested T. B. Massey, engineer for this division to prepare specifications for the improvement of the seven miles so that they could be advertised for bids next month.

With the completion of this stretch there will be a hard-surfaced roadway between Sanford and Titusville although the section from Geneva to the east across the St. Johns River east of Sanford is only nine feet wide.

While the specifications on the new paving have not been prepared it was expected that the 20-foot asphalt paving which is being laid east of Mims will be continued to the bridge.

It was learned that work is progressing rapidly on the section now under construction and that this project would be completed by July 1. Those interested are hopeful that the contracts will be awarded and work will be ready to begin on the final seven mile stretch by the time the improvement of the first section of the connecting link to the East Coast is completed.

Completion of this link in State Road No. 44 climaxed combined efforts of Brevard and Seminole County Groups who secured commitments from the State Road Department when they appeared at a budget meeting of the group several months ago.

It is also the plan of the State Road Department to widen and re-route the present nine-foot road between the Geneva bridge and Geneva but Engineer First T. Williams said that the road department cannot consider this project at present since the rights-of-way have not been secured by the County.

"I think the County should acquire these rights-of-way so that we will be in a position to ask the State Road Department to continue improvement of this road to Sanford next year," Mr. Williams said.

Some of the rights-of-way have already been secured but there are several holdouts with whom the Board of County Commissioners have not completed negotiations.

Group To Seek Reconsideration Of Canal Report

Improvement Association To Make Plans At Meeting May 25

A course of future action toward securing reconsideration of the proposed St. Johns-Indian River canal which was recently reported unfavorably by the Army Division Engineers will be outlined at a meeting in the Mayfair Hotel next Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock of the St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association, organized to sponsor the project, according to Secretary Ralph Bagwell.

The unfavorable report of the engineers at Richmond, Va., was a delay to the project on account of the proposed canal, which would water outlet from the lower St. Johns River to the East Coast. Members of the association and those interested are seeking a hearing before a board of engineers during which they will present additional data on the project in an attempt to obtain reconsideration of the merits of the proposal and a reversal of the recent decision of the Army engineers.

Assisting in arrangements, is Rep. Joe Hendricks who advised The Sanford Herald that he has asked the engineers of the River and Harbors Board to "give us a hearing" and he said he would notify those interested as soon as his request had been granted.

Although the meeting has been called primarily for the consideration of the latest developments in the proposed canal project, Mr. Bagwell said that the annual meeting of the board of directors and the election of officers will also be held in connection with next Friday's session.

Local Measures Signed By Cone

Governor Cone today signed HB1990 by Representatives Lehman and Leonard amending the Sanford charter, also HB1999 relating to Sanford city Commission and HB1000 amending act relating to payment and collection of city taxes. HB1050 and 1051 relating to the town of Oklawaha and HB1120 relating to Seminole County were also enacted into laws.

Seminole Joins In Study Of Proposed Okechobee Canal

Seminole County has joined in other counties in Central Florida and the St. Johns River valley to investigate the feasibility of constructing a waterway connecting the St. Johns River and Lake Okechobee. Ralph Bagwell, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce said today.

Mr. Bagwell represented Seminole County at the formal organization of the Central Florida Waterways Association, formed to sponsor the project at a meeting of the group in Orlando yesterday.

Pointing out that Sanford would be a key city in the proposed fresh water canal through the central part of the state, Mr. Bagwell said that the association has no particular route in mind at present but it is the belief of those interested that such a canal would be of especial benefit to Central Florida and the state as a whole.

Handed together by charter and by laws, the representatives at a previous meeting selected as their president H. H. Brown of Clermont, who with Secretary E. Gaylord of Lake Wales, formed a committee to obtain estimates on the cost of a physical survey to determine the most feasible route and an investigation to determine the benefits of such a proposal. When these data

3 Are Burned To Death In Blaze At Punta Gorda

PUNTA GORDA, May 19.—(AP)—A family of three perished today in an early morning fire that destroyed a large waterfront building housing two fish companies and a cold storage plant.

The dead were John Henry Willis, 65, night employe of the Punta Gorda Fish company, his wife, Rosa Lee, 24, and their 3-year-old son, Edwin.

Mrs. Willis' sister, Martha Le Bagwell, 48, suffered a back and bruise in leaping from the second story window of an apartment in which the others were trapped.

Division Of Western Demos Seen As Cause Of Roosevelt's Canal Rebuff

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—A breakdown of the Senate vote that gave President Roosevelt a rebuff on the $200,000,000 Florida ship canal project discloses a sharp division among Democrats from the West.

Whereas almost all western Democrats in the Senate rallied to help him through a $400,000,000 farm benefit increase; a number of them resisted combined pressure of organized labor factions for authorization of the canal project, and furnished the balance of power that spelled Senate disapproval of the enterprise.

Sixteen western Democrats and LaFollette, Progressive, Wisconsin, lined up against the Administration on the canal vote; 20 voted or were paired for it, joined by Norris, Nebraska Independent, and Lundeen, Minnesota Farmer-Laborer.

The figures affirm the conclusion that it was a revolt among western Democrats, plus opposition from some other members of that party and from the solid Republican minority, which defeated the bill.

Whether that vote represents new evidence that to the minds of many western senators the outstanding political lesson of last year's congressional elections was a reaction of the farm vote against certain Administration policies or was due to other less visible causes, is a matter of speculation. Whatever the influences that led to the Democratic split, however, it marked another flip-flop on the economy versus spending-for-recovery issue between the President and a powerful faction of his party in Congress.

Cheering Throngs Welcome British Royalty In Montreal

OTTAWA, Canada, May 19.—(AP)—King George and Queen Elizabeth came to Ottawa in a cold drizzle today to begin their two day visit in the capital of their largest dominion.

Their welcome was marked by the first unpleasant weather of their tour.

In Montreal for 10 crowded hours King George and Queen Elizabeth were cheered and feted yesterday by Canada's greatest metropolis.

Determined to outdo Quebec's colorful welcome of Wednesday, Montreal flagged 1,000,000 cheering and flag-waving people to greet the smiling royal pair.

Their simple floating through the air gave a New York touch to their Canadian tour as the parade of royal cars passed the Place d'Armes on their 23-mile tour through the city.

Not satisfied with this tumultuous greeting, crowds concentrated in Dominion square outside the Windsor Hotel where the king and queen were guests at a civic dinner attended by both houses of the Canadian parliament, officials and prominent citizens.

Later their majesties slept in the blue and silver train at the little village of Canada where their streamlined engine with its gleaming stainless steel was halted for a late morning entry today into Ottawa, the Canadian capital.

Their welcome was marked by the first unpleasant weather of their tour.

In Montreal for 10 crowded hours King George and Queen Elizabeth were cheered and feted yesterday by Canada's greatest metropolis.

Determined to outdo Quebec's colorful welcome of Wednesday, Montreal flagged 1,000,000 cheering and flag-waving people to greet the smiling royal pair.

Their simple floating through the air gave a New York touch to their Canadian tour as the parade of royal cars passed the Place d'Armes on their 23-mile tour through the city.

Not satisfied with this tumultuous greeting, crowds concentrated in Dominion square outside the Windsor Hotel where the king and queen were guests at a civic dinner attended by both houses of the Canadian parliament, officials and prominent citizens.

Later their majesties slept in the blue and silver train at the little village of Canada where their streamlined engine with its gleaming stainless steel was halted for a late morning entry today into Ottawa, the Canadian capital.

Probe Of Racing Graft To Continue

Bill Would Fine Counties For Seeking More Gas Tax Funds

TALLAHASSEE, May 19.—(AP)—Well organized supporters of ad valorem tax abolition won three rounds in the House today and pressed hard for a final vote on a proposed constitutional amendment which opponents called vicious toward the people and beneficial for bondholders.

The House refused various amendments offered to straight-out ad valorem abolition. One which was defeated would have tied the sales tax on a plan as substitute for ad valorem taxes. Others would have allowed municipalities to continue real estate taxation and would have abolished only the State ad valorem tax.

Proponents of higher salaries for the Supreme Court Justices won a headline victory in the Senate which voted by an exact two-thirds majority to consider a bill already approved in the House. The Senate adjourned leaving the measure as unfinished business to be taken up immediately when it reconvenes.

House Kills Bill To Tighten State Tax Collections

Measure Is Blasted As "Damnably And Vicious" By Opponents Who Won 38-32

Group Proposes Tax Commission Lewis Says Pension Bill Sponsor It Will Not Pass

TALLAHASSEE, May 20.—(AP)—The House killed today a bill by Rep. Strayhorn of Lee to tighten up the collection of taxes. It struck out the enacting clause, 38 to 32, after opponents of the bill described it as "damnably and vicious," and said it would allow tax certificates buyers to pray upon small property owners who become delinquent.

Strayhorn said the bill would enforce tax payments by providing that purchasers of delinquent tax certificates could obtain title in the property after one year, and to homestead after two years. It would have established county delinquent tax boards.

The powerful House Finance and Taxation Committee introduced a bill to create a State Tax Commission with board authority over the valuation and assessment of property for taxation.

The five-member commission, appointed by the governor, could maintain court actions to prevent property on assessment rolls. It would establish a standard for values to be used by assessors in all counties.

Members of the House Finance and Taxation Committee charged that many House members who voted to introduce the $7,500,000 bill were "damnably and vicious" in their opposition to the proposed abolition of real estate taxes yesterday by voting for income and inheritance taxes to replace the $45,000,000 a year which landowners now pay to Florida and its government.

Legislators predicted that definitely precluded passage of any general sales tax by the 1939 Legislature, because of valorem abolitionists said they would support a sales tax only after removal of property taxes.

Fight For Lower Freight Rates In South Continues

Governors Reply To Contentions Of New Englanders

ATLANTA, May 20.—(AP)—Southern governors held yesterday the South's sunshine and natural resources were insufficient legal grounds for denying it the same freight rates on manufactured articles as prevail north of the Potomac and Ohio Rivers and east of the Mississippi.

The contention is part of a reply attorneys filed today in Washington to exceptions to a recommendation that the Interstate Commerce Commission grant freight rate adjustments sought by the governors on all but three of 23 commodities.

The recommendation was made by Commissioner William T. Lee and Examiner Michael T. Corcoran February 27. It must be approved by the whole commission before it becomes effective.

Adversary interests, including New England and certain Midwestern governors, filed exceptions May 17. The reply of the Southern governors was prepared by Edgar C. Watkins of Atlanta, J. V. Norman of Louisville, Ky., and Hugh White of Montgomery, Ala.

It queries the governor of Connecticut, in opposing the rate revisions, as saying, "The South has God-given aids which even the Interior Commerce Commission cannot make." The governor of Vermont, as saying, "If we could give you our map and go along with you, we would be glad to do so."

To which the brief for the Southern governors responded, "We ask that that nature be joined to the brief filed by the commission or carrier. The Supreme Court said: 'The law does not attempt to equalize fortune, opportunities or abilities.'"

"You (the ICC) have stated this well-known rule in similar language, and in many cases, and we ask that this legally sound economic rule be here applied. The brief also sets forth: 'It is true that the South has an equitable climate and abundant natural resources; and, if transportation facilities could be had on equal terms, her industries could manufacture some of these natural resources at less cost than in sections where such raw materials are more distant, less abundant or more costly. Why are not consumers throughout the Nation entitled to participate in the use of what nature has provided?'

"It is also true that the North has the advantage of nearer markets, more skilled artisans and greater capital, but we do not seek to deprive them of their natural advantages."

Vote Nears On Bill To Raise Chains' Taxes

Proposal Is Favored As Source Of Revenue From "Those Best Able To Pay"

TALLAHASSEE, May 20.—(AP)—Legislation to place heavy taxes on the chain stores in Florida is near a showdown vote in the Senate today. The rates proposed in the bill by Senator Savage of Ocala would put top license taxes of $1,000 on each unit in chains of 100 or more stores, and $2,000 on equally large department store chains.

Opponents insisted the measure would injure Florida agriculture, but would not drive the chains out of the state. Supporters defended the Savage bill as a means of obtaining several millions of dollars from "those best able to pay" taxes in the state.

By voice vote the Senate adopted the bill by Senator Savage, Ocala, interrupted what was reported to be a filibuster on Court Justice pay yesterday to call up the measure which would increase chain store taxes.
