Patty, SLA Survivors Facing New Charges

A youth says Miss Hearst told him she joined the SLA of her own free will.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst and two comrades faced additional charges today stemming from two alleged kidnappings as hundreds of police searched for the three believed to be the remnants of the Symbionese Liberation Army.
 Heavily armed police swarmed into the Los Angeles suburb of Van Nuys and into a neighborhood in Sacramento Tuesday night in response to some of the scores of citizen reports claiming to have seen Miss Hearst and two SLA members, William and Emily Harris.
 Neither report checked out. But FBI agent Charles Bates, in charge of this case since Miss Hearst was kidnapped 3½ months ago, said early today a tip will check out sooner or later. He appealed to the three to surrender to avoid more bloodshed.
 A youth who said Miss Hearst and the Harrises kidnaped him last week was quoted by the Los Angeles Times today as saying the 20-year-old newspaper heiress told him she joined the SLA of her own free will.

 Tom Dean Matthews, 18, reportedly said Miss Hearst told him she had nothing to do with her kidnapping, but decided to join forces with her abductors because of dissatisfaction with her father's sponsoring of a $2 million food giveaway that was to win her release.
 Los Angeles Dist. Atty. Joseph Busch said Miss Hearst and the Harrises would be charged today in a shooting incident at a suburban sporting goods store, the commandeering of several vehicles and kidnapping of two men. They already are charged with unlawful use and possession of automatic weapons.
 Authorities allege that the kidnappings followed an abortive attempt by Harris, 29, to shoplift a pair of 49-cent socks last Thursday. That episode, in which police allege Miss Hearst sprayed the store with automatic rifle fire, started police on an intensive manhunt in Los Angeles. Friday, six SLA members died in a fiery shootout.

 A spokesman for Catherine and Randolph Hearst said the parents feel "it's going to end soon, that it's going to be resolved imminently."
 Los Angeles Police Chief Ed Davis said the trio could surrender to either the local Press Club or the Los Angeles County Bar Association acting as gobetweens. Bates said any sincere surrender attempt would be honored, but warned that FBI agents had no intentions of walking into an ambush.
 The police manhunt continued across the state.

Squalid Lifestyle For SLA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In a trail of cluttered nesting places, the Symbionese Liberation Army left behind signs of a squalid and increasingly spartan existence fed by revolutionary dreams.

For six SLA members, the trail of their hideouts began, and ended, in flames.
 The search began after two alleged SLA "soldiers" were arrested Jan. 10 for the murder of a schools superintendent. Police say the small terrorist group tried unsuccessfully to burn down a nearby bungalow in suburban Concord that night.
 In the smoke-damaged rooms, authorities found a cache of clues about the mysterious group which had claimed responsibility for killing Oakland Schools Supt. Marcus Foster last Nov. 6.
 Judging by documents in the house, police say, the SLA had kept busy making surveillance reports on Foster, writing communiques and compiling dossiers on prominent local businessmen for kidnapping warrants. One name found on papers there was that of Patricia Hearst, a college sophomore in nearby Berkeley.
 Doors and windows in the house were reinforced with plywood, and, had newspapers were kept nearby for quick burning. Revolutionary posters adorned many walls.
 Beneath a mantle full of books on guerrilla warfare, weaponry and Marxism, the occupants evidently constructed pipebombs and practiced shooting a wall target with an air pistol. Gas masks were kept next to their beds; heavier ammunition was scattered all around.

For recreation, they apparently played rock music on the stereo, and sipped beer or wine. An empty case of plum wine, which the SLA's late leader Donald DeFreeze reportedly favored, was found along with several Mellow cocktails made with the grapes.
 The cupboards and refrigerator were well stocked with staples and health foods from a Berkeley store. But stacks of dirty dishes overflowed the sink, and bags of garbage spilled across the floor.
 Their clothing — mainly Levi's, Army fatigue jackets and other military surplus — was haphazardly stored in drawers and closets, or tossed in a corner. "They didn't seem to care much about their material possessions," said Oakland Homicide Sgt. John Agler.

'Misunderstanding' Kills County Trees

By CHRIS NELSON
 Herald Staff Writer

A "misunderstanding" has been cited by a Winter Park building mover charged by Seminole County commissioners with destroying 42 trees valued at more than $40,000 apparently in violation of the county's tree protection ordinance.

The commission voted Tuesday to seek civil and possible criminal action against George Saunders, and lifted permits necessary for his Building Movers Inc. firm to continue work on the old Altamonte Elementary School. Saunders, irate at the commission action, at first claimed "only two trees were cut down," but later said he felt he had given permission to cut "whatever trees are in the way" of his $475,000 moving project.

The former Orange County Democratic chairman, removed by Gov. Reubin Askew after an attempt to "pack" the East-West Expressway with his own people two years ago, was hired last year by the Seminole County School Board to move the old Altamonte Elementary buildings to a new site in The Woodlands, off E.E. Williamson Road.

School Board auxiliary services director Hugh Carlton, informed of Saunders' claims of a blank check, said the only agreement the board had with Saunders was a pledge to seek waiver by the county of a permit fee for cutting down trees.

 While telling the commission he "agreed 100 per cent" with its desire to save what trees remain after a secret Sunday harvest observed by Commissioner Dick Williams, Carlton warned that any delay caused by the permit holdup could delay the opening of school this fall.

Saunders, saying he "didn't want to make something out of nothing," added he didn't understand all the fuss over the permits since his moving project will be saving the taxpayers $500,000 — the difference between the cost of building an all new school and the costs of his contract.

Williams said he personally intervened Sunday when he caught Saunders' people cutting trees along the Douglas Road right of way in defiance of previous commission warnings to stop.
 A sheriff's deputy was dispatched to the scene, but no arrests could be made because no trees were cut in his presence.

 County Atty. Howard Marree, "documenting" the tree cutting, pointed to pictures and estimated values of all 42 trees cut prior to Sunday.

Marree said the county arbor ordinance makes each tree cut down a possible misdemeanor offense punishable by a $500 fine and 60 days in jail.
 Marree was ordered to send a letter to Saunders today warning him of the county's action.

On May 7, Saunders wrote Commission Chairman John Kimbrough that he was aware his people "allegedly cut" some trees down, called it a "misunderstanding," and promised "after we have concluded our investigation and if we are at fault, we will take appropriate action on this matter."

Chase Forced Out Of Celery Market

By J. RICHARDS
 Herald Staff Writer

By John A. Spolaki
 Here are a number of folks, headed by the Sanford Downtown Business Assoc., who are trying their darndest to see that there's no repeat of last year's "fireless" Fourth of July.

Like anything else, it takes the long green, plus the helpful hands of volunteers to make something like this click.
 So, let's take first things first. If you'd like to be a "handy helper" but can't find the time to actually tend one of the booths, etc., why not stop by the Sanford C of C and drop off a buck. Truth of the matter is that this year's cost for the fireworks (which will go off at 9 p.m.) cost $800.

It's so easy to blow a George Washington on something else—bad movie, a couple packs of weeks, etc. Why not contribute to a night of entertainment with a dollar donation? No more than that, honestly. Just a buck to give everyone a chance to be a partner in this salute to our country's birthday.

Say, have you heard about the Sanford woman who is going to walk from this city to Philadelphia (approximately 1,000 miles) as her part of this country's Bicentennial Celebration? No joke.
 She has a Masters in music and is going to talk to the older folks on her walkathon north, getting them to sing some of this country's songs of yesterday. From that point she will have the information bound and submitted to this country's educational systems...a means of preserving some of our rich past.
 More on this in later columns...

Chase and Co. general Manager Lee Moore said today the Sanford-based agricultural business will soon be forced to drop its Belle Glade celery production which annually produces from $1 million to $2 million.
 He said the company's inability to either lease or buy land in that "breadbasket" of farmlands surrounding Lake Okeechobee due to the federal government's dropping of restrictions on sugar cane acreage will force Chase out of the celery business.

 About 200 migrant workers in Belle Glade will be affected, Moore said, but only 30 year-round workers there will lose their jobs and only a few Sanford employees will be let go, he said.

 "We won't lose more than 10-15 people here," he said.
 The company, one of Seminole County's oldest businesses, had left Sanford celery fields for the warmer South Florida climate in 1956 when local celery production began its steady decline.

Sanford was then "The Celery Capital of the World."
 Payroll during peak celery and sweet corn production in Belle Glade had been $35,000 a week, Moore said, and dropped to as low as $2,000 a week during other periods.

Chase leased its 1,200 acres of celery land in Belle Glade from Florida Sugar Corp., which sold its land recently and Chase officials have not been able to locate more usable celery fields there.
 Moore said the state has about 12,000 acres in celery now.

Celery is the major interest in Chase' produce efforts which include sweet corn and cabbage, Moore said.
 Moore added he felt the company would not actively seek out new celery land either in the South Florida area or the Zellwood-Sanford area.

In a good year the company had produced up to 500,000 crates of celery, Moore said.
 The impact of Chase's loss of celery lands would not be appreciable, Moore predicted.
 "Other producers will make up what we used to grow," he said.

Moore declined to speculate on whether sugar cane producers might eventually gobble-up the existing bottom lands in Belle Glade for sugar production, causing further erosion in state celery production.

Sailor Quitting Cancer Battle

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A young seaman has lost his will to overcome the terminal cancer that doctors at three Navy bases failed to diagnose, which seemed to arrest the tumors, but "the doctors here are afraid to give him another treatment. They said he needs a specialist not available in the Jacksonville Naval Base.

Nunley is a Navy apprentice fireman from Jacksonville who was found in January to have terminal cancer. Navy doctors at three bases had brushed aside his complaints.
 "He lost about 10 pounds and he's not feeling well," Mrs. Nunley said. "His spirits kind of broke these last few days. He's taking pain pills for the first time in a long while."

The Navy issued a statement admitting its doctors had failed to diagnose the cancer and said "appropriate disciplinary and corrective action has been taken."
 When he came home in April,

Nunley vowed he would beat the cancer and live.
 His mother, Mrs. Robert Nunley, said he has had 11 chemotherapy treatments which seemed to arrest the tumors, but "the doctors here are afraid to give him another treatment. They said he needs a specialist not available in the Jacksonville Naval Base.

She said her son has again developed the back pains which were part of his original complaint.
 "He lost about 10 pounds and he's not feeling well," Mrs. Nunley said. "His spirits kind of broke these last few days. He's taking pain pills for the first time in a long while."

Mrs. Nunley said she wrote Nixon and got a reply from J. William Middendorf II, acting secretary of the Navy, stating there was nothing on Nunley's record to show he reported symptoms of the disease when they first appeared.
 Mrs. Nunley said she is replying to Middendorf.
 "Now you are trying to call this boy a liar. It was this boy's death statement, and he said he had no malice. It's against his character to lie."

Six days later, on Jan. 16, police reported discovery of a second SLA hideout. The third-story Oakland apartment was rented from September through November by a woman calling herself Lynn Ledworth. Police believed her to be the late SLA member Nancy Ling Perry.
 Less than six blocks from the Foster assassination site, the apartment was an ideal spot to plot and launch the murder, as well as a good sanctuary later, police said.
 The SLA vanished after the Feb. 4 kidnaping of Miss Hearst, reappearing into known public view with the newspaper heiress on April 15 during a $10,690 bank robbery.
 During that period, police say SLA members had moved into a rundown apartment building on the edge of San Francisco's Western Addition, a predominantly black neighborhood about ¼ mile from the FBI office here.

County To Buy Park Near Red Bug Lake

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

Negotiations on a 50-acre lake-side park near Red Bug Elementary School, and an 8-acre site on a 50-acre tract owned by the 500,000 Sylvan Lake Park, have been authorized by Seminole County commissioners today.

Acting on a recommendation by parks commissioner Mike Hattaway, the board authorized up to $389,000, plus interest, to be paid for the Red Bug Lake site.

Hattaway said a full recreational activity facility is planned, including football, baseball and basketball areas. The lake itself has been certified as clean by Pollution Control Chief Langley Adair, and a small beach is planned, Hattaway said.

The Sylvan Lake Park grant was signed by Chairman John Kimbrough, who was assured by Hattaway that the search for a park to serve the west county is well underway.

Sanford Parking
Commissioner Sid Vihlen said the board should press on with investigation of leasing "air space" over the City of Sanford's parking facility to build a county parking lot.

Editorial It's Rather Odd Loan Was Ok'd

To hear most politicians tell it they'd much rather be selling insurance.
Their constituents are a bother, the legislative sessions much too long, their responsibilities a terrible burden to bear. It has long been a mystery to us why so many people are so anxious to take on such a burden.
But it apparently has its compensations.

Florida's State Senate President Mallory Horne for one seems to have stood up under the burden very well, indeed.
Horne took the initiative the other day in disclosing his financial worth — which is considerable for a young man who told reporters he rode "out of law school on a bicycle."

Next time you find yourself a little short at the end of the month, try that one on your local banker. And if he hesitates or suggests that he didn't become president of the bank by being stupid, well, just wait until that if Mallory Horne's favorite banker had taken such a short-sighted view our Senate President wouldn't be a millionaire today.
That'll probably bring him around to your point of view, indeed.

Dear Sir:

The editorial (May 8) "The Children Aren't at Fault" was very thought provoking and the propositions expounded in it need to be hammered home as consistently as watergate is being hammered.
The poor quality of education our children are receiving has been a pet peeve of mine for 15 years, when young people coming to my place of business had to count on their fingers in adding up price and these young people in the last year of high school.

My assessment of the trouble is: first — John Dewey with his Socialist Lean and Progressive education . . . the certificate from Columbia Teacher's College was and probably still is considered the acme of teacher's certification; second, with the gradual infiltration of foreign ideologies that led to the phasing out of phonics and the adoption of "Look, See" so that a child was lost so far as reading was concerned without a picture, and ability to read is seen as cornerstone of education. Then comes mathematics and drill in the basics of this science is the second stone. Then writing is third, which includes English (grammar), which was this, the ability to express ideas, is lost.

So our forefathers (Jefferson, Madison, Franklin et al) were taught reading, writing, and arithmetic and in the higher phases of education were given or took on themselves, the disciplines of Latin and Greek, which has been phased out of our schools — probably because children do not get a thorough grounding in the English language.
And you will not get back to children who get an education that will give them a fair chance in life until the overwhelming education that is paid to the body. Sex Ed, sports and extra-curricular activities is phased out and discipline, phonics, and math drill are returned to the classroom.

This is of course, just a synthesis of the problem it would require a book to do the subject justice. The steps on the road back should be first, phonics as that would generate interest in the child as learning becomes easier, leading to less discipline problems.
On discipline, Polk County schools watch all their students with surveillance cameras — being presumed guilty unless cameras indicate otherwise — this from Center Magazine

Establishment Remains In Pretty Good Shape

How fares the "Establishment"?
Surprisingly, considering the recentness of the Vietnam war, the public's highest rating of any of the 10 institutions whose leadership was evaluated. They were followed by government officials and leaders of large corporations.

At the bottom of the scale, in descending order, are labor unions, the federal government and the President.
Between these extremes, again in descending order, are: Small business, public schools, news media, U.S. Supreme Court, large corporations, U.S. Congress, state governments, the judicial system and local governments.
These rankings are among the early results of a survey conducted last year by the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research. A representative sample of 1,444 Americans was asked how good

Martyr Nixon And Pay Later

By BRUCE BOSSAAT

Talking to a prominent Republican, I heard him voice dark fears that President Nixon's impeachment over the Watergate matter would martyr him in the eyes of die-hard supporters and convert them into a rigidly troublesome minority which would plague the party for many years.

The point arose as we discussed all the prospects facing the President as impeachment proceedings go forward in the House Judiciary Committee. The man's worst fears surfaced when he presumed the worst outcome — that the evidence might be so overwhelming as to produce something like a 4 to 1 vote for Mr. Nixon's removal from office.
Under my source's presumed conditions, he reasons that the 20 per cent of the U.S. Senate which still would stand with the President would be composed of men who either would hold themselves stonily impervious to crushing evidence, or would perceive in that evidence some wicked plot framed by the President's enemies.

Capital's Car Fleet 'Empty'

By JAMES CARY

WASHINGTON — Once there was a fleet of 211 magnificent, chauffeur-driven limousines and sedans plying the streets of Washington, all shiny, bright and splendid to view.
But no more.
The magnificent 211 have been cut back to a thinned-out 28, and most of these will be exchanged as soon as possible for far less splendid and magnificent compacts and subcompacts.

So reports the General Services Administration, general housekeeper and property manager for the Cabinet departments and government agencies, but not for the White House or Congress which have their own cars.
It's all part of the government's effort to conserve gasoline during the current energy crisis, and the ax is falling heaviest on that most deeply entrenched and covered political benefit, the large government-financed car.

They fall into what, in governmentese, are called types IV (medium), V (heavy), and VI (limousines).
The limousines are Lincoln Continental, Cadillac DeVilles, Calais and Chrysler Imperials. The mediums are Mercedes, Buick, Oldsmobile and Chrysler Newport and New Yorkers.
Last September there were 26 limousines, now only six; two heavy, now none, and 183 mediums, now only 27.

Jack Anderson Nixon And Rebozo Money

By JAMES CARY
The Herald Services

WASHINGTON — Senate Watergate investigators have pieced together evidence still strictly circumstantial, that Bebe Rebozo collected a slush fund for President Nixon's personal use.
Rebozo accepted both cash and checks in the President's behalf. Investigators have established that Rebozo deposited all the checks and the small, receipted cash donations in a special account in his Key Biscayne, Fla., bank. This money eventually was delivered, all properly recorded, to the President's campaign organization.

But cut back to a thinned-out 28, and most of these will be exchanged as soon as possible for far less splendid and magnificent compacts and subcompacts.

Petrol Marketers Subpoenaed By Jury In O'Malley Probe

Tallahassee Tally

By The Associated Press
Tallahassee, Fla. (AP) — The executive secretary and six members of an association that allegedly gave a $40,000 donation to insurance Commissioner Thomas O'Malley have been subpoenaed to appear before the Leon County Grand Jury.

The grand jury reportedly is looking into allegations that O'Malley accepted a $40,000 donation raised by the association to keep self-service gas stations out of Florida.
O'Malley is also the state fire marshal. In that capacity, he can prohibit stations where customers serve themselves.
O'Malley has denied ever receiving any donation from the group.
Levler Eugene Maples of Tallahassee, executive secretary of the petroleum group, was subpoenaed to testify along with association members.

Solons Seek Budget Compromise

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP) — House Appropriations chairmen Marshall Harris, D-Miami, says resolving the differences in budget bills passed by the House and Senate will run dangerously close to the scheduled May 31 end of the legislative session.

Each House passed its version of the 1974-75 fiscal year appropriations bill Tuesday, both falling slightly lower than the $4.55 billion budget asked for by Gov. Reubin Askew.
Next step was the formal rejection today by the House of the Senate's $4.525 billion budget and similar Senate action on the $4.461 billion House bill.
That sets the stage for a compromise conference committee to meet, probably holding its first working session Sunday.
"It's got to be dangerous any time you start real deliberations on Sunday five days before the end of the session," Harris said. "We obviously are going to have to work some

Probe Delays State Island Buy

The cabinet has decided to put off the $23-million purchase of a beach island after the compromise conference committee to meet, probably holding its first working session Sunday.
"I would very much like to see the state acquire Honey-moon Island," Shevin said. "But we shouldn't proceed until the federal investigation is over."
Leonard Burstein, a former part-owner of the island, said in a sworn deposition that he overheard Honey-moon Island owner Hyman Green talk of a $1 million sum that was somehow necessary "to effectuate the purchase by the state."
Green's attorneys have said the $1 million related to a legitimate real estate commission that never was paid over.
Green has demanded that the state buy the island by May 20. The cabinet has approved purchase of 300 acres, which represents two-thirds of the island, for a proposed state park. But members have not signed a formal agreement.
They expressed support Tuesday of withdrawing their signatures until the federal investigation is completed in three to six months.

Dickinson To Seek Re-Election

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP) — Comptroller Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson, embattled by a federal grand jury investigation and news media probes of his outside business activities, has announced as a candidate for re-election.

Dickinson, 52, was appointed comptroller on Sept. 1, 1963 when Ray Green resigned. He was elected to the post in 1966 and 1970.
Dickinson has denied any wrongdoing in connection with the reported grand jury investigation of his dealings with banks. As comptroller, he has sole power in granting or refusing state charters for new banks.
"The challenge will be more demanding than ever during the coming four years to preserve our elective system over the opposition of liberals who crave a spoils system type of appointive bureaucracy," he added.

Lake Mary Staff Told To Rezone

LAKE MARY—Describing plans for an eventual 170-acre Planned Unit Development in the city's Southeastern corner "in line with long range plans" the planning and zoning board has recommended that city council approve a rezoning request by The Babcock Company.

The board backed onto its approval a recommendation, the developers supply a 100-foot buffer between the development and less densely developed areas and pave an existing dirt track on the development's Northern boundary to facilitate entry of fire fighting equipment.

Babcock Regional Manager Wade Harwood said he expects the city to begin processing in July a request to annex an additional 100 acres below SR 427 and adjoining U.S. 192 to complete the development which will eventually have 699 living units.

All the land, except for a 9.4 acre strip along U.S. 19-92 which is to be developed commercially by George St. Laurent is currently zoned residential.

The board also sent along to council its recommendations to rezone three and one-half lots owned by Vernon C. Fedderson at Middle Street and Lake Mary Boulevard by rezoned office commercial from residential.

Board member Bob Beckhorn spoke for the majority when he said the Babcock development, which is expected to eventually increase the city's population by 800 people, meets with his concept of the city's long range land use planning which has not been fully completed.

The Board set a land use planning workshop at city hall June 12 at 7:30 p.m. as its next meeting.

Both Babcock and Fedderson's request for rezoning will be heard at city council's June 10 meeting, Mayor Margie Hess said today.

Lake Mary Crime Code Legal Today?

LAKE MARY—The countdown for lawmakers in this newly incorporated city of Southwest of Sanford today.

This is the deadline for Mayor Margie Hess to either allow the city's approved criminal code to become effective without her signature or veto it, which she has said she will not do.

"I don't want to fight council," Mrs. Hess said Tuesday. "So I'll probably allow the code to come into effect without signing it."

The mayor had originally balked at signing the 20-page ordinance because she felt its ban on the use of air guns and sling shots infringed on individual rights.

Council unanimously approved the code at its May 13 meeting, and the mayor refused to sign it, causing some concern by the city's only police officer, Gerald Fitzgerald, who said he felt his hands were tied by any of the local ordinance.

Fitzgerald, a county special deputy since he donned Lake Mary's Police Chief's uniform, has been operating under county and state law.

"I'm not particularly pleased with any of the code," Mayor Hess repeated. "I would rather have had us just adopt the state criminal code."

She added she would be giving her suggestions for changes in the code at future council meetings.

Winter Springs Council Wrestles Police Budget

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS — Struggling with next year's proposed police department budget for the second week, Winter Springs Council Monday night attempted to set their pay at a level that would encourage policemen to stay with the force.

Temporarily approved were the following minimum and maximum pay schedules: chief, $10,600-$12,500; sergeant, $7,600 (without minimum standard training) and $8,200 (with training) to $8,300; office girls, $2,150 to $2,650 an hour; and cadets, $2.25 an hour.

Sixty-five per cent of the cadets' salary is reimbursed by the federal government.

Referred to as a "training ground for Orange and Seminole County law enforcement agencies," Winter Springs in the past has found that once patrolmen complete schooling and gain experience they leave.

The city finds it hard to compete with larger municipalities having higher pay scales.

Police Commissioner John Area Infantymon Signs Up Again

Specialist Four Donald J. Bosse, 21, of Sanford has reenlisted for six years in the regular army while serving with the 2nd Infantry division in Korea.

Bosse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Bosse, 122 N. Sunland Drive.

Bosse is a driver in combat support company, 1st battalion of the division's 38th Infantry.

Area Students Honored

Thirteen Seminole County residents were among the 2,900 Florida State University students who made the Dean's list in the winter quarter. The Dean's list is an honor roll of students whose grade averages are "B" or "A" for all courses taken during the quarter.

The Seminole students achieving the honor are: Robert S. Gatchel, 2220 Cordova Drive; Phyllis D. Lingle, 312 Lake Boulevard; Kenneth W. May, 705 Cherokee Circle; Jane E. Mero, Route 1, Box 247; Deborah A. Moody, 200 S. Laurel Ave.; James R. Provencher, 201 Mirror Drive; Patricia A. Rethwill, 305 Vihlen Road; Jeffrey B. Stokied, 2072 Grandview; and Louise B. Zeuli, 1801 S. Chase Ave., all of Sanford, and Deborah J. Adkins, Box 159; Don L. Cohen, 308 Fox Squair Lane; and Lodge H. Schultz, Jr., 255 State Drive, Longwood and Kimberly A. Paller, 223 S. Wynmore Road, Altamonte Springs.

Prisoners Will Get Furlough

VIENNA (AP) — Prisoners are entitled to an annual furlough vacation as of next year in Austria, a country where jail-breaks are rare and occasional escapes are nearly always motivated by jealousy.

But officials in the Justice Ministry made it clear the essential precondition for a prisoner to do so is that he must be a five-day furlough twice a year, not to the certainty that he will return on time without committing further offenses.

"It is hardly conceivable to re-integrate offenders into society by totally excluding them from their human environment. This is why we are trying to provide more contacts with the family and the outside world," Heinrich Keller of the Justice Ministry, a state prosecutor, said.

Cane Crew Wants More $

HOUMA, La. (AP)—Louisiana sugar cane workers are asking that their wages be doubled for the 1974 harvest.

But producers told a three-member panel from the U.S. Department of Agriculture Monday that wages should only be increased by 25 cents per hour.

The panel, headed by Roger Stansbury, is to report its findings to the Agriculture Department in Washington. Sugar cane wages and prices are set by the department under provisions of the Sugar Act of 1948.

Pleading for the more moderate increase was the American Sugar Cane League.

"It cited tremendous production cost increases, near-disastrous harvests over the last three years, and profit losses," P.J. DeGravelles Jr., of Franklin, representing the league, said that $2.25 would be a fair minimum hourly wage for harvesters, loaders, and transfer loader operators.

The sugar cane league also recommended wages of $2.25 for tractor and truck drivers, — or 30 cents an hour higher than the increased minimum just established by Congress," DeGravelles said.

Snoops Bother Politicians

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — With all the investigations of Florida politicians these days, state officials and their aides are sensitive to the possibility that someone might be snooping on them.

Friends say that Jerry Davies, insurance Commissioner Thomas O'Malley's information officer, was concerned about the possibility of bugged telephones.

O'Malley is being investigated by the Leon County grand jury in connection with a $40,000 fund raised by the Petroleum Marketers Association. So when a telephone man left a gizmo behind after working on a phone in the office, Davies' friends say their chance to have a little fun. They typed the small piece of equipment under Davies' telephone and connected it to his phone with a yellow wire.

"I came back from lunch and when I went to make a phone call I saw this little yellow wire," Davies said. "I started in disbelief, shook my head a couple of times and followed the little yellow wire."

Davies realized he'd been had when he followed the wire to the telephone part and it said "this is the property of T. Edward Austin's office. Got ya."

"It got me," he said. "It definitely got me."

Tucker's office and took up residence in the receivers. Secretaries complained they were being bitten when they used the phones.

"I kept wondering whether there wasn't some kind of bugs on my phones," Tucker said, "but this...?"

E.L. Perry Jr., Florida A&M's information officer, and Rep. Dan Bass, R-Hollywood, aren't bashful about issuing press releases that tout their own horns.

Perry issued a release reporting on a speech he made concerning the possibility that Florida A&M would be moved to comply with a federal desegregation mandate.

The release hailed his speech as a "stirring address."

Bass, meanwhile, sought to inform the media about a House Elections Committee defeat of his bill requiring candidates to display current pictures on their campaign literature.

Altamonte Gets Sewer Plant OK

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—The city can ask for bids on its $5 million regional sewer treatment plant expansion in two weeks, it learned Tuesday after getting a $2.3 Environmental Protection Agency grant for the new interceptor system.

Consulting Engineer William Palm told city council Tuesday the city could not ask for bids on the interceptors from Montgomery Road at SR 434 to the sewer plant will be 75 per cent of the actual costs.

Palm said approval had previously been received from federal agencies for a $30,000 grant for the interceptor and a $3.4 million grant of the 7.5 million in grants. He said the city could not ask for bids on the interceptors from Montgomery Road at SR 434 to the sewer plant will be 75 per cent of the actual costs.

SANFORD AUTHOR VICTOR D. KIMBER ... His first novel an African Western

Sanford Author On Second Novel

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Independent theater owners in six Florida cities have filed a U.S. District Court suit charging that seven major film makers and their distributors conspired to divide the market among themselves.

The suit was brought by theater owners in Jacksonville, Sarasota, Palm Beach, Dunedin, Englewood and Sanibel Island.

Named as defendants were Warner Brothers, Paramount, 20th Century Fox, United Artists, General Cinema, American Broadcasting and its distributing companies.

In an upstairs room in a pink stucco house at 1421 Valencia Ave., Sanford, Victor D. Kimber said he has dedicated his book to their memory.

The fierce African sun beats down on his characters through every adventure, is part of Kimber's own background, however. He was born and grew up in the Transkei region of South Africa, and the native customs and wild landscapes of that land permeate each page.

"After completing his studies in the South African school system, Kimber went to work as a railroad foreman. His wife of 17 years, Alice Mae, was at the time an American mission-ary teacher in Rhodesia, and Kimber met her when she made a visit to South Africa." "She went through lion country to catch me," Kimber says.

Naturalized as an American citizen in 1959, Kimber now lives in Sanford and works as a sterilizing technician at the Florida Hospital in Orlando. He and Alice Mae, who is a social worker in Sanford, have an adopted daughter, Betty, living in Georgia.

Sanford Army Private Completes Artillery

Army Private First Class Richard T. Spain, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Spain, 702 E. 29th St., Sanford, recently completed a seven-week field artillery operations and intelligence assistant training course at the U.S. Army field artillery training center, Ft. Sill, Okla.

Spain learned to assist command and staff officers in the continuous appraisal of intelligence and operations.

His training included instruction in the conversion of observer's reports, techniques of plotting targets, and computing sites, elements of fire order and fire commands, computation of fire commands and corrections and administrative procedures.

His wife, Lisa, recently joined him in Texas.

Chamber Gives Plaque

Mrs. Clunette Stauffer of 200 Maitland Ave., Altamonte Springs, has been presented with a life membership plaque by Maitland-South Seminole Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Stauffer has served terms as a director, vice president and secretary of the board.

A resident of the area since 1950, she is now retired.

They Talked Too Soon

MIAMI (AP) — "It doesn't pay to open your mouth," said a Dade County sheriff's deputy.

"A bunch of us were talking just last week about how our department had been lucky. We hadn't lost a man in eight years."

The deputy was viewing the scene Tuesday where officer Semmons Arrington, 31, investigating a neighborhood dispute, was fatally wounded with a shotgun blast.

His death came just three days after Arrington's friend and fellow officer, Harrison Greenlaw, was shot to death after apparently stopping a motorist for questioning.

Deputies charged Sam Smith, Jr., 31, with first-degree murder in the Arrington shooting.

Sanford Sgt. Leaves Spain

A former Sanford resident and graduate of Crooks High School, Sergeant Ervin L. Miller, has been transferred to George Air Force Base from Tortuga Air Base, Spain.

Miller is a photo specialist and will be working with Headquarters, 35th Tactical Fighter Wing.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mottie Miller of 1703 S. West Road, Sanford.

Protestant Strikers Strangle N. Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestant strikers tightened their stranglehold on Northern Ireland's economy today with a ban on fuel distribution. They claimed absolute control of the British province.

The eighth day of almost total industrial disruption followed a night in which machine gun fire and a bomb blast wounded four teen-age girls in two attacks blamed on Protestant extremists. Extra troops were alerted in Britain to be ready to reinforce the 16,000-man force already in Ulster.

The fuel ban took effect at midnight. A few service stations remaining open Tuesday night filled cars.

Leaders of the general strike said oil and gasoline would be allowed only for essential services such as hospitals and public utilities still operating.

William Craig, leader of the hardline Vanguard Unionist party, told newsmen: "We are in effective control of the country. We certainly control the news of life in the community."

A lieutenant, Glenn Barr, took an even tougher line: "We could set up a provisional government if we took the notion. We have the power to govern in our hands."

"It has emerged as the brain behind the strike called last week to gain reversal of concessions made to Ulster's Roman Catholic minority that strike leaders saw as steps toward unification with the Irish Republic. The republic is a Catholic state.

The first demand of the strikers is for provincial elections by next fall. Their leaders believe this would demonstrate overwhelming opposition toward Irish unity.

Barr is a member of the Northern Ireland provincial assembly, but his real power stems from his role as coordinator of militant Protestant groups.

After a government attempt failed Tuesday to get heavily guarded workers back on the job at Harland and Wolff shipyards—Belfast's main industry—Barr told newsmen: "We are prepared to do anything to save the province from being taken over by republicans." Strike leaders threatened to cripple gas, water and sewage services if the government tried to put troops into electric power plants now operating at one-third capacity.

Repeated power cuts have brought crisis for agriculture, a mainstay of the Northern Ireland economy. One factory farm, short of feed because mills are closed, drowned 300,000 chickens too young for market.

Long lines formed outside the few stores still open. Meat, milk and bread were at a premium in Belfast, though the situation was less serious in country towns.

In London, the British government stood firm on its refusal to deal with the strikers. Prime Minister Harold Wilson, backed by the Conservative opposition, insists that the Sunningdale agreement, giving the Irish Republic a limited say in Ulster affairs, must stand. Strike leaders want it repealed.

India's Nuclear Power Could Very Well Backfire

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's underground nuclear explosion has set off a chain of international repercussions that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi might find hard to control.

The blast boosted her prestige at home, but it altered the region's diplomatic outlook and angered key Western aid donors. It posed an immediate danger to détente between India and Pakistan that had only recently begun after the strains imposed by their 1971 war.

After learning of the blast, Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto of Pakistan vowed never to succumb to Indian "nuclear blackmail or hegemony" and indicated he would go slow in normalizing relations.

The chairman of Pakistan's Atomic Energy Commission, Dr. Munir Ahmad Khan, hinted Tuesday that his country might have to push for its own nuclear capability in light of the Indian test.

India told Pakistan, as it told other critics abroad, that the blast was meant only for peaceful purposes.

Most world reaction to the test has been unfavorable, like severe criticism aired Tuesday by delegates to the Geneva disarmament conference. The United States and Canada, two countries on which India relies heavily for aid, said any nuclear blast furthers world nuclear instability.

Plutonium used to trigger the explosion is presumed to have come from a Canadian-aided reactor at Trombay, near Bombay.

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau's chief foreign policy adviser, Ivan Head, has said the blast might cost India further Canadian nuclear training.

"There is no difference at all between a nuclear device and a bomb," said one Western diplomat here. "You can take the device exploded Saturday, put it in an airplane, fly it over a city and drop it. That's a bomb."

"What really burns us up is Tuesday that his country might have to push for its own nuclear capability in light of the Indian test."

India told Pakistan, as it told other critics abroad, that the

WORLD TODAY

Irish Violence Flares

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Gunfire crackled today in Protestant strongholds of East Belfast as militant strikers defied thousands of British troops in combat gear by erecting barricades the soldiers had torn down.

There was no immediate word of casualties, but police said six or seven men were involved in the shooting.

One mob of young men armed with rocks and clubs attacked and encircled a police patrol, and soldiers in armored cars moved in to rescue the officers.

'Under-The-Gun' Gang

CHICAGO (AP) — An over-the-hill gang of former Chicago policemen is out to get $3 million in back wages from the city. But there doesn't appear to be much hope.

"Our bunch numbers about 1,500 and we think the city owes us about $3 million it took out of our pay checks in the Great Depression years of the 1930s," said Alner Bender, ringleader of the over-70 group.

"If we are going to get the money it had better be soon — a lot of us won't be around much longer," he said.

"Maybe we should be called the under-the-gun gang," Bender, 74, was on the Chicago police force from 1922 until retiring in 1950. His group has hired attorney John Cusak Jr. to push its case.

Troubles Ahead For Agnew

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has deferred a decision on whether to sue Spiro T. Agnew to recover payments he allegedly received from Maryland contractors while vice president, a Justice Department lawyer said Tuesday night.

"We have a file which concerns possible civil liability," Justice attorney Robert Ashbaugh told a newsmen, "but any consideration or decision on a suit has been deferred" until an investigation of Maryland politics is completed.

In documents made public when Agnew pleaded no contest last fall to one count of income tax evasion, the government alleged that Agnew received $30,000 illegally from Maryland contractors while vice president.

RIPPLE COFFECAKE
Repealed on request.
1 1/2 cups unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
8-ounce container sour cream
Cocoa Filling, see below

Thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla; beat in eggs one at a time. Stir in flour mixture in 3 additions, alternately with sour cream, just until smooth each time. Spread 1/2 of batter in a 9 by 9 by 2 inch cake pan whose bottom has been lined with buttered wax paper. Sprinkle Cocoa Filling over batter; spread with remaining batter. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out batter-free — about 35 minutes. Let stand on wire rack 5 minutes; turn out; turn right side up. Especially good when served shortly after baking.

Cocoa Filling: Stir together 2 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa, 1/4 cup sugar and 1-3rd cup finely chopped walnuts.

PHYLLIS' MINESTRONE
Quick to assemble.
1 1/2 quarts beef broth
1 1/2 cups home-cooked or canned chick peas
3-3/4 cup diced celery
2-3/4 cup diced carrot
1/2 cup diced onion
16-ounce can tomatoes, undrained
8-ounce can green lima beans, undrained
1-3/4 cup elbow macaroni
Oregon, salt and pepper to taste
Bring the broth, chick peas, celery, carrot, onion and tomatoes to a boil; simmer about 45 minutes. Add lima beans, macaroni and seasoning; cook until macaroni is tender. Serve with freshly grated Parmesan cheese. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

The Versatile Egg Finds Its Way Around.

FLUFFY DESSERT

By ELAINE SMYTH
The Herald Service

Let's consider the egg. What other food—in such a small, tidy package—offers quite so much versatility. It's there in the morning on the breakfast table in many disguises: poached, scrambled, in omelet form, shirred or baked or fried.

It's on the lunch table in sandwiches, salads, gelatin molds or simply as a garnish. The egg also presents itself in many forms at the dinner table. It's in your favorite soufflé,

Eggs Florentine, in a quiche or Eggs Fu Yung.

You start your omelet in a nine-inch skillet on top of the stove and then move it to a preheated oven to complete the process. Use strawberry, plum or raspberry jam as your filling. Garnish with fresh strawberries.

FRUITED DESSERT OMELET

4 large fresh eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 tablespoon butter
One-third to 1/2 cup strawberry, plum or raspberry jam
Powdered sugar
Fresh strawberries and leaves (optional)

GLAZED FRUIT TART

1 1/2 pounds peaches or apples, (4 cups)

is well blended. Melt butter in a 9-inch skillet, tilting pan to butter sides. Turn in the omelet mixture, and cook over moderate heat about two minutes. Place in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Bake 15 to 20 minutes, until well puffed and lightly browned on top. Loosen edges with spatula. Cut part way through omelet across center with a sharp knife. Spread jam over lower half. Fold the other side over jam, and slide out onto serving plate. Dust top thickly with powdered sugar. Mark top of omelet with a hot metal skewer, and decorate with a few fresh strawberries and leaves, if desired. Makes two to three servings.

GLAZED FRUIT TART

1 1/2 pounds peaches or apples, (4 cups)

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup walnuts
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Juice of 1/2 lemon
Apricot glaze
Combine sugar, cinnamon and nuts, sprinkle 1/4 of mixture over the bottom of the unbaked pastry shell. Slice the peeled fruit in the shell making a design with the top row of the fruit. Sprinkle with lemon juice and then the rest of the sugar mixture. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes or until the juice just bubbles. When still hot, brush with apricot glaze.

DOROTHY RATHMANN

Preaching And Practicing Good Nutrition

The Herald Service NEW YORK (NEA)—It's awfully difficult for a woman who enjoys eating, who grew up with German cooking and who works for a food company to keep trim and generally follow a diet low in cholesterol. Somehow Dorothy Rathmann manages it.

Dr. Rathmann also travels a lot in her job as director of nutrition for CPC International, Inc. (Best Foods). When on the road, she admits she has to fight diet-destroying urges. She must politely find a way of sampling the special dishes of those who want to entertain her in their homes or introduce her to the "best restaurant in town."

Obviously, Dr. Rathmann knows the secret of juggling all these high-calorie problems. She's trim, pink-cheeked with a lovely complexion and puts in yeoman hours.

"The interpretations of studies in 1956-57 were loaded with 'maybes.' Most doctors then did not see anything in the diet area that would probably cut down on the growing incidence of heart disease.

"Now we can see how doctors can help by providing patients with menus, insisting on weight control and encouraging people to avoid excessive eating of fatty foods, rich desserts and hard fat," she explains.

The idea that lean meat, fish and chicken were good for Americans was hardly accepted in the late 1950s.

"Now the swing is the other way," she says with a pleased smile and adds that she tries to follow her own advice.

"I don't eat awfully rich foods anymore of stuff myself with holiday-type foods. I eat frequent, light meals and when I travel I avoid eating eggs for breakfast every day."

When on the road Dr. Rathmann enjoys French toast, waffles (they do contain some egg, she admits) and Canadian bacon but tries to avoid fatty bacon.

She enjoys cooking and learned many recipes from her mother who is in her mid-80s and still likes to prepare such Rathmann favorites as German-style stew, baked apples, sauerkraut and bread pudding. Dr. Rathmann's secret is enjoying these specialties she has loved since childhood is to eat smaller portions.

"It takes discipline," she admits, "but after all anything truly worth enjoying comes with work and discipline."

GERMAN STYLE STEW
1/2 cup corn oil
1 lb. rump or round beef, cut in 1-inch cubes
2 medium onions, diced
2 beef bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water
1/2 tsp salt

1/2 tsp crushed thyme leaves
1/4 tsp pepper
1 bay leaf
1 cup pared diced turnip (1 small)
1 large carrot, pared and cut in strips
1/2 cup white wine (or apple juice)
2 tbs corn starch
2 tbs water
Noodles or mashed potatoes
Heat oil in large skillet. Add beef and onions. Cook over medium heat, turning as needed, until beef is browned on all sides. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water and pour over meat mixture. Add salt, thyme, pepper and bay leaf. Cover and simmer 35 minutes. Add turnip and carrot. Cover and simmer 35 minutes or until meat and vegetables are tender. Pour in wine. Mix corn starch and water and gradually stir into stew. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute stirring constantly, until juices are thickened. Serve with noodles or mashed potatoes. Makes 4 servings.

BAKED APPLES
1/2 cup dark corn syrup
1 tbs margarine
1 tbs grated lemon rind
1/4 tsp cinnamon
6 baking apples, halved crosswise, cored and pared
Measure corn syrup, margarine, lemon rind and cinnamon in small saucepan. Bring just to a boil. Meanwhile, arrange apple halves hollow wide up in baking dish. Spoon syrup mixture over apples. Bake in 350-degree oven, basting frequently, until apples are fork tender, about 50 minutes. Cool. Makes 6 servings.

SAUERBRATEN
1 cup corn oil
1 1/2 cups vinegar
1/2 cup water
2 bay leaves
1 tsp peppercorns
1 1/2 tsp salt
2 tbs sugar
2 large onions, sliced
3 to 4 lbs. rump or round beef
Stir together corn oil, vinegar, water, bay leaves, peppercorns, salt, sugar and onions. Stir until well mixed. Pour over beef in bowl. Cover lightly. Store in refrigerator 4 to 5 days, turning meat once a day. Remove meat from mixture and drain. Strain to remove spices and reserve liquid. Brown meat on all sides in a heavy kettle. Place rack under meat and add one cup of the marinade. Cover meat tightly. Simmer 3 to 4 hours or until tender. Remove meat and keep warm while preparing Ginger Snap Gravy as directed below.

Ginger Snap Gravy: Add enough strained marinade to liquid in pot roast kettle to make 2 cups. Add 1/2 cup crushed ginger snaps (about 10). Bring to boil over high heat, stirring constantly. Reduce heat, continue cooking, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Serve hot with sauerbraten.

Make Own Fine Pastries, Use Polyunsaturated Way

THE HERALD SERVICES

Angel cake is the only commercial pastry permitted. Even packaged cake mixes are taboo. Make your own desserts the polyunsaturated way.

RHUBARB PUDDING PIE

- 3 cups rhubarb
- 10 pieces of zwieback
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups of sugar
- Few drops of red coloring
- 1 teaspoon margarine
- Dust with nutmeg

Make crumbs of zwieback in a blender, add eggs and sugar. Cut rhubarb in one-inch chunks. Stir in with blended mix. Add color. Let mixture stand 10 minutes. Pour into baked nine-inch nut crust. Dot with margarine and dust with nutmeg. Bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes and at 375 degrees for 35 minutes longer or until set.

NUT CRUST (PREBAKED)

This prebaked crust makes an excellent base for many single crust pies, and goes well with cheddar filling. It resembles cookie dough.

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup margarine, softened
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
- 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar

Preheat oven to 400 degrees

BASIC POLYUNSATURATED PIE CRUST

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon sugar (optional)
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 2 tablespoons skim milk

Preheat oven to 475 degrees (very hot), or according to recipe for filling. Mix flour, salt and sugar in a bowl. Combine oil and milk in measuring cup and pour all at once over flour mixture. Stir with fork until mixed. Shape into a ball, place on sheet of waxed paper. Roll out with a rolling pin (dampen table top if necessary to prevent slipping) and peel off top paper. Turn dough upside-down over pie pan, peel off bottom paper, and fit dough into pan. Trim. If dough tears, mend without moistening. Flatten edge. If crust is to be baked before filling is added, prick pastry all over with a fork and bake about 10 minutes. Cool before adding filling. If the filling is to be baked with pie, do not prick crust, and follow directions of your recipe. (For a two-crust pie, make double amount of pastry and divide into two balls.) Makes one 8-9 inch pie crust.

Super Sandwiches Make Big Hit In Little League

By SUSAN DELIGHT
The Herald Services

Throughout the baseball season it's mom—not the Little League kids—who really carries the ball.

During the season, many mothers will tell you there is no such thing as a regular family dinner hour. There may be two dinner hours every day of a game or practice, but rarely just one.

Poor Mom has to feed the nonleague players (her husband and all other nonathletic children) and then turn around and repeat the ritual for the promising Babe Ruth, either earlier in the day or long after the regular dinner hour at 6 o'clock.

BASEBALL HERO SANDWICH

- 1 large round or oblong loaf French bread

- 1/4 cup soft butter
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- One-dried onion or basil
- Mayonnaise
- Crisp lettuce
- Sliced assorted luncheon meats
- Sliced assorted cheeses
- Crisp alfalfa or bamboo sprouts
- 1 ripe avocado, sliced
- Seasoned salt

Cut bread in half, crosswise. Blend together butter, mustard and dill (or basil). Spread over cut surface of bottom layer of bread; spread cut surface of top layer with mayonnaise. Arrange lettuce on bottom layer. Stack luncheon meats and cheeses on lettuce. Top with crisp sprouts, when sliced avocado. Sprinkle with seasoned salt. Cover with top of loaf, pressing down firmly. Cut in wedges to serve. Makes six servings.

FLORENCE LIN

This Little Dish Goes All Way To College

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Writer
When Florence Lin goes to visit her daughter Kay, a sophomore at Cornell University, she takes along a package of goodies because Kay gets hungry for her mother's fabulous cooking. And no wonder. Mrs. Lin cooks Chinese food par excellence. She is one of the most talented and best-loved teachers at New York City's China Institute where she has been giving cooking classes for over a dozen years.

Sometimes Mrs. Lin sends Kay a food package via special delivery. Kay herself can cook up a fine Chinese dish but she's a serious student of animal physiology and at present has little time to spend in the kitchen. When I asked Florence, who grew up in China and studied sociology at the University of Nanking, how her daughter happened to choose her course of study, she said that Kay's answer is, "Animals don't talk back!"

CELERY CABBAGE SALAD WITH HOT PEPPER OIL.
1 1/2 pounds Chinese celery cabbage
1/2 cup finely shredded carrot
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon finely shredded fresh ginger
1/4 cup distilled white vinegar
5 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, if desired
Hot Pepper Oil, see below
Rinse and drain cabbage; cut crosswise into 2-inch-wide sections; slice each section lengthwise into thin strips — there should be about 6 cups packed down. In a large container toss together the cabbage, carrot and salt; pack down tightly; cover and let stand at least 1 hour. Squeeze the liquid out of the cabbage; discard liquid. Toss together the cabbage and answer is, "Animals don't talk back!"

In a small saucepan bring the vinegar, sugar and, if used, the monosodium glutamate to a boil; pour over the cabbage; cover and let stand 1/2 hour. Using a plate or a pan cover to hold back the cabbage, pour the vinegar mixture back into the saucepan. Bring the vinegar mixture to a boil again and pour over the cabbage again; cover and chill — may be kept refrigerated for several weeks. Just before serving, with a slotted spoon remove the cabbage to a serving plate. Drip 1 teaspoon (or more or less to taste) of the Hot Pepper Oil over the cabbage.

Makes 8 to 12 small-dish servings.
Hot Pepper Oil: Heat a wok, add 1/2 cup peanut oil until it just starts to smoke; or add the oil to a small unheated saucepan and heat as directed. Turn off the heat and let stand 1 minute; add 2 tablespoons cayenne pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika and 1/2 teaspoon roasted crushed Szechuan peppercorns. Remove from range, stir well, cover and let stand overnight. Strain through a very fine wire-mesh strainer or cheesecloth and discard the pepper. Store in a tightly covered jar at room temperature. Use the amount needed when making celery cabbage salad.

Meatless Gap Can Be Filled

By TOM HOGE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

More and more people, refusing to pay current prices for meat, are skipping it for lunch at least and turning to hearty salads. The famed food writer, James Beard, once remarked that the art of vegetable cookery has been sadly neglected in most of the world's cuisines. The English overtook them, the Americans use little imagination in choosing greens and the Latins ignore them. In salads, vegetables tend to be at their best, because Western cooks usually serve them raw, or cooked just long enough to preserve the bright colors. Historians tell us that the salads our forefathers ate were usually just herbs or plants dressed with a little salt and served raw. In fact, the name "salad" is said to derive from sal, Latin for salt. Salads may have started out on a simple scale but over the years they have expanded to include a wide variety of ingredients such as fruit, vegetables, herbs, cheese and eggs, as well as meat and fish. They run from a simple bunch of lettuce leaves with vinegar dressing to an elaborate chef's special with cheese, ham, turkey breast, anchovies, hard-boiled eggs and assorted greens. But that has no place in a column dealing with money saving.

Here is a rib sticking salad that won't bankrupt you.
4 ounces green cut beans
4 ounces cauliflower
4 ounces beets
4 ounces peas
2 ounces chopped celery
1 cup canned garbanzo beans, drained (optional)
1 ounce parsley
2 eggs hard-boiled
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
1 lemon
2 egg yolks, raw
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Cook first 4 vegetables till just done and cut up with celery, garbanzos, chopped parsley and sliced eggs. For dressing, chop onions, mix with vinegar, lemon juice, salt, sugar and egg yolk, adding olive oil. Pour over vegetables and mix well before serving.

Ham, Cheese Make Great Souffle

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Nowadays cooks who want to serve a comparatively inexpensive but interesting main course for supper are turning to souffles. They can be endlessly varied and along with crusty bread, a good salad and a fruit dessert they make a satisfying meal. Here then is a new souffle combination — grated cheddar cheese (only a cup is needed) along with a pantry shelf can of deviled ham.

HAM AND CHEESE SOUFFLE

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- Dash of cayenne pepper
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup grated (medium fine) sharp cheddar cheese
- 4 1/2-ounce can deviled ham
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

In a 2 1/2-quart saucepan over low heat melt the butter. Stir in flour, mustard and cayenne. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in the milk, keeping smooth. Cook, stirring constantly, over moderately low heat until thickened and boiling. Remove from heat, at once stir in the cheese until melted, then the deviled ham. Whisk in the egg yolks, one at a time, until blended.
Beat the egg whites with the cream of tartar until they hold stiff peaks; stir about 1/4 of the egg whites into the cheese-and-ham mixture until blended. Add remaining egg whites and fold in. Turn into a buttered straight-sided ceramic 1-quart souffle dish. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until puffed at least 1 inch above top of souffle dish and well-browned — about 50 minutes. Serve at once.
Makes 4 small servings.

Remodeling Old House Does Pay
By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
Would you pay $7,500 for a dilapidated old house that might turn into a $20,000 remodeling venture? Probably not. But if you didn't suspect the ultimate cost of shaping it up, you might. And, like author Jo Couderc who took on such a risk, you might not be sorry. She admits she was startled when the cost was tallied. But the money had oozed away in dribbles, she explained, and "It would have gone for other things anyway." Meanwhile her investment has doubled in value and she has bought out her less enthusiastic partner in the real estate venture.
"Remodeling costs more than you would think and somehow the expenses are in unexpected directions. You find a nice window and it costs $500. Or suddenly a front door is $100. Hardware is expensive. Lumber costs a lot."
It is all worth it "If you honor the integrity of an old house. You can wind up with something beautiful," she insisted in an interview. She was discussing her newest book, "Go Well," the story of her efforts to buy the house and remodel it. She even managed to get beautiful mileage out of scraps. For example, broken marble pieces picked up at old buildings were used on the floor of a bathroom (in flagstone-like patterns with cement in between) on a terrace (with gravel in between) and on some table tops. Another terrace was made from bricks of the old chimneys by setting them on cold ashes and sort of raking the ashes in between. A hands-and-knees job, the brick terrace didn't even have in winter, she said.
Chunks of plaster were used to make a driveway — they made an excellent surface after they were driven over and rained upon. And old bridge planks were pressed into service for many things, including becoming forms for the brick terrace. They had been quoted some "fantastic prices" for heating systems and eventually chose electric heat on the advice of the carpenter who saw to it that they were properly insulated for it. A well was drilled, a septic tank system was installed and a bathroom was added to the house.

POLLY'S POINTERS Cabinet Expands Beaches

Cash In Hand Speeds Checkout

DEAR POLLY— I am pleased with middle in my house — on the baseboards, window sills, in closets, on furniture. You name it, there is mildew. The pest control people had cannot guarantee anything to eradicate it and the things they did failed to do the job. I have washed everything with vinegar and sprayed with that popular deodorant spray but in a few days it begins to come back again so I hope to get some suggestions to help me from going bananas.—MRS. JOSEPHINE.

DEAR POLLY— Elva and others wanting three-quarter size sheets will find that old and well-known mail order house carries them. I do a lot of shopping through their catalogue and was pleased to find they had this size as I used them in my camping trailer.—HAZEI.

DEAR POLLY— When planning to prepare something that will include marshmallows the task will be easier if you first freeze the marshmallows as they will not stick to your knife or shears.—MRS. O.S.

Butz Says Press Fair Hughes-Evans Engagement Told

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)— Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz says the Washington Post is trying to get President Nixon out of office.

"The Department of Agriculture is a big department with a lot of work to do, and we continue on in spite of loss of confidence in the executive, in spite of the fact that the public rating of Congress is even lower than that of used car salesman," he told a civic club meeting in this Florida Gulf Coast city Tuesday.

Asked if he thought news media were out to get the President, Butz said, "The media is a pretty general term and I don't think you can class the media as such."

"I think the Washington Post is Mrs. Graham (Katherine Graham, publisher of The Post), has indicated publicly, in conversations she's indicated, and it's been reported, that she is going to get him, and she's doing a pretty good job of it," Butz said.

But he said he believed "the fair and objective press is eroding the faith of the public."

Butz also said agricultural price controls were counterproductive.

He said hog farmers had planned to increase production by 8 percent in 1974. But when price ceilings were put on pork, they cut production by 1 percent.

"Supply and demand works," he said. "It works rather well if you leave it alone."

Butz said America has been "an Isle of Affluence in a sea of human misery," but that must change if the United States wants to keep peace in the world.

"Food power is one of the most valuable tools in the President's international diplomacy," he said. "It is no use talking about democracy and freedom unless you have bread in your hand."

He said Asia had replaced Europe as the No. 1 customer for American food, spending an estimated $8.5 billion for U.S. farm products.

"I think Asia will stay there. Three-fourths of the world's people live there," Butz said, adding that Asia must solve food problems before it could solve its population problems.

Senate OK's Big Cypress Restudy

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)— Defenders of the 285,400-acre Big Cypress Fresh Water Preserve in South Florida have won a victory in the 1974 legislative session.

The Florida Senate approved Tuesday a bill (SB124) that requires the state planning agency to restudy the 87,000-acre buffer zone area north of State Road 84—Alligator Alley—to determine if it should come out from under state development controls.

The Senate's action was a retreat by the legislature and he backed a substitute amendment proposed by Sen. Warren Henderson, R-Venice, asking for a restudy of the area.

"I would rather have an expression of intent than nothing," Weber said after the vote. "The burden is now on Mr. (James) Walker, (D-Naples) to convince his House colleagues the matter should be revisited."

Weber introduced the bill last fall shortly before the Cabinet declared some 855,000 acres of South Florida to be an area of critical state concern. The area includes 570,000 acres from the proposed Big Cypress preserve. Twenty-four senators—more than half the 40-member Senate—co-sponsored the bill.

The state Division of Planning recommended that the area be designated of critical concern. The chief of the state's land planning bureau, Robert Rhodes, opposed at a Senate committee meeting last week deletion of the 87,000 acres from the buffer.

Rhodes said the "Slove Pipe" area includes the Okaloocoochee Slough, which is vital to the Big Cypress area.

Dear Abby Found: Real Life 'Our Girl Friday'

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Serv., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I was quite amused at the letter in your column from the secretary who objected to doing personal jobs for her boss and his family.

She should have MY boss. I've been with him for 16 years. I get along fine with him, his wife, their five children—three of whom are now married. He feels (and heartily agrees) that I hired out to work eight hours a day, so if he wants me to do something other than straight secretarial work, I should do it.

I have vacuumed his office, met planes, trains and buses, shopped for gifts for his wife, children and grandchildren, typed essays and term papers for his high school and college children, and have even scouted for information for his wife when she was involved with the Junior League. I've gone to his home for dictation, have worked evenings, weekends and holidays, and have never felt that any of these duties were beneath my dignity as a secretary. Oh, we've had our differences, but I've never refused to do anything he's asked me to do, and he's never asked me to do anything immoral or illegal. I love my job, he's a wonderful boss, and the pay is exceptional.

HAPPY IN DALLAS
DEAR ABBY: I'm glad the pay is exceptional because you certainly are.

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for publishing that hilarious column in which you included all those formal divorce announcements. I laughed until my sides ached.

When our daughter was divorced two years ago, my husband and I went through all the agonies other parents endure when their married children divorce. ("Isn't there something we can keep them together? The whole town is talking. What will we do people?") Now we realize it wasn't all that tragic. Our daughter is soon to marry another man, and this one is a prince. I just had to tell you that I got a wonderful laugh out of that column. I'm only sorry we didn't know such announcements were available two years ago. We'd have sent some.

N.Y. POST READER
DEAR READER: Thanks, I needed that. Not everyone saw the humor in that column, and to those who did not, I apologize. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Recently you published some formal divorce announcements: "Mr. and Mrs. John Jones take pleasure in announcing the divorce of their daughter Alice from that slob she married in 1953, etc."

Was that supposed to be funny? I failed to see the humor of it because I am going through a heartbreaking divorce right now.

Only last week I was in court when my husband walked in. I had all I could do to keep from going over to straighten his tie, and tell him he should have worn his pale blue shirt with that suit. We had been married for 25 years. I've lived more years with him than without him and this divorce still seems so unreal to me. (He asked for it. He has somebody else.)

Anyway, I fail to see anything funny about divorce. At the bottom of your column it says, "You'll feel better if you get it off your chest." Well, I did, and I do. Thanks for listening.

STILL HURTING IN L.A.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day is excellent and if you're up early you will be able to see and achieve matters of much importance. By noon, delays, limitations can best your path, so be careful not to allow yourself the luxury of getting depressed.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Important matters, shopping and communicating should be handled early, since small annoying delays may occur later. Handle really important matters tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Take care of financial affairs early, but later recheck everything for any mistakes. Don't labor under the impression that money can buy anything.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You're thinking clearly in a.m., but later you permit imagination to run riot, so make no important decisions. Strength waxes and wanes during day, returns in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get private backing from an expert, since your judgment isn't good today; actual work should be done later, preferably in the a.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Look to a good friend to help you gain some personal aim in a.m., but later you can work problems out alone. Postpone social life.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't criticize others, especially bigwigs, or you get into much trouble best avoided now. Pay bills. Clean slate for important activities later.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A morning idea should be utilized, but later get at whatever is tried and proven and insure present security. A conference helps you get ahead faster.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) The casual can be handled well in a.m., but later make sure you keep any promises you have made. Don't lose temper; don't jeopardize present harmony with mate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Morning is fine for conversing with partners and cementing better relations, but don't bring up any important matters right now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) First discuss with co-workers how to best handle work at hand and then get right to it and produce a great deal without further talk. Don't overwork, though.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make plans early for the recreation you need, and then complete activities necessary before going to fun places with congenials.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Improve conditions at home, since there is little you can accomplish in the outside world right now. Get rid of useless or obsolete things.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... He or she will be a very nervous young person who needs duties to perform and something to occupy the active mind, so plan such activities early for your interesting progeny, and see to it that everything is finished perfectly. This can be the most valuable lesson you can teach your son, daughter; otherwise if let to run loose aimlessly, the fine promise here will go to seed, instead of becoming a great success.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your year for June is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast The Sanford Herald, Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

FTU Singers

Pian Program

FTU—A glimpse of musical Americana will be staged Thursday evening with the FTU Choir and Chamber Singers.

The two campus groups, under Dr. Edward Holstad, will begin their presentation at 8:30 p.m. at the FTU Science Auditorium with eight collector's items by the Choir.

The Chamber Singers will follow with Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley," a folk opera. It will mark the first time the FTU singers have actually staged numbers. The cast will include Bernie Moy as The Leader, Hal Leftwich as Brack Weaver, Pat Wheeler as Jennie Parsons, Kent Harrison as Thomas Bouche and John McIntosh as Jennie's Father.

There is no charge for the performance.

BRIDAL HAPPINESS

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Miss Gray Wrisley

Mrs. Kelley Welch and daughter, Mrs. Allen Dukas, were co-hostesses for a miscellaneous shower honoring bride-elect, Miss Gray Wrisley, at the Welch home 307 Fairway Road, Loch Arbor. A bridal decor was carried out in the party area, with a floral arrangement of blue and white mums, baby's breath and greenery highlighting the refreshment table. Guests were served squares of cake decorated with bridal roses, mints, nuts and lime sherbet punch. Assisting with the serving and entertaining was Kellee Welch. Games played included one where each guest present was requested to submit a favorite recipe for the bride's cook book. Hostess gift was an electric blanket. Invited guests included, Mrs. Richard Williams, mother of the honoree; Mrs. R.C. Williams, Orlando, her grandmother; Mrs. Karen Rigganbach, Orlando; Mrs. Carol Sharp, Ocala; Mrs. Ben (Colene) Ward, Oviedo. Also present were Mrs. Jane Stewart, Casselberry; Mrs. Judy Perry, Longwood; Mrs. Sheryl Wooten, Miss Kerry Wrisley, Mrs. Nell (Charlotte) Vogel; Mrs. Garland Bell, and Mrs. Peter (Marty) France, all of Winter Park; and from Sanford, Mrs. Martha Ashby, Jeff (Donna) Burns, Hank Johnson, Ramon D. House Won't Take 'No' For Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's refusal to comply with a House Judiciary Committee subpoena for 11 Watergate tapes is providing new grounds for impeachment in the view of some members.

"It means the cover-up continues," said Rep. George Danielson, D-Calif., after Nixon notified the committee Wednesday he would not comply.

(Related Story Page 2A)

Nixon's refusal "a very grave matter," scheduled a committee meeting for next week to deal with it.

There was some talk of citing Nixon for contempt of Congress and of seeking court enforcement of the subpoena, but a majority appeared to favor taking the President's action into account when considering whether he should be impeached.

The committee staff has advised that it is proper to infer that anyone possessing and refusing to provide subpoenaed evidence is withholding material that could be incriminating.

In a letter to Rodino saying he would not produce the tapes, Nixon said the committee's request, and others it is getting ready to make, amount to "a massive invasion into the confidentiality of presidential conversations."

"More fundamentally, continuing ad infinitum the process of yielding up additional conversations in response to this office, not only in this administration but for future presidencies as well," Nixon added.

Rodino rejected Nixon's argument, saying the committee's requests were narrowly drawn and related specifically to the impeachment inquiry.

"There is no way the presidency will be weakened by the constitutional process we are conducting. The Republic will be strengthened."

Rodino said the committee will issue more subpoenas if it decides the White House is withholding evidence it needs. The next one likely will deal with the dairy funds and ITT controversies.

The committee has requested tapes of 66 conversations in these two areas and Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair, told it Wednesday it would get only one partial transcript.

The committee delved deeper into the crucial March 21, 1973, state of the Watergate cover-up Wednesday, adding secret grand jury evidence to its tapes of Nixon's conversations dealing with hush money payments.

In a report accompanying indictments returned against seven former White House and Nixon re-election campaign aides March 1, the Watergate grand jury said a $75,000 payment was made to the lawyer for convicted Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt Jr.

Health Insurance Nearer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says there are broad areas of agreement between the Nixon administration and Congress on the essentials of a national health insurance plan.

He told the nation in a radio address Wednesday "a new spirit of compromise and progress is in the air" that may make it possible to enact such a program this year.

Kennedy, D-Mass., said the health insurance bill he is sponsoring with Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., is better in many respects than the Nixon proposal.

Kennedy's speech was delivered as the Democratic congressional majority's reply to an address on the same subject by Nixon Monday.

The President spoke of compromise, too, but said he would not yield on the basic principles of his plan.

One of the principles, he said, was that the program must operate through private insurance companies and not "costly, federal-dominated structures."

The Kennedy-Mills plan would be financed through and operated by the Social Security system.

The senator said among its advantages, including elimination of what he described as large profits made by the private companies, coverage of the individual from job to job or between jobs or when he was retired, and a tax that would be higher for persons well-off and lower for the poor.

Kennedy said the basic coverage of hospitalization and physician services in the two bills was about the same.

But his measure contains benefits lacking in the Nixon bill, such as medical care for pregnant women and small children and greater protection against catastrophic illness.

One major hurdle to enactment of a far-reaching national health insurance plan this year is the jammed schedule of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees, which must act on it.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Corn., a Finance Committee member, says he sees no chance for enactment of health insurance in 1974.

Kidnap Suspect Tied To Ransom Note

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — An FBI handwriting expert says that a comparison of the handwriting of Jesse James Jr. to that on a kidnap ransom note demanding $50,000 shows that Jones wrote the note.

The testimony came Wednesday in the trial here of Jones, 23, and Pention Wheeler, 24. They are accused in the Feb. 28 kidnaping of Sanford businessman George Jackson.

Most of Wednesday's session was devoted to identification of samples, including testimony from an FBI chemist who said hairs found in Jones' car were similar to those of Jackson.

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy testified Jones was so nervous that his hands shook when questioned about his car in connection with the case.

The start of Wednesday's session was delayed when it was learned Wheeler's father had talked briefly to one juror Tuesday.

Seminole County crime scene expert Herb Hartley has testified that tire impressions found at the scene matched tire prints from Jones' car.

Pollution Hearing On Regional Limits

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Florida's pollution control board has set a special meeting for July 24 in either Pensacola or Panama City to consider regionalizing the statewide air pollution standards.

The decision to hold the meeting came Wednesday when several oil firms requested relaxed standards for Escambia and Santa Rosa counties.

Board members John Mandemaf and Alice Wainwright objected to making variances on the basis the standards, which are more restrictive than federal regulations, are a statewide issue.

Requesting reduced standards were EXXON Corp., Sun Oil Co., Louisiana Land and Exploration Co., and Amerasia Hess Mississippi-Florida Corp. The firms have until July 1975, to meet the standards and claim they are too restrictive.

Pollution board member W.D. "Bill" Frederick of Orlando admitted the rules are based on air conditions in Hillsborough County, which he labeled the "dirtiest place in the state."

AROUND THE CLOCK

By John A. Spolski

The former Sanford car license plates will have the new look and slogan this year.

Instead of referring to it being on the St. Johns River, the advertisement will highlight we are now officially known as the "friendly city." So, smile darn you.

Sounds like a good idea. Rev. Fred L. Neal is to conduct a special service at Congregational Christian Church honoring all public officials. So-called "public salute" for the jobs being done. Certainly proper to remind that a couple bad apples don't ruin the barrel; nor does a crooked politician make every other public servant dishonest, either.

Congratulations to Tom Hunt, newly appointed manager for Southern Bell in Sanford.

In town a little more than two weeks, Hunt has spent little time waiting to do his part. He's already been appointed chairman for this year's United Fund Campaign. A man of many talents who'll be a big asset to this community, I'll clue you.

and seven or eight per cent from many others, and our philosophy is to keep the money at home, if possible," Mrs. Pfeifau said.

Abby Jones, the county's chief fiscal officer, agreed, pointing out that Mrs. Pfeifau's stewardship of negotiating with area banks has brought in more than $106,000 since Oct. 1 — the first full year of a new computer disbursement system.

Jones said he had not heard of Underdown's pet legislative project, but that it is possible study will show federal securities, especially seven-day U.S. Treasury Notes, may be a good investment.

Seminole Tax Collector Troy Ray echoed Jones, saying he too was unaware of the legislative bill, but promising to investigate the possibilities.

"Obviously if we can make more interest money by buying government paper, and consolidating all tax collections to encourage large interest payments, we'll do it," Ray said.

One problem, he added, is that a full-time employee plus staff would have to be hired, and the cost of running the operation might at gain ups over the present system.

As presently set up, Ray's office collects $18 million in local taxes annually, with $9.5 million going to the school board, which has an extensive investment program of its own.

Much of the remainder must be immediately paid out to the cities, special tax districts, and various county commission departments and projects to cover day to day operating expenses.

The money carried forward, or "left over," is the money which can be invested for periods ranging from a few days to several months — the longer the time and the larger the amount, the greater the interest.

Mrs. Pfeifau said experience teaches her how long she can "play with the various funds coming in — it's really fun, because you have to balance out what you guess to be a department's pressing needs with what you want to put into an interest bearing account."

Nothing makes her sadder, she said, than seeing a large sum of money being "wasted" in a non-interest bearing checking account because someone feared the money would be needed.

Mrs. Pfeifau, a county employee since 1958, said the investment program was begun in 1961 by Clerk of the Court Art Beckwith.

School Negotiation Fight Brews

with only Stuart Culpepper dissenting.

Due to recent supreme court and legislative action the board is required by law to negotiate with the teachers, but no statewide guidelines have been established.

The board hired Hart of Washington, D.C. to handle the bargaining sessions that are not required until after Dec. 31.

The SEA charges the hiring of Hart and the adoption of his policy is a "stall tactic" intended to keep the seat off the board until Dec. 31.

The board says it is willing to negotiate in good faith and the hiring of Hart is the first step in

When the policy was adopted SEA members stormed out of the meeting room and huddled in the shadows where they called today's strategy session.

"The center of the controversy is if the policy limits the scope of negotiations to only salaries and fringe benefits. SEA bosses say they want more say in the board's budget, running the school system and hiring and firing of personnel.

"Who knows better than teachers what is going on in the classrooms and what needs to be done?" SEA members ask. School board officials have little comment, referring inquiries to Hart's Washington office.

Meanwhile the SEA says there are a number of avenues open to them. "We will negotiate in good faith with any policy," Rosenthal said.

Indicating the first priority will be a revision of the negotiating policy the SEA people say the possibility of court action has not been ruled out.

In an earlier confrontation with the board on negotiations, SEA spokesman Rick Mossman threatened to seek negotiation rights in court if the board refused to "give us what we are entitled to by law."
