VOLUME XXII Member Associated Press SANFORD, FLORIDA, MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1931 Five Cents A Copy NUMBER 19

At The Capitol
By GEORGE HENRY

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 24.—Wells was our fight to have the House meet Saturday, but we demanded a roll call, and as far as record as to whether or not they wanted to work tomorrow.

There was a Committee called to meet at 2:30 P. M. Monday, the hour after the House adjourned, and there was not a quorum present, which shows that the idea of adjourning over the week-end is NOT to allow Committees to work, as was stated on the floor of the house today, but to enable the members to go home.

There are valid excuses for some few to go home over Saturday, and those are gladly accepted by the Speaker, or membership, if necessary, BUT it cannot be that every man has such important work at home every Saturday.

House Bill 126 was passed today, with an amendment friendly to the bill. This provides that the large printing contracts now secured by some of the printing establishments outside of Tallahassee, in the past, most of this work has been done here, but this is as it should be now, and all papers in the State who have shops equipped to do the work should get a rebid at it. This bill also practically excludes out-of-state shops.

Ministers Considered Plans to meet in Tallahassee today, as the Local Chapter of the U. D. C.'s had a tag day, and the girls and ladies of Tallahassee did good work in getting them on the coast of the members of the Legislature and others in the city.

Since Monday in Tallahassee Memorial Day, the House plans to have a Memorial service planned Monday, which was the intent of a Resolution of John Mathews at Duval, introduced today, and made a special order for Monday at 11:30 A. M.

The Speaker was in receipt of an invitation for the House to attend the Annual May Day Picnic at Wakulla Springs on next Saturday, the first one in May. It is an annual custom in these parts, and for many years, it has been the announcement party of many aspiring to high state office. It is a tradition that no person has been elected governor in Florida during the past two decades, who was not present and made an address on that day.

Three of Florida's four Representatives in the National Convention at Washington have been in the City this week. Messrs. Green, Tate and Green, who all preceded before the Committee on census and appropriations, were in favor of House Bill 126, which does not disturb district boundaries.

Colder Weather Hits Northern U. S. Areas

CHICAGO, Apr. 26. (AP)—Colder weather had swept into parts of the country today to bring the mercury to 50 degrees in Chicago, Cleveland, and St. Louis. It fell to 40 in New York, 30 in Washington, and 20 in St. Paul. The cold front is expected to move southward today, bringing a heavy rain and small hail to the South.

SHOWS AVERS ECONOMICS TO BE BIG ISSUE

However, He Believes Party Should Take Definite Stand On Prohibition Issue

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Apr. 27.—(AP)—Robert Shows, chairman of the Democratic national economic committee, last night said the economic problems of the nation would be the chief issues of political battle in the next presidential campaign.

Shows spoke at a dinner in honor of the memory of Thomas Jefferson under the auspices of the Democratic state committee. Although he said he hoped the Democratic party would have the courage to face the prohibition issue "without equivocation and to make a definite pronouncement of its stand on it in platform for 1932," Shows would not have it become the dominating point of political debate.

"I would not have prohibition overshadow the other matters of tremendous importance that confront the American people," he said. "In my opinion, the economic problems, involving unemployment, embracing reform of the tariff, the water power complications and other phases, constitute the outstanding issues of the coming campaign."

"The party in power has failed miserably in its handling of these things. It is the responsibility of the Democratic party to show its ability to cope with the difficulties."

Shows said he was not wedded to any particular plan for solution of the prohibition problem but favored "abstention to the people of constructive program dealing with the existing situation, always providing against the return of the sales by removing the temptation of private profit from 100 liquor traffic and always protecting to the utmost those states which want to be dry from the imposition of liquor trade within their borders."

"The Democrats will have to blaze the trail for legislative accomplishments in the coming Congress, Shows said, regardless of whether or not the Republicans succeed in organizing that body."

"It is of small importance," he said, "which party organizes the two branches of Congress by one or two votes. The administration has lost control of the legislative arm of the government. The Republicans are divided as never before. Fully a third of their membership in the Senate is frankly anti-administration. The same thing is true, although not to such an extent, in the House of Representatives. The Democrats in either House remain the sole coherent, cohesive group, and therefore..."

U. S. CONSUL DIES

NEW YORK, Apr. 27.—(AP)—Otis A. Glazebrook, 87, United States consul in Palestine, died aboard the liner Belgeland, on route to his home in Elizabeth, N. J., his son, Dr. F. H. Glazebrook, of Morristown, N. J., was informed yesterday.

Six Reckless Driving Cases Feature Police Court Activities On Friday

Six cases of reckless driving appeared on the Friday afternoon court docket placed before Municipal Judge R. W. Ware for settlement. Four were dismissed, while small fines were demanded of the principals in the other two cases.

The first cases of reckless driving heard were those against Henry Cleland, and Maynard Leonard, white youths, who figured in a collision on Sanford Avenue last week. The Cleland case was dismissed, while Leonard was fined $3. Officer Gray made the arrests.

The third reckless driving case was that of Earl Evans, young white boy who ran into an automobile belonging to E. L. Ford, Sanford, without lights. Ford was charged with parking in a prohibited place. Both cases were dismissed. Officer Gray made the arrests.

John and Billie reckless driving brought into court today were those of John and Mrs. Harold... which resulted in a... and brother, Mr. H...

Elaborate Plans Under Way To Make Golf Meet And Dinner A Big Success

"We expect this event to be the best attended of any golf tournament held at the Sanford Country Club in months," said Lane LeRoy, president of the club this morning as he told a Herald reporter of the elaborate plans being made for a mixed tournament to be held Thursday afternoon followed by a chicken chop-andy dinner late in the evening when final plans for the annual membership drive will be discussed and teams appointed.

The tournament is open to all men and women golfers in this section. Pairings will be made at the clubhouse before play begins, and several teams of mixed golfers will be placed in the field against other teams. Prizes will be awarded at the dinner.

Under present plans, the annual membership drive will begin Monday morning and continue until noon Wednesday. At the dinner Thursday night, at least 10 teams will be appointed and delegated to visit certain sections of the city in an effort to gain members for the municipally owned course. The membership fee will remain $10 for individual and $20 for family yearly fee, said to be the lowest rate ever asked for a year's play on any golf course in the world. At least 300 members is the goal tentatively set.

The tournament and dinner will be the last one which Allan H. Stewart, club professional, will have a part in until September. He leaves Friday morning to become professional at the Detroit Lakes Country Club in northern Minnesota. During the summer months, Clarence Peckham will remain in charge of the shop and attend to the mechanical needs of golfers, while the club house will be managed by Mr. and Mrs. Phil Perkins.

"It is our earnest desire that all members of Sanford co-operate with us in putting the tournament and drive over in a big way," Mr. LeRoy concluded. "For the success or failure of our efforts to make this club the most attractive in Florida depend entirely upon the response which greets the officials at the dinner Thursday night."

GLASS ATTACKS SYSTEM USED TO GET CRIME FACTS GIVEN CRITICISM

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27.—(AP)—Senator Glass yesterday attacked the system of gathering criminal statistics used by the Wickersham commission as inadequate, often incomplete and sometimes "seriously abused."

In his third report to President Hoover since beginning work here two years ago, the commission recommended that a nationwide system of gathering crime statistics be evolved "as one of the first steps" in remedying present conditions.

The more than 200-page document, made public at the White House, was signed by all 11 members of the commission. Its content was directed by Dean Roscoe Pound of Harvard university law school, and included lengthy studies by two of the commission's experts, both connected with Harvard.

The commission recommended enactment of a uniform state law providing for statistics collection, with eventual administration by the census bureau. Until these steps could be taken, it suggested compilation by a single of several, with the present system to be developed.

Luke Lea, 27 Other Men Go On Trial In Big Bank Swindle

ANNEVILLE, N. C., Apr. 27.—(AP)—A special term of Buncombe county superior court convened for the trial of 27 men, among them Col. Luke Lea, Tennessee publisher and political leader, who have been indicted in connection with the failure of banks in this vicinity last fall.

Luke Lea, Jr., and E. F. Charlet, of Asheville, an employee of Colonel Lea, also are under bond to appear for trial. It was not expected, however, that their case or Colonel Lea's will be reached for several days.

The first case on the docket is against Wallace B. Davis, who was president of the Central Bank and Trust company when it closed last Nov. 30, with more than $4,000,000 of public funds on deposit. Numerous indictments have been returned against Davis, but he will be tried first on a charge of making incorrect reports of the bank's condition to the state banking department.

Davis is a co-defendant with the Lea and Charlet in one case alleging they defrauded the Central Bank and Trust company out of $225,000 by means of "kited" checks, fraudulent certificates of deposit issued without value received, and other means.

These four and J. Charles Bradford, former member of the bank, also are under indictment on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the institution out of more than $1,000,000 by similar methods.

BUTLER SAYS HELL ON RADIO, GETS CUT OFF

Owner Of Station Declares He Never Allows Any Profanity During Broadcast

PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 27.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler yesterday found himself in the news again, incident to his use of the word "hell" on the air and the censorship of his speech by a radio station.

The general was taken off the air during a humorous speech before the 312th Field Artillery Association here Saturday night and later went with friends to the broadcasting room of station WFLX, where a protest was entered.

The general's friends protested to Howard Miller, director of the station, because Miller had told the radio audience that his station did not permit the use of profane or indecent language. The incident was closed so far as Miller was concerned when the station permitted Judge Harry R. Miller, a member of Butler's party, to deny that the speaker had used improper language.

Last night's bit of drama was also linked with the latest diplomatic incident involving the general, which became public after Butler had protested remarks attributed to Minister Bellegarde of Haiti. The diplomat was quoted as saying Port Riviere was non-existent, although General Butler had been awarded American and Haitian medals for capturing that Haitian stronghold.

The general was telling his audience Saturday night how the event came about. "A sergeant, a private and I were about to go through a drainage to enter the fort. I said I did not feel like going in first."

"I looked at the sergeant in a helpless kind of way," said Butler, "and then he looked at me, as if to say, 'Well, hell, it's all right.'"

At this point the station located in the same building in which Butler was speaking cut off the speaker. The fighting marine did not know it but kept on talking. Meanwhile, many telephone calls came to the station asking for an explanation of the interruption. It was then Miller said the station did not permit profanity.

Told of the incident later, Butler and friends went to the control room and met Miller where the apology was broadcast. Yesterday the station director said he had been operating a radio station since 1922 and that he did not permit any profane or indecent language or improper stories to go out of his station, "nothing that a child in the home should not hear."

Miller said he considered the word "hell" unfit to go into a home but that so far as he was concerned the incident was closed.

General Butler today was back at the marine base on Quantico, Va., and friends here were of the belief that the fighting marine will let the incident drop in view of explanation. They said the marine commander merely wished to know exactly how he had used the word which the station had attempted to delete.

Fred Burke Is Given Life-Time Sentence

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Apr. 27.—(AP)—Fred Burke today was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor at Marquette prison for the slaying of Patrolman Charles Skelly. He is expected to be taken to prison tomorrow. Sentence was passed after Burke's plea of guilty which ended his career of crime that made him notorious in the Middle West. He recently was captured near St. Joseph, Missouri.

Sanford Man Held In Georgia Upon Charge

SAVANNAH, Apr. 27.—(AP)—A man who last night told police he was Jack Ashley today said he was Fred Behrens, 26, of Sanford, Fla., wanted at New Smyrna for stealing an automobile and highway robbery. He explained he was known as Jack Ashley, Fred Brooks, and Fred Behrens.

He said he was with Jack Ashley when Ashley was killed Jan. 8, 1928, and assumed the name as an alias. Behrens said he received three checks in Florida totaling $3,000 but that 20 years of the money had been remitted and 10 years parole granted. He said he served eight years. Behrens' whereabouts have been sent to Florida officials. He was arrested on complaint that he stole a car at St. Joseph.

INDIA'S OUTSTANDING SCIENTIST

BENEFITS FROM VET HOSPITAL DESCRIBED AS BIG

Big Expenditures For Establishing Home Arc Being Planned

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27.—(AP)—While the State of Florida as a whole will benefit materially by the establishment within its borders of the branch of the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers, the particular locality in which it is established will find it an expanding source of demand for staple supplies of every sort.

Appreciation of this basic fact is responsible for the heated competition between communities bidding for its location.

To begin with, the establishment of the branch home involves an initial expenditure of approximately $1,000,000 for building and equipment for the accommodation of 1000 veterans. The maximum number of veterans to be cared for has been fixed at 4000. This increase in veteran population means greatly augmented housing and entertainment facilities. It is estimated that these added accommodations will necessitate further building expenditures amounting to $1,000,000 or $2,000,000.

No estimate has been made of the numerical size of the personnel staff to be employed in the administration of the institution. The community in which it is located stands to profit immensely through the large purchase of supplies, especially for the mess halls, for the maintenance of the home. That great quantities of fresh Florida fruits, vegetables, and dairy supplies will be consumed, thereby creating a new and larger market for these products is beyond dispute. In fact Florida as a preeminent source of choice fruits and vegetables together with its year round equable climate and sunshine, is the controlling factor in the decision to establish one of the...

Jacksonville Yachtsman Injured In Puzzle Lake As Propeller Cuts Him

W. A. J. Browne, prominent Jacksonville yachtsman, was in Fetzold-Laughton Memorial Hospital this morning suffering from deep cuts and bruises about the back and thigh sustained when, after falling from his Dodge runabout in Puzzle Lake yesterday afternoon, the propeller blades cut him as he came to the surface.

Mr. Browne was one of the 12 members of the party of Jacksonville motorboat enthusiasts who were making a cruise over inland waterways, and had reached Coon Saturday night after a trip down the east coast. The six boats had been portaged from Coon and placed in Lake Florence early yesterday morning, and the party had succeeded in reaching Puzzle Lake late yesterday when the accident occurred. The group hoped to reach Sanford last night and remain here until this morning when they would return to Jacksonville by way of the St. Johns.

According to Mr. Browne, he said that he was sitting on the bow of his boat which was being piloted by W. O. Crosby, and in which Buck Jones, Coon, one of the guides, was riding as a passenger. The boat was moving at a rate of nearly 30 miles an hour.

As it turned a sharp bend in the lake, Mr. Browne fell off, and, in coming to the surface, the sharp blades of the propeller inflicted a long gash down his back, while the rudder struck him a heavy blow on the left thigh, almost paralyzing him.

Judge John L. Doggett, who was in a boat immediately back of the Browne craft, lifted him from the water, and hurried to Titusville Ferry where Mr. Browne was placed in an automobile and rushed to Sanford. The force of the propeller, said to have been revolving at the rate of 3000 revolutions per minute, stripped Mr. Brown of his clothing with the exception of his shoes. While his condition is not considered serious, he will be unable to walk for at least 10 days, physicians reported today.

The party of motorboat owners was headed by H. M. Coon, chairman of the Florida Chamber of Commerce. Others in the party included P. P. L'Engle, prominent Jacksonville attorney and his son, Judge Doggett, Frank Mallard, George Moore, Bronson Lamb and wife, W. O. Crosby, and E. Addison Fournier, Gainesville.

'LEGS' DIAMOND AGAIN VICTIM OF GANG SHOTS

Is Second Time Gangster Has Been Cut Down By Gunfire Of Unknown Attackers

CATSKILL, N. Y., Apr. 27.—(AP)—Jack "Legs" Diamond, gangster, for the second known time was cut down and seriously wounded by gunfire of unidentified assailants early today.

The gang chief, who six months ago was shot and almost fatally wounded in a New York City hotel, went down today under the fire of buckshot sent into his back as he stepped from a Catskill Mountain roadhouse west of here.

The shooting occurred three days after Diamond had been released on $25,000 bail pending trial for assault in a late New York City shooting. Mystery clothed the attack.

The gangster could give no information and his companion who snatched the fallen chief took to shelter of the roadhouse could only say that the gunfire came from a distance about 20 paces from the building.

Diamond was shot in the shoulder, back, and arm. He was hurried to an Albany hospital. His condition is serious but not critical. Diamond faces charges of beating Jim Dalton, truck driver, who was tortured because he refused to account for a truck load of rider. The attack took place on a highway.

Mission Pays Ransom To Reds To No Avail

HANKOW, Apr. 27.—(AP)—The American Lutheran United Mission today paid $100,000 ransom for Rev. Nelson, Missions, held captive since October, but refused to release him because the mission had not met their supplies of gasoline which they demanded. The Missions said it would be difficult to send gasoline to the Red headquarters and expressed fear that Nelson's release would be delayed.

Testimony Is Heard In Killing Of Tampan

TAMPA, Apr. 27.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today heard testimony in an effort to determine who killed Dr. J. F. Schubert, veterinarian, whose body with its skull crushed was found in his automobile near his home yesterday.

Officials said they believed he was slain in a quarrel about his mending a cattle concerning which a complaint recently was made by residents that his cows ate their vegetable gardens and damaged the flowers. His widow testified that he refused to fence his cattle.

I.C.C. Orders Cheaper Rate On Vegetables

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered lower rates on vegetables from Mississippi and Tennessee to points in the South to what is known as official classification territory and to certain western points.

The commission ordered that rates on commodities in carloads from Mississippi to interstate destinations in southern and official classification territories and to Kansas City and Minneapolis should not exceed 40 percent of first class rates to the same point.

House Resents Story Of Bloc Formation

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 27.—(AP)—The House today took exception to published statements that a bloc of 48 votes was organized to give school revenue measures priority over all others. Representatives Tommasello, Okonoboko, denounced the story to that effect in Tampa Life, weekly newspaper. "It is the most damnable lie ever published," he said.

The House voted to appoint a committee of three to draw a resolution refuting statements made in the newspaper.

With the Senate idle until the afternoon the House spent a morning advancing legislative bills to the reading table.

11 YEAR?

BY PETER SCHAAAL

Extra base hits, top heavy offense, an occasional good pitching performance and a 13-inning tie game called on account of darkness, stand out among the many features of games in the big show yesterday. Heading the list in the Pirates' lineup stands Ralph Hornsby, who smacked three home runs in three successive innings, to lead his team to a 10-6 victory over the Pirates in the opening game at the Smokey Mountain. The Pirates had gained a 7-0 run lead at the end of the second inning, but Hornsby cut it down to two when, with two on in the third, he hit a homer into the right field bleachers. The score went ahead in the fifth, when, again with two on, he hit a home run into practically the same place. Again in the sixth, with two more men on, he popped an extra base, this time to deep left field. Willoughby and Grant were the victims of the savage attack of the Cub pilot who apparently is out to set the wheels back home talking to himself. Pie Traynor hit a home run in the second for the Pirates, with two on. All the Cubs except Hack Wilson got a hit or more, that gentleman being as yet unable to find his batting eye, and standing at the bottom of the Cub batting list. Hornsby equalled modern day home run records.

The Giants used six pitchers and 18 men in an effort to whip the Phillies but, darkness fell over the Polo Grounds at the end of the 13th frame, and the game was called with the score tied, 7 to 7. The Phillies had their batting average peeped all the way, and racked up 14 hits, six more than the Giants made. However, the old punch was lacking, for the Phillies had 17 men left on base. The Phillies led, 6 to 5, until the end of the sixth, mostly through the hitting of catcher Davis whose doubles started rallies which scored runs. Both outfits scored in the eleventh, the Giants tying the score when Leach doubled to score Critz. Tiny Chaplin, the Florida member of the Giant squad, batted to only one batter before being removed in the 11th.

The Robins finally jumped out of the cellar when with Lefty Clark leading the Braves to 5 hits while Wright and Blonczewski hit home runs to lead the Robins. They won their second game of the year, 6 to 1. Captain Wright hit two home runs. Blonczewski hit one, and got four hits in four trips up. Sherrill gave up eight of the 15 hits the Robins scored during the game, and was replaced by Cunningham at the end of the sixth. Manager Wilbert Robinson benched O'Doul and Frederick, and sent in Wheeler and Rosenfeld, in an effort to locate a batting coach. Horner of the Braves mentioned his fine hitting and made another bid to give him three for the year and make him owner of the piffared sacks in the National League.

The Reds and Cardinals were tied again, making four postponed games between the two clubs. As far as the Cards are concerned, they may come in handy later in the year, for they are bound to strengthen as the season progresses, while the Reds seem destined for the cellar.

In the American, the Athletics seem to have at last found their batting eyes, for in making it two straight over the Senators, they raked out 18 hits off Jones and Sherry. The score was 10 to 7. It was an unusual game in that the scoring of importance was done in the seventh and eighth innings. The Senators, held to two runs up to the seventh by young McDonald, the 19-year old rookie, pumped on him plenty, getting three hits in a row in the seventh and eighth. Lefty Grove came in to pitch, but before the side had retired, gave up six hits, and then came over. Mahaffey pitched the eighth inning when he came back and scored five runs. Al Simmons drove in five runs during the game, getting a home run and two triples. Jimmy Pate came into the game in the ninth as a pinch hitter, and drove in two runs. It was his first appearance in the big show. He was hit on Apr. 18, McDonald to run for him tomorrow.

The Boston Yankees maintained their place as league leaders by whipping the Red Sox again by a 7 to 4 score. Gehrig and Ruffing hit homers to lead the Yank sluggers who did all their scoring in the fifth and sixth innings. Oliver's double, with the bases filled, scored three runs for the Sox in the seventh, but the rally ended there.

Cleveland kept pace with the Yanks by stopping the White Sox, 6 to 1, their fifth win in seven games with the hapless Sox. Hadlin pitched shutout ball for eight and two-third innings, allowing only four hits, with two out in the ninth and with Eckhardt on third, Karna singled, bringing in the only Sox run. The Indians drove Thomas from the hill in the second. Burnett, the Florida boy, drove in three runs with a long triple in that frame, and he, and Fossent, who had singled back of him, scored a few minutes later when Earl Averill dropped a home run into the left field stands. Joe Venkik again went hitless.

Alexander, the Tiger first sacker, with a triple, double and single, led his mates to a 4 to 2 victory over the Browns. Earl Whitehill held the Browns to five hits, two of them homers by Kress and Schulte, and one a double by McNeely. Gray was louted for nine hits, Gehringer, Stone and Schang getting singles which scored three of the four Tiger runs. Bettencourt dropped a fly ball in the first which allowed one run to come over. It was the second straight win for the Tigers over the Browns.

The leaders to date: Home runs, Hornsby, Cubs 5; triples, H. Rice, Senators 3; doubles, Venkik, Indians 6; stolen bases, Berger, Braves, Myer, Senators, Levey, Browns, Burnett, Indians, 7 each; runs batted in, Hornsby, Cubs, 14; most strike outs, one game, Johnson, Yanks, 12; most bases on balls, one game, Hallahan, Cards, 9; shut-out games, Brown, Senators, Brown, Indians, Grimes, Cards, Bridges, Tigers, Seibold and Zachary, Braves, one each.

The Big Six batting leaders, players who are hitting the ball at an average of .400 or better, yesterday jumped to a Big Nine. Joe Venkik was topped from the top when he again failed to hit. Berger of the Braves succeeds him. Four hitters are tied at .429 each, while the Babe and Roettger just stay in the list with averages of .400 each. Here's how they stand including yesterday's games:

| | | | | | |
|------------------|----|----|----|----|------|
| Player-Club | g | ab | r | h | ava. |
| Berger, Braves | 10 | 37 | 7 | 17 | .459 |

| Alexander, | | | | | |
| Tigers | 9 | 35 | 2 | 15 | .429 |
| Berry, Red Sox | 8 | 28 | 7 | 12 | .429 |

Well, after week's of dicker-ing, Chick Hafey, considered one of the most dangerous players in the senior circuit, yesterday agreed to play for the Cards. He gave in when the Card owners refused to budget from their offer of $12,500 for the year's work, and because of his stubbornness, he loses $1500, and his salary for the year will be less than $11,000.

just exactly $1000 less than the Chick hoped to get. He will add at least 25 percent to the batting punch of the Cards, and when he finally signs on the line next Monday, the last of the holidays of importance is in the field.

Coach Leonard McLucas' Sem-cole High outfit lost a lousy (ful) 10-inning game to Ocoee yesterday afternoon by the score of 4 to 3. It was one of the few remaining games on the schedule, and was played in a speedy fashion.

The largest crowd of baseball hopefuls so far had a snappy workout at Municipal Park yesterday afternoon under the careful eye of Manager Sid Rive, and from all indications, it won't be long before he will be able to put a real team in the field. Batting practice was carried on for nearly an hour, with all the would-be members of the proposed club finding the range before the session was through.

Infield practice saw Sid trying out several combinations, one of which saw Parks Hunter at first, Bookie Bach at second, Jimmy Wright at short, Phil Miles and Eddie Bender at third, Buddy Lake, John Weaver, and Alton Gunter in the outfield, and Bill Ludwig back of the plate. Others who were working out included Bernie Poulsten, Clyde Chapman, Cal Dennis, Jim Spencer, Bill Biggers, and Manager Rive. Monday afternoon batting will be the main item on the menu, and before the week is over, Sid expects to place a bunch of batters in line for the opening game on Sunday May 3.

WHAT PRINCE OF WALES SAW

LIMA, Peru—Here you see one of the remarkable scenes that met the eye of the Prince of Wales when he visited the Andes Mountains on his South American tour. It pictures the llamas at Cerro de Pasco, Peru, after bringing in their burdens of copper from the mines. This is a little visited region of the earth, where life is almost as primitive as it was when Pizarro, the Spanish conqueror, first visited it.

opening game on Sunday May 3.

Elaborate plans for that game are already being realized, and it is expected that the program will equal any ever held in connection with an opening day game here. A big crowd is expected to follow the Deland outfit over here, and with any sort of weather at all, it should be a memorable day.

WOOD PLANS TO SEEK NEW SPEED RECORD AT MIAMI

Will Arrive Today To Begin Efforts For Beating Don's Mark

MIAMI BEACH, Apr. 25.—(A.P.)—Ger Wood, Detroit motorboat enthusiast, will arrive here today to renew his assault on the world's speedboat record of 103.49 miles an hour held by Kaye Don, of England.

Wood informed his mechanics yesterday he would arrive early Saturday by train from New York and instructed them to prepare to place his racing craft, Miss America IX, in the water if weather conditions were favorable.

Eight days ago Wood drove his broad-based craft nine times over the measured mile course in Indian creek here in an unsuccessful attempt to wrest the record from Don. His best two-way average in the nine trials was made on his fourth and fifth runs. He was timed on these at 102.890 and 103.249 miles an hour, respectively for an average of 103.069 miles an hour.

Two other runs were slightly faster than the fourth, but they could not be used in computing a two-way average because they were not completed within a 30-minute period required in claiming a record.

Since his runs last week, Wood's mechanics have been busy checking his two 12-cylinder engines point by point and going over every detail of the boat. The bottom has been ground down and polished with graphite for the new assault, and the craft Friday night was reported in readiness for its master's hand.

The electrical timing apparatus was checked yesterday and only the last minute installation of instruments will be necessary before the equipment would be ready to clock the Miss America IX over the measured mile course.

The weather man, however held out little hope for the attempt Saturday with a forecast of showers and gentle to moderate easterly winds.

BERLINGER WINS DECATHLON TITLE FOR THIRD TIME

Pennsylvania Strong Boy Gains Honor At Penn Relay Races

By ALAN GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor.
PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 25.—(AP)—Big Barney Berlinger, the Pennsylvania strong boy, brought the first day of the Pennsylvania relay carnival to a climax late Friday afternoon with a record-smashing victory in the intercollegiate decathlon championship.

Berlinger turned in the most brilliant performance of his career to out-distance a small field of six rivals and capture the decathlon for the third straight year.

Leading his nearest rival, Fred Kalauer of Colgate, by more than 300 points, Berlinger shattered his own carnival record by a wide margin and failed by less than 50 points to beat the American mark held by Ken Woberly of Detroit.

Barney finished the 10 events with a total of 7335.5135 points. His former carnival mark, set a year ago, was 7400.308. The listed American record of Doherty at which he was aiming is 7784.63 and the world's record is 8033.29 held by the Finnish ace, Paavo Yrjola.

Berlinger set a decathlon record of 46 feet, 9 5/8 inches in winning the shot put. He also won the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet, 3 1/4 inches, the high jump at 6 feet, 1-4 inch and the 110 meter high hurdles in 16 7/10. He finished second in the discus and pole-vault, third in the 100 meters dash, fourth in the 400 meters and sixth and last in the 1500 meters run.

Klauser, an edged starter who got his training under Jack Rider of the Boston A. A. before going to Colgate, furnished a surprise by finishing second in an original tie of seven starters. He wound up with a total of 6944.104 points.

In a day of keen competition that witnessed the fall altogether of four carnival records in major intercollegiate events, Ohio State's sprinters, gained the 60th of relay honors by romping off with the quarter-mile and sprint medley races. Ohio State won the 440 yard relay in the carnival record time of 3 minutes, 27 6/10 seconds. Georgetown held the former record of 3:28, set in 1925.

Jack Keller, Ohio State, won the 190 yard high hurdles in the carnival record time of 14 7/10 seconds. Charles Moore of Penn State set the former record of 14 8/10 seconds in 1925. Joe McCalakey, Fordham University, accounted for the fourth outstanding record when he won the 3000 meter steeplechase in 9 minutes, 37 seconds. The former record of 9:57 8/10 was set by L. P. Brown of Michigan State, last year.

Why the U. D. C.?

With the Confederate Memorial Day exercises and Mayor Alsop's stirring speech fresh in mind, Sanford turns with enthusiasm to welcome the U. D. C. delegates who will attend the divisional meeting to be held at the Parish House on Wednesday.

At the memorial services yesterday, a silver haired gentleman walked up to a Sanford U. D. C. and asked, "Lady, may I have one of your flags?"

Not long ago, we heard someone say, "Why do they keep on with the U. D. C. anyway? It seems to me that the organization is just a vehicle to keep alive old antagonisms."

Forget! What man whose grandfather charged with Jeb Stewart's cavalry, or stood his ground with the gallant young V. M. I. cadets at Newmarket, or followed the sword of Robert Lee wants to forget?

The beauty of this remembering is that time kills all bitterness and hatred but it does not dim the clear white light of courage.

Wearing Out The Body

Dr. George W. Crile, Cleveland physician largely responsible for the use of adrenalin in restoring heart action after that highly important organ has ceased to function, declares that the various body parts wear themselves out, and people grow old and die, chiefly because of innumerable minor ailments and emotions.

The seemingly inconsequential ailments and emotions may account indirectly for more major human ills than we know," comments the Miami Daily News.

"Dr. Crile looked forward to the time when prevention will take precedence over cure and disease will represent the physician's failure to take proper precautions.

Especially in such malignant diseases as cancer, which remain to be conquered by medical science, is the program of prevention important.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 27—With a new apartment house overlooking the American Museum of Natural History, found things pretty dull up there.

Down on the Bowery, where the Chinatown rubberneck business dodge the al pillars and human sodden with "smoke" dodge the buses, are to be found several scores of men who do nothing but trade in objects of art.

The Bowery jewelry exchanges resemble nothing so much as an Oriental bazaar. The dealer leases his counter or section of counter by the month.

Miracles of swapping take place. The asking price on any article means nothing whatsoever. Except for cut stones, which have a fairly definite value, everything in the exchange is worth "what you have in your hand" as they call it.

The dealer may even decide to keep it himself, for they are an eccentric lot, those Bowery bazaar men. One old man has displayed daily for nearly fifteen years a collection of English silver plate valued at about $20,000.

You know how New York taxpayers never know your neighbors until they get into trouble. A kind old lady who had just moved regrettably and apprehensively more difficult, but they must be taken.

Mr. Wall believes we have laws enough but the important thing to do is to create a tax commission that will enforce the laws, seeing that personal property is put on the books at its fair value.

The crux of the whole issue may be decided through a bill introduced by Senator Wall, which would have the state assessors' office.

Some of the things that are being done in the Bowery are being done in the Bowery. The Bowery jewelry exchanges resemble nothing so much as an Oriental bazaar.

WALKER HITS BACK AT HIS ACCUSERS IN TALK AT BREAKFAST

NEW YORK, Apr. 27—(AP)—Mayor Walker yesterday struck back at his accusers with statements that he was being made "the goat" in a campaign to undermine public confidence in municipal, state and national government by communists and those allied with them.

He spoke at the annual communion breakfast of the Holy Name Society of the fire department which had as guest the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit. The speeches were broadcast.

The mayor said the attack on him was the first step in a campaign which would later include excursions into the business world by communism. He said "the dangerous individual is the parlor communist."

He added that communists would dictate to the press and described red riot spectacles as children in front, women next, and men in the third rank.

"I don't know much about fighting for myself," Walker said, "but whenever officials in my administration are attacked, there will be some fighting and when it starts I'll be in the front ranks to see that justice and right shall obtain. No decent official shall be harmed without me giving up everything I have to defend him."

The Rev. Coughlin also attacked Mayor Walker's accusers and said they wished to "make a scrap of paper of the teachings of Christ and substitute for them the gospel of Lenin."

Walker has been invited to speak at the young Democratic Club meeting Thursday at which Governor Roosevelt will be the principal speaker. If he attends, it will be the first time he will have met the governor since charges of the city affairs committee were filed.

Before concluding his address, Mayor Walker took occasion to call his hearers' attention to the opportunity which will be afforded Floridians to meet two great living Floridians, sons of Confederate soldiers, who are to attend the Jacksonville centennial next year.

"While we should reverse and love the memory of those who have helped make the new South the lovely spot it is, in this great commercial age we live in, we should remember the deeds and achievements of our fellow Floridians, General Sumner, Rear Admiral Cane and many others, who will join with us in a great centennial next year," he said.

The program opened as the Sanford Elks Band played "America," which was sung by the audience. The Rev. Carroll Varner, of the First Methodist Church offered a short prayer, following which the Sanford Male Quartette sang "Tenting Tonight." The introduction of Mayor Walker and his address then followed at the conclusion of which the quartette sang "Crossing the Bar." Just before the Rev. Varner offered a final prayer members of Troop Five, Boy Scouts of America, under the direction of Scoutmaster Howard Overlin, placed a wreath upon the monument as a scout bugler blew "Taps." The audience then sang "Dixie," and the program concluded with "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Elks Band then entertained the crowd with a half hour concert, the feature of which was several vocal selections by Meyer Shader, Orlando vocalist. Bandmaster Edgar A. Ball led the 26-piece band.

ACL Given Award For Big Reduction In Accidents In '32

JACKSONVILLE, Apr. 27—93.84 per cent reduction in accidents last year, as compared with its 1923 record, won first place for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in Class B of the Annual Steam Railroad Accident Prevention Contest, according to advices from Chicago last night. Announcement of the contest results was made by the National Safety Council.

Among railroads whose employees worked more than 100,000,000 man-hours last year, the Chicago and Northwestern Railway ranked first, its casualty list being 91.06 per cent lower than in 1923.

Awards in other classes, together with the percentage of decrease from 1923 accident marks, follow:

Class C—Oregon Short Line railroad, 81.94.

Class D—Mobile and Ohio railroad, 84.69.

Class E—Duluth, Missabe and Northern railroad, 66.24.

Class F—Staten Island Rapid Transit railway, 77.68.

Class G—Missouri-Illinois railroad, 85.

Among switching and terminal units, first place in Class A was won by the Chicago terminal of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, with a 92.65 per cent reduction in accidents as compared with 1923. In Class B for terminals, the Lake Terminal Railroad Company won with a 100 per cent reduction, having no accidents during 1932. Among Pullman groups, Detroit temperance and began with numerous reminiscences which were aroused shortly after his arrival in the city and after conversations with old friends. He paid high tribute to the fallen leaders and men of the Confederacy and urged his hearers to find in their sacrifices some inspiration which might make the present residents of the South gratefully conscious of the noble efforts of their ancestors.

The speaker's references to Florida as a state of unlimited opportunities and possibilities, and his brief remarks concerning various attractions and Florida historical spots which he prophesied would be made shines equal to any in the nation, drew favorable reactions from the audience, which interrupted his talk numerous times with applause.

"The biggest asset in the State of Florida is our people," said the Jacksonville mayor as he emphasized his often repeated statement that, with co-operation and co-ordination the stepping stones to the strong leadership which was so vital during the present era, Florida and its people could and should show the way to the rest of the nation by a prompt and widespread cultural and reawakening. "We need to turn to religion," he said, "to the ways of the Lowly Nazarene, who died that men might live."

WALKER HITS BACK AT HIS ACCUSERS IN TALK AT BREAKFAST

NEW YORK, Apr. 27—(AP)—Mayor Walker yesterday struck back at his accusers with statements that he was being made "the goat" in a campaign to undermine public confidence in municipal, state and national government by communists and those allied with them.

He spoke at the annual communion breakfast of the Holy Name Society of the fire department which had as guest the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit. The speeches were broadcast.

The mayor said the attack on him was the first step in a campaign which would later include excursions into the business world by communism. He said "the dangerous individual is the parlor communist."

He added that communists would dictate to the press and described red riot spectacles as children in front, women next, and men in the third rank.

"I don't know much about fighting for myself," Walker said, "but whenever officials in my administration are attacked, there will be some fighting and when it starts I'll be in the front ranks to see that justice and right shall obtain. No decent official shall be harmed without me giving up everything I have to defend him."

The Rev. Coughlin also attacked Mayor Walker's accusers and said they wished to "make a scrap of paper of the teachings of Christ and substitute for them the gospel of Lenin."

Walker has been invited to speak at the young Democratic Club meeting Thursday at which Governor Roosevelt will be the principal speaker. If he attends, it will be the first time he will have met the governor since charges of the city affairs committee were filed.

Before concluding his address, Mayor Walker took occasion to call his hearers' attention to the opportunity which will be afforded Floridians to meet two great living Floridians, sons of Confederate soldiers, who are to attend the Jacksonville centennial next year.

"While we should reverse and love the memory of those who have helped make the new South the lovely spot it is, in this great commercial age we live in, we should remember the deeds and achievements of our fellow Floridians, General Sumner, Rear Admiral Cane and many others, who will join with us in a great centennial next year," he said.

The program opened as the Sanford Elks Band played "America," which was sung by the audience. The Rev. Carroll Varner, of the First Methodist Church offered a short prayer, following which the Sanford Male Quartette sang "Tenting Tonight." The introduction of Mayor Walker and his address then followed at the conclusion of which the quartette sang "Crossing the Bar." Just before the Rev. Varner offered a final prayer members of Troop Five, Boy Scouts of America, under the direction of Scoutmaster Howard Overlin, placed a wreath upon the monument as a scout bugler blew "Taps." The audience then sang "Dixie," and the program concluded with "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Elks Band then entertained the crowd with a half hour concert, the feature of which was several vocal selections by Meyer Shader, Orlando vocalist. Bandmaster Edgar A. Ball led the 26-piece band.
