

Triple Trouble Plagues Lindsey Family Members

By JANE CASSELLBERY
A husband and both were gutted by fire of undetermined origin recently in a mobile home owned by L. D. Lindsey at 1961 Hilltop Rd., Casselberry, resulting in the loss of furniture, bedding, clothing and personal belongings.

The Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department answered the call at 2:15 p. m. and extinguished the blaze.

The fire Chief Paul Bates could not estimate the damage, but the loss is covered at least partially by insurance.

The four Lindsey children and neighbor's child were playing in the living room when they discovered smoke pouring from under the bedroom door.

Mrs. Lindsey, who sells cosmetics, was making a delivery two blocks away and became alarmed when she could not reach anyone at home by telephone after seeing the fire engine pass. She rushed home to find her team well founded.

"They say trouble comes in threes," said Mrs. Lindsey philosophically, "last week Donna, 12, had surgery, and now the fire."

Reconnection Fee Set by City Of Longwood

By DONNA ESTES
An ordinance setting the reconnection fee of three dollars for persons who have had their water service disconnected due to lack of payment was passed through its second reading at the regular meeting of the Longwood City Council.

Representatives who were Councilmen E. E. Williamson and Eugene Jaques.

In other business, the Williamson family property at East Lake Ave. was rezoned industrial from residential following a public hearing at which no objections were heard.

Council voted to table the bid of the Nationwide Insurance Company for the city's insurance requirements for study; referred to the attorney the amended deed from Mrs. Sadie Proff for determination of location of the property; requested bids for removal of 12 trees and stumps in the right of way of Myrtle Street.

City attorney Gene R. Stebbins recommended the bid of the first night scheduled for the first night of the Longwood Fire Department.

The group will stay four days at John Pennkamp State Park on Key Largo, while they explore the keys and visit Key West.

On Saturday, Aug. 13, they will camp at Planting in the Everglades National Park, and on Sunday at Collier Seminole State Park.

Headliner Myvaka River State Park near Sarasota will be the site of a two day camp and Lithia Springs will be home base for the remainder of the week, while the group takes sightseeing trips to Tampa industries and other attractions.

Evening Studies Registration Set For Jr. College

By DONNA ESTES
W. R. Gordon, director of the division of evening studies, Seminole Junior College, has announced registration for classes for the first term which will begin Aug. 29 and Dec. 15.

Registration will be held from 6 to 8 p. m. on Aug. 26, 30 and 31 and Sept. 1 at the office of the registrar.

Gordon said that the purpose of the evening studies program is four-fold. It is to provide for: 1. High school graduates who plan to take a college program leading to a degree but who wish to cover this program by part-time study while employed;

2. Persons whose formal education has been interrupted who wish to follow a course leading to a college degree; 3. Service personnel whose military obligations make it impossible to attend college during the day; and 4. Individuals who wish to pursue further study in order to keep abreast of new developments in various fields of interest.

Programs and faculty for the evening studies program will be substantially the same as those of the day classes, although most of the classes meet only once a week. Textbooks are the same and the library, bookstore and other campus facilities are open to evening students.

In addition to the evening studies program, a general enrichment program will be offered, with the aim of providing cultural and educational services for the people of the community. Most of these courses will be offered in the evening.

Course offerings for Term One are as follows: Monday — Elementary accounting, freshman English II, college algebra and western civilization II; Tuesday — Introduction to business, freshman English I, fundamental math and principles of economics;

Wednesday — Freshman English II, personal adjustment, physical science I and U. S. government; Thursday — Business law, freshman English I, marriage and family, fundamentals of speech, modern chemistry and personal health; Monday and Wednesday — beginning shorthand and bookkeeping; Tuesday and Thursday — beginning typing, drawing I, elementary Spanish I, engineering graphics and general biology.

Lynda Bird Job-Hunting In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson job-hunting while her sister honeymoon, is in New York to shop, sightsee and talk to prospective employers.

Actor George Hamilton, Lynda's frequent escort, took her Tuesday night to see the musical "Sweet Charity." Earlier in the day she spoke with Robert Stein, editor of McCall's magazine.

She is to return today to Washington, 22, has given up plans for graduate study at the University of Texas, where she received a bachelor's degree with honors last spring.

Luci Johnson Nugent and her husband, Patrick, honeymooned in Atlantic City, concealed from the curious by gates and shrubbery at a $250,000 Nassau Beach estate.

Sir Ralph Grey, governor of the Bahamas, issued a statement welcoming the couple and asking islanders to respect their privacy.

Newsmen Tuesday sent 20 roses and a card requesting interviews and pictures to the honeymoon villa. The bouquet and card were returned with the answer was "no."

MIAMI (UPI) — Hal Davis, the Democratic nominee from Quincy in the heart of the Pork Chop district, gave his endorsement for governor Tuesday to Miami Mayor Robert King High.

Davis, who defeated veteran Sen. Charles Johns of Starke in the May primaries, also declared that "Porkchopism has been laid to rest and should be buried deep." He told the Tiger Bay Lunch-club here that he was looking forward to the arrival of Robert King High in the executive branch.

Father Directs Son's Delivery

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — With a 1943 all-purpose medical book close at hand, Roy Lane watched his wife give birth recently to their third child, a boy.

The birth at home was no accident. The Lanes planned it that way.

James Madison Randolph, grandson of President Jefferson, was the first baby born in the White House. He was born Jan. 15, 1806.

Patrick Scott Lane weighed in at 7 pounds 8 ounces.

Orbiter On Again

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency planned to try again today to launch a flying photography laboratory in orbit around the moon to take clear pictures of the hidden side and nine potential astronaut landing sites.

The spacecraft, called Lunar Orbiter, was scheduled to launch into space under the thrust of an Atlas-Agena rocket in a favorable period between 4:11 and 7:02 p. m. (EDT).

The launching was postponed Tuesday because of unfavorable radio signals from a fuel-measuring system in the Atlas tanks.

The 500-pound Lunar Orbiter was to zip across its quarter-million-mile course in 90 hours, reaching the vicinity of the moon Sunday morning.

Seminole County on the St. Johns River

Tuesday, Mayor B. E. Black resigned and Council Chairman Percy White, according to the charter, will automatically assume the office of mayor pro-tem, in the interim.

Following a year of constant conflict between Black and the former and present councils of the city, White received the resignation of Black by registered mail, Tuesday.

The resignation states, "I find it impossible to continue as mayor of the city of Longwood for three reasons — integrity, business and health."

Black's stormy year in office began with his election last August.

Wringles occurred in council over putting the city's financial plan for three years in force over his veto; council refused to confirm on three occasions Black's appointment of a police chief and his final choice of appointment for city attorney.

During the year, charges were heard from many residents that Black's traffic court was being conducted in the fashion of a "hangover court."

Blow-By-Blow On Training

By ELTON FAY

Over there, in a cramped and dusty field, is a company of recruits, formed in two ranks. Midway along the double row is a six-foot high platform, atop it a man. He wears a peaked, wide-brim campaign hat, the hallmark of the drill sergeant.

He is starting you off in basic training—the "essential fundamentals" of military life and operation.

The recruit, whatever service he is in, is going to wonder about some of the things, like saluting, the military cells essential.

It is something you probably will get used to, but never like. First you learn to march and to fight with basic weapons and with hands — and feet. In this day of jeeps, trucks, armored personnel carriers, helicopters and transport planes, why this marching stuff? And since about half of all men in military service are unlikely ever to engage in actual combat, why the use of arms?

Viet Nam has demonstrated that men still must move on foot after they have been airlifted into a battle zone. And back in home bases, marching in formation preserves organization and keeps a group from becoming a shifting mob.

Even if you eventually wind up in automotive maintenance, you may be called upon in battle to defend your position or to move forward as a replacement. So you learn the basics of combat.

In about the second or third week of training, you go into the basic combat phase.

On the drill field, they show you how to outlive your enemy. It is rough, but can make the difference between becoming an old veteran or a new casualty.

In training, a man's basic weapon is the M14 rifle. You spend hours and days learning how to service and use the M14. You move on through the manual of arms and into marksmanship, how and when to fire at what kinds of targets in daylight and darkness.

The M14, like military rifles for more than two centuries, is fitted with the bayonet mount. You learn the rudiments of bayonet work in the first hours of drill field training, the thrust and parry, the upward thrust toward the enemy's chest and throat, the best way to pull the bayonet out swiftly to meet attack from another enemy.

There are other hours of hand-to-hand combat training. Like weaponry, hand-to-hand combat has undergone changes. Along with learning to kick or use the butt of the rifle against the groin, hand-to-hand combat now includes some of the techniques of karate and judo. You learn also about another handy weapon, the grenade.

On increasing number of drill instructors are fresh back from Viet Nam. They speak and teach from experience.

The sergeant on the platform calls a 10-minute break. He puts his hands on his hips, looks over the two ranks, tells them:

"Most of you look pretty good, but you've got a lot more to do."

Assistant drill instructors work with individuals who don't seem to catch on quickly.

Like back home in school, there is an examination time at the end of the eight weeks — "combat proficiency test." It embraces 14 subjects—weapon use, guard duty, advancing against dug-in enemy, operating under gas attack conditions, first aid—and 22 questions on general military subjects.

At Fort Dix instructors estimate that out of a group of 220 recruits only four or five won't pass.

When you graduate, you are assigned to advanced combat training, to combat units or to technical training and technical units.

Next — we'll tell you about your rank and serial number and answer no questions which he can use in his operations or as blackmail against your family back home. You have received some lectures and viewed some training film on counter-insurgency (helping a local population while winning it away from the enemy and over to your side).

If you flunk, you may have to go through one or more subjects. But you probably won't flunk. At Fort Dix instructors estimate that out of a group of 220 recruits only four or five won't pass.

Taxi Fare Hike Set

City commissioners Monday authorized a five and ten cent increase in taxi fares in various zones throughout the city and requested an ordinance be drawn to that effect by City Attorney William Hutchinson.

The change had been requested by the taxi owners, represented by Charles Collier of Yellow Cab Company. At the public hearing, some other taxi owners told commissioners they had changed their minds and did not wish to change the fares. A spokesman said they felt the traffic "could not bear the increase."

Commissioners expressed surprise at the change and after considerable discussion it was explained that individual owners would not be required to raise their rates if they did not wish to do so, but that the new rates would be the "maximum," not the "minimum."

It appeared that the questions in the minds of some of the drivers came from the use of the words "minimum and maximum," rather than the words "lowest and highest."

After this was explained the other cab owners agreed to the new rate schedules.

Hutchinson warned drivers that whatever they decided their fares would be, "within the maximum," must be stated in the taxi and no deviation would be allowed.

Soviet Author Arrested Again

BELGRADE (UPI) — Yugoslav author Milobko Miholjevic, jailed last year for writing an explosive anti-Soviet article, was under arrest again today, apparently for attempting to establish a magazine opposing the ruling Communist regime.

The 28-year-old former lecturer at Zadar University was picked up by Zadar police Tuesday, three days before he was scheduled to meet with friends to discuss the home-based non-Communist periodical.

ARTHUR PATCHIN, 19, Sanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Patchin, 1605 Park Ave., left Sunday for U.S. Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. Patchin is a 1966 graduate of Seminole High School.

County Accepts Sunset Road Service

By DONNA ESTES
Sunset Drive in the Paradise Point section of Bear Lake was accepted into the county road system by the county commission at its meeting Tuesday.

Emergency maintenance for Crown Street was authorized in the same subdivision. The action was taken after report from county engineer William Bush on roads in the section as instructed by the commission last week when residents of the area appeared to complain of the poor condition of streets in their area.

Bush reported Sunset, Magnolia, Crown and Azalea Streets had never been taken into the county road system and that no improvements had been made on the roads except to open them.

He further stated he could not recommend maintenance be provided for Magnolia and Azalea Streets at this time due to the fact that aerial studies prove the roads were built in a swamp.

"A further survey might be taken to determine if the swamp can be drained," Bush said.

In other business, the board agreed to check into the drainage problem and inspect the condition of Bunnell with the engineer as requested by residents.

The problem of providing access to a resident's property on Elder Road in Lake Monroe was referred to Commissioner John Fitzpatrick and the engineer.

Seminole 4-H Girls Attend Five Day Forest Camp

Thirty-seven Seminole County 4-H girls returned home Friday afternoon after attending a five-day encampment at Camp MeQuarrie in the Ocala National Forest. The theme this year was "Pages of History." Each building on the grounds had a special name instead of the regular numbers. Such names chosen were the auditorium, "White House; mess hall, "Red Horse Inn"; cabins, "Independence Hall"; "The Alamo" and "P. Sumter"; the leaders cabin, "Hyde Park." The lake was known as "Chesapeake Bay."

Upon arriving Monday afternoon with their agent, Miss Myrtle Wilson, and adult leaders, the girls got acquainted with their cabin partners from Hernando and Lake counties.

Camp staff this year included Gene George, manager; Harriett Lewis, recreation leader, and Walter Harbour Jr., life guard. These leaders made a tremendous hit with the Seminole County girls and proved their ability with the pleasant personalities and ways of teaching the group their chosen assignments.

Harriett's theme word to the girls for the week was "History" and "Smile." These words were used constantly during the week. She taught the girls variations of 4-H songs, games and square dances. Harbour instructed them in beginners and advanced swimming and boating.

The day began at 8:30 a.m. and gathering around the flagpole for flag-raising and devotional was in charge of this duty during the week. Classes began at 8:50 after work detail.

Daily classes were swimming, recreation and crafts. Craft class was under the supervision of Mrs. Emil Mancuso. Mrs. Glen Mathews and Mrs. Genevieve Tate of Lake County and Mrs. H. A. Miller and Miss Carol Stone of Seminole. They taught the girls how to make lariat place mats and yardstick holders.

The special classes were Grooming and Manners, Mrs. Deborah Boulware, assistant Home Economics agent, Lake County; wildlife life, Larry Martin, officer with the Florida Freshwater Fish Commission; and Cooking with Honey, given by Mrs. Lois Porter, Home Advisor with the Florida Power Corporation at Eustis.

Mrs. Mathews and Mrs. H. L. Johnson of Sanford were advisors for the candlelight ceremony on Thursday evening. They were assisted by Wanda Webster, Junior Leader from Lake County. At Tuesday afternoon's assembly, Judge W. A. Milton Jr., of Lake County spoke to the group on "Citizenship" after which there was a question and answer period.

Cabin counselors chosen from Seminole were: Carmen Adriatico, Ovidio; Bambi Chesser and Myrtle Harris, Lake Monroe Club; Cindy and Terry Boyles, Longwood and Margaret Bevin of Lake Mary. Carmen and Cindy were also Group Captains.

Braves Nip Koufax, Dodgers In New Manager's Debut

Namath Says Jets Can Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Jets can win it all in the American Football League this year.

Who says so? Joe Namath, the Jets' $400,000 quarterback, that's who.

Namath, the AFL's rookie of the year, led the Jets to five victories in their last eight games in 1965, a late rush that gained the Jets second place in Buffalo in the Eastern Division, with a 5-1 record.

Playing in 13 games in his first pro season, the former Alabama star completed 134 of 199 passes for 1,220 yards and 18 touchdowns. In his second year, the Jets figure to be in contention all the way.

Namath, a native of Beaver Falls, Pa., made his views known Tuesday night at a press conference in New York City, prepared for his first exhibition game Saturday night at Birmingham, Ala., against the Houston Oilers.

"We have a shot at the whole deal," Namath said. "The defense looks a lot better and the offense is sharper. The quarterbacks and the linebackers are working together better."

Houston opened its exhibition season last week with a 26-17 victory over Oakland, and coach Wally Lemm has Don Trull, George Blanda and Jackey Lee ready to shoot at the Jets in 12-13 order at quarterback.

St. Louis of the National Football League, which opens this week's exhibition schedule with a Thursday night game at Detroit, announced that veteran Ed Saddy had signed his contract. Detroit figured in a deal with Philadelphia, which traded defensive end Jerry Mazzanti to the Lions for a future draft choice.

The Atlanta Falcons of the NFL announced that defensive end Sam Williams had changed his mind about retiring and would be fined for reporting late. The former Michigan State star had been acquired by the Falcons from Detroit in last winter's expansion draft.

On Saturday, in addition to the Jets-Houston game at Birmingham, Baltimore and Philadelphia play at New Orleans, La.; Dallas is at Los Angeles; Oakland at San Diego; Pittsburgh and Minnesota meet at Portland, Ore.; and the New York Giants travel to Atlanta at Nashville, Tenn. On Sunday, Cleveland is at San Francisco.

Panthers Eye 3rd In Row Saturday

The Orlando Panthers, clawing their way to two lopsided victories in as many preseason appearances, face the optimistic Norfolk Neptunes this Saturday night in an away game in the Oyster Bowl, Norfolk, Va. Kick-off is 7 p.m. Orlando times.

Both Continental Football League teams have played two exhibition games. The Neptunes lost to the Hartford Charter Oaks last weekend by a score of 14 to 10 while the Panthers, in their first home appearance, defeated the Norfolk Neptunes 25 to 10. The previous week the Panthers flew to Wheeling, W. Va., and routed the Ironmen 31 to 7. The Neptunes also won their initial game over the Richmond Rebels, 38 to 7.

Neptunes general manager Jim Dunn said his squad will be put into action against the Panthers but to break head coach Perry Moss' 29-game winning streak. Last season's Panthers head coach of the Charleston (W. Va.) Rockets led that team to a perfect record and W.C.F.L. Championship. He also was named C.F.L. Coach of the Year last season.

Bob Gellers to the Hartford Charter Oaks for a first round draft choice next year and negotiating rights for Tommy Morrow, a defensive halfback who was recently put on waivers by the New York Jets of the AFL. Kick-off is 7 p.m. Orlando times.

Also the Panthers hired Herbert "Duke" Brackett, a veteran of 20-years of college as chief assistant to head coach Moss. Brackett coached for 13 years under Red Sanders at UCLA and also coached under Gen. Bob Neyland at Tennessee and Arkansas.

Brackett will be backfield coach and in charge of the Panthers' kicking game.

There was one out in the ninth when Mathews lined his eighth homer into the right field seats, ending the game. The Yankees, who were leading 5-0 in the eighth, lost to the Hartford Charter Oaks last weekend by a score of 14 to 10 while the Panthers, in their first home appearance, defeated the Norfolk Neptunes 25 to 10. The previous week the Panthers flew to Wheeling, W. Va., and routed the Ironmen 31 to 7. The Neptunes also won their initial game over the Richmond Rebels, 38 to 7.

Hitchcock's 1st Win Type That Brings Ulcers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
That little ulcer man manager pumper probably has a running start on Billy Hitchcock after his first game as skipper of the Atlanta Braves.

Hitchcock, who replaced Bob Bragan as manager of the Braves Tuesday, piloted the club to a 2-1 victory over Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers.

And it only took four hours, 24 minutes to do the job. Ed Mathews ripped a homer in the ninth, ending the marathon which was delayed for two hours, five minutes by rain in the fourth inning.

Denny Lemaster, who finished with a three-hitter, held the Dodgers hitless for seven innings, protecting a 1-0 lead provided by Felipe Alou's leadoff homer in the first.

After the rain, Hitchcock watched his outfielders throw balls to preserve the no-hit bid. Then, in the eighth inning, Jim Lefebvre ended the spell with a leadoff homer, tying the score.

The Braves had a golden opportunity to take the lead in the bottom of the eighth in Joe Pagan's double driving in Jose Pascual and Fryman delivering after Bill Mazeroski was intentionally walked.

The Mets knocked Fryman out, scoring their run on two hits and a walk in the seventh, but Pete Mikkelson pitched hitless relief the rest of the way and preserved the rookie's ninth victory.

Vada Pinson singled home relief pitcher Sammy Ellis with the winning run in the seventh inning for the Reds against the Giants. Pinson, who had raced home from first on Willie Mays' error in the first inning, delivered.

Moved Up
NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Farrington, the defending champion, has moved past Del Insko 173 to 168 in the race for National Harness Race Driving title, the United States Trotting Association announced Tuesday.

Stanley Dancer leads in money earned with $610,656 to Insko's $688,822.

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI
I mean... well, gee whiz... that is... (come on, John... you gotta say it sooner or later)... How can you be so lucky one day and so LOUSY the next?

In last week's City League play, Split-ski was floating in cloud 9 and then comes a chance to star in the Ocala Men's Doubles Tournament on Sunday, and the name suited to a capital S. Boy, did I ever get 'em.

(Come on ole buddy, you still haven't typed that low score and I'm waiting to pounce on it!)
A miserable 480 series, that's what I'm crying about. A 480! But then I heard that little voice which said, "Cheer up John, things could be worse."

I cheered up and THINGS GOT WORSE!!!
This time it totaled 460 for three games and the drive back to Sanford was the longest... quietest... frostiest... etc., etc.
The only bright spot about this venture was the number of Sanford bowlers who journeyed to Ocala to cheer their hand at it. I'm hoping that this is an indication of the response which we'll be having during our Big One... the first four weekends in September, remember, it's handicapped and carries a $750 guarantee.

Doug Owens bowled real well up there. Doug rammed home a 268, high for the weekend, worth $25 to him.
Lots of women topped you this week, Split-ski! Like the group from the Thursday A.M. Haag Chrysler League: Carolyn Freeman bowled her first sanctioned 200 game; June Gasman bowled high series, a 460.
Other "nifties" from this league are Ginger Smith 182, Ellie Faint 161, Dottie Tatum 160, Margie Miller 160, Fern Garner 171.
Good to see Buddy Welch back in the groove again. Popped right to the top in series for the Tuesday evening University Professionals League with a 294-561 set.
The Thursday A.M. RVAH-17 Wives League held their election of officers for the coming fall league with the honor going to these ladies: Pat Hein, President; Carolyn Johnson will be the V.P.; Billie Johnson, Secretary and Joy Zerfas, Treasurer.
While we're talking about these leagues, please remember that all of them will start with their meetings the last week in August and officially start the next week. I'll schedule the first week in September. Don't wait too long before you sign for your favorite team and league!
Another gal who made it into the first timers' category was Sue Pruitt of the Town & Country Beauty Salon from the Jet Bowlerettes League. Sue shot a 206, her first in league play, and finished with a 464 series.
Recognizing some of the "lammers" from this league we have Jane Ross' 178; Elaine Kozal 174-494 (Inland Majestic); Allice Beaulieu 160 (17.29 Auto Sales); Mardell Gooderman 178 and Nonn Hines 190 (Thriftyway); Beverly Adams 188 and 195 (Searks's Patis and Gias).
Quite a few good games from the Wednesday evening Jet Bowler and Chain League. And by the way, a special vote of thanks to Thelma Hickson for creating and sustaining so much interest in this league during the summer schedule. As a matter of fact, they have a waiting list of members wanting to join them for the fall.
Whether they expand to 12 teams or not depends on how effective the City League, which bowled alongside them, is in getting their ten teams contracted for the Fall League. They already have 7 teams signed, leaving vacancies for only three more teams.
Getting back to the B & C League, Walk Kryzawa bowled a 202 - 557 in leading the list. Plus 2 (best), this is their team name) to a three point win over the league leading Allyn Gators. High for the losers was Barbara Roberts 189 - 529 and Andy Stine's 197-526.
Over the one-five-0 mark in the Thursday RVAH-17 League were Pat Seube 155, Carolee Surbrook 161, Carolyn Johnson 168 and Nettie Phillips 161.
Jack Hunt had one of his best nights for the Florida State Bank Mixed League last Thursday with a 201-598 series. Just as easy as using that bank book for a tip. You and I just gotta get together for more lessons, Irene!)

Looks like the Thursday evening New Mixed Couples League will have no trouble in fielding 20 teams, with all of the reservations coming now. The group has shown that it can also take a pin or two, as well.
Eugene Fung had a 197, Richard Davis 193 as did Jim Farris who added a 180-561 series to his credit; Louis Seube 191-626, Bob Watson 187, Norman Quellan 185, Ray Hatchett 193-537, to name just a few.
If I neglected to mention it in this week's column, congratulations to our big tournament stars in three more weeks and registration for all fall leagues is set for the next two weeks.
Come out for the Saturday No Pin Tournament at 8 and 10 p.m. and the Sunday Silver Dollar Bonanza. It's open to both men and women.
Dressen Still In Bad Shape
DETROIT (AP)—Charlie Dressen, Detroit Tigers manager who suffered a second heart attack less than three months ago, remained hospitalized Tuesday in serious condition with a kidney infection, Detroit's Star-Tribune reported. Dressen, 67, was undergoing treatment at Henry Ford Hospital where he was admitted Sunday.
Lamb Picked
LAUREL, Md. (UPI)—Charles Lamb, Baltimore News American racing editor, has been selected to serve as chairman of the 12-member American Selection Board which picks the United States horses to meet foreign challengers Nov. 11 in the $150,000 Washington, D.C. International, Laurel race course President John D. Shapiro announced Tuesday.
While we're talking about these leagues, please remember that all of them will start with their meetings the last week in August and officially start the next week. I'll schedule the first week in September. Don't wait too long before you sign for your favorite team and league!
Another gal who made it into the first timers' category was Sue Pruitt of the Town & Country Beauty Salon from the Jet Bowlerettes League. Sue shot a 206, her first in league play, and finished with a 464 series.
Recognizing some of the "lammers" from this league we have Jane Ross' 178; Elaine Kozal 174-494 (Inland Majestic); Allice Beaulieu 160 (17.29 Auto Sales); Mardell Gooderman 178 and Nonn Hines 190 (Thriftyway); Beverly Adams 188 and 195 (Searks's Patis and Gias).
Quite a few good games from the Wednesday evening Jet Bowler and Chain League. And by the way, a special vote of thanks to Thelma Hickson for creating and sustaining so much interest in this league during the summer schedule. As a matter of fact, they have a waiting list of members wanting to join them for the fall.

Falcons Hoping Hard Work Pays Off

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BLACK MOUNTAIN, N.C. (AP)—If hard work can win in the National Football League, the Atlanta Falcons will not be last. Never has a club expanded more blood, sweat - and even a few tears - than the league's new entry in their secluded hideout.

The results were plain to see in the exhibition opener with the Philadelphia Eagles. The well-conditioned Falcons, eager to hit anybody in sight on a one-day break from the rigors of camp, almost upset the Eagles. They impressed everybody with their conditioning.

Norb Hecker, the new coach who learned his lessons in the hard school of an assistant to Vince Lombardi at Green Day put the whip to his collection of hand-me-downs from the 14 older NFL clubs. Some walked out of camp. Others asked to be taken regular jobs, once they have worked their way into Hecker's Packers-style system, following their stay with the College All Stars.

Hecker is sifting through a bunch of running backs that includes Perry Lee Dunn (Dallas), Junior Coffey (Green Bay), Wheelwright (New York), Tom Wilkey (formerly with several teams) and Don Lewis (Washington).
Angelo (Colo.) Washington figures to be the split end with Alex Hawkins (Baltimore) at flanker, backed by Red Mack (Pittsburgh), Tight end Bill Martin (Chicago Bears).
Don Talbert (Dallas) and Eric Linden (Minnesota) are the offensive tackles; Don Grimm (Green Bay) and Frank Lasky (New York) or Cook (St. Louis) the guards and Frank Marichal (Los Angeles) the center.

The best of the defensive players appear to be cornerbacks Ron Stoltz (Los Angeles) and Gene Galloway (Minnesota) and linebacker Bill Jobko (Minnesota) and Marion Rushing (St. Louis) and

Ex-QB Matte Rejoins Troops As Baltimore Running Halfback

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Tom Matte is back with the troops, running at halfback for the Baltimore Colts. His days of glory as the full-in-quarterback are gone but not forgotten.

"I doubt if I'll see action again as a quarterback," said the Ohio State product, who filled in for injured Johnny Unitas and Gary Cuozzo in last December's crucial periods.

Getting back to the B & C League, Walk Kryzawa bowled a 202 - 557 in leading the list. Plus 2 (best), this is their team name) to a three point win over the league leading Allyn Gators. High for the losers was Barbara Roberts 189 - 529 and Andy Stine's 197-526.

Over the one-five-0 mark in the Thursday RVAH-17 League were Pat Seube 155, Carolee Surbrook 161, Carolyn Johnson 168 and Nettie Phillips 161.
Jack Hunt had one of his best nights for the Florida State Bank Mixed League last Thursday with a 201-598 series. Just as easy as using that bank book for a tip. You and I just gotta get together for more lessons, Irene!)

Looks like the Thursday evening New Mixed Couples League will have no trouble in fielding 20 teams, with all of the reservations coming now. The group has shown that it can also take a pin or two, as well.
Eugene Fung had a 197, Richard Davis 193 as did Jim Farris who added a 180-561 series to his credit; Louis Seube 191-626, Bob Watson 187, Norman Quellan 185, Ray Hatchett 193-537, to name just a few.
If I neglected to mention it in this week's column, congratulations to our big tournament stars in three more weeks and registration for all fall leagues is set for the next two weeks.
Come out for the Saturday No Pin Tournament at 8 and 10 p.m. and the Sunday Silver Dollar Bonanza. It's open to both men and women.

Clay's Draft Hearing Slated For Aug 23
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A hearing Aug. 23 determining if heavyweight champion Cassius Clay is exempt from the armed services draft because of his religious beliefs.
Clay, a convert to the Black Muslim religion, claims exemption as a conscientious objector. Under his present A classification, he is eligible for the draft.
Clay will be represented at the hearing by New York attorney Hayden Covington, who handled hundreds of Jehovah's Witnesses cases during World War II when that religion claimed deferment for its members.

This is the second hearing for Clay, who successfully defended his heavyweight crown last Saturday night against Brian Stastundon.
The champion met with his local board last March 17, claiming deferment.
Clay failed the army mental examination twice, and was classified 1-Y.
However, last Feb. 17, his local draft board reclassified the champion 1-A after the Army lowered the standard of physical and mental requirements for the draft.

PITCHING—Steve Hargan, Cleveland, pitched a four-hitter as the Indians blanked Boston 5-0.
BATTING—Ed Matthews, Atlanta, hit a ninth-inning home run off Sandy Koufax that gave the Braves a 3-1 victory over Los Angeles in their first game under new Manager Billy Hitchcock.

Marichal Sidelined
CINCINNATI (UPI)—Juan Marichal, ace of the San Francisco Giants' pitching staff will be unable to pitch in the four-game series against the Cincinnati Reds this week because of an injured ankle.

Why so many Volkswagens live to be 100,000. The Volkswagen isn't the kind of a car you trade in after two or three years. It's designed and built for keeps. The piston speed in a Volkswagen is slower than it is in many other cars. That means less wear. Engine friction and stress are so low that the VW's cruising speed is the same as top speed! Continuity in making the same basic model year after year has led to Volkswagen's quality of assembly—the kind that a 15,000 car would be proud of, to say nothing of a car that sells for $1,995. Just to give you an idea: A Volkswagen is so air-tight, it's so good practice to open the window before you slam the door. Even after several years. So, if you own a '61 or '62 VW that you've taken good care of, why would you want to trade it in for a '66—which looks just like it? You wouldn't. You'd keep it, and have the pleasure of seeing 99,999 on your VW's odometer turn to 100,000.

How Dry They Are

Thanks to healthy winter and spring precipitation, waters in New York restaurants may serve water with meals again without having to be asked and experts have stopped talking about purifying the Hudson River, but the drought which began several years ago in the northeast part of the country is far from over.

A report released by the U.S. Geological Survey shows that based on data up to the end of March, 1966, ground-water levels reached record lows in large areas of the Middle Atlantic and New England states.

Ground water—the snows and rains of yesterday which have seeped into water-bearing rocks the geologists call aquifers—is what hundreds of communities depend upon for their water supply. It is also what streams depend upon for normal flow during the growing season.

The streamflows were also found to be at record lows over much of the area. In Massachusetts, for example, the deficiency in streamflow for a 56-month period ending in March amounted to two full years of normal runoff. The significance of this is that the report is that unlike agricultural drought (lack of timely crop-nourishing rains), "the manifestations of water-supply drought tend to persist and intensify from one growing season to the next."

Even though enough precipitation may occur to water crops, pastures and forests, this moisture may not be enough to recharge the aquifers.

This is the situation in the northeast today, and it promises to be one that will be with the region for a long time to come.

Eating Up With Joneses

Something's wrong here: The poor are getting fatter, the rich are getting thinner.

Yet that's what a study recently published by the American Dieticians Association indicates. In a survey, the council found "an impressive relationship between socio-economic status and obesity."

To be specific, 80 per cent of the "have not" group were on the heavy side. This contrasted with 16 per cent for the middle class and only 5 per cent for the very well-to-dos.

The council's findings are supported by those of other research groups who report that poor people favor patterns of diet in which nutrition and taste are not the only considerations. "Take cottage cheese, for instance, a product with low cost and high nutrition. The lowest income groups are, surprisingly, indifferent to it.

According to nutritionists, cottage cheese is a natural choice for low-budget shoppers. But they tend to keep aloof from it because, like most low-cost foods, "it just doesn't have status."

Instead of eating at great economic sacrifice, the low-income family goes in for status-related foods like beef because it gives them an illusion of economic well-being that they need, say the explainers.

The rich, on the other hand, don't need that kind of reassurance, thus eat more sensibly and stay slender.

Thought For Today

So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable, what is raised is imperishable.—1 Cor. 15:42.

There is only one way to get ready for immortality and that is to love this life and live it as bravely and faithfully as we can. — Henry Van Dyke, American clergyman.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Troops. The cease-fire gave them that period of safety. They kept the trace only long enough to finish the refitting.

When they began to lose in Korea, the Chinese Red called for truce talks. These talks jalled the big U. S. drive north. The Chinese stalled while they built up their local forces, corrected their basic weaknesses in weapons and equipment.

This build-up meant that a resumed U. S. advance would have been much more costly. It put the United States in a weaker bargaining position, enabled Mao to put through an agreement so impotent he broke it.

He openly and repeatedly Hanou used the Laotian talks to strengthen his military position.

In South Viet Nam, a cease-fire would give the Communists a free hand to recruit and train additional troops and to infiltrate more arms and men.

Most of the Communist military organization is underground. Supply routes are secret. Open inspection would be like watching the Coxa Nostra and its supply lines with no undercover men.

A cease-fire couldn't stop Viet Cong assassinations, kidnappings and other terrorist attacks, now at the rate of 11,000 to 17,000 a year.

It couldn't stop Red guerrilla troops from attacking whenever they wanted. In every case, as in China, they claim the other side had started the firing.

The inspection teams the Reds, inspection teams failed in North Korea and Laos. The Control Commission in Viet Nam has set a dismal record.

There are thousands of Viet Cong pockets in South Viet Nam. Each would have to be policed with units acceptable to both sides. The Red members of each unit would bar visits to critical areas or stall them. By the time the inspectors arrived, what they sought to see would be hidden or moved.

The job would be like trying to keep track of smuggling in a state of 15 million if there were 200,000 smugglers, most of whom had a bevy of relatives, if every police smuggler-control team of two consisted of one policeman and one smuggler.

It staggers the imagination. Asian Communist leaders brag about their cease-fire techniques. In private talks in China in World War II, some of these men were quite frank. In a war, they said a man uses all the means at his command.

"We fight when we're winning," said one top Communist. "When things aren't going well, then we call for talks or a truce to give us time to consolidate our gains for another push later."

Shooting The Rapids

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Dr. James offers a wide-spread criticism of Medical Schools. It may shock many of you laymen to find how ultra-orthodox our medical education has been. Many physicians are superb marriage advisors and sex counselors. But many are ignorant of the financial side of marriage so they are losing their own wives via divorce! Why? (George W. Crane, Ph. D., M. D. CASE 2-493; James X., aged 38, is a prominent clergyman.)

After I addressed his state ministerial convention, about 100 of the younger clergymen gathered at the front of the hall.

"Dr. Crane," he asked, "could you give us a blackboard chalk-talk on how we can counsel engaged couples?"

"For we have found that many of the physicians to whom we refer prospective wedding couples, are not spiritually attuned to the situation. So they often are rough and vulgar, or deficient in what they are advising our young people."

MARRIAGE CLINICS

Most of the competent physicians who do such intimate marriage counseling have had to develop their presentation of the facts on their own!

For the medical schools have been so prudish or fearful of censure on such topics, that they ignore marital counseling. For example, when I entered Northwestern University Medical School, I had been teaching psychology for over 10 years, and doing considerable family counseling.

So I was doubly interested to find out what the medical faculties were giving medical students.

And I was shocked!

In the 4 years of Medical School we were not offered even a single 30-minute lecture on the sexual side of marriage! For instance, in one type of situation that could easily develop: "Mr. President, Senator Fulbright has just made another speech criticizing your Viet Nam policy. Do you have any comment?"

"Tell him to go jump in the lake."

The need to be prepared for situations of that sort is reason enough for both Houses and Senate to have swimming pools.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Political Winds

Simple arithmetic is catching up with foreign aid, with irresponsible federal spending and with insane stimulation of private borrowing. Catching up? Simple arithmetic is overtaking such items in the field of good intentions gone wrong.

Best evidence of what is going on was the sudden Republican assault on foreign aid, said by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, (R-Ill.). Dirksen is a cagey man, attuned to the political winds. It is reasonable to believe that Dirksen's sortie against Johnson spending and foreign aid policies means that his opinion in Illinois is taking similar pollutions.

A broader and equally reasonable interpretation is that millions of Americans are fed up to here with foreign aid, swamping dollar, rising prices, loss of gold reserves against economic or international calamity.

Dirksen is developing for Republican candidates some campaign issues in this election year.

The Labor Department reported last week that the consumer price index the measure of the cost of living rose faster during the first half of this year than in any other six months since 1958.

U. S. gold reserves were down to $13.3 billion as the current fiscal year began last July 1. That was the value of gold available to pay for the large gold claims of foreigners against the United States. These foreign claims amount to about $29 billion to be paid in gold. The United States cannot honor its gold indebtedness.

The United States held about $20.5 billion in gold when the war ended and before temporary emergency foreign aid began under the Marshall Plan. Temporary? Emergency? ? ?

Nations which have acquired free or cheap dollars in the form of foreign aid also have found surplus funds with which to open U. S. gold into their own coffers. France has been the largest operator in this field.

From July 1, 1965, to June 30, 1965, France received foreign aid of more than $9.4 billion. In that same period, France used its accumulated U. S. dollars to siphon out of Fort Knox $2.6 billion in gold.

The British government imposed drastic remedies to avoid further devaluation of the leaky pound or worse. The United States suffers from a malady similar to that which almost brought down the British this summer.

The American high cost of living is stimulation to bug housewives.

The high cost of living also is beginning to bug President Johnson but not enough so far to persuade him to do anything about it.

Private debt increasingly demands attention as citizens increasingly mortgage their future earnings for today's goods. Item: A $2,600 automobile can be purchased on the Florida Gold Coast for $7 down. That's correct: Seven dollars. A more expensive line of cars requires a down payment of $11, no doubt to keep out the riff raff.

This is the economic environment in which Americans prance foolishly down the primrose path toward national disaster. These dancing fools are led by their elected political choreographers who perform anywhere from two to 2,000 feet above reality. There is an old melody, "The Ball is Over."

you see an old fogey? somebody may protest "Surely the medical schools aren't so myopic today, are they?"

Well, my son David graduated from Indiana Medical School recently, so I asked him about the stress on marital advice.

And he informed me it was omitted altogether!

The usual medical graduate knows the Latin names of the anatomical parts of the genitalia.

But there is a vast difference between mere "anatomy" and "function" in the erotic realm. A good airplane mechanic may also know the "structure" of a jet engine and be able to put it together correctly.

Yet he may be totally unable to fly the plane!

When I was in active practice here in Chicago, half of my patients were wives of other physicians. These wives were often planning a divorce; yet their doctor husbands didn't even dream the wives were disgruntled!

To dispel this widespread lack of scientific knowledge, we offer you many helpful sex booklets via this column, such as "Sex Problems in Marriage," for which you are to send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope, plus 20 cents.

Medical textbooks still ignore the vital points in that booklet!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, as reference to long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Lovely Home Rites Unite Miss Berrie, G. M. Shields

Miss Sandra Joan Berrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eugene Berrie, of North Orlando, and Guy Martin Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Shields, of Altamonte Springs, were united in Holy Matrimony, July 23, 1966, in an impressive, double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. Jack Lindsey was the officiating clergyman in a setting and background combining floral arrangement of white glads, tuberoses and lark white mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a beige dress fashioned along Empire lines with a crepe A-line skirt and sleeveless lace bodice. Accenting the Empire waist was olive green velvet ribbon and the bride's accessories were in the same shade of green. She wore a pearl necklace in a gold setting, a gift of the groom, and a matching diamond ring.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Berrie wore a gold silk sheath. Mrs. Shields, mother of the groom, was attired in a two-piece blue lace ensemble.

A reception in the home followed the wedding. Mr. Tom Lane served the cake and Mrs. Richard Dukes poured the punch.

For traveling the bride wore a beige linen A-line dress complemented with matching accessories.

After Sept. 1 the newlyweds

MRS. GUY MARTIN SHIELDS

will reside at 1915 East University Avenue, Gainesville, where the groom is a student at the University.

Mrs. J. C. Mitchell Entertains Guests

Mrs. Velma Mitchell was hostess Friday at her Magnolia Avenue home to a luncheon given for former Sanfordites, now teaching in Brainerd, Fla. Enticed guests were Mrs. Benjamin Wiggins, Rockledge, and Miss Martha Lacey, Cocoa, former Social Director of the First Methodist Church.

Friday night Mrs. Mitchell entertained at a dinner party and her dinner guests were also her guests at the appearance of the London Symphony Orchestra in Daytona Beach.

Enjoying the delightful dinner and marvelous concert were Mrs. Mitchell's granddaughters, Miss Joan Kirkland, of Orlando; Mrs. Pat Ralls, of Orlando; Mrs. Nancy Brock, Sanford; and Miss Betty Carolyn Ralls, a relatively new teacher at Southside School.

DEATH RATE STUDY
CHICAGO (UPI)—A study of the effects of social and economic factors on the death rate shows that among white Americans, the higher a person's family income and level of education, the longer he can expect to live.

The survey was made by Professor Philip M. Hauser and Associate Professor Mrs. Evelyn Kilgawa of the University of Chicago's Population Research and Training Center. For six years they directed an exhaustive study of 240,000 Americans who died between May 1 and Aug. 31, 1960.

Tips Help Clean Stainless Sinks
Stainless steel sinks have reduced a lot of "elbow grease" in the kitchen.

Most homemakers realize that sinks require very little day-to-day cleaning and polishing. But to add a little gloss, United States Steel Corporation offers some tips on cleaning stainless steel.

First, apply a mild nonabrasive liquid or powdered cleanser and rub it lightly over the surface with a damp cloth or sponge. Never use steel wool or scouring pads.

After the entire surface is cleaned, allow the cleanser to stand for a few moments. Mix a little ammonia in water for a final polishing. The use of a cleanser containing ammonia can eliminate the second step although the ammonia-water combination brings out a little more sheen in the sink's finish.

Rinse the surface promptly and thoroughly with cold water and wipe dry with a soft cloth.

For a quick, one-step polishing, use ammonia alone. Simply pour a small amount of ammonia directly onto the surface and rub it dry with a soft, damp cloth.

Parse cucumber and quarter lengthwise; remove seeds and chop extremely fine. Add the chopped cucumber to cream cheese along with finely grated onion (pulp and juice), salt and white pepper for a delicious sandwich filling. If you like, you may add a layer of smoked salmon to the sandwiches.

Miss Maurer Bride Of E. Koch, Jr.

Miss Sarah Anne Maurer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Maurer, of Norwich, Conn., and Edward Koch Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koch, all of Norwich, were united in Holy Matrimony, July 23, at Park Congregational Church with Rev. Wilfred Maclean officiating.

The bride's mother is the former Sara Rossetter of Sanford, and her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Rossetter, who crusted the wedding.

Friday night Mrs. Mitchell entertained at a dinner party and her dinner guests were also her guests at the appearance of the London Symphony Orchestra in Daytona Beach.

Enjoying the delightful dinner and marvelous concert were Mrs. Mitchell's granddaughters, Miss Joan Kirkland, of Orlando; Mrs. Pat Ralls, of Orlando; Mrs. Nancy Brock, Sanford; and Miss Betty Carolyn Ralls, a relatively new teacher at Southside School.

Lake Mary Women Schedule Annual Teachers Fete

The Lake Mary Women's Club is planning its annual teachers luncheon for Friday, Aug. 26, at 12:30 p.m. The theme will be "American Indian Feast" to be held at the Scout Hut in Lake Mary.

Lenore Green says the food will be different and delicious, starting with the affair are Kai Noel, Ollie Yelinek, Shirley Smith, Lenore Green and Jerry Keech.

Members and Lake Mary teachers are advised to assemble their costumes for the big afternoon.

Miss Elizabeth Barbara Gallner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gallner, Avalon Street, Rear Lake, and Howard Elton Adams Jr., son of Mrs. Margaret Adams and H. E. Adams Sr., of Mobile, Ala., were united in Holy Matrimony in a lovely candlelight ceremony, Aug. 7, 1966, at 7 p.m. at the Forest Lake Seventh-day Adventist Church, Forest City.

Elder William Grothner of Florence, Miss., was the officiating clergyman.

The altar was flanked by white-embroidered candleabra burning tall white tapers. Huge basket bouquets of white and peach colored carnations and glads, were placed on each side of the altar.

Mrs. William Grothner, organist, played preludio music, "St. Anthony Choral" by Brahms, "Romance" by Debussy, "Andante Religioso" by Thayer, "On Wings of Song" by Mendelssohn, and "Night Fall" by Larson.

Mrs. Edith Ledford, soloist, sang "Our Wedding Prayer" before the bridal procession began. Miss Helde Gallner, sister of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer," and Miss Nancy Grothner sang "O Perfect Love" as the couple knelt before the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a floor length gown of silk organza over taffeta with appliques of Chantilly lace accenting the neckline and skirt. Tiers of organza and matching lace formed her Watteau Chapel train. Her buxant veil of veil of French illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of white roses and carnations.

Miss Helde Gallner served her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Grothner and Miss Anne Grothner, both of Florence. LaJana Ledford served as junior bridesmaid.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identical floor length Empire styled dresses in exquisite shades of peach. Their beadresses were of matching lace attached to pill box style hair, handmade by Miss Anne Grothner.

Jeanie Lynn, cousin of the bride, was the lovely little flower girl dressed identical to the bridesmaids.

Mark Ledford, cousin of the bride, served as Bible boy.

Stanley Adams served his brother as best man. Also in the bridal party were George Thurman and Jim Thurman. Ushers were Richard Cavanaugh and Steve Hall.

Mrs. Gallner chose for her daughter's wedding a lovely lavender taffeta suit, overlaid with lavender lace, matching shoes and bag, a pink hat and gloves and a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Adams, mother of the groom, was attired in a blue taffeta suit overlaid with blue lace. White accessories and a pink carnation corsage complemented her dress.

The church's social room was the site of the reception immediately following the wedding. The ceiling of the room was decorated with white streamers, and huge white paper wedding bells hung from the ceiling. Other decorations in the room were palms and the bouquets from the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth with white and peach colored carnations scattered over the cloth. White candles in silver holders accentuated each end of the table with the three-tiered wedding cake used as centerpiece. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Otto Kroker and Mrs. Anna Fisher.

For traveling the bride wore a stunning white woven suit trimmed in navy blue with navy shoes, hat and gloves.

Following their wedding trip to Miami, the newlyweds will make their home at Berries Springs, Mich., where the groom will attend Andrews University.

Out of town guests included Elder and Mrs. William Grothner and daughters, Anne and Nancy. The family of old time friends from Indiana and the girls were schoolmates.

MEDICAL NEWS

Healthy young men and women are increasingly falling victim to a new and frightening "epidemic"—motorcycle accidents.

Within a few weeks of each other the American Medical Association, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the Greater New York Safety Council all issued alarming reports on the toll taken by motorcycle accidents.

The number of deaths among cyclists rose 80 per cent between 1961 and 1965, and the total number of deaths last year is expected to reach well over 1,000, according to the insurance company.

In New York alone, the Safety Council points out, motorcycle accidents killed 72 persons in 1965, an increase of 83.6 per cent over 1964. The number of injured increased by 109.8 per cent.

Three Maine doctors, reporting on motorcycle accidents in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association observed that "the victims are young, otherwise healthy persons who must be regarded as a most important group in our society."

They often suffer severe head and neck injuries, compound fractures that become contamilated, severe internal injuries, and multiple injuries. Paralysis and blindness are not uncommon.

Experts agree that reduction of this toll necessitates the following steps: Motorcycle driver training programs in schools; educational safety campaigns; obligatory wearing of protective equipment; strict licensing.

Anyone who has been hoarse for two or three weeks would be wise to see a doctor. This advice comes from Dr. William Chew, otorhinolaryngologist of the Leaning General Hospital.

Dr. Chew pointed out in a recent report that hoarseness may be due to many causes—in a cold, laryngitis, vocal abuse, an injury. But it may also be caused by growths of various kinds.

The sooner the cause of the hoarseness is ascertained and treated, the greater the chance that the outcome will be successful. Don't neglect the frog in the throat.

School Bells Ring Soon; Junior College To Open

More than 17,000 Seminole County students will respond to the chime of school bells on August 29, when 23 public schools and a brand new junior college open their doors. Approximately 500 students are enrolled in the day classes at Seminole Junior College, the county's first institution of higher learning, under the direction of Dr. Earl Weldon, president. More are enrolled in night classes. A large majority are from Seminole County, but there are many students from surrounding counties and from other states.

DR. EARL WELDON, (right) president of Seminole Junior College appeared highly pleased to accept a check for a one year scholarship for a Seminole High School student. The check is being presented by Pilot Club officers, Mrs. George Stine, (left) treasurer and Mrs. LuRene Ball, community service chairman. Miss Connie Colvin was the recipient of the scholarship.

People who are concerned about teenagers of Seminole County and Sanford having a place, which they enjoy, in which to listen to rock and roll music and dance, are doing all they can to keep the Hullahaloo Club here, somewhere. Of course, the older generation, some of them, anyhow, object to the noise which the kids love. But it's a shame to force a club like that out of town and leave the kids to travel the highways to Daytona, Orlando and Winter Park, for the kind of entertainment they like. With dozens of buildings sitting dead and empty around here, wouldn't you think there would be some place the kids could go?

City To Start Work On Budget; Higher Pay To Boost Costs

Sanford city commissioners are going to have to find $200,000 somewhere to balance the proposed general government budget for 1966-67, according to figures released by City Manager W. E. Knowles. The utility budget has yet to be presented, but is under study. Major increase in the utility budget will be the cost of running city water and sewer lines to the site of Seminole Junior College. Commissioners are presently making a feasibility study of the best route and design for the lines, with no estimate of costs available, as yet. In the general government budget, nearly half the increase, or $102,000, is in salary raises for municipal employees and expansion of the police and fire departments with three new police and four new firemen proposed.

Bridge Collapse Fatal To Seven

OTTAWA (AP) — Hundreds of men backed through twisted steel and concrete in an Ottawa park today seeking more victims of a bridge collapse that officials said killed at least seven construction workers and injured 63. At least one and possibly more men were reported missing more than 12 hours after the new Heron Road bridge over the Rideau River gave way.

"Where Can We Go?," Kids Ask

Sanford and Seminole County teenagers are "very unhappy" about the closing of the Hullahaloo Scene, teenage night club located on South Orlando Drive (Hwy 17-92) which happens to be next door to the (Sunderland Motel). The club, part of a national chain of teen clubs that caters to youth with popular rock and roll bands, has been plagued since it opens a few months ago with complaints from neighbors concerned about the noise and business and home owners, because the sound of the music is said to be "excessive." "We teenagers of Sanford have finally realized that the only way to get what we want is by speaking up for what we believe in," said Fred Fowler, manager of the club who was sworn out and the club was closed several times for installation of sound-proofing material. Three teenagers, who said they were speaking for 500 or more boys and girls in the area had this to say about the situation today: "We feel that the complaints against the Hullahaloo were justified, but since the club has been sound-proofed, we see no more reason for complaints." "We teenagers of Sanford have finally realized that the only way to get what we want is by speaking up for what we believe in," said Fred Fowler, manager of the club who was sworn out and the club was closed several times for installation of sound-proofing material. State Stamps Approval On County Desegregation Seminole County is among the first seven counties in the state to gain federal approval of school desegregation plans for this year, the State Department of Education reported Wednesday. The other six are Glades, Martin, Levy, Okechobee, Palm Beach and Washington. School Board Chairman Mason Wharton said today he is pleased with the report. "This is a good reflection of the work done by the school administration staff. It is also a good reflection of the attitude of the people of Sanford and Seminole County with fine cooperation between the general public and school officials to bring about desegregation in an orderly manner." "In fact, Dr. W. Stanley Kruger, area director of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has sent us two letters commending the board for steps taken toward desegregation and has used Seminole County as an example to other school boards," Wharton said.
