

FFA Looks Toward The Future With 'Faith'

Victor Butler, national president of the Future Farmers of America, told the Seminole High and Junior High School Chapters of the FFA Friday that since becoming president of the organization he has become aware that no phase of the American economy is changing faster than agriculture.

"As time goes on, American farmers must produce more food and fiber on fewer acres of land."

"The decreasing number of farms means the use of more mechanization, more scientific methods. Tomorrow's farmer must have broader and more intensive training," Butler told the young farmers of the future, at their annual banquet, held jointly this year, at the SHS cafeteria.

Butler commended the two local chapters on their outstanding accomplishments, and told them that farm life has changed much over the past years.

"A few years ago, farming meant only hard work and labor and there was no youth organization. Now there is still hard work, but there is also good management, and the farmer has become a leader in his community, his home is more comfortable and convenient. Many farmers now are farm-reared and college trained, for ever-increasing improvement in scholarship and citizenship," the national president said.

"We pride ourselves on the prestige of the FFA. The organization promotes more than better farming methods. It promotes public speaking, parliamentary procedure, leadership, and gives degree advancements, shows, contests and awards. Banquets such as this give citizens and teachers and parents an opportunity to learn about FFA and develop good public relations."

Butler declared that the FFA prevents juvenile delinquency, with its broad scope of activities.

"The motto of 'Learning to do, Doing to learn' is a good creed, Butler said.

"It teaches the art of living so that life will be beautiful, noble, free and worthy. That these boys will learn to be workmen with joy and a sense of perfection."

"The world needs you at your best," Butler told the Future Farmers. "Building a democracy is a gigantic endeavor, and pioneer leadership is our heritage."

"I look to the future with faith," Butler said, and urged the young farmers to set their goals high, work hard to develop leadership, enthusiasm, recognize their opportunities and learn to work with others.

The SHS Future Farmer award for Leadership went to the chapter president Carlton Prevatt, and David Thomas was named Star Chapter Farmer, at ceremonies at the annual banquet Friday.

David Littleton was given the scholarship award and Jimmy Winters was named Star Greenhand.

In the Junior High Chapter, Donnie Sipes, president, took the scholarship award and Mike Burke, the Star Greenhand badge. Awards were made by Ed Parker, president of the Farm Bureau, Cecil Tucker, county agent and Ben Wiggins of the Agricultural Extension Service.

Other honored guests who sat at the head table with Junior High President Donnie Sipes, Senior High President Carlton Prevatt and National President, Victor Butler, included R. T. Milwee, school superintendent, Principal Andrew Bracken, Principal Hugh Carlton, Vocational Supervisor E. S. Douglas, Farm Market manager Leo Butler, Vo-Ag teachers Don Farrens and Bill West some of the parents of the boys.

Honorary chapter memberships were awarded to Cecil Tucker, W. C. Hopkins, Dr. Raymond Bass and Herbert Muse.

Special guests of the FFA were the members of the faculty of the schools and the parents of the boys. The banquet was served by girls of the Junior and Senior High Home Ec. classes, and prepared by the Seminole High lunchroom staff. Gifts were presented to the girls and their teachers and to Mrs. Lucile Fesler at the close of the dinner.

By LARRY VERSHEL. DIALOGUE WITH A MONKEY, LION AND LIZARD. PLACE—THE CITY ZOO. Reporter—Now stop that jabbering. I can't listen to you all at once.

Monkey: I want a TV set. Lion: I want a hi-fi set. Lizard: I need one more lesson from Arthur Murray on The Twist.

Reporter: I told you before, you have to be careful how you spend that $8,500. Now, according to Pete Knowles about 1,000 visit the zoo weekly.

Reporter: Now, fellas, you can't be greedy. I think first we should all write a letter to the county thanking them for their gift.

Reporter: Stop it, stop it. There was no mention of the county's gift of $8,500 to the zoo at Monday's City Commission meeting but we hear Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps will write a letter today.

Even though that $8,500 came from the hospital indigent fund . . . there's still enough money in that fund to participate with the state on care for the needy. . . . County this fiscal year will kick in $7,000.

How come the county has money for the monkeys and not a full-time health director, or, civil defense?

That was an Air Force Jet from Orlando that broke the sound barrier late Monday afternoon.

Quincy Patterson, wanted here in the slaying of another Negro Friday night, turned himself in to authorities in Ray City, Ga., Deputies want to get him today.

This is the final week to file for homestead exemption. . . . Also you better pay your city and county taxes this week. They are delinquent after April 1.

Checked by the library the other day and noticed how short-handed the staff was. How about it Pete?

Bill Stemper moves his real estate office to French and 20th within the next few days.

HEART OF GOLD DEPARTMENT: The City Commission Monday night agreed to take $500 out of the contingency fund and give it to the family of W. A. Bailey who died two weeks ago. Bailey had been an employe in the public works department. (The City has no pension plan.)

HEART OF GOLD DEPARTMENT PART 2 — The city reinstated a taxi driver's license even though he was convicted on a driving while intoxicated charge (City ordinance prohibits the issuance of taxi cab operator's license after the individual has been convicted of DWI.)

Bob Bestorer invites all retired men who are interested in giving a few hours a month to voluntary service at Seminole Memorial Hospital to meet in his office at 7 p. m. today. The organizational meeting of the Silver Service, (a men's hospital auxiliary similar to the Pink Ladies, but in the line of duties for which men are needed,) will be held at that time.

Bryant Sees Cross-State Waterway OK

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Approval of the Sanford-Canal would be inevitable with the realization of the Cross-Florida Canal. Gov. Farris Bryant said today. The governor said that the waterway linking the Gulf and the Atlantic, a project which Andrew Jackson envisioned before the state joined the union, may become a reality.

Twenty-eight other states which would benefit from the canal are backing it in Congress, Bryant said. "This is no local pork-barrel project, but will tie together 29 states with more than 29,000 miles of waterway," he told a joint meeting of the cabinet board of conservation, the Florida canal authority, and the cross-Florida canal navigation district.

Bryant also predicted that once the cross-state canal is under way, other waterway projects will quickly follow "as night follows day," most significant among them a Sanford - Titusville canal on the upper East Coast.

The governor called the cross-state canal "the most critical step toward development of Florida's inland waterways."

The cost of a canal between coasts had been estimated at between $184 and $200 million. A survey now underway with a $183,000 congressional appropriation should make the figure more definite.

Up to now, Bryant said, several studies have indicated benefits from the canal would outweigh costs by far. The canal is planned as 185 miles long, 150 feet wide, and 12 feet deep. Bryant said two thirds of the proposed canal is already navigable and the rest would have to be excavated. The canal would have five locks and, Bryant said, would not affect the fresh water supply of south and central Florida.

High Court's Ruling Assailed

More Old Houses Face Condemnation

"East Side . . . West Side" all around the town. That's the way the song goes about old New York. But it's also the thinking of the city of Sanford.

Plans are also being made for the extension of this service into Seminole County, according to company officials. AGREED to install street lights in the area between 10th and 16th Streets from Roosevelt to Mulberry Aves.

Two weeks ago, the commission ordered 17 buildings on the west side for condemnation and now "we'll go east," Knowles said. Monday night, the commission authorized Knowles to continue picking "the worst homes in the city" for a public hearing on condemnation.

Knowles indicated this morning that the area of Pine St. and Sixth St. and 11th and 10th would be chosen as the area for the next public hearing on condemnation. The city manager spelled out that about 10-20 homes would be set up for the public hearing.

A similar list was prepared two weeks ago of 17 homes in the West Ninth St. area and the commission gave property owners 90 days to clean up or face the probability of having their buildings razed.

According to Knowles there are about 500 homes in dilapidated condition. In other business during the fairly routine hour and a half session the city approved plans for the industrial park on the lakefront and agreed to allow Lee Brothers to start construction on their facility there. Plans for the park were submitted by Commissioner Joe Baker and Bob Crumley and Art Harris, members of the park board.

The commission agreed to vacate streets and alleys within city owned property. APPROVED first reading of an ordinance establishing a bus franchise by Seminole Transit Co. The local company plans to operate three vehicles and one auxiliary in about six weeks.

There will be six city routes covering the city with hours of operation starting at 6 a. m. until 10:30 p. m. Monday through Saturday. There will also be a reduced schedule for Sunday.

Rep. Gordon Frederick

Interference Hit By Local Lawmakers

Seminole County's two state representatives, Mack Cleveland Jr., and Gordon Frederick today objected to the Supreme Court's interference in state affairs in ruling that federal courts have the right to correct unfair appointment in state legislatures.

While both objected to the court extending its authority beyond that given by the Constitution, both said that reapportionment was needed in Florida to correct the inequity in representation in the Legislature.

Cleveland said: "Reapportionment is a problem of the state Legislature and I can't see the court entering into the situation. It violates a basic principle of democracy and destroys state rights. This is wholly unconstitutional and the court is getting far afield."

"I am not satisfied, however, with the representation we now have in the Legislature, Jefferson County, for instance, with a population of upward of 12,000 persons, has one senator to itself while Seminole and Brevard, with a population of some 100,000, have to share a senator."

"The action by the Supreme Court to the effect that Federal Court has jurisdiction in matters relating to failure or improper apportionment of Legislative Representation is not unexpected. Americans have always sought to be fairly and adequately represented in matters of government. It was 'Taxation Without Representation' that brought about the Boston Tea Party and, ultimately, the American Revolution."

"If the Legislature carries out its responsibility to fairly apportion itself then the Federal government cannot intervene. If the Legislature fails to reapportion or does so on the basis of political considerations rather than proper representation then the people are entitled to some relief. Certainly I hate to see the Federal government getting involved in what is predominantly a State matter but . . . in this case as in others of Federal intervention it is our own failure to act which brought about the Federal intervention."

15 Injured As Truck Crashes

WEST ORANGE, N. J. (UPI) — A 14-ton grocery truck, its brakes gone, roared down a 3,000 foot hill into the ABC dressmaker's shop Monday, injuring 15 persons, including 12 seamstresses.

Five persons were admitted to Orange Memorial Hospital. The other 10 were treated and released. No one was injured critically.

Ossie Gauthen, 27, drove his truck to the crest of the hill above the intersection. The heavy truck started a 3,000-foot descent of the steep hill. Then its brakes failed and the quiet afternoon turned into bedlam.

Reds Say They Will Test If U. S. Starts

GENEVA (UPI) — Russia announced today it will stage a new series of nuclear tests if the United States resumes testing in the atmosphere next month.

The Russian announcement came as Secretary of State Dean Rusk called for an immediate crash program of controls to reduce the risk of a nuclear war.

Castro Accuses Red Secretary

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro charged Monday night that Anibal Escalante, veteran Communist secretary general of the Integrated Revolutionary Organizations (ORI) is one of the persons to blame for chaos in Cuba.

Castro's charge marked the first sign of an open break between the Cuban Communist "old guard" and the premier's "Marxist-Leninist" followers. Indications were that the Castroites had won the first round.

Escalante was at least reported ninth on the list of the ORI's national board. He was publisher of the Communist newspaper Hoy until ousted ex-President Carlos Prío closed it late in the 1950's. The paper was revived following Castro's rise to power.

Planes Compete In 2 Corridors

BERLIN (UPI) — The Soviets today ordered 10 military transport planes to fly in two of the three Berlin air corridors—a near record total of harassment flights.

The Allies immediately announced plans to send their own military aircraft into the corridors to underline the West's determination to keep the life-lines open and resist Soviet interference tactics.

'We Want Out' GI Convicted

FT. POLK, La. (UPI)—A court-martial, in 27 minutes deliberation, today found a soldier guilty of two violations of military law for describing as "hilarious" his commanding general's order against "we want out" demonstrations.

Trustees Make Recommendations

The County School Board met in special session today and appointed six new school principals and approved a minor shakeup in principals at the 23 schools in the county.

The board approved a series of recommendations by the board of trustees calling for the appointment of Harold Heckenbach as principal at the Pinecrest School replacing the retiring Mrs. Margaret Reynolds.

The board also approved John Angel as principal of the new South Seminole Junior High School and George Dabbs as principal of the new Bear Lake Elementary School.

Heckenbach was principal of the Longwood Elementary School. Angel was principal of the Longwood Elementary School while Dabbs was principal at the Altamonte School.

Other principals appointed and reappointed for the new school year are Andrew Bracken, Seminole High School;

Penrose Love, Vocational; Hugh Carlton, Junior High School; Freeman Baggett, Westside-Grammar; Velm a Mitchell, Southside Primary; F. C. Richards, Lake Mary; Ralph Diggs, Lyman; Lewis Kosky, Longwood Elementary; Frank Gore, Altamonte; Christy Harp, South Seminole Elementary.

Ted Barker was reappointed as assistant principal at the High School. Carl Monley, assistant principal at Lyman. The board tabled action on appointing an assistant principal at the new South Seminole Junior High School pending further study.

Edward Blackshire was named assistant principal at Crooms.

Board Cool To Plan For Technical Unit

The County School Board today appeared "slightly cool" to joining with Orange County in asking the State Board of Education to establish a technical division for the proposed new Orange County Junior College.

Dr. J. Ballard Simmons of the University of Florida appeared before the local board asking for its consideration in joining with the neighboring county and pledging funds to start the technical division during the next school year.

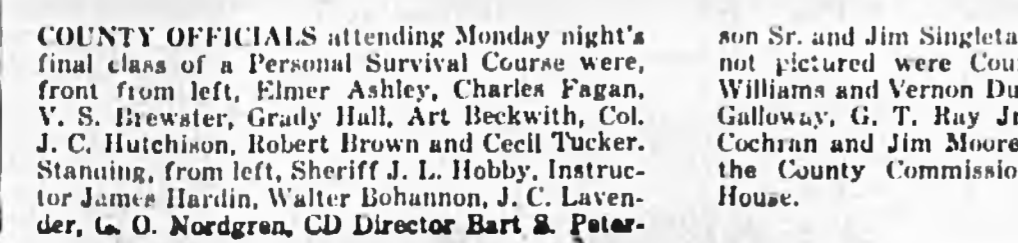

School Board members L. E. Jordan and Jim Birkinmeyer expressed concern about what it would cost this county to participate in the program while Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee elaborated that thus far there hasn't been much interest in technical training on a local level.

Milwee explained that interest has flattered in technical training at Seminole and Lyman High Schools as far as electronics and drafting courses are concerned.

He added that the county received a $30,000 grant from the federal government to establish these courses and school officials are disappointed in the results. It was estimated that it would cost Seminole $20,000 per year to join in the program and possibly another $8,000 for transportation.

"Let's keep that money in Seminole," Jordan said. "We need it more here."

In other business, the board agreed to purchase additional property next to the Oviedo School for an industrial shop at a cost of $3,400 and agreed to advertise for bookkeeping equipment for the school administration office.

Steel Wage Contract Set

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Basic agreement on a new wage contract has been reached by negotiators for the steel industry and labor, the Detroit Free Press said today. The contract improvements were expected to cost the industry from 8 to 10 cents an hour, the newspaper said in a story by its Washington bureau chief, Edwin A. Lehey.

Chief industry negotiator E. Conrad Cooper had no comment on the news story, but a statement is expected later today.

Lehey termed the area of agreement "non-inflationary" and said advisers of President Kennedy "seemed elated at the prospect of a non-inflationary steel wage settlement. They believe that only an unforeseen blow-up could prevent the conclusion of contract terms within the very near future," the story said. Precise figures on the proposed wage benefits were unavailable, Lehey reported, but the 8 to 10 cent an hour wage figure was the general expectation.

"Formal announcement of the agreement may be delayed several weeks," the Free Press said. Lehey cited negotiations of 11 separate committees in the area of non-economic problems as the reason for the delay for the formal announcement.

A feeling of renewed hope of a speedy settlement charged the air following a special night session held by chief union and industry bargainers.

United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald and Cooper went into the unusual meeting Monday night after conferring twice earlier in day with their respective top-level teams.

Although both men stood on their policy of refusing to comment on the significance of the night session, it was hoped that the two-hour meeting which broke up at 10 p. m. indicated the two sides were getting closer on a wage package and other items.

It marked the first time Cooper and McDonald met at night since the first round of talks ended in failure March 2, after two weeks of bargaining.

Members of the Seminole County Equestrians and the Seminole County 5-II Club held a joint ride Saturday. The group met at Ride-A-While Stables and chose trail partners. Wes Giles, Trailmaster, led the group up Oregon Ave. to 28th St. and then along a series of clay roads to a lake picnic area, where the group enjoyed a wolver roast and sang songs around the campfire.

Members and guests present for the ride were Rob Riser, Jimmy Thompson, Sandy Richards, Becky Giles, Sharon Giles, Rosemary Walton, Carlisle Noel, Pat Belton, Martie Pierce, Becky Miller, Father and Mrs. John R. Griffith, Glenn Walton, William Ericson, Mrs. Ruth Belton, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dunn and Wes Giles.

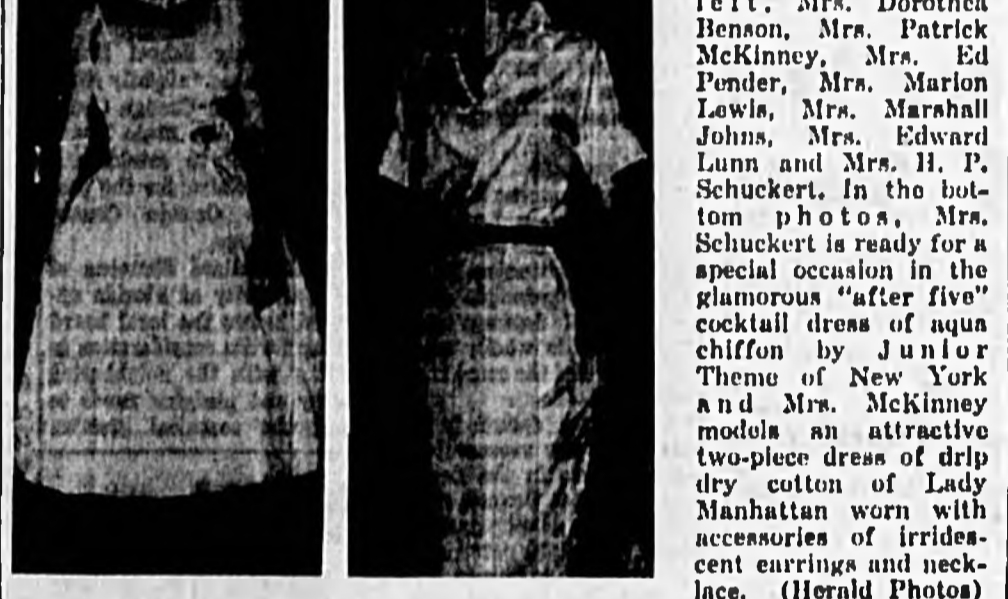

On April 28 the joint efforts of the two groups will be combined in a benefit Play Day, with all proceeds going to the Chippel Children's Fund. Complete plans will be announced at a later date.

Lovely Women Model Lovely Fashions

Those attending the Women's Club of Casselberry Fashion Show last Wednesday night were treated to a dazzling array of Spring and Summer fashions from Janet Borden's Playgirl Fashions of Fern Plaza.

Fashion commentator was Mrs. Dorothea Benson and Mrs. Al Grimwood was chairman of the affair.

The lovely models in the show were Mrs. Marshall Johns, Mrs. Marian Lewis, Mrs. Dorothy Lunn, Mrs. Pat McKinney, Mrs. Ed Pender, Mrs. Gwen Schuckert and Mrs. Benson. Models wore attractive hair styles fashioned by Tressa's Beauty Shop, N. Triplett Dr., Casselberry and shoes were courtesy of Surburban Shoes of Fern Plaza.

The collection included many bright colors, gay casual and glamorous "after five" dresses. The models entered through a trellis arch decorated with ligustrum branches and roses. Scenery was provided by Tad's Discount House and Read's Public Mart.

Orders were taken for cosmetics which were displayed by Mrs. Eleanor Hudson with a portion of the receipts to go to the club.

Door prizes were presented and refreshments of coffee and cookies were served.

Here's One Question Jackie Can Ask England's First Lady

LONDON (UPI)—There is one question Mrs. Jackie Kennedy should ask Queen Elizabeth when they lunch Wednesday at Buckingham Palace, namely:

How do you do it?

America's First Lady, an athletic 32-year-old, was real up today from a two-week visit to India and Pakistan which, she said, had left her too tired to do anything but relax.

But Britain's first lady, who is 35, can do this sort of trip standing on her tiara.

Within the past year Her Britannic Majesty has taken part in two journeys, both far more demanding than Mrs. Kennedy's—and returned smiling each time to resume her heavy official duties at home.

In January last year she spent six consecutive weeks in India, Pakistan, Nepal and Iran making speeches, touring factories, attending banquets, riding elephant-back in a tiger and rhino hunt in the jungles. Meeting hundreds of people.

She has an even more hectic time for a solid month last November-December in Ghana, Liberia, Sierra Leone and Gambia in Africa. She attended banquets, opened a parliament, danced at state balls, laid wreaths—all of this in blazing heat.

And her security people were worried about a possible attempt on her life.

If the wife of President Kennedy is too shy about asking the Queen how she packs so much endurance into her 3 feet 4 inches and 115 pounds, the answer is simply this:

Practice.

Queen Elizabeth has been trained all her life for just this sort of thing. She knows the most comfortable shoes to wear, the easiest clothing and lets others worry about the hat of ten best-dressed women.

The most permanent makeup she wears purposefully but deliberately on her public duties.

Start of all she knows how to husband her strength. This is a technique that Mrs. Kennedy will have learned if she plans many more overseas journeys during her years in the White House.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you mean Tarzan and Jane were NOT married. They most certainly were! For your information they were married on page 312 in THE RETURN OF TARZAN by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Professor Porter, Jane's father, was an ordained minister and he performed the ceremony.
LIBRARIAN

DEAR LIBRARIAN: My thanks to you (and to the hundreds of other Tarzan fans) who informed me of my error. Many other librarians have written me that, since that letter appeared in my column, there has been a run on the Tarzan books.

DEAR ABBY: The letter in your column, from the wife who worried because her husband mentioned ladies names in his sleep, reminded me of my own experience. We had been married only a few months. My husband was a receiving clerk on the docks. It was a busy time of year and his responsibilities were very burdensome. One night he was exceptionally restless. He tossed, turned, moaned and muttered. Suddenly I heard him say, "But Ruth is coming in tomorrow and I have to be ready for her!" My heart sank. I very quietly whispered in his ear, "Ruth who, Charley?" He replied, "Ruth Alexander, with all that grain." I went to sleep chuckling. The "Ruth Alexander" was a ship of the Pacific Steamship Company, then in service up and down the West Coast.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

In the third hand of our match against Gerber and Hodge on Walter Schwimmer's Championship bridge on TV, Johnny Gerber stuck in a weak third hand spade bid.

I had a sound takeout double and Mrs. Johnson almost a maximum pass, so we had no trouble reaching our heart game.

The method we got there with is rather interesting in that we both raised Gerber before Mrs. Johnson finally bid four hearts.

Her two spade response to my double showed that she had a good hand with four hearts so I might well have bid hearts myself, but I wanted her to play the hand because I felt that a spade lead by South might embarrass me if I were declarer.

Actually, it would have made no difference. With any declarer and any opening lead East and West must lose one trick in each suit except diamonds and have no way to lose any more tricks.

Gerber might well have opened with three spades, but if he had the result would have been the same. I would have doubled that bid also and Mrs. Johnson would have bid four hearts in response to my double.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

Going through the White House with Mrs. Kennedy was one of the most fascinating experiences TV cameras have shared with Mrs. America in a long time.

The success of that beautifully conducted tour ought to give somebody a bright idea for a TV series that few women could resist—a weekly tour through one of the most beautiful or most historic homes in America.

Most women love to look at houses—and TV could take us through some fascinating ones—beautiful old homes in every section of the United States—and outstanding examples of the best in houses being built for today's living.

In the past when TV cameras have gone into homes it has been because of the person living in the house. It has been the person, not the house, that was played up.

But combined with some history, some information on architecture, furniture and works of art—a tour of America's most beautiful homes would make a memorable viewing.

The TV industry doesn't seem to realize it—But Mrs. America is getting pretty tired of the standard TV series—Westerns, crime, police stations, night clubs and office buildings.

A program that would give her something beautiful to look at, something to study and learn from, something real and not fake would be a welcome change and relief.

America has many, many houses most women would love to be able to wander through—but never will. The TV cameras, however, could take us through these homes—room by room—and teach us something along the way.

I'll even throw in a title for the series—"Open House."

WHO SAYS A WOMAN CAN'T KEEP A SECRET?
And this was such a good one, too! (Notice the announcement in the society columns of the marriage of Princess Vijaya whom we introduced to you in an earlier column, and Bill Boutwell, brother of Olan Boutwell!)

Soon the newly-weds will come to live among us here. Princess Vijaya is so pretty and has such a warm and friendly personality that everyone is going to like her as much as your reporter did when I met her at the Boutwells' on her recent visit here.

MRS. ALICIA SCHMIDT

Ruth tells us that she is looking for a nice bit of property for the newly-weds to build their home, and the local Boutwells are looking forward with great joy to having Vijaya and Bill as two of the smartest and most interesting newcomers in this star-studded community!

HAMMOND POLK

THE MINUTES of the board of directors meeting of the Sanford Seminole Jaycees as read at the Thursday general meetings of the Jaycees just aren't going to be the same any more.

Ham Polk, Jaycees secretary who made the reading of the minutes "something to look forward to," is being transferred to the Orlando office of the GAC, so he will not be able to make those noon meetings, and one of the most humorous (if not the most accurate) secretaries ever heard from in any organization will be greatly missed.

Ham had a way of catching all the sidelights and humorous remarks made by the directors as the motions were made and discussions held, and incorporating them into terse sentences that brought many a laugh from the appreciative Jaycees.

An active participant in all Jaycees affairs, Ham served as chairman of the Jaycees giant Christmas parade, and did a fine job on it, lining up a two-mile-long parade that brought overflowing crowds all the way along the parade route.

He flinches at the mention of it, but was also chairman of the peanut sales. He's proud, though, of being on the Jaycees State Board of Directors, and he has been a co-chairman many times on many projects. Besides the Junior Chamber, he is also a member of the Senior C. of C. and of the Cancer Society.

A native of Lakeland, Florida, Ham is married to a New York City gal, perky and pretty brunette Barbara, who happens to parallel her husband's job as secretary of the Jaycees Wives organization. They live on Baywood Drive in Sunland and have three children, Jimmy, Gary and Cheryl. They attend the Church of the Nativity in Lake Mary.

In his "spare" time he likes to fish and golf, but hasn't been able to do much about it lately. This transfer means a step-up in job responsibility for Ham, who has served as manager of the GAC here for the past two years.

Coming in to replace him will be a former Sanfordite, returning to his home town, W. L. Lea Holcomb, who is coming in from the GAC office in San Angelo, Texas.

Ham thinks now he and Barbara and the kids will continue to live in Sunland for a while, and he'll commute to his new job, but the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees just won't be quite the same.

SCIENCE CLUB SALUTE to the teacher of the month was written by Desta Horner and in order to give her credit, we'll just run this as she wrote it:

"One of the most respected and best-liked teachers at Seminole High is Mrs. Alicia Schmidt.

"She not only attends to the intellectual needs of about 150 students each day, but also has a family of three children at home.

"One of Mrs. Schmidt's guiding principles is her belief that through experiences with recognized masters of the English language the students will learn to develop

Stines' Grandson Wins Numerous Honors In School

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stine are very proud of their grandson, Mike Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hughes, of Waukegan, Ill. Mike, who is a senior at the Waukegan High School, received the honor of being elected to the "Crossed Sabers," an honorary club for outstanding ROTC members. He also made the rank of Lieutenant at the Military Ball. Preceding the ball the group attended a "Coke-tail" party.

Other honors won by him recently, were superior ratings in solo and quartet numbers at the school music festival. He will compete in the state contest later this spring.

Relatives Visit Dorn In Osteen

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. George Dorn at their home in Osteen were her brother and his wife, Mrs. Walter Thurston of New Sane, N. Y., and another brother, Ted Thurston of Tonnawanda. They spent three weeks in this area before returning to their homes.

Mr. Dorn's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Bruce of Buffalo, N. Y., also spent a week with the family recently.

The Dorns and their guests visited relatives in DelRay, including Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Justinger and Henry Thurston and family.

Snapshot Game Enjoyed By Church Class

The regular monthly meeting of the Homemakers' Class of the First Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Spencer, with Mrs. B. A. Beck serving as co-hostesses. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. W. W. Horne. All members were urged to attend the study course which will be given by Dr. Joiner. An offering was made to the Annie Armstrong mission fund in memory of Mrs. Pricaster.

Mrs. Charles Park Sr. gave the devotional from the book of Peter Marshall's prayers, stressing Prayers for World Peace.

During the social hour, delicious refreshments of pie a la mode and coffee were served by the hostesses.

Each member brought a snapshot, taken at least 20 years ago, and the group had a hilarious time trying to identify faces and figures with those present.

They were Mrs. Roy Reel, Mrs. E. C. Schrum, Mrs. J. L. Hubby, Mrs. Fred Yeakle, Mrs. S. D. Alfred, Mrs. R. A. Cohen, Mrs. J. A. Fuller, Mrs. Joe Routh, Mrs. H. E. Long, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. A. P. Rahn, Mrs. Clyde Humphrey and Mrs. Richard Holtzclaw.

INTERESTING QUOTES: VIC BUTLER, national president of the Future Farmers, speaking at the annual banquet here Friday:

"The hungry countries of the world are that way because they lack leadership and misuse their natural resources."

"Be thankful to be born in America."

ED PARKER, Farm Bureau president, at the same banquet:

"It is estimated that by 1970 unemployment will be at its highest peak, and that 74 percent of our young labor force will have received no further training beyond high school, and a large percentage even less than that."

ANOTHER TWIST PARTY coming up at the Capri Thursday night. They say this will be the biggest one yet.

Some pros from a dancing school are coming over to show you how, if you don't know already, and also to judge the contest that will be held.

Sounds like fun, so you might as well join the crowd. (We hear the Diner's Club cards are going like the proverbial hotcakes, too.)

Judy Godwin Celebrates First Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Godwin of Enterprise entertained a group of neighborhood youngsters recently in celebration of their daughter Judy's first birthday.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

Invited guests were Joanie and Tammy Ray, Janie, Patricia and Roy Cohen, Bucky, Joe and Mary Mitchell, Kenneth Goodwin, Cindy Oglesby and Charlene Boyd.

Ancient Greece's Sophists were teachers who came to Athens to give instruction in language, reasoning and oratory.

Pot Luck Dinner Enjoyed By Enlisted Wives

Mrs. R. T. King was hostess for a pot luck dinner by members of the VFW-9 Enlisted Wives Club at her home on Key Ave.

A green and white color scheme was used in decorations. The table was covered with a white cut work cloth and held an arrangement of green and white mums and green Irish bells.

Several of the members wore green and a large variety of food was brought, including a birthday cake that was presented to Mrs. G. W. Beers. It was decorated with shamrocks and pipes. Mrs. Beers was very surprised when Mrs. C. D. Noto gave her the cake as the group sang "Happy Birthday" to her.

Mrs. J. W. Galmish won the door prize, a potted plant. Others attending were Mrs. J. A. Davis, Mrs. J. D. Bullin, Mrs. G. H. Crane, Mrs. J. V. Summers, Mrs. B. J. Weddeke and Mrs. C. A. Herron.

Mrs. Tice Feted With Surprise Birthday Party

By Jane Casselberry

Mrs. Theo Tice of Longwood was honored at a surprise birthday party given at her home last Friday by her daughter, Mrs. Emily Warren, of Brandon.

Mrs. Warren and her children, George Ted, Ben, Jackie and Sarah were here for a weekend visit with her parents.

They were joined for the celebration by the Tice's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tice, of Orlando and their children, Linda and Allen.

Refreshments were cake and ice cream topped with fresh strawberries.

Friends of the family will be glad to learn that Ben, who was in an automobile-train accident in January that took the life of his father, is now able to walk without the aid of a crutch.

Circle Receives Thankful Gifts

An impressive candlelight ceremony was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Congregational Christian Church as the ladies of the Ethel Root Circle brought forward their Women's Gift.

These gifts are placed in a specially marked box all during the year. Each time a member feels "thankful" for a particular incident or happening, she drops money in her box and at this time each year it is reverently placed on a candlelit table during a special service. Mrs. Oscar Zittrower was in charge of the special service and the prayer that followed.

A short business meeting was called to order by Mrs. Helen Remusat at which time the various officers gave their reports. A notice from the Friendship League informed the group that they were purchasing some new tables and chairs to add to the ones already purchased by the Ethel Root Circle. A motion was made and approved that new table cloths for the buffet tables will be purchased by an appointed committee.

Mrs. Laura Ludecke, who was once a wonderful and active worker in the circle and who is now making her home in Chicago, has been visiting in Sanford and was greeted and welcomed by her visit with the group during the evening. Also greeted as a guest and new member was Mrs. Ralph Spotts.

Mrs. Norma Cook, hostess for the evening, served delicious refreshments consisting of party doughnuts, butter mints, nuts, tea and coffee to the following members and guests.

Mrs. Joseph Stock, Mrs. Bonner Carter, Mrs. Robert Getman, Mrs. H. E. Herbst, Mrs. James Bedenbaugh, Mrs. Ralph Loring, Mrs. Edward Simpson, Miss Ruby Booth, Mrs. Clyde Sitman, Mrs. Edward Woods, Mrs. G. A. Schmah, Mrs. Bea Alford, Mrs. G. O. Norrgren, Mrs. Zittrower, Mrs. Remusat, Mrs. Spotts, and Mrs. Ludecke.

The next business meeting is scheduled for April 4 in Fellowship Hall with Mrs. James Bedenbaugh as hostess.

UNK FOR LEFTOVERS

Two Faces Of America

When a teen-ager recently tangled with John Glenn near his church, the best and the worst of America were for a brief moment side by side.

Suppose this misguided young ruffian had actually struck the astronaut. What a picture for the nation and the world if Glenn, the man who survived the hazards of rocket flight, had had to display a bantled face.

Glenn believes the boy and his crude companions did not recognize him. But this in no way alters the meaning of the incident.

If the offending teen-agers did not know who he was, they first-off convict themselves of woeful ignorance. Secondly, his identity is not the crucial matter. For at that moment, Glenn simply was standing in for any decent American who might protest youthful misbehavior.

Perhaps the most striking thing about the episode is that it arrayed the discipline of John Glenn against the all too common undiscipline of a determined irresponsible minority of Americans.

The astronaut's discipline in his chosen field is well established. But in the teen-age incident he displayed the discipline of the whole man, the responsible citizen, not content with merely being decent, insistent on speaking and acting for the good.

Oddly, not long after this event in Arlington, Va., UN Ambassador Adlai Stevenson — unaware of the episode—called upon Americans to see Glenn as a vitally needed symbol of dedication and discipline.

In the astronaut, said Stevenson, "we can perhaps glimpse some reflection of the kind of discipline and restraint which we all need in some measure if our generation is to achieve great tasks, not only in the upper air but here and now in this bewildered and floundering world."

Stevenson, properly, is not despairing. He remarks the thousands of young Americans who volunteer for the rigors of the Peace Corps, the uncompromising military reservists, the dedicated young science students, the countless "unsung citizens" who apply themselves diligently and faithfully to tasks which reward them and serve their community and nation.

Yet clearly he does not believe this spirit, this high self-control, grips enough of us. The tyranny of the undisciplined minority exerts a force beyond its numbers in what he calls this "slack age."

Stevenson, like many others, sees too much stress on comfort and ease, "smash and grab," and "me first." There is neither enough hard work nor enough standing up for the right and the good.

John Glenn stood for all these admirable things when he climbed into his capsule to orbit the earth.

He stood for the discipline that he put a restraining hand on a group of youngsters still untouched by the lessons of discipline he has long since mastered.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Jack wants to lose weight most easily and without employing drugs that put an extra strain on the heart, so follow the dieting plan outlined below. And get other fat friends to join you, for it is easier to diet if you have others doing so at the same time. So send for the diet chart below.

CASE L-474: Jack J., aged 42, is the fat, platiconic husband mentioned yesterday.

His doctor urged him to go on a diet, for he has heart trouble, and excess weight puts a strain on every heart.

James L. Hoover Funeral Sunday

James Lowell Hoover, 41, died Thursday at the University of Florida Teaching Hospital in Gainesville. Funeral services were held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Jones-Johnson Chapel in Gainesville. Burial was in Shiloh Cemetery.

Mr. Hoover was born July 7, 1920 in Vine Grove, Ky. He had been a Gainesville resident for the past 20 years.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and was owner and operator of Hoover's Grocery in Gainesville.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Josie L. Hoover of Gainesville; one daughter, Mrs. Florence Estes, Gainesville; one granddaughter; he is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil V. Hoover, Sanford; three brothers, Russell, Baltimore, Md.; Elsworth Lee and Everett, both of Sanford.

Thoughts

But the Lord said to him, Peace be to you; do not fear, you shall not die.—Judges 6:13.

O Israel, trust in the Lord! He is their help and their shield.—Psalms 118:9.

Exercise your God-given power of trust. Look up! Salvation is provided, and nothing remains to be done. Take hold! Take hold! Do not wait.—Bishop Jansz.

READ EARL, LISTEN TO THIS! A FEW WEEKS AGO, I WROTE SOME MINING CONTRACTORS ABOUT PERFORMING THIS LITTLE PROJECT FOR PRODUCTION, AND THIS WAS THEIR REPLY: 'DEAR MAXOR, LUMP—HAR-RUMPH—' REGARDING YOUR MINE, WE WILL CONSTRUCT A 75-FOOT TIMBER TUNNEL, LEADING INTO YOUR MINE FOR $200.—UM-KUMPH—

IT SEEMS TO BE A MATTER OF DIFFICULTY WITH A MINE IS NEEDED TO GET THIS MONEY OUT OF IT. THAT ONE PUTS INTO IT.

Use the resulting ice waters, placing one on your tongue when you are very thirsty. The ice is much more satisfying than plain water.

(3) Use a vitamin ampule and you may need an aspirin for the first day or two to dull your headache, especially if you have been a heavy caffeine addict prior to this low-fluid plan.

Send for the booklet "How to Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 50 cents. It contains a calorie chart, too. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long four cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Cold War At The Pass

KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (UPI) — The road from ancient Peshawar makes its last hair-pin turn between towering, jagged peaks and then descends to a gradually widening valley. A sign in English proclaims that this is the Afghanistan-Pakistan border. This is the Khyber Pass of Kipling and of conquerors, Alexander the Great, Darius of Persia, the Aryans and the Huns. It is the grave of hundreds of British soldiers who fought to defend an outpost of empire before Pakistan independence.

It is the meeting place of caravans, of East and West and a link in a silk route explored by Marco Polo.

It is the home of fierce, copper-tongued Pathan tribesmen who exacted tribute even from conquerors and who today pay scant heed to any law but the tribal.

To the north lies Russia and to the south Iran.

At the end of the tortuous road past ancient fortresses, through narrow gorges beneath lonely outposts perched atop the peaks lies the Pakistan border station.

Scarcely a quarter-mile away, across a line set off by white markers, are the soldiers of Afghanistan.

This is the Durand line established by the British to mark the end of the North-West Territory. It cuts directly through the tribal areas which lie both in Pakistan and Afghanistan.

To cross it without authorization is to invite an unfriendly bullet.

The border is closed now and the caravans no longer pass.

Afghanistan contests the Durand line and demands the tribesmen be allowed to vote whether they would choose union with either country or have an independent nation of their own.

Pakistan accuses Afghanistan of sending agents across the line in an attempt to stir the tribesmen to revolt.

Occasionally tensions mount, and then shots are fired across the border.

The Soviet Union supports the Afghan stand, and so these wild mountains become another arena of the cold war.

But in these mountains it is not all reminders of the past nor of cold war tensions.

Eighteen miles northwest of Peshawar a huge dam has arisen. It generates 240,000 kilowatts of electricity and ultimately will help irrigate a thirsty land.

U. S. Had Rather Forget Ydigoras Presses Old Claim

UPI Foreign News Analyst President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes of Guatemala has succeeded in reopening a subject the United States would rather forget and at the same time created some embarrassment for the United States in its relations with Great Britain.

The embarrassment springs from Ydigoras' hint in a New Year's Eve speech that the United States promised to use its good offices in connection with Guatemala's claim on neighboring British Honduras.

The subject the United States would just as soon forget is last spring's abortive attempt to invade Cuba.

Ydigoras is an extreme right-wing nationalist and one-time general who took office in 1958, and who at one time or another since then has feuded with most of his neighbors, including Mexico, Costa Rica, and Nicaragua.

Almost at the outset of his administration, he also took on Great Britain with renewal of Guatemala's ancient claims on British Honduras.

That quarrel dates back to 1821 when Guatemala gained independence from Spain and promptly made the first of her claims against the adjoining British crown colony.

Britain rejected the claim on grounds identical to Portugal's recent unsuccessful defense of its rights in Indian Goa, namely, that it was there by treaty with Spain signed long before Guatemala became a nation.

In 1859 a treaty between Britain and Guatemala established a boundary between Guatemala and the Atlantic at a point near Belize, capital of British Honduras.

In 1945, Guatemala renounced the treaty on the grounds the British had not lived up to its provisions, and renewed the earlier claims.

In his New Year's Eve speech, Ydigoras recalled that Guatemala had provided training grounds for the Cuban refugees who later attempted the invasion. For that favor, he said, Guatemala was entitled to a "just price."

The price, he implied, was U. S. intervention in his quarrel with Britain.

No such promise is recalled in Washington.

Navy Council Visits NAS

The Navy League Council of Central Florida recently paid a visit to NAS Sanford and received a briefing from Capt. Robert M. Ware, NAS Commanding Officer and Capt. J. M. Tully, Commander HAWKING.

Navy League members are loyal and dedicated friends of the Navy who are constantly seeking ways of improving Naval installations.

The group's visit to the station was climaxed by dinner at the NAB Ballroom followed by a movie entitled "Jet Carrier."

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — A high-powered committee of big business tycoons and college professors, meeting here to advocate more economic education in high schools, told how this deep-dish subject is being taught in the public schools of Elkhart, Ind. from the first grade up. This example was cited:

Teacher tells the class they're to make a painting. The problem is, they don't have paper or brushes or paints. This illustrates the law of demand. But teacher has the makings, which she then produces, to illustrate the law of supply.

Scuffers may raise objections that 6-year-olds can't even make good paintings. But this is in Indiana, remember, where anything can happen. So get on with the lesson.

Teacher then explains that the paper is like the land, which is capital. Brushes and paints are the tools and materials with which the painting is made—or the land is worked. And making the painting is like working the land.

End of lesson, with five basic economic principles firmly planted in the busy little minds.

The example wasn't carried far enough to report whether some Johnnie Genius didn't raise his hand and demand, "Okay, Boss Teacher—How much do you pay me to make the painting?" This would have illustrated the economic theory of wages.

Seriously, this case history was revealed at a press conference here when the Committee for Economic Development unveiled its latest research project, "Economic Literacy for Americans — A Program for Schools and Citizens."

Reduced to a sentence, what CED is advocating is that the course in social studies now given to most high school seniors should have one semester devoted to economics.

Few people will quarrel with that or any effort to teach high school students and others anything they don't know.

But CED, whose membership is supposed to include the 200 best brains in American business, took two years' study to reach this conclusion. In this process they enlisted the help of leading university professors in a National Task Force on Economic Education, a materials evaluation committee and the Joint Council on Economic Education for special studies. Mountains of intellect labored and brought forth you-know-what.

The Task Force on Economic Education advocates that high school students be given, among other things, an understanding of how much this country can produce and how fast the economy shall grow.

This just happens to be a question on which the President and Congress, Republican

Dick West Says Casey Or Kildare?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several days ago, I set forth some circumstantial evidence to support my contention that young Dr. Kildare is a better all-around physician than Ben Casey.

This has brought me into conflict with a number of Ben Casey fans, mostly teenage girls, who claim they have irrefutable evidence to the contrary.

"I see more Ben Casey blouses in school than Kildare blouses," one of them wrote. "In fact, I've never seen a Kildare blouse in school."

"Well, sir, I know when I'm licked. It couldn't prevent a logical logic like that even if I had the American Medical Association on my side.

I would willingly withdraw from the controversy right now were it not for the fact that one of the other Casey fans ended her letter with a cryptic threat which is still hanging over my head.

"You had better watch what you print," was her ominous valedictory.

I am not certain what she has in mind, but I interpreted it to mean that she is thinking of suing me for something, possibly malpractice.

That started me to wondering if perhaps I should see a lawyer. And that, in turn, brought up a related question, namely: Is Perry Mason a better attorney than Lawrence Preston, senior partner on "The Defenders"?

If I were accused of murder or some other capital crime, I would not hesitate to take my case to Mason. Like Dr. Kildare, he has had experience in the movies as well as on television.

When your life is at stake, you've got to go along with experience, which is the same point I made in upholding Kildare over Casey, who is strictly a television surgeon.

But in a civil suit of the type the Ben Casey fan apparently is contemplating, I'm inclined to think that Preston might provide the more proficient legal counsel.

Would Casey, who is always acting so high and mighty, condescend to treat a hangnail? I doubt it.

By the same token, what sort of reception could I expect from Perry Mason with his plush offices and fancy cars and beautiful secretary? The brush-off probably.

On the other hand, I have a hunch that Preston would welcome me as a client. At least I've never seen him turn down a fee.

If this case goes to court, I hope the plaintiff hires Mason to press her claim. I'm betting that Preston will get me off in time to see the last half of "Gunsmoke."

Mets Getting The Publicity; Houston Getting The Results

United Press International Casey Stengel and the New York Mets are getting the publicity but the Houston Colt 4s seem to be getting the better results.

One of the two newly formed National League teams, the Colt 4s have won six of their last seven games and nine of their last 11. It represents a tremendous start for a team that the experts have unanimously consigned to ninth or 10th place this year.

Bob Bruce, who won a grand total of one game for the Detroit Tigers last season, pitched two-hit ball and struck out eight batters in seven innings Monday as the Colt 4s beat the Los Angeles Angels, 7-0. Former San Francisco Giants Joe Amalfitano and Don Taussig each hit homers — Amalfitano's coming with the bases filled. It was the first shutout of the spring for the Houston team.

Casey and his Mets, meanwhile, suffered through the worst game of their short history—an 18-8 clubbing by the Baltimore Orioles. Form-

Sagas Beats Off Challengers

The challenges of Aretlio and Badiola to maintain a slim lead and take the feature game Monday night at the Orlando Seminole Fronton in Fern Park.

His big moments came in the second stanza when he won three points to overcome Badiola's big first round of three falls, and when the dust cleared it was Sagas in front four to three, and he was never headed for the remainder of the game.

Sagas used his usual power-house tactics to keep the rest of the line up always on the defensive and the only bad moment he had was when he powered one from back court to the front wall and Aretlio, who finished in place position, with a devastating change of pace, just lobbed the goatskin up and Sagas didn't even try for it.

The finish was Sagas in win position, Aretlio in place and Badiola.

Movie star Jayne Mansfield will be at the fronton Wednesday night to witness the challenges of Aretlio and Badiola to maintain a slim lead and take the feature game Monday night at the Orlando Seminole Fronton in Fern Park.

Seminoles Play Today Against Winter Park Nine

By Ronnie Sports Editor
Coach Jim McCoy sends his Seminole baseballers up against the conference champion Winter Park Wildcats today at 4 p.m. at the field on Celery Avenue.

The Parkers are last year's conference winners and are the powerhouse team in the OBC. The Seminole, however, have a 1-0 OBC record and will be out after the win. The Parkers are a tough team this year, as they have been in the past.

McCoy will send lefty Butch Riser to the mound this afternoon, for his first mound action of the season. Riser has been throwing good in practice and has several good pitches. Bobby Johnson will be moved to third base with Roscoe "Amos" Brown being moved to center field. The remainder of the lineup remains the same, except for a possible change at first base, with either Gary Davidson or Billy Higgins seeing action there.

Bowen will head the batting order, followed by second baseman Chuck Ogden, left fielder Mike Caolo, shortstop Steve Barnes, Johnson in center, either Davidson or Higgins at first base, Jack Caolo will do the catching, Don Harpio, and the 2-7 by Doty Thomas.

Stemper Holds Sandspur Loop

Stemper Agency still holds the lead in the Sandspur League by winning two from Hobson Sporting Goods, who are in third place. Welsh Tire Shop is in second place by 2 1/2 games, taking all four from Jet Inn. Alix of Sanford is in fourth place by only one game, taking three from McRobert's Tires.

Jane Adcock of Alix had high scratch series, 565. Other high games were rolled by Joan McCallough of Hobson, 170; Margaret Elmers of Alix, 173; Midge Woods of McRobert's, 189; and Sue Jackson of Welsh, 202.

Spits made were by the 5-10 by Sue Jackson; 5-7-9 by Vicky Piro; and the 2-7 by Doty Thomas.

Only 5 More Racing Days

Only five more days of racing remain before the lights go out at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, but there are still nine programs on tap for there will be the usual double headers Wednesday, Friday and Saturday and a special matinee on the closing day, next Monday.

And the most important race of the season still lies ahead. It is the running of the 27th annual Central Florida Derby on Friday night when eight star distance runners will compete over the long 1/4-mile course. The Derby will be preceded by the Derby Consolation on Thursday night, with a field composed of eight star routers who just missed landing a Derby spot.

In tonight's featured ninth race Jack Herold's Roxie Reba will be trying for her ninth victory. With eight firsts registered to date she rates as the winningest entry in the main event. Trailing Roxie Reba is just one point is Orville Moses Waderson, a seven-time winner.

Rounding out the field for tonight's top attraction will be Dinah's Mirkey, Max Bear, Modern Texan, Pansy Cross, Hello Charlie and Sky Hunt.

Lyman Plays Titusville

Lyman High School baseball action takes place today at 4 p.m. in Longwood when the Greyhounds, under the coaching of Jim Payne and Buck Mettis, host the Terriers from Titusville.

The Greyhounds will be looking for their fourth straight win in as many starts.

They have wins over Florida Central, Apopka, Colonial and Leesburg.

Teams Even In Kegler Play

All teams took at least one point in this week's action in the Jet Lanes Keglers League. Here are the results: Wheeler Fertilizer won three, Riggs Sunoco won one, Harley's Sinclair won one, American Legion won three, O. K. Tire Store won three, Craig Cars won one, Kwie White won three, and Glen's Phillips "66" won one.

High team single game goes to Riggs Sunoco with an 8-5, high team series goes to American Legion with a 2-1-1. Individual high game goes to Ward Willingham, 2-2, and individual high series goes to Richard Barnes at 5-1.

Two hundred or better games were rolled by Richard Barnes, 218, Richard Parker, 218, George Swann, 214, Clyde Fiering, 213, and Ed Michalek, 201.

The following splits were picked up: The 3-10 by Don Brumfield, Don Dorman, John Higgins and Charles Tournour. The 4-5-7 by Charles Petherbridge and Al Meritt. The 5-6 by Lloyd Edwards and the 5-7 by John Bridges.

Partial Recovery For Paret?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Official hope that Benny (Kid) Paret will make at least a partial recovery was expressed for the first time today even while an attempt was being made to fly the stricken boxer's aged mother to his bedside.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN FLORIDA, a handful of determined patriots in Tampa fought for 2 days, finally preventing an intended invasion by two Union ships, which fled. All Florida cheered this feat with glasses of beer.

For even then, beer was Florida's traditional beverage of moderation. Beer still provides enjoyment for Floridians, and a good living for many of them — not only the employees of the Brewing Industry itself, but also for Florida farmers and other suppliers of the materials brewers use.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Got a call last night from someone who said he was "Cheta" and to "lay off us monkeys."

The Board of adjustment the other night approved a sewage treatment plant for Ground Lake Estates area.

However, there was plenty of opposition because of waste dumped into the lake. Next stop: County Commission.

Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce has certified the petition of freeholders in Forest City asking that a fire district be set up in that area and a referendum will be placed in the second primary.

Bid opening set April 18 to award bids for Sanford's sewage treatment plant. Plenty of inquiries thus far, says Pete Knowles.

Foundation has been laid for that $5,500 addition at the new city jail.

Explanation of the fellow who identified one of the dignitaries in the Page 1 picture in Tuesday's favorite newspaper as "Col. Hutchison": "I know he is one grade above a Major General. In my army experience it went 'Captain, Major, Colonel,' so it was Col. Gen. J. C. Hutchison to me. But the space was short and the 'Gen.' was dropped off for fit." Wow! Well, it's good to know that Gen. Hutchison has not been demoted. And if there is a rank of "Col. Gen." then our man deserves it. "Colonel"! Tak! Tak!

Mom told me that a "Silver Service" was silver containers that coffee (or tea) came out of. At the hospital meeting, it seems mom was wrong, because there the Silver Service is containers that coffee goes into.

What! Another vacant store in the "busy-hub" of our city? The old store of the Sanford Electric Co. on Magnolia Ave. But that central location ought to call for early occupancy by some alert real estate man, insurance agent or small shop entrepreneur. Chee, have we got them in Sanford, too?

Who's responsible for fixing that "street" just west of the Herald office? Somebody'd better get it before a car hangs up a differential on some of the pot-holes or railroad tracks.

Just imagine having your differential hung up on a pot-hole!

Speaking of streets, just a wee bit of "fixing" of Myrtle Ave. North from W. First St. to the lakefront would make that a fine route to handle some of the traffic headed north and south down town. Even now many a car travels it—at the risk of more pot-holes and a "washboard" (remember them, Jenny?) effect just south of Fulton St.

Sanford Canal Major Project

Complete disarmament by the U. S. would put 2,500 persons in Seminole County out of work and could bring chaos to the entire area, Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider told the Kiwanis Club at noon today.

Krider told the local club that $492,000,000 is being spent on defense in Florida and 15 percent of the workers are employed on civilian defense jobs.

The Chamber of Commerce manager, who also serves on the Florida Waterways Committee said that with all this talk about disarmament "we must now plan ahead to develop our natural resources to bridge any possible gap in unemployment."

Discussing the proposed Sanford-Canaveral Canal, Krider said that water borne commerce is increasing faster "than any other method of transportation" and emphasized that as sure as day follows night money for the canal will be appropriated as soon as the Cross-State Barge Canal is off the ground.

Krider said efforts on the canal have been "sporadic" because requests were made for a new alignment study to determine what rights of way would be set aside to prevent additional obstructions.

Krider cited official figures on the effectiveness of waterborne traffic which spelled out where the citizen's dollar goes.

Clarification On City Zoo Fund Asked

The attorney general will be asked to clarify his ruling on the membership of County giving funds to the city to keep up the zoo.

Beckwith said that previously the attorney general's office ruled that the county could make a "reasonable" contribution to a municipality for the maintenance of a municipal zoo from the general revenue fund.

However, Beckwith said that in his ruling, Attorney General Richard Ervin did not spell out the method for the county to appropriate the funds.

Beckwith said the legal opinion is necessary to determine if the $8,500 appropriated for the zoo is given in a "lump sum" or, if the county should make payments for bills approved by the city manager.

WEATHER: Fair through Thursday. High today, 75-80. Low tonight, 50-55. VOL. 58 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 WED., MARCH 28, 1962 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 418

COUNTY ENGINEER Carlton Bliss, left, with the aid of his staff, looks over plans for Bear Lake Rd. Bliss plans to present plans for the much needed road to property owners Thursday night in an effort to get free rights of way.

County Engineer Carlton Bliss today expressed optimism that rights of way for Bear Lake Rd. will be donated "in the very near future" and that work on the half mile project will start soon.

Bliss said he has completed plans on the road and will meet with property owners Thursday night to discuss the project.

Three property owners along the road, which is estimated to cost $10,000 already have donated rights of way and Bliss is hopeful to get the remaining others by Thursday night.

Suspect Caught In Wild Chase

A 14-year-old Sanford boy was apprehended by Constable Bob Carroll this morning after a wild chase through the area which resulted in three wrecked vehicles.

Carroll said that at 8:58 a.m. the youngster stole a car from Gator Lumber Co. and sped west on SR 46.

The boy, in an attempt to escape from Carroll, smashed into a Florida Power Co. truck and then slammed into another vehicle.

No one was hurt in the mishap. Total damage of all three cars was estimated at $300. The boy was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Faculty Raises Disappointing

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — University president, beaten in their campaign to have a full $1.3 million approved for teacher merit raises today with some figures from Gov. Farris Bryant to help ease the blow.

There was no indication that the Cabinet Budget Commission when it meets for final action on the matter next Tuesday will change the Board of Control decision Tuesday to limit merit raises to a total of $607,243.

Bryant, still not finally committing himself, said after the board's unanimous vote he felt the decision was "in keeping with the philosophy I feel essential to our continued sound growth."

The governor went on in a five-page statement to assure the state's faculties their work is recognized and appreciated, and to cite figures he said show the state is doing right by the teachers.

Real Safe

MIAMI (UPI) — An insurance company mailed Mrs. Mays Lange a safe diving scroll Tuesday for an accident-free year.

Mrs. Lange has never driven a motor vehicle.

Tourists Killed

PAIM BEACH (UPI) — Two vacationing students from Kentucky were killed early today when their sports car went out of control and struck a utility pole.

22 Die As Cuban Airliner Falls

SANTIAGO, Cuba (UPI) — A twin-engine Cuban airliner believed to be a Russian-made IL14 crashed at sea about half a mile from Santiago's Morro Castle Tuesday night, killing all of the 22 persons aboard.

The crash occurred minutes after the plane left for a flight to Havana. The cause of the crash could not be determined immediately.

All of the victims were believed to be Cuban.

The plane carried 18 passengers — 13 men and five women — and a crew of four, including veteran Cuban airline pilot Tito Salguera who had been flying for 32 years.

The dead included Andres Leyva Armatras, leader of the CTC union federation in eastern Cuba's Oriente Province.

Merchants Meet

The Sanford Downtown Merchants Association will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the commissioners' room in the courthouse.

Meeting Set

The executive board of the Seminole Association for Retarded Children will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Little Red Schoolhouse.

Israel Rests Eichmann Case

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — The state of Israel today rested its case against Adolf Eichmann with a demand that the Supreme Court uphold his death sentence for the murders of millions of Jews.

Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner said Eichmann deserved biblical execution — by stoning, burning, strangling, and the sword — for every baby assigned to the gas chamber.

What! Another vacant store in the "busy-hub" of our city? The old store of the Sanford Electric Co. on Magnolia Ave. But that central location ought to call for early occupancy by some alert real estate man, insurance agent or small shop entrepreneur. Chee, have we got them in Sanford, too?

Who's responsible for fixing that "street" just west of the Herald office? Somebody'd better get it before a car hangs up a differential on some of the pot-holes or railroad tracks.

Just imagine having your differential hung up on a pot-hole!

Speaking of streets, just a wee bit of "fixing" of Myrtle Ave. North from W. First St. to the lakefront would make that a fine route to handle some of the traffic headed north and south down town. Even now many a car travels it—at the risk of more pot-holes and a "washboard" (remember them, Jenny?) effect just south of Fulton St.
