NATION IN BRIEF

Democrats Are Gearing Up For Massachusetts Primary

BOSTON (AP) — Democrats running for president, led by newly advanced front-runner Jimmy Carter, are turning their attention to Massachusetts and the second primary test of the election year.

The Bay State primary next Tuesday involves more Democrats and less Republican activity and introduces new rules and a highly volatile issue, busing.

The Democratic field in Massachusetts includes the five candidates in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary as well as three others — Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Carter, the former Georgia governor who polled 30 per cent of the vote to lead the field in New Hampshire, predicted Wednesday he would win, place or show in the second primary test.

Spy Ship Up For Lease

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unable to find a use for the CIA's multi-million dollar Gleaner Explorer, the government is trying to lease the spy ship to private industry for deep-sea mining, according to industry and government officials.

But executives for two of the three corporations that government officials hoped might submit bids expressed no interest in the sophisticated vessel, which was used by the CIA to recover part of a Russian submarine from the bottom of the Pacific Ocean.

"It's a white elephant that just attracts attention," an executive for International Nickel Co. said of the ship, which was built under a secret agreement between the CIA and a corporation controlled by reclusive billionaire Howard Hughes.

Air Traffic Danger Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sophisticated computers designed to improve the safety of air transportation could also pose a new danger by reducing oral communication between air traffic controllers and pilots, federal safety investigators say.

The National Transportation Safety Board made the statement Wednesday in saying that a near-collision of two jumbo jets three months ago occurred because a ground-based air traffic controller became distracted and failed to keep the airplanes separated.

Three passengers were injured seriously and 21 injured slightly on Nov. 26 when the pilot of an American Airlines jet put his aircraft into a sharp dive seven miles above Lake Michigan to avoid hitting a Trans World Airlines jet.

Error Lengthens Sentence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government called it a simple clerical mistake, "a bureaucratic error," but it cost Louis R. Altmark more than a year of his life behind bars.

Justice Department officials laid out the story Wednesday and said they'll consider "what could or should be done to compensate" for the mistake which forced Altmark to serve a year and five days longer than his 30-month prison sentence for auto theft.

FTC Probes Blue Shield

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission is investigating the huge Blue Shield insurance system to determine if physician control of the 72-million member program stifles competition and contributes to the dramatic increase in health care costs for all Americans.

Blue Shield now provides physician-care insurance for 40 per cent of the nation's population and pays out over $3 billion annually in doctor's fees, the FTC said.

Miss Hearst Said To Be 'Politically Naive' Patty Called 'Creature Of Surface'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A psychiatric portrait of Patricia Hearst depicts her as a politically naive "creature of the surface" who experimented with drugs as a curious, sensitive teenager and made no effort to deceive mind-probing experts after her underground odyssey.

"Miss Hearst really simply didn't lie," said Dr. Martin Orne, a University of Pennsylvania psychiatrist who specializes in detecting simulated stories. He testified for the defense Wednesday at the newspaper heiress' trial for bank robbery.

Orne's statement drew a sharp reprimand from U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver J. Carter who, acting on a prosecution objection, told the jurors that such a comment was "an invasion of your province."

Orne, hired by defense attorney F. Lee Bailey to examine Miss Hearst, was scheduled to resume his testimony today.

Earlier, Dr. J. J. West testified there was "no way" Miss Hearst could have faked her responses to an extensive battery of tests and interviews designed to determine the authenticity of her story.

West, one of three psychiatrists appointed by the court to determine Miss Hearst's competence to stand trial, also conducted further tests and testified for the defense.

The other two court-appointed psychiatrists have not testified.

When Orne flatly affirmed the truth of Miss Hearst's account to psychiatrists of fear and abuse at the hands of the Symbionese Liberation Army, assistant U.S. Atty. David Bancroft protested.

After a brief conference at the bench with the opposing attorneys, Carter told all participants that only the verdict could determine whether Miss Hearst is telling the truth.

Turning to the jury, the judge said, "You and you alone have to make this ultimate decision and no psychiatrist, no lawyer or anybody else should invade that province."

Orne and West, a professor of psychiatry at the University of California at Los Angeles, agreed that the defendant was fed subtle traps during her interviews. Although she had a patchy memory, both experts said, they never discerned a hint of fabrication in the more than 30 hours they spent with her separately.

The defense has attempted to portray Miss Hearst in psychiatric testimony as a victim of mental torture, driven by fear to retreat into a false personality, first as the revolutionary "Tania," then as the mysterious "Pearl."

The prosecution maintains that Miss Hearst was won over to the cause of the SLA and participated willingly in a bank robbery two months after her kidnapping by the terrorist group.

West conceded on cross-examination that Miss Hearst was depressed prior to her Feb. 4, 1974, kidnapping, an independent spirit in the hands of the Symbionese Liberation Army, assistant U.S. Atty. David Bancroft protested.

West heaped evidence on the bench that she was a normal, confused teenager when she was abruptly inducted against her will into that alien environment.

Bancroft extracted information that Miss Hearst attended five schools in six years and was almost expelled from one parochial school "for telling a nun to go to hell."

She was described by some teachers as "detached, disdainful and self-centered," according to Bancroft, and was portrayed by her one-time fiancé, Steven Weed, as having "a capacity for sarcasm that was unparalleled."

He said the phrase referred to "political naivete" and offered to cite statistics on teenage drug experimentation to prove the defendant's actions were on a par with her peers.

He said that Miss Hearst was so politically barren that when tered by prisoners of war. West, who had been on the stand since Monday, said Weed told him that Miss Hearst was an occasional user of marijuana. Weed mentioned such use of marijuana in his recent book about their time together.

"My understanding is that Mr. Weed was conducting experiments with marijuana and that he introduced the defendant to it and she had smoked it occasionally," he said.

In response to another question, West added, "She had been given by Mr. Weed on several occasions drugs which she was told were LSD and mescaline. I inquired what her effects had been and couldn't determine whether she ever had LSD. But the experiences she recounted on mescaline made me think she actually had been given mescaline."

Miss Hearst turned toward her parents sitting in the front row and shook her head negatively.

West also said Weed told him that Miss Hearst begged him not to call her LSD. Weed was not trying as a witness in the trial.

Bancroft asked if such actions justified West's conclusion that Miss Hearst was "a naive schoolgirl."

Windshields Vandalized In 3 Moving Vehicles

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole sheriff's deputies today were investigating three incidents of vandalism, Wednesday night in which the windshields of two trucks and a car were shattered while the vehicles travelled area roads.

Charles E. Stineby, of Sanford, reported he was southbound on Airport Blvd. at 16th St. when he heard a loud noise like a firecracker or auto backfiring. Stineby told deputies that when he stopped he found the windshield of the auto had been damaged.

Investigators said apparently an unknown person concealed in roadside bushes fired some type firearm at the car. No injuries were reported.

The incident was the second in as many nights in which an auto was fired upon in west Sanford.

Tuesday night the windshield of a car driven by a state beverage agent was shattered at Persimmon Ave. and McCrackin Road by a mystery gunman.

Sheriff's deputies said today that in two other incidents Wednesday night on I-4 just north of SR 434 vandals hurled chunks of concrete at two tractor-trailer trucks smashing windshields of both trucks. No injuries were reported in those incidents.

Drug Arrest
Sanford police jailed Timothy Douglas Stone, 19, of Winter Park, on a felony possession of marijuana charge after issuing him a traffic citation.

Patrolman Richard L. Bennett made the traffic stop at Park Ave. and 14th St. and reported he saw what appeared to be marijuana seeds inside the vehicle.

Officers said Stone consented to a search of the car and a styrofoam case in the trunk was found to contain three bags of green leafy substance.

Bond for Stone was set at $5,000 in the drug charge.

Cash Taken
Police today were investigating the reported theft of $655 from a cash register at George's Tavern, 1011 French Ave., Sanford.

Man Jailed
Officers jailed Robert Michael Wood, 22, of Fort Lauderdale, without bond on a parole violation charge from Broward County after he was charged locally in connection with two burglaries.

Bond for Wood in the burglary cases was set at $10,000.

Det. Sgt. E. J. Hughes said in one of the burglary cases the alleged victim, charged by the suspect and found that he was wearing a shirt reported taken from the victim's house.

Action Reports

- ★ Fires
- ★ Courts
- ★ Police Beat

Officer said when Wood was arrested they recovered 15 shirts and four pairs of pants, valued at $321, that were reportedly taken in a separate burglary.

Hughes said investigators are trying to locate the owner of a ladies 1933 Seminole High School class ring that was also recovered.

Diswasher Taken
Sheriff's deputies today

reported burglars made off with two dishwashers from houses under construction in the Trailwood Estates subdivision. Deputy Donald McCormick said the latest thefts brings the total to three dishwashers taken in two days from houses being built by Tompkins Land Co. on Northwood Ave.

Furnishings Stolen
Deputies said officials at Bel-Aire Lake of the Woods subdivision, Fern Park, reported burglars took furnishings valued at $1,500 from an office and a model home.

Deputy D. E. Higginbotham said the missing items include four teakwood and buckskin chairs, a painting and a wall hanging.

Case continued until the week of March 22 after the court ruled that Oulton can duplicate tape recordings of the 15 days of wiretapping.

Agents said it would take 24 hours to listen to the tapes.

According to the inventory returned to the court after execution of the search warrants at the apartment on Nov. 1, Crenshaw was at the apartment during the raid and a .38 caliber revolver "fell from Jack Crenshaw to the floor."

Carter Unknown To Many

There are still millions of Americans who have not heard of Jimmy Carter, but the organizers of his presidential bid say they are not worried.

"Before his campaign is over, Jimmy will have introduced himself to every man, woman, child and family cat in the nation," an organizer of one of the nation's politics, the 32-year-old former Georgia governor has already shaken more than 200,000 hands in what may be the most frantic 18 hours a day's campaigning of the season.

Born in poverty, remembered by schoolchums as quiet, Carter seems oddly miscast in the roll of the go-getting, vote grabber. Yet in a polite, un-demonstrative way he can buttonhole with the best. An Annapolis graduate who served in Hyman Rickover's nuclear submarine force, later a gentleman entrepreneur on a family peanut farm, Carter entered politics first as a rural school board member, and later as a Georgia state legislator. In 1966 he ran in vain for the state house; trying again in 1970, this time shaking more hands, he won.

Carter's gubernatorial victory became something of a media event when he announced "the time for racial discrimination is over." This surprised his supporters, shocked his state, and pleased the press which thereafter promulgated Carter as the leader of the New South. In the next four years (state law forbade him a second term) he reversed discriminatory policies, consolidated 300 state agencies into a manageable 22, and completely reorganized Georgia's old "snake pit" mental health system.

As he tells it, Carter restored decency and efficiency to his state, and campaigns now on similar platform for America.

3 Cities Accused Of Bias

MIAMI (AP) — A Washington-based lawyers' group charges that three Florida cities discriminate against blacks in the delivery of municipal services and asks that $3.4 million in federal funds for the cities be frozen.

The Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law claimed in federal suits filed Wednesday in Miami and in Tampa that Fort Myers, Arcadia and Florida City deprive black neighborhoods of services made available to white areas.

The cities' mayors and city council members were named as defendants and were given 45 days to reply.

Mayor Oscar Corbin of Fort Myers, largest of the communities being sued, denied the allegations.

"We have worked hard to improve the black area, and if they take our federal money from us it will hurt that area," Corbin said. "I will guarantee that the black area is getting more per capita than any other area in town."

Florida City officials declined comment until they could see the suit. Arcadia officials could not be reached for comment.

Specifically, the suits ask the courts to freeze revenue sharing due the cities unless they equalize services by:

—Paving streets of black areas comparably to white areas.

—Constructing storm water drainage ditches the same as in white neighborhoods.

—Installing comparable fire hydrants, street lights, sewerage and water facilities.

—Constructing parks and recreation facilities the same as in white areas.

Illegal Deals Need Purging

It is not an exaggeration to say that the intense salesmanship in the lobbying industry, of Lockheed Aircraft Co., and other transnational firms, has created another problem of immense dimensions to American foreign policy.

Lockheed has admitted that it has paid lobbyists and government officials in Japan and The Netherlands. As a result, the parliaments of both nations have initiated major investigations. In their nets are such luminaries as Dutch Prince Bernhard and former Japanese Premier Kakuei Tanaka, who still serves in parliament.

It is entirely possible that before the investigations end the complex of parliaments could change and royalty could abdicate. And unfortunately, various federal agencies are investigating some 46 major corporations for possible illegal bribery abroad or illegal contributions to political campaigns in the United States. More shoes undoubtedly will fall.

The timing of the disclosures could not have come at a worse time. U.S. foreign policy is not too steady on its feet anyway for various reasons, our allies abroad are questioning our credibility and our investigations, and the American capitalist economic system is under attack from many quarters.

A full-scale investigation of illegal activities by American corporations abroad will exacerbate all of these problems. However, there is no alternative. As a leader of the Western world, the United States must continue to exhibit the highest moral standards in commercial as well as political affairs.

President Ford did exactly that when he stepped forward to bring the full force of the executive branch into play to stop illegal activities by corporations in the future and punish past transgressions. He deserves credit for setting the right course.

We suggest that the acts of justice be as humane as possible. And the U.S. government should make it clear to our trading partners that they must cooperate by reforming conditions which have required American businessmen to resort to bribery.

Gas Issue Remains

The recent vote in the House of Representatives cannot be the last word on regulation of natural gas prices. The action preserves the illusion of low cost for most natural gas sold in interstate commerce, but does nothing to solve the lingering energy problems of a nation thirsty for fuel.

By retaining the federal ceiling on gas shipped by the major producers, the legislation hobbles the big companies in their search for new sources of gas. Relieving the smaller companies of price regulation, allowing price hikes on only about 30 percent of current resources, does little to encourage new development or conservation measures.

What the House has done is perpetuate the myth that Americans can continue to enjoy ample supplies of safe, clean fuel at unrealistically low prices. The vote, probably influenced by assumed immediate political advantage in the coming elections, carries the threat of irrevocable long-term cost in packed industries, lost jobs and a paralyzed economy.

The gap between the House bill and Senate legislation erasing all controls may be too great for resolution in conference. The House action, however, must be rectified even if it requires a whole new start.

BERRY'S WORLD

WASHINGTON — One question mark has continued to hang over the Watergate scandal: who doctored the White House transcripts? We have now established that the culprit was none other than Richard Nixon himself. On April 29, 1974, Nixon made a dramatic TV appearance to announce he would release the transcripts. This was intended to head off the growing demands for access to his controversial White House tapes.

Abortion Issue Explosive

Any public figure, high or low, who attempts to take a moderate stand on the increasingly explosive issue of abortion does so at his peril. Latest evidence of this was the criticism immediately voiced against President Ford by both pros and antis for his recent statement that he believes the Supreme Court's 1973 decision "went too far" and that he favors a constitutional amendment that would leave the regulation of abortion up to the individual states.

WASHINGTON — In the end it appears, Chairman Mao Tse-tung may have won his 25-year struggle with Premier Chou En-lai for control of China — by outliving his rival. Over the years, Chou and his associates twice managed to put Mao on the shelf — in an honorary and revered position, of course. But one which Mao himself has described as being on a marble pedestal in a museum.

WASHINGTON — One question mark has continued to hang over the Watergate scandal: who doctored the White House transcripts? We have now established that the culprit was none other than Richard Nixon himself.

Anti-Semitism Charged

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Secretary of State Bruce Smeathers has been urged to conduct a "thorough and open investigation" of allegations that an aide wrote an article containing an anti-semitic reference to Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Kidnaped Embassy Officials Released, Flown To Athens

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Two U.S. Embassy officials released after four months of captivity in Lebanon flew to Athens today for a reunion with their families and a trip home to the United States. Charles Gallagher, 44, of Roanoke, Va., and William Dykes Jr., 56, of San Jose, Calif., boarded a Middle East Airlines jet for the Greek capital 18 1/2 hours after their release Wednesday night. They spent the night at a secret location in the Lebanese capital, and this morning a five-car convoy of U.S. Embassy and Lebanese security cars took them to the entrance of the Boeing 707's first-class compartment. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said on their release that the two men looked rumpled and their hair was long but they were "in good health and good spirits." Neither had been injured or tortured during the ordeal, he added.

Peronists' Split Widens

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Isabel Peron survived an impeachment vote in Congress Wednesday night by a vote of 120-70, but the split within the Peronist movement widened. The main opposition party, the Radical Civic Union, joined five small political groups in supporting the impeachment motion, but the center effort failed when Peronist legislators who strongly criticized Mrs. Peron earlier backed down. A group of left-wing congressmen issued a statement saying: "We must not be in too much of a hurry, for even the most democratic government is better than an unknown quality."

Economic Forecast: Gloomy

MONTREAL (AP) — The C. D. Howe Research Institute has made public what it calls its "most solemnly pessimistic analysis" of the Canadian economy since it began making such forecasts three years ago. A spokesman said Wednesday that Canadians will have to make "wrenching adjustments" in their economic expectations over the next few years. "The task of unwinding both inflation and recession in Canada," the report said, "is not a simple matter of turning the dials of fiscal and monetary policies to the correct setting."

Judge John J. Sirica Is Released From Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica, who collapsed after suffering a massive heart attack Feb. 5, is out of the hospital. Sirica's law clerk, Robert Ruyak, said there is no sign the judge intends to resign. In the meantime, Sirica's doctors have prescribed "a good long rest" at home for the judge, who will be 72 March 15. Sirica collapsed while giving a speech to a lawyers' group. Although his heart stopped working for 15 minutes, the judge survived, doctors said, because of emergency treatment by those at the scene and in the ambulance on the way to George Washington University Hospital. Sirica presided over the two most important criminal trials of the Watergate scandals and is credited with forcing disclosures which ultimately forced Richard M. Nixon to resign the presidency.

Kennedy Affair Denied

WINGATE, N.C. (AP) — Kenneth P. O'Donnell, appointments secretary to the late President John F. Kennedy, has denied earlier that he had an affair with Mary Meyer as reported earlier this week by a national magazine. "Mary Meyer was a lovely girl whom the President had known for several years," O'Donnell said Tuesday. "They were social friends but Mrs. Meyer never came in the back door of the White House. Every time she came to the White House ... Jackie Kennedy was there." The National Enquirer reported this week that Kennedy had a two-year romance with Mrs. Meyer while in the White House.

Reagan's Finances Reveal Him To Be Among Wealthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ronald Reagan, a millionaire who has plowed most of his money into real estate, has offered a partial look at his finances which shows he is one of the wealthiest presidential hopefuls. Reagan says he is worth $1,455,571 and earned $382,000 last year. The richest presidential candidate, and the only other acknowledged millionaire, is Democrat Milton Shapp who says he is worth about $2.8 million. Sargent Shriver put his net worth at $135,000 as of last August, but no information was given about his wife, the former Eunice Kennedy, who shares in the Kennedy family's trust funds. Reagan did not itemize the sources of his income, but his financial statement released Wednesday shows he is a far wealthier man than his Republican opponent, President Ford, who has listed assets of $352,482. Reagan released net worth and income tax figures for a five-year period, while Ford's disclosure went back nine years and was itemized so the public could trace the sources of his and his wife's income. Most of Ford's worth is in real estate, mostly in his home and several other properties the Ford family uses occasionally. Reagan's statement indicated he has heavily invested in real estate and common stock, and one real estate investment seemed undervalued, though the county assessor said Reagan's estimate was accurate. Based on a previously reported assessment, Reagan's un-

Announcement On Campaign Stationery

Jackson Denies Playing Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson says he didn't play politics in scheduling a hearing on bus costs, although the announcement of the hearing was issued on Jackson's presidential campaign stationery instead of Senate stationery. Jackson, D-Wash., who has made busing an issue in his campaign to win the March 23 sets presidential primary next week, said criticism of his motives in holding the hearing is "very unfair." He said he should be praised for bringing together both sides of the controversy in agreement on his plan to appropriate $50 million to ease the financial strain court-ordered busing has placed on cities. The hearing Wednesday was arranged by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, Jackson's longtime home-state colleague who has endorsed him for the Democratic presidential nomination. Although the announcement of the hearing was sent on the stationery of the Jackson presidential campaign, he offered as "the best proof that it is not political" the fact that his plan is supported by a diverse group

Richard Nixon Won't Respond To Criticisms

KWEILIN, China (AP) — Richard Nixon refused to comment today on criticism of his trip to China by other Republicans at home. "Sir, can you give us any reaction to the criticism being voiced by Sen. Barry Goldwater and President Ford's people?" an American correspondent asked as the smiling ex-president was walking to his car. Nixon said nothing, kept on walking and kept on smiling. Some of Ford's campaign aides contended that Nixon's trip reduced the vote for the president in the New Hampshire primary. Goldwater, a longtime Nixon ally, said he didn't agree with that, but Nixon could do the United States a favor by staying in China. The Nixon's also will visit Canton, South China's chief city, before flying home March 1. The final event on the president's program in the Chinese capital was a banquet he

Death Sentence Backed For 'Horrible' Crime

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The high court agreed with Circuit Judge Peter M. DeManio of Orlando, who said in imposing the death sentence that Henry "has clearly demonstrated that he cannot live in a civilized society in a trustworthy fashion." Henry was convicted of beating Riley on the head with a blunt instrument, cutting his hands and throat with razor blades and killing him by gagging him so tightly that he suffocated. The court said Henry jumped a police officer who attempted to arrest him several days after the murder, shooting the officer with his own gun. DeManio said Henry shot the officer three times even though "the officer was on his knees begging not to be shot any more." Henry freely confessed the killing after his arrest, the court said, but attempted to recant before his trial. A jury convicted him after deliberating one hour and later recommended the death penalty. The Supreme Court said DeManio was correct to carry out the jury's recommendation and impose the death sentence for "this atrocious and heinous crime."

Record Shares Trading Hands History Lasts But A Day On Stock Mart

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — So great is activity in the stock market today now lasts but a day.
Last Friday, when volume soared to a record 41.3 million shares on the N.Y. Stock Exchange, a researcher needed only to look at the previous day's newspaper to find the previous high, 38.21 million shares.
And so great is the enthusiasm accompanying the trading off a cliff to their death.
Particularly unfortunate was the detailed analysis that appeared on Feb. 18 with the advice that "it's clear the stampede began to run out of momentum on Feb. 5."
At about the same time another analytical letter commented, "The Dow Jones industrial average has reached a major resistance area." A correction might be looked for, it advised.
The gentlemen who write these letters might possess wisdom of a very high order, but bulls, especially stampeding bulls, have no understanding of wisdom. They've been known to stampede right off a cliff to their death.
Only the sound of pounding bells is heard, and they lead on. American Telephone and Telegraph raises its quarterly dividend. General Motors is confident of a big year in car sales. Business profits look good.
The kaleidoscope is shaken; a new picture emerges: interest rates are relatively low, inflation seems to be abating, retail sales and consumer confidence are climbing, unemployment is falling. Never mind that General Motors seems to have misgauged the market for small cars, and big ones as well; that the decline in interest rates may have ended; that housing starts in January fell

GOP Trying Out Sense Of Humor With New Book

WASHINGTON (AP)—Will Rogers used to say he wouldn't run for president no matter how badly the country needed a comedian. He also said he belonged to no organized political party because he was a Democrat. Now the Republicans are trying in a new book to show they have a funnybone, too.

The book contains 58 stories by President Ford and a bunch of Ronald Reagan and none by President Carter, since he was a Democrat. "Betty had studied modern dance and I was a former football player," Ford recalled in one anecdote. "She never really came right out and said I was a poor dancer; she's much too kind for that."

"But she did have a rather interesting theory as to why I played center rather than quarterback. She said it's one of the few positions on a football team where you don't have to move your feet."

From the Reagan collection comes this: "I always grew up believing that if you build a better mousetrap, the world will beat a path to your door. Now if you build a better mousetrap the government comes along with a better mouse."

The book is called "Republican Humor," and it is the brainchild of Stephen J. Skubik and Hal E. Short. About 200 pages thick, it will go on sale for $4.95 beginning about April 1, and the proceeds will go to the Republican National Committee.

Skubik, who says he is a Republican but "not a hard-backed one," offered to produce a money-making book for the Democrats too but that they didn't accept the offer because they saw legal problems.

"I'm sure it will sell a minimum of 50,000 copies," said Skubik. "Politics has been such heavy stuff, depressing occasionally. I decided there was another side of politics, the fun side. Republicans aren't noted for their humor."

The collection includes contributions from such big-time Republicans as Sen. Barry Goldwater, Robert Dole and Charles H. Percy, assorted congressmen and Republican national committee members.

From Illinois GOP national committeeman Don W. Adams: "An epitaph on a tombstone in a small southern Illinois cemetery reads 'here lies a Democrat and an honest man.' Our question is 'how did they get two guys into the same grave.'"

Democrats, it may not be too late to retaliate. Skubik's offer may still be open.

Hearings Scheduled By House

Senate Favors Extending DST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although the Senate favors extending Daylight Saving Time to seven months, it appears doubtful the House will act soon enough to add the extra month next year.

The House transportation and commerce subcommittee has scheduled hearings on the Daylight Saving Time bill in April following Senate approval of the extension Wednesday.

Under the Senate plan, most Americans would set their clocks forward one hour on March 14 and turn back the hands one hour on Oct. 10.

But because the House isn't likely to take up the matter before April, the nation probably will have six months' Daylight Saving Time and six months' standard time this year, running from April 25 to Oct. 31.

By a 70 to 23 vote Wednesday, the Senate approved a bill providing seven months of Daylight Saving Time this year and next. The measure was a compromise. Some senators had wanted daylight time to last eight months, while others preferred it to last five or six months.

The Senate settled on an amendment by Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., to establish DST from mid-March through mid-October this year and next.

The move to expand DST was first made in 1973 during the height of the energy crunch.

Some persons thought longer hours of daylight when persons are awake could result in an energy saving. But DST opponents argued that changing back the clock hands had saved little if any energy and has endangered children who had to go to school before light and inconvenienced farmers.

Last year, Daylight Saving Time ran for eight months. Under the law, if Congress does not pass this year, Daylight Saving Time reverts to six months.

Canadian Board Rejects Pay Hike

OTTAWA (AP)—The Canadian anti-inflation board has rejected a wage settlement for 12,000 pulp and paper workers in British Columbia as excessive, a board source said.

The settlement provides for an increase in wages of 16.1 per cent in the first year and 10.9 per cent in the second year of a two-year contract.

The board said the board decided at its meeting this week that British Columbia workers should be held to the 14 per cent first-year wage hike that it has made the standard for workers in Ontario and eastern Canada.

The board has not yet made a ruling on what is an acceptable contract in what is an acceptable industry, but the companies and unions in the East have been agreeing on 8 per cent for the second year and 10 per cent for a third year.

About 14,000 pulp workers in the East have gone back to work. The British Columbia settlement was reached after the workers were ordered back to work last fall by the provincial government. They had been on strike for three months.

Meanwhile, in Kenora, Ont., contract negotiations broke down between representatives of the Ontario-Minnesota Pulp and Paper Co. and two Canadian Paperworkers' Union locals representing about 250 workers.

Union officials claimed the company tried to impose a substandard contract terms. The workers have been on strike since Oct. 22. In Thunder Bay, Ont., representatives of Domtar Packaging Ltd. and two locals of the paperworkers union reached tentative agreement on a contract. A joint news release said it is a 7-10-8 per cent wage increase guideline.

About 500 workers have been on strike at the company's Red Rock mill since Sept. 12. A company spokesman said the mill could resume full operations as early as Sunday if the union ratifies the contract.

Greensleeves Leads The Way Teaching People Joy

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

Children of all ages will enjoy the charming musical play, "Greensleeves Magic," being presented Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Lyman High School auditorium by the Lyman Drama Club. There is no admission charge.

The play, written by Marion Johnson, is the school's first production directed and produced by the students. The production is planned for the enjoyment of area youngsters as a community service. The drama students hope to take the play to entertain children in area hospitals, schools and other facilities.

The story has been enhanced by the original music and lyrics of Lyman's talented "Chris" Ostrander. Chip Paschal, who has appeared in many Lyman productions such as "The Royal Gambit" and "Applause" as well as "A Good Ill" production of "1776," is director. Costumes were designed by Cathy Casselberry. Sue Kewitch is stage manager and assistant director. Rob Cole plays the title role of Greensleeves, and Vicki Finlay co-stars as the grand duchess. Dean Rands portrays the king and Donna Setzer is the queen. Susan Kelley is Princess Matilda, Wendy Founds, Princess Miranda; Julie Schrader, Princess Mary; Dan Elbin, the farmer; Marty Elbin the tailor and Tim Jones, Fitzneze.

The play takes place in a kingdom where people are happy, laughing, singing and dancing until the grand duchess cast a spell on them, leaving them sad. By accident the princesses of the kingdom heard the words, "laugh, sing and dance," and in their quest to learn the meaning, met a mystical man named "Greensleeves." He taught them that to overcome the grand duchess they must be happy within themselves and soon the entire kingdom was dancing and singing with Greensleeves.

Dean Rands portrays the king of the joyless kingdom.

Vicki Finlay plays the grand duchess who cast a spell over everyone.

Tim Jones appears as the funny Fitzneze.

In And Around Winter Springs County Demos Honor Youths

Marcel and Dollie Snyder of Tusculum recently had a visit from Marcel's cousin and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Ness Jr. of Lake Junaluska, N.C. Dr. Ness is the executive secretary of the United Methodist Church. Shortly after the departure of the Nesses, the Snyders enjoyed a visit from their youngest son, 2nd Lt. Daniel W. Snyder, now stationed at Scott AFB, Ill. Lt. Snyder just completed a six-week computer application course at Keesler AFB, Biloxi, Miss.

Two Winter Springs youths were honored at a meeting of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee. Pam Roy and Cathy Holzman were presented with Outstanding Achievement Resolutions from that committee for their courage and citizenship by reporting drug abuses on their school bus despite threats and actual assaults by several of their peers.

Councilman and Mrs. Claude Ash of the Ranchlands are enjoying a visit from old and dear friends, Sam and Edna Reese of Bloomington, Ind. The couples will spend a week or so sightseeing in the Central Florida area and getting in some deep sea fishing off the East coast. John and Nancy Booth of Meadowlark had a visit from their daughter and son-in-law, Sue and Steve Rogers. The Rogers, both sergeants in the USAF, have just completed a two-year tour of duty in England. Enroute to their new duty station, the couple managed to visit with Steve's parents, Mildred and Mac Howell of Scotland Neck, N.C., before journeying to Winter Springs. Steve will serve as a law enforcement officer at Offut

AFB, Omaha, Neb. Susan will take a special secretarial course at Keesler AFB, Miss., before joining her husband at Offut. They expect to be stationed in Nebraska for two years. Willard Atherton of Hacienda Village is home recovering from yet another bout of surgery. His many friends applaud his courage and stamina and the dedication shown to him by his wife, Helen.

Winter Springs has two charming new citizens, Tara Marlene and Kara Darlene, twin daughters born to Nan and Harry Connolly of the Terraces in January. The girls weighed in at a tiny 3 lbs., 9 ounces and 3 lbs., 10 ounces and after spending several weeks in incubators, came home to join their parents and one-year-old brother, Harry Jr. Former councilman and resident of Winter Springs, David Outlaw paid a brief visit to the city several weeks ago. Now living in Omaha, Neb., he expressed regret that his visit was so short. He plans a more extended trip in the future and hopes to visit all his old friends at that time.

Living Will A Legacy To Die

DEAR ABBY: Last year you had something in your column about the Living Will. I'm sorry to say I didn't pay much attention to it then, but am interested in it now. Exactly what is it? And how can I get one? I am Jewish. Is it against my religion? Is it "euthanasia" or mercy killing?

DAVID IN BOSTON DEAR DAVID: The Living Will is a document stating that should you fall victim to a terminal illness from which there is no hope for your recovery, you instruct your physician not to prolong your life by artificial means, such as machines, tubes, pumps, etc. Copies of this document may be given to your physician, clergyman, lawyer and to as many family members and/or friends as you desire. To sign such a document, you must be 18 years or older and of sound mind. (If at any time you wish to revoke the document, you are free to do so.)

The Jewish view of the Living Will is as follows: It is NOT "euthanasia"—or mercy killing! There is a clear distinction between actively killing a person and "allowing him to die."

According to Jewish Law, when a person suffers irreversible brain damage and can no longer recite a "bracha"—a blessing to praise God—or perform a "mitzvah"—an act to help his fellowman—he is considered a "vegetable," and there is nothing to "save." It is thus an act of compassion to spare the family the suffering, anguish and expense of artificially prolonging the breathing and heartbeat when death is inevitable.

The Living Will does not give anyone permission to END the life of another in a "mercy-killing" manner. It is simply a document that one signs, stating that he (or she) does not want to have his (or her) life prolonged artificially after his physician decides that there is no hope for recovery.

I have signed such a document. You may get one by writing to The Living Will, 250 West 37th St., New York, N. Y. 10018. The document is free, but please send a few dollars (it's tax deductible) for the cost of printing and mailing the document to you. I sent $15 for six documents and have given one to my physician, clergyman and lawyer, and to members of my family.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN P. S. I am indebted to Rabbi Bernard S. Raskas, Temple Aaron of St. Paul, Minn., for providing me with the above information on the Jewish view of the right to die with dignity. I have written to my friend, The Reverend Norman Vincent Peale, asking to explain the Protestant view. I have also written to The Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, another friend of long standing, asking for the Catholic view. If they respond, I shall publish their letters.

New Orleans Carnival Is CulinaryFest

Gaiety in the streets — laughter, costumes and (perish the thought) even gluttony — mark the height of the carnival season in New Orleans. Mardi Gras, which means literally "Fat Tuesday" in French, describes the festival that antedates one self-imposed deprivation of Lent.

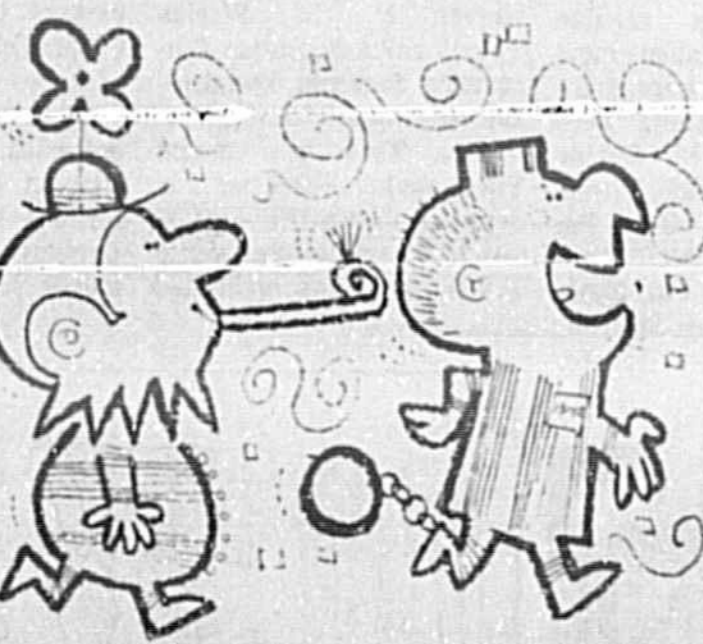

This year, Mardi Gras falls on March 2, the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday.

The festivities include more than 60 parades over a span of 12 days. Most are sponsored by krewe, secret societies with mythological backgrounds.

The first Mardi Gras is said to have been celebrated on a Mississippi mud bank in 1699. A proper commencement for the season is a party. King's Cake, or our version, Carnival Cake is shared by all participants. One pecan half is added to the batter, and whoever finds it is crowned king or queen of the Mardi Gras Night celebration.

No trip to New Orleans is complete without sampling one of their famous gumbos or creole dishes. Our Stouffed Gumbo is a savory main dish selection for a Mardi Gras buffet. Add Herbed Biscuits Marguita to enhance the gumbo flavor. Chicken Creole Crepes are typically French.

Mark Mardi Gras With Creole Food

CARNIVAL CAKE

2 cups enriched self-rising flour
1 teaspoon fresh lemon peel
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 carton (4 oz.) candied citron or lemon peel
1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 egg yolks
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup pecan half
Fluffy Frosting

2 cups enriched self-rising flour
2 eggs beaten
1/2 cup melted butter
1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup extra butter
1/2 cup pecan half
1/2 tsp. crushed thyme
1/2 tsp. crushed oregano
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 to 3 tbs. milk or water, optional

6 tablespoons hot water
1 cup sugar
4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon lemon extract
Food coloring

until the mixture reaches the soft-boil stage (200 deg.), about 6 to 8 minutes. Combine egg whites with cream of tartar; beat egg whites until stiff but not dry peaks form. Pour sugar syrup slowly into egg whites, beating at high speed. Add lemon extract and continue beating until frosting reaches spreading consistency. Add food coloring to make green, purple and yellow frosting. Spread colors alternately on cake.

1 cup enriched self-rising flour
3 eggs, beaten
1/2 tsp. melted butter
1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup extra butter
1/2 cup pecan half
1/2 tsp. crushed thyme
1/2 tsp. crushed oregano
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 to 3 tbs. milk or water, optional

6 tablespoons hot water
1 cup sugar
4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon lemon extract
Food coloring

1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tbs. butter, melted
1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce
1/2 cup white wine optional
1/4 tsp. hot pepper sauce
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. crushed thyme
1/2 tsp. crushed oregano
3 cups cooked diced chicken
Sauté green peppers, onion and garlic in butter until soft. Add remaining ingredients, simmer 1/2 hour. Add chicken, simmer 5 minutes more.

2 cups enriched self-rising flour
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 tsp. crushed thyme
1/2 tsp. crushed oregano
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 to 3 tbs. milk or water, optional

Save Money On More Than Just Stews

Single-Pot Cooking Has Many Merits

By TOM HOGE

AP Newsletters Writer
The catchall cookpot has been a favorite for ages, since the days when hearty nomads simmered the contents of the day's hunt over a brushwood fire while they swapped tall tales.

One-pot cooking not only saves time and effort, it also saves money as housewives are finding in these days of ever escalating food costs.

As most cooks know, the cheaper cuts of meat are preferable to the choicer ones when they are stewed because they retain their flavor and texture better than the more tender cuts. Coq au vin, for instance, was traditionally made with a rooster in the old days and it usually took several hours of simmering in wine to make it edible. An even longer session over the stove was needed to cook beef ragout back when our forefathers had to make do with the stringy Texas longhorns that were butchered after they had been herded over miles of trailways.

Meat is generally more tender and it is just as well, since most housewives have other interests in addition to cooking and want meals that do not require too much watching — meals that can be frozen and served again if they are leftovers.

Casseroles and the like are ideal if you are entertaining. They can be cooked ahead of time, put in the refrigerator and then reheated while you are serving cocktails.

Here is an example of one-pot cooking, known as creole beef casseroles.

2 tablespoons corn oil
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup onion chopped
1/2 pound ground round of beef (or chuck)
1 can (1 pound 3 ounces) tomatoes
1/2 cup dark corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
2 tablespoons corn starch
3 cups cooked rice
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
Heat oil in skillet over me-

Voulez Vous Parler En France? Just Try

PARIS (AP) — The French are divided into two categories: those waiting to get a telephone and those waiting to get a dial tone.

So goes a longtime joke about France's telephone system. Neglected by successive regimes, it has become a technical and administrative morass of scandalous proportions for an industrial country.

"Telecommunications have suffered and are still suffering from a state of underdevelopment not worthy of a great country like France," said Aymar Achille-Yvon, Minister of Posts, Telephones and Telecommunications — PTT.

A tabulation by American Telephone and Telegraph puts France in 19th place out of 26 countries, only a shade ahead of Spain. Sweden leads the world with 45.08 lines per 100 inhabitants, followed by the United States with 36.22. The current French figure is 12.2.

Only half the calls made in Paris get through on the first try, a parliamentary report said, yet telephone rates are among the highest in Europe and have just been hiked again. It takes an average of 18 months to get a new line installed and in many cases up to five years.

The United States and several European countries have fully automatic systems. There are still 400,000 manually operated lines in France.

Check Nursing Homes Carefully

Plans for Evacuating the Bedridden

Atmosphere — look for friendly, cheerful staff members who address patients by name, not nicknames, which tend to degrade. Check the bulletin board for activities, and pay an unannounced visit to the home in the evening hours.

If morale is high and scheduled activities are in progress, chances are you've found a good home.

You should also ask to see menus, and inquire about medical facilities. And don't overlook the element of personal freedom. Patients should be as active as their physical and mental health permit; they are entitled to be treated like guests rather than inmates.

A nursing home can be a positive, friendly haven for the aged and infirm. Careful questioning on your part will go a long way to ensure that atmosphere for a member of your family.

Cole Slaw: Old Favorite From Sante Fe Railroad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Some of America's regional cookbooks are homespun collections published privately by enterprising folk in various parts of the country.

About a dozen years ago Mrs. Louise Henderson of Cassville, Mo., who had a baking and catering business in her home, fulfilled a dream she wrote and published "Quiet Please! Genius at Work," a compilation of her favorite recipes enjoyed over the years. Since then Mrs. Henderson has compiled seven other small cookbooks, each selling for $1.50. One of them, "Just Like Mother Made: Ozark Recipes," is in its 19th printing.

One of the recipes in "Just Like Mother Made" is for Fred Harvey Cole Slaw. When I wrote Mrs. Henderson that I found the slaw delicious and wondered whether the Fred Harvey referred to was the famous Santa Fe Railway restaurateur, she answered: "Yes, I think the slaw is delicious. Yes, it came from the Fred Harvey Restaurant Collection. Bess Rowan, a friend of many years who lives in Tulsa, Okla., gave it to me. A friend of Bess's who has passed away, gave it to Bess in the early 1900s with the reminder to be sure to use peanut oil in it."

It's obvious from her cookbooks that Louise Henderson is a friendly person who has always been interested in attractive family-style cooking. Of her other small cookbooks, each success she says, "In my wild imagination I could never have dreamed how far and wide the books have gone." Through her cookbooks she has "met many people and made many friends" — some warmly appreciative of her work, others generous in sending their recipes to include in her books — to whom she feels "a peculiar closeness."

Shred one medium head cabbage and one small onion, cover with 1/2 cup sugar. Bring to boil; 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, 1/2 cup peanut oil, 1/2 cup vinegar, pour over shredded cabbage. Let stand at least 4 hours before serving. Good for 4 to 5 days. (From "Just Like Mother Made: Ozark Recipes" by Louise Henderson.)

Smathers Takes Over Where Stone Left Off

Computer Access Sounds Like Familiar Old Tune

TALLHASSEE (AP) — If Secretary of State Bruce Smathers' plan to provide computer access to state corporation records sound familiar, that's because it is.

"We were dedicating a video to the press," East said. "There were some days the press didn't even use it. As far behind as we were in corporations, I just decided we could make better use of it someplace else."

Monday when Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin said in an opinion that providing computer access to corporate records did not violate the search-fee law.

"The TV cameras are up on the third floor," Friedman said. "You can go up and tell them your welcome..."

Prisoner's Death Attracts Attention

TALLHASSEE (AP) — At about 6 a.m. on Jan. 19, Lee Wilson had an epileptic seizure in his cell at Florida State Prison.

proved conditions for inmates who require frequent medical care. Aides said Askew was "very upset" over Wilson's death.

Asked why he proposed the computer terminal to assure free public access to such records, that scheme was approved Monday when Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin said in an opinion that providing computer access to corporate records did not violate the search-fee law.

"The TV cameras are up on the third floor," Friedman said. "You can go up and tell them your welcome..."

Liberated From Cargo Vessel Between Key West-Cuba

Crewman Rescued After Two Days Adrift On Ghost Ship

KEY WEST (AP) — "I'm not what you would call a superstitious person, but it was kind of eerie," a sailor says of his two-day ordeal aboard a rusted, unpowered ghost ship still adrift in the Caribbean.

Charles Halla, 47, a New York tugboat crewman, was rescued Thursday after being stranded aboard a doomed World War II cargo ship in heavy seas.

forth on the deck, and the noises in the hold echoed like a cavern." Halla's ordeal began Tuesday when the "Biddle Ford" broke loose from its moorings here and drifted out to sea.

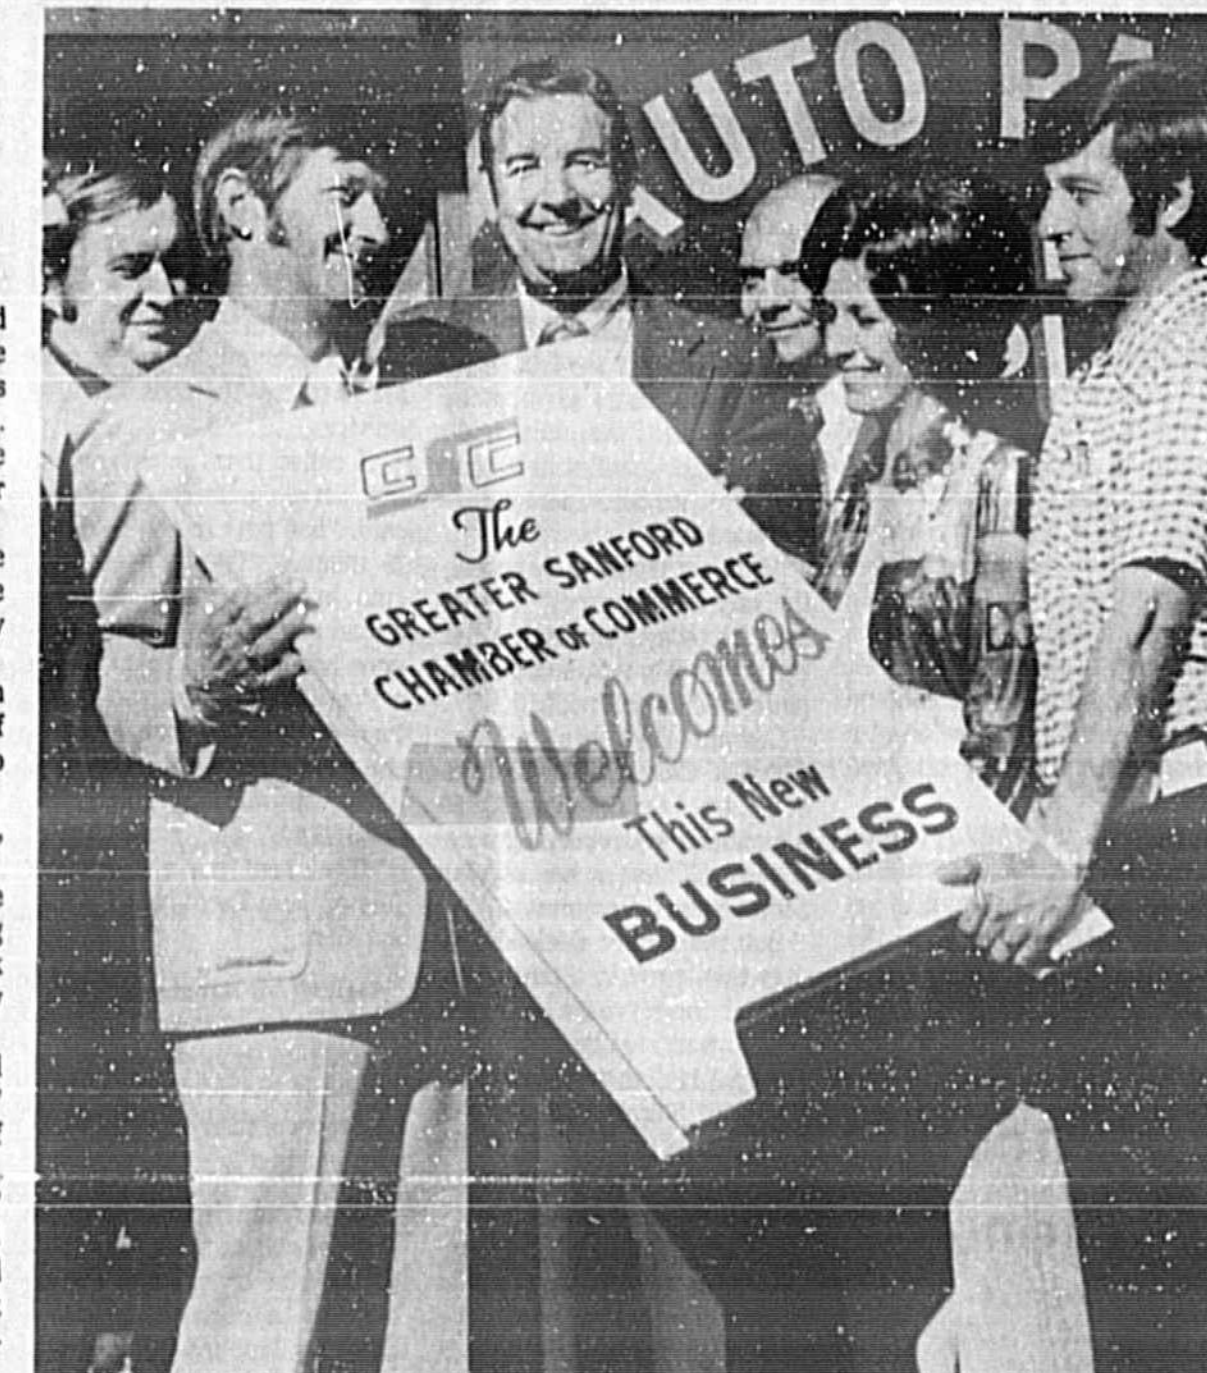

He made his way to the mess, but there was no food or water. "I read all the menus listed in a guide for stewards," he said. "Roast beef, prime rib, three vegetables. I read it avidly about three times."

He finally fell asleep, but was awakened the next morning by the "Wallo's" foghorn, alerting him to a Coast Guard helicopter that dropped a basket and line, then carried him back to Key West as the freighter drifted on toward Cuba.

Schick Grabs Derby Lead

By BOB ORRELL Herald Correspondent

Elgin Myers, Sanford, jumped into the lead in Sanford's First Annual Shad Derby Tuesday as he weighed in a four pound eight ounce entry to displace Clint Spillan by one ounce.

His lead lasted only two days however, being knocked out by a monster of five pounds eight ounces landed by Steven P. Schick also a Sanford resident.

Five year old Jimmy Caudon Jr., Sanford, weighed in two fish Thursday exactly the same weight — three pounds 13 ounces — both caught within an hour.
