CUBAN REBELS SURRENDER TO LOYAL TROOPS

Intense Bombardment Ends With Over 200 Killed Before White Flag Is Hauled Up

HAVANA, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—After hours of intense bombardment from land and sea, rebels late yesterday relinquished the last main stronghold of their bloody two-day rebellion, and bowed in defeat to loyal government troops.

The forces of Col. Fulgencio Batista poured a steady stream of steel and lead in the form of three-inch shells and machine gun and rifle bullets into the stronghold, ancient Atares castle, before the rebels ran up the white flag.

Their capitulation apparently broke the backbone of a revolution which brought death, destruction and terror to the capital.

On the blood-spattered floors inside the fortress lay approximately 15 dead and 40 wounded, including one woman.

After the fall of the castle it was announced at the presidential offices that Juan Diaz Hernández,

JOHNSON TALK CONFUSES NRA AND INDUSTRY

Many Groups Seek To Withdraw Proposed Codes. Basing Move On Chief's Remark

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Efforts were under way at NRA yesterday to dissuade a number of industries which on the strength of a line spoken by Hugh S. Johnson at Chicago last Monday, had sought to withdraw their proposed codes.

"No industry has to submit to a code unless it is abusing labor," said Johnson in the Chicago speech. "It simply is not true that any industry has been coerced into it."

A handful of industrial or trade groups' word deputies here suggesting that on the strength of that utterance they wished to withdraw. The NRA men, nonplussed at first, finally got in touch with Johnson by telephone, cabled him from that he intended no change in policy and that those who have submitted codes should be advised to go through with them.

This reply was being given yesterday, together with a talk obtained by industry from being under codes. So far as could be learned, the

STEADY RELIEF WORK TO START BY NEXT WEEK

Fagg Tells Details Of Program Which To Bring $4,000,000 Into State Monthly

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Plans for a huge civil works program in Florida, with thousands of men regularly employed, were announced last night by Maurice Fagg, state civil works administrator, under authority of the newly headedsonce of the federal relief administration.

Approximately 60,000 men drawn from the 300,000 families now on the state's emergency relief rolls will be employed by Nov. 10 on public work such as parks, roads, mosquito control, water supply improvements and similar projects.

Additional federal allotments monthly, he said, are expected to be made to Florida from the $10,000,000 fund set up for the national civil works administration to put 4,000,000 men to work. Florida now is receiving $1,250,000 monthly for emergency relief.

Florida bread winners who do not obtain immediate regular employment under the new schedule will continue to receive relief funds to tide them over the winter. However, Fagg said the plan was to net at least 50 percent of the persons now on relief rolls on steady employment at regular wages immediately, with the other 50 percent to be put to work as rapidly as possible. Projects will continue at least until Feb. 15, and longer if Congress approves, he added.

Fagg, who was made civil works director for Florida in addition to his duties as emergency relief director, pointed out that cities and communities which have worked "through to completion entirely with federal funds. The civil works administration will furnish all labor and 30 percent of the total cost of project for materials.

In other words," Fagg explained, "if a project costing $10,000 is approved, and $7000 of it represents labor, and $3000 represents materials the civil works administration will shoulder the entire cost.

It is the opportunity of a lifetime for cities, counties and even the smallest communities to get their long desired public improvements."

He addressed a meeting of the Indiana Associated Press here, asserting that "when a government begins to fail in the execution of its policy, it normally follows that an attempt will be made to stop any criticism of that policy." Mr. Harris said: "The only way to stop criticism is to control or to censor the mediums for the free expression of thought."

This, he said, is now being attempted by the United States government. He described the situation as a "crisis which will determine whether the Constitution still lives and whether we are to continue to enjoy the right of free speech and a free press."

"The people must be awakened to the peril which is confronting them today," Mr. Harris told the editors, "or we shall find the United States in the same position as the European countries."

Editor Challenges Johnson To Settle Free Press Dispute

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—E. H. Harris, of Richmond, Ind., publisher and secretary of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said recently that if General Hugh Johnson, National Recovery Administrator, "in his desire to preserve a free press," he will permit inclusion in the newspaper code of the section "preserving the freedom of the press."

Mr. Harris, a member of the A. N. P. A. committee drafting the code, added that "such action would clarify a point which has been in controversy between the administrator and the newspaper code committee for several months."

He addressed a meeting of the Indiana Associated Press here, asserting that "when a government begins to fail in the execution of its policy, it normally follows that an attempt will be made to stop any criticism of that policy." Young Hart's car was found today ten miles northeast of San Jose, and officers are seeking to trace the kidnappers to there. The car was reported to the sheriff's office by a rancher named Belcher, its number and description positively identifying it.

Hart, who last September became a member of the firm of J. H. Hart and Son, owned by his father, was unusually punctual in his habits. When he failed to appear from his home and was not heard from for hours an intensive search started.

Officers told of what they believed was a previous attempt to kidnap the boy when three men in a large car tried to crowd his automobile to the curb but were unsuccessful. They followed him several blocks until he outdistanced them.

4 Die In Flames As Plane Crashes Into Forest During Fog

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Four persons were killed and five were seriously injured when a southbound United Air Lines passenger plane crashed into thickly wooded hills near here last night and burst into flames after the pilot apparently had lost his way in the dense fog.

The four killed were burned beyond recognition, and only after the heroic efforts of a 20 year old stewardess and the co-pilot saved the other occupants from a similar fate. The pilot and three passengers are dead and the co-pilot and four passengers are injured. The stewardess escaped unharmed.

Miss Libby Wurgaff, and co-pilot H. B. Woodworth, the latter with a broken nose, made trip after trip to the burning wreckage braving the danger of the explosion of the fuel tank in dragging out the injured.

Young Californian Is Kidnaped While Leaving His Store

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Brooke Hart, 27-year-old son of A. J. Hart, San Jose department store proprietor, is reported by police to have been kidnapped as he left the store late yesterday afternoon.

Young Hart's car was found today ten miles northeast of San Jose, and officers are seeking to trace the kidnappers to there. The car was reported to the sheriff's office by a rancher named Belcher, its number and description positively identifying it.

Lecture On Seminoles Is Heard At Church

A talk on Seminole Indians and their customs was given yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Episcopal Parish House by Deaconess Bedell of Everglades.

The members of the Woman's Guild and the St. Agnes Guild of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

In her talk Deaconess Bedell stated that of the 500 Seminole Indians now existant only two are Christians. These Indians at the present time are building a hut for her in the heart of the Everglades and she expects to divide her time between this hut and the town of Everglades.

During a conference at the palace a young lieutenant arrived and embraced the president, shouting excitedly "Blas Hernandez is dead!"

Wounded persons at the emergency hospital later confirmed the fact that Hernandez was killed.

They added that a soldier whose name was not learned came into the hut just before the castle fell.

The surrender of Atares, however, did not end the guerrilla warfare which continued to keep the city in a state of panic. So persons were active at nightfall and scattered rifle and machine gun fire barked forth throughout the city.

The government took drastic steps to end the reign of terror and strengthened its state of war order by making it a "state of siege." No one was allowed in the streets after 6 P. M. without a military pass.

The new order called upon all civilians to return their arms.

Among those slightly wounded yesterday was a civilian who claimed to be an American. He refused to give his name and details of the shooting, saying he did not want the publicity.

Confusion reigned in the early evening and made it impossible to compile an accurate list of casualties since the movement was started at 2:25 A. M. Wednesday, but it was believed that more than 100 were killed and more than 200 wounded.

By the sharp, bitter movement, the rebels sought to reinstate Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, Grau San Martin's predecessor in the presidency.

The battle of Atares was the bitterest and most spectacular of the recent fights in war torn Cuba, of paintings, objects of art, books, period furniture and tapestries—one of the most valuable in the nation—will go under the hammer Nov. 23, 24, and 25 at the American Art Association and Eason galleries. No estimate has been placed on the value of the collection.

The Rev. Arthur M. Ackerson of New York City has arrived to spend some time here as the guest of the Rev. Martin J. Bram at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hawkins Connally, Palmetto Avenue.

While shell holes gaped in the walls of the ancient castle, the damage done to the fort had not affected the protection it offered from shellfire, and apparently the defenders could have held out longer if they had chosen to do so.

Lieut. Belisario Hernandez, in charge of the rebel prisoners, would permit outsiders no conversation with them.

The soldiers were in an ugly mood as snipers continued pattering from the rooftops. Detachments began searching all the houses in the vicinity.

Soldiers guarding prisoners fired two shots in their direction, causing Lieutenant Hernandez to shout:

"Don't shoot! Fire into the air if necessary!"

The soldiers then began carrying out arms, and in accordance with Hernandez' directions, tilted them on the lawns. Some of them protested they wanted to keep the captured weapons but Hernandez stamped that:

arrows," he said.

One of them, weeping, attempted to strike Hernandez, but two others disarmed and arrested him on charge of mutiny.

Meanwhile hundreds of russians and ukrainians continued rushing around the outskirts of the castle, fearlessly of bullets flying over their heads, apparently bent on looting the premises if they could.

The ambulance in which I entered and left the fortress departed with one dead and three wounded. One of the latter was a woman, blonde and small, who had been shot in the upper lip. Her face was swathed in bandages. She was about 20.

Cucumbers: Wauchula section will reach peak of movement in a few days. Quality and yields exceptionally good this fall. Fort Myers, with about 500 acres, has started shipping and will be heavy during middle of month. Crop in good condition.

Explanations: Hernando county is probably over peak of last fall movement. Manatee, Wauchula, Winter Garden and Sanford will start shipping in a few days with most plants rolling in mixed cars.

The Fort Myers crop of 150 acres will not start until December. The total state acreage for fall and winter picking is about the same as last year, 1960 acres.

Escambia: Plantings to date include 150 acres in Manatee county, 75 in Seminole, 50 in Orange and about 25 in Palm Beach. First escarole will probably come from Palmetto in middle of month. Last year at this time there were about 300 acres in fields.

Lettuce and romaine: Sanford has 175 acres of lettuce and 75 acres of romaine set to the fields.

Settings of both crops in Manatee county would not total over 100 acres, while Winter Garden has only 25 acres of lettuce set. Last year there were 210 acres of lettuce and 140 acres of romaine set at this time.

Green peas: Planting of peas in Lake Okeechobee section has started and about 700 acres have been planted by Nov. 1. Due to limited supplies of little marvel variety of seed, acreage in this section will not be over 4000 acres this year—which is about the same as was planted last year.

Peppers: Fall pepper acreage is estimated at 1000 acres and yield forecast at 150,000 bushels last year. 224,000 bushels were produced. County acreages are: Manatee, 300; Hardee, 200; Orange, 150; Lee, 100; Sarasota, 75; Hernando, Indian River and Seminole, 80 each, and 25 miscellaneous.

cumber crop in the latter part of November. Other early plantings include 400 acres in Broward, 250-300 in Indian River and 200 acres in lake region of Palm Beach county. Palm Beach county has earliest potatoes, and these can be dug in December. This crop is excellent condition.

Strawberries: Rains during middle of October enabled the strawberry grower to catch up with setting of berry plants and to make up for time lost in September. Acreage, however, will not reach last year's planting by 10 to 15 percent. Few berries will be picked last of this month, but no volume until middle of December.

Tomatoes: Fall crop—A recent check of fall acreage shows plantings as follows: Broward, 200; Collier, 400; Dade, 500; Indian River-St. Lucie, 100; Highland, 50; Lee, 350; Manatee, 250; Palm Beach, 100, and miscellaneous, 50, a total of 2000 acres compared with 2500 last year. First tomatoes will come from Palmetto. Fort Myers and Collier County and should start moving the middle of November. Shipments from this crop expected to reach 350 acres.

Winter crop: Heavy rains delayed planting of winter crop in Dade, Broward and Collier counties, and to date little acreage has been set. Intentions are for about the same acreage as last year or may be slight increase. There was about a 10,000-acre planting last year.

Seminole High Grid Season Will Be Climaxed In Game With Tigers Here Tomorrow

Climax to Seminole High School's 1933 football season will be reached at Municipal Park tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock when the eleven, in perfect physical condition and sensing a victory, will meet the always dangerous, ever powerful Orlando Tigers.

Four days of intensive drilling under Coach Leonard McLucas has had its effect, and tonight the boys were declared ready. They were given a more or less easy afternoon of it today, with the coach more interested in keeping them in the mood for victory than in sending them through another scrimmage.

Coach McLucas, in announcing his starting line-up, wears out stories which were current earlier in the week—that Claude Kelly, Leslie Harnage, and Jack Hughes have succeeded in taking the coveted first team backfield places away from Jimmy Dyson, George McClelland, and Bobbie Knight, respectively.

The line-up is as follows: Dennis and Goveeck, ends; Klaugher and Harrison, tackles; Ralph Pearson and Brannan, guards; Odham, center; Hughes, quarter; Miller, right half; Kelly, left half, and Harnage, fullback.

Enthusiasm over a possible victory, reaching into every classroom at Seminole High School, will culminate tonight in a monster pep meeting and rally near the Mayfair Hotel. A parade will follow this affair and until a late hour tonight, residents of Sanford will be hearing the shouts of Seminoles as they parade up and down local streets.

Another parade, with decorated cars, police escort and everything, will get under way at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with probably 600 pupils in line, and plenty of noise making devices in force.

Anticipating a record throng for the season, Coach McLucas has secured dozens of benches which are to be placed along the sidelines in hopes of giving spectators a seat for the game.

Orlando will send a delegation of from 500 to 750 persons, with the possibility that an Orlando band will come along as well. The Orlando team is supposed to be crippled by the loss of five of its star players, but all Seminole High players know that the report is "one of those things."

RFC CONTINUES TO RAISE PRICE FOR NEW GOLD

Another High Mark Reached At $33.45; Roosevelt Probes Effect Of Policies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(A.P.)—Daily increases in the RFC price for domestic gold proceeded as usual today after last night's White House conference at which developments in the monetary program were reviewed by the Chief Executive and his advisors.

Thirteen cents was added to the Federal corporation's quotation for gold newly mined in United States or its territories, carrying the figure to a new high of $33.45.

One thing the administration is affecting closely is the effect of dollar depreciation in the international exchange on government bond prices.

The President has made known that he has no concern over government bonds and a rally Saturday in these prices seems to have allayed administration fears in this respect.

The conference said just enough to indicate that no new move of policy in the monetary field was in prospect as a result of the meeting.

This was interpreted to mean that purchases by the Reconstruction Corporation of gold in the domestic and foreign markets would be continued.

Congressman Sears To Speak Before 50 At Breakfast Meet

An audience of more than 50 persons will greet Congressman W. J. Sears of Jacksonville when he delivers a scheduled address here tomorrow morning before members of the Central Florida Council of Chambers of Commerce as they gather in the Celery Club to observe the second anniversary of their organization.

Congressman Sears is to speak on "The Chamber of Commerce and its place in the Community" and its place in the community. He will motor back to Jacksonville later in the morning after paying a visit with Sanford friends.

G. E. Gilliland, secretary of the Deland Chamber of Commerce, will preside over the breakfast session which gets under way at 8:30 o'clock. Harry P. Pennington of the local trade body will de-serve an address of welcome. Charles G. Webb of Ocala will preside. M. P. Youell, head of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce, will deliver the invocation.

This organization, comprising membership of all trade bodies in an area bounded by St. Augustine and Ocala on the north and Winter Haven and Vero Beach on the south was created in Sanford two years ago. It holds monthly breakfast meetings which are attended by well-known speakers, and it aims at furthering the area in which it operates.

20 Tourists Register At Zoo Booth Sunday

Twenty persons among the several hundred who visited the Sanford Municipal Zoo yesterday afternoon between 1:00 o'clock and 5:00 o'clock, took time to visit the new trade body registration booth near the deer run, and give their impressions of the zoo and Florida on a card which was offered each visitor by Scouts Billy Zachary and John Morgan.

The data thus gathered reveals that the 20 registrants are from 10 different states other than Florida. All expressed pleasure and surprise over the size and variety of the use, and almost all of them declared Florida's climate to be ideal.

Each person also set down the name of his home town's leading newspaper and the name of its editor, and within a few days, these editors will receive an attractive folder advertising the use as well as Sanford, and a letter from the local trade body, saying that residents of the city in which the paper is published visited the zoo.

WIGGIN NAMED IN HUGE SUIT AGAINST BANK

Group Seeks To Recover Losses Claimed At $100,000,000 Laid To Mis-Management

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Albert H. Wiggin, former chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank and 135 directors of the bank were made defendants yesterday in a suit filed in supreme court to recover $100,000,000.

The suit was to recover losses which it was claimed that the bank had suffered as a result of altered negotiations, waste and mismanagement.

Wiggin, who received a pension of $10,000 annually until he voluntarily gave it up at the time of his recent testimony in the Senate committee investigation, was specifically charged with having utilized confidential information and past services to his own ends both directly and without regard to the interests of stockholders.

The suit charged that a series of negotiations were entered into by bank officials for their own benefit and to the detriment of the interests of stockholders.

Farish Finds Brick Relic Of Decisive Civil War Conflict

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—John H. Farish, a relic collector, has found a brick which he believes to be from the site of the old Old South House at Elm Avenue and 11th Street yesterday by H. B. French, a pioneer resident and founder of the Sanford community.

French, a lumberman, said he had been walking along the hill road to the new street and the brick is nothing more than a red brick, size 4x4 by 8x12 inches, weighing nearly four pounds.

It is interesting because it is inscribed on one of its flat faces are the words "Malvern Hill," and

"July 1, 1863." The figure of an old fashioned small star can be seen impressed in the brick.

An encyclopedic describes Malvern Hill as the scene of a battle fought near the north bank of the James River, about 15 miles southeast of Richmond, between the Federal Army of the Potomac numbering about 80,000 men under General George B. McClellan, and the Confederate Army, also numbering about 80,000 men under General Robert E. Lee. It was the last of the "Seven Days" battles, and the Confederates were defeated in their attempt to storm the Union batteries. About 300 Confederates were said to have been killed while the Union army lost about 2000 men.

Reports persist, however, that some members of the board are out of sympathy with the farm administration's plans for codes and agreements, and were also asked to delay in formulating such proposals awaiting action by the farm administration.

Friends of the late A. Rodger, former operator of the Lincoln House, recalled today that he be ascertained today, however, nor whether the brick was a souvenir

GERMANS CAST RECORD VOTES FOR HITLER

Policies Given Mighty Approval During Orderly Election Drawing 43,500,000

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Adolph Hitler is armed with the almost unanimous support of his people today to press his bold drive toward a new deal for Germany.

More than 90 percent of the qualified voters cast ballots in yesterday's Reichstag election and foreign policy plebiscite, and well over 90 percent of those electors voted on a resounding "Yes" for the Chancellor and his program.

Today the entire nation joined in a celebration of the event, headed by Nazi party leaders as the "Miracle of Germany becoming one people." No sooner had the result been indicated than propaganda Minister Goebbels, whose work figured in the large turnout at the polls, called for an all day long demonstration.

Unofficial returns on Sunday's Reichstag elections and the plebiscite vote gave Hitler's followers practically a unanimous victory and placed the people's seal of approval on the chancellor's withdrawal from the League of Nations and the Geneva arms treaty.

The final official count showed the following returns:

Plebiscite

Votes cast	43,430,046
For Nazis	40,608,804
No	2,100,181
Invalid	760,061

Reichstag Deputies

Votes cast	42,275,009
For Nazis	39,626,647
Invalid	3,348,352

The plebiscite results represented nearly 97 per cent of the total electorate in the Reich, and in the Reichstag vote, 90 per cent of the total voters eligible—a showing which even Hitler and his followers had not expected.

Thus, the various groups to represent at the conference have been out. An announcement for a conference soon in December will represent another chance to unite for the first time on the gold standard.

Monetarization of silver will be one of the subjects for discussion.
