

Work Begins On Building Band

Something new has been added to the curriculum at Oviedo High School and William A. Viehman III, newly appointed as the school's first band director, hopes it goes over.

Starting with only four youngsters who play a saxophone, trumpet, trombone and drums, Viehman hopes within a few years to have a fully complemented marching and concert band at the southeast Seminole County school.

At present, Viehman admits, with nothing to work with, the job looks pretty tough, but, he says, there are ways, ways and ways to start a band and start building.

A graduate of the music department at Boston University in DeLand, Viehman studied his major instrument the trumpet, under the famed Don Yaxley, who is acting dean of the department, and spent the past summer at Aspen, Colo., where he played in the symphony orchestra for the Aspen Festival.

Holding a degree in Music Education, Viehman has started working with a choral group at Oviedo and is planning to start the band aspirants out on a thing called a Flutofone which is considered a major breakthrough in the field of elementary wind instrument instruction.

The youngsters will work from the flutofones to beginning instruction on their favored instrument next year and then the process of band building begins in earnest.

One thing Viehman hopes to accomplish is the creation of parent interest and the organization of a parent's group to help the band by encouraging the students and to assist in fund raising drives for uniforms, instruments and music.

In the choral end of his activities, the new music man hopes to start the group working in three part arrangements of folk songs, well known semi-classics, and, in a year or two, to begin the serious work of singing some of the choral classics.

A native of Orlando, Viehman and his wife, Nina, have a seven months old daughter, Laurie Anna, and they hope to be able to move to Oviedo shortly and make their home there.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Books, Books, Books

A report from the Altamonte Elementary PTA advises that the number one project of the parent-teacher group for the year will be to get some 2,500 needed books to build the school library up to standards required for accreditation.

A similar report from Lake Mary states that the Elementary School there needs a minimum of 300 additional books to reach the desired goal.

In each community projects are being planned to add to funds and stock already on hand from last year's work, and, although many appeals for both have met with some measure of success, THE SCHOOLS STILL NEED BOOKS.

The Sanford Seminole Jaycees joined in the drive for South Seminole Elementary at Casselberry and it is assured that Altamonte and Lake Mary could use and would appreciate similar help from a civic or social organization.

Each individual, whether he lives in the areas involved or not, also could help with donations of books or money, or both.

Remember, these books are for the children . . . our stake in the future.

Rains Bring Flooding

BRADENTON (UPI) — Manatee County closed its schools today because of widespread flooding in rainstorms Thursday that dumped more than 13 inches on some areas.

Although the torrential rains eased up this morning and skies were clearing, several highways were under water in some places and streets were still flooded in Tampa and St. Petersburg. Most power service was restored after being knocked out during the night.

The Highway Patrol warned that many roads were impassable and some bridges had been washed out in Manatee and Pinellas Counties. The cold front was expected to move down through the southwestern part of the state, bringing cool, dry air.

A hurricane hunter plane was sent to check on the low pressure area centered in the Tampa Bay area. However, the pilot said the front showed no signs of developing into a tropical storm.

To the west, thunderstorms erupted during the evening from Idaho to western New Mexico. Hailstones nearly an inch in diameter pelted areas near Salt Lake City.

Meanwhile, a sure sign of cooler weather arrived in the national wildlife refuge near Cartersville, Ill. — some 500 Canadian geese.

No serious damage has been reported.

SR 436 has been closed to all but local traffic since the rains began... Overbrook Drive, Caselberry is pretty sloppy, too, and it is blocked off... the school buses out in the south end that serve the new Junior High School and elementary school in Caselberry are doing a land office business now with parents clamping down on bicycling to school in the mud...

Argentine Crisis Flares Anew

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentina's grave military crisis flared anew today. Rival Army groups deployed combat forces, and the government braced for an attack on Buenos Aires.

A shaky "cease fire" negotiated in the early morning hours collapsed by mid-day when three top government generals who had agreed to step down to solve the crisis changed their minds.

The War Ministry building was evacuated and headed for attack. Rebel Gen. Juan C. Olanis, charging betrayal, started moving tanks into Buenos Aires' western suburbs.

'Fight - If - We - Must' Stand Is Spurred On

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic leaders, spurred by fresh reports of the Communist arms buildup in Cuba, signaled today for fast House passage of a fight-if-we-must resolution and a bill to call up extra reservists in event they are needed.

The Senate passed the Cuban resolution, 86-1, Thursday. The lone opposition vote was cast by Sen. Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt.) who felt the resolution was not strong enough.

Previously, by unanimous vote, the Senate had passed legislation under which President Kennedy could call to duty up to 150,000 military reservists.

The House Rules Committee called a session today to clear the Cuban resolution for a House vote. Democratic leader Carl Albert, Okla., said the measure would be taken.

Probe Of Allied Dealing Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Paul G. Rogers (D-Fla.) called for a congressional investigation Thursday of the extent of allied shipping to Cuba.

Rogers said 105 ships belonging to "our closest allies" have been shipping goods to Cuba. He said diplomatic inquiries to the allies "illustrates the lack of concern some of these nations hold for the Cuban situation."

The congressman said he was informed a West German ship intends to dock in Texas after stopping in Cuba.

"That ship is to be loaded with American grain, and its destination is marked Norway. The grain is supposedly intended for delivery there, but a trans-shipment back to Cuba is suspected," Rogers said.

Rogers called for an embargo on shipping any American goods in ships owned by interests participating in Cuban traffic.

Sanford Rider Ready For Race

Hunt Firm Adds To Sanford Plans

It was revealed today that HLH Products and the Hunt Oil Co., are planning a new shopping center and apartment house development to be located at the corner of Onora Rd. and S. Sanford Ave.

Also in the books is the development of 40 acres of residential property around Silver Lake as a housing development for company employes and administrative personnel.

George McVay, director of real estate development for the Hunt Oil Company is expected to be in Sanford next week to concretize plans for the shopping center and housing development, according to company officials here.

Work on the construction of company facilities, the office building and plant for the HLH Products division of the big oil firm, is progressing on a schedule and County Engineer William Bush said today the Silver Lake Rd. extension to S. Sanford Ave. is expected to be ready "well before the company buildings will be completed, weather permitting."

North Orlando Suit Is Called Harassment

Officials of the North Orlando Co., declared today that the suit filed this week against them claiming $1,350,000 damages for breach of contract, is not well founded, and they termed it an effort to "harass" the company.

They emphasized that neither they nor their attorney, Mack Cleveland Jr., have had an adequate chance to study the charges filed by Landmark Enterprises, Inc., but they did say they were at a loss to understand why they were being sued "under the circumstances."

The suit alleges the North Orlando Company, and co-defendants, The North Orlando Utilities Company and Silver Creek Precision Engineering Corp., of Silver Creek, Md., deliberately did not make an effort to fulfill the terms of the contract.

The contract was an agreement whereby the North Orlando Company was to sell certain lots to the Landmark firm for developing and building homes, and out of the first 52 lots sold, and paid for in cash by the plaintiff, 35 of them were unusable, and it further alleges that the defendant companies knew the lots were not suited to the purposes of the plaintiff.

Lake Jessup Causeway Study Plan Revived

The County Commission will soon be asked to make a center line survey and cost estimate on the proposed Lake Jessup causeway project, it was learned today by The Herald.

The two and a half year old conversation piece has taken a new lease on life with the preparation of plans and drawings of the proposed causeway which will provide a direct-line link between Sanford and Oviedo via Sanford Ave.

The proposed route for the link will be out Sanford Ave., and directly across Lake Jessup to make a connection with SR 417.

Boekers of the plan point out that with the anticipated development of the Nova project a direct route to the Cape is a must for this county, and the Lake Jessup causeway is the logical development to provide it.

Max Coberly, local cartographer, has prepared a drawing of the project and the proposal for the survey will be made to the County Commission in the near future.

20th Victim Dies Of Encephalitis

BRADENTON (UPI) — An elderly woman has become Florida's 20th victim of encephalitis in the past three months and the first in Manatee County, health officials said Thursday.

The woman, described only as "in her 70's," died last Tuesday. County health officer Fredrick Allen said it sometimes takes a week to determine the definite cause of death in encephalitis cases.

Longwood Sets Budget Increase

Longwood adopted its 1968 budget Thursday night in the amount of $48,960, an increase of $2,280 over last year. The 10 mill tax levy remains the same.

Biggest items in the budget, other than salaries and the $9,785 debt service fund, are equipment and buildings at $7,250 and streets, parks and buildings at $5,000.

The fire department will get $1,750 and the police $1,800.

In other business at the meeting of the council, it was voted to get a survey as quickly as possible for the seven lots where the city's new water well is to be located.

Council members also spent considerable time discussing conditions of roads and streets and possible means of repair and improvement.

Kennedy Politics For Party Hopefuls

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — President Kennedy, opening his campaign for more Democrats in Congress, said Thursday night the voters must decide whether the nation moves ahead on returns to what he called the "do-nothing government" of the Eisenhower administration.

Kennedy told a crowd of about 10,000 persons in a dirt-floored livestock arena here that the 87th Congress had not "measured up to all that I had hoped."

What is needed, he said, is a "progressive Congress—in short, a Democratic Congress."

The president opened his formal fall effort to boost the House and Senate Democratic majorities at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner and television effort to back the gubernatorial candidacy of former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth and re-election of Sen. Joseph Clark.

Speaking in the home state of his predecessor, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Kennedy did not mention him by name. But he said that it was indeed a "cold day" when he took office in January, 1961.

"The nation's engine was idling," he said. "Around the world the picture was even more dreary."

The president promised that with more backers in Congress, the administration would enact such legislation as medical care for the aged and federal aid to education, which failed to get through the 87th Congress.

"More is at stake than what party controls the Congress and the various state governments," Kennedy said. "The American people on Nov. 6 must choose whether this nation is to sail or anchor down to deadlock and drift."

The Problem Of Worry

The great preacher, Henry Ward Beecher, said a long time ago, "It is not worry that kills men, it is worry." This reminds us that the problem of worry is not merely a modern problem. If we check the past centuries we find men living this terrible affliction all along the way. The Bible has numerous accounts of the agony of anxiety of some of its characters.

Great strides have been made in many fields of human endeavor and for this we can be very thankful, but certainly there is much to be learned in the progress that has been made in alleviating the scourge of worry. Perhaps many people would admit readily that they have a case for concern but eventually no longer, and at the same time have faith in a remedy for the harassment of the mind from which they would like to escape.

Actually, there is a cure for worry. This cure has been put into effect by some people to a most marvelous degree and the result has been a peace of mind and heart that many people

THIS IS - The Christian and Missionary Alliance

A Christian Conflict

Yes, Dr. Simpson founded an Alliance, but the name and cause are not in his name. He brought us the warm, vibrant message of the living Christ. He challenged us with the appalling need of millions who never heard of Christ. He rallied us to obey the command and follow the leadership of Christ. We are Christian allies in a worldwide missionary war; an all-out conflict against ignorance, superstition, cruelty and oppression, vice and abomination; a war of liberation to save the souls of men from the clutches of an enemy far more ruthless than any human dictator.

This war has raged fierce and long, but is far from won. Although our Alliance is assigned only certain sectors of the front, yet in those sectors alone there still remain vast areas unconquered. As each old field is occupied, receding horizons reveal new fields beyond. Neglected or hitherto untouched, such fields are always the Alliance objective and choice, and many such have been allocated our Society because of our recognized character as a prominently evangelistic and pioneer.

Challenge of a Heritage

From these fields, out of the blackness of their pagan night, there comes a Macedonian Cry. Even after two-thirds of a century, it still echoes. Dr. Simpson's impassioned first appeals—but with this difference. Now that appeal is uttered in the voice of 3,776 Alliance workers, speaking for a well defined Alliance Macedonia wherein there still remain unreached 55 tribes and 25,000,000 souls.

Our Founders' early pleas brought in response unstinted gifts and dedicated lives. What shall the answer be today? By outpouring gold of all these seventy-three years, by martyr graves that consecrate our every field, by "marks of Christ" that scar the hearts and hands of veterans and pioneers,—may more, but that red banner of the Cross that leads them on today let our response be just as fervent, just as sacrificial, just as real as their's has been. And let us count both an honor and a privilege to share with them Alliance fellowship and service.

In summary our principles are Biblical beliefs, premillennial program, scriptural methods, spiritual emphasis, sacrificial service, efficient operation, economical administration.

We are the sixth largest church group in the world in missionary activity.

THE END

REV. C. C. DEES, JR., PASTOR
Sanford Alliance Church
1401 PARK AVE.

The cure will not be found completely in some of the medicines that we take. A steamship company placed a large advertisement in a magazine which showed a beautiful ocean liner gliding through the water with the "greatest of ease." Above the picture of the ship was printed some enticing words which said, "A World Away from Worry on the World's Fastest Ship." I must admit that it would be most enjoyable to take the boat trip, but it is not likely that the world experienced would be away from all worry. We try many cures but find that none of them are adequate to do away with the tormenting effects of a disturbed mind if they are entirely of man.

The Lord of all has given us a directive that would be made if very plain in the Bible. Please turn to Matthew 6:33-34. It would also help to read Psalms 23 and 46 as well as many others to find that there is an answer. The only people whom I have ever known who are relatively free from worry are those who have faith in God.

So many people do have a wrong idea about life and the world in which we must live. The world is still the Lord's and He does love us. Christ said that even a little sparrow could not fall to the ground without the knowledge of the Heavenly Father. Surely our Lord cared for the lowly bird and yet we know that it was for man that He died because of His love. We can not always understand the things that happen in life as to detail, but if we will simply accept the promises of God, He will find that life takes on new meaning. He will find that it becomes infinitely worthwhile.

Let us hear anew and obey as Christ says to us, "Have faith in God."

Altamonte Man Issues Letter Concerning Church Meeting

Kenneth L. Barber, chairman of a five member pulpits committee who met with Rev. Lewis D. Haines on Sept. 5 concerning his plans in regard to his "revived" term as pastor of the Altamonte Springs First Baptist Church, this week issued a letter in relation to the meeting.

Barber strongly stressed that the pulpits committee represented members of the church considered in good standing and not to be termed as "former members."

He pointed out that the pastor and his group had tried unsuccessfully on several occasions to dismiss those members of the church who do not support Haines or condone his conduct.

According to Barber the committee attended the meeting with the understanding that representatives of both factions would have to be present before the minister discussed his decision concerning the pastorate.

He pointed out that although the committee stated its business merely to Rev. Haines, the men were informed that a spokesman had been

Area Ministers Lend Support To United Clothing Appeal

Churches in the Sanford area, under the sponsorship of the Sanford Area Ministerial Association, are conducting a drive to collect used clothing to be given to needy people. Their effort is a part of a program being carried out across the entire Southeastern United States this month under the guidance of Church World Service, a service organization of the National Council of Churches. Some congregations are cooperating in the appeal at this time by working through their denominational service agencies.

Anyone may cooperate by bringing clean, usable clothing to his church. Any serviceable clothing is acceptable. At the churches it will be folded, packed into boxes, labeled with the name of the church and stored in a central place. Church World Service trucks will pick it up for transportation to New Windsor, Md., where Church World Service has a huge processing plant. Here the clothing will be sorted and packed for shipment to areas where a particular type of clothing is needed.

Much of the clothing gathered in the Florida area is destined for use with Cuban refugees in Miami. Some 2,000 persons flood into refugee centers there every week while only a few hundred move out to other areas. Clothing for many persons, most of them having little or no income, is a relief problem of major proportions.

"You can help by giving the clothing you and your family will never use again," Rev. John Adams, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sanford and president of the Ministerial Assn., said today.

Festival Set At Ebenezer This Saturday

Entertainment and food for all age groups, including a spaghetti supper sponsored by the women and an auction sponsored by the men, will be offered. Hours are from 5 p. m. until 9 p. m.

Proceeds from the event will be applied toward paying off the church indebtedness, according to Rev. Ray Gregory, pastor at Ebenezer.

Scheduled in addition to the supper and auction are movies for the children, pony rides, train rides, a country store, a bake sale, a snack bar, basketball game, fortune teller's booth, Boy Scout booth and a candid camera man.

All departments and organizations, for both adult and youth, are assisting with the Festival which has been in preparation for the past two months.

Invitation has been extended to the general public to "come out and join the fun."

All members and friends of the church are urged to attend the supper and the meeting which will be in addition to the regular morning services also held at the Women's Club Building.

Canal Needed To Solve Drainage Problems

The only solution to the growing drainage problems in Seminole County is the early construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal, declared County Commissioner Vernon Dunn in a speech to the Sanford Jaycees Thursday.

The Commissioner pointed out that as long ago as three years there was started a joint move to begin the solution of the drainage problem posed by the natural drainage of northern Orange County into the Howell Creek basin and the Wekiva River Basin.

Dunn recounted the history of the joint effort and related the pertinent statistics. The original study made by engineers for Orange County had the cost of the installation of drainage ditches, bridges and canals, joining some 13 lakes, then included in the plans, at some $22,000,000, and the Seminole County portion of the public works project amounted to $9,000,000, as estimated by Reynolds, Smith and Hills, employed to work out the local end of the plan.

Since that time, Dunn said, the Orange County engineers have revised their estimates, and the latest figure, up for a referendum on a new bond issue at the coming election, is a vastly shriveled $6,000,000.

Dunn wonders if this indicates that the Seminole County portion of the bill is going to correspondingly increase.

He pointed out that the original plan developed by the county to the south included drainage ditches 210 feet wide, two 300 foot bridges, a 300 foot dam and similar major construction projects that would bring the Orange County portion up to Titusville Road in the southwest portion of this county.

Now that the number of lakes to be tied into the system in Orlando and Orange County has grown from the original 13 to 63, it means that the run-off water will originate as far away as Lake Ivanhoe in downtown Orlando.

"This water has to go somewhere, and the only place it can go is north to find its way eventually into the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe, and then begin a meandering course 150 miles to the ocean."

"The only feasible relief that can be found for this situation is the early start on the construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal," declared the commissioner.

Dunn said that if the present $9,000,000 scheme now in the works for Orange County stops at the Seminole County line, it means that the major construction load and cost is going to fall on this county, and "it will be up to us to work out a disposition of somebody else's drainage water, and there is nothing we can do about it but shoulder the burden."

The speaker declared this was the major problem confronting the County Commission, and it is one that must be worked on by every citizen of the county, "because it directly concerns everybody, and we can't escape it."

The road problem was briefly discussed and Dunn pointed out the vast discrepancies between assessed valuation of rural lands and selling price for highway rights of way, and other financial aspects of the road situation in Seminole County.

Nazarenes Set World-Wide Program

The Sanford Church of the Nazarenes will participate in a world-wide program this fall that has been designated as "Operation Doorbell."

Beginning Oct. 1, and continuing for 14 days, each family has pledged to contact 14 other families that do not attend church regularly and invite them to attend the special Rally Day services on Oct. 14th.

A special issue of the Herald of Holiness, a weekly publication of the denomination, has been prepared and will be distributed by each local church. Over 100,000 families are expected to be contacted during this campaign and are urged to attend church.

Rev. Paul Hickey, is pastor of the local church of the Nazarenes located at Second Street and Maple Avenue.

Kiwanians Hear Key Club Objectives

Four members of the Seminole High School Key Club which is sponsored by Kiwanis were guest speakers at the noon meeting Wednesday.

Eddie Hamilton, Steve Sewell, Jerry Whitmore and Robert Morris each did his share of the program, both seriously and humorously. Ernest Crowley was program chairman.

Eddie Hamilton spoke of the projects of the Key Club for this year which include the following:

1. A sign at the junction of 26th St. and the street leading into the new high school, preferably decorated with the famous Seminole Indian and clearly pointing the way so that out of town visitors and visiting students can find the school.
2. A Keyhole newspaper.
3. Seminole Indian stickers to be sold.
4. The Key Club Ball on Dec. 22.
5. All Key Clubbers to attend church on Sunday in a body.

Jerry Whitmore spoke of the meaning of the membership pledge of Key Club, which includes the development of initiative and good citizenship and building the community with service to God and the nation.

Whitmore emphasized that the Key Club encourages original ideas and independent action and urged its members to know, understand and appreciate the rights of American citizens.

Steve Sewell spoke on the advantages of the democratic government in which many people help to run the government. He said that the traditional threat to democracy is totalitarianism, be it Fascism, Nazism or Communism.

Democracy recognizes man's equality, liberty and fraternity, he said, and recalled the Four Freedoms—Freedom of Speech, Freedom of Religion, Freedom of Peace and Freedom of Assembly and Organization.

Robert Morris did an original take-off on a parody of a Shelby Berman monologue, that brought many chuckles and laughs from the appreciative audience.

GRAPEFRUIT SHERBET, a new innovation of Perfection Dairies, served free all day Thursday at Mrs. Appleby's Restaurant, is "taste-tested" by Municipal Judge Kenneth McIntosh and Mrs. Letha Fowler, secretary to Judge Vernon Mize, as they were photographed eating lunch at the popular restaurant. Both voted affirmatively for the new sherbet, saying it is "Delicious!" (Herald Photo)

GLAMOROUS VISITORS in town, (who may one day become semi-permanent residents) were Mr. and Mrs. William Boutwell, who left Wednesday for New York, after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Olan Boutwell in their Lech Arbor home.

The beautiful and charming Mrs. Boutwell still holds the title of her maiden name, Princess Vijaya of Nabha, and Karachi, Pakistan. In addition she holds Bachelor of Science degrees in Political Science and History.

The exotic-looking Princess, whose flawless English and clipped British accent belie her old-world appearance in the beautiful Paris-made car, paid her second visit, while here, to the Lake Mary Elementary School class of young Ella Boutwell, and was also a guest of Ruth Boutwell at the Methodist Canteen Memorial Sunday School class.

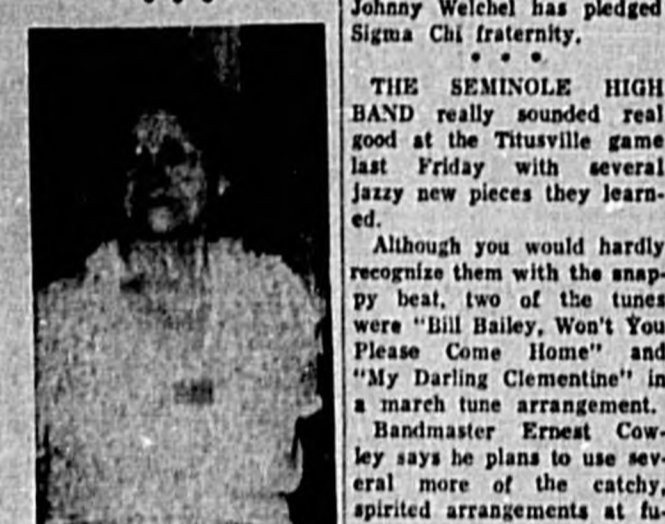

At Sunday School Sunday, the Princess identified herself as a "traveler," with intended humor, since she has flown to Pakistan and back three times since her last visit to Sanford the latter part of February.

"At that time, her fiancé, Bill Boutwell, an architectural engineer who has worked for many years in Pakistan, brought her down for the annual gathering of the big Boutwell family of three sisters and three brothers and their various spouses and families.

The family happily approved of the gracious and vivacious Princess and she of them, and she also heartily approved of Sanford, the surrounding area and all of Florida that she has seen so far.

Negotiations are now underway by husband Bill to purchase property on which to build a Florida home, though commitments in Washington, headquarters of the architectural firm, apparently will not permit year-round residence.

Eventually, Sanfordites will have the opportunity to meet the Princess and Bill. Your columnist, for one, finds it quite delightful to be counted among the friends of this charming couple and predicts that they will add their own special contribution to the social life of the community.

MRS. THORNTON SIXTY-THREE YEARS is a long time to be married. It's a lifetime—a good lifetime when two people have learned to understand each other.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. "Billy" Thornton have spent almost all of their 63 years together in Sanford, coming here in 1903, three years after they were married at the Epworth Church in Columbus, Ga. However, the couple met in Winter Park where Mrs. Thornton's folks were living. She was teaching school in Jasper.

Apparently a born teacher and enjoying the work, Mrs. Thornton later had to give up teaching, but continued her work through the teaching of the Dependable Sunday School Class at the First Methodist Church, a position she held for 26 years.

An active and joyful Christian, she says that of all the things she ever did she enjoyed the years when she served as president of the Missionary Society and in that capacity traveled all over the state, meeting many people.

Another little job that she once had, which brought her a lot of enjoyment was the years when she served as a writer for the Herald, chronicling the social affairs of the town.

A few years after they moved to Sanford, Mr. Thornton accepted a job at a rural mail carrier and continued this until retirement.

"Patience," said Mrs. Thornton with a twinkle in her eye, "is probably the most important thing to have to be able to reach your 63rd wedding anniversary. Patience on both sides."

Mrs. Thornton is 63 and her husband 64. He did not give up his views because the advancing presence of atherosclerosis has left him unable to speak, but over these many long years together, Mrs. Thornton understands him pretty well without any need for words.

The bright-eyed little lady was the subject of many comments to your columnist. Friends called to tell me of her goodness, her "real Christianity," her unfailing kindness and warmth of spirit that have won for her an uncounted host of friends, all around Sanford, and especially in First Church.

EAST AND WEST DID MEET when Cupid aimed his magic bow at this couple. William H. Boutwell, formerly of Hattiesburg, Miss., now of Karachi, Pakistan and Washington, D. C., is shown here with his bride, the former Princess Vijaya of Nabha, India, and Karachi, now of Washington, D. C., and Sanford. The couple recently visited here with Major (USAFR) and Mrs. Olan Boutwell. (Herald Photo)

Lake Mary Club Plans Book Drive

Guests for the luncheon were Mrs. Irvin Feinberg, Mrs. R. C. Carlson, Mrs. C. J. Green and Mrs. Erwin Senkbell.

"The Art of Permanent Flower Arranging" was the topic chosen by Mrs. Frank Donahoe when she addressed the Lake Mary Women's Club at the monthly meeting.

Club members and their guests met at Spencer's Restaurant in Sanford for luncheon, followed by the demonstration of techniques of flower arrangements in the oriental, modern and traditional styles.

Beautiful combinations for the holiday season were created by Mrs. Donahoe, reminding members that plans for Thanksgiving and Christmas must be made soon.

At the business session, Mrs. Leonard Dunn, president, thanked all who had helped make the September Luau luncheon for the Lake Mary Elementary School teachers such a success. It was announced that the Lake Mary Club and the Elementary School will sponsor a book drive in the Lake Mary area.

School principal, Floyd Richards, has announced that the school is lacking 1,000 books in the school library at present and must build up a library to meet state accreditation standards. The Woman's Club is sponsoring the drive with Mrs. Olan Boutwell serving as chairman. Donations of used books suitable for grades one through six are requested. New books cost about $2 each and cash donations of any amounts are acceptable.

The club has started the drive with a $50 donation and others have contributed. Books or donations may be left at Lillian Cordens' Beauty Shop on Crystal Lake Blvd., in Lake Mary.

Another program being planned by the club is a workshop program in entertainment, hobbies, arts and crafts for residents of the Seminole County Home. The club will furnish materials and volunteers will assist with the monthly workshop.

Mrs. James P. Avery and her committee have visited the home and presented gifts of cakes, cards and birthday remembrances. She would like to have more books, magazines and games suitable for recreation for the elderly people at the home.

Miss Diane Batey Marries Alva Leroy Collins Jr.

Miss Diane Ed Batey and Alva Leroy Collins Jr. were united in marriage Sept. 8 at 5 p.m. at the Wesley Foundation Chapel in Gainesville.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Smith Batey, Gainesville, and Hal Crockett Jr. of Melrose, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Leroy Collins of Ocala and formerly of Sanford.

Mr. Collins is the brother of Mrs. Eugene Estridge 3rd, and the bride is the niece of Mrs. J. E. Ray, both of Sanford.

Rev. Thaxton Springfield officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Hal Smith Batey, of Jacksonville, wore a gown of peau de soie, featuring a bateau neckline outlined with Alencon lace and seed pearls and elbow length sleeves. The fitted bodice joined the skirt with a princess panel front and inverted pleats on side panels with appliques of lace and seed pearls.

A forward cap fashioned of clusters of pearl edged Alencon lace petals was secured to her fingertip veil of silk English Illusion and she carried a crescent of white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Louise Hack was maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Matthews, bridesmaid and Miss Lynn Freeman of Leesburg was flower girl. The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore street length dresses of emerald green peau satin, featuring low scooped necklines, short sleeves and circular overskirts. They wore matching veils and head pieces and carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums. The flower girl wore a white dress of eyelet embroidered voile with hat similar to the bridesmaid's.

Joseph Paul Irwin of Albion, Mich., was best man and serving as ushers were Sidney Whitaker, Sankatchewas, Canada, and Eugene Estridge, Sanford, brother-in-law of the groom.

The chapel was decorated with an altar arrangement of white stock and chrysanthemums, backed with area palms. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Arnold Wirtala, organist, and Miss Carol Ann McDowell, soloist, sang "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Mrs. Smith Batey was hostess at a reception immediately following the ceremony in the church parlor. Decorations included potted palms, arrangements of white stock, mums and yellow roses and silver candelabra.

Mrs. J. E. Turlington and Mrs. J. Hillis Miller greeted guests at the door and Mr. Eugene Estridge was in charge of the guest book. Rice bags were presented to those attending and music from the Viennese Classical period was provided during the reception hours by Dr. Robert Carson, violinist.

The couple left for a wedding trip on Jekyll Island. They will reside in Durham, N. C., where Mr. Collins will attend graduate school at Duke University.

If you must disagree, do it gently. "There's also this to consider..." is a good start.

Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich Mavel Visiting In North Orlando

Special guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Salter in North Orlando are Mrs. Salter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich Mavel, from Duesseldorf, West Germany.

They came over to America in March and plan to spend a year in this country. This is Mrs. Mavel's second trip to the U. S. Her first was a visit to California but this is the first visit for her husband.

The Salters are planning a trip to California for the group while the visitors are here. They will have quite a reunion in California with the Salters' grandchildren, that they will be seeing for the first time, and the Mavels' great grandchildren.

Mr. Mavel is a retired "Fine Maccanic." They have two other children in Germany. While here they have already driven over the route from Jacksonville to Orlando and each weekend the Salters take them on a 30 or 40 mile tour in this area, showing them the Florida attractions.

The couple is impressed with all the vacant land in Florida. Mr. Mavel said, "There is so much land here with no one living on it that you could put the whole German Republic on the vacant space and still have plenty left over." One of the scenic places they have visited, recently, was Sanibel Island.

In four years the Mavels will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. They are already planning to make another visit to the U. S. the following year. They are both 70 years old. Mr. Salter is also retired and they have lived in North Orlando for three and one half years.

Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, Mother Advisor, presented Miss Linda Williams, retiring Worthy Advisor, with a Rainbow Bible, as gift from the assembly. Miss Williams is also serving as Grand Representative to Alabama, from the Grand Assembly of Florida.

The beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bondar on Country Club Drive in Rolling Hills was the scene of a fabulous Luau on Saturday night, Sept. 15, when they entertained a large group of the "Party of the Month Club" where they also are members. The block-long driveway to the house was bordered with flaming torches.

All guests came attired in gray Hawaiian costumes and enjoyed dancing and dining on the spacious patio as well as swimming in the pool. The patio was converted into a tropical paradise, decorated with bamboo, palm fronds, banana leaves and carved tikis highlighted with a profusion of hibiscus and artificial orchids.

The exciting centerpiece was a volcano created from a mountain of crushed ice topped by a bowl of flaming brandy and filled with chunks of fresh fruit. Palm spathes were used as serving trays and the punch was served in cups made of giant bamboo. Many varieties of fresh fruits and tempting hors d'oeuvres were served with a menu which included roast ham, barbecued chicken, fried rice,

Miss Sherlene Shepard, past Grand Faith and Grand Hope, was introduced and given Grand honors. Mrs. Reynolds states that this was the first time in the history of the local assembly that three generations of a family

Garden Gate

Central Circle
By Mrs. R. W. Turner
September is the time of year when our gardens seem to be fading so it's time we started weeding flower beds and preparing the soil to start plants for the winter months.

One may have a colorful garden and an abundance of cut flowers every month of the year, by wisely selecting varieties and planting seeds at the proper intervals to give a succession of plants for bedding.

Annuals, we wish to think about right now, are the hardy frost resisting cool weather plants, seeds of which are sown in autumn that they may take advantage of the temperate climate months from November to May.

The use of annuals is endless, the many variety of colors, habits, growth and their effectiveness in arrangements, account for their popularity. They are also indispensable for that necessary touch of color in window boxes.

The best seeds one can buy are the only seeds worth planting. Almost any annual will grow in Central Florida, so why not try some of the varieties. Local florists will soon have seedlings for those who do not plant their own seed.

If you prefer to plant your seeds, pasteurization of soil is recommended. Most soil cooked at 100 degrees for a couple of hours should be free of damping off. When this is not feasible, the soil may be treated with formalin, one of the soil fumigants obtainable at all feed stores. Place flats or boxes on protected benches and select a cool location, preferably the north side of a house or under a tree. After germination remove flats to the light. Annuals which have very large seeds and those which do not transplant readily are planted in the open ground. Sow these seed in shallow trenches, cover lightly and sprinkle with a damping off control. If ants are nearby, sprinkle with chlordane dust. It is necessary for Florida gardeners to protect their charges with effective insecticides, such as house and garden bug sprays.

Among annuals that may be planted soon are baby's breath, sweet peas, calendulas, candy tuft, pansies, snapdragons, carnations, petunias, sweet alyssum, phlox and pinks.

Bonders Hold Hawaiian Luau

By Jane Casselberry
The beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bondar on Country Club Drive in Rolling Hills was the scene of a fabulous Luau on Saturday night, Sept. 15, when they entertained a large group of the "Party of the Month Club" where they also are members. The block-long driveway to the house was bordered with flaming torches.

All guests came attired in gray Hawaiian costumes and enjoyed dancing and dining on the spacious patio as well as swimming in the pool. The patio was converted into a tropical paradise, decorated with bamboo, palm fronds, banana leaves and carved tikis highlighted with a profusion of hibiscus and artificial orchids.

The exciting centerpiece was a volcano created from a mountain of crushed ice topped by a bowl of flaming brandy and filled with chunks of fresh fruit. Palm spathes were used as serving trays and the punch was served in cups made of giant bamboo. Many varieties of fresh fruits and tempting hors d'oeuvres were served with a menu which included roast ham, barbecued chicken, fried rice, baked yams, congealed salad and fortune cookies.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. George Culpepper, Dr. Mrs. Stuart Culpepper, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Adkins, Dr. and Mrs. Claude Adkins, Dr. and Mrs. Robert McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Helms, Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pavelchek, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Cousineau, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Warnke, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dome, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burbank, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Altman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pemppek, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Morris, Roy Banbell, Mrs. Marge Fagan, Mayor and Mrs. Al Lormann, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baxter, Ray McCord, Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have a daughter who is 34 years old. She graduated from the State University so you know she is no dummy. She has been going with a divorced man for the past five years. According to her they have no plans for marriage. This man told our daughter that the best check he writes out every month is the one for his alimony, and he doesn't care to get married again. Our daughter is satisfied just to "go" with him. She has her own apartment and is self-supporting, but we think someone ought to tell her that "going" with a man with no marriage in sight is not respectable. Or do you think it is?

CHARLESTON

DEAR CHARLESTON: It is your daughter's privilege to "go" with a man if she chooses. Whether it is "respectable" or not depends on where she goes with him... and how far.

DEAR ABBY: When I was hired for this job I wasn't told that I would have to take vitamin pills every morning. Our boss is a real nut on the subject and she stands right over your desk to make sure you take vitamin pills. Now I am 33 years old and I don't need anyone to tell me what's good for me. These pills come up on me (excuse me) and I have a very disagreeable taste in my mouth all morning. Must I quit a good paying job over something so foolish? ANTI-VITAMIN PILLS

DEAR ANTI: Tell your boss (confidentially) that the pills disagree with you and I'm sure they won't be "brought up" (excuse me?) again.

DEAR ABBY: My wife's parents live downstairs and we live upstairs. Every evening her old man comes up here and asks if we are through with the newspaper. Sometimes we are and sometimes we aren't, but we always give it to him just to be nice. If a page is missing I get a telephone call and have to hunt it up and bring it down. I don't dare to work the crossword puzzle because her old lady likes to do it. And my wife can't tear anything out of the paper because we get a beef if something is missing. Who should tell them to buy their own paper? Since they're my wife's parents, I think it's her job. BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Wrong! Buy your in-laws a yearly subscription to the newspaper for their Christmas, anniversary or birthday presents.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

America recovered 13 International Match points at the end of the sixth session of the World Championship match when Charley Cook clinched a score of unusual bids with a next play.

Sitting West he not only responded in hearts but rebid to four hearts rather than show his tremendous spade support.

North opened the four of spades. Dummy played low and South's ten forced Charley's queen. Then he played the ace of hearts, a heart to dummy's king, and the six of diamonds from dummy.

South played low and Charley's ten forced North's king. North played his last heart.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

There's a rumor afoot that mink is beginning to slip as a status symbol.

Maybe it's a good thing. It does seem that in the last few years some women got to depend a bit too much on the quality of their mink coats and stoles to tell the world that the women beneath was something special.

Haven't you often seen a woman, with no obvious assets but a carelessly worn, expensive mink, putting on the airs of a duchess with salesgirls, or looking slightly over the heads of unlinked women?

Didn't it make you wonder what a woman depended on in the summer to justify such arrogant airs, or if she just put them aside when her mink went into storage?

The trouble is, it has been so easy for a woman to toss a mink coat over her shoulders and decide that the mink made her something special—special enough so that she could act bored, instead of exerting herself to be charming; so that she could act impatient and demanding with those who served her, smug in the belief that the mink gave her certain privileges of rank.

Of course, mink doesn't affect all women in that particular way. But for those who actually believed that mink could lend them status—it sometimes had a pretty sad effect.

No woman who loves beautiful furs wants to see mink go out of fashion. But it might be a good thing for the world to get around that it can no longer be counted on to give a woman status, since a lot of women have obviously come to believe that it can.

The trouble is—the women who believe you can buy status will probably take up the newest status symbol (whatever replaces mink) and depend on it to impress others the way they learned to lean on mink.

JOCK MAHONEY faces a deadly cobra in one of the pulse-tinging scenes of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Tarzan Goes to India," in which the muscular former stunt man portrays the screen's 18th Tarzan. The new picture, in CinemaScope and Metrocolor, was photographed entirely on locations in India.

Tarzan Back In Town

Tarzan is back in town! The famous Ape Man, whose legendary jungle adventures have thrilled more than a billion film-goers since his movie debut back in 1915, leaves his native Africa for the mysterious jungle of India in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Tarzan Goes to India," filmed in CinemaScope and Metrocolor, coming to the Movieland Drive-in Sunday.

With Jock Mahoney starring as the screen's 18th "Tarzan," Producer By Weintraub and Director John Guil-lerin, together with a cast and crew of more than 100 persons, traveled to the jungles of Mysore Province, where the exciting adventures of "Tarzan Goes to India" were filmed on location.

The other feature on the program is "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" with James Stewart.

Horror Film Ritz Bound

Millions of American movie fans and Edgar Allan Poe mystery lovers who were thrilled by "House of Usher," "The Pit and the Pendulum" and "The Premature Burial" are in for the biggest thrill chiller motion picture treat of all time when American International's "Poe's Tales of Terror" comes to town Sunday at the Ritz.

This time it's not one, but three of Poe's most terrifying stories, tales which no one has even before dared to film. Now, American International Pictures, which made the other Poe thrillers so unforgettable, has come up with the ultimate in film terror entertainment.

Vincent Price (in an unique triple role), Peter Lorre, and Basil Rathbone, whose very names bring shivers to movie fans, are the stars of "Poe's Tales of Terror." Add four beautiful and talented actresses, Debra Paget, Joyce Jameson, Maggie Pierce, and Leona Gage, and the result is a guarantee of unsurpassed motion picture excitement and thrills.

The three Edgar Allan Poe stories upon which "Tales of Terror" is based are "The Black Cat," "Morella," and "The Facts in the Case of M. Valdemar." These bring to the screen for the first time in one picture all the gripping psychological terror elements which have made Poe's the most memorable works of their kind in all of fiction literature.

These elements add up to Poe's most chilling themes of horror—burial alive, a return from the grave, and the fiendish use of hypnotism.

Long Count Set For Heavyweight Title Contest

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chairman Joseph Triner of the Illinois State Athletic Commission announced a "long count" today for the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight Tuesday night.

And the tricky count could be the cause of a hassle reminiscent of the historic Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey "long-count" controversy, which exploded in Chicago 35 years ago Saturday night—Sept. 22, 1927.

Triner's announcement dealt with what happens if either champion Patterson or challenger Liston is belted out of the ring and off the ring-apron into the press seats.

The fact that the ousted fighter must climb back into the ring within 20 seconds or be counted out is not exactly new. But the following commission edict is brand new: If the ousted boxer climbs back into the ring before the count reaches 18, he must take a mandatory count on his feet until the count does reach 18.

In other words, if he returns quickly to the ring, at "8" or "9" for example, he must take an additional "10" or "9" before his opponent can get at him again.

Thus, whoever referees Tuesday's scheduled 15-round fight—under the terrific tensions associated with this $7 million classic—now has two mandatory counts to befuddle him—an eight-count in case of a knockdown inside the ring and an 18-count for an off-the-ring-apron fight.

Many referees have difficulty remembering what to do with the simple eight-counter, which never was used in a title fight until Patterson's manager Gus D'Amato insisted upon it for Floyd's third championship bout with Ingemar Johansson at Miami Beach, March 15, 1961.

Tuesday night's fight, which New York state refused to permit within its boundaries, was ready-made for a big controversy—without the addition of the mandatory counts—because of Liston's unsavory background and the reports of heavy betting throughout the country.

Sonny is favored at 7 1/2 to 5.

Twins, Giants Lose To Set Up Coast To Coast Series

By Fred Down UPI Sports Writer
It's all over but the shouting—the shouting that will accompany the first coast-to-coast World Series in baseball history.

It's going to be the Yankees against the Dodgers—because their challengers have run out of gas and very soon now they're also going to run out of games. It's not mathematically certain yet but it would take an Einstein to figure out a winning combination for the Twins and Giants.

For the record, the Yankees' magic number to clinch the American League pennant is down to four and the Dodgers' pennant-clinching number in the National League has been reduced to six.

College Gridders Go Saturday

United Press International
Georgia Tech coach Bobby Dodd warned Thursday that Clemson's defense faces "a most difficult task" in its efforts to bottle up swift Joe Auer.

The 195-pound halfback, who runs with the explosive force of a fullback, is expected to play only on offense in Tech's opener Saturday. "Auer is a threat to run for a touchdown any time he gets the ball and I want him fresh when he gets it," Dodd said.

Coach Charlie Bradshaw named senior ends Dave Gash and Tommy Simpson co-captains for Kentucky's battle against Florida State, a non-conference foe, Saturday night.

U. S. Gets Lead In Cup Series

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—The Australians took another day off from America's Cup racing today to see if they could find some way to stem Bus Moshbacher, his crew and wifely Weatherly.

The American beat heat Grest by a mile—literally—in Thursday's third race, and put Weatherly ahead, 2-1, in this international yachting championship.

Louisiana State, with 26 of its top 33 men returning from a 9-1 season, gets an early toughie against Texas A&M: Texas, favored to repeat in the southwest conference, takes on Oregon; and Mississippi, a leading contender along with Alabama and LSU for the southeastern conference title, plays Memphis State.

Sanford Primed For Edgewater

Edgewater of Orlando may come to Sanford cocked and primed for revenge of last year's football defeat by the Seminoles, but they won't find it easy, Coach Jim Pigott said this morning.

Lyman Takes On Ocoee Tonight

Lyman's Greyhounds take on Ocoee High at 8 p. m. today at Ocoee in an effort to get their second 1962 season victory, but may be without the services of part of their scoring punch.

In the starting lineup for the 8:15 p. m. kickoff at Memorial Stadium, Billy Higgins will be at left end instead of David MacGillis, who is nursing an injured ankle and Alex Carmen will start at a guard position in place of David McLean, who has a hip injury.

Oviedo's Game To Be Saturday

Heavy rain drenched the scheduled Oviedo vs. Ocoee Junior Varsity football game Thursday night and it will be played Saturday night.

Jayvees Win, 13-6

By Ronnie Broadway Herald Sports Editor
Seminoles High School got the new football season off to a perfect start last night as the Baby Seminoles rolled to their first win of the season, downing the Seabreeze Sandcrabs 13-6 in a constant downpour of rain.

By JACK TRIM
The 1963 Evinrude outboard motor line comes on strong this fall with some important optional accessories and the always popular price reduction in three models.

handling tricky and the Baby Seminoles lost it on a fumble. A couple of plays later, the Seabreeze team had moved the ball to the Seminoles three yard line on a long end run. Billy Kuykendall made the saving tackle for Sanford.

Buddy Burton was the big star for the little Indians as he rolled up both touchdowns for the night. Eddie Kosky accounted for the other Sanford point.

Sanford took the opening kickoff and moved the ball down to the Seabreeze 35 yard line. A wet ball made pump, necessary wiring and a dash-mounted control switch. The actuating cylinder which replaces one of the shock absorbers, will also act as a shock absorber. The hydraulic pump is powered by a 12-volt electric motor that operates off the battery.

Club Sets Date For Deep Sea Fishing Trip

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The DeBary Fishing Club held a special meeting Wednesday night at the Fire House to set the date for the planned deep sea fishing trip aboard the Marianne out of Daytona Beach.

Members voted to make the trip on Oct. 17 and planned to form a ten-car motorcade to Daytona which will leave from the Fire Hall. Those attending were advised to bring their own lunch.

Good Experiment

In Jacksonville, the municipal court has set up a special teen-age jury to act in an advisory capacity in traffic cases involving youngsters. Reports are that it has helped to cut teenage traffic violations by 50 per cent in less than two months. Perhaps this puts a new dimension on the idea that in free societies individuals should be tried by juries of their "peers." The young jury in Jacksonville evidently recommends constructive penalties in most cases, suggesting cleanup work, hospital service, the writing of papers on safety topics, and so on. The jury seems to be that young offenders are quickly and accurately sized up by their fellow teen-agers. One convicted boy told a judge, "I can show you but I can't show those teen-agers." This has its bad as well as its good side. If a really large number of young people believe they can easily pull the wool over their elders' eyes, it speaks all too eloquently of the sad gap which may exist in understanding between generations.

Democracy's Changing Base

Events bowl along so fast these days that historical changes often are discounted in advance. California won't pass New York as the nation's most populous state for at least a couple of months, but already the switch-over is getting major news attention. Since this change seems to be accepted right now as a fact, maybe we should look ahead to the new news about California. Basically it's a simple story. California's growth will continue to outpace most of the nation for at least another decade or two. Of prime interest is the political importance of this trend. This fall California elects congressmen in eight new districts, having gone from 30 to 35 after the 1960 census. Richard Scammon, head of the U. S. Census Bureau, predicts that California will gain from seven to 10 more new seats after the 1970 census. At the minimum, that would give it 45 — a pinnacle New York used to occupy but does no more. Nobody has to be told what this centering of power in California will do to national politics. The effects of the new focus are already quite clear. What may be less appreciated is the fact that other sectors will be speaking in the U. S. House with diminishing force. Beginning next January, there will be seven less congressmen than there are now from New England and Middle Atlantic states. Traditional political powerhouses like New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts will not count for as much. The farmer's voice may not carry as strongly from 1963 on. Net losses in the farm belt come to four. The changes affecting the South are deceptive. Figures for 12 states, including Kentucky, indicate a net loss of just one. But Florida and Texas, usually thought of as untypical of the South, are the only gainers. The more traditional southern territory will have six less representatives to state its case after next January. The big point, underscored by Scammon's obviously well-founded forecast, is that 10 years from now the East, the Midwest and the Deep South will likely be getting another painful dose of the same medicine. Some southerners, contemplating their racial tensions, point hopefully to their large outward Negro migration as a means of easing the problem. But Scammon observes that this may tend more and more to weaken the South's national legislative voice relative to the faster growing states. For all the "losing" regions, California's present and prospective gains promise other problems. National convention delegates are pegged to state-by-state congressional strength. In 1964, 1968 and, most significantly, 1972 and thereafter, the losing areas will have a good deal less to say about picking presidential candidates. By then, a lot of politicians around the country may wish that California still belonged to Mexico.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

'K' Blowing 'Hot And Cold'

UPI Foreign News Analyst Since 1958, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has been blowing hot and cold on Berlin. Now there is a feeling that when Khrushchev says he will sign a separate peace treaty soon with the East Germans, thus threatening Allied supply lines to West Berlin, he may mean it. Khrushchev long has been under pressure for such a treaty from the puppet East German regime of Walter Ulbricht, as well as under harassment from more militant members of the Communist bloc to prove he can be tough toward the West despite his policy of peaceful coexistence. There also has been the embarrassment he brought on himself by setting previous deadlines which passed without action in the face of firm Allied resistance. Soviet efforts to get the Allies out of West Berlin actually date back to within a few months of the end of the war in 1945. They reached one climax with the Berlin blockade of 1948, broken by a gigantic Allied airlift. In 1958 came an ultimatum in which Khrushchev said he would turn Berlin access control over to the East Germans in six months unless agreement were reached on a separate treaty for East Germany. In June 1961, he gave President Kennedy another six-month ultimatum, repeating the threats of 1958. Now he says he will wait until after the November elections in the United States. Throughout these years, the Allied answer has been the same. They are in Berlin by right of conquest and the Soviet Union will be expected to live up to its four-power commitments. Even if Khrushchev does sign his separate East German treaty by the first of the year, there are no indications that he wants a general war now any more than he has in the past. It could be that such a treaty would be a continuation of the nibbling tactics by which the Soviets have been attempting to wear away Allied rights in Berlin. In such a situation, Khrushchev could be expected to hem the East Germans with such restrictions as to prevent their being able to draw the Soviet Union into an unwanted conflict. There also has been speculation that Communist Cuba, as a new element in the world situation, also enters the picture. In this event, Khrushchev might use the threat of a move on Berlin to prevent similar U. S. action against the Castro regime.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Opposition to the United Nations is expected to be a bigger issue in this year's American election campaign than ever before. The fact that the General Assembly will be in session from Sept. 18 until long after the U. S. election on Nov. 8 will help keep the issue alive for UN opponents. Principal opposition to the United Nations comes from the extreme right-wing organizations and individuals who harp on the slogan of "Get the U. S. out of the UN and get the UN out of the U. S. A." So in any congressional district in which there is a strong ultra-conservative candidate with a pronounced isolationist bent, opposition to continued American support to the UN is sure to be a leading issue in attacking Kennedy administration policy.

The prolonged Congressional fight over President Kennedy's proposal for a $100 million U. S. bond issue to finance half of a $200 million loan to the UN by all its members has finally come to an end. The big question facing every congressman in this has been "are you for the United Nations or against it?" In every showdown vote on this issue before, the majority decision has always been to support the UN. That was the expected final decision on the bond issue, although Senate and House bills prescribed different safeguards. Any compromise between the two versions had advance assurances of approval by President Kennedy. His purpose has been to keep the UN in business instead of allowing it to fall completely by going broke.

Last June 3 the UN was $147 million in debt. It owed this money to its member countries. Whether any of them would dun the UN for this debt is doubtful. But the first step towards putting the UN financial house in order was to float the loan. The next step will be to collect unpaid assessments and pay off the loans. This can be done only if the General Assembly approves the World Court opinion that special assessment on members must be paid the same as dues. The extent to which the White House and State Department now rely on the United Nations is revealed by the fact that of the $258 million in this year's budget for support of international organizations, $193 million is earmarked for the UN. Of this, roughly $23 million is the American 32 per cent contribution to the net UN operating budget of $72 million. Its gross budget, including receipts is $86.6 million. Another American contribution of $27 million goes to support UN specialized agencies and $143 million more is contributed to their aid programs for underdeveloped nations.

The $193 million U. S. contribution to all UN programs is less than 5 per cent of the $4 billion budgeted for all U. S. foreign aid programs this year. And there is probably more opposition in Congress and around the country for foreign aid than there is to the United Nations itself. Support for the United Nations by the Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations alike is by no means based on any idea that the UN is a perfect instrument. There are many changes which the United States has wanted to make for the last seven years, since UN Charter revision was first considered. Charter revision is still on the agenda this year. But Soviet Russia is blocking any changes in the UN until Communist China is admitted to membership.

One factor that may minimize the UN issue in this year's American political campaign is that the General Assembly may not get around to passing any resolutions of importance—except possibly on disarmament—before the Nov. 8 election. If the General Assembly becomes deeply involved in the Cuban situation during the opening general debate, that might indeed become a hot American political campaign issue. When the Cubans made their charge that the United States was waging aggressive warfare against Cuba last year, it caused the other Communist delegations some confusion because the idea was so ridiculous. But this year a number of American congressmen and others are urging President Kennedy to blockade Cuba or to invade Cuba to wipe out the Communist menace. This line of talk plays right into the hands of the Cubans and the Russians at the UN this year, lending support to their propaganda that the United States is planning to invade the island.

At the outset, you must pound the pavements and make personal calls. If you are a newcomer to the territory, you must not expect to bowl over your prospects and win their orders at once. For other good salesmen of rival firms may have been covering that same territory for 20 years ahead of you. If they have equally good merchandise and at comparable prices, their previous 20 years of personal contacts and friendship with the buyers will be a severe obstacle. And that is equally true of the young physician or lawyer or dental surgeon, opto-

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

If Donald picks calling as a career, he must look on it as a profession, much like law or medicine. And it may be a slow process building up his clientele, but once he has 500 satisfied customers, they will be his major financial asset all his life—if he realizes that "greener pastures" here. CASE N-455: Donald K. aged 20, is the college man who wondered what career to choose. And I suggested salesmanship.

For that is now a profession that requires brainy men, with much physical vitality and great skill in the field of practical psychology. The modern salesman is in a profession like law or medicine, and must realize that it takes time to build up a clientele. Dr. Charles Kendall, of Milwaukee, once addressed a dental convention and said: "The young dental graduate must work on a minimum of 500 different patients at his operative chair before he has a sufficient practice to keep fairly busy. And it will require 800 different patients to keep him rushed almost to death with their repeat patronage and the friends they refer to him." That same idea holds in any other realm of salesmanship, too, whether you be a young lawyer or salesman of insurance, stocks and bonds, automobiles or farm machinery, etc.

At the outset, you must pound the pavements and make personal calls. If you are a newcomer to the territory, you must not expect to bowl over your prospects and win their orders at once. For other good salesmen of rival firms may have been covering that same territory for 20 years ahead of you. If they have equally good merchandise and at comparable prices, their previous 20 years of personal contacts and friendship with the buyers will be a severe obstacle. And that is equally true of the young physician or lawyer or dental surgeon, optometrist, osteopath, chiropractor and other professional men. Although we do not stress salesmanship in the professional schools, the only reason a doctor builds up a practice is because of deft salesmanship, often by his satisfied patients. Thousands of people now leave our big cities to travel to the Mayo Clinic. Why? The Mayo name has had a lot of publicity, which is a form of salesmanship in itself. In many fields of selling, the prospect may not buy till the new salesman has made several calls.

In a series of 1000 retail merchants who analyzed their buying behavior, they found that it wasn't till after the 3rd call that they ever did any significant buying from a new salesman. But once a good salesman has built up his clientele, that clientele belongs to him, first of all, and only secondarily to his firm. So salesmen must resist the "greener pastures" temptation and stick to their old territory. For those 500 satisfied customers are your greatest sales asset. You can sell them next year with maybe just a phone call, instead of a lengthy personal visit, for they are now good friends. But if you finally do wish to switch over to some other sales item, pick something that you can still sell in your old territory to those 500 friendly customers. Thus, you can avoid cold canvassing in strange territory. For further advice, send for my booklet "The New Psychology of Salesmanship," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Savage Sayings

By Lt. (jg) J. L. McKeon

One month has passed since the Savage Sons of Sanford, Heavy Attack Squadron Five, departed Norfolk in company with Enterprise and numerous other Naval combatant vessels to participate in Rip tide III, a NATO strike exercise with British, French, and Portuguese Naval units. The missions flown by ASD's were interesting and instructive, and it was not uncommon to sight Sea Vixens of Vampires, Naval aircraft from Her Majesty's Ship Hermes or Centaur, both British aircraft carriers. This exercise was conducted prior to Forrestal joining the Sixth Fleet for an extended deployment.

Turnover took place in Pollensa Bay and even Capt. Bill Durstler surprised everyone by getting out his Air Force dress blues. Needless to say we were quite surprised to see a good facsimile of our proposed squadron insignia on the walls of Heavy One's ready room. The shock wore off when we realized that Ledr. Andrews and crew (Chiefs Lindt and Sundvall) had been over on the Independence several days earlier.

Two and one half weeks had gone by, and still nine more days before liberty for the crew. Flying and intense training operations continued; Heavy Five's commanding officer, Cdr. Roy E. Farmer, racked up three "firsts." At the end of Rip tide III, Cdr. Farmer became the first Naval Aviator to make 300 carrier arrested landings in the ASD. When bombing targets came within our reach, Cdr. Farmer, following the swinging needle of his bombardier Lt. (jg) Don Boose and T/C Hutto, ADJ1, made the squadron's first RBS run on Naples - receiving a "shack." This was the first "shack" on the first RBS run of this deployment.

Liberty at last! On Aug. 28 we entered the port of Naples. It had been a long, hard month, with only one full day of holiday routine. The old familiar places in Naples - the Lowenbrau and the service clubs at Bagnoli - lost their attraction, and tours and good restaurants replaced the old sport of "wall-jumping" at Bagnoli.

The operations department liberty lecture, given in the ready room by "Chet Huntley" McKeivley and "David Brinkley" Martin, with spotlights, slide projector, and stools, pointed out many good places to see. Ledr. Larry Pinzel led a small tribe on the first Rome tour for three days, and Dave Fall, Bill Damon, and Larry Walter followed with a quick one day trip to Rome. The one day tours proved popular and Cdr.'s Farmer and Sette were seen one evening limping in to the ready room with Pompeii booklets and volcanic dust from Vesuvius on their shoes. Capri and Ischia were favorite swimming places and Ledr.'s Ken Hamilton and Ted Mead, Lt. Cliff Thompson and "Oscar" Dietze and Steve Ryan spent a day touring down the Amalfi Drive to Sorrento. Seems some ham sandwiches fouled up a day at Capri for the latter two.

The Savage Sons really tramped the countryside at Naples - but now after extensive fleet exercises Cannes is next, with cries of Paris tours, French Alps, Monte Carlo, and perfume factories; but many will settle just to lie on the beaches of this French Riviera resort . . .

Business Briefs

Two interested spectators attended showings of new cars last week.

Mrs. Lois Housholder was guest of Don Bales at the showing of the new Studebaker in Atlanta and Howard Hodges journeyed to the big General Motors show in Miami where with Bill Hemphill he saw the new Pontiac unveiled.

Mrs. Housholder said that she was particularly impressed with a revolutionary new Studebaker stationwagon that became a convertible. It's called the Daytona Wagonette.

The flowing lines of the front grille of the new Pontiac caught Hodges' eye and he said that he liked the new arrangement of the headlights, one over the other, instead of side by side.

He also noted a new hard-top convertible that has a vinyl skin over the top that makes it look like a cloth-top convertible.

Mrs. Housholder says Studebaker has come out with a brand new line - a sports car called a Vantani.

Both said that they were looking forward to the big Auto Show to be held in Sanford on the week of Oct. 4th.

Joins All Stars

NEW YORK (UPI) - Former Kansas University basketball star Wayne Hightower today became the fourth player named to the College All-Star team which will meet the New York Knickerbockers in a charity game at Madison Square Garden Oct. 12.

The Seminole County Council of Schools met at 9:30 Wednesday morning in the cafeteria of the South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry.

Freeman Baggett, principal of the West Side Elementary School, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Carmita Ray, supervisor of the Seminole County Unit of the State Dept. of Public Welfare.

Mrs. Ray outlined the work of the welfare department which she said might be more aptly named the "bureau of family service." Aid to the needy is financed with state and federal tax money. In order to be eligible for aid a needy person must also meet the resident requirements of having lived in the state of Florida for five years in the case of the aged or blind and one year in the case of the dependent child. Soviets Gain In Weapons Lead

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Russians once more are rapidly extending their lead over the West in the testing of giant nuclear weapons.

The current Soviet test series, atomic sources said today, proves again that the Russians are more interested in perfecting city-killers than in developing small "limited war" weapons for battlefield use.

Chappell Named

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - House Speaker William V. Chappell, Ocala, has been named vice-president of the resolutions committee of the National Legislative Conference which is holding its annual meeting in Phoenix, Ariz. today.

According to Moslem legend there, Jonah is buried, along with a tooth of the whale that swallowed him, in a mosque of Mosul, Iraq. The mosque is atop a hill overlooking the Tigris within sight of Biblical Ninevah.

High-stepping and hand-some are the even dozen Seminole High School lassies who form this year's A corp for the famous Twirling Seminoles. Lead by green-eyed Miss Joan Jones, who has a string of medals that completely cover the bib of her uniform from neck to waist, the corps is made up of two seniors, Joan and First Lt. Sandi Wright; three juniors, Second Lt. Sharon Williams, Susan Brown and Mary Scott; and seven sophomores Bettina Vale, Sylvia Williams, Sharon Drum, Susan Perkins, Donna Peters, Freddie Berryhill and Judy Bedwell. Strutting out in front of the Marching Seminole Band is the boy in the high hat, Drum Major Ronnie Fehd, and marching along behind him, in nominal charge of the band is Band Capt. Charles Rabun.

All of the girls study every Monday under veteran instructor, Mrs. Merle Smith of Orlando, a high qualified lady who instructs the majority of majorettes in the central Florida area.

"Our Twirling Seminole Corps has always placed at or near the top in U. S. Twirling Association competition in both state and district meets," says Bandmaster Ernest Cowley.

Probably the most outstanding of the attractive costumes the majorettes wear is the famous Seminole Indian maiden outfit with white suits, black wig banded with headbands and feathers, dark grease paint and white beaded necklaces. This was the outfit in which they appeared nationwide at the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C. two years ago.

The graceful and rhythmic routines of the twirlers, the music and drill of the band, highlight the half time shows at all the sports events.

For Ladies Only

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) - The Atlantic City race track will hold its own version of "Ladies Day" on Tuesday, Sept. 25. Under sellers' windows marked "Ladies only," members of the fair sex may, for the first time in the history of the sport, purchase $2 tickets for $1.98.

NOT LONESOME

Baby Gets Honor

NEW YORK (UPI) - Bob Bailey, a 19-year-old third baseman who received a reported $175,000 bonus to sign with Pittsburgh, has been named the 1962 "Rookie of the Year" in the International League.

Bailey hit 28 home runs for the Columbus Jets and tied for the league's runs-batted-in honors with 108. He received 11 of the 24 votes cast by the league sports writers in the MVP balloting.

Outfielder Vic Davalillo of the pennant-winning Jacksonville Suns was second in the voting with seven, followed by teammate Tony Martinez, a shortstop, with five.

Resume Club

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - Philadelphia Phillies announced today they will resume their working agreement with the Chattanooga baseball team when it enters the Class A South Atlantic League in 1963. Chattanooga was left without a team in organized ball when the Class AA Southern Association disbanded after the 1961 season.

Dunn's Crew Take Top Honors In Bomb Derby

As the results of the September Bomber Stream became official, VAH-9's Lt. Jack Dunn and his crew had taken top honors in the bombing competition.

Lt. Dunn's Bombardier-Navigator, George Beers, AQ-1, and third crewman, John J. Soulier, ADJ-2 shared the congratulations of the Commanding Officer, CDR. George W. Kimmons for their outstanding performance.

This month's Bomber Stream was a particular challenge to the Bombardiers and Pilots since live ordnance was employed.

The competition between the four competing squadrons was high and the scores were extremely close, however Lt. Dunn's crew outperformed all of the other 16 crews involved.

Hatron Nine won the Bomber Stream last month by placing its crews in three of the four top spots. Cdr. Kimmons said that he was looking forward to continuing success in next month's Bomber Stream.

Jails Termed Breeding Ground

TAMPA (UPI) - State Parole Commission Chairman Roy Russell said Wednesday that because Floridians are unwilling to pay for better facilities, the average county jail is becoming a breeding ground for crime. Russell, speaking to the West Coast chapter of the Florida Council on Crime and Delinquency, said most county jails are as overcrowded as the state prisons.

Welfare Director Addresses County Council Of Schools

By Jane Casselberry
The Seminole County Council of Schools met at 9:30 Wednesday morning in the cafeteria of the South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry.

Freeman Baggett, principal of the West Side Elementary School, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Carmita Ray, supervisor of the Seminole County Unit of the State Dept. of Public Welfare.

Mrs. Ray outlined the work of the welfare department which she said might be more aptly named the "bureau of family service." Aid to the needy is financed with state and federal tax money. In order to be eligible for aid a needy person must also meet the resident requirements of having lived in the state of Florida for five years in the case of the aged or blind and one year in the case of the dependent child. Many cases needing emergency help are referred to the county welfare department, Salvation Army, churches or civic clubs.

Mrs. Ray expressed the hope that some organization in the county will take on the task of compiling a social service directory to list each club or agency in the county and the services which they render.

She also would like to interest organizations in establishing a visitor plan for calling on the old, sick and lonely who have no one that cares.

In the field of child welfare the department handles adoption studies and the foster care program. The money received by Seminole County for child welfare is based on the current school population. Foster home care is used only in emergency for protection of the child and usually is of short duration as in the case of illnesses at the home. Longer range care is provided in such cases as child abandonment.

Whenever possible, the parents are expected to contribute to the costs involved in the care program. Clothing and medical and dental expenses are handled through the foster care work.

She said that the hospital program for the aged persons currently receiving welfare aid includes up to 30 day hospital care and medicine and doctors services are provided free of charge.

Mrs. Ray emphasized that the aim of the department is a constructive one to "help the people help themselves."

Mrs. Jack Stewart of Geneva led the devotionals at the meeting and Mrs. Ned Julian, council president, presided over the business meeting.

Stewart Gatchel, director of education, represented County School Supt. R. T. Milwee who was unable to attend.

Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served by Mrs. Charles Lockyear of South Seminole Elementary.

A special meeting of the executive board was held following the council meeting to take care of urgent business which included the election of Mrs. Sally Wight of Sanford as treasurer to take the place of Mrs. Lois Heckenbach whose resignation was accepted with regret.

49 'Plucked' Out Of Sea From Ditched Airliner

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI)—A crippled four-engine airliner carrying 76 Americans to Germany ditched in the gale-whipped seas of the North Atlantic before midnight, and early today 49 survivors were plucked from bobbing life rafts.

The plane was a Flying Tiger Lines Super Constellation carrying 68 servicemen and dependants and a crew of eight. Two of those aboard were reported to be children aged 9 and 11.

Shortly before noon the Royal Air Force rescue center near Plymouth, England, said the 9,040-ton Swiss freighter Celerina had picked up 49 survivors and two dead—a total of 51. There was no word of the fate of the others.

Earlier messages from the Celerina reported four of the survivors and one of the dead were women. At least three survivors and a Celerina crewman were reported injured.

The Cunard liner Andania also was scouring the area. One report said it has picked up some survivors but this was denied in an early morning message from the ship's master, Capt. Dina De Dominicis.

Shannon Airport authorities said the pilot radioed four emergency messages to the airfield before the plane ditched. They were:

9:20 p. m. (3:20 p. m. EST) — "One engine out. Request emergency."

9:25 p. m. — "Second engine feathered. Request full standby."

9:27 p. m. — "Changing route. Heading for Shannon instead of Frankfurt."

Then came a final message: "Third engine feathered. Will possibly have to ditch."

Atlanta Meet Set On HHFA 'Financing'

A delegation of Altamonte Springs town officials will travel to Atlanta this week to confer with Federal House and Home Finance Agency officials on financing the new municipal water system for the town.

The fiscal agent for the project, J. R. Durrance, of Miami, was unable to fulfill the terms of his agreement with the town and was relieved of his responsibilities Friday night, by the city council.

According to Mayor Lawrence Swafford, it was impossible for the city to delay any longer in acquiring financing for the project, "because a builder is working now in developing a 125 home area, in the city, and will be needing water within six to eight weeks." The new homes will be in the $18,000 to $25,000 bracket.

Following this dismissal of Durrance, the council talked to several fiscal agents, who recommended the Atlanta trip before trying private financing because the present government rate on municipal revenue bonds is 3 1/2 percent, whereas with private financing, the rate is currently running at 4 1/2 percent.

Rain Damage 'Negligible' To Crops-Tucker

County Agricultural Agent Cecil Tucker reported today that damage to Seminole County crops because of the recent heavy rains was "negligible," but that the vegetable seed beds had been somewhat delayed in maturation because of the excess rains.

The only damage resulting from the rains in the citrus and nursery crops was confined to an occasional broken branch here and there, said Tucker.

He did point out that pasture quality had been affected, but this wasn't expected to have any effect on dairy or beef production.

Road Carnage Toll At Eight

MIAMI (UPI)—Three persons died in a head-on crash near Orlando Sunday night, bringing to eight the number of traffic fatalities in Florida during the weekend.

Julian A. Alfred, 34, Tampa, was killed Saturday in a truck-automobile collision at Tampa.

Killed in the collision on State Road 520, 15 miles east of Orlando was John T. Nugent, 43, of Massapequa, N. Y., Carl L. Gardner, 61, of Winter Park, and his wife, Vesta Gardner, 45. Four other persons in the Gardner car were injured.

The Highway Patrol said the accident occurred when Nugent attempted to pass a truck and collided with the oncoming car driven by Mrs. Gardner.

George Frederick Smith of DeBary was killed in a two-car collision Friday night at Hartney Road and U. S. 301 near Tampa.

Perline Mondrow, 21, Negro, died in an accident in Pensacola early Saturday.

Vinson Cautions Lawmakers On Cuba Dealings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee today cautioned lawmakers against letting emotion or national pride supplant sound judgment in dealing with Cuba.

The Georgia Democrat said there were powder kegs with ready fuses all over the world, and that Communist harassment in Berlin "still stands as the greatest challenge to world peace."

Vinson served notice anew on Russia and Cuba that this country would not tolerate creation of a Communist offensive military base in this hemisphere.

His remarks came in a prepared statement for opening of House debate on President Kennedy's request for authority to call up 150,000 military reservists in event they are needed after Congress quits work for the year.

Vinson urged the House to approve the request by unanimous vote, as the Senate did last week. He said the reservists probably would not have to be called, but that the authority to use them if needed would strengthen the President's hand.

Full Day Space Trip Next?

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States may send an astronaut into space for a day early next year if the orbital flight of Walter M. Schirra Jr. escapes any serious hitches. Schirra, a 39-year-old Navy commander, will ride a bell-shaped space capsule named Sigma-7 on a planned six-orbit trip around the world. The launching is tentatively set for Oct. 3, although there is a growing possibility it will "slip" at least a few days beyond that date. Informed sources said chiefs of the $400 million Mercury man-into-space program are giving "very serious considerations" to a 24-hour flight by one of the seven astronauts, possibly L. Gordon Cooper, as the next step. The decision, it was reported, hinges on Schirra's mission. A full success would open the door. A failure, or any major problems that might develop, probably would mean another six-orbit attempt. On a 24-hour flight, an astronaut would soar 18 times around the globe. Schirra's maximum flight time will be about nine hours over the six-orbit span. Schirra's date in space already has been postponed twice and faces a third delay at the hands of stormy weather, technical problems, or a combination of the two. The weather has threatened
