School Board Asks More Views

Pros-Cons Highlight Sex Education Meet

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

While the program recommended to the Seminole County District School Board was entitled "family life," the persons who crowded into the school board office meeting room Wednesday night seemed in on its sex education aspect.

The Seminole County school board, heard three-hours' testimony from 30 parents, professional educators, medical doctors and others equally divided among proponents and opponents of sex education. Then the board indicated a decision on mandating a program as part of the official curriculum for kindergarten through 12th grade may be some time away.

The board, at member Pat Tolson's suggestion, called a workshop for 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at Lynn High School auditorium to hear as much testimony and as many views as citizens care to give them.

Four major questions will have to be answered before the school board can make a decision on whether to include a mandatory program, board chairman Robert G. Feather said.

"Is there a problem? Is there a solution to the problem? Is it the school board's responsibility to play a part in the solution? What is the scope of the school board should be involved?"

Meanwhile, Mrs. Tolson wondered if teenage pregnancies are perhaps the symptom of the problem with the problem being social acceptance today of illegitimate births.

Leading off the testimony was Dr. Vann Parker of the Florida Alliance for Responsible Parenting. He said the school board is often turned to for solutions to social problems.

"There is an alarming increase in the number of children missing out on education because of pregnancy," he said, adding one factor in the increase is the "Playboy" attitude of using sex to sell everything and fostering the attitude of sex as entertainment.

"Most teenage girls get pregnant in their own homes," Dr. Parker said, adding that teen-agers are left to "rap with their peers" to learn about sex, rather than being taught in the home.

Shelly Cox, representing the same organization said there were 165 illegitimate births in Seminole County in 1977 to girls less than 15 years old-to-18 years old. She suggested that 16-year-old unmarried girls too young to assume the responsibility of parenting a child and that teaching a girl how to say "no" could be the solution to the problem.

At the same time, opponents including Gaylen Wirch representing Responsible Sex Education in the Schools from Concerned Citizens asked the board where anyone got the right to decide who is capable of having children. "The school board has enough trouble trying to teach reading, writing and arithmetic."

Rev. John Butler Book of Northside Church of Christ identified himself as an obstetrician, said anyone who thinks kids are "not getting sex education are living in the wrong century," insisting at least one major television network has announced its policy of emphasizing certain portions of the anatomy in its prime time programming, he said "the worst thing is to deny knowledge."

Lucas Barrett of Longwood stated his concern that moral values may not be taught as part of a sex education program in the public school system. "I am a Christian," he said, "since becoming a Christian I must end."

JOHN BUTLER BOOK

Two greatest causes of teachers losing certificates are drug abuse and sex abuse.

Education in the Schools from Concerned Citizens asked the board where anyone got the right to decide who is capable of having children. "The school board has enough trouble trying to teach reading, writing and arithmetic."

Dr. James A. Zimile, who identified himself as an obstetrician, said anyone who thinks kids are "not getting sex education are living in the wrong century," insisting at least one major television network has announced its policy of emphasizing certain portions of the anatomy in its prime time programming, he said "the worst thing is to deny knowledge."

Lucas Barrett of Longwood stated his concern that moral values may not be taught as part of a sex education program in the public school system. "I am a Christian," he said, "since becoming a Christian I must end."

The fireman said someone had called the fire station to notify of the overcrowding.

The crowd which had been ordered to that point began to murmur and asked that persons who were not from Seminole County be put out. School Superintendent William E. Lauer ordered staff members to give up their seats to citizens and to leave the room. Among those leaving was Assistant School Board Attorney Ned J. J. Jr.

Lauer then asked, after counting those standing for those not from Seminole County also to leave the room. A few persons left.

After the meeting, Lauer commented that the presentations of both sides of the question had been surprising. He noted the lack of emotion and praised those who spoke with having provided the board with informative data.

Circulated among the crowd were copies of "The Articles of Belief on Sex Education in the Public Schools by Concerned Parents" and the goals, objectives and plans for a family life program in the public school system.

Among the articles of belief listed were: "For the public school system to be a family life program to mandate, finance and at least $3,000 more by New Yorkers to bring Herbie to Canada when it became known the Quinones could not pay for the operation."

Herb Quinones earns $100 a week as a deliveryman. Asked if he still had a job to return to, Quinones said, "I hope so. I'm pretty sure I do."

Hospital administrator Kenneth Rowe said the hospital learned last week that the New York State Medicaid plan has agreed to pay the $8,000 hospital costs. Hotel space and transportation costs also were provided to the Quinones free of charge.

Rowe said most of the money raised will go into a fund "to help other Herbies."

Part of large crowd at meeting

Crowd Waited Patiently

Interested citizens, some carrying placards, announcing their opposition to sex education in the public schools and others wearing construction paper badges promoting the "International Year of the Child," waited patiently for as long as 45 minutes in the lobby area at the school administration office on Mellonville Avenue Wednesday night for the school board meeting to begin.

When the meeting room doors opened, after a protracted closed door session on the expulsion of a student, the 120 seats in the meeting room were quickly filled and persons crowded the side aisles.

Only two persons had completed their testimony, on whether or not a family life program with sex education should be included in the curriculum of the public schools, when two Sanford firemen walked down the aisle to announce the aisles had to be cleared.

The firemen said regulations permit only 24 persons to stand during meetings. "You have an overloaded building," one of the firemen said, "and some have to leave or the meeting must end."

The fireman said someone had called the fire station to notify of the overcrowding.

Baby First To Survive Birth Defect

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—A baby born Feb. 9 with his heart completely outside his body has undergone three operations and may be the first baby in medical history to survive the birth defect and be able to live a normal life.

Only one other—a boy in Philadelphia—has lived through the operation and subsequent complications that are part of ectopia cordis, or "outside heart." But, he must have artificial breathing assistance.

Five-week-old James Leake Jr., however, is breathing on his own and taking all food by mouth, doctors say. According to the child's mother, Rowena Leake, the boy is "doing fine."

Dr. Doane Williams, chief of cardiac surgery at the University of Arkansas Medical Sciences Campus who headed the surgical team, said Mrs. Leake's pregnancy had been normal and doctors had no warning of the birth defect.

Williams and Dr. J.B. Norton, a pediatric cardiologist, arrived at Doctors Hospital within 30 minutes of the child's birth. Using a new emergency van outfitted with medical equipment, he was moved to University Hospital and within three hours had undergone the first corrective surgery.

The days were allowed for Jimmy to adjust to his heart's new position. Then he was returned to surgery where Williams, Dr. James Campbell and Dr. Clay Wellborn were able to place the heart almost completely in its normal position in the chest.

In the third operation Feb. 19, skin grafts were removed from the baby's flank and moved to areas on his chest and abdomen where other skin had been borrowed.

For the duration of the operations, Jimmy was on a ventilator and fed intravenously. Two weeks ago, he was given food via a tube in his stomach, and gradual weaning from the ventilator began.

This week, Jimmy has been able to breathe normally and has been fed orally. Like all babies who have undergone surgery, he is kept in an oxygen tent, the doctors said.

Assuming Jimmy continues his rate of improvement, he most likely will lead a normal life, Williams said.

Child Cured By Surgeon

TORONTO (UPI)—A hungry, smiling, laughing 8-month-old Herbie will return home next week, cured by a Toronto surgeon of a critical throat malfunction that threatened to choke him every time he swallowed.

"It's going to be great to have a baby around the house again. The big change is when he eats—now he can eat like a normal baby," the baby's grinning father, Herb Quinones, said Wednesday.

As if to prove the point, Herbie seized a reporter's microphone and, fondling it in his tiny hands, pulled it toward his mouth.

Herbie was flown to Toronto three weeks ago for an operation to correct a rare birth defect and was returned to his beaming parents Wednesday.

The baby, who has been near death more than 30 times because of a condition that constricted his windpipe whenever he swallowed, will stay with his family at a Toronto hotel until they return to their home in Brooklyn next week.

Herbie's surgeon, Dr. Robert Filler, said the operation was "as successful as we ever could have hoped. He's eating, he's smiling, he's laughing. I hope we don't ever have to mention his condition again."

Over $16,000 was raised by Toronto residents, and at least $3,000 more by New Yorkers to bring Herbie to Canada when it became known the Quinones could not pay for the operation.

Herb Quinones earns $100 a week as a deliveryman. Asked if he still had a job to return to, Quinones said, "I hope so. I'm pretty sure I do."

Hospital administrator Kenneth Rowe said the hospital learned last week that the New York State Medicaid plan has agreed to pay the $8,000 hospital costs. Hotel space and transportation costs also were provided to the Quinones free of charge.

Rowe said most of the money raised will go into a fund "to help other Herbies."

SWEET SUCCESS

These three Sanford residents are winners and have the ribbons to show for it. Mrs. Lucille Fesler (left) of 109 E. 21st St. entered her baked goods, jams and jellies in the Central Florida Fair and won 19 first place ribbons, 11 second, one third and two honorable mention. Her husband, Walter, won two firsts for his wild grape jelly and jam, while Muriel Scott of 448 Rosalia Drive, entering for the first time received four firsts and one second for her efforts. All of the fruits and vegetables used by the trio were either wild or homegrown.

Egyptian Cabinet Unanimously Approves Peace Treaty

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI)—The Egyptian cabinet unanimously approved the Israeli-Egypti peace package today and President Anwar Sadat said he would fly to Washington as early as next week to sign a treaty that would end nearly 31 years of intermittent warfare with Israel.

At his residence on the Nile, Sadat said, "We have achieved peace, and it's Jimmy Carter who made it all possible."

Egyptian Prime Minister Mustafa Khalil said his Cabinet, meeting in a four-hour emergency session, voted unanimously approval for the peace package, clearing one of the last hurdles for the signing of the historic pact. He said one of the 21 cabinet ministers was away on a mission.

Khalil said the treaty meets Egypt's "fundamental demands" and added: "I hope that the peace treaty between the two countries will be something of a memory..."

"We have discussed the treaty, the interpretative notes and the letter on linkage and the cabinet has accepted (all of them)," Khalil said.

In an unprecedented step, Ibrahim Shaker, leader of the Socialist Labor Party forming the main opposition in parliament with 23 seats, was invited to attend the cabinet meeting.

Asked if Egypt was now awaiting approval of the package by the Israeli Knesset (parliament), Khalil said: "Sure, this is their procedure."

The Israeli cabinet Wednesday approved the two key compromise proposals worked out with President Carter and the Israeli parliament was expected to approve the package next week although the summit was likely to be stormy.

Approved by the Egyptian People's Assembly in virtually assured as Sadat's party controls more than 200 of the 300 seats.

Khalil repeated earlier warnings that a solution to the Palestinian question was paramount to the treaty's success, saying: "I must confirm again that to have a complete peace in the Middle East, the Palestinian question can never be ignored."

"Unless the Israeli public is ready to face that problem the summit will be hampered."

way we faced our problem with the past—in other words forget the past... really live and let live, and take the rights of the Palestinian people into consideration—the chances of future stability in the area will be hampered."

Khalil said that in earlier talks with Israel, Egypt had already rejected a recommendation by an Israeli committee that would heavily curtail Palestinian self-rule that has yet to be negotiated.

Khalil said the cabinet did not discuss what military and economic aid Egypt would be seeking from the United States following Carter's promise to help both Egypt and Israel, especially if faced with boycotts by Arab states opposed to the treaty.

Sadat has already spoken of a $10 billion to $15 billion Marshall plan over five years to help Egypt's recovery.

The Egyptian cabinet endorsement of the treaty came as Israeli Defense Minister Shimon Peres flew to Washington and the State Department said Egyptian Defense Minister Kamal Hassan Ali was expected in the U.S. capital Friday.

They said Sadat will also carry to Washington a long list on Egypt's economic and military requirements.

The Egyptian cabinet approval came as no surprise. It came just a day after Israel's cabinet overwhelmingly approved Carter's two-compromise proposals for a peace treaty hammered out during Carter's Middle East mediation mission.

The Egyptian cabinet endorsement of the treaty came as Israeli Defense Minister Shimon Peres flew to Washington and the State Department said Egyptian Defense Minister Kamal Hassan Ali was expected in the U.S. capital Friday.

They said Sadat will also carry to Washington a long list on Egypt's economic and military requirements.

Public Hearing Friday

Officials Want Air Standards Lifted

By MAX EKKELETTIAN Herald Staff Writer

Utilities relying on oil to provide electricity to Floridians will be trying to convince state officials at a public hearing set for Friday that an appeal should be made to President Carter to lift Federal Clean Air Act standards for four months.

Lifting of the standards would allow the utilities to burn high sulfur content oil. Currently, the utilities are prohibited from burning fuel with more than a one-percent sulfur content.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The man who led an archaeological expedition to Ecuador that ended in prison admitted Wednesday he paid for the group's airline tickets to South America with a bad check.

Terry Nicholas, 32, of Memphis, pleaded guilty to charges of writing bad checks in City Court and was fined $60. Nicholas's sentence was suspended, but he was ordered to repay the money and placed on one-year probation.

Nicholas and his seven-member expedition were arrested Oct. 25 when Ecuadorian officials were told they might have been involved in a plot to assassinate a presidential candidate in the South American country.

The group was transferred to several prisons without being charged before they were finally released more than two months later.

Kuhn In Dead End Alley?

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — One American League manager, commenting on the ongoing investigation of Bill Lee, says if Bowie Kuhn decides to take action against all the marijuana users in baseball he'd better bring his lunch because he's talking about 25 percent of the players in the big leagues.

That figure could be conservative. Art Beika, one of Bowie Kuhn's aides, says the commissioner hasn't made any decision yet regarding his investigation of Lee's published statements pertaining to his use of marijuana.

When Kuhn does make his decision, I don't think he will see fit to punish in any way, first because I think his investigation will show that the Montreal left-hander was one of an in-judicious statement, and second because the commissioner would be putting himself in an almost indefensible position if he did take some form of punitive action. What about those others in baseball who have used marijuana? And isn't illegal everywhere?

Bill Lee is one of baseball's little spirits. He's unshuffled and unpredictable but not unbecomable. By some of the things he does and some of the things he says, he sometimes likes to convey the impression he isn't too tightly wrapped, but that isn't at all. Last week, three New England sports writers, mindful of the 10 seasons Lee had spent with the Red Sox before they traded him to the Expos for utility infielder Stan Papi last December, made a special trip to Montreal's training site in Daytona Beach to interview him.

During the course of their conversation with Lee, they asked him whether he used marijuana. Lee said he did, and when his remarks were published, they caused something of a sensation. Kuhn announced he would conduct an investigation and he did. Art Fusa of baseball's security office was sent to Daytona Beach to talk with Lee.

John McAlle, the Expos' President and Chief Executive Officer, talked with him before that. McAlle has never smoked a cigarette of any sort in his life. He knows Lee likes to put people on with the things he says sometimes but he wanted to get the bottom of all this marijuana business, so he summoned Lee to his private office and got right to the point.

"I made up my mind when you came over to this club I wouldn't get upset over any outrageous statements you would make regarding social problems and politics," McAlle said. "All we want you to do is pitch. Pitch and win."

"I'm going to have a good year," said Lee, who didn't have an especially good one last year with the Red Sox, finishing 10 and 10. "I'm the best conditioned athlete in this camp. I don't smoke marijuana and I don't advocate anyone else's smoking it."

"What did you say to those newspaper fellows?" McAlle wanted to know.

"You gotta know the background," Lee answered. "They asked me whether there was any drug problem on the Red Sox. I said 'What kind of drug problem are you talking about? Nicotine, caffeine—that's a South American drug—liquor or pain-killing drugs for athletes? These things are easy for me to make a speech about, so I go on for five minutes and I talk about the dangers of pollution in the air. Then I was asked a direct question: 'Do you use marijuana?' I said, yes, I used it in 1968 when I was a student at USC. I told them (the writers) I put it on my pocket and on my chocolate cookies."

McAlle didn't see the humor.

"It's a very serious subject and it's being treated in various ways in different states and different countries," he said to Lee. "It's not something you should joke about."

Lee was surprised over all the fuss.

"Oh, gee," he said, "I don't smoke it and I don't advocate anyone using it."

That was the end of the meeting.

Seminole High Outlasts Pats

It was a bomb away Wednesday at Lake Brantley. Seminole won the game, 20-13, and even came out on top in the home run derby, 6-4.

Rick Wells and Darren Crooms were the heroes.

Mike Link, Randy Smathers and George Ford also had homers for Seminole.

Wells and Ford each had three hits in the 17-inning game.

Lake Brantley got home runs from John Fields, Dwight Alexander, Kent Chapman and David Lyons. Bob's homer was with the home team.

The win helped Seminole's record to 14-4 with a 7-0 triumph and the girls went to 18-0 with a 6-0 victory.

SAILING

Sailing enthusiasts had their fill of sailing Wednesday on Lake Monroe where members of neighboring sailing squadrons staged a regatta. These happy sailors head for the middle of the lake with hopes of success in lightning class.

Rose On 0-For-13 Streak

By United Press International Pete Rose, who dazzled millions with his 44-game hitting streak last summer, may soon have some people holding their breath over another, less commendable streak he seems to have started.

"I'm going to have a good year," said Lee, who didn't have an especially good one last year with the Red Sox, finishing 10 and 10. "I'm the best conditioned athlete in this camp. I don't smoke marijuana and I don't advocate anyone else's smoking it."

Hayes Faces Judge On Drug Charges

DALLAS (UPI) — Bob Hayes, once described as "the world's fastest human," has admitted delivering narcotics to undercover officers.

Hayes, a former All-Pro receiver for the Dallas Cowboys, pleaded guilty to three drug counts Wednesday.

Hayes, 36, was arrested at his Dallas apartment in the pre-dawn hours of April 8, 1978, after a three-month investigation into drug trafficking in suburban Addison.

Two other men, Ben Charles Kinnead and Robert M. Adler, also were indicted on charges of cocaine growing out of their alleged involvement with Hayes.

Hayes had been free on bonds totaling $50,000.

Tired Alabama Takes On A&M

By United Press International The expanded field of this year's National Invitation Tournament has made four teams a little less than happy.

Texas A&M, Alabama, Purdue and Old Dominion find a place to play in their native Virginia.

It was the first bit of luck in the tournament for the Bobcats, who were seeded ahead of drawing one of the byes and then being told they would have to travel to Virginia.

Old Dominion will have to find a way to handle the Big Ten's leading scorer, Barry Carroll, a 7-foot-1 center who averages 28 points against Dayton Monday night.

Purdue's ability to switch defenses, from a zone to a man-to-man, also could cause some problems, but ODU, which is downed Clemson in a double overtime Monday night, also has a strong defense.

Indiana and Ohio State play the second round on Tuesday night's Madison Square Garden double-header after the winners of Thursday night's first-round games. The final is scheduled for Wednesday night.

Alabama's offense is led by the Southeastern Conference player-of-the-year, Reggie King. The 6-foot-4 forward scored 43 points and the Tide outscored Virginia in a 90-80 win Monday.

In other Thursday night battles for the trip to New York, Purdue will host Old Dominion because the Monarchs couldn't find a place to play in their native Virginia.

NCAA Reaches Semifinal Stage

By United Press International The University of Pennsylvania, which eclipsed Iowa in early tournament action, and Rutgers combined to expose the vulnerability of one of the bigger leagues last Sunday when it defeated Atlantic Coast Conference co-champions North Carolina and Duke to advance to the NCAA Eastern Regional Semifinals.

Penn takes on 10th-ranked Syracuse and Rutgers meets St. John's in the all-North matchups Friday night in Greensboro, N.C.

Syracuse Coach Jim Boehm, whose team is 26-3 for the year, says he wasn't surprised by the Penn win and notes the ACC may be overrated.

"Maybe the league isn't that tough," he said.

Last week's Quaker success in Raleigh came mostly on the performance of Tony Price. The 6-foot-7 senior forward scored 27 points and pulled down 12 rebounds against Iowa and 10, 25 points and nine rebounds against North Carolina.

Syracuse's hopes lie mainly with center Roosevelt Brown and forward Louis Orr, who has a good shooting touch from the 10 to 15 foot range. But the backcourt pair of Hal Cohen and Harry Head are also dangerous outside shooters capable of busting up zone defenses.

The Rutgers-St. John's game will be another of several matchups taking place this weekend. The Scarlet Knights, who have won nine straight, have already defeated St. John's twice this year. Led by center James Bailey, Rutgers is 24 for the season.

St. John's, 20-10 for the year, is led by Reggie Carter, whose shot with five seconds left in the game Sunday gave the Redmen the victory over Duke.

In the Midwest semifinals at Cincinnati Thursday night, Darrell Griffith, Louisville's astounding sensation, will try to offset Sidney McTee, the versatile full court player who has led Arkansas to their sixth-place ranking.

In the Midwest nightcap, No. 1 Indiana State takes on unranked but hot-shooting Oklahoma. The winners clash Saturday afternoon for the right to advance to the NCAA "Final Four" next weekend in Salt Lake City.

In other weekend action, a Midwest doubleheader in Indianapolis features Notre Dame against Toledo and Michigan State vs. Louisiana State Friday night and Marquette meets DePaul and UCLA faces San Francisco in the Western Regionals at Provo, Utah on Thursday.

Ford Heads World of 300 in NFL 'Fame' Tournament

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — A field of 300, including former President Gerald Ford, is expected for the 24-hole National Football Foundation Hall of Fame Golf Classic at two Palm Springs areas courses April 24-25, it was announced Wednesday.

Co-chairmen of the event are Earl "Red" Blank, former Army football coach, retired Admiral Tom Hamilton, one-time Navy great, and Anthony Cappa.

Hill Receives Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Charles D. Hill, a prominent Ohio horse owner, breeder and race track operator, will be presented the "Horseman of the Year" award by the United States Harness Writers Association at the group's annual dinner in East Rutherford, N.J., March 22.

Hill is the owner of Falcon Almahurst, the fastest 3-year-old pacer of all time and the world record holder on a half-mile course. A $150,000 yearling purchase, the horse earned $400,776 in its racing career.

Southern Cal Seeks Coach

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Southern California basketball Coach Bob Boyd will become an associate athletic director of promotion and sales at USC, it was announced Tuesday.

Boyd, 44, announced his resignation as basketball coach in January, effective at season's end. The Trojans, who finished with a 29-4 record overall and 14-4 in the conference, are still looking for a coach to replace him.

Hartman Quits Post

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (UPI) — Bob Hartman has resigned as head basketball coach at the University of North Carolina. Hartman will continue as athletic director for the men's program at the school.

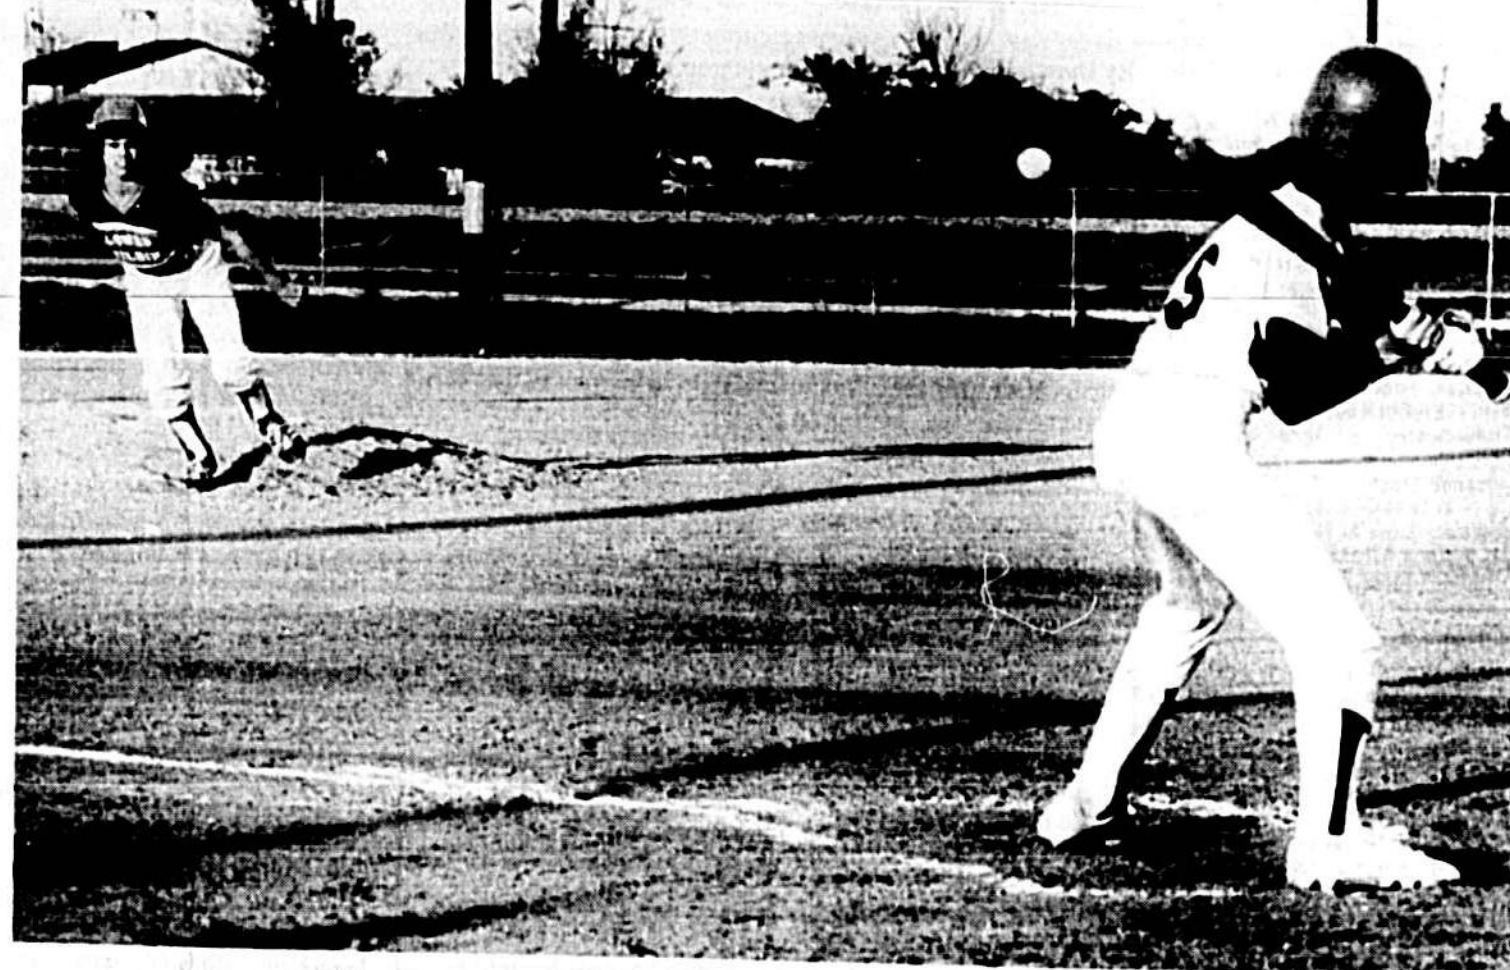

Hartman has been coach and athletic director of the school for 17 years. He took over when the school was known as Asheville-Biltmore College. In 1969 the school became a part of the University of North Carolina system.

Charleston Names Coach

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) — John Kresse has been named head basketball coach at the College of Charleston. Kresse, 35, an assistant at St. John's University in Jamaica, N.Y., was named head coach Tuesday.

Kresse had been coaching at St. John's since 1974. He announced his resignation in January.

Hagan, Letterio Post Major Wins

Scotty Russell came up, with the top individual effort of the Altamonte Springs Little League Wednesday, pitching a one-hitter with 13 strikeouts to lead Gene Letterio Co. to an 8-0 major league triumph over AFCOM.

In senior league, Orange Buick trimmed Baldwin Funeral Home, 11-4, and Klatsman Spring Water socked it to McDonald's, 21-1. Shane Letterio backed Russell's pitching with three hits, while Russell and Lance Wall added two hits to the Letterio attack. Palmer and Lance Metz turned in fine plays in the field.

Baldwin's Ken Weber had a home run to help put his team ahead, 4-3, but Orange Buick rallied, with the big hit coming on a two-run double by Carl Blongian. Scott Killiam bucked a five-hitter for the victory.

Jim Stoffel had three hits for Klatsman Spring Water.

In late Tuesday action, Decker Royals downed Gorfine's Jewelers in major league action, 6-2.

By United Press International. The Los Angeles Lakers were not pleased with the reception they got in San Antonio Wednesday night.

The Central Division-leading Spurs handed the slumping Lakers their fifth straight loss, 125-112, dropping Los Angeles a full game behind Phoenix for second place in the Pacific Division, and the boisterous crowd of 14,378 was at its San Antonio, led by George inhabitable best. Jim Price went after one fan he thought threw something at him and the entire Laker team left in their uniforms without stopping in the locker room.

San Antonio, led by George Gervin's 14 first period points, jumped to a 20-10 lead by 15 after Gervin scored six straight points in the third quarter and they were never really threatened.

Gervin, the NBA scoring leader, finished with 34 points, passing the 12,000 career-point plateau in the process.

"We really played good. I hope we can keep it up," said Spurs Coach Doug Moe.

Lopez Takes Rest, Sally Smiles

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Nancy Lopez, winner of last Sunday's Sunstar tournament at Los Angeles, has decided to skip the rest of the season.

"I finally learned that I had to do what makes Sally happy instead of doing what other people wanted me to. I know when I reach the point where I can say 'I'm so glad I'm doing my own thing, then I'll lose interest and eventually quit playing.'"

Other top women competing in the tournament include Jane Blalock and Amy Alcott, both winners this year, along with Pat Bradley, Jo Anne Carnier, Donna Young, Holly Stacy, Penny Pull, Jan Stephenson and Laura Baugh.

Chicago Coach-General Manager Bob Pulford. In other games, Minnesota shaded Montreal, 4-3, Buffalo stopped Toronto, 6-1, Detroit dumped Washington, 4-1, and Pittsburgh and Los Angeles skated to a 3-3 tie.

Quebec took a 4-2 victory over Winnipeg in the only World Hockey Association game. North Stars 4, Canadiens 3; Glen Sharpey and Tom Youngblood scored first-period goals as Detroit snuffed its four-game winless streak and ended Washington's six-game unbeaten stretch.

Prague 3, Kings 2; Steve Jensen scored two goals in the final 10:30 of the third period to lift Los Angeles into its tie with Pittsburgh, keeping the two teams in a second-place deadlock in the Norris Division.

WBAI: Third-period goals by Alain Cole and Serge Bernier broke a 3-2 tie to give Quebec its victory over Winnipeg.

Eastern Star Installs

The Sanford Masonic Temple was the setting for the installation of officers of Seminoles Chapter No. 2 Order of the Eastern Star (O.E.S.).

The chapter was called to order by Ralph Gebert, Junior Past Patron, and Elsie Gebert, Junior Past Matron.

Gloria Warren, installing officer, was introduced and escorted to the East. She in turn, introduced installation assistants Joyce Nicholson, installing marshal; Kathleen Reynolds, installing chaplain; Helen Lehnart, installing organist; Olive Pierce, assistant organist; and Lyndall Francis, soloist.

After a short recess the invocation was given by Rev. Dr. Virgil Bryant and a processional and presentation of flags by Sherris, Master Mason, Commandery, Courtesy Girls, Rainbow Girls and DeMolay.

Installed were Marie Richter, Worthy Matron; Harry Bicking, Worthy Patron; Lyndall Francis, Associate Matron; George Francis, Associate Patron; Phyllis Freund, secretary; and Mae Sheppard, treasurer.

Also Ann Fisher, conductress; Lawayne Stewart, associate conductress; Ethel Penruif, chaplain; Glenn Tenney, marshal; Helen Lehnart, organist; Denette Tenney Adah; Harriet Frock; Ruth; Camille Bicking; Esther; Kathy Alexander; Martha; Annette Bernard; Elsie; and J. Elton Warren, Sentinel.

The acceptance speeches made by the Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron were in keeping with their themes and aims for the year.

Following the ceremony, those attending were invited into the dining room for refreshments.

She Keeps Trying To Find A Reason To Go On Living

DEAR ABBY: I am 40 and my life is worth absolutely nothing. This is not just middle-age depression. I've been this way all my life. I have failed in every relationship I've ever had, beginning with my family while growing up.

I was a complete failure as a wife, too. (I cannot have children, but I probably would have failed as a mother, too.) I have failed in the business world also. I can't seem to succeed in anything.

I have really tried, Abby, but everything I do ends in failure. If your doctor hasn't been able to help you after 14 years of weekly treatment, ask him to refer you to another therapist. Please write again in two weeks, and tell me how you feel. I care.

DEAR ABBY: My husband had too much to drink last night and confessed that the reason he bought me a lovely overnight bag for Valentine's Day was because he'd bought one for his girlfriend, and he felt guilty. Now I don't even want the bag. What do you think?

DEAR ABBY: My mother recently remarried and told us she was selling the family farm. Because my sisters and brothers (and I) loved the farm so much, we asked her to sell it to us to keep it in the family. Without telling any of us, my mother sold the farm to a total stranger!

Florida President Visits Local Seminola Rebekahs

Members of Seminola Rebekah Lodge Number 43 recently honored Mrs. Elsie Nugent, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Florida with a dinner and meeting.

The charming first lady of the Rebekahs, Mrs. Nugent highlighted the evening with her interpretation of the beautiful love story of Isaac and Rebekah. Mrs. Nugent's motto is "Life without friends is worthless. Let us be kind, friendly and forgiving."

A love bouquet courtesy was enacted for the president. Those taking part and presented her with a bouquet of her favorite flowers, tallam roses, were Elizabeth Hannum, May Rubow and Estelle Cole.

Virginia Roche, noble grand, gave Mrs. Nugent a corsage. Her gift from the lodge was a monetary one. Standing guard over this gift was a pink French poof.

Marie Norman, talented musician from Orlando, delighted everyone with her music. Interviewed with her selections were many of the president's favorite songs.

Other distinguished guests attending the meeting were Lucille Ewell, vice president of the Rebekah Assembly of Florida; Hattie Raynor, district deputy president of District 10; Theodore Schneider and Henry Jameson, past district deputy grand masters of District 8.

During the business meeting plans were made for an anniversary dinner for Old Fellows, Rebekahs and friends. This celebration will mark the 80th year of Odd Fellowship in Sanford, and the 53 anniversary of Seminola Rebekah Lodge 43.

Lucille Ewell, Hattie Raynor, Elsie Nugent, Virginia Roche, Eva Beckham

Ushering in Spring at the Woman's Club of Sanford's Annual Benefit Bridge and Canasta games this week were Mrs. Charles Manhart (from left) Mrs. Estelle Davis, Mrs. Patsy Nicholson and Mrs. A. McCallum. Proceeds from the card games will benefit club projects. Mrs. George Drew, chairman of the Public Affairs Department, was chairman of hostesses at the all-department event.

Boiled Eggs Better In Your Diet

DEAR DR. LAMB — Some years ago I read in a British medical journal that raw eggs were unsafe for human consumption because of a substance they contained known as avidin, which has a devastating effect on the vitamins and minerals in the human body. Recently on some TV commercials I observed that raw eggs added to beverages or drinks were being recommended. May I know what your opinion is about using raw eggs?

DEAR READER — If you want my personal opinion, just looking at a raw egg would be enough to keep me from adding it to any drink. The feel of the raw egg white doesn't tickle my palate, either.

But I suspect you want my professional opinion. There is some basis of truth in your letter, although I'm afraid it is a little exaggerated. The relationship of raw eggs to vitamin deficiencies is based on the egg white and not the yolk. The raw white contains an anti-vitamin called avidin. It is able to inactivate biotin which is a vitamin and is important in human metabolism.

In fact, biotin was first discovered because of the effects of feeding raw egg whites to rats. Fortunately, we are not rats so we don't have as much of the same problem.

Now, raw egg white will not affect any of the other vitamins or minerals that you consume. That's what I mean by saying your letter does exaggerate the case a bit.

In man, you'd have to consume a lot of raw egg whites to produce such an effect. Biotin deficiency can cause loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, a shiny tongue, pale complexion, depression and dry, scaly skin.

We don't normally see biotin deficiencies in man. Why? Because the bacteria present in our own intestine manufactures it. In fact, there is so much biotin manufactured in your own intestines that

HOROSCOPE

BY BERNICE BEDE OSOL

YOUR BIRTHDAY
March 15, 1979

There is a strong possibility that you may profit this coming year from something originated by another. Luck will have an important role in bringing this about.

SCHEDULE (Feb. 20-March 20) Schedule your time today so that your responsibilities take priority over your pleasurable pursuits. Without an agenda your hours could be divided away unproductively. Discover with whom you romantically get along best by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail $1 for each Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 468, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There is a danger today that you may base your judgment upon faulty information. Before agreeing to anything, go on a fact-finding mission.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) A task you have set for yourself may not turn out as easy as it looked on the drawing board. Don't use this as an excuse to scrap the project.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Financial discipline must be maintained today or your extravagant rages could overwhelm you. Be only that which you absolutely need.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In order to get others to do your bidding today you may promise or give them more than you should. Be generous, but at the same time be sensible.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Strive to distinguish today the difference between positive thinking and unrealistic optimism. The former spells success, the latter failure.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Material opportunity continues to hover about you again today, but little will result if you take things for granted. Put your possibilities to work.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't look to others to do things for you today that you could more competently do for yourself. Astro-Graph can really count on No. 1.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Normally you're an extremely discerning person, but today you could be taken in by accepting at face value that which is told to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be wary of taking financial risks on ventures which you do not personally control. You may not want to have to pay for another's mistakes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Not over-optimistic today, but dealing with today will abide by your high standards. Keep this in mind and select associates accordingly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You have a sharp eye for details today, but you may have problems in seeing the big picture. Stand back to where you're able to take in the whole view.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Slam depends only on a 3-2 trump break, almost a 68 percent likelihood.

Even though declarer got the needed 3-2 trump break, cartoon play on his part led to defeat.

After winning the opening lead, declarer drew two rounds of trumps and saw that he would be able to ruff a club in dummy and discard his remaining club on dummy's fourth heart. The contract hinged on which order he chose to make these plays.

Without giving the hand sufficient thought, declarer played the ace and king of clubs and ruffed a club in dummy. He then played the ace king and queen of hearts and was rudely awakened when East ruffed the queen of hearts and cashed the queen of clubs.

Declarer had ruffed that club too early. Once both opponents followed to the second trump lead South should have gone right after hearts. If East ruffed in on the third heart lead that last trump would still have been there to ruff a club and get him in dummy to discard the last club on the fourth heart.

If East refused to ruff declarer would get his club discard early and his club ruff later. Either way, the defense would just get their own trump trick.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL

SANFORD

Little League baseball is everyone's favorite season, including us here at the Evening Herald.

It's more than the All-American thing to do, it's a pacesetter for the youth of our community in their formative years.

That's why we treat Little League as being on a higher plateau than even major league baseball.

OVIEDO

ALFAMONTE SPRINGS

The Evening Herald has already earned its reputation as the No. 1 authority on Little League and the other baseball groups which cater to the 8 to 18 set here in Seminole County.

Keep an eye on the sports pages for our usual coverage of all leagues — from Seminole Pony to Paola, from Oviedo to Altamonte Springs, and a thorough rundown of Sanford's games.

We keep readers well informed of all the games with photos, stories, standings, schedules and box scores. And we do that the day right after the game.

Particularly appealing to our readers is the box score format, which lists every player who appeared in the game. Johnny didn't have to get a hit to make our paper. He's right there in the box score, no matter what, pop.

Despite Polk Plea Jail Overcrowding Persists In Seminole

By MAX EKHELETTIAN
Herald Staff Writer

It has been at least a month since Sheriff John Polk urged circuit court judges by letter to give consideration in their sentencing policies to the overcrowded conditions at the Seminole County Jail.

An of today no response has been received from the circuit judges, a spokesman for Polk's office said. The letter was written directly to Circuit Judge Robert McGregor, chief judge of the 18th judicial circuit and was sent to him by courthouse courier.

Sheriff's Department spokesman John Spolaki said today the inmate population at the jail has reached as high as 150 prisoners while capacity is 95. The worst problem is seen on weekends, especially since judges have sentenced so many to work-release terms whereby they are permitted to work at their regular jobs during the week while serving time from Friday night until Sunday night at the jail, Spolaki said.

Spolaki added that the problem is then multiplied further on Fridays by persons charged with traffic offenses being brought to the jail not only by the sheriff's department but also by other law enforcement units in the county.

Judges could not be reached for comment today.

County Administrator Roger Newmeyer told county commissioners a week ago that Sheriff Polk "now feels his department will need to retain at least 30 cells in the old jail after the new confinement complex with 225 beds is completed at Five Points.

Newmeyer said Polk's estimates are based on the new trend of judges to sentence persons to serve days in a block dorm for them."

Newmeyer said, adding that the private jobs to support their families.

"It might be cheaper to build a block dorm for them," Newmeyer said, adding that using the space for 30 cells will mean the entire second floor of the current jail will not be available for other county needs when the new jail is finished.

Art Beckwith, clerk of the circuit court in Sanford meanwhile, gave some statistics on the caseload in circuit court filings as well as misdemeanor filings in county court indicating a sharp rise in activity which may contribute to the jail problem.

Beckwith said in 1977 circuit court filings were at 1,045, and 1,806 misdemeanor filings in county court; while in 1978, circuit court filings were at 1,497 and misdemeanor filings at 2,137. He said circuit court filings for 1979-1978 were up 115 percent, while county court filings experienced a 52 percent increase in caseload activity.

Zoning Board Unanimously Opposes Industrial Park

By MAX EKHELETTIAN
Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford Planning and Zoning (P&Z) Commission unanimously turned thumbs down on a request made on behalf of entrepreneur Lamar Hunt to have 80 acres just south of Lake Drive and east of Malloryville Avenue rezoned for an industrial-offices park.

The commission's action came at its regularly scheduled meeting Thursday.

The land is currently zoned agricultural, according to Al Payne, Sanford zoning administrator. Hunt, through his representative, Condev Management, Walter Park, requested the change from Agricultural to M-4, which allows unlimited industrial use.

"The conditional uses listed under that zoning were not compatible with that area," commented P&Z member Jan Freeman.

A large contingent of people living in the Lake Drive-Malloryville Avenue area turned in opposition to the proposed industrial park, she said.

"The industries listed that are feasible under the type of zoning requested are not the kind of industries the majority of people in Sanford would like to see," commented Mrs. Freeman.

Later in the meeting, Joe Begalla, of Condev, asked the commission if it would consider approving a zoning change from the current agricultural status to restricted industrial. However, the commission divided 3-3 on that suggestion.

The commission's action is arbitrary and does not bear the weight of final action. The commission's recommendations are forwarded to the city commission, which has the final say on all zoning requests.

In other action, the commission rezoned a 100 square foot lot of the southeast corner of First Street and Cypress Avenue from R-1 to RMOI.

The rezoning was the second change for the piece of property since January.

The property, which will be used for medical supply and sports-related shops, had originally been rezoned from RMOI to R-1 to allow for the planned use. However, the city commission amended RMOI zoning last month to allow sports-related and medical supply shops.

The P&Z commission also gave its okay to expansion of the Sanford Court subdivision.

The expansion over four acres will include the construction of several homes and apartments, according to Payne.

The development is located just north of Sanora on Sanford Avenue and is the second phase of construction in the Sanford Court.

The commission recommended approval of a proposal to build a 24 by 60 foot commercial building for the storage of roofing materials at 2770 Depot Avenue.

Bill Speigle, representing Speigle Roofing, made the request and told the commission the storage building would be used to keep paper, high-density polyethylene roofing items out of the elements.

Speigle plans several other storage buildings on the same site in the future, according to Payne.

Approval was given for rezoning part of a lot in Highland Park, located just north of Catherine Court on U.S. 17-92, from single family residential to restricted commercial.

CITY ENGINEER BILL BUSH

and inwardly I seethe, remembering the speed with which I used to get things done," he said.

"In 1957 when my late brother-in-law resigned from Food Machines Inc., we started Leffler and Bush Engineering, doing surveying and subdivision engineering and some joint venture work with an engineering firm then known as Clark, Daley and Dietz. While in the joint venture we designed the Sanford utility plant on the west side of today's golf course," he said. "But our work wasn't exactly financially breathtaking either and we thought of dissolving the firm partnership."

In May, 1962 when then-County Engineer Carlton Bliss resigned to go back to New Jersey, Bush was approached about whether he would accept the position. He decided to try it temporarily. The time was May, 1962 and the job once reached decisions and gain authority. It takes longer and more work to get things done frustrating when someone says "Hello Bill" and I can't remember who they are," Bush said.

The part of his job he likes least is the "unavoidable growth of bureaucracy and paperwork." "I concede it is necessary and grows through federal and state regulations and local management evolution. It takes longer and longer..."

Without being asked, Sadat mentioned a proposal by Begin that the English-language version of the treaty, the paramount one which will prevail in the event of any future differences, be signed by Sadat, President Carter and himself in Washington and that the Arabic and Hebrew copies be signed later by the Egyptian and Israeli leaders in Cairo and Jerusalem, respectively.

Sadat said he had "no objection" to going to Jerusalem or to have Begin come to Cairo, adding: "But I prefer to sign the whole thing in this ceremony (in Washington) with Jimmy Carter."

"Jimmy Carter has done it and the show is his show," Sadat added. "It is neither my nor Begin's show."

In Tel Aviv it was announced today that Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin has postponed by 24 hours the cabinet debate on approval of the Egyptian-Israeli treaty as a whole. The cabinet secretary said the meeting was postponed from Monday to Tuesday because Begin is suffering from a cold.

Cabinet acceptance of the treaty as a package is a virtual certainty and once it is approved it will be presented to the Knesset (parliament). The cabinet voted 15-0 with one abstention and one member absent Wednesday to accept President Carter's compromise proposal.

The Knesset debate on approving the treaty, the final step before the document can be signed, is scheduled to start Tuesday, Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Yadin said.

Sadat spoke to reporters after saying Friday noon prayers in the village mosque and visiting the tomb of his brother, Arafat, an air force pilot killed in action on the first day of the 1973 Arab-Israeli war.

Sadat said he visited the tomb and prayed together with his family to celebrate "the victory of peace and the end of war" now that a treaty has been signed.

"And now we can say that Arafat did not die in vain," Sadat said of his brother whom he had brought up "as my son because there was a difference of more than 30 years between us."

Sadat said there was a possibility of his visiting Japan and West Germany following his impending trip to the United States to sign the treaty. The aim, he said, would be to discuss a massive aid program for Egypt that has been dubbed "the Carter plan."

He said his plan was to seek $3 billion annually in aid from the three countries for five years to rebuild Egypt.

"I think that maybe I can proceed from Washington after the treaty is signed and then go to the Pacific to Japan and then over the Arctic to Germany," Sadat said. "But I cannot say now (how this will be done) because the signature there in Washington compels me to return home and put the whole thing before my Parliament."

"Let us hope we can reach an agreement to sign the three copies (of the treaty) in Washington because, as I said before... the unknown soldier behind this is President Carter," Sadat said.

There has been talk in Cairo for the last two days of possible reluctance by Sadat to sign in Jerusalem for fear this might be interpreted as implicit recognition of the city as Israel's capital and lay Sadat open to further denunciations by his Arab detractors who oppose his peace policy.

Earlier today, Egypt called on the Arab world to support its treaty with Israel on grounds their acceptance would lead to "the total liberation of occupied Arab soil."

Israel's defense minister also flew to Washington to join his Israeli counterpart in adding the final touches to a timetable for the final withdrawal from the Sinai.
