

JAPS CONSIDER DEFYING ORDER FROM LEAGUE

Denial Of Tokyo's Contentions By Council Will Place Administration In Trouble

TOKYO, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—Japan was undecided today whether it would defy the League of Nations in the event the latter refuses to reconsider Tokyo's contentions in the league council's discussions of the Sino-Japanese dispute over Manchuria.

If the league decided unconditionally that Japanese troops must vacate the Manchurian territory outside the Japanese-controlled south Manchurian railway zone, the Tokyo Administration likely will have to face a serious situation. Its army stands opposed to the interference of any outside agency in the adjustment of the main problem.

GENEVA, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—The United States took its place last night at the table of the council of the League of Nations to assist in efforts to bring peace between China and Japan in Manchuria.

Japan fought to the last ditch against inviting the United States to participate, but was overruled in a new vote yesterday when the question was formally settled. The other 13 members of the council lined up against Japan.

When the American representative—the youthful Franklin D. Roosevelt—joined the 14 members of the league's executive board, the great war ended a historical and bloody campaign for organized international security.

The presence of Gilbert means that the Briand-Kellogg pact, formulated in large part through American effort, was linked with the covenant of the league in the effort to solve the Sino-Japanese problem. That problem, it is recognized in league circles, gravely menaces world peace and hope for disarmament.

After the representative of the United States had been welcomed with words of warm praise for his nation's will to peace, the council adjourned until private discussions formulate the next step in the concerted program of pacification.

Although Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japan's spokesman, remained silent while his colleagues were praising America and were facilitating themselves on American collaboration, he approached Gilbert at the end of the session and shook his hand with earnest, smiling cordiality.

This gesture contrasted with the view generally expressed here that Japanese opposition to the American invitation constituted "a real tragedy" certain to embitter relations between the two nations.

Maj. Birger Bradan, Norwegian foreign minister, was the only one besides Yoshizawa to refrain from voicing his pleasure at American participation. This was interpreted as a courteous gesture intended to reduce the conspicuousness of the Japanese spokesman's silence.

In a brief speech Gilbert made it clear he was present under the terms of the Briand-Kellogg pact alone and would not participate in deliberations on measures under the covenant of the league.

Self-Defense Claimed By Accused Slayer

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—Walter Brink, White Plains, N. Y., today gave details police said, of the slaying near here last month of George Hiale, of Los Angeles. Authorities said he defended his participation in a fight with slugs he contended he struck in self defense.

Brink was returned last night from the Miami, Fla., where he was arrested. He had offered to pay $10,000 to escape and received a $10,000 bond. The grand jury, he said, had a lack of funds and was unable to pay a $10,000 bond. He was arrested on a charge of slaying Hiale with a slugging machine.

Japanese Freighter Given Up As Lost

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—The Japanese freighter Yonan Maru with a crew of between 40 and 50 was given up for lost today. The liner President Jefferson, on which Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh are returning from the Orient to the United States reached the scene of the Yonan Maru's distress in response to a series of frantic calls for help, but was unable to find the ship.

CANNON INDICTED BY GRAND JURY ON TEN COUNTS

Answers By Saying He Is Not Surprised At Prosecutor's Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—Bishop James Cannon must stand trial on charges arising from his management of thousands of dollars contributed to his relentless anti-Smith campaign of 1928.

With Miss Ada L. Burroughs, treasurer of his "headquarters" committee, anti-Smith Democrats in Virginia, the Southern Methodist private was indicted by the District of Columbia grand jury yesterday for conspiracy to violate the federal court practice law.

The grand jury returned 39 counts, carrying a possible maximum penalty upon conviction of 10 years imprisonment and $50,000 fine for each defendant.

Failure to report contributions of $65,300 from E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist and Republican, as required by law was the basis of the indictment. Bond was fixed at $1000 for each.

Assistant District Attorney Wilson, prosecutor, said he would seek an early trial.

From Atlanta, where he is attending a meeting of the College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the churchman said:

"I am not surprised at anything that the Roman Catholic district attorney might do."

It was the second time he had directed public attention to the faith of District Attorney Leo A. Rover. Earlier, he said Rover had ignored his offers to testify before the grand jury.

Rover withheld comment even but immediately after the grand jury reported yesterday, he said the clergyman's requests that he be permitted to testify personally and that certain witnesses be called were "promptly transmitted by me to the grand jury and that body was advised that it was within its province to grant the request if it so desired."

The bishop once said he would welcome a grand jury inquiry.

Robert H. McNeil, the bishop's attorney, said Miss Burroughs would make bond in Richmond, Va., her home, and arrangements would be made for the bishop's bond upon his return to Washington.

McNeil expressed confidence "a full and open hearing when all the facts can be brought out, will vindicate the conduct of Bishop Cannon and his associates."

Four of the counts presented by the grand jury charged Miss Burroughs with willful failure to report Jameson's contributions to the risk of the House of Representatives. Four other charges charged technical failure to report.

The 66-year-old clergyman was charged with violating the eight violations, while two additional counts added fines for supplying with Miss Burroughs to commit the offense. Under the law an abettor is made equally responsible.

GERMANS VOTE CONFIDENCE IN NEW CABINET

Bruening Is Virtual Dictator After Hot Reichstag Session; Hitlerites Walk Out

B. JOHN A. HOUMAN, Associated Press Staff Writer, WEIMAR, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—Germany's new cabinet today voted in a virtual dictatorship over a hot Reichstag session when the Reichstag after giving the chancellor a vote of confidence, voted to adjourn until Feb. 23.

Adolf Hitler's National Socialists and Alfred Hugenberg, a nationalist walked out of the chamber following the confidence vote, announcing they had no interest in what the Reichstag would do.

Even with the support of the Communists, the two parties were able to muster only 200 votes against the chancellor. The vote in favor of the confidence motion was 295.

The adjournment paved the way for Chancellor Bruening to launch a campaign immediately to put Germany's economic life in order without interference from parliamentary opposition.

It came after a night session during which Communists and social Democrats, taking advantage of the absence from the chamber of the National Socialists and Nationalists, put through a resolution asking the government to suspend the constitution.

AUTO LICENSES GREEN PREDICTS MUST BE BOUGHT DEMOCRATIC WIN BEFORE FEB. 1 IN '32 ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—An estimate that $170,000,000 will be required to keep the distressed from being hungry and cold in 314 cities, this winter, was reported yesterday by the relief organization.

This "bare minimum" figure was presented to Walter S. Gifford, director of the national employment organization, by the association of community chest and councils. It represented the results of a survey of cities having community chests, regardless of size and others of 25,000 or more population.

Gifford described the report as "reassuring" although the figures were estimates and "cover only part of the country and part of the total problem."

The figures, he added, confirm the view of the president's organization on unemployment relief that the burden arising from unemployment this winter can and will be "soleheartedly met."

A week's campaign for funds will be starting Monday by most of the community chest organizations. At the same time the Gifford committee will conduct a drive to stimulate contributions for relief work both to the community chest and other organizations. President Hoover will open it Sunday afternoon with a radio address.

NAVY EFFECTS LARGE SAVING IN EXPENSES

Less Important Items To Be Dropped Soon; Noted Band Included In Dismissal Of Men

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—With bold strokes cutting more than 50 millions from its 1933 expenditures, the Navy has eliminated its less important activities and has sharply curtailed many that it valued highly.

The famous Navy band is scheduled for abolition. The frigate Constitution, newly refitted for a triumphal tour around the coast, will be tied up again. More than 2000 civilian employees will be paid off. More than 1000 sailors and Marines taken from the rolls.

These are cuts proposed in the revised budget estimate submitted to President Hoover yesterday by Secretary Adams.

The Boston and Charleston, S. C., Navy yards will be closed, and so will the operating base at Newport, the naval training station at Newport, R. I., and the naval ammunition depot at Lake Drummer, N. J. The Paris Island, S. C., Marine Corps training station will go into reduced command status. Naval reserve activities will be sharply reduced.

Fleet changes recommended include decommissioning of the battleship Wyoming and the old cruiser Rochester, placing in reduced commission the battleship New York; putting two new eight-inch gun cruisers and six S-class submarines in reserve. Several minor craft such as tenders and receiving ships are to be laid up.

In dollars and cents some of the major cuts to be made are:

Pay, $1,100,000; construction and repair, $1,450,000; engineering, $1,550,000; public works, $2,000,000; aviation, $2,353,000; Marine Corps, $960,000; alteration of naval vessels, $3,035,000; and the crews of the Navy, $21,580,000.

Unable to say exactly how much will be saved by all these slashes, Navy officials figure the amount would exceed $51,000,000.

Among the shore stations to be closed are the radio stations at Great Lakes, Ill.; Savannah, Ga.; and St. Augustine, Fla.; one half of the Navy and Marine recruiting stations; the ammunition station at Fort Lafayette, N. Y., and naval hospitals at Charleston, S. C., and in the Virgin Islands.

The activity at the Philadelphia aircraft factory is to be reduced. The $24,000,000 armor plant at Charleston, W. Va., would be disposed of and so would the wartime housing facilities at Indian Head, Md.

GERMANS VOTE CONFIDENCE IN NEW CABINET

ment to suspend work on the construction of "passive resistors" and to use the money saved to feed the children of the poor.

The vote was 211 to 181.

The majority of 25, when the chancellor received the vote of confidence was larger than was expected, and his supporters.

It was achieved through the support of 25 members of the economic party who were swung into line at the last moment.

In walking out of the session the Nazis and the Nationalists followed the same tactics they pursued in the Reichstag when they made a dramatic exit, threatening to set up a coup d'etat. The threat came to nothing.

The vote of confidence was obtained after a three-hour discussion in the Reichstag not to change but to add to it.

The chancellor warned the legislators against extremists who, he said, were attempting to tear down all the accomplishments on which he and his colleagues had expended so much labor.

"We've laid our heads on the table," he said, "and I tell you that if the Fatherland is to be saved it is up to you to justify a confidence accord."

Foreshadowing their subsequent action, the Nazis and Nationalists walked out on the chancellor, during this appeal, coming back when it was time for voting.

When the result of the vote of confidence was read by Speaker Laeger, an opposition force crowded their disapproval on the ministerial bench, smiles indicated the relief with which the result was received, but not a muscle moved on the ascetic face of Dr. Brüning.

The attack on the government came in the form of three opposition motions of no confidence, grouped together to save time. James Mollath, spokesman of the Economic party, outlined the facts of these motions, by announcing that "in answering loyalty to President Von Hindenburg the party will refrain from opposing the cabinet he appointed."

The People's party, formerly led by the late Dr. Gustav Stresemann, to whose foreign policies Dr. Brüning is heir, declared their opposition to the government but individual members were left to vote according to their consciences.

The government's victory was solidified by the vote on several other motions. General Wilhelm Groener, the last quartermaster-general of the imperial government, and now head of the department of defense and interior, received a personal vote of confidence of 221 to 223. Adam Stegerwald, minister of labor, was upheld 225 to 225.

To make a clean sweep of it, the Reichstag then downed a Communist motion calling for dissolution by a vote of 320 to 222.

The government accepted these expressions of confidence as indicating the country would be spared the chaos that was predicted if the cabinet were overturned at this critical period in Germany's affairs.

Money is trickling out of his pockets, vanishing bit by bit. Ten years from now he'll wonder why he has nothing to show for his efforts.

The cabinet he appointed.

The People's party, formerly led by the late Dr. Gustav Stresemann, to whose foreign policies Dr. Brüning is heir, declared their opposition to the government but individual members were left to vote according to their consciences.

The government's victory was solidified by the vote on several other motions. General Wilhelm Groener, the last quartermaster-general of the imperial government, and now head of the department of defense and interior, received a personal vote of confidence of 221 to 223. Adam Stegerwald, minister of labor, was upheld 225 to 225.

To make a clean sweep of it, the Reichstag then downed a Communist motion calling for dissolution by a vote of 320 to 222.

The government accepted these expressions of confidence as indicating the country would be spared the chaos that was predicted if the cabinet were overturned at this critical period in Germany's affairs.
