"Gripe Board" Makes Report To Patterson

Doolittle Committee Urges Abolishment Of Words "Officer" And "Enlisted Man"

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—The Army's so-called "gripe board" today laid before War Secretary Patterson a 53-page statement on what it thinks can be done to improve the United States Army.

The board's greatest break with tradition in its recommendations is contained in the suggestion that the very terms "officer" and "enlisted man" be banned from the Army vocabulary. The board said it thought that simple move would go a long way toward narrowing the official and social gap between officers and men.

It recommended that all military personnel be referred to simply as soldiers.

The six-man board was headed by Lieutenant General Jimmy Doolittle and was made up chiefly of ex G. I.'s and former officers.

The board also recommended abolition of the hand salute, except on Army posts and in overseas areas. Abolition of any rules or customs which make any barrier to social associations also was recommended.

The board proposed a thorough revision of existing differences in pay, promotion, furloughs, decorations and food. It called, too, for new measures aimed at raising the standard of living in the Army. Said the board: "Americans look with disfavor upon any system which grants unearned privileges to a particular class of individuals."

Immediate Action Urged By Legislators

By Legislators Urged By Bureau

Telegrams urging "fearless action" on the part of senators and congressmen on pending labor relations bills so that never again can public interest or welfare be at the mercy of any organized group, were dispatched Saturday to Senators O. Andrews and Claude Pepper by members of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Farm Bureau, following a meeting at the office of American Fruit Growers Inc. in the Atlantic National Bank Building, Sanford.

Mr. Cullum today revealed the content of the telegrams which read as follows: "We urge you take fearless action on pending labor relations bills so that never again can public interest, health and general welfare, or government itself, be at the mercy of any organized group. Mere settlement of present coal, rail strikes will not solve the problem as strikes which preceded these and those which follow bear equally, if less spectacular, harmful results.

TOMORROW

Two contests remain to be decided by the vote in the second Democratic primary election Tuesday. For justice of the supreme court, Paul D. Barnes will oppose W. Raleigh Pettey. For railway commissioner, Fred W. Brown will oppose Wilbur C. King. Polls will be open from 7:00 A. M. to 7:00 P. M. at the same polling places as in the former primary of May 7, except for Paola, where, according to County Clerk O. P. Herndon, voting will take place at the school house.

New York Throgs Mob Gates For Last Train

Warned that the 5:15 train was not likely to take off, New York's millions of commuters began thrashing every railroad gate early in the afternoon. Hundreds of employers began letting workers off shortly after noon. Here is a typical scene at Pennsylvania Station when Long Island Sound thought to get aboard for the last train.

Touchton And Harris Speak At Rotary Meet

Major W. C. Hutchison Welcomed by President Leq R. Leshner

Robert Harris, manager of the Ritz Theater and Orville Touchton in charge of packing house machinery at the Stine Machine Co. entertained the Rotary at the regular weekly luncheon at the Mayfair Inn today, with occasional talks. Both were introduced by H. H. Coleman who had charge of the program.

Mr. Harris said that he began his theater career mounting a small theater in Tampa at the tender age of 17. He said that the motion picture theater, try to carry out the spirit of Rotary by aiding in War Bond drives and in raising funds for all kinds of charities.

Mr. Touchton described the type of equipment produced by the Stine Machine Co. and said that many articles were produced during the war by this concern for the armed forces, among them being one-half million screw drivers for the air corps.

Public Is Warned Of Polio Hysteria By State Officer

JACKSONVILLE, May 27. (Special)—The public was cautioned by the State Board of Health today against polio hysteria.

The board is on the upswing in Florida and every known physical precaution is being urged.

Dr. Wilson T. Bowder, state health officer, pointed out that calmness on the part of the public is also an important factor.

Dr. Bowder said that the word "epidemic" is being used in a way which is causing unnecessary alarm.

Another Attempt To End Coal Strike Fails Today

Congestion Of Freight Cars Here Cleared

More Than 100 Cars Of Perishables Included In Local Jam

The congested condition of freight cars tied up at Sanford during the recent railroad strike has been practically cleared up, William M. Black, superintendent of the Jacksonville division of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, revealed this morning.

More than 100 cars of perishables, including cool celery and watermelons, were part of the 232 railbound and 185 southbound freight jam.

Whether or not these vegetables, which have been kept in good condition during the tie up by Fruit Growers Express, will reach the market in good condition was a prediction local shippers declined to make.

Black said that the tie up had caused a backlog of freight cars, which had been kept in good condition during the tie up by Fruit Growers Express, will reach the market in good condition was a prediction local shippers declined to make.

Green Bitterly Denounces Truman's Labor Bill Now Before U. S. Senate

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—The government and John L. Lewis made another attempt to end the soft coal strike this morning when the Senate voted to pass the bill.

Lewis and his committee met for 2 1/2 hours with Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug, who is running the strike for the San and King's men. Also present was Ben Moore.

When the meeting was over, Lewis said that the bill was a "betrayal" of the coal miners. He said that the bill would strip the miners of their right to organize and to bargain collectively.

Although the atom bomb is less than a year old, it has already been made almost obsolete by the invention of a new device called the hydrogen bomb. It is far more deadly. By the time the world is ready for the next world war, say 20 or 30 years from now, no telling what instruments of death

The President Acts

At long last President Truman has taken the initiative in doing something toward eliminating labor-management strife in this country. Such action taken six months ago would have prevented many, if not all of the strikes which have been delaying the nation's reconversion efforts, but it is better late than never, and under the circumstances we believe that the President should have the support of every patriotic American, inside Congress or out, in his efforts to bring some sort of industrial order out of the chaos which previous ill considered legislation has produced.

The measures advocated by President Truman may not be the best that could be devised, but they are the best which anyone has yet proposed in Congress, and of one thing certainly everyone should be able to agree, conditions could not be allowed to continue as they were any longer. Something had to be done. As a result of even the short railroad tie-up hundreds of people will starve to death in Europe. In another week or two people would have begun to starve in this country. The trains simply had to be started rolling again.

We are sorry that Florida's most outspoken representative in Congress, Senator Pepper, has not seen fit to support the President in this critical hour. In fact; he has done just the opposite. He has denounced him, virtually called him a liar, and threatened him if he dares to run for re-election in 1948. In taking this stand Senator Pepper does not represent the voice of the people of Florida. If he thinks he does, he had better come back and get acquainted with his home folks.

It is now up to President Truman to prevent another impending coal strike. It would be manifestly unfair to the railroad-trainmen and engineers, to compel them to go back to work; and then allow the coal miners to disrupt transportation again by refusing to mine the coal which the trains must have in order to run. It is unthinkable that President Truman could express himself as he did with regard to Mr. Whitner and then allow John L. Lewis to get away with murder.

What is needed is a one year moratorium on strikes while Congress and the Administration work out an intelligent and well rounded program for handling industrial disputes so that fair wage rates and better working conditions can be obtained by all workmen without the necessity of having to strike.

Tomorrow's Primary

In the first primary on May 7, a United States senator was nominated, so was a congressman, a railroad commissioner, and a couple of local officers. But in two contests where there were several candidates no one received a majority of the votes so that a runoff election is necessary. This will be held tomorrow for the office of Supreme Court justice and railroad commissioner in Group No. 1.

In the first primary the two top candidates for the Supreme Court were Paul D. Barns and Raleigh Petteway. For railroad commissioner the two high men were Wilbur C. King and Fred W. Brown. These are the men for whom the people are asked to vote tomorrow. And despite the importance of the offices, because there are only two positions to be filled, special efforts may be necessary to get out the vote.

As between Judge Barns and Judge Petteway, it is difficult to make a choice. Both are very able men with worlds of judicial experience. Both now live in Miami. Petteway is a former Tampa jurist and Barns formerly lived in Plant City. Petteway is a former candidate for governor who ran against Fred Cone in 1936.

In the railroad commissioner's race we do not know much about Fred W. Brown except that he comes from Tampa. His opponent Wilbur C. King is much better known because of his record in the State Legislature. Among those newspapers which are supporting him is the Miami Daily News which pointed out recently that he received nearly twice as many votes in the first primary as Mr. Brown.

"He (Senator King) is a cattleman, grower and shipper," the News continues. "He has had experience with rail and truck rates—and service—from the shipper's angle. As a businessman, he is able to appreciate what fast telegraph service and quick long-distance telephone connections mean to the state's commercial development."

"Particularly he is equipped to see the possibilities in faster shipment of perishable fruits and vegetables. Not all the produce of this state can be flown to its destination. Senator King says he cannot understand why railroads cannot be forced to give as efficient service on their freight schedules as they do on passenger trains."

"Senator King is also conscious of the needs of tourists. We spend money to lure them here. We ought to do everything within our power to offer them comfort, convenience and pleasure. Modern stations, better passenger service, fast telegraph and telephone connections, these are things which tourists want and deserve and which it is in the power of an aggressive railroad commissioner to give them."

Rural Common Sense

BEING A GOOD NEIGHBOR IS IMMEDIATE DUTY OF INDIVIDUAL AMERICANS

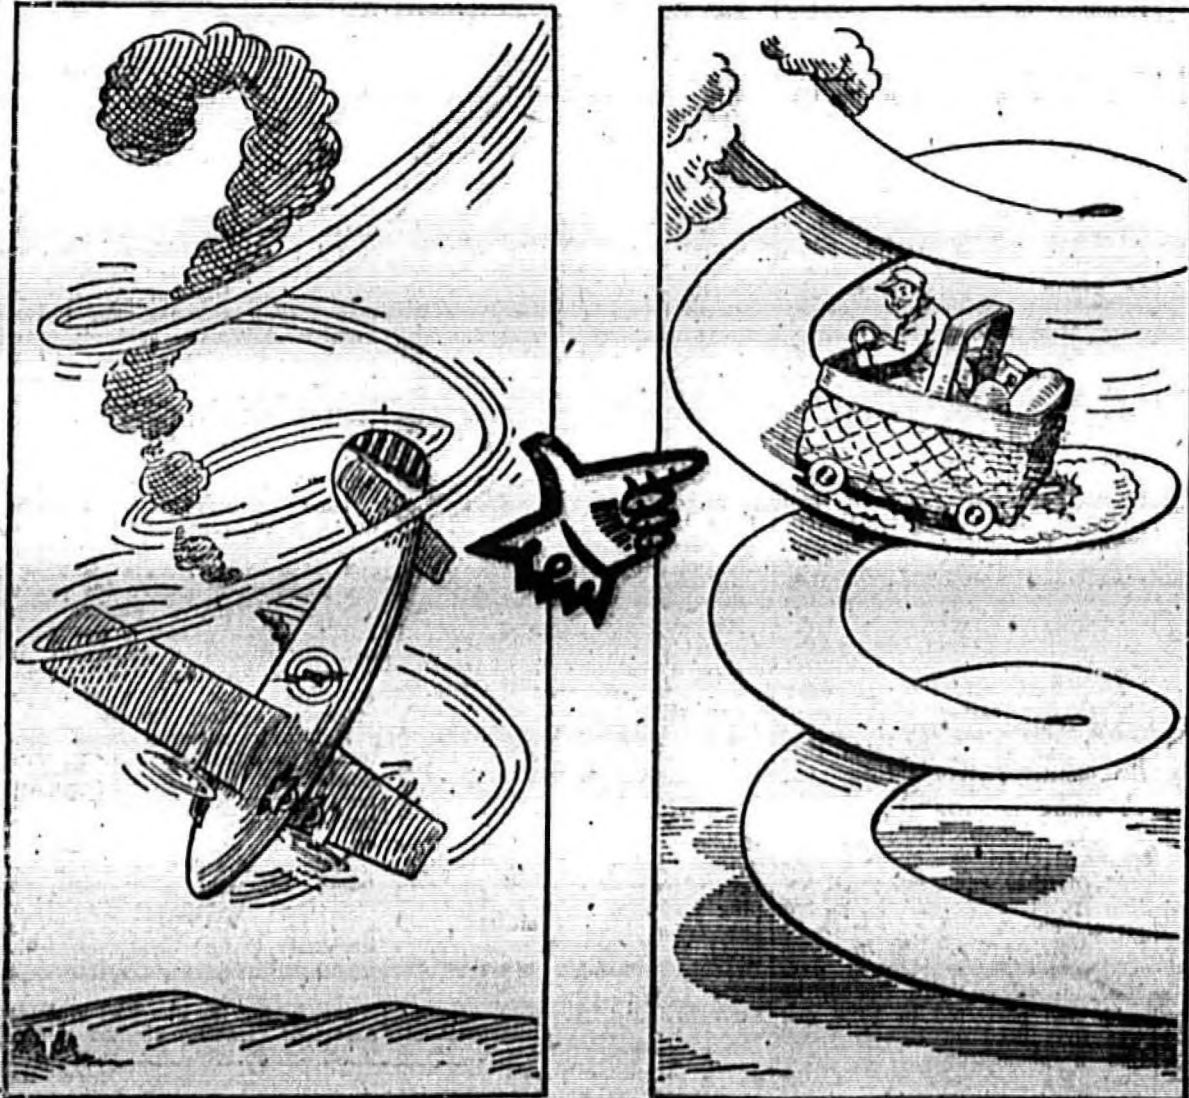

The good neighbor policy has been stressed in this country now for several years, its particular application being to nations in the Western Hemisphere. However, a neighbor is no longer the person who lives next door or even in the same community or country. Neighbors now are all over the world. And so, we in this country, who are on the whole well fed, well clothed, healthy and happy, must of necessity give consideration to the less fortunate peoples of the world. The destitute and desperate, the famine-ridden, throughout the world are looking to the United States as their only hope of salvation. And this salvation in the form of food supplies must come soon, because thousands of people are dying of starvation every day. Those of us who do not do hungry can hardly realize what it is to be haunted by misery and hunger, much less to starve to death. If our next door neighbor should be on the verge of starvation, we would rush immediately to provide needed foods and care. But our neighbors across the seas are dying every day, and because we do not see their gaunt and starved bodies, we have a tendency to remain complacent and unconcerned. We would even grow more plump while they become more gaunt. Their need is desperate and their need is now. The crucial starvation period is through May, June and July. A new wheat harvest will be garnered in parts of the world in time to relieve some of the hunger by August. But food conserving, growing gardens, using less bread and more potatoes, saving fats in every possible way—these are some of the urgent and immediate things facing every family in Florida and elsewhere in the country. As Secretary of Agriculture Anderson says, in the months just ahead our top job will be to supply our share of the food for the world's hungry. All of us share in the responsibility—the farmers to produce and industry and individual families to save and share. We must not fail and we shall not fail. Too much is at stake.

ELECTRIC RATES HAVE CONSISTENTLY DROPPED, WHILE OTHER LIVING COSTS HAVE SPIRALED UP!

Can you name any single item used in your home every day that costs LESS than it did before the war? We can—ELECTRICITY! While the cost of living—just about every phase of it—has been going up during the past few years, electric service rates have been declining, and are now actually lower than they were before the war! What is more, we of the Florida Power & Light Company are constantly working to make inexpensive electricity still cheaper, so that post-war electric living will cost you less than ever to live at a higher level of comfort and convenience.

Feds Split With Palatka, Whitewash DeLand 3 To 0

Jodie Howington Given Mound Assignment Against Reds Tonight

Schantel Hurls Feds To 2-0 Win Over A's; Goose Kettles Downs Reds In 3-0 Tilt; 1,175 Fans Attend Friday Contest

Manager Ed Levy's Sanford Celery Feds will meet the DeLand Reds tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Municipal Park in the final game of the current series. Levy has announced that Jodie Howington will hurl against Manager Bill Fuchs' organization.

The Feds are now five games ahead of fourth place Gainesville, two games behind the St. Augustine Saints and four games behind the Orlando Senators. Tuesday night the locals travel to St. Augustine for the first of a three-game series. Wednesday night the two teams tangle here in a double header.

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Sanford's Celery Feds have yet to come through with a perfect weekend of play. However, on every occasion save one they've come through with two wins and a single defeat.

During the past weekend, the locals moved out the much-improved Palatka Azaleas yesterday captured a 3 to 0 contest over the DeLand Red Hats yesterday. However, Manager Ed Levy's aggregation dropped a 7 to 4 decision to the Azaleas Saturday night in Palatka.

Yesterday afternoon big Goose Kettles went to the hill for Sanford and he limited the Red Hats to six hits. They were well scattered and the Red Hats were helpless throughout the contest. The closest contact with a possibility of scoring came in the seventh frame when they had runners on first and second with two men away. However, a fast double play by Joe Justice and Levy spoiled the Red Hat attack.

The Feds were held to seven hits by Earl Dickinson's grand DeLand moundman who recently joined Bill Fuchs' nine. Dickinson was pounded for seven hits by the Feds but they were bunched in the first and second frames sufficiently to produce the three

Feds Dominate Play Last Week In State League

Buddy Lake, Ed Levy And Dave Bride Top Circuit's Batters

By LEAGUE SERVICE BUREAU
SILVER SPRINGS, May 27—Ed Levy's Sanford Celery Feds, boasting the Florida State League's top three hitters and an imposing array of vastly improved hurlers, dominated play in convincing manner during games of Thursday night, May 23, official averages, released yesterday reveal.

The Celery Feds climaxed a week of slugging and fine hurling when they swept a two-game series from the league-leading Orlando Senators, the second game being won before 1,548 paid admissions.

The Feds' Buddy Lake continued his mastery over opposition hurling and boasted a healthy 290 average at week's end, with a .357 and out-field mate Dave Bride third with .351.

While the week failed to produce any new league averages, it did develop indications of new strength at Sanford, Leesburg, and Palatka; continued fine play by the St. Augustine Saints under Bill Steiner, and how by seven clubs that the Orlando Senators' month-long grip on loop standings soon may be broken.

DeLand's challenge for a permanent spot in the first division suffered heavily during the week as injuries took a severe toll while Gainesville's efforts to reach "Shanghaeny" play-off territory also took a set-back.

The G-Men's Kenneth Hill, who not appearing among the regulars hitting 250 or better, was leading his mates with five homers, only six short of the all-time league record.

The week saw the loop's top ranking hurler among the winners — Orlando's Scott Cary — suffer his first defeat after seven straight victories. Sanford combined him for 10 hits and a 7 to 0 decision.

Manager Bill Fuchs of DeLand is giving Leesburg's Charlie Ridgway a stiff race for stolen base honors, the Red Hat pilot going out in front with 18 to Ridgway's 13. Steve Bodner of the Saints, with 11, is ready to step into either position.

INSIDE SPORTS REPORT

By JULIAN STENSTROM

Yesterday afternoon when the Celery Feds played the Red Hats in DeLand, the nation's number one fan was on hand. In fact, he never misses a DeLand home game. When he thought that Umpire Lively missed one on Manager Bill Fuchs, L. C. McMahon yelled, "I've got a pair of glasses and a white cane waiting for you!"

In the event you didn't get around to reading our little item on McMahon several days ago, it would be appropriate at this time to inform you that McMahon is totally blind.

Before yesterday's game a heavy rain drenched Conard Park. Taking advantage of a few spare moments, we got into a conversation with McMahon in an effort to get a better picture of his life.

It seems that in 1914, with only five months of study remaining before he would have received his degree in medicine at Western Reserve in Cleveland, McMahon decided that a cause for democracy was also his cause. He joined the first contingent of Americans to sail for Europe to serve the British forces in the Royal Army Medical Corps.

Shortly McMahon was in France. And it wasn't long before he suffered his first of four wounds. Shrapnel caught him in the left arm near the elbow. A short time later he was again injured by shrapnel, this time in his head. Even today he has a silver plate underneath his scalp. His third injury was a bayonet wound in the upper part of his right arm. That still didn't hinder the American.

However, on Sept. 12, 1918, while the Germans were employing a chemical warfare attack, McMahon was blinded by mustard gas. He never regained his eyesight.

The regimental sergeant major returned to the United States and began a life that cannot be considered out of the ordinary to that of any other citizen 55 years of age.

The son of a well known physician who once headed Bellevue Hospital in New York City, McMahon was always interested in sports. He took up bowling and today he plays a good game. He began bowling with a number of other blind veterans. The alley was equipped with a special iron rail and McMahon learned to take his position. Some time later, McMahon bowled in an exhibition with the world's champion during one game, he actually beat the champion when he recorded six consecutive strikes. A team of blind vets of which he was a member once played 157 in tournament play.

Later McMahon turned to pugmoting boxing and wrestling. For some time he was actively engaged in this activity in Tucson, Ariz. and subsequently in western North Carolina. When war came, he entered the wholesale military supply business and at one time supplied more than 60 Army and Navy installations. In 1941, McMahon, who also has six brothers who are phys-crack of the bat, I can tell which direction the ball is going because my friend will turn his head to watch the ball. I can tell when he turns his head because direction from which his voice comes will change."

We told him that such a system never dawned on us. "It's just as I said," McMahon remarked, "a simple matter of observation. I can sometimes hear the umpire call the balls and strikes. When I can't hear him, I can listen to the crowd and determine whether it was a strike, a ball, and even whether the pitch was close or not. I get a great kick out of baseball."

That convinced us that there is no doubt that McMahon is the nation's number one baseball fan.

"I used to help John McGraw a lot too," McMahon added with a chuckle. John and I were great friends and I knew lots of baseball stories in those days. I would get near the visitors bench and hand McGraw's opponents lots of funny baseball stories and make them laugh so much they wouldn't hit the ball. Then I hooked them too, sometimes a great deal. And I've been thrown out of more than one big league park for that."

"One thing I depend a great deal on," McMahon commented, "is my memory. I memorize distances on every occasion. When I walk up a flight of stairs for the first time I always count them. The next time I go up those stairs I know exactly how many steps there are and when

I've completed the climb. During the seventh inning, while Sanford fans were enjoying the stretch, McMahon figured they had had enough and promptly told them so. "Sit down Sanford!" he yelled. Just between us fans though, McMahon thinks Sanford will be leading the loop by June 15. However, don't tell him we told you so.

The rain ceased and the sun came out. Mrs. McMahon came up and the sergeant introduced us to his charming wife. The public address system barked: "Boston—1, Yankees—0. That seemed to please him, but he promptly wanted to know how the second game of the Boston-New York twin bill was coming out.

Sgt. McMahon is to be the guest of the Sanford Baseball Association tonight when the Celery Feds play the Red Hats at the Municipal Park.

This story goes on to prove that baseball is certainly the nation's greatest game. Our hats go off to Regimental Sergeant-Major L. C. McMahon, one of

WHAT PEOPLE OF FLORIDA THINK OF JUDGE BARN'S

Tampa Morning Tribune 5-19-46	Orlando Sentinel 4-21-46	Miami Herald 5-18-42

"In character, in ability, in experience, and in judicial temperament, Judge Paul D. Barns is the more outstanding of the two candidates."

"He will be studious in his approach, wise in his decisions and courageous in their expression."

"His knowledge of the law, his judicial sense, his uncommon conduct, his personal qualifications mark him as eminently capable."

St. Petersburg Times
4-30-46

"He will make an excellent addition to the state's highest tribunal."

Miami Daily News
5-16-46

"By all odds, he is the one who should be engaged and sent to Tallahassee."

Palm Beach Sun
4-19-46

"For 20 years Judge Barns has served as a circuit judge, and has become one of the ablest, wisest and most learned judges in the state."

LONG DISTANCE CALLS ARE STILL INCREASING

The volume of Long Distance calls keeps right on growing. Between towns and cities only a few miles apart, folks are making one-fifth more calls today than during the peak of the wartime load.

As a result of this postwar rush of short-haul calls there is likely to be some delays on calls to nearby points until the necessary materials can be obtained and additional circuits provided to relieve congestion.

In the meantime, everything possible is being done to handle all calls promptly.

New Skin for Old

By W. V. Hitting Touchton Drug Co.

A practice which is all too common is to treat any skin disease which may appear with home remedies, following the advice of any good friend who seems to speak with authority.

This is a serious error. The skin is a true reflection of what goes on beneath it. Whatever may appear on the surface indicates a condition of the bloodstream and requires skilled medical advice and treatment.

Blemishes, eruptions, spreading rashes, discolorations such as psoriasis, all should be treated scientifically.

Obtain sound advice from a physician and take his prescription to a pharmacist of known ability and trustworthiness.

WHAT'S NEW about the NEW Ford?

Q. Is it easy on gas and oil?
A. New balanced carburetion (dual downdraft) and new 4-ring aluminum pistons make it a miser on gas and oil.

Q. Is the '46 Ford better-looking?
A. The best looking car in the low priced field. Lower, wider and heavier in appearance. Beautiful two-tone interiors.

Q. Is the '46 Ford a safer car?
A. Safer by far! For one thing, it has new oversized, self-centering hydraulic brakes that require only a tip-toe touch.

Q. Is the '46 Ford more powerful?
A. The most powerful of all low-priced cars... with a big new "100-horse" V-8 engine and a powerful improved Six.

Q. How much more comfortable?
A. Plenty! New roominess, softer seats and new multi-leaf springs make it a living room on wheels.

PAUL D. BARNES
Candidate for SUPREME COURT

There are two candidates for the Supreme Court in the Second Primary.

Before voting, you should investigate carefully the qualifications of each candidate.

You will find that Judge Barnes has served as Circuit Judge more than 20 years passing on the same kind of questions he will be called upon to decide as a member of the Supreme Court.

In first primary, the vote in Dade County, where both candidates reside, was:

For Judge Barnes	22,653
For his opponent	15,344
Judge Barnes' majority over his opponent in their home County	7,309

Judge Barnes will make an outstanding Justice of the Supreme Court, just as he has been an outstanding Circuit Judge.

Death Takes Carter Glass Of Virginia

88-Year Old Senate Member Was Father Of One Time Secretary Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, May 28, (AP)—Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, long time member of congress, died this morning. He was 88 years of age and was known as the "Father of the Federal Reserve System." He was also a former member of the cabinet.

Since June, 1942 Glass has been unable to appear in the Senate. Virginia Republicans sought unsuccessfully last year to have the seat declared vacant and a special election called to name a successor. The Virginia courts threw out the suit, and the Supreme Court declined to review the case. However, Glass continued to make himself felt in Congress, because of his statements.

He had been elected to the House of Representatives nine times before he resigned in 1918 to be President Wilson's Secretary of the Treasury. He left the cabinet two years later to accept appointment as a Senator. He was re-elected five times, most recently to serve until 1942.

He declared President Roosevelt's invitation again to be Treasury Secretary in 1933. It was generally known that his reason was failure of the president-elect to give what Glass could regard as satisfactory assurance of a "sound-money" policy. The Virginia was bitterly displeased later when President Roosevelt abandoned the gold standard, and he also broke with the Administration over NIRA crop reduction federal spending and the 1937 Supreme Court reorganization plan.

Nevertheless, Mr. Roosevelt, who fondly called Glass "an unrequited friend," re-named his personal friend.

Glass received much of the credit for creation of the Federal Reserve System, because he helped draft the Federal Reserve law when he was chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee in 1913.

Glass' first wife, Aetredia, died in 1917. Three years later he married Mrs. Beattie of Asheville, Va. A widow many years his junior, Mrs. Glass, now, Powell in Lynchburg, newspaper executive, died last July.

RICHMOND, May 28, (AP)—The governor of Virginia, William Tuck, this afternoon disclosed that he will make an appointment to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate caused by the death of Carter Glass. However, the governor has declined to discuss possible choices for the post. Governor Tuck made his announcement from Oklahoma City, where he is at ending the conference of governors.

Under Virginia law, the Governor's appointee will serve only until the general election in November. At that time, a successor to Glass will be elected to fill the unexpired Senate term, which runs until 1949. The death of Senator Glass also means that Virginia Democrats will hold a state convention to nominate a candidate for the Senate.

Rites Held For Mrs. Rebecca J. Franklin

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Osteen Methodist Church for Mrs. Rebecca J. Franklin, resident for the past three and a half years in that community, who died at her home at 1:30 o'clock Saturday. The Rev. E. Gilman officiated.

The remains were sent by the Erickson Funeral Home to Newark, Ohio for interment and were accompanied by the husband, Benjamin B. Franklin of Osteen and two daughters, Mrs. L. F. Giles of Huntington, W. Va., and Mrs. John W. D. Moore of Sanford, which is located at the new bowling alley on Magnolia Avenue, at Precinct 1 at the Old A.C.L. Depot, 65 persons had said. Japs Order Breweries To Surrender Wheat

TOKYO, May 28, (AP)—The Japanese cabinet has ordered breweries to surrender 1,200,000 bushels of wheat for food consumption. The wheat will be distributed by the Japanese government.

The Japanese cabinet apparently ignored the case of a school teacher named Yasuhei Kanda in ordering the reduction in use of wheat for making beer. Kanda doesn't eat—he just drinks beer—four bottles a day. Kanda says he's been on the beer diet for 15 years as the result of a serious stomach ailment. He's hoping the new government action will not mean a cut in his daily beer supply.

Caldwell Addresses Governors

Declares War Cannot Be Blamed For Poor Condition of Schools Throughout Nation

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28, (AP)—Veterans Administrator Omar Bradley has laid upon the shoulders of the state governors' responsibility for efficient administration of the national veterans program. Addressing the Governors' Conference in Oklahoma City, General Bradley declared that the Veterans Administration will not interfere with the states in the exercise of their special responsibilities.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28, (AP)—Governor Millard Caldwell today told the National Governors' Conference that the war can not be blamed for the country's present educational ills.

Although he admitted that poor school conditions were aggravated by World War II, Governor Caldwell said "The troubles are organic in nature and the remedy calls for strong and courageous measures of correction."

Discussing "Education in the post war period," Florida's chief executive gave efficient plant facilities, able and inspired teachers and well-defined objectives as the basis for a sound educational program.

Florida's governor termed the caliber of teaching personnel of greater importance than plant facilities. He came out for higher salaries, more secure tenure and teacher retirement plans as a means of attracting better qualified personnel to the teaching profession. He recommended focusing more attention on recreation and the fundamentals of democracy.

End Of Coal Strike Within 48-Hours Predicted By Hill

City Selects Site For Sewage Disposal Plant

Commissioners Okay Spraying Garbage Cans With D. D. T.

A site for a sewage disposal plant, a five-acre City-owned tract located on the lake front east of Laurel Avenue and Chad Beach Bridge, was selected last evening by the City Commission. It was announced today by City Manager R. N. Sayer.

South and telephone Jacksonville engineering firm will draw up plans for the plant which when built will prevent contamination as a result of Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River by sewage.

The Commissioners authorized an expenditure for the purpose of spraying all garbage cans in the city with a DDT solution by a means of exterminating flies which are believed to be carriers of the virus of infantile paralysis.

This action followed the request of Neal Smith, chairman of the local infantile paralysis committee, and Dr. Frank Agall, director of the Seminole County Health Unit, for such insect control. According to City Manager R. N. Sayer, control of poultry yards will be required to spray these premises to kill flies.

The commission took under advisement a request of the colored baseball committee of Goldsboro to construct a new ballpark on the West Eighth Street diamond. The committee reported that they had raised enough money to build a fence around the property.

Action was deferred on a request by Roy Riddling to secure a license and ways selling permit for his dance hall on West Tenth Street. Transfer of a tax cab by O. C. Rowland to E. J. Davis was approved.

E. J. Bass was appointed to fill the vacancy on the board of directors created by the resignation of M. M. Tinsdale.

Democratic Group Urges Fast Action By Congressmen

Telegrams to all members of the House and Senate from Florida urging that the Florida delegation in congress direct immediate efforts toward legislation which would outlaw strikes and penalize strikers who jeopardize national security, were dispatched by the Fifth Congressional District Democratic Executive Committee, following a proposal to this effect by Victor A. Williams of Sanford at the committee's meeting in Orlando, Friday, May 24. Mr. Moon is chairman of the committee.

The telegrams read: "The Fifth District Democratic Congressional Committee in session today in Orlando voted unanimously to urge the Florida delegation in Congress direct your immediate efforts and work diligently to secure passage of legislation which will seek to outlaw strikes and which will penalize strikers who jeopardize the security of our beloved land, when sufficient grounds exist necessitating the government taking over the operation of an industry; legislation which will prevent future crises such as this desperate one which threatens our national economy today."

"Surely when we can order the youth of our land to the further corners of the earth to fight against an enemy which threatens our peace and security from abroad, we can require those at home that they do not threaten this security from within."

Signed: Dr. W. B. Moon, chairman, H. A. Thompson, secretary, Marie Holderman, chairman of the resolutions committee.

Senate Republicans Move To Line Up Opposition To Truman's Labor Bill

WASHINGTON, May 28, (AP)—The deputy Administration leader in the Senate, Lister Hill, predicted today that the soft coal strike will end within the next 24 hours.

Senator Hill said he had talked with parties on both sides of the soft coal dispute and that an agreement in principle is in effect.

The Alabama Senator's prediction was made at a scheduled conference between John F. Lewis and Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Green. The meeting was delayed more than three hours.

The delay was attributed to the fact that neither side in the coal strike dispute was ready for the next step in the negotiations. The explanation of the postponement was given out by Krug's office after a four-hour union delegation showed up without Lewis. The group was headed by United Mine Workers' Vice President John L. Lewis. The meeting started at 11 P. M. Tuesday.

Senate Republicans have been called into conference at an apartment house in Washington to discuss a bill to amend the Federal Coal Production Control Act. The bill would allow the Secretary of the Interior to suspend the act's provisions in cases of emergency.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg called the session. U. S. Senator Lister Hill said that the meeting will consider a number of proposed amendments to President Truman's labor bill.

Although it appears that a majority of the Republican senators will back a move to have the House-approved legislation "passed" by a law provision, that the public will not be able to strike a blow against the industry, which is not to work on industries, unless by the government.

A 24-hour delay in the completion of the coal strike resulted from the Senate's announcement that it would not pass the bill of Senator Walter Byrd of Virginia. However, democratic leader Arthur Barkley has announced that he will hold the Senate in night sessions for the remainder of the week in an effort to pass the emergency labor bill and legislation extending the coal act.

Meanwhile, the Island of Iceland declared its neutrality in support of the United Nations. It also announced that it would not recognize the Franco regime.

May 28, (AP)—The United States today announced that it would not recognize the Franco regime. The State Department said that the United States would not recognize the Franco regime because it does not recognize the competence of the United Nations in matters affecting Spain.
