Art Federation Has Three Exhibits On Display At DeBary Galleries

The Florida Federation of Art has announced that three exhibits are being shown in the galleries of the headquarters building in DeBary. Visitors are invited to follow the signs from the highway to the building. An exhibit of 15 paintings by a group of professional women artists who winter in Sarasota, the "Petticoat Painters," will hang until April 6. Artists in this group are Shirley Clement, Dorothy Leach, Beth Arthur, Helen Sawyer, Judy Aze, Elaineore Budd, Jane Ziegler, Helen Auchterlone, Stella Coler, Dorothy MacDonald, Martha Hartman, Margaret Sturgis, Helen Probas, Eva Best, and Florence Eiler. Another group of 15 paintings are by the late Miss Edith Fairfax Davenport, past president of the FFA. Miss Davenport's honors are worldwide. While most people knew her for her traditional works, the exhibit consists of modern representational art which she painted in her last years. All were painted when she was past 70 years of age. This exhibit also will be shown until April 6. The FFA has announced that it will continue to devote the Hall Gallery to the works of professional and amateur artists of the DeBary area. Ten pen, ink and brush drawings of New England scenes will be shown until March 28. They are by Melville C. Bosch, an amateur from White Plains, N. Y., who spends his winters visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Brown of DeBary. Bosch, who took up drawings as a hobby, and who never had any formal art training, has produced a group of drawings which will bring fond memories to residents who came from New England. Mrs. L. W. Richcreek of the Art Club of St. Petersburg gave a demonstration Monday of paintings in water color for the Amer-

Lauderdale Bars Scream About Joe

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI)—They call him Joe the Pippick and his specialty is guzzling beer. They think he's a vacationing college student ahead of the pack of a predicted 30,000 who will jam this South Florida coastal town during the Easter holidays. Whoever he is, the Pippick is working a system on bars in which he quaffs 10 beers, orders an 11th, then leaves without paying. Bartenders who have been hit by the Pippick's forays all report the following chain of events: A man will telephone a bar and request a page for "Joe the Pippick." The caller has hung up when the bartender returns to the telephone after making the unsuccessful page. Moments later, a man enters the bar and asks if anyone has called for Joe the Pippick. He drinks the second series and asks for "just one for myself this time." He heads for the washroom but enroute veers out the front door. There are varied descriptions of the Pippick. One bartender reported him as "a little guy with Bermuda and hairy legs." Another said he was "tall and skinny looking with horned rimmed glasses." A third said, "he looked like a little professor-type guy to me." Whoever he is, the Pippick's only crime is entering a bar and leaving with as much beer as he can carry away inside him. If a child finds the recognition and love he needs in the home, he won't have to adopt anti-social behavior patterns to gain attention.

Need For More Exceptional Child Teachers Cited

The need for teachers of exceptional children was explored at a coordinators of exceptional children conference in Tallahassee last week, Seminole County Coordinator W. W. Wharton said Monday. The coordinator for teaching exceptional children in Seminole County said there is a shortage of these teachers all over the state. The number of teacher units for this type work was frozen in the 1958 legislative session. But the number of youngsters in need of exceptional instruction is increasing with Florida's population growth, Wharton pointed out. Teachers are needed to instruct children handicapped with speech, hearing and nervous disorders, to instruct the mentally retarded, as well as the mentally gifted, he said.

New U. S. Space Probe Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — An attempt to fire a satellite into an orbit around earth failed today.

The rocket was launched here at 8:35 a. m. Fifty minutes later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced in Washington that the 25.3 pound satellite had not gone into orbit.

NASA said officials "suspect one of the upper stages of the Juno II failed to ignite."

The space agency said it received no confirmation that either the third or fourth stage rockets ignited. It said tracking reports were being checked and a further report will be available shortly.

The firing of the four-stage Juno II rocket had been planned as the crucial step of a test of radiation belts around earth and what perils they hold for manned space flight.

The launching appeared to be perfect but Dr. Werner von Braun told newsmen 25 minutes later that no indication had been received that the third stage had fired.

"It doesn't look so good," he said.

The rocket had been provided to carry the satellite, Explorer VIII, to a cigar-shaped orbit taking it as far away from earth as 30,000 miles and as close as 200 miles.

But something apparently went wrong and the success rocket scientists enjoyed Tuesday with a smooth launch of a Titan intercontinental ballistic missile went sour.

The mysteries of the Van Allen radiation belts must be explored before man dares to try riding a rocket into space. One of the belts ranges from 400 to 2,200 miles above earth. The other is in the 5,000 to 25,000-mile range.

Explorer VIII was designed to measure energies of very low to very high voltages with the detectors, most complex ever flown. The data was to be relayed to ground stations via a small radio transmitter on 108.03 megacycles. The transmitter was designed to be shut off automatically one year from today, to open the frequency to other space uses.

The belts were named for Dr. James Van Allen of the State University of Iowa, who designed the instruments for America's first earth satellite, Explorer I, which discovered the belts. Van Allen devised the experiments for today's shot.

Several satellites have studied the belts, but this was the first devoted almost exclusively to the job. Van Allen hoped to determine energies of electrons and protons in the zones over an extended time.

Explorer VIII also was designed to work with Pioneer V, the U. S. sun satellite launched 12 days ago. Scientists believe that flares on the sun, which Pioneer V is studying, directly affect the intensity of the Van Allen belts.

House Nears End Of Rights Debate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House was expected to wind up two weeks of civil rights debate today by passing a five-point bill and sending it to the waiting Senate.

Rep. Emanuel Celler (N. Y.), Democratic civil rights leader, said the bill would be passed before sundown "with-out fail" and with little, if any, change.

Nikita Arrives In Paris For Talks

PARIS (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, bearing warm words of friendship for President Charles de Gaulle and France, arrived today in a Paris that was guarded like an armed camp.

de Gaulle, towering over the stocky Soviet leader, gave him a hearty personal greeting at the airport and said France was "ready to listen to us and to make you listen to us."

The most stringent security measures in modern France history turned the city into a near fortress for the arrival. Nearly the whole Paris police force plus security guards took up stations on rooftops, at the airport and every 30 yards along the route Khrushchev and de Gaulle took into the city.

The welcome from the French people was sporadic. At some points there were few people but the Porte d'Orleans entrance to the city 10,000 Frenchmen raised a cheer.

The turnout at the airport and along the route to the city totaled an estimated 60,000 — far short of the crowds that welcomed President Eisenhower last September.

Expert Says Bomb Caused Air Crash

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — An Army pathologist testified today that evidence collected from the wreckage of a National Air Lines plane showed that a bomb exploded near the tail of one of the passengers before the craft began breaking up in flight.

Dr. Warren Lovell of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology described the injuries suffered by the passenger, Julian Frank, as similar to those inflicted by a land mine.

Air Force Moves To End 'Dishpan' Hands Hazard

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force has moved to end an occupational hazard that has harassed fighting men almost as much as bombs and bullets — dishpan hands.

The Air Force issued Tuesday what it considered a historic proclamation. The service said it would tell commanders shortly they could eliminate kitchen potholes, better known as GIs as KP.

But there was a big apron string attached. The commanders must find enough money in their budgets to hire civil replacements and demonstrate that this is a more economical way of doing the dirty work.

The announcement touched off a new inter-service squabble. The argument is over which service is head in the KP race.

The Army said the Air Force is just following in its footsteps. A spokesman said the Army already authorized elimination of KP last Dec. 28 but with the same

Cuban Press Charges U.S. Navy Aiding Foes

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba's semi-official press has charged that the U. S. Navy and its chief of operations, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, are aiding the foes of Premier Fidel Castro.

This was a radical pro-government newspaper La Calle called Burke a "Fascist" Tuesday in an article describing his purported meeting with anti-Castro Cuban leader Jose E. Pedraza. It said the admiral offered to send submarines to aid a Pedraza-led invasion of Cuba.

Headlines in La Calle also assailed the United States as an "accomplice of pirate fleets," charging that "anyone who wants to run an airplane in Florida to attack Cuba."

This was a reference to the light plane from Florida that was shot down Monday near Matanzas. Cuban authorities charged it was preparing to land and pick up a party of anti-Castro refugees.

Howard L. (Buddy) Rundquist, of Miami, pilot of the plane, was in a hospital recovering from bullet wounds in the foot and leg. W. J. Sberga, of West Hollywood, Fla., the only other person aboard, was being held at army intelligence headquarters.

The pro-government newspaper Revolution said Tuesday the two

Lake Monroe At Four Year High

Lake Monroe is at its highest water level in four years.

The lake level rose three and one-half feet between March 14 and March 22 and is now 23 inches below the top of the bulkheads. Sanford City Manager Warren E. Knowles said today. Knowles said water is still coming here from the Kissimmee watershed and the lake should hit its high point Friday or Saturday. The level will probably be just below the top of the bulkhead then, he said.

The water reading made today showed the lake 3.6 feet above sea level, a height it has not reached since Oct. 24, 1956. Knowles pointed out that in the 1953 Sanford flood, the water went to 8.15 feet above sea level, on Oct. 27.

Lake Monroe has been rising about four and a half to five inches per day during the last eight days.

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI) — Two U. S. airmen were killed and a third wounded when an Air Policeman went berserk Tuesday night and sprayed the U. S. Kindley Air Force Base police headquarters with submachine gun fire.

The berserk man was identified as Air Policeman William M. Cook of New York City. He was held at the base hospital for observation.

The dead were identified as M. Sgt. Iby N. McNeill, of Jemison, Ala., and M. Sgt. Dina P. Martelli of Ardmore, Okla.

M. Sgt. George N. Baster was wounded in the leg.

Cook was subdued by M. Sgt. Lawrence W. Herman, Jr., of Arlington, Calif., substitution said. An invader was attached to the Air Police force at the base.

Voters League Hears Talks By 21 Candidates

Among the candidates for county offices who spoke at Tuesday night's meeting of the Voters League of District 5 were two seeking the tax assessor's job, which turned into a controversial position during 1959.

Mrs. Mary Earle Walker told the audience that if elected she would use the present level of assessment of property for taxation.

Mrs. Walker was suspended as Tax Assessor last year by Gov. LeRoy Collins because she refused to approve a proposed reappraisal.

Assessor Richard McCanna, seeking election for a full term, cited the need for maintaining a high level of assessment "even though it is not good politics."

Mrs. Walker and McCanna agreed on the need for equalizing taxes.

Twenty-one candidates spoke briefly to approximately 110 persons at the meeting. Each one gave a brief summary of his qualifications and background.

After the candidates spoke a brief question and answer period followed, with most of the questions directed at McCanna and Mrs. Walker. They were both queried on the duties of the tax assessor's office.

Other candidates who spoke, mainly outlining their backgrounds, were David Gatech and Arthur Beckwith Jr., both running for clerk of the Circuit Court; T. V. Brown and J. C. Hutchinson, opponents to the District 1 county commissioner race; J. D. Cordell, J. H. Van Hoy and Ted Williams, all seeking the District 2 commission seat; and James P. Avery, Otis Fouracre, Lawrence Swofford and Edward L. Zimmerman, opponents to the District 1 county commissioner race; J. D. Cordell, J. H. Van Hoy and Ted Williams, all seeking the District 2 commission seat; and James P. Avery, Otis Fouracre, Lawrence Swofford and Edward L. Zimmerman, opponents to the District 1 county commissioner race.

Incumbent Swofford told the group that he had been "shocked" by what was going on in the county five years ago.

"There was no zoning, no plat laws and school children were forced into double sessions," Swofford said. He added that the present commission has sought ways to solve these problems with new plat and zoning laws and is working to provide a long range program to eliminate flooding and drainage problems.

Avery and Fouracre stressed that they are against getting the county into debt.

District 2 commission candidates Herbert Behrens, George W. Bell, John Fitzpatrick and incumbent Homer Little also spoke briefly, as did Sheriff J. L. Hobby and his opponent, J. Q. Galloway, and School board candidate Roy Mann.

McCanna also reported that he will be in Oviedo Thursday and Friday to take homebased exemption applications. They will be at city hall from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Home Exemption Filing Time Short

Seminole County homeowners have just nine days left to file for homebased exemption for 1960. Tax Assessor Richard McCanna said today.

The deadline for filing applications is April 2.

McCanna said approximately 8,500 renewal applications were sent out at the beginning of the year. If renewals are not made each year, homeowners lose the benefit of the $5,000 assessment exemption.

Over 100 new applications have been filed this year on new homes. Also due by April 1 are returns on tangible and intangible personal properties.

McCanna also reported that he will be in Oviedo Thursday and Friday to take homebased exemption applications. They will be at city hall from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Board To Meet Thursday To Okay Van Hoy's Bond

The County Commission will meet in special session at 7 p. m. Thursday to approve J. H. Van Hoy's bond as District 3 County Commissioner.

Van Hoy was appointed to that post by Gov. LeRoy Collins March 11.

Schools Spending Less Per Child Here

Seminole County's school system set one record for the state last year and came near setting a second mark, Supt. R. T. Milwee told the Southside P-T-O Tuesday night.

One of the marks was not pointed out with special pride, however, Milwee said.

This was the record of spending less per child in school than any other county in Florida, he said.

The $230 spent per child has even lower than the amount allotted for each pupil in little Jackson and Union counties. These small counties raise a very small amount of their school monies themselves, however. One of them barely raises enough to cover bus transportation costs. Their federal and state aid is proportionately larger than Seminole's, Milwee explained.

On the other side of the picture, Seminole County had the second largest percentage increase of students in Florida during 1959-60.

Charlotte County ranked first with a 23 percent increase in the number of students over 1957-58. Seminole had a 21 percent growth. Brevard County was third with a 20 percent rise.

Milwee said this increase in students is good if the county can cope with it. If not, it's just an added problem.

Citing another record, Milwee said that Seminole County has more teachers without college degrees this year than at any other time during the eight years he has been in office. Seminole has to bid against schools in Orange, Volusia and Brevard counties. All of these pay their teachers about $400-$500 more per year than Seminole does.

Seminole's non-degree teachers are good and have experience but they are uncertificated, Milwee said. The county hired its new teachers last year and is constantly looking for new ones.

The new Seminole High is due to be finished Aug. 18 and is now running on schedule. Milwee said the school board owns 68 acres at the new school site next to Lake Janula. An elementary school is planned for the area near the Mar-Lou Motel and a junior high school is also in the planning stage. The completed set-up would enable a child to start in the elementary school and go all the way through high school at the same location.

Milwee drew laughter when he said that the school board figures 7/10 of a child for each home in the county. He used this to illustrate that since Howell Park opened 1,500 new families last year, the school board is counting on 700 more pupils than the area.

A total of 166 new classrooms are being built around the county to take care of the 2,000 additional youngsters expected in school next year.

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II named her month-old son Andrew Albert Christian Edward. He will be known as Prince Andrew.
Andrew and Albert are the names of his two grandfathers, Prince Andrew of Greece and the late King George VI of Britain. Christian and Edward are the names of his great-grandfathers, Christian IX of Denmark and King Edward VII.

flooded areas of Tampa and all agreed something should be done. Bryant suggested a state financial reserve to aid flood victims in such an emergency.

Carlton called for state and federal action. He said the state should keep flood control programs on a permanent basis. Dickinson suggested that federal-state flood control projects should be expanded to prevent a recurrence of such a disaster.

The matter of how to handle the lunch counter sit-down situation brought comment from candidate Harvey Belser. He said if elected he would "uphold the traditions, customs and governmental philosophy" of the South.

Ted David said calls for a special legislative session to enact anti-sit-down laws are "ridiculous." "During times of emotion," said David, "the Legislature has done Florida far to much damage by considering and occasionally passing ridiculous, race-hating legislation."

John McCarty said a special session should be called only "if this situation gets out of hand and the present legal safeguards are proven ineffective."

Mayer Hayden Burns of Jacksonville repeated his opposition to Gov. LeRoy Collins' setting up a bi-racial committee to discuss the state's racial problems. "It's playing right into the hands of the NAACP," he said. "Peace cannot be maintained if people in high positions, by their own statements or through highly publicized committee meetings each week, keep fanning the fires of racial discord," Burns said.

Search For Killer Moves To Canada

STARVED ROCK STATE PARK, Ill. (UPI)—The man hunt for a sex-crazed murderer turned to Canada today with the discovery of a key case on a frozen pathway leading to the canyon where three society matrons were beaten to death.

State police superintendent William Morris, who found the brown leather, semi-folding case in melting snow beside the pathway, said it was inscribed with the word, "Windsor" and bore a Canadian maple leaf.

Authorities here theorized the case, carrying three keys, could have originated in Windsor, Ont. They asked Royal Canadian Mounted Police for help.

Morris said the key case was stamped, "Manufactured in Cleveland, Ohio," and the keys appeared to fit a Ford or Mercury automobile.

School Break-In

The Goldsboro Elementary School office was broken into and ransacked during last weekend, Goldsboro Assistant Principal H. L. Refoe told Sanford police. There was nothing taken however, Refoe said.

Delay Is Sought In Protest Trial

By United Press International Negro attorneys were expected to ask today for a two-week delay in the trial of 28 demonstrators at Memphis, Tenn., to attempt to work out an "orderly desegregation" plan with city officials.

The postponement request was to come in a hearing before city Judge Beverly Bousbe for Negro students arrested for anti-segregation demonstrations at an art gallery and a public library Tuesday. New steps to curb "sit-down" demonstrations were taken Tuesday by the Montgomery, Ala., City Commission and the Mississippi Senate.

In Montgomery, where six Negroes sought admission in the University of Alabama Extension Center, the commission adopted an ordinance requiring a permit for demonstrations, parades and processions, except funerals. The law carried a fine of $100 and/or six months in jail for violations. The commission also passed an ordinance giving businessmen the right to refuse to serve anyone at their establishments.

The Mississippi Senate Tuesday passed three House bills deemed by Sen. W. B. Alexander as "emergency and necessary matters" and sent them to Gov. Ross Barnett for signing. The measure prohibits persons from entering another's property where forbidden and from inciting another person to take such action and from obstructing public passageways. Maximum penalty for violations would be a $500 fine and a six-month jail term.

New Military 'Translingua' Could Stop Army Gobbledygook

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI)—I think the nation owes a debt of gratitude to Sen. Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa) for inserting into the Congressional record an article on "Military Translingua."

I am referring to the danger that the U. S. armed forces, following the example being set by their leaders in the Pentagon will destroy the English language. They already have made a big dent in it.

"Translingua," which is being developed at the University of Iowa, may prevent this catastrophe. It would provide the military with a numerical vocabulary in which words would be spelled by numbers.

Its purpose would be to enable allied military commanders who don't speak the same language to communicate with each other without having to translate.

For example, the following Translingua message might come in from the battlefield: "18,201-1,700-12,800-15-1,432-18-312-1,545."

A West German general commanding one end of the line would immediately know that "Der feind griff die Stadt uberraschend van suden an." (note: if the German quote doesn't read right, it's not my fault. My typewriter can't make umlauts).

At the same time, an American commander at the other end of the line would know that "The enemy attacked the city surprisingly from the south."

At this point, somebody presumably would put together a set of Translingua numbers meaning "retreat!" This is all very well, but I have in mind an even better use for Translingua. Under my plan, it would be used by the Pentagon to communicate with Congress.

Specifically, it would enable defense officials to testify before congressional committees without reducing basic English to semantical shambles.

Children Need Lots Of Love

NEW YORK (UPI)—"The main cause of juvenile delinquency is lack of affection," said Dr. Arch O. Dart, professional marriage counselor, child guidance expert and an ordained minister of the Seventh Day Adventists.

"Seldom does a child disobey an affectionate parent," Dr. Dart also said during a recent lecture at the New York Center.

But affection isn't all love and kisses. The parent who says he loves his child too much to punish or restrain him is in a class with a parent who claims he loves his child too much to take him to a doctor because the doctor might have to hurt him, Dr. Dart said.

Far-Sighted Study Of Floods Needed

Fair weather has helped solve, temporarily, some of the county's flooding problems and the committee appointed to study solutions to water problems has announced that it will try to recommend a more permanent answer soon.

Planning for water control by the counties of Central Florida never has been based on sufficiently far-sighted study. Now, rapid development of lands is bringing rapid development of water problems that didn't exist just three or four years ago.

The people who are suffering from dampness right now are going to be in worse shape when they are joined by the many other families the county hopes to attract as the state grows in population. Every new family will have to be added to water disposal and drainage systems.

Taking care of this problem is going to have to be done with a long look at the future. Extensions of all population estimates and growth criteria make it perfectly clear that some kind of system will be necessary to protect all areas in normal and emergency situations.

It is difficult to ask a man whose floor and crops are under water to wait until the thing can be thought out. But this must be done after emergency measures are taken to head off repetition of last week during the coming summer season.

The next step is proper planning to eliminate these emergencies next year and for years to come, because hazardous dike-plugging will help only until the rains come again.

This is the number one problem of the county right now and should be handled as such.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE E-410: Mabel G., aged 24, is the mother of Della, described yesterday.

"Dr. Crane," Mabel added, "I'll just die if Della doesn't become a great concert pianist."

"All her life I have planned and dreamed of such a career for her. She has definite talent, as her teachers have all told her, so she must cultivate it for mankind. It's a God-given talent."

"So please help me keep her at the piano every day."

"Our brains are God-given, and so is our vision, hearing, and intelligence (I. Q.)."

"But be cautious about calling musical or mathematical or engineering or any other learned profession an inherited talent."

"At the risk of shocking a lot of you old-fashioned readers, I'd like to give you the latest scientific facts."

"Millions of kids have just as keen tonal range and as fine a distinction of pitch, as does the child who is regarded as a musical genius."

"And the average boy or girl of Della's age has as fast a muscular coordination as does Della."

"The same thing is true of memory experts who average children. What makes a memory expert is hard work, practice, etc., instead of an inheritance of a superior type of memory!"

"The same is true of musicians, artists, engineers, surgeons, etc., so please quit passing along the false notion that you are a 'born' pianist or even a 'born criminal,' for you aren't!"

"Genius," said Thomas A. Edison, "is 1% inspiration and 99% perspiration."

"We psychologists affirm Edison's sound statement."

However, we do admit that there are differences in mental "horsepower" or I. Q.

But among the millions of people of the same I. Q., and possessed of normal hearing, vision, limbs and muscular coordination, what makes one a supposed musical "genius" or even mathematical wizard like Einstein is "conditioning."

That means somewhere along the line one child was trained to "like" music or math and thus study it more than other kids of equal I. Q.

The main secret in Vocational Guidance, after you have equated people in I. Q., vision, hearing, etc., is "motivation."

Tactfully tie-in rewards and praise and other goods that will be effective on your child, often before he enters kindergarten.

Then he will WANT to pick the profession you yourself desire.

Parents, beware lest you try to force your children into your own ambitious mold.

Don't make them Charley McCarthy's who simply express your own suppressed urges.

Mabel is doing that with Della. Mabel married against her father's wish, for Mabel was in Music College at the time.

Her father became alienated. And Mabel's husband finally deserted her.

So Mabel is trying, belatedly, to carry out her father's ambition by making Della into a concert pianist, thus fulfilling 2 generations of frustrated dreams.

KEY TO THE CITY

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — Only the smooth, watchfully-waiting senator from Georgia, Richard Russell, could have done it so artfully — pull the stage center out from under Sen. Hubert Humphrey, the nation's champion of political histrionics.

The man from Minnesota held the floor in a windy windup to the vote on closure. He pleaded that the senators and their talkation on civil rights. Shortly, the vote would go against his side, but that would be anti-climatic.

Eloquently, vibrantly, the golden tongue of the presidential candidate reached the far corners of the crowded chamber. "One of the traditions of the Senate," Humphrey roared, "is the tradition of the filibuster. . . I would suggest that that is a skeleton in the closet of democracy."

He jabbed his chest and shouted: "I know a little bit about histrionics myself." And then a strange sound went undulating across the auditorium. . . It came from deep down in Humphrey's throat. It was like the bray of an old goat.

"Ga-aaa-a-aag," sang Humphrey histrionically. "We have forced upon ourselves gag rule."

Every ear was now plugged into the Humphrey wave-length. And then, halfway across the chamber, it happened.

A glass tumbler went shattering to the Senate floor. Senator Russell's water glass came flying from his desk at the exact moment that Humphrey hit full crescendo. It smashed into a thousand pieces.

Senator Russell, his blank face betraying not even a "Who-omet?" look, now won the spotlight while Sen. Lyndon Johnson inconspicuously stooped over to try to clean up the broken glass.

It may have been an accident. Senator Russell's desk was piled with books and newspapers. He could have accidentally nudged the paper, which nudged the water glass, but the timing could not have been more perfect for the southern cause.

Now Humphrey's words hit a harder tempo. "I must say the Senate has been gagged by being overfilled with a filibuster."

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Minnesota's junior man, interrupted. He reminded his Democratic colleague that in 1862 the Confederate Senate had a rule that could cut off a filibuster by a mere majority vote — not by the two-thirds which is now required. Humphrey wondered out loud:

Was that the way the Confederates did it?

Before McCarthy could reply, Senator Russell, without rising from his seat, mumbled drolly: "Yes, and the Confederates lost the war, too."

Another round for Russell. And then the cry, "Vote, vote!" And they did. They voted to continue the filibuster.

Sen. Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.), rose loudly from his chair and declared: "We shall proceed to plow the long, hard furrow."

And Act III of the 1960 filibuster was on its way. The first man up? Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

FT. JACKSON, S. C. — Pvt. J. N. Eldridge, of Tifton, Ga., indicating he wished the Army made use of its policy to let unit commanders hire civilians for kitchen help.

"It's women's work. I didn't join the Army for this."

DOENIEVILLE, Calif. — Prosecutor Lynn D. Compton, urging the jury to sentence convicted murderer Larry Lord Motherwell to death: "Let us not mince words. Kill him."

LONDON — William McCullough, 62, explaining why he spent eight months living in the London subway system: "It was such a cozy, friendly place."

Happiness Through Health

GUILTY? (By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

Some people say they don't believe in Chiropractic, yet these same people don't know anything about what they don't believe. In other words, they are guilty of condemnation without investigation. As Spencer states it: "There is a principle which is a bar against all information, which is proof against argument, and which cannot fail to keep a man in everlasting ignorance. That principle is condemnation before investigation." The fact remains that state legislatures have legally recognized Chiropractic as a distinct SCIENCE apart from medicine.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FAirfax 2-7442.

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Germany today is Konrad Adenauer. Behind all the complex forces contributing to the German resurgence the chancellor, as he has proved once again in his latest visit to this country, is the symbol and the front of what is again rapidly becoming the most powerful nation in Europe.

It is a paradox of Adenauer's dominance of the German scene that it both heartens and alarms those who had hoped for a new and democratic Germany. He is so completely what he is — deeply religious, steeped in the cultural and political traditions of an older Germany, a stout old oak breathing defiance at Germany's enemies.

But at the same time it becomes more and more evident that he is a revered leader without challenge or rival, and the precedents for that kind of leadership in Germany are far from happy. In Germany, for all his allegiance to the Western alliance, Adenauer is becoming the symbol of a national Germany. The analogy with Bismarck, with Kaiser Wilhelm II and, briefly, with Von Hindenburg, inevitably occurs. And, as the world has hardly forgotten, it was another and demagogue leader who came at the end of this succession.

The attitude of the German people today offers evidence of both the guilt and pride that are a heritage of the past in the resurgent new nation. If you talk about the signs of anti-Semitism in Germany what about anti-Semitism in almost every other part of the world? You reproach us with seeking military bases in Spain but have not other Western powers put bases in country after country? Does not the United States have airfields in Spain?

In the view of this observer it comes down to the following: a revived national Germany finds itself competing more and more effectively with other nations — states that are themselves increasingly nationalistic. A revived Germany will no longer be restrained by reminders of the guilt of the war or the mass crimes of the Nazis.

Nationalism, in short, and not just German nationalism, is more and more a force in Western Europe. How can you expect us, the Germans are in effect demanding, to be virtuous and to renounce our deserved plans in the name of someone else's scrambling to get ahead by any means they can? And, as the Germans have extraordinary qualities of perseverance, energy and capacity, they can be expected to forge ahead.

No one can doubt Adenauer's loyalty to a supra-national ideal. From the beginning he has been convinced that the only solution for Germany was within the NATO alliance and the European market. He talks with fervor of the dedication of German youth to the European idea. Yet, as the German chancellor at 84 retires into a more and more lonely eminence where his word becomes law, it is clear that while these institutions have to some degree restrained the nationalistic competition they have certainly not ended it.

Within the common market of the six European powers both Germany and France are still striving for supremacy. NATO has remained a defensive military alliance despite all the talk about giving it a political and economic reason for being. With France so deeply committed in Algeria, the 12 German divisions that are coming into being will have a predominant position.

The British after 1945 held aloof from Europe, are apparently hoping to play the old game of divide and rule. In the face of the common market they have organized the seven European powers that were outside and a threatened rivalry between the two groups can play havoc with tariffs and trade, not only in Europe but everywhere.

The underlying truth is that the frame of cooperation was neither big enough nor compelling enough. So the old nationalistic pieces are reappearing on the chess board.

As France demonstrated by setting off an atomic explosion at a heavy cost in terms of money and manpower, the competition is certain to extend to nuclear weapons unless some controls are quickly agreed to and put into effect. Nor will Germany be excluded from this competition. Whether it has come too early or too late, the era of the German seagoat is rapidly drawing to an end.

After the bomb was dropped on Hiroshima the late Albert Einstein said: "Everything has changed except the thinking in men's minds." Nothing could illustrate this more dramatically and more poignantly than the revived current of the old nationalism. In that current the new Germany is swimming hard and fast and it will be little short of a miracle if she were not.

Kennedy's Organization Rated Best In Wisconsin's Political Primary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) is being credited in Wisconsin political circles with fielding the best organization ever seen in the state's presidential primary campaign.

Kennedy and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) are matched in the April 5 contest, which now looks like the most important of the presidential primaries before the Democratic National Convention.

Useful at any time, a good organization is particularly important to a candidate in primaries where the voter turnout normally is smaller than in general elections. Kennedy's smooth organization was counted a significant factor in the record vote he polled recently in New Hampshire.

Questioned Sunday by Sen. Kenneth P. Keating (R-N.Y.) in a filmed TV interview, Kennedy said it would be "extremely difficult" for him to win the presidential nomination if he loses in Wisconsin.

But like Humphrey on the same program two weeks earlier, Kennedy said he would not pull out if he should lose in Wisconsin.

The two candidates face a rematch in the West Virginia primary May 10. This contest will be watched by politicians trying to measure the effect of the religious issue in the 1960 campaign. Less than 5 per cent of West Virginia's residents share Kennedy's Catholic faith.

Humphrey was in Wisconsin today to finish up a weekend of campaigning. Kennedy, who finished a four-day Wisconsin tour Sunday, was scheduled to go to Indianapolis to make his formal entry into the May 3 Indiana primary, where he faces no major opposition.

Women on the Go

BY JEANNE WARNEK

FROM ALL REPORTS the East-er Lily Ball at the Mayfair Inn Saturday night was a gala affair. Two wrought iron baskets filled with spring flowers decorated the platform where sweet music was furnished by Pete Bukur and his orchestra—and floor show en-tertainment by 10-year old dancer, Jeri Wheatland and Mr. and Mrs. George Baumback made the evening complete. The Baum-backs were back for a return engagement as their waiting rou-tine proved to be so popular last year.

When women discuss a ball their talk naturally turns to clothes. Mrs. Lisle Reese, of Or-lando and wife of Florida's ex-ecutive director of the Crippled Children's Society, sat at the head table in a bright blue satin sheath. Also seated there was Mrs. Don Satterlee, of Orlando and wife of the psychotherapist of the Seminole County chapter. She was in a striking black velvet sheath with satin rose detail on the bodice. Mrs. Phil Logan, whose husband is president of the chapter, wore a green and white gown and Mrs. A. O. Payne, chairman of the ball, was in a black and white combination with lace jacket and accented with a blue and purple print sheath—and Mrs. Gordon Stanley in a leaf green velvet. Mrs. Raymond Ball, president of the Pilot Club, wore powder blue lace over taffeta and Mrs. Harold Appleby, one of the first to spearhead Easter Seal drives in this county, was in black chil-dren fashioned with a full skirt, scalloped neckline and a rhinestone-studded bodice. The grand prize, given during the evening, was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bradford. She was in blue chiffon with pearl-trimmed neck-line.

A pre-ball gathering was held at the home of Dottie and Robert Karns—the group attending and later enjoying a breakfast served at the Vann Parker home were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Talley, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stanley, Dr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Howland, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hemphill, Mr. and Mrs. Art Beckwith, Dr. and Mrs. William White, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Payne and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pilon. Another group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moore before continuing on to the Mayfair Inn. They were the Moore's house-guest, Joe Eaton of New York, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crapps, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Perkins, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bush.

WOMEN WILL DO SOME POLI-TICKIN' TOO—on Thursday after-noon at a tea, Rose (Mrs. Ernest) Southward and Florence (Mrs. Douglas) Stenstrom will be in the receiving line with guest of honor, Mrs. Doyle Carlton Jr., wife of the gubernatorial candi-date.

A pretty pink and silver tea has been planned from 3 to 4 at the

MRS. SOUTHWARD

Woman's Club and an invitation is extended to all women in San-ford and the surrounding area. Mr. R. F. Cole will greet at the door and Mrs. Kenneth McIn-tosh will be in charge of the guest book. Mrs. George Wells will introduce the receiving line and Mrs. Ira Southward and Mrs. Bill Stemper will preside at the tea table.

MRS. STENSTROM

Floating hostesses will be Mrs. Vann Parker, Mrs. Herbert Sten-strom, Mrs. Joe Davis, Mrs. James Lee, Mrs. Bill Southward, Mrs. Robert Rosemond and Mrs. W. W. Horne.

"COOK YOUR OWN STEAK" was the order of the night at the party given at the home of Cdr. and Mrs. G. S. Blake. Act-ing as co-hosts for NAS staff members and other friends were Cdr. and Mrs. C. F. Frossard. Among special guests were Har-riett and John Williams, Muriel and F. D. Scott and Ruth and Harry Robson.

The bright flowers on the table were graciously given by Billie (Mrs. George) Kimmons who had wired to Hawaii for them to use for a party at her home. But they came a day late so she inquired around for another party where they could be en-joyed. The flowers were anti-tumors which are red, waxy and long lasting.

MARY FROSSARD was hostess again on Monday for staff wives who met at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park. While lunching they enjoyed a fashion show.

ALSO LUNCHING on masse nearby were El Zeta Beta mem-bers of Beta Sigma Phi.

CDR. AND MRS. H. E. FITZ-WATER entertained recently with a dinner party for Cdr. and Mrs. Ben Shelton, who soon will be leaving for new duty station in San Diego. The Fitzwaters and Sheltons became friends some-time ago while both were station-ed in Morocco. Other guests at the dinner were Ledr. and Mrs. John Swope and Lt. and Mrs. Russell Hurd.

A COFFEE for Diane Shelton will be given Friday morning at the home of Mary Hurd. Co-host-esses will be Mrs. (Mrs. Bob) Satrie.

Officers Wives Hold Luncheon

Mrs. R. G. Gleeson and A. R. Smith were hostesses at a recent luncheon of the NAS Officers Wives Club. The E. O. Q. lounge provided a perfect setting for colors and decorations, carrying out the St. Patrick's Day theme. A delicious ham luncheon was served, following a cocktail hour. A few members were lucky and won some unique prizes. Among those attending was Mrs. R. W. Slye, wife of the commanding of-ficer of the Naval Air Station. A short business session was held after the luncheon and social hour.

Awards Received By Good News Club

A group of children have just completed a Bible course, called "child evangelism good news club" at the Park Ave. Trailer Park.
The boys and girls met for one hour, once a week at Trailer Lot 52, to learn bible verses, songs and bible stories. They also enjoyed the visualized teach-ing aids. Mrs. Betty Long was the teacher and Mrs. Dottie Chance, song leader for the entire course.

This is an undenominational bible class for all children and sponsored by the Child Evange-lism Fellowship, an international organization with Florida head-quarters in Orlando.
At the conclusion of the course, the children met at the Trailer for an award party. After a pro-gram of group singing and bible memory verse recitation they listened to a tape recording of their program.
Refreshments were served and awards for attendance and bible-verse memorization were presen-ted to the members. The "good news club" will start again this fall, when school opens. The same organization will sponsor a "five day" club this summer, during vacation time. For fur-ther information call Mrs. Long at FA 2-4843.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON

It really was an odd site to see folks scattered all over Memorial Stadium here Tuesday night all bundled up in blankets to watch the opening baseball game. It was more like a football night and I'm sure the pitchers found it a little tough to get warmed up.

Catch Dave Laude and his Seminoles looked good at times during the game but lack of experience really showed up. The lineup is studded with freshmen and sophomores and there is still a lot they will have to learn before they can do much damage to opposing teams.

Along about the fifth inning Laude hollered to freshman Jack Caolo and said, "Jack, you go in there and catch next inning," and Jack replied, "where, in there?" Well, the youngster charged in and did a fine job behind the plate and he also started the rally in the final inning with an infield hit.

They've got a long way to go but the potential is there so they should win their share.

Coach Jim Pigott and his tracksters play host to Leesburg here this afternoon in the second track meet of the season. It is an OBC meet.

In the opening meet last week the Seminoles were very impressive and they show signs of being a real power in the conference. They ran up 101 points to the DeLand Bulldogs' 22 and they captured first place in all but one event.

In recent years track has become one of the most interesting sports around and although very few people around here know much about the different events, they have become aware of the sport and are anxious to find out more about it.

The meets are held behind the high school. They have a fine cinder track so come out to watch these youngsters as they compete in the various events.

The play of the Washington Senators through the first week of spring training games points out what rookie Jake Jacobs said about their chances to come out of the cellar. They have plenty of power but they still don't have that good percentage hitter. Jake is battling it all the way and continues to hit those timely singles. He could be the man that they are looking for.

Ed's Black Putty Top Favorite In Feature Race

Ed's Black Putty, a youngster who has figured in the quintet in all of his seven starts this season, is the morning line favorite of tonight's featured sixth race at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

Racing will start with an additional Grade-A encounter at 8:10 p. m. Champion of the early season, O. B.'s Ample, is favored in the first race.

In the hot ninth affair, Ed's Black Putty is a 5-2 choice from the fifth post position. The J. M. Edwards two-year-old won five and placed in two races before heading west to compete in the $20,000 Phoenix Futurity.

Carl Tracy's incredible pup, A. E. Swaback is rated second-best by early figuring of 4-to-1. The brindle two-year-old has won nine events this season, in addition to placing twice and showing twice in 20 starts.

Among the other highly-ranked contenders for feature laurels are O. B.'s Mortgage and O. B.'s Massey, two best products of the Sanford-Brothers kennel.

Summing out the ninth race here are Dissembler, Alderman, Aunt Horrie and Siskalee.

Only 10 more days of part-mutuel greyhound action remains on the OBC schedule which winds up April 4.

Dupas, Fernandez Clash In TV Bout

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Veteran welterweight Ralph Dupas matches his speed and ring knowledge tonight against the punching power of young Florentino Fernandez in a 10-round nationally televised bout at Miami Beach Auditorium.

The 25-year-old Dupas, a New Orleans native who began fighting as an amateur at the age of 11 and has campaigned both as a lightweight and a welterweight in an eight-year pro career, has had four times as many fights as his 25-year-old opponent from Havana, Cuba.

Now third-ranked among the world's welterweight contenders, Dupas has a record of 17-13-4.

In Fernandez, Dupas will meet a tremendously strong, willing opponent who often abandons caution and depends upon his formidable punch.

The hawk-nosed, mustached youngster has had 26 professional bouts as many of his 25 victories by knockouts.

Patriots Sign 2

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Patriots of the founding American Football League today announced the signing of players from the University of Connecticut and Heidelberg (Ohio) College.

Chief scout Mike Holovac, the former Boston College coach, announced that UConn halfback Bob Moran and Heidelberg center Bob Gilmore had signed with the Boston entry.

Gets UPI Award

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (UPI) — The United Press International trophy award to the national small college champion will be presented to Bowling Green State University tonight. The award will be presented at the university's all-sports banquet by Haskell Short, Ohio state manager for UPI.

Dallas Keglars Roll Top Team Game To Date In ABC Congress

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — The Great Southwest Sport Center of Dallas, Tex., rolled the top team game to date in the American Bowling Congress tournament action here Tuesday night.

The Dallas team rolled a 1101 in its second game for a series total of 2054 but it did not affect the open division standings. Its first game was 936 and third 897.

The team had 32 strikes in its big game, with Ronnie Diamond getting nine and Jack Bondiolillo eight. The only open frames were caused by two splits.

Individual scores in the 1101 game were Jim Carman 214, Lewis Ray 202, Diamond 236, Bondiolillo 247 and J. B. Solomon, 202.

Strohs Beer of Detroit rolled a 3876, the lowest score for a Strohs team since 1948. In the three tournaments prior to this one, Strohs had been over 3100 each year.

Earlier, Tony Puglie of Detroit cracked the top five all-events standings with a third place 1929. Puglie teamed with Don Ginski to take fourth place in the doubles with 1261 on games of 381, 419 and 461.

He had a 633 in team, 673 in

Stines Pacing Mr. and Mrs. Loop

Eve and Andy Stine stepped out front in the "Mr. and Mrs." Bowling League Sunday afternoon by taking three games to compile an eight and one record for the league lead.

The Mott family is in second place with a 7 1/2 and 1 1/2 record, while the Rogels are third with a 6 1/2 and 2 1/2 total.

Mike and Gloria Accardi are fourth with six wins and 3 losses, and Tom and Teena Armas are next with a five and four credit.

Four teams, the Wicherns, Carters, Callans, and Richards each have a four and five record to bring up the rear.

In individual averages, Carl Rogel leads the men with a 181, while Gloria Accardi tops the "lady halves" with a 180. In Sunday's action, Carl's 287-383 was high for the men, while Gloria's 200-283 led the distaff side of the league. Team high game "scratch" is in possession of the Callans with a 484, while they also held team high "handicap" with a 483 game.

Colonial Tops Seminole Nine In '60 Opener

The Sanford Seminoles opened their 1960 baseball season here Tuesday night before a fine crowd who braved the chilly weather. The score ended with Colonial of Orlando on top, 7-2.

Righthander Jim Gracey started on the mound for the Seminoles and found himself in trouble right away when he couldn't find his control. Colonial picked up five of their seven runs in the first inning on six walks and four misques.

Righthander Mike Roberts came on in relief of Gracey, and the ball game settled down. He was very effective and pitched about ball for three innings.

Senior Paul Mitchell came on in the fifth inning and got by until the sixth when a base knock, a walk and a Sanford error gave Colonial their other two runs.

Leftlander Lindsey went all the way for Colonial and had a no hitter until the fifth inning when centerfielder Alex McKibbin doubled down the left field line for the first hit.

The Seminoles came to life in the last inning when freshman catcher Jack Caolo led off with an infield single. Hard hitting McKibbin reached base on an error and Ray Lundquist received a free pass to first base. Third baseman Terry Christensen then singled home Caolo to break the shutouts. McKibbin then raced home on an error giving the Seminoles their second and final run.

The Seminoles face Evans of Orlando here next Tuesday in their second game of the season.

City Keglars Loop Title Battle Close

For the third year in a row, the Sanford City Bowling League goes into its final week of action with the possibility of a tie for the championship.

Mather of Sanford could only take one game from Celery City Printing Company in league action last Wednesday night, while Harry's Liquors broke a tie for second with Burnett Painters by taking all three games, to pull up to within three games of the leaders.

This means the Mather team must win one game, or even tie one game, in their final night of bowling in order to win the championship. By a coincidence, the Mather team was in the same situation last year, only on the other end of the stick, with Burnett Painters sitting on top. This year, the Mather team must roll its final match against the Painters, who are still stinging from the defeat of last week.

Frank Huhn was high man for Harry's in their belated attempt at the crown, rolling a 556 series. Claude Foster led the Painters with 509 for the night. In the Mather-Celery City Printing match, John Ehr attempted to stem the tide with a 433 total for the night, but a fine team effort by Celery City Printing, headed by Harold Herbert's 323 gave the Printers a two-one victory for the night.

New York Life Insurance pulled into a tie for fourth place with Gene's Seminoles Cleaners and Laundry by taking two games to the Cleaners one.

Ed Callan led the "split-shrinkers" with a 47-10 pick-up, while Bud Proctor with a 3-9-10, George Swan with a 3-7-10, and Lefty Swift with a 3-5-7 followed along.

Moore May Meet European Champ

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Bill Fugazy, a young boxing promoter from New York, today held out the bait of a light heavyweight title in Los Angeles between champion Archie Moore and Germany's Eric Schoepner, holder of the European light heavyweight title.

Fugazy, representative of Feature Sports, Inc., of New York held a press conference Tuesday to publicize his offer and said he would like to hold the fight at the Coliseum July 12.

This would be one night after the start of the National Democratic Convention and Fugazy said he would have a "built-in audience."

The ageless Moore who admits to 43 years has been guaranteed $200,000 for the fight. Schoepner has been guaranteed $50,000.

In addition, Fugazy said, Moore agreed to sub for Floyd Patterson in the event Patterson would back out of his scheduled title fight with heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson in New York June 22.

Moore, according to Fugazy, further agreed that if he beats Schoepner he will be willing to meet Johansson here before Dec. 1.

Wilt Scores 50 Points To Set Pace For Philly Playoff Win

United Press International

Wilt Chamberlain's latest outburst of 50 points gave Philadelphia high hopes today that the Warriors would become the first team in National Basketball Association history to bounce back from a 3-1 deficit and win a seven-game series.

The league's rookie of the year and most valuable player narrowed Boston's lead to 3-2 in the Eastern Division finals Tuesday night with a brilliant effort that brought the Warriors a 128-107 victory.

In the Western sectional finals, the Minneapolis Lakers threatened to duplicate last season's upset over St. Louis as they defeated the Hawks, 117-110, in overtime to take a 2-2 lead in the series. An extra-period win in the fifth game in 1959 set the stage for a Laker sweep in six games.

Chamberlain, apparently recovered from a hand injury that hampered his efforts in two previous games, broke a Boston Garden record with 22 field goals. He nabbed 35 rebounds to resume mastery over big Bill Russell in that department.

Boston could never get going as Chamberlain and Tom Gola combined for a total of 45 points in the first half to equal the entire Celtic output before intermission. Gola wound up the night with 22 points.

Philadelphia built a 65-45 half-time lead and maintained the spread throughout the game as the Warriors contained the Celtics' most potent scorers. Russell led Boston with 22 points.

Elgin Baylor continued to hex the Hawks as he scored 40 points for Minneapolis. The game, with both teams playing it tight to the vest in the second half, ended in a 103-second star regulation time. The first half had ended in a 47-all tie.

The extra session remained nip and tuck as St. Louis played most of the five minutes with Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan out with personal fouls.

With the score knotted at 107-107, Rudy LaRusso gave Minneapolis the edge with a three-point play. The Lakers then scored five points in the last 23 seconds to wrap it up.

The playoff scenes switch for the sixth game, with Boston playing at Philadelphia Thursday night and St. Louis at Minneapolis. Seventh games, if necessary, will be staged Saturday. Philadelphia will then travel to Boston and Minneapolis moves to St. Louis.

McIntire Wins Golf Tourney

SARASOTA (UPI) — Golf's touring professionals move here for the DeSoto open today, hoping that Dave Ragan has cooled off from a birdie binge that fired him to a double win in the Seminole pro-am at Palm Beach Tuesday.

The former University of Florida star, now playing out of Orlando, scooped up $1,700 in prize money in the pro-am.

He was low professional with a four-under-par 68, two strokes better than Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, and he teamed with amateur Harry Hurt, Houston, Texas, oilman, for a best-ball 63 that tied them with two other teams for low score in the pro-am team competition.

The Ragan - Hurt score was matched by the teams of pro Gardner Dickinson Jr. and amateur Bing Crosby, and pro Tommy Jacobs and amateur Woolworth Donahue, New York financier.

The 34-year-old Crosby, whose handicap is six strokes, blew a three-foot putt on the 11th hole that would have given him and Dickinson top pro-am money.

Behind Finsterwald in the pro-division were Dickinson, Palm Beach, and Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, both with 71; and longtime rivals Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, both with even-par 72's.

McIntire Wins Golf Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C. (UPI) — National woman's amateur titleholder Barbara McIntire has added the 38th annual North and South amateur golf championship to her growing list of victories.

Miss McIntire, from Lake Park, carved out an easy 5 and 4 triumph over Joanne Goodwin Tuesday in the final at the Pinehurst Country Club.

Pascual Could Be One To Get Washington Out Of Last Place

United Press International

There'll soon be a new flood of bids pouring into Washington Senator President Cal Griffith's office the way Samlio Pascual is pitching this spring.

The 25-year-old native of Havana became baseball's most "wanted man" in the winter trade marts after a 17-10 season in 1959 and he looks sharper than ever this year. Griffith has said Pascual definitely is not for sale but the offers will be pouring in anyhow because Camilo probably could mean the pennant for two or three clubs.

He won't win any pennants for the Senators, of course, but he could get them out of last place in the American League for the first time in four years.

Pascual, who had a gaudy 2.84 earned run average to go with his .530 winning percentage last season, combined with Pedro Ramos Tuesday to hurt the Senators to a 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. It snapped a four-game Washington losing streak and extended the Orioles' losing string to six straight games.

Ramos, 13-19 last year, yielded two hits and a run in the first five innings and then Pascual struck out eight batters and allowed only a single by Jackie Brandt during the last four. Pascual himself scored the winning run in the seventh on Lenny Green's single.

The Boston Red Sox hammered out a 5-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians, the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Milwaukee Braves, 5-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged out the Chicago White Sox, 9-8, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the New York Yankees, 6-3, the Kansas City A's beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-1, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-4, and the San Francisco Giants won 9-3 in 12 innings over the Chicago Cubs.

Dali Paints Nudes In 10 Minutes; Splashes Onlookers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The eloquent mustache twitched. Salvador Dali, wearing a green painter's jacket, green pants and a green cap pulled down over his ears, stood shock-still before the bare, nine-foot, high white canvas. At his feet were buckets of paint and neat rows of paint tubes.

The crowd of about 100 fashionably dressed onlookers in the Berkshire Hotel's plush new Barberry Room hushed.

Dali had promised to paint—in a mere 20 minutes—his impression of Bouguereau's "Nymphs and Satyr," a 19th Century painting of four nude nymphs trying to lead a resisting satyr astray. He actually was about to paint his abstract impression in only 10 minutes.

Dali stepped back, glanced at his assistant, and pointed impatiently with his cane. The assistant handed him a long-handled signpainter's brush.

The master seized the brush, splashed it in a knee-high bucket of black paint, and smashed it against his canvas.

Black paint splattered over the white surface. It also splattered over the ceiling, a slim column behind the easel, and a tall blonde who had edged in too close.

The onlookers, including such celebrities as Perle Mesta, Joan Crawford, Peter Lind Hayes, Mary Healy, Ariene Francis and Zsa Zsa Gabor, oo-ed and ah-ed. The blonde stepped back.

Dali took a piece of cheesecloth and began spreading the black paint. It looked like a finger painting by a precocious first grader.

Working hectically, with his assistant handing him the tools, he swirled black and white paint onto the canvas straight from the tube, shaped it with his rubber-gloved fingers, and smeared gobs of black on with his hands.

"Dali is reproducing a Dalian abstract version of the nymphs," explained Dr. Saul Collin, of New York, who described himself as Dali's theatrical advisor. "This is a moment of work — not a joke."

Dali squeezed out stripes of black, yellow and green paint on his arm, his chest and his cap.

"I don't understand this sort of thing," a woman said to her escort, "but you mustn't talk like that, Felia."

Dali pressed his head, arm and chest to the canvas. His assistant poured him a handful of carpet tacks, and Dali lovingly applied them to the central smear. Then he cupped his hands, plunged them into the bucket of black paint, and splashed on his final touch. Dali's "Nymphs and Satyr" was completed.

Attempt By Castro To Take Navy Base Could Damage U. S. Relations

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

Beginning with the westward tip of Cuba and extending eastward and southward in a 2,000-mile arc to Trinidad is a string of islands which separates the Atlantic Ocean from the Caribbean Sea.

Lying close to the center, at Cuba's eastern tip, is the great U. S. naval base of Guantanamo. Eight hundred miles to the south of Guantanamo is the Panama Canal.

Five hundred miles to the east is the commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Each of the three looms large in U. S. defense strategy, both at home and for the Western Hemisphere. In each of the three, the United States has its difficulties.

Of most immediate concern is Guantanamo. The constitution providing Cuba a Republican form of government granted the United States a naval base at Guantanamo in 1901, shortly after the Paris treaty in which Spain gave up both Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Guantanamo Bay is a sharp indentation on Cuba's southeast coast. The base lies at the bottom of a saucer-like formation of hills which roll steeply back into the mountains of Oriente Province. It was from these hills in Oriente Province that Raul Castro, brother of Fidel, made the Donatism is different. It is deep and growing, and centers its wrath upon the United States' perpetual hold on the canal.

Dancing Returns After Decline

NEW YORK (UPI) — No one was deceived when Fred Astaire sang the words, "Won't dance, can't make me," in "Roberta," one of Hollywood's dance extravaganzas of the '30s.

The incomparable Astaire, of course, did dance. And packed ballrooms of the era reverberated to the music of big bands and the sound of American shoe-leather doing the fox trot.

World War II changed all that. The traditional Saturday night dance had had its hey-day. American feet were marching instead of dancing.

During the post-war years, when television realized its potential and mesmerized the nation as the No. 1 entertainment medium, many wondered if America had permanently forgotten how to dance.

But the pessimists and non-believers should have conserved their worrying energies for taxes and the cold war.

America is again kicking up its heels. Both teenagers and those who are no longer "spring chickens" are rediscovering that feet weren't created just to walk on.

A Word To Persons Wanting To Pass Census Tests: Don't Study Too Hard

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — I never won $254,000, or even a five-year supply of floor wax, on a television quiz show. But I have a brain that soaks up information like a sieve.

I always figured this kind of talent was worth something and now I know what it is worth $13 a day for two weeks every 10 years. I mean I am a natural born census taker.

I discovered this hidden aptitude after reading in the newspaper last week that Teddy Nadler, the biggest winner in TV quiz history, had flunked his test for a census job.

Nadler, according to a dispatch from St. Louis, failed to answer the necessary number of questions in a quiz given to persons looking for work in the 1960 census.

Curious to know what could have stumped the man who could reel off the names of the eight countries that straddle the equator, I presented myself at the census office here and asked to take the test.

Twenty-five or 30 other contestants were seated at tables around the room when I entered and was handed a two-part test by a lady quizmaster.

She didn't say whether the questions came from the locked vaults of the Treasury Department and I didn't ask. We were given an hour to complete the test with no interruptions for commercials.

Prehistoric Bugs Found By Scientists

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — A fascinating tale of insects found perfectly preserved after millions of years is being told by scientists at the University of California.

The specimens were discovered embedded in chunks of amber which had originated as resin from trees some 30 million years ago in the forests of the southern Mexico state of Chiapas.

The trapped insects eventually dropped to the ground to be carried off by erosion and finally were buried in deposits of sand and clay.

The resins were transformed into rocks with the insects becoming perfect fossils, which have afforded scientists a unique glimpse into a prehistoric age.

Research, in progress for the past decade, will soon be intensified under a $24,000 grant from the National Science Foundation.

Nose Cone Shows More Radiation

BEDFORD, Mass. (UPI)—Film racks exposed at altitudes up to 50 miles in an Atlas nose cone revealed far greater radiation than previously discovered, according to the Air Research and Development Command. "Particle tracks indicate that radiation in the Van Allen belts discovered by the Explorer satellites far outshone the flux of primary cosmic radiation as measured by means of Skyhook balloons at 20-mile altitudes," the report said. "Counts in the Atlas-flown emulsions show that for every cosmic ray that penetrated the block, some 40,000 protons of the Van Allen belt were recorded." Officials of the Cambridge Research Center said the "photographs" were recovered last July about an hour after the missile was fired from Cape Canaveral.

West German Socialists Not Happy Over Adenauer's Vote Proposal

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign Editor West German Socialists are not happy with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's proposal that Berliners be allowed to vote to decide their own future — whether to go over to the East German Communists or retain their links with the West. However, the Socialists still have not decided whether to go on record formally opposing it. Meanwhile, there is no doubt about the Communist attitude. They oppose it because the vote certainly would go to the West. Adenauer's personal prestige at home already has been considerably enhanced by his U. S. visit. With Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek's return to office a foregone conclusion, political sources are predicting a cabinet shakeup. Primary result would be to increase the duties of vice president and Premier Chen Cheng to prepare the way for the day he may eventually take over from the aging Chiang. It also is believed a possibility that Syngman Rhee, 84-year-old president of the Republic of Korea, might step aside for his heir-apparent, Vice President-elect Lee Ki-Poong. Lee has been picked by Rhee and would be expected to go down the line for Rhee's program. The U. S. - Philippines negotiations for a new air treaty may develop into another notable squabble. The Philippines canceled the old treaty as one-sided earlier this year and think they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by being tough. They figure they have the United States over a barrel — particularly Pan American Airways whose franchise to operate in the Philippines expires soon. This week two international conferences get down to tough bargaining in Geneva, Switzerland. But at least in the case of the 10-nation disarmament conference no firm results are expected soon. Predictions are that it will take a year, and possibly years, before the disarmament conference can reach any sort of conclusion. The other meeting is the 89-nation law of the sea conference which, among other things, involves important fishing rights.

Author Calls Book Ban Absurd, Crazy

MIAMI (UPI)—Aldous Huxley whose nearly 40 years of writing established him as a premier example of the reserved intellectual, reacted holly Monday night when asked for comment on the removal of one of his novels from Dade County high schools. "Most extraordinary," said Huxley. "Absurd... absolutely crazy." The English novelist, now an American resident, also said "I don't wish to blow my horn, but I think the work will remain quite important." The work referred to is "Brave New World," a novel Huxley published in 1932. It prophesied life under a political dictatorship where babies were produced in test tubes with only a limited freedom of choice or expression. Two Enter '500' INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Wayne Weller, Phoenix, Ariz., and Jim Packard, Indianapolis, have been nominated as newcomers to the 500-mile speedway auto race. Approval of the two rookies, who qualified for auto racing's "big time" in special tests last summer, raised the list of entries to 30 for one Memorial Day race.

'Adventures In Paradise' Show Showing Signs Of Improving

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sail on, Adam Troy, glorious skipper of the schooner "Tiki."

Despite early-season torpedoes from critics, the "Tiki" and star Gardner (Adam Troy) McKay seem to have found a snug harbor at ABC-TV for their show, "Adventures in Paradise."

After a slow start, the hour-long program has caught on. In fact, the network and the producer, 20th Century-Fox, now are planning next season's episodes. In the face of such acceptance, a TV reviewer who panned the show when it was launched last fall ought to be discreet, if not gracious, and just clam up.

But I have a weakness. I must tuck in if only to find out whether McKay's acting has improved. It has. Like the cigarette that is advertised on the show, McKay's early stiffness has been "air-softened." He has learned to move his eyebrows, wiggle his nose, flash an occasional smile, shift his head and weight while in conversation to show alertness. Believe me, this is progress.

I also noticed a welcome attempt to keep the action aboard the "Tiki," and the "Tiki" out at sea instead of tied to some bamboo-bristling harbor in the back lot. (You know the saying: No Tiki, no sharks.) Stock scenes of sailing vessels and ocean spray were worked into Monday night's film to help make it more authentic. These touches also helped distract attention from a few major flaws in the plot. The plot on Monday night's episode, "The Amazon," offered Elizabeth Scott as a hard-driving yachting champ whose need for supremacy over males brought death to two men, including her ulcer-ridden, alcoholic fiancé. His death, incidentally, was one of the more brutal crimes shown on TV. Crying for medical aid, battered and bloody after a fight at sea, he was simply hurled overboard. The episode also included much drinking and an attempted rape.

As I mentioned, the series is catching on.

Does the show's apparent success embarrass its critics? Not at all. Critics have very little impact on ratings (and I hope the reverse is true, also.) Some of the guiding lights behind "Adventures in Paradise" agreed with the early reviews. They reacted in a healthy fashion — by working to improve the show.

So, sail on, Adam. Maybe one of these seasons you'll take all the critical wind out of our sails.

Dialing and Filing: My only complaint about the appearance of Flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya on Monday night's "Kate Smith Show" is that he didn't get more time than the Irving Fields trio "The Texan," starring Rory Calhoun, came up with a throw-back to early-adult Westerns Monday night. And a poor one, at that.

At 10:50 a. m., the limb on which Hayes was working broke and he fell to the ground. He joined his stepfather in the hospital, where he was treated for back injuries.

Carlton, Bryant Bring Campaign To County

With preliminary handshaking over, serious campaigning for the governor will begin in Seminole County Friday when Sen. Doyle Carlton Jr. comes in for a nine-stop tour to wind up at a meeting at 8 p. m. in Ft. Mellon Park.

Farris Bryant will be in the county Saturday and will hold an informal public meeting at 2:30 p. m. in the Civic Center.

Both men will arrive here after releasing two important statements of their views—Carlton on the lunch counter sit-down campaign by Negroes and Bryant on state taxes.

Carlton said out telegrams Wednesday commenting on the lunch counter events which caused tension in the state during recent weeks and prompted a television speech by Gov. Collins. The telegram said:

"I believe the individual business proprietor has the right to acknowledge and respect the customs of his community. Yet his current position is such that it is he who is being exploited by being cast in the role of social mediator through no choice of his own, his actual right of economic survival is jeopardized.

"Under Florida law, there is no doubt of his right to serve the clientele of his choice."

Carlton urged demonstrating Negroes to slack off the pace of their public demonstrations.

"I do not question the desire of anyone to improve his community standing—but I do not emphasize the continuance of a method that would of itself create breaches of the peace.

"Any form of agitation which precipitates disorder and violence is wrong. Reason—not wrath—must guide us in this present situation."

A release by Bryant's headquarters at Ocala quoted the former House Speaker as saying "no new tax sources are necessary in Florida" and criticizing "hidden taxes" which he said include "151 different hidden taxes on a loaf of bread before its sale by a grocer."

Bryant also pointed out reasons for "reduction in state taxes in some areas, including repeal of the intangible tax increase, because it deters new investment in Florida and penalizes retired people by taxing their."

The Ocala candidate suggested revision of the inventory tax system and a sweeping study of the entire tax program, including personal property tax, by a joint citizen-professional committee. He called this the fourth plank in his campaign platform.

Ernest Southward, chairman of the Carlton campaign in Seminole County, announced that the senator will begin his tour of the county at 8 a. m. to 8:45 a. m. get-together Friday at the Sanford Farmers Market and will visit Lake Mary, Longwood, Altamonte Springs, his South Seminole headquarters, Slavia, Oviedo, Chuluota, Geneva and downtown Sanford.

"We invite all of the voters in this area to meet Sen. Carlton and hear him speak in behalf of his candidacy at Ft. Mellon Park," Southward said.

Mrs. Carlton was honored in Sanford and Oviedo today at women's meetings, where she was the guest of local residents.

The Bryant for Governor group has planned an informal reception in the Civic Center in connection with his public meeting and he will be accompanied by his wife, Julia.

After the 2:30 p. m. question and answer period there, Bryant will visit throughout the county, his headquarters said.

United Press International reported a pledge by Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns to work toward a permanent state flood control program as he campaigned Wednesday.

Burns' comments came after he flew over the Central Florida flood area before returning to his Jacksonville campaign headquarters.

"Future flood conditions," he said, "will be controlled only by sound engineering—providing canals, dikes, reversible pumps and reservoirs so that a portion of the rainy season's excessive and disastrous flood waters may be stored for good use later in the dry season."

Ted David of Hollywood proposed repeal of the state inventory tax in a speech at DeLand.

David suggested replacing lost inventory tax revenues by extension of the sales tax to include banks, forest products tax on timberland, and a severance tax on minerals.

Fred O. Dickinson of West Palm Beach said Florida needs a governor who will work for bigger school appropriations.

Speaking in Miami, Dickinson said Florida ranks 37th among states in spending per pupil and "has been falling farther and farther behind in recent years."

John McCarty of Fort Pierce expressed confidence that he can persuade the legislature to fairly reapportion itself.

"I know," he said in a Bradenton speech, "that if the governor is not bog-tied with previous commitments that he can get what he wants in the first, or 'home moon' session of the legislature."

NEXT STOP, TAMPA, as Sanford Salvation Army Capt. Marcella Reynolds, left, and her assistant, E. Hill, help load a station wagon filled with clothing and food for flooded out families in the Tampa area. The supplies were collected by the DeBary Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion. Khrushchev Urges No-Agression Pact

PARIS (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev called today for a non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact powers of Eastern Europe.

He made the proposal at a lunch given by Premier Michel Debra shortly after the Soviet leader met privately for two hours with President Charles De Gaulle.

Khrushchev, on the second day of his 11-day visit to France, also made another strong appeal for French-Soviet cooperation in world affairs.

An authorized French source reported the Soviet Premier said: "It is necessary that the USSR and France be united for the maintenance of peace."

"We do not wish to drive a wedge between France and her Western allies."

"Soviet-French cooperation does not at all demand the renunciation of regimes of ideologies."

The proposal for a NATO-Warsaw Pact non-aggression treaty has been put forward several times by Soviet leaders. But observers recalled no Kremlin mention of it since last summer's Geneva foreign ministers' conference.

In an impromptu statement following a lunch toast by Debra, Khrushchev also took a swing at Germany by implication.

"I would like to point out," he said, "that history demonstrates that the threats which weigh on our country have always come from that same direction."

Khrushchev said the Soviet people "never went back on their word, and the history of the last war, in which the people of France had great losses and in which our people had even greater losses and more victims, forces us to take part in a common effort in order that the end result of war is avoided."

"It is true that our visit is brief," Khrushchev added. "But in so far as I have been able to account, and insofar as our meetings and talks yesterday have proved it to me, we have the same feelings, the same aspirations, the same worries about those things which concern the necessity of safeguarding peace and friendship between peoples."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower may go to Augusta, Ga., next month for his customary spring stay, the White House indicated today. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he had nothing to announce on the subject, but he reminded reporters that the President normally likes to visit Georgia in April.

Not Dangerous SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Police ordered between 500 and 600 persons from a four-square block area here early today when a truck carrying radioactive castings hit a train at an intersection. However, it was soon determined the radioactivity was so low as to be not dangerous. The train returned in their homes in about 20 minutes.

Missing Plane Found; All Safe CAIRO (UPI) — A missing sea plane with eight Americans and one other passenger aboard apparently has been found with all safe, the United Arab Republic air force said today.

The American Catalina was reported missing Tuesday night. It was believed to have carried seven members of the family of Laverne, Calif., a producer of travel films. The eighth American was identified as Ramona Shear, an employee of Kendall.

A spokesman said that a plane had been found on Saudi Arabian territory near the gulf of Aqaba after making a forced landing. He confirmed that the passengers were all safe.

Railroad Plans Maintenance Move JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Florida East Coast Railway plans to move part of its maintenance operation from the Bessie Vista plant at Miami to St. Augustine and Jacksonville. It was announced today.

Collins Calls Disaster Relief Meet Saturday

TAMPA (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins Wednesday called a conference on disaster relief to meet here Saturday, following an announcement by President Eisenhower designating 12 flooded Central Florida counties a major disaster area.

The governor said both state and federal agency representatives would be present to give information on types of assistance available.

All local government officials from flooded counties were invited to attend.

Seminole County officials will meet at 10 a. m. Friday to discuss what kind of report to present Gov. Collins Saturday.

Representatives of the County Commission, Red Cross, Civil Defense, road and agricultural department will attend the meeting which will be held in the courthouse.

County Agent Cecil Tucker and Engineer Robert Davis will attend the meeting in Tampa Saturday.

The President's disaster area designation covered Hernando, Sumter, Lake, Orange, Seminole, Brevard, Osceola, Polk, Hillsborough, Pinellas, Marion and Pasco counties.

Eisenhower authorized the use of federal funds if necessary to supplement state and local money in relief work.

But a wide range of non-financial help is involved too, Collins noted. He said help from some 50 federal agencies was made available by the president's action.

The conference, Collins predicted, "will have an enormous amount of time and prevent the further spread of much inaccurate and misleading information now circulating."

The President's Washington announcement followed a request from Collins.

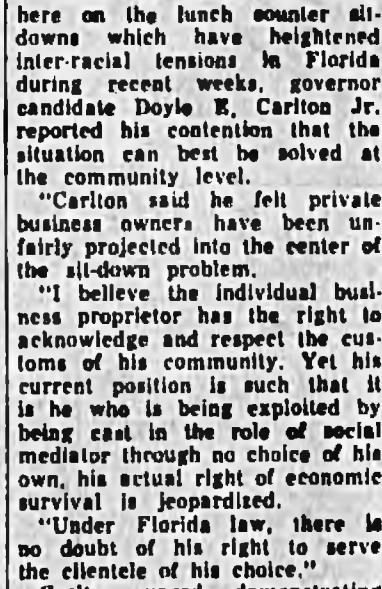

Drag-Race Ends In Accident

Two Sanford men escaped injury in a two-car smash-up on Hwy. 17-92 early this morning when they both were dragracing the Florida Highway Patrol reported.

The two men, Willie Green and Garnie Collier are both being held in the county jail charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident, according to Trooper Bill Stringfield.

Stringfield said both men were racing "at about 100 miles per hour" north on Hwy. 17-92. He added that Green turned off south of Sanford, about one mile south of Highway and Collier's car slammed into the vehicle.

Neither of the drivers was hurt. Estimated damage to Collier's car was $600 and $100 to Green's car, Stringfield said.

GOVERNOR COLLINS PROCLAIMS April as Cancer Crusade Month in Florida as the governor presents the official announcement to the William C. Harris family of Tallahassee. Harris received the official document, in behalf of the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society. Harris was stricken with the disease in 1950 and was cured in 1955.

17 Held Hostage In Jail Riot

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Two desperate convicts—one of them insane—offered the lives of 17 hostages today in exchange for freedom from the Tennessee state prison.

The two convicts, armed with pistols, seized more than 70 hostages Wednesday and barricaded themselves in a deputy warden's office on the first floor of the prison clothing factory.

When they learned police armed with riot guns were on the way, the desperadoes freed the prison inmates they had been holding. They threatened to put the remaining hostages, including three women, "up against that wall and shoot them" unless given a chance to escape. One hostage was released later when he became ill.

Warden Lynn Bomar stubbornly refused to bargain with the convicts despite the threats. No one in the terror-filled prison within a prison had eaten since noon Wednesday.

One of the convicts, Texas badman Robert Rivera, 25, was reported ready to surrender, but a prison official said life-terminator Raymond Farra, 25, told him, "I came in to die, and I'm going to die."

Charles Cottle, a prison psychologist, said Rivera was willing to sign an agreement to surrender but that Farra was not. "The bitch is Farra," Cottle said. Farra is the insane one. He's been declared insane."

Prison records showed that although Farra has normal intelligence, he is insane. "It is our feeling that this institution should be relieved of this man," the records stated. "Recommendation: Maximum security, use extreme care to keep him from committing homicide or suicide or both. He is dangerous."

Bomar equipped 200 police ringed around the prison not to fire in hopes the desperadoes would surrender at any moment.

The 1,800 other prisoners howled and banged their cell bars throughout the night. Bomar had given them no supper and no breakfast.

The two men, armed with pistols believed smuggled into the Gothic-style prison, virtually held control of the prison throughout the night.

They had been standing in line at the prison's clothing plant about 3:30 p. m. Wednesday to obtain their weekly payment of prison scrip for work done in the factory.

Life-terminator Norvell Fuqua said Farra and Rivera suddenly moved up to the paymaster's window and flashed their pistols.

They took both inmates and visiting civilians and some guards hostage, but later released most of their fellow inmates when they heard police were on the way with riot guns.

"They said they didn't want any prisoners shot up," Fuqua said.

Final Zoning Hearing Tonight

The final hearing to stabilize zoning in the county will be held at 7:30 p. m. today at the Courthouse.

The County Zoning Commission has held four hearings for each of the districts outside Sanford on the new comprehensive zoning proposal. This will be the overall hearing before final recommendations are made to the County Commission for approval next month.

A Quote Attributed To Wrong Speakers

The Herald's report of the meeting of the Voters League of District 5 was printed Wednesday with a line of type out of place which made a statement by one candidate appear attributed to two others.

The lines included the names of James Avery and Otis Four-akre, candidates for the District 5 county commission seat. It was at the top of a mistakenly repeated paragraph which previously had quoted incumbent Lawrence Swofford, who made the statement about what the present commission has sought to accomplish.

Avery said he would like it made clear that he does not believe that the present commission "has had a planned program, except for zoning."

One of five other convicts who stayed as hostages said the two men "told us we could go, but the building was full of shotguns and rifles, and we decided to take advantage of their congeniality."

Officers Named By Track Group

Jerry Collins is now chairman of the board of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, Inc. Collins, who holds operating control of the greyhound track on a long-term contract, was unanimously elected by the board of directors at their annual meeting at Longwood. He also retains the title of general manager.

Other officers of the board are Mrs. K. Anderson Nichols of Lake Forest, Ill., president, and Mary Kelly of Fairfield, Conn., vice president and treasurer.

Jack Ledoux was appointed to the post of manager by Collins following the meeting.

"Mr. Ledoux, who has been assistant manager for the past five years, will now have complete charge of operations at the Sanford-Orlando track," Collins announced.

"He is moving to Central Florida permanently with his family this summer and will devote fulltime to this important position. The operation of the track has almost tripled in the last five years and we are pleased to have Ledoux's services here year-around."

Collins said there would be no change in his lease contract which still has 25 years to run. Collins, his son, Jack, and Ledoux are partners in this multi-million dollar deal which was made in August, 1953.

DeBary Days

Sanford merchants are planning two big DeBary Days for the last week of April. It was announced today by R. L. Perkins Jr., president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the Merchants Division will be asked to stage special sales and the event will conclude with a special Variety Show being organized by Charlie Morrison, public relations director of the chamber.

The dates for the special events are April 23 and 25, with the show scheduled for the 29th at the Civic Center.

DeBary Days are intended to promote good will with the neighboring town and to show Sanford's and Seminole County's appreciation for participation in public and business affairs.

Charles Ruzick will act in an advisory capacity to the Sanford committee and will handle details of DeBary's participation.

House Passes Five Point Civil Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Continuing to override southern opposition, the House finally passed a five-point civil rights bill which features a new federal system for protecting Negro voters.

The measure now goes to the Senate which has been deadlocked on its own civil rights legislation for more than five weeks. The Senate was expected to pass the House bill pretty much as it now stands but southern foes were set to wage a stubborn battle against it.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has predicted Senate approval of the controversial bill within two or three weeks.

The five-foot bill would provide new federal protection for Negro voting rights and school integration orders. It contains most of the Eisenhower administration's civil rights program, including a plan for court-appointed voting referees.

Rep. Richard H. Poff (R-Va.) said he would make an 11th-hour attempt to attach an amendment to the bill.

The House wound up two weeks of debate on the bill Wednesday and was ready for a final vote when Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.) demanded that the measure be read in its engrossed form, with all amendments in place.

That automatically delayed a final vote to give clerks time to put the bill in its final, formal shape.

Williams, one of the most outspoken opponents, said he blocked the vote in order to give Southern senators more time to analyze and prepare their attack.

A roll call vote on the measure plan indicated the likely margin for passage of the bill. By a vote of 394-134, the House reaffirmed its earlier approval of the plan, designed to assure voting rights to Negroes who had been denied them by local officials.

Other provisions in the package bill would:

—Require local officials to preserve election records for two years and permit federal inspection of them.

—Make it a federal crime to obstruct school integration orders by force or threats. Poff's amendment would make sure this provision would not prohibit persons from writing letters to newspaper editors.

—Add federal penalties for crossing state lines to avoid prosecution for bombing or threats to bomb any building or vehicle.

—Provide schooling for servicemen's children when local schools are closed in integration disputes.
