Gov. Graham May Push For One-Cent Tax Hike

TAMPA (UPI) — A continuing decrease in state revenues may force Gov. Bob Graham to abandon his program for a half-cent, local option sales tax and go for a one-cent sales tax with the state sharing the money with city and county governments.

Graham will have a revenue review meeting in Tallahassee Thursday and said if the deficit drops again like it did in October the state will have to look for alternative sources of income.

Raise Drinking Age To 21

ORLANDO (UPI) — The National Safety Council says raising the legal drinking age to 21 would be more beneficial than locking up drunken drivers or sending them to alcohol treatment programs.

A recent NSC report shows mandatory jail terms for drunken driving will only increase the amount of plea bargaining, police leniency and possible police corruption.

No-Fault Rates Going Up?

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House and Senate appear headed on a collision course on the issue of no fault auto insurance with one chamber siding with trial lawyers and the other with the insurance industry.

The House Insurance Committee voted for no fault changes Tuesday that would allow many more injured traffic victims to file lawsuits but retain current limits on automatic insurance compensation for medical bills and lost wages. This conflicts with action by the Senate Commerce Committee which has voted to keep the no fault law essentially as it is except to raise the compensation limits to answer a court's objections.

The Senate plan to make the law constitutional would raise premiums an estimated 10 percent. House Insurance Chairman Tom Gustafson, D-Fort Lauderdale, said auto insurance premiums would remain about the same under the House proposal.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Suspected Nun Murderers Appear In Court Today

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — The Salvadoran government will bring at least six national guardsmen before a court as early as today for the slayings of four American missionary women 14 months ago, judicial and diplomatic sources said.

Six guardsmen were jailed April 29 in the Dec. 2, 1980 murders of Maryknoll nuns Ita Ford and Maura Clark of the New York City area and Sister Dorothy Kazel and Lay worker Jean Donovan of the Cleveland-based Ursuline order.

Stiff Jail Terms For Poles

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Polish martial courts gave jail terms of up to 10 years to 57 Poles who organized strikes or distributed anti-government leaflets and a former Foreign Ministry staffer went on trial for spying for the CIA.

At the Vatican, Pope John Paul II Tuesday told 30 union leaders, including six exiled members of Solidarity, the revival of the fully independent trade union represents "the only way out" of the crisis in his native Poland.

Whale Slaughtered For Food

SALVADOR, Brazil (UPI) — Hundreds of hungry slum dwellers attacked a still living 15-foot whale stranded in shallow water and hacked it to pieces with knives and razors.

In a bloody spectacle witnesses called "shocking," many of the attackers wounded each other as they fought for pieces of the huge creature that thrashed and struggled against the attack.

'The Band Played On' Coming To Idyllwilde

A traveling exhibit entitled "And the Band Played On" opens February 13 at Idyllwilde Elementary School in Sanford as part of an outreach program that places 20 museum exhibits on tour statewide.

The exhibit provides an overview of the band in America's musical history and traces the development of band instruments. The traveling exhibit program is designed to offer Floridians greater access to the state's cultural and historic resources.

The exhibit will be on display at the school through February 28. It will then continue its tour through other parts of the state.

and Belize. Assistant State Attorney Alan B. Robinson, the prosecutor in the case, was unavailable for comment today. However, earlier reports indicated he will review the files of the three defendants with the intent to refile.

In a related incident, charges of aiding and abetting the trafficking of marijuana filed against former Seminole County sheriff's deputy Arthur C. Price were also dismissed by Salt last week after Price's lawyer argued that the state failed to charge his client with a violation of state law.

Price was arrested Dec. 30 as a suspect in the alleged illegal drug operation along with Tindall. Drug agents said Price had warned Tindall of the possible arrests. No additional charges have been filed against Price.

Sanford Branch Library Moving To City Hall

The first floor of Sanford City Hall will serve as a temporary library next month.

Jean F. Rhein, Seminole County Librarian, today said the county's Sanford branch library, located at 230 E. 1st St., will close the week of Feb. 22 so that a major roof renovation project can begin.

The library will reopen on March 1 in City Hall. New hours of operation will be Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Seminole County commissioners Tuesday awarded the roofing contract to Cheesbro Roofing Inc., of Ormond Beach which posted a low bid of $12,325.

County officials estimate the roofing job can be completed within 15 working days.

The commission stipulated in its contract with Cheesbro that an incentive of $50 per working day would be paid for each day the project is completed under the estimated 15-day working period, providing the work is approved by architect and no time extensions are required.

Other firms that submitted bids on the project include Adcock Roofing of Sanford ($12,950), Gem Mar Roofing of Boca Raton ($22,700), General Roofing and Improvement Inc. ($7,871), L.F. Still Inc. of Orlando ($19,990) and Green Brothers Roof Inc. of Sanford (disqualified for using improper bid forms).

Sanford Employment Office To Stay Open

The Florida State Employment Office at 200 S. French Ave., Sanford, is not going to be closed even if Congress goes ahead with planned funding cuts, but the office may be merged with the Unemployment Claims Office located at 113 Maple Ave., Sanford.

Thurman Burnett, chief of the Bureau of Employment Compensation of Florida, today said from his Tallahassee office, that "given what we know is happening in Washington, we are having to cut employment offices statewide significantly, to come within the present funding authorization, but there are no plans to close the Sanford office."

And Rod Willis, state chief of unemployment compensation said the employment office and unemployment compensation offices in Sanford may merge.

"We could well have to close some more unemployment offices but Sanford won't be among them," Burnett said. "In some cases, one staff will have to accommodate both services."

Burnett said where offices can be co-located they will be in order to save rental costs. He said State Employment Service office managers were instructed to find out whether free rental space is available in their cities.

Tim McCaulley, Sanford office manager, contacted City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles two weeks ago about renting City Hall office space, but rejected the idea as too expensive.

Burnett said federal funding for the Florida State Employment Service was cut several months ago, resulting in the closing of 25 offices in the state and the phase out of 364 positions. A second cut, would have required 25 additional offices with 252 employees to be closed. However, the president, Burnett said, has since asked Congress to reconsider those cuts.

Clean U.S.-Produced Fuel A Reality

ATLANTA (UPI) — Imagine a fuel so abundant and so clean that with it this country could tell the Arabs to keep their oil and the environmentalists to stop worrying about acid rain.

According to Dr. William B. Harrison, a research scientist with the Southern Company, such a fuel is not just around the corner, it's here — a clear liquid with an octane rating of over 100, derived from abundant high-sulfur coal.

It has already been demonstrated that this clean-burning energy product can be used in power plants or refined into gasoline and home heating oil.

Harrison, 59, sometimes called the father of solvent refining, once worked on the components of the first nuclear bomb at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in New Mexico. Now he is witnessing years of hard work coming to a successful conclusion as head of research at the Southern Company's experimental pilot plant near Wilsonville, Ala.

The Southern Company is the parent firm of four electric utilities in the Southeast — Alabama Power, Georgia Power, Gulf Power and Mississippi Power.

The Wilsonville research center several months ago became one of the few research facilities in the nation to successfully turn raw coal into an efficient, virtually non-polluting liquid fuel, essentially equivalent to crude oil. Previously, the plant had developed the same product in a solid form.

Harrison believes that with this nation's vast coal reserves, estimated in excess of 300 billion tons, the United States could drastically reduce its dependence on foreign oil and make giant inroads on environmental pollution.

It has "enormous implications for America's effort to achieve energy independence," said Harrison, who is vice president of Southern Company Services, the research arm of the utility.

The liquification process at Wilsonville, where 120 scientists and supporting personnel toil, produces a range of sulfur-free, clean burning solid and liquid fuels. The process is technically known as SRC-1, by which sulfur, ash, and other pollutants are removed from coal before it is burned. Raw coal is mixed with a solvent derived from coal and a small amount of hydrogen gas. This mixture is heated to about 825 degrees. Sulfur is removed in the form of gas and solid mineral residues, which normally collect as ash, are separated.

'Once the demonstration plant is proved to be successful, it is expected that a 6,000-ton plant would be expanded to a 30,000-per day plant.' After that, Harrison estimated the nation will need a fairly large number of such facilities, 20-30, 'before it would have a real significant impact on our fuel supply.'

The sulfur that is removed is marketable as a fertilizer component, Harrison said, and "we're looking into ways to abstract minerals from the ash."

In a telephone interview, Harrison said the new fuel has been perfected to a point of development "that commercial scaleup would now be feasible."

The next step, he said, is construction of a demonstration plant by another firm in western Kentucky, near the geographic center of the nation's high-sulfur coal reserves. That plant, said Harrison, could produce 6,000 tons of the coal-refined fuel, compared to the experimental six tons per day produced at the Wilsonville facility.

"Once the demonstration plant is proved to be successful, it is expected that a 6,000-ton plant would be expanded to a 30,000-ton per day plant." After that, Harrison estimated the nation will need a fairly large number of such facilities, 20-30, "before it would have a real significant impact on our fuel supply."

Harrison says work on the solvent refining technology began in Germany more than 40 years ago, with research beginning in the United States in 1962. The Southern Company, supported by the electric utility industry, expanded the research with construction in 1972 of the country's first solvent refining pilot plant near Wilsonville. Since then, more than $47 million dollars in private and federal money has gone into the research effort.

The House also has approved $135 million to be spent this year for detailed design work on the demonstration plant.

Harrison predicts that coal refining will become a growth industry. "It ought to take on the same potential as oil refining in the past."

You could have the sunshine help pay for the showers.

Our Watt-Wise™ financial incentive could help you pay for a solar water heater.

FPL has a new plan to help qualifying customers replace or modify their electric water heaters with solar water heaters, water heating heat pumps or heat recovery units. All save electricity. An FPL Home Energy Audit will determine if you qualify and how much you can save. Then we'll help cover the cost of purchase and installation of the new system.

The incentive payment (up to several hundred dollars) applies to water heaters that meet our installation standards. In most cases, payment will be in the form of a Watt-Saver™ certificate redeemable with your participating dealer/contractor.

For more information or to schedule a Home Energy Audit, contact your local FPL office. Will everyone benefit from Watt-Wise incentives?

Yes. These incentives are less costly than the oil necessary to generate the electricity wasted by inefficient homes. Every 600 kilowatt-hours of electricity not used is a barrel of oil no one has to pay for. This also helps us postpone the building of expensive power plants. The less oil we use, and the less new building we have to do, the more we can help hold the line on everyone's electric bill. The Watt-Wise Products Program. Another way we're working hard at being the kind of power company you want.

Cook Of The Week

Tiny Kitchen In RV Has Conveniences Of Home

By LOU CHILDERS
Herald Correspondent

Cooking in a Recreational Vehicle. That is what this week's cook is learning to do.

Mildred Childers ("Mickey" to her family and friends) is making her winter home in Geneva with her husband, Glenn, in their new "RV." When they are not enjoying the Sunshine State, they are "at home" in West Virginia.

Mickey has always enjoyed cooking, she says, and has had an assortment of cooking experiences, including a one week session as cook for her church's youth camp in Beckley, W. Va.

Mickey says she learned to cook from cookbooks and family recipes, and when she sees a new recipe, she says, "If I like it, I try it!"

Although she has equipped her little kitchen in the RV with most of the conveniences of home — electric toaster, coffee pot, mixer, blender, slow cooker — there is one thing missing, a dish washer.

One advantage to the RV kitchen says Mickey, "You don't have to run your legs off to get to things — they are all at your fingertips."

In learning to cook in the RV, Mickey soon found one concession she had to make was in menu planning. She says, "In an RV, you only cook what you can use right away because there is certainly no room in the tiny refrigerator for leftovers."

Mickey has converted some of her conventional recipes that would require baking, to dishes she can prepare in the slow cooker. It seems she always finds "things to do down here, like go shopping for a day," and she can leave the slow cooker on and come "home" to a meal that is almost finished.

One highlight for Mickey in her cooking life is when she fixes casseroles or other specialties to take to church dinners. Two of her favorites here are Chicken Divan and Marinated Carrots.

"One of my favorite cake recipes was shared by a friend," Mickey says. "It is the most wonderful chocolate cake you've ever tasted."

QUICK-FIX PORK CHOPS

2 thick pork chops
1 medium onion, sliced
1/2 green pepper, cut into strips
1 can tomato soup
Brown pork chops in skillet. Remove to slow cooker. Saute onion and green pepper in same skillet pork chops were browned in, about 3 minutes. Pour over pork chops in slow cooker. Add tomato soup and cook on high setting approximately 6 hours. Serve with side dish of rice.

CHICKEN DIVAN

1 or 4 chicken breasts, cooked and boned
2 packages frozen broccoli (10 oz. size), cooked
1 package yellow rice mix, cooked according to directions on package
2 cans cream of chicken soup
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 cup sharp cheese
Cover the bottom of a large casserole dish with broccoli, yellow rice, and chicken. Cover with sauce made by combining the 2 cans undiluted cream of chicken soup, lemon juice, mayonnaise and curry powder. Grate the cheese, and sprinkle on top of entire casserole. Bake at 350 degrees 20-30 minutes.

MARINATED CARROTS

2 cans carrots (sliced) or 2 lbs. fresh carrots, sliced and cooked
1 onion, sliced
1 bell pepper, cut in small strips
Bring to boil: 1 can tomato soup, 1/4 cup cooking oil, and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Pour over carrots, onions and bell pepper. Marinate overnight in refrigerator.

WONDERFUL CHOCOLATE CAKE

Bring to boil:
1 1/2 sticks margarine
6 tablespoons cocoa
1 1/2 cups water
1/4 cup cooking oil
Add:
3 cups sugar
3 cups flour, sifted
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
3 eggs
1/4 cup butter/milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Bake in a sheet pan at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Ice while hot.

ICING FOR WONDERFUL CHOCOLATE CAKE

Melt together:
1 stick margarine
4 tablespoons cocoa
6 tablespoons milk
Add:
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup 10X sugar
1/2 cup nuts
Mix vanilla, 10X sugar and nuts into cocoa mixture until all ingredients are smooth. Spread on cake right away.

'IMPERILED TREASURE'

Mrs. Burch Cornelius, chairman of the Conservation Department of the Woman's Club of Sanford, introduced the Rev. Hugh Pain, speaker at the February general meeting and luncheon. Pain spoke on "Sanford's Imperiled Treasure," the St. Johns River, and some of the problems associated with the river. "Sanford has the most beautiful waterfront of any city on the St. Johns," Pain said.

Dawn Morgan, a 10th grader at Seminole High, has been a candy striper for a year and a half. Although she enjoys working in the public relations department, she plans on going to college to become a commercial artist.

Candy Strippers: A Special Lot

By DEE GATRELL
Herald Correspondent

The corps of dedicated Candy Strippers volunteering services are a valuable asset to hospitals.

"These girls are a tremendous support of the internal communications network," says Mrs. Kay Bartholomew, Public Relations Director at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Bartholomew said the public relations department depends "a great deal" on the candy strippers. They colate memos, put labels on newsletters, and package the information kits — just to name a few things they do to help out.

The Candy Strippers also deliver the newspapers and flowers to the patients, along with a cheerful smile.

Michelle Robinson is a candy striper at Seminole Memorial Hospital and a senior at Seminole High School. Upon graduation she plans on becoming a nurse. "I enjoy working in pediatrics the most," Michelle says.

Michelle is also active in her church youth group, enjoys playing the piano and reading.

Candy Strippers Judy Andrews and Sherry Dykes are both sophomores at Seminole High. They too plan on becoming nurses. Like Michelle, Sherry likes helping in pediatrics also. "I enjoy entertaining the children," she says.

Judy says her favorite job is helping in public relations.

The nurses in pediatrics say it is a big help to them when the Candy Strippers entertain the children, fill water pitchers or help make charts.

If a girl is interested in becoming a candy striper, she must be at least 14 years old, be in the ninth grade and have at least a "C" average in school. She must fill out an application and have two adult sponsors.

Mrs. Merle Brumbaugh, is the coordinator of the Candy Strippers. "Some of the girls will quit after one day. They can't take seeing ill people," Mrs. Brumbaugh said.

Mrs. Bartholomew says that many of these girls go into health related jobs upon graduation from high school.

To be a Candy Striper is to learn to care about the human needs of others. Candy Strippers receive no pay for their services.

Sewing Classes Offered At SCC

Sewing classes designed to suit the individual's needs are now in progress at Seminole Community College.

Classes for beginning and advanced sewing students are taught in the fully-equipped, individualized sewing lab. The lab is open 30 hours per week, Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Hours are flexible.

Even if you have never sewn before, there's a class for you. Presently, Basic Sewing is offered on Monday and Wednesday through April 19. Various sewing techniques, the use and care of sewing equipment and supplies, and pattern alterations are included in this beginning course. Cost is $20.

Advanced Sewing Construction is offered on Tuesday and Thursdays through April 20, 1982. A variety of sewing techniques will be demonstrated in mastery of children's wear, boutique and swimsuit construction. Cost is $20.

For more information, call 323-1450, Ext. 227. From Orlando call 843-7001. Register at the Registrar's office in the administration building.

HAVING A BALL

GUARDIAN AD LITEM VOLUNTEERS

Mrs. Altermese Bentley, left, and Mrs. Mary Smith, right, volunteers for the State of Florida Guardian Ad Litem Program, receive certificates after completing the course from Mrs. Linda Smith. This program is a volunteer service that's representative for the child before the courts, social service agencies and the community. The guardian Ad Litem protects the child during the family crisis, court proceedings and follows the child's progress after the court disposes of the cases. The Guardian Ad Litem represents the best interests of the child in a variety of ways.

T.V. Blue Jeans Make Reader See Red

DEAR ABBY: I just can't stand to see another TV commercial showing a lot of fannies wiggling around in jeans so tight there is no way a person could sit down in them! This goes for men as well as women.

Dear Abby

That bra commercial in which a man measures a curvy blonde's dimensions was bad enough, but a new low in vulgarity was reached when some swivel-hipped gal bragged that the underwear she was wearing under her clothes made her look like she wasn't wearing nuthin'! Disgraceful!

how it might look on my record for applying for a job. I'm 20, and if I did get professional help and was later asked if I'd ever been under the care of a psychologist or psychiatrist, I would answer truthfully, but I don't want to risk losing a job because of it.

Please tell me where to complain about such tasteless commercials. If enough people object, maybe they will take them off the air.

I guess I really owe it to myself to get professional help, but I don't want to have to choose eventually between being honest and getting a job. I'd appreciate your comments. Sign me...

DISGUSTED IN TULARE, CALIF.
DEAR DISGUSTED: Write to: Action Line, Direct Mail Marketing Association, 6 East 63rd St., New York, N.Y. 10017. Also send a copy to the president of the company that manufactures the product. If enough complaints are received, the advertising agency that's responsible for the commercial will be told to shape up or ship out.

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: If you need professional help, it would be a serious error to avoid getting it for the reason you have mentioned. Millions of people are receiving, or have received, psychotherapy. Many of them occupy positions of great responsibility — lawyers, judges, doctors, government officials, corporation executives, etc.

Your ability to get a job in the future will depend much more on your record and on how you present yourself than it will on that single question, even if it were asked. If it is asked, answer it honestly, adding that you have benefited from it. (You will be respected all the more for it.) You are under no obligation to go into detail about why you sought help.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. Write to Abby: 12060 Hawthorne Blvd., Suite 5000, Hawthorne, Calif. 90250. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: I'm thinking seriously about seeking psychological or psychiatric help, but I'm worried about

YOUR BIRTHDAY

February 11, 1982
Your ability to make and win new friends will be greatly enhanced this coming year.

people. You may establish relationships important to your future.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Difficult tasks can be greatly simplified today if you'll take time to think them through before starting. Examine your chores from every angle.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Even though it may not appear so at the time, and unusual development today will later prove to be a lucky break. Don't make hasty judgments.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Gains could come to you today through two unrelated channels. One has been profitable previously, the other will be a brand-new source.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Keep your schedule as flexible as possible today. Something fun with your friends may pop up in which you'll want to be able to participate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Someone may give you information today to put you on the track of a bargain regarding a special item you've felt was priced too high.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you're involved socially with friends today, come up with ideas for doing something different. They'll appreciate suggestions for changes in the routine.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Should an opportunity present itself today, be prepared to move swiftly. It could be of a fleeting nature. Don't delay.

FLETCHER'S LANDING

Dribbling Urine May Signal Hernia

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a 57-year-old female with two children and I had a hysterectomy about 10 years ago. I'm 5 feet 6 and weigh 150. My problem is dribbling urine. It seems I've always had a little problem all my life but within the last two weeks it has become so bad I have to wear padding and change often. I have no pain or discomfort but I do have to urinate often. It is scanty, colorless and odorless.

I would like to know if it is just my aging process and weak muscles or does it sound like a condition that should be taken to my doctor.

DEAR READER—You may have a urethrocele. What is that? It is really a hernia and is one of the group of female disorders related to weakened vaginal walls. The weakening is often due to the bladder (cystocele), rectum (rectocele) and a prolapsed uterus.

The bladder and its urethral tube is in front of the front wall of the vagina. The wall of the vagina is really a tubular muscle. As the muscles weaken and the bladder drops, a portion of the bladder may protrude into the vagina causing a cystocele. Or with a change in position of the bladder and weakening in a slightly different spot the urethra may kink and partially herniate into the vagina.

Of course you could have an infection of the bladder that can be the cause or make matters worse.

Please see your gynecologist. To correct the problem adequately you may need to have your urethra repositioned or even your bladder supported better. This is in the nature of a hernia repair. You can use some exercises, mainly practicing stopping your stream and starting it again, which help some women but exercise will not repair or correct structural changes. You'll understand this problem from the diagram in The Health Letter number 14-12, Hysterectomy, (Cystocele and Rectocele, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a 29-year-old female and have been on birth control pills for two years. My father died at age 41 from a blood clot to the heart. One doctor told me not to worry about any circulatory problems from my family history. Another told me he will not give me any pills because of my father's early death.

I am ready for tubal ligation but would like one more child in about a year. Am I hurting myself with the pills?

DEAR READER—If your blood pressure is normal or on the low side and your cholesterol levels are low and you do not smoke, your risk at your age is quite small—far less risky than being pregnant. Your risk of problems from the pill at your age is less than 3.5 times what it would be if you didn't take the pill. But don't let that figure frighten you because that is still quite rare. Stated another way, three-and-a-half times one in a thousand is still quite rare. Regarding your family history, I wouldn't be too concerned about that if your own blood pressure and cholesterol levels are normal or low.

four-card major suit and South has shown four hearts. Then North jumped to three notrump so that it is certain that North does not have four hearts, but almost certain that he holds four spades.

In spite of that West decides that a spade lead is the least unattractive one at his disposal. He leads the seven of spades.

It should be a cinch for East to see that he must hold back his king of spades and not play it on whatever card is played from dummy. It should be a cinch. But players who blindly play third hand high, in accordance with the old rule that is correct on most occasions, will waste it this time.

If East does play the king, South will get four spade tricks, three hearts and the minor suit aces to have no trouble making his contract.

If East holds back the king, South will be held to three spade tricks and will probably fall one trick short. He may still make it. There are all sorts of possibilities in diamonds and clubs. But the play will be a fight, not a romp. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASS'N)

Creamy Topping Adds To Celery

Celery is not just for salads or snacking. It makes an excellent cooked vegetable to go with fish, poultry and meat.

CELERY DIANE

2 tablespoons salad oil
 Cup minced onion
 1/2 cup chicken broth or water
 Teaspoon salt
 Pinch ground black pepper
 6 cups thinly sliced Florida celery

1 egg yolk, beaten
 2 1/2 tablespoons dry Marsala or sherry wine (or cider)
 2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
 1 tablespoon toasted sliced almonds

In a large skillet, heat oil until hot. Add onion; saute until tender, about 5 minutes. Add chicken broth, salt and black pepper. Bring to a boil. Add celery. Simmer, covered, until celery is crisp-tender, 2 to 3 minutes. Remove celery with a slotted spoon to a serving dish and keep warm; reserve cooking liquid.

In a small bowl, mix egg yolk with wine. Stir cup of the hot cooking liquid into the yolk mixture, beating with a wire whisk. Then stir egg yolk mixture into liquid remaining in pan, beating constantly with a wire whisk. Cook and stir over low heat until sauce thickens, about 2 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in sour cream. Spoon over celery and sprinkle with almonds. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 portions (6 cups).

Good Eating Guide

By BONNIE H. DUGGAN
 Special To The Herald

In these times of spiraling food prices and high inflation, we can all use some tips on cutting food costs... especially when we have several mouths to feed!

True, the average American family spends a lot of money on food, but they also throw a lot of it in the garbage can and down the disposal. According to a recent study, nine percent of our food dollar ends up this way.

What can be done? First of all, learn to buy only the amount of perishable food you and your family will eat. A 10 pound sack of potatoes isn't a good buy if most of them spoil before use... even if the price is a good one!

Secondly, cut the "extras" from your grocery list. Cookies, cakes, and sugary drinks, to name a few, are expensive and add little but calories to our daily diet. Nutrients are necessities, and ounce for ounce, the best food buys lie in fresh milk products, vegetables, fruits, meats, and grains.

The closer you can buy foods to their original forms, the greater the savings.

Careful shoppers look for ways to avoid paying for processing and distribution — steps that can raise the food price considerably. Sometimes this means buying vegetables and fruits instead of canned or frozen. Other times, it means buying whole cuts of meat and doing the butchering yourself.

And take advantage of seasonal specials! When bananas and tomatoes are a good buy, purchase them in varying stages of ripeness. This way, they'll be at their peak freshness when you're ready to serve them.

Milk products are packaged in varying sizes to help accommodate both large families and small. Quart, half-gallon, and gallon-size containers provide easy ways to purchase only the quantity of milk needed.

Back To Basics

Take advantage of getting back to basics — and back to your budget — with these money-saving tips from the home economists of Swift & Company.

Rediscover the good taste of such budget-savers as homemade soup, chili, macaroni and cheese or a well-seasoned meatloaf.

Skim grocery ads for specials, particularly meat and poultry features.

Use a shopping list — and stick to it!

Buy in bulk. Get five-pound packages of ground beef (divide and freeze), two-pound bags of frozen vegetables, five-pound cartons of individually frozen fish filets, etc.

Don't ignore coupons. Take the time to clip them and save.

"Earn" money at home by slicing cheese, cutting up chickens or cubing beef chuck for stew yourself.

Make your own crumb coatings or biscuit mixes. Several make-a-mix cook-books are on the market or at your public library.

Buy convenience products that represent real money value. For example, frozen orange juice or frozen peas are cheaper than their fresh counterparts.

Store foods properly and use them quickly. Freezer-burned meat, moldy leftovers and shriveled vegetables all represent wasted money and lost nutrients.

Pears Anna A Skillet Treat

Fresh fruits in season make excellent desserts. One different dish is a pears Anna that copies the French potato dish of thinly sliced ingredients arranged in a circle in a skillet and baked slowly.

In this case, we use fresh winter pears for a special dessert. This is simple to make and will impress your family and guests. Leftovers are good hot or cold, with or without whipped cream or ice cream.

PEARS ANNA

- 3 tablespoons melted butter, divided
- 3 tablespoons each packed brown sugar and flour
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground ginger
- 8 cups cored and thinly-sliced Western Bosc pears
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- Coat a 9-inch oven-proof skillet with 1 tablespoon butter

Combine sugar, flour and ginger. Layer pear slices in pan, spoke-fashion, with stem ends toward center; sprinkle layers with sugar mixture.

Top with remaining sugar mixture, melted butter and orange peel. Cook, uncovered, over medium heat 10 minutes. Bake, uncovered, at 400 degrees for 30 minutes; baste once. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings

Try Curry Eggs

The person who thought of boiling eggs and then removing the yolk to mix with other fillings for a stuffed egg was quite inventive. Stuffed eggs can be as elegant as those with caviar and truffles, to go with champagne, or as simple as those with mayonnaise or vinegar and sugar for country picnic eggs. A subtle touch of curry does much for this creation. Serve curried eggs with main dishes, sandwiches or as a snack.

CURRIED EGGS
 6 hard-cooked eggs
 3 tablespoons mayonnaise
 1 tablespoon tomato paste or ketchup
 1 teaspoon salt (optional)
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1 tablespoon curry powder
 Halve eggs lengthwise. Remove yolks and put in a bowl, mash with a fork until smooth. Add mayonnaise, tomato paste or ketchup and salt. In a small saucepan, melt butter or margarine. Add curry powder. Saute until golden, about 30 seconds. Stir into egg yolk mixture. Refill cavities in egg whites with yolk mixture. Cover and chill. Serve on shredded lettuce leaves, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions or 12 egg halves.

Peanut Butter Snacks

Not many of us can resist a good cookie. Those that have nutritional value and taste good rate 10 on any scale. Youngsters, for example, do need some sugar in their diets, as well as bulk. These peanut butter cookies will make a good addition to a child's lunchbox.

PEANUT BLONDIES
 1 cup butter or margarine
 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup granulated sugar
 2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup orange juice
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cups all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups quick-cooking oats
 2 cups (12-ounce package) peanut butter chips.
 Cream together butter and sugars; blend in eggs and juice. Mix together flour, soda and salt; add with oats and 1 cup chips to creamed mixture. Spread over bottom of greased 9-by-13-inch baking pan. Sprinkle remaining 1 cup chips on top.
 Bake in 350-degree oven 30 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool on rack. Cut into bars. This kitchen-tested recipe makes approximately 36 bars.
 (NOTE: This recipe may be baked in two 9-inch square pans, about 25 minutes.)
PEANUT BUTTER CHIP CEREAL BARS
 2 cups (12-ounce package) peanut butter chips
 1-3rd cup honey
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 4 cups crispy rice cereal or ring-shaped toasted oat cereal
 1-3rd cup dry roasted sunflower seeds
 1-3rd cup chopped dried apricots
 1-3 rd cup raisins
 Grease a 13-by-9-inch baking pan. In a small saucepan, combine 1 cup peanut butter chips, honey and butter; stir over low heat until mixture is smooth. Remove pan from heat; set aside.
 In a large bowl, combine remaining peanut butter, chips, cereal, seeds and fruits. Add peanut butter mixture; mix well. Turn into prepared pan; press evenly in pan. Cool until firm. Cut into bars. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 32 bars.
