The fight continues

The Altamonte Springs American Majors, Altamonte American and Oviedo Juniors and the Oviedo Seniors all swept through their Area tournaments.

They will continue their pursuit of possible state, national and international honors today and tomorrow in the Seminole County Little League All-Star District 14 championships. See Page 1B

Rams becoming contenders

LAKE MARY — Coach Allen Tuttle shrugs off the comparison between his Lake Mary Rams and the 1990 Class 4A state champion Altamonte Springs Patriots. But after a sweep of the rebuilding Patriots in a National Amateur Baseball Federation doubleheader at Lake Mary High School, the Rams are looking more and more like legitimate contenders. Deputies capture armed man

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — A rural Altamonte Springs man who allegedly fired a rifle shot at a woman this morning as he made her leave his house at 248 Pearl Lake Causeway during an argument, was later captured inside his house by Seminole County sheriff's deputies and Altamonte Springs police.

Ronald Laverne Liphart, 52, is charged with aggravated assault and resisting without violence, Sgt. Greg Barnett said. Liphart was arrested at about 5 a.m. today, following the incident which began at 4 a.m. when Kathleen Davis, 27, of Altamonte Springs, fled from Liphart's house to a neighbor's house to call police and report she had been shot at, deputies said.

Barnett said deputies had several phone conversations with Liphart, but he refused to come out. His wife and another man eventually came out and deputies entered to find Liphart in a bedroom. Barnett said he allegedly struggled with them, but was subdued and arrested.

A .22-caliber rifle believed used in the gunplay was found under a bed in the room where Liphart was confronted, Barnett said. A spent bullet casing was found in the yard.

Gator hunters approved

TALAHASSEE — Game commissioners have chosen 189 hunters by computer lottery to participate in the state's annual alligator hunt in September, it was revealed today.

The names were expected to be released over the next few days.

About 10,000 people applied to enter the month-long hunt. Each of the 189 hunters selected may bag up to 15 alligators in designated areas.

Last year, 222 hunters caught 3,117 gators, or about 91 percent of the per-person quota. Game officials issued 33 fewer hunting permits this year because they believe Florida's alligator population is smaller due to drought-related deaths, said Nick Wiley, a biologist in the state's alligator management program.

A change in the hunt rules this year cut in half the number of applications.

Hundreds to face Sanford renovation

By NICK PFEIFAUF
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Within one week, patrons visiting the downtown post office, especially those with post office boxes, will face inconvenience, confusion and possibly long lines because of renovation.

Postmaster Fred Rader said, "This isn't going to be easy for anyone. It will be an inconvenience to the general public and a hard task for our postal employees." The remodeling could take "anywhere from three to possibly six weeks," Rader said. "And even after that, there will be confusion over the location and box numbers."

Initial problems will start when the entire postal box and parcel locker area is removed. Most of the post boxes have been in use for up to

Local seniors bothered over discounts' end

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Even though tomorrow's senior citizens are expected to be more affluent than today's, the predicted gradual loss of discounts for goods and services would cause an economic pinch for the elderly, officials said today.

"The older of the old will always need some kind of help," said Sue Allbee, director of Better Living for Seniors, the Seminole County program that serves nearly 400 hot meals daily for the frail elderly.

"It will have quite an impact," said Beverly Wells, assistant director of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program, RSVP, another countywide program. "We have over 700 volunteers in Seminole County and a lot of them are on very limited incomes."

Allbee said a recent statistic released by the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services states of the estimated 47,468 Seminole County residents 60 and older, 12 percent of them are living below the poverty level.

But as "Baby Boomers" pass into retirement years, experts say there may be too many of them for businesses to profitably offer the discounts.

Candidates file election papers

SANFORD — Barbara Kuhn of Casselberry, a Republican running for the school board seat in District 4, yesterday was the first to qualify for the first partisan Seminole County school board elections since 1974.

The political qualifying period for school, judicial and county commission elections began yesterday at noon and will continue until noon Friday. The first primary is set for Sept. 4, the second for Oct. 2 and the general election is scheduled for Nov. 6.

In the school board elections, seats in Districts 1, 4 and 5 will be contested. This will be the first partisan school board election since 1974 when a special act made it possible for the board to be non-partisan. A recent law suit brought by Bill Kroll, an announced candidate for the board who has still to qualify, and the Seminole County Republican Executive Committee, brought about the change which forced this year's race to be partisan.

Controversial zoning OK'd in Longwood

LONGWOOD — Residents of the Hidden Oaks subdivision will have to voice their concern for the effects of rezoning at a later date, the City Commission determined at its meeting last night.

The Commission voted 4 to 0 to change slightly less than 7 1/2 acres adjoining the subdivision from R1A to R1, thus allowing for smaller lot sizes and more homes. Deputy Mayor Jeff Morton declared a conflict of interest because he has an option to purchase the property from owner Janice Goebel.

Last night was the first public hearing on the ordinance, although several Hidden Oaks residents voiced their protest at the first reading on June 18. Residents

Kids' space camp: out of this world for fun, hard work

LAKE MARY — If your child decides that she wants to go to the moon next summer vacation, don't blame "Jetsons, the Movie." She may have only been talking to Kristen Nilsen.

Nilsen, 7, of Lake Mary just got back from Space Camp in Huntsville, Ala., and she loved it. She even persuaded her friend, Diana Warren, to go this week.

The camp, which is located both at Kennedy Space Center and the Space and Rocket Center in Alabama, is run by NASA and is open to children of all ages. Trainees learn about space engineering, construct and test mini-rockets, and use astronaut training simulators. But even though the rides are fun, the main focus of the camp is learning about space.

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Justices grant one stay, deny other

United Press International
STARKE — A federal judge in Jacksonville denied a request for a stay of execution late Monday for a man condemned for the murder of a lingerie boutique operator who tripped a silent alarm during a burglary six years ago, while the Florida Supreme Court granted a 24-hour reprieve for a man convicted in an Orange County murder.

Hamblen was denied Monday night by U.S. District Judge Howell W. Melton and the defense team immediately prepared to go before the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta to stop the execution. Hamblen, who was on his second death warrant, was scheduled to die in Florida's electric chair at 7:01 a.m.

Earlier in the day, the Florida Supreme Court denied a stay request by Hamblen, but granted a 24-hour reprieve for Jerry White, who also was scheduled to die Tuesday morning.

White was convicted of murdering James Melton, a customer during a 1981 Orange County grocery store hold-up. Melton was shot in the back of the head. The shop's proprietor was also shot and paralyzed from the neck down.

Tallahassee votes down moratorium

TALLAHASSEE — The Tallahassee City Commission decided at virtually the last minute Monday not to impose a 90-day moratorium on development inside the city limits.

Adoption of a ban — which would have been the first such moratorium in the state — had seemed all but certain earlier in the day, but attorneys for the city and county governments persuaded the commissioners that a moratorium would probably not survive a court challenge.

The decision was loudly cheered by an overflow audience of some 300 builders and business leaders who crowded into the city commission's chambers for the vote.

At least three commissioners warned the audience, however, that the decision to not impose a moratorium was only temporary relief.

County Commissioner Bob Henderson.

Tallahassee and Leon County commissioners have been working for more than a year on their new, state-mandated comprehensive plan that would govern growth in the Capital City area for years to come. The plan is supposed to take effect Tuesday.

Victim didn't know rapist was a man

MIAMI — A man undergoing sex change therapy was charged with raping a woman friend who prosecutors said had no idea he was a man until he allegedly attacked her.

A jury of five women and one man was chosen Monday to hear the case against Andrea Reynolds, 31, who was born Andrew Lugo. Reynolds is charged with two counts of sexual battery and one count of burglary with intent to assault.

The trial was scheduled to continue Tuesday before Dade County Circuit Judge Juan Ramirez Jr.

Prosecutors said Reynolds wheedled his way into the confidence of his victim, a 30-year-old hairdresser slightly disabled by an accident.

One night, Reynolds attacked her, leaving the woman too traumatized even to trust the police officers sent to gather evidence. Assistant State Attorney Leslie Rothenberg told the jury in opening statements Monday night.

Police quoted the victim as saying, "I thought she was a girl."

At the time of his arrest, Reynolds was 5-foot-8, weighed 100 pounds and had begun electrolysis.

Jury seated in Coe trial

FORT MYERS — Attorneys seated a jury Monday in the trial of a Polk County man charged in the "potty training" death of his 2-year-old stepson last summer.

Opening arguments in the first-degree murder trial of Thomas Coe, 23, are scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. Tuesday at the Lee County Justice Center in Fort Myers.

The jury was seated late Monday after prosecutors and defense attorneys spent the day questioning 15 prospective jurors, said Lee County State Attorney's Office spokeswoman Penny Walker.

Most of the close to 100 potential jurors questioned during the five days of jury selection said they were familiar with the case. Coe, who is also charged with aggravated child abuse, is accused of repeatedly dunking toddler Bradley McGee headfirst in a toilet as punishment for soiling his pants.

The trial was moved from Polk County to Lee County because of extensive publicity in Polk and surrounding counties.

Bum lotto numbers spruce up bathroom

SUNRISE — Undaunted by her lottery losses, a Sunrise woman has papered her bathroom wall with 1,477 losing Lotto tickets.

"What could be more Florida?" said Nikki Stokes, a ceramics instructor who has also had some winning tickets.

She said she was inspired by the tropical designs along the top of the tickets and the flamingo logo in the center.

"I wanted to do the bathroom with flamingos. As wallpaper, this stuff was perfect," she said Monday.

Stokes used all five Lotto ticket designs and arranged them by alternating shades of pink and blue. She glued them on the wall then covered them with a clear sealer.

"The more you look at it, the more you like it. It's very cheerful," said Shirley Fulginiti, a friend of Stokes.

Minorities postpone KKK protest

WEST PALM BEACH — Black and Jewish leaders have postponed their counter-demonstration against the Ku Klux Klan until July 29, one day after the Klan was scheduled to march down Palm Beach's exclusive Worth Avenue.

They originally had planned simultaneous demonstrations. The change is due in part to the fact that the Klan rally, on July 28, falls on the Jewish Sabbath.

"Also we didn't want to give the KKK march any more attention," said Dr. Gayle Keselman, founding vice-chairwoman of the Keselman Foundation, which studies anti-Israel bias in the media.

Former cop honored by MacArthur

United Press International
MIAMI — A former cop who has worked to bring low-cost housing and retail development to the city's depressed Liberty City neighborhood was named Monday as one of 36 fellows by the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation in Chicago.

Otis Pitts Jr., the president of Tacoley Economic Development Corp., was singled out by the foundation for a $295,000 stipend over five years. He was notified Friday of the award.

Altogether, the new MacArthur fellows will receive more than $10 million in stipends ranging from $150,000 to $375,000. Along with the stipend, the fellows receive health insurance.

Pitts, 47, was in Chicago Monday on business unrelated to the award and unavailable for comment, said Joann Perry, a senior project coordinator at Tacoley. Perry said Tacoley was formed in 1982 as a spinoff of the Belafonte-Tacoley Center in Liberty City.

Tacoley is an acronym for Teen Advisory Council of Liberty City Youth.

Liberty City, a predominantly black section of the city north of downtown, has erupted in riots four times in the past decade.

Pitts, a former Miami cop who walked a beat in Liberty City and who had been recruited as director of the Belafonte-Tacoley Center nine years earlier, was tapped to head the development organization when it was formed, Perry said.

The corporation has built a shopping center in the neighborhood, as well as the 121-unit Edison Towers and 50-unit Edison Gardens apartment complex.

GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Irate contractors confront Martinez

By MICHAEL BOLINE
United Press International

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Bob Martinez and Insurance Commissioner Tom Gallagher were nearly shouted down by some 80 rowdy builders Monday while trying to explain an emergency plan of relief from high worker compensation premiums.

"Vote against Martinez, vote him out!" yelled members of a delegation of small building subcontractors from across Florida as Martinez and Gallagher announced an emergency rule intended to relieve the builders of crippling premiums being charged under a new worker compensation law.

"I want you to know that we want to relieve this burden," Gallagher started to say during a press conference inside the Tallahassee City Hall.

But he was answered by boos, hoots and jeers from the builders, who arrived bearing three black coffins, an 8-foot effigy of the grim reaper complete with scythe, and placards depicting fat vultures gorging on a corpse representing their industry.

They demanded an immediate special session of the Legislature to repeal the new law.

"We want it removed, not relieved," shouted one builder.

"We don't want you making the law. Let the Legislature make the laws," yelled another through the commotion, which quieted only at the urging of two leaders of the delegation.

Gallagher later met privately with eight leaders of the group to explain the 90-day emergency rule permitting small contractors to substitute 24-hour health, disability and life insurance for the worker compensation coverage mandated for them for the first time under the new law.

Senate President Bob Crawford, who also appeared at the news conference, urged the builders to give the emergency rule a chance to work, saying a more permanent fix might be tried when the Legislature meets to reorganize following the November elections.

But Crawford also promised to support a special session if the rule does not solve the builders' problems.

Since the law took effect July 1, such contractors have been hit with worker compensation insurance premiums of up to $18,400. Many say they are being forced out of business.

Martinez, who was also heckled and booed, said he has ordered Labor Secretary Hugo Mendez to rush information about the new rule to the building industry, saying, "We recognize the intention of the new law was to help, not to hurt."

The builders yelled that the emergency rule amounted to a Band-Aid fix, but Martinez defended the new law, which calls for a 25 percent reduction in workers compensation premiums Sept. 1.

"The big wound was the way worker compensation was. That was a slice of somebody's abdomen, the way that law was written, the way it was punishing employers all over the state of Florida," Martinez told reporters while leaving City Hall.

Peterson bows out of $357,757 job at FSU

TALLAHASSEE — Sen. Curtis Peterson said Monday he will not apply for the top job at a $375,757 office created to monitor Florida's efforts to improve schools, citing unfavorable publicity about the new program.

The new Division of Education Research and Analysis, approved by the 1990 Legislature, was widely seen as a way to provide a tailor-made job for Peterson, D-Lakeland, a leading proponent of school reform over the past decade.

Legislative leaders acknowledged the program, to be established at Florida State University, would be a way to keep Peterson's expertise available to policymakers following his retirement from lawmaking this fall.

But in a letter to Chancellor Charles Reed, Peterson wrote, "Misunderstanding of my purpose and involvement by the people of Florida and by the press have led me to decide not to be connected with this program in any way."

"The money would create four positions, including that of the program's director. However, officials have not yet determined how much the director would be paid, said Pat Riordan, spokesman for Reed.

Gov. Bob Martinez was among the program's critics.

Escort service may have had well-known clientele

By JEFF SCHWEERS
United Press International

TALLAHASSEE — An escort service owner suspected of prostitution and of trying to kill a business rival may have had clients well-known in business circles, authorities said.

In recent interviews with United Press International, police and prosecutors said some of the names of clients listed on credit card receipts and records kept by Esquire Escort Services, owned by Timothy Permenter, 23, of Gainesville, appear to include prominent businessmen.

However, authorities declined to say whether any of the people are in state government, and they refused to release any names until they can verify those people actually used the service.

"Some names are easily recognizable (in business circles). If in fact it's the right person," Gainesville narcotics investigator Dale Witt said. "I couldn't tell you who. It might jeopardize the investigation we have ongoing."

Florida Department of Law Enforcement investigators and state prosecutors have been reviewing credit card receipts and other records seized June 8 from Permenter's home.

Esquire was shut down after a gun battle

June 7 in Tallahassee between Permenter and Vernon Sahlin, owner of Exclusively Yours, a rival escort service.

Esquire and Exclusively Yours began doing business in Gainesville last year, Witt said. Esquire expanded its operations to Tallahassee in January, and Exclusively Yours began advertising in the area in June.

According to police records, Permenter and his partner, Patrick MacManamon, 20, were upset about Exclusively Yours' entry into the Tallahassee area, where they were already established, so they drove to Tallahassee from Gainesville to confront and frighten Sahlin, whose daughter authorities say runs Exclusively Yours'.

Taste of Lake Mary hailed a success

By AMY WILSON
Herald intern

LAKE MARY — Over 500 Lake Mary locals and their friends sampled the best of the area's restaurants last night at Timacuan Country Club when the Chamber of Commerce rolled out the red carpet for its first annual "Taste of Lake Mary."

The event, which lasted from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. and was sponsored by Emerson Realty Group of Lake Mary, was judged a success by the size of the crowd and its enthusiastic reactions.

"I have yet to taste anything that wasn't great," said Maureen Bliss of Lake Mary. "They did an outstanding job."

City Attorney Ned Julian, who was enjoying honey baked ribs from Pebbles, said "Everything has been superb. I think it's a great showcase for all the restaurants, and it couldn't be a nicer location."

Twenty restaurants turned out to offer their house specialties. Some favorites included Kelsey's pizza and greek salads, The Swiss Inn's fruit tarts and bacon onion rolls, Edibles, etc. who provided cookies, marinated vegetables and chicken paprika, and low-cholesterol desserts from Indulgence. "It makes you wonder why the chamber didn't do it sooner," said Commissioner Tom Mahoney.

In fact, there was such a great turnout that the chamber says it will definitely hold "A Taste of Lake Mary" again next year.

"It was a bigger success than we anticipated," Judy Rankin said. "We expected to sell around 300 tickets, and we sold over 500."

John Segel, who organized the event, said "We're overwhelmed

— no, speechless — with the response. We doubled our expectations. We're looking forward to making next years bigger and better."

"We're thrilled with the turnout," Kathie Ragan said. "We're looking forward to next year's."

Man hit in face with chair

WINTER SPRINGS — City police here arrested Stephen Randolph Walter, 39, 445 Magnolia St., Longwood, after he allegedly followed a Winter Springs man home after a fight at a Longwood pub, and allegedly hit the Winter Springs man in the face with a metal chair.

Police report Ronald Evans, 42, 1201 Lake Lucrene Circle, Winter Springs, suffered cuts and a possible broken nose in the attack that came when he answered his door at about 12:37 a.m. Sunday. He was treated at a Longwood hospital. The two reportedly fought at the pub over $700 Evans said Walter owes him, police said. Walter was arrested at 1:48 a.m. Sunday on a charge of aggravated battery.

Man charged in kiss battery

WINTER SPRINGS — A man, who allegedly forced a kiss on his girlfriend after she asked Winter Springs police to assist her in leaving the man's house against his will, has been charged with battery because of the kiss, police report.

David Wayne Hogarth, 22, 20-13 Sheeah Blvd., Winter Springs, was arrested at home at 4:34 p.m. Sunday.

Seminole County DUI arrests

SANFORD — The following persons face a charge of driving under the influence in Seminole County:

• Todd David Bush, 24, 730 Pampass Grass Court, Lake Mary, was arrested at 12:56 p.m. Sunday after his car seen speeding on State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, hit a curb, police said.

• Devin Donald Scheller, 36, 45 S. Cortez Ave., Winter Springs, was arrested on U.S. Highway 17-92, near Longwood, at 8:07 p.m. Saturday after a car was in an accident. He is also charged with leaving the scene of an accident with property damage and violation of driver's license restrictions.

• Melissa Lynne Roseman, 38, of Osteen, was arrested Saturday after her car was seen weaving on U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford.

Teens arrested in plot against Brevard cops

United Press International

MELBOURNE — Four Brevard County teenagers were arrested on charges they plotted to kill four law enforcement officers, police said Monday.

The suspects, who ranged in age from 14 to 18, were arrested Sunday while trying to steal the weapons they intended to use, said police Capt. George Douglas.

"They had attempted to break into the gun vault, were unsuccessful, and in the process of leaving there is when we arrested them," Douglas said.

The targets of the plot were three Brevard County deputies and an Indian Harbor Beach police officer, Douglas said. He declined to identify them.

One of the two adult suspects, Ross Walker, 18, of Satellite Beach, was arrested by three Brevard deputies in July 3 in Satellite Beach on charges he burglarized a neighbor's home and stole a shotgun, said Joan Heller of the Brevard County Sheriff's Office.

Two of the four suspects arrested Sunday were juveniles, ages 14 and 15. They were taken to the county's juvenile detention center in Sharps.

Walker was being held without bond in the Sharps adult detention center on charges of conspiracy to commit murder, burglary, conspiracy to commit armed burglary, conspiracy to commit grand theft, attempted robbery and battery, Douglas said.

The other adult, Anthony Ogle, 18, of Melbourne, was being held on $50,000 bond on the same charges.

None of the officers was hurt. "Apparently they were going to steal some firearms from a house and use them against several deputy sheriffs," Douglas said.

Charges against Volusia store owner dropped

United Press International

DAYTONA BEACH — One of three pornography charges filed against a video store owner in State Attorney John Tanner's crusade against pornography was dropped Monday.

Barry Freilich, an Ormond Beach video store owner and head of the Volusia County chapter of Friends of the First Amendment, still faces two misdemeanor charges of distributing pornography for renting Tanner's investigators "The Devil and Miss Jones I" and "The Devil and Miss Jones II." The distribution charge that was dropped stemmed from the sale of "Deep Throat."

Two other Volusia County video store owners face similar charges filed by Tanner.

Community's pride in Soap Box Derby withstands storms

The rain started falling early Saturday morning and continued to drench Sanford steadily throughout the afternoon. But that was not enough to halt the second running of the Central Florida Soap Box Derby.

The success of Saturday's race was a tribute to the organizers, participants, sponsors, volunteers and spectators who felt the event was important enough to wade through the day in soggy clothes.

Canceling Saturday's race would have knocked Central Florida racers out of the All-American Soap Box Derby national championship in Akron, Ohio because permits to close U.S. Highway 17-92 for the race take at least one year to secure.

Mike Kirby, city recreation director who organized the race, said the 22 racers and numerous volunteers could not be stopped. During a meeting Saturday morning to decide the fate of this year's race, Kirby said, "They all said, 'Let's do it.'"

Kirby shares the same enthusiasm for the event as the young racers. It was Kirby who in 1968 proposed that Sanford become one of about 74 Soap Box franchises in the United States, one of only two in Florida. To him, the Soap Box Derby is not a one-day event; he has spent countless hours this year seeking sponsorship, increased participation and even a special derby park to accommodate the race.

The derby park is in dream stage, but through the work of Kirby and the event's board of directors, sponsorship increased dramatically this year. He received instant approval from nearly every merchant asked to support the race through advertisements in the derby program, a fundraiser new to this year's race that will help pay expenses for Central Florida's two winners to travel to Akron, Kirby has said. And because of his own limited resources, he said, he had time to tap only a few of Sanford's resources.

Sanford's business community showed more than just financial support. Merchants whose business was hurt Saturday by the detour of traffic said the race was more important than a day's profit.

The city not only paid the $1,000 franchise fee and liability insurance, but donated labor to build a bigger, better ramp to launch the race cars.

And parents who had helped their children through hundreds of hours of technical headaches that came with building the race cars gave the kind of support only moms and dads can give: cheers from the sidelines, even after hours in the rain. For many parents, the go-carts that rolled slowly down French Avenue symbolized the relationship that months of car construction gave them the opportunity to develop with their children.

The derby drew about 800 spectators, according to Kirby's estimates. Even with the dreary weather, he said, that's up by about 100 people over last year.

As Anna Morris and Matt Mabry prepare to represent Central Florida in the Akron race, Sanford can be proud of its support of this unique event. During its short tenure in Sanford, the Soap Box Derby has brought together government, businesses, professionals and the general public — without forgetting how important their purpose is to local children.

States hang up on phone sales

MYRTLE CREEK, Ore. — Like people elsewhere in the nation, Oregon residents are besieged by overzealous "telemarketers." But the state government and the regional telephone company have taken steps to end sales abuses here.

Those initiatives could provide a reprieve to people overwhelmed by a ceaseless stream of unwanted sales pitches for retirement homes, office supplies, magazine subscriptions, precious metals, penny stocks, bargain vacations and countless other goods or services.

They also offer the hope of family time for those who receive large numbers of unsolicited calls before, during and after dinner — in many households the primary period the family is together. (Telemarketers purposely intrude on that private time because they know they have a better chance of finding somebody at home then.)

Finally, the new laws provide an opportunity to prosecute what Oregon Attorney General Dave Frohnmayer, a Republican, characterizes as "unscrupulous phone sales people" and to control what Oregon Gov. Neil Goldschmidt, a Democrat, describes as "nuisance, harassment and occasional outright fraud."

US West, the telephone company that serves much of the region, is conducting a two-year experiment in Salem, the state capital, and surrounding communities. Its customers in that area can pay $5 a year for a special symbol in the local telephone directory.

That sign, a heavy black dot placed next to the telephone number, means that the subscriber wants no sales calls. Florida and Washington have similar statutes, but a second of four new Oregon laws regulating solicitation by telephone and fax machine includes tough penalties for violators. Individual telephone subscribers may seek damages of $200 or more plus legal costs while the state is empowered to fine repeat offenders as much as $25,000.

Telemarketers intrude on private time because they have a chance of finding somebody at home.

Because the directories for most Oregon communities do not yet include the special symbols, a third state law prohibits telemarketers from calling anyone who previously has asked not to be solicited.

A fourth Oregon law prohibits the use of automatic dialing and announcing devices, known as ADADs, that use computers to call telephone numbers and deliver prerecorded sales messages, known as "adrams."

Statutes in California and other states require that adram sales pitches be introduced by a live operator who must give the recipient the opportunity to refuse to hear the message.

The problem clearly is national in scope and the Federal Trade Commission already has authority to move against such deceptive sales practices. But the FTC, lethargic throughout the 1980s, last year filed only 14 complaints against telemarketers and is not likely to act more enthusiastically this year.

Celebrities: Of fame and infamy

WASHINGTON — At midday, when Washingtonians are unshowered from their galley oars and allowed to wander off in search of lunch, many of the currently mighty to The Palm restaurant. The experience should be chastening as well as nourishing.

The Palm's walls are covered with caricatures of famous faces from a few years ago. Almost all are unknown to almost everyone today. Sic transit what? Glory? Hardly. Fame? Not really. Celebrity is the perishable commodity.

That is the subject of a slender, melancholy novel on the sociology of celebrity, that renewable resource of a throwaway culture. The author is Michael Herr. The title is "Walter Winchell" and if that name rings a bell, you are getting on.

Winchell was a terrible person and a grotesque social phenomenon. In the 1940s, he was at the apogee of a career that went from ripeness to putrescence with a speed satisfying because appropriate. He dealt in ephemera, and such he proved to be. But for a while he prospered by feeding — and by feeding, enlarging — the nation's appetite for gossip which is the democratic voyeurism of the masses.

He was America's most widely read journalist, serving up six columns a week to more than 1,000 newspapers, and his weekly radio broadcast was heard by more people than the 50 million who read him, one-third of America's population then. Herr captures (so well you want to take a shower) the rawness of the man who sat at table 50 in the Stork Club on Manhattan's East 53rd Street, hanging out with Hemingway and Damon Runyon and low-lives who were products as well as producers of America's burgeoning publicity industry.

Herr calls Winchell "the architect and the inventor of the end of private life" and the "endless river of facts and distractions and gossip" with which we are inundated. This blitzkrieg of clutter, often called news, leads to survival of the briefest, because America's attention span is approximately 9.8 seconds. That was the length of the average television "sound bite" of candidates in the 1988 presidential campaign.

Winchell, says Herr, was "the wizard of the American vicarious," and "if passing time has obliterated him, it has also given him the status of a forgotten ancestor. If people go around today treating themselves like celebrities because not to be a celebrity is just too awful, we may have Walter Winchell to thank."

No thanks. Do not confuse symptoms with cause. Thank — blame — democracy, and the Graphic Revolution, and human nature.

Democracy — equality before the law — may be an irritant provoking an itch for distinction, even the derivative distinction of knowing the inside skinny about the ersatz-distinguished — people who are all exterior. Perhaps affluence, too, contributes to contemporary restlessness and the sad desire to be star-struck. When urgent material wants are satisfied, celebrity becomes especially tantalizing. Magically, it can be mass-produced, yet seem scarce. And it is democratic — available to anyone — because it is unconnected with merit: Al Capone, one of America's first superstars, was applauded at the ballpark.

In 1981, 11 years before Winchell died in obscurity, Daniel Boorstin published "The Image: A guide to Pseudo-Events in America." A pseudo-event is something manufactured to seem significant. Celebrities are human pseudo-events.

What Boorstin calls the Graphic Revolution, from photography to television, created novel powers for making people famous, and thus made "fame" a problematic word. Today our overpopulated consciousness is chock-full of celebrities, people well-known for being well-known. Celebrity, says Boorstin, is a new kind of eminence, a reflection of the audience's emptiness, a receptacle into which people pour their purposelessness.

The democratic ethos, celebrating the power of the people to govern themselves, encourages derogation of heroes. Modern "democratic" historiography expels heroes (and hence drama) from the human drama, replacing them with "forces" and "classes" and "the people." But the empty pantheon is recouped by celebrities, products of modern techniques for fabricating well-knownness.

Time was when people felt themselves made better by heroes who made themselves. But celebrities are made democratically, by the people, and thus have no power other than to amuse.

Boorstin notes that people with real fame enter a nation's consciousness slowly, and inhabit its past. Celebrities exist only in the moment. And for a moment.

The agency that makes celebrities — publicity — unmakes them, depriving them of all they had, novelty. Round-the-clock media begets saturation journalism (broadly defined), Winchell was a terrible person and a grotesque social phenomenon.

Dental radiation can be alleviated

WASHINGTON — There's a reason the dental assistant leaves the room while your teeth are being X-rayed. Prolonged exposure to the radiation can be harmful. But if you assume that the dentist has done everything possible to minimize your exposure too, guess again.

Effective and low-cost technology to protect dental patients from low-level radiation has been around for as long as 25 years, but most dentists don't use it.

The next time you're in the chair, drop the term "rectangular collimation" on your dentist. He or she probably heard it in dental school and then promptly forgot it. In common language, rectangular collimation is the process for targeting X-rays only to the film used for the exposure. Without it, the face and neck absorb much of the radiation for no medical or diagnostic purpose.

The process is simple. Dentists can use a small metal film holder or an attachment to their X-ray machine with collimation plates. Several varieties are available from various manufacturers, usually at a one-time cost to the dentist for as little as $20.

Dental experts told us that less than 1 percent of American dentists use rectangular collimation. The process is usually mentioned in American dental schools, but only a minority of those schools stress it.

It isn't the only safeguard dentists ignore. X-ray radiation could be limited if dentists used type-E film, which has been available for nearly a decade. It requires less than half the exposure time than the more popular type-D film.

According to Eastman-Kodak sales figures, type-D film is still the X-ray film of choice for American dentists. They find it easier to use, and it produces marginally better exposures than Type-E. But for finding hidden cavities, type-E film works just fine.

Dentists sacrifice safety for convenience in other ways too. Many dentists and their assistants opt to develop X-ray exposures manually, dipping the film into vats of chemicals in the office. The process results in a dim image, so the assistants turn up the power on the X-ray machines to get a darker image. Automatic film developers are available, but some dentists would rather not pay the price.

Doctors and professors of dentistry told our associate Tim Warner that the cumulative effect of the safety devices available could reduce the amount of radiation exposure by 10 times.

The failure of dentists to catch on has Dr. Theodore P. Croll and other experts grinding their teeth. Croll, a specialist in pediatric dentistry from Doylestown, Pa., has made the use of safer techniques his personal crusade, but with little success. Croll has appealed to a number of consumer groups that have shown some interest but weren't willing to pressure the dental industry to change its ways.

"The best situation is to have no radiation," Croll told us. "The second best is to have as little radiation as possible. It's just a matter of convincing dentists that the time to change is long past due." Dr. Stuart C. White, a professor at the UCLA School of Dentistry, thinks dentists will change when their patients demand it.

NASA accepts probe of agency efficiency

RELEASED BY UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON — NASA's top administrator said he welcomed a directive from the Bush administration to establish an independent task force to study the future of the ailing space agency.

Adm. Richard Truly said the task force, requested by Vice President Dan Quayle in a meeting on Monday, is something "that I wanted to do."

Truly said he hoped the task force of between six and 10 people from industry and government would "take a look at where we are and how we would move over the years" to a NASA that would "efficiently manage the projects that the president envisions."

While there is no specific deadline, the administration hoped NASA, Truly and the task force would report back by early fall to Quayle, who heads the National Space Council, said David Beckwith, Quayle's spokesman.

"This is not a backward-looking proposal," Beckwith said. "We've got to press ahead with the space program."

Quayle's statement dismissed reports that the White House planned to conduct its own investigation of NASA.

The move was prompted by the erosion of public and congressional support for the space program, administration officials said.

The space agency is under fire from a series of embarrassing revelations in the past month, including the grounding of the space shuttle fleet, a major defect in the Hubble Space Telescope and potential problems with the proposed space station Freedom.

27 years. The box area in the northern lobby will then be restructured to include three rather than one alcove. During this time, postal box holders will be required to call at a desk just inside the door of the west lobby, and ask for their mail. Temporarily, the service lobby where parcels are weighed or stamps purchased, will remain open. This area is also slated for a complete remodeling, but according to Rader, "it will be done over a weekend, from Saturday noon until early Monday morning, and there won't be any inconvenience in this area."

"The contractor, Westoff Construction of Lakeland, showed up this morning and wanted to close off all the boxes right away," Rader said. "But we've agreed to hold off for possibly a week so that we can inform our box holders of the upcoming changes."

"There will be additional confusion after the new boxes are installed," Rader said. "Mostly because the majority of box numbers will have to be changed." He said at present there is no way of knowing which boxes will be changed, or what new numbers will be assigned. He said he hoped that at least the first hundred numbers may be able to remain the same, but beyond that, the remainder of the 1,500 boxes will have new numbers, and box holders will be required to send out change of address notifications. Rader said the box sizes will also be changed in many cases as the new boxes, still being manufactured, will not correspond with the sizes of the present boxes in use.

Also included in the remodeling project will be new flooring, a new service counter, new parcel boxes which will be located in the front, west lobby to allow for rear loading, replacement of wall tile and new and improved lighting.

"The one thing we need more than anything," Rader said, "is the understanding and cooperation of the general public. This isn't going to be easy for any of us, and the more people understand what is going on, the less inconvenience may result." The Postmaster said he didn't know exactly when the box area will be closed, "but it will probably be early next week."

Business After Hours set for tonight

SANFORD — This month's Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Business After Hours gathering will be held tonight at the Tex-Mex Restaurant, 1532 S. French Ave., from 5 to 7 p.m. The restaurant is located on the south side of the Marketplace Shopping center.

The gathering, hosted by Frank and Nelda Aranza, will feature food with a taste of Mexico and Texas. It is open to all members of the Sanford chamber, their guests, and prospective members.

City, former attorney reach agreement

LONGWOOD — The Longwood City Commission voted 5-0 last night to give former city attorney Richard Taylor $8,000 in retainer pay, thus settling his dispute with the city. The Commission voted 3 to 2 on June 5 to remove Taylor from office, saying that his contract allowed them to terminate his employment by a simple majority vote.

At that time Taylor, part-time attorney for Longwood since October 1958, threatened to sue the city, saying there was no cause for his removal. The settlement terms were determined Saturday with a mediator acting between the two sides, acting city attorney Frank Kruppenbacher said at last night's city commission meeting. The $4,000 monthly retainer for June and July would cost the city less money than legal fees to settle the dispute in court, Kruppenbacher said.

The commission added to the settlement a provision saying Taylor must assist the city with any issue he dealt with during his employment. If the city makes such a request.

non-partisan elections declared unconstitutional and thus force all five seats and the position of Superintendent to be run this year, was unsuccessful. Those seats are not scheduled to be contested until 1992.

Kuhn, with a check for the $1,228.14 qualifying fee in hand, her husband Thomas who is her financial manager and her campaign manager Dick Gudenkauf were in the Supervisor of Elections office in the Seminole County Services Building fifteen minutes before qualifying began at noon yesterday.

According to Supervisor of Elections Sandra Goard, a candidate must submit a full financial disclosure to the Supervisor of Elections office and must pay six percent of the annual $20,488 salary from his or her campaign account to qualify to run for the school board.

"We're ready to go on this campaign," Kuhn said. "We just need to know who we're running against so we know which strategy to implement." She said she and her campaign manager have four plans ready to go depending on who her opponent will be.

As of this morning, no other candidate had qualified in District 4. Pat Telson, who currently holds the seat in District 4, has withdrawn from the race.

Sandra Robinson of Lake Mary, a Republican from Lake Mary, is running for the District 1 seat currently held by Larry Betsinger who has not yet announced his candidacy.

Daryl McLain, a Sanford Republican, has qualified to run for the seat in District 5. The seat is currently held by board chairman Ann Nelawender, who has said she will not run in the fall.

By 5 p.m. yesterday, five candidates for Seminole County judge and two county commission candidates had filed their papers and qualifying fees at the office of the Seminole County supervisor of elections. Seven candidates seeking the position of circuit court judge for the 18th judicial circuit, which includes Seminole and Brevard counties, qualified at the supervisor of elections office in Tallahassee yesterday.

Qualifying to run for the county court judge Group 1 seat were Altamonte Springs attorney Ken Bevan, Longwood attorney Richard S. Taylor Jr., Sanford attorney Chris Ray, Apopka attorney John Sloop and Longwood attorney Michael A. Kramer. The Group 1 seat became vacant with the resignation of Judge Alan A. Dickey, who resigned to run for a circuit court judgeship.

Two candidates qualified to seek election to the Seminole County Commission. Larry Furlong of Fern Park qualified to run for the District 4 seat currently held by Commissioner Sandra Glenn, and incumbent Bob Sturm, Lake Mary, qualified to run for the District 2 commission seat.

Of the seven qualifiers for the 18th judicial circuit yesterday, only two are from Seminole County. Seymour Benson, Altamonte Springs, qualified for Group 5 and Dickey, Lake Mary, qualified for group 19. In Brevard County, John Antoon II, Melbourne Beach, qualified for Group 1; John D. Moxley Jr., Titusville, qualified for Group 13; Edward J. Richardson, Melbourne, qualified to seek the Group 14 seat; Tonya L. Baccus, Melbourne, qualified for Group 15 and Jere E. Lober, Merritt Island, qualified for Group 17.

Candidates seeking election as circuit court judges in the 18th judicial circuit will be campaigning in both Seminole and Brevard counties.

showed concern last night that more houses could mean excess traffic through their area and neighboring 14th Street.

But the commission said that just rezoning is the issue right now, not traffic.

"All we're doing here is changing zoning — the question of access will be considered later," said City Administrator Mike Abela.

Acting City Attorney Frank Kruppenbacher emphasized that after rezoning takes place, the property owner must come before the city commission and present a site plan review that will include road accessibility, and at that time the citizens can speak.

Commissioner Adrienne Perry voted to pass the rezoning,

Seniors

"Originally, (the senior discount) was part of the policy of helping the elderly, who were perceived as frail and friendless," Evan Vlachos, a Colorado State University sociologist, said in the Fort Lauderdale Sun-Sentinel.

"But they are a very powerful group now, a huge population with lots of money. And they don't need discounts," said Vlachos, who addressed the Pepper Commission in Miami earlier this month.

Margaret Lynn Duggar, an aging-policy consultant and the new Pepper Commission chairwoman, told the Florida Attractions Association the same thing in May.

"Their jaws dropped," Duggar said. "They couldn't believe they could eliminate discounts without losing business."

Due to sheer economics and demographics, those who do not drop the discounts could find themselves out of business, Duggar said.

The U.S. Census Bureau reports that the number of people 65 and older in the country will increase by about 10 percent, or 3.3 million, over the next decade. Census predictions show Florida will add about 700,000 new residents over age 60 within the next 10 years.

Florida, with some of the most affluent elderly, may be among the last states to lose discounts.

With 18 percent of Florida's population 65 or older, "Today we think it's valid to market to the seniors," said Russ Hoadley, spokesman for Barnett Bank in Jacksonville.

Barnett's Senior Partner program, featuring benefits such as free checking and a travel club, now has 700,000 members in Florida and Georgia.

But even the American Association of Retired Persons doesn't think the discounts will last.

Demographers predicted the Baby Boomers would start wreaking gerontological havoc in about six years, when they start turning 50.

"you're just gonna have fun," Nilsen said. "Some people were there just because their parents were interested in space, and they were total brats."

Nilsen, a seventh grader at Greenwood Lakes Middle School, said she likes space and science, and Space Camp sounded like a great idea.

"There are so many questions that haven't been answered yet," she said.

While there, she participated in a mock shuttle take-off and re-entry.

"We landed in California," she said. "I was a mission scientist in charge of experiments."

Another favorite activity was the MMU, or Man Maneuvering

Unit — a large backpack device which simulates the one astronauts use to work outside an orbiting space shuttle.

At the camp, trainees are divided into small groups of 12. The groups earn points by successfully completing the various tests — but they can also get points taken away for bad behavior or careless errors.

"Some people kept their cargo bay doors open during reentry or taking off, and they blew up," she said.

Campers wake at 6 a.m. and perform a 15-minute workout. They eat normal food — dehydrated "astronaut" varieties are only available through the gift shop.

At the end of the camp, there is a graduation ceremony. If campers successfully completed the program, then they earned their "wings."

"If you goofed off, got kicked out, or went home sick, you didn't get them," Nilsen said.

"I'm not that nervous," she said. "I like going on rides that go fast."

All of this experience doesn't come cheap, however. Space Camp costs anywhere from $500 to $725, depending on the child's age, activity level, and month of the year.

"You have to sign up a year in advance," said Alice Nilsen, Kristen's mom.

RE: Case No. 90-128

The Sanford Code Enforcement Board was created by Sanford City Code, Ordinance 1526, as amended, as authorized by Chapter 163, Florida Statutes. The purpose of this Board is to facilitate the enforcement of the codes and ordinances in force in the City of Sanford. You have been charged with violating the following Code on your property:

Chapter 11, Section 11-27 & Chapter 14, Section 14-3; Allowing junk, debris and/or used building materials to accumulate upon premises.

You are hereby formally notified that a Public Hearing will be conducted in the above styled cause by the Code Enforcement Board of the City of Sanford on the 17th day of August, 1990, at 7:00 p.m. in the City Commission Chambers, Room 117, Sanford City Hall, 300 N. Park Avenue, Sanford, Florida, concerning the above styled violation. The Board will receive testimony and evidence of said hearing and shall make findings of fact and conclusions of law.

You are hereby ordered to appear before that Board of the Hearing to answer the charges and present your side of the case. You have the right to obtain an attorney, at your own expense, to represent you before the Board. You have the right to call witnesses on your behalf as well as to cross-examine all other witnesses. If you do not appear, the Board may proceed without you. Should the Board determine that a violation exists, it has the power to issue Orders requiring you to bring the violation into compliance including the power to levy fines and create a lien on your property up to $250.00 for each day the violation continues past the date set for compliance by the Board's Order.

If the violation is not corrected by the time of the Hearing or if, prior to the Hearing, you come into compliance with the above stated alleged code violation but the violation recurs prior to the Public Hearing, the Hearing will be held on the allegations against you.

If you have questions concerning this matter, please contact the Building Department at (407) 326-5656. SHOULD YOU DECIDE TO APPEAL ANY MATTER CONSIDERED AT THE ABOVE HEARING, YOU MAY NEED A VERBATIM RECORD OF THE PROCEEDINGS, TESTIMONY AND EVIDENCE WHICH RECORD IS NOT PROVIDED BY THE CITY OF SANFORD (P.S. 266.8185).

Partners in life, partners in business: Jay and Maria Williams operate Jay & Marie's Hair Studios.

"To Have And To Hold...In Sickness And In Health...For Richer Or Poorer."

The traditional wedding vows are steeped with promise and meaning. But never more so than when a husband and wife become partners in business. Puts a whole new slant on the phrase, "for richer or for poorer."

Jay & Marie's Hair Studio is owned and operated by Jay and Maria Williams. Located at 2610 S. Sanford Ave., Jay & Marie's has been catering to Sanford heads for 12 years.

Maria started hairdressing at 17, while she lived in Spain. Jay is originally from Georgia. He and Maria are presently building a house in Geneva.

Both Jay and Maria attended the Orlando Academy of Beauty. Jay graduated in 1970 and Maria, in 1972.

They regularly attend the International Beauty Show that is held in Orlando yearly.

NEW YORK - The world famous Empire State Building proved as sturdy as it is venerable, with Depression-era construction techniques credited for helping contain a fire that may have devastated a modern skyscraper.

The five-alarm fire broke out at 6:30 p.m. Monday on the 51st floor of the historic building on Manhattan's Fifth Avenue, injuring 38 firefighters and civilians and sending tourists scrambling for safety.

The blaze sent smoke billowing onto the midtown street lined with tense spectators and shut down traffic in the surrounding area as fire trucks and ambulances rushed to the scene.

The blaze was extinguished at 7:30 p.m. and the building was expected to be open for office workers and visitors Tuesday morning.

Fire Commissioner Carlos Rivera said fire marshals were investigating the cause of the blaze and reports that there were no fire alarms or announcements.

Capt. Charles Casper, one of the first firefighters to confront the blaze, credited the sturdy concrete composition of the 59-year-old landmark, built under a Depression-era fire code, with preventing additional damage and more injuries, adding that a similar fire in a modern high-rise could have been devastating.

"The steel and concrete construction of the building, the excellence of the fire safety system and the coverage of the fire fighters were instrumental in preventing the flames from spreading beyond the 51st floor," building officials said in a statement.

IN BRIEF

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Key helps Toronto into first

SEATTLE — Toronto left-hander Jimmy Key appears to be coming around when the Blue Jays need him most.

"We're lucky he's back pitching," Blue Jays Manager Cito Gaston said after Toronto defeated Seattle 4-3 Monday night. "We need him." Key, who struggled early in the season, allowed the Mariners three hits over seven scoreless innings as Toronto hung on.

Fred McGriff hit his eighth home run in 18 games as Toronto snapped a three-game losing streak. The victory vaulted the Blue Jays into a half-game lead over the Boston Red Sox in the American League East.

Elsewhere in the AL on Monday night, New York trimmed Kansas City 3-2; Detroit edged Chicago 5-4; Minnesota rallied by Boston 3-2; Baltimore clipped Texas 7-6; Oakland blanked Cleveland 3-0; and Milwaukee stopped California 3-1.

FOOTBALL

Dolphins open summer camp

MIAMI — The Miami Dolphins opened training camp Monday, still waiting for signatures from seven of their nine draft choices and nine veterans.

As camp was about to open for selected veterans and rookies involved in the passing game, the Dolphins announced they had reached agreements with fullback Leroy Holl, a fifth-round draft choice from Southern California, and veteran backup quarterback Cliff Stoudt.

First-round draft choice Richmond Webb, an offensive tackle from Texas A&M who was the ninth pick overall in the draft, was in camp but has not signed.

TOUR de FRANCE

Leaders prepare for Pyrenees

REVEL, France — Charly Mottet of France notched his first career stage victory in the Tour de France, breaking away in the 108-mile 15th stage from Millau to Revel, but most top riders seemed content to coast and prepare for the rugged Pyrenees stages ahead.

Mottet braved the heat and humidity in the rolling southern French countryside to complete the stage in four hours, 13 minutes, 56 seconds.

Mottet's stage win is a consolation prize, but he failed to make any major change in the overall standings. He rose to 33rd place, still far out of contention at 26 minutes, 20 seconds behind overall leader Claudio Chiappucci of Italy.

Eric Breukink of Holland remained in second place, 1:52 behind, with American two-time winner Greg LeMond third overall, at 2:24.

BOXING

Douglas, King try to settle

NEW YORK — The trial of promoter Don King's suit against heavyweight champion James "Buster" Douglas was recessed for one day Monday in response to attempts by the involved parties to settle out of court.

Attorneys for King, Douglas and The Mirage Hotel and Casino met into the night Sunday — and planned to continue Monday — in an effort to settle King's suits against Douglas and manager John Johnson for breach of contract and against The Mirage Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas, Nev., for interference with that contract.

Douglas sought to escape his exclusive promotional pact with King after The Mirage offered the champion a two-fight deal contingent on him freeing himself of the promoter.

"It is a not a fact that there's a settlement. It is a fact that there is no trial today in an effort to achieve a settlement," said Stan Hunterton, a trial attorney for Douglas and Johnson.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Reds explode in rout of Expos

CINCINNATI — Cincinnati had gone five games since the All-Star break without a home run, and were shutout for five innings Monday night. Then Eric Davis ripped a grand slam and, by time they were finished slugging, the Reds had four homers and an 8-3 rout of the Montreal Expos.

Davis' fifth career grand slam overcame a 3-0 Montreal lead in the sixth inning. It was his 12th homer of the season, and teammates Joe Oliver, Barry Larkin and Chris Sabo joined him by slugging homers.

In other NL action on Monday, San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 6-1; Philadelphia topped Atlanta 7-2; Chicago edged San Diego 4-3; Houston turned back New York 4-1; and Los Angeles bested St. Louis 5-2.

District 14 finals begin

Four Seminole County teams still alive in All-Star chase

By TONY DeBORNIER
 Herald Sports Editor

Four Seminole County Little League All-Star teams will continue their pursuit of possible state, national and international honors when they pick up play in their respective District 14 championship series today or tomorrow.

Because the District finals are the culmination of the Area tournaments played this past weekend, teams that have advanced with a loss will face elimination each team they play this week. Those teams with unblemished records in Area play will have to lose twice before being eliminated.

Of Seminole County's four representatives, only the Altamonte Springs American Majors (11-12) have a loss coming out of Area competition. The Altamonte American and Oviedo Juniors (13) and the Oviedo Seniors (14-15) all swept through their Area tournaments.

As a result of this somewhat confusing configuration, only the Altamonte American Juniors will be action tonight, playing Dr. Phillips at Apopka in a 7 p.m. game. The Altamonte American Majors and Oviedo Juniors will play Wednesday while the Oviedo Seniors are off until Thursday.

To give the District 14 champions an edge going into Section I play next week, each District final will end on the field that will be the site of the following Section I tournament.

MAJORS

This evening's only game has South Orange facing Northwest Volusia at Altamonte Springs' Eastmonte Park. The winner will play Deltona Wednesday night at Oviedo while the loser faces the Altamonte Americans at Apopka. Then action moves to Southwest Volusia for the losers' bracket final on Thursday, the championship game on Friday and the if-necessary game on Saturday.

All games start at 7 p.m.

JUNIORS

Oviedo received the first-round bye among the three undefeated teams, forcing Dr. Phillips and the Altamonte Americans to play this evening at Apopka. The winner faces Oviedo on Wednesday at Rolling Hills and the loser plays DeLand at Southwest Volusia. The losers' bracket final, championship game and if-necessary contest will all be played at Oviedo.

All games start at 7 p.m.

SENIORS

Because it has the only undefeated record in the bracket, Oviedo is off until Thursday. Dr. Phillips and Clermont were playing Monday night for the right to play Pine Hills this evening. Tonight's winner plays DeLand on Wednesday for the right to face Oviedo on Thursday and, if necessary, Friday.

All games will be played at Deltona and start at 7 p.m.

TRC takes control of 'C' League

From staff reports

SANFORD — Winning the first and third games of a tripleheader at Chase Park, the Tim Raines Connection took control of the Sanford Recreation Department's Monday Night Super "C" League.

TRC opened the night with a 9-1 mastery of previously undefeated Auto Body Centers. After the Boomtown Boys won their first game of the season by beating the Regulators 2-1, TRC came back in the nightcap and beat Auto Body Centers again 11-6 in a makeup game from several weeks ago.

Now 6-0, TRC has a two-game lead over Auto Body Centers (4-2) while the Boomtown Boys and Regulators are tied for third at 1-5.

In Monday's first game, TRC scored two runs in each of the first, third and fifth innings, then added three more in the seventh while holding Auto Body Centers to a single run in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Rodney Turner had four singles and a run scored to lead TRC. Keith Acree scored three runs and had two singles while Bill Griffith scored two runs and hit three singles. Sam Raines and Fred Washington each added three singles.

Also contributing were Ned Raines (two runs scored, one single), Levi Raines (two singles) and Robert Stevens. Tom Dunkinson and Tommy Raines (one single each).

For Auto Body Centers, Jim Lamb had three singles and scored the only run. Ken Oswald hit a pair of singles. Terrell Ervin, Joe Ervin, Scott Fletcher, Paul Payne and Rick Perkins each had one single.

The Boomtown Boys scored two runs in the top of the third inning, then made all the plays behind pitcher Mike Greenwood to stop the Regulators 2-1. Greenwood limited the Regulators to six hits while the Boomtown Boys had 15, including two doubles.

Rick Morales led the Boomtown Boys with a double, single and a run scored while John Oliva added two singles and a run scored. Kelly Hysell chipped in with three singles. Steve Arthur contributed a pair of singles. Bill Jenkins doubled and Mike Kryger, Dave Bixby, Greenwood, Richie Pilhorn and Darrin Jonas each hit a single.

For the Regulators, Tom Shanley tripled and scored in the fourth

Turn about's fair play. In the first game of the doubleheader between Adcock Roofing and Oviedo on Monday night, Oviedo's Erik Jordan avoided a tag by Adcock's David Eckstein (top) to steal second and Eckstein got around Jordan's tag (below) to swipe second. Oviedo and Adcock split the twinbill.

Adcock, Oviedo split doubleheader

From staff reports

OVIDEO — Almost every time Adcock Roofing and Oviedo have gotten together for summer baseball games, torrential rains turned the clay around home plate and the base paths into quicksand, making play impossible.

So on Monday night at Oviedo High School, the two rivals tacked on a make-up game along with the scheduled contest and played a pair that Eric Banks would have approved of.

The first game saw Oviedo jump out to a lead in the first inning and Adcock (Seminole High School's summer team) fall just short in its comeback effort, losing 6-5. In the second game, Robby Morgan took charge, allowing only four hits in a 4-1 Adcock win to split the twinbill.

In the first game, Adcock went up 1-0 in the top of the first inning as Dave Eckstein led off with a single and Scott Ferguson sacrificed him into scoring position before Jeremy Chonat singled to right field, scoring Eckstein.

Oviedo wasted no time in taking the lead as the first three batters reached base in the bottom of the first inning. Miguel Rodriguez led off with a walk and Rufus Boykin promptly doubled him home. B.J. Calapa drove in Boykin with a single and Erik Jordan scored Calapa for a 3-1 lead.

Rick Eckstein's sacrifice fly scored Ray Adcock to narrow the gap to 3-2 in the top of the second, but Oviedo quickly pounded out three more runs in its half of the second.

Lake Mary takes pair from Brantley

By TONY DeBORNIER
 Herald Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — Could the Lake Mary Rams be the Lake Brantley Patriots of 1991?

Coach Allen Tuttle shrugs off the comparison between his Rams and the 1990 Class 4A state champion Patriots. But after a sweep of the rebuilding Patriots in a National Amateur Baseball Federation doubleheader Monday at Lake Mary High School, the Rams are looking more and more like legitimate contenders.

"We had a couple of chink hits that scored runs," said Tuttle after the Rams beat the Patriots 3-2 and 4-3. "Those things have to happen in order to win."

While the offensive display may not have been of state tournament calibre — the winning run in the first game scored on a wild pitch while the Rams struck out 13 times in the second game — the defense and pitching, trademarks of Lake Brantley's championship team, certainly were.

In the first game, Scott Davidson worked out of several one-out jams to escape with the win while Chris Jackson struck out 10 Patriots in the nightcap.

"You have to give their pitchers credit," said Lake Brantley Coach Jay Bergman. "Every time they had to get outs, they got them. In the first game, we had three chances with runners on second and third with less than two outs. And they got the outs."

Ballad, Toth extend JGA win streaks at Orange Tree

From staff reports

ORLANDO — When the Junior Golf Association of Orlando played its fourth tournament of the summer on Monday, two players were trying to continue their winning ways.

In the Pee Wees, Christopher Ballad was after his third straight title while John Toth was attempting to win his third consecutive event and fourth of the summer.

Both found what they were looking for, although it wasn't easy.

Ballad had to down Joshua Johnson in a chip-off for low gross in the Pee Wees and Toth drained a 15-foot par putt on the last hole to squeeze out a 74 and the win by one over Lake Brantley's Michael Berzovich in the championship flight.

All in all, 128 golfers played at Orange Tree Country Club, home of tight fairways and slick greens. Once again, one low gross trophy and four low net trophies were given out.

Rounding out the championship flight was West Orange's Richard Garrison who posted a 74. Robert Stock took third with a 75, defeating Garrett Morrison in a chip-off.

Oviedo's Jarrett Brown played possibly his best round of the summer, winning second flight with a 77. Brian Hunkele placed second with a 76 while one of Brown's teammates at Oviedo, Jason Roby, finished third with a 79. Curt Fisher (79) and Steve Johnson (80) rounded out the top five.

Aaron Blabham got hot and blazed to a 78 to win third flight. Scott Boone took low net and second place with a 79 while John Mitchell finished third, shooting an 83. Fourth place went to Peter Gaidis (88) and fifth to Sean O'Brien (89).

In the fourth flight, Herbie Milner posted a 90 to capture the low gross title. Justin Biggs came in with an 82 for second and Brian Henderson took third after a round of 88. Michael Hensch placed fourth with an 89 and Bill Torrey finished fifth with an 98.

Patrick Norris highlighted fifth flight (which plays nine holes) with a round of 47. Tommy Finwall came in second with a net 33 while Justin Childers continued his steady play with a 34. Glen Davis took fourth (39) and Jared Dannerline placed fifth (41).

Jason Chapman won sixth flight (nine holes) with a 64. Following close behind was Taylor LeCroy, who took low net with a 48. Tom Fetter placed third with a 54 and Bradford Smith shot a 57 for fourth place. Bale Dalton came in with a 62 for fifth.

Following Ballad in the Pee Wee Division (playing three holes from 150 yards out) was Zack Grenke, who finished third with a 20. Nathan Johnson took fourth with a 21 and Kurt Fetter came in fifth with a 24.

In the girls' 12-and-Under division (nine holes), Robin Rhein took low gross with a round of 53. Kristin Cloce placed second with a 62 and Kristi Kraft took third with a 65. Julie Komurke shot a 70 for fourth place.

Robyn Sorenson overcame Heather Holcamp in a chip-off to take first in the Girls' 13-and-Over (18 holes) division. Both shot 88. Dana Dowling finished four back at 92 for third place. Christy Thomas came in with a 106.

After taking next week off for the East Central Championship at Rolling Hills, the JGA of Orlando returns to action July 30 at Ventura Country Club.

From 5 to 50 shine in Track Series

From staff reports

LAKE MARY — All ages showed up for third week of the Lake Mary Track Series at Lake Mary High School on Monday. And with them came some good times as well.

On one end, five-year-old Tommy Ketterer took first in four events, including the long jump (5-11), 50 and 220-yard dashes (10.3 and 52.9, respectively), and the 100-meter dash (23.7).

And on the other end of the spectrum was 50-year-old Ray Wilcoxson, who won his age division in three events. He ran the 50 in 8.5 seconds, jumped 14-4 in the long jump, and stretched himself to 28-4 in the triple jump, an event which he had never done before.

This week's results, broken down by age group, were as follows:

IN BRIEF

Singles to meet

Belles and Beaus Singles is hosting a dance to live bands for mature singles from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. on Saturdays July 21, August 4, 11, and 18, at Marks Street Center, 89 E. Marks St. at Magnolia, Orlando. Members are $3. Guests are $6.

The club, for singles over 30, will also hold a covered dish dinner party on Saturdays, July 28 and August 25 at 7 p.m.

Belles and Beaus Singles is based in Orlando but draws members and guests from all of Central Florida. Members are primarily over 40. They are affiliated with the Singles Association of Florida which has a network of 18 member clubs in Florida.

For more information, call 671-6486 or 423-5890.

Poems wanted

Poems are now being accepted for entry in Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum's new "Distinguished Poet Awards" poetry contest. Cash prizes totaling $1,000 will be awarded, including a $500 grand prize. The contest is free to enter.

Poets may enter one poem only, 20 lines or less, on any subject, in any style. Contest closes Sept. 30, but poets are encouraged to send their work as soon as possible, since poems entered will be considered for publication in the new edition of Treasured Poems of America, a hardcover anthology.

Poems should be sent to Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum Inc., Dept. J, 203 Diamond St., Sistersville, WV 26175.

Enter our writing contest

The Sanford Herald is searching for two Seminole County high school students who are prospective journalists.

Write us a letter about a person in Seminole County whom you would like to interview. The person need not be famous. He or she could be an unsung hero who volunteers time to those less fortunate. You may choose to interview a politician, community leader, or even someone notorious. Tell us why you wish to write a story about this person.

Your letter will be reviewed by our panel of judges based on originality, clarity of thought and our accessibility to the person to be interviewed. (Remember, the person must be available for an interview.)

Two winners will be selected. Each will write a feature story, assisted by one of our editors, to appear in a future edition of the Herald.

Letters should be typed or printed legibly. Include your name, street address, city and daytime phone number.

Deliver or mail to "Feature Story Contest," Sanford Herald, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford, 32771.

There is no maximum length limit on letters.

Entries are due at the Herald office by 1 p.m., Friday August 10.

Boys will be scouts

Area Boy Scouts gathered recently in Longwood to share their love of scouting with the public. The exposition featured games, food, crafts and demonstrations. Left: Steven Shear, 10, Troop 196, Winter Springs, practices his canoeing skills. Right: Tom Walker, Troop 529, Paola, displays a collection of Indian arrowheads.

Toothless lady doesn't deserve biting remarks

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the little old lady who left her false teeth (dentures) on the lingerie counter of La Vogue's Department Store in Hoquiam, Wash.: The people at the store went to a lot of trouble tracking down the owner. They learned that she was a visitor from San Francisco, so they carefully wrapped the dentures, marked the package "fragile," insured it, and mailed it back to her. See the humor of the situation, they wrote to you, mentioning that they had never received a thank-you note for their trouble.

Abby, I am also an older person who forgets things constantly, and although my own teeth are securely fastened, I wouldn't fault a little old lady for falling to write a thank-you note. Anyone who could forget her false teeth, as she did, should be forgiven. So I hope the kind people at La Vogue's Department Store in Hoquiam will not cease being kind to old people who are forgetful because of this one incident. May I offer them my thanks for their kindness to the little old lady from San Francisco. I could sign this, "A Little Old Lady From Huntington Beach, Calif." but my name is...

JUANITA

DEAR JUANITA: Thank you for your thanks to the generous people at La Vogue's Department Store. I received a wonderful letter from William L.

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Bitar — one of the three bachelor brothers who operate this family-owned store, founded by their father, a Lebanese immigrant who came to this country years ago as a peddler. Mr. Bitar's letter (in part):

"Dear Abby: Amazing! The reaction to the dentures story was tremendous. It had our little town of 9,000 in an uproar with laughter and humorous remarks. Everybody is talking about it. People come into our store and ask the clerks, 'Have you found any false teeth today?'"

"Our mayor, Phyllis Shrauger, said, 'Dear Abby, has put Hoquiam on the map! Now the talk on the street is about false teeth instead of the timber industry and owls.'

"Every man, woman and child in the United States must read 'Dear Abby.' Our store has had phone calls from New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, California, New Mexico, New Jersey, North Carolina, Seattle, Los Angeles, etc.

"A man from Baltimore wanted to thank us for caring enough to locate the owner of the lost dentures so we could return them. A dentist phoned from Las Vegas to say that the dentist must have done a lousy job on those dentures, or that old lady wouldn't have taken them out in the store.

"We had a lot of fun with that story. Thanks for printing it, Abby. We've been in business for 79 years, and have never had so much publicity.

Neurologist should diagnose a tremor

PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I need information on a nervous condition. I'm calm when sitting in a chair but begin shaking up a storm when I pick up anything or attempt to write. I find myself being able to do less and less as time goes on.

DEAR READER: You seem to be describing an intention tremor, or uncontrollable shaking that appears during movement.

(such as tumor). I think you are better off disregarding this benign cyst. A tumor would require surgical removal.

To extract the fluid from the cyst, your doctor will either have to operate or introduce a long, hollow needle through the abdominal wall into the cyst. These unpleasant procedures should be avoided if possible.

This could be due to a number of conditions, the most common of which are:

Enhanced physiologic tremor: This is shakiness produced by stress, anxiety, fatigue, certain substances (such as alcohol and caffeine) and metabolic disturbances, such as hyperthyroidism.

Benign hereditary tremor: The cause of this common but harmless disturbance is unknown, but the tremor is worsened by performing skilled acts (such as handwriting) as well as by anxiety and stress.

Serious neurological diseases: In multiple sclerosis (progressive loss of nerve-tissue insulation) and amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (progressive nerve degeneration), also known as Lou Gehrig's disease, tremors can appear before other, more disabling neurological symptoms develop.

I believe you should be examined by a neurologist who should, after testing you, be able to diagnose the cause of your shaking and suggest treatment.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been advised that I have a 3 1/2-inch cyst on my liver. I'm on no medication and not taking any kind of treatment. Will I experience any serious effects in the future? How serious is it to extract the fluid from the cyst, and what will keep it from refilling?

DEAR READER: Most liver cysts are harmless; they're often discovered by accident during examinations, such as ultrasound, for other purposes. Unless you are having symptoms (such as pain or liver enlargement) or your doctor suspects a more serious ailment

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Should South take the ace of hearts right away, or is it better to hold up for one round? Declarer's play is immaterial if the suit is divided 4-3 between the defenders' hands. Whatever South does, he will still make nine tricks and his contract. But declarer must make his best play based on the likelihood that opening leader West began with five hearts. If West has led from a five-card heart suit, it is extremely unlikely that he held the K-Q-J and led a low card. When he has other five-card holdings, it is clear that East holds the nine and one honor. If declarer ducks at trick one, East will continue with the jack. Now declarer is set whenever West holds the diamond ace. So declarer should take the first trick. Then he forces out the ace of diamonds. East and West cannot put their heart tricks together, and declarer easily makes nine tricks. (He makes an overtrick if he is foolish enough to take the spade finesse.) It is only fair to mention that some West players, holding K-Q-J-x-x of hearts, might lead a low heart, particularly if they held the diamond ace for an entry. They would expect to find four hearts in the North hand since North looked for a major-suit fit before bidding three no-trump. In that situation, West's best chance to beat game might be to find East with the 10 of hearts or even the nine.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bode Cool
YOUR BIRTHDAY
July 18, 1980

In the year ahead you should be able to notice a continuous improvement in several matters that are of considerable importance to you. Be content with your progress instead of trying to accelerate the pace.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be logical and practical in your commercial dealings today, but, by the same token, don't discount your hunches. Your inner voice may convey information to you unavailable elsewhere. Cancer, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) One way to guarantee friends will have nice things to say about you is to talk them up in front of others. However, don't use flattery, be sincere.

VIROO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In career involvements today the race will go to the smart and not necessarily the swift. Use your head so you can be numbered among the winners.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) People who aren't tuned into your wavelength could prove to be rather boring today. Try to associate with companions whose thinking and interests parallels yours.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Timing is extremely important today, especially if you are trying to sell or promote something financially beneficial to you. Don't make your pitch until you have your prospect's complete attention.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Get as much feedback as possible from associates today if you have to make an important decision. The input of others could reveal aspects you've overlooked.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This is a good day to talk to your boss about some changes you would like to make you feel could help the operation. Your boss should be receptive.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) "Judge not lest ye be judged" is a good adage to keep in mind today when dealing with others on a one-to-one basis. Associates will emulate your behavior.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today if you get involved in a serious discussion with another the debate won't be won by the person who gets in the last word. Instead it will be graded on the quality of the comments.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're an extremely effective communicator today, but don't waste your time on idle chatter. Use your skills to get your points across to those who can help advance your present interests.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Someone who has your best interest at heart could be of help to you today by showing you a procedure to strengthen your financial position. Listen to this person's suggestions.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your possibilities for personal gains look good today, but don't expect to be a millionaire overnight. Be grateful for profitable developments even though they might be small.
