

Service Station Aides, Clients Warned Of Law

Smoking around the gasoline pumps at Florida's service stations is going to be stopped, according to Bert Voorhees, president of Allied Gasoline Retailers Association of Florida.

In a recent meeting with W. T. Knight, chief deputy fire marshal for the State of Florida, it was pointed out that the fire code was being violated by service station employees and customers smoking while their car was being filled with gasoline.

"No Smoking" signs are going up on the gasoline islands to remind both employees and customers that smoking and gasoline are a dangerous combination.

Voorhees stated that AGRA will do everything it could assist the state fire marshal in enforcing this regulation. He will ask for reports on Feb. 20 from members of the board of directors of AGRA when they meet in St. Augustine about the enforcement of the "no smoking" requirement in areas throughout the state.

New Gimmick Answers If You're Drunk

BONN (UPI)—West German bar keepers have begun selling "tell yourself if you're getting drunk" balloons.

The balloons change color according to the amount of alcohol on the breath of the person blowing them up.

The man who put the balloons on the market, in department stores as well as bars, said that within a week he had calls for 1.6 million of the gadgets.

The balloons were offered after stricter traffic laws made it an offense to drive while drunk even if the driver was not involved in an accident.

Police have used balloons for about six years. They are not admitted in German courts as evidence, but police say the balloons help them decide who to pull in for a blood test.

Documentary 'Gold Mine' Found In Box

DENVER (UPI)—Officials at the University of Denver finally got around to going through an old brown cardboard box which was shoved away in a corner of a library room.

The box contained:—An oath of allegiance signed by George Washington and executed by Maj. Gen. Arthur St. Clair at Valley Forge on May 12, 1778.

—A document appointing Jefferson Davis, who later became president of the Confederate states, as secretary of war under President Franklin Pierce in 1853.

—The 14th known existing copy of the wallpaper edition of the Vicksburg (Miss.) Daily Citizen for July 4, 1863.

Members were urged to write President Lyndon Johnson in efforts to prevent closing of many of the VA hospitals.

It was voted that the auxiliary unit would pay all expenses to send one girl to Girls State in Tallahassee this summer.

Mrs. C. E. Hunter read a letter from the Costa Rican School System, in reply to a letter from her, which thanked the unit for its interest in them. Mrs. Hunter also received several school books in Spanish which she will turn over to the Seminole High School Spanish department.

ed refreshments of coffee and cookies at close of the business.

Mystery Man Buys Paintings

PALM BEACH (UPI)—One of the best known works of Vincent Van Gogh belongs today to a mystery man who paid $908,000 for it and six other paintings of the 19th century French masters.

Van Gogh's "The Sower" was bought for $250,000 at a society auction here by New York City Attorney Roger Oresman, on behalf of a client he declined to name.

Oresman was by far the heaviest bidder in the sale of 25 works of French impressionist and post-impressionist painters which brought a total of $1,425,750.

Hundreds Of Motorists Stranded In Blizzard

Snow Blanket Closes Schools

By United Press International
Blizzards moved across the Midwest today, choking roads with more than foot of snow. Hundreds of motorists were feared stranded in wind-blown drifts between Omaha and Lincoln, Neb.

Schools were closed throughout western Iowa, where up to 10 inches of snow fell in an hour, and would-be travelers in Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin were warned to stay home.

South of the storm's path, freezing rain turned highways into ribbons of ice. The Wisconsin traffic patrol said there was "just one car after another in the ditches" along roads in the south-central part of the state.

Severe thunderstorms hit wide areas of the South, where tornadoes and windstorms Thursday injured at least 12 persons.

Behind the powerful snowstorms, much of northern Kansas, Iowa, eastern Nebraska and southeastern South Dakota lay paralyzed under the worst blizzard in years.

MOTORISTS TRAPPED

State highway crews plowed through giant, shifting drifts of snow between Omaha and Lincoln in an attempt to rescue motorists trapped overnight.

Police said several hundred vehicles were marooned along the highway about 27 miles east of Lincoln.

A record 20 inches of snow covered Nebraska's capital city of Lincoln while Omaha was buried under an 18-inch blanket.

The storm plastered DeWitt, Neb., with 29 inches of snow Thursday, and some communities in southwestern Iowa were hit with 10 inches in a single hour.

STORM INTENSIFYING

Four inches of fresh snow hit Rochester, Minn., during the night and the Weather Bureau extended warnings of up to one foot or more snow through Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Nearly a foot of snow was on the ground in north-central Kansas where temperatures dipped to just above zero.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was intensifying and dangerous.

Forecasters were alerted to watch for flash floods today in western Tennessee after Thursday's torrential rains.

The Memphis Naval Air Station was drenched with 2 1/2 inches of rain in six hours, bringing the 24-hour total to nearly five inches.

Tornadoes and straight windstorms nearing hurricane force slammed across parts of Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas Thursday.

The winter tempest was accompanied by destructive lightning strikes and hail storms.

Other twisters hit the outskirts of Memphis, Tenn., and the west-central Alabama town of Aliceville, where the Weather Bureau said six persons were injured.

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Doctors reported here today that the condition of coral snake bite victim John B. Lewis, 48, is still "serious," but that he is in little danger of dying.

Support Pledged

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson pledged British support for U. S. policy in Viet Nam in a personal call over the Washington-London "hot line" to President Johnson.

U. S. Beefs Up Weaponry

Will Retaliate In Full Force, Dirksen States

AURORA, Ill. (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said President Johnson told him the United States plans to "step up our actions in Viet Nam."

"We will give back as much as we receive, but we will not bomb Hanoi as of now," Dirksen quoted Johnson, who filled him in by telephone on the latest Viet Nam developments.

Dirksen said the United States is increasing its military hardware in South Viet Nam in the event of future "retaliations" against the North.

"We're beefing up our weaponry so when we have to retaliate, again we can really retaliate with full force, and even if it goes well beyond the TTT parallel," he said.

"We propose to meet these Viet Nam attacks and not for a moment take them lying down."

WATCHFUL WAITING AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A mood of watchful waiting settled over the White House today while officials attempted to assess the latest developments in the deepening Viet Nam crisis.

The President's official calendar contained only one appointment but it was expected that conferences with his top military and diplomatic advisers would occupy much of his day.

The Chief Executive three times in the dark hours before dawn, got up and called the White House "situation room" to keep in touch with Vietnamese developments.

White House Press Secretary George E. Brady said the President ordered the attack on North Vietnamese bases at the conclusion of a National Security Council meeting Wednesday afternoon.

MASSIVE AIR STRIKES MADE

SAIGON (UPI) — Military authorities disclosed today that massive air strikes by U. S. and South Vietnamese bombers against Communist North Viet Nam dealt a heavy blow to Viet Cong sources of supply. More raids seemed likely.

Communist China today raised the spectre of a Korean-type war developing in South Viet Nam.

The Peking regime said some Chinese military units "pledged support with actual deeds" for North Viet Nam.

North Viet Nam termed the attacks "a new, most serious war against the United States."

Washington reports said a new U. S. policy, going beyond simply retaliation, appeared to be emerging. The policy seemed to foreshadow still more air strikes against North Vietnamese targets in an effort to turn the tide of the anti-Communist war.

More than 160 American and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers blasted target areas and supply depots in the Communist North Thursday in the biggest such action of the war.

The immediate cause of the reprisal raid was a Viet Cong bombing attack on a U. S. Army barracks at Qui Nhon Wednesday night, taking a heavy toll of American lives.

Still Undecided

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — I. W. Abel clung to a dimly held lead today in his challenge for the presidency of the giant United Steelworkers union.

But optimism mounted in the camp of incumbent David J. McDonald.

Abel's margin, which at one time approximated 17,000 votes, was reduced appreciably Thursday when returns began coming in from some of the larger USW locals.

Liberalization Bid In Social Security Law

WASHINGTON — (Sp) — Sen. George A. Smathers, in behalf of himself and Sen. Spessard Holland, today introduced in the Senate a bill to increase to $2,400 the amount Social Security recipients are permitted to earn without suffering deductions in their old-age insurance benefits.

Under present law, for every two dollars earned by a beneficiary under 72 with an annual income of $1,200 to $1,700, one dollar in benefits is withheld. For each dollar of annual earnings above $1,700, an equal amount of one dollar in benefits is withheld.

The effect of this law as it now stands, Smathers declared, is to penalize social security recipients by making it difficult or impossible for them to supplement their benefits with outside earnings.

In most cases, he pointed out, these benefits are totally inadequate to meet the financial needs of recipients and their dependents.

In addition to helping them care their financial problems, the Florida Senator stated, full or part-time work can have an important psychological value to social security recipients.

"For millions of our senior citizens," he continued, "enforced idleness means boredom, a feeling of uselessness and futility and bad mental and physical health. Being able to hold down a job can give them a new lease on life."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Indiana Sen. Vance Hartke introduced a bill aimed at preventing recurrence of newspaper headlines such as "thousands of Florida aged single living in sin" fear benefit loss if they marry.

The bill would revamp social security laws so widows over age 62 could remarry without losing benefits.

Recent south Florida newspaper articles brought to light the situation when they reported thousands of elderly couples moved in together but didn't marry for fear of losing money.

'Switch Engine' Near Perfect

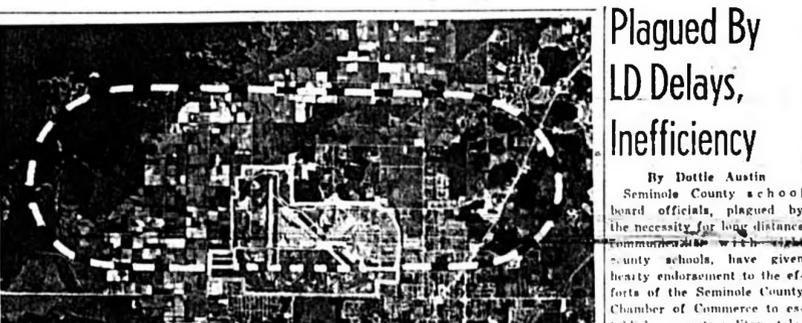

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A new Titan 3A "switch engine" rocket circled earth today in a near perfect orbit after a record setting performance that sent it twice zooming from one path to another.

But experimenters apparently were not as successful Thursday with a 69-pound experimental communications satellite that hitched a ride in space on the Titan third stage as a mission "bonus."

A spokesman reported early today that the satellite was working well, but apparently did not shoot itself into a far-reaching orbit as planned.

However, he said indications were that it had separated properly from the versatile Titan.

The Titan's third stage, itself, operated flawlessly and set a record for U. S. rocketry by starting and stopping three times in space.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Lockhart, escaped injury shortly after 10 a. m. today when the car in which they were riding collided with an Atlantic Coast Line freight train.

Plagued By LD Delays, Inefficiency

By Dottie Austin
Seminole County school board officials, plagued by the necessity for long distance communication with eight county schools, have given hearty endorsement to the efforts of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce to establish a metropolitan telephone system in the county.

In a letter today to George Touhy, chairman of the committee which is seeking to lift the long distance telephone barrier between north and south Seminole County, the board noted that "many matters of school business which could be settled easily and quickly by telephone must now be conducted by other means, thus causing unwanted delay and, often, less efficiency."

"This is to inform you, your committee, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Florida that this board believes that there is a definite need for a metropolitan telephone system. Further, this board endorses the action of the Chamber in seeking approval of this project."

Heard a request by board member Dr. A. W. Epps Jr. for a report from the bus superintendent on savings effected by cutting off 1,800 bus riders inside the two-mile limit.

Approved charges of $204 an hour for electricity and $5 a night for janitorial service for church basketball teams to use the Sanford Junior High School gym.

Culture Coming To The Squared Circle

CLEARWATER (UPI) — When the last dessert plate has been cleared from tables at the Harrison Hotel tonight, five-time middleweight boxing champ Sugar Ray Robinson and unknown Sonny Moore will step into a temporary ring and pound each other for 10 rounds in an exhibition bout.

There'll be no hoarse screaming, uncouth words or stinging cigarette smoke from the crowd, which might exceed 1,200. It will be made up of well-dressed gentlemen with their ladies, come to eat a seven-course dinner of fish or prime roast ribs, and to enjoy a night of pugilistics.

Promoter Al King hopes the fight will bring both culture and dignity to professional boxing.

He feels that many men hesitate to take their wives into wild auditorium crowds, but would not object if the fight were presented in a different way.

Robinson, 44, who will receive a purse of $1,000 and $1,000 for expenses, weighed in at 161 pounds, while Moore weighed 162.

The clash will be refereed by former world featherweight king Willie Pep.

Jubilant GI

QUI NHON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Rescue crews today freed the last known survivor from the rubble of a bombed-out U. S. Army barracks.

The enlisted man danced a jig and shouted to officers: "Now don't you tell me I need a shave."

The courageous GI, Sp. 4 Arthur G. Abendschien, 30, of Deptford, N. J., had been buried in the debris for 35 hours and 35 minutes.

But he showed little ill effects from the long ordeal.

A "Clock" reader called to question the purpose of those orange dome-shaped buttons along 17-92 south of Sanford. Seems she observed a motorist with a blow-out having a rough time getting off the highway because of those buttons. And, come to think of it, they are traffic hazards.

What better time than National Boy Scout Week to announce that a new troop is being organized in Forest City with the Forest City Community Association as sponsor. Charles McPherson will be scoutmaster, Gene Rucker his assistant, and first meeting is set for March 1 in Forest City Baptist Church.

Forest City Community Association isn't satisfied with the State Road Board's decision that traffic count and delay at the three-way intersection of SR 431 and SR 434 with SR 436 warrants only a flashing traffic signal. Association president Allen Forward tells us that his group plans to "keep pushing" for a regulation traffic light at this danger spot.

God Given Courage

A soldier came home from war minus a leg. He had been wounded severely but his greatest physical loss was his leg. Another wound was in his mind. His despair was so great that he refused to speak, or try in any way to use an artificial limb, or cooperate in other ways to help himself.

The family of the young man took him home where they proved to be over-indulgent to the point that the doctor saw that unless the injured soldier was given better help that he would always be a hopeless invalid. He was sent back to a hospital where much was done and said to try to awaken him but all was to no avail.

The doctor, who was especially interested in the young man, finally became so exasperated with him that one day he shouted, "All right, all right; if you won't let any of us help you—if you are so stubborn that you won't even help yourself—why don't you let God help you?"

In a few days the young man was moving around successfully on his new leg and the doctor said that one of the greatest thrills he had received in his practice came sometimes later when he saw this young man walking on the hospital grounds with his girl friend.

Finally the day came for the young man to leave the hospital and take his rightful place in society. He was to have a last visit with the doctor who felt he should give some advice before their separation. The former soldier said, "It's all right, Doc; I remember the medicine you gave me that day, and I think with that prescription I can get along well enough." The doctor inquired as to what prescription he was referring to. The reply was, "Don't you remember the day you told me that if I could not do it myself, to let God help me?" Well that did something to me. It was of a different kind, and as I thought about it, it began to come over me that maybe I could do it—that maybe I wasn't finished after all."

Our Lord knew that the courage to live in any century could come adequately only by faith in a God who can, and who cares. This God has been revealed to us in Jesus Christ. Learn of Him, live with Him, worship Him, and courage will be yours.

Charter Women Honored On 25th Anniversary

By Jane Casselberry
A Silver Tea marking the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held in Weaver Hall of Casselberry Community Methodist Church by 60 WSCS members and their guests.

Three members of the local organization were recognized as charter members of the WSCS, joining 25 years ago when it was first started nationally. They are Mrs. Harry K. Wood, Mrs. Leroy Sweeney, and Mrs. Nelson Bunnell.

The tea also was the occasion to celebrate all the members birthdays with tables appropriately decorated for each season of the year.

The group was fortunate in having as guest speaker, Miss Vera Hughtlett, who was chosen Methodist Missions Woman of the Year last year.

Miss Hughtlett recently has returned from Liberia where she served as a missionary nurse for the past three years and she now is staying in Cocoa, while awaiting assignment on a long-term basis. Born in The Congo, she is the daughter of missionaries, Dr. and Mrs. William Hughtlett, who were captured last year by the Congolese Rebels and later released.

She told of the country of Liberia, its history and the rapid progress it is making. While there she worked as supervising nurse and teaching at the Ganta Mission Station Hospital.

"The young people of Africa are desperate for education," she said, "and if Christians do not provide it, they will take it from the Communists or anyone else. A hungry man does not ask the politics of someone who offers food."

Mrs. E. P. Richards presented a program on "New Dimensions for Life" and the speaker was introduced by Mrs. Phillip Casber, president.

Foreign Exchange Students Speak For Lyman Assembly

The students spoke at an 11th and 12th grade assembly at the invitation of the Future Teachers Club of Lyman which is interested in forming an American Field Service Chapter at Lyman to sponsor an exchange student.

The youngsters captured their audience with their charm and wit and were a good advertisement for both the exchange program. They talked briefly about their homelands, differences in customs, and their experiences since coming to this country to live with American families. Later they answered questions on many subjects from the audience.

They were introduced by Ruth Kelm, Future Teacher's president. Col. Stanley Scott of Winter Garden, district representative for American Field Service, which sponsors the exchange program, said that at present there are 13 exchange students from 10 different countries attending schools in his area. He hopes to increase this number to 30 next school year. Any school interested in starting this program may contact Col. Scott for information. Also accompanying the students was Mrs. Mills Lord, president of the Edgewater State Fair, chairman of international relations for FFA. Following the assembly, Student Council President Dan Casseberry served as guide while the visitors had lunch in the school cafeteria and visited various classrooms.

Crisis Causes Stock Losses

NEW YORK (UPI)—The continuing crisis in Viet Nam resulted Thursday in the biggest loss in stock prices since the day President Kennedy was assassinated, Nov. 22, 1963. Declines outnumbered gains three-to-one as they did on Wednesday when the most serious Communist attack in the Vietnamese war was reported. But there were more declines Thursday — 852 compared to Wednesday's 861.

End Of Population Boom Sought

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (NEA)—Barring general nuclear war, invasion by microbes from outer space, a new idea or some such world calamity, there will be twice as many human beings striving for the good life on this planet in A.D. 2000 as there are today. At the present growth rate of two per cent a year, population could rocket to 50 billion by A.D. 2000, which would be just about the maximum that earth could theoretically sustain.

How to reduce this rate of growth and then to stabilize it has become a top priority task for public health scientists in all countries, for the combination of high birth rates and falling death rates is not only impeding the progress of developing countries but putting strains on the health and welfare facilities of advanced nations. About 70 concerned scholars from around the world met some months ago at the Graduate School of Public Health of the University of Pittsburgh to discuss the population problem in all its aspects. The 24 scientific papers presented at the meeting have just been released.

As could be expected, many dealt with the biological and physiological factors in conception and birth, and with birth control techniques ranging from sterilization to pills. Apparently the most popular and most effective methods of birth limitation are the newly developed pills and an intrauterine device using a coil or spiral of plastic. Dr. A. S. Parkes, physiologist at the University of Cambridge, England, praised the pill and deplored the taboos and prudery which hampered research until mankind's eleventh hour. "Until the advent of the Pincus pill," he said, "methods of controlling human fertility were archaic in principle and a disgrace to science."

Forest City Group To Pursue Installation Of Traffic Light

By Maryann Miles
Forest City Community Association voted Monday night to continue efforts to get a regulation traffic light located at the three-way intersection of SR 431 and SR 434 with SR 436 although the State Road Department has notified that a recently conducted survey shows that volume and delay do not warrant installing a light.

However, in a letter read by Association President Allen Forward, state officials advised that permission has been given for the county to install a flashing signal at the danger spot. Plans for pursuing the matter will be made at the next meeting of the association executive board.

Special guest for the evening was John C. Dibler, field director of the Central Florida Council of Boy Scouts. A boy Scout troop is being organized in Forest City with the association as sponsor and much helpful advice was given by

Between you'n me

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NEW YORK — (NEA) — For them both—Cus D'Amato and Floyd Patterson—it's only a shell of what is used to be.

Now Cus stands against an arena wall, 80 rows removed from the ring, and watches the kid he molded from the streets of Bedford-Stuyvesant in Brooklyn to a heavyweight champion and wonder when he gets his cut of the $400,000 to $600,000 he claims are unaccounted for from the two Sonny Liston fights. He has a lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, who is used to dealing with Frank Costello and Jimmy Hoffa and Bobby Baker.

And Patterson, whose last words to D'Amato were after the Liston fight in Las Vegas in July 1962—"I'll see you shortly"—goes through his pass like a somnambulist and only occasionally jolts himself out of his reverie to reflect a dozen years experience in the ring.

He hopes he gets another shot at the title, but he really has no taste for it, or the deliriums of his opponent-to-be, Cassius Clay. Floyd is, estimates the man who was closest to him, 25 per cent slower than he used to be.

But that's still faster than the plodding George Chuvalo he defeated in the Beltrich of Boxing at Madison Square Garden. His voice comes from such negative statements as: "I proved I can take a much better punch than you gentleman (the press) give me credit for, only because of my tremendous condition. I'm glad you didn't mention my chin. Had you did this, you would have been wrong."

But all through the fight, Dan Florio, his trainer-manager, had to stretch at him "Jab him . . . hook him . . . get away from the ropes."

Elementary stuff for a 30-year-old guy who won the championship of the world in 1956. Afterwards, Florio muttered, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks."

And D'Amato, his old teacher, gawped. "He showed me a couple of far more serious faults than getting pinned in the corners. For example, every time he got in close he put his arm around the other guy's neck and he left his side exposed for the body punching."

"Though he has an excellent left jab, he used it so

Lions After Second Win Over Commodores

Oviedo Travels To Eau Gallie

By Marshall Lingo
Herald Sports Writer

The winning Oviedo Lions travel to Eau Gallie Saturday night to take on the Commodores of Eau Gallie High School for the second time this year. In the first meeting of these two clubs at Oviedo the Lions chalked up an unbelievable 85-59 romp over the highly rated Commodores.

Since the triumph over Eau Gallie, the Lions have chalked up victories over Ocoee, Melbourne Central Catholic, Florida Air Academy, and last week tallied a 56-48 win over Cocoa Beach.

The Lions will be trying for their seventh straight win Saturday. Oviedo's record now stands at 12 wins against 7 losses, with just three games to go before the tournament.

Head Coach Abe Collinsworth of Eau Gallie does not believe the Lions will win again Saturday. He said, "They will not beat us on our court." The only team that has beat them on their home court this year is Maitland and Coach Collinsworth sees a quite sure of himself.

On the other hand Coach Paul Misker of the Lions feels his squad will be up against some tough competition and he believes it will be a hard ball game to win.

Jack Twyman Joins Elite

United Press International Cincinnati veteran Jack Twyman has joined the select list of five National Basketball Association greats who have scored more than 15,000 points in their career.

Twyman hooped 17 as the Royals breved past Detroit, 130-109, at Fort Wayne, Ind. Oscar Robertson and Wayne Embry led the winners with 28 and 24 points, respectively.

Revised Racing Regulations Slated Today

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI)—National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR) officials were due to announce 1966 revised racing specifications today before an afternoon of racing at the Daytona speedway.

The 1966 regulations raised a controversy by outlawing hemispherical heads and high risers, both ending modifications that boosted speed potential of the cars. As a result, Chrysler Corporation dropped from competition this year.

The 1966 regulations were announced by the association's executives and engineers before being adopted by the association.

Two 100-mile races are scheduled this afternoon to determine positions — other than pole positions — for the big 500-mile race on Sunday.

Darel Dieringer of Charlotte, N. C., and Junior Johnson of Ronda, N. C., held the two pole positions for today's 100-milers.

Among those behind Dieringer in a 1964 Mercury in the first race will be Ned Jarrett of Camden, S. C., Bobby Johns of Miami, Dick Hutcheson of Keokuk, Iowa, and G. C. Spencer of Inman, S. C. All will drive Fords.

With Johnson, in a 1965 Ford, in the second race will be Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, Sam McQuigg of Valdosta, Ga., and Rod Eulenfeld of Jacksonville, all in Fords.

Sportsmen Bid To Hearings On River Projects

TALLAHASSEE — (Sp1) — Florida's sportsmen will have an opportunity to support a proposal for the construction of locks and other means of passing small craft at some 30 Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District project structures in the waterways of the St. Johns and Kissimmee Rivers. This will be at a series of public meetings scheduled for Feb. 16-18.

According to O. E. Frye, executive director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, the public meetings, as announced by the U. S. Corps of Engineers, will be held at Cocoa Tuesday at 10 a.m., in the Brevard County Agricultural Center, 1125 West King Street; Kissimmee, Wednesday at 10 a.m., in the Civic Center; Fort Lauderdale Thursday at 9:30 a.m., in the County Commission room of the Broward County Courthouse.

Frye said the purpose of these proposed locks and means of passing small craft will be a definite asset to the recreational values of these two rivers.

"Without locks or other suitable means to permit passage of small craft at sites of control structures the fishing, boating and navigational use of the headwaters of the Kissimmee and St. Johns Rivers will be limited."

"All sportsmen and persons interested in outdoor activity are urged to attend one or all of the meetings."

"Sportsmen clubs, boating clubs and conservation organizations are asked to submit their recommendations in writing in quadruplicate copy as the records of the hearings will be forwarded to the Secretary of the Army."

Carnival Opens Little League

A carnival atmosphere will prevail March 6 at Lake Mary as the community kicks off the start of the Little League season.

An all-day fete is planned starting at 10 a. m. and high-light will be serving of hamburgues.

Booths will be set up, a white elephant sale held and games and rides will be available for all.

This will also be the first day of registration for boys wanting to play in the Little League. Each prospective player must be accompanied by a parent in order to register.

The Little League park lights will be turned on for the first time at 7 p. m. and a Hootenanny and dance will follow.

DON SCHOLLANDER
"Everything just went right for me"

Eighteen & On Top . . . It's Perplexing

(Last of three articles)
By Sandy Padwe

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — (NEA) — An 18-year-old swimmer has reached the prime goal in his life, and then he begins to wonder . . .

Since last October, when he won four gold medals in Olympic swimming for the United States, Don Schollander has been thinking constantly about what is next for him.

Schollander is a sturdy six-footer with an identifying shock of blond hair and a handsome face which can't conceal concern when he's talking about his future.

"I understand the statement very well that says there is no place to go but down," Schollander said. "But when you're king of the mountain, what do you do—expand the mountain?"

In addition to the problem brought on by being public property, Schollander has to worry about adjusting to the academic life as a mid-semester Yale freshman.

The Yale athletic department is trying to do everything possible to help him but awards keep piling up, and so do the requests for personal appearances.

"I'll have to cope with it," Schollander said, "or I'll just flunk out."

"I do want to continue swimming, though. Were I to retire now and succumb to the pressure of the public, look what I would miss. Swimming offers me the chance to travel, to meet people, to see new things. To compete on a high level of swimming, you just have to devote your life to it."

"But right now, I admit I'm a little tired of it. The problem now is to stimulate my interest again. This means new goals. Your body doesn't go sour; it's your mind."

"The mind plays the major role. Often Olympic races are won by the person who has the proper attitude.

"My goal in life was to make the Olympics," he said. "I did it. Then what? What can I shoot for now — five or six gold medals? That's ridiculous. Why, the chances of winning four gold medals again are very remote."

"Believe me, I was very lucky in Japan. It takes more than ability and luck. Everything just went right for me. I had been there for races twice before; the people knew me."

"They cheered me every time my name was announced. Then my parents were there. My coach was there (George Haines of the Santa Clara Swim Club), my friends. I doubt if these many variables will come together again in 1968."

"Another problem now is whether or not I can be satisfied with a lower goal. I hope being in a new area—college swimming—will provide the answer. In college swimming every meet is important."

Hi Troubles Faces Top Competition

Darold Robertson's Hi Troubles, one of the top greyhounds at the track last season, will be going for his first victory of the season in tonight's featured 10th race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

Hi Troubles won both of last year's match races against the Jacksonville Kennel Club and was one of the biggest winners at the track.

The Robertson veteran has a second place finish and a third in his credit, but has failed in four starts to notch a victory.

Top competition is expected to come from O.B.'s Adjusted and Ample's Model. O. B.'s Adjusted came to SOKC with a nationwide reputation as a top sprinter. He has scored three wins two seconds and one third in 11 starts.

Ample's Model is one of the finest juvenile runners at the track with a record of four wins and one third in eight starts.

Manley, Streit In 2-Stroke Lead

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI)—Hobart Manley and Canadian Marlene Streit, after a two-ouder par second round 70, held a two-stroke lead today in the National Mixed Foursome golf tournament here.

The Savannah (Ga.) golfer and Mrs. Streit took a single opening round, then stretched it another stroke Thursday by playing what Manley called "just consistent golf" over the Lost Tree Club course.

Jack Penrose of Miami Beach and Phyllis Preuss of Pompano carded 71 to take a definite second place, a position they were forced to share after the opener.

Lyman Greyhounds End Season At Kissimmee

A MOST enthusiastic participant in Dusty Boots Riding Association Shows is Dick Cameron who trailed his horse "Chester" all the way up from Malabar to win first place trophy and ribbon in the Senior Western Pleasure Class at the last show. Seminole Five, Barracudas In Return Match

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole High cagers will travel to New Smyrna Beach tonight to face the Barracudas in a return match. The game is a non-Metro affair but is expected to be a hard hitting game.

Coch Ralph Stumpf's baby five will get the action under way when they meet the Baby Barracudas at 6:30 p.m. The starters for the Baby Seminoles will be Paul LeRoy, Wally Jerigan, Frank Whigham, Wayne Burnstead and Greg Shively.

In the Tribe's last game with New Smyrna they won, and tonight they intend to do it again.

According to Head Coach Mack Blythe, "This weekend we play New Smyrna Beach Friday night and Bishop Moore Saturday night. We should win both games this weekend and our last two games next week to finish out the season. We beat New Smyrna here and we're going over there to do it again tonight. We lost to Bishop Moore two times by one point, but we're going to change that this time."

The Barracudas have a good ball club. They press a great deal and should have one of their better hallplayers with them tonight who wasn't in the game the last time we played them. On the other hand, one of our fine hallplayers, Gary Loyd, will not be with us tonight."

The starters for the Seminoles tonight will be Mike Gray, Jack Hunt, Ron Hinson, Steve Groover and Frank Murray.

According to Blythe, the Tribe should have a good finish to their season. Blythe said, "Our next two ball games will be against Winter Park and Boone. We played well against Winter Park and we feel like we know what they're going to do, so we should win Boone beat us in overtime here so we'll be out to win that one, too."

EDDIE GOTTLIEB
"O.K., lions, up and at 'em"

Gottlieb Favors 'Rough Stuff'

NEW YORK (NEA)—Eddie Gottlieb's title is special adviser and eastern consultant for the San Francisco Warriors, which means he is also manager to be wherever Wilt Chamberlain now plays basketball for the Philadelphia 76ers and he now lives in Philadelphia again after a two-year hiatus at the Jack Tar Hotel out West. So it's not completely sure where his loyalties are.

What can be pinned down about Eddie is that he was in the cage when the South Philadelphia Hebrew Association started playing basketball in 1918 and gradually evolved into the famous Spas, the only team in history to beat the old Original Celtics in a series.

He is the only original pioneer left in professional basketball, and Eddie is worried about his game.

"They should take out the rule that says basketball is a game of no contact," says Eddie, "and admit it's a game of contact. I consider it impossible for 10 men to be placed in a limited area like a basketball court, without committing contact."

Toledo Joins International, Atlanta Leaves

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI)—Toledo begins its first modern season in the International League and Atlanta starts its last on April when the eight-club circuit launches its 82nd season.

Toledo, which succeeded Richmond in the league after the 1964 season, will be playing as an International League franchise for the first time since 1888 while Atlanta will be starting its last minor league season before becoming the Atlanta Braves of the National League in 1966.

The April 17 openers—the first time in modern history the openers have been on a Saturday—will have Toronto at Toledo, Buffalo at Columbus, Rochester at Atlanta and Syracuse at Jacksonville.

The secondary openers will have Toledo at Rochester and Columbus at Syracuse, April 23, and Atlanta at Toronto and Jacksonville at Buffalo, April 24.

Each of the eight teams will play 21 games against other league members in the 1965 streamlined schedule which is slated to close on Sep. 1.

The International League playoffs will begin two days later.

Two Ineligible

BOSTON (UPI)—Rhode Island's Dennis McGovern and Fairfield's Mike Branch, both top scorers on their school basketball team, have been declared ineligible for the remainder of the season due to scholastic difficulties.

Still In Battle For OBC Title

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

Lyman will play Kissimmee in their last regular season game. They are 10-9 overall on the season and this is their last Orange Belt Conference game.

At the moment they are involved in a three-way struggle for the OBC championship with Apopka and DeLand.

Apopka is playing Leesburg tonight and DeLand is playing Lakeview.

Lyman is hoping both Apopka and DeLand will be upset. An added factor in Lyman's favor is that DeLand and Apopka will play Monday night.

For Lyman to increase their stature they must win tonight. In the previous meeting with Kissimmee they beat the Kowboys 86-60.

As usual, Coach Dick Copeland is relying on Joe Asher to provide most of the scoring punch. He has 354 points thus far in the season and is averaging 34.5 per game.

During the recent games he hasn't been shooting as much and the scoring has been balanced by the fine performance of Eddie Long at forward.

Long scored 22 points in Tuesday's victory at DeLand. The other starters will be Mike Sterling, Gene Wingleman and Dave Matis.

High scorers for Kissimmee are Alan Stirling and Mike Whitewolf.

The Jayvee game will start at 6:30. Lyman has an 11-8 record.

Florida Golfer, An 'Unknown' Leads Old Pros

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—The 1965 PGA golf tour, billed as a $3 million extravaganza, was back to normal today with an unknown in the first round lead of the Phoenix Open and the big names struggling in the background.

Bert Yancey, a 26-year-old Floridan playing out of Philadelphia, went into the second round of the $67,500 event holding a one shot lead over Frank Beard and Al Gelberger.

No one could fault Yancey's play Thursday on the chilly, windy Arizona Country Club course. He had nines of 33-34 for a 67. He hit 15 greens and used only 28 putts on the bumpy greens.

Beard was just about as perfect with four birdies including one that came on a 60 foot chip shot into the cup. Gelberger also had four birdies with a couple of fairly long putts of 20 and 10 feet.

Vivian Pierce Wins Tourney

Weekly winners in the Ladies Day nine-hole low gross tournament at Mayfair Country Club were: Class A, Vivian Pierce; class B, a tie between Frances Phillips, Myrtle Adams and Suzy Dickey; class C, Mary Wheelchel.

In the blind partners tournament first place winners were Shirley Schilke and Mary Lou McDonald. Taking second place were Dossie DeGanahl and Grace Sayles.

Stetson Hatters Host Mercer

Stetson University's Hatters will host the Bears of Mercer University tonight at 8 p.m. in the DeLand National Guard Armory in an attempt to even the score after the four-point victory the Bears found over the Hatters in Macon on Jan. 11.

One of the most outstanding freshman games of the season will be played at 6 p.m. when Pete Brooks' Baby Hatters host the Contac Caps, an AAU team from Jacksonville. The Caps boast many college all-stars, including Jacksonville's small college All-American, Roger Strickland.

Hatter Coach Glenn Wilkes thinks Mercer and the Hatters are pretty evenly matched. There appears to be no great height difference between the two clubs, except in the center spot where Mercer will probably start 6-foot-7 Don Baxter against the Hatters' 6-foot-3 Bill Hester.

"This is a vastly improved team over the squad that was in DeLand for the Hatter Invitational Tournament in DeLand," commented Wilkes.

"The Bears have moved from a 2-7 record on Jan. 11, to a 9-9 tally at present. They have lost two games in their last nine, and these have been to Georgia Southern in Statesboro, and Carson-Newman at home; two of the Small College Top 20 in the nation."

Besides Baxter at the center spot, the Hatters will have to concern themselves with six-foot guard Bob Reeves. Only a junior, Reeves totaled 31 points against Georgetown College opening night of the Hatter Tourney. His "tremendous outside shooting" will be a bother to the Hatters in this return match, since he does not depend on the close-in lay-up for his points.

Other anticipated starters for Mercer include Jack Manton at guard, and Steve Moody and Sandy Harris at forwards.

The Hatters will start Hester at center, Bobby Jenkins and Tom Barnard at guards, and Bill Clark and Ronnie Moore at forwards.

Restaurantmen Hold First Place

Bob's Restaurant team is holding onto first place with a three-point win over the Sanford Manufacturing team to increase its league lead by four games over the second place Pryor's Insurance Company team. Eddie Monroe paced the restaurantmen with his 234 game and a 589 series while Jack Frost was high for the Manufacturers with a 219/587.

The American Legion Post 53 team moved into seventh place by slapping the second place Pryor's State Farm Insurance team for a clean four game sweep.

Harold (bumble bee) Appleby bombed the pins to the tune of a 591 series as well as a nice 235 game. Vergil Anderson was high for Pryor's with a 535 series.

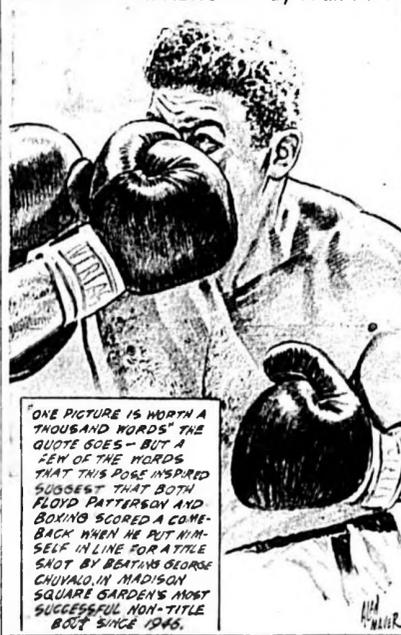

The Jet Lanes team ran into a buzz saw as they faced the Lake Monroe Inn bombers and were able to come up with only one win.

The Lake Monroe Inn team, in taking the three points, rolled the highest three game series to date, a 2864. John Kneeland and Harry Pentecost both rolled 600 series for Lake Monroe Inn as John tallied 225, 216 and 216 for a huge 657 and Harry shot 214/606.

Team Captain Larry Pivec backed them up with 203/562 while Paul Marcotte and John Spolski were the big guns for Jet Lanes with 219/583 and 238/582, respectively.

Cook's Corner held its fourth place spot with a three game win over Harry's Bar and Package team. Bob Guthrie was high for Cook's with a 215/584 series and Jesse (James) Cook scorched 'em in for Harry's with a 211/580 total. Willie Magito also chimed in with a 234 single game for Cook's. The Rose and Wilk's Restaurant team grabbed three points from Wisdom Sod Service as George Paulk rolled a 563 series and Bill Anderson and Gordon Honeycutt rolled 203 and 213, respectively. Al Chalfin was high for Wisdom with a 543 total.

Abraham Lincoln Tribute Paid By Fifth Graders

The fifth grade of South Side School presented a "Tribute to Abraham Lincoln" at school exercises under the direction of Mrs. Marguerite Dotson.

Narrator of the "Life of Abraham Lincoln" was Billy Martin and the flag salute was led by Holly Hoeller.

Several children performed an acrostic with the name of Lincoln and the Star Spangled Banner was sung. After the singing of the national anthem, Carla Jarrell presented the historical background, with accordion music by Paul Beaudette.

"Honest Abe," a musical reading by Renea Park was next with the poem, "Lincoln's Boyhood" recited by members of the class.

The historical background of a famous Civil War song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" was told by Cynthia Baker with a duet by Debbie Warfield and Dennis Carroll.

Joe Rawls gave Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and a poem "The Death of Lincoln" was given by Molly Bush.

"What Would Lincoln Say?" featured several class members on various subjects which was followed by the singing and historical background of the Battle Hymn of the Republic, by Billy Wiggins.

Soloists for this number were Bonnie Henderson, Susan Gallagher and Craig Taft. The program closed with an accordion solo, "America the Beautiful" by Paul Beaudette.

Draft Call Up, Nearly Doubled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense officials said sharp increase was in prospect for the draft call for April.

They said a call for 14,000 was expected, compared with a draft quota of about 7,900 previously set for March.

The March figure, itself, was an increase of 4,000 over the figure originally planned for that month.

The officials said the increase was due partly to a decline in voluntary enlistments and partly to a new policy of calling up replacements further in advance than in the past.

He Has Tricks In His Quiver

Girls, Think Twice Before You Say 'No' Once To Cupid

By Jerry Klein NEW YORK (NEA) — If you're a girl, you'd better think twice about giving him the brush-off.

History is full of females who said "No, thanks!" to proposals from men who worshipped them. All to often these rejected Romes went on to fame and fortune, while the women who spurned them lived to regret it.

After all, did you ever hear of Ellen Sewell, Margaret Helebe or Desiree Arden? Probably not. Yet if these girls had been a little wiser in the affairs of the heart, they might still be remembered as the wives, respectively, of philosopher Henry Thoreau, writer Sir Walter Scott and composer Peter Tchaikovsky.

Sad to say, they declined the hands of these gentlemen — every one of whom went on to big things without them!

Do any bells ring when you read the names of Adele Dalvin, Lette Buff or Rebecca Pardee?

Alexandre Dumas, highly successful French novelist, asked Miss Dalvin to be his love, but she declined. Lette Buff turned her back on Johann Wolfgang Goethe, who became one of the world's greatest poets and philosophers.

Rebecca Pardee is remembered only because she rejected a young Yankee lawyer named Noah Webster who became famous as a compiler of dictionaries.

Refused in marriage by Anne Coleman, James Buchanan never married, but went on to become America's only bachelor president.

Rebecca Hurwell lost her chance to become First Lady of the United States when she said "no" to the love light in Thomas Jefferson's eyes. And Catherine Floyd did the same when she spurned James Madison.

Before the Scottish poet Robert Burns published his first professional work, he was "seriously smitten by the charms" of a local farmer's daughter named Ellison Hagbie, but she refused to give him her heart.

Soon the darling of all Scotland, Burns had many a love affair and, before long, a wife, Jean Armour.

Scouts Prepare Flower Show Arrangements

Junior Girl Scout Troop 223 had an all-day cookout which included songs, games, campfire stew and roasting marshmallows around the fire. All Scouts were working on their "backyard fun" badge.

Sixth grade girls of the troop also are working on their needlecraft badge under the leadership of Mrs. Demaria Jones, who meets with Jennie Mills, Lynn Pruden, Susan Baker, Lynette Marcel, Donna Sawyers and Martha Parker.

Leaders of the troop, Mrs. Joyce Sawyers and Mrs. Margaret Burke, attended a workshop conducted by Mrs. Fred Ganas showing Scout leaders how to instruct Scouts in the art of flower arranging for the coming flower show at the Civic Center in March.

New patrol leaders and their assistants elected by the troop included Martha Parker, Carla Jarrell, Lily Wharton and Jennifer Burke, leaders, with Gail Cowan, Edith Walker, Susan Baker and Debbie Graham as assistants. Renea Park was named troop treasurer.

Sugared Orange Juice Eyed

WINTER HAVEN (UPI) — The Florida Citrus Commission may be asked to approve a proposal which would allow processors to add sugar to frozen orange concentrate.

The proposal won approval from the Florida Citrus Association.

It must be endorsed by the governor's concentrate quality committee before going to the commission, however.

Girls, Think Twice Before You Say 'No' Once To Cupid

Another man "richly blessed with the friendship of many girls" was the composer, Ludwig Van Beethoven. His name will live forever in the annals of music, but the woman who rejected him — Magdalena Willmann — is forgotten.

The great lover and romantic poet Lord Byron experienced "his strongest passion" as a youth when he fell in love with a Mary Ann Charworth.

However, she was not flattered by the romantic attentions of "the lame boy" and so refused the youth who became a poet of all time.

Marie Beaudette was asked in marriage by a young English journalist, but refused. His name was Charles Dickens.

Lastly, there's Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, one of the world's greatest composers. His romantic attentions were spurned by a singer named Aloysia Weber, so he married her sister!

Mize Cites County Court Needs

By Dottie Austin Four major needs of Seminole County were outlined to members of the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees Thursday by Vernon Mize, former county and juvenile judge.

Mize urged the Jaycees to consider lending their efforts toward:

(1) Establishment of a juvenile detention home in order to keep children under 17 from having to be placed in county jail;

(2) Hiring of additional juvenile court counseling personnel to provide better investigation and post-counseling help for children who come before juvenile court;

(3) Seeing that facilities for the temporary care of the mentally ill are established in the new wing of the hospital;

(4) Establishment of a guidance clinic for emotionally disturbed children.

"All these things cost money, and I would be the first to point this out. But all are things which Seminole County lacks and for which the needs increase every day," said Mize.

"Even though I am no longer county and juvenile judge I am still much interested in public service and I still abhor, as I always did, the necessity of ordering young children confined to a tiny cell. There are no provisions for any work for them. They have just have to sit in that cell for weeks, awaiting entrance to industrial schools."

"The weeping of these children and of their mothers haunts my days. We must overcome this cruel and inhuman situation," declared Mize.

"It is equally as cruel to have to confine a mentally ill person to the county jail. These people have done no wrong, but must be put some place while they are awaiting entrance into a state, or even a private mental institution. Jailers are not equipped to handle mentally ill persons — hospitals can be. I understand that provisions for this may be made in the new wing — I hope that this will not be neglected," he urged.

"The increase in adult mental illness could possibly and probably be lessened if we had guidance clinic facilities available to deal with children who are already emotionally disturbed and need special attention and handling."

"We are permitted to use the Orange County facilities, but the waiting list is much too long and this kind of delay allows a borderline case to sink even deeper into emotional disturbances," he pointed out.

"The one juvenile case which we have now, we cannot possibly handle all our problem children efficiently and of necessity, can only hit the high spots and pray for miracles," he declared.

"These social ills must be corrected. We all owe it to ourselves to be concerned and young men of the community should be especially strong in efforts to build a better community," Mize asserted.

"One man can't do it — it takes a great many people who express their concern to governing bodies who must appropriate the necessary funds to put these programs in action," he stated.

Mize pointed to the Foster Care Program which was brought about by pleas of the Juvenile Council, parent-teacher groups, women's clubs and other civic organizations after nearly two years of unrelenting effort.

Freedom Ends For Escapee After 29 years

JACKSON, Mich (UPI) — Prosecuting attorney James G. Fleming has indicated that escape charges probably will not be filed against a Texas carnival operator who enjoyed 29 years of freedom before his wife revealed he was an escaped convict.

The Texan, James R. Jones, 40, was returned to southern Michigan prison. He escaped from the prison's farm in 1936 after serving 18 months of a four to five year sentence for burglary in Lenawee County. Since then he has led an exemplary life, according to Texas friends.

Jones' estranged wife, Mary Ellen, 63, turned him in after an argument over her share of their real estate and business interests Feb. 1.

Texas friends have appealed to Michigan Gov. George Romney to parole Jones because he has been a good citizen.

'Goose Feathers' At Ritz

Melvin Frank, who produced and directed Universal's "Strange Bedfellows," in Technicolor now playing at the Ritz Theatre had to concern himself with the case of Lady Godiva.

The film will continue at the Ritz through Wednesday and is the first showing in Florida, according to the management.

All five Godivas, incidentally, were portrayed by luscious Gina Lollobrigida.

In the comedy which co-stars Gina with Rock Hudson, Gig Young and Edward Judd, Lady Godiva gets into the act when a London protest group led by Gina decides to reenact the celebrated ride through the streets of Coventry. Naturally, Miss Lollobrigida plays Lady Godiva in the sequence.

"Our problem was how historically accurate we could be without stirring a censor's sensors," Frank admitted. "As far as Gina was concerned, we could set our own limit of nudity. All we had to do was make the decision."

The decision was influenced by five different tests of Gina as Lady Godiva, utilizing different quantities of leotards.

TEMPESTUOUS and fiery Gina Lollobrigida matches Rock Hudson word for word in a family quarrel in "Strange Bedfellows," photographed in Technicolor.

wigs and falls to cover — and uncover — Gina properly. The original Lady Godiva needed no cover," Mel Frank pointed out, "because nobody saw her except that Coventry tailor, Peeping Tom. Our Lady Godiva will be urged by millions of moviegoers throughout the world, so she appears in 'Strange Bedfellows' nude — but not too nude."

More than most men, big men realize that troubles seldom come singly.

"Candid Chatter"

By Doris Williams
Society Editor

ONE AMONG ELEVEN from the entire student body of Clarke College, Newton, Miss., is something to crow about. The reference is made regarding a Sanford student, RICHARD BENNETT, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee Bennett, 220 Woodmere Boulevard, for his high scholastic honors in making the Dean's First List.

To attain the first list, a student must have a 3.0 average or a straight "A" record. Congratulations, Richard.

LYNN McROBERTS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McRoberts, 226 N. Scott Avenue, has been placed on the first semester honor roll at Howey Academy, Howey-in-the-Hills, according to Dr. C. A. Vaughn Jr., Academy headmaster.

This honor roll distinction is not novel to the popular Miss McRoberts since she has maintained the necessary average to attain this achievement since her enrollment at the Academy. Cheers, Lynn!

JOYCE RUSSELL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hersbell Russell Jr., 717 Cherokee Circle, and a senior at Seminole High School, has been named Co-ed Correspondent, according to an announcement by Miss Margaret Hauser, editor of Co-ed Magazine.

Her appointment was made by MISS BARBARA RUPRECHT, home economics at Seminole High School, and she was selected for her qualities of leadership and her enthusiasm for home economics.

Miss Russell will serve as junior advisor to the editors of Co-ed, a national magazine for teen-age girls, and she will keep them informed of activities at Seminole High School.

More than 4,000 Co-ed Correspondents throughout the United States and Canada report regularly, and Seminole County is fortunate in being represented by the capable Joyce Russell.

ONE AMONG SEVEN out of 129 refers to MISS JENNIFER ANN THOMPSON, daughter of Lt. and Mrs. George L. Thompson, 208 Temple Drive.

Jennifer Ann was recently accepted and pledged Alpha Tau Chapter of Phi Mu, National Honor Society at Florida Southern College, Lakeland. She is another of our Sanford students who maintains the high scholastic average, requisite necessary for membership in this society.

Miss Thompson was graduated from Seminole High School with the class of 1964 and was the recipient of a General Scholarship Loan for the preparation of teachers. In high school she had the distinction of being secretary of the National Honor Society and also the secretary of the senior class.

Jennifer is majoring in elementary education, so "touché" to our lovely future "school marm."

MEMO TO THE CHIEF COOK AND BOTTLE WASHER — Dine sumptuously next Saturday, February 20, with all your family and friends at an authentic Swedish Smorgasbord sponsored by the Ethel Root Circle of the Congregational Christian Church, 24th at Park.

This is the 13th year the circle has sponsored this elaborate feast, and throughs gather from far and near to sample the cuisine of these culinary experts. Over 45 dishes will be featured, fit for a king and savory enough for the most discriminate gourmet and connoisseur.

The mouth-watering menu will be served buffet style and the ladies reveal that to be in style, seconds are the order of the day. They will be insured unless their handed-down recipes are given the full taste-testing treatment.

Carry-out service is available with the gala feast beginning at 4 p. m. and lasting through 7 p. m. A nominal donation is asked, so gals believe yourself of the K.P. detail next Saturday and plan to dine in the elegance of Swedish atmosphere.

their worthwhile enterprises and their untiring efforts in self preparation for future community citizens.

When the United Fun "kicks off" next fall, remember our boys and dig deep into your pockets to continually keep these anniversaries bigger and better every year for the 1,900 Boy Scouts of Seminole County.

CONCERT MINDED, anyone? A choice few Sanfordites are fortunate enough to hold season's tickets to the Mutual Concert Series, which has two more delightful performances scheduled.

Recently had the pleasure of spending a marvelous afternoon at the fashionable Loch Arbor home of Frank and Elizabeth Mebane.

Elizabeth had just returned from having lunch with Phyllis Curtin, soloist featured in "La Traviata," and was all "hepped up" over the Opera tonight in Orlando.

The exuberant and enthusiastic Elizabeth prompted me to become a bit more interrogatory than usual as she described a most eventful day and the grand event in store.

"By the way, Elizabeth, what's next for Sanford through the Mutual Concert Series?"

"We're in," she beamed. "Henry Mazer is definitely bringing the Florida Symphony to Sanford."

"Really, C'mon, give out, promise not to tell a soul."

Elizabeth gave out with a broad smile as if to say, "Better keep my mouth shut unless I want The Herald to publish this choice morsel of news."

She finally revealed that the Florida Symphony will appear here on Tuesday, March 2 at the Civic Center. This will be a "Pops Concert" featuring leading tunes from smashing Broadway Shows. The affable Mr. Mazer graciously consented to bringing the Florida Symphony here due to the many requests from Sanfordites who have been fortunate enough to hear the famed maestro and his musicians.

Elizabeth and I both agreed that this performance will no doubt be the most grandiose and cultural event known to Sanford in many moons. She and Frank have already had the pleasure of hearing the magnificent musical program and she highly indorses and recommends that all who have season's tickets to make use of them.

"The Pops Concert is magnificent, splendor and sublimity personified," the lovely Elizabeth emphatically stated.

"Wouldn't it be great if the Sanford socialites dragged out their ball gowns and went metropolitan for the eminent Mr. Mazer?" I queried.

"Well this symphony is definitely deserving of the full red carpet treatment," Elizabeth added.

Chatting with the composed and unaffected Mrs. Mebane was enchanting and merits an encore. She is an alumnus of Coker College, Hartsville, S.C. with Frank claiming Davidson College in North Carolina as his Alma Mater. They share simultaneous enthusiasm for all aspects of culture, and take an avid interest in bringing cultural background into the community.

The Mebanes have been on the Board of Directors for the Mutual Concert Association for ten years, are members of the Associate Board of the Florida Symphony Orchestra and are personal friends of the distinguished Mr. Mazer and his lovely wife. The three Mebanes, Shelly, Frank III and Gay are already sharing Mama's and Papa's enthusiasm for culture and the fine arts.

Following a delightful afternoon with Elizabeth, called on friend, KAY BARTHOLOMEW, to verify facts and figures. The vivacious Kay has more "on the ball" than a team of wild horses. She urges all holders of concert season's tickets to mark the calendar for March 2 and by all means plan to spend an evening enveloped in the magic of music to be presented by the Florida Symphony.

Kay related that she had received a letter from the Public Relations Director of the Symphony and many Orlandoans have requested tickets for the Sanford performance. President Vernon Mize informed Kay to dispatch a "sorry, Charlie," but the performance is for concert members only, who have a season's membership.

So to the fortunate Sanfordites who are members, consider yourselves in the exclusive elite category as you start preparing for the Florida Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Henry Mazer.

NATIONAL CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH WEEK is also being observed this week. Most youngsters have a decided distaste for their tooth doctor and with good reason, but mama cracks the whip so Junior and Susie are compelled to submit to the drudgery.

After approaching adulthood, many become careless and dodge friend Dentist like the plague until the time their "cultured pearls" have to be replaced with man made mechanism.

A trip to the Dentist's den may go something like this. You are cordially escorted to a plush chamber by a 35-24-36 professional hostess (assistant) in immaculate white. There in the dimly lit lair, you recline on a comfortable chaise longue contoured to fit your curves. You are told to relax, that this is only for consultation. Presently provocative stereo music fills the atmosphere and you are automatically transformed into an incurable romanticist. The Dentist enters the inner sanctum at precisely the exact moment and in a soothing, tranquillizing, sex appealing voice comes up with, "Hello you gorgeous doll, how are we doing today?"

You no doubt answer with, "Hi ya handsome hunk o' humanity."

"Comly, sweet? Let's put our lovely head back and open your beautiful mouth."

Answer: UMMMMMM! (long sigh).

At this our debonair Dentist daringly explains, "Well, dream girl, you really didn't need that lil' gem I stole from you. After all, it was only a cultured pearl! What we really want for you is a genuine gem, a crown, no less, an imported South Seas pearl encrusted with the jewels of your choice... diamonds, rubies, emeralds, just name them. The best is not nearly exclusive enough for your natural beauty."

Now this super selling Sam is a natural and you are already convinced, but the grand finale for the sale is finalized when a beacon is flashed from overhead into your face and he drags out a set of falsies (choppers, that is) to further explain your needs, as the gentle gentleman, becomes a "brain washing" beast.

You question the price and at this point he hands you a hand mirror and in a threatening monotone quips, "What price beauty?"

The glaring light has caused the flow of perspiration and you gawk at the monstrosity reflected in the mirror (which is purposely defective). The mascara and eye shadow are running off your face and a series of new lines has appeared. "All right, all right, you're the winner, but how much, Doc?"

He displays all 32 of his dentures in a sly satisfying smirk as he quotes you the exorbitant figures without batting an eye.

Amiably agreeing, but bankruptcy bound, you ironically add, "What price beauty? Why several thousand dollars, you money making mad maniacal medico." (Doris Dies Diamond, Doc not Daises).

Noted Photographer Shows Cultural Movies In Oviedo

By Evelyn Lundy Mrs. Maude Coates of Oviedo, recently entertained a group of friends at her home on North Lake Jessup Dr.

The occasion was to introduce her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Painter of Port Washington in Long Island. Mr. Painter was for many years an outstanding professional photographer for Twentieth-Century-Fox Studios. He has traveled all over the world many times, taking movies of various places and people. He has accompanied President Roosevelt and President Eisenhower on many trips abroad.

During the evening he showed several of his movies which were most interesting and inspiring. Among those he showed were: "A Trip Up The Nile," beginning with Egypt and showing the beautiful and colorful cities and countryside.

"Tears of Pearl" was the story of how pearls are planted and cultivated in the very picturesque rivers of Japan. "The Dominion State of Virginia" showed scenes of Richmond and of historic Williamsburg, another was a short movie of fishing for large Tuna off the coast of Bimini.

"The Flying Circus" of F.S.U. was particularly interesting. "Survival City," which incidentally received an Academy Award, and which most of us have seen many times was the explosion of the atomic bomb and the effects it had on a model city in Nevada.

The last movie Mr. Painter showed was the beautiful and colorful Cypress Gardens and of many fantastic ski acts. After showing of the movies, Mrs. Coates served refreshments in her dining room. The dining table was covered with a cut-work white linen cloth. An arrangement of pink camellias was used as a centerpiece. Mrs. Coates poured coffee from an antique coffee service. Cakes, cookies, nuts and mints were also served.

Those enjoying the delightful evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Niblack, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKinnon and Mr. and Mrs. John Lundy.

Bridal Reception Tea Honors Miss Patty Walker

In a setting of soft glowing candlelight, the lovely Loch Arbor home of the Jack Schirrad created an enchanting bridal atmosphere Wednesday afternoon as Miss Patty Walker, popular bride-elect of Thomas A. Speer, was complimented with an elaborate reception tea.

Forming the receiving line with the lovely honoree were her mother, Mrs. Leon Walker; her fiance's mother, Mrs. G. A. Speer Jr.; and the hostesses, Mrs. Schirrad and Mrs. Henry E. Tooke. The ladies were all elegant in colorful chic spring fashions as they received the guests during the appointed hours.

A bridal and Valentine theme was carried out in the decor adorned with arrangements of the festive reception area, assorted spring blossoms. Centering the refreshment table, which was overlaid in exquisite Italian cut linen, was a single perfect pink rose bud in a sterling silver vase, accented on either side by tall tapered glowing in antique silver candelabra. The chandelier above the table was adorned with lace and blossoms in replica of a Colonial bridal bouquet with white satin streamers cascading to the table centerpiece.

Dainty open-face bell-shaped sandwiches, heart-shaped petit fours and toasted nuts were served from silver and crystal appointments with coffee and punch poured from antique silver service and a silver punch bowl.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a sweetheart rose corsage and a gift of crystal in her chosen pattern. Floating hostesses were Shirley Higgins, Joyce Covington and Claire Fite. Others included in the guest list were the Meses, W. R. Jennings, June Brodie, Paullette White, Kathy Bukur, Frank Bunnell, C. O. Jones, M. L. Nichols, Ralph Ray, Joe Orseno, Frank Stenstrom, Irving Fleischer and W. W. Tyre. Also the Meses, Joseph Saunders, A. L. Lyon, Curtis Hughes, Sara King, A. S. McCallum, H. R. Laing, L. J. Roman Jr., Ginger Moran, Willard Jones, Edgar Bruce, C. P. Harkey, Marjorie McCricken and Ray Heron. Also the Meses, John Dickey, Curtis Lavender, Patsy Es-

Strokes Show No Discrimination In Age Or Sex

Strokes are the nation's number three killer, after heart disease and cancer. No respect for age or sex, strokes strike suddenly, often with devastating effects. Now, says Dr. Paul Dudley White, one of the nation's best known heart specialists, many candidates for strokes can be identified by their physicians and preventive measures taken.

Young people whose mothers or fathers have had strokes should guard against excessive weight, smoke little or not at all (since smoking increases blood pressure), and should be physically active. Physicians advise Dr. White, should record certain basic information about such patients: blood pressure, electrocardiogram, heart and lung X-ray, blood cholesterol, and fasting blood sugar. From time to time this data should be updated and studied for any significant change.

She attended the open house with her husband. The Byers have two other children who were unable to be present, Arnet Evans Byers of Hammond, Ind., and Mrs. Olin Gaskill, Attica, Ind. 'Entertaining And Hobbies' Featured At Sorority Meet

The Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Vermelle (Ed) Peterson. Vice President Betty (Clarke) Brustle presided at the meeting during the absence of the president. Election of a nominating committee was held with Pat (Vernon) Hardin, Sue (E. C.) Harper Jr. and Jessie (Al) Shaw being selected. They will meet and bring a report of their slate of officers to the meeting of March 8. Plans were discussed for the Valentine Social to be held this Saturday night at the Capri. Members were reminded to arrive at approximately 7:30 p.m. for a social hour. Mysterious plans were also discussed for a Treasure Hunt and cook-out to be held March 13 at 6:00 p.m. The Social Committee would say no more, which left everyone thinking that they must have a few surprises up their sleeves! The program was presented by Team 4 on "Entertaining and Hobbies." Audrey (G. Andrew) Speer gave a few hints on giving a party. She stated that hor d'oeuvres are very important and that you should make plenty of them as they serve as an antidote for possible boredom. She also stated that the word "hor d'oeuvres" is always pronounced in the singular form. Centerpieces need not always be of flowers, they can be fruits, vegetables or anything that suits the occasion. Good sense and good cooking always make for a more pleasant meal by taking into consideration the color, texture and contrast of the food to be served along with the type weather outside. Discussion was held on some foreign dishes and their origins such as kabobs, curries, pilaff, mole and jambalaya. Salads make an exciting addition to any meal and need plenty of tender loving care in preparation. The green leaves should be handled gently and washed the day before and stored to chill and crisp. They should never be cut but torn in preparation for a salad. Members then discussed

'Moon Man' Laughs At His Competitors

ST. AUGUSTINE (UPI)—They all laughed when farmer Eli Thigpen planted potatoes in October, three months earlier than anyone had ever heard of.

Thigpen was chuckling to himself as he continued harvesting 20 acres of potatoes "pretty as you can find anywhere," that are worth, he says, a $20,000 profit because his neighbors' crops are still in the ground.

Thigpen, of nearby Hastings, took a gamble and planted the Red Lasodas on Oct. 4, three months ahead of the usual planting time in this area.

He expects to harvest 4,000 bags, 100 pounds to the bag. He expects to make a net profit of $5 on each bag.

Milton Owens, supervisor of government inspectors in this area, described the potatoes.

"They are as pretty as you can find anywhere. It's an un-

Social Security Hints Outlined To Farmers

Thousands of self-employed farmers and their dependents have retired with Social Security benefits since 1954 when Congress extended coverage to this group. Today another 4.5 million people whose living depends on farming are building social security protection against the loss of income resulting from old age, disability or death.

Urging farmers in this area to file prompt and accurate income and earnings reports for 1964, Col. Byron R. Patton, Social Security district manager, pointed out that failure to do so may result in reduced social security benefits or the loss of benefits.

"Now is a good time," Colonel Patton said, "for farmers to examine their records to see what they must report on their Federal income returns for the past year."

Also, he said, low income farmers can build social security protection. Colonel Patton cited a special optional provision in the law which enables farmers whose net earnings are less than $400 to acquire social security credits. It works like this:

If a farmer's gross income from farm self-employment is between $600 and $1,800, he may count two thirds of his gross farm income as net income for Social Security.

If gross farm income is over $1,800 and net farm earnings are less than $1,200, he may report either his actual net or $1,200.

Under this provision a farmer with annual gross income as low as $600 can report net earnings as $400, or two thirds of his gross income, to get social security credit for that year.

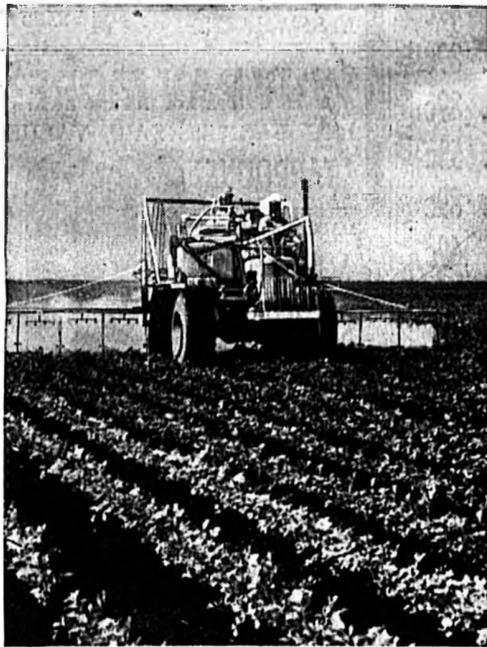

Information regarding social security taxes and tax return forms can be obtained at the Internal Revenue service office at 2820 North Orange Avenue, Orlando. Questions about old-age, survivors and disability benefits should be taken up with the Social Security office at 2520 North Orange Avenue, Orlando.

District PTA Board Meets

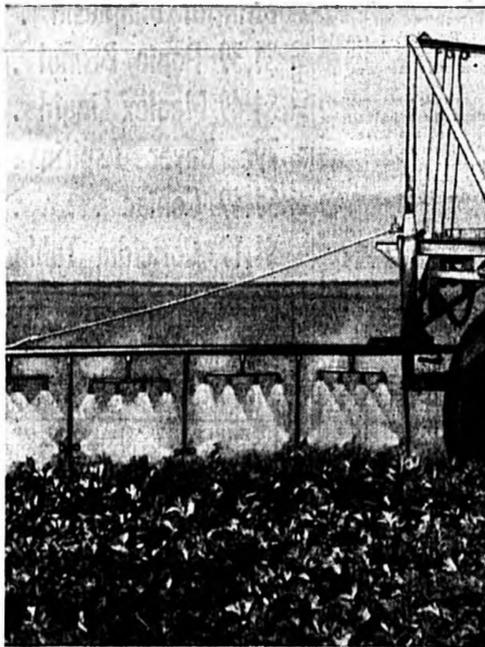

By Julia Bartos
The executive board of the District Council of Parent-Teacher Associations met Monday in Titusville to discuss plans for future general meetings of the district.

Local representatives attending were Mrs. Lawrence Swofford, district vice president, and Mrs. George Hearn, president of the Seminole County Council. Both are from Altamonte Springs.

Next meeting of the Seminole Council will be held at South Seminole Junior High School in Casselberry at 9:30 a.m. next Thursday. A Founder's Day program will be presented.

Early and mid-season control with Phosdrin hits insects hard, cleans them up fast.

Close-to-harvest insect control with Phosdrin gives you an unbeatable way to insure crop quality.

Now, Phosdrin is an all-season insecticide —vegetable growers are using its hard-hitting control and fast disappearance in every spray.

The special effectiveness that has always made Phosdrin[®] insecticide profitable for late-season use is now protecting vegetables throughout their growth. Here's why:

The 5- to 7-day spray schedules authorities now recommend have changed the role of Phosdrin. With its rapid speed of kill and near-perfect insect control, Phosdrin is extremely effective in the new short-interval spray schedules.

Also important in the new programs: Phosdrin is competitive on a cost per acre basis and its fast disappearance eliminates problems.

Insects and residues both vanish. A Phosdrin spray cleans up a broad spectrum of insects in a matter of minutes—aphids, mites, loopers, worms, almost all destructive pests attacking vegetables. Because control is so thorough, insects can't build to damaging levels between sprays. And, of course, accidental drift to a nearby field also disappears rapidly.

Phosdrin makes it easy to avoid problems—all season and close to harvest. It's gone from the field a few hours after application.

Complete control is economical. Phosdrin alone, protects lettuce, tomatoes, beans, peppers, celery, watermelons, eggplant and many other vegetables. There's no need to add another insecticide and raise costs... even if resistant insects are present. Phosdrin stops them too. And it offers a wide margin of safety to leaves and fruit of insecticide-sensitive crops like cucumbers and lettuce.

A little Phosdrin goes a long way. As little as 1/4 pound per acre is all it takes to end the damage of most vegetable insects. Dosage rates seldom exceed 1/4 pound per acre. Check into costs and consider the overall protection Phosdrin gives you and your crop, and you'll see why it pays to use Phosdrin all season.

Phosdrin is available from your local insecticide dealer under many well-known brand names, or as a product of Shell. In liquid or dust.

Shell Chemical Company, Agricultural Chemicals Division, 55 Marietta Street, N.W., Atlanta 3, Georgia.

Always read and carefully follow label directions.

If Lincoln Were Alive

It was one hundred years ago—on April 14, 1865—that Abraham Lincoln was assassinated.

What would he think if he were here to observe his birthday with the rest of the nation?

He would have to wonder what has slowed us down in attaining the brotherhood of man for which he fought and died a century ago.

He might well marvel at the obstinacy of the human race in failing to heed the lessons so tragically and dramatically offered in the bloody War Between the States.

He perhaps would be astonished to find that the poverty into which he was born and reared still prevails so largely in a land of plenty.

He could not help but be gratified that his name remains a century later, a symbol of freedom, compassion and selfless dedication to his country.

He could understand better than most that the President of the United States must be resigned to ceaseless criticism and open hostility even as he receives worldwide recognition of his leadership and power.

He might find comfort in seeing that after generations of stagnation the great issue which split the nation in his day is at last being resolved at an ever-quickening pace.

And in his wisdom he would comprehend that the differences which now confuse his country and engulf the world can in truth be composed through the same patient understanding and love of fellow man that have made Abraham Lincoln timeless and immortal.

A grateful nation again observes the birthday of a giant. It does it with respect and reverence, regardless of race, creed or politics.

'Nice Hitching Post'

Congratulations are in order for our City Commissioners.

They made an historic forward stride this week when they agreed to permanently banish parking meters from the local scene.

The posts will come up and the holes filled and Sanford will join other progressive cities in this respect.

We realize the tight financial situation which face commissioners. We realize also that they have a monumental task in administering the affairs of a city such as this.

We know they have many places in which they can use every 100 cents of every dollar.

But we realize, too, that there is a tomorrow and many days after that in which the city must continue to progress.

City Commissioners currently have many projects under way, the most important of which is the Riverport Marina.

It's heartening to residents to read of the inch-by-inch steps being taken to awaken Sanford and, in turn, awaken Florida to the fact there is a Sanford.

The parking meters are gone. Without the progress being made by our commissioners they could have been left in place.

Would have made a nice hitching post.

Thought For Today

Then he said to them nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.—Luke 21:10.

War is not an act of God but a crime of man.—Cordell Hull, former U.S. secretary of state.

Phil Newsom Says

Valued Textbook

In Venezuela, terrorists blow up an oil pipeline.

In Argentina, bandits stage the third successful bank robbery in 10 days.

In Colombia, Castro-type guerrillas seize a village, kill three policemen and neatly ambush an army patrol.

These are all recent events and in at least the cases of Venezuela and Colombia clearly were politically inspired.

The Argentine bank robberies may or may not have had political connections but were of a pattern used successfully by Venezuela's National Liberation group (FALN) to finance its activities.

In any event, they were reminders that despite gains under the Alliance for Progress, violence continues to lurk just below the surface in many a Latin American nation.

Some, although not all, is Castro-inspired.

Two of the leaders of the Colombian band which early in January seized the village in the north central province of Santander and made off with money and drugs were known to have spent time in Cuba.

In New York to attend the opening of the United Nations General Assembly not long ago, Ernesto Che Guevara, one of Castro's top aides, identified both Colombia and Venezuela as continuing Castro targets. He also mentioned Guatemala.

"The road to the liberation of peoples which will be the road of socialism, will go through bullets in almost all countries," promised the bearded Guevara. He added:

"We have helped some of our Latin American companions to acquire some military knowledge. It would not be moral for us not to assist them."

Guevara's handbook of guerrilla warfare is one of the most valued texts of Latin American terrorists.

One of the more hopeful signs that Latin America may yet emerge in the image set for it under the Alliance for Progress is a growing awareness among Latin American governments of their own responsibilities.

Aided by funds granted the alliance by the United States, most Latin American nations showed an encouraging economic growth in the last year.

In efforts to achieve economic and social stability Brazil proved a special and unexpected bright light.

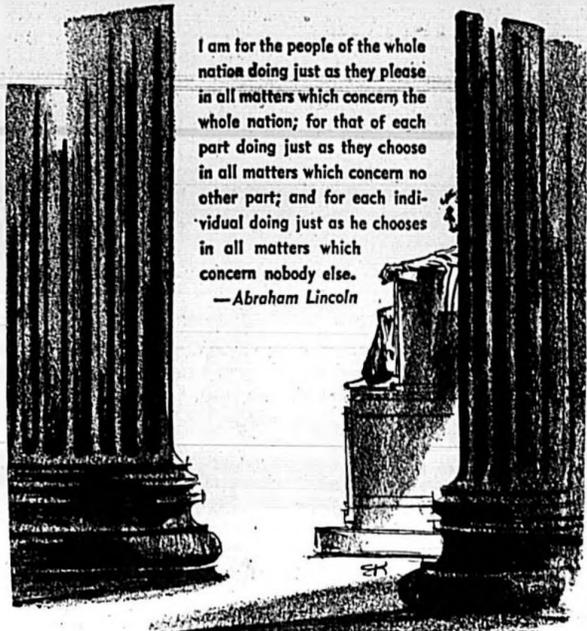

But in their December meeting in Lima, Peru, Latin American leaders themselves recognized that overall results had been poor in such key areas as agrarian reform, education, public health, inflation control and investment for growth.

Colombia is an example of a nation in which runaway inflation has hurt the national development program, and provided the Castroites with new ammunition for unrest.

There are other difficulties. Argentina was said recently to have uncovered a band of Nazi terrorists who were plotting against Argentine Jews.

High Chilean officials have declared themselves fearful of attempted military coups in both Argentina and Peru. They believe enthusiastic support for Brazil's military regime may inspire other officers to political ambitions elsewhere.

But the hopeful thing is the new conviction among Latin Americans that if they are to be helped, first they must help themselves.

I am for the people of the whole nation doing just as they please in all matters which concern the whole nation; for that of each part doing just as they choose in all matters which concern no other part; and for each individual doing just as he chooses in all matters which concern nobody else.

—Abraham Lincoln

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Time is slipping by in the Congo.

The Communists have set up training camps in next-door Sudan and Uganda, brought in foreign advisers, upped their supply of weapons to the rebels.

This is the classic Communist pattern for a long, drawn-out effort at taking over a country.

U. S. officials are consulting themselves with knowledge that in their initial efforts the Reds have not achieved much success. They're reportedly having as much difficulty in instilling discipline in the rebels as the Belgians are in training the nationalist troops of Prime Minister Moise Tshombe.

Some of these undisciplined rebel groups, in fact, are abandoning their weapons in considerable numbers.

Within the U. S. government there is a certain amount of optimistic thinking that the Communists won't ever be able to weld these Congolese tribesmen into fighters.

Administration men also point out that some Congo rebel tribal groups are allied to unhappy minority tribes in the Sudan and Uganda. The leaders of these two nations risk the danger these arms will be turned back against themselves.

All this sounds bad for the Communist cause and gives good cheer to U. S. officials. But historically this is the haphazard way in which Red agents begin the takeover of underground movements. At the start, all is confusion.

The hard core starts building in the midst of this confusion. The Red agents see which leaders pan out in the scramble, then back them if they're manageable. The Communists see to it that the unmanageable ones are killed in the turmoil.

If history repeats itself, the Red military advisers and political organizers will build tough, disciplined cadres, if given enough time.

The Reds brought discipline to the Pathet Lao that old Lao hands still find unbelievable.

In most countries, this build-up has taken years. The history of Communist movements in Korea, China, Laos, Viet Nam and elsewhere indicates the Reds are willing to spend a decade or more to establish the hard bases they want.

But it is also written in history that the United States and the West traditionally have given the Communists the time they need to establish themselves before reacting strongly.

When we haven't given them time, the Reds have failed.

It is still not too late for us to act in the Congo. If we are to be successful, it will be a long, slow job.

We need to build the administrative ability of the Congo government officials. But even more importantly, we need to teach the Congo government ways to draw minority non-Communist tribal groups into its political system.

What's needed is practical ward politics, at which Americans are particularly adept.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

The oldest child usually is taught responsibility whereas the younger is more likely to be a "buck-passer." For the oldest child is told to "Look after your little brother" so he is trained to be a "buck-receiver." Discuss this classical case at PTA meetings, and send for the Rating Scale below.

George W. Crane, Ph. D., M.D. CASE V-411: When one of our younger sons was about 8 years old, he used to join the family in a card game.

And he never wanted to be dealt a hand. Instead, he'd stay out of the game till the rest had been dealt their cards.

Then he'd sibow his way upon my lap or take the next chair and want to play my hand.

And he often did a superb job of it, too.

"Come on," the older children would exclaim when it came time to start a new game.

"We'll deal you a hand of your own."

But he would disclaim interest in the game, though he'd again want to take over my cards and play my hand.

His behavior is a classical example of the tendency of people to shun responsibility! For while he was playing my hand, he had all the fun of the game but if he lost, it was my misfortune!

In business and the professions we often find a similar tendency to shun jobs that involve responsibility.

For example, many medical interns will then take an additional hospital residency of 3 to 5 more years.

During this time, they have all the fun of diagnosing and operating on private patients belonging to their "boss."

For it is their attending doctor who must take the gaff if anything goes wrong.

It isn't the intern who must face the patient's family but the attending doctor!

In fact, it is often true that if a young medic spends five years playing second fiddle to doctors who are in private practice, then that young medic becomes unfit for private practice!

For he learns to lean upon his "boss" and thus subconsciously shuns private practice, because then he himself must shoulder the full responsibility if anything goes wrong.

Many talented young men in business offices and factories also will decline promotions because they are afraid of being the final man to whom the buck is passed.

President Truman apparently understood this psychological point fully when he had this sign on his executive desk:

"The buck stops here!"

You parents should thus be doubly cautious lest you indirectly predispose your child to become a "leaner" who prefers to pass the buck and avoid responsibility.

Teach your child to finish his tasks with a flourish instead of leaving them just half done!

Encourage him to stand on his own feet, as by operating a newspaper route (then which there is no better financial training possible).

Praise your child for his independent thinking and his original ideas.

Tactfully load small bits of responsibility upon him and thus get him educated to being a "buck-receiver" instead of merely a "buck-passer."

Send for my 200-page "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Sanford Herald, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Barbs

When a golfer tosses some grass into the air, he's often testing the wind as a possible alibi when he slices into the rough.

Whatever became of the pestiferous kid brother who hung around when his older sister and her beau wanted to be alone? He's out holding hands with his own "steady."

day, but don't take any action on them just yet. Wait a better day. Make your plans wisely, easily and study hard.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 21 to Jan. 20)—Listening to the ideas of experts is wise, but be sure to look also to the idealistic side as well as the material. Be a bit sacrificing with chums. Show you have the right spirit.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18)—You have to be willing to do less talking and more listening if you want to have greater accord with partners. Don't be forceful. Then you get their full cooperation.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20)—Get things done in a nice, quiet way and don't try to force those around you. Depend pretty much upon yourself. You have a propensity for making the take on an appealing flavor.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those very remarkable people who have an uncanny way of whitening a project down to workable size and will readily get others to cooperate in making such very successful. Fine mind here for solving problems of all kinds—give a good education, spiritual and moral training.

MONDAY, FEB. 12, 1965

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Your desire today is to put some pretty big plans into effect that have considerable scope to their action, but forcing anything today or tonight could get you in touch with some pretty important persons who have the power to get you back on your heels in short order. Take time out to charm others this Monday with a smile—a pat on the back—a word to please.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—You feel that you must first have a good time before settling down to business, but this is erroneous. Don't be demanding of this problem. Affairs early in a most positive fashion.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)—If you do not sidestep arguments you are apt to get into deep trouble owing to the full moon. Be patient—be dramatic with kin. Keep focused on practical affairs and labor with avision.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Show generosity instead of criticism with good friends if you want to get most out of life. Straighten out. You require more data. Study such with meticulous attention. Be sure.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—Believing that you can purchase your way out of predicaments is not wise today or you wind up in worse position than before. Learn to be more economical. Then all straightens out properly.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23)—While you desire certain things of a personal nature, it is best not to be driven by them. In trying to attain them, don't be critical of others, either. Look first within yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 22)—Letting rid of anxieties requires that you be very observant and look at them in a most objective way. Don't go out looking for an argument. Have a conciliatory attitude instead.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Rather than argue in order to get what you want from good pals, be kind and considerate. Living the "Golden Rule" is indeed the only answer to overcome tough situations easily.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Taking risks with those in power is unwise and it behooves you to gain greater good will with public in general. Come through with promise made. Safeguard your reputation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Be sure to carry through with obligations even though there are fascinating appeals all around. Watch out for any framework others may be planning. Be alert always.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—If you follow those erroneous hunches, you could certainly get into a pretty pickle now. Study plans you have in mind very carefully. Await better day before putting them into operation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18)—Follow that desire to come to better terms with partners, and excellent opportunities open up for you operate in orthodox fashion. Speak clearly, not too.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20)—Much work is before you which can be handled quickly and efficiently if you stop procrastinating or using alibis. Impass others with your ambition. Be willing to do more than is necessary, or expected.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those children who early will require a pat on the back in order to take the incentive to do best work possible. Make sure that his or her teachers are equally encouraging and then you get some remarkable responses here, otherwise it can be just the opposite, the kind.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel!" What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's individual forecast for your sign for March is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1.00 to Carroll Righter Forecast, The Sanford Herald, Box 1121, Hollywood 38, California.

Highlights TV Time Previews

8:30-9:00 p.m. NBC. The Bob Hope Comedy Special. A truly all-star cast tonight, headed by Jack Carson, Carroll Baker, Louis Prima and Johnny Carson. After Bob delivers his opening monologue, he and Carson do a take-off on the "Tonight" Show, with Hope in the driver's seat and Carson as a guest. Miss Baker does a spoof on "The Woman From A.U.N.T." with Bob Hope as her enemy. Jack Jones plugs his new record, "I Can't Believe I'm Losing You," and joins Hope in singing a comedy duet. Louis Prima presents segments of his new night-club act, featuring Glen Malone, including "Old Man River," "Lost" and "That Old Black Magic." A well-rounded, funny show.

7:30-8:00 p.m. ABC. International Showtime "Circus From Norway." Arthur Reinson is an excellent animal trainer and his feats with both horses and camels provide the show with its best moments. The rest of the time is taken up with acrobatics, juggling and just a touch of clowning.

8:30-9:00 p.m. ABC. The Farmer's Daughter "Elti Katy." A sudden onslaught of spring fever, plus some outside advice, prompt Katy into moving into her own apartment and getting herself into circulation. As you might expect, most of her circulation is Glen and his object is to get her to move back as soon as possible.

9:30-10 p.m. NBC. Jack Benny Program "The Stradivarius Story." Not one of Jack's guests is Stuart Canin, he nostalgic inclinations, you won't want to miss it. Jack's guest is Stuart Canin, the concert violinist, who, at ten (28 years ago) was used by Fred Allen to prove that he could get a 10-year-old to play the violin better than Benny. Canin plays a solo, then joins Jack in a duet to the number that started it all, "The Be." The skill of the evening is about Stradivarius.

9:30-10 p.m. ABC. FDR "Forgotten Men." This half hour delves into the various moves made and proposed by FDR in his efforts to break the back of the depression. The enormity of the task of providing food, clothing, shelter and employment for the lost and homeless is barely suggested here, but you come away with a feeling for the perilous economic times our nation went through in the thirties.

10-11 p.m. CBS. Slattery's People "Question: How Do You Catch A Cool Bird Of Paradise?" A nerve-wracking episode, dealing as it does with drug addiction and some of the suggested ways to combat it. The story is a bit heavily contrived, but considering the vital nature of the issue, that fact can be overlooked. The plot concerns the obsessed crusade launched by the father of a brilliant boy murdered by a couple of addicts. Before the story runs its course, the father learns something about himself and quite a bit more about his son. Simon Oakland plays the father convincingly and you'll not only learn something about addiction and pushers, you'll see how these subjects become political footballs.

10-11 p.m. NBC. The Jack Paar Program (Color) A mixed bag tonight. Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme drop in to sing a couple of duets, "This Could Be the Start of Something Big" and "True Love," and Steve tells a couple of anecdotes about their son David and about show business. Jackie Vernon advises how to meet girls in unlikely places and talks about how he's writing a book. Paar takes a sardonic approach to the Selma, Ala., registration incidents. Card expert John Scarne shows you how to cut the cards and how to spot a crooked dealer and does some card tricks. And Robert Morley is on hand for an exercise in the art of conversation.

10-11 p.m. ABC. 12 O'Clock High "The Clash." Savage and a German siren end up in the same boat (literally) as each of them is forced to crash land in the sea. The injured German has a gun and forces Savage to row in the

WHAT DOES IT ALL ADD UP TO?

In the well-known city where this young fellow is growing up crime has shown a steady increase for more than a decade. And many of the convicted offenders aren't old enough to vote. Rough-looking "kidds" loiter on the street corners with nothing to do. Smooth-looking "kidds" flash by in cars with no place to go. The police patrol certain beats with dogs — humanity alone cannot cope with the situation. But this young fellow must grow up nevertheless. And for him... for the community... for the nation... tomorrow depends on how he grows up!

It all adds up to the most crying need of our time: early, continuing, determined moral and religious instruction. It demands spiritual awareness in our homes. It requires resolute, sacrificial support of our churches.

In every city, village and hamlet an awakened nation is mustering its total spiritual resources... seeking God's help... and seeking yours...

Sandy Anderson Developed Mart

SANDY ANDERSON

Sandy Anderson, of 810 Palmetto Avenue, credited more than any other man with the firm development of the Sanford State Farmers Market, died Saturday after a long illness. He was 80.

Sandy retired from the business some time ago due to his health and had been more or less confined to his home most of the time.

He was born on a farm in Eatonton, Ga., and had to quit school when he was 10 years of age. Even at that age, he was well-acquainted with work, having picked cotton after school. He received 20 cents for every 100 pounds he picked.

By time Sandy was 14 he was manager of a general store near his hometown.

The venerable Mr. Anderson first heard of Sanford in the early 1900s and the day before Christmas in 1910 he arrived here. By 10 a.m. that day he had a job loading vegetables on a freight car.

Later he worked for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and still later joined the firm of F. F. Dutton. He traveled throughout the East supervising vegetable deals.

Back in 1947 he planned to retire but death had taken Herman J. Lehman, longtime manager of the State Farmers Market, and Sandy was persuaded to take the job.

He held that post for more than a decade and during this time he saw the market grow into one of the busiest in the state, handling more commodities than any other.

Later last year, Doyle Conner, Florida agriculture commissioner, paid tribute to Sandy by awarding him a certificate of achievement.

The presentation was made at Winter Haven and was accepted in behalf of Sandy by Leo Butler, his successor at the market, when Sandy was unable to attend.

In recent months, Sandy was content to sit on his front porch when his health would permit, reminiscing over his many long, hard years of work. His friends would drop in for a few brief words and then depart, each getting a firm handshake from the rugged individual from the old school of hard knocks.

Surviving is his wife, Mrs. Alma Anderson.

Services were held at 2:30 p.m. today at First Presbyterian Church with Rev. Crowder C. Sewell officiating. Sanford Masonic Lodge conducted Masonic services at graveside in Evergreen Cemetery.

Winner of the $200 fine harness horse championship was "Plum Huff," owned and shown by Mrs. Paul Randolph of Clearwater.

Proceeds from this Orange Blossom Charity Horse Show Association event will go to further research in the field of mental retardation at Sunland Hospital.

The famed singer entered the hospital last Dec. 8 for observation and tests which disclosed a malignant tumor in the lung.

Retired Minister Dies In Fire

Chas. Hagan, 80, Victim Of Explosion

An elderly, nearly-blind retired minister died of burns and smoke inhalation this morning after a two-burner oil stove exploded in his face.

Dead when he arrived at Seminole Memorial Hospital is the Rev. Charles A. Hagan, about 80, of 1107 Sanford Avenue.

Fire Chief Mack N. Cleveland Sr. said he found the man in a small room in the southeast corner of the house. He added that from the looks of the victim he had been near the stove when it exploded.

Rev. Hagan was alive when Chief Cleveland and his men found him but died as he reached the hospital.

Firemen received the call at 8:15 and confined the blaze to two rooms. Other damage was caused by smoke and water, Chief Cleveland said.

The man lived alone in the house, the chief said.

A house owned by Jack Stanifer on Narcissus Avenue was heavily damaged by fire Sunday at 7:28 p.m. when a faulty oil heater flared.

Stanifer said he has just lit the heater and gone to a neighbor's home when he spied the blaze. The Lake Mary Fire Department was called but the fire had gained considerable headway when they arrived.

Moon Camera Goes Aloft On Wednesday

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The United States plans to use its Saturn-1 super rocket Tuesday to orbit a satellite with "wings" 96 feet wide to examine the danger cosmic debris poses to spaceships.

The shot, eighth for America's mightiest booster, will be followed Wednesday by the launch of a Ranger television probe to produce more close-up pictures of the moon. Both firings are expected to be televised nationally.

The Saturn's satellite, called Pegasus after the winged horse of mythology, is the largest unmanned spacecraft built by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. It also will be the first scientific payload for the Saturn.

Pegasus' sole job is to detect, measure and report on bulletlike meteoroids that hit its wings as it circles earth in an orbit ranging from 310 to 465 miles high.

Its findings are expected to give scientists a better idea of the hazard meteoritic particles present to large spacecraft—particularly the three-man Apollo moonships scheduled to fly in 1967.

The 18-foot Saturn-1, scheduled for an 8:30 a. m. EST blastoff also will be carrying a dummy Apollo pilot's cabin that will be orbited separately from the Pegasus craft.

The Satellite, which will weigh 23,000 pounds with the burned out Saturn second stage still attached, will be visible from the earth without the aid of a telescope on clear nights.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Nearly 50,000 longshoremen trooped back to the docks today in Eastern and Gulf ports to follow up a weekend of heavy overtime work which partially cleared a staggering backlog of cargo.

More than 17,000 worked Saturday, the first day of work after a 34-day strike. Negotiations resume in Galveston Tuesday in attempt to settle the strike for west Gulf ports. Meetings are planned for Wednesday in Miami, the center of the South Atlantic area.

The Stake is sponsored by the Florida Citrus Industry and Champagne Jet, owned by Fieldstone Farms, Macon, Ga., and shown by Boyd Hodgins, was named reserve champion.

In spite of rain, a capacity crowd came out to see the judging of the championship classes.
