Hoover Forms Plan To Extend Credit And End Depression

Big Corporation Will Take Frozen Paper; Problem Of Home Financing Is Studied

ATLANTA, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—American bankers today approved President Hoover's plan for a half billion dollar bankers' pool to mobilize the nation's frozen credit. The action was taken during a session of the bankers' conference.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—A momentous six-point program for marshaling the nation's latent buying power into commercial channels was laid before the American people today with the unified endorsement of President Hoover and political captains.

It included the liberalization of discount restrictions, to permit the acceptance of certain classes of industrial securities now ineligible, the creation of a half billion dollar corporation by private bankers to handle frozen paper of insolvent banks, and to supply some cash soon to help pressed debtors, and the expansion of the federal land bank system to provide more adequate credit accommodations for agriculture.

The administration's domestic plan won support in principal after being placed before a bi-partisan conference of Congressional leaders. While Congressional action will be required eventually to carry the program to completion, no special session is contemplated. The President turned his attention to financing home building at another conference today.

Secretary Lamont, headed those invited to the White House to devise more ways of raising credit so as to allow increased building.

A new program for the massing of gigantic private and public resources in support of a business revival is being planned.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—Thomas Edison, who has been ill for some time, died here today.

CURTIS QUILTS FOREIGN POST AFTER ATTACK

German Conciliation Policy Is Expected To Be Continued Under New Minister

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—Dr. Julius Curtius, who succeeded the late Dr. Gustav Stresemann as foreign minister in Oct. 1929, and kept in force the Stresemann policy of conciliation with Germany's wartime enemies, yesterday submitted his resignation to Chancellor Heinrich Brüning.

His withdrawal came after bitter criticism by national socialist and nationalist who objected because he had opposed Germany's abandonment of the proposed Austro-German customs pact. The foreign minister also was attacked on his policy of friendship with France.

Government spokesmen emphatically asserted yesterday, however, that his resignation did not mean any change in Germany's foreign policy.

Confidants of Herr Brüning declared the matter of the resignation of the foreign minister, which has been rumored, must be relegated to the realm of conjecture.

In authoritative quarters it was declared that whether the chancellor chooses to be his own foreign minister or names someone else to succeed Dr. Curtius, international friendship remains the cornerstone of Brüning's foreign policy, there will be no change in the program started with the British at Chequers and continued at negotiations in Paris, London, Rome and Berlin.

Beyond this, Brüning, who always plays a lone hand, has not committed himself. But his confidants declare it may safely be assumed that:

1. The ministries of justice and economics, which have long been vacant, will be filled, before the Reichstag reassembles Oct. 13, with men whose names command confidence throughout the nation.

2. Whatever resignations in addition to Dr. Curtius' if any may ensue, new cabinet members will be chosen on a personal basis and not on party affiliation.

Every move of the chancellor will be in accord with the views of President Paul von Hindenburg. In his letter of resignation Dr. Curtius recalled that he and the chancellor already had discussed withdrawal.

"In a conversation we had the day after my return from Geneva," he wrote, "I made clear to you that without regard for the parliamentary situation I wanted to resign from the government. I now deem it in every way imperative that the question of my resignation be cleared up. I therefore beg you to recommend to the Reich president my discharge."

Elks Will Stage Stag Party Thursday Night

Members of the Sanford Elks Club will stage a stag party tomorrow night at Evansdale Park, Lake Mary, starting at 7:00 o'clock, according to an announcement this morning by L. A. Tate, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Chicken picnic will furnish the main dish served, with plenty of pickles, bread, and other side dishes, as well as cigars, at the disposal of what is confidently expected to be a large delegation of Elks.

This will be the first of a series of fall get-together meetings held for the purpose of bringing the large membership of Sanford Lodge into closer cooperation. All the officers will be present, as well as several out-of-town Elks who will be the guests of the club. Mr. Tate urges every Elk in this city to be present.

Carlton Asks Preference For State Unemployed At Big Conference In Orlando

ORLANDO, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—Calling upon Florida employers to aid by their patriotic duty and give Florida unemployed preference in filling available winter jobs, Governor Carlton today opened a statewide conference on unemployment relief.

Approximately 200 persons, representing public office and private business from all parts of the state heard the chief executive declare that Florida can take care of its own unemployed and needy by the State of Florida should adopt the dol system. According to all appearances, we are beginning to approach better times. I am absolutely confident of this. (Continued on Page Four)

FINAL RITES ARE PERFORMED FOR DWIGHT MORROW

Nation's Most Prominent Leaders Gather For Ceremony

ENGLEWOOD, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—Dignitaries of the nation came today to Englewood, a grief-stricken community, to pay the nation's tribute to the body of Dwight Morrow. The funeral setting was as simple and quiet as the man himself. There was little ostentation to show that the United States senator who in four years had risen to heights of statesmanship, was being buried. That was as he would have wished it.

The service at the First Presbyterian Church at 3:00 o'clock was for public, especially the Englewood neighbors, a moving when Morrow was a friend and champion for 26 years. The family requested that there be no intrusion during the interment at a roadside cemetery. Heeding the list of dignitaries attending the funeral were Calvin Coolidge, Vice President Curtis, Secretary Stimson, and a number of congressmen.

Unpretentious dignity marked the funeral services. They were held in the First Presbyterian Church, where the family has worshipped for 26 years.

President Hoover was unable to leave Washington, but was represented by Vice President Curtis as the head of a Congressional delegation.

The Rev. Carl R. Elmore, pastor of the church of which the senator was a member, officiated. In line with the family's wishes for a simple service, there were no honorary pallbearers.

Mrs. Anne Lindbergh, Morrow's daughter, and her husband, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who are in China, sent a message of condolence, the contents of which were not revealed.

Woodmen Stage Meet At Hall Last Night

Consul Commander C. C. Collins presided over the regular meeting of Celer City Camp, Woodmen of the World, which met at the club rooms last night for the purpose of discussion of the local lodge's part in an all-day picnic and field meet held recently at Homosassa at which a drill team under the captaincy of W. H. Hawkins is said to have given a splendid exhibition of drill work.

The drill team was given a rising vote of thanks, and many complimentary remarks were made by all and new members. Approximately 25 Woodmen were present. Following a short business session, a social hour was enjoyed. All sovereigns are urged to be present at a meeting next Tuesday night, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

DOLE SYSTEM IS PLAYED BY SENATOR DAVIS

Asks Nation To Quit Stalling And To Organize To Provide Employment For All

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—Senator James I. Davis of Pennsylvania, called upon Americans yesterday to quit stalling and to organize to provide work for all. He pressed opposition to the dol system.

The former secretary of labor speaking before the national convention of the American Federation of Labor, said that was the factor that was keeping the American dollar the latest instrument in the country. A forward step, he said, would be the elimination of wild cat financing and stock trading.

"I believe in extending help in times of need. If we have a catastrophe, an epidemic, or any condition beyond the control of man, the government has a duty to do. It would be willing to back the gold on the same terms as the capital at Washington to take care of the distressed people."

Line Expert To Speak Before Farmers Club

Fred T. Schreiber, consulting chemist, of Ocala, a Southern authority on lime and its uses, will speak before members of the Seminole Agricultural Club tomorrow night starting at 8:00 o'clock.

His talk will concern lime and Seminole County soils, and he will answer any question put to him in that regard. As an associate of the Ocala Mining laboratory, Mr. Schreiber is said to have a long experience in the study of lime. Living as he does in the mining section of the state, he has had many opportunities for close study, and he expects to impart much of his knowledge to local farmers.

While his talk will feature the meeting, a round-table discussion of fertilizers, led by Alex. R. Johnson, will also occupy the attention of the club last night, the club spent many hours in discussing and experimenting with the problem of low fertilizer costs by using cover crops of high food value. The club will continue its investigations this year, the matter being one of the leading items on the year's program.

Mrs. R.H. Eubanks Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Leah Belle Eubanks, 39, 1600 West First Street, died at her home shortly after midnight last night after a long illness. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock from the Erickson Funeral Home.

The Rev. Carroll Varner, of the First Methodist Church of Sanford, will officiate and burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Eubanks was born in Grovetown, Ga., on Apr. 12, 1892. She has lived here for the past eight years. She is survived by her husband, R. H. Eubanks; two sons, Grady and Hubbard Eubanks; her mother, Mrs. Wm. Gracey; a sister, Mrs. Katie White, and two brothers, Wm. Gracey and Clifford Gracey, all of Sanford. A brother, Joe Gracey, of Grovetown, Ga., also survives her.

CAPONE'S TRIAL RESUMED

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—Al Capone's income tax trial was resumed today after it was suddenly halted when the defense attorney announced he had learned one juror should be disqualified for "serious reasons." The judge held a conference with the attorneys but no announcement was made. The state began the opening address.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—Former Senator Allen of Kansas, said yesterday after a two months tour of Europe he believed Germany was convinced there will be an extension of the moratorium.

COUNTY BOARD HAS MONTHLY MEET MONDAY

Only Routine Matters Occupy Attention Of Commissioners

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners held its monthly meeting at the Court House Monday morning disposing of a number of minor affairs, and accepting what was termed a creditable annual report from County Tax Collector Joe D. Jenkins.

They authorized County Engineer Tony Pittford to obtain the right of way and construct a road 50 feet wide from a point on the new Orlando Sanford highway near the County Home to the old road near Elder Springs. The work is being done at the request of several residents of Elder Springs. Mr. Pittford was also told to meet with the Volusia County Board of Commissioners relative to repairs on the Osteen Bridge.

Alex. R. Johnson, vocational director at Seminole High School, was told to make a survey of the county, both land and air, and to prepare a report on the work of the Seminole Agricultural Club, and to tell of some of its aims. The club will soon benefit because of a one-half mill levy which the Board authorized recently.

From Officer A. H. Beckwith, the Board learned that motorists in this section are almost daily violating a county ordinance which provides that motorists must stop their automobiles whenever they approach a school bus which is loading or unloading passengers. The Board authorized him to make arrests in every case.

A. P. Connolly and E. K. Anderson, members of the Upper St. Johns River Drainage District Board, appeared before the group and reported as to their part in the activities of that board during the past few years.

The Commissioners decided to appropriate $500 to make up a deficit of the Welfare Board, provided the City of Sanford will donate $250. The City will be approached at the Monday meeting of the Commission.

At the request of J. E. Fox, and a group of Paola residents, the Board voted to close a portion of Grove Avenue in Paola to traffic.

Before adjourning the Board spent some time in a study of the tax roll for 1931, which had been presented them by County Tax Assessor A. Vaughan. The roll was approved and adopted.

Landis, Gray Pay Brief Visit To City Tuesday

Attorney General Carey D. Landis and Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Gray of Tallahassee, were brief visitors to the city yesterday afternoon enroute to Orlando to attend Governor Doyle E. Carlton's special conference on relief for the unemployed.

Secretary Gray was guest of honor at a record meeting of Elks in Deland Monday night at which time he was one of a class of 14 men who were initiated into Elksdom. Both he and Mr. Landis delivered short talks at the meeting which was attended by 258 Elks from every section of Florida.

While here, they paid short visits to friends, declaring that Sanford seemed to be a very busy spot, hearing out reports they had heard during recent weeks that this section is one of the most prosperous in the state.

JACKSONVILLE.—Wood Preservative Manufacturing Co. to construct buildings at Commadore Point, for new industry here.

SHIRE PARK, PHILA-DELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The murderous attack of that one-man

Worlds Series, Pepper Martin, plus some effective pitching by Wild Bill Hallahan, and some spectacular fielding by the Cardinals, sent Connie Mack's Athletics down to a disheartening 5 to 1 defeat here this afternoon to give the Cards a one game lead as the two clubs head for St. Louis to finish the series.

Martin, whose remarkable batting led to his promotion to the cleanup position on the club today, was again the spark-plug in the Cardinal 12 hit attack. His long fly scored the first run in the initial inning, his long home run into the left field stands with Frisch on second proved to be the finish of Waite Hoyt, and his single to left scored another run in the eighth to completely subdue the Macks' chances. When Martin equaled in modern baseball play, Wild Bill Hallahan pitched another great game, for six innings had been touched for, but two hits. The first 12 men to face him went down in order, and he walked but one man as compared to seven in his first game of the series. During the latter half of the game he got in trouble, but great fielding saved the day. He was in a tugging spot in the eighth when Simmons, who had gotten three hits in three trips, came to the plate with two on and two out, but he forced Simmons to roll weakly to third, ending the rally.

Mack used 15 players trying to stem the Carl attack, but couldn't find the winning combination. He even removed Bishop and Haas, two regulars, from the game in the sixth, replacing them with McNair and Moore, comparative rookies. Hoyt was ineffective, as were Walberg and Rounnell, the Cards' pounding Hoyt for seven, Walberg for two, and Rounnell for three hits during the day.

The clubs travel to St. Louis tonight. They will play the sixth game in that city on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Eastern Standard time.

First Inning
St. Louis, Waite Hoyt, was announced as the Athletic pitcher, a rather surprising selection, as the experts had picked Rube Walberg as the starting pitcher. Spaky Adams was the first batter to face Hoyt. Adams singled last third base on the second pitch. Hoyt went in to run for Adams whose leg is injured. Watkins filed out to Simmons on the first pitch. Frisch hit a Texas leaguer to center field, Adams going to third, and Frisch to second on the throw to third. Pop Martin, the star of the series, was given a thunderous ovation as he approached the plate. Martin filed out to Simmons as high scored. Hasey went out, Williams to Fox, one run, two hits, no errors.

Philadelphia: Bishop filed out to Watkins, who made a sensational catch after a 75 yard run. Haas struck out. Cochrane filed out to Frisch. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning
St. Louis: Bottomley singled to right field, Wilson filed out to Miller. Bottomley being held on first. Gelbert forced Bottomley at second, Williams to Bishop. Gelbert was safe at first. Hallahan hit to Williams who fumbled, but recovered in time to get Hallahan at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Philadelphia: Simmons doubled to center field, the ball hitting the score board and falling back in to the field. Fox hit to Hick, who threw him out at first. Miller hit to Gelbert who threw to first to get Miller. On the same play Bottomley threw Simmons out at the plate. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning
St. Louis: Hick went out, Bishop (Continued on Page Seven)

Hoover Forms Plan To Extend Credit And End Depression

new revival was hoped last night by President Hoover to lead to a more active role in Congress.

Making his sweeping gesture for a new recovery since the monetary proposal, the president said the congressional conference would be a long conference, with the captains of American finance kept confidential, it was noted that Mr. Hoover's hope was definitely toward a free movement of capital and credit, and a consequent significant rise in public confidence.

How the program was received by the senators and representatives was not disclosed, but it was apparent that the Democratic leadership was not in line with the president's plan for a meeting of the financial leaders had formed a plan to meet among themselves before giving final assent.

Meanwhile, the encouragement sprang from every side. In New York, the security markets swung upward with a confidence untroubled by the week's Washington talk with high anticipation.

Today, only a trail of the same problem was accounted by the gathering of a bank and real estate men members of a financial committee of the president's plan for a meeting of the financial leaders had formed a plan to meet among themselves before giving final assent.

One of the things in which Wall Street and money bankers were interested was the possibility of a new bill to be introduced by the president's plan for a meeting of the financial leaders had formed a plan to meet among themselves before giving final assent.

Some of the existing restrictions on credit and security resources, back to the federal reserve system, will be asked to be lifted by throwing into a new effort the entire force of the federal financial institutions, including the direct cooperation of the federal reserve board, that the president hopes to give the whole national structure of bank and industry a definite push in the better times.

The only official statement came yesterday from the president who said:

"The purpose of my conference with members of Congress tonight is to establish a national unity in the effort to bring constructive forces into place of destructive forces now working in the depression. I feel it is not proper in a sense of the conference, I make an announcement."

Those invited to the conference were led by Mr. Hoover because of their positions of leadership in the two party organization and their membership on the committees which handle fiscal legislation.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican floor leader, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, who for the time being, among the Democrats, headed the senate.

The others included: Glass of Virginia, a former Democratic secretary of the treasury, and co-author of the reserve act, and Walsh of Montana, Harrison of Mississippi, and Wagner of New York, all Democrats, along with the Republican Borah of Idaho, Bingham of Connecticut, Reed of Pennsylvania, and Glenn of Illinois.

Representative Garner of Texas, the House Democratic leader, Representative M. Duffie of Alabama, Democratic whip, and Representative Ryans of Tennessee, were on the House list. Among the House Republicans were Snell of New York, Treadway of Massachusetts, and Bachman of New Jersey.

Senator Robinson said before the conference that the Democratic members did not know what the president's proposal was, except that it related to the domestic economic situation.

He would not discuss the meeting of Democrats yesterday, which was held at Democratic national committee headquarters, nor that proposed for today, beyond saying that many of us believe the way to legislate is in regular session.

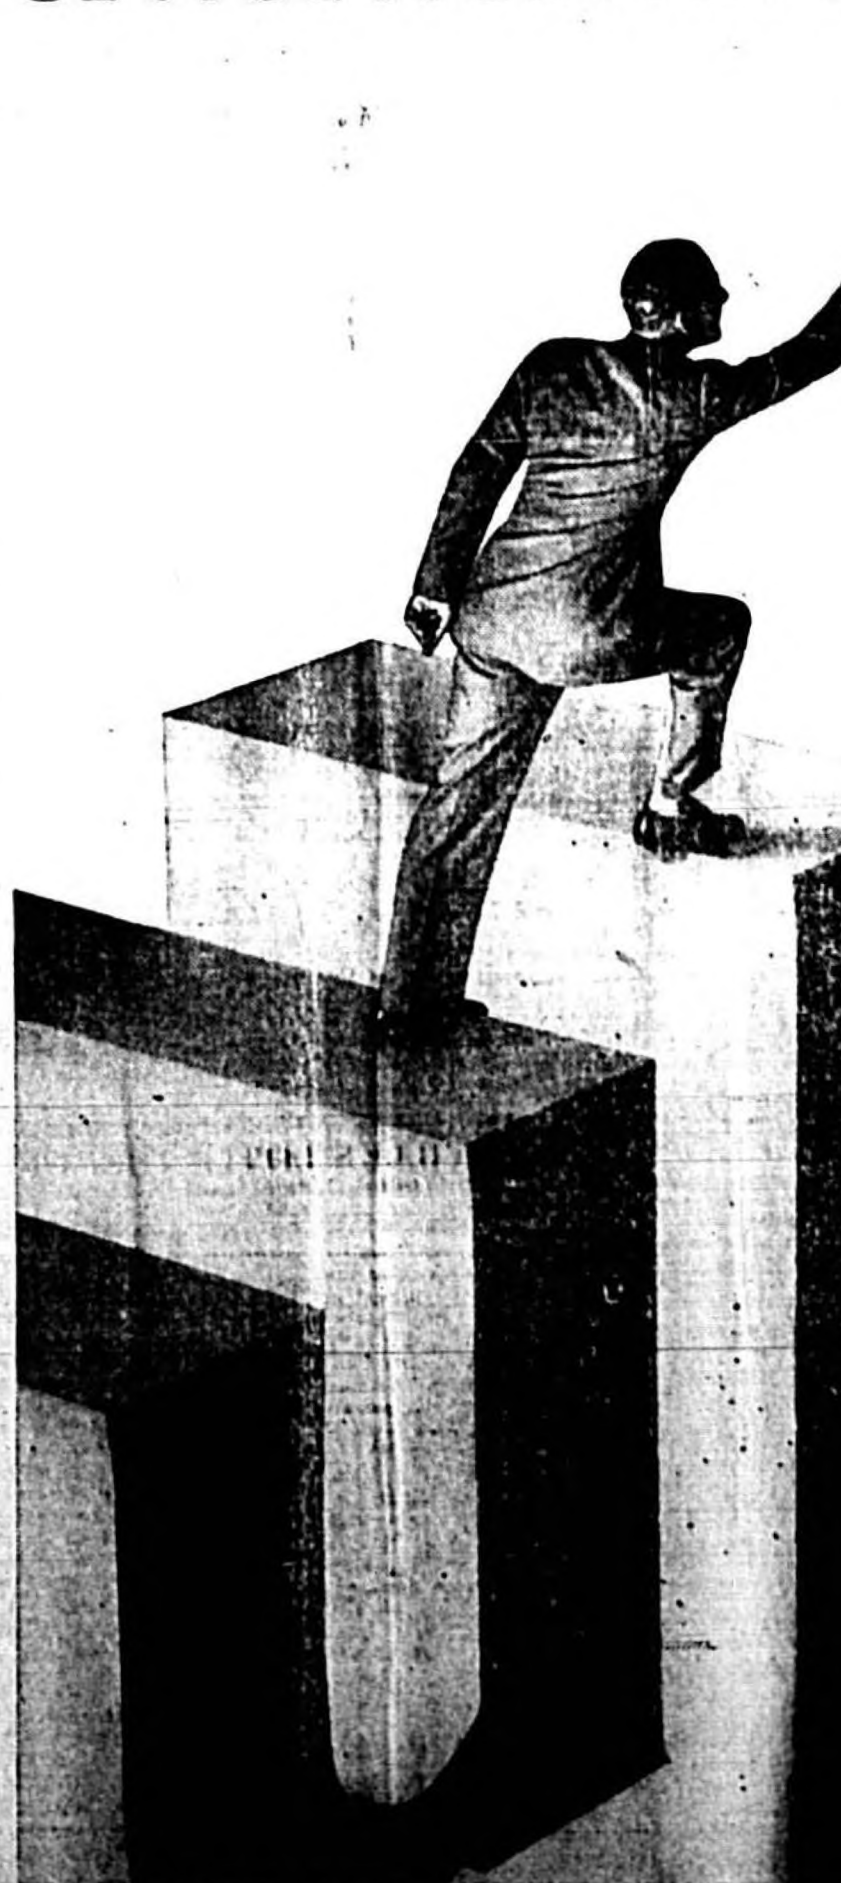

"Of course, we recognize there is a pressing situation," said the Democratic leader. "Naturally we are ready to collaborate in any arrangement which we believe to be helpful. We cannot commit ourselves in advance."

Other House members invited last night included: Representatives Clegg and Brand of Georgia; Stevenson of South Carolina; Democrats Luce of Massachusetts, Aldrich of Rhode Island, and McFadden of Pennsylvania, Republicans.

McFadden was chairman, and Luce, Brand and Stevenson are members of the House banking committee.

THEY'RE MILD. The best Turkish and Domestic tobacco that money can buy is put into Chesterfield. Chesterfield tobacco is the finest-textured, the smoothest and ripest that grows—ripened and sweetened in the sunshine, cured right by the farmer and aged right for two years in wooden hogsheads. Mellow—and wonderfully mild!

THEY TASTE BETTER. These mild, smooth tobaccos are put together exactly right. The aroma of Turkish, the mellow sweetness of Domestic—blended and cross-blended. How it's done is Chesterfield's secret—but millions know how much better it tastes!

THEY'RE PURE. Everything that goes into Chesterfield is tested by expert chemists. The purest, finest cigarette paper made; a clean, tight-sealed package. "Pure as the water you drink."

THEY SATISFY. The package... neat, clean. The cigarettes... well-filled. The paper... pure white. And with your very first puff, you notice they taste better. Pleasing and satisfying—Chesterfields just seem to suit you, right down to the ground.

Four hits—four good things about every Chesterfield cigarette. Remember: They are Milder—Taste Better—Pure—Satisfy.

GOOD...they've got to be good!

Thad Holt, Birmingham, representing the Southeast on the National Committee, recommending that Florida follow plans of the National Committee in coordinating the necessities of life when winter comes.

Florida's greatest unemployment problem this winter will be the influx of persons who look to the state as "the happy hunting ground of the job seeker." Governor Carlton said here last night on the eve of a state-wide unemployment conference meeting at his call.

"The state can well care for its unemployed and needy citizens," the governor declared, but he advised persons planning to come to Florida in the hope of getting a job for the winter to "stay at home, where each state is planning to care for its jobless."

No definite figures on unemployment in Florida are available for presentation to the conference, the governor said. He looked to the beginning of the citrus harvest season to provide a sharp upturn in employment. The harvest already is under way but will not be in full swing until the latter part of this month or the middle of November.

The prospect, the governor said, was "for a highly successful tourist season, with a resultant increase in available jobs."

"But Florida's own citizens can fill these places," he added emphatically. "It is the duty of every employer to give work first to Florida citizens and if that is done there will be few jobs left over for persons who come from other states in search of seasonal employment."

The governor said he would urge the state-wide conference here today to request the federal government to push plans for authorized public construction in Florida. Several postoffices and also about a million dollars' worth of work on the government's $9,000,000 Oklawaha food control program, come under this classification, the governor said.

The state, he declared, cannot increase the schedule of public works. Road maintenance will be continued, but road construction already is at its peak as a means of employment, he said.

The governor urged citizens to push municipal improvements and said jobs could be provided for many, if needed home improvements were made this winter.

The governor said he would announce today the personnel of a committee which will seek to coordinate unemployment relief efforts of the various communities of the state.

Public and private leaders, numbering about 200, assembled here last night for the preliminary meeting at which the governor presided.
