Two Young Sisters Are Killed By Auto While Going Home

CHICAGO (U)—Two young sisters were killed by a speeding automobile yesterday as they walked home to lunch from the opening day of school.

Jeanette Griffiths, 7, a second grader, and her sister, Alexandria, 5, a kindergarten pupil, were struck as they walked in a group of 25 other students on a sidewalk adjoining the school.

A third girl was knocked down and scalded from water spilling from the car's radiator. The other pupils escaped injury.

Richard Dombek, 18 driver of the car, had received a temporary driving permit Tuesday and was operating the family automobile for the first time alone.

Police said the car apparently made a sharp, fast turn and hit a lamp post. Bouncing off the post it swerved against the sidewalk and over the curb into the children.

Dombek, a high school student, became hysterical after the crash. At a police station he beat his head against a washroom wall and tried to strangle himself. He was turned over to juvenile authorities to await questioning at an inquest.

The first prices last season were an average of $3.25 to $7.25.

In the two hours and 33 minutes flight a speed of 606.537 miles per hour was recorded to win a special Navy competition during the big air event held on Labor Day.

Assisting Captain Blackburn was Comdr. F. F. Stevens, Commanding Officer of VAW-1, a unit of Heavy Attack Wing One.

Captain Blackburn, after flying low over the Oklahoma City Air Show field, climbed back up to high altitude and continued his flight to Jacksonville landing their at 2:34 p.m., with his flight time established at 4 hours and 30 minutes.

There is no particular record for the long east-west flight of 2,304 nautical miles. However, the flight shows the long range possibilities of the ASD in extending the striking range of carriers beyond any point heretofore attained to carry out unescorted attacks with the atom bomb or other weapons against defended submarine bases and harbor installations.

Southern Belle, California Beauty Hold Contest Lead

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (U)—A Southern belle and a California charmer held an early lead today in the Miss America sweepstakes.

Miss Alabama, 19-year-old Ann Stuar Ariall of Birmingham, won top honors in the talent division of the annual pageant last night with a rollicking song and dance rendition of a musical comedy number.

Miss California, Joan Colleen Beckett, 18, of Sacramento, was the choice in bathing suit competition. A honey blonde with blue-green eyes, she paraded her 36-24-35 charms down a runway in a white swimsuit with halter straps.

The results of the first night's evening gown competition were not announced, according to custom.

The 50 girls seeking the title of Miss America 1957 have been divided into three sections, each to be judged separately for beauty in a bathing suit, for poise and grace in an evening gown and for talent.

The sections rotate tonight and tomorrow night with the field narrowed to 10 semifinalists by Saturday morning. The girls try to pick up extra points for personality at breakfast meetings with the 11 judges.

The reigning Miss America, Sharon Kay Ritchie of Denver, Colo., will crown her successor during the finals Saturday night which will be televised nationally on ABC.

Off to make a career for himself in Naval Aviation is Francis William Smathers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smathers, Box 288, Lake Mary. Francis Smathers is the nephew of the U. S. Senator George Smathers.

Enlisting in the Navy as an Airman Recruit young Smathers said "I learned while I was attending Gordon Military College that I wanted to serve in the Navy and work in aviation. I guess I have always liked aviation and Naval Aviation seems to be the answer to what I've been wanting."

Smathers was sworn into the Navy at the Navy Recruiting Station in Jacksonville, the main station for the Florida District. He will undergo his basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Upon completion of his "boot" training he will be granted 14 days leave, and then will be assigned to his first duty with Naval Aviation either on board ship or at one of the Naval Air Stations.

Pennsylvania Pair Observing 72 Years Of Marriage Today

BOYERTOWN, Pa. (U)—Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Sloter are observing a wedding anniversary today. Nothing special in the way of entertainment. Some of the children might drop by. But that's about all.

"Nothing to get excited about. Can't understand all the commotion anyway," was the way Reuben put it when newsmen called.

Of course, wedding anniversaries are hardly a novelty to the couple. After all, this is their seventy-second.

Ellamina Crouthamel was a bride of 20 and Reuben, whom she'd known as a neighbor boy all her life, was a year younger when they took their vows at the home of their minister, Rev. Jacob Kehm in nearby Sellersville.

The retired farmer and his wife have a simple philosophy to offer today's newlyweds:

"To have a long marriage requires, of course, a long life. And the healthy life of a farm is the best advice I can offer," Reuben observed.

His wife, with an impish smile had this to add:

"Men can't do without women. Remember this, girls, and live by the golden rule, and you'll both be very happy."

Tax Collections Increase Last Month In County

The barometer of increasing business continues to go up in Seminole County and over the State of Florida as a whole according to the monthly release from Ray E. Green, State Comptroller.

Sales tax collections for the month of August (based on July sales, increased an approximate two per cent over the same period last year.

The sales tax collections for the month ended Aug. 31, 1956, in Seminole County were $22,712.64 compared with $22,311.87 for the month ended Aug. 31, 1955.

Sales tax collections during the month of August (based on July sales) totaled $7,183,068, an increase of $35,464 over the previous month's collections of $7,148,604 and $1,078,380 more than for the same month in 1955 when $6,106,688 was collected. The increase over last year's collections is over 17 1/2 per cent.

Collections to date this fiscal year (two months) amount to $14,334,672, an increase of $2,392,975 over the $12,041,697 collected during the first two months of last (1955) fiscal year. This is an increase of just under 19 per cent.

This year's increases are percentage-wise higher than increases shown last year over the year prior to that. July and August 1955 collections were 18 1/4 per cent higher than July and August 1954. July and August 1956 are close to 19 per cent higher than July and August 1955.

Total sales tax collections during the 12 months of that fiscal year amounted to $96,101,920. An overall average increase of 18 1/4 per cent will result in sales tax collections of $100 million dollars this fiscal year.

The local high school last year, is back as a member of the regular teaching staff and has the B squad freshmen and sophomores under his wing. An athlete at Stetson, he is driving the youngsters in their conditioning exercises and basic football to get them ready for their game that is right on the heels of that of the Varsity.

Fleming has been concentrating on the work of the ball-toters and blockers and shakes his head carefully when asked about his charges. With the shortage of beef in the roll call, the head coach is looking for some speed and some passers that might offset the weight disadvantage, but so far while some of the boys show promise, none has brought a glint to the mentor's eyes.

Al Stanley is a southpaw and Fleming hopes that he can develop a threat on this asset. He says that Al has to work plenty, not only to get some "game savvy" but to acquire skill with his left-handed tosses. The head coach added that Stanley would get plenty of chances in practice to show how fast he could develop.

Bobby Johnson and Phil Byrd are two other backs that have shown some drive and indicate that there is a possibility of their developing into right hand pigskin pitchers.

The fullback job is as wide open as a hungry baby sparrow's mouth, according to Coach Fleming—and will be even harder to fill, he thinks.

"The point is," he went on, "that almost any one in uniform can make this Seminole team by showing a lot of hustle and some willingness to do to the best of his ability what the coaches are teaching. I'd like to compliment

'Quakes Are Felt In 3 States

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Two "low intensity" earthquakes rocked Knoxville and a wide area of east Tennessee, southeastern Kentucky and western North Carolina today, but there were no immediate reports of injuries or damage.

The first shock was felt at 8:37 a. m., and the second followed 13 minutes later.

Berlan Moneymaker, Tennessee Valley Authority geologist, described the shocks as "earth tremors of low intensity."

The tremors were the first felt in this area since Jan. 25, 1955. At Oak Ridge, Mrs. Carl Weeks said: "Some dishes were shaken out of my china cabinet and broken."

One housewife in Suburban Bearden said she was knocked off her feet.

In downtown Knoxville, many persons raced into the streets when office buildings and shops began to shake.

Western North Carolina points including Asheville, also felt the tremors. Asheville is about 110 miles southeast of Knoxville.

Supreme Court Justice To Retire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Sherman Minton of the Supreme Court today announced that he will retire on Oct. 15.

Minton said he is leaving because of impaired health. He will be 66 on Oct. 20.

In a letter sent to the White House this morning, Minton notified President Eisenhower of his plan. The justice has a circulatory condition in his legs. He told the President he does not feel he could carry out "the exacting duties of my office" in his present condition.

Appointed by President Harry Truman, Minton went on the Supreme Court bench Oct. 15, 1949. Previously he served more than eight years on the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago.

This gives him sufficient years in federal courts for him to retire at full pay of $35,000 a year.

School Building Group To Make Decision Today

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Citizens' School Construction Committee meets today to decide whether its recommendations for financing school buildings shall be based on long range requirements or present needs.

The committee was named by Gov. Collins to make recommendations to the 1957 Legislature on financing a school construction program. The present shortage of facilities was set at 2,750 classrooms when school opened in June.

Collins and James L. Graham, director of finance for the state department of education, both indicated the problem might be at least partially solved if counties adopted more "realistic" property assessments.

Brunette, Three Blondes Leading In Beauty Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Three blondes and a brunette are the front-runners going into the third round of preliminary judging tonight in the annual Miss America pageant.

The brunette is Miss Hawaii, 25-year-old Jane Wright of Honolulu, who topped honors in the swimsuit division last night.

Miss Wright measures 55-24-35. She stands 5-foot-7, weighs 130 and has blue eyes.

She shared the night's laurels with Miss Arkansas, 18-year-old Barbara Banks of Conway, who was judged best in the talent competition with her modern ballet number. A graceful blonde, the Arkansas girl was the only contestant to dance during the talent judging. Most sang or gave dramatic readings, and four played musical instruments.

Two other blondes placed first in their divisions on Wednesday night. They were Miss California, Joan Collins Bobert of Sacramento, in the battle of swimsuits, and Miss Alabama, Ann Stuart Arritt of Birmingham, in the talent section.

The girl who wins the title of Miss America 1957 in the finals tomorrow night won't necessarily be one of these four, however.

Bids are being accepted for the construction of the proposed Sanford Manufacturing Co. building which is to be located on West First St., according to a release from W. H. "Bill" Stamer, vice-chairman of the Sanford Industrial Board.

The bids are being received by Frank G. George, architect, in room 413 of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building.

George said last night that the closing date for receiving the bids, originally set Sept. 14, has been extended to Sept. 20.

Contractors and construction companies desiring to submit a bid on the proposed building may secure copies of the working drawings and specifications. A deposit of $25 is required, said Frank G. George, the architect, who may be contacted at his office or by calling phone number 2487.

Separate bids are being accepted for general work, plumbing, heating and air conditioning, and electrical. A contract for each phase of the work will be issued.

11-Year-Old Girl Scalped; Machine Catches Hair

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Janice Cory, 11, who was scalped when her long hair caught in a whirling gear of a dough mixing machine in a bakery, was in serious condition today.

Surgeons fitted the scalp, which was removed intact from the machinery, back into place in a three-hour operation last night.

The scalp was torn off from above the eyes, including the eyebrows, over the ears and down the neck.

Doctors said there was "a small but definite" chance that the grafted scalp would hold. They said there have not been enough cases locally of complete scalping to give them a basis upon which to judge this case.

Janice, in a church group visiting the bakery yesterday, was standing with her back to the machine. As she looked up at the mixing operation her hair fell into a small opening and was caught in the gears.

Janice is a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Edwin E. Cory of suburban Chula Vista.

MIAMI (AP)—It is no longer legal for loons to run loose in Miami streets.

Leaders Against Adlai Speaking In Harlem

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic leaders in Harlem, predominantly Negro area here, reportedly have said that Negro dissatisfaction with the Democratic party's platform on civil rights made it inadvisable that Adlai E. Stevenson speak in Harlem "for the time being."

Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, his running mate, arrive here tomorrow for a five-day campaign in New York State, New Jersey and Connecticut.

In an airport interview last night in Chicago, Stevenson—just returned from speaking in San Francisco—said he was familiar with his immediate campaign plans and that they did not include speaking in Harlem "at this time."

"I suppose I will unquestionably address Negro groups at some times," Stevenson said. "I have no objection to meeting with Negro leaders."

According to newspaper reports, the "warning" to keep Stevenson out of Harlem in the immediate future was voiced at a closed luncheon meeting yesterday attended by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Carmine G. DeSapio, New York secretary of state.

The Negro vote in New York City has been estimated at 250,000 to 300,000, a voting strength which could prove a pivotal point in deciding a political race in New York State.

New York City Negroes generally have supported the Democratic party since New Deal days. Negro leaders are said to fear not a wholesale switch of allegiance to the Republican party but the possibility that great numbers of Negroes would remain indifferent and fail to vote.

Rotary Program Is Kept Secret

For some reason or other, the program scheduled for Monday's meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club is being kept a secret by Francis Roumillat program chairman for the day.

All that has been divulged, so far, is that an old cash register containing many odds plays an important role in the program and that a well-known local historian intends to pass them out rather prominently.

Roumillat offers the suggestion that it may be worth while for a full attendance to be on hand.

Weapons Are Set Up At School

STURGIS, Ky. (AP)—State officials were ready to declare martial law in this western Kentucky mining and farming community today as National Guardsmen and State Police prepared for a showdown with an expected crowd of 1,000 intent on keeping nine Negro youths from attending Sturgis High School.

Adj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams returned from a conference with Gov. A. B. Chandler in Frankfort. He had papers needing only his signature to put this community of approximately 5,000 persons under martial law.

The National Guard commander said the papers were drawn up by the governor as a precautionary measure since reports had been received at least 1,000 persons, including coal miners, "nearby Pleasure Ridge, were expected to gather at the previously all-white school."

The Guardsmen and State Police stopped an angry crowd yesterday, escorting the nine Negroes into and out of the school. The students later vowed they had "enrolled to stay."

Gen. Williams said he would declare martial law, under which the community, including its courts, would be under military rule, only if it is necessary.

Don Sturgill, Kentucky's deputy safety commissioner, said the governor had given Gen. Williams authority to call in all the National Guardsmen necessary to preserve order and keep them in Sturgis until "spring if necessary."

Sturgill also increased the number of State Police on duty here to 25. Eighteen police cars were parked in front of the school building this morning.

Troop-manned machineguns which were set up around the building.

Other troops patrolled the corridors, classrooms and sidewalks with carbines and burlap guns.

Sturgill quoted the governor as saying he "was ashamed of the way the people of Sturgis have acted. This is a government of law, not a government of men and anyone gets hurt I want it to be them, (the mob) not us."

Sturgill reported local officials were cooperating 100 per cent with the state government.

Seven men were arrested on breach of peace charges yesterday when the fist-waving crowd attempted to stop entry of the Negro youths into the school.

Farm Bureau Will Gather Sept. 18 At FFA Building

The Seminole County Farm Bureau's board of directors hold a meeting at the home of the organization's president, W. W. Lins, on Silver Lake, Wednesday.

Officials report that all members of the board were present. Also attending the meeting was Robert W. Cox, representative of the Florida Farm Bureau.

The agenda included the discussion of many items of business which will be presented at the next regular meeting of the Seminole County Farm Bureau which is slated for Sept. 18.

The meeting scheduled for Sept. 18 will be held at the Future Farmers Building at Seminole High School. A covered dish supper, with the main meat course being furnished by the Farm Bureau, will be served.

This is the first meeting scheduled since June and officials are urging a full attendance.

 When things go wrong as they sometimes will,
 When the road you're treading seems all uphill,
 When funds are low and the debts are high,
 And you want to smile but you have to sigh,
 When care is pressing you down a bit—

Veteran's Corner

The some 12,000 Florida Veterans expected to enter schools and training establishments this fall under the Korean GI Bill were urged today by V. S. Parker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office at St. Petersburg, to file their applications now to avoid unnecessary delays.

Application forms may be obtained at any VA office. The completed application, along with a photostat or certified copy of the veteran's separation paper, should be sent to the VA Regional Office, NOT to VA headquarters in Washington, D.C.

To help school-going veterans make their arrangements in advance, Parker issued a check-list of steps that must be taken before they enroll:

- (1) Choice of a goal, and of a training program that will lead to the goal. Since the law allows a veteran only one change of program, he should make sure he chooses correctly;
- (2) Veterans who are not sure about their GI training goals may request vocational counseling to help arrive at a sound choice. Fill in the appropriate space for counseling on VA's training application form;
- (3) Veterans must be sure the course they plan to take has been GI-approved by the State. This information is available at the VA Regional Office, but NOT at VA headquarters in Washington;
- (4) Veterans should complete arrangements for admittance to their school before filing applications with VA because they must know beforehand whether they can meet the school's requirements for admission;
- (5) Send applications to VA as soon as possible, after completing arrangements for admittance with the school. This will enable VA to iron out any snags that may develop before school starts carefully before mailing them to VA. With an incomplete application, VA will have to write to the veteran for the missing information. A photostat or certified copy of the veteran's separation paper must be included.
- (6) Veterans with dependents should have the necessary proof of dependency ready when VA requests it. For a wife, this would mean a photostat of the marriage certificate and, for a child, a photostat of the birth certificate; and (8) veterans should take along enough money to tide them over the two months of training. Under the law, payments can only be made after each month of training completed. Further, before VA may make the monthly payments, it must receive a certification signed by the veteran and his school, stating that he has been in class all month. The law allows VA 20 days after receipt of certifications to get checks in the mail.

Commission Will Study Submerged Land Before Sale

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Collins says the state will sell no submerged land in Pinellas County until views of the Fla. Land Use and Resources Study Commission have been obtained.

A moratorium on Pinellas land sales was asked by President Floyd Brown of the Alliance for the Conservation of Natural Resources until after the commission has made a complete survey of the area.

"Rather than deal with any specific moratorium, it would accomplish the same purpose if we adopt a policy that we will not deal with Pinellas lands without an express statement from the land use commission," Collins said.

The moratorium suggested drew objections from Dr. Bradley Waldron, representing Hyman Green and Associates which is promoting a development to be known as Tierra Verde. It has applied for purchase of lands in Lower Boca Ciega Bay for use in the project.

The application will be advertised and hearing held after six weeks have elapsed.

Waldron said the development has been planned for years and Brown "is not a developer of the area and is not speaking with the voice of Pinellas County."

Brown had said there are "10,000 objectors to sale of submerged Pinellas lands."

Albert Woolson Memorial To Be Dedicated Soon

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A statue of an ancient warrior—last surviving member of the Northern Army—sits proudly erect on a fallen tree to survey the meadow across which Pickett led the famous charge of his gallant Confederate forces in a losing cause a century ago.

The Albert Woolson bronze depicts the Union veteran in his declining years, his gnarled hand resting on a walking stick. He wears the blue uniform of the Grand Army of the Republic, which he donned as a young drummer boy in the waning months of the Civil War.

The statue, slightly larger than life size, is the creation of Dr. Ovard Fabrick, noted Western sculptor. It arrived last week at this national shrine—scene of the bloody battle that historians have called the turning point of the war, where the strife—turn nation's president later delivered his immortal address.

The memorial will be formally dedicated Sept. 12, Maj. Gen. U.S. Grant III grandson of the famed Union general, is to deliver the principal address.

The national auxiliary of the Sons of Union Veterans raised $17,000 to commission the statue as a tribute to Woolson and all his comrades in arms who have long since passed on.

Woolson died at the age of 109, Aug. 2 in Duluth, Minn., the last

66,752,000 Hold Jobs In August

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record number of 66,752,000 persons held jobs in August, the government reported Wednesday.

This was a new peak for the third straight month this summer. The total of jobholders was swollen by an unusual number of students seeking and getting vacation jobs, the Census Bureau said.

The number of students getting jobs, the Census Bureau said, 600 in the number of unemployed from July to August, the bureau added. This decline was one of the largest for this period since World War II.

The number of jobless was listed at 2,195,000 in mid-August when the count was taken. This compared with 2,831,000 in July and with 2,237,000 in August 1955.

of 400,000 GAR veterans. He did not participate in the battle of Gettysburg. Three veterans of the Confederate Army survive. The oldest now is 113.

PARTLY DEAF and blind, Mrs. Rose Goldstein, 70, is shown with some of her hoard—$6,137.98—at her Brooklyn, N.Y., apartment. Police, investigating two recent burglaries in which she was robbed of about $1,000, located the money in crumpled bills at the bottom of an old trunk. Mrs. Goldstein, known for peddling shoelaces, gathering rags and begging, has placed her money in the bank for safety.

Tyrone Power and Kim Novak Romance in 'Duchin Story'

The story of a fabulous lifetime, a blending of stardom and suffering, passion and pain, music and magic, are glowingly told in Columbia Pictures' "The Eddy Duchin Story," according to advance report. The new film stars Tyrone Power as the handsome young musician who shook the golden towers of Manhattan with his hands on the keys of a piano, and beautiful Kim Novak as Marjorie Delrich, the girl of his dreams. In CinemaScope and color by Technicolor, "The Eddy Duchin Story" opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

Power is said to give a truly impressive performance as the gifted musician who knew more drama and despair, love and triumph than most men ever live to know. Miss Novak, fresh from a personal triumph in the memorable "Picnic," reportedly contributes a vivid picture of a girl in love in "The Eddy Duchin Story." Here, in sharp contrast with her "Picnic" role, she is a famous, beautiful, sophisticated young woman who possesses the wholehearted warmth that can delight in sharing peanuts with pigeons on a rain-swept romantic Central Park afternoon.

Their romance is said to be as warming as a sunset; their marriage, an idyllic time during which Duchin steadily rises to supremacy in the world of popular music. He is a radio and recording star, society's favorite band leader, when Marjorie dies shortly after the birth of their son.

Duchin abandons his son and his city; he embarks upon a year-long concert tour and a period of personal despair. When he finally is persuaded to return to New York to see his son, he finds himself unable to break through the boy's resentful acceptance of his presence. Duchin again flees, into World War II where he serves as a Naval combat officer. After the war, Duchin again tries to resume his abandoned role as a parent, using his music to win the boy's acceptance; this quest for a new happiness is marked by a conflict between father and son so powerful it is certain to be discussed and remembered for years to come.

Rex Thompson is excellent as Peter, the boy who learns he must meet his own father half-way, and James Whitmore is properly sympathetic as Duchin's friend and manager, Victoria Shaw, Australia-born seton newsmonger, is truly electric as the British war refugee who teaches the father how he can reach his son, and who helps him achieve a understanding beyond his years.

Otto John Faces Treason Charge

KARLSRUHE, Germany — Otto John, former chief of the West German intelligence service who crossed into the Soviet zone in 1954 and returned last year, was formally accused Friday of treason.

The charge was filed in the Federal Supreme Court here.

It followed an eight-month investigation into the activities of the defector.

He crossed into the Berlin July 20, 1954, with a brief, Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, a Berlin physician with Communist sympathies who is still in the East.

He told a news conference in East Germany three weeks later he had defected to work for peace and against a revival of militarism in West Germany.

He returned last Dec. 12 with the help of a Danish newspaper correspondent and was placed under arrest on a warrant alleging suspicion of treason.

Sanford Is Growing—Professional Help Needed To Aid Development

There is no getting away from it. Sanford is not a small town anymore.

It has only been a very few years since Sanford was generally considered a small-town agricultural center. And most folks in Sanford can still remember when there was always a place to park on First Street, when many of the subdivisions which now dot our community were farms and "court-ship places", and when there were empty lots where businesses and homes now stand.

Things are changing and changing fast. And they are going to keep on changing. Sanford and Seminole County is growing and there is no stopping it.

New people, new businesses, new resources, new ideas—all have come to Sanford, contributed to the change, and taken their place in our community life.

But apparently, this is only the beginning.

Right now—in the turning stage of Sanford's history—in the looking forward to a population that far exceeds the expectations of the optimist, Sanford needs desperately professional planning.

Within the next decade, the period in which Sanford is destined to experience its greatest growth, more than 25,000 new citizens are expected to boost the local population. It has been estimated that Sanford, in the next ten years, will grow to a population of from 45 to 55 thousand.

Such a growth presents a real and somewhat terrifying prospect, for unless we prepare for this growth we may very well be assisting in the strangulation and death of what is today a very fine community. Unless we make plans now for the growth which we know is ahead, we may very well be faced later with problems so insurmountable as to be impossible to solve.

The prediction on Sanford's growth, and our actual experience in the present growth, means many things to many people. To the businessman, it means more customers and bigger profits. To the builder and develop-per, it means more homes. To the City officials, it means the need for additional city services, more water mains, more streets, more garbage collections, more police officers and more firemen. To the county official, it means more roads, more schools, more health services and more protection.

To the average citizen of Sanford and Seminole county, it means more people, more traffic, more problems, but above all it means more and bigger opportunities.

To all of us, with the proper planning and early action, it can mean better living. But we must have the proper planning and we must have early action. We must begin right now, as a community, to prepare for these 25 to 30 thousand new Sanford citizens who are expected to become a part of our community within just a few short years.

It is a great challenge. But one which this community, with aggressive leadership, can meet and conquer. There are great days ahead for all of us if we will get ready for them.

We have proposed, on several instances, that a "Sanford Development Commission" into which could be drawn hundreds of fine citizens who have their community at heart, be organized or formed, to study minutely every phase of Sanford's growth and needs.

In addition, there should be obtained, to plan the orderly and progressive growth of Sanford, the services of a professional planner.

There's much at stake for us in the future of one of Florida's finest and most progressive cities.

To prevent disorderly and helter-skelter growth—orderly and planned growth must be made possible.

We have seen the mistakes of others and we have watched the real development of still others. This is a time of decision.

Flood Insurance Act

When a building is destroyed by fire, the loss is almost always erased by insurance. When a stream goes on a rampage and destroys millions of dollars worth of property, the loss is almost never erased by insurance. Why?

The basic reason is simple. Floods comprise one of the knottiest problems faced by the insurance business. Despite much study and some costly experiments, no one has figured out how to insure against floods without making rates prohibitive.

Congress finally took note of this by passing the flood insurance act at its recent session. As a result, business firms and home owners will be able to buy flood insurance, with the government subsidizing a large part of the cost. The plan is still in the experimental stage. But it is a good start at a concerted assault on one of the most serious menaces to real property.

This is one area in which federal aid to private enterprise is clearly in the public interest.

And now that the children have started back to school—things around the house will begin to get back to normal again.

Sure Way To Quick Wealth In U. S.

By MAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The surest way to quick wealth in America is to find out what the public wants—and give it to them first.

A 30-year-old entertainment genius who made a fortune giving the public what it wanted in the way of comedy and fictional crime is now rapidly enlarging that fortune by satisfying the rising public interest in religion.

He is Bernard L. Schubert, producer of "Crossroads," an ABC network show that has clergymen as its heroes. The show, now in its second year, was the first commercially sponsored national interfaith religious program on television. Its spontaneous success surprised most people in the industry. But not Schubert himself.

"After all, more Americans are deeply interested in religion today than at any time in history," he remarked. "Some 60.3 per cent of the population belongs to churches now as compared to 48 per cent in 1940 and a mere 16 per cent a hundred years ago."

Until less than two years ago Schubert had only a layman's interest in religion. He had won recognition as coproducer of the "Topper" programs and crime series, such as "Counter Spy," "Adventures of the Falcon," and "Mr. and Mrs. North."

"I hold the distinction of once having hired Jack Webb for a minor role in a radio crime show," said Schubert, a trifle glumly, since Webb later, starting on "Dragnet," probably made more out of crime than anybody, including Jesse James.

The idea for "Crossroads" originated with a Catholic priest and a rabbi.

"They wanted to show that the clergy did more than perform marriages, baptisms, children, and deliver funeral orations," said Schubert. "They wanted to show the full role clergymen play in their communities."

Schubert provided the technical know-how to carry out their wishes. At first he feared there might be a shortage of good stories to dramatize.

But, once word of his project spread, story suggestions poured in from all parts of the land—and he had a backlog of 800 at the last count.

"It seems like half the congregations in the country think their clergyman is a hero," he said.

The story plots are checked for religious authenticity by an interfaith board consisting of a Protestant minister, a Catholic priest and a rabbi.

"Not all the stories submitted are usable," Schubert remarked dryly. "One that we turned down, for example, told how a Baptist clergyman finally managed to convert a stubborn Methodist."

He soon will start distributing the "Crossroad" series in seven foreign countries, ranging from Italy to Australia. Next year he plans to launch a live religious program in which various clergymen will answer the problems of real people.

"I am not a crusader," said Schubert. "I merely am trying to present religion in an interesting fashion because that is what people are interested in, and I believe in giving them what they want."

The interest is particularly keen in young married couples between 25 to 35, among whom the back-to-church resurgence is strongest.

"Crime paid for me," he concluded cheerfully. "Now I've turned from crime to religion."

Social Security Changes

By PAUL K. WEAVER
Manager of the Orlando Social Security Office

Today, I'm addressing my discussion of the new social security law to women—to wives of retired insured workers, to widows of deceased insured workers, to women workers who are in employment or self-employed that counts toward old-age and survivors insurance benefits, and to those dependent mothers who might become eligible for survivors payments if an insured son or daughter should die.

Heretofore there has been a uniform age at which benefit payments could start for all beneficiaries other than children and widows with children in their care. That age was 65; it remains 65 for male beneficiaries. The 1956 amendments to the law, however, lower the age at which women can receive benefits. Beginning with November of this year (1956) women can start getting payments at age 62.

Widows and (in case there is no surviving child or spouse entitled to benefit payments) dependent mothers, may begin getting survivors benefit payments when they reach age 62. They will get the same monthly benefit that they would have started to get at age 65 under the old law.

Wives of retired insured workers and retired insured working women can, if they choose, start getting benefit payments at age 62. However, the monthly benefit amount payable to them will be somewhat less than the amounts of the benefits they would have received had they waited until age 65. In case a wife or an insured working woman elects to start getting benefits before age 65, she will continue to receive a reduced amount after she reaches that age. The longer a woman waits after reaching age 62 and before 65 to start getting payments, the less the reduction in the amount of the monthly benefit. As I have said above, however, once she starts getting monthly payments at a reduced rate, she cannot later qualify for the full amount.

Let's take the example of a woman who has been employed in work covered by social security long enough to become insured. Assume that her full monthly benefit amount, based on her average earnings in covered work, is $78. If she waits until she reaches age 65 to retire, she will get that full amount every month from then on. But she will reach 62 in November 1956. If she decides to retire then, she can get old-age payments starting with November. The amount she will receive will be 80 percent of the monthly amount she would receive if she waited until she reached 65. This will be $62.40 monthly instead of $78.00 per month. If she waits until she is 63 to start getting retirement payments, her benefit amount will be $67.00 monthly. Every year, and every month within a year in which she puts off receiving retirement benefits up to age 65, will increase her benefit slightly. I want to point out again, however, that once she starts getting reduced payments, she will not be able to qualify later for the full payments.

The above example applies also to the wife of a retired insured worker receiving benefits. In her case, however, the amount of the monthly benefit she would get, if she chose to claim payments at age 62, would be 75 percent of what she would get if she waited until she reached age 65. As in the case of the woman worker, the wife's monthly payments will be a little larger each month she defers claiming benefits after her 62nd birthday and before she reaches 65. However, if her retired insured husband should die at any time after she has begun to receive her reduced benefits she will begin receiving full widow's benefits plus the lump-sum death payment.

Larson Knows V'hat Ike Likes

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Larson, a pleasant graying 46-year-old lawyer, has a knack of saying not only what President Eisenhower likes to hear but what he likes to say, too.

Eisenhower liked a recent book by Larson so much he got him to help on his speech-writing. Larson worked on Eisenhower's acceptance speech at the Republican convention in San Francisco.

But Republicans like Larson, who has been undersecretary of labor two years, must make Democrats like Adlai Stevenson feel confused enough to scream in pain: "Get off my property or I'll call the sheriff. Or is this your property?"

In his 210-page book—"A Republican Looks At His Party"—Larson attempts to show the new Republicanism under Eisenhower has a "genius" for doing the right thing in running government.

In fact he says the Republicans have discovered the "American consensus"—meaning general agreement among Americans on what to do—and at the same time gives the Democrats credit for very little.

It's a very cool piece of writing. And it may help the Republicans in this election. But it is hardly what a political scientist would consider a textbook on government.

Larson brushes over, almost without mentioning, the fact that the administration—no matter how well it runs the government—is standing on a foundation built up by Democratic programs over 20 years.

But Eisenhower endorsed the book lavishly at his news conference last week.

Still, Eisenhower bestowed his blessing with quadruple, built-in hedges which let him escape through roof, basement or big front door anytime anything in this book backfires. Said Eisenhower of the book:

"I can't recall every detail that's in it (hedge No. 1). . . . So . . . I can't . . . say I stand by every statement (hedge No. 2) . . . but in general (hedge No. 3) I thought he (Larson) expressed my philosophy of government as well as I have seen it (and here comes hedge No. 4) in a book of that size."

The book covers too many phases of government to be synopsized here. But at one point Larson said: "President Eisenhower and his associates have, for the first time in our history, discovered and established the authentic American center in politics."

He was reminded of this statement Aug. 28 on the TV panel

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP

ALMOST EVERYBODY knows today that "blue chips" stocks have led the stock market, sometimes doubling and even tripling in value in the course of a decade. "Blue chips" in the words of a banker, "are shares of ownership in an enterprise known nationally . . . for its ability to make money and pay a conservative dividend in good times and bad."

But what about "blue chips" so eagerly sought that their market price soar beyond all reason? Then a blue chip, points out Broker Jacques Coe, might be defined as "a favorite of the investment trusts that sells so high and yields so little it is not worth buying now."

Investors might do well to bear always in mind Billionaire Baron Rothschild's formula for amassing wealth: "I always made it a rule to buy a little too late, and sell a little too soon."

Enterprise Church Serves As Host For Youth Week

By HELEN SNODGRASS
The Barnett Memorial Methodist Church has just completed a very successful Youth Week. The Enterprise church served as host church to the group from Osteen and Stafford Memorial, North Monroe.

The week began with the registering of 28 young people and ended with a banquet Friday evening with 56 youth and adult youth attending. Rev. Jimmy Soles who is a senior and pre-theology student at F S U, Tallahassee, of Auburndale was the speaker for the week. The Rev. Wayne Curry, pastor at Stafford and Osteen taught a class for the intermediates and Mr. a. Donald Winn, social work at the Methodist Children's Home of Enterprise, taught the class of seniors. The classes dealt with the Christian approach to boy and girl relations.

Friday night Mrs. Edna Gleason of Orlando showed slides and gave a travologue of her recent visit to the near East.

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert F. Hays, community Methodist Church Daytona Beach, with seven of their young people and two of their youth workers, were guests for the closing night program.

The program for the week came to a close as each one in turn knelt at the altar in the light of the candles and before the illuminated Portrait of Jesus, to offer each in his own way his benediction for the week.

Morning Circle No. Nine of the First Presbyterian Church held its regular meeting Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. L. B. Libbey, with Mrs. Joe Baker, chairman, presiding.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Roy Mann, after which the group discussed plans for preparing supper for the young people's group for one month out of the year. A report was given on the Circle's project, which is a series of talks on "Principles of the Presbyterian Church".

It was brought out that Mrs. Roy Mann would give the program for the church in November, and all members of the circle were urged to be present.

Mrs. David Bach gave the lesson "The Home at Bethany", followed by the closing prayer, offered by Mrs. Roy Mann.

Those present were Mrs. Roy Mann, Mrs. David Bach, Mrs. W. E. Dodson, Mrs. Harry Weir, Mrs. John Burton, Mrs. A. L. Lyon, Mrs. Vann Parker, Mrs. L. B. Libbey and Mrs. Joe Baker.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. N. Millspaugh.

Local Minister And Wife Attend Kissimmee Meet

Rev. and Mrs. K. V. Mykkanen, of Sanford, attended the reorganizational meeting of the Second District Florida Nursing Association which was held at the Tropical Hotel here Tuesday with Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Tindall acting as hosts.

Mrs. H. A. Skidmore of Lake Alfred was unanimously elected president, and Mrs. Amy Weagle of Lakeland as secretary. The group decided to hold future meetings on the first Monday of each month at designated places.

Mrs. Georgia Hammond of Orlando and Dr. Tindall were appointed to the program committee, along with Mrs. Annie D. Claggett of Vero Beach.

The average Florida forest acre supports only 1010 board feet of sawtimber; Southwide, the average figure is 1,835 board feet, and nation-wide, 4,063 board feet.

Footnotes to fashion

What will the well-dressed Sanfordite be wearing this Fall? Well, here are some tips from the leading designers of Paris. They decree black as the favorite color and capes as the favored garment. Waistlines are back where nature put them, except for a few high empire effects. Necklines are daring and are accentuated with drapery and bows, as are the hips.

Day clothes are practical, in heavy homespun-looking woollens, sometimes trimmed with fur, that are warm as toast. Evening clothes are gay and lavish in shades of red, pink and purple velvet, satin and chiffon. Embroidery and gold lace are used extensively and often the dresses are stiffened with linings and petticoats.

Full skirts and sheaths maintain their popularity and the hemline remains, for the most part, just below the knee.

That's the general fashion picture for Fall; and here, in more detail, is how each of the leading Paris couturiers feels that midday should look.

Dior, as usual, has a special look, and this season it is the "Magnet Line", or Dutch skirt. This features a skirt set in soft folds at the waist, widening over the hips and narrowing at the hem.

Lanvin-Castille likes the cone-shaped skirt, flaring from a tiny waist to a full-circle hem. He calls it the V-line, but it is more like a V turned upside down.

Helm makes barrel coats and jackets, and like Dior, a few nearly ankle-length skirts, but his are sheaths. Another of his favorite designs is the parrot-cage skirt.

Patou's collection features clothes that are pretty and wearable and avoids anything eccentric. The accent is on the bust-line.

The fur-bordered coats, sweeping the floor, and the aligret and parasol plunges nodding from the hair, featured by Balmain, are reminiscent of the early nineteen hundreds.

But the "roaring twenties" come to mind when viewing Griffee's eyebrow-level cloches and loose belts around the hip.

Faith's creations are ultra feminine; Margy Rouff's feature tricky slotted belts and a curvy contour; Dresses courts a windswept look with a "Tornado" line; and Chanel is still showing little box-jacketed suits with draped jersey blouses.

And you ladies can look forward to a top-heavy look this year, as the hats are styled along the Russian collar line, in fur. There are also onlon domes, high-crowned stovepipes, cloches and toques.

The final word on the season's designs seems to be that you can wear all of last year's clothes except your torso dresses, which have been voted out. But you needn't let the man of the family know that.

Two New Teachers For Enterprise School Opening

"Where Quality is higher than Price"

The GOLDEN WITCH

By ZOLA ROSS

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN
 CLYDE RYERSON, overburdened at one of his own saloons with Michael Dark, was hunched over the town's got hanging fever, Michael. Just your luck to come along when people are tired of killers sentenced to be hung and still alive on stalling tactics a year later.

Ryerson did not belabor his argument. When he spoke again, it was on a different subject.

"You've known Charlotte Linden for years, haven't you, Michael?"

"Since she put up her hair and lengthened her dress."

Ryerson's green eyes were intent. "Engaged to her, weren't you? Bull—bunker over her?"

Michael did not feel the old prick of anger. He viewed his long passion for Charlotte with the emotion of a man who had survived a fever. Perhaps he was always a man to chase the golden witch. If he freed Meg of the murder charge,
 she would marry Jason.

Aware of Ryerson's watchful-ness, he answered without heat.
 "Anything between Charlotte and me ended a long time ago."

The murder trial continued. Dan Farmer's first lies were telling ones. Michael made the best opening statement he could, but even Judge Harcourt's unimpaired voice told him he had failed.

With the coroner on the stand,
 Dan here down on the case property of the killer. "The shot must have been fired at very close quarters?"

"Yes." The coroner grew technical but Dan untangled it neatly for the jury. He managed neatly to remind them of his own opening statement.

"Gentlemen, there will be an attempt on the part of defense counsel to imply that Kemp Beaumont's killer came from the Klondike, from among the men with whom Kemp Beaumont had reason to disagree on one matter or another.
 Gentlemen, do you believe Kemp Beaumont himself would not be aware of emity that reached killing proportions? Would he have gone unarmed if he feared such an enemy? No! No man would stoop to such folly! But a woman, a wife—gentleman, the mother of his children—he would not fear her. If she approached him, would he draw away? Gentlemen, you know the answer."

Matilda, from whose hands the prosecutor had received Meg's bloodstained clothes, was reluctant to testify. "Even my own shoes had blood on them!" Matilda tried hard. "You couldn't go near the body without getting blood on you."

"And when you helped the defendant to her room, did she say anything to you about her husband's death?" Dan Farmer dug into her protests. "Or did she pretend shock?"

Michael objected vigorously, was sustained, but Dan got the question in another way.

"Shock!" Matilda bristled. "Maybe policemen and lawyers are used to dead people. The rest of us aren't. Sure, she was shocked. I was myself."

There was a spatter of laughter in the courtroom. Michael got the difference between "shocked" and
 "in shock" into the record, but he knew Dan had scored another round.

"You were with the defendant for some time, Mrs. Cox," Dan persisted. "Did she say anything about her husband's death?"

"Objection," Michael was on his feet. "Counsel is obviously attempting to lead the witness."

Judge Harcourt nodded. "Objection sustained."

Dan shrugged, shared a hopeless glance with the jury. One of his best traits was the ability to make the jury his partners, arouse in them a conviction that this honest servant of the law was constantly being hampered in his efforts to secure justice.

"Mrs. Cox, a murder had just been committed. The corpse of this woman's husband was lying on your parlor floor. Are you telling me she didn't talk about it?"

Matilda's beaked nose quivered.
 "She was shaking and quivering."

"But not talking?"

"No."

Again Michael fought cobwebs of futility. The jury's reaction was plain. What kind of a woman was this who said nothing when her husband had just been murdered?
 Michael knew they couldn't understand Meg's silence.

Jason Ten Eyck was the next witness for the state. Dark and moose, he looked more like an Indian than ever, an Indian surrounded by hostile whites.

"You know Kemp Beaumont, Mr. Ten Eyck?"

"I met him three days before—Matilda."

"Before he was shot, Mr. Ten Eyck. You were surprised to find him at the Cox house?"

The chip on Jason's shoulder was a two-by-four. "Since he was supposed to have been killed by an avalanche that was two years old,
 you may say I was surprised, yes."
 His words were bitten-out ten-penny nails.

"And during this interval, you became engaged to his wife?"

"Objection," Michael was on his feet. "Counsel is attempting to lead the witness."

as if he expected to be sustained.
 "Mr. Ten Eyck's relationship to the defendant is irrelevant to this action."

"Your Honor—" Dan assumed his most abused expression—"the state expects to prove that, far from being irrelevant, the defendant's relations with Mr. Ten Eyck are vital—that they make up the essential motive for this murder.
 With Kemp Beaumont alive, the defendant could not marry Jason Ten Eyck."

"Objection overruled," Judge Harcourt said. "The witness will answer."

"I will repeat the question," Dan was silent. "During the interval
 when Kemp Beaumont was supposedly dead, you became engaged to his wife?"

Jason's hand were data. "Are you accusing me of bigamous intentions, Mr. Prosecutor?"

Dan shared his innocence with the jury.

"Indeed not, Mr. Ten Eyck. I am merely asking you if you intended to marry Beaumont's alleged widow?"

"And if I did?" Jason's knock for making an alphabet insulting was in full force.

Dan smiled. "Perhaps when you found the lady was not in fact a widow, Mr. Ten Eyck, you harbored different intentions?"

"My intentions didn't change."

"Yet the day after Mr. Beaumont's return, you left for San Francisco, didn't you?"

"Yes. But—"

"No further questions," Dan turned away without allowing Jason to finish.

In cross-examination, Michael established amiably that Jason often went out of town on business.

"And this was an ordinary business trip, having no connection with Mr. Beaumont's presence or absence?"

"Yes, it was."

But Jason's protests were too vehement. There wasn't a man on the jury, a spectator in the courtroom who didn't believe Jason had changed his mind. Marry a widow —sure. Marry a woman with a live husband—another thing entirely.
 Michael read the belief of the crowd and excused Jason hastily.

Anna Lurkins was the next witness for the state. Watching her, Michael felt his stomach muscles
 tighten, smelled disaster as tangible as fog on the mountains. A whisper rose and died in the room.
 Most people hadn't seen Anna since David left town; some of them had never seen her. In a relatively short space of time, she had become a legend.

"Yes, it was."

NL Pennant Race Is Three-Way Scrap

By ED WILKS
 THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 This may be the scrawniest National League pennant race yet.
 With four weeks to go, it's a threeway scrap among Milwaukee, Cincinnati and Brooklyn — but the teams to beat are St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.
 The gimmick lies in what's left of the schedule—plus an odd similarity of records to date and the weather in Philadelphia and Milwaukee.

You can toss in Brooklyn weather, too. Rain postponed the Dodgers' game with the New York Giants last night, the only contest scheduled in the NL.

Milwaukee and Cincinnati each have two games left with Brooklyn, all four at Ebbets Field, while meeting each other once, and that more or less leaves the winning of the pennant up to the games with the rest of the league—and here's how the many-sided gimmick works:

The first place Braves have two series and seven games left with last-place Chicago. The second-place Redlegs, meanwhile, play seven games in two series with fourth-place St. Louis. And the third place Dodgers play seven against sixth place Pittsburgh in two series.

Oddly enough, the Braves are 9-6
 for the season against the Cubs—
 and the Redlegs are 9-8 vs. the Cardinals, and the Dodgers 9-8 vs.
 the Bucs.

Because of an earlier rainout,
 the Braves have a four-game series remaining in Philadelphia against the Phillies—only club in the league
 with an edge 10-8 over Milwaukee.
 Rain in Philly also leaves the Red-legs with a four-game set there—
 a pair of consecutive twilight doubleheaders that wraps up a season series standing at 9-9 at the moment.

Next Thursday, the Braves play

an "extra" game at Pittsburgh—
 starting from scratch on the 1-1 tie caused by rain in Milwaukee last week.

The Braves, who play all but three of their remaining games away from home, open a 14-game trip and four-game series at Chicago today with Brooklyn the next stop. Cincy, after taking three of four in Milwaukee, starts on the last 13 games for a road trip with the opener of a three-game series
 at St. Louis tonight. The Redlegs play 13 of their remaining games on the road.

And the Dodgers, who were 3-2
 in a five-game, three-day series against New York at the Polo Grounds last weekend, try again to open a four-game set with the Giants tonight. This time, following the rainout, it's a twilight doubleheader—the only twilight on schedule at the moment for the Brooks, who play 17 of their remaining games at home.

It will be the 18th doubleheader of the year for the Broo-ks—who have swept only five, split six and lost six. Milwaukee, with two twinbills remaining, has swept nine, split five and lost one so far. The Redlegs, who have swept eight,
 lost one and split eight, have three
 to go.

The American League? Well,
 New York's magic number is 13
 —any combination of Yankee victories and Cleveland losses totaling 13 clinches the flag — and Mickey Vernon, with 47 home runs, is two behind Babe Ruth's record—60 paces of 1927 as the Yankees open at home against Washington tonight.

Chicago's at Cleveland tonight, Boston is at Baltimore for a twin-light pair and Detroit's at Kansas City.

Only two games were scheduled yesterday, Washington, scoring six in the fifth with Jose Valdivelso hitting a three-run homer, defeat-

 WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Peter P. Samson, 15, of Gardner is not one to waste his time.
 He went into Ephraim's Book Store in search of a chemistry book. When he came up from the store basement 45 minutes later, the store was closed and he was locked in.
 He telephoned police. Two hours later an employe arrived to free him.
 Samson said he spent his two-hour confinement reading the chemistry book and brushing up on his German grammar.

Rubber City Open Golf Tournament Enters 2nd Round

AKRON, Ohio, (AP)—The sixth annual Rubber City Open golf tournament went into its second round today with Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., leading the field by one stroke with five-under-par 67s for yesterday's 18 holes.
 Bunched behind them with 69s for the opening round of the 75-hole medal competition were Jimmy Demaret, three-time Masters champion from Klamath Lake, N.J.; Bob Liehardus of Hildebrand, N.J.; and Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill.

The longest winning streak in major league history is 36 straight triumphs by the Giants of 1916. All of those games were won at home.

For big jobs, small jobs, all jobs —

Ford Trucks Cost Less!

Ford's low initial prices mean real savings, to be sure. But the on-the-job savings you get in Ford trucks count even more!

Take running costs; they're downright low. Because only Ford gives you the gas and oil economy of modern Short Stroke power in every truck. Only Ford offers Short Stroke engines backed by over 5 billion miles of on-the-job experience.

Upkeep costs are low because Ford trucks are built extra strong. They outlast all other leading makes—a fact certified by independent insurance experts. That same stand-up ruggedness means greater dependability, too.

And when it comes time to trade—you'll gain from Ford's traditional high resale value, too. You'll find that, from start to finish, Ford trucks cost less.

"I earn as much as $30 a day more because my Ford T-800 tandem job has saved more payload than comparable trucks," says timber-hauler Clarence Leasing.

"Low cost, dependability, toughness—that's what I get in Ford trucks," says John Karis. "Ford's power takes up through tough going that would stop many another truck."

Radio-TV Highlights

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Just the other day someone remarked that this summer television season is taking a long time in dying. The answer is that it has been dead all summer and they've merely neglected to bury the body.

Except for a few good dramas, a very few good comedies, we have been exposed to the most routine second and third-rate television entertainment in many seasons.

Summer always has been dull on television, but the summer of 1956 offers a new definition of the word doldrums.

Why this should be is rather a mystery, though here is one theory: Possibly the major networks knocked themselves out planning and budgeting and covering the national conventions. They did a good job, swinging from the ceiling and chasing delegates up air-ways in a frantic effort to bring the excitement into the nation's living rooms. It was not their fault that both major parties handed them an impossibly dull script.

One thing this season has taught many viewers. All of those old Hollywood movies are not to be scorned. In fact, if the doldrums last much longer, some are to be scorned.

It seems not that there is some historic interest to be found even in a mediocre old Hollywood movie. By historic interest I mean a "Gee whiz, I'd forgotten things were that short then" sort of interest.

Many of the old movies viewed this summer have been neither as good nor as bad as one remembers them. Some you have not seen are vaguely familiar. Others you have seen are quite unfamiliar.

Altogether, the old movies have stirred interest—if not always nostalgia. And that is more than can be said for the rest of this dreary summer television season.

FRUIT FLY SPRAYING PLANE FLIPS
WAUCHULA (AP)—The pilot of a fruit fly spraying plane escaped unhurt yesterday when his small craft flipped on its back when taking off.

He was Warren Curry of the J. W. Morris Flying Service at Fort Pierce.

The plane was only a couple of feet off the ground when water splashed up from a big puddle and killed a magpie.

RELATED VICTORY
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—It took Wayne Jackson one month to win the Virginia Amateur Golf Championship.

Jackson and Harry Kasterly Jr. tied for the medal in the qualifying round but there was no opportunity for a playoff. Jackson then went on to win the tournament at the Canadon Course, Ft. Springs.

One month later Jackson won the medal in the playoff with Kasterly here with a 68. Kasterly had a 71.

FOR THE HOME FANS, TOO
CHICAGO (AP)—Bookie shortstop Luis Aparicio of the White Sox is expected to play with Marquette of the Venezuelan Winter League after the American League season is finished.

"We would prefer him to rest during the winter," says Chuck Combsby, vice president of the Sox. "But we know he's a big base down there and he'll probably play a few games for them."

FROM SPANISH TO BRIDIRON
Detroit (AP)—From teaching Spanish in high school to being general manager of a professional football team is a big jump. But that's the record of W. Nicholas (Dick) Korbarty of the Detroit Lions.

Korbarty left his home town of Hillsfield, Mich. in 1944 after serving as a school teacher there for 11 years to become athletic publicity at Michigan State. In 1948 he became publicity director for the Detroit Lions and worked his way to the top in two years.

South Africa Soil Conservation Head Visits Sanford Area

Dr. F. D. Henning, Director of Soil Conservation and Extension in the Department of Agriculture of the Union of South Africa, is at present on a 30 day tour covering some of the principle farming areas of the United States. His primary interests are to observe and study the organization, operation and administration of the various branches of the US Department of Agriculture at all levels and to observe the methods and procedures used in accomplishing the objectives and providing services to farmers. Dr. Henning serves the Union of South Africa in a similar capacity to our US Secretary of Agriculture.

Four days of Dr. Henning's allotted time were devoted to a study of the major farming activities in Florida. Before coming to Sanford visits were made to the Paul Dickman vegetable and ranch farms in Ruskin, Agricultural Experiment Station at Bradenton, The Duda & Sons muck farms near Belle Glade where the season's first celery was being planted, and then to the citrus area around Clearwater.

The main purpose of his visit to Sanford was to study and observe the methods of irrigation and drainage being used in this area. The or subirrigation systems were observed on the M. L. Callum farm and the L. C. Leonard farm on Celery Ave. Leonardy gave an interesting account of the general vegetable growing operations in the Sanford area and also demonstrated some of the tools and equipment generally used in seed-bed operations. According to Dr. Henning the vegetable and citrus production in the Union of South Africa is very similar to what is found in Seminole County; however, there are no tile irrigation systems and the area of flowing wells is very limited. He also stated that the largest citrus grove in the world is in his country. Naval and Valencia oranges are the main citrus product over there and they do export a large quantity each year. Insects, pests, nematodes, and fruit flies are also problems that must be combated regularly.

Dr. Henning also stated that they have segregation problems similar to ours; however since the Russian representatives were expelled from the country the racial problems have not been too serious.

COMMISSION WILL NOT APPROVE UNDERCOVER DEALS

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—The gist of a producer distributor case heard by the Florida Milk Commission yesterday was that no undercover deals ever will be approved by the commission, Chairman Denton Lowry reported.

He said details could not be made public under a state law protecting confidential relationship and trade secrets which might be aired at meetings.

Lowry said the main topic of the Sept. 18-19 meeting here will be consolidation of marketing areas.

American Legion Crusade Against Communism Set

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The American Legion set out today on a new crusade against communism after hearing a warning by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of communism's "serious threat to freedom" and a pledge by newly elected national Commander Wilbur C. Daniel to fight its "diabolic evil."

The Legion wound up its national convention last night by electing Daniel, a 42-year-old Navy veteran, to the highest office of the 2,800,000-member organization.

Earlier, the convention heard Nixon call "the struggle against world communism the greatest challenge that free men ever faced."

Daniel told the convention in his acceptance speech: "New and strange doctrines are current. A new philosophy is finding its place in the thinking of men: A philosophy conceived in the womb of socialism, born in an era of social and economic conflict, and nursed in the lap of communism."

"This crimson philosophy is gnawing at the vitals of our society and threatening the destruction of our nation."

But, he said, "we have not become so destitute of mind and character that we need a group of self-styled leftists, collectivists and neo-socialists to shape our destinies."

Man Climbs Piling For Breath Of Air

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—It took 30 policemen and firemen more than an hour and a half yesterday to haul down a man who climbed a piling in the Schuylkill River "to get a breath of air."

"I like to give people a hard time," he jeered as he squatted on a crosspiece connecting two upright timbers about seven feet above the end of a long pier.

The police and their helpers tried just about everything—coaxing, sharp words, promises of cigarettes, a free meal, a good reward in a safe, low-riding "cruiser."

In the end the police and firemen stopped talking and went into action with a tug, a city fireboat and a ladder.

They got him, but not until there'd been quite a tussle. They carried him, bound to a stretcher, to an emergency car, thence to a hospital for a checkup. One of the policemen was hospitalized, too. He'd been kicked in the abdomen by the stubborn sitter, who gave his name as George William Reed, 37.

TENTATIVE STRIKE SETTLEMENT REPORTED

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—A tentative strike settlement at Merrill-Stevens Dry Dock & Repair Co. was reported last night.

James C. Merrill Jr., general manager of the shipyard, said the agreement included 10 to 15 cents an hour pay raises, union security clause and a company pledge to meet any wage increases negotiated with northern shipyards.

About 1,300 members of the International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America went out July 24 for 25 cents an hour increase.

Death No Stranger With Stars

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Death is no stranger among the stars.

For birth, life and death seem to vie among the stars in the universe, as among humans on earth.

Stars apparently still are being born. Some stars live long and quiet lives. Some race through brief, spend-thrift spans.

And they die. Indeed, one estimate is there is one dead star for every 10 which you can see. And so many have died—out of the original billions times millions—that there are hundreds or perhaps thousands of dead stars for every human who ever lived on earth.

Some die in great explosive red flares before subsiding to dim little cores, still burning, but so faintly as to be dead compared with their original splendor. And some die in cataclysmic explosions scattering their substance and remnants through millions of miles of space.

This is part of the story unfolding as astronomers trace the life histories of stars. The findings are yielding estimates of the age of the universe, and may help explain how it began.

The story thus far from the work of many astronomers, was summed up in an interview with Dr. Allan R. Sandage of the Mount Wilson and Palomar observatories.

New stars apparently still are being formed out of the great whirling clouds of dust and gases existing in space. Some new stars may soon—in cosmic time—be born in our own Milky Way.

Astronomers have never actually witnessed a star birth. But many feel sure the whirling clouds of stardust suddenly condense or collapse to form a new star. Gravitational pull, and even the pressure of starlight, can be forces for evolution of new stars.

Young stars are found only near such clouds of inter-stellar matter.

Some stars burn bright and blue and hot, using up their fuel of hydrogen at such fantastic rates that they cannot long continue.

In time they must die down to become white dwarfs, small but dense, perhaps a million times denser than water. How long before death comes depends upon their initial mass and rate of burning.

Other stars are cool red giants. They appear to have been white or blue stars which—in a next step of evolution—expanded tremendously in diameter after using up much of their hydrogen fuel.

They burn cooler, and carry out different nuclear reactions, and finally collapse into white dwarfs.

The red giants spew out their own matter at a prodigious rate, creating the clouds of gases and dust and elements out of which new stars—and even new planets—can be formed.

And occasionally a star perishes by explosion, bursting apart as a super-nova several million times more brilliant than the sun. In every galaxy or Milky Way family of stars, this happens about once every few centuries.

Some stars, like our own sun, are easy going and live slowly. Compared with other stars our sun is relatively feeble. Some stars are 10 to 100 thousand times more brilliant.

Astronomers estimate our sun has been burning at nearly the same rate since the universe began some 8 to 6 billion years ago.

In all this time it has probably used up only 8 per cent of all its hydrogen, converting it into helium and radiating heat and light in the nuclear fusion which is the basis of the H-bomb reaction.

And it appears, Dr. Sandage says, that the sun can keep going for another 10 billion years. By then, it will have used up about 10 per cent of its hydrogen, and then will expand into a red giant. The surface of the sun will then reach out to the orbit of the earth, incinerating this planet.

Had our sun originally been a magnitude or so brighter it already would have expanded into a fatal—for us—red giant.

Tracing the life histories of stars is a complex task. It is done not only by photographs of distant or relatively nearby clusters of stars and galaxies, but by spectrographic studies to learn chemical composition, by analysis of brightness, temperatures, color magnitude, and the distribution of stars.

All these findings indicate the oldest stars are no more than 6 to 8 billion years old.

The rate of burning of a star, in regard to its mass, allows estimates of how long it can keep burning that way, and estimates of how long it has been burning.

Some older stars of our own Milky Way by this kind of timetable appear no more than 6 billion years old, Dr. Sandage said.

Various bits of evidence now begin to agree upon an age of 8 to 6 billion years for the universe, he added.

One is the findings from the life-history analysis. Another is that the solar system, and our own planet, appear to be around 4½ billion years old, as dated by radioactive rocks on earth.

The red shift, measuring the speed at which galaxies are rushing away from one another, indicates the universe started some 8 billion years ago.

Miss Alice Paul Is Busy Ex-Jailbird

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miss Alice Paul is a quiet, lady-like and very busy ex-jailbird. Once the very name of Alice Paul stirred women to cheers and prompted strong men to bite their mustache ends. As a frail, pretty slip of a girl she was popped into jails here and in Great Britain more times than she cares to remember for insisting on equal rights for women. At 71 she still is insisting. Right now she is seeking a constitutional amendment declaring: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state on account of sex." If adopted, Miss Paul says, it will strike from the nation's books about a thousand laws which she feels discriminate against women. Miss Paul is one of the last of the suffragettes. She is the founder and still the guiding light of the 80,000 Women's National Party. It was the WNP, following the course charted by Lucretia Mott, Susan H. Anthony, and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, which so undermined the masculine belief that women had business in politics that the harassed men agreed to give women the ballot in 1920. Today Miss Paul is not only fighting for passage of the equal rights amendment, but she is fighting also to prevent Congress from condemning the oldest house in Washington, which the WNP uses as a headquarters, to make room for a parking lot. There is scant doubt that Miss Paul is a determined woman. Mrs. Elisabeth Forbes, WNP treasurer, commented that "Susan B. Anthony beside Alice Paul is a pale, pale shadow." To publicize her cause while serving a six months jail sentence in 1917 for "obstructing traffic," she staged one of the nation's most famous hunger strikes. The strike lasted 22 days and she was forcibly fed in the prison hospital the last two weeks. Once she was removed to the psychiatric ward. The alienist who examined her finally reported: "There is a spirit like Joan of Arc and it is useless to try to change it. She will die but she will never give up." The treatment of Miss Paul and others jailed with her outraged the nation. Priests flooded into Washington. Her sentence finally was commuted.

Miss Paul still is commuting to Washington from her home in Ridgefield, Conn., which she shares with her sister, Helen, Why? "When you put your hand to the plow," she said, "it is difficult to take it away while the furrow is unfinished." Miss Paul was interviewed in the garden of the historic Gallatin House, part of which was built in the late 1650s. From this house were fired the only shots against the British when they marched in to burn the Capitol in 1814. The patio of the house, part of the original Lord Baltimore estate, is paved with bricks taken from the nation's first Capitol building, which was torn down to make room for the Supreme Court Building. Above the noise of air hammers riveting the steel framework of the new Senate office building next door, Miss Paul said: "I guess the furrow is about finished. It looks to me as though the amendment will not be delayed much longer." Miss Paul's equal rights for women amendment has received support from the Republican and Democratic parties. In the wake of these endorsements, she is planning a meeting of the representatives of the 21 women's organizations which are supporting the equal rights amendment to plan a campaign for it during this year's presidential election drive. If approved by Congress and ratified by the states the amendment would give women a place in the Constitution as persons, a place they now enjoy only because of a Supreme Court opinion. Whether women are persons within the legal meaning of the Constitution and entitled to its protection, by the way, has been a matter of judicial interpretation, which has swung back and forth on the subject. Basically women still are subject to the medieval English Common Law existing when the Constitution was adopted in 1789 except where changed in specific instances by a state legislature or by Congress. Under common, or unwritten, law the marriage ceremony gave a woman's property to her husband. She could own nothing, make no contracts or agreements. Her personal liberty vanished. Six pitchers still active in the American League have struck out more than 1,300 batters during their careers. They are Bob Feller, Warren Spahn, Virgil Trucks, Early Wynn, Robin Roberts and Bob Lemon.

KEEPER William Souhrada of the Bronx Zoo, New York, had a brush with probable injury when Phoebe II, a new female hippopotamus, charged him (top) as he was persuading her into the pool to meet "Peter," the male hippo who lost his mate in July. In bottom photo, Phoebe meets Peter in the pool. It is "alone at last" and what looks like the beginning of a beautiful friendship. (International)

Auxiliary Aircraft Engine Plant To Be Built In Florida

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Pratt & Whitney Aircraft has announced it will construct an auxiliary aircraft engine plant 17 miles west of Palm Beach, Fla., that will cost a minimum of 40 million dollars. The formal announcement was made by Wright A. Parkins, general manager of the East Hartford, Conn., firm at a news conference in the office of Gov. Collins. Pratt & Whitney is a division of United Aircraft Corp. Parkins said actual construction of the jet engine center will begin as soon as a three-mile access road now under construction is completed by Palm Beach County. The announcement came a few minutes after the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has announced that it has acquired 7,000 acres of land upon which the engine plant and development center will be constructed. The acreage is part of the J. W. Corbett Wildlife Management Area just east of Lake Okechobee. In exchange for the plant site, Pratt & Whitney will give 9,000 acres of land on the south border of the Corbett game preserve to Florida for the enlargement of the preserve. Parkins said the 40-million dollar figure given at recent legislative hearings on the bill authorizing transfer of the game preserve lands was "a conservative one." The Palm Beach County facility will be an auxiliary to the main engineering and manufacturing laboratories and plants of Pratt & Whitney in Connecticut. At the outset, the plant will be an engineering and development facility and later will go into engine production. About 3,000 engineers, scientists and technical personnel will be employed in jet engine design, test and development, and "several thousand" production workers will be employed when engine manufacture is begun. Parkins said major factors in selection of Florida for the site was its mild climate and its attractiveness as a place to live which makes it easier to attract skilled technicians in a highly competitive market. "Company surveys indicated that many engineers and technicians now unwilling to work in the Northern states would join the company if it has a Florida auxiliary," he said. Another factor in the Palm Beach site was that it is isolated enough to permit test and development of highly advanced and extremely powerful jet engines. Parkins said that location of the plant in this state would help boom Florida as an aviation center and would stimulate location of a number of feeder plants for aircraft parts. Welcoming the firm to the state Gov. Collins said it would bring added prosperity to all parts of Florida and "represents another giant stride in the progress we have been moving toward stabilizing our economy at a high level." Collins said the Florida Development Commission and local leaders in Palm Beach County had worked diligently with the company in arranging for the new plant. Estimated annual payroll for the plant was placed at about 30 million dollars. EXTRA GUEST HAZLETON, Pa. — The Rev. E. Paul Smith was watching television. He was joined by a ringneck pheasant, who flew through a window. The window had been closed. The bird was not hurt. Its next stop was Nay Aug Park, accompanied by zookeeper Jack Davis.

Businessmen Take 2nd Look At 'Do Not Disturb' Law

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Changing times and stiffening competition have caused some Salina businessmen to take a second look at the town's "Do Not Disturb" ordinance. The law was enacted some nine years ago and prohibits peddlers and salesmen from pounding on residents' doors without permission. It doesn't say how to get permission without knocking first. Passage of the ordinance caused little controversy. John Cranor, manager of the Salina Chamber of Commerce, said it was aimed primarily at a postwar epidemic of "gimmick" salesmen and shady door-to-door types. But as business got back to normal Cranor said Tuesday some local firms found themselves hamstrung. In particular, the anti-knock decree has annoyed reputable appliance and automobile salesmen. The latter, especially, have felt the need to go flitting house to house seeking prospects. Flitting doesn't help much when you can't knock. The ordinance, which provides penalties up to $100 was dormant until it received extensive local publicity recently. A Salina salesman knocked at the door of a lady who happened to be a competitor's wife and knew her legal P's and Q's. The upshot was a visit to the police station. Cranor said it "humiliated and embarrassed" the salesman. Salinians had been oblivious to the ordinance until then, Cranor added, but the case perked them up and "now many are standing on their rights." "It has a restrictive effect on local business in these highly competitive days," Cranor said. "That's why the chamber would like to see it repealed — or at least have the ordinance modified to allow soliciting by local businessmen." But Mayor Albert Hawks said

Elaine Stewart Is Adjusting Whole Life To Silver

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—Elaine Stewart is going to restore some glamour to Hollywood, even if she has to get silverplated to do it.

You'll remember Elaine as the red-haired beauty who vamped Kirk Douglas in "The Bad News" and as "The Beautiful" in "The Bad News" film roles, she languished at MGM almost two years. In her last year under contract, she didn't even visit the studio. She did no work at all, though she was being paid "more than a United States Senator."

So she pulled the paper doll caper. With the guidance of a hot-shot press agent, she hired an ad in one trade paper displaying her admirable figure. In another trade paper was printed a dress, with the invitation to cut it out and apply to the Stewart figure.

The stunt plus other persuasions managed to get the gal out of St. L. She landed immediately at Universal-International with a two-picture-a-year deal starting with "The Tattered Dress."

"Oh, it felt so good to be out!" she rhapsodized over cottage cheese in the U-I commissary. "I just felt wonderful, so I decided I'd like a whole new change."

So what did she do? Change her agent? Her boy friend? Her telephone number?

No—her hair.

Gone are the auburn tresses. She is now a quicksilver blonde. "I feel wonderful—like a whole new person," she said. "It's amazing what a new color of hair can do for you."

"Now I'm adjusting my whole life to a new motif—silver. Everything is going to be silver. All my jewelry is silver. I have a new silver Mercedes to drive and a silver poodle named Clquot. I use silver nail polish and eat off silver dishes."

With what kind of utensil? "Silver, silly," she chided. "And I sleep in a silver bed."

But the spectacular part of the whole campaign is her new wardrobe, she remarked.

"Oh, you should see it," she enthused. "I've had a designer whip me up lounging pajamas of silver lame. They are cut very low, with a big collar I can pull up and fasten around my neck with a silver mink."

"It is very form-fitting and then flares out at the bottom with lots of material. You know—like those outfits in the '20s. If they can bring back the cloche hats and other things, I can do this."

SHARK HUNTING VACATION—DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Hiser, their two daughters Daryce Adair, 12, and Judy Anne, 9, will consist of hunting for sharks in shallow areas of the Gulf of Mexico.

Hiser and a companion, Randolph Young, 30, tow their cruiser to New Orleans from Decatur. Equipment includes hand harpoons, a harpoon launcher and a .30-caliber rifle, plus one inflated truck inner tube painted orange.

SMART ANIMALS—SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Animals in theatrical performances must know how to act, says C. Y. Jones, who contracted to provide 50 head of horses and oxen for a "CALIFORNIA story" pageant.

Jones, Hollywood animal agent, said that one of his horses once fell down on the stage in Hollywood bowl during the pageant production. "He just laid there," he said, "didn't thrash around and mess things up. That's what I mean, stage animals have to know how to act."

Company Designs Miniature Atomic Energy Reactor

CANOGA PARK, Calif.—Atomic International says it has designed a miniature low cost atomic energy reactor to fit into any school, industrial or medical laboratory.

The firm, a division of North American Inc., said recently the reactor is contained in a tank only eight feet high and eight feet in diameter and can be installed in any existing laboratory building without the addition of any special facilities.

The reactor, which costs $33,000 will permit a wide range of research and training in the nuclear field, the company said.

Junior College In Jacksonville To Be University

JACKSONVILLE—The 22-year-old independently operated Jacksonville Junior College will be known from now on as Jacksonville University.

Dr. Franklin A. Johnson, president, told a meeting of business, professional and civic leaders Wednesday the board of trustees has voted to turn the school into an institution.

The three-year curriculum will be added in September 1951 and a fourth year will be added in 1952. The University's first bachelor's and science degrees will be awarded in June 1950.

The college's enrollment has doubled since 1934 and is expected to double again before 1950, Johnson said.

Last year, there were 1,100 students. About 1,500 are expected this year, 2,000 in 1951 and 3,000 in 1952.

The 1946 Cincinnati Redlegs have been adept at winning one-run decisions and in winning their share of night games.

A RATHER SMARTLY ATTIRED panhandler stopped Eddie Cantor at the entrance of a broadcasting studio and suggested that "Banjo Eyes" hand over a five-spot. "Not to you, you mountebank," objected Eddie. "You look prosperous enough to me to take a de-luxe tour of the West Indies."

"Absurb!" demurred the panhandler. "Let me remind you that beggars cannot be crusiers."

Herb Stein overheard a bumptious book publisher tell his senior editor, "Mind you, old man, I'm only suggesting you reconsider your verdict on my son-in-law's manuscript. You don't have to string along with me unless you want to keep your job."

COOPED-UP MOONSHINE

ATLANTA (AP)—A man serving time in Atlanta federal prison for liquor law violations kept his hand in by cooking up moonshine in the pen, officials claim.

A U.S. grand jury indicted the prisoner, Carnel Sprinkles, on charges of operating an illegal distillery and possessing untaxed whiskey.

John W. Stokes Jr., assistant U.S. attorney, said Sprinkles was caught trying to hide a half gallon of the produce of a still he had improvised in a large milk can. Stokes said the convict used steam from the prison dairy barn to cook mash made up of cattle feed and purloined sugar.

TWO SAW WAY OUT OF JAIL

CRESTVIEW—Buddy Strickland, 30, of near Pensacola; and Marshall Eady, 38, of Georgiana, Ala., sawed their way out of the Oklawaha County jail yesterday with a smuggled hacksaw blade.

Both were awaiting trial, Eady on charges of assault with intent to murder; and Strickland on charges of driving while intoxicated, profanity and resisting arrest.

IN A LATHER

MOUNT STERLING, Ky. (AP)—To the motorist, Montgomery County Jailer E. H. Swope looked like a madman on the loose.

White foam fell from the jailer's chin as he hopped the passing car to chase two fleeing prisoners.

The escape occurred while the jailer was shaving and he went after them in a real lather.

JOSEPH CHASE in his "My Friends Look Better Than Ever" tells of a British admiral who waited until the ladies had retired at a dinner party to regale the male guests with stories about the behavior of seals in the Arctic. Said he in part: "When the big bull comes out of the water on to a slab of ice and sets up a bellow than can be heard for miles, female seals seem to find it irresistible. I believe I can imitate it for you."

Older People Require A Balanced Diet, Too

BY NORMAN H. MORRISON, M.D.
IT seems to me that we talk a lot about what the average youngster or adult should eat and don't give enough thought to the nutritional needs of the elderly person.
Many older people have special dietary problems because of their age and most of these problems can be blamed on habit.
Because they may have never eaten enough meats, milk and vegetables, many older people simply refuse to break this habit and go on with deficient diets. They rigidly stick to their eating habits even though they may be detrimental to their health.

Manhattan Being Rediscovered

NEW YORK.—The most valuable land in the world—the lower tip of Manhattan Island comprising the Wall Street financial district and conservatively estimated to be worth more than 15 million dollars an acre—went had a quarter of a century ago. Today it is being rediscovered.
New skyscrapers are being crowded into the forest of steel and masonry towers that rival the Statue of Liberty as a symbol of this new world.
Skyscraper projects in mid-Manhattan about four or five miles from Wall Street scarcely cause a ripple in the news. There are so many of them. But downtown they make headlines because builders had forsaken the district for more than 15 years after speculators in the tragic bull market of 1929 jumped out of their office windows.

Meat Loaf Gems Are Fun!

There's nothing like a gay little change to quicken interest in family meals. So when you serve these Meat Loaf Gems, each deliciously brown, juicy and tasty... they'll seem novel, and fun.
The shift from one big family-size meat loaf to smaller one-portion loaves is easy. Simply divide the meat mixture into six portions and bake the loaves in muffin pans. They'll turn out so downright appetizing, your family will want them again and again.

MEAT LOAF GEMS
1/2 cup minced onion
1 lb. ground beef, chuck
1/2 lb. ground lean pork
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce!
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups canned apple sauce
1 cup dry bread crumbs
Combine onion, beef, pork, sage, Worcestershire sauce and salt; mix well. Add apple sauce and crumbs; mix well. Pack into large greased muffin pans. Bake in moderate oven, 350 F., 30-40 minutes. Yields 6 servings. Serve with seasoned rice, carrots and peas.

BLACK herringbone tweed suit, boxed and belted in front, from the fall 1956 Pattullo-Jo Copeland collection. Both jacket and skirt hem are edged with black silk braid. The collar is of canary-yellow silk velvet.

LIFE — SAVING BUSINESS
WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Saving lives seems to be a Macauliffe family trait.
Recently Donald Macauliffe, 35, won a medal from the Massachusetts Humane Society for rescuing a youngster from drowning.
His grandfather Timothy J. and his father Dr. Phillip L. teamed in 1925 to save a man from drowning. They too won society awards.
His brother, Phillip Jr., 26, was awarded the society's medal in 1948 for the rescue of a man who fell through thin ice. Two years ago he saved two women from possible drowning in the Potomac River.

Happy Hunting Grounds Gained Through Want Ad

Because he'd had so much trouble finding places to hunt in 1954, last year Patrick Collins placed a Classified Ad in the Hillsborough Tribune, received invitations from 13 farmers to bring along his 12-year-old son and be his guests while he hunted.

It's not true that the Republican convention was cut and dried. The only Republican who was cut was Harold E. Stassen, and that was Harold E. Stassen, and that was Harold E. Stassen.

The Interviewer Is Interviewed By Modern Maid

Associated Press Woman's Editor I have come across a quaint nostalgic note in a brand new book, "Etiquette and Protocol," by Monte Radovic, a former London newspaperman of international experience, who writes: "Your relationship with your own household staff should be marked by extreme consideration for their needs."

Try and Stop Me

JOSEPH CHASE in his "My Friends Look Better Than Ever" tells of a British admiral who waited until the ladies had retired at a dinner party to regale the male guests with stories about the behavior of seals in the Arctic. Said he in part: "When the big bull comes out of the water on to a slab of ice and sets up a bellow that can be heard for miles, female seals seem to find it irresistible. I believe I can imitate it for you."

Manhattan Being Rediscovered

NEW YORK.—The most valuable land in the world—the lower tip of Manhattan Island comprising the Wall Street financial district and conservatively estimated to be worth more than 15 million dollars an acre—went had a quarter of a century ago. Today it is being rediscovered. New skyscrapers are being crowded into the forest of steel and masonry towers that rivals the Statue of Liberty as a symbol of this new world.

Meat Loaf Gems Are Fun!

There's nothing like a gay little change to quicken interest in family meals. So when you serve these Meat Loaf Gems, each deliciously brown, juicy and tasty... they'll seem novel, and fun. The shift from one big family-size meat loaf to smaller one-portion loaves is easy. Simply divide the meat mixture into six portions and bake the loaves in muffin pans. They'll turn out so downright appetizing, your family will want them again and again.

BLACK herringbone tweed suit, boxed and belted in front, was from the fall 1956 Pattullo-Jo Copeland collection. Both jacket and skirt hem are edged with black silk braid. The collar is of canary-yellow silk velvet.

LIFE - SAVING BUSINESS

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Saving lives seems to be a Macauliffe family trait. Recently Donald McAniff, 35, won a medal from the Massachusetts Humane Society for rescuing a youngster from drowning. His grandfather Timothy J. and his father Dr. Philip L. teamed in 1925 to save a man from drowning. They too won society awards.

Older People Require A Balanced Diet, Too

BY IRVING H. ROBINSON, M.D. IT seems to me that we talk a good deal about the average young man or woman and don't give enough thought to the nutritional needs of the elderly person. Many older people have special dietary problems because of their age and most of these problems can be blamed on habit. Because they may have never eaten enough meats, milk and vegetables, many older people simply refuse to break this habit and go on with deficient diets. They rigidly stick to their eating habits even though they may be detrimental to their health.

De Bary Woman's Club Holds Fashion Show Luncheon

By MARY FOWLER
One hundred and fifty four members and friends of the De Bary Woman's club enjoyed luncheon at the civic center last week, after which a style showing was modeled, with fashions from Yowell's of Sanford. Mrs. Chris Butler was mistress of ceremonies during the style exhibition and described the Florida fall fashions, fashionably received. Mrs. Michael McDermott, Mrs. Ewald Mitchell, Mrs. Russell Williams, Mrs. Richard Hart, Mrs. Frank Pietropinto and Mrs. David Rothchild were the appealing models. Mrs. Price Goodson, Mrs. Henry Lasher and Mrs. Harry Seller were the luncheon committee and did themselves proud with the tasty chicken salad plate and party dessert which regaled the huge crowd. After the entertainment the guests expressed their hearty thanks to the club's officers for this first offering of the fall season.

Map Making

The Chamber of Commerce's street numbering committee has been busy engaged in map making, solving problems cropping up in the work of such a magnitude all of this since last November when a federal postal inspector met with the C of C's board of directors and gave them information concerning De Bary's future postal outlook. He advised numbering houses to facilitate any further plans submitted to Washington. A committee was formed to undertake this project. Thomas J. Barry, chairman; Charles Betsch, Col. Harry L. Fritts, Col. Robinson, Arthur Watt, John Byrn and Albert Salsbury. They met 23 times throughout the spring and summer and now have completed their work. Residents of De Bary may apply for their house numbers beginning Sept. 17, to Sept. 22. To insure accuracy one should bring his deed, contract of sale or property tax bill. Those who rent may obtain this information from owners or realtors.

Guardsmen Ready For 'Showdown'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More than 650 Kentucky National Guardsmen massed at Sturgis today for an expected "showdown" with rioting mobs protesting integration of the high school while tension generally eased at other Southern trouble spots. The guardsmen were set to prevent further pro-segregation demonstrations when four or five Negro pupils try to resume classes in the strife-torn western Kentucky coal mining and farming community of about 5,000.

Man Swerves Car To Miss Truck; Lands In Ditch

A Chevrolet sedan ploughed into a ditch Friday afternoon, shortly before 12:30 p. m., on Celery Ave. about 1 1/4 miles east of the Sanford city limits as it swerved to miss a pickup truck about to make a left turn.

The car crashed into the ditch narrowly missing a power pole and a small box burying its front end into the shoulders of the open drainage ditch and being stopped by a concrete culvert. John Chandler Fortson, 77-year-old carpenter, whose address was given as Cameron City, and driver of the car was uninjured as he swerved to miss the truck. Fortson was uninjured. However, his wife, who was thrown into the windshield of the car received injuries on her right arm. Mrs. Fortson held her arm in front of her to protect their small grandchild, Patti Hunter who was uninjured.

The truck, owned by W. W. Tyre, was driven by Wilmon Conyers, 55-year-old Negro of 1111 Cypress Ave. Conyers said that he held his arm out to signal for the turn which was unnoticed by Fortson. Noticing that the car was bearing down on him he pulled off the road in time to keep from being hit. Investigating officers, at the scene of the accident were Deputy Sheriff Morgan McCalland, Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway and Trooper T. Mark Mack.

Over 100 Enjoy Open House, Tea

By HELEN SNOODGRASS
The All Saints Episcopal Church of Enterprise held its open house and tea Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m. at the new Parish House on the corner of Main St. and De Bary Ave., with over 100 people attending despite the weather which was very unsettled. The affair was one of the most delightful for quite some time and marked the beginning of a new chapter in the history of the wonderful Little Mission Church here in Enterprise. The Parish House and furnishings were a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Alling of Orange City.

The room in which the tea was served was beautifully decorated with many bouquets of flowers and single hibiscus were placed at many vantage points, around pictures and along window ledges. The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a low arrangement of roses, hibiscus and fern and flanked on either side with punch bowls and an array of delicious cookies. The program with the Rev. Lee Heaten as master of ceremonies, began with solists, Henry Eberling, Mrs. Marion Roberts, Mrs. Arline Wilke and Mrs. Florence St. Amant, each accompanied by Mrs. Laura Platt Brown.

The Rev. Cannon Leroy Lawson of St. Barnabas, DeLand, was introduced and Robert Cox, Senior Warden, gave a few words expressing the appreciation for the building after which Edward Alling spoke briefly of the history of the church and of the happiness it gave to him and Mrs. Alling to make this gift and he hoped that it would be used often and regularly for all affairs needed. Mrs. Alling was presented by the Women's Auxiliary with a beautiful orchid corsage for the occasion. They were also presented with the guest book for the day which included all copies of publicity given the Parish House and a floral gift from Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rossiter of Sanford. A. E. Williams Canady and his committee Miss Barbara Sheppard, Mrs. Edwin French, Mrs. J. J. Brockie, Mrs. D. J. Farber and Mrs. Michael McDermott served punch and cookies following the program. Mrs. Louis F. St. Amant, general chairman, and her many committees need much congratulating for all their work and plans for making this a most delightful affair.

Dead Calf Is Found In Car

Three Seminole County white men are being held by the Sanford Police Department on charges of cattle stealing following their arrest yesterday for driving while intoxicated. J. P. Mitchell, 31, of 312 1/2 E. Fifth St., Fred Gilbert, 43, 312 Oak Ave. and Jack Jackson, 54 of Lake Monroe are the three men who have been allegedly identified with the shooting of a yearling on the Dr. Hugh West "No. 72 Ranch" in Volusia County. The men were first stopped Sunday about noon by Capt. Arnold Williams of the Sanford Police Department near the south city limits after having chased them from Eighth St. on French Ave. Capt. Williams brought the men to the Sanford jail when he noticed blood on the hands and clothing of Gilbert. The old model Buick was searched and a slaughtered yearling was found in the trunk with blood running over on the bumper and floorboard of the car. Gilbert, according to Capt. Arnold attempted to get away in the Buick but was caught at the city limits on West First St., at Mangoustine Ave. Gilbert was then charged with driving while intoxicated. A 22 rifle, knife used to cut the yearling's throat, full and empty beer cans, and 23 caliber shells were found in the car. Dr. Raymond Bass, according to Police Chief Roy Williams, removed one of the 22 bullets from the carcass of the yearling which was stuffed feet foremost, into the trunk of the car. Nelson Crawford, foreman of the "No. 72 Ranch" said this morning that the yearling was shot and killed about 10:45 yesterday morning. The spot was found where the calf was killed when Crawford went to the ranch about 6 o'clock this morning. The calf's mother was located at a hooped and pawed circle. Police Chief Roy Williams said that it is possible that the case will be transferred to Volusia County authorities for prosecution. Assisting in the investigation were Volusia County Sheriff's Deputy Daugherty, Patrolman Ben Butler of the Sanford Police Department, Andy Evans of the Seminole County Sheriff's office, and Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway. The ranch where the yearling was killed is located in Volusia County west of Highway 17-92 on Fort Springs Road. Local authorities were at the scene this morning continuing their investigation into the cattle theft by the three Seminole County white men who are allegedly fishermen. "This is one time we believe that we have a good case on cattle stealing," Chief Williams said this morning. "Ordinarily," he said, "it is hard to pinpoint such a theft, but this time we found them with the carcass in their possession."

Weather

Partly cloudy and continued cool through Tuesday; low tonight 60-61.
