Youth Drowns In Prairie Lake

The body of a three-year-old boy was recovered from Prairie Lake about 30 minutes after a motorboat in which he and his father were riding capsized yesterday afternoon.

Homer Sewell, Altamonte Springs, coroner for District Six, identified the drowning victim as Craig Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Tate, 1608 Pinewood Ave., Orlando. The boy was pronounced dead at 3:10 p. m.

The boat, which was pulling two men on water skis, overturned when it either hit an obstruction or made too sharp a turn. Tate was at the controls.

The father could not swim. Deputy Sheriff A. E. Evans said.

The Maitland Fire Department quickly responded to the call, but lacking a rescuer, called in the Winter Park Fire Department. Deputy Evans also went to the scene.

Artificial respiration was given and the resuscitator applied by the Winter Park Fire Department's rescue squad, but the child failed to respond. The boy was pronounced dead by Dr. W. B. Johnson, Winter Park.

The child's body was found in about 10 feet of water some 150 feet from the south shore.

Coroner Sewell ruled it an accidental death and said no inquest would be held.

The boat was owned by J. A. Pavelchak, Route 1, Maitland, Pavelchak and Charles Reinhard, 218 South Grove St., Freeport, Long Island, were on water skis behind the boat.

Salk Polio Vaccine May Be Given Soon

Nation Awaits Findings Report

"We could start giving the vaccine next week," Dr. Terry Bird, Seminole County Health Officer, told a Herald reporter today.

He made the statement as the county and the nation waited for the big secret of the Salk polio vaccine to go off like a time bomb at 10:20 a. m. tomorrow.

The secret, of course, is how effective the vaccine was in preventing paralytic polio in children tested last year.

If it is labeled a success, the vaccine will be administered to approximately 1,700 first and second grade pupils in Seminole County, Dr. Bird reported. County physicians will air in clinics which will be held in each school.

Vaccine also will be available to other children through physicians, Dr. Bird said.

The polio vaccine will be furnished from a supply being purchased by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis with March of Dimes funds. It will be made available by the Foundation without charge to State Health officers for use in the school groups. Supplies also will be distributed through the usual channels at the same time.

Dr. Bird said the Florida State Health Department had been advised that vaccine would be delivered to it within 48 hours after tomorrow's announcement, if the vaccine is a success. The Seminole County Health Unit should receive a supply within (Continued On Page Eight)

Intensive Hunt Is Begun For Convict Missing At Camp

By MARIAN JONES
Herald Correspondent

OVIEDO—The fourth Negro convict in a little more than a month escaped from the State Road Camp here early today. Authorities immediately began an intensive hunt.

The prisoner, a trusty who was a cook at the camp, was identified as Dan Carter, serving two years for possession of marijuana.

Carter reportedly fled about 3 a. m. His escape was discovered after it was found that he had not started to cook breakfast.

Highway Patrolmen, Sheriff's deputies and other officers fanned out in an attempt to capture him. Carter was believed to still be in the vicinity of Oviedo.

Three Negro convicts escaped from their camp early last month. One of the men was killed and the other two wounded in gun battles with officers.

Southern Bell Co. Urges Its Employees To Return To Jobs

Southern Bell Telephone Company has urged employees still on strike to return to their jobs and declared that "it has become increasingly clear to the public, and to us, that the public interest is best served by those still on strike, why an uninterrupted service is essential to the new contract."

The company statement stressed that "Telephone people belong to the public and the trust placed in them by the public, and we believe most of them take this responsibility seriously and would like to be back. We urge those remaining on strike to consider whether they are serving their own best interests and those of the public by staying away long."

"We urge union officials to stop keeping employees from their jobs by holding out false hopes to them that the company will finally grant the leaders' unreasonable demands. A liberal proposal is on the bargaining table now, carrying a wage increase and many other contract benefits. Union leaders should not deny telephone workers these benefits any longer."

"The wage offer, amounting to over 6 1/2 million, would give immediate increase to nine out of ten of our employees. The remaining employees, the beginners in the business, would get from one to four increases within 12 months as their experience increases."

"In these four weeks it has become increasingly clear to the public, and it must now be clear to those still on strike, why an uninterrupted service clause is essential to a new contract. The real reason why the new agreement has not been reached before now is the continued refusal of union leaders to see what seems obvious to everyone—that the public must be protected against strikes during the life of the new contract."

W. L. Getzen Ends 25 Years Of Work

JACKSONVILLE—W. L. Getzen, investigator in charge of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax office of the Internal Revenue Service, has retired after 25 years service.

For the past 22 years he has been chief U.S. beverage agent in Florida.

A native of Lake City, Getzen's family has been in Florida since before Civil War days. His grandfather, Capt. T. W. Getzen of Fort White, was a member of the Legislature and one-time tax collector for Columbia County.

County Prisoner Found Dead In Cell

John Pittman, Negro, about 35, of Sanford, was found dead in the County Jail this morning, the Sheriff's office reported.

Pittman was jailed last night on charges of public drunkenness, aggravated assault, and resisting arrest.

Cause of death was unknown. An autopsy was being performed today.

Ministerial Assn. Lauds Relationship

Group Adopts Resolution Praising Navy Relationship With Community

The Seminole County Ministerial Assn. has unanimously adopted a resolution praising the relationship of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station with residents of this area.

The resolution is as follows: "The Seminole County Ministerial Association wishes to go on record in affirming its sincere appreciation for the splendid relationship between the personnel of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station and the citizens of this community as evidenced by their cooperation with and contribution to our churches. It is our desire to make their stay pleasant and profitable while living here."

A member stated.

"The relations between the churches of Sanford and Seminole County and the Naval Station have been most cordial and happy through the years. We are certain that this relationship will always be encouraged and maintained. We wish to state that we would like very much to see the base maintained at its present strength and expanded. In any way possible, we shall be happy to cooperate in any effort to accomplish this end."

Tying in with this resolution was a telegram that was sent to United States Senator George Smathers. It reads, "This Association has adopted a resolution praising excellent community relations with SNAAS. We would like to see this station enlarged and additional personnel assigned thereto. Please advise Department of Navy our willingness to cooperate. Resolution follows by mail."

Easter Egg Rolling Treat For Children

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower threw open the White House grounds today for the traditional Easter Monday egg rolling event that draws thousands of children annually.

The President promised to greet his guests personally during the morning. He had a date to open the baseball season at Griffith Stadium in one afternoon.

The rolling consists simply of rolling left-over Easter eggs down the grassy slopes of the south grounds—or, on occasion, of tossing the eggs at any handy target.

Racial Hearings Will Begin Today In Supreme Court

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court today begins hearing a variety of suggestions on how to end segregation of white and Negro pupils in public schools.

The court unanimously ruled last May that such segregation violates the Constitution. The court set aside this full week to hear arguments on when and how to order the decision into effect, although only about three days may be required. The final decree is expected later this spring, but it could be delayed further.

Briefs already filed contain statements ranging from a North Carolina warning that "bloody race riots" might follow a sudden end of segregation, to a plea by attorneys for Negro parents that integration be ordered into effect by next September or by September 1956 as the "outside date."

The final decree will apply specifically to Virginia, South Carolina, Kansas, Delaware and the District of Columbia, the areas directly involved in the decision against segregation.

13 Deaths Recorded In Florida Weekend

Late reports coming in today raised the Easter weekend violent death toll list in Florida to 13.

The toll was more than twice as heavy as the weekend before when five violent deaths were reported.

THIS CROWD OF APPROXIMATELY 1,600 PERSONS filled Memorial Stadium for the annual Easter sunrise service yesterday. The service, sponsored by the Seminole County Methodist Association, began at 6 a. m. (Staff Photo)

Large Crowd Gathers For Sunrise Service

An estimated 1,600 persons filled Memorial Stadium yesterday to hear once more the age-old story of the resurrection of Christ.

And they were assured by the Rev. John L. Miller, the speaker at the Easter sunrise service, that "The God who can make a tree grow out of the desert, can raise your life and mine."

Using as his sermon topic, "He Shall Bring It To Pass," he said: "We believe in the resurrection. He who told of the burial of the tiny seed in the earth that the flowering plant might grow out of its darkness, was giving us a parable of His own death and resurrection. He knew that the world had turned truth wrong side out. Death was not a death. It was a life."

All the while we are seeking Christ in strange places—in power, in tumult, in grand schemes, in fleeting events that seem to be shaking the world, the Rev. Mr. Miller declared, "He is walking quietly by our side, waiting to ask: 'Whom seek ye?'"

"When the women on Easter morning went to the tomb in search of their Lord, the angel reminded them of the appointment Jesus had with his disciple in Galilee," the minister added. "What a rebuke to our too human misconception of Jesus!"

The Rev. Mr. Miller said people are forever returning to some tomb in search of the Lord—to a dead (Continued On Page Eight)

Deluge Of Ballots Delays Announcing

Announcement of winners in the American Automobiles Association's "Cautious Cop Contest" has been postponed because of a last-minute deluge of ballots. The winners were scheduled to have been announced yesterday.

Kenneth C. Kinkle, manager of the AAA's North Florida Division, said tabulators had but partially sorted and counted the ballots in only two of the contest's seven classifications as of Friday night.

"We hope to have the ballots screened for a final canvass by a board of judges within a few more days," he said.

Patrolman Arnold Williams of Sanford was among the leading contenders in a sampling of votes recently.

An estimated 30,000 votes were cast in this year's contest—2,000 more than in the 1954 competition. The campaign ended March 31.

There will be one winner in each of the seven classifications. Prizes include brief vacations in Cuba, Nassau, Tampa, Miami Beach and Palm Beach for the officers and their wives.

Co-sponsors of the tourist-promotion campaign were the State Chamber of Commerce and the Florida Peace Officers Association. Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson, president of the University of Miami, was honorary chairman.

General Motors Co. Works On Contract

DETROIT—The giant General Motors Corp. pledged today to work hard toward negotiating a new contract peacefully with the "UO United Auto Workers."

Contract talks were due to resume this afternoon. The union opens negotiations with the Ford Motor Co. tomorrow.

The GM pledge was in newspaper advertisements in major cities. It was the company's first statement on its bargaining. It said nothing about the UAW's requests for the guaranteed annual wage, pay and pension boosts and other concessions.

Bus Strike Talks Scheduled Today

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The first contract talks since the middle of March were scheduled here this afternoon as the strike of bus drivers in the 10-state Atlantic Greyhound system went into its fifth day.

The 725 drivers who struck last Wednesday midnight are members of Division 1493, AFL Motor Coach Employees union.

Union division President Daniel V. Maroney said earlier that his union was calling the strike because the company refused to meet during the week of April 3 and "we don't think there is a reason for further delay."

SEOUL (AP)—The prosecutor's office said today four persons will go on trial in a week or two on charges of plotting assassination of President Syngman Rhee. They were indicted Saturday.

The four were among seven arrested last month in a police raid on what police officials called a Communist cell hideout. Police withheld further details.

Gardner, Sinatra Famed Marriage Is At Stalemate

HOLLYWOOD — What's the status of the Ava Gardner-Frank Sinatra marriage?

"It's at a stalemate," says Sinatra. "She established residence in Nevada, but she never filed the papers for divorce. I don't know what she's going to do."

He has no doubt that the marriage is over, but he's not concerned about a divorce.

"I'm not going to get married," he said. "I feel the need for divorce. I call up for a date and go out somewhere. I have no plans for anything serious."

He said plans for him and Ava to costar in "St. Louis Woman" at MGM are definitely canceled. He didn't think it would be a good idea to open old wounds.

He got a laugh out of reports making him and Gloria Vanderbilt after they had some dates in New York. When a columnist asked if they would marry, Frank cracked, "Sure—and what's the penalty for being these days?" He pointed out that he was still legally wed to Ava and Miss Vanderbilt to Leo Stokowski.

"I found Gloria a delightful company," he said. "It was wonderful to hear a woman talk intelligently about music and books. Out here, the girls seem to limit their conversation to what's happening in Hollywood and at the race track."

Sinatra lives in a West Los Angeles apartment just five minutes' drive from the home of his former wife Nancy. He visits his children "three or four times a week" and talks proudly of them. They are Nancy, 14, Frank, 11, and Christina, 6.

What does he do for kicks when he's not working?

"I play a lot of golf, especially down at Palm Springs, where I have a house," he said. "I read a lot, now that I have formed my own production company."

Woodpecker scalp, elephant talls, tobacco and beaver skin all have been used as money.

Tell Her It's MURDER

Copyright, 1954, by Helen Reilly. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

There was a dining room on the first floor. He couldn't face it. He called room service, said, "A couple of chicken sandwiches—" and paused, gripping the instrument.

He called 15 minutes walking around and thinking about the flask. When the bell rang he thought it was the waiter with the food. He opened the door and stared into Harry Lofting's face.

Lofting was to have been his beat man at the wedding that had not taken place. Regina had arranged it. He was an agreeable fellow with a long face, long chin, long nose and expressive brown eyes.

Lofting said earnestly: "Look, Andrus, if there's anything I can do... I don't know what your plans are, but if there's any way I can help—"

Lofting looked startled. "My wife? Susan and I aren't married. What would you think so?"

Regina had wanted them to marry. She was fond of Lofting and thought her young stepson would be happy with him. Evidently it had not come off.

Lofting's nose grew longer. He said, "Susan's a widow. About five years ago she was killed. No one would get it there... Who would want to? Besides, if it were a question of pilfering, why take the flask and leave the rings, which were much more valuable?"

Lofting said, "Susan Dwight sent you here, didn't she?"

"That's right. But I would have come anyhow."

"What does your wife want to know?"

Lofting looked startled. "My wife? Susan and I aren't married. What would you think so?"

Mysterious Jet Streams Blamed For Unusual Outbreak In Weather

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mother Nature may be breaking all records this spring for breaking all records.

Spring traditionally comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb. So far this year, things have been in reverse order.

In the first weeks of March, most of the nation was lulled by a record warm sun. St. Louis baked at 86 degrees March 10; Dallas sweltered at 94 one day later; it was 61 as far north as Muskegon, Mich.

Heat records for the season were topped again in many areas a few days later. Fruit trees blossomed and flowers burst into beauty for spring festivals.

But all this was cruel deceit. There followed probably the worst series of spring cold waves ever recorded. Blizzards paralyzed parts of the North, and continued even through this first week of April.

There were also a rash of tornadoes, dust storms, gales, and some severe floods along the Ohio. In the fourth week of March alone, the U. S. Weather Bureau here attributed 65 deaths and millions of dollars damage to the furies of the weather.

The unprecedented outbreaks piled 24 inches of snow on Sheridan, Wyo., in 24 hours recently, breaking all records. Southern New England in April is digging out of a 29-inch snow, heaviest of the year.

On March 27, one week after the formal beginning of spring, New Orleans at 30 degrees shivered under the coldest temperatures in four years. The same city broke a heat record for the season only 10 days earlier, with 87 degrees.

What sent nature on such a rampage? Weather Bureau forecaster Jerome Namias today blamed those mysterious "jet streams" which circle the globe up to 40,000 feet high. This is his explanation:

Losing Basic Rights

"The rights and interests of an individual must be weighed against the security of 160,000,000 people."

This doctrine was laid down by Assistant Attorney-General William F. Tompkins, testifying before a Senate subcommittee on security regulations. His remark applied to the proposal to allow accused government workers to confront those who have made charges against them. He said that the FBI depended on anonymous witnesses. If their names were given out, they would no longer furnish information, and our security would be endangered.

Even if this is true, the doctrine is dangerous. Ours has been a system that stresses the rights of the individual though against an all-powerful government. If our department heads are allowed to rely on secret testimony, unchecked by cross-examination, they will operate unrestrained, except by their own consciences. The rule advocated by Tompkins would give unscrupulous officials a free hand in conduct toward subordinates, who might at only a slight doubt of their offices but ruin their reputations for life.

The old rule was, "It is better that a hundred guilty men escape than that one innocent man should be convicted." The rule laid down by Tompkins would establish precisely the opposite practice.

Cairo Makes Remarkable Comeback

CAIRO — Leaves from a touring notebook:

You can add Egypt to the list of nations that are making an all-out pitch for the Yankee dollar.

But there are also quite a few Americans here looking for a fast Egyptian piastre.

Slightly more than three years ago this gaudy city to the orient was smoldering from the torches of anti-foreign mobs. Riots took more than 50 lives, caused millions of dollars in damage. Such land marks as Shepheard's Hotel and the exclusive British Turf Club were destroyed.

Many foreigners fled the country. Others stayed on in an atmosphere of uneasy tension. Confidence was destroyed. Some businessmen liquidated and got out. Tourists bypassed the city in favor of other Mediterranean resorts.

But today Cairo's remarkable comeback is evident everywhere. To a visitor's eye it has a boom town hustle and bustle. The foreigner no longer has a feeling of being unwelcome.

When you step off a plane at Cairo Airport the first sign you see says "Welcome to Egypt." But you begin to believe they really mean it when you go through customs. The official baggage searchers in old days had the reputation of being the toughest, worst-tempered in the world. Now they simply look at your tourist visa and wave you through with a smile.

Many changes have sprung out of the late rioting of January 1952. Farouk, symbol of Egypt's corruption under the pashas, was kicked out by a group of nationalist young army officers. They have set out to rebuild the country. Reform has been slow in the land where peasants still live pretty much as they did 4,000 years ago under the Pharaohs.

Final results aren't yet in, of course, as the reform program initiated by young officers. Today's peasant may not see in his lifetime substantial betterment in his own standard of living.

The long-time problem of Egypt is to upgrade her overworked millions. And ways to educate them, teach them skills needed in modern industrial society, the only kind of society that could wipe out the vast gap between appalling poverty and overwhelming wealth, she needs a steady state.

The first signals of change are seen visible in construction Cairo has in recent years.

When the first moves by the Parliamentary Council was in top leadership prohibited courses of economic development.

Attention has been on economic development in their effort to make the Egyptian economy that they are developing in the art of management. It is not only economic, social and political, but also cultural.

The Bad Bang

In New York City last week Mayor Robert Wagner was presented with a Council-approved bill to ban the manufacture, sale or possession of toy revolvers that resemble too closely the real article.

Undoubtedly something should be done about realistic looking toy guns and about the thugs who use them to coerce and something should be done about the youngsters who wield them demanding in no uncertain terms that great sections of humanity lie down and die every time their baby voices about a bloody bang.

Apparently the New York City Council, regarding its limitations both as councilmen and as fathers is trying only to remedy the use of toys by thugs. Much might be said of the preference for a toy gun over a real one in the hands of a hoodlum. But much more should be said about the use of real guns by terrorists, thieves and miscellaneous other citizens bent on mayhem and destruction.

The Sullivan Law was enacted to prohibit the sale and possession of guns except under specified conditions. Yet story after story is printed of how teenagers with formidable arsenals, petty slugs with sawed-off shot guns, army guns, police guns and even lady like derringers are currently shooting up the American citizenry. There are not nearly enough follow ups to these grisly stories concerning the apprehension and arrest of those who sell and supply the guns.

Banning realistic toy guns may be fine in itself, but if the banning of real guns means no more than it does, New York will probably face as flourishing a market for hot imitations as it does for the real thing.

The Face Of Style

It may be a relief to some to know that the girls are going to comb their hair out of their faces this year. That real gone sheepdog look of last year is really gone now. It's not surprising. How many men do you suppose there were last year who came home and patted the wife while kissing the dog?

All over the country they are having conventions for hair and it appears that the coil will be "flaired for flattery, feminine, face framing."

So unflirt the flags for feminine faces—flaired, framed, flattered or flattened. And welcome back from the four-footed kingdom girls. It's good to have faces in style.

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON — The cool reception the House-approved $200-per-person tax bill by top Senate Democrats stemmed partially from the fact that House Speaker Sam Rayburn failed to tell them what he had planned. Rayburn drafted the surprise move which was subsequently denounced by President Eisenhower as "financial irresponsibility."

Senate Finance Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D), Virginia, undoubtedly could have opposed the proposal so matters what transpired. However Rayburn angered Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, of Texas, and Senator Walter F. George (D), Georgia, by neglecting to consult them. One explanation was that Johnson was ill at the time and was unavailable for a personal conference with Rayburn.

Another lies in the fact that the House is directed in the United States Constitution to initiate all tax legislation. House members are keenly aware of this prerogative. With this in mind, Rayburn undoubtedly felt he was justified in doing what he did without asking the consent of this Senate colleague.

School Aid — There are indications that Congress finally will pass legislation authorizing federal aid for school construction. If it does, the reason may well be close political rivalry between Republicans and Democrats on the issue.

Democrats on the Senate labor committee "kicked the gun" on the administration by holding hearings before President Eisenhower made his recommendations. This distressed Republicans, some of whom admitted privately that they had been opposing federal agencies to get their share in early.

The hearings themselves were interrupted repeatedly with political maneuvering over the question of the way to blame for the failure to pass the legislation last year. Republicans pointed out that Senate consideration was blocked by a Democratic filibuster. Democrats replied that the Senate needs more than five members to debate an important measure.

All of this may add up to a lot of maneuvering, but there appears to be a determination in very many lines of legislation this year.

Many Blooms Crisscross Nation

NEW YORK — Easter is the season of flowers. Millions of blooms crisscross the nation and span the seas. They pour into the cities by train, truck, ship and plane. This is the flower growers' top season, followed by sales for Mother's Day and Christmas.

This year, the florists predict, will see the greatest number of blossoms ever to deck the churrus and homes of people of many lands. For weeks, growers have been forcing or pinching back the plants so that blooms will spring forth like a miracle for this week end.

Cut flowers and potted plants are shipped in from distant fields. Bermuda and Hawaii send their offerings, along with those of California and parts of the South where flower growing for the various holidays is a major industry.

The practice of telegraphing flower orders has spread around the world, with some 18,000 florists in more than 100 countries. Through a clearing house device known as Interflora, of which the American affiliate is the Florist's Telegraph Delivery Assn. The clearing houses where the florists settle their accounts are in Detroit, London and Zurich, Switzerland.

Ed Ludwig, president of the American group, says telegraphed orders for Easter flowers are running 7 per cent ahead of a year ago.

Churchill Is Symbol Of Britain

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON — Sir Winston Churchill had become such a symbol of Britain it was almost as if he owned the place. Sir Anthony Eden, his successor as prime minister, is more like a manager.

This impression of Eden is not unflattering in the second half of the 20th century. Someday, unless there are big changes, it may be called the era of the managers.

In the first half some heads of government acted strictly like owners. They came to mind easily enough: the Kaiser, the Czar, Lenin, Stalin, Hitler, Mussolini.

As this century gallops into its last lap the heads of all the big governments—that includes Russia, with qualifications—seem more like managers than proprietors.

That parallels what has happened in industry, where almost all the big individual owners are gone. The giant corporations now are in the hands of managers chosen by the stockholders through their boards of directors. Churchill, as head of a democratic country, could have been tossed out any time by the voters. So he was never more than a manager either. But by his massive personality he seemed to embrace all Britain.

Eden will appear less dominant than Churchill. He lacks the old man's emotional range; the magnificent oratory, the sense of fire, the whimsy, the thundering scorn, the growl, the almost indestructible physical power.

Eden, more fragile physically, is not a distinguished speaker. But he has brains and, apparently, a lot of shrewd, common sense. His whole mature life, part of it under Churchill's wing, has been a preparation for his new job.

The Kaiser and the Czar both acted like owners of Germany and Russia. The Czar was followed by Lenin, who was the real owner of the Russian Revolution. His spiritual crown prince who succeeded him, Stalin, acted like an owner too.

In the present Russian ruling clique, although not democratically chosen, there is no one individual who can be considered the new owner. They talk of communism but they also talk like managers about consumer goods and heavy industry.

The present head of the new, democratic Western Germany, Chancellor Adenauer, is simply boss of a group of men picked to run the country. The voters put him there.

While Mussolini owned Italy's

Fascist revolution, he has been succeeded by a democratic government with no lowering figures. They act like managers, not giants.

President Roosevelt's critics, because of his power in the depression and World War II, may have felt he acted as if he owned the United States. He was a world leader but he was never proprietor of anything more than the New Deal.

No American president before him in this century loomed so large on the world scene. Each in his way was a manager. And Roosevelt's successors, Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, never have shown any proprietary attitudes. They have gone about their business briskly, like any manager in General Motors.

SENATOR Walter F. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, is pictured in his Washington office after he had called for a meeting this year of the Big Four as a step toward preventing a possible World War III. "I think," he said, "we have reached the point where the hope for averting war is through some high-level conferences between the leading powers." (International)

Eden Well Trained For New Job

Editor's Note—What kind of man is the new Prime Minister of Britain? This is the first in a series of articles giving the answers. The writer has been an AP correspondent in Europe since 1933.

By ALVIN STEINBOFF

LONDON — If ever a man was trained to be prime minister of Great Britain, that man is Sir Anthony Eden.

For more than half of his 37 years, Eden has been a member of the House of Commons. For about a quarter of a century he has been the fair-haired boy of the Conservative party. Most everyone, including Eden himself, felt that someday he must become prime minister.

But for years historic personalities stood between him and the top. First there was Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, who managed the abdication of King Edward VIII, and took an affectionate interest in Eden's future. Then there was Neville Chamberlain, advocate of appeasement, with whom Eden disagreed.

Finally there was Winston Churchill. Eden labored for him with selfless loyalty. Churchill rewarded him, several years ago, by unofficially naming him his "heir apparent."

Now Eden steps into his heritage, master of 10 Downing St.

Problems hammer constantly at the door of No. 10. Peace or war, cold or hot, East or West, the seven seas, the British Commonwealth, socialism and how much of it, coexistence with the Communists, the atomic age, relations with America—the new Prime Minister is bound to be about the busiest man in Britain. He will need the health and strength which were restored to him in a Boston hospital in 1933.

The British themselves are giving him a new scrutiny. He has been on the scene and in the papers since 1933, when he first came up to Parliament from Leamington. He was the promising young man, the budding man who got things done smoothly, and served his prime ministers and his country in highly important but in somewhat junior capacities. Like the Prince of Wales (now Duke of Windsor) before him, there was a tendency to think of him as being perpetually young, and not yet quite ready for major responsibilities. That's all over.

In their new appraisal, the British see, superficially and first of all, just about the most presentable man in the Commonwealth.

He has a hot temper underneath, but the first impression is one of easy charm. He has been everywhere. He has seen just about everything. He fought in Flanders like most Englishmen of his age. There was no easy command for Capt. Eden — he won over the top on dark nights. Once on the Somme, under star shells and machine-gun fire, he dragged back a sergeant whose thigh bone had been shattered.

Eden radiates a reserved warmth, as befits a man of centuries of aristocratic background. He speaks knowledgeably about most anything. He is slim, tall and well dressed. The Eden moustache, once quite a bush, is like a properly cropped English hedge.

His hair is becoming grayer, and the lines of his face more pronounced. There is a suggestion of a fold under the chin.

Eden has a fell for clothes. "The tailor who couldn't make a smart suit for such a figure simply doesn't know his craft."

And the barber who couldn't give a good haircut to such a head ought to be shearing sheep," said a hair dresser in Jermyn Street.

Such speculations as to his appearance made Eden furious. He winces every time he gets on to another best-dressed-man list. Three times foreign secretary Churchill's other half, war secretary, the man who scolded Mussolini and helped write the United Nations Charter does not fancy being regarded a clothes horse.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ABE LINCOLN, relates Robert Yoder, once attended the theatre in Springfield, Ill., and arrived just as the curtain rose. His eyes riveted on the stage, he thoughtlessly placed his tall silk hat on the seat next to him, open end up. Entered a lady of bountiful proportions, headed straight for the empty seat. She sat. There was a crunch. She jumped up.

The hat was now a black silk pancake. Mr. Lincoln picked it up ruefully. "Madam," he declared, "I would have told you my hat wouldn't fit you before you tried it on."

My old Uncle Herbert from Vermont, visiting New York, was appalled by the heavy traffic choking every thoroughfare. "You gotta see town here," he opined, "but it looks like you fellows let yourselves get quite a bit behind in your leader!"

Mrs. H. H. Kastner Surprised At Party Tuesdays Evening

Mrs. Harold H. Kastner was given a surprise party last Tuesday night when her husband escorted her to Richard Soder's Embassy Terrace in Orlando for a birthday dinner.

As she walked in the entertainer played "Happy Birthday" and her husband friends walked down the aisle to greet her singing "Happy Birthday."

A beautiful gold and silver evening bag was presented to her by the following: Mayor and Mrs. J. Chadwell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Billhimer, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Samuel and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Eola.

Few Women Wear Exclusive Dress; No Matter Cost

When America's well-dressed women slipped out in the Easter season, few, if any, were wearing one-of-a-kind costumes, whether they paid $25 or $1,500 for them.

The recent embarrassment over the almost identical dresses of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mrs. Durrice Crane at a Washington tea points up the fact that in today's world of mass-produced fashions the First Lady is no more certain than Judy O'Grady that she won't meet herself walking down the street.

The dresses worn by Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Crane were turned out by the New York wholesale firm of Paris-Livingstone, a husband-and-wife team. Mollie Paris has designed most of the First Lady's clothes since her return to America. But neither Mrs. Eisenhower nor Miss Paris makes any pretensions that the dresses are exclusive. Some 80 copies of the current dress were made, to retail at about $119. Usually at least 200 dresses are cut in each style shown by a wholesale dress firm. These are sold to various stores around the country, each usually ordering a full range of sizes in each style.

However, even if Mrs. Eisenhower had paid from $50 to $1,500 for a made-to-order dress, designed by one of the famous custom dressmakers of New York or Paris, she still would run the risk of meeting someone else wearing one like it.

Day of one-of-a-kind fashions designed for and worn by one woman only, has been past for some time. Paris custom designers recruit a group of new fashions models, and show the models in selected groups of private customers and commercial buyers.

Commercial buyers usually pay a sizable fee for the privilege of seeing the collections, and then the models to be copied by their firms. Thus the $1,000 Paris dress is being turned out by mass manufacturers in mass quantities to sell for $30 to $150.

Mass customers who order the collections have the

Bob Young Proves That Being Normal Can Pay Dividends

By BOB THOMAS
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—One of the least likely persons you'd expect to find in this fabulous fun town is Robert Young.

After all, Young is the picture of normality. A solid citizen, he is the father of four daughters in real life and three children on TV's "Father Knows Best." Although flashier stars draw the headlines, Bob has proven that being normal can pay off, even in Hollywood.

He and his for-real wife Betty (Jane Wyatt) is her TV counterpart, were here for a spree before he starts a year's work on TV films. And there is one of the nicest success stories of the year. Bob did "Father Knows Best" on radio for a number of years. The gentle comedy seemed a natural for TV.

"But I wasn't sure I wanted to get into it," he remarked. "I didn't know if I wanted to undertake all that work. Oddly enough it was Loretta Young (no relation) who helped convince me. She told me TV was the thing to do. And then I ended up opposite her on Sunday night."

The actor was realistic about the show's chances for success. "I knew it was going to build slowly," he said. "It was that way on radio; people didn't call up their friends and tell them to be there and listen to it. The show built enthusiasm slowly but when it did get fans they were intensely loyal."

This peculiar loyalty proved the saving of "Father Knows Best." A couple of months ago, the cigarette sponsor announced it was dropping the show. This brought forth a flood of letters from determined fans. Even hardboiled TV editors joined in the campaign to find a sponsor for the pleasant, homey series.

Young believes that this wave of enthusiasm was a major factor in finding a new backer. A paper concern dropped My Little Margie for "Father Knows Best." If all the options are picked up, the filmed series will run into an investment of 10 million dollars.

Rain Washes Out Games, Workouts

(SPECIAL TO THE HERALD)
ALBANY, Ga. — Thirteen farm clubs of the St. Louis Cardinals entered the second half of the spring training schedule here yesterday and got an unexpected Easter holiday when rain, which started early Saturday night, continued throughout the day to wash out all games and workouts.

For two clubs the washouts left them with just one more scheduled day in camp. Fresno, California and Sanford, Florida will leave for home after today's drill to open the 1955 season.

Camp officials were making an effort last weekend to revise all clubs in camp so as to strengthen them and get them nearer ready to open the season. There are a number of player shifts and a number of releases scheduled.

Scales Is Charged With Advocating

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Junius Scales was on trial today, charged with advocating overthrow of the United States government by force and violence.

Specifically, the indictment accuses him of belonging to the Communist party, "well knowing" that it sought to destroy the government.

The FBI has identified him as leader of the party in the Carolinas and Tennessee.

The 35-year-old University of North Carolina graduate was indicted under the Smith Act's membership clause by a jury at Wilkesboro last Nov. 18. FBI agents picked him up in Memphis, Tenn., only a few hours after the jury acted. His whereabouts had not been known publicly since Oct. 6, 1951, when he left his home at Carboro.

INFANT DROWNS

DALLAS (AP) — James Lee Wichman, 18 months, drowned in a private lake yesterday while his parents, a brother and sister were on their way to Easter church services.

The father, Herman Wichman, said the boy sludged a grandmother with whom he had been left.

A HAPPY EXPRESSION crosses the face of Junior Spears (kneeling), 10-year-old son of Mrs. Elizabeth Spears, as he takes an egg from a bush at the Jaycee-sponsored Easter Egg Hunt yesterday at Fort Mellon Park. Pointing out that Easter is listed in the encyclopedia as a festival celebrating the resurrection of Christ, he said that by general agreement Easter fell on Sunday. For centuries, there was confusion as to which Sunday should be observed, he said.

The ruling adopted by the Roman Catholic Church and by the Church of England, the Rev. Mr. Miller said, was that Easter Day was to be the first Sunday following the Pascal full moon. By full moon is meant the 14th day of the calendar moon, he explained.

The minister said the habit of presenting Easter eggs is a custom thought to have been derived from the Persian Magi, the egg being the symbol of creation, birth and resurrection — "possibly the resurrection of Spring."

The Rev. David S. Carnes, who presided at the service, gave the invocation and benediction. Scripture and prayer was by the Rev. Milton H. Wyatt. Charlie Morrison was song leader.

Choral numbers by the Seminole High School vocal ensemble, directed by Miss Ollie Reese Whittle, and selections by the High School band featured the program. Ernest Cowley is band director.

The congregation sang the hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

Ushers were provided by the Tri-Hi-Y Club and the Key Club. The service was sponsored by the Seminole County Ministerial Association.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR TREDIA BARR

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tredia Barr, the original movie "vamp," was laid to rest Saturday, with only her husband and sister attending private funeral services.

Miss Barr died Thursday of abdominal cancer. She was 62.

Eggs of the tilapia, a warm water fish, are incubated inside the mouth of one of the parents.

French Premier Favors Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure of France says he favors a conference "as soon as possible" between the Western Big Three and Russia.

Expressing hope that some such session involving the foreign ministers of France, Britain, the United States and Russia can be held by July, Faure said in a copy-righted interview with the magazine U.S. News and World Report that he believes the four heads of state should also get together.

"If we want to achieve results," he said, "we must undoubtedly one day come to a four-power meeting at the highest level."

Asked whether he thinks a real settlement of cold war tensions is possible, or whether new talks can only continue a stalemate, Faure replied: "I think a true settlement is possible."

Pope Pius Gives Annual Blessing

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Giving his annual blessing to one of the bigest throngs in Vatican history, Pope Pius XII yesterday endorsed progressive disarmament and peaceful use of atomic energy.

The 79-year-old pontiff also warned against the still unknown effect on human reproductivity of radioactivity from nuclear explosion.

The white-clad head of the Roman Catholic Church spoke from the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica. The vast Easter crowd jammed the square below and stretched far down the way of the Conciliation leading to it.

Police said the crowd numbered between 300,000 and 500,000.

Quake Hits Again On Battered Island

MANTILA (AP)—Widespread earthquakes today collapsed homes, split highways and reportedly injured an undetermined number of persons in the southern Philippines — already hard hit by disastrous tremors April 1.

There were no immediate reports of deaths. The April 1 quakes caused at least 432 deaths and left thousands homeless.

Quakes of intensity 2 to 6 on a scale of 10 panicked residents in nine cities, six of them on Mindanao, second largest island. Philippine News Service reported.

His action was announced by Mr. Corsi at their Arlington, Va., home. Mrs. Corsi said in a statement:

"Mr. Corsi has notified the secretary by letter this morning that he regrets his inability to accept the secretary's offer. He has no further comment at this time."

Government Asks For Reinstatement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today asked the U.S. Court of Appeals to reinstate an indictment accusing Owen Lattimore of swearing falsely he had never been a follower of the Communist line or a promoter of Red interests.

The government's brief asked the Appellate Court to overrule U.S. District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl, who threw out the indictment Feb. 18 on the ground it was vague and nebulous.

U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover told the Appellate Court that Youngdahl erred in going beyond the question of the validity of the indictment itself.

Israel, Egypt Hit For Truce Violation

JERUSALEM (AP)—The U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission has charged both Israel and Egypt with truce violations in a recent border clash along the troubled Gaza Strip that left two soldiers dead and 12 wounded on each side.

A communique, issued yesterday after an emergency meeting of the commission on the April 3 shooting at Nahal Oz, also contained a plea by U. N. truce chief Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada. Burns called on both sides to keep "firm control" over their armed forces in the Gaza Strip, scenes of a series of bloody outbreaks recently.

The commission ruled the April 3 skirmish was "a very serious incident" involving violations by both sides.

'Flying Platform' Easily Maneuvered, Claims Test Pilot

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—The test pilot who first took off in a radically new wingless "flying platform" says anyone who can walk can fly it.

"You just lean the way you want it to go," said test pilot Phil A. Johnston of the "research tool" developed by Hiller Helicopters, of Palo Alto, for the Office of Naval Research.

"I'd let my kids fly it. It's no trick at all," he said. Johnston's first flight was Jan. 15 in the weird new machine which looks like a flying manhole cover with guard rails. It is a literal flying saucer.

Hiller's development to date, said the Office of Naval Research in the first disclosure of the new craft, "definitely has established the feasibility of radically simplified flight."

another 24 to 48 hours," he said. One man, the University of Michigan's Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., knows the secret after compiling all results of the tests. He will not divulge it until tomorrow morning at a meeting of 400 scientists and doctors.

He hasn't told Dr. James E. Salk, Pittsburgh scientist who developed the vaccine, nor Basil O'Connor, head of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

What will happen afterwards? The question is put by a well-known medical scientist who asked not to be identified. He has no connection with Salk but speaks from knowledge of the history of insulin, antibiotics and GG (gamma globulin) for polio.

Suppose the vaccine is a success. "It could become a test of our moral fiber," he said. "Will it start a stampede, like a theatre fire, to get vaccine at any cost? Will there be bootlegging, venality?"

Or will parents demand intelligent self-control of themselves and others to insist the vaccine be used where it will do the most good to reduce polio — among your children and pregnant women?

"Suppose," he continued, "the vaccine is found ineffective, or less than perfect?"

"How much dismay or loss of confidence may result? A vaccine can be a success without being sure-fire. Can it give control like vaccines against yellow fever or smallpox, which are not 100 per cent? Fire-proof buildings does not eliminate all fires, but it does drastically reduce the amount of destruction."

Mr., Mrs. Smith Serve Breakfast On Easter Sunday

Saturday night at the USO a "Bunny Hop" was held in accordance with the Easter theme. Eugene Smith and Ruby Stromstrom acted as host and hostess while the Presbyterian women acted as senior hostesses.

Sunday morning at 8 o'clock an Easter sunrise breakfast was given by the VFW with Mr. and Mrs. Melvyn Smith in charge. A breakfast of ham, eggs, fried potatoes, toast, coffee, orange juice, doughnuts, and buns, was served to a large crowd of servicemen and junior hostesses. Others assisting were Mrs. Marjorie Brown, Mrs. Peggy Kuhn and Mrs. Estella Russell.

Much credit must be given to Mr. and Mrs. Smith for their active interests in the USO and their readiness to lend a helping hand when needed," said one of the hostesses.

Sunday afternoon Easter eggs were dyed and at 7:30 that evening an Easter egg hunt was held with some 40 eggs hidden.

Television was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Bowling Green, Va. Paralyzed By Blaze

BOWLING GREEN, Va. (AP)—The business life of this northern Virginia town was paralyzed today as the result of a $750,000 fire that proved to be a tragic replay of history.

Only 6 of 24 buildings remained after a four-hour blaze that engulfed the Bowling Green business district on a warm, windy Easter afternoon.

The flames started in a herloff of a barn behind a row of business houses — and occurred 35 years to the day after a fire that nearly wiped out the community, located some 30 miles north of Richmond.

The outbreak in 1920, centered in the same area of this town of 700.

He hasn't told Dr. Jones K. Salk, Pittsburgh scientist who developed the vaccine, nor Basil O'Connor, head of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

What will happen afterwards? The question is put by a well-known medical scientist who asked not to be identified. He has no connection with Salk but speaks from knowledge of the history of insulin, antibiotics and GG (gamma globulin) for polio.

Suppose the vaccine is a success. "It could become a test of our moral fiber," he said. "Will it start a stampede, like a theatre fire, to get vaccine at any cost? Will there be bootlegging, venality?"

Or will parents demand intelligent self-control of themselves and others to insist the vaccine be used where it will do the most good to reduce polio — among your children and pregnant women?

"Suppose," he continued, "the vaccine is found ineffective, or less than perfect?"

"How much dismay or loss of confidence may result? A vaccine can be a success without being sure-fire. Can it give control like vaccines against yellow fever or smallpox, which are not 100 per cent? Fire-proofing buildings does not eliminate all fires, but it does drastically reduce the amount of destruction."

Salk Vaccine Said Effective

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The Salk polio vaccine is safe, effective and potent, it was officially announced today.

The vaccine was found 80 to 90 per cent effective in preventing paralytic polio in tests last year, anxious parents were told today by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. of the University of Michigan.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk of Pittsburgh immediately declared he is sure the vaccine is potentially almost 100 per cent effective and can bring complete triumph over polio and its lieutenants of terror and tragedy.

Dr. Francis' official report declared the vaccine had produced an "extremely successful effect" among children with bulbar polio, the most dangerous type.

There is no doubt that children now can be vaccinated successfully to end the threat of polio and the anxiety it causes every year.

The vaccine was found incredibly safe and with only 4 of 1 per cent of children suffering minor reactions.

So-called "major reactions" were almost completely lacking.

Strolling In Sanford

A special meeting of the Dusty Boots Riding Club will take place Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the auction market. All members are urged to attend.

The meeting of the Southside P-T-A scheduled for Thursday, has been postponed until April 21 due to a conflicting date with the Grammar School P-T-A. The session will be in the auditorium with classrooms to be opened from 7:30 until 8 p.m.

President Relates U. S. Is Prepared For Bigger Lift

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moving to spike Communist propaganda guns, President Eisenhower has announced the United States is ready to give a bigger lift to Asian nations in their quest for economic development and a "rising standard of living."

The President said last night he will send Congress next week a foreign aid program "including economic aid to the free nations of south and east Asia."

The announcement was made as delegates began gathering for an Afro-Asian conference at Bandung, Indonesia. Red China is one of the nations expected to play a leading role there—a role that might involve an attempt to woo nations friendly to the United States.

It seemed likely the foreign aid message would be timed close to the opening of the Afro-Asian conference next Sunday.

School Board Asked To Throw Out Suit Filed By Platt

TAVERES (AP)—The Lake County School Board asked Circuit Court yesterday to throw out Allen Platt's suit to have his children admitted to any white school in Florida.

It said the issue "could and should be settled administratively without the necessity of court action."

Attorneys for the board said in a statement that Platt and his wife never requested a hearing after five of their children were suspended from the county school at Mount Dora in October.

The board also filed a motion to strike portions of the complaint and a motion for a more definite statement on the races of Platt and his wife.

The Platts say they have no Negro blood but are of Cherokee Indian and Caucasian descent.

Backers Forecast Prompt Passage Of Tax Measure

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Backers of a bill to consolidate major tax collection functions under the comptroller forecast quick passage of the measure in the Senate today.

Only a parliamentary maneuver by a leader of the Collins administration prevented a vote on the measure yesterday.

Senate President Davis of Madison who put in the bill with names of 21 other senators as co-sponsors said it would be simply a matter of getting a roll call.

Sen. Pope of St. Augustine, who blocked a roll call yesterday, said he didn't know whether he would seek further delay.

When Sen. Tepper of Port St. Joe moved for an immediate vote on the bill after its introduction, Pope protested hurried action and invoked a Senate rule requiring unanimous consent to bring a bill up for passage out of turn.

PUPPY IS GIVEN PLACE OF HONOR

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The James Amegh family had been trying to get rid of Topy, a 6-month-old, stray puppy, since Thanksgiving. Yesterday, the Ameghs and their five children were pleased by Topy's barking.

The home was full of noise from a defective furnace. "From now on," said Mrs. Amegh, "that puppy will have the place of honor in our home."

Expansion System For Jr. Colleges Will Help Schools

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Expansion of Florida's junior college system will stimulate rather than slow down enrollment at the state universities in the opinion of the university presidents.

Dr. J. Wayne Reitz, president of the University of Florida, and Dr. Donak S. Campbell, president of Florida State University, said yesterday establishment of more two-year colleges to help handle the expected flood of students would spur more students to seek four-year college education.

"You can have junior colleges until they run out of your ears and the University of Florida and Florida State University will continue to grow," Dr. Reitz said.

This trend has been proved, Dr. Campbell said, by experience of California, Texas and Mississippi.

Florida Shipment Of Polio Vaccine Is Expected Soon

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—The Florida State Board of Health said today the Salk vaccine shipment expected here within a few days will be dispatched to county health departments immediately.

The state health agency's bureau of preventable diseases said Railways Express will expedite shipments to each of the 67 counties so the great immunizing task can begin as soon as possible.

Dr. L. L. Parks, bureau director, said that of approximately 185,000 first and second graders eligible for the vaccine, being supplied free by the national polio foundation, approximately 85 per cent will take part in the immunization program.

That percentage figure, he said, is based upon the number of permission slips from parents of children eligible. Participation is voluntary, he stressed.

Investigation Set For Disruption Of Phone Service

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—Palm Beach deputies have launched an investigation into disruption of telephone service across South Florida.

Services from West Palm Beach to points in the Everglades and from the Everglades to Fort Myers was disrupted yesterday. Calls were rerouted via Jacksonville.

Officials of the strike-torn Southern Bell Telephone Co. said the phones were put out of order when 80 long distance circuits from Belle Glade to Fort Myers were slashed at two points between South Bay and Clewiston.

Cable cuttings put 30 homes in West Palm Beach out of service temporarily, the company reported.

E. F. Baddy, district manager of the company, called the cable damage "sabotage" and said the outbreak of violence was "an obvious attempt to isolate the Everglades."

Bobtail Turnpike Hearing Scheduled

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Supreme Court today scheduled a hearing for 2:30 p. m. April 20 on some issues involved in validation of 14 million dollars worth of bonds for the bobtail turnpike.

One of the major points is whether a member of the state road board can legally serve as a member of the turnpike commission.

The court five weeks ago heard oral arguments on the question of jurisdiction but has not handed down a ruling.

AWAY FROM THE LIBRARY but not from books, Mrs. E. J. Moughton has resigned as head librarian after 26 years service in the Sanford Public Library. Mrs. Sacy King, inset, has taken over the position. (Staff Photo)

Mrs. L. Moughton Retires From Post

Mrs. Sacy King Will Assume Job As Sanford's Public Librarian

Mrs. Sacy King has been appointed head librarian at the Sanford Public Library. It was announced this morning upon the resignation of Mrs. E. J. Moughton, who has held the position for almost 26 years.

Mrs. King has been in the library for almost four years and was formerly secretary for Mrs. J. C. Mitchell at Southside Primary School where she helped set up a library. Mrs. King stated that she was "thrilled" when she heard the announcement this morning.

"I love library work," she said and I love to work with the public. I only wish I could have started sooner."

Mrs. Moughton, who came to the library in July of 1929, said that she learned her job through "pure hard work and awkwardness" as she had no real training.

"Sanford had what you would call a Library Association from 1889 until 1923 after which the city took over and built the present library. Mrs. George Knight was head librarian and I was an assistant."

"In the fall of 1931 I was put in charge to take her place while she was out because of illness and in February of the following year I was appointed permanently as head librarian. I was the only one in the library for several years and this included doing all the jobs myself and working on the weekends."

"I was asked to help set up a library at the Naval Air Station which I did in World War II."

She went on to say that the school had no library then, another job was making 500 to 700 books to be used during the school year. The city paid $25 for doing that job. Mrs. Fred Riser came as part-time assistant in 1936 and Mrs. Edgley Brewerton arrived in 1944.

"We have grown considerably since 1923 and are at the point now where it is absolutely full. Many of the older books have been weeded out as the library is out in front in keeping up with the best sellers and newer books. You never get bored doing that sort of work as it is much too interesting and there is always a variety of things to do," she said.

Mrs. Moughton also told how the children's department had improved and about the section on Florida's history. She said that many of the tourists here use the library constantly as well as the Navy people. "But the most improved are the school children," she went on. "They are being taught in the schools today how to use the cards and the library and to use it to their advantage."

Gillon Tells Plans For Slum Cleanup

Quick Divorce Law May Be Thrown Out

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The proposal to outlaw Florida's nationally known quickie divorce law cleared the first legislative hurdle today.

A Senate judiciary committee endorsed the measure by Sens. King of Winter Haven and Rodgers of Winter Garden to extend the 90 days residence requirement before instituting divorce proceedings.

The bill would require six months residence.

Action on the divorce bill came shortly before Gov. Collins' proposal to set up a commission to rewrite the state Constitution was introduced into the Senate.

This plan calls for an emergency amendment to the Constitution to be voted on within 90 days. This amendment would approve a commission to rewrite the Constitution.

The commission would submit a draft not later than Sept. 1, 1956 and it would be voted on in the 1956 general election.

Gaming committee approval was a bill to clamp down on slotting, but the same Senate judiciary committee refused to approve a state census.

3 Indian Crewmen Saved From Crash In South China Sea

SINGAPORE (AP)—The British navy reported that three Indian crewmen of a crashed airplane were rescued by a coastal ship today in the South China Sea.

Fifteen persons were still missing, including eight Communist Chinese officials, a North Vietnamese pilot and two Polish journalists—all bound for the African-Asian conference in Indonesia.

The survivors were reported suffering slight injuries.

The four-engine Indian Constellation disappeared Monday night after sending three distress signals. British Royal Air Force fliers sighted the wreckage and empty lifejackets off the Great Natuna Islands, some 200 miles northeast of Singapore, earlier today.

Dade County Bar Hears Smathers

MIAMI (AP)—We need Latin America more than they need us, Sen. Smathers told the Dade County Bar Assn. yesterday in reporting that Guatemala is losing its battle to remain part of the free world.

Smathers said that in the past three years the United States has lost about 50 per cent of its trade with countries below the border, largely to competition from Europe.

He called for increasing the flow of private capital to Latin America, expanding good neighbor programs and urged the Export-Import Bank to "give friendly and favorable consideration in loan applications" from South American countries.

SEOUL (AP)—The 8th Army said today it contributed more than $60,000 to the American Red Cross during a 41-day campaign.

DEFENSE ARMY WILL BE DISCUSSED

MANILA (AP)—The feasibility of organizing military units from the eight Manila Pact nations into a Southeast Asia collective defense army will be discussed this month by the SEATO military committee.

Philippine army sources said the United States, a pact member, is opposed to the plan.

Wilkinson Auto Struck By Pole

An estimated $50 damage was reported to a car driven by Ruth Wilkinson when it was struck by a falling telephone pole on Elm Ave., between 14th and 15th St., during last night's storm, City Police reported.

Police said she was making a turn around a deep puddle of water when something hit the car in back. She did not notice anything wrong with the car until this morning when the dent caused by the pole was found.

Awaits Starting Signal

Negro Sections To Be Cleared

"All I am waiting for is the signal to go ahead," City Building Inspector John M. Gillon declared today as he announced plans for a wide-spread slum cleanup in the Negro sections of Georgetown and Goldsboro.

Gillon said between 50 and 75 below-standard houses would have to be condemned in Georgetown and "that many or more" in Goldsboro because of lack of proper sanitary facilities.

Citing also the health menace caused by crowded conditions, he said 28 houses are located on five lots, the space ordinarily taken up by 10 houses.

There is not a sink in any of these houses, he added, pointing out that water is provided by two springs and one surface well.

The houses rent for "about three or four dollars a week," Gillon said.

He emphasized that the city building code requires each house to have a water toilet and one sink. Sewers are available to the houses, but property owners have not installed the sanitary facilities.

He outlined plans for a cleanup and said: "We are going to condemn everything that doesn't come up to standard."

Gillon has already condemned four Negro rental properties on Pine Ave., three of which belong to a white owner, Miss Jeannette Laine, and the other to Sip Tracey, a Negro.

E. A. Vickers, a representative of Miss Laine, appealed to the City Commission last night to lift the ban.

The Commission gave temporary permission for the houses to continue in use, because as City Manager Warren Knowles explained, the Board of Administrators and Appeals had been inactive so long all members' terms had expired.

The Commission informed Vickers his client would have a 90-day appeal period from the time the Commission appoints a new appeal board to hear grievances.

It will be up to the owner to show where the public welfare is benefited by not installing indoor plumbing, Knowles told the board and Vickers.

Gillon said he closed Miss Laine's three houses because they had only two toilets on the alley serving three houses and that one of the toilets was not working.

The house belonging to Tracey was condemned because there was no toilet on the property, Gillon said.

Dulles Contends Reds Are Scheming

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says Communist leaders are scheming to build up "a popular demand for peace at any price."

If such a mood became prevalent, he said, the Communists could "easily conquer the world."

Addressing the fifth annual All-Jesuit Alumni Dinner, Dulles said last night the Communists could "confront the free peoples with successive choices between peace and surrender; and if peace is the absolute goal, then surrenders become inevitable."

In such circumstances, he said, "peace can be a cover whereby evil men can perpetrate diabolical wrongs."

CofC Directors To Meet Tonight

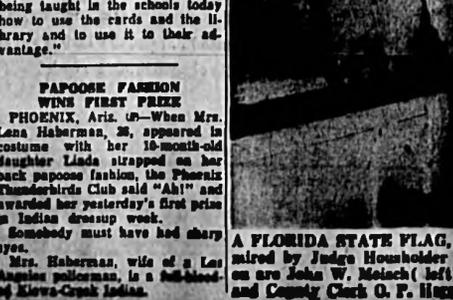

Plans for obtaining a new plant will be discussed at monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors at City Hall tonight. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

In a notice of the meeting, the Chamber pointed out that "we have an opportunity of getting a large plant, employing possibly 250 men if enough local interest and action can be developed."

The discussion will highlight a report by the industrial committee. Reports will also be heard on advertising, highways, and commercial affairs.

BURGLAR FOUND IN OBVIOUS PLACE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Lehman spotted a man trying to enter her apartment. She ran out and called police. Officers searched the apartment but couldn't find anyone. Mrs. Lehman did. She looked under the bed. The prowler, Kenneth Switzer, was charged with burglary.
