SCC Hosts Appreciation Luncheon

Seminole Community College expects to begin construction of its new $6.6 million adult education building in January 1987. College officials credit area legislators with helping push for the funding of the new building, which was appropriated last month after a six-year effort.

SCC President Dr. Earl Weldon and the Board of Trustees hosted a luncheon Monday to thank area legislators for their support in obtaining the Public Education Capital Outlay (PECO) funds, which were appropriated by the state Division of Community Colleges.

"I'm excited they're getting the new building," said State Representative Carl Selph, R-Casselberry. "It will fulfill the need in the community," he added.

Selph continued, "Not a lot of schools get that amount of money."

In addition, he said, others with funding needs try to cut heavily funded programs in order to get additional funding.

"The size (of money) made it susceptible for others wanting to raid it for funding," Selph said. "As far as I know, this is the first time money has been appropriated for a strictly adult education building," he added.

Weldon said, "This has been a very good year for us. We express our appreciation to all our legislators for everything they have helped us accomplish."

Dora Lee Russell, SCC Board of Trustees Chairman said, "We are very appreciative. Representative Selph worked very hard to help us."

The college adult education program is now housed in portable "temporary" classrooms, which have been used since the college opened two decades ago.

The new two story, 66,000 square foot building will contain 30 classrooms, according to Andrew J. Vavreck, SCC Vice President for Business and Administrative Affairs. He said the building has been on the Division of Community College's priority list for over six years.

The total amount appropriated for the building this year is $6.228 million. An additional $377,000 was appropriated last year for planning of the building.

Developmental, leisure-time, high school equivalency, migrant, and English for foreign language speakers are among those offered in the adult programs.

Bundy, Stano Appeal

From Staff and Wire Reports

A short-order cook convicted of slaughtering a woman in Altamonte Springs and a former law student who bludgeoned coeds to death in Tallahassee are fighting in circuit and federal courts today to prevent their double executions Wednesday.

Gerald Stano and Ted Bundy, two of Florida's most celebrated death row inmates, are carrying their eleventh-hour appeals for relief up the legal system towards the Supreme Court. They are scheduled to die Wednesday morning around 7 a.m.

Brevard County Circuit Judge Gil Goshorn set a hearing today to hear Stano's latest appeal. Bundy's lawyers were to take his case to the federal courts.

Stano, 34, has confessed to 41 murders and is under sentence of death for three of his 10 convictions. He is set to die for the 1973 murder of Port Orange teenager Cathy Lee Scharf.

He was convicted and sentenced in Seminole County to life in prison for stabbing death in 1974 of a still-unnamed woman — "Madam X" — near the Interstate Mall in Altamonte Springs.

Bundy, 39, convicted of three sensational Florida murders and a suspect in the deaths of up to 36 women in four Western states, sat quietly in his cell on Florida's death row Monday, just 30 feet from the execution chamber where the state plans to put him to death at 7 a.m. Wednesday.

His only visitor Monday was the woman who married him during one of his trials.

Monday the Florida Supreme Court rejected Ted Bundy's appeal of his conviction and death sentence and refused to block his scheduled execution.

Seminole County Commissioner Sandra Boards met in a special joint session at the Glenn, left, listens intently with school Student Museum in Sanford to consider superintendent Bob Hughes as the two areas of mutual assistance.

School Board Seeks Commissioner's Aid

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County School Board asked the Board of Seminole County Commissioners for assistance in improving three school sites during the $105 million school expansion program. The requests came at a special joint worksession between the boards Monday afternoon.

The school district's requests were presented by the school's assistant superintendent for facilities and transportation Benny Arnold. The schools involved are Goldsboro Elementary, Milwee Middle School, and Midway Elementary.

At Goldsboro, Arnold asked the commissioners to consider re-routing and burying a triangular-shaped open county drainage ditch which prevents use of land at the south section of the school site. Arnold proposed the school board pay for the materials to be used in the project, while the county pay for the surveying and man-power.

County Public Works Director Jerry Sellers said he would examine the possible costs for the project.

Arnold said the land could be used for park area "to serve the school and community."

At Milwee, the school has declared a 1.5 acre parcel of land as a surplus, and the county has indicated they are interested in obtaining the land for water retention and drainage in the area. Arnold suggested a swap of the land for county services at the school site, including some parking lot and driveway paving and drainage.

Sellers said the county will assess the value of the land, and the cost of work Arnold proposed.

Arnold also told commissioners that the school board is considering paving Rightway Avenue, a quarter-mile dirt road leading to Midway from County Road 46. Arnold said

Development Grant OK'd

City Plans Expending $650,000

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

By summer's end, Sanford anticipates having its $650,000 community development block grant in hand and plans to begin notifying citizens in an eight block city area that the funding is available to them for the rehabilitation of their homes.

The city anticipates at least 50 homes will benefit from the funding, which will be distributed to homeowners in the targeted area through either low interest loans or outright allocations. Sanford Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons said.

The survey, conducted in May, led to the state's determination late last month that Sanford had qualified for full receipt of the funding, Simmons said.

The eight-block area that qualifies for funding is bounded by Orange and Locust avenues and Seventh and 12th streets. The area was defined in the funding application Sanford sent to the state Department of Community Affairs in late December.

The funding will be distributed by the city's Community Development Block Grant Committee, a nine member board headed by former Sanford City Manager Pete Knowles. The board was appointed by city commissioners last winter, when it was learned Sanford's grant application had been approved, contingent on a state survey of the area targeted for funding.

He said the city expects to sign its $650,000 funding contract with the state Department of Community Affairs by the end of July and will begin notifying residents of the funding's availability in August.

Assistance in getting the word out to homeowners will be provided by those grant committee members who are residents of the target area, Simmons said.

Knowles said the grant committee is moving toward developing the guidelines and requirements homeowners will have to comply with in order to receive funding for their rehabilitative efforts.

These rules must be approved by the Department of Community Affairs and Knowles said he

Lake Mary, Builders Seek Impact Fee Pact

Lake Mary city commissioners are expected to consider adopting an impact fee ordinance during Thursday night's regular commission meeting, after more than a month of dispute with a builders group over the fees.

City officials and the builders group are seeking to reach an accord without compromising their respective stands on impact fees the city desires to collect from developers.

The city wants to assess the fees to help pay for the increased burden on city services because of growth. The Home Builders Association of Mid-Florida, through their attorney John Howell, of Akerman, Senterfitt, & Eldson law firm, Orlando, have contended fees that are "legal, fair, and equitable" must be supported by extensive study and documentation to show the desired fees are aligned with the actual cost of the increased needs.

Howell and Lake Mary's city attorney Robert Petree have talked about the issue recently, after city commissioner Buzz Petros presented Howell with data collected during the past two years fees have been considered by the city.

Petros says the data supports the fees in a fee ordinance he authored, now being considered by the commission and the HEA. "I've talked with Mr. Howell, and feel very confident that the two of us can work something out," Petree said. "He seemed satisfied and reasonably happy with commissioner Petros' information."

"There are a few details and supportive information needed," Petree continued, saying that data is expected to be submitted for review soon.

He said he is "hopeful" he will have a new fee ordinance drafted in time for Thursday night's city commission meeting at Lake Mary city hall, 158 North Country Club Rd., at 7:30 p.m.

Howell said he is still reviewing Petros' documentation package, but agreed with Petree's assessment of the situation.

"Discussions are progressing, definitely," Howell said. Petros said Monday, "We're compiling that additional information right now, and we expect to hand deliver it to the attorneys Tuesday."

"It's a little hard to compute the fire department costs since we have a volunteer fire department," Petros said. "We're doing an inventory of capital assets of the department, and a line item inventory of police and fire department equipment."

"If it was not for all this new development, we wouldn't need all the new equipment," Petros continued, adding that "we haven't yet addressed where it

NATION IN BRIEF

President Directs Review On U.S.-South African Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, back from a five-day break at his California ranch, says South Africa should make a transition to a "non-racial democracy in which human rights and free enterprise prosper."

Reagan's directive for a major review of U.S. policy toward strife-torn South Africa was revealed during his stay in California.

The president has been holding to his policy of "constructive engagement" to put diplomatic pressure on the white-minority government of President Pieter Botha.

But mounting violence in South Africa and the growing impatience in Congress have forced Reagan to reassess his policies.

The House has passed a resolution calling for tougher economic sanctions than those Reagan imposed in September, including the total divestment of U.S. interests in South Africa.

Reagan, however, remains adamantly opposed to stricter sanctions, and deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said the president will try to block the resolution when it reaches the Senate.

U.S. Pushes Isolation Of Libya

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With the last American companies out of Libya, the administration is moving to seal off any remaining economic ties with the North African nation.

A senior State Department official, briefing reporters Monday, said that Libyan revenues, partly because of American and Western European actions, dropped from an estimated $11 billion a year in 1985 to an estimated $4 billion this year.

Officials said the economic sanctions against Libya have been effective because the country is dependent on a single commodity, oil, for its revenues.

Under a series of executive orders, U.S. economic involvement with Libya — which amounted to $9 billion dollars in Libyan imports in 1981 — has virtually ended.

Social Security Checks Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Social Security Commissioner Dorcas Hardy says more than 2 million people will receive bigger Social Security checks July 3 because of new benefit calculations using earnings from 1984.

Hardy disclosed Monday the average beneficiary is expected to receive an increase of $14.30 a month and retroactive checks will average $265.

More than $500 million in retroactive benefits will be paid beginning next month, and an additional $29 million in ongoing benefits will be paid each month, he said.

Another 500,000 people will receive higher benefits by the end of the year because their increase could only be computed manually, the commissioner said.

Labor Leaders Meet In Secret To Discuss South African Arrests

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Officials of the country's largest labor federation, fearing police arrest, met today at a secret location to discuss the detention of their leader and other union members under the state of emergency, a spokesman said.

The government today formally repealed 34 race laws making up the "influx control" system that severely restricted the movements of blacks and obliged them to carry a "pass" at all times.

An official of the 500,000-strong Congress of South African Trade Unions would not disclose the venue of the closed-door meeting, citing fears in the executive group of further detentions.

OPEC Falls To Take United Stand

BRIONI, Yugoslavia (UPI) — The 13 squabbling OPEC countries failed again to see eye to eye on a unified strategy to dry up the glut on the world oil market and stop prices from tumbling.

The OPEC summer summit on Brioni Island in the Adriatic Sea broke off Monday with only a tentative pricing-and-production agreement by a majority of the cartel's members. The tentative agreement was denounced by OPEC hardliners, who are holding out for sharply curtailed production and much higher prices.

The ministers agreed to meet again in Geneva on July 28 to work out country-by-country output quotas under the production lid adopted by the majority.

Sanford Girl Killed In SR 46 Car Crash

A Sanford girl returning from a trip to Rock Springs was killed and four others injured in a one-vehicle accident Sunday just inside Lake County on State Road 46 west of Sanford.

Dead is Patricia Ann Powell, 13, of 71 William Clark Court. Doris Flagler, 13, also of Sanford, was in good condition today at Waterman Medical Center in Eustis with a broken pelvis.

Three other passengers, girls 12, 13, and 14, received minor injuries and were treated and released.

Bishram Salamaya, 28, of Apopka, driver of the vehicle, was taken by helicopter to Orlando Regional Medical Center in Orlando where he was in good condition today.

According to Seminole County rescue reports, Miss Powell was dead on arrival at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford. Florida Highway Patrol investigators report that Salamaya's 1979 Plymouth was eastbound on SR 46 when it tried to pass two cars as it approached the Wekiva River bridge around 8 p.m. Oncoming traffic however forced the car to leave the road. It skidded sideways and slammed passenger-side first into a utility pole.

According to reports, Salamaya and the girls had been at Kelly Park in north Orange County, the site of Rock Springs.

Charges are pending an investigation. There was no mention of alcohol or seatbelt use in the FHP report.

Miss Powell was a student at Sanford Middle School and attended El Bethel Church of the Nazarene in Sanford.

Survivors include her parents, a brother, two sisters and a grandfather. —Deane Jordan

Economy Moving Slowly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's broad reading of economic vitality in the near future rose a modest 0.2 percent in May, the Commerce Department said today.

The composite index of leading economic indicators rose to 178.8 in May from a downwardly revised 178.5 in April, the Bureau of Economic Analysis said in a report. The 0.3 percentage point change works out to a rise of 0.2 percent.

Last month, the bureau reported gains of 0.9 percent in March and 1.5 percent in April. A change in credit outstanding and net business formation forced downward revisions to 0.6 percent and 1.3 percent, respectively, bureau analysts said.

The April advance was still the best since October 1983, when the economic barometer surged ahead by 1.5 percent.

Deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes said that figures indicated "slow economy activity in the current period. Stronger employment and output growth remain likely in the second half of the year."

"With interest rates again dropping lower and leading indicators still climbing, we expect strong third and fourth quarter growth to continue to fuel the Reagan economic expansion, now in its 43rd month."

The index, which seeks to predict the direction of the nation's economy three to six months in advance, stood at 167.1 in May 1985. It has advanced by 2.9 percent during the first five months of this year.

The composite index has either advanced or remained unchanged in 12 of the last 14 months. The last decline came in January of this year, when it fell back by 0.2 percent.

The economy expanded by a slack 2.9 percent at an annual rate in the first quarter of 1986. The president's economic advisers have predicted 4 percent growth by the final quarter, but a recent series of slack or negative indicators concentrated in the industrial sector have aroused some scepticism.

Trash Pickup Set

Trash pick-up in the City of Lake Mary will be rescheduled from Friday, July 4, to Saturday, July 5, because of the Independence Day holiday, according to Buzz Petros of the city's solid waste disposal committee.

Petros said the Saturday pick-ups would be made at the times normally used at the regular Friday schedule.

WEATHER

LOCAL REPORT: A high of 92 degrees was recorded Monday at the University of Florida Agricultural Research and Education Center, Sanford, and a reading of 72 degrees was taken at 8 a.m. today. No rain was recorded. More hot weather today with a possibility of afternoon thundershowers.

NATIONAL REPORT: Thunderstorms that swept one family's home down a rain-swollen river and caused more than $1 million in damage on the Pluma eased up today, while heavy rains threatened parts of the nation's midsection with flooding. Flash flood watches were posted across central Missouri and parts of Kansas today and a flood warning remained in effect for the Raccoon River basin in southern Iowa, the National Weather Service said. But all thunderstorm and flood watches for Nebraska were canceled by early today, as residents cleaned up from high winds, hail, and heavy rain that raked Nebraska and Iowa Monday, leaving one woman dead and causing widespread damage. In Iowa, the home of Roger Anderson was washed off its foundation and floated 3 miles downstream into Lake Panorama late Sunday when 8 inches of rain fell on the Raccoon River basin. Nobody was home at the time. The storm also sunk more than 20 boats in Lake Panorama. The rains flooded farm fields and closed roads downstream from the lake and the Raccoon River rose 8 1/2 feet above flood stage at Redfield, Iowa, Monday night. The river was expected to rise another foot before cresting today. A crest of about 6 feet above flood stage will reach Des Moines Wednesday, the weather bureau said. A tornado destroyed a West Des Moines convenience store and damaged several other businesses in a shopping complex shortly before midnight Monday. The two employees in the convenience store were not injured.

Hold It A Minute

Allamonte Police have been taking advantage of routine driver license checks, such as the one above Saturday night on North Lake Boulevard, to remind motorists that as of today drivers are required to wear seat belts. Although only warnings will be issued for the first six months, as of Jan. 1, 1987, tickets will be issued for the infraction. Traffic Officer Ben Carroll said the Allamonte PD frequently conducts such driver's license checks and sometimes experience bizarre events. One driver, Carroll said, crashed the road block and had to be chased. He was charged with DUI.

Court Backs Open Hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a victory for media groups, the Supreme Court ruled 7-2 Monday that pretrial hearings must be open to the press and public unless a defendant shows the right to a fair trial would be violated.

Ruling in a case brought by a California newspaper publisher, the justices said public access to preliminary hearings is essential to the nation's system of justice.

"We have already determined ... that public access to criminal trials and the selection of jurors is essential to the proper functioning of the criminal justice system," Chief Justice Warren Burger wrote for the majority.

"California preliminary hearings are sufficiently like a trial to justify the same conclusion."

The case is the latest to come to the nation's highest court challenging cases where the press and public have been barred from courtrooms by judges citing concern about pretrial publicity and a defendant's right to a fair trial.

The California case evolved out of murder charges against Robert Rubane Diaz, who was arrested in 1981 and charged with killing 12 hospital patients by administering massive doses of a drug, lidocaine. He eventually was convicted.

Diaz asked that pretrial proceedings, which lasted 41 days, be closed to the public.

The Press-Enterprise Co., a newspaper publisher in Riverside, Calif., later tried to obtain transcripts of the proceeding but Diaz objected. The judge kept the documents sealed, citing a "reasonable likelihood that making all or any part of the transcript public might prejudice the defendant's right to a fair and impartial trial."

The case made its way to the California Supreme Court, which ruled in December 1984 that the Constitution does not provide a right of access to pretrial hearings. California law allows the closing of preliminary hearings if necessary to protect the defendant's right to a fair trial.

On appeal to the high court, the newspaper argued previous Supreme Court decisions have established closures of court proceedings must "be rare and only for cause shown that outweighs the value of openness."

In reversing the lower court ruling, Burger said a "qualified First Amendment right of access to criminal proceedings applies to preliminary hearings as they are conducted in California."

But he said, "If the interest asserted is the right of the accused to a fair trial, the preliminary hearing shall be closed only if specific findings are made demonstrating that ... a defendant's right to a fair trial will be prejudiced by publicity ... and second, reasonable alternatives to closure cannot adequately protect the defendant's free trial rights."

Dissenting Justice John Paul

Stevens, joined by William Rehnquist, said, "It is unfortunate that the court neglects this opportunity to fit the result in this case into the body of precedent dealing with access rights generally."

"I fear that today's decision will simply further unsettle the law in this area," Stevens wrote.

Peter Prichard, chairman of the Society of Professional Journalists' Freedom of Information Committee, called the decision "an important milestone."

"Since more than 90 percent of all criminal cases are disposed of before trial, it is absolutely essential that the public be able to monitor pretrial hearings to help ensure that justice is fairly and impartially administered," Prichard said.

The court has ruled on a number of cases involving open trials in recent years, including another one brought by the Press-Enterprise. In that case, the court decided in 1984 that judges may close jury selection proceedings only in rare instances.

The court ruled in 1979 in a case similar to the current one that there is no constitutional right to attend pretrial proceedings.

The Press-Enterprise was joined in its appeal by a number of news agencies. The organizations argued that since the Diaz case, "California trial judges have been closing these criminal proceedings with increasing frequency."

Arrested Fighting For Their Wives

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy was allegedly hit in the face by a man who came to the deputy's home looking for the alleged assaulter's wife. The suspect was arrested.

In an unrelated case, a man, who allegedly went gunning for another in a dispute over his wife, has also been arrested.

In the first case, the deputy, Frank Johnson, of Howell Branch Road, Casselberry, reportedly had the suspect "pinned" to the floor when another deputy arrived at Johnson's home and arrested the suspect at about 11:29 p.m. Sunday.

Johnson said the woman was at his home watching television when her husband arrived and became irate. When Johnson tried to calm the man the suspect allegedly punched him in the face, sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said.

Charged with battery was Samuel Wright III, 33, of 1122 Locust Ave., Sanford. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Spolski said there is no internal departmental investigation into Johnson's actions in this case.

In the unrelated incident, a man, who allegedly jumped onto the hood of a car, kicked in the windshield and threatened with a shotgun a man who had been sleeping in the car, has been charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon and criminal mischief.

Edward Holsopple, 19, of Green Acres Camp Ground, Forest City Road, Altamonte Springs, told Seminole County sheriff's deputies he was assaulted at about 3 a.m. Saturday while sleeping at Brantley Square.

The suspect, Holsopple said, drove his truck up beside his car, got on the hood of the car and kicked in the passenger side window. He allegedly pointed a shotgun at Holsopple and said he was going to blow his head off, a sheriff's report said.

The suspect allegedly unloaded the gun, showed the shell to Holsopple and reloaded and cocked the weapon. He allegedly said, "I may not kill you this time, but I will the next time I see you," the report said.

The suspect was reportedly irate over a relationship between his wife and the victim, sheriff's deputies said.

The man left and the alleged attack was reported to sheriff's deputies. A deputy reported spotting the suspect's truck at Brantley Square, State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, and confronted and arrested the suspect at about 10:15 a.m. Saturday.

Alex John Hogan, 22, no address, was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Gunman Robs Store

In addition to a string of Seminole County burglaries and thefts reported to sheriff's deputies over the weekend, a clerk at a Cumberland Farms reported he was robbed by a gunman.

That holdup occurred at about 8:10 p.m. Saturday at the Cumberland Farms in Forest City where the gunman reportedly pushed clerk Gary Stephens, 19, of Altamonte Springs, against a counter and demanded cash from the register and cash.

Stephens told deputies he filled a paper bag with an undetermined amount of cash and the suspect fled.

Among other weekend burglaries and thefts reported were:

A 1979 Cadillac, with keys inside, was stolen from the home of George Vaughn, 312 Redwing Circle, Winter Springs, on Sunday. A Jeep at that home was also ransacked.

Petrina A. Cowan, 32, of 119 San Jose Circle, Winter Park, gave sheriff's deputies the name of a suspect who may have stolen a $300 watch from her home Sunday.

A box of record albums and cassette tapes valued at $850 were stolen, along with $500 worth of jewelry, from the home of Freddie McLeary, 20, of 710 Meadow St., Sanford, on Sunday.

Barbara Jean Jones, 34, of Pennsylvania, and Nancy E. Farrow, 52, of 3790 Oakley Ave., Sanford, lost a wallet, a watch, a calculator and other items to a burglar at Ms. Farrow's home between Friday and Sunday.

About $1,000 worth of jewelry was stolen from the home of Tae Hwa Kim, 24, of 200 Fern Park

Blvd., #1308, Fern Park, between June 25 and Sunday.

A vehicle found stripped of parts in DeBary, was stolen from Jim Chumbly's auto dealership, 4113, U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, between June 26 and Saturday. It was not known that the 1982 Trans Am was stolen until it was found stripped of engine parts and abandoned in the woods. The car was valued at $6,500.

Jonathan Johnson, 32, of Ocoee, reported that a 110 gallon fuel tank valued at $700 and an $85 switch were stolen from his vehicle while parked in a truck yard at 137 Meisch Road, Sanford, on June 8 or 9.

A stove valued at $1,140 was stolen from a home at #22 Markham Glen Circle, Longwood, between June 26 and Saturday. Bernie S. Pavlock, 58, of 257 Liverpool Cove, Longwood, was listed as the owner of the stove.

Deputies have the name of a man accused of stealing a trailer from Pine Grove Mobile Home Park, lot 1, between May 6 and 10. The loss was reported Saturday by owner Norah Suzanne Brooke, 41, of Orlando, who told Seminole County sheriff's deputies a man, who had reportedly expressed interest in buying the $2,600 trailer, allegedly went to the park on May 6, paid rent on the trailer lot and took the trailer without her permission.

Clothing, books, a calculator and other items with a combined value of $258 were stolen from the car of Roger S. Sill, 24, of Gainesville, while parked at 540 Clemson Drive, Altamonte Springs on Friday or Saturday.

No Help To South Africa

South African blacks could hardly have worse enemies than some well-meaning members of the U.S. House of Representatives.

There is no quick-fix solution to South Africa's racial problems.

The only thing that can be accomplished quickly is to push the nation once and for all into an economic and social abyss.

That is exactly what House members who advocate a ban on the United States doing business with South Africa are likely to achieve if they have their way.

The House recently actually passed legislation calling for the withdrawal of U.S. businesses from South Africa and an all-out trade embargo.

Many Republicans who cast "aye" votes, however, were gambling that because the measure was so ridiculous, it would result in sanctions being thwarted.

Many people might wonder what is wrong with emphasizing U.S. displeasure with Pretoria's policy of racial separation, or apartheid, by imposing the harsh sanctions proposed by Rev. Ronald Dellums, D-Cal.

After all, apartheid has been roundly denounced by virtually all American politicians.

The problem with the Dellums approach is that it would immediately penalize black South Africans and make it perhaps impossible for true democracy to evolve in that country.

As the U.S. experience has demonstrated, it takes time for racial justice to evolve.

One need not be an advocate of South Africa's policies to recognize that it has made progress toward equality and that destroying the nation's economy will toss it into that abyss which can lead only to immediate anarchy and, quite possibly, permanent totalitarianism.

In South Africa today there are extremists — both white and black — who would unleash much more evil than the current government has wrought.

Mr. Reagan knows that encouraging radicals to wash South Africa in blood is not the answer for blacks or whites.

It is conservatively estimated that 85,000 South African jobs would be lost if U.S. firms pulled out.

(In addition, of course, the moderating influence of U.S. businesses' hiring and promotion policies would be lost.)

Taking black residents' jobs away from them would be a relatively mild impact of the Dellums "solution," considering what would follow.

The framers of the U.S. Constitution showed remarkable foresight when they placed the responsibility for foreign policy in the hands of the executive branch rather than the legislative branch of government.

One might even suspect that those founding fathers who parceled out responsibilities for running the government had today's president and today's Congress in mind.

On Scalia's Appointment: Finalmente

There have been 106 Supreme Court Justices appointed in all American history.

There are almost 20 million Italian-Americans. Until the nomination of Antonin Scalia, none — zero — had been on the U.S. Supreme Court.

Scalia is a Republican and a conservative. New York's Gov. Mario Cuomo, the most prominent Italian-American politician, is a Democrat and a (perceived) liberal. I asked Cuomo what he thought of the appointment.

"Finalmente!" he said, which roughly translates to: "It's about time."

"My first reaction," said Cuomo, "was a visceral burst of pride. It showed the upward mobility of Italian-Americans. It's a magnificent moment. July Fourth is coming up. I just visited Ellis Island where my immigrant mother landed. And now we have a Supreme Court Justice who says, 'My friends call me Nino.'"

"My second reaction was also positive," said Cuomo. "Here's a bright, thoughtful lawyer, a professor of law, with reverence for the law, picked for the highest court, a man eminently qualified. He's a good lawyer. We'll wait for the confirmation hearings, but I think he'll be a fine judge."

Washington is a conspiratorial town, sometimes absurdly so. I asked Cuomo about the Washington rumor that one reason Scalia was appointed was to harm Cuomo, a possible Democratic presidential nominee. Scalia, so the rumor went, would keep Italo-Americans in the Republican Party — so that Cuomo couldn't steal them for Democrats.

"Anyone who thinks that is dumb and stupid," said Cuomo. "Elevating and honoring a decent and brilliant Italian-American helps me and other Italian-Americans. It doesn't hurt us. If they wanted to hurt me or other Italians, they'd be grandstanding Mafia material."

Cuomo is not the only Italian-American happy over the Scalia appointment. There is a feeling among many that a Supreme Court slot is the best remedy for the Mafia and criminal stereotype that has long plagued the community. Lee Iacocca — executive — that's one fine thing in an upwardly mobile ethnic group. A. Bartlett Giamatti — former president of Yale — that's another. But a justice of the Supreme Court! One of only nine high priests protecting the majesty of the law. That's the best!

"To Italian-Americans," says Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association. "It's a root-stirring appointment, aimed like a lance at the distorted media image of ordinary Italians."

Scalia is not only a wise, warm and qualified judge, but a man who runs against the grain of the Italian-American stereotype in more than one way. His parents died recently: His mother was a school teacher; his father a professor of romance languages at Brooklyn College, who used to correct his son's English grammar even after he became a judge. Still, Scalia grew up on the sidewalk of Queens, N.Y., and knows the taste of big-city, ethnic America in a way that most other justices don't.

As Cuomo says, "Finalmente." Historically, the Supreme Court has always been behind the curve of American demography.

Idea That Failed

By Arnold Sawalakh

WASHINGTON (UPI) — That was an interesting idea Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill had last week — for President Reagan to appear before the House to engage in a "dialogue" with members about U.S. aid to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

Considering the rough treatment the House has given some of Reagan's proposals in recent times, it would have taken a brave man to accept O'Neill's invitation.

But while such an appearance would have been unusual, it would not be completely unprecedented. During the first presidency, George Washington, taking literally the Constitution's instruction that he make treaties with "the advice and consent" of the Senate, went to the Capitol along with several associates to explain an agreement with several Indian tribes to the lawmakers.

The senators did not want to just sit and listen to the president and began asking him questions about the treaty. Washington, who after all was a general unaccustomed to back talk, was outraged. He went back to the White House vowing never to submit again to such impudence. Supposedly, he never returned to the Capitol.

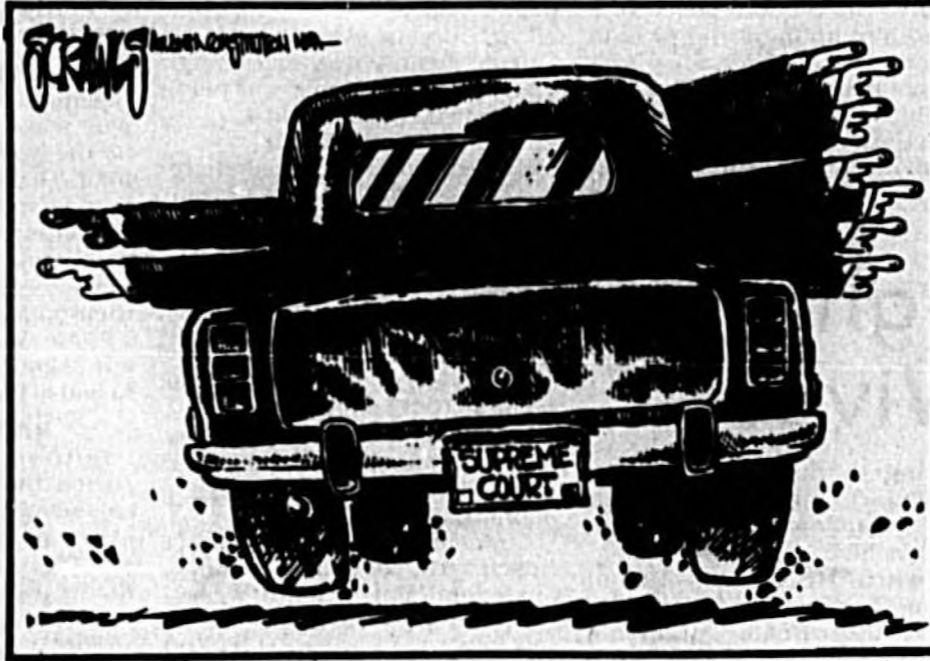

Still, one of Reagan's best friends regularly goes through the kind of give-and-take session he declined. British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has defended her policies before the House of Commons many times, and the English expect the head of their government to be ready for such showdowns with their political critics.

Not that Reagan wouldn't be up to the task. He demonstrated both in 1980 and 1984 he can handle debate situations, and in the first of those campaigns may have won the New Hampshire primary with his performance in a debate at Nashua.

We can see it now.

Reagan in a hurry because Air Force One is on the runway waiting to fly him to the ranch, arrives in the House chamber and starts to speak immediately. O'Neill, like his predecessor, Sam Rayburn, when Harry Truman launched into an address without the traditional ceremonial introduction, interrupts the president to whisper, "Wait a second, Ronnie, I'm supposed to introduce you."

The president turns in the podium and points at O'Neill in the speaker's chair. "Now hold on, Mr. O'Neill. My Treasury Department is paying for this mic, phone!"

The Comeback Scheme

It is commonplace, these days, to hear that "Richard Nixon has come back." The former president still has a great many detractors, but there is simply no denying that he has not only managed to survive the scandal that forced his resignation in 1974, but to work his way back onto the national stage as a speaker at Republican fund-raising dinners and, more generally, as a shrewd commentator on the political scene.

What is by no means so widely known is that Nixon is working hard, behind the scenes, to bring about certain diplomatic developments that, if they actually occur, will go far toward refurbishing his tarnished reputation as a president as well. And the beauty of it, as Jay Gould once bragged of a business deal, is that nothing will be lost save honor.

Nixon is known to regard his "detente" with Peking as the principal jewel in the woefully underdecorated diadem of his administration. No sooner had he been sworn in as president in 1969, after 20 years as an outspoken friend of Taiwan, than he set in motion the negotiations that resulted in his own 1972 visit to Peking and the establishment of informal diplomatic relations with mainland China. These dramatic developments were followed, in the Carter administration, by full diplomatic recognition. Taipei was "de-recognized" and left to sink or swim. (Luckily, it swam.)

Since resigning as president, Nixon has made several "private" trips to Communist China, obviously with the State Department's blessing and almost certainly on its business. The Communist Chinese still hold in high regard the man who reversed overnight 20 years of bipartisan American hostility to their regime; and Nixon, in turn, obviously regards the chance to play an important role on the world scene again as downright priceless.

But now, according to people in a position to know, Nixon is determined to bring about what he regards as the inevitable next step in the process: a full-fledged treaty of alliance between the United States and Communist China. Such an alliance would indeed be the logical conclusion to the process of detente with Peking that Nixon initiated in 1969, and — to the extent that it benefited this country — would have to be scored to his credit in the history books, particularly if Nixon himself played a role in the treaty negotiations.

There are, however, some obstacles to be overcome. Liberals, for one thing, while uneasily grateful to Nixon for his role in bringing about detente with the Chinese, are usually insistent that America must resist the temptation to "play the China card." To them, the ideal relationship among the United States, the Soviet Union and Communist China is an equilateral one in which none of the three seeks to ally itself with either of the others at the expense of the third. (That, you see, would be "destabilizing.")

Conservatives, on the other hand, are well aware that there can be no U.S. alliance with Communist China until America cuts even its present informal ties with Taiwan, and they are grimly determined to prevent that ultimate and utterly cynical betrayal. In their view, America's reputation for loyalty to its friends got a black enough eye in Vietnam.

Nixon is reportedly indifferent to both sets of concerns. Indeed, he is said to be working hard behind the scenes to increase State Department pressure on Taipei to negotiate with Peking, to settle their differences and thus pave the way for the long-for treaty of alliance.

There's Trouble In Timber

POST FALLS, Idaho (NEA) — After years of economic turbulence caused by an unusually deep recession in the forest products industry, the Louisiana-Pacific Corp. lumber mill here is operating at almost maximum capacity.

"It's just now making a comeback," says one Post Falls resident, referring to the sawmill whose recent history typifies the anguish experienced by the industry throughout the Northwest.

The problem here became so severe during the first half of this decade that the entire mill was temporarily closed on several occasions. At other times, the night shift was suspended, all overtime was prohibited and other restrictions were imposed on the work force of about 100 people.

That's a substantial number of jobs for Post Falls, located in the "panhandle" of northern Idaho, and for scores of other rural communities in the Northwest timber country, which encompasses all of Washington, Oregon and Idaho as well as eastern Montana and northern California.

The industry's current economic dislocation dates back to the late 1970s, when there was an unprecedented boom fueled by new housing starts that reached a record-breaking level of 2 million annually.

By the early 1980s, however, soaring interest rates devastated both the residential construction and forest products industries. The number of timber and lumber workers in Oregon and Washington peaked at just under 160,000 in 1978 but plummeted to 127,000.

Other factors also contributed to the region's problems. Many of the industry's largest companies began shifting their operations to the Southeast, which has a faster growth cycle for trees and lower costs for labor.

Southern pine matures in 25 years, while Douglas fir in the Northwest (which produces superior softwood) cannot be harvested until 40 to 60 years after planting.

In 1982, the Georgia-Pacific Corp. succumbed to those attractions and moved its corporate headquarters from Portland, Ore., to Atlanta, Ga. In 1983, Louisiana-Pacific took a similarly dramatic action.

L-P refused to join other major firms, which were offering modest wage increases in industry-wide labor negotiations. Instead, it insisted upon a wage freeze for those already employed and a pay reduction of up to 10 percent for new workers.

Heinz Backs Business In Foreign Deals

By Jack Anderson
And Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — Ever since the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act was passed in 1977, Big Business has been trying to cripple or kill it. The law forbids American corporations from using bribes to win contracts overseas.

Leading the latest charge against the act is Sen. John Heinz, R-Pa. His family firm, H.J. Heinz, is one of 61 companies opposed to the law under the banner of the Emergency Committee for American Trade. Heinz owns $200 million worth of company stock.

Another member of the emergency committee is Pittsburgh-based Westinghouse, which was one of the senator's biggest corporate contributors in his 1982 re-election campaign. Westinghouse is currently facing bribery charges under the law that Heinz is hoping to amend.

A federal grand jury is investigating allegations that Westinghouse spent $80 million to "grease" a $2.1 billion contract for a nuclear power station in the Philippines. The new Philippine government charges that Westinghouse's agent, Herminio Disini, gave the bribes to then-President Ferdinand Marcos. Disini's wife is a cousin of former Philippine first lady Imelda Marcos.

Heinz's proposed legislation would have no effect on the Westinghouse case.

Part of the current campaign to gut the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act is window-dressing: changing the law's name to the Business Accounting and Foreign Trade Simplification Act. A leading opponent of any tampering with the law, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., caustically refers to the Heinz bill as "Bring Back Bribery Legislation."

The provision of the current law that strikes fear into the hearts of corporate executives is the one that makes them criminally liable if they "know or have reason to know" that a company agent plans to bribe a foreign official. The Heinz bill would relieve the executives' anxiety by specifying certain "permissible payments" to foreign officials, including "those that are lawful under local law" and those made "to secure the performance of a routine government action, intended as courtesy or a token of regard."

These exceptions, of course, are the classic definition of bribery, and Proxmire has derided them as loopholes big enough to drive the proverbial truck through. The Justice Department has agreed the language is too vague.

Business opponents of the current law complain that it imposes an irrelevant morality on their efforts to compete in the world market, and claim that some bribes are necessary to do business overseas. They also blame the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act for contributing to the growing U.S. trade deficit.

But a study by Dr. John Graham, professor of business at the University of Southern California, challenges these claims. His study, reviewed by our reporter Jim Lynch, found that in the three years after the anti-corruption law's passage, U.S. trade with "bribe-prone" countries actually outpaced trade with "non-bribe-prone" countries.

Furthermore, an investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission concluded that in some cases the blatant bribery practices of U.S. companies have damaged foreign relations. For example, in 1972 Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka was disgraced and jailed for taking a $2.1 million bribe to smooth the purchase of Lockheed planes. Significantly, no Lockheed officials were prosecuted and the company drew only a light fine.

Americans Pull Out 7-6 Thriller Maples Strikes Out 20 As Sanford Drops Tavares In 9 Innings

Campbell Prepares For Busy Weekend

Clifton Campbell, who has already had a fabulous freshman season at Auburn University, began his post-season just as successfully this past weekend at the Junior National Meet at Towson (Md.) State University.

Campbell, who graduated from Seminole in 1985, was the Southeastern Conference's 400-meter champion. Saturday, he ran the 400 at the Junior Nationals and came from behind to take the win with a time of 46.41. The top 4 performers in the event make up the 4 by 400 relay to compete at Showalter Field in the Pan-Am Games this weekend at Winter Park's Showalter Field.

Florida State-bound Billy Penick participated in the 2,000 meter steeplechase, an event not run in the Florida High School meets, and finished ninth place. He was the first high school athlete to finish and posted a time of 6:07.

The Pan-Am games will begin on Friday with the distance events women's 3K racewalk finals starting at 8:30 a.m. Field events will open with the men's javelin at 2:15 p.m. Running events will start at 5 p.m. with the women's 100 meter hurdles trial heat. At 6:20 p.m. the Men's 400 meter trial heat will be run. That will include Campbell.

Saturday opens with the distance events again as the men's 10K racewalk final will be held at 8:00 a.m.

On Sunday, the final day of the games, the field events kick off with the women's javelin trial heat final. The running events will begin at 5:05 and the men's 110 meter hurdles will get things underway. The 400 meter final will be held at 5:35 p.m. as the 1600 meter relay will close the meet at 7:25 p.m.

The Lake Mary Summer Track Meets, sanctioned by the TAC will take next Friday off and will resume on July 11. The meets are open to the entire public. The cost is $2 for up to five events. Field events begin at 5:30 at Lake Mary High and running events start at 6:30.

Lake Mary track coaches Mike Gibson (girls) and Mark McGee (boys) are operating the meets and are looking for more participants in the weeks to come. Each participant in every age group will receive a ribbon for running in the meet.

In the most recent meet, this past Friday, the Gibson clan was in full force as coach Gibson and his two daughters, Tiffany (5) and Tareasa (10), competed. The two young Gibsons are already showing promise.

The elder Gibson also ran the 50-yard dash against fellow coach McGee. Gibson described the race this way:

"Jack (Lilens) called it at the finish line and said my stomach was ahead of his (McGee's) chest."

Lawson, Whyte Keep 16s Alive

Sanford's Tonya Lawson tossed in a desperation 20-footer in the closing seconds as Team Central Florida stayed alive in the AAU Girls National Basketball Championships in Hartford, Conn. Monday with a 69-67 overtime victory over Washington.

The victory, coupled with an easy 84-69 win over Nebraska earlier Monday, gives coach Bill Moore's 16 and under contingent today off. It returns to action Wednesday.

In Monday's first win, St. Petersburg's Marie Teal poured in 36 points as Central Florida coasted. Brenda Green added 19 and Dee Williams chipped in 10.

Monday's second win came the hard way. Central Florida, which trailed by five at halftime, cut the deficit to three with 10 seconds left. Rhonda Hixote then took the ball down the lane, was fouled and scored. She converted the three-point play to tie the game with two seconds left.

In the OT, Lawson took an inbound pass with seven seconds, took a couple dribbles and heaved in her 20-footer to decide the game.

Corwin said the trade play of 6-4 Teri Whyte was the difference for Central Florida. Sanford's Whyte, who will be a junior at Lake Mary High this fall, collected 13 rebounds and scored six points.

"Teri really held the middle together," Corwin said. "They made some fabulous cutbacks to beat our man defense, but Teri was there to wash away our sins. She really protected the basket."

In the 18 and under tournament, Central Florida other team remained alive with an 83-73 victory over South Carolina. Orlando's Tari Phillips led the way with 18 points while Sheila Prude (17), Angie Taylor (16) and Lyman High grad Kim Forsyth (12) were all in double figures.

Central Florida's 18s, who also have one loss, played low at noon today.

'I thought the game would never end.'

— Mike Maples

10-inning win over the Orlando Recreation Department to kick off Monday's marathon opening night. Orlando Recreation and Tavares will meet in a losers' bracket game on Wednesday.

Maples turned in a Herculean effort on the mound as he pitched all nine innings, allowed just four hits and struck out 20 batters while walking just five. All six of Tavares' runs were unearned.

"I thought the game would never end," Maples said. "I started getting tired about the fifth inning and just tried to throw harder from then on."

Maples also helped his own cause at the plate as he was 3 for 5 including a two-run homer that tied the game at 6-6.

Roberts was 3 for 5 on the night with three runs scored. He also moved from shortstop to catcher in the fourth inning after Willie Williams had a bit of trouble behind the plate in the third.

Sanford took the early lead before Tavares scored five unearned runs in the third. The Americans eventually battled back to tie it and had a chance to win in the bottom of the seventh but a baserunning error sent the game into extra frames.

"We should have won the game a little earlier," Sanford manager Otis Raines said. "We had a couple of errors, both mentally and physically, that hurt us. But the kids deserve a lot of credit because they had the heart to come back and win it."

After Maples breezed through the top of the first, Sanford rallied for three runs in the bottom half. Tyrone Williams led off with a walk off Tavares pitcher John Davis and, with one out, Roberts reached on an infield single and Maples singled to left to load the bases. Williams then scored when he beat the throw home on Corey Williams' grounder to second base. Britt Henderson followed with a walk to force in Roberts with the second run and Maples alertly dashed home when the catcher's throw back to the pitcher was wild.

Maples struck out the side in the second and Davis then set Sanford down in order in the bottom half. Tavares then scored five times on two hits with three Sanford errors in the top of the third.

Matt Mullia walked to lead off and Joey McGuire followed with a single to right. Don Wiley then grounded to second baseman Matt Wilk who threw to first but there was no one covering first and two runs scored as the ball rolled to the fence. Wiley, who took third on the play, then scored when Barney Vaughn reached on an error.

Vaughn went to second on an error on John Campbell's grounder, took third on a passed ball and scored on Scott Stinson's infield single. Campbell advanced to third on a passed ball and scored on another passed ball for a 5-3 Tavares lead. Maples then reached back and struck out the

Merthie Finds Zone, Moose Controls KOC

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

A mound showdown between "Dr. K" and "Mr. K" is guaranteed to produce a lot of strikeouts. Mike Merthie, a.k.a. "Dr. K," and Anton Reid, a.k.a. "Mr. K," didn't come by their nicknames accidentally.

Along with an abundance of strikeouts Monday night, though, there was also an abundance of walks as Merthie, a 14-year-old Moose righthander, and Reid, a 14-year-old Knights of Columbus righthander, struggled to find the strike zone in the first game of the Sanford Junior League City Series.

Merthie, nevertheless, found his control in time as "Dr. K" struck out 10 and overcame 12 walks en route to a two-hit, 8-4 victory over KOC before 301 fans at Chase Park.

"Mike had his control problems," Moose manager Duane LaFollette said. "But luckily for us it was early. Once he settled down, he threw strikes. He hadn't pitched in 10 days, so he was a little rusty."

Tonight at 6, LaFollette said he would start righthander Tony "Oz" Chavers as Moose tries to wrap up the title in the best of three series. Manager William Taylor's Knights will probably counter with George Frisson.

KOC, which came on strong to win the second half, jumped to a 2-0 lead against Merthie in the second inning. Reid coaxed a walk to open the inning and Kerry Wiggins blooped a double to right which scored Reid. Wiggins stole third and scored two batters later when Erakine Howard grounded out to first base.

Moose bounced back against Reid in the bottom of the inning.

Baseball

Reid, who struck out nine, walked 11 and hit two batters, walked Chavers with one out. Ray Lewis also drew a free pass and Jeff Byrd was hit with a pitch. Reid then wild pitched home the run.

While Merthie and Reid were matching strikeouts and walks, Moose second baseman Tony Pritchard emerged as the hitting standout. Pritchard socked three doubles while driving in five runs.

Pritchard's biggest hit came in the third when Moose took the lead for good with two runs. Harvey Clinger took one for the cause to open the frame and Jeff Derr drew a walk. Pritchard followed with a double down the left field line to chase home both runs.

One inning later, Pritchard struck again. Byrd and Johnell Brewington each walked to open the inning. Reid induced Mike Fetterhoff to bounce into a forceout and whiffed Clinger. Derr, though, walked to load the bases and Pritchard drilled a double to left center for a 5-2 lead.

"Pritchard did a great job," LaFollette said. "Every time he came up there were men on base."

Pritchard's last RBI double highlighted a three-run sixth inning which put the game out of reach.

Merthie gave up single runs in the fifth and seventh innings.

Offensively for Moose, Merthie had a single to go with Pritchard's three doubles. Moose has beaten Knights of Columbus four of five times this year.

Isabelle Demongeot of France.

"I feel that if I'm playing well, then the score doesn't make any difference. I'm happy with my serve-and-volley game and if that's going well, then everything else falls into place," said the six-time Wimbledon singles champion, pursuing her fifth consecutive title.

All four women's quarterfinals will be played today. No. 2 seed Chris Evert Lloyd will meet No. 7 seed Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia; No. 3 Hana Mandlikova will meet unseeded Lori McNeill of Houston, Texas; and No. 10 Gabriela Sabatini will play No. 15 Catarina Lindqvist.

The men's quarterfinals will be played Wednesday with one fourth-round match still to be completed. Top seed Ivan Lendl was tied 6-7 (7-9), 7-6 (7-2), 2-2 with Californian Matt Anger when darkness halted the late evening match on Center Court. The match will be completed today.

The winner will play American Tim Mayotte, seeded No. 10. In a meeting of unseeded surprises, India's Ramesh Krishnan will take the court against Yugoslavia's Slobodan Zivojinovic.

Defending champion Boris Becker, seeded fourth, will play Miloslav Mecir, an unseeded player from Czechoslovakia and No. 7 Henri Leconte of France meets the tournament's biggest surprise, Australian Pat Cash, a wild-card entry who is ranked No. 413 and underwent an appendectomy four weeks ago.

Cash, 21, who reached the semifinals here in 1984, Monday upset second seed Mats Wilander 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3.

"I'm happy. I suppose I'm a bit surprised too," said the Australian who tosses his wristbands to his female fans after each match. "I really didn't expect it. Under the circumstances, I'd say it was the best tennis I've ever played."

Monday's two matches regarded as upset possibilities proved to be straight-set victories for the favorite. Defending champion Boris Becker beat Mikael Pernfors 6-3, 7-6 (7-2), 6-2 and women's No. 2 seed Chris Evert Lloyd defeated Kathy Jordan 7-5, 6-2.

Pernfors, seeded No. 13 and a finalist at the French Open, where he beat Becker in the quarterfinals, was considered a legitimate threat.

"He can use his serve (21 aces) a lot more here than he could at the French Open," said the Swede. "There the surface is so slow that I can play my rhythm, settle down and play my shots. Here I just don't get the time."

"If he can play like this and serve like this, there's no way you can beat him."

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Martina Navratilova today may finally meet the high quality of competition she's been hoping for at Wimbledon — against someone who has never beaten her.

Navratilova, who has yet to lose a set during the first week of competition, has been complaining about the lack of first-rate competition in her draw and has virtually waltzed through the early rounds.

Today, however, she expects a challenge from Bettina Bunge of West Germany in the quarterfinals.

"It'll be a tough match," said the No. 1 ranked woman. "I had a close match against her here last year (7-6, 6-3). She's a good player, she can hit it from anywhere. It's good — I'm ready."

Bunge, however, did not sound hopeful.

"On grass, there really isn't much you can try against Martina. I've had some great matches against her," said Bunge, who has never beaten Navratilova. "I've also had some pretty bad ones where she just beat me really badly. But then she's done that to everyone else, so it's nothing to be ashamed of."

Navratilova has won 48 of 65 games and has been happy with her play so far.

The top seed and defending champion has lost only one service game, a streak of superiority which extended through Monday's 3-3, 6-3 fourth-round elimination of

Expos Nip Cubs — Ojeda Blanks Cards

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dan Schatzeder insists his hitting prowess is being blown "way out of proportion."

Statistics prove the Montreal Expos pitcher has contributed to his team's success this year.

Schatzeder, batting .412, drew a two-out walk in the top of the 11th and came around to score on Mitch Webster's RBI single to right to snap a 3-3 tie and give the Expos a 4-3 victory Monday over the Cubs. It was Montreal's third straight victory and the Cubs' third straight loss.

"I think this hitting is being blown out of proportion," said Schatzeder, who walked on four pitches off Lee Smith, 4-6, to start the rally. "Maybe he was thinking too hard."

Schatzeder, 3-1, had walked with the bases loaded to win a game against the Cubs earlier this year in Montreal.

"I guess people around the league are learning a little bit about my hitting," he added. "I was just thinking about getting out and pitching my inning, thinking the game might get suspended or something."

But Tim Lincecum followed with a single to right, sending Schatzeder to third. Webster, who had failed to get a hit for his last 18 at bats with runners in scoring position, slammed the first pitch into right field for the game-winning hit.

"I've batted first or second all of my career but I know that batting behind Tim Raines I'm going to see a lot of fastballs," said Webster, who was moved to the No. 2 spot with the

Mets 7, Cardinals 0

Bob Ojeda has stolen his good friend's place in the spotlight.

Last year it was John Tudor of St. Louis who surprised the baseball world by posting a 21-8 record while leading the Cardinals to the National League East pennant and subsequent appearance in the World Series.

This year Ojeda, a good friend of Tudor's from their days as teammates with the Boston Red Sox, is raising the eyebrows of baseball people while sparking the New York Mets to a commanding lead in the NL East.

Ojeda boosted his record to 9-2 Monday night by tossing a seven-hitter and pitching the Mets to a 7-0 victory over Tudor and the Cardinals.

"He's like Tudor was for us last year," St. Louis manager Whitey Herzog said. "Ojeda is a pretty good pitcher. He's got a good change."

Braves 5, Giants 1

At Atlanta, Rick Mahler tossed an eight-hitter for his 10th victory and singled home a pair of runs, helping the Braves to their fifth consecutive victory.

Pirates 3, Phillies 2

At Pittsburgh, Barry Bonds and R.J. Reynolds each smashed solo home runs and Bob Walk combined with two relievers on an eight-hitter, leading the Pirates. Walk, 3-4, gave up both runs and five hits, walked three and struck out five over 6 1-3 innings. Charles Hudson fell to 4-7.

Padres 9, Astros 2

At Houston, Tony Gwynn and Garry Templeton each homered in a four-run first inning, pacing the Padres. Dave Dravecky, 7-7, allowed seven hits in seven innings for the victory. Bob Knepper, 10-6, failed in his fourth attempt to become the National League's first 11-game winner.

Reds 6, Dodgers 5

At Cincinnati, Bo Diaz singled home Tony Perez from third base with two out in the bottom of the 11th, lifting the Reds and handing the Dodgers their fifth straight loss.

Rasmussen Ends Skid For Yanks

United Press International

Dennis Rasmussen justified his new reputation as the New York Yankees' stopper Monday night by halting the Yankees' 10-game home losing streak.

Rasmussen scattered six hits over 8 2-3 innings and improved his record to 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The triumph halted New York's franchise-withering home losing streak. The Yankees also dropped 10 straight in 1913, when they played in the Polo Grounds. The Yankees had not won at home since May 25.

Rasmussen, who won his third straight decision, is the only Yankees starter to record a victory in the team's last 16 games.

"Here's a young man who should be pitching in the All-Star game," Yankees manager Lou Piniella said.

Rasmussen needed last-inning relief help from Dave Righetti, who after yielding an RBI single, recorded the final out for his 17th save.

"He's been our best starter," Piniella said of Rasmussen. "He's kept us in just about every game he's pitched."

Catcher Ron Hassey had the game-winning hit, a two-run double in the eighth that snapped a 1-1 tie.

"I was just looking for a pitch I could drive," Hassey said. "I was in a situation where I could look for my pitch. We've been trying so hard to break the home losing streak. It feels good to finally come out and do it."

Hassey and Detroit's Kirk Gibson engaged in a verbal dispute in the first inning after Gibson had grounded into a double play. Home-plate umpire Nick Bremigan restrained Hassey from charging the Tigers dugout after Gibson started yelling at Rasmussen and Hassey.

"It was my fault," Gibson said. "I was out of line and, the next time to the plate, I told him so. Something was really bothering me before the game ... I let it affect my play, and I shouldn't have. And I won't in the future."

But I told him (Hassey) in the ninth inning he didn't have to get ticked off about it and beat us." Rickey Henderson gave the Yankees a 1-0 lead in the sixth inning with his 15th home run of the season. The Tigers tied the score in the seventh on Tom Brookens's sacrifice fly.

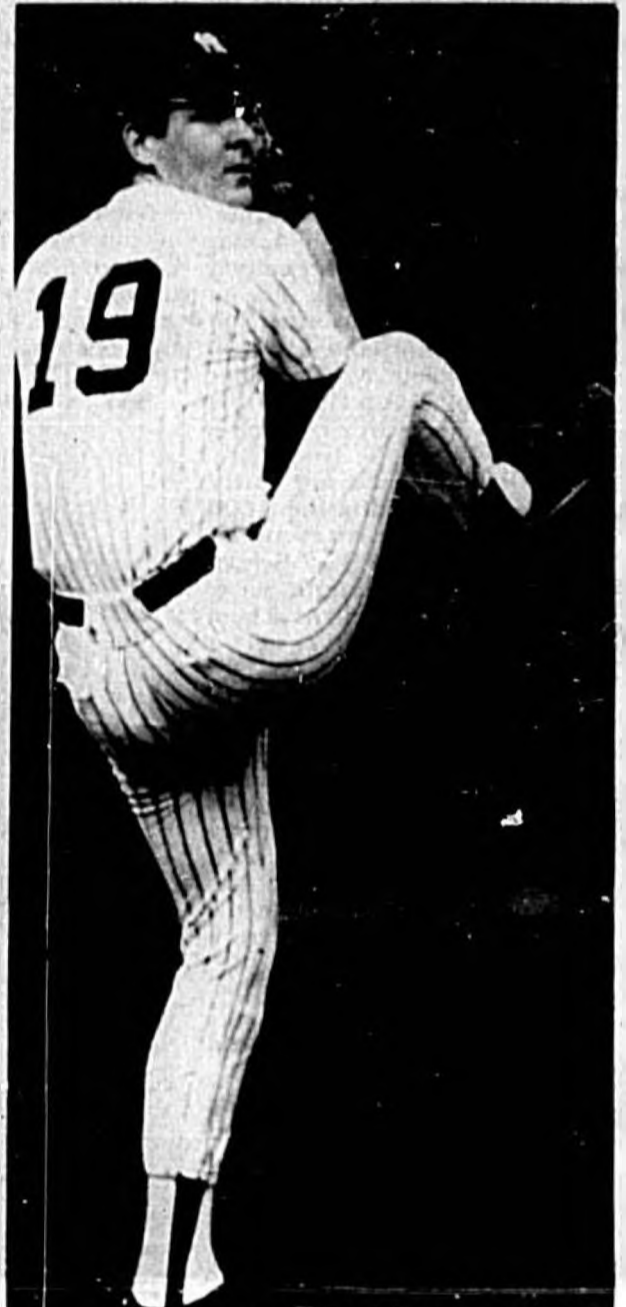

In the New York eighth, Hassey drove a 1-0 offering from losing pitcher Walt Terrell, 7-6, over the head of center fielder Chet Lemon to score newly acquired Claudell Washington and Mike Easler. Washington had singled with one out and moved to second on a groundout before Easler was intentionally walked.

Orioles 5, Brewers 2

At Baltimore, Eddie Murray singled home the tying "un and Cal Ripken's bases-loaded walk forced in the winner, enabling the Orioles to snap a five-game losing streak. Scott McGregor, 6-7, broke a three-game personal losing streak. Tim Lincecum, 6-7, suffered the loss.

White Sox 4, Angels 3

At Anaheim, Calif., Ozzie Guillen drilled a bases-loaded triple to cap a four-run fifth inning that boosted the White Sox in their new manager Jim Fregos's return to Anaheim Stadium. Joel Davis evened his record at 4-4 with the triumph.

Dave Righetti supplied last-out relief help for Dennis Rasmussen Monday as the Yankees ended a 10-game home losing streak with a win over the Tigers.

Debut: Bo Singles, Whiffs Twice

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Bo Jackson was unimpressed with his professional baseball debut.

"I'd just say, 'Monday, June 30, Bo Jackson's first game as a Memphis Chick. Then I'd stop writing and start again tomorrow.'" the running back-turned-baseball player said.

Jackson, the Heisman Trophy winner out of Auburn who stunned professional football by accepting the Kansas City Royals' offer to play baseball, saw his first action Monday. He was used as a designated hitter and had a run-scoring single in his first at bat, but struck out twice and bounced to the pitcher in his other appearances against the Columbus (Ga.) Astros.

The Astros hit four home runs — with Larry Ray getting two — to claim a 9-5 victory.

"But I know there are bigger and better things ahead for us as a team," said Jackson after the game.

"One person doesn't make a team. I don't want you to think of me as the backbone of the Memphis Chicks because I'm not."

Jackson said he was nervous about playing professionally — "I haven't been nervous since the final couple seconds before they announced the Heisman winner," he said.

And he wasn't impressed with his first hit. He was offered the ball as a keepsake but turned it down, saying "I have enough at home in my trophy case. I want the first one I get after I get to the (Kansas City) Royals."

Columbus starter Mitch Cook surrendered the hit and was more excited about the hit than Jackson.

"I'll never forget it," Cook said. "It was great. I just tried to think of him as a power-hitting outfielder, but I knew it was him. I wanted to get the first punch out (strike out) and I got it. But I did want it before the first hit."

Cook said one thing that impressed him about Jackson was that he didn't go after the breaking balls he was throwing.

"He really laid off of the breaking stuff," the Columbus starter said. "That really surprised me. We thought he'd go after everything."

Jackson is the third consecutive Heisman Trophy winner to snub the NFL and the first since Pete Dawkins, who won the award while playing for Army in 1958, to bypass football completely.

Raines, Martinez Vie On Diamond

Sanford's Tim Raines and Casselberry's Dave Martinez squared off for the first time on the baseball field Monday as Montreal trimmed Chicago 4-3.

In the seventh inning, Raines lifted a fly ball to center field which Martinez corralled for the third out to leave the bases loaded.

The two Seminole County products met again today at 4 and Wednesday at 2. Both games are televised by WGN's channel 9 on cable. — Sam Cook

IN BRIEF

Minutes Show Trump Suggested Merger With NFL In Early 1984

NEW YORK (UPI) — The NFL, out to demonstrate the USFL caused its own problems by mismanagement, used its two-day interrogation of former USFL Commissioner Chet Simmons to introduce a series of documents supporting that contention.

Simmons, the first witness called by the NFL in defense of the antitrust claims brought by the USFL, completed his testimony Monday.

The trial in U.S. District Court in Manhattan is scheduled to continue today with Jim Mora, former coach of the USFL Philadelphia-Baltimore team and now coach of the NFL New Orleans Saints, taking the stand.

Documents introduced Monday showed Simmons was urged by key members of his staff and a consultant group to stay with the unsuccessful spring schedule until 1987, rather than move to a fall schedule.

Minutes from USFL owners' meetings also were introduced to show that Donald Trump, owner of the USFL's New Jersey Generals, was suggesting the possibility of merger with the NFL as early as January 1984, four months after he bought the New Jersey team.

In his questioning of Simmons, NFL attorney Frank Rothman cited memos written in July and August 1984 — within weeks of the USFL owners' decision to move from a spring to fall playing schedule — by the USFL's Director of Marketing Dom Camera and Director of Operations Peter Hadazy.

Ex-Hurricane Star Arrested

MIAMI (UPI) — Willie V. Smith, former star tight end for the University of Miami and a 10th round draft pick this spring by the NFL Cleveland Browns, was arrested and charged with cocaine possession.

Metro police arrested Smith early Monday at a south Dade County motel when they responded to a suspicious person complaint.

Denise Gray, 25, told police a man had chased her and had picked up her purse when she dropped it.

"Police confronted Smith inside his 1986 Chevrolet in the parking lot of the hotel," a police spokesman said. "Officers observed in plain view on the front seat of the car a clear plastic package that appeared to contain cocaine along with Gray's purse, which contained a straw and a pipe used to ingest cocaine."

"The officers also observed the butt of a revolver between the two front seats."

Smith, 21, was arrested and charged with possession of cocaine and possession of a concealed firearm, the spokesman said. Gray was arrested and charged with possession of cocaine because of cocaine residue found in the straw and pipe in her purse.

Court: No Eminent Domain

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — The use of eminent domain to hold professional sports teams "hostage" has come to an end. The U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear arguments by the city of Oakland on its rights to take over ownership of the Los Angeles Raiders franchise.

The nation's highest court refused to take action on an appeal by Oakland. The action led to a lower court ruling that the Constitution's "commerce clause" takes precedence over the city's right to acquire private property through its powers of eminent domain.

"The NFL collaboration with the city of Oakland has come up a cropper," said Raiders attorney Joseph Alloto. "Now it will be interesting to see how (NFL Commissioner) Pete Rozelle will ever explain how he supported Oakland's eminent domain suit because it would have made every owner a hostage in his own city."

Frontiere Pleads Innocent

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Award-winning composer Dominic Frontiere, the husband of the owner of the Los Angeles Rams, pleaded innocent to tax evasion charges stemming from the alleged scalping of thousands of 1980 Super Bowl tickets.

Frontiere, 55, was indicted June 19 for failing to report hundreds of thousands of dollars in profits from sales of the tickets, lying to Internal Revenue Service investigators and tampering with the key government witness.

Hawthorne Outduels Fitch To Win Thunder Car Event

Special to the Herald
NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Sanford's Casey Hawthorne and veteran Jerry Fitch staged a red-hot battle for the lead for most of the race before Hawthorne outduel Fitch and his Lowe's Exterminating/Hinckley Feed Camaro in Saturday night's Thunder Car feature at the New Smyrna Speedway.

With five laps to go, contact was made and Fitch spun, while Casey straightened up and went on to win. Finishing second was Bill Kinley followed by Harry Brazee, whose front end had to be rebuilt with the help of RaceCo Racing and Russell Automotive, after Uncle Harry was helped into a spin and "bought a piece of the rock." Fourth was Ronnie Quarno, followed by Fitch who recovered nicely for a fifth place finish.

In other action, David Rogers drove the Wayne Densch Budweiser Firebird to victory in the 50-lap End of the Month Late Model Championship.

But Rogers, who usually qualifies fastest, did not do it this time. NASCAR Grand National pilot Mike Goldberg did. However, the word is that Rogers' future plans to include a new car, half-a-second faster than his present three-year-old mount.

Late model division's point enase leader Lee Faulk was second in the potent Champion TV Rentals Firebird. Third to fifth were Goldberg, Joe Middleton and the Ron-Jon Surf Shop Firebird of Richard Cornwall.

"Big Daddy" Mike Fitch won the roadrunner feature, with

Rogers Case: Police Hunt 'Coke' Source

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Police investigating Don Rogers' family, friends and teammates in connection with the death of the Cleveland Browns star, say second-degree murder charges will be filed if they find who gave him a deadly dose of cocaine.

Kathryn Canlis, spokeswoman for the Sacramento County district attorney's office, said Monday that second-degree murder will be filed if sufficient evidence is gathered to pinpoint the source of the cocaine.

Rogers, 23, a defensive back with a promising career, died Friday — one day before he was to be married to his college sweetheart. Coroner's investigators said lab tests found a lethal level of cocaine in his blood.

His death came eight days after cocaine caused the death of basketball star Len Bias of the University of Maryland.

"We have thought about the Bias case because there are a lot of similarities," said Assistant Police Chief Jerry Finney.

Rogers had 5.2 milligrams of cocaine per liter in his blood while Bias had a level of 6.3 milligrams. Coroner's toxicologist James Beebe said as little as 1 milligram per liter could be fatal.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, outspoken against drug abuse, was one of 1,000 expected at Rogers' funeral Thursday in the gymnasium of the athlete's former high school in Sacramento.

next three hitters to end the rally.

Sanford got one run back in the bottom of the third to pull within 5-4. Roberts drilled a single up the middle to start it off and then pulled off a delayed steal of second base. When Roberts broke for second, it so startled pitcher Davis than he uncorked a wild throw into center field and Roberts went all the way around to score.

After a scoreless fourth frame, Tavares picked up its sixth unearned run of the night in the top of the fifth. With one out, Stinson reached on an error, went to second on a wild pitch, stole third and scored on Davis' two-out double to right center.

The Americans came right back with two runs in the bottom of the fifth and again it was Roberts and Maples who did the damage. Roberts ripped a single to center to lead off. Davis' first pitch to Maples was a high fastball and Maples unloaded it well over the left field fence for a two-run homer and a 6-6 tie.

Tavares got its first two runners on in the top of the sixth before Maples struck out the side. In the bottom half, Sanford loaded the bases with no outs and had a chance to win it on Roberts' deep fly ball to center. The runner on third, however, forgot to tag up and, by the time he did, he was a sitting duck at the plate for a big double play that eventually sent the game into extra innings.

In three extra frames, Tavares never got a runner past first base as Maples allowed no hits and five of the last nine outs were strikeouts.

Sanford finally broke the tie in the bottom of the ninth and it was the hustling baserunning of Corey Williams that led the way. Maples led off the inning with a single but Williams then grounded hard to shortstop. Maples was forced at second but the relay to first was wild and Williams motored all the way around to third.

Ric Perez then went in to pinch run for Williams and he scored the winning run when he beat the throw home on Britt Henderson's grounder to short.

You just can't seem to walk as far. Your leg cramps. Your hip's tired. Physicians call it —

Intermittent claudication meaning the pain comes and goes. That's because there's not enough blood going to your leg or foot which may be due to blocked or clogged arteries, often referred to as "hardening of the arteries". Sometimes, people shrug their shoulders at these symptoms. They think it's all a part of growing older. It's the way things are. Nothing can be done. Today, something can be done! Maybe surgery, maybe medicine but it begins with knowing what you've got. Now there are simple ultrasound tests that can indicate the type and severity of your disease. Ask your doctor or call us,

Education Projects Cut In Graham Budget Vetoes

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham vetoed $23.8 million in projects from the 1986 budget, including $7 million for a new college in Broward County and $5 million for a performing arts center for Santa Fe Community College and the University of Florida.

Graham said the Broward college, which was to be a four-year liberal arts college and part of Florida Atlantic University, wasn't on the Board of Regents' capital outlay project priority list and hasn't been reviewed by the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission. He also said it has not been included in two master plans.

The appropriations bill calls for community colleges to receive a 10 percent increase in funding and more money for public schools, but Graham said he is concerned about limits in Public Education Capital Outlay (PECO) funds.

NASA Management Reorganized

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — In the first major management change since the Challenger disaster, NASA will run the agency's $8 billion space station project directly from Washington headquarters to improve communications and decision-making.

Control of the space station project had been centered at the Johnson Space Center in Houston, which will continue to play a major role in the project's development.

New Judge Inherits Backlog

ORLANDO (UPI) — Florida's newest federal judge inherited a backlog of more than 1,000 civil cases and will preside over at least 28 trials her first full week on the bench.

Patricia Fawcett, 42, took the oath of office Monday, joining U.S. District Court Judge G. Kendall Sharp in Orlando for Florida's middle district, which also includes Tampa and Jacksonville.

Rightway will be used for car traffic to the school, while Jitway Avenue, now being used by all traffic, would be used exclusively for school buses.

In other worksession items, Commissioner Sandra Glenn asked the school board to consider a rent reduction for the Seminole Community Concert Association's use of Lake Mary High School's auditorium for concerts.

The association recently asked the county's Health and Human Services department for $10,000 to fund the concerts, and Ms. Glenn said the county budgeted $1,000, and pledged to ask the school board for a rent reduction.

The association is now paying the not-for-profit rental rate of $600 for concerts three times a year. The fee pays for school utilities, security, insurance, and a custodian.

Superintendent of Schools Robert Hughes suggested Ms. Glenn advise the association to request a discussion on the rental fees for a regular school board meeting.

Ms. Glenn said the association is asking to pay only for the insurance and custodian service.

Commissioner Fred Streetman reported that County Administrator Ken Hooper, Arnold, and himself will meet with the developer of the Wekiva Planned Unity Development on finding a future school site in the development. He said the meeting will take place July 10.

Seminole County Sheriff's Department Lt. Jerry Riggins told the boards that the School Resource Officer Program will be expanded to another school for the 1986-87 year.

Seminole High School is targeted to get an in-school deputy. Riggins said the officers act as counselors for students with a variety of problems, and have been effective in lowering the in-school arrest rate.

School board member Joseph Williams, Jr. asked Lt. Riggins how effective the program has been in reducing school crime.

"It's hard to nail down statistics about crimes that didn't happen," Lt. Riggins said.

Lt. Riggins said that the officers are sought out for advice about family and academic as well as crime-related problems.

Commissioner Streetman added that the program has been beneficial.

"The officers visit the students at their homes, talk with their parents, and have developed a good rapport in the community, in addition to their efforts in the schools," Streetman said.

The addition of Seminole High School will bring to nine the number of the county's 41 schools with resource officers.

County impact fees designated for school-related projects have been put to good use, Sellers reported. County sidewalk projects in the area of many schools have been aided by a curb machine and sidewalk machine, purchased with the fees.

"We were laying 150-200 yards per day putting in sidewalks by hand. With the machines, we're doing 1,000-1,200 yards per day," Sellers reported. He said more projects are expected to be completed in time for school opening this fall.

He said the county's sidewalk, road and intersection improvement programs are ongoing projects, and that another $150,000 will be spent in 1986-87.

anticipates the grant committee's July 15 meeting will serve as opportunity for the policies to be promulgated and then submitted to the state for review.

Knowles said the committee's priority will be to allocate as much funding as possible through low interest loans. A three to five year payback schedule would "stretch" the funding and hopefully enable its perpetuation, he said.

However, those homeowners whose income is insufficient to cover a loan will receive opportunity to apply for outright grants from the committee, Knowles said.

Mayor Betty Smith said she views the committee's voluntary efforts as an extension of the "overwhelming support and assistance" that has been demonstrated in regard to the grant since late November, when the city decided to seek the funding with very little time remaining before the grant application's cut-off date.

With assistance from the Seminole High School football team, city staff was able to prepare the grant application and send it to the state one day before the Dec. 23 submission deadline.

The football players spent three days "rushing" door-to-door in the target area to collect information required for inclusion in the grant application.

Now, according to Mayor Smith, receipt of the $650,000 "will enable many of our residents to upgrade their homes and, in turn, their quality of life."

(the new equipment) will be stored."

The HBA had threatened to take the city to court over the fees, because they said there was no documentation on the cost of growth for the fee schedule.

"We're getting a clearer line of communication, and we're showing studies have been done to develop the fees," Petaos said.

It appears if an accord is reached by the attorneys, it will be done without compromise by either side. Lake Mary will impose the fees it desires, and the HBA have the supportive documentation for the fee rate as they desired.

"This is not a compromise," Petaos said. "These are the same figures we came in with."

City manager Kathy Rice said, "If it can be worked out, it's a win-win situation for everybody."

"You can call it a compromise or whatever you want, but everybody may get what they were after," Mrs. Rice said.

Son Plays The Spoiler In Mom's Dating Game

DEAR ABBY: I am the single mother of a 9-year-old boy. Whenever I go out on a date, "Ryan" throws a tantrum and spoils the evening for me.

Baby sitters are reluctant to sit with him anymore. I've just about given up dating, and the situation makes me resent my son.

Do you have any suggestions?
DISCOURAGED IN CLEVELAND

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Yes. Start now to "undo" the damage you have already done by permitting your son to put you on the defensive for doing what you have every right to do — seeking the companionship of a male friend.

Ryan is understandably jealous. He feels threatened. He's competing with your dates, and at this point, he's winning.

He needs to know that you love him, but need another male in your life. It would be reassuring for Ryan to be included in an occasional outing with your date — the zoo, a museum or a ball game.

And if he doesn't overcome his anger and hostility at having to share you, I think some counseling from a professional is to know whether it's possible for a man who has had significant homosexual relationships to make a long-term commitment to marriage and children. Any advice?

CAUTIOUS

DEAR CAUTIOUS: You can't be too cautious in this situation. Obviously you don't know him very well. Get to know him better — but keep your distance physically so that your heart doesn't rule your head. Don't play games. Ask him point-blank if he is gay or bisexual. If he is, it's no crime, but that should be your cue to wish him well, say goodbye and keep on walking. My experts tell me that it's possible for a person who has had a significant homosexual relationship to make a long-term commitment to marriage and children, but it's highly unlikely.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the problem of a middle-aged woman having to explain why she's not married: A friend of mine who is single and in her 50s says, "How did I know the last one who asked me was going to be the last one who asked me?"

Student Attends USNA Seminar

Dawn Habel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Les (Carol) Habel, 963 Citrus Wood Court, Lake Mary, was one of 600 students selected from almost 10,000 applicants to attend a summer seminar program at the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. Dawn will be a senior at Lake Mary High School, Longwood, during the 1986-87 year.

The Naval Academy invites students who are highly proficient in mathematics, science or engineering to Annapolis to acquaint them with educational opportunities at the academy and professional opportunities in the Navy.

Students attending the week long seminar select two science related workshops in one of the academy's academic departments. While at the Naval Academy the students experience midshipman life by living in the midshipman dormitory, using the academy's extensive athletic and computer facilities, and sailing on the academy's patrol boats.

Serving as the undergraduate college of the Navy, the Naval Academy's mission is "to prepare midshipmen morally, mentally, and physically to be professional officers in the Naval Service."

Library-Museum To Honor Late Gen. Hutchison

As a part of the National July 4th celebration, the Henry S. Sanford Library-Museum will honor a local war hero, General Joseph C. Hutchison.

An exhibit of his military artifacts, presented to the library-museum by his daughters, Mrs. Eliza Hutchison Cornell and Mrs. Helen Hutchison Tucker, will be on display for the event.

Dr. Virgil L. Bryant Jr., a close friend of General Hutchison, describes the General as: "the perfect southern gentleman. He was also known as a 'tough old bird', a strong, stoical person and a warm sensitive person."

Dr. Bryant continues "today we pay tribute to a military leader whose career began as an enlisted man and advanced to that of Lt. General.

"Spanning two World Wars, he saw service in France in WW I and action in the Pacific, culminating in his acceptance of the surrender of Japanese General Morozumi.

"We honor him as a general, we respect his rank and authority. We knew him as a man of honor and integrity, courage and compassion. A man of keen intellect, wisdom and good judgement. He was a military man, deeply concerned for his men. He never forgot what it was like to be an enlisted man.

"He was a man of faith. Faithful in the worship and service of God. Applying the principles of his faith, not only in church, but in all of his relationships and activities.

"A man of the outdoors, he saw God's power in nature, in hunting and fishing.

"He was a gracious host and a delightful companion. He left a mark on every life he touched and was a father to more sons than he could count.

"His long life was a gift of God, through the instrumentality of his beloved physician and loving 'son' Dr. Robert Rosemberg, his beloved 'Crosby'."

Pipeline Company Gets Buyout Offer

HOUSTON (UPI) — Panhandle Eastern Corp., a diversified energy company that owns one of the nation's largest natural gas pipeline systems, received a $50-a-share buyout offer Monday from Star Partners, a partnership owned by Midland oilman Cyril Wagner Jr. and Jack E. Brown.

Panhandle laid Friday received, and rejected, a request from Star Partners to negotiate the possible acquisition of the company. But the partnership delivered a specific proposal Monday to Panhandle and each member of its board of directors, said Panhandle spokesman Stanford Wallace.

Star Partners' proposal consists of $30 cash plus preferred stock with terms designed to give it a trading value of $20 on a fully distributed basis.

Late this morning, Panhandle stock was up 1 to 4 1/2.

Based on 44.8 million Panhandle common shares outstanding, the offer has an indicated value of $2.2 billion. Panhandle also has 33,000 shares of preferred stock outstanding.

"The unsolicited proposal will be considered by the company's board of directors and responded to in due course," Wallace said Monday. "It will probably be in the next 10 days to two weeks. No firm schedule has been set."

Wallace confirmed Star Partners was the "unidentified third party" that contacted Panhandle last Friday, but said he was "not in a position to compare today's offer with anything."

Wagner and Brown are principal of Wagner & Brown, a large oil partnership based in Midland. They previously cooperated with oilman T. Boone Pickens in an unsuccessful bid for Unocal Corp. and joined with Freeport-McMoRan Inc. in a bid to buy Midecon Corp. last winter.

Panhandle Eastern, headquartered in Houston, has a work force of about 7,000. The company reported in April that its net first-quarter income declined 24 percent to $38.4 million.

Sanford Gulf Service Is Computer-Wise

"One of the things a lot of consumers don't know is that the auto 'mechanic' is a getting to be a thing of the past," according to Sylvester Chang, owner of Sanford Gulf Service, Inc. "Consumers and auto technicians need to know more about auto technology, because of the new computer technology we have in the latest model cars."

An educational process for consumers and technicians is vitally essential for a proper business-customer relationship, Chang said. There has been so much advancement in new technology that it is difficult to understand without an in-depth study.

"In the past it would take about five minutes to diagnose a car's problem and 5-6 hours to fix it and now with all the electronic equipment in cars, it takes 5-6 hours to diagnose the problem and five minutes to fix it," he added.

The Sanford Gulf Service technicians are continually updating their training and education in order to keep pace with all the latest developments. They have to be knowledgeable in all makes and models of cars because Sanford Gulf Service technicians fix all domestic cars and most foreign makes.

With all of its computer age know-how, Sanford Gulf Service remains the friendly neighborhood full-service station that gives old-fashioned service. A place where you can still get your gas pumped, oil checked and windshield cleaned, and advice on care and maintenance.

Sanford Gulf, located at 2518 S. French Ave., Sanford, is your Gulf CarCare headquarters. It has an commitment to high quality, professional automotive service.

Sylvester Chang, who has owned the business for 5 years and General Manager Chris Petris, a certified master automotive technician, have a team of certified mechanics trained to care for your car.

They perform basic auto repair work, so drivers can rely on them for gas, preventive maintenance and repair work. Sanford Gulf performs vehicle safety checks, engine tune-ups, complete brake repair, wheel alignment and balancing, heating and air conditioning service and electrical system repair.

At the customer's request, Sanford Gulf will provide written estimates prior to beginning work and mechanics are certified by the National Institute for Automotive Excellence. All work is warranted for four months or 4,000 miles — whichever comes first. For an appointment call 322-4924.

"We are trying to work closely with Seminole Community College in the training of technicians," Chang said.

Three of the Sanford Gulf employees have just graduated from a 60-hour electronic ignition course.

OPEC Adjourns Summer Summit

By Edward Roby
BRIONI, Yugoslavia (UPI) — OPEC oil ministers broke off their summer summit Monday with a tentative majority agreement on an oil production ceiling and a price target as well as a plan to meet again next month on the thorny issue of individual output quotas.

The final conference communiqué failed to mention any specific prices or ceiling because, sources said, OPEC did not wish to antagonize its dissident members, who refused to go along with the majority.

But Rilwanu Lukman, the Nigerian oil minister whom the conference elected as its president, said afterwards that the price range and ceiling agreed upon earlier in the conference by the majority of members remained a tentative standard that cannot become "truly operational" until the members agreed on their country-by-country production quotas.

The showdown on the quota issue is slated for July 28 in Geneva, sources said.

In the meantime, Lukman said, "there is a tacit understanding that it will help matters if people exercise some form of restraint," a clear reference to production levels.

Last Friday, the third day of the summer conference on the island of Brioni in the Adriatic sea, OPEC announced that a majority of the ministers had agreed on a production ceiling for this year that is supposed to gradually yield a targeted price range for the long term. Sources said this price was $17 to $19 a barrel and that the new ceiling was set at 17.6 million barrels a day.

OPEC is currently producing around 19 million barrels a day and market analysts have predicted that this level of output will soon drive prices down to pre-1979 levels — perhaps as low as $5 a barrel.

Asked to comment on this at his closing news conference, Lukman conceded there seems to be more than enough oil in the market so that prices logically should decline but that in the long term they could rise.

Analysts say current global production levels have already created a surplus of more than 2 million barrels a day.

Lukman said Indonesian oil minister Subroto had devised a set of "firm recommended quotas" and that the ministers would discuss these with their governments before they meet next month.

The communiqué said the Brioni conference had revived OPEC's moribund long-range strategy committee under the leadership of Saudi Arabian oil minister Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani. This panel, which includes the ministers of Iraq, Iran, Venezuela and Algeria, is supposed to draft pricing strategies and provide guidance on OPEC's relations with its independent competitors and its major markets.

AMC Contracts To Build Cars For Chrysler

DETROIT (UPI) — American Motors Corp. will build Chrysler luxury cars on a contract basis at AMC's Kenosha, Wis., plant, under an initial agreement announced Monday.

The agreement, known as a memorandum of understanding, means about 3,200 hourly and 300 salaried employees will be recalled at Kenosha and Milwaukee for the unique project, said AMC President Joseph Cappy.

If a final agreement is reached, AMC will provide contract assembly and related engineering services to produce Chrysler's luxury M-car line, which includes the Chrysler Fifth Avenue, Dodge Diplomat and Plymouth Gran Fury.

Chrysler cars could begin rolling off the line in Kenosha as early as February 1987, the automakers said.

Employee training is needed for the agreement to become final, company officials said. Wisconsin legislative leaders were expected to hold a special session as early as next week to approve $3 million in state funds to help train, state officials said.

The federal government also has been approached to share in the cost of training recalled employees, AMC and Chrysler officials said.

Climate Causes Blood Changes

DEAR DR. GOTT - Ever since we retired to Arizona two years ago, we've heard that the heat thins our blood. Is there any actual change in the blood of people who live in hot climates or is it more a matter of psychology?

DEAR DR. GOTT - People who live in hot climates need "extra" blood to circulate through the skin in order to rid the body of excess heat. It is not a question of "thick" or "thin." When you move from a cold climate to a hot one, your body will make more blood as it adapts to the change in temperature. The same phenomenon occurs in those of us in the North when the warm weather arrives. "Spring fever" may actually be a loss of energy that we feel when our blood production goes into high gear.

Of course, today's air conditioning makes these blood changes less extreme. Modern Arizona residents probably have no more blood than Northern city dwellers, unless they choose desert living in an un-air-conditioned shack.

DEAR DR. GOTT - I have a son who has been diagnosed as having astrocytoma, stage I. He refuses to go back to his doctor for treatment. He reads your column, and maybe you can tell him how urgent it is for him to do something about his condition as soon as possible.

DEAR DR. GOTT - I hope your son is reading this particular column. If he refuses further treatment, he is likely to have a much more serious problem in the future.

Astrocytoma is usually a slow-growing tumor of the brain. However, it tends to invade surrounding tissues. Often, in its center, it harbors a highly malignant tumor called glioblastoma. If the astrocytoma is discovered early - and in your son's case (stage I), it was - it usually can be completely removed by surgery. If it is allowed to grow, it can become (at worst) inoperable - or (at best) so difficult to remove that disabling neurological damage will result.

I unqualifiedly urge your son to follow the doctor's advice. Before long, it may be too late.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Last summer I was bitten by a wood tick, and that one bite resulted in an inflammation as large as a saucer that lasted three weeks. I still have three itchy welts from three other bites. How can I get rid of these?

DEAR READER - Because of the possibility that the ticks' mouth parts are still in the skin, I suggest you see a physician.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
One of the best leads against a slam is from a K-Q combination. The idea is to establish one winner and hope that your side can take another. Who doesn't know that? A better idea is to listen to the bidding and then make your opening lead based on information derived from the auction.

Today, West had an abundance of riches to lead from. However, since hearts were bid by declarer South, West was not about to lead a heart honor. Spades had been bid by dummy, but perhaps a trick could be established there. Then, when West eventually won a heart trick, he would be able to cash a spade to set the contract. And so the king of spades hit the table. That was no problem. Declarer won the ace, played ace of hearts and ruffed a heart, came to his ace of diamonds and ruffed another heart. Now there was only one high heart outstanding, so declarer played for a 3-2 club split, drawing trumps in three rounds. He then simply gave up a heart trick.

At first, West blamed himself. "What happens if I lead a trump?" he asked. Although that would have been a better lead, it would not have affected the outcome.

The chances for slam were less than 50 percent, depending on a 4-3 heart split combined with a 3-2 club division. However, since East-West's team was favored to win this match, it was right for North-South to be aggressive.

P.S. Although North-South had a pickup for bidding and making the slam, their team still lost the match.
