Voice Vote For LBJ Aim

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — Democrats sought to suppress further public squabbling over Southern convention seats today and give Lyndon B. Johnson an unprecedented nomination by acclamation for the presidency.

Seems some persons want more time to be allowed to register so they can vote in this county. They don't have the support of County Commission Chairman James P. Avery Jr., and he made that abundantly clear Tuesday.

"They register once in a lifetime and if our hours aren't enough for them then they've got to be second rate citizens," Avery said. "Why, we've had people giving of their lives so we can have the privilege of voting. And if these people can't get to the registration office during regular hours..."

The Commission yesterday requested the county highway department to instruct employees to wear new "hard hats" purchased for them. Avery also suggested the appropriate employees also wear those bright vests when working on highways and in danger of becoming a traffic statistic.

As an aside, Avery asked what color hats were being bought for commissioners. Quick with a quip Commissioner John Alexander offered: "Commissioners are hard-headed enough."

James Sayes, recreational director for the Florida Development Commission, will give the highlights of Conservation Week, set for Oct. 26-31 in Sanford, at the meeting of the Jaycees at the Civic Center at noon Thursday.

The Civitan Club has moved their Thursday night meeting place to the Lake Monroe Inn. The Lions Club also made the same move recently with their Tuesday luncheons.

If past years are any example, Fort Mellon Park will be a school yard this afternoon, as little fisherboys and fishergirls try their luck at snagging the finny denizens of Lake Carolina. Some of them have proved quite successful, catching as many as 15 in a couple of hours.

Falling to get any authorization from the State Road Department for more traffic signals on French Ave. to control traffic along the busy street, especially during school hours, city commissioners are considering an overpass at Sanford Junior High to keep the kids out of the street. About 1,200 of them cross over there several times a day.

We Clock Winders do our best to utilize this space for sidebars to the local news scene. But we can't help sharing this one with you: One small schoolboy, standing in line to register at a school the other day, said to another youngster: "It might be unconstitutional, but I always pray before a test."

It led one Clock Winder to observe, "The only way the Supreme Court could stop that would be to rule tests unconstitutional so the kid wouldn't have to pray."

Title 6 Ruling Asked

Apportioning Setup Stays On Ballot

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Circuit Judge Hugh Taylor, noting "the problems and dangers incident to apportionment by the federal judiciary," refused Tuesday to remove Florida's present legislative setup from the November ballot.

Taylor threw out a suit by the state Mayors' Council on fair apportionment which sought to have the 45-senator 112-representative plan removed from the ballot because it has been ruled unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Mayor Herman Goldner of St. Petersburg, president of the council, said a move would be made right away to appeal the decision to the State Supreme Court.

The dog, well-mannered and willing but now unable to take orders, is in trouble. It needs, and is getting, help from the Combs family. Viet Mob Kills Four Patients In Hospital Run By American SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — A mob broke into a hospital operated by an American doctor in Da Nang today and beat four patients to death in rioting that erupted in the wake of the resignation of President Nguyen Khanh.

The outbreak of violence came at a time when the government was without firm leadership. A deadlock in the 62-man ruling military council halted attempts for the second day to name a successor to Khanh.

Khanh, who quit Tuesday, was grim faced as he left the council chamber at the end of today's meeting.

"The situation is very serious," he said.

Other council members said another attempt would be made Thursday to choose an interim chief of state.

Meanwhile, there was renewed violence in several cities, with mobs rioting in the streets of the coastal city of Da Nang, 375 miles north of Saigon. Buddhist rioters burned down the Da Nang suburb, hamlet of Bo Thanh, occupied by Roman Catholic refugees who fled from the Communist north 10 years ago.

The American doctor, whose name was not immediately available, was not injured. He is employed by the U. S. operations mission in Viet Nam.

The doctor said he had heard that a Roman Catholic priest also had been beaten to death today by another of the gangs roaming the streets of Da Nang.

Florida Seeks '68 Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (UPI)—Florida delegates are trying to bribe Democratic National Convention officials — with orange juice — to hold the 1968 meeting in Miami Beach.

Many of the Sunshine State delegates wear lapel pins reading "Let's meet in Miami Beach," but their strategic weapon is orange juice. After equipping their own hotel with free orange juice bar they thoughtfully placed three of them in the executive offices of convention hall.

School Board Acts To Be In Compliance

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor

The Seminole County Board of Public Instruction met Tuesday night in a special session and unanimously voted to contact Congressman A. S. Herlong to determine if rules and regulations required by Title Six of the new Civil Rights bill and related to the federally financed assistance programs have been adopted as required by the new law and by President Johnson.

The board made a thorough examination of Title Four, which deals with education, and Title Six, which pertains to federal assistance funds, with its attorney, Douglas Stenstrom.

The board instructed Stenstrom to obtain a copy of the rules and regulations as soon as they are available and to request Herlong's assistance in getting an interpretation as they apply to federal assistance funds which are being received annually by the Seminole County school system.

Superintendent Milwee stated that federal funds for this county's system during the current fiscal year which began July 1, will amount to approximately $275,000.

These funds, Milwee pointed out, are affected by the Civil Rights bill and by the rules and regulations which are to be or have been adopted by the U. S. Department of Education.

Stenstrom explained last night that the various agencies of the government which will be required by the law to administer the Civil Rights measure must draft rules and regulations by which they will operate. Once the regulations have been prepared they must be approved by the Department of Justice and finally by the President.

The loyal LBJ southerners are getting what they wish. They now can ask their voting friends to "live with" the temperate attitudes exhibited by their national party under the tight guidance of Lyndon Johnson.

Sign Contract For Sanford I-4 Link Set

The National Advertising Co. was successful bidder at $63,293 to provide highway signs on Interstate 4 from Lee Road near Orlando to State Road 46, according to the State Road Department which opened bids Tuesday.

The bid was one of several opened by the SRD including a low bid of $5.5 million for the eastern end of the controversial "Alligator Alley" through the Everglades.

The planned $17 million two-lane tollway, which has drawn blame from several quarters including the American Automobile Association, will eventually lead from Naples to Andytown.

The department also opened bids on other projects around Florida totaling $11,947,180. Included were projects in Seminole, St. Johns and Orange counties.

Gulf Stream Course Seen

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Cleo, leaving a trail of death and damage in the Caribbean, crossed Cuba into the Atlantic with 75 mile an hour winds today on a new course that aimed a glancing blow at Southeast Florida.

The Weather Bureau said hurricane force winds would likely hit Bimini in the Bahamas, a small fishing resort island, 50 miles east of Miami.

Gale warnings were hoisted over southeast Florida from Fort Lauderdale south to Marathon in the Florida Keys.

Weathermen cautioned Floridians to keep closely advised on the hurricane reports because a slight deviation from forecasts could bring the hurricane center storming ashore.

Cleo, which killed at least 22 persons and caused many millions of dollars in damage strikes at Guadeloupe, Dominican Republic, Haiti and Cuba, maintained its identity as a hurricane in crossing Cuba during the night, the Weather Bureau said.

It was expected to gradually regain some of its strength over the open waters of the Florida Straits.

Cleo's center pushed into the Florida Straits about 10 a. m. (EST) near the north coastal Cuban city of Calbarren, the Cuban Weather Bureau said.

At 11 a. m. (EST) the Miami Weather Bureau located the storm's center in the Straits about 200 miles southeast of Miami, near latitude 23-1 north, longitude 79-3 west. The storm was moving on a north-northwest course at about 10 miles an hour.

"It is expected to continue on this course and speed during the next 12 hours, gradually turning to a more northerly course with a gradual increase in forward speed tonight and Thursday," the midday advisory said.

"The forecast track would take the center over the Gulf Stream, probably passing east of Miami early Thursday."

The Weather Bureau said heavy rains and gale force winds could be expected this afternoon and tonight over southeast Florida and the western Bahamas and warned small craft to stay in port.

Acting City Manager, Mrs. Mary Harkey announced today that all city department supervisors have been placed on hurricane standby alert, and preparations are being made to button down the city in case "Cleo" heads this way.

Mayor A. I. Wilson, Finance Director Henry Tamun and City Manager W. E. Knowles left by plane early today for New York City to sign water revenue bonds.

The American Red Cross and the Seminole County Civil Defense Department have issued the following advisory:

"During a hurricane alert it is advisable to keep yourself informed at all times of the actual threat of the storm to this community. Check food supplies, water supplies, first aid kits, flashlights and batteries.

"If necessary, prepare to board up or protect the interior of your home from glass, such as picture windows or wide expanse windows. See that your radio is in working order, loose objects around the outside are collected."

Sanford Placed On Hurricane Standby

hurracane shelter, the following buildings will be opened well in advance of the storm.

The National Guard Armory on East First St., and Crooms Academy in Goldsboro. In the south end of the county, shelters are available at South Seminole Junior High School in Casselberry, Lyman High School in Longwood, and the Geneva School in Geneva.

"Do not go outside during the storm. Remember that during the peak of the storm, in the event it crosses directly over the area, there will be a lull, lasting from a few minutes to a half hour, but the wind will then return with even greater force," the Civil Defense Department warned.

Copies of "What To Do In Case Of A Hurricane" can be obtained from local Civil Defense Headquarters at St. John's Realty offices at 120 N. Park Ave.

Faculty Entertains The C. M. Harps

By Jane Casselberry
The faculty of South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry honored their principal, Christy M. Harp, and his wife last Friday morning at a coffee held in the school cafeteria on the occasion of their 27th Wedding Anniversary.

The teachers presented the Harps with a gift of a handsome silver bowl. The beautiful five-piece silver tea service used to serve at the coffee was a surprise gift for Mrs. Harp from her husband. She also was given a lovely orchid corsage.

Cookies and cake were served from a table decorated with a centerpiece of roses. Other floral arrangements at vantage points about the room were of lavender gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Harp were married in Marion, Ga. and are the parents of three sons. Their home is in Longdale, Longwood.

Many of the other teachers at South Seminole also chose August for their wedding date. Those couples include Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dunn Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Jones Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Othell Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. James Clark.

Rear Adm. Gillette Here For Briefing

A high-ranking staff member of the Director of the Navy's Aviation Plans Division in Washington, D. C., visited the Sanford Naval Air Station Thursday for briefings on the new RA-5C Vigilante reconnaissance bomber and its unique ground support center.

The group included Rear Adm. Norman C. Gillette, division director, and four captains: W. M. Miller, A. R. Conner Jr. and W. H. Shawcross. Capt. Shawcross attended previous briefings at NAS Sanford in May.

The group met with Capt. James O. Mayo, commander of Sanford's Reconnaissance Attack Wing One and other officials closely associated with the RA-5C program. The conference was correlated with a tour of the Integrated Operational Intelligence Center, (IOIC) the high-speed processing center for intelligence data collected by the twin-jet RA-5C.

Similar installations are being built on many Forrestal class supercarriers of the Pacific and Atlantic Fleets. The visitors also toured other facilities which have been built at NAS Sanford to support the RA-5C program including the Naval Air Maintenance Training building and the new Integrated Aviation Electronics (Avionics) Center.

Easement On Glenway Drive Offered City

Mrs. Margaret Bower, controversial landowner who blocked off Glenway Drive a few months ago by having posts driven into the street appeared before City Commissioners Monday and offered an easement through the back of her property for an access road from Orange Avenue to Glenway Drive.

Mrs. Bower's former action set off a storm of argument over whether or not she had a right to block the dirt street, which had been used for years by householders living in the vicinity as an entrance road to homes in the vicinity.

The Commission recently decided to open up 24th St. from Mellonville to Sanford Ave., which would have necessitated taking out a number of huge live oak trees that stand on the right of way.

Mrs. Bower told commissioners that she was speaking for both herself and Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker, who owns the adjoining property. Both women are widows, Mrs. Bower pointed out and emphasized that they would give the easement to the city for the land but "we're not going to pay the city to put a street in there."

Commissioners thanked Mrs. Bower for the generous offer of hers and Mrs. Shoemaker's and instructed City Manager W. E. Knowles and City Attorney William Hutchinson to meet with the two property owners next week to work out the legal details of the transaction to the satisfaction of everyone concerned.

One of the facets of the problem which has plagued commissioners in the street-opening controversy is the fact that 24th St. will soon be under construction, creating problems for persons living in the area for ingress and egress from their homes. The problem also would be a handicap for fire trucks and ambulances, commissioners said.

An extensive colony of carpenter ants may weaken a house structure as to cause it to collapse.

All persons desirous of attending are asked to meet at this time for registration.

Classes meet each evening, Monday through Thursday, from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. at Crooms High School.

In addition to an accredited general education course leading to an adult diploma, courses are offered in Bookkeeping, Typing, Home Economics, Remedial Reading and Travel Trades (brick and block laying). Additional classes can be organized if there is sufficient demand from the public.

The instructors will be W. C. Curry, W. L. Smith, Mrs. K. J. Thornton, Mrs. A. C. Hagin, Mrs. K. B. Sandifer, Mrs. Joella Singleton, J. L. Bowden, Leroy Brown and Horace Jackson.

The enrollment fee is $2 and books are sold to students at cost.

Applicants may report to Horace S. Jackson, principal of the evening program, for registration.

H. L. Refoe Jr. imparted some timely information to his audience in his address Sunday morning at Saint Paul Baptist Church. The Rev. D. H. Hodge celebrated his 25th Anniversary as pastor of Saint Paul. Horace S. Jackson presided over services. The Saint Paul Chorus, under the direction of the very competent Earl E. Minott, performed beautifully. Mrs. Annie Alexander, Mrs. A. C. Walker, and Patricia Rae Merrill, were soloists.

Mrs. Clifford Spain Jr. and children of Lincoln Heights, will be leaving for Oklawaha in the very near future. She will join her husband, Captain Clifford Spain Jr., who has been there for some time.

Cleveland and Kannon Debose are visiting relatives and friends. Cleveland is a resident of Detroit and Kannon lives in Cleveland, Ohio.

Please attend the Appreciation Day program which will be held for the Rev. Nathaniel A. Watson Sunday at 4 p. m. in Crooms High School Auditorium. A program is planned for your enjoyment. This will be a most wonderful treat.

VARSITY "A" SQUAD Cheerleaders of Seminole High School take time out from practice to pose for Herald photographer with their pom-poms. These girls will be leading the cheering at varsity football games this year, as well as for all other sports and school pre-game pep rallies. Hatchet Time Arriving For Major Bosses

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's Russian roulette time in the majors again, meaning you can start looking for those managerial casualties, with Sam Mele of Minnesota slated to be among the early victims.

Inevitably, when a club goes bad, a change has to be made. As one club owner put it, "You can't fire all the ball players," so he resorts to the next best thing and simply fires the manager.

That being the case, Mele is a good bet to go, but don't worry about him because he's an extraordinarily capable baseball man and an equally good bet to wind up with another managing job, either with the Boston Red Sox or New York Mets.

Mele won't be the only manager to go. He'll have a lot of company.

New Clay Gabs Way As Football 'Greatest'

By BOB SERLING
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rookie Ozzie Clay's first workout with the Washington Redskins was featured by his loud claim that he could cover Bobby Mitchell, followed closely by Mr. Mitchell faking Mr. Clay out of his uniform. Like his listless namesake, the setback didn't bother Ozzie.

TV Fans May See More Baseball During 1965

DETROIT (UPI) — Television viewers will probably be exposed to more baseball in 1965.

The Major League Executive Television Committee met for four hours Thursday at Tiger Stadium in Detroit and agreed to submit plans to "interested parties" including television networks and sponsors, by Sept. 15 for a proposed Monday night "baseball spectacular."

The proposed program would be a minimum of two hours in length, including a post and pre-game show, and would start in April, 1965.

Plans call for a game in an Eastern or Midwestern city to be shown in those states with a Western game to be shown later in Mountain and Western states.

The games will not be blacked out in the city where it originates.

No date was set for receiving bids from the "interested parties."

zle "I'm the Greatest" Clay in the slightest. He continued to needle such stars at Mitchell and end Angelo Coia, even while they were giving him lessons on how to make brush rookie halfbacks look inept.

For awhile, Clay's mouth appeared to be in reverse proportion to his ability. But after three exhibition games, the Redskins are beginning to wonder if "I'm the greatest" isn't just that.

Clay was only a 17th draft choice, which in pro football is something like settling for Marjorie Main after you get turned down by Kim Novak. A six-foot, 190-pound Negro, he came to the Redskins from Iowa State with a fine reputation as a defensive back, although he also played on offense. The Washington coaches frankly gave him little chance to survive the exhibition season, and for the first two weeks of training camp he showed little except a tendency to pop off to his "elders."

But head coach Bill McPeak liked the kid's spirit — and

Big 4 Holding Clues To Open

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. — (UPI) — The Carling World Open, to be played Thursday through Sunday at the Oakland Hills Country Club, isn't such a "unique" golf tournament, really.

Sure, it has the largest purse ($200,000) of any tournament in the world. And, it's got the largest first-place prize money of any tourney $35,000 plus a field of international golfing stars.

But, it still resembles each Professional Golfers Association tourney that has been played in the United States to date because it has the same "pretournament favorites."

Week after week, unless they decide to give their golfing counterparts a break by not entering a tournament, the "big four" of the American tour Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Tony Leona and Gary Player are always billed as "the ones to beat for the coveted trophy."

Let there be no mistake about it, the "big four," Billy Casper Jr. and Ken Venturi are the ones to beat for the world title.

Why? Because they are the best combination drivers-patters in the world. And both these aspects of the game will be needed to conquer Oakland Hills' "green monster," which measures 6,907 yards and has a par of 70.

Former Boxer Boosts Braves

By United Press International

The turnstiles are beginning to spin again at County Stadium in Milwaukee and the reason is Rico Carly.

Carly (pronounced Carl-dee) easily is the most popular player in the beer capital and his growing fan club in the leftfield bleachers will be bitterly disappointed if the enthusiastic Dominican is not named rookie of the year in the National League.

The 21-year-old ex-boxer vaulted into fourth place among the league's leading hitters Monday night when he belted three doubles, a home run and a single, raising his batting average to .323.

Carly's pyrotechnics were too much for the first place Phillies, who crumpled under the Braves' 16 hit stack 12-9 and lost a full game to the second-place San Francisco Giants.

Seminoles Using Heavy Equipment As Time Nears For Initial Contest

16 Days Left For Workouts Until Opener

By David Hagenbohm
Herald Sports Writer

With only 16 days of workouts remaining in which to prepare for the season's curtain raiser with the Titusville Terriers at Titusville Sept. 18, Seminole High's head grid coach, Jim Picotti, put the Tribe through its initial drill in heavy equipment.

The Titusville contest, a non-Metro Conference affair, will be another in a long string of opening games with the Florida east coast school. Each season, the records indicate, the Terriers get stronger. As a matter of fact, last fall the Terriers headed the Seminoles until extremely late in the game when the localshy bare margin of a single point after touchdown—pulled out a 14 to 13 victory.

J. Vee Coach Ralph Stumpf advised candidates for both varsity and junior varsity squads to make passing grades if they expected to play football at SIS.

Varsity backfield Coach Dick Williams told the athletes what he considered the four main requirements to become a success as an athlete. According to Williams, a player must be quick in his thinking, the right size for the position he wants to play, have good strength and have natural ability for the game. He also included pride as a key factor in winning many games.

Seminole High School is the only school participating in the Metro Conference which is not in Orange County. The SIS grid team will not only be representing Seminole High but also Seminole County in this town.

Varsity line Coach Jim McCoy told the candidates that they had a moral responsibility to be gentlemen off the field. McCoy also urged the athletes to attend the church of their choice on Sundays.

Captains Ronnie Hinson, David Noell, and Joe Farless led the usual exercises and drills followed by work on blocking and tackling.

The coaching staff is making a point to give each candidate a fair chance for a berth on the teams by looking at each youngster individually as well as with the rest of the squad. "The athlete best prepared for the job will get it," says Picotti.

The squad concluded their workout by running through plays with a little contact work on blocking positions.

Losing Record
CINCINNATI (NEA) — Johnny Vander Meer, who pitched consecutive no-hitters in 1938, finished his major league career with a 119-121 won-lost record.

Lucas A Daddy
CINCINNATI (UPI) — Jerry Lucas of the Cincinnati Royals became a father for the first time when his wife, Treva, gave birth to an eight-pound boy Monday.

THE SANFORD JUNIOR HIGH BRAVES' coaching staff this season is again comprised of (from left) Ron Hunt, Owen McGarron, Ed Backner and Head Coach Dan Pelham. This is the same crew that led the Braves to last season's record of six victories against no setbacks.

Graves Offers Grave Opinion Of Tackles On Florida Squad

Gator Mentor Sizes Up Team With Many 'If's'

GAINESVILLE—On the surface the tackle situation looks healthy at Florida, but Head Coach Ray Graves wouldn't care to delve too deeply into the matter.

"Our first four tackles are fine football players, each outstanding at some phase of the game," says Graves. "It's anybody's guess how good we are after them."

Dennis Murphy, 6-2, 250-pound senior, heads the Gator tackle corps and is a sound football player all the way around, an outstanding one on defense.

Coming strong after a great spring is Larry Gagner of Daytona Beach, a 6-2, 237-pounder who runs the 40-yard dash in 4.75 and is the squad's strongest man.

John Whitley, a 235-pound boy who makes almost straight A's in the class room and does the same on the football field, was rated equal to both Murphy and Gagner in the spring until felled by a knee injury. His knee, doctors say, is completely healed and this Junior from Tampa should be ready.

Sydney MacLean of Jacksonville isn't sensational, but is a tested, steady and dedicated boy who has given the Gator's some sound tackle play for two seasons. MacLean is best known for defensive exploits and will see most of his action in this capacity in the fall.

Next in line is senior John Thompson of Norfolk, Va., a non-letterman who will most likely work in an offensive role in 1964. He is rated a nod ahead of several inexperienced boys with promise, such as Junior Julian Johnson of Green Cove Springs, and sophomores J. D. Pasteris (Miami), Wally Colson (Valdosta) and John Preston (Columbus, Ga.).

(Gator football broadcasts will be carried again this season by WTRR Radio, Sanford).

PLANNING THE 1965 Knights of Columbus State Bowling Tournament at a banquet hosted by Sanford Council 5357 were, seated, left to right, George Ray, grand knight of Council 2112; William J. Bagley, president of the KO State Bowling Association and Milton Lockwolf, grand knight of Council 5150; back, Ted Nichols, grand knight of Council 5357 and Fred Emond, grand knight of Council 4934. Dietzel Lauds East Gridders

NEW YORK (UPI)—Army coach Paul Dietzel claims Eastern college football teams have reached a point where he'll "stack them up against teams from any section of the country."

The former Louisiana State mentor said each section of the United States believed it has the strongest teams.

"I come from the hubbed of football, the Southeastern Conference," Dietzel declared.

"They think they play the best football down there. In the Southwest, they feel they have the best teams.

"But I would stack our Eastern teams up against any other section of the country and I'd be pretty confident of the outcome."

The five eastern teams Dietzel referred to were Pittsburgh, Syracuse, Navy, Penn State and his own Cadets.

Those five teams won 40 of the 62 games they played last year and Dietzel, whose Army team had a 7-8 record last season, said he expected it to be "much stronger" this year.

there has been too little of that commodity around the Redskins for too many years. Clay didn't look like the answer to a defensive coach's prayers, but he had one thing—speed. McPeak decided to try him out as a kickoff and punt return specialist.

Ozzie's first real test was against the man-eating Chicago Bears, and it almost was his last. The rookie, apparently figuring that a fair catch was a mark of abject cowardice, insisted on trying to run back punts with a half-dozen Bears breathing into his face. A couple of times, Bear tacklers almost hammered him five Bears — for a 14-yard three feet underground. But gain and McPeak liked what he got away once — through he saw.

Scribe Offers Candidate For LBJ Sidekick

By Milton Richman
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) —
President Johnson says he's still mulling over the candidate for VP, but if he's interested in the MVP, there's only one logical candidate — Baltimore's Brooks Robinson.

The President likes baseball and often discusses it, particularly with Stan Musial, his special consultant on physical fitness.

He checks the boxscores occasionally and has heard all about Robinson. So has everyone in the American League.

Around Baltimore, they call the shy, 27-year-old Robinson "Mr. Impossible," theoretically because he makes those kind of plays at third base practically every day.

A far better reason for that nickname is the fact that it would be impossible for the Orioles to be in first place now without him.

The biggest criticism of Robinson is that he should be the team leader but that he stands back and refuses to take charge.

"I'm not a pusher," he laughs. "I'm a follower."

Maybe so, but he certainly has a lot of players following him at the moment. Only two American Leaguers top his .308 batting average and only four have more than his 88 runs batted in. His 22 homer also place him in the top 10 in that department.

There isn't the slightest question that the unassuming, always smiling Robinson is Baltimore's team leader but if you try calling him that to his face, he'll pucker up his lips in a frown and deny the allegation up and down.

Robinson doesn't come to fight, he simply comes to play baseball and he has never short-changed the Orioles from the first day they brought him up from the minors back in 1955.

Miss Loretta Gatlin, L. P. Carter, Jr. United In Church Marriage Ceremony

By JoAnn Hays
Miss Loretta Lee Gatlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ben Gatlin of Geneva and Lewis P. Carter Jr., grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dorton, were united in holy matrimony July 11, 1964, at 2:30 p.m. at the Geneva Baptist Church.

Rev. Albert E. Green performed the impressive ceremony before the altar accented with baskets of white mums and white glads.

Mrs. Judy Wiseman furnished the traditional nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal gown of angelina taffeta, featuring a bell shaped skirt. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The sweeping chapel train of Chantilly lace fell gracefully from a Dior bow at the back waist line. Her finger tip imported veil of illusion fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a cascade bridal

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a stunning beige lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. The mother of the groom was attired in beige crepe with matching accessories and her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The serving table held the traditional tiered wedding cake, flanked by silver candelabra, with punch, assorted nuts, silver mints and open faced sandwiches.

Among the out of town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hatfield and daughter, Irene, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hatfield, Daytona Beach; Mr. and Mrs. James Teters and sons, Jay and Robbie, Ormond Beach; Mrs. Raymond Gatlin and daughters, Joy, Jenny and Cindy, Orlando; Lewis P. Nadine Colbert, A. Chalfin Exchange Vows Of Marriage

Mrs. Nadine Colbert and Allen Chalfin were united in holy matrimony Friday, August 21, 1964 at 7 p.m. at Grace Methodist Church.

Rev. John Hires officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony before the altar, flanked on either side by standing spiral seven branched candelabra, accented with pedestal baskets of white glads and baby mums.

Mrs. Robert Bennett, organist, played the traditional nuptial music.

Mrs. Colbert repeated the vows in a lovely pink brocade sheath with matching jacket. Her short pink veil fell from a garland of pink flowers and she carried a cascade bridal bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley, showered with white satin streamers.

Attendants for the couple were Miss Barbara Ann Colbert, daughter of the bride, Harry Colbert, the bride's son, Mrs. Lynn Evans and William Field.

Miss Colbert was attired in a smart maize sheath with a corsage of yellow carnations and Tallman roses. Mrs. Evans chose a pale green sheath accented with gold accessories and her corsage was of champagne carnations tinged with gold.

A champagne supper followed the wedding and the couple departed for a wedding trip to the Canadian Rockies, in and around Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Upon their return, they will reside at 405 E. 14th Street.

Among the out of town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie A. Wagner of Orlando, brother of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. LeHeup of Jacksonville.

The gifts were presented to the honoree in a bassinette, one of the gifts of Mrs. H. L. Johnson.

Windows with frames too shallow to accommodate standard hardware now can be shaded easily with a new, barely visible bracket. The bracket is curved to follow the narrow contours found in some modern frames and is made of a see-through plastic that color, reports the Window Shade Manufacturers Association. It is rust-proof.

Mr. And Mrs. George Sommer Observe Their Golden Wedding Anniversary

By Donna Estes
Mr. and Mrs. George Sommer of 70 N. Second Street, North Orlando, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at a family dinner party at the House of Beef in Maitland Wednesday, Aug. 19.

The dining table was overlaid with a white banquet cloth and centered with a bouquet of yellow and white chrysanthemums. At each end of the table were smaller arrangements of the same flowers.

The anniversary cake was frosted in white with decorations of yellow confectionery roses and the golden numerals "50." Mrs. Sommer wore a white orchid corsage and Mr. Sommer a white carnation which had been presented them by their children for the occasion.

Members of the family present for the celebration were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Channas and daughter Susanne of Pittsburgh Pa.; another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William McVay and children

Marilyn, Maureen, Billy and Carole of North Orlando; their granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ulrich of Altamonte Springs and their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sommer and daughter Diane of Winter Park.

A total of 75 congratulatory cards were received by the couple from friends and relatives in all parts of the country. Among gifts received, all in the gold theme, were a charm bracelet, evening bag, beads, sculptured figurine, bath towels and mats and candlesticks. The couple also received a set of Teflon cookware and 10 bouquets of flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sommer were born and met and married in Pittsburgh and lived there until five years ago when they moved to the Village of North Orlando. Mr. Sommer, although retired, works part time for FIA in the village, is active in the Civic Association and his beautiful yard is evidence of his skill in the gardening field.

Mrs. Sommer enjoys her church work being a past officer of the Church of the Nativity Catholic Women's Club and of Our Lady's Circle. In the community she is a member of the Civic Association and of the Garden Club.

They have two sons in addition to the three children here for the anniversary dinner, Raymond and Paul, both of Pittsburgh, 21 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

One retail sales company figures it sold what must have been one of the original juke boxes in the spring of 1909. Calling the device a "coin in the slot machine," the Sears, Roebuck catalog at the time claimed the gadget was a "great money maker for stores, saloons, railroad depots and any other public places."

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE SOMMER of North Orlando recently observed their 50th wedding anniversary.

JOHN FRANCIS PIATT, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Piatt of 115 Orienta Drive in Altamonte Springs, celebrated his seventh birthday August 14 with a party at his home. The guests enjoyed party games, gift opening, and a velvet roast with the traditional birthday cake and all the trimmings. Helping Donn celebrate were from the left front, Teddy Hooper, Gregg Hooper, Donn Francis, honoree, Jeb Morrison, David Walter and Zita Morrison. Second row from the left are Kim Clark, Sharon Adams, Doug Walter and Dale Richard Green. Third row left, are Susan Hooper, Steve Adams and Donald Fulsong.

the question of "Who owns what?" the County Commissioners are now pondering. Commissioners are trying to locate the answers to a pair of problems as perplexing as "What's on third?" For several years westside farmer James P. Avery, "and the chances are you will wind up in court."

"Then there's the Cassidy case. J. D. Cassidy owns property in Midway Park. The county, he says, came along with a drag line and cleaned a ditch. In doing so, he claims, the county removed a bridge over the ditch and Cassidy can't get into his land."

Says Cassidy: "Since the county owns the ditch (because it cleaned it out) it ought to replace the bridge. Up to now, everything's clear. But look out! A check of county records indicates the county doesn't own the ditch so it must be owned by the state. The state says it doesn't own the ditch. Cassidy says if the county and the state don't own the ditch, he must own it and if he owns it he'll fill it."

Obviously the Commission doesn't have the answer to either of these knotty puzzles. So out comes "ol faithful"—the motion to table. What would you have done? "Who's on first?" — or rather, "Who owns what?"

Do you suppose it could be the county, Boston, Florida Power and Light, Cassidy, I-4, the state of Florida, Boston's neighbor, SR 46, etc.?

Perhaps Chairman Avery ought to check his safety deposit box. In a mix-up like this he might even be the owner.

And, can you imagine, people actually run, spend money, and campaign to become a county commissioner? Chances are we don't even have the story straight. But, we'll bet you can't prove we're wrong.

If you can even understand these problems, much less answer them, you belong on that "ol club known as the Philadelphia "lawyers."

The 10th annual Pan American Hotel & Restaurant Exposition will be staged at the convention hall in Miami Beach, Oct. 12-14.

Jury Service A Duty, Judge Charges Club

The reluctance of citizens to serve on a jury was deplored by Circuit Judge Volie Williams yesterday in a talk before the Sanford Rotary Club.

"The right to trial by jury is one of the freedoms that our forefathers fought so hard to gain," Judge Williams pointed out.

"Business men are the worst in using any excuse to get out of jury duty," the Judge said.

"The law entitles you to the right of trial by jury, but everyone wants to let George do it. George doesn't exist — if you won't serve on a jury for your fellow Americans — why expect others to do it for you? Everyone must contribute his duty and service, test by his intellectual apathy, we let our rights be done away with," he continued.

"One of the first acts of Communist or Fascist dictators when they take over a country is to abolish the trial by jury. If you don't want to keep the jury system and do your part to keep it operating, people like Franco, Castro and others will take over for you," he noted.

"You can be tried, convicted and buried all in the same day, under their kind of courts. Our system is not perfect, but it is still the best system ever devised. It is the time-proven, tested way to settle disputes, between citizens or between a citizen and a government," Judge Williams pointed out.

"There are people who are 'professional' jurors. They do it for the $5 a day pay they get. Is that the kind of people you want sitting in judgment on you, when you have to go to court?" the Judge asked.

"Our constitution acknowledges God as the source of all strength. We don't exist for the government, the government exists for us," he said.

"God gives the rights — not

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a wife who keeps asking her husband, age 64, when he is going to retire? The husband is a successful businessman who enjoys being in business, is in good health, and never thinks about retiring until his wife brings it up.

Also, what would you think if this wife took out TWO additional policies on her husband's life while she was his bookkeeper and was authorized to sign his checks? (This wasn't discovered by the husband until several years later.) This same wife reads every magazine article she can find on things a widow should know. She claims she is the only being realistic. I would like your opinion.

SOMEBODY'S HUSBAND
DEAR HUSBAND: Your wife's waging a war of nerves—and winning! Relax, or you'll accommodate her sooner than you both think.

DEAR ABBY: I am mad! I just returned from a friend's house and she slyly accused me of having amorous feelings about my doctor! What's with people? They think the milkman, postman, salesman and repair men are all the secret lovers of every woman who looks at them sideways. Some people can't forget about sex for one minute! Why can't people be motivated by art, music, world peace or something else?

"VIVA LA SENSE" IN FT. WAYNE
DEAR VIVA: Some people ARE! What's with you? DEAR ABBY: I enjoyed the letter in your column from a pair of identical twins who said they didn't like to be called "Twin" or "Twinny," and they were disgusted with people who asked, "Are you twins?" That last complaint is so familiar to me because I have an identical twin brother, and when we were young we were dressed alike, and still people would ask, "Are you twins?" My mother told us that when we were about three years old she was walking down the street with one of us on each side of her, when a strange woman stopped us and asked my brother, "Are you brothers?" And he replied, "No, ma'am, we're sisters."

CONFIDENTIAL TO BOSS: Uppers are something you get from mountain climbing over molehills. Take it easy.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

When you use any bid as an artificial demand to partner to tell you how many aces he holds, you can't use that bid with a natural meaning at the same time.

The Gerber four-club convention never became popular because players found too often that they needed natural four-club bids. The Blackwood four no-trump has become popular because you can afford to use an artificial four no-trump call most of the time.

The North hand is the only one you have to see today. It is a rather unusual hand and when partner opens the bidding with one spade all you need to know is the number of aces he holds in order to bid to the right contract.

It is possible that he has no ace! In that case you should be able to make four no-trump. If he has just one ace you can make five clubs, but if you use Blackwood to ask for aces you will be at five diamonds and there is a chance that you will be overboard.

If he holds two or three aces Blackwood works perfectly. You play six if he has two and a grand slam if he has three.

Part of the Jacoby slam method is to use the jump response of four clubs to an ace response so that you can respond four clubs with this hand and keep out of all trouble.

If partner shows no aces by a bid of four diamonds you close the bidding at four no-trump. If he shows one ace you settle for five clubs as the final contract. If he shows two or three aces you bid the appropriate slam.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

MEMO TO MEN:
If you think your wife is extravagant, it could be you've brought it on yourself.

Were you less than enthusiastic the first time she "did over" the living room, herself — tacking such jobs as making curtains, slip covers, and so on? If you were — it's no wonder she called in a decorator the next time the job needed to be done.

When she has run herself ragged trying to get the best buy on a piece of furniture or household equipment, do you bother to tell her she's a good manager? A woman often gets real pleasure out of stretching a dollar, as long as her husband gives her credit for being a shrewd shopper.

Do you compliment your wife on how pretty she looks only when she is wearing something new? If so, you ought to know she isn't going to get much pleasure out of wearing her clothes a long time.

Have you ever asked your wife to try to hold down household expenses as much as possible and then gone out and made some extravagant purchase on your own without even discussing the matter with her? That's enough to discourage any wife who is trying hard to save a few dollars here and there.

If you wife your full business partner — or do you invest money, take on financial obligations, or set up a family budget without letting her know what is going on? If you do the latter, she probably figures she is spending YOUR money and a wife who spends her husband's money is usually more extravagant than one who thinks in terms of "our money."

Do you just complain about the monthly bills, instead of sitting down with your wife and together figuring out some kind of a workable budget? If so — you'll probably go on complaining and blaming your financial situation on an "extravagant" wife.

A Step Toward Peace

Something is happening in Cleveland, Ohio, that should offer hope to every community with a racial problem.

It began quietly last April when Cleveland was torn with violent racial conflict over the issue of school integration.

In the midst of all the turmoil and shouting, a group of 65 top civic leaders, Negro and white, came together to listen attentively and objectively to each other's viewpoints and to discuss them soberly and without rancor.

Throughout the "long, hot summer" of racial discontent these busy people continued to meet without fanfare.

When a new superintendent of public schools came into office recently, practically the first thing he did was to appear before the group of 65 and outline his plans for bringing about "equality of quality education" in Cleveland.

He made no extravagant promises, gave no detailed blueprint of his plans. But it was obvious that he had given the racial problem careful, sympathetic thought and that he was determined to solve it to the limit of his abilities.

At the conclusion of his remarks the 65 civic leaders gave him a standing ovation.

Then, Negro and white, every one of them signed a pledge to give him time to implement his program and to meet and work together in support of his efforts to bring about "equality in quality education."

Among those signing the pledge were five Negro civil rights leaders who led the fight against what they regard as de facto segregation in the Cleveland schools.

There is real hope in Cleveland now that the school year may begin, and continue, without name-calling or violence.

If Cleveland does it, other communities can do it too. Frankness, understanding and trust; a willingness to pause and listen and reason.

The Cleveland pattern is worth trying.

Why Not For People?

It's easy these days to get the idea that human kindness, sentiment and compassion have gone down the drain.

People are fighting all over the world, and it seems that nobody likes anybody.

Then along comes something which proves all over again that a heart most people are really softies.

Why, for instance, did the Ohio National Guard halt its artillery practice during its recent annual maneuvers at Camp Grayling, Mich.?

On orders from the Pentagon? For international expediency? From lack of ammunition?

No. Because of a flock of tiny birds.

The rough, tough soldiers discovered that almost 1,000 Kirtland's warblers—practically the world's entire population of this rare species—were using a wooded jack-pine tract of the firing range for nesting.

So all firing in that section was stopped until the feathered families were ready to move on.

Is such sentimentality for the birds?

You bet. And wouldn't it be fine for people, too?

Thought For Today

For if I preach the gospel, that gives me no ground for boasting. For necessity is laid upon me. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel! —1 Cor. 9:16.

Helen Fuller Says

Battle Lines Are Drawn

WASHINGTON — The coming Presidential campaign is casting its shadow before it earlier than is usual.

With only one of the nominees officially chosen, it is already clear what the hottest issues are to be and how the battle is to be fought.

President Johnson has given orders to his Cabinet that he and they are to take the high road together — talk about how good and effective the Kennedy-Johnson Administration has been, ignore the opposition so far as possible and refuse to be put on the defensive.

Senator Goldwater's research staff is busy assembling ammunition to accomplish the latter purpose, compiling facts from the past that will possibly provoke the President to defend his personal and public record.

These are the standard stances for incumbent and challenging candidates for the Presidency and so not to be viewed either with or without alarm. What is arresting is that Senator Goldwater, regarded by many as the old-fashioned conservative, is so much more modern and advanced in campaign methods

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Trinh Viet Duong (fictitious name) was an assistant squad leader in a mainline Viet Cong battalion until a few weeks ago.

I talked to him in Tay Ninh, where he had come in, bringing a Thompson sub machine gun with him. He was stocky and tough.

"When I joined the Viet Cong," he said, "I was told we would drive out the American foreigners enslaving our country. But in the VC, too, the men giving the orders were Chinese, white foreigners, and Vietnamese trained in the north. We flew foreign flags—Chinese and Russian."

"I decided we weren't accomplishing anything. Besides, we were short of food and sick for lack of medicine. We never got home to see our families."

Trinh Viet Duong had some pity thoughts about the Vietnamese government officers and troops he'd been up against.

"It's easy fighting Vietnamese government troops," he said. "Their officers always do the same things over and over. We hit an outpost. They send in a relief column. We set an ambush. They come in with no advance guard and no scouts out. We can hit them without warning."

"In any maneuver, you always know what they are going to do."

"Their officers are a bunch of scholars. They read books but know nothing about war or leading men . . . especially the young officers."

"With the Viet Cong, it's different. The man who fights well in his squad and leads well, moves up. No one asks how many books he's read."

"We weren't worried about our weapons. We were bothered by your bombings for a while but found ways to use them to our advantage."

"We'd visit an unfriendly hamlet we wanted to win over and warn the people that the Americans and their stooges were going to bomb them. Then we'd move our troops openly into the hamlet, make certain that the government forces learned we were there. . . . Then you'd bomb the place. Our Viet Cong would move among the people, give them medical aid, help them organize defenses, sympathize with them about this terrible thing the foreigners and their stooges were doing to the people. It helped."

"The Vietnamese government officers and soldiers we met up with didn't seem to have their heart in fighting. I don't think they knew what they were fighting for."

"The government troops would move into hamlet, round up the young men by force, put them into the army. And that was that. I myself was hiding from this kind of a draft when the Viet Cong found me."

"When I went with the Viet Cong, they immediately sent me to a 45-day course in tactics and political indoctrination. Ever since then, on the days we weren't out on patrol, we'd have political lectures and discussions. Men who classes in reading."

"We also got some top flight military advice. My battalion had Chinese advisers."

"We got into a scrape and one of the Chinese was killed. To hide the fact that he was Chinese his head was cut off and buried. Then the report was spread that the Vietnamese government troops had committed an atrocity against us—beheading one of our people."

"We got into a lot of trouble for losing the Chinese adviser. For two days our battalion did little but fill out official reports explaining how this had happened."

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

It is about time a stop is put to this "Democrats for Goldwater" bit.

There is no such thing as a "Democratic for Goldwater." Goldwater is the Republican candidate for the Presidency.

When a person registers as a Democrat or Republican, he identifies himself as a member of that party.

The Democratic Party does NOT endorse Goldwater for President so therefore, it is ridiculous for these Republicans who are registered as Democrats for the purpose of being able to vote in the primaries, to use this slogan.

When we go to the polls to vote we have the privilege of choosing the one we wish. Only God and ourselves know which one that is. God forbid that this right is ever taken from us.

However, public support and misrepresenting the Democratic party is a different thing.

Democrats will support and work for the candidates of the Democratic party, who we feel sure, will be President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Democratic party is noting these Republicans in Democrat clothing.

Sincerely,
Catherine S. Gehr,

S. B. (Jim) Crowe

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE T-457: Clark R., aged 22, is a medical student.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "do you think heredity is the main reason why people live to a ripe old age?"

"Or is environment the major factor?"

At birth, God Almighty figuratively deposits 2.6 billion heart beats in the average baby's "cardiac bank." That's our heredity!

When they are all consumed, there aren't any more, so the heart stops.

But we can add 10 years to our longevity by environmental strategy.

Recently, some medical researchers in Chicago examined boys and men ranging in ages from 16 to 65.

These subjects were from various occupations.

And their hearts averaged 100,000 beats per 24 hours! But the number varied in different men from 98,000 to 135,000.

So some men had hearts that beat 37,000 times more per day than did their companions with slower pulse rates.

So the slow hearts should last much longer than those which were racing unduly fast. The slow hearts might let you live to be 90 while the fast hearts would consume those 2.6 billion beats in 50 years or less.

"But, Dr. Crane," you may wonder, "how can I slow down my heart?"

Avoid undue excitement, including anger, hatred, fear, etc., for in these emotions you race your "motor" and thus waste unnecessary heart beats.

Also, avoid standing when possible, for when you stand, your heart works harder to pump your 5 or 6 quarts of blood your full height.

If you are seated with feet on a hassock, your heart may slow down one beat per minute, which is 1,440 beats you salvage per day.

Nowadays, dental surgeons, barbers and retail store clerks are urged to employ stools, not only to rest their feet but also to benefit their hearts.

And at home, by all means drop your feet on a hassock, for that reduces your standing height of 6 feet to about 3 feet!

Lying in bed is even better so lounge on your davenport and it will rest your heart even more than sitting with feet on a footstool.

Also, don't overeat, for excess food (as well as alcohol, tobacco and most drugs) also wear out your heart faster.

Remember, too, that for every 3 pounds of extra fat you carry, your heart must move your blood through 3 extra miles of vessels! And at every beat, too!

Also, get your proper amount of sleep, for the main purpose of slumber is to rest your heart.

If your normal waking pulse rate is 72, it will probably drop to 70 while you sleep. Meanwhile, your blood pressure is lower so each of those 70 beats requires less force from your faithful heart.

Caffeine drinks also speed up your heart and thus help deplete your "cardiac bank account" that much sooner.

Frustration speeds up your heart, too, so learn to budget your day's work by a written agenda.

And team up with God so you can drift off fast and into deeper sleep at night.

And avoid hard driving, cross-country vacation trips, for they overwork your heart instead of resting it, as the proper vacation should!

Greece Eyes Neutralism

By Joseph W. Grigg
United Press International
PARIS (UPI) — The Atlantic alliance took some bad knocks in the Cyprus crisis.

Officials at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's NATO headquarters here have not yet finished totting up the full damage.

But, even though it did not come to the worst — that is, war between NATO members Greece and Turkey—it already is clear that the alliance's strategic and highly vulnerable southeastern anchor position has been seriously undermined.

The first, most obvious result is that Allied Supreme Commander Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer no longer can be sure of the effectiveness of Greek and Turkish forces under his command.

Although Greece and Turkey returned to the control of the units they pulled out during the Cyprus crisis, Greece has not sent back the 160 or so officers who made up roughly one-third of the staff of NATO's southeastern command headquarters at Izmir in Turkey.

That left only the American and Turkish officers in what is supposed to be a three-power command.

Further, Lemnitzer must be having serious qualms as to just how far Greek and Turkish armed forces, could be counted on to fight alongside each other against the Communists.

Yet, aside from the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean, the 12 Greek and 11 Turkish divisions are the West's sole means of defense at the southern end of the Iron Curtain.

On the political side, too, NATO officials have cause for anxiety.

Greece emerged from the Cyprus crisis embittered and disappointed. It was the Greeks who had to back down from the brink of war with Turkey, rightly or wrongly, the Greeks blame the United States and Britain.

Diplomats here see ominous signs that Greece now may edge increasingly towards a neutralist position or even to one of closer relations with Moscow.

An even more alarming by-product of the crisis was the way it opened the door to Russian meddling in the Eastern Mediterranean.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, after some apparent initial uncertainty, took up enthusiastically Greek Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios' appeal for help. The next follow-up stage will be a visit to Moscow by Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyrrianiou.

Thus, without having to do very much except ship some arms and perhaps some token economic aid, Khrushchev stands to realize a centuries-old dream of imperial Russia by gaining a toe-hold in the Eastern Mediterranean.

The picture from the NATO viewpoint is not a reassuring one.

Thanks to the leadership, dedication and hard work of a group of Florida men and women, this state can take pride in the progress that has been made in the development of our blood bank program.

This splendid program is wholly voluntary and its success depends primarily on public understanding and support. Just as money is the life stream of the commercial banks, so blood is the life stream of the blood bank and success of the program depends on the number of donors.

The average citizen, busy with his own affairs, is more or less apathetic to the importance of the vital service of his local blood bank until an emergency arises where he or a member of his family, through illness or injury must call for aid that oftentimes is a matter of life or death.

It is those who have had such an experience that become active donors and urge others to aid and support the effort.

But why wait until misfortune strikes. If you are between the ages of 21 and 60 and in good health you can help now by making a blood donation to your nearest blood bank or collection center. It takes but a few minutes' time and may save a life.

The program of the annual meeting of the American Association of Blood Banks, to be held in Washington, D. C. Aug. 25-28, calls attention to Florida's leadership in this vital field.

Dr. Robert E. Klein, of Gainesville, young medical director of his Alachua General Hospital blood bank and a former president of the Florida association will head the national association next year.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith, administrative director of the Jacksonville Blood Bank for 18 years, and a founding member of the association, is chairman of the meeting's administrative program which includes papers by Mrs. Mary Bank of Orlando, Mrs. Jayne Myers of Bradenton, W. E. Scheu of Jacksonville, George E. Wilson of Miami and George E. Nicholson of Pensacola.

They are telling their colleagues from other states how several Florida blood banks recently cooperated in a successful Civil Defense drill to provide the blood needs of 20,715, theoretically injured, and also the day-to-day methods and appeals used by Florida blood banks to gain and maintain the support of their communities.

While our state blood bank program is well organized and manned, the demands on them are increasing because of more open-heart and other complicated surgical operations plus more and more serious automobile accidents are depleting the supply.

A recent survey shows that only three per cent of the people physically able to donate do so. The problem is to motivate the other 97 per cent and that is where you can help, by donating yourself and urging friends and relatives to do so. Your local hospital or doctor will be glad to tell you where such a donation can be made and explain the procedure to you.

Deadly Cleo Picks Up Force As It Heads For Cape

Coastal Resorts Badly Battered

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Cleo battered the Metropolitan Miami area with 100-mile winds for seven hours today, then struck a deadly course up Florida's east coast towards the nation's missile center at Cape Kennedy.

The storm, its intensity and forward speed picking up as it roared northward, made a shambles of the tourist resort of Miami Beach, heavily damaged Fort Lauderdale and other coastal cities.

Sanford Prepared If Cleo Arrives

By Harry I. Johnson
Managing Editor

Hurricane Cleo promises to be at least first with the Sanford area and all agencies serving or protecting the public are ready for the visit.

Civil Defense forces, Red Cross, Salvation Army and other agencies have been alerted, and, as one official put it, "we're as ready as we can get."

Sanford and vicinity saw the sun for a brief period this morning and then the cloud cover came and with it, shortly after 7 a. m. today, the rain. The winds picked up gradually during the morning hours.

Area residents were out in force clearing yards of loose items which can become lethal weapons when the winds pick up.

Buildings with larger glass windows were being boarded or taped to withstand the onslaught. Some stores reported a run on flashlights, transistor radios and batteries and other items which will keep them aware of storm conditions should normal utilities fail.

Facilities at the Sanford Naval Air Station were being tied down and planes were flown out to safer havens as base personnel geared for the storm.

A base spokesman said 30 planes were flown out late yesterday afternoon for Olathe, Kas., when "Condition 2" was announced.

The spokesman said service facilities have four such "conditions" with Condition 4 causing the least movement. Condition 2 means "something's coming" and Condition 1 means "it's here," he said.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — America's spaceport today braced for a possible direct hit from hurricane Cleo. Five big rockets were secured to their launch stands.

Looting was reported in smashed stores near the heart of Miami and at a shopping center near Fort Lauderdale. One looter was shot by Miami police.

At 11 a. m. EST (noon EDT) Cleo was located near Stuart, 100 miles north of Miami, and churning a coastline course. Its center was expected to pass near Cape Kennedy early tonight, forecasters said.

Hurricane-wisec Floridians battered down in advance of the storm—worst to hit Miami in 14 years—and by midday there were no reports of deaths in south Florida. This contrasted to the 122 known dead Cleo left in her wake in an assault on the Caribbean Islands from Guadeloupe to Cuba.

A hurricane watch was extended at 11 a. m. EST (noon EDT) all the way north to Charleston, S. C.

Hurricane warnings flew from Boca Raton to Cape Kennedy where five giant rockets were secured on their launch pads and another was dismantled to await the blow.

Miami forecasters called Cleo a "rather small but dangerous hurricane."

The mid-day advisory issued by the Miami Weather Bureau during the night by torrential rains which disrupted its communications — said Cleo was moving north at a slightly faster rate of 14 miles per hour.

Winds of 115 miles an hour were reported in Palm Beach and forecasters said winds of 100 miles or more would "progress up the Florida East Coast a short distance in advance" of Cleo's center.

Hurricane force winds (75 miles an hour) were predicted for Cape Kennedy by early afternoon.

Boats all along the Florida and Georgia coasts and north to Charleston were urged to remain in port and those northward to Cape Hatteras, N. C. were cautioned not to venture too far from their harbors.

Damage estimates began flowing in at daybreak from the battered cities north of Miami. They were expected to run into the millions. There were numerous fires reported and fallen trees crushed automobiles, house trailers and homes.

"The damage will unquestionably run into millions of dollars in the Miami area alone," a Red Cross spokesman said after a preliminary survey.

Grapefruit crops near West Palm Beach were damaged and additional damage was expected as the storm moved northward.

Its LBJ's Birthday And His Happiest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Today is Lyndon B. Johnson's 60th birthday—and very possibly the happiest day of his life.

It is the day he returns to Atlantic City, N. J., to accept with due solemnity and formality the Democratic nomination to his first full term as President.

Johnson, a master showman as well as a master politician, paid an unexpected and triumphant visit to Atlantic City Wednesday night to announce to the wildly cheering delegates of the Democratic National Convention his choice of a vice presidential running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Though the feeling had been building for weeks that the ebullient Humphrey would get the nod, Johnson spun out the drama almost to the last moment—but not quite. In an impromptu news conference at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., shortly before his flight to Atlantic City Wednesday night he introduced the smiling Humphrey as "the next vice president."

Johnson's day of decision began many hours earlier with a brisk 16-lap walk around the south lawn of the White House—the equivalent of almost four miles.

At first he told a panting throng of accompanying newsmen, "we've gotten close to decision," and left it at that.

Sanford School Hours Same

Sanford Junior High School hours this year will be the same as last, according to the principal, Hugh Carlton. He reports school will start at 8 a. m. and get out at 2:45 p. m.

School buses will observe the same arrival and departure hours as last season, he said.

Seminole Remembers Donna

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor

As Seminole citizens gird for a possible visit by Cleo, they recall "devastating" Donna who whipped across the biggest little county in the state just four years ago next month.

Lake Monroe's wind-whipped waves splashed over its

THIS WAS DONNA and is what was happening almost four years ago when Hurricane Donna paid a September (1960) visit to the Sanford area. Herald Photographer Bill Vincent said the picture was taken from the lake-front near the tennis courts and it was snapped about three hours after the eye had gone through this area. He reports winds were still up to 75 miles an hour and were lashing Lake Monroe into a frenzy.

Holy War In Saigon Greets New Rulers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Rioting broke out in Saigon today as three generals were named to run the South Vietnamese government.

Law and order appeared to have collapsed in the capital. Howling mobs of Buddhists and Catholics beat each other to death with machetes, clubs and hatchets in the streets of Saigon.

The rioting overshadowed the attempt of the ruling military revolutionary council to choose a new "national leader" to replace President Nguyen Khanh.

Practice Halted At SHS, Lyman

Cleo may be a menace to most people but several hundred Seminole youngsters trying to win berths on football teams just might embrace her.

Head coaches Jim Pigott of Seminole, Dick Copeland of Lyman and W. G. Holt of Croombs have canceled today's workouts. At Oviedo, Arthur Scott erased the morning session but said he would drill the lions this afternoon, weather permitting.

Long Grind

FALMOUTH, England (UPI)—Mrs. Mary Treweek, who is 101 years old, said today she has ordered a new set of false teeth because "the ones I've had since 1909 are beginning to wobble a bit."

RAIN HAMPERED the Jaycees annual kids Fishing Rodeo somewhat Wednesday, as intermittent showers drove the little fishermen to shelter, but some, like these youngsters were determined not to let the rain interfere with the sport. The rain-cuddled mothers stood by to give moral support to their youngsters. However, a little later, as the rain came down harder, the only ones left around the lake were a man and his blanket-wrapped son, who just wouldn't quit. Sheriff's Deputy Fred Kelly doesn't very often wear a red belt — but he could if he wished. It's not the normal kind used by men to defy the law of gravity. . . . pant-wise. Instead it's the type earned by the more deft in judo. He demonstrated his ability in disarming and disabling an enemy Tuesday night for members of the Seminole Sheriff's Department Auxiliary. The department's compound was the scene and it probably has been quite a spell since it's resounded with such grunts and groans. A good show and demonstration for the Auxiliary.

The County Commission Tuesday sat briefly as a Board of Equalization and increased assessments on two parcels of property in addition to adjusting the assessments downward on another. The action completed the Board of Adjustment's business for the current year and it was adjourned sine die.

James Court of Iris Road, Casselberry, in a coma for the past week since he was injured in an accident Aug. 19, is confined to the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital where he is showing some improvement. A prayer vigil in his behalf has been undertaken by members of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church around the clock since the accident.

New officers of the Seminole County Education Association will be installed at a meeting to be held at 8 p. m. today at English State Elementary School. Taking over as president will be Mary Grooms of Pinecrest Elementary in Sanford.

Seminole County again showed the biggest percentage of any Central Florida county in the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds for a period ending July 31. For the seven-month period, county residents bought $370,233 in bonds. Thus, with a quota of $389,000, the county topped its figure at 100.4 per cent. Lowest in the Central Florida counties was Citrus County with 35.8 per cent. Next to Seminole was Hardee with 93.2 per cent.

Note to acting city manager, Mary Harkey: How about some action on the knee-deep grass in the parking strips along West First Street. Mighty unsightly, Mrs. City Manager.

Some lights have been burning pretty late in the county's school system offices on Commercial Ave., especially late Tuesday night. Guess if you were trying to keep $275,000 annually in federal assistance funds coming in you'd be up and burning the midnight oil, too.

Talking with Gus Schmah the other day, we were amused to hear him tell Bert Chapman that he could remember the time when you made a trip to Orlando and back without having a flat tire you had something to brag about.

By the way, Gus asked us if we'd ever heard of a sidewalk sale. Sure, we replied. Gus ran into some of them in Pennsylvania during a recent vacation. No, they don't sell sidewalks. The merchants set up sales tables on the sidewalks, attach attractive prices and peddle the products. Draw crowds? You bet! Says Gus: "I'd like to see our downtown merchants have one. I'll wager that a Saturday morning sidewalk sale would attract half the 'crackers' from all over Seminole County."

C. D. Perry, a Clock Watcher, phoned in to say that reports indicating Lake Harney was flooding "isn't true." He added that the water wasn't even high.
